Twenty dollars is the price paid for hay net ton in Holland today.

F. O. Pratt is building a house for George Souter on West Twentieth street, in McBride's addition.

The new dog tags are here and all who have canines must get a new license before June 3. Now look out for the dog catcher.

John Pessink is having extensive repairs made to his residence on West Twelfth street. A large new porch has been built making the home very attractive.

Prof. J. E. Kuizenga, Dr. G. H. Dubbink and Rev. John M. Vander Meulen of this city will have charge of the installation service at the Second Reformed church at Muskegon June 6, when Rev. John Van Zomeren takes up the pastorate.

Citizens of Holland have raised a sum to provide for a fourth of July celebration. So probably there will be no celebration at Saugatuck this year as it seems to be the sentiment we should hold off and give Holland a show—Saugatuck Commercial-Record.

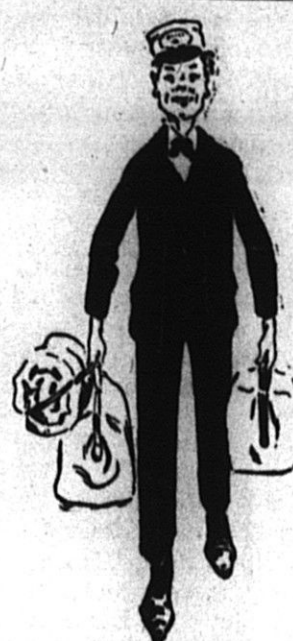

The Rev. J. Van Peursem of Coopersville was extended the unanimous call to the Immanuel Reformed church of Grand Rapids at a meeting held last evening. Rev. Mr. Van Peursem graduated from Hope college three years ago. He will decide in a few weeks.

D. H. McCarthy, former owner of the Vaudette theatre here, has settled in full the claim held against him by the city for license and light service. Mr. McCarthy explained that he had no intention of trying to escape the payment of the bill, but had simply been forced by the press of business to neglect it.

Ferry service between Macatawa Park, Jenison and Ottawa Beach will be inaugurated by the Macatawa association May 30. The ferry boat Skidoo will be the first boat out, and Captain Frank Van Ry will have her in charge. After that date regular ferry service will be continued, and the other boats will be operated as soon as the resort season is in full swing.

Mrs. C. DeKoster, mother of Jacob and James DeKoster of this city passed away Monday night at her home in Zeeland, aged 78 years. She had been ill but a few days, advancing age causing her death. Deceased is survived by six children, the two sons in this city, Cornelius of Noodloos, Johanna, Elizabeth and John of Zeeland. The funeral will be held this afternoon at two o'clock from the First Christian Reformed church in Zeeland. Mrs. DeKoster came from the Netherlands in 1855, and has always lived at Zeeland.

FOURTH.

Tuesday was the opening of the bass season.

Miss Ida DeWeerd, student of the State Normal College, has accepted a position for next year, as teacher in the Public schools at Fremont, Mich.

J. H. Den Herder has made a noticeable improvement by placing a new plate front in his meat market on River street.

Last Sunday Dr. F. H. De Vaux and Col. O. Robinson of Chicago caught a 19-pound muskallonge in the river just above the Grand Haven bridge.

Last Saturday the Hope college team beat the St. Alphonsus team of Grand Rapids by a score of 6 to 5. Rigaud pitched for Hope. The game was one of the best of the season so far.

George Clifford was taken to Detroit by Officer Meeuwse last Friday. The fellow at first objected to sentence of 65 days at Detroit, and said he would appeal, but the fact that a more serious charge could be made against him undoubtedly caused him to take the Detroit sentence.

F. W. Jackson of the West Michigan Auto company, has leased half of the building on West Eighth street formerly owned by the Holland Veneering company and purchased of them by William Brusse. In a short time Mr. Jackson will move his automobile supply and repair shop to the new location. A new glass front is being placed in the building, making a marked improvement.

The city clerk's salary has been reduced from $1,150 to $700 due to the provision of the provisions of the new city charter. The new charter provides for a special book keeper, who looks after the municipal light and water entries, thus materially reducing the work of city clerk. He now has little work beyond the keeping of the common council proceedings. Mr. Van Eyke has been elected to the additional office of clerk of the board of public work which lands him an additional salary of $600 per annum.

