The true value of a good set of teeth is never realized until they are lost. When it is too late they are appreciated.

Parents from experience realize this; children never do, and it should be the parents' duty, if the children have not inherited good teeth, to see that those they have receive proper attention.

To make sure that you are getting the best service possible, consult with

DEVRIES THE DENTIST

36 East Eighth St.

who gives the care of children's teeth special attention.

With him it is not a matter of filling teeth "any old way." He studies the general condition of the mouth and uses for fillings only such materials as will save teeth. He watches the result of his work, and from time to time changes the fillings so as to obtain permanent results.

Leave the care of your children's teeth to him. He is thoroughly competent and conscientious in his work, and his charges are moderate.

He has had many years of experience in dentistry, and with the modern methods at his command, the work is done as painlessly as possible.

He explains everything pertaining to the saving of teeth, and if he thinks dental work will not wear well in your teeth he tells you why.

He has unbounded faith in his work, and if for any reason work proves unsatisfactory, and he cannot make it right, you get your money back for the asking.

CITY AND VICINITY.

Hon. G. J. Dykema delivered an address in Saginaw Memorial Day.

The Young People's society of the Ninth street Christian Reformed church will celebrate their fifth anniversary this evening.

H. Faasen fell into the area way in front of Charter's barber shop last Saturday evening and his right knee was injured. Dr. D. G. Cook attended him.

Wm. Harkema pleaded guilty in Justice Van Duren's court last Monday morning to a charge of disturbing the peace and paid fine and costs amounting to $10. His wife will be tried on a similar charge June 5.

Capt. Albert Beekman ran the ferry steamer Harvey Watson between Macatawa, Ottawa Beach and Jenison Parks Memorial Day. The Watson will be put on the run regularly soon.

Outbound cars from Grand Rapids on the Holland Interurban will not stop at the corner of Monroe and Market streets, but will pull along two hundred feet farther to the new depot at 75 Market street.

Peter Kolean died last Sunday morning at his home, 179 East Eighth street. He was twenty-four years of age and has suffered with dropsy for the past three years. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kolean, five brothers and two sisters. The funeral was held Wednesday from the Ninth street Christian Reformed church, Rev. A. Keizer officiating.

S. W. Stern, late of the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, and Bellvue Stratford hotel, Philadelphia, has taken a position as steward at Hotel Holland and words of praise are heard from patrons of the hotel regarding the excellence of his work. Mr. Stern is entitled to a ranking with the best stewards of the country and Hotel Holland is to be congratulated for receiving his services.

Next Saturday afternoon School District No. 4, known as the Van Raalte school, in Holland township will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary, and all former pupils and teachers are invited to attend. There will be music, speeches, and a basket picnic. Rev. Brink of Muskegon, Mr. Yntema of Forest Grove, Attorney A. Visscher and Prof. J. B. Nykerk of this city will deliver addresses.

Next month will see work commenced on the erection of a large, modern, rusk bakery in Zeeland, at a cost of $3,000. Since Michiel Hirdes placed the Original Bismarck Zweibach on the market, about six months ago, the demand has increased to such proportions as to require the operation of his present plant at full capacity, day and night, besides being compelled to turn down much desirable business; hence the enlargement of his plant as above stated. The new bakery will be situated on Mr. Hirdes' premises on State street and will have a capacity of from 25,000 to 30,000 rusk daily. The entire output is already contracted for.—Zeeland Record.

Among the subjects to be discussed at the synod of the Christian Reformed church to be held in this city beginning June 20 are: The elimination of choir music from services, and the substitution of psalms for hymns now in use in some of the churches. The appointment of a national day of prayer, similar to Thanksgiving services, to be observed annually in the spring. Celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of this denomination in America, to be held in 1907, at some place to be selected. Increasing the salaries of professors employed in the Grand Rapids Theological seminary, and the re-engagement of Rev. F. M. Ten Hoop, professor in the seminary, whose time has expired. Making the John Calvin, Jr., seminary in Grand Rapids permanent. No church to tender a call to a minister until he has remained at least one and one-half years in one charge. Also to advocate the holding of afternoon services by the English speaking churches, so that the services throughout the denomination will be more uniform.

W. E. Barber, who moved to Chicago from the north side some time ago, received injuries while working in the steel mills at South Chicago which caused his death. The funeral took place yesterday.

The public is cordially invited to attend a musical to be held in the Methodist church on Friday evening, June 8, to be given by Lalla E. McKay and pupils, assisted by the well known violinist, Garfield Chapman, and a talented elocutionist, Miss Marie Reepe, both of Grand Rapids.

A mission entertainment will be held this evening at the First Reformed church under the auspices of the Band of Benevolent workers. A program of music and recitations, and addresses by Mrs. S. M. Zwemer of Arabia and Miss Nellie Zwemer of China will be delivered.

H. Baker, who conducted a grocery business at Ottawa Beach last year, has decided to conduct the store on a much larger scale this season. He will carry a stock of staple and fancy groceries that is complete in every respect and will furnish to customers the best that there is in the line of vegetables, etc.

An amendment has been made to the postoffice appropriation bill by the United States senate providing for two weeks' leave of absence without loss of pay for each rural mail carrier. It requires an appropriation of $500,000 to pay substitute carriers to fill their places during these vacations.

The death of Frank A. Smith occurred last Thursday at home of his mother, 100 West Twelfth street. He was 22 years old and had been ill less than a week with pneumonia. He is survived by a mother and three brothers, Forrest, George and Lindsey. The funeral was held from the home at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. He had been employed the past five years at the Wolverine Boat Works.

The tug Salvor no longer reposes on the bottom of the bay near the Ottawa Beach dock as it has been raised by the Reid Wrecking Co. and has steamed away for Port Huron with Capt. Tom Reid in charge. Why the tug sank last fall is somewhat of a mystery as no leak was found and the sea cocks were in good condition. It is thought that spreading seams caused by crowding ice was the trouble.

While turning over the sod in the yard of her residence in Grand Haven Mrs. Ruet Wieringer found a badly battered pocketbook. Upon investigation it was found to contain an amount of money, about $25 in bills. These bills were rather badly decomposed but can be redeemed for the full amount. The pocket book also contained a fine diamond ring in fairly good condition and believed to be very valuable.

Father Boynton's hives and tents of Maccabees who 5,000 strong went to Jenison Park last year to enjoy a day's outing, will assemble there once more on June 20 of this year. This will be the first of the great fraternal field days which are features of the activities of the resort each summer. This year more than ever will be present and great officers will be among the guests. S. D. Williams, editor of the Modern Maccabee, will speak, and Maccabee bands, degree teams and athletic teams will contest for honors.

The case of Henry A. Dibble, charged with embezzlement, has been put on the calendar of the Allegan county circuit court, he having waived examination before Justice Nash, and at the request of Attorney Kollen the case was called first. Mr. Kollen stated that the information had been filed about 15 minutes and he also stated that the expert was still at work on the books and asked that the case be put over to the next term of court. Prosecutor Cross remarked that the people were ready to proceed with the case. Judge Padgham stated the defendant could not be forced to trial as soon as the information had been filed; that at least four days would have to elapse before the court could order the case to begin, and that if the expert was still at work on the books was another reason why the case should go over the term. Mr. Kollen was told he could have a day or two in which to file his affidavit for record to have the case go over and he promised to file the document Tuesday.

Rev. G. J. Hekhuis of Chicago has accepted the call to the Reformed church of Overisel.

The great VanAmburg shows will give an exhibition in this city June 12.

News has been received here of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. G. Hondelink of Kagoshima, Japan, Sunday, April 29.

Simon Yonkman was given 13 days in the county jail by Justice DeVries for being drunk Tuesday. Deputy Marshal Koeman made the arrest.

The funeral of the six-weeks-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph De Maat was held from the home on West Seventh street at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. Rev. A. T. Luther conducted the service.

Joseph W. O'Brien of Grand Haven has received the first relic of the San Francisco fire in the shape of several Chinese pennies, which had been run together by the heat.

Herbert Pilgrim of Olive township has announced himself as a candidate for county treasurer on the Republican ticket to succeed William D. VanLoon, who will resign to take a position as cashier of the National Bank at Grand Haven. Mr. Pilgrim is a staunch republican and well qualified for the office.

Sheriff Woodbury was in Grand Rapids Tuesday still trying to pick up a clew on the Dennison murder. The officers are still trying hard to trace the sale of the revolver found in the grip at Conklin. If the gun was sold in Grand Rapids as the officers are inclined to believe it was, they hope to locate the store from whose stock it was taken.

Alderman Stephan was delegated by the Ninth street property owners to secure subscriptions for the sprinkling of that street and it did not take him long to secure the necessary pledges, therefore Ninth street will be free from dust, and it is expected that property owners on other streets where traffic is heavy will soon follow suit.

Daily service on Grand River began Monday with the new steamers the Grand and the Rapids both in commission. A boat will leave Grand Haven at seven o'clock every morning arriving at Grand Rapids shortly before noon. Westbound, a steamer will leave Grand Rapids at about one o'clock arriving at Grand Haven at about six o'clock or shortly after.

Charles Scott of Fruitport was brought to jail in Grand Haven Sunday by Under Sheriff Frank Salisbury upon the charge of breaking into a cottage on Spring Lake and carrying away some of the property. The burglarized cottage was owned by George F. Cole and the stolen property consisted of 17 lace curtains, two comforters, two bed spreads and four lace bureau scarfs valued in all at $30. Scott, upon being caught, implicated a man named John Hancock, now in the Muskegon jail. The burglary was committed on May 26 and Scott was located in Fruitport. Officer Salisbury started in search of him and found him in his mother-in-law's house. Scott is an employee of the Fruitport blast furnace.

CORRESPONDENCE

Zeeland.

John Van Eenenaam, who spent the past fifteen months at Riverside, California, for his health, has returned much improved.

An effort is being made to organize a new school district at the township corners of Zeeland, Blenheim, Jamestown and Georgetown.

Dr. Henry Masselink, who has just completed a course in the study of medicines, is practicing here with his brother, Dr. John Masselink.

At a meeting of the North street Christian Reformed church, Rev. Snaard of Iowa was called. Rev. Jookman of Harderwyk, until recently pastor of the above church, was present to conduct the meeting.

After spending about a year in his home town in the Netherlands, Marinus Baal has returned to make his home here permanently and resume his work at the Zeeland Furniture Manufacturing Co. But now it is Mr. and Mrs. Baal.

The conditions under which the grading on the new highway between sections nine and ten was let, were so that the road must be passable by September first.

A republican meeting will be held at the town hall in Vriesland on Friday, June 1, at 2 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of instructing voters with reference to the primary election to be held June 12, 1906, and considering the advisability of nominating a slate for delegates to the county convention.

Jamestown.

D. Lanning of Jamestown, last week Monday, purchased the 80-acre farm of T. Schermer at Vriesland, including live stock and some farm implements, for a consideration of $7,200. Although Mr. Lanning will not move onto the place this year, he will assume control of it. Mr. Schermer expects to engage in carpentering.

Henry Van Oss died last week Wednesday. The deceased was 29 years of age and is survived by a wife and two children. The funeral was held Friday at 1:30 from the Reformed church at Forest Grove. Three weeks ago the father of the deceased, John Van Oss, died at the same place.

Saugatuck.

H. M. Harshman has erected a tent next to the Bowling Alley where he will take pictures this summer.

Leiden's Inn will be open for inspection by all who wish to look at it from 7 to 10 p. m. June 2.

The yacht Daisy of Allegan came down the river on her trip with a cargo of flour for Seaton Arends. She is 28 feet long, 8 foot beam and draws 8 inches of water and will make semi-weekly trips between here and Allegan this season under the command of her owner C. W. Alden.

Jacob Aliber is making preparations to have a shooting gallery on the Wheeler lot where the one was located last season.

There is 14 feet of water in the new cut in the channel. The cut is 1200 feet long, 200 feet wide and about 14 feet deep while the piers are 1200 feet long. The appropriation of $250,000 for the harbor work will have been exhausted (except about $9,000) when the present contract is completed after which it will be necessary to get an extra appropriation from Congress if any revetments are built or if the river from the Twin Cities to the mouth is dredged but as the $9,000 left from the former contracts is still available it is believed that it will not be much of a task to get an additional appropriation at the next session of Congress if it is necessary.

A meeting of citizens was held and plans were made for the "jollification" and since then D. F. Ludwig has made a canvass of Douglas and Saugatuck and without much effort has already secured over $200.

Last week Mrs. Stephen Newman received a telegram from Loraine, Ohio, stating that her son Wayne had died very suddenly and requesting direction as to disposal of the remains, but giving no particulars.

Douglas.

There is a movement on foot to start a bank in Douglas.

Mrs. Putnam has sold her farm south of town to John Flagg and Barbara Dessel.

Miss Langworthy expects to leave for Washington June 4, in company with two other young ladies. She expects to teach school there but has not fully decided upon her occupation.

