'Outsider' Attempts Klompen Dance; Discovers There's More Than Meets the Eye

Education of a Detroiter— Dutch Dance Isn't Simple

By Jackie Melvin
I must be getting old.
At 20, that's a painful truth encounter. But after trying my hand (and my aching feet) at klompen dancing, I'm making an eager retreat into the ranks of the spectator.

I sauntered into Holland Christian high for my first Dutch

Jackie Melvin
... would be klomper

dance practice, confident I could handle the assignment. Experience was in my favor.

The Sentinel Newsroom swarms with dancers and alumni, so I had some coaching on the infamous step-brush-hop. I had a good background in folk dancing, mostly Israeli, and had always caught on to the routines quickly.

I had seen the dance performed, having marched in the Saturday parade twice with my high school band (Hail, Hail to Livonia! Churchill High!).

And I'm a generally limber sort. What could go wrong? The first day was a remarkable victory. My step-brush hops elicited favorable comments from the group, and my kicks were right up there. Many of the movements were similar to my Israeli experience, and I felt quite accomplished.

Group 41, I salute you! You cued me through the steps, and rather than snicker at my occasional confusion, you complimented and encouraged me. That, however, was only the first section of the three-part dance. When I joined the group a few days later to tackle a full-length outdoor rehearsal, I was glad none of them moaned. They didn't need to. I did enough of that for all of us.

It was a humbling experience. My tennis shoes plopped awkwardly against the pavement while the wooden shoes around me glided in unison. The waltz line caught me facing the opposite direction of everyone else.

As the dance became more Dutch, my Israeli prowess began to fail me. I've never heard of a Hebrew windmill, and I'm sure my clumsy efforts to fit into that formation confirmed the observation.

Fortunately for all of us it began to rain just about the time I had stopped kicking and had started dodging those experienced high-flying klompen.

I stood aside after that, and as I watched the girls dance, I found there was more to it than the factors I had added up on my side.

They were smooth. My place in the tradition seemed distant as the rhythm of the dance and the girl's enthusiasm took over.

If I had begun practicing in January, I'm sure I'd be a pro by now. That, however, is not the point.

The dance is "second nature" for most of the girls. They not only know the mechanical techniques, but they own the feeling behind the dance.

Perhaps I'm not so old after all. It seems right that, just as Dutch names tangle themselves around my Detroit tongue, Klompen dancing isn't just a string of data I can claim as my own after a few hours work. Certainly, one side of the dance is the grind. The girls complain about the constant practice, the blisters, and the heat.

But the complex feeling involved comes through when a girl says, "I hate it, but I love it." The dance is work, but it also one of those rich, scarce privileges that comes with a heritage. Their mothers danced before I was born, and another generation will dance for my children. I can't casually usurp that.

I won't be out on the streets with my feet flying, but one of the loudest, most raucous voices from the bleachers is sure to be mine.

County Bans Hiring Of Relatives

GRAND HAVEN — Citing no specific recent cases, Ottawa County Commissioners Tuesday voted seven to four not to allow the hiring of relatives of county employees for county jobs.

Commissioners John Langeland, Eunice Bareham, Kenneth Northouse and Raymond Vander Laan objected to the resolution and voted against it. Langeland said the resolution could "limit persons' careers by infringing on the rights of the individual." Vander Laan said it "may be ethically illegal" and abuses in the county were minimal.

Furthermore he said he saw nothing wrong if a department head wanted to hire his own wife provided she was qualified for the job.

He added that the hiring of a county controller might help when the controller sets hiring standards.

But commissioner James Dressel replied that he doubted the controller was being hired as a personnel director.

A resolution authorizing the West Michigan Regional Shoreline commission to begin meeting with citizen groups to explain a solid waste disposal program and which claimed that the waste problem had not been resolved drew fire from members of the county health board.

Commissioner Marilyn Sherwood said the shoreline commission was asking permission to make themselves available to groups to explain the program.

But commissioner Raymond Vander Laan, who headed a committee studying the solid waste proposal and who was "glad to get the monkey off my back after two years," objected on grounds that his health board was not aware of any "problems" in solid waste disposal nor citizen groups who were discussing the proposals.

He also wondered why the Shoreline Commission had not asked the health board for such a resolution and suggested the resolution be referred to the health board for study. Commissioners agreed to do that in a substitute motion.

Commissioners authorized the County Road Commission to sign a contract with Grand Rapids for water for Allendale township and a portion of Georgetown township where customers are served by well water. The proposed 40 year contract would allow up to one million gallons of water daily from the Grand Rapids water system whose pipeline runs along M-45 from Lake Michigan.

Commissioners accepted the annual report of the County Road Commission,

Water Line Under Study

A 17 - page report on expanded water distribution facilities for Park and Laketown townships and Holland city was presented to the Board of Public Works for study Monday.

The report from consulting engineers Black & Veatch proposes two possible Lake Macatawa crossings for a 36 - inch water transmission line to bring water from Holland's treatment plant near Tunnel Park to the south side of Park town and Laketown township in Allegan County.

The report was received by the BPW and the board decided to study the proposals with City Council and to discuss possible financing of the project with the townships.

Black & Veatch suggested either a crossing near the channel entrance west of 168th Ave. off Ottawa Beach Rd. to Jensen Ave. on the south side of the lake or off Waukazoo Dr. at Superior Point across to Myrtle Ave.

Additional transmission lines would be installed from the treatment plant to either of the lake crossings and added transmission lines and a storage reservoir would be installed in the Laketown - Park township area on the south side of the lake.

Water services in Laketown township would be designed to serve the proposed Carousel Mountain development.

