During the hail storm of last week, some stones fell in the southern part of Allegan county that measured six and a half inches in circumference, and at the county farm several panes of glass were broken.

The Ladies' Guild of Grace Episcopal church will give a lawn social at the home of Mrs. Dr. Butterfield, Eighth street, on Friday evening of next week. Ice cream, strawberries and cake will be served, and all are welcome.

In Bay county cut worms have made their appearance in such vast numbers that farmers are afraid to plant corn. Acres of oats are being ruined and if there is not a heavy fall of rain before long, which is all that will exterminate the worms, the amount of damage will be great.

Joseph Warner, the artist, has a collection of twenty-five elegant oil paintings on exhibition, free, at the Central photograph gallery, east of the City Hotel. He will dispose of these at a competitive sale which is to close on Friday, May 29. Those wishing to buy will hand in their names and the price they are willing to pay, and the pictures will be sold to the persons who have bid the highest.

Geo. Brounling, of the firm of G. Brounling & Co., Chicago, was here this week. Accompanied by W. Preston Scott, the local representative of the firm, he drove to Jamestown and closed a contract with the Creamery association there for the delivery, before June 30, of 30,000 pounds of butter, prices to be governed by Elgin quotations, with a slight advance. The shipments will be made over the Holland steamboat line.

The new cornet band, eighteen pieces, under the leadership of Mr. Purchase, and the martial band, also eighteen pieces, re-organized under direction of C. Dalman, have both tendered their services for Memorial Day, and will form part of the procession.

Pathmasters should not forget that they may allow 25 per cent of the road work in setting out trees, and that it is their duty to see to it that at least 50 are set out in his district. If this law were complied with, as it should be, our rural highways would soon be beautifully shaded thoroughfares.

Sunday's storm proved to have been more severe throughout the western part of this state than it was on Lake Michigan. Reports from the fruit belt state that trees that were overlaid, have been relieved of some of their surplus supply. In this city the only damage done was to blow over some shade trees.

Hon. A. O. Wheeler of Manistee, one of the candidates for governor, was the guest of Ex-Mayor Diekema on Monday evening, and on Tuesday made a trip to the county seat. The genial Senator has the solid support of the 9th Congressional District, and feels very hopeful of success at the next State convention.

The board of park trustees are paying due attention to the trees in Centennial Park, and their trusted employee H. Schaftenaar, is making the rounds, trimming them up as he goes. The settees that adorned the shaded spots last year will be replaced with more substantial ones, better enabled to withstand the vandalism of some of our overgrown youth.

From Ann Arbor it is reported that the room occupied by the multi-murderer, H. H. Holmes, while attending the university, was more recently occupied by Burt Holmes, the Grand Rapids murderer. The room was also occupied at different times by a student sent to the penitentiary for stealing, and by a co-ed convicted of the same offense.

A new bicycle invention is reported from London, which is looked upon as likely to supersede pneumatic tires. It is vaguely described as a "frame bicycle pneumatically slung, while the wheels are solid tired." Thus it is claimed there is no danger of puncture, the resilience is perfect, there is an entire absence of vibration and the wheels can be produced at half the cost of the present machines.

The Fourth Reformed church of Holland, recently organized, is meeting with much encouragement in their efforts at erecting a church edifice. They are negotiating for a site at or near the corner of First avenue and Fourteenth street, and a building of 36x50 would just about meet their present needs. Rev. G. Hon. Warner P. Sutton of Saugatuck, Mich., continues to act as secretary of the national republican congressional committee, and will undoubtedly remain in the position throughout the campaign, having demonstrated unusual fitness for managing the affairs of this branch of the party organization.

A great many people complain of not being waited on promptly at C. L. Streng & Son's closing out sale, which, while inconvenient to buyers, can hardly be avoided. The firm have extra help engaged and are doing all in their power to take care of the trade, but advise morning shopping where it is possible, as many people can get out only in the afternoon.

The Hession fly has made its appearance in this vicinity and greatly alarms our farmers. There is room for a large number of first class vegetable and fruit farms and excellent pasturage on these lands.