In the first game of the series with Fennville, Douglas lost by a score of 10 to 7. Wicks pitched a good game striking out 12 men but had poor support.

West Olive.

Our school closed on Tuesday with a fine program. Miss Hawley, the teacher has the rare gift on assigning to each pupil the part most adapted to their gift of rendition. Four pupils graduated from her class, the Misses Grace Sankey, Olevia Ingersol, Fern Binns and Max Reese. Miss Sankey was the valedictorian, Miss Ingersol delivered the prophesy and Miss Binns the poetess, her poem entitled the "Old School House," did her credit. Max Reese was the historian, all did very well. Miss Hawley has given entire satisfaction and all wish her to return.

The Sunday School class went to Ottawa Station Wednesday to assist in memorial exercises.

Ward Binns of Niles, who has been visiting relatives here returned home Saturday.

Mrs. Wesley Andrews of Niles, who has been here visiting her brother and sister, Mr. Tom Reese and Mrs. Frank Binns, left for Niles Saturday, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Reese.

WHEN GEN. SCHOFIELD SMILED.

As Secretary of War He Read Reports of His Own Court-Martial.

Men who were with Gen. Schofield in the army recalled when they heard of his death the story of how he was dismissed from West Point. Schofield was the star man in his class, and in the last year was appointed as an instructor of cadets because of his proficiency in many lines. He was a great mathematician, and one day he propounded the question to the cadets:

"If a man on the equator without any clothes on were to climb a pole 100 feet high, how wide a brim hat would he have to have in order to keep him from getting sunburned?"

When the commandant heard of this frivolous question Schofield was reported and dismissed. He went to Washington and secured a court-martial. The trial went against him and he was formally dismissed. Then he used a lot more influence and was reinstated. He spent a pleasant afternoon when he was Secretary of War reading the official and solemn records of his joke, his court-martial, his dismissal, and his reinstatement.

Act Quickly.

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Holland.

Do the right thing at the right time. Act quickly in times of danger. Backache is kidney danger. Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly. Cure all distressing, dangerous kidney ills. Plenty of evidence to prove this.

Mrs. Ellis Van Toll of Clinton street, Grand Haven, Mich., says: "My back troubled me for the last nine years off and on, but for the last year the difficulty increased. There was a dull, aching pain down low across my loins, worse if I exerted myself or took cold. In the morning I was so lame I could hardly attend to my work and there was also a difficulty with the kidney secretions, very annoying. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills spoken of so highly I thought I would try them, procured a box and took them according to directions. They did me a world of good, relieving me of my trouble in a very short time. I am always pleased to speak a word in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Plenty more proof like this from Holland people. Call at J. O. Doesburg's drug store and ask what his customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co. Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

DROPS
CURES RHEUMATISM LUMBAGO, SCIATICA NEURALGIA and KIDNEY TROUBLE
 "DROPS" taken internally, ride the blood of the poisonous matter and acids which are the direct causes of these diseases. Applied externally it affords almost instant relief from pain, while a permanent cure is being effected by purifying the blood, dissolving the poisonous substance and removing it from the system.
DR. S. D. BLAND
 Of Brewster, Ga., writes:
 "I had been a sufferer for a number of years with Lumbago and Rheumatism in my arms and legs, and tried all the remedies that I could gather from medical works, and also consulted with a number of the best physicians, but found nothing that gave the relief obtained from 'DROPS.' I shall therefore use it in my practice for rheumatism and kidney disease."
FREE
 If you are suffering with Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Kidney Trouble or any kind of drops, write to us for a trial bottle of "DROPS," and test it yourself.
 "DROPS" can be used any length of time without acquiring a "drug habit," as it is entirely free of opium, alcohol, laudanum, and other similar ingredients.

 To find out for a certainty whether or not your heart is affected. One person in four has a weak heart; it may be you. If so, you should know it now, and save serious consequences. If you have short breath, fluttering, palpitation, hungry spells, hot flushes; if you cannot lie on left side; if you have fainting or smothering spells, pain around heart, in side and arms, your heart is weak, and perhaps diseased. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure will relieve you. Try a bottle, and see how quickly your condition will improve.
 "About a year ago I wrote to the Miles Medical Co., asking advice, as I was suffering with heart trouble, and had been for two years. I had pain in my heart, back and left side, and had not been able to draw a deep breath for two years. Any little exertion would cause palpitation, and I could not lie on my left side without suffering. They advised me to try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nerve, which I did with the result that I am in better health than I ever was before, having gained 14 pounds since I commenced taking it. I took about thirteen bottles of the two medicines, and haven't been bothered with my heart since."

RAIL PRESIDENT MAY BE DEPOSED
DIRECTORS OF PENNSYLVANIA TO PROBE CHARGES OF GRAFT AND FAVORITISM.

Charge That Business of Independent Coal Company Was Killed by Order of Latter Causes Astonishment in Financial Circles.

Philadelphia, May 28.—"Our investigation will be most thorough and exhaustive. If we find during our inquiry that officials of this company have been guilty of the charges brought out at the interstate commerce commission investigation they will be removed from the service of the company."
 This statement, made in response to an inquiry as to the scope of the probe now under way by the directors of the Pennsylvania railroad as a result of the disclosures of graft, discrimination and favoritism among officials of that company, embodies the tenor and temper of the director-inquisitors.

Ruin Charged to Cassatt.
 Nothing has astonished railroad and financial circles and the public more than has the direct charge made on the witness stand by F. Albert Von Boyenburk, general manager of the Reakirk Brothers Coal company, an independent concern of this city, that he believes President A. J. Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania, issued the orders that ruined him financially and killed his business.

This is the first time the president of the biggest railroad system in the country, which is now undergoing an inquisition at the hands of the federal government, has been assailed.
 In the high and low places of finance the question now comes: "What will happen to Cassatt? Will the company's probe committee stand him up if these charges are true?"

The five members of this committee are C. Stuart Patterson, chairman; William H. Barnes, James McCrea, T. De Witt Cuyler and Edingham B. Morris.

Question of Veracity.
 Morris referred to the committee's statement above when asked if Cassatt was to be included in this probing. Von Boyenburk is a man of unquestioned veracity in the business world, and it is this fact that gives his charges stamina in the public mind. February 14, when the probe was in its infancy, Cassatt gave out this statement:

"There is no discrimination either in the rates or car distribution, or in the use of any other facilities of the railroad, between miners and shippers over the Pennsylvania lines."

Vice President John B. Thayer, May 5, said: "There is, so far as I know, no discrimination of any kind on the Pennsylvania railroad; the company has absolutely nothing to conceal."

Stories Are Contradicted.
 In direct contradiction to both these disclaimers have come the testimony of reliable witnesses. General Superintendent G. W. Creighton, of the Pennsylvania, testified: "At a conference in January, 1903, between General Manager Atterbury, General Superintendent of Transportation Trump and myself it was decided to select 30 or 40 coal shippers on the railroad who alone should be given cars for the following six weeks."

George W. Clark, car distributor, testified: "Some days those special car orders might be only 15 per cent. or the cars, but sometimes they were very heavy. In February, 1905, the special consignment to one concern equalled 500 cars of 25 tons capacity a day, including their private cars."

PRESIDENT CASTRO QUILTS.
Venezuela Executive Retires to Private Life to Save the Nation from Revolution.

Caracas, May 28.—Taking advantage of the fact that Saturday was the anniversary of the restoration, when, as a victorious general, he entered Venezuela at the head of his army, President Castro published a proclamation announcing that he had decided permanently to retire to private life and sacrifice his personality to save his party and nation from "fatal consequences arising through jealousies and passions, fomented by the prohibition of the spontaneous proposition of the press and public to demand his return to the presidency."

EARTHQUAKE CLOSES MINE
Shaft at Houghton, Mich., Shuts Down as Result of Continued Seismic Disturbance.

Houghton, Mich., May 28.—The most severe earth disturbances ever experienced in this region occurred at the Atlantic mine Saturday. There were 57 seismic shocks. Buildings rocked like cradles and in several places there are cracks in the earth from two to six inches in width. The shocks were distinct in Houghton and Hancock, but did no damage. The Atlantic mine shut down two weeks ago as the result of these disturbances.

Negro Segregation Fails.
 Des Moines, Ia., May 28.—The negro question and the Presbyterian church met face to face in the general assembly Saturday. For the first time in the history of the Presbyterian church an effort was made to segregate the negro members of the faith. The attempt failed, or was postponed, the whole subject being referred to the general assembly of 1907.

INDICT BRIDGE COMPANIES
OHIO GRAND JURY RETURNS BILLS AGAINST 19 PARTIES.

County Paid High Prices for Structures—Capitalist Accused of Bribery.

Lima, O., May 28.—Nineteen bridge companies and agents were indicted by the grand jury late Friday afternoon, but the county officials refuse to make their names public until service can be had upon them. Thirty-four indictments in all were returned, but true bills against the bridge companies and agents were "secret." Conditions in Allen county because of the operation of the bridge trust are reported by the grand jury as even worse than expected. Of the 24 indictments returned there are two each against Former County Commissioner T. C. Burns, George W. Kanawli and Albert Heffner.

The exposures regarding the bridge trust operations here are said to be startling, and show that the county has paid from three to five times what should have been the ordinary cost of bridges. The most sensational evidence, it is said, came from the bridge trust agents, James T. Adams, of Findlay; John Dun, of Columbus, and John Reed, of Canton, each of whom was exempted from any legal prosecutions.

St. Louis, May 28.—Assistant Circuit Attorney Finkelstein stated Saturday that he had just drawn up a new information charging Robert M. Snyder, capitalist, of Kansas City, with bribery. Snyder is charged with having paid $50,000 to certain members of the city council in 1898 for the passage of the Central Traction bill.

RURAL ROUTE INSPECTION
Post Office Department Seeks to Better Delivery Service in the Outside Districts.

Washington, May 25.—An impression has been widely circulated that under some new policy adopted by the post office department, inspections of rural delivery service have been ordered with a view to the discontinuance of such service, or its reduction from a daily to a triweekly service, and that this movement has been especially directed against the southern states. This is an error. In reply to many letters which have been received by the fourth assistant postmaster general complaining of the alleged discrimination, the writers have been advised that the only purpose of the inspections of rural service now being made is to ascertain and remove, if possible, the cause of any adverse conditions that now exist.

ALLEGED BIG TRUST EXISTS
Eighty Manufacturers of Fertilizer Are Indicted Under Provisions of Sherman Law.

Nashville, Tenn., May 26.—The grand jury of the United States circuit court, which has been investigating the alleged fertilizer trust for the past four weeks, Friday returned an indictment against about 80 fertilizer manufacturers, including a number of local men. The indictment contains six counts detailing in specific form alleged violations of the antitrust laws, and charging the defendants with combining and being engaged in a trust or combination.

Truce in Funeral War.
 New York, May 28.—A truce was declared in the strike of the downtown funeral drivers after a conference between a committee of strikers and the coach owners. Under the agreement the drivers are to get their demand of $14 a week and 11 hours out of every 24 until the end of this month. Then the coach owners and the drivers will meet again to try to make a permanent agreement.

Shoots Girl He Embraces.
 Springfield, O., May 28.—Clasping her affectionately in his arms, Alfred Davis deliberately shot Miss Hazel Reed near her home in June street, and then disappeared. The bullet entered her breast. She cannot recover. Davis and the girl took a walk, and because she refused to allow him to call on her regularly he decided to end her life. This is her story. The girl is 18 and Davis 32.

Mine First Car of Coal.
 Steubenville, O., May 26.—All was quiet at the Plum Run mines of the United States Coal company's Plum Run mine Friday, and the first car of coal since the strike was mined. There are about 75 experienced miners at work. Twelve guards and 14 nonunion miners quit work.

Electric Cars Collide.
 St. Paul, Minn., May 28.—A St. Paul and Minnesota Interurban electric car going down grade on Wabasha street crashed into the rear of a crowded Hamline and Jackson car at College avenue and a dozen passengers were quite badly injured by flying glass.

Ex-Postmaster Drops Dead.
 Joplin, Mo., May 24.—Peter Schnur, ex-postmaster and founder of the Joplin News-Herald, dropped dead of heart disease here while marching in the parade of the Knights Templar that was a feature of the state convale. He was 64 years of age.

Needn't Observe Sunday Law.
 Louisville, Ky., May 28.—Lum Simmons, a Jew, observes Saturday as his Sabbath and under the Kentucky statutes he is the only man in Louisville and Jefferson county who can legally keep his place open Sunday.

REFUSAL BY CZAR CREATES A CRISIS
COMPLETE AMNESTY AND EXPROPRIATION OF LAND DENIED TO DOUMA.

Lower House in Turn Reiterates Its Demands, Censures Ministry and Insists on Its Retiring—Believes Nicholas Will Yield.

St. Petersburg, May 28.—The signal for the opening of the great struggle for Russian freedom was sounded in no uncertain tone in the duma's rapidly late Saturday afternoon to the government's declaration. They demand the removal of the present ministry. The czar must give way, or the days of his reign are numbered. The outlook is dark and no man can foretell the final issue. The government in its declaration to the duma granted universal suffrage, but refused complete amnesty and the expropriation of lands, the two demands whereon the people, through the duma, insist in the same spirit that the American colonies resisted taxation without representation in 1775.