Total cost of the Ottawa Beach Rd. to Jensen Ave. crossing and transmission lines was estimated at $3,450,000 while the Waukazoo crossing and transmission lines was estimated at $2,675,000.

BPW General Manager Ronald L. Rainson said the three governmental units have been conducting joint meetings on the water proposals and the cost of the report was shared by the three units.

Regarding an addition under construction at the water treatment plant, Rainson said work was about 87 per cent complete but a delay developed in the pumps that were ordered. He said the pumps were being returned to the manufacturer because they failed to meet specifications concerning efficiency ratings and use of electricity.

The delay could push completion back to December, Rainson said.

Repairs to the boiler at the James De Young power plant damaged in an explosion have been completed but the boiler and generator were not in full use.

A detailed report on the cost of operations of the waste water plant along with recommendations to bolster the sagging income will be submitted at the next BPW meeting.

The BPW turned down a request to contribute funds to the Junior Achievement program which is being launched in Holland and changed the date of the next regular meeting from Monday, May 26 to Tuesday, May 27 because of Memorial Day on Monday.

Tulip Time Sidelights

Ninth Street Christian Reformed Church, Holland's most historic landmark at Ninth and College, again is serving as hospitality center for Tulip Time visitors this year.

Visitors are invited to drop in at the Pillar Church for a rest and a refreshing cup of coffee. Tours also are offered.

The white frame church with its distinctive pillars was erected in 1866 as Holland's first church, replacing a log church at Pilgrim Home Cemetery. It is one of the few buildings that survived the disastrous fire of 1871.

The Pillar Church also is the site of an authentic Dutch church service at 4 p.m. today, and again at 4 p.m. Thursday. The service lasts about a half - hour. Dutch psalms are led by a voorzinger, and the collection is taken in "bags" at the end of long poles.

The Rev. Simon Vroom, a retired minister living in Holland, formerly of East Saugatuck, will don a long - tailed preacher's coat, for the Dutch sermon. E. Van Slot will be voorzinger and the Rev. John Hanegraaff of Noordeloos will provide special music.

Residents living on tulip lane are asked not to park their cars on the street during Tulip Time. Let's give our visitors an unbroken view of Holland's favorite flower.

Tulip Lane, an eight - mile tour through the city, is one of Tulip Time's favorite attractions. All that hard work of planting and replacing is done by Park Supt. Jacob De Graaf and his workers.

Requests for housing are way up this year, and Mattie Buursma and Harriet Kruihof at the Tulip Time Housing Bureau in Civic Center still would like more listings for Friday and Saturday nights. If you have a spare room, call them at either of the two Tulip Time housing numbers in the telephone book. And don't give up if you don't get through easily. The lines have been pretty busy. Late requests always take a jump if the weather is good.

The Lions Club will be having barbecued chicken at the big tent next to Civic Center during the four days of the Tulip Time festival.

Al Kaline, formerly with the Detroit Tigers, will be the grand marshal at the big parade of Bands Saturday at 3 p.m. This parade will have 62 bands and 41 floats.

High school bands coming from outside Michigan will hail from Northbrook, Ill., Pompton Lakes, N. J., Berlin, Ohio, Monongahela, Pa., Speedway, Ind., Topeka, Ind., Westchester, Ohio, Lebanon, Ohio, Phillipsburg, N.J., Milwaukee, Wisc.,

Police Ask Cooperation Of Drivers

Holland residents and local motorists were asked by police to observe changes in traffic patterns for Tulip Time and to be patient with out - of - town drivers who may not be familiar with the local traffic patterns.

Lt. Burton Borr asked residents to take note of traffic signs installed along Tulip Lanes which may change driving patterns at certain intersections.

He also asked residents to note changes in access routes from highways and by - passes around the city being used to bring visitors into the city.

Popularity of bus tours this year is bringing in scores of additional buses and Borr said they will be parked along streets in the business district areas near Civic Center. He asked for cooperation of the citizens in the bus parking which may create some inconvenience.

Ottawa County To Publish Minutes In The Sentinel

GRAND HAVEN — Claiming the intent of state law was to assure the publishing of Board of Commission minutes and bills in a paper of greatest county circulation, Commissioners Tuesday voted to publish the items in The Holland Evening Sentinel only.

Commissioner William Kieft said opinions from the prosecutor indicated minutes and bills had to be published together in a daily newspaper in the county and that the intent was they be printed in the paper with the greatest county circulation.

The annual cost was estimated at $10,128 in The Sentinel and $7,536 in The Grand Haven Tribune which has a smaller county circulation. But commissioners said state legislation pending in the Senate could make the publishing of the minutes optional and in that case the minutes could be printed in The Grand Haven Tribune, The Holland Evening Sentinel and Zeeland Record, a weekly, as they had been in the past.

County Democrats Meet Thursday

The Ottawa County Democratic party will hold its regular monthly meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. in the UAW hall at 14th St. and Van Raalte Ave. in Holland.

Plans for the annual Spring Fling in Grand Haven May 31 will be discussed at the meeting. Dudley Buffa, Michigan agent for Sen. Philip A. Hart, will present legislative report at the regular meeting Thursday.

Sen. John Otterbacher and U.S. Rep. Don Riegle will address the Spring fling.

New Junior High Vote Is Sought

Petitions bearing 1,400 signatures asking the Holland Board of Education to set another election, this time for a single new junior high school, were presented to the school board at its monthly meeting Monday night in E. E. Fell Junior High School.

George F. Jacob, who described himself as father of two, a former teacher and a former school administrator, told the board there was diverse opinion as to details, and the text of the petition was purposely vague so that there would be flexibility of plans and decisions.

The petition requested a vote before Aug. 5, 1975.