Tuesday afternoon John Lubbers, a 19 year old lad, of East Saugatuck, was handling a self-cocking revolver, which was supposed to be unloaded, when suddenly it went off, the ball lodging in Lubbers' thigh. ## Holland City News.

SATURDAY, May 23 1896.

Holland, - - Mich.

The "Solid South"—or, rather, the partisan despotism which has so long held most of the Southern States in its grip—is fractured at another point. In the recent State election in Louisiana the Democratic majority was reduced from sixty-five thousand to fifteen thousand, the city of New Orleans was carried overwhelmingly for reform and against the Democratic ring, while in Baton Rouge, St. Mary, and other parishes the Republicans made heavy gains. It is charged that in the negro parishes, where all the polls were watched by detectives and where large Democratic majorities were returned by the election commissioners, the count was largely fraudulent; and it is understood that the whole matter will be brought into court, with a view of showing, by affidavits already obtained, that the vote in the black belt was not one-fourth as large as the majority returned for the Democratic ticket. The Legislature, too, which has a Democratic majority of only four or five on joint ballot, will be asked to investigate the alleged frauds; and it is not impossible that, if a re-count can be had in some of the parishes, sufficient changes may be made to transfer control to the reform element. The result of the voting in New Orleans was especially notable from the fact that the Democrats had the backing of the State machine and full control of all the local election machinery, and also from the fact that, with a white majority of thirty seven thousand in the total vote, the Democratic candidate for governor had a majority of only five thousand against 22,272 Democratic majority at the last election.

A year or so ago the Florida Legislature passed a law making it a penal offense for any individual or association to conduct within that State any school of any grade in which white and black persons should be instructed or taught in the same building, or brought in the same class or at the same time by the same teacher. Any person or persons violating this act by patronizing or teaching in such school is liable to a fine of not less than one hundred and fifty dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail for not less than three months nor more than six months, for every such offense. Under these provisions no citizen of Florida, it will be noted, can under certain conditions educate his child, at his own charge, in a school or college of his choice; he is excluded absolutely from the best educational institutions in the State if these admit pupils of both white and colored parentage. Four weeks ago, under authority of the State, the principal and eight teachers of the Orange Park Normal and Industrial School were arrested for violating this law. This defiance of the law was in obedience to a definite determination on the part of the American Missionary Association, under whose auspices these educationalists were employed, to make a distinct test of the statute. At the last triennial National Council of the Congressional bodies of the United States instructions were given to the association to "resist this wicked enactment in all lawful ways, and to exhaust all legal measures to defend the rights and privileges guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States, and if necessary carry the case to the Supreme Court for adjudication."

Thus, at last, we have issue squarely joined between the sentiment and ideas upon which our free institutions have been built, and the intolerant temper which, in one State at least, seems to have survived the shock of civil war, and which reflects, rather, the spirit of the long-forgotten ages than the broad and catholic thought of these later days. It is amazing that in a State which in recent years has shared so largely in the benefits of Northern enterprise, and has been brought so closely into touch with the liberalizing tendencies of modern opinion, there should be a revival and expression in statutory form of antebellum prejudices and race antipathies.

It is becoming more and more probable that the silver element of the Democratic party will have control of the national convention at Chicago. A poll of the States recently made shows that while the Eastern and Middle States will undoubtedly elect delegations in favor of the gold standard, the West and South will be decidedly in favor of the adoption of a free silver plank. It is possible that the friends of the administration may, to some extent, over-come in more closely-balanced States the now aggressively-dominant silver sentiment; but in any event, there is bound to be in the national convention a desperate and embittered contest, and, with the present ugly temper of the silverites, the probabilities are that a compromise will be impossible upon any other basis than a recognition of their demands.

