It is High Time

You were having your eyesight attended to when they blur, smart, or your vision becomes defective in any way. If you can't see clearly without glasses then you ought to have them without delay. If a glass will help your eyes, its hurting your eyes to do without them. The eye finds rest and increased power in properly fitted glasses. Of all taxes, the tax upon the sight should be the least, and nothing in the world saves the sight so much as spectacles. Save your eyes; you'll never have any others and lost vision can seldom be recovered. Be absolutely certain that if your eyes need glasses you're using them. It will cost you nothing to have your eyes tested by us and but a trifle to get whatever glasses, if any, you may require.

Sheriff Whitbeck was here Monday, where he served papers on the president, trustees and clerk of the village in a suit of injunction, commenced by Jonas Crouse and Wm. Plummer, to restrain said village board from levying a tax to pay for the fire engine lately purchased. G. J. Diekmann of Holland is the attorney for the complainants. Diekmann of Holland spoke in a forcible and pleasing manner on "Tact"—the very necessary habit of saying and doing the right thing at the right time. His illustrations were numerous and striking and his arguments logical and convincing. The plan of holding the next annual county rally at Macatawa park was discussed but no decision was made in the matter.

A large room in the second story of the Kalamazoo jail will be fitted for a chapel and services will be held there every Sunday afternoon under the direction of the Ministerial alliance.

An old post office inspector says: "Money never should be inclosed in letters for transmission through the mails. In the first place it is unnecessary to do so, because money orders are cheap; and in the second place, money in a letter offers a constant temptation to those who handle mail. It is practically impossible to place money in a letter so that the postal clerk into whose hands the letter falls will not instantly detect it. Paper money has a peculiar odor, unlike anything else on earth, and the clerk who is dishonest uses his sense of smell in spotting valuable letters rather than the sense of touch."

The P. M. is about to put in a stock of goods.

The K. O. T. M. here hold their own and are flourishing.

The Grange, as was reported some time ago in the papers, has not gone up in smoke and is not busted nor disorganized. It numbers about 60, is in a flourishing condition, and the membership is steadily increasing. Some 13 have been added this spring, and more are applying. No one has left.

The Grange positively and emphatically does not tolerate dancing or card playing in the Grange; not because they consider it such a terrible thing, but simply because they do not come under the aims and objects of the organization. The Grange is non-partisan in politics and non-sectarian in religion. It teaches to live and to let live; to help itself and to help others; to secure prosperity for its own membership, and thus contribute to the prosperity of others. The Grange is a farmers' organization, seeking for just and equitable laws for all and an honest and economic administration of the same. They strive to delve into the science of farming and husbandry and make a practical application of the same. About its social literary and other features, I will speak later on.

Gone Into Camp.

MEMORIAL DAY 1897.

Thin are the blue-clad ranks to-day, once half a million strong,
And slow and feeble are the feet that once marched far and long.

Once more together they will march with slow, uncertain tramp,
To see their comrades who have gone before, them into camp.

The tents are spread—the low, green tents, whose curtains tightly close;
No reveille will waken those who sweetly here repose;

No more their weary feet will toll o'er highways rough and damp—
For them the long, hard march is done, for they've gone into camp.

Their comrades come with songs and flowers; the banner of their love
Flutters proudly out upon the air, their low, close tents above.

Ah, many a mile they followed it with strong and steady tramp
Before they heard the order given—"Break ranks—go into camp."

Soon all the weary feet will halt, the last march will be made,
For them the low, green tents be spread on hillside or on glade;

No more together will they march with slow and broken tramp—
To all the order will be given: "Break ranks—go into camp."

Henry Ward Beecher in 1862, on the first anniversary of the firing on Fort Sumpter, thus spoke to his congregation:

"I am not sanguine, though I am hopeful. And yet, I have no other thought than that victory awaits us at every step.

We are able to bear our share of defeat. If the blessing of liberty is too great to be purchased at so cheap a price, let God tell us the price, and we are ready to pay it.