Jacobs said people were eager and willing to sign a petition for another election, but said there were questions on locations, costs, grades and design. Mostly, the one - building request brought three reactions:

(1) Those people who preferred two schools, but were willing to settle for one, since that's better than none.

(2) Those people who preferred two schools, and hoped for one now and one later.

(3) Those people who preferred a single large school.

Elections calling for two junior high schools previously had been defeated on two occasions by narrow margins. Because of public apathy and poor economic conditions, the board had postponed action some months ago.

Earlier in the evening, Junior High Principal John Noe explained operations of the two present junior high buildings with considerable emphasis on crowded conditions and lack of space, plus traffic noises, with heavy trucks and police sirens providing sound effects nicely on cue.

Noe also outlined school curriculum with its required and elective subjects, its recent activities programs with 86 different activities offered, for boys and girls of an exuberant age. He spoke of some problems in drugs, etc., and necessary discipline but said most of these problems were caused by dropouts and older students.

To illustrate junior high functions, he showed some 75 slides taken in the junior high system in situations which required separate up - and - down staircases, and separate routes between buildings.

About 60 visitors were at the meeting which was presided over by Board President James O. Lamb. All members were present and Dr. A. James Prins gave the invocation. The meeting lasted an hour and 35 minutes.

Two-Year Report Given County

US - 31 Study Says Keep Route

GRAND HAVEN—A massive, two - year study into the impact of the proposed relocation by the State TransportationS mlfw Department of US - 31 from Holland to Grand Haven was received by county Commissioners Tuesday.

The 92 - page study was completed by the West Michigan Shoreline Regional Development Commission at the request of the commissioners and recommends modification in the existing four - lane divided highway plus modernization of the route through Grand Haven and Holland.

Jack Koerper, project director for the development commission, stressed that the report was the work of the regional commission and not of the State Transportation Department and that the report be used as part of citizen input when the state conducts hearings into the possible relocation of US - 31.

Koerper also stressed that no final plans or routes have been adopted by the state and that the route, if built, would not be under construction for at least ten years.

Relocation of US - 31 was included in a long range plan adopted by the State Transportation Department in 1974.

"The report should be the focus of discussion and the basis for citizen input at the highway hearings," Koerper added.

The planning commission studied possible relocation of US - 31 to the east of the existing route in a corridor along 120th Ave. from New Holland St. to I - 96, upgrading the existing US - 31, relocating the route to west of the present highway or do nothing to the existing route.

The commission studied each proposal from economic, transportation and environmental aspects and recommended the existing route be improved at an estimated cost of $87 million, excluding a new bridge in Grand Haven across the Grand River.

In the Holland area, the commission suggested interchanges at the 16th St. and 32nd St. crossings of US - 31 which is nearly a limited access route in the city.

An additional interchange was recommended for Bee Line Rd. but not Lakewood Blvd., which has been sought by governmental units in the Holland area.

Koerper said too many interchanges in a short distance make the highway ineffective and pointed to the M - 21 interchange which was closed to Lakewood Blvd.

Most modifications would come in the Grand Haven area where Beacon Blvd. would have to be altered.

The existing swing bridge across the Grand River would continue in use but not inoperative. Koerper suggested boat traffic now requiring the opening of the bridge be eliminated, in the case of sail boats, or modified in the case of commercial tugs and barges.

A new bridge could cost as much as $60 million, he said.

Commissioners accepted the report and were told copies of the report would be sent to governmental units affected by the US - 31 route and to libraries in the affected areas.

Comments from the citizens in the areas would be welcomed before commissioners voted on adopting the plan at the June meeting, commissioners said.

Eighth Street Closed For Tulip Time

Tulip Time officials and downtown merchants have agreed to block traffic along Eighth St. from River to College Aves. during the entire festival beginning at 7 a.m. Wednesday.

Police Lt. Burton Borr said plank seats would be installed in the parking bays along the Eighth St. and landscaped areas would be roped off during the parades to prevent damage to the plants and flowers.

Borr said at least two rows of the cinder block and plank seats would be installed in the parking bays on a trial basis this festival. The normal single row will continue to be used along the remainder of the parade route.

The Red Cross will operate aid stations at the downtown fire station, Riverview Park on Saturday and at the end of the parade route.

In addition the Tulip City Bers and the Red Cross will man an aid station at Civic Center.

On Saturday the Holland Amateur Radio Club will establish radio communications with parade divisions and key traffic locations as well as with the Red Cross, the hospital and fire department.

Fire trucks housed in the downtown station will be moved to the Herrick Public Library parking lot during the Saturday parade.

REGULATION AND TRUCKING

Some people feel the regulated transportation system of the United States should not be regulated. They argue, the industry which approves of regulation, must be lining their pockets because of it. And for these reasons, they argue the Interstate Commerce Commission should be abolished.

We have regulation for one prime reason, to insure transportation service and standardized rates for communities located away from major shipping centers such as Detroit. Here, there is no cutthroat competition or biased rates. A shipper in Alpena can send his freight for the same rate as a shipper of similar freight in Detroit.