Meanwhile the Republican sentiment on the other hand, is crystallizing in support of a vigorous maintenance of the gold standard and the prevention of free coinage at any ratio not established by international agreement. Outside of the silver-producing States all the conventions so far held have declared more or less emphatically in favor of this principle. The St. Louis convention will undoubtedly recognize the demands of the party masses in this particular. Possibly, in that event, the delegations of some of the silver States may refuse to abide by the result, and may undertake to commit their following to the support of the Democracy or of some independent propaganda. The result, however, will be in either case the same. With the Democratic party committed to free silver coinage, and the Republican party standing for the money of the commercial world, for the maintenance of honest values as against any depreciation and debasement of the currency which would unsettle business conditions, promote speculation, and bring disaster upon every important industrial interest, there can be no doubt at all as to the outcome.

It is a theory of physiognomists, and one often verified, that man and wife will in time grow to look alike. It is a very consistent theory that when two persons wholly in accord with each other physically and mentally live side by side for years they will acquire a facial resemblance, no matter how opposite in appearance when first married. This theory has a striking verification in Major and Mrs. William McKinley, who a year from now may be residents of the White House. It has long been a subject of remark at Washington that Mrs. Cleveland has taken a remarkable resemblance to her husband. This can be noticed best by the unskilled observer by comparing the expression of the eyes. It is not always that the likeness extends to a change in the actual physical conformation of the face, but with Mrs. McKinley, as with Mrs. Cleveland, there is in the expression more than in the features a resemblance to the Napoleonic face of her distinguished husband.

It would be strange indeed, if Mrs. McKinley did not absorb her husband's expression. For years she has been "wrapped up in him," to use an old-time, homely illustration. Day and night, absent or near, her thought has been ever and always of William McKinley. When he was away touring the country she sat at home, an invalid in body but strong in soul, and found consolation in looking at his photographs. She would sit for hours at a time handling first a photograph of him in his youth, when he came a-wooling; then one of his first political victory; another when, in the full vigor of manhood, he went to the National Congress, and so on. Daily, in campaign times, when her husband was on the stump in nearly every State of the Union, Mrs. McKinley received a telegram at breakfast, another at noon, and one at night, from the devoted husband, who in the midst of plaudits and adulation never forgot the patient invalid at home.

THE TARIFF CAUSE.

Convention to Meet at Detroit to Discuss the Question.

Detroit, May 18.—It develops that the attendance at the national non-partisan commercial tariff convention, which meets in this city June 2, will be considerably larger than its projectors at first anticipated. Secretary S. B. Archer, of the Tariff Commission league, has received credentials already from commercial bodies who have chosen a total of over 1,000 delegates. There will also be some delegates from laboring and agricultural organizations. At least double the number of accredited delegates is expected, representing boards of trade and chambers of commerce and other bodies of like character. Other persons who attend will be entitled to vote on all questions excepting those concerning permanent organization. From letters received the sentiment favoring holding annual non-partisan tariff conventions is almost unanimous. The Santa Fe woman's board of trade, the only organization of its kind, will send four delegates.

The convention committee, consisting of presidents of boards of trade, commercial bodies, and labor and farming organizations representing various sections of the country, will meet June 1, and arrange the final details and choose temporary officers.

Auxiliary to the convention, and designed to facilitate discussion, there will be four large committees. Their provinces respectively will be: To recommend ways and means for taking the tariff question out of partisan politics and making it a business question; to suggest ways and means for improving the consular service in the way of increasing our foreign trade, especially with the Central and South American republics; to report upon the advisability of recommending to congress the creation of a department of commerce, manufactures and labor, the chief of such department to be a member of the president's cabinet; to make recommendations as to a permanent organization and the holding of annual conventions for considering the tariff and other national questions.

The convention is to be absolutely non-political and all questions must be discussed from a purely commercial standpoint. The convention will probably continue a week or more.

Detroit, May 20.—A "grub" trust has been formed here by the hundred or more cheap restaurant-keepers, and the members of the trust, as their first act, agreed to raise the price of meals from 15 to 20 cents. The restaurant men claim that there is no money made feeding transient boarders at 15 cents a head, because their appetites are always enormous. The transients are especially numerous here in the summer in the shape of excursionists. It is claimed they have been eating up restaurant profits for several years. The regular boarders will be able to get their meals at the old rate. The trust also contemplates taking action in regard to bills of fare, help and other branches of the business.