We have more sons to give. We can live lower and on less. The sources of our prosperity are hardly touched.

And I think I may say for you, and the great American common people: "We will give every dollar we are worth, every child that we have, and our own selves. We will bring all that we are and all we have and offer them up freely, but this country shall be ours and undivided. We will have one constitution, and one liberty, and that universal."

The Atlantic shall sound it and the Pacific shall echo it back. Deep answering to deep, it shall reverberate from the Lakes on the North to the frozen Gulf on the South—one nation; one constitution; one starry banner.

Hear it, England! One country, and indivisible. Hear it, Europe! One people, and inseparable. One government; one country; one nation.

Cost what it may, we will have it."

The Gold Democrats.

The Gold Democrats are they who refused to subscribe to the "new gospel" enunciated in the Chicago platform. They rebel against the doctrine that a state is more than the union of states, and absolutely reject the financial heresy designated as 16 to 1. Up on both of these questions they are in harmony with the political principles of the Republican party. The dividing line between the two is the tariff. The Gold Democrats still denounce a protective tariff, while the Republican party is earnestly attempting to restore prosperity upon the basis of a tariff that will stimulate our home industries and promote home labor.

The Gold Democrats in Michigan have taken renewed courage from the result of the April election, at which they cast a vote of 31,874. In a circular issued by the Democratic State Central Committee they comment upon this fact by stating that "this is three times the number anticipated by the most enthusiastic Democrat, and as the total April vote was only three-fifths of the vote cast in November, it can readily be seen there are over 50,000 Democrats in the state."

In further reviewing the situation the committee claim that their position is a unique one. Michigan, they say, "is the only state in which there has been an opportunity, since the presidential election, to indicate our strength. News of our unparalleled success has already been heralded throughout the length and breadth of the land, and has electrified, with patriotic fervor, the hearts of thousands of citizens who have been dismayed by political, financial and social disorder. What, we have done, and are doing in this state, will be done all over the Union, and it requires no prophet to foresee the important part we shall play in the next congressional and presidential elections."

They then urge all patriotic Democrats to stand firm by the time-honored principles of their party, and promise on their part to continue indefinitely the work of perfecting their organization.

At a meeting of the National Democratic leaders in New York city the other week, the success of Michigan Democrats was regarded as the most important political event since the defeat of Bryanism last November. A national mass convention will soon be held for the purpose of perfecting a more thorough organization.

The Prospects Brighten.

An interesting glimpse of the forces which are at work in the New South was afforded by the tariff debate in the House. Southern representatives report that there has been a revolution of public sentiment in that section of the country during the past four or five months.

The silver craze has about run out, except in the country districts. In the cities a majority of the Democrats are now against free and unlimited coinage, 16 to 1. In such cities as Charleston and Savannah it is said Democrats of influence who adhere to the Bryan doctrine are so scarce that they can be counted on the fingers of one's two hands.

The number of Democratic protectionists is increasing all the time. The sentiments of the latter have been expressed in several speeches made during the tariff debate in the House. Southern representatives have declared that the time has come for their people to stop making faces at the North for seeking prosperity through tariff legislation, and to go for their proper share of the benefits.

The wealth and intelligence of the South is fast turning against the old theory of free trade, as well as against the new and undemocratic notion that cheap and depreciated money is a panacea for all industrial ills. The development of the iron and the cotton manufacturing industries is producing a New South.

The South is evidently going to be a fruitful field for Republican proselytizing on national issues. If the Democratic party of the future insists upon maintaining alliance with the Populists in advocacy of free silver and in opposition to protection to home industries there are Southern states which will join the Republican ranks in the near future. This is the prediction of Democrats from the South.

The Indian's Grievance.

Red Cloud, the old Sioux chief from the Pine Ridge Indian Agency, was in Washington last week and appeared before the Senate committee on Indian affairs and told a moving tale.