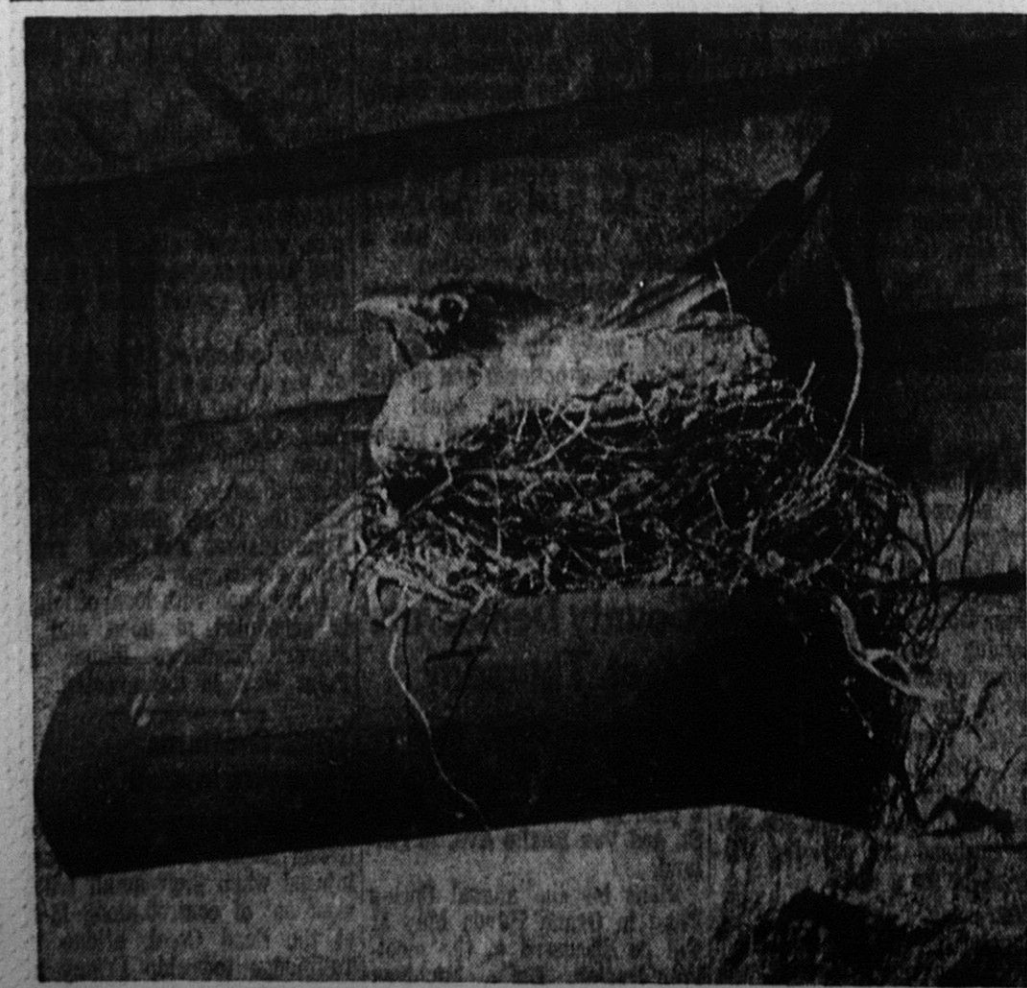

Shippers and merchants in places like Muskegon, Jackson, Petoskey and Midland can count on regular service and standard rates that do not change daily, or hourly because of ICC regulation.

The way we see it, without regulation, Michigan communities would have little to depend upon, except extremely poor service and a very unfair rate system.

A regulated transportation system is not the best of all possible worlds. But it is far better than no transportation system at all. Or worse, a government-run system.

WELCOME TO TULIP TIME

A hearty welcome to Holland's 46th annual Tulip Time festival.

Holland citizens are happy to share the joys of Tulip Time with thousands of visitors interested in beautiful tulips, parades, klompen dancing and the pageantry of Dutch heritage.

Today's Sentinel is the 35th Tulip Time edition, and the 27th
such edition since World War II. The first Tulip Time edition was published in 1936.

The Sentinel is indebted to many persons who provided special articles for today's edition. These include the Netherlands Consulate, the West Michigan Tourist Association, civic and school leaders and special historical articles by William H. Vande Water.

Holland's four - day festival terminates Saturday. There are no planned activities for Sunday, but visitors are invited to attend the church of their choice, walk in local parks and revel in springtime.

A festival such as Tulip Time cannot be successful for close to a half century without a lot of cooperation. A good share of enthusiasm of Tulip Time stems from the children and their participation in parades, klompen dancing and many other activities.

And to the long suffering
mothers who year after year
outfit the youngsters in Dutch costumes, our special thanks.
This appreciation runs to the many people involved in programming, traffic, parades and a thousand and one other activities. It's amazing how many people are involved.

And let us not forget to be patient.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, May 18
"Personal Responsibility"
Ezekiel 18:2-13; 30-32
By C. P. Dame

Many seem to have no sense of responsibility to man or to God. This lesson teaches the truth that God holds every soul
responsible to Him. "Behold, all your souls are mine," so says God. This truth needs to be made known all over the nation.

I. God says every person is responsible to Him. Ezekiel, the writer of the lesson text, was a priest and became a prophet,
serving from 592 B.C. to 570
B.C. in Babylon, ministering
there to despondent, bitter captives who hoped to go home again soon. After God called him he sat among the captives seven days and learned how they felt. From them he learned that the people blamed the previous generation, ignoring the fact that they as well as their fathers were guilty. Passing the buck was popular then as it is now. Knowing his congregation the prophet hammered away at the truth of every person's responsibility to God. He does not touch upon every angle of this truth since he wanted to correct and contradict a popular philosophy set forth in a proverb "The fathers have eaten sour grapes and the children's teeth are set on edge."

Ezekiel said every person is responsible for his sins. No person is tied to his past. Today Ezekiel says to us that we should stop blaming environment, society, the previous generation and act like responsible individuals.

II. God is fair. God has His standards for life. God forbids idolotry, adultery, oppression, dishonesty, greed and isobedi-ence to Him. Those who live unrighteously will die but he
that lives righteously will live.
The fathers will not suffer for the sake of the sins of the sons, neither the sons for their fathers' sins. The unrighteous person who becomes righteous
will be forgiven and his sin remembered no more. God will and does what is right.