SATURDAY, May 23.

G. VAN SCHELVEN, Editor.

The Sewerage Problem.

It will be remembered that last summer Prof. P. C. Kedzie of the State Agricultural College was here, at the instigation of the Board of Public Works, and gave his opinion on several points connected with our proposed system of sewerage. This information, we believe, has never been published. It is in the shape of answers to certain questions addressed to him, as follows:

1. What portion of the city could be safely given a sewer outlet in the south channel of the river?

Only that portion that descends so rapidly to the north that the sewerage could not readily be carried into Twelfth street sewer. The sewage now flowing from this district is so largely diluted by condensed water from the mill, that little offense is given; but if the sewage were largely increased without corresponding dilution, the effects would be undesirable.

2. Would it be objectionable to carry that sewer in an open ditch through the marsh, or low ground, between the city and the river?

Yes, if amount of sewage was increased.

3. Where should all the balance of the sewerage of the city be discharged?

In Black Lake, at the foot of Twelfth street, in deep water, at least 12 feet deep.

4. For this last named sewer what size tile should be sufficient for a city with 12,000 inhabitants, provided no surface water except that of the main street is discharged into it.

A sewer glazed tile, 18 inches in diameter.

5. What size of lateral sewer is required for a residence street on which 200 families reside, in case no surface water from the street is discharged into it?

Six inch laterals, which should enter the main sewer at an acute angle; right angle connections are apt to cause deposits of solid matter in main sewer, by reason of eddies.

6. What size of lateral sewer is required on our business street, which is 1/2 mile long; this sewer also to carry surface water from the street?

Nine inch lateral.

7. If the main sewer is discharged into 12 feet or more depth of water west of the point on which King & Co.'s factory is located, would any offensive gases arise from the water at point of discharge? If so, how far would this extend?

I should look for very little escape of offensive gases if the bottom of the Lake is clean gravel, fed by springs at the bottom. If gases escaped, I should not expect their influence to extend more than one-third of a mile on the surface of the lake.

8. Would any offensive floating matter rise from it?

Probably not unless stirred up by passing steamers; solid sewage of every kind is heavier than water; paper and vegetable matter will sink in water, and would only rise when bubbles of gas are entangled in the material; I should not look for active formation in cold water 12 feet below the surface; the only sewage matter lighter than water is grease.

9. Would any offensive deposit gradually accumulate on the bottom of the lake, to be a source of offense when stirred by the wheels of steamboats or otherwise?

Some accumulation of solid matter may be expected if the outward movements of the water in Black Lake did not carry such matter into Lake Michigan.

10. Would it poison the fish in the lake?

Probably not in Black Lake, but would in the branch of Black River, the water there being less quantity.

11. How near to it could ice be safely cut for domestic use?

One mile away.

12. If the city should take a portion of its water supply for emergencies (fire, etc.) from a point west of this outlet, towards Lake Michigan, how near could we place our suction pipe to this sewer discharge with safety?

One half mile from opening of sewer.

13. To what extent are flush basins at the head ends of sewers advisable or necessary?

Very important for keeping the sewers free from deposits, and to prevent formation of sewer gas.

In Memoriam.

In view of the approaching Memorial Day we comply with a request often made of the News, to publish the Roll of the Dead that is annually read on Memorial Day in decorating the slab in the cemetery erected to "The Absent Dead."

This roll contains the names of thirty of the "Boys in Blue," who served in the Union army during the late War of the Rebellion, enlisted as volunteers from the Township of Holland (which then included also the present city), NEVER RETURNED, and now lie buried in known and unknown graves in the South.

It is the intention of the committee in charge of the soldiers monument to cause these names to be inscribed upon the base of the column, and thus perpetuate their names and their memory together with those of their comrades that are interred at home and whose graves are provided with a head stone by the U. S. government:

The schr. Stevenson came in Tuesday from Ludington with a cargo of lumber for the West Michigan furniture factory.