Murray Fuller, mail carrier on route No. 1 out of Grand Haven met with what might have been a serious accident on his trip Wednesday. Mr. Fuller has a long route and has been in the habit of stopping at Mr. Walter's place in Robinson township to feed his horse and rest. On this day there was another horse in the barn from one of the local livery stables and as Mr. Fuller was arranging a blanket on it the horse kicked with both feet striking him in the neck and knocking him against the side of the barn. He was unconscious for some time but soon recovered and was able to return to this city and did not suffer any permanent injury.

Remember FOR JEW-LIE in Holland boys.

The Citizens' band has been invited to play at Allendale June 23 on the occasion of the dedication of the cannon Senator Smith secured for the village. A big celebration is being arranged.

On Sunday, May 26, Rev. J. M. Vander Meulen will deliver the Memorial Day Sermon to A. C. Van Raalte Post G. A. R. in Hope church. The Post and Woman's Relief Corps will attend in a body, and the public is invited.

The Memorial Day exercises in Holland will be made as impressive this year as time and pains can make them. The committee has been fortunate enough to secure the Hon. W. W. Wedemeyer of Ann Arbor to be the orator of the day. Mr. Wedemeyer has addressed a Holland audience before and needs no introduction. He is a magnetic speaker and a favorite with the public.

The board of review will meet next Monday in the common council rooms, and will continue in session at least four days and longer if necessary. The sessions will open at 9 o'clock and will last six hours each day. At this time any taxpayer may examine his assessment and make objection if he sees fit. The board is composed of Mayor VanPutten, City Attorney McBride, N. Prakken and Supervisors VanDuren and VanArnooy.

Frederick Joldersma, who returned Saturday morning from Denver, where he went two months ago in the hope of improving his health, died Sunday morning of tuberculosis. He was 20 years of age and is survived by his mother and two brothers, Henry of Denver and Alfred of this city. The funeral was held Tuesday at 2 o'clock from the First Reformed church, Rev. H. J. Veldman officiating.

Rev. A. T. Luther of the M. E. church attended the session of the M. E. Ministerial Association held in Grand Rapids Tuesday and Wednesday. On Wednesday morning he was one of the speakers on the subject "Church Federation, Its Progress and Prospects." Among other subjects discussed were "Religious Education and the Negro," "The Present Status and Outlook of the Temperance Reform," "God's Missionary Plan for the World."

Last Sunday a launch named Sea Gull came into too close contact with the piles under the River street bridge. The result was a broken shaft in the engine. Many protests have been made by launch owners to have the piles removed but nothing has yet been done. Black river beyond the bridge is one of the prettiest places that can be imagined and if it were made navigable it might become one of the beauty spots of Holland. It seems though as if it up to the launch owners to remove them.

After June 30 no special delivery postage stamps will be needed to insure the immediate delivery of a letter. Pursuant to an act of the last session of congress, Postmaster General Meyer has issued an order that on and after July 1 next, if there is attached to any letter or package or mail matter ten cents worth of stamps of any denomination, with the words "Special delivery" written or printed on the envelope or covering, in addition to the postage required for ordinary delivery, the article will be handled as though it bore a special delivery stamp.

Dick Velderman of Zeeland received an ugly wound last Thursday while working in the Wolverine Specialty factory. Just how the accident happened is not known, but evidently it was the result of carelessness while handling a circular saw, he worked the lever in the wrong direction and received a cut directly over the stomach about four inches in length. It seemed an ugly wound and the men who took him to Dr. Masselink's office did not expect him to live. However the saw did not penetrate the stomach and unless complications come in he is expected to recover.

Steamboat inspectors have notified managers of passenger boats that fire drills must be held once a week, and that each man of the crew must be taught his place and duty in times of fire. A new ruling is that a general fire alarm signal shall be a continuous rapid ringing of the ships bell for a period of not less than twenty seconds and that signal shall not be used for any other purpose.