Pressure May Bring Relief.
 The czar's reply through Frankor Goremynkin was specific enough. Nevertheless the impression is widespread that the government has no fixed policy, and many believe the czar will yield much more under greater pressure. There is not the slightest doubt that this pressure will be forthcoming, but the perilous question arises, will the unwilling concessions suffice to save the throne? In other words, can a revolution be averted?

The grant of universal suffrage, although a boon of immense importance, went for nothing when the premier announced it. Any gratitude was swallowed in the wave of indignation which are nearest the hearts of the people's representatives.

Holds Property Inviolable.
 The land question is paramount. The government in its reply simply affirms the inviolability of property. It is important in this connection to make clear just what is asked by the predominant party in the duma. The land bill introduced by the leaders of the constitutional democrats is outlined by them in a comprehensive statement to the members of the duma. The first clause declares: The area of land to be occupied by the peasants can be increased from the lands belonging to the crown which provide the revenues of the members of the imperial family, and from the lands owned by the monasteries. These can be supplemented by the state purchasing private lands on a basis and price to be reckoned from the normal revenue of land when worked by its owner, but not based on the existing rental, which the bill declares is arbitrary. These expropriated lands should be formed into a state agricultural reserve.

Allotment of Land.
 The principles whereon these lands should be transferred to the peasant occupiers are explained in a series of regulations. The normal unit to be distributed among the peasant families will be governed by local conditions, such as the prices of food, houses, clothing and local taxation. Peasants who either have no allotted land or less than the local unit have a claim upon the state agricultural reserve for the deficit.
 The private lands indicated for expropriation include all which have been leased for money, or have been worked by peasants whose payment has been in work for the landlord on the latter's separate property; also all the untitled land suitable for agriculture. The bill establishes machinery for fixing in each locality the maximum area of private estates.

UPRISING IN GUATEMALA.
American Interests May Be Endangered by Threatened Revolution Near Mexican Frontier.
 Washington, May 28.—Guatemala is threatened with a revolution which may endanger American interests in the republic, according to dispatches received at the state department from Minister Combs and Schwartz & Co., an American concern owning railway and dock property in Guatemala. The scene of the trouble is in the northern part of the republic, near the Mexican frontier, but the cause is internal.

Famous Creek Overflows.
 Minneapolis, Minn., May 29.—The mill dam at Edina Mills, Minn., Monday broke and famous Minnehaha creek has flooded its banks as well as the residence section along Lyndale avenue, north. Minnehaha falls, made famous in Longfellow's poem "Hiawatha," is higher than at any time in its history. The Pennsylvania avenue bridge, costing $6,000, has been washed away.

New York Franchise Tax Valid.
 Washington, May 29.—The case of the New York Central Railroad company against N. L. Miller, comptroller of the state of New York, involving the New York state law imposing a franchise tax on railroad property in that state, was decided by the supreme court favorably to the state, the opinion being delivered by Justice Holmes.

Railroad Officers in Session.
 St. Louis, May 29.—The nineteenth annual convention of the Central Association of Railroad Officers began Monday.

Republican County Convention.

The Ottawa County Republican Convention will be held in the court house in the City of Grand Haven on Monday, the 18th day of June, 1906, at half past two o'clock in the afternoon for the purpose of electing sixteen delegates to the State Nominating Convention to be held in Detroit on August 8 next, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention.

Oh, For A Place To Take A Swim.

Poetry rivaling the sweetness of Landor, the fierce passion of Byron, the dreamy splendor of Shelley and the sentiment of Keats, lingers round the old swimming hole of boyhood days.

All the wild delight of childhood hovers o'er this hallowed spot. The day might have seemed long, tedious, dull, commonplace as the boy of your youth, the barefooted prototype of what you are to-day sat in the stifling schoolroom dreaming the weary hours away. Through the open window, brought on caressing breezes born in the south, the mystical south, would come the drone of the insects pitched to a lazy strain, the sound of the fluttering wings of the few birds brave enough to lift pinion against the languorous, moulting billows of wind, the echo of the waves breaking upon the beach and the thousand and one nature intonations that mark the sweltering June days.

All of these you heard and heeded, and your brow became flushed and an intense yearning overshadowed you because you heeded this call of the outside.

But you stood it all in rapturous restlessness for in the 4 o'clock distance beckoned the chance of a plunge in cool and invigorating waters.

You could stand all of the trials of books and lessons, and could say be gone to the tempter because of the cheer instilled in your being by the thought of a good old fashioned swim.

You knew that there was a shady nook in the confines of the forest; that there was a pond of crystal clearness enclosed by mossy banks; that trees bended over this pond interlacing their branches and whispering of the good old times that you and that those who had gone before you had enjoyed in the old swimming hole. You knew of the ecstasy that attended you when you dove in over your head and shot to the surface with a splutter that caused an excess of pond water to fly from your mouth heavenward; you knew of the joy incomparable that surged through you when you turned and swam on your back, lazily kicking your feet and paddling your hands to keep afloat. You knew the bliss that came when you took a duck dive, swam dog-fashion and cat-fashion, when you floated, when you fairly reveled in the embracing waters of that little lake lost in the woods.

Knowing these things you somehow became willing to pay at least half-hearted attention to the tasks of the school. And after four o'clock—well—you went in swimming, and you enjoyed to the limit all of the revels of the occasion from the first dive to the chaw-raw-beef. It was fun, wasn't it?

Now, suppose you were a boy again, suppose it was the present, and you lived in Holland and some one whispered to you that there was, instead of the little swimming pool, a lake a whole mile wide and six miles long, a lake with water just the right degree of cold and warmth, a lake with trees lining the banks, with little inlets, and boys, with pigmy peninsulas jutting into it, with a bathing beach unrivalled, and with docks from which you could dive to the inviting depths below, a lake perfect for a swim.

Suppose you started to take a swim in this lake and a stern officer of the law, or some autocrat who owned the land fronting the lake or the dock, would say, "not so fast young lad, you are not allowed to go in swimming here, skidoo." What would you think about it? How quickly would your joy change to sorrow! How quickly would gloom settle on your little world!

Well, lets get down to facts. This is the condition of affairs existing here. The owners of docks, of water frontage, of places suitable for a swim will not as a rule tolerate the presence of a small boy, and it's pretty difficult for you to take the right kind of a good old fashioned swim in Macatawa Bay, even though you wear a dozen bathing suits.

Water, water everywhere and not a chance to swim. Well boys, what are you going to do about it.

You must either interest some of your friends among the business men and have them coax the owners of frontage or docks to allow you to take a swim, or you must get after the city fathers and have them fix up a swimming place. This place can be fixed up at a small expense, and can be run under regulations that will mean safety.

Boys, something must be done or you will have to swim in the bathtub. What are you going to do about it?

Men, you were boys once, what are you going to do?

All Ready for Good-Roads Round-Up.

All is ready for the Good-Roads Round-Up to be held in College Grove tomorrow.

The exercises will take place on the platform used Memorial Day.

The program will be opened by a short concert by the Citizens Band, with Anthony Rosbach as presiding officer. Mayor Van Putten will deliver the address of welcome, then N. J. Whelan will introduce State Highway Commissioner Earle, who will deliver the address of the day. He will deal exhaustively with the whole subject of good roads, telling how temporary improvements may be best made, how permanent roads may be built right, and how state aid may be obtained for the construction of these permanent roads. Short speeches will be made by Prof. J. H. Kleinheksel and Hon. G. J. Diekema, and the whole program will be interspersed with music and songs.

After the program refreshments will be served by the citizens.

Col. Gardener Interested in Welfare of Enlisted Men.

In a recent issue of "The Infantryman," the only army newspaper published in the Philippines, appear two articles which will prove interesting to the friends of Colonel Gardener.

The first article follows: "The officers and ladies of the Sixteenth Infantry came to the fore on Tuesday evening and gave a reception at Corbin Hall to Colonel and Mrs. Gardener. The reception was for the purpose of having all the officers and ladies of the post and the vicinity meet the colonel and his wife. During the reception the Sixteenth Infantry Band played several selections. Dancing followed and everybody declared they had a good time."

FOR SALE: One hundred and sixty acres of land, one hundred acres being covered by hardwood timber, for sale at a bargain. Land is two miles from railroad. Also 47 acres mostly of oak timber land. Timber fit for piling and ties. Inquire of David Kennedy, Evart, Mich.

Following is the second article:

"On Sunday there was organized at this post an executive committee which it is hoped will prove of great benefit to the enlisted men and civilian employees stationed here. The committee is composed of Col. Gardener, Sixteenth Infantry, chairman; Lieut.-Col. Bowen, Thirtieth Infantry; Capt. Barnum, Eighth Cavalry; Capt. Porter, Medical Department, and Lieut. Collins, Artillery Corps. On Monday two meetings were held to adopt a constitution. This executive committee will act under the general rules governing the Y. M. C. A., and Mr. Collins, the local representative of that association, is ex-officio member of all the committees to be organized under the constitution. These latter committees will be composed of enlisted men and employees exclusively and will have in hand such matters as athletic and other sports, amusements, membership, etc., reporting monthly to the executive committee."

"The Infantryman" is published in Fort William McKinley, P. I.

Holland Honors Its Heroes.

The soldiers, living and dead, were honored in appropriate manner in this city yesterday. Cloudy skies prevailed but did not interfere with the program which was carried out as indicated before. In addition to the regular numbers the special features were songs by a quartet composed of John Vandersluis, Will Vander Hart, Martin Dykema and John Van Vyven and a song by Mrs. Grace Upde Graff Bergen, who led the audience in singing "Marching Through Georgia."

Mayor Van Putten introduced Prof. John M. Vander Meulen who made a very able speech. Tom N. Robinson delivered Lincoln's Gettysburg address at the cemetery.

Will Have an Animal Exhibit.

Jenison park is to have a menagerie, if the plans of the Holland interurban managers are carried out, as they bid fair to be this season. The managers have been contemplating the step for some time, and have had in mind the advisability of adding to the park's attractions the wild life feature that is always dear to children and to many grown up people as well. Steps are now being made to collect a number of wild animals as a beginning.

Probably the first acquisition for the menagerie will be a pair of bald eagles which were captured recently near Port Sheldon, where they had been enjoying the scenery of that romantically wild region. The eaglets are about a year old, having been born in June, 1905. They are about 28 inches high, and when they attain their full growth in about another year, will stand about 34 feet, and will show a spread of wings of five feet from tip to tip. The birds were captured a fortnight ago, and were offered to the park owners, and it is probable that the offer will be accepted and the birds installed in their new home in a short time.

Whatever other attractions can be had will be added as quickly as possible. Two young red foxes, captured alive in a hollow log near White Cloud, will probably find their way in a few days to the resort near Ottawa Beach, and other animals will also be secured.

One feature that will undoubtedly be popular with the visitors is the proposed fish display. The pond at the park is to be specially prepared for their reception, and wire netting will be run across it to divide it into sections. Into these will be placed the various species of fish, each kind having its own abode. The varieties will include trout, muscalonge, pickerel, black, white and speckled bass, and other fish seen in the waters of Michigan.

The park will have a number of additional new attractions this year, and will be frequented by more people than ever before.

Much Oratory Will Mark Dedication of Carnegie Gymnasium

Oratory of a high class will mark the dedication exercises of the new Carnegie Gymnasium on Tuesday evening of commencement week.

Dr. Donald Sage McKay, who was to a great extent instrumental in obtaining the organ for the college, has accepted an invitation to deliver an address. Dr. McKay spoke in Winants Chapel last year and made a decided hit. Hon. G. J. Diekema and Congressman William Alden Smith will also speak, and it is likely that Governor Fred M. Warner, who will be present as the guest of the college, will say a few words although he has signified a desire that he simply be regarded as a visitor and not as one of the speakers of the occasion.

ONE CHANCE FOR JASPER.

The Only Way in Which He Could Hope to Win a Girl for His Wife.

"I should like to ask you one question, Euphorbia," said her mother. "Are you going to marry Jasper Huxtable?"

There was a cold, steely glitter in the young woman's eye, relates the Chicago Tribune, and her lip curled in scorn as she answered:

"I am not, mamma."

"Yet he seems to be a perfectly unobjectionable young man."

"I am aware of it."

"He is in exceptionally good financial circumstances."

"I have never taken the trouble to find out whether he is or not."

"Your father has. He says he is independently rich."

"Well, what of it?"

"And he is handsome."

"Yes, but no handsomer than half a dozen other men I know."

"He is only five or six years your senior."

"O, he's all right, so far as age goes."

"Other girls find him attractive, Euphorbia. What is the reason you do not?"

"I haven't said I don't find him attractive."

"Yet you are not going to marry him?"