The government boats Hancock, Graham and Williams were in the harbor Tuesday, awaiting orders.

The Lillie Guy, a small schooner, brought in a cargo of hardwood lumber from South Haven Wednesday.

The stmr. Lizzie Walsh and consort, left for Ludington Thursday, after a cargo of lumber.

The schr. Mary L., loaded with basket stuff from White Lake to St. Joseph, put into Holland harbor for shelter during the storm on Sunday. She run foul of the pier and damaged her jib boom and part of head gear.

The schr. Fitch, which left here Saturday for Glenn pier, returned during the night for shelter.

The government tug Williams which was waiting to tow the dredge from Saugatuck to South Haven, came into Holland harbor for safety during Sunday's storm.

The old steamer Macatawa, which was burned to the water's edge at Chicago last season and brought to Saugatuck for repairs is nearly completed. She will hereafter be known as the Windsor and will be used in the excursion business between Chicago and Windsor park.

The steamer Mabel Bradshaw is now making regular trips between Pentwater, Montague, Whitehall and Chicago.

The stmr. Bon Voyage is being fitted out at this port. She will go into commission about June 8, and ply between Rochester and Toronto.

The schooner Mary D. Ayer was sunk in collision with the steamer Onoko, off Grosse Point, early Sunday morning and five members of her crew were drowned, two being saved.

After the accident the schooner went down the lake with her bow stove in and was picked up by steamer City of Duluth. Shortly after being taken in tow she sank. There was a dense fog on the lake at the time of the collision and the accident is not believed to have been the result of carelessness. The Onoko was damaged but not seriously.

Lake Michigan is being gradually abandoned by the largest class of vessels. The wonderful growth in recent years of the Lake Superior ore and grain trade has turned effectually the trend of heavy traffic, leaving a minor portion only for Lake Michigan. In addition to this it must be said that of late but very few new vessels are built.

The first material detriment resulting from the unfinished condition in which our harbor is left at present, with reference to dredging, was experienced by the stmr. Soo City Sunday morning as she attempted to make port during the storm. The force of the wind, just as she got inside the piers, drove her against the north bar and held her there, until the tug Graham came to her relief. Rather than make any further attempt Capt. Driscoll preferred to go to Grand Haven, where he arrived about nine o'clock, several of the passengers destined for Holland taking a conveyance from there. Two of the members of the life saving crew, who went on board the steamer to render assistance had to make the trip with her to Grand Haven.

The incident, as usual, was made the occasion by the Grand Haven press for heralding the superiority of its harbor. Says the Tribune:

"Grand Haven's great harbor advantages were shown up in proper shape, Sunday. The Goodrich steamer arrived in port without the least danger, while the Soo City was pounding the sand at Holland and had to put here for shelter."

The above happening to fall under the eye of one of our townsmen, who was a passenger on the steamer, he sends us the following rejoinder:

To the Editor Daily Tribune, Grand Haven, Mich:

I noticed an item in a recent issue of your valuable journal reflecting upon the superior advantages of Grand Haven harbor in contrast with that of Holland.

I happened to be a passenger on the stmr. Soo City, which was obliged to make Grand Haven harbor, during the storm of Sunday morning. As we entered your fine harbor we fully appreciated what the government had done for Grand Haven, or rather, what Hon. T. W. Ferry had secured for his home town. On approaching the docks at the city, we were surprised to find that the "best harbor on Lake Michigan" had not a single steamer or sail vessel in it. No boat larger than a row boat was to be seen.

This leads to the pertinent query: Why should the government continue to spend the greater part of the appropriations of the Fifth district on Grand Haven harbor? Holland harbor has not less than ten arrivals and departures of steam and sail craft, from its harbor, for every one at Grand Haven. Competent engineers say that if one-half the money which has been spent at Grand Haven, the latter would be the better one.

May 20, 1896.