The annual report of the life saving service contains a list of all persons to whom life saving medals have been awarded by the Secretary of the Treasury under the authority of Congress. In the list appears mention of the gold medal awarded Capt. Frederick Kendrick on May 12 1897 for the rescue of a member of persons from the rigging of the sunken grain barge J. H. Ruttes at Ludington in the face of a raging storm on Nov. 1 1878. Also mention of a silver medal to Capt. David Miller, of the schooner Driver and gold medals to Daniel F. Miller, mate, and Patrick H. Daly, seaman of the Driver, on June 2, 1885 for the rescue of twelve persons, the survivors of the crew of the steamer H. C. Akeley, which foundered on Lake Michigan during the gale of Nov. 13, 1883. The mate and seaman of the Driver rendered special meritorious service on this occasion, the report says.

CORRESPONDENCE

West Olive.

Mrs. Joseph P. Ledlie of Pittsburgh, Pa., is visiting her mother, Mrs. E. D. McNeil.

Mr. William B. Own of Chicago was called to West Olive Monday by the serious illness of his little son, who with his mother is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Roberts.

Mr. Charles Binns was in Holland Tuesday.

Mr. F. A. Vohner is progressing finely with his new residence.

Our efficient and prompt mail carrier on route No. 1, Mr. Clifton Binns was agreeably surprised upon arriving home last Saturday to find a little daughter had arrived, weight five and a half pounds.

The winter term of school closes here with exercises Wednesday evening.

Deputy Arie Zanting served an injunction on the highway Commissioner of Olive township and also on Henry Krey. The trouble originated in this way, Henry K. Troost had put in a culvert in the road adjoining his property, his property is opposite Krey's property. Krey claimed to the Highway commissioner that this drain made the water run into his land and both set out to break up the culvert which they did several times but each time it was replaced by Troost. At last when matters became to rough an injunction was made out restraining the highway commissioner and Krey from doing any more damage. The case will come up at the next term of circuit court where the neighborhood quarrel will be aired. Sooy and Heck are attorneys for Troost.

New Holland.

The Crisp creamery recently paid a ten per cent dividend to its stockholders.

Ten pupils of New Holland graded school took the eighth grade examination for a county diploma, at Zeeland last Friday and Saturday. The class lost one of its members in the death of Miss Carrie Kraai, who passed away Wednesday, May 1st, death resulting from typhoid pneumonia.

Mr. Benj. Huizinga and son Frank, of Holland, have contracted to build a new residence for Mr. Geo. Brown. They are already engaged in erecting the structure.

Farmers are preparing ground for the sowing of beets. Those who possess sandy soil have sowed already.

Mr. Frank Kraai who had a new barn erected this spring, has had it painted and the structure now presents a pleasing appearance.

East Saugatuck

Evart Sprick, aged 82 years, died Wednesday at his home in Holland. He is survived by a wife, three sons and three daughters. The family moved three years ago from East Saugatuck where they resided forty years. The funeral was held Saturday at 12 o'clock from the home and at one o'clock from the Ninth St. church, Rev. A. Keizer officiating.

Mr. H. Volkers who bought John Zwemer's farm is already making improvements on the place.

Mr. A. Sprick, who is well known in this vicinity died at Holland Tuesday night at the age of 84 years.

Miss Tinnie DeBoer came home Wednesday on a short visit.

Mrs. P. Dalman visited her parents Friday and Saturday.

While pulling cherry stumps one of J. Dykman's horses became frightened by a root hitting him, and broke loose running through a barbed wire fence and down the road a half mile, when he was stopped by G. Brink. No damage was done except to the harness and fence.

Henry Bekken is working for Jas. F. Davis in Saugatuck.

The exercises the last day of school in Dist. No. 4 Laketown, were very well attended, the meeting was opened and closed by a prayer by Mr. C. Bolles and the schoolhouse was crowded with visitors.

Mr. J. H. Brunink has improved the looks of his house with a coat of paint.

Drenthe.

Hay is a very scarce article in this part of the country and selling at $18 per ton.

The Drenthe baseball team defeated Vriesland Saturday to the tune of 16 to 9. Pitcher Boone of the locals did very effective work.

Gerrit Boerman and Peter De Witt are painting the creamery inside, greatly improving the appearance.

Six of the eight grade pupils of the Drenthe School attended the examination held at Zeeland last Thursday and Friday. Over one hundred pupils from the different schools in South Ottawa were in attendance.