III. God calls for repentance.
In the first part of the closing verses God, through the prophet, speaks of judgment. "Therefore will I judge you, O house of Israel." Repentance and judgment are two important topics in the Bible. The appeal to repent follows. Note the words, "to turn," to "cast away their transgressions" and thus avoid ruin. Stirring are the words, "get yourselves a new heart and a new spirit and live." Recall the words of Jesus, "I came that they may have life and have it more abundantly."

Fine Arts Show Attracts 5,700 To Civic Center

"An exceptionally fine show"
was the most frequent comment
at the 12th annual Fine Arts Show held Saturday in Civic Center. The community event was co-sponsored by the Holland Friends of Art and the Holland Recreation Department.
Many of the 76 exhibitors,
several from out of town, expressed complete satisfaction with the facilities and the hospitality and interest of the Holland residents.

An estimated 5,700 visitors
toured the show during the day with "exceptional sales" being reported.

According to co-chairman
Kim Oudman and Phyllis White, the show attendance in the morning was excellent, the afternoon lagged and the later evening hours before closing at 9 p.m. picked up.

Winner of the grand prize,
a painting to be done by Elinor Andree, was awarded to Bob Andree, 83 East 23rd St. It will probably be done from a photograph.

Bicyclist Speaks At Local Meetings

Did you know that there are more bicycle tourists in the U. S. than the rest of the world combined?

That's what Keith Kingbay, 60-year-old executive director of the American Cycling Club told members of the Holland Optimist Club at a noon luncheon
Monday in Warm Friend Motor Inn.

Kingbay also spoke at a meeting Monday evening in Herrick Library and at an assembly at Holland High School.
Bike touring is Kingbay's favorite activity, as he rides 6,000

to 8,000 miles each year, often with his wife, Rosetta.

He is founder of the League of American Wheelmen and is an active member of the American Youth Hostels, the National Safety Council and the U. S.
Olympic Committee for Bicycling. He is also an instructor for the President's Council on Physical Fitness.

Ken Vos, program chairman
for the Optimist Club said that Kingbay helped develop 90 percent of the bikeways throughout the U. S.

"There are 90 million people riding bicycles with more and more of them being adults," claimed Kingbay. "People want to stay or get into good physical condition and riding bikes is an excellent way to keep in shape."

"The rest of the world sure looks different to you when you're on a bike tour," offered Kingbay.

"You have to consider these categories when making trail-ways—routes, commuter, touring and recreation."

"Bicyclists must remember to honor all rules and ordinances when riding," he continued. "Automobile drivers will notice signs (bike routes)
and will be more concerned for the bicyclist. But the bicyclist should also be alert at all times."

He concluded, "The road out to Point West (South Shore Dr.) would be a fantastic road for bike paths. It would be very easy to leave a little room on the side for pathways and cars
won't cross the line."

Jim Frans, president said the Optimist Club is attempting to sponsor bikeways for Holland.

"This is a big project but we think this is something Holland wants and needs badly," he commented.

A trailer towed by a car driven by Jack Lee Gehrke, 33,
of 55 East 26th St., eastbound on Eighth St. Friday at 1:43
p.m., broke loose from the car and struck the side of an auto operated by Lois Ann Boeve, 29, of 6443 Spruce Lane, westbound on Eighth St. 50 feet east of College Ave.

Kandu Producing 5,000 Windmills For Tulip Time

Making windmills from scratch, not merely assembling them, was one big order from Bos Vending for Kandu Industries, the rehabilitation facility
at 276 West 13th St.

The order for 5,000 windmills
for Tulip Time means that more clients could be called back to work on contract orders. If more contracts are received at Kandu, more of the workers can be called back, according to David Steenbergen director.

Kandu has a capacity for employing 80 persons and at present there are only 65. Many laid off temporarily several months ago and are gradually being recalled, as more contract work is received.

Youths Are Sentenced

GRAND HAVEN — Two Holland youths charged with larceny from Van Ord's Home Entertainment Center at Holland
March 6 were sentenced in Ottawa Circuit Court Monday.

Robert George Fowler, 17, of 39 East 16th St., was placed on probation for two years and must serve 75 days in jail. He was given credit for 65 days already spent in jail and must pay $150 costs.

Dennis E. Dailey, 18, of 4348
46th, Holland, was placed on probation for 18 months and must pay costs of $150. Fowler and Dailey were arrested at the Center by sheriff's officers.

Rickey Quillian, 18, West Olive charged with breaking and entering, was placed on delayed sentence status and must pay $100 costs.

Gilbert Santiago, 17, of 481
West 19th St., Holland, who had been sentenced to 120 days in jail for breaking and entering,
had the sentence reviewed by Judge James E. Townsend. He was ordered released May 15.

Daniel Y. Martinez, 24, of 164
Walnut, Holland, found guilty
April 16 of breaking and entering at a Holland school, was to be sentenced Monday. The court ordered that sentence be postponed to 1:30 p.m. May 19.

Edward White, 18, of 323
Eastmont, Holland, charged with larceny of money from a gas station at Holland April 27, pleaded guilty. Judge Calvin L.
Bosman took the plea under advisement.

Miriam Van Eyl Fifth Candidate For School Board

Mrs. Phillip (Miriam) Van Eyl, 114 East 31st St., filed nominating petitions before the Friday 4 p.m. deadline and becomes the fifth candidate for two vacancies on the Holland
Board of Education in the June 9 election.

Mrs. Van Eyl, who has taught in elementary and secondary education ten years in West Ottawa, Spring Lake and California schools, has been a substitute teacher in the Holland system for several years and is a social worker with the Department of Social Services dealing with children in protective services.

She is a member of First Reformed Church, mother of four children and wife of a Hope College professor.