"No—not unless there is a decided reform in his way of conducting himself in one particular!" exclaimed the haughty girl, crushing a bunch of costly hothouse flowers in her shapely hand and flinging them away from her.

"What is that?" anxiously inquired her mother.

"He'll have to ask me to marry him!"

RELIC OF DE SOTO FOUND.

A gentleman of Monroe county, Miss., while fishing in the Tombigbee about two miles south of Aberdeen, found in the edge of the river, partly imbedded in the soft clay, an old Spanish halberd, reports the New Orleans Times-Democrat.

There was a peculiar interest in this find, because there is little doubt that it is a relic of the expedition of Hernando de Soto, then on his way, unconsciously, to the discovery of the mighty river so closely associated with his name. There is no remnant of the wooden handle, the metal is heavily incrustured with rust, and the once keen edges have worn away, but the form of the weapon is well preserved, and when struck against a hard substance the steel rings almost as true as when it left the armorer's hand, more than 300 years ago.

It has the spear point on top, battle-axe on one side and a curved knife on the other, reminding one of the ancient instructions to the halberdier in training, who was taught that "if the ax stroke should fail to repair his mistake with a prompt thrust of the piked head."

De Soto went into camp for the winter in what is now Pontotoc county, and the remains of his intrenchments were in evidence a few years ago, and may possibly be still visible. In April, 1541, he continued his march to the northwest until he reached what is now De Soto county, where he turned due west and came out upon the bluffs overlooking the Mississippi, which he here saw for the first time.

IRISH FARMER HAMPERED.

Excessive Freight Rates Prevent Free Transport of His Products.

An important economic fact is pointed out by Charles Edward Russell in Everybody's Magazine:

"Let us see. In present conditions the one opportunity for the Irish farmer is in dairy products. For these, he has exceptional advantages, a moist, moderate climate and rich pastures. Irish butter is probably the best in the world; its flavor is marvelous, to quote Jerry Stickles. Here is an enormous market for dairy products right at Ireland's door, for London and most of England must import butter. Ireland can raise almost unlimited quantities of dairy products, and yet Irish butter, for all its excellence, is rare in England. Of what use is land to the Irish farmer if he cannot get his products to market? He might as well be on a coral reef in the Pacific. It is the rates charged on the Irish railroads that shut him in like walls. Here are a multiplicity of small lines, separate companies, all owned in England. The stockholders have no concern except to get their dividends regularly and in large sizes. The arrangements for through transportation are defective. Each little road maintains its own gouging tariff, each insists upon its own pound of flesh; the resulting charges are probably without a parallel except in some remote and mountainous regions."

Prince Turned Priest.

The best known of royal renunciations of recent times was that of Prince Max, brother of the present king of Saxony, who at one time had the reputation of being the most dashing officer of the crack cavalry regiment to which he belonged. One day he rode straight from some maneuvers to a monastery and changed his uniform for the garb of a priest.

The "Nanny Goats."

The Twenty-third royal Welsh Fusiliers were nicknamed the "Nanny Goats" because from time immemorial the corps has possessed one of these animals as a regimental pet.

Commencement Presents

All Run Down

THIS is a common expression we hear on every side. Unless there is some organic trouble, the condition can doubtless be remedied. Your doctor is the best adviser. Do not dose yourself with all kinds of advertised remedies—get his opinion. More than likely you need a concentrated fat food to enrich your blood and tone up the system.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil

is just such a food in its best form. It will build up the weakened and wasted body when all other foods fail to nourish. If you are run down or emaciated, give it a trial; it cannot hurt you. Hope College News.

The dedication exercises of the new Carnegie gymnasium will take place Tuesday evening, June 19. Rev. Mr. Kay, D. D. of New York city will be the principal speaker. Hon. G. J. Diekma and W. Alden Smith are also on the program as orators for that occasion. To fill the bill, Pres. Kollen has requested the presence of Governor Warner at the dedication exercises.

The following have been chosen as delegates of the Y. M. C. A. for the Lake Erie conference to be held at Lakeside, Ohio, June 15-24. A. T. Laman, Joe Dykstra, H. Renskers, M. Hoffman and W. Walvoord.

The continual growth of the college, the increase of the equipments and the multiplication of advantages increase the running expenses of the institution. To meet these expenses the fee, commencing with next September, has been raised from six to eight dollars per term. The students, who reside west of the Mississippi and east of the Detroit river, and who formerly were exempt from college fees, now pay one half the regular fees. Still, with these changes, Hope's fees are lower than any similar school in the state.

J. Yonkers visited with his brother Philip last Sunday.

J. Sizoo left yesterday evening for his home in Chicago in order to be present at the family reunion which will occur tonight.

College exercises were suspended yesterday, it being Decoration Day.

J. J. DeKraker was in Grand Rapids yesterday.

Will Thomas had an ugly fall last Tuesday afternoon. He was painting a house at Central Park when the scaffolding gave way and he fell from the roof to the ground, striking on his head. His nose was broken, his left arm and left foot sprained and his left side injured. Dr. Sherman attended him, and although badly shaken up, Mr. Thomas is able to be out.

SATISFIED WITH HIS QUIBBLE.

New Hampshire Man Stuck to Letter of the Deed.

There are some literal minded persons who are never satisfied with the spirit of the law, but who consider it necessary to enter into compromises with the letter. Of such was an old citizen of Hopkinton, N. H., a good many years ago, and his juggling with his conscience is recorded by Mr. Lord in the records of the town.

The old man used to boast that he never went back on his exact word, but had no compunction in going round it. Once he wished to buy a certain tract of land, and when the owner named the price he exclaimed: "I won't give it! I tell you I will never give it!"

The owner did not yield, nevertheless. A few days afterward the old man called again. He said nothing about the land, but stepped into the owner's barn and picked up a fall.

"What's that?" he asked.

"That? Oh, that's a fall."

"So you call that a fall, do you? Well, what would you take for it?"

The owner named a very small sum.

"Now, I'll tell you what I'll do," continued the old man. "I'll give you the price you mentioned for your land and this fall. And you mustn't forget the fall. It must be included in the deed."

So the legal instrument was duly made out, signed and delivered, recording the purchase of a certain tract of land situated thus and so, and bounded as follows, and also a certain fall.—Youth's Companion.

Better Than Poker.

"You are from the west, I take it?" said the lawyer as he dropped into a seat in the smoking car beside a man wearing a blue shirt and a big sombrero.

"Yes, sir; I am from Idaho," was the reply.

"Do they play much poker out there?"

"Well, not much."

"I thought poker was a western game?"

"I believe it is, sir."

"And in some parts of the west they play for very high stakes, don't they?"

"I have heard they did. I have heard so."

"But you must play now and then yourself?" persisted the lawyer.

"Well, once in awhile, but for for stakes. That is, I play a little penny-ante game."

"You are not in luck or lack the nerve, maybe?"

"O, it's not that, sir. I have a better thing than poker. When I want money I hold up the stage or a bank. There's more cash in it and no hard feelings, you know."—Baltimore American.

When Gold Failed.

Burke Cockran said that no man with $10,000,000 could be put in jail in this country, and that statement fairly well represents the estimate of the power of money that prevails with many people. Yet there are occasions when money is absolutely powerless. One of these occurred at the time of the wreck of the Valencia.

Among those who are supposed to have perished when the vessel went to pieces was J. B. Graham. He had recently sold a mine in Alaska for $60,000, and part of the proceeds of this sale he carried with him in gold in a bag. This bag went down with Graham.

Those who were rescued say that he made frantic efforts to induce others to save him, offering all his bag of gold; but none heeded him, and his precious sack lay on the broken deck, kicked here and there, unnoticed and unvalued in that trying time. It was the hour when gold failed, as it always fails when held beside the hope of life.

Said one of the survivors: "I'm coming into a safe harbor without a cent. Why, even this shirt I have on belongs to another man, and I have not even a hat. But that bag of gold, or even that ship loaded with gold, would not tempt me into such a place again."

Just a Little Joke.

An easterner traveling through Arkansas on horseback arrived at the bank of a river. As there appeared to be no way to cross it except by swimming, the traveler dismounted, tied his clothes to his horse, drove him into the river, and swam after him.

On reaching the other side, the easterner dressed and continued his way. Before going forty feet, however, he came to the forks of the road. He looked about him for a sign. There was none, but just across the river, near the spot he had entered to swim across, he saw a board nailed to a tree. There was nothing to do but to swim across again and read that sign. So in again the traveler plunged. After climbing the bank on the other side he read the following notice:

"Ten dollars' fine for crossing this bridge faster than a walk."—Youth's Companion.

Oh, For A Place To Take A Swim.

Poetry rivaling the sweetness of Lander, the fierce passion of Byron, the dreamy splendor of Shelley and the sentiment of Keats, lingers round the old swimming hole of boyhood days.

All the wild delight of childhood hovers over this hallowed spot. The day might have seemed long, tedious, dull, commonplace as the boy of your youth, the barefooted prototype of what you are to-day sat in the stifling schoolroom dreaming the weary hours away. Through the open window, brought on caressing breezes born in the south, the mystical south, would come the drone of the insects pitched to a lazy strain, the sound of the fluttering wings of the few birds brave enough to lift pinion against the langorous, sighing billows of wind, the echo of the waves breaking upon the beach and the thousand and one nature intonations that mark the sweltering June days.

All of these you heard and heeded, and your brow became flushed and an intense yearning overshadowed you because you heeded this call of the outside.

But you stood it all in rasping restlessness for in the 4 o'clock distance beckoned the chance of a plunge in cool and invigorating waters.

You could stand all of the trials of books and lessons, and could say be gone to the tempter because of the cheer instilled in your being by the thought of a good old fashioned swim.

You knew that there was a shady nook in the confines of the forest; that there was a pond of crystal clearness enclosed by mossy banks; that trees bended over this pond interlacing their branches and whispering of the good old times that you and that those who had gone before you had enjoyed in the old swimming hole. You knew of the ecstasy that attended you when you dove in over your head and shot to the surface with a splutter that caused an excess of pond water to fly from your mouth heavenward; you knew of the joy incomparable that surged through you when you turned and swam on your back, lazily kicking your feet and paddling your hands to keep afloat. You knew the bliss that came when you took a duck dive, swam dog-fashion and cat-fashion, when you floated, when you fairly reveled in the embracing waters of that little lake lost in the woods.

Knowing these things you somehow became willing to pay at least half-hearted attention to the tasks of the school. And after four o'clock—well—you went in swimming, and you enjoyed to the limit all of the revels of the occasion from the first dive to the chaw-raw-beef. It was fun, wasn't it?

Now, suppose you were a boy again, suppose it was the present, and you lived in Holland and some one whispered to you that there was, instead of the little swimming pool, a lake a whole mile wide and six miles long, a lake with water just the right degree of cold and warmth, a lake with trees lining the banks, with little inlets, and boys, with pigmy peninsulas jutting into it, with a bathing beach unrivalled, and with docks from which you could dive to the inviting depths below, a lake perfect for a swim.

Suppose you started to take a swim in this lake and a stern officer of the law, or some autocrat who owned the land fronting the lake or the dock, would say, "not so fast young lad, you are not allowed to go in swimming here, skidoo." What would you think about it? How quickly would your joy change to sorrow! How quickly would gloom settle on your little world!

Well, let's get down to facts. This is the condition of affairs existing here. The owners of docks, of water frontage, of places suitable for a swim will not as a rule tolerate the presence of a small boy, and it's pretty difficult for you to take the right kind of a good old fashioned swim in Macatawa Bay, even though you wear a dozen bathing suits.

Water, water everywhere and not a chance to swim. Well boys, what are you going to do about it. You must either interest some of your friends among the business men and have them coax the owners of frontage or docks to allow you to take a swim, or you must get after the city fathers and have them fix up a swimming place. This place can be fixed up at a small expense, and can be run under regulations that will mean safety.

Boys, something must be done or you will have to swim in the bathtub. What are you going to do about it? Men, you were boys once, what are you going to do?

All Ready for Good-Roads Round-Up.

All is ready for the Good-Roads Round-Up to be held in College Grove tomorrow.

The exercises will take place on the platform used Memorial Day.

The program will be opened by a short concert by the Citizens Band, with Anthony Rosbach as presiding officer. Mayor Van Putten will deliver the address of welcome, then N. J. Whelan will introduce State Highway Commissioner Earle, who will deliver the address of the day. He will deal exhaustively with the whole subject of good roads, telling how temporary improvements may be best made, how permanent roads may be built right, and how state aid may be obtained for the construction of these permanent roads. Short speeches will be made by Prof. J. H. Kleinheksel and Hon. G. J. Diekema, and the whole program will be interspersed with music and songs.

After the program refreshments will be served by the citizens.

Col. Gardener Interested in Welfare of Enlisted Men.

In a recent issue of "The Infantryman," the only army newspaper published in the Philippines, appear two articles which will prove interesting to the friends of Colonel Gardener. The first article follows:

"The officers and ladies of the Sixteenth Infantry came to the fore on Tuesday evening and gave a reception at Corbin Hall to Colonel and Mrs. Gardener. The reception was for the purpose of having all the officers and ladies of the post and the vicinity meet the colonel and his wife. During the reception the Sixteenth Infantry Band played several selections. Dancing followed and everybody declared they had a good time."