"I am now nearly eighty years old," he said. "I am almost blind, and I am led, as you see, by one of my subjects, the son of a former brave warrior. I am here to plead for justice to my people. There is nothing left on earth for me. I plead only for my people—the people for whom I once delighted to fight. I want to ask the white rulers to let my people live in peace. You have all the lands on this great earth. You took it by force. I do not love your race. You have murdered and ruined my people. Now I want a little bit of fair dealing. I am too old and feeble to have come all the way from the land of the Dakotas, except for my people."

Here the old man raised his goggles and wiped tears from his eyes. It was evident that he would rather fight than plead. He continued:

"You must not divide the great Sioux reservation into eighty-acre lots because the lands are not tillable. The creeks dry up. The hot winds of August blast every crop. The lands could not be cultivated by the best white farmers. The Indians will never be farmers, even on good ground. You ought to have intelligence to know that Indians are differently constituted from yourselves. If my race had such intelligence we would never have let you get this continent. The lands on our reservation are good for grazing. Let my people have them for that purpose. We can raise horses and cattle, but we cannot raise crops."

"I came here when the great soldier, Grant, was president, and he assured me that the white people would be honest. As long as he was alive, he always stood by me. I respected that soldier. He knew how to appreciate brave men. I hope that the white men's council will deal justly with my people."

Senator Pettigrew, the chairman of the committee on Indian affairs, shook the old Indian's hand and assured him that in the pending Indian appropriation bill provision would be made for his people, and that justice will be done. Red Cloud held the senator's hand and said:

"Remember that Red Cloud never begged a favor. He simply asks for justice for his people. I do this before I die, because I know my people will love my memory if I can save them their home."

The reading of these papers, as announced in the preliminary program, is to "commence on the morning of the second day, consecutively or simultaneously, from one or more stands, or in one or more of the large churches, as shall hereafter be deemed best. If necessary, or desired, this feature of the celebration can be extended into the third day. The rendering of these various papers is to be systematically arranged and announced by printed programs."

A very important feature in connection with these papers, however, and which will render them of great importance is, that "at the close of the celebration all of said papers are to be deposited with the commission, with a view of their compilation and publication. They may be prepared either in the English or Dutch language, at the option of the writer, though the former is preferable. Suggestions as to topics and authors will be welcome from this time on."

With reference to the orations to be delivered on the first day, we are authorized to state that the several speakers and their topics will be announced at an early date.

Another feature in connection with these Historical Papers, as stated by the committee, is that they "do not desire to place any limitation as to their length, although the reading thereof at the time may have to be limited. In that event, and for that purpose, each author will be permitted to make his own condensation. What the committee desire to emphasize is that every paper is to be an historical paper—impartial and correct."

The Electric Railway Project.

The town board of Holland on Saturday decided not to grant the extension through the township of Holland of the franchise which had been granted by the common council of the city, at least not over the line of the Lake street road that leads along the south shore of the bay, and which had been designated in the application.

The franchise as submitted and the petition accompanying it, provided among others for the completion of the road this year; permission was given to haul freight; the fare to be five cents from the city limits to Macatawa Park; the track to be laid one rod from the centre of the highway, as follows: between the city and Central Park along the north side and from Central Park to Macatawa Bay on the south side of the highway; the company to build its own culverts and all road crossings and crossings into adjacent lands; only a single track to be laid; shade trees to be respected.

The leading petitioners in favor of granting the franchise were E. J. Harrington, G. Zaalmink, W. J. Scott, L. & L. Jenison, M. Notler, Holland & Chicago Transp. Co., T. R. Van Wert, J. Kulte, M. S. Marshall.

The remonstrance against the granting of the franchise was signed among others by J. F. Drake, Geo. A. Poole, Daniel Bertsch, John E. Gould, M. W. Kramer, E. Diekema, D. H. Clark, W. B. Conkey, J. Snitzler, P. Moordyke, Hugh Bradshaw, J. C. Everett.