Other candidates who have filed for the Holland school board include incumbent John Amaya, Marilyn Feininger, Dr.
David Myers and Carroll Nor-
lin. Incumbent James O. Lamb is not seeking reelection.

Outdoor Display Is Pride of Flowerland

By Jackie Melvin
Ken Michmerhuizen, the owner of Tulip City Flowerland, says "We don't specialize in one thing, we specialize in many things."

A visit to Flowerland, at the corner of 112th St. and M-21,
will prove the accuracy of that statement. The greenhouse area is filled with house plants, vegetables, and garden supplies.

More impressive, however, is the outdoor area which overwhelms the greenhouse. Flower-land is celebrating its fourth anniversary this year, and Mich-merhuizen is obviously proud of his open air lot which has expanded steadily over the years.

"We have everything for the homeowner," he says confidently. The Flowerland staff is glad to give free landscaping advice.
Although they do not do the work themselves, materials ranging from peat moss, bark and fertilizer, to the trees, shrubs and flowers needed, are available.

Perhaps Flowerland's greatest asset is its staff of eight experienced employees. Included
among these is Dale Zuidema, nursery stock foreman. He is a 1974 winner of a "Horticulture Gold" from the national competition of the FFA.

One of Flowerland's many "specialties" is its collection of shade-loving plants. Rhododendron, azalea, dogwood and tulip tree plants are shipped in from Oregon. This means that the plants are "climate conditioned" for Michigan's cold weather, and thus are sturdier stock for this area.

Although the 200 "rhodies"
are not open yet, Michmerhuizen looks forward to a multi-colored display in two to three weeks.

Rose trees are another feature, with over 80 of these unique plants in stock. A rose tree is a creation made by grafting two bushes to the top of a four-foot standard. When it blossoms, it forms a ball of roses.

Dwarf fruit trees are also current favorites, according to Michmerhuizen. His work with the six-foot apple, peach, pear, cherry, plum and apricot trees is "really enjoyable." As is a visit to Tulip City Flowerland.

TULIP CITY FLOWERLAND — Ken Michmerhuizen sets pyramid shrubbery into place in the large open air section of his garden shop. Tulip City Flowerland, located at the corner of 112th St. and M-21, is celebrating its fourth anniversary this year. The "all around garden center" has everything from potatoes to petunias, and even sells the soil to plant them in. At the right of the picture is greenhouse foreman David Brown, one of Flowerland's eight experienced staff.

Recent Brides...

Mrs. Billy G. Goen
(de Vries Studio)

Mr. and Mrs. Billy G. Goen, who were married April 19, have returned from a northern wedding trip and are residing at 144th Ave., Holland.

The bride is the former Margaret A. Martin, daughter of Mrs. Thelma Jarrett, 22 Charles Dr., and Fred Martin, 211 West Ninth St. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Goen, 6306 144th Ave.

Saugatuck Christian Reformed Church provided the setting for the wedding rites performed by the Rev. Ed Visser. Mrs. Wanda Hoske was organist and Mrs. Joan De Jongh was soloist.

The bride wore a white floor-length A-line gown of satin trimmed with a scooped lace bodice studded with seed pearls, a stand-up collar and long fitted lace sleeves. A matching headpiece edged with lace held a long chapel train veil and elbow-length veil. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white carnations.

Miss Linda Nyhoff attended the bride as maid of honor with Miss Wilma Martin as bridesmaid and Sue De Jongh as flower girl. They wore long A-line gowns of yellow polyester knit having yokes of white lace and yellow ribbon trim. Completing the ensembles were picture hats and baskets of yellow daisies.

Attending the groom were Kelly Brink, Ed Goen and Roger Martin. Ringbearer was Jim Jarrett.

The reception was held at Van Raalte's Restaurant in Zeeland. Stephen Zoet and Jill Gorton arranged the gifts and Brian Everett and Jane Meppelink served punch.

The groom is employed by Holland Hospital.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at their home.

Central Park Has Mother, Daughter Dinner

A fashion show of past and present wedding gowns highlighted the program at the Central Park Reformed Church Women's mother-daughter banquet on Tuesday.

NOW Chapter May Business Meet Held

In keeping with the United Nations proclamation declaring 1975 International Women's Year throughout the world, the Holland Area Chapter of the National Organization for Women has petitioned Mayor Louis Hallacy II and City Council to declare this Women's Year in Holland.

The petition was prepared at the chapter's May business meeting held May 5 in the Red Cross office.

In other action, Linda Visscher, chapter president, Chris Lohman, and Lin Klunge reported on actions taken and strategies planned at the recent Michigan NOW Council meeting in East Lansing. Members have been asked to write to Gov. George Wallace, requesting his stance on the Equal Rights Amendment currently under consideration for passage in several states. National NOW feels it is important for Wallace, as a potential presidential candidate, to apprise the public of his feelings on an issue directly affecting over half of the nation's population and voters.

Ms. Visscher read a letter from Judy Lightfoot, of the NOW National Board, welcoming the chapter into full charter membership.

Ballots for voting on the Tulsa Amendment to the national by-laws providing for a delegate system of voting at the national convention will arrive this month and members discussed the amendment. The convention will be held in late October in Philadelphia and several local chapter members are planning to attend.

Carl and Pamela Wiltse reported that the brochure being prepared for the chapter is nearly complete and will be ready for dissemination soon. The pamphlet describes NOW goals, organizations, purposes, and philosophies, and also provides information on the local chapter.

Final plans were made for the feminist yard sale being sponsored by the chapter Saturday at the Wiltse home, 178 West 11th St. Members donating items should have them in tonight.