Following is the second article:

"On Sunday there was organized at this post an executive committee which it is hoped will prove of great benefit to the enlisted men and civilian employees stationed here. The committee is composed of Col. Gardener, Sixteenth Infantry, chairman; Lieut.-Col. Bowen, Thirteenth Infantry; Capt. Barnum, Eighth Cavalry; Capt. Porter, Medical Department, and Lieut. Collins, Artillery Corps. On Monday two meetings were held to adopt a constitution. This executive committee will act under the general rules governing the Y. M. C. A., and Mr. Collins, the local representative of that association, is ex-officio member of all the committees to be organized under the constitution. These latter committees will be composed of enlisted men and employees exclusively and will have in hand such matters as athletic and other sports, amusements, membership, etc., reporting monthly to the executive committee."

"The Infantryman" is published in Fort William McKinley, P. I.

Holland Honors Its Heroes.

The soldiers, living and dead, were honored in appropriate manner in this city yesterday. Cloudy skies prevailed but did not interfere with the program which was carried out as indicated before. In addition to the regular numbers the special features were songs by a quartet composed of John Vandersluis, Will Vander Hart, Martin Dykema and John Van Vyven and a song by Mrs. Grace Upde Graff Bergen, who led the audience in singing "Marching Through Georgia."

Mayor Van Putten introduced Prof. John M. Vander Meulen who made a very able speech. Tom N. Robinson delivered Lincoln's Gettysburg address at the cemetery.

Will Have an Animal Exhibit.

Jenison park is to have a menagerie, if the plans of the Holland interurban managers are carried out, as they bid fair to be this season. The managers have been contemplating the step for some time, and have had in mind the advisability of adding to the park's attractions the wild life feature that is always dear to children and to many grown up people as well. Steps are now being made to collect a number of wild animals as a beginning.

Probably the first acquisition for the menagerie will be a pair of bald eagles which were captured recently near Port Sheldon, where they had been enjoying the scenery of that romantically wild region. The eaglets are about a year old, having been born in June, 1905. They are about 28 inches high, and when they attain their full growth in about another year, will stand about 34 feet, and will show a spread of wings of five feet from tip to tip. The birds were captured a fortnight ago, and were offered to the park owners, and it is probable that the offer will be accepted and the birds installed in their new home in a short time.

Whatever other attractions can be had will be added as quickly as possible. Two young red foxes, captured alive in a hollow log near White Cloud, will probably find their way in a few days to the resort near Ottawa Beach, and other animals will also be secured.

One feature that will undoubtedly be popular with the visitors is the proposed fish display. The pond at the park is to be specially prepared for their reception, and wire netting will be run across it to divide it into sections. Into these will be placed the various species of fish, each kind having its own abode. The varieties will include trout, muscalonge, pickerel, black, white and speckled bass, and other fish seen in the waters of Michigan.

The park will have a number of additional new attractions this year, and will be frequented by more people than ever before.

Much Oratory Will Mark Dedication Of Carnegie Gymnasium

Oratory of a high class will mark the dedication exercises of the new Carnegie Gymnasium on Tuesday evening of commencement week.

Dr. Donald Sage McKay, who was to a great extent instrumental in obtaining the organ for the college, has accepted an invitation to deliver an address. Dr. McKay spoke in Winants Chapel last year and made a decided hit. Hon. G. J. Diekema and Congressman William Alden Smith will also speak, and it is likely that Governor Fred M. Warner, who will be present as the guest of the college, will say a few words although he has signified a desire that he simply be regarded as a visitor and not as one of the speakers of the occasion.

ONE CHANCE FOR JASPER.

The Only Way in Which He Could Hope to Win a Girl for His Wife.

"I should like to ask you one question, Euphorbia," said her mother. "Are you going to marry Jasper Huxtable?"

There was a cold, steady glitter in the young woman's eye, relates the Chicago Tribune, and her lip curled in scorn as she answered:

"I am not, mamma."

"Yet he seems to be a perfectly objectionable young man."

"I am aware of it."

"He is in exceptionally good financial circumstances."

"I have never taken the trouble to find out whether he is or not."

"Your father has. He says he is independently rich."

"Well, what of it?"

"And he is handsome."

"Yes, but no handsomer than half a dozen other men I know."

"He is only five or six years your senior."

"O, he's all right, so far as age goes."

"Other girls find him attractive, Euphorbia. What is the reason you do not?"

"I haven't said I don't find him attractive."

"Yet you are not going to marry him?"

"No—not unless there is a decided reform in his way of conducting himself in one particular!" exclaimed the haughty girl, crushing a bunch of costly hothouse flowers in her shapely hand and flinging them away from her. "What is that?" anxiously inquired her mother.

"He'll have to ask me to marry him!"

RELIC OF DE SOTO FOUND.

A gentleman of Monroe county, Miss., while fishing in the Tombigbee about two miles south of Aberdeen, found in the edge of the river, partly imbedded in the soft clay, an old Spanish halberd, reports the New Orleans Times-Democrat.

There was a peculiar interest in this find, because there is little doubt that it is a relic of the expedition of Hernando de Soto, then on his way, unconsciously, to the discovery of the mighty river so closely associated with his name. There is no remnant of the wooden handle, the metal is heavily incrustated with rust, and the once keen edges have worn away, but the form of the weapon is well preserved, and when struck against a hard substance the steel rings almost as true as when it left the armorer's hand, more than 300 years ago.

It has the spear point on top, battle-ax on one side and a curved knife on the other, reminding one of the ancient instructions to the halberdier in training, who was taught that "if the ax stroke should fail to repair his mistake with a prompt thrust of the piked head."

De Soto went into camp for the winter in what is now Pontotoc county, and the remains of his intrenchments were in evidence a few years ago, and may possibly be still visible. In April, 1541, he continued his march to the northwest until he reached what is now De Soto county, where he turned due west and came out upon the bluffs overlooking the Mississippi, which he here saw for the first time.

IRISH FARMER HAMPERED.

Excessive Freight Rates Prevent Free Transport of His Products.

An important economic fact is pointed out by Charles Edward Russell in Everybody's Magazine:

"Let us see. In present conditions the one opportunity for the Irish farmer is in dairy products. For these, he has exceptional advantages, a moist, moderate climate and rich pastures. Irish butter is probably the best in the world; its flavor is marvelous, to quote Jerry Stickles. Here is an enormous market for dairy products right at Ireland's door, for London and most of England must import butter. Ireland can raise almost unlimited quantities of dairy products, and yet Irish butter, for all its excellence, is rare in England. Of what use is land to the Irish farmer if he cannot get his products to market? He might as well be on a coral reef in the Pacific. It is the rates charged on the Irish railroads that shut him in like walls. Here are a multiplicity of small lines, separate companies, all owned in England. The stockholders have no concern except to get their dividends regularly and in large sizes. The arrangements for through transportation are defective. Each little road maintains its own gouging tariff, each insists upon its own pound of flesh; the resulting sharges are probably without a parallel except in some remote and mountainous regions."

Prince Turned Priest.

The best known of royal renunciations of recent times was that of Prince Max, brother of the present king of Saxony, who at one time had the reputation of being the most dashing officer of the crack cavalry regiment to which he belonged. One day he rode straight from some maneuvers to a monastery and changed his uniform for the garb of a priest.

The "Nanny Goats."

The Twenty-third royal Welsh Fusiliers were nicknamed the "Nanny Goats" because from time immemorial the corps has possessed one of these animals as a regimental pet.

All Run Down

THIS is a common expression we hear on every side. Unless there is some organic trouble, the condition can doubtless be remedied. Your doctor is the best adviser. Do not dose yourself with all kinds of advertised remedies—get his opinion. More than likely you need a concentrated fat food to enrich your blood and tone up the system.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil

is just such a food in its best form. It will build up the weakened and wasted body when all other foods fail to nourish. If you are run down or emaciated, give it a trial: it cannot hurt you. Hope College News.

The dedication exercises of the new Carnegie gymnasium will take place Tuesday evening, June 19. Rev. Mr. Kay, D. D. of New York city will be the principal speaker. Hon. G. J. Diekma and W. Alden Smith are also on the program as orators for that occasion. To fill the bill, Pres. Kollen has requested the presence of Governor Warner at the dedication exercises.

The following have been chosen as delegates of the Y. M. C. A. for the Lake Erie conference to be held at Lakeside, Ohio, June 15-24. A. T. Laman, Joe Dykstra, H. Renskers, M. Hoffman and W. Walvoord.

The continual growth of the college, the increase of the equipments and the multiplication of advantages increase the running expenses of the institution. To meet these expenses the fee, commencing with next September, has been raised from six to eight dollars per term. The students, who reside west of the Mississippi and east of the Detroit river, and who formerly were exempt from college fees, now pay one half the regular fees. Still, with these changes, Hope's fees are lower than any similar school in the state.

J. Yonkers visited with his brother Philip last Sunday.

J. Sizoo left yesterday evening for his home in Chicago in order to be present at the family reunion which will occur tonight.

College exercises were suspended yesterday, it being Decoration Day.

J. J. DeKraker was in Grand Rapids yesterday.

Will Thomas had an ugly fall last Tuesday afternoon. He was painting a house at Central Park when the scaffolding gave way and he fell from the roof to the ground, striking on his head. His nose was broken, his left arm and left foot sprained and his left side injured. Dr. Sherman attended him, and although badly shaken up, Mr. Thomas is able to be out.

SATISFIED WITH HIS QUIBBLE.

New Hampshire Man Stuck to Letter of the Deed.

There are some literal minded persons who are never satisfied with the spirit of the law, but who consider it necessary to enter into compromises with the letter. Of such was an old citizen of Hopkinton, N. H., a good many years ago, and his juggling with his conscience is recorded by Mr. Lord in the records of the town.

The old man used to boast that he never went back on his exact word, but had no compunction in going round it. Once he wished to buy a certain tract of land, and when the owner named the price he exclaimed: "I won't give it! I tell you I will never give it!"

The owner did not yield, nevertheless. A few days afterward the old man called again. He said nothing about the land, but stepped into the owner's barn and picked up a fall.

"What's that?" he asked.

"That? Oh, that's a fall."

"So you call that a fall, do you?"

Well, what would you take for it?"

The owner named a very small sum.

"Now, I'll tell you what, I'll do," continued the old man. "I'll give you the price you mentioned for your land and this fall. And you mustn't forget the fall. It must be included in the deed."

So the legal instrument was duly made out, signed and delivered, recording the purchase of a certain tract of land situated thus and so, and bounded as follows, and also a certain fall.—Youth's Companion.

Better Than Poker.

"You are from the west, I take it?" said the lawyer as he dropped into a seat in the smoking car beside a man wearing a blue shirt and a big sombrero.

"Yes, sir; I am from Idaho," was the reply.

"Do they play much poker out there?"

"Well, not much."

"I thought poker was a western game?"

"I believe it is, sir."

"And in some parts of the west they play for very high stakes, don't they?"

"I have heard they did. I have heard so."

"But you must play now and then yourself?" persisted the lawyer.

"Well, once in awhile, but for stakes. That is, I play a little penny-ante game."

"You are not in luck or lack the nerve, maybe?"

"O, it's not that, sir. I have a better thing than poker. When I want money I hold up the stage or a bank. There's more cash in it and no hard feelings, you know."—Baltimore American.

When Gold Failed.

Burke Cockran said that no man with $10,000,000 could be put in jail in this country, and that statement fairly well represents the estimate of the power of money that prevails with many people. Yet there are occasions when money is absolutely powerless. One of these occurred at the time of the wreck of the Valencia.

Among those who are supposed to have perished when the vessel went to pieces was J. B. Graham. He had recently sold a mine in Alaska for $60,000, and part of the proceeds of this sale he carried with him in gold in a bag. This bag went down with Graham.

Those who were rescued say that he made frantic efforts to induce others to save him, offering all his bag of gold; but none heeded him, and his precious sack lay on the broken deck, kicked here and there, unnoticed and unvalued in that trying time. It was the hour when gold failed, as it always fails when held beside the hope of life.

Said one of the survivors: "I'm coming into a safe harbor without a cent. Why, even this shirt I have on belongs to another man, and I have not even a hat. But that bag of gold, or even that ship loaded with gold, would not tempt me into such a place again."

Just a Little Joke.

An easterner traveling through Arkansas on horseback arrived at the bank of a river. As there appeared to be no way to cross it except by swimming, the traveler dismounted, tied his clothes to his horse, drove him into the river, and swam after him.

On reaching the other side, the easterner dressed and continued his way. Before going forty feet, however, he came to the forks of the road. He looked about him for a sign. There was none, but just across the river, near the spot he had entered to swim across, he saw a board nailed to a tree. There was nothing to do but to swim across again and read that sign. So in again the traveler plunged. After climbing the bank on the other side he read the following notice:

"Ten dollars' fine for crossing this bridge faster than a walk."—Youth's Companion.