Saugatuck.

Highway Commissioner, Lackie, has just closed a contract with the Grand Rapids Bridge Co., to build a steel and concrete bridge at the Inman Gulley. Mr. Lackie is planning improvements on the road between the two bridges between Saugatuck and Douglas. He will put 148 spiles along the west side of the road four feet apart to protect the drive from the waves which have done much damage to it the past few years.

D. F. Ludwig has closed a sale of 205 acres of land in Heath to C. Jenkins of Sioux City, Iowa.

The submerged river bottoms above Mew Richmond are reported to be literally alive with German carp. Many of them are of prodigious size and farmers secure all they want by spearing them with hay forks.

Mr. Willis Hampton of Douglas will start a restaurant in his house which is conveniently located near the center of town so it will be accessible to all. He has a good large room for a dining room the interior of which he is now preparing for his new business. We wish Mr. Hampton success in his new undertaking.

One of the oddities of our postal system is illustrated in the application of the parcel post system now in effect. A parcel of merchandise weighing four pounds would require sixty-four cents in postage if sent to Douglas or Holland; but the same parcel could be sent to Japan or any other Asiatic or European country for forty-four cents.

Any skin itching is a temper-tester. The more you scratch the worse it itches. Doan's Ointment cures piles, eczema—any skin itching. At all drug stores.

Ground has been broken for the new school building. The contractor is a Holland man.

Mrs. R. Siple has received a letter from a party in Chicago asking for the rent of her vacant store building to be used as a tailoring and dyeing establishment. The new comer will occupy the building in a short time.

The Reason

Why R. M. DePree & Co. Continue to Recommend Vinol

First: Because it is not a patent medicine and it contains besides tonic iron all of the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' liver, but without a drop of oil to nauseate and upset the stomach and retard its work; therefore, wherever old-fashioned cod liver oil or emulsion will do good, Vinol will do far more good.

Second: Vinol acts first upon the stomach, creates a healthy appetite, strengthens and tones up the digestive organs, purifies and enriches the blood, and, in a natural manner restores health and strength.

Third: Because Vinol contains no injurious drugs to react upon the system; every ingredient being named on the label, a patient knows exactly what he is taking.

Fourth: Because we never sold anything in our store that gave such universal satisfaction for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and to build up the system after a severe sickness, and for relieving hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles.

Try Vinol on our guarantee, R. M. DePree & Co. Druggists.

Note.—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Holland, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

Dyspepsia is our national ailment. Burdock Blood Bitters is the national cure for it. It strengthens stomach membranes, promotes flow of digestive juices, purifies the blood, builds you up.

It Takes Nerve

Everything depends upon your nerves. It is nerve force that causes the brain to direct the motion of your body; it is nerve force that causes your heart to pulsate, and send the blood through your veins; it is nerve force that causes your stomach to digest food, your kidneys to filter the blood, and the liver to secrete bile.

In fact, nerve force is the power that runs your body, so if you feel worn-out, irritable, nervous, cannot sleep, or eat well, have pain or misery anywhere, your nerves are weak, and your system run-down. To restore this vitality, take Dr. Miles' Nerve which will strengthen and build up the nerves. You cannot be healthy without strong nerves.

"For eighteen years Dr. Miles' Nerve and Anti-Pain Pills have been my close companions. Early in married life, while raising children, my nerves became all worn-out—could not sleep; had no appetite; indigestion very bad, and had such awful dizzy spells. Then I began using Dr. Miles' Nerve, and at once I began to improve, and soon found myself in perfect health."

SCHMITZ STILL IN, BUT POWER IS GONE

MAYOR GIVES WRITTEN AGREEMENT TO CARRY OUT REQUESTS OF ADVISERS.

President Calhoun of Traction Company Asserts Ruef Lied About Franchise Bribery—Delay in Trial of Mayor.

San Francisco, May 20.—Notwithstanding many contradictory stories told about the scope and power of the committee of seven, it is now generally conceded that the administration of municipal affairs in this city is to some extent at least in its hands. In a written agreement Mayor Schmitz has bound himself, it is said, to carry out any request which this committee, made up of representatives of the five leading commercial organizations of the city, may make of him.