The grounds of the opposition were stated as follows:

Said Lake street is the only driveway between Holland and Macatawa Park, and is daily used by a very large number of persons as such driveway. The running of a street car along the same would practically spoil the street or highway as a comfortable place to drive teams along, and would constantly place a large number of people in danger and in jeopardy of life and limb.

It would also greatly depreciate the value of property along said highway and thus materially reduce the assessment thereof, and the revenue derived by the township.

It would prevent capital from being invested along said highway and thus greatly damage the interests of property holders as well as of the township at large.

In addition to this the board had also received a communication from J. C. Post, the reading of which was called for:

Since signing the petition asking for the franchise I talked with a number of Chicago parties and gentlemen from St. Louis and other cities who visit the resorts, and find that almost without exception these people who come here for pleasure, with their families, and to whom we expect to sell property along the lake, are opposed to having a railroad. They consider that it would be a great damage to the property, and, in fact, they would not come at all.

They say that they are away from their summer homes a good part of the time, leaving their wives and children at the cottage, and that they think it would be dangerous and unpleasant.

This view of the case was a surprise to me, and as these people are the ones to whom we sell property, I am obliged to withdraw my name from the petition and state, to you that I should be opposed to such a franchise.

Further than this, I do not consider that your board have any legal right to grant such a franchise for the proposed road, and my advice to you would be to have the matter carefully investigated before taking any further steps.

All the members of the board were present at the meeting—Supervisor Van der Haar, Clerk Huisinga, and Justices Schilleman and Bloemers. After a presentation of the case, and of the papers submitted, including the proposed franchise, Judge Everett called attention to the fact that the latter did not provide for a schedule of train service. A satisfactory amending of the franchise in this respect was guaranteed by Mr. Humphrey.

The meeting having been called to ascertain the wishes of the people of the town, and of those who were more or less affected by the proposed line, it was learned in computing the frontage of those that had signed for and against, that the former represented 1,350 rods and the latter 985 rods frontage on the Lake street road.

It was furthermore claimed that among those residing away from the road, the farmers who used the road daily in marketing their produce at the parks during the summer, the sentiment was largely against granting the Lake street road for an electric railroad.

It has been intimated since that this latter fact and the reasons assigned in the communication of J. C. Post, was largely instrumental in forcing an adverse decision on the part of the board, inasmuch as the contrast between the property owners owning frontage on the Lake street road was more along the line of personal interest and preference than anything else. The question at issue was not so much hostility to the project, as it was a clashing of individual interests.

There was very little discussion and no formal argument, the ground having been pretty thoroughly gone over during the past weeks.

The board took an adjournment at four o'clock until six o'clock, and then rendered an unanimous decision adverse to the granting of a franchise along the line prayed for.

As to what next steps will be taken in furtherance of the project—upon this there was a marked reticence during the first part of the week, although later it has been intimated that the projectors of the road have been at work, very quietly, in securing the right of way from private land owners.

In Memoriam.

The colors were at half-mast at Hope College this week, in memory of the president of the council, the Rev. Peter De Bruyn, of Grand Haven, who died on Tuesday morning, in his 47th year.

The news of his illness, which preceded that of his death only a couple days, was a surprise to all, and especially to those who had seen and met him on our streets but a few weeks since, when he presided at the April session of the council of Hope College. His ailment was caused by a malignant growth in the abdomen, necessitating a surgical operation. This was performed on Saturday. He continued to linger until the following Tuesday, when at four A. M. he entered into his eternal rest, having retained consciousness up to the last.

Mr. De Bruyn had many many friends in this city and vicinity. To meet him was to respect him; to know him was to love him.

Then again with the older residents, those that have come to us from "the days of the colony," he was also beloved, because "they had known his father."

Always considerate of others, his humbleness was that of the highest nobility.

The personification of a dignity due to his profession, he did not allow that dignity to raise a barrier between him and the low, the unfortunate and the fallen.

In him was found the happy blending of the serious and the affable, the decorous and the kind.