A Minor Trouble.

"Did yo' heah 'bout our bad luck? No? De ol' man was smokin' in bed an' he set things afiah an' burnt de haidboard an' de pillars, an' de fiasmen dey frowed water all ovah de feathah tick! I nevah see no such a run o' bad luck!"

"An' what 'bout de ol' man?"

"De ol' man? Oh, he was daid!"

SUNDY CIVIL BILL REPORTED TO HOUSE

APPROPRIATION MEASURE CAR-
RYING $94,346,573 COMPLET-ED BY COMMITTEE.

OVER QUARTER OF A BILLION FOR CANAL

Amount Carried Is $11,070,003 Less Than Estimates of Various Departments — $500,000 for National Museum at Washington.

Washington, May 29.—The sundry civil appropriation bill was completed and Chairman Tawney was authorized by the appropriations committee to report it to the house Tuesday. It is the largest sundry civil bill ever reported, carrying $94,346,573, of which $25,460,991 is for work on the Panama canal. The amount carried is $11,070,003 less than the estimates from the various departments. The canal appropriation is to be reimbursed to the treasury from the proceeds of the sale of canal bonds, which have been authorized to the aggregate amount of $130,000,000.

Deducting the canal appropriation, the bill carries $1,721,980 more than the current sundry civil bill. For river and harbor work, heretofore authorized and contracted for, there is appropriated $17,318,976, which is $5,774,844 in excess of the amount available this year.

For new public buildings heretofore authorized and the repair of buildings, $5,170,383 is appropriated, a reduction of $2,806,601 from the current appropriation under this head.

Items for Panama Canal.
Among the items for the canal are: Pay of officers and employees on the isthmus, other than skilled and unskilled laborers, $3,336,088. Skilled labor on the isthmus, $5,592,020. Unskilled labor on the isthmus, $4,148,453. Purchase and delivery of supplies and equipment on the isthmus, $10,374,511. Loan to the Panama rail road for new equipment, $1,000,000.

A printing reform is inaugurated by requirements that no money appropriated in the bill shall be used to maintain branch printing offices in any executive department in Washington; that the plants of such branch offices shall be turned over to the public printer within 30 days after the passage of the bill, and that hereafter detailed estimates for printing must be transmitted to congress from each department.

The bill provides for the appointment by the attorney general, if the secretary of the treasury desires, of a solicitor of customs at an annual salary of $5,000 and such assistant solicitors as are necessary at salaries of $3,000. The bill will probably be called up for consideration in the house Thursday.

Some of the more important items of appropriation are:

Construction of vessels under revenue-cutter service, $270,000; increase, $170,000.

Construction of national museum buildings in Washington, D. C., $500,000.

Commerce Body Gets $375,000.
For the interstate commerce commission $375,000, an increase of $10,000. This increase is to the fund of $75,000 to enable the commission to keep informed regarding compliance with the act to promote the safety of employees and travelers on railroads.

In addition to the regular fund of $249,000 for general expenses, there is transferred $160,000 from the so-called anti-trust fund under the department of justice to further enable the commission to carry out the interstate commerce acts.

Public health and marine hospital drainage, $1,185,000.

Prevention of epidemics, $316,000, which includes an unexpended balance of about $116,000.

Completing immigrant station at San Francisco, $100,000.

Construction of the office building for the house of representatives, $500,000.

Expense of collection of revenues from sales of public lands, $1,013,220.

Surveying the public lands, $423,000.

United States geological survey, $1,133,320; reduction of $346,100.

Armories and arsenals, $555,617; increase, $224,617.

$113,000 for Executive Mansion.

Expenses of the executive mansion, $113,000; increase, $60,000.

Construction of buildings at military posts, $750,000; reduction of $450,000.

Improvement of the Yellowstone national park, $55,000; reduction of $78,000.

National military parks, $196,000.

Continuing construction of the penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., $200,000; same work at Atlanta, Ga., $80,000.

Department of agricultural building, $300,000.

Public printing and binding, $5,325,000; reduction, $1,005,645.

Chicago, Ill., post office and court-house, the appropriation in the urgent deficiency act, is made available for interior decorations.

New York city custom house, $800,000; courthouse and post office, $45,900; rent of old custom house building, $130,600.

San Francisco, Cal., custom house, $500,000.

River and harbor appropriations include $200,000 for the Illinois and Mississippi canal.

REAL BUCKING BRONCHOS.

Only Thirty Found Among Fifty Thousand Horses That Were Hard Fighters.

The outlaw horse, for years past the hero of broncho-busting in the south and west, is rapidly becoming a thing of the past, and in ten years will be more scarce than the fast-dying buffalo and the old-time cowboy, according to John M. Kuykendall, who makes a specialty of collecting the wildest horses that can be procured for bucking contests, reports the Denver News. "Ten years ago the outlaw was as plentiful as jack rabbits," said Mr. Kuykendall, "but I have only been able to get about 30 real buckers that will put up a good fight out of 50,000 horses that I have looked at during the last year. The outlaw horse comes from the poorest blooded that roam the ranges of the west. He is a criminal among horses, just as surely as men who go wrong have had blood in their veins. His parents are in nearly every case mustangs and the stock is the same as that which roamed the plains of the west in the early days and degenerated through uselessness."

"Nearly any horse will buck," he declared, "if you turn him loose in a pasture for several months and then try to ride him, but he will only kick up a few times and then quit. The outlaw will buck, though, after he has been ridden successfully, just as soon as another man gets on his back. It takes years to break him of the habit, and he is never safe, if he ever gets a chance he will start out bucking again and he always is dangerous."

"You rarely hear of a famous bucking now, although 10 or 20 years ago every large range had several outlaws that nobody could ride. The cowboys can ride as well as the old-time cowboys and they are not degenerating. The breed of horses throughout the country is improving steadily and this is the death knell of the outlaw. It will take away some of the most picturesque western life when they go entirely, but that is going rapidly, anyway, and horse owners will be the gainers."

PRINCE OF WALES PAYS.

Not Upon a Universal Free List, as a Good Many People
Suppose.

It is not so much fun being the Prince of Wales as one might expect, for instead of being upon a universal free list that universal person is compelled to pay more than the average mortal for such trifles as railroad travel and theater tickets, says the New York Herald.

Theatrical managers, of course, would be more than willing to have the prince as a guest nightly, but in order to keep the use of his name from being made into an open advertisement it is the invariable custom to pay for the tickets at the regular rates. More than this, the customary tips are more than doubled.

In the same way the prince pays for his special trains when he travels and then distributes large tips to all concerned, while so small an item as postage stamps mounts into four figures in the course of a year, although the stamps have his father's picture upon them.

The "social business" envelopes are used only when strict interpretation decides that the mystic "O. H. M. S." is proper; the rest are all stamped as though sent out by a private individual.

Even more than the commoner does he suffer from the demand upon his purse for wedding presents, and his position forces an expenditure of $60,000 or $70,000 for uniforms of the regiments of which he is honorary member.

All told, it is only through economy that the prince is enabled to set aside anything from his income, since he is compelled to maintain an establishment of far greater magnitude than would be supported by a private individual of the same financial standing.

Savings of the People.

The deposits of all the savings banks in the world amount to $10,500,000,000, contributed by 82,640,000 depositors. Of these the United States shows aggregate deposits of $3,060,179,000, credited to 7,305,000 depositors.

These figures indicate that the United States, with less than nine and a half per cent. of the total population considered, contributes over 25 per cent. of the total savings deposits recorded. It has been estimated that more than $1,000,000,000 of bonds are annually purchased by the investing public in the United States. The savings banks and the insurance companies are the heaviest purchasers of bonds, but there are estimated to be nearly 1,000,000 persons in the United States who have an annual surplus to invest.

Wanted an Older One.

"Yes," said the old man to his young visitor, "I am proud of my girls and would like to see them comfortably married, and as I have made a little money they will not go penniless to their husbands. There is Mary, 25 years old, and a really good girl. I shall give her $5,000 when she marries. Then comes Bet, who won't be 36 again, and I shall give her $15,000. And the man who takes Eliza, who is 40, will have $25,000 with her."

The young man reflected a moment and then inquired:

"You haven't one about 50, have you?"—Modern Society.

Turkish "Plums."

The plum of the Turkish government offices is the admiralty, which is worth $16,800 a year, and the present holder is stated to have amassed a fortune of $2,400,000. The minister of foreign affairs has $2,800, and finance comes next with $1,000 lower. The lowest salary is that of the minister of mines, though it is rather high or than that of the premier of England. The sum is $25,500.

OUR LAWMAKERS.

A Synopsis of the Proceedings Day by Day, in the National Congress.

Washington, Jan. 25.—When the smoke of the liveliest legislative battle of the session had cleared up in the house Wednesday, Speaker Cannon and his organization were in complete control and the joint statehood programme of the administration had been adopted. Forty-three republican "insurgents" went down to defeat, having voted vainly with the democrats to gain control of the rule, the terms of which are to govern the statehood bill in its passage through the house. The vote ordering the previous question on the rule was 192 ayes and 165 nays. This clearly defeated the opposition, the full strength of which was polled.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Senator Lodge on Wednesday presented in the senate his views on the policy of the administration in the matter of the Algerian conference over Morocco and also with reference to Santo Domingo. He defended the course of the president in both instances.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The house passed the statehood bill according to schedule Thursday. The republican opposition to the measure spent its entire force Wednesday and no effort was made to defeat the bill on its final passage, but 33 of the "insurgents" voting against the measure. The bill passed by a vote of 194 to 150. The bill, as passed, provides that Oklahoma and Indian Territory shall constitute one state under the name "Oklahoma," and that Arizona and New Mexico shall constitute one state under the name "Arizona."

Washington, Jan. 26.—The foreign affairs of the United States continued on Thursday to hold the attention of the senate, the Moroccan and Dominican matters being the questions immediately at issue. Senator Money was the principal speaker, and he talked for over two hours in opposition to the course of the administration with reference to both Santo Domingo and Morocco.

Washington, Jan. 29.—By a vote of 120 to 108 the house Saturday waived the eight hour law for alien labor on the Panama canal. The provision is contained as an amendment in the urgent deficiency appropriation bill, which was passed.

Washington, Jan. 30.—What is considered a strike at the railroads was taken by the house Monday in the adoption of a resolution calling on the president to furnish information as to the existence of an alleged agreement, in violation of the interstate commerce law between the Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio, Norfolk and Western, Chesapeake and Ohio, Northern Central and Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington Railroad companies.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The Chinese boycott and the administration of the forest reserves divided the attention of the senate Monday.

MURDERED AND ROBBED.

Body of Woman Missing Since December 14 Found in River at Cairo, Ill.

Cairo, Ill., Jan. 29.—The body found in the Ohio river last Thursday was identified Sunday as that of Mrs. Rosa Mangrum, of Nashville, Tenn. O. G. Mangrum, of Nashville, husband of the woman, and Mrs. Florence Trousedale, of Birmingham, Ala., a sister, both positively identified the body. Mrs. Mangrum disappeared from her home in Nashville December 14. She had a large sum of money and valuables on her person and was bound for Chicago by way of St. Louis, on business for the W. C. T. U., being connected with that organization. From the time she left home until her body was found, all trace of her was lost, and as no valuables whatever were found upon the body it is supposed the woman was murdered and robbed and her body thrown into the river.

Took His Own Life.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 29.—William Brinkmeyer, 45 years old, one of the wealthiest farmers in the county, committed suicide in the county jail here, where he was confined while suffering from dementia. Breaking the crystal of his watch, he severed the arteries in both wrists with the pieces of glass. He was dead when found by the jailer Sunday morning.

Millionaire's Wife Slain.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 29.—Summoned to her front door, Mrs. C. A. Canfield, wife of one of the men who have made millions in southern California, was shot and killed Saturday by Maurice Buck, a former coachman of the family. The shooting came after the refusal of Mrs. Canfield to lend Buck $2,600 with which to start in business for himself.

Death of Thomas B. Bryan.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—Thomas Barbour Bryan, pioneer of Chicago, for 54 years a lawyer here, and one of the most active promoters of the World's Columbian exposition, died in Washington, D. C., Thursday night, in his seventy-eighth year. He was visiting at the home of a relative at No. 1601 L street, and was stricken with heart failure.

Awarded $4,000 Damages.

Joliet, Ill., Jan. 29.—William H. Meyers has the highest priced fingers in Illinois, if a verdict given in the circuit court here is any criterion. He lost two digits in a buzzsaw in the shops of the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern road, and a jury gave him $2,000 for each one. He sued for $10,000, claiming to have been disabled for life. An appeal was taken.

FASHION IS COSTLY

ENORMOUS SUMS SPENT BY WOMEN IN "SOCIETY."

Practically There is No Limit to the Amount That Can Be Expended in Sumptuous Raiment by the Fortunate Ones of the World.

What does a woman of fashion spend?
"Too much! Too much!" answers almost every husband, emphatically.