Already the committee has begun an investigation into the conduct of the police department and will gradually extend the scope of its actions to the works board, street department and other branches of the municipal government.

Its purpose it to make a thorough inquiry into the conditions that exist in various branches of the city government and to make such changes in personnel and methods as shall be judged necessary.

Promise by Mayor Sweeping.

"We hold Mayor Schmitz" written promise to carry out the wishes and instructions of the committee in administering the affairs of the city," said F. W. Van Sicken, a member of the committee of seven, Friday. "The committee's agreement with Mayor Schmitz, in short, embracing barely ten lines of writing, contains his sweeping promise to act absolutely and completely as the committee may direct. Mayor Schmitz has not resigned. All reports to the contrary are erroneous. The only writing between him and the committee is this ten-line agreement."

"If we demand the removal of the chief of police, of any commission or any official connected with the city government he must remove those whom we designate or go back on his written promise. The only hold we have on him is his promise. If he disregards that we can do nothing, but I believe he will do anything the committee asks. I believe that he is not only willing but anxious to do what we want."

Mayor Schmitz denied the statement of Ruef before the grand jury that he (the mayor) got $50,000 bribe for the street-car deal.

Calhoun Says Ruef Lied.

Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railways, in a statement declares that Abe Ruef lied if he told the grand jury that the United Railways distributed $200,000 in bribes to secure a new franchise. Mr. Calhoun further declares that the whole bribery investigation is a part of a conspiracy in the interest of the men who organized a rival street-railway system more than a year ago. He names the men who are interested in the rival company.

Delay in Schmitz Trial.

San Francisco, May 21.—Mayor Eugene Schmitz appeared for trial Monday in Judge Dunne's court on five grand jury charges of extortion from local keepers of French restaurants. By request of the prosecution the hearing was delayed for one day in order that the counter affidavits may be prepared against Schmitz's motion for a change of trial judge.

Assistant District Attorney Heney created a surprise by announcing that the state has no present intention of asking the court to take the mayor into custody pending his trial. Schmitz is at liberty under bonds aggregating $50,000.

District Attorney Langdon was asked whether the statement by Mr. Heney that the prosecution "had no present intention of asking the court to order Mayor Schmitz into custody" indicated that such a request will be made later. He replied: "Stranger things have happened."

JUDGE ENJOINS PICKETING.

Sweeping Decision Against Unions Rendered at Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, May 21.—A sweeping decision against union picketing was rendered Monday by Judge A. L. Sanborn of the United States district court in the case of the Allis-Chalmers company against the striking union molders. The strike began about a year ago and last fall Judge Quarles issued a temporary injunction restraining the unions from interfering with nonunion workmen and with the business of the company. Later Judge Sanborn convicted several union men for contempt in violating the injunction, and suspended sentence as to the greater number of them, 20 or more. Now he makes the injunction permanent and so sweeping in its provisions that concerted picketing will be practically impossible.

Starts Suit Against Oil Trust.

St. Paul, Minn., May 21.—J. C. Bartles, president of the Bartles Oil company, of St. Paul, and two merchants said to be from Stillwater and St. James respectively, Monday took steps preliminary to formal proceedings against the Standard Oil company on charges of violating the law passed by the last legislature prohibiting discrimination in the price of oil sold in the state.

SATISFIED WHERE HE WAS.

Why Buyer's Desire for Good Measure Suddenly Evaporated.

The following anecdote is told of a most careful and sedate druggist in Keene, N. H.—a gentleman of the old school, who for 50 years occupied the same corner, and who, in all his dealings medicinal, is a very scrupulous man.

Not long since a person of not particularly liberal practices, and withal a close man, came to the good samaritan with a recipe that he wished put up, and the man of drugs proceeded at once to attend to it.

While engaged in weighing out the compound, the customer, with a smile intended to be "childlike and bland," said to him:

"Now, Doc, be sure and give me good measure."

The druggist paused, holding the scales at rest while he looked over his spectacles at the man before him.

"Sir," he replied solemnly, "if I were to give you the merest grain more than this recipe calls for, you would be in hell in five minutes."

The buyer didn't persist.

BOUND TO GO THROUGH GATE.

Colored Man Had One Very Well Defined Idea in His Mind.