The Piscatorial banquet at Van Drez's the other evening was a brilliant affair and made up in enterprise and conviviality for the dismal results of the previous evening. For had it not been heralded all over the city that a score or more of our ambitious anglers, divided into gladiatorial groups, were to enter upon a contest for mastery with the rod, the score to be divided by points, and that the extent of the wager was to be determined by our conscientious, kind-hearted restaurant keeper? The spread, which was a good one, when entered upon, was interspersed with a series of mutual apologies, each one present explaining to the others how disappointing the weather was that evening, how the wind blew from the wrong quarter, how rigid the water of the bay appeared to them after dark, how a large number of them were sick that evening, and failed to connect; and of what insignificant proportions the few samples of spotted bass were, that they happened to land. Each explanation as it was rehearsed was thoroughly understood by the others, and acknowledged by a fisherman's nod.

Of the twenty-four would-be champions that evening, at the banquet table, only three were sick, the others having displayed remarkable powers at conversing. In due season the table was cleared and Dr. F. M. Gillespie took the floor as toastmaster, with our esteemed contemporary of the Times as provisional chaplain. This recognition, as was afterwards explained to us, was by reason of his aptitude at devout smiling. The climax of the festivity was the conferring of the honorary degree of P. D. (piscatorial doctor), accompanied with appropriate decorations, upon the member that stood convicted of having caught the most insignificant specimen. This distinction befell Commodore De Pree, he having landed a Macatawa bass of 14 oz. The medal presented on this occasion is highly prized by the young Doctor, and nothing pleases him more than to have his friends drop in and ask him to display it once more. The most serious incident of the evening was the preferring of charges against the chaplain for having stocked his basket with fish that were caught with "a silver spoon," but our contemporary successfully covered himself—by smiling. As an eye-witness described it: "It was one of those everlasting smiles of his."

With the semi-annual apportionment of the primary school moneys in the spring, comes also the annual apportionment of fine moneys collected by the county treasurer, upon the same basis as the school census. The amount so apportioned this time is extra large, by reason of the heavy fines paid in last summer. The aggregate is $2126.83 against $887.85 last year. ### CONGRESSIONAL

The Proceedings of the First Session.

The river and harbor appropriation bill was passed in the senate on the 15th. It appropriates over $5,000,000. Bills were also passed to authorize a life-saving station at Port Huron, Mich.; making one year's residence in a territory requisite for a divorce, and to establish a railroad bridge across the Illinois river near Grafton, Ill. In the house the Hinkley-Downing contested election case from Illinois was sent to the committee on elections with instructions to report such parts of the vote as it deemed proper. A bill was reported favorably providing for the appointment by the president of a commission of five persons, whose duty it shall be to investigate the alcoholic liquor traffic.

The Dupont case, involving the right of Henry A. Dupont to take a seat in the senate from the state of Delaware occupied the time in the senate on the 14th. In the house the whole day was devoted to private pension bills and 58 in all were favorably acted upon. A favorable report was made on the resolution authorizing preliminary proceedings looking to the adoption of international coins.

The senate on the 15th rejected by a vote of 31 to 30 the claim of Henry A. Dupont (rep.) from Delaware to a seat in the senate. Senator Bacon (Ga.) spoke in favor of the bill to prohibit the issuance of government bonds without the authority of congress and Senator Gallinger (N. H.) offered a resolution declaring that a revision of the tariff laws is imperatively demanded. The house occupied itself in passing private pension bills which were favorably acted upon and 100 were passed, leaving about 60 yet undisposed of.

The Cuban question was revived in the senate on the 16th when Senator Morgan, of Alabama, spoke in favor of further and more decisive action toward the recognition of the Cuban as belligerents. The senator declared it to be the duty of congress to adopt joint resolutions on belligerency, which, unlike the previous concurrent resolutions, would require the approval of the president, and thus fixing the responsibility.

The senate on the 16th defeated a motion to investigate alleged election irregularities in Alabama. The fortifications bill ($10,703,888) was reported. In the house the greater part of the session was taken up to the passage of 35 pension bills. The committee on banking and currency reported that it had adjourned until December next.