The Holland Area Chapter of the National Organization for Women is actively working to bring about the national NOW goal of bringing women into full participation in the mainstream of American society, exercising all the privileges and responsibilities incumbent in that participation in full partnership with men.

'A Hole in the Head' Has Dignity and Warmth

By Cornelia Van Voorst
"A Hole in the Head," the Arnold Schulman comedy which opened Thursday night in Holland High School, proved to be a story of more dignity and warmth than was indicated in advance promotion.

True, the Holland Community Theatre production, was indeed staged in a run - down Miami Beach hotel presided over by a harried proprietor burdened with debt or worries, but Barbara Greenwood's cast managed a heart beat that lent another dimension to what first happened to be a sleazy situation comedy.

The story line had the widowed owner of a shoddy hotel, his 12 - year - old son, the wealthy brother of New York, the bossy wife, the "suitable" friend selected by the sister - in - law, and the brassy girl friend.

Yet, when the local cast got together, there was admirable restraint. The hotel lobby was not so shoddy as one would expect, and there was an air of sincerity as the plot unfolded. Thursday's audience warmed up slowly, and it wasn't until the second act that laughs came spontaneously. It was a long time to wait, but it made the story more believable.

It's easy for a child to steal the show, and 10 - year - old Jeff Greenwood, grandson of the director, proved to be the "star" of the production. Young Jeff resisted any temptation of "hamming it up" and his loving relationship with his widowed father came through beautifully.

NEWEST HOME ON TOUR — Fashioned after a French Country House is this home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Siems at 128 West 39th St., the newest home on the Junior Welfare League Home Tour, May 21. The home was planned to preserve the natural

French Country Style Architecture on Tour

The Earl Siems residence at 128 West 39th St. is the newest home featured in the Junior Welfare League home Tour on May 21. This house was built in 1973 and is fashioned after that of a French Country House.

The exterior detailing on this home was developed to reflect an authentic French Country style architecture. The main portion of the house has an elevated roof line with the brick veneer corbelled outward to the eave to create a massive detail. Other detailing in the brick was carried out at the corners and over window areas. The massive chimney is detailed after those of the old historic Boston homes.

The Siems home was planned to preserve the maximum number of trees on the lot. The house was positioned among the trees to provide the most natural setting and give the feeling of a wooded atmosphere.

The interior of this lovely home is of traditional decor throughout. There are four bedrooms plus a heritage room which features some family heirlooms.

One room that abounds with beautiful woodwork is the family focal point. Heavy wood detailing flows into a grid of beams which dominate the ceiling. The fireplace is flanked by bookcases and louvered shutters draped to suggest a window. Antique stained glass windows separate the room from the adjoining hallway. A similar window is found in the foyer.

The kitchen cabinets feature raised panel cathedral doors of genuine walnut. People touring this home should note the interior woodwork as much of it has been done by Mr. Siems as part of his hobby. Siems has stained the woodwork to match the walnut finished cabinets in the kitchen.

The Junior Welfare League Home Tour is scheduled for May 21. Six homes will be open by ticket only from 12:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

A dessert - tea at the Woman's Literary Club is open to people on the tour at any time from 12:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. People are invited to stop for refreshments any time during those hours and are invited to start their tour at any one of the six homes.

Hearing Set For Carousel On May 21

Revised plans for the development of the Carousel Mountain area in Laketown township were scheduled to be presented at a hearing May 21 before the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Grand Rapids attorney Len Hoffius, representing the developers said a revised land plan which contains no variances from the township ordinances would be submitted.

Hoffius said the developer plans 1,300 dwelling units including about 200 single family and 1,100 condominium units and that lot size and parking requirements would be met.

He indicated public sewer and water services were virtually assured.

Original plans called for 1,881 units but those plans were cut to 1,725 at a hearing in December, 1972. The township set forth certain restrictions in its May 1, 1974 decision.

Hoffius said the developer, Carousel Recreational Equities, in its revised plans for the May 21 hearing, would meet the township codes.

The land for development includes the Carousel Mountain ski area and most of the wooded dunes south of Macatawa to Castle Park west of 66th St.

The hearing May 21 will be held in the Blue Star School on 58th St. at the intersection with the Blue Star Highway beginning at 8 p.m.

Local Women Accountants Hear Beahan

The Holland Chapter of the American Society of Women Accountants met for "an evening of sharing," as Mrs. Gertrude Van Spyker called Tuesday's meeting at the Beechwood Inn.

Otherwise known as the 26th annual public relations dinner, the program attracted members from Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Muskegon and the Holland area, along with members of the media and guests.

William Huizenga of Holland Christian Schools gave the invocation. Mrs. Van Spyker gave the welcome and introduced guests at the head table. They included Doris Kremer, coast-to-coast editor of the ASWA Coordinator, and Helen Nyenhuis, a national director.

Mrs. Janet Voss, vice president and program chairman, recounted the year's activities, and recognized media representatives.

Msgr. Hugh Michael Beahan, better known as "Father Michael" entitled his witty talk "The Big Switch—how we have changed in our approach to the world and our thinking."

He gave an overview of the drastic changes which have been happening, and offered two modes of dealing with the world.

The "static" outlook was predominant in earlier years, when we saw the world as a "harmonious collection of interlocking things." He challenges us how to move into the "dynamic" outlook, in which the key word is not "things," but "men." The "dynamic" is a system of evolving change, and though it seems less secure than the traditional way, offers us a broader set of options, and thus, more freedom.

Rather than slide into comfortable, set patterns, Msgr. Beahan urged the group to become "fully human" by first, determining what our individual standards will be, and then, making responsible choices from among the many options open to us.

County Panel Studies Vote On Building

GRAND HAVEN—Faced with a threat of a petition drive to force a public vote on a law enforcement building and its funding, Commissioner James K. Dressel, chairman of county improvement committee, said his committee would meet June 2 to decide on a ballot proposal.