He was so natural and real, as a man and as a minister of the lowly Nazarene.

The death of such a man is a loss—and in this case the universal and unaffected acknowledgement of that loss, elsewhere and here, is the loftiest tribute that can be paid to his life and character.

The funeral services proper were held at Grand Haven on Thursday forenoon, in the First Ref. church, where he had served his people these past five years. They were conducted by Revs. Collier and Lewis of that city, Rev. A. Zwemer of Spring Lake, Rev. J. J. Van Zanten of Muskegon, and Prof. H. E. Dosker of Holland. A large delegation filling two special coaches accompanied the remains to this city. They were met here at the depot by a still larger gathering of sympathizing friends, not only from this place, but of the entire colony, and especially from Zeeland. Escorted by the Faculty and Students of Hope College and a delegation of the Western Social Conference, of which he was secretary, and followed by a long line of not less than sixty carriages, all that was mortal of a cherished husband and father, and a devoted pastor and friend, was conveyed to Pilgrim Home Cemetery and there laid at rest, to await the coming of Him whom he had served so faithfully here.

The opportunity was there extended to the many assembled to view the remains, and listen to the parting words pronounced by one who mourned the departed as "the son of the friend of his father." The tribute paid by Rev. Bruyn, over the open grave, together with the reminiscences it brought forth, were worthy of the sorrowing event.

A committee was appointed to draft resolutions of condolence to the family bereaved and brought in the following resolutions:

"The Western Social Conference assembled in Grand Rapids, May 18, bear with profound sorrow the death of our honored and esteemed Secretary Rev. P. De Bruyn, this morning at his home in Grand Haven.

Resolved, first, That we tender to his bereaved widow, and sorrowing family, and mourning people, our heartfelt sympathy in this hour of trial; and we commend them to the God of all comfort and grace, who is the Husband of the widow, and the Father of the fatherless, and the Shepherd of His people, and,

Resolved, second, That we send copies of these resolutions to the family and the local papers of Grand Haven and Holland, and "De Hope," and the "Christian Intelligencer," and that we spread them on our minutes.

THE RAILROADS.

Still Occupy the Attention of the Legislature.

Apparent Deadlock Between the House and Senate—Provisions of the Graham Game Law—Other Lansing Gossip.