Some twenty-five years ago one of the village characters of Stockbridge, Mass., was an old dandy named Horace Bird.

Coming home one evening, considerably fuddled, to his tumble-down "shack" which stood on the outskirts of the village, and was surrounded by a board fence, he found the latch of the gate broken, making it a matter of considerable difficulty to open the gate from the outside.

His wife, a buxom person upon whom he largely depended for support, related his subsequent proceedings to me when she brought our washing next day. Said she:

"Dat fool nigger he fumble de latch fo' mo'n ten minutes. Den he heave a big sigh an' start a-climbin' de fence, an' I gits 'de rollin' pin handy. He gits ober de fence at las' and bang de gate wide open from de inside. Den wha's dat crazy nigger do but climb back ober de fence an' walk in troo de gate jes' like a major gin'ral."

Civilization Doubled.

A Rock Island engineer at Herington was talking about the duplicity of farmers who bring claims against railroad companies for the killing of blooded stock when, as a matter of fact, the animals were walking scarecrows. "About four years ago," said the engineer, "before the Rock Island bought the Choctaw, I was on an engine on the Choctaw Northern run above Geary. Gray daylight was just coming on, so as one could see pretty well ahead, and I noticed two horses on the track. They didn't appear to mind the whistle or the bell and I slowly drew up to them and stopped. The horses, two poor, old, worn-out plugs, were still standing across the road, and on climbing down off the engine to drive them away I found that the hoofs of their forefeet were spiked down to the planks at the road crossing the track. How's that for a civilized country?"—Kansas City Times.

Source of Discontent.

There is a law that runs through all things, which finds its cruellest force in money. The more a man has the less he thinks he has. All that God promises is all that we need, not all that we desire. Our desires are infinite—they are made for God, and what is great enough for Him is too great for anything less. We are always trying to make ourselves little enough for the world to fill us, and we cannot. This is the source of our divine discontent. We perish with hunger so long as we seek to fill ourselves with the husks the swine do eat. It is only in the Father's house that there is bread enough and to spare, and the heart will never be merry with the abiding merriment until we arise and go to the Father.—Mark Guy Pearse.

Had No Bargains on Hand.

Mr. Simons did not rise from his chair behind the air-tight stove in the sitting room when his wife hurried in and told him that Abel Sanders was in the kitchen and wanted to see him, says the Youth's Companion.

"What'd you let him in for?" he asked reproachfully.

"He wants to buy a hee, that's why," replied Mrs. Simons. "You'd have made a great to-do if I hadn't."

"No, I wouldn't," Mr. Simons said, as he reluctantly rose. "I know Sanders' size. I can't do business with him. He wants a cheap hee. And I ain't got anything I can sell for less than $14."

Merely an Outward Sign.

Miss Fluff—The other day at the show I saw a woman carry a man around on her head.

Miss Vassar—That, my dear, was merely the physical expression in acrobatics of a common psychological experience of the sex.

Miss Fluff—Dear me! What do you mean?

Miss Vassar—That nine women out of every ten have a man on their minds.

Quite Satisfactory.

Old Gotrox—So you want to marry my daughter, eh?

Young Man—Yes, sir.

Old Gotrox—Well, I'm going to be candid with you. My daughter will not get a dollar of my money while I live.

Young Man—Oh, that's all right. I had a talk with your physician the other day and he told me you wouldn't live a year.

Are Party Lines Not Drawn?

The appointment of Fred Kammerbeek as chief of police simply again indicates that the distribution of public patronage is all one sided as far as the democrats are concerned. Before election the city is "no party lines," but afterward it is a different proposition. Although it has been known for some weeks who the chief would be judging from the members of the board nevertheless from the hard work one of our best and ablest republican citizens had in getting on this board, alone goes to show that party lines are drawn most strenuously. It was not because it was Mr. Visscher, the same fight would have been on any other republican who's name might have been mentioned in this connection.

Summing up the whole thing in a nut shell the matter simmers down to this. The democrats hold the salaried offices while the republicans must be content with the honorary ones.

Harry Doesburg has been appointed to a lucrative position on the park board. Harry can suck honey from the honey suckle now, but give us the "long green" for ours.

Wanted six patrolmen. No republicans need apply.