Dressel said his committee would study possible ballot proposals and decide whether to recommend a public vote on a possible bond issue of revenue sharing fund uses for the proposed law enforcement building.

Commission chairman William Kennedy last month vowed to bring the issue to a public vote in a move to force commissioners to act on the law enforcement building which has been recommended in a jail rehabilitation study, part of which commissioners had adopted.

Dressel also reported that nearly 40 applications had been received for the county controller's job and that his committee would open the applications May 19. Deadline to receive the applications is Thursday.

Commissioners approved the low bid of Houting & Meeusen Wrecking Co. of Holland to demolish the former City Sign Co. building north of District Court building in Holland. The bid was for $1,995.

The bid was in conjunction with those received by the City of Holland to demolish the former Reed Tire building on Seventh St. Both will be removed for additional parking at the court building and police station.

Damman Emphasizes U.S. Values

Lt. Gov. James J. Damman who with his wife Peg led Holland's 550 street scrubbers in Wednesday's opening Tulip Time parade addressed some 175 persons earlier at a luncheon in his honor in the Woman's Literary Club.

While pointing to the great achievements in the country's 200-year-old history, he warned against nostalgia, stating that the "good old days were not really all that good" but neither were fears, apprehension and apathy at present "all that bad."

"Much of what's right with America is so familiar to us — we're not even conscious of it. We take it for granted. We complain about our cars and our washing machines, our television sets and our air conditioners — but not half so much as we would complain if suddenly deprived of them."

He told the story of Janina Atkins who was born in Poland, who came to America in 1964 with $2.60 in her purse, some clothes, a few books, a bundle of old letters, an eiderdown pillow and a china set for 12 — a going-away gift from friends. She and her husband started at the bottom, she a secretary and her husband a clerk, and studying by night, they took the route so many Americans have taken.

Today they are working as librarians, living in a comfortable apartment, taking trips and traveling to faraway places. "I love this country because when I want to move from one place to another I do not have to ask permission. Because when I want to go abroad I just buy a ticket and go."

"I love America because when I need a needle I go to the nearest Woolworth's and get it. I love it because I do not have to stand in line for hours to buy a piece of tough fat meat. I love it because, even with inflation, I do not have to pay a day's earnings for a small chicken."

"I love America because America trusts me. When I go into a shop to buy a pair of shoes, I am not asked to produce my identity card. I love it because my mail is not censored. My phone is not tapped. My conversation with friends is not reported to the secret police."

can-born friends it is not fashionable to be enthusiastic about America. There is Vietnam, drugs, urban and racial conflicts, poverty and pollution. Undoubtedly, this country faces urgent and serious problems . . . but standing in the street, amidst the noise and pollution, we suddenly realize what luck and what joy it is to live in a free country."

Damman said Janina's story of values based on free choice assumes a fresh significance. He asked Americans to rededicate themselves to the challenge so eloquently expressed by Abraham Lincoln: "That this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

Tom De Pree of Holland presided at the luncheon hosted by Ottawa County Republicans. Mayor Lou Hallacy presented the Dammans with wooden shoes. Hallacy was introduced by Eunice Bareham, county GOP chairman. Mrs. Damman was presented with a certificate for the new bicentennial edition of the Eet Smakelijk cookbook which will be published next year in hard cover.

390 Hope Seniors Receive Degrees

Hope College conferred degrees on 390 graduating seniors Sunday, marking the 110th commencement in the college's history.

The baccalaureate service was held in Dimmet Memorial Chapel, with the Rev. Howard G. Hageman, D.D., president of New Brunswick Theological Seminary, New Brunswick, N.J., delivering the sermon, "When Law is Liberty (And Vice Versa)."

Basing his thoughts on Psalm 119:45 ("And I will walk at liberty: for I seek thy precepts."), Dr. Hageman said that while society equates law with order, Christians must equate law with liberty and think of Christ the incarnation of the laws and precepts, as the moral being of God himself.

The law, therefore, in Christ becomes personal rather than propositional. Dr. Hageman urged that "false freedom" of fulfilling selfish desires be exchanged for "the liberating power of Christ," discovered in living in an obedient relationship to God.

"We must become liberated to become enslaved to Christ; what broader place is there than in the love of God made known to us in Christ our Lord?" he concluded.

The Rev. Henry Voogd, professor of religion, delivered the invocation and benediction.

The Chapel Choir sang together for the final time this year, under the direction of Dr. Anthony Kooker, who directed in lieu of Dr. Robert Cavanaugh, who was confined to his home because of illness.

The commencement exercises were held in the Civic Center. Professor of English Jack R. Ridl delivered the address, "Burn the Papers and Correct the Leaves," a line taken from a poem by Howard Nemerov. Reading poems by several contemporary poets, including one of his own, Ridl expressed the hope that education had not caused the graduates to "confine commitment to a life-style, rather than to life or to see competency as an end rather than as a means to an end."

Remembering the years at Hope can have worth, Ridl said, "if we remember that we found more than ourselves," or if the goal was more than preparation for adjustment to "the real world" in which "sums of population are tamed by forms."

"The time is prime for prophecy . . . Wake up," he urged. "I wish for you what I wish for myself: hard questions and the right to answer, the grace of disappointment, and the right to seem the fool for the cause of justice . . . Heroes have died for less," he concluded.

Provost David Marker presented commencement awards and President Gordon J. Van Wylen awarded the degrees and certificates.

An honorary degree was presented to Hageman by Hugh DePree, chairman of the board of trustees, and to James Z. Nettinga by the Hon. A. Dale Stoppels, honorary member of the board of trustees.