[Special Correspondence.]
Lansing, May 19.—On Friday the senate killed the Merriam bill as amended by the house. The bill, as originally passed by the senate, increased the taxes upon railroad earnings by about $180,000. The house amended it so as to raise these taxes to upward of $700,000, and then passed the bill. Friday by a vote of nineteen to five the senate refused to concur in the house amendments. The author of the bill says that the bill as amended distributes the tax too unevenly to be equitable. The senate has hung up the bills repealing the Michigan Central's special charter and increasing the specific taxes of railroad companies nearly two-fold, the former having been sent to the railroad committee, which is hostile to it to a man, and the latter being tabled. The increase made in the specific tax rate by the house is so much more than that fixed by the senate that there is grave danger of the bill dying between the houses. Gov. Pingree has come to the aid of the house amendments increasing the raise made by the senate in railroad taxes by announcing that special appropriation bills for the relief of the Ontonagon fire sufferers and for improvements at Mackinac Island state park, which will reach him early this week, will be held up pending the settlement of the differences between the two houses. Gov. Pingree is mailing hundreds of copies of his message on railroad taxation all over the state with a request that the person receiving it shall return his opinion upon it. Telegraph companies came in at attention in the house Thursday, a favorable report being made on the bill requiring them to exchange business in Michigan. The companies have made a stiff fight against this bill, but it will probably pass. The house agreed to them and tabled the insolvency bill. It provides for voluntary and involuntary assignments for the benefit of creditors without preferences, and has a bankruptcy clause releasing the debtor when he turns over his assets without fraud. The senate passed the Mason tax lien bill, as perfected by Senator Hadsall. It provides that tax purchasers must give notice by registered letter to all persons having an interest in the lands on which they have purchased tax titles, and give the owner six months' time after the serving of such notice in which to redeem his property. In case the owner lives in the same county where the tax title was purchased, he must be given personal notice by the tax buyer. The senate passed the Graham game bill. The bill needs now only Gov. Pingree's signature to make it a law. The measure covers the entire hunting field. The provisions of the bill, as it now stands, with a few trifling amendments, are as follows: No deer or elk are to be hunted until November 10, 1896, anywhere in Michigan, and in the counties of Alcona, Lapeer, Huron, Sanilac, Tuscola, Macomb, Allegan, Otsego and St. Clair counties, no deer are to be molested until January 1, 1903. When deer killing is to be resumed no more than five of the antlered animals are to be killed by any one person in any one year, and the only season for hunting them is to be from November 8 to November 30, inclusive. Deer in the red coat, or fawn in the spotted coat, are not to be molested, and any person having the skin of any such animal in his keeping is to be presumed guilty of illegal killing. Deer are not to be killed in any of the waters of the state, and no pit, pitfall, dead-fall, trap, snare, net, or similar device is to be used, or any chemicals, poisons or explosives. No artificial light is to be used in deer hunting, and any person having a light on his head is to be presumed guilty. Dogs are not to be used in deer hunting, and dogs pursuing deer are to be considered nuisances and killed. The season for squirrel hunting is to be from October 15 to December 31, inclusive, and no ferrets are to be used in squirrel hunting. No wild turkey is to be killed until 1905, and then only between November 1 and November 30, inclusive. The season for partridges, grouse, colin and quail, prairie chicken and spruce hen is to be from October 1 to December 1, inclusive. The season for wild duck and other wild water fowl is September 1 to January 31, from half an hour before sunrise to half an hour after sunset. In the upper peninsula the season is to be from September 1 to January 1. Wild pigeons are not to be killed until 1905. Wild fowl are not to be hunted with swivel or punt guns, batteries or mines, nor by pneumatic boats. No cages, snares, traps, nets, explosives, chemicals or similar devices are to be used in hunting any kind of wild fowl, though cages, snares and nets may be used to capture quail in order to keep them alive through the winter, and these are to be liberated in spring. Robbing birds' nests is forbidden. Singing and insectivorous birds, such as robin, nighthawk, whip-poor-will, flicker, thrush, lark, swallow, yellow bird, blue bird, brown thrasher, cat bird, wren, martin, oriole, sea gulls, woodpeckers and bobolinks, are protected. English sparrows and butcher birds are fair game. No person is to have in his possession the body of an animal or bird mentioned more than five days after the close of the season for hunting the same, except it be for scientific purposes or home consumption. In trials for violation for this provision the burden of proof must rest on the defendant. Permits to hunt game for scientific or propagatory purposes may be issued by the game warden. Prosecuting attorneys are to prosecute offenders against the provisions of the bill and sheriffs and constables are to assist. Convictions are to carry with them a fine of from $10 to $125, or from 30 days to six months in jail or both fine and imprisonment. Prosecutions are to be begun within one year from the time the offense was committed. Whatever agreement may be reached by the two houses of the legislature with reference to the increase in the specific taxes paid by railroad companies, the bill to be passed will not affect the aggregate of taxes which will be due July 1. The taxes to be paid at that date will be on the earnings of the last calendar year, the rates as fixed by the present law to govern.

This rate is 2 per cent on earnings of $2,000 or less per mile, 2 1/2 per cent on earnings of between $2,000 and $4,000, 3 per cent between $4,000 and $6,000, 3 1/2 per cent between $6,000 and $8,000, 4 per cent on all over $8,000. This tax was assessed by Railroad Commissioner Wessellus. It aggregates $740,898.78, the decrease from the total of last year being $509.99. The total earnings last year were $28,614,946.29, or $96,068.19 less than for 1895. Taking last year's earnings as a basis Commissioner Wessellus states that the specific tax bill passed by the house would increase the aggregate tax by $521,170.98 over the total to be paid this year.