What are her expenses?
"Too many! Too many!" is the no less energetic cry.

But the declaration is true only in a relative sense. We of the fashionable sex need not discuss it philosophically, but since we are not called upon to pay the bills treat it in a light vein, says the Cincinnati Enquirer. Look at a rich lady when she is most interesting from a fashion standpoint, when she is in ball or opera costume. The robe she wears has been made by a mistress of the sartorial art; the material is as rich as riches can procure, and the trimmings are as elaborate as ingenuity can devise. It is an embodiment of chic and luxury. In producing it the maker has exercised her utmost talent and skill; it bears the stamp of her fame. The price? Let us say $1,000, keeping within bounds. To the excellence of this dress must correspond that of lingerie and the price will mount up in a season to at least $1,200 for this alone. It is not dear. The sum of money represented by this one toilet is small when the personality of the wearer is considered.

When going to a ball or returning from it she throws over her shoulders a ravishing fur cloak, worth a trifle of only $2,000. Then she drapes her head with a mantilla of antique lace, a precious and unique piece, a family heirloom, such as the favorites of fortune almost always had included in the maternal heritage. This piece of Venetian, Malines or Alencon lace may also be quoted at $2,000. But these amounts dwindle considerably when we come to estimate the jewels. Here a single stone may represent a fortune. That plain string of pearls, for instance, could not be bought for less than $50,000; that diadem of brilliants for placing in the hair is worth $25,000; those rings, sparkling on every finger of the small, refined hands, a $50,000. Add another $25,000 for brooches, buckles, combs and be convinced that, as I have already said, a rich woman sometimes wears a large fortune.

But the foregoing is a moderate estimate, after all. Not a few wear the worth of a quarter million on special occasions. For there are robes completely embroidered with gold and silver, and bedusted with real pearls and other precious stones. The example woman I described wore only a moderate assortment of jewels, whereas some will wear gorgets of brilliants and St. Andrew's crosses of pearls, and glitter from head to foot with a thousand dazzling rays. There is no limit to a woman's luxury; it goes as far as folly, and folly is infinite.

THE MASTER SPECIALISTS OF AMERICA

We know the diseases and weaknesses of men like an open book. We have been curing them for 30 years. We have given our lives to it, and thousands upon thousands of men restored to Vigorous Vitality are today living monuments to the skill, knowledge and success of Drs. Kennedy & Kergan. We never hold out false hopes, we never undertake a case we cannot cure. We have made so thorough a study of all the diseases of men—of Varicocele, Stricture, Blood Poisons, Hydrocele, Nervous Debility, Paralysis, Bladder, Urinary and Kidney Diseases, General Weakness, Loss of Vitality, and have cured so many thousands of cases that if there is a cure for YOUR disease you will find it here. When we undertake a case there is no such thing as failure. We charge nothing for consultation and our knowledge, skill and experience are at your service. We will explain to you how and why we can cure you; why the diseases of men require the knowledge and skill of Master Specialists. We do not require to experiment with your case as we know from experience in treating thousands of cases exactly what to prescribe for your symptoms. Don't be discouraged if you have treated without success with Quacks, Fakirs, Electric Belts, Free Trials, etc. You must get cured—and Doctors alone can cure you. Our New Method System of treatment has stood the test for 25 years—why should it fail in your case. Should your case prove incurable you need not pay us a dollar. NINE MEET DEATH IN RAILROAD WRECK

DERAILED PASSENGER TRAIN CRASHES INTO A FREIGHT AT LOUISVILLE.

Twenty-Two Persons Are Injured when Flange of Wheel Breaks and Opens Switch, Causing Smoker to Sideswipe Freight Cars.

Louisville, Ky., May 29.—An inbound passenger train from Knoxville, Tenn., on the Louisville & Nashville railroad, was thrown from the track with fatal effect at Seventh and Hill streets Monday as it was backing through the yards into the Louisville union station. Nine persons were killed and 21 injured.

List of the Dead.
Following is a list of the dead: Howard B. Coleman, Stanford, Ky. T. W. Thorpe, Broadhead, Ky. Charles Speiss, New Haven, Ky. George W. Ponder, Broadhead, Ky. William Pruett (colored), Lebanon, Ky.

John C. Black, of Louisville. Frances Weaver, Broadhead, Ky. Martin Hilton, Broadhead, Ky. Charles L. Roberts, Louisville.

The front end of the ladies' coach, which was vestibuled, was stove in for 20 feet, seats being torn up and all the windows smashed out. The hot water heater, which was in the forward end of this car, was torn loose from its fastening and hurled to the middle of the car, killing Mr. Coleman in its flight.

The bodies of the dead were so badly disfigured that identification was difficult.

Caused by Broken Flange.

The train left Knoxville Sunday night and was due in Louisville at eight a. m. and was on time. It had but passed Magnolia street and was proceeding at a moderate rate of speed when a flange on a wheel of the smoker uncoupled the engine, baggage and express car.

The smoker and two day coaches jumped the track and crashed into a freight train on the siding and were badly damaged. The sleeping cars from Knoxville and Nortonville left the track also, but were not damaged and their occupants were unhurt. All of those killed met death in the smoker and day coach, it being reported that every person in the smoking car was killed.

BROKER AND CLERK GUILTY

Federal Jury Finds They Conspired to Give Rebates to Kansas City Shippers.

Kansas City, Mo., May 26.—George L. Thomas, a freight broker, and L. B. Taggart, a clerk working for Thomas, in the United States district court here late Friday were found guilty of the charge of conspiracy to illegally give rebates to shippers. The jury considered the case only 30 minutes before arriving at a verdict.

George H. Crosby, general freight manager for the Burlington railway, on trial on the same charge, was discharged, the court sustaining a demurrer alleging that no evidence had been presented to connect Crosby with a conspiracy. The indictment charged that Crosby had conspired with George L. Thomas and L. B. Taggart to pay rebates to certain persons.

Disease Attacks Tobacco Plants.

Hartford, Conn., May 29.—A serious blight has come over many of the tobacco beds in the Connecticut valley in the form of black rot or tobacco root rot. It is the same disease that has attacked Cuban tobacco for several years and was noticed for the first time last year when a few isolated cases were reported. The black rot comes from a fungus growth in the soil.

Jealousy Causes Tragedy.

Nashville, Ill., May 29.—Near Elvins, Mo., a hamlet, Robert Mitchell shot and probably mortally wounded Edward Rinke and then killed himself. Jealousy over rival attentions to Miss Eble Wilkins is said to have actuated the tragedy.

CABINET WILL NOT RESIGN

RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT DECIDES COURSE TO BE TAKEN.

Will Treat Resolution of Douma with Contempt—Hope Placed in Agrarian Scheme.

St. Petersburg, May 29.—The government has decided on its course with reference to the vote of lack of confidence by the lower house and the demand for the resignation of the ministry. It will swallow parliament's affront and treat its resolution simply as a declaration beyond its competency, and consequently not binding upon the monarch.

In other words, the government has decided not to resign; neither will parliament be dissolved. Instead of treating the action of the lower house as cause for offense the ministry will continue its conciliatory attitude in the hope that the storm will subside, and unless parliament takes revolutionary action the original plan of prolonging the session until it is time for the summer vacation, at the end of June, will be carried out.

Meanwhile the government will offer its projects for the solution of the agrarian question, and if they are rejected the lower house will be allowed to elaborate its own plan. No amnesty will be granted, but the political prisoners will be released as rapidly as possible. The ministry evidently is convinced that its agrarian programme will win the support of the conservative interests of the country, which naturally are frightened over the scheme for the expropriation of land proposed by the lower house. Both the ministry and the court party are understood to have joined in a decision to adopt the above tactics.

PRESIDENT WILL SPEAK.

Leaves for Portsmouth with Members of His Family to Deliver Memorial Day Address.

Washington, May 29.—President Roosevelt and party left shortly before three o'clock Tuesday afternoon for Portsmouth, Va., where he will deliver a Memorial day address Wednesday before the Army and Navy union. The trip to Portsmouth was made on the cruiser Mayflower. The president was accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt, his sister-in-law Miss Carow, and his children, Ethel and Quentin. Neither Secretary Loeb nor Assistant Secretary Barnes were in the party. Morris C. Latta, the president's personal stenographer, who has wide experience on presidential trips, directed the details of the trip in the absence of Secretary Loeb.

At the conclusion of the ceremony at the cemetery, adjoining the naval hospital at Portsmouth, the president, Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Carow and the children will be the guests of the commandant of the Portsmouth naval station at luncheon. After luncheon the party will go aboard the Mayflower and proceed to Hampton, where a brief stop will be made at the Hampton institute. While the president is there the grounds of the institute will be closed to all except members of the president's party and the students and faculty. The president will deliver a brief speech at the institute.

Immediately following the ceremonies at the institute the president and his party will again board the Mayflower and start on their return trip to Washington. They expect to arrive here about eight o'clock Thursday morning, it being necessary to make a slow run up the Potomac on account of the considerable draft of the Mayflower.

FREIGHT TRAIN RUNS AWAY

Three Tramps Killed as Ore Cars Pile Up After Dash Down Hill Without Engine Crew.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 29.—A runaway Duluth & Iron Range freight train, carrying 30 loaded ore cars, dashed down a hill from Waldo, Minn., to Two Harbors, without an engine crew or conductor, and with only one brakeman, who feared to jump in the darkness, and was wrecked. The brakeman sustained a broken leg and other injuries. Three tramps are dead as a result of ignorance of the working of the air brakes, and 25 loaded ore cars are piled up, being a complete loss.

After the tramps had boarded the train at a block station the air failed to work at the top of a long hill. It is supposed that the tramps in some manner turned an angle cock. The engineer and firemen were first to jump, then the crew began dropping off. The engine ran ahead of the wreck, but in some manner reversed and returned.

Preacher Guilty of Bigamy.

Chicago, May 29.—Almon Clarence Abel, formerly a prominent and highly respected minister of the Methodist church in the north shore suburbs, was secretly taken before Judge Smith in the criminal court Tuesday, where he pleaded guilty to the charge of bigamy, and was sentenced to the penitentiary for an indefinite period. Rev. Abel was immediately taken to jail and started for the penitentiary.

Seventy Zulus Slain.

Durban, Natal, May 29.—Six hundred rebel Zulus surrounded and attacked Col. Leuchar's force near Buffalo river. Under cover of the bush the natives got within 50 yards of the British, but the latter opened a heavy rifle fire upon the rebels, and after two hours' fighting the Zulus fled, leaving 70 killed. The British loss was one man killed and three wounded.

Additional Local.

Half hourly service is now given on the Interurban railway.

Masons are laying the wall of the foundation of the new fifth ward school.

Workmen are building a new cottage for John Wiggers at Jensen Park.

Thomas Marsille has bought of S. Bolt his homestead on East Fourteenth street.

W. J. Hancock, pursor on the steamer Holland, will live here, having built a house on West Twelfth street.

A chorus of 60 voices is rehearsing for Coleridge's oratorio, "Hiawatha," which will be given by the Choral Union June 11.

Peter A. Van Dyke has given up the job of paving inspector and N. Praken has been appointed in his place.

Jacob Lieverse is building a new house at First avenue and Tenth street.

Al Alger of West Olive caught a 30-pound muskallonge in Pigeon Creek last week.

The Graham & Morton steamers will start double daily service between here and Chicago about June 20.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Harkema on West Tenth street was damaged by fire to the extent of $500 last Thursday afternoon. Good work by the fire department saved the house from total destruction.

The fifteen-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Stroosnyder, Twenty-first street, died last Friday evening. The funeral was held Monday at two o'clock from the house, Rev. Wm. Wolvius officiating.

The three-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Piefer, 196 East Sixteenth street, died last Friday evening. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the house, Rev. A. L. Luther officiating.

Supervisors Van Duren and Ward have completed the assessment of property for taxes this year, and the footings of their respective rolls show a total increase in the valuation of the city over last year of $226,735. The valuation as assessed is $5,670,870. Last year it was $5,444,135.

The pipe organ to be installed in the Carnegie Gymnasium in September will have over 40 stops, five 16-foot stops, and will be 26 wide, covering the entire width of the stage. It will be operated by an electric blower and will be protected by some device so that it will not be harmed when the hall is used by the athletes.

Hon. G. J. Diekema of this city will deliver an address on "Our Church in the West" at the public meeting to be held in New York, June 7, in commemoration of the Centennial Session of the General Synod of the Reformed Church of America. On Friday evening June 8, Dr. J. W. Beardslee will deliver an address.

In Supervisor A. J. Ward's district, which includes the first and fifth wards, there was a total of 162 births during the year, 84 males and 78 females. Of these births 100 were in the fifth ward. In Supervisor Van Duren's district, which includes the second, third and fourth wards, there were 104 births.

The storm water sewer system which covers River street from Thirteenth to Fourth streets has been completed at a cost of $1,772.02.