Nervous Prostration Cured by Dr. Miles' Nerve.

Prolonged derangement of the nervous system not only affects the brain and mental powers, but develops disease in some of the vital organs. The most dangerous of these indirect results is when the heart is affected. This was the case of the Rev. N. F. Surface, Fawn River, Mich., who writes under date of Feb. 14, 1895:

"Fourteen years ago I had a slight stroke of paralysis. Overwork brought on nervous prostration. I was exceedingly nervous and the exertion of public speaking caused heart palpitation that threatened my life. I used two bottles of Dr. Miles' Nervine for my heart trouble, and two of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve for my nervousness and feel better than I ever expected to feel again. I can speak for hours without tiring or having my heart flutter as it formerly did, and I have you to thank that I am alive today."

Of the Many Testimonials on Hand I Give the Following:

Having used all other medicines without avail for over three years, I have tried and been completely cured by the use of less than one bottle of Jansen's Pile Cure. I would recommend it to all afflicted with this complaint.

Life Made Easy

For Another Holland Citizen—Many People Talking About It.

A typical Hollander is Mr. Jacob Molengraaf, who resides on E. Fourteenth Street. Our representative found him still unable to speak English, but his son interpreted for him, and the following is an account of his experience, which he gives for publication. No better proof for the citizens of Holland can be found than the utterances and endorsement of our neighbors. He says:

"I was a great sufferer during all last winter with my kidneys. The pain was on each side of my back over the hips, it was right where you put your hands when you stand with them placed on your hips. It was worse in the morning, and I was sometimes in such pain I could not get out of bed in the ordinary manner, but would have to sort of roll out, keeping my body as straight as possible, and I would be compelled to walk stooped over until I got gradually straightened out, when I would feel a little easier. This continued in this way until I commenced taking Doan's Kidney Pills. I had seen them advertised, so I procured a box at the drug store of J. O. Doesburg, and on taking them they gave me almost instant relief. I continued using them and I have not been a sufferer since. I have every confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills. They have proved to be just as represented. If ever I should have any return of the trouble I shall know what to use. It pleases me to be able to speak a good word for them."

Doan's Kidney Pills are not a cure-all, but a Kidney Cure, and that they do cure all forms of kidney disorder it is not hard to prove to the people of Holland, for we can give them the endorsement of their neighbors, and this must satisfy the most skeptical.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers—price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

Grand Haven.

Thirty-five veterans of the late war lie buried in Lake Forest Cemetery. News: The steamer Atlanta, while two miles from here, bound for Muskegon, Saturday, stopped for over half an hour. The life saving crew started to go to her, but she steamed away before they reached her.

D. O. Watson has been appointed, a member of the board of public works. Capt. Jack Walker and his assistant Ed. Van der Meiden are putting things in apple pie order at Highland Park.

The present contract between the city and Emlaw & Miller for the electric lighting of the streets, being about to expire, it is proposed to submit to the people the question of building a municipal plant, at a cost of $8,500.

The total salaries of the public schools for the ensuing school year, as fixed by the school board is $12,325 against $11,980 the present year.

Geo. A. Farr will deliver the Memorial Day address at the Agricultural college, Lansing.

Ottawa County.

Ed. P. Cummings has been retained as principal of the Spring Lake schools for another year.

Wm. M. Savidge of Spring Lake has been appointed by Gov. Rich a member of the board of inspectors of the Orchard Lake Military Academy.

Warburton brothers have been driving a well in the southern part of Tallmadge township. After reaching the depth of 388 feet, the powerful cable snapped, and they lost their drill. They lowered a drill grapple, but found no resistance, though they used over 500 feet of line. It is believed the drill was lost in some deep subterranean cavity. Before it was lost the drill bored through 12 feet of solid rock.

Hundreds of dead fish are reported to be seen on Spring Lake and it is hinted that illegal fishermen are using dynamite in the lake.

Zeeland.

Jacob Den Herder has been named as administrator of the estate of the late A. J. Hillebrands.