Two important railroad bills were passed by the house Tuesday. One is to compel railroads to sell 500-mile mileage books at two cents a mile, these books to be good for any member of a firm or copartnership. The other is Donovan's bill, providing for the sale of an interchangeable and redeemable system of mileage books by all companies or corporations operating steam railroads in the state. The coupons of the interchangeable mileage books must be accepted for fare for any and all members of the owner's family or firm, and when they become invalid at the expiration of a year the unused part must be renewed for another year if presented at the issuing office. The railroad companies must file a bond with the state treasurer to guarantee the redemption of books issued. The house also passed an insolvency bill, which renders invalid the preferring of creditors, a bill reducing from eight to seven per cent the rate of interest that may be contracted, and the bill providing that where the violation of a condition of a fire insurance policy does not prejudice the company it shall not work a forfeiture of the policy. A strong anti-liquor sentiment manifested itself in the house, that body defeating the bill eliminating New Year's day, Labor day and Fourth of July from the holidays on which saloons are required to be kept closed. The commercial fishermen won a decisive victory over the state fish commission in the senate, securing the adoption of amendments to the fish bill so as to increase the size of the mesh of nets.

EMMETT.
KNIGHTS TEMPLAR.
Conclave in Session at Detroit—Presentation to Hugh McCurdy.
Detroit, May 19.—About 200 masons of high degree are in Detroit attending the conclave of the Michigan commandry Knights Templars and the council of the deliberation of the Scottish Rites. The meetings are held in the new temple, which was erected and equipped at a cost of $360,000. Tuesday evening a reception for members of the grand commandry was held, followed by a banquet served to over 500 persons. A feature of the evening was the presentation to Commander in Chief Hugh McCurdy of a fine marble bust of himself by the grand commandry of the United States. The presentation address was made by Gen. John C. Smith, of Illinois, who is grand sovereign of the Knights of Roman Constantine and an exalted member of other divisions of masonry.

WON'T GO TO DETROIT.
State Medical Society Refuses to Make That City Headquarters.
Grand Rapids, May 14.—The thirty-second annual meeting of the Michigan State Medical society opened Thursday morning. Mr. McLean, of Detroit, desired that the society should make Detroit the permanent meeting place, but this was defeated. A resolution by Dr. Leonard, of Detroit, that physicians convicted of criminal practice should be forever debarred from practicing in the state was referred to the legislative committee, and another resolution by Dr. Stockwell, of Port Huron, that the clergy be no longer given the benefits of free medical service was tabled.

Heavy Failure.
Detroit, May 15.—John B. Dyar gave bills of sale transferring over $200,000 worth of property and securities to a trustee for the benefit of his creditors. Mr. Dyar has been prominently connected with several large local enterprises. For the past year he has been securing franchises and arranging to build an electric railroad from Detroit to Port Huron. The latter enterprise is what is believed to have caused his embarrassment.

Heirs to Kalamazoo Estate.
Modesto, Cal., May 19.—Two happy farmers have left this city for Kalamazoo, Mich., there to claim fortunes left by a deceased stepfather. Henry Breese, banker of Kalamazoo, died April 30, leaving Vital E. Bangs, ex-assemblyman from this county, and Romolo E. Bangs, two farmers near Modesto, each a fifth interest in his estate.

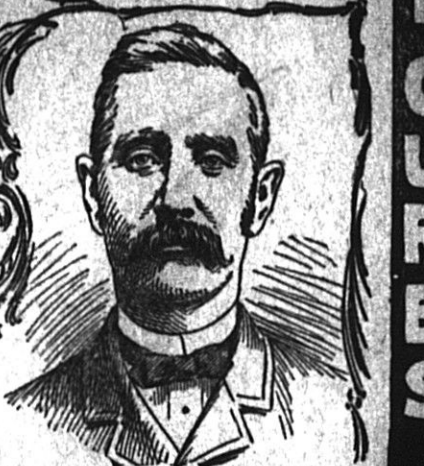

A Youthful Justice.
Lagrange, Ind., May 18.—The city of Dowagiac, Mich., claims the distinction of having the youngest judge in the United States. Clyde Ketchum, who is not yet 21 years of age, has been elected a justice of the peace and will enter upon his duties July 1. He was elected over a democratic justice who had held the office for a term of years.