Jacob E. Pelgrim of this city was elected secretary of the Society of Inquiry of the New Brunswick, N. J. Theological Seminary before he came to his home in this city to spend the summer vacation.

For the fun of breaking the windows of Dr. Sibley's cottage at Macatawa last February while at the resort with a number of other boys Frederick Royce, a 15-year-old Grand Rapids youth, paid fine and costs amounting to $15 in Justice Van Duren's court last Thursday. The lad pleaded guilty to the charge of malicious destruction of property.

Wm. D. VanLoo, county treasurer of Ottawa county, will be the next cashier of the National Bank of Grand Haven, to succeed Marvin W. Turner, who recently resigned. Mr. VanLoo will assume the important duties in a short time. Mr. VanLoo has been clerk and supervisor of Zeeland township a number of terms and was for several years chairman of the board of supervisors. Upon the death of the late James Luther he took the position of county treasurer and his retirement from that position will make it necessary to select another treasurer.

From all along the lakes comes news pointing to a very successful season at the resorts. South Haven says that every building available for boarding or rooming purposes has been reserved for the season and that overcrowded conditions will prevail. So they say all from St. Joseph to Mackinac, and it is pleasant to record that the Holland resorts are right up to the head of the procession. Mrs. M. A. Ryder, proprietress of Hotel Macatawa, is receiving many applications for accommodations at the hotel, and the same may be said of the other hotels and boarding houses, indicating that all will be taxed to the limit.

A Democratic county convention, will be held at Grand Haven on Tuesday, June 19, at two o'clock p. m. for the purpose of electing eleven delegates to attend the state convention to be held at Detroit. At the primaries to be held June 12 the first ward will elect 7 delegates; second ward, 4; third ward, 9; fourth ward, 8; fifth ward, 5. Al Toppen is chairman, and Wm. Baumgartel secretary of the county committee.

News want ads pay.

Attorney Arthur Van Duren caught a whitefish weighing 21 pounds while fishing near Tanner's boat livery yesterday.

The VanAmberg circus, which shows at the fair grounds Tuesday, June 12, has the largest and the smallest elephants in the world. The large one weighs 700 pounds more than did the famous Jumbo.

The tug Diver, which pulled the Argo off the beach last winter cleared this port for Sioux, Ont., Tuesday and the tug Salvor, which has just been raised, also cleared for Sarina, Ont.

Mrs. George Roelofs, of Grand Rapids, while fishing from a boat near the boat livery landing at Macatawa yesterday morning, lost her balance and was immersed in five feet of water. She was rescued by Sommers Blackman and J. B. Mulder.

The quarterly tea meeting of the W. F. M. S. of the M. E. church will be held in the church parlors on Tuesday afternoon, June 5. The business session will be held from 3 to 5 o'clock, after which supper will be served until all are served.

A bill for divorce has been filed in circuit court here by Nellie Kellogg against William Kellogg on the grounds of non support. The principals are Holland people. Kellogg was formerly manager of the Bell telephone exchange here.

Walter H. Clark of Robinson township, will, it is said, cease to be a candidate for county clerk and will become a candidate for treasurer to fill the vacancy which will soon be caused by the resignation of Treasurer Van Loo.

A new school house will be built in the Beechwood district on the north side. William E. VanDyke, H. Kardux and P. P. Oosting have been appointed as committee to get plans and estimates for the new building and report at a meeting to be held next Monday evening.

The Macatawa Bay yachts Nora, Capt. Irwin; Colleen, Capt. Baxter; Hobo, Capt. Hompe; Snipe, Hompe & Irwin; Dolma, Hompe & Irwin, Alvir, Capt. Miller, will race from Spring Lake here today if the wind is strong enough to enable the yachts to make the distance, inside of the time limit.

C. Hoffman has a hen which is able to produce two eggs at a time. The other day two eggs joined together were found by Mr. Hoffman, the larger egg being almost the size of a double yolk egg, the egg attached to it being a trifle under the ordinary size. Both eggs were without shells.

There recently appeared in a dispatch to the Grand Rapids Herald from Muskegon a little dig that is resented by both the officers and the liquor dealers of this city, to the effect that Muskegon is a dry Sunday town and that the "steadies" have to come to Grand Haven to get their "hops" now on that day. —Grand Haven Tribune.

Miss Allie Kuite while on her way home last Monday night about 10:30 o'clock was attacked by a man who overtook her on Tenth street near the brewery and attempted to choke her. She fought him away and screamed for help, and finally her assailant, fearing that assistance might come, ran into an alley and disappeared; but before leaving he struck Miss Kuite a hard blow. She ran across the street to the home of John Borgman and told him of the attack, but the ruffian could not be found. The man was stoutly built and wore dark clothes and a Fedora hat.

Circus day will soon be here. It seldom comes but once a year; but James A. Brouwer's store on River street is here for business all the year round, Sundays and holidays excepted. The store is here with the goods, here with the prices, here with liberal and fair treatment. If you do not believe this give it a trial and you will find that the extensive line of furniture, carpets, rugs, draperies, etc., is offered at prices that means a saving of money to every purchaser.

Reception to Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Bergeon. In Hope church parlors last Tuesday evening a reception was given to welcome Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Bergeon home from their wedding trip to Dubuque, Iowa. Welcoming addresses were given by Dr. G. J. Kollen and Hon. G. J. Diekema, to which responses were made. A delightful feature of the evening was the singing of "Home, Sweet Home" by Mrs. Bergeon. Rev. Bergeon's congregation presented them with a purse of $150, and another gift was given by the faculty of Hope College.

Dr. Bergeon has not yet decided whether he will accept the appointment to go to Wales during the summer and carry on evangelistic work.

Oratorical Contestants Afraid To Come To Holland.

The oratorical contest which was to be held in Winants Chapel next Friday evening to decide the championship between the Michigan State League oratorical association, and the Peninsula association has been declared off so far as holding it here is concerned and unless two of the contestants manifest a more sportsmanlike spirit it will never be held.

All arrangements had been made by the league, the association and the schools interested to hold it here, and Superintendent Bishop, as secretary of the association, was going along quietly making the local arrangements when news came that the contestants representing Pontiac and Fenton would not appear unless several conditions were complied with, one of the conditions being that the contest be not held in Holland but in some neutral city, Pontiac preferred. The other conditions bordered on the absurd and from this angle it appears like a thinly disguised case of backdown on the part of the Fenton and Pontiac representatives. The Ann Arbor contestant was game and sent in his oration for judging. Robinson of Holland was ready and anxious for the fray as he wished to get another rap at the Fenton man at any old place, but the other two evidently became afflicted with a case of frigid pedal extremities.

And the end is not yet.

Filmore.

Mrs. Jacob Schaap, for many years a resident of Filmore township, was found dead in an out building last Monday. Dr. D. G. Cook was called at once and pronounced it a case of heart failure.

Mrs. Schaap was 85 years old and is survived by six children, Otto J. of East Holland; Jacob of Hamilton; Johannes of Hull, N. Dak.; Mrs. Albert Bloemers and Mrs. Derk Nies, of East Holland and Mrs. John D. Haan of Holland. The funeral will be held Friday at 1 o'clock from the house and 2 o'clock from the East Holland church, Rev. A. Keizer and Prof. J. M. Vander Meulen officiating.

Notice!

Those having bills against the Memorial Day committee are requested to present the bills to Jacob Lokker within 30 days. If not presented within 30 days bills will not be paid. By order committee.

To the average person wedding gifts come up but seldom for consideration. Graduation presents are in order every year. For this nothing is more appropriate than books or fountain pens. Of both these there is an abundant variety at Vander Ploeg's Book Store.

H. W. Hardie, the jeweler, who for several years has carried one of the best stocks of high grade China in the city, has decided to close it out and use the room now occupied by the China for his increasing optical business. He will make some alterations in the store and put in new fixtures. Read his ad on first page.

CLOTHES

JUST AS YOU WANT THEM

"Just as YOU want them" clothes is the kind I am making right along.

You select the cloth you like and tell me what you want, and you get it.

My "correct method" of measuring and cutting makes a misfit impossible.

In making up clothes, special care is given to strengthening parts that have the most wear, and the little things are not slighted either.

Let the women folks examine any garment of my making, they will tell you "that's well made."

Now sum up the clothes question — good cloth, well made into a splendid fitting garment, just as you want it, costing no more than store clothes; isn't that a combination worth trying?

I have convinced many. Will you let me prove my statements to you?

Notes of Sport.

Dopesters are saying that the victorious march of the Holland High school base ball club will be stopped next Saturday afternoon when the conquerors of Grand Haven meet the McLachlan Business University club in this city; the McLachlans will have to go some to do the trick as the High school boys are playing the game of their lives. The game will be played on the grounds corner of Nineteenth street and Central avenue at 2 p. m.

ZEELAND LOSES AGAIN—HOPE VICTOR IN 11-INNING GAME.

A most exciting and interesting game was played last Saturday when the Zeeland Cigarmakers for the second time were defeated by Hope College. Fast, clean baseball was played throughout. Hits and runs abounded, but the score was kept so nearly tied, that who the victors would be, was in doubt till the very end.

Both Rigaud and Hendricks pitched good ball—Rigaud having the best of it. He struck out 14 of the hard hitting Zeelanders and allowed fourteen hits; while Hendricks allowed 18 hits and struck out but 8 of Hope's men.

In the first inning, through the courtesy of Hope, Zeeland was given the field—Hope secured two earned runs on two hits, two stolen bases and fielders choices of outs. In their half, Zeeland gathered one. In the fourth, fifth and seventh one score was again added to Hope's number, while Zeeland gathered two in the third, seventh and eighth respectively. Then began the real fun of the game.

With the score 5 to 7 in favor of Zeeland and with the Zeelanders to bat last, the game seemed lost for Hope, especially when Bergen first up in the ninth struck out. Weurdling, however, started the fireworks with a clean hit over second; Roggen got his third hit of the day and Slagh was safe on an error by Schumeyer.

Roggen coming in on the error, Stegeman went out short to first. Then with two out Vruwink who had split his finger in a practice game was sent in, by acting captain Dykstra, to bat for Sizoo. After fanning the air twice he clouted out an excellent three bagger and came home on the poor throw to catch him at third. Dykstra hit for two bases, but Veenker went out third to first. Result, four scores; Hope two to the good. Hope could not hold Zeeland in their half however and four hits netted two runs, thus tying the score. Both sides went out one, two, three, in the tenth.

In the 11th Roggen for Hope, got his fourth hit of the day and stole second. Slagh went out to Dykwell, Stegeman hit safely, Vruwink reached first on a wild throw to first by Schumeyer while Roggen and Stegeman came home. Vruwink was caught attempting to steal third and Dykstra went out second to first. Two scores to the good.

In their half Zeeland started out to win. Schumeyer went out to Dykstra, Hendricks hit for two bases, and came home on Dykwell's timely hit. Baert went out on a grounder to Veenker and Vruwink ended the game by a neat catch of a long fly from Van Dyke's bat. One score. Final score Hope 10, Zeeland 11.

Roggen played excellent ball, getting four safe hits and accepting eight chances without an error. Dykstra and Veenker made difficult stops and Weurdling made a fine catch. In fact everybody played excellent ball. Much praise is due Rigaud however, for with a sore arm he still pitched winning ball. After the seventh inning except for bunching hits in the ninth, Zeeland could do nothing with his "floaters."

Prof. Helmers umpired an excellent and very satisfactory game. He stands for gentlemanliness in sports and takes back talk from no one. Of course the losers must have something to lay the defeat to, but only a couple of them expressed any dissatisfaction.

Hope has cancelled the game with Allegan because Holland High plays McLachlans next Saturday. On June 9 Hope will meet the Grand Rapids High School for a second time and try to get revenge.

The Interurbans, Holland's new base ball team, met and vanquished the Grand Rapids High School team at Jensen Park yesterday. The score was 3 to 2 in favor of the Interurbans. It was a tie until the last inning when the Holland boys rallied and batted out a victory.

IDIOMS OF THE MOUNTAINEERS.

Very Old English Used in Parts of West Virginia.

Last summer some persons from the North were spending a month in the mountains of West Virginia in a log cabin on the mountainside. One morning, as they sat on the porch admiring the views, a little mountain girl in short blue calico dress and bright gait sunbonnet bounced round the side of the cabin.

"Howdy!" she said. "Mammy wants to know if you-all don't want a poke of snapples this mornin'."

"A what?" the Northerners asked, in amazement.

"A poke of snapples," sissy repeated. Then, evidently overcome with shyness, she darted through the underbrush before the newcomers could decide whether or not they wanted a "poke of snapples."

The expression got into the systems of the visitors, until curiosity made one of them take her way to the little farmhouse.

"I will take a poke of snapples, please," she said, fearing all the while the mountain woman would laugh in her face or think her an escaped lunatic.

But very gravely, the woman disappeared, and soon returned, handing the caller a bag of string beans. The beans, which snap in the fingers are called "snapples" by the mountaineers; and "poke," which is a good old word for bag that has survived from the Shakespearean English of the early English settlers.—Youth's Companions.