Decorations Day will be observed here in a fitting manner.

De Pree & Elenbaas have established their office in the vacant store of Ossewaarde & Bro. Whether they will rebuild or not is still a mooted question.

Mrs. J. D. Everhard and D. Kamperman continue on the sick list.

Editor Hartwick will retire for some time from the management of the Expositor.

News: A number of "jays" from Holland spent a noisy time at Van Slooten's Thursday evening, in honor of the birthday of Miss Annie. As a whole our young fairies draw attention in the neighboring city.

In 1895 Zeeland township had 76 births and 28 deaths.

Saugatuck.

Commercial: The steamer Saugatuck presents an improved appearance this spring. The quick work astern of the aft gangway has been renewed and the boat has been thoroughly painted inside and out.

Every week that passes without frost lessens the probability of damage to the fruit crop from that element. The young peaches are now about the size of beans and are not dropping to any noticeable extent. Neither is there any curl leaf on the trees, the continuous warm weather having given them a strong healthy foliage. It is probable there are not as many peaches on the tree this year as there was last, but the crop is more general, many orchards which practically bore no fruit last year being full this year. The crop is about two weeks in advance of that of last season.

Capt. Brittain returned from Benton Harbor the first of the week, having while there, chartered the steamer Frank Woods to the Graham & Morton Transportation Co. for the present season, to run between Benton Harbor and Milwaukee. It is necessary to make some extensive alterations in the boat at once, and it was her owner's desire to have the alterations made here, but as it was impossible to get her up the river she will be taken to Holland where the work will be done.

Allegan County.

The wool market in Allegan opened with prices lower than last year, and buyers say the bottom is not yet reached. Washed wool now brings from ten to fifteen cents per pound, while the price of unwashed ranges from five to eleven cents.

A Monterey man has a clock which has been keeping perfect time in his family for sixty years past, and which is still doing business at the old stand.

The First National bank of Allegan will take the bonds which the village of Fennville intends to issue in payment for the fire apparatus recently purchased, at their face value, provided the issuance is legally done.

A farmer of Watson township recently found a copper knife, which is evidently a relic of the mound builders. It seems to be composed of pure copper, but is very hard and has a sharp edge, indicating that it was made by a people who had a knowledge of the art of tempering copper.

Petitions asking that the local option question be again submitted to the voters of Allegan county, are being circulated and are receiving many signatures.

Last summer the women of Chicago, an Allegan county village, held an ice cream social and raised enough money to build a much-needed sidewalk in front of the church. They purchased the lumber, but could not get the men of the congregation to come around and lay it. After waiting a long time the ladies themselves turned out last week and built a sidewalk that the men might be proud to call their own work. Ten to one that these same fellows are opposed to women representation.

According to the figures given by the prosecuting attorney of Allegan county, during the past two years, when local option has been in force, the criminal cases have been 25 per cent fewer in number than during the time when high license prevailed.

Fennville.

Editor Bassett will represent the Fennville Maccabees at the annual meeting at Saginaw in June.

Twenty-five applications have been made for the position as principal of the Fennville schools, but it is thought A. B. Johnson, now teaching in Ganges, will be the successful applicant at a salary of $55 per month.

Port Sheldon.

H. Goodin has closed down his mill for the present. He has a large supply of staves and heading cut ahead and his front yard looks like a miniature lumber yard.

Some of our Holland citizens had a taste of our "good roads" last Sunday, as they passed through here from Grand Haven on their way home. We hope they will help us to keep the ball rolling.

John Bosch of Grand Haven, general traveling agent for the McCormick Binder, paid this place a visit Monday and stayed over night with Mr. Cook at the bridge.

A Clark, manufacturer of the Clark Cutaway Harrow, took a run out to see his agent C. B. Cook, Tuesday afternoon. He reports business improving wherever he has been lately.

Mr. and Mrs. Klyne took a drive to Grand Haven Saturday and returned on Monday.

The refreshing showers of the last few days have revived things, and there is every prospect that this is going to be a bountiful year.