Woman Charged with Bigamy.
Benton Harbor, May 19.—Mrs. Cora Daggot Brant is in jail charged with bigamy. She is said to have several husbands in Indiana and elsewhere. She married Thomas Brant, of this place, three weeks ago. William Daggot, of Elkhart, caused her arrest and she will be tried in the circuit court.

Forest Fires.
Houghton, May 19.—Forest fires are burning at many points in the upper peninsula that may speedily become serious. Unless heavy rainfalls come soon serious losses in logs and standing timber, as well as the wiping out of settlements, may result.

A Railroad Official's Experience.

M. R. EDWARD EDMONDS, long connected with railroad construction in Nebraska, writes: "My heart troubled and pained me for 19 years. Shortness of breath was the constant and most common symptom. Intense, excruciating pain, generally followed any severe exertion. Faintness, hunger without any appetite; fluttering that made me clutch my breast, and palpitation that often staggered me as if I would fall, were frequent attacks. Again, everything would turn black if I arose from a stooping posture quickly. Sleepless nights with their prostrating unrest were numerous and I could get no rest day or night. I consulted leading physicians and tried advertised remedies. They gave me no relief. One of Dr. Miles' circulars described my case so exactly that I took Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and I am now a well man. I hope every one troubled with heart disease will try Dr. Miles' remedies. If they will write me personally, I will gladly give them full details of my experience." EDW. EDMONDS. P. O. Box 65, David City, Nebraska. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold on guarantee that first bottle benefits or money refunded. Sold by all druggists.

Resolved, that the report be adopted, and the recommendation carried out.—Carried.

HOLLAND, MICH., May 18, 1897.

To the Honorable the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Holland:

GENTLEMEN:—Your committee on streets and bridges, to whom was referred the petitions of H. Van der Veen and Tonneller Bros. asking for private sewer permits, beg leave to report that your committee have given the subject careful consideration and are of the opinion that sewers should only be built in line with a general design or plan and none should be constructed except as are in line with an adopted plan.

To add pipe main a drain here or a tile pipe there to serve some individual citizens or relieve some complaint, without following a general design, is wrong both in principle and practice. Such drains built in a haphazard manner frequently become as dangerous a menace to the public health as cesspools, and being usually either of improper size or improperly constructed, are liable to become breeders of poisonous gases and of disease.

To allow property owners to take advantage of their proximity to a private drain by permitting them to connect with it, usually results in their becoming opponents to a general sewer system, as their wants in that direction are in their opinion provided for, and the granting of such privilege therefore becomes an injustice to other property owners equally in need of sewerage, but unable to connect with private drains.

The time has come for the common council to lay down this general proposition for private sewers so as to hasten the time for the introduction of a general sewer system. Therefore your committee report adversely to the prayer of the petitioners.

EVART TAKKEN,
PIETER A. KLEIS,
J. A. KOOTERS,
Com. on streets and bridges.

Calumet Baking Powder

has turned the tables on high price baking powders. The directions on High Price cans are the same as on Calumet cans, viz.: 2 spoonfuls to a quart of flour, but they say that one can of High Price will go three times as far as any other. Can any claim be more ridiculous? The frantic cry of adulteration, danger and poison made by the high price baking powder people is a blind to intimidate the public and induce them to pay fancy prices for their goods—also to divert attention from this defect in their own goods.

Calumet Baking Powder is safe. Food baked with Calumet is absolutely free from Rochelle Salts, Alum, Lime, Ammonia or any injurious substance.