We have not as yet found out the politics of Pound Master Verwey, but that makes little difference as he has gone to the dogs anyway.

The Republicans get the majorities,

But the Democrats get the salaries.

BURNED TO THE WATERS EDGE.

Five Men Lost Their Lives by the Burning of the Naomi.

The Crosby line steamer Naomi, one of the finest passenger boats on the Great Lakes, was burned to the water's edge in Lake Michigan, thirty miles off Grand Haven, Tuesday morning. Four members of the crew met a horrible death in the channel house down below. Their cries for help were heart-rending, but it was impossible to save them. One passenger was sacrificed.

The charred hulk of the Naomi was towed to within a few miles of the harbor by the big steel freighters, Kerr and Saxonia, and was then turned over to the Naomi's sister ship on the route, the Kansas, which towed the poor shapeless hull, and the bodies of unfortunates beneath into the harbor. It was a heart-rending sight and at least 3,000 people lined the wharves as the remains of the good old Naomi were brought up the river.

Standing out above everything else is the heroism and coolness displayed by Ernest Williams, Hanrahan and Steward Philip Rosbach of the Naomi. These men were everywhere. They helped awaken passengers, assisted many in putting on life belts and preservers, helped the women and children, even aided in getting out the small boats. They were heroes in the true sense of the term. Grand Haven men, both of them. This town can well be proud of these two brave officers of the lost ship. Every passenger rescued from the steamer Naomi has a word of praise and a tribute for the two gallant officers, Hanrahan and Rosbach. If ever two men acted the part of men they did in the early hours of Tuesday morning on the burning Naomi, where real men were sadly needed.

The flame-beaten remains of the once proud and noble Naomi reached her dock at 10:30 a. m. in tow of the Kansas. All the wood of her upper works charred and blackened stubs. Her immense smoke stack loomed up above her steel decks a lone and lofty sentinel above the blackened ruins that were still discharging here and there sullen rifts of smoke and steam, that seem to stubbornly resist the gallant rescue that had been made from the dreadful fire fiend.

The fire on the Naomi was discovered at about 1:15 Tuesday morning when the steamer was about in mid-lake 33 or 40 miles from Grand Haven. The sleeping people in the staterooms were startled from pleasant dreams by the sound of running feet and by loud and continued pounding on the cabin doors. There was an odor of smoke. Some panic-stricken passenger in one of the forward rooms was crying "Fire, Fire!" There was no pandemonium, but there seemed to be an awful hurry and bustle in the main cabin.

Cabin boys and officers were hurrying here and there, reassuring the passengers that there was no fear, that there was a fire but it had been subdued, and then in the same breath calmly ordering the amazed people to strap on life belts and prepare for the worst.

Imagine, if you can, the horror of the situation. Smoke was piling up through the decks and the main cabin was one dense mass of smoke. In a few short moments it was impossible to remain in the cabins and the people hurried to the open air. The coolness and rare presence of mind displayed by the passengers was a feature. The women were especially cool. They cared for the children, allayed their fears and acted the part of brave mothers in every instance.

Outside and up above the crew were busy lowering the life boats, sending up signals and aiding the precious lives in their care. There was little confusion. Outside the night was still calm but chilly. The waters of Lake Michigan were smooth. This fact alone prevented a terrible tragedy, as if there had been a heavy sea it is likely that not one of the many passengers and members of the crew would have lived to reach shore.

Four life boats were lowered into the lake. Into the first one went all the women that it was possible to muster up on deck. The last boat off contained fourteen men and three women.

The burning ship could be seen for miles and miles on the lake in the clear weather prevailing and passengers and crew, shortly after the first alarm, could see lights approaching. The Naomi in the meantime had been brought to and so placed that the wind would confine as much as possible the devouring flames to the forward part of the ship. But even this precaution upon the part of Captain Trill could not, of course, prevent the fire from creeping aft through the cabin, and while the work of rescue was going on the terrible fire was sweeping like a whirlwind through the light upper work of the once grand ship. The Naomi was doomed from the moment the fire was discovered and there was no hope of saving her. Only the passengers and the lives of the crew themselves was to be thought of.

The three specks of light far in the distance gradually crept closer. It seemed ages to the men of the crew and to the passengers, but as fast as steam could carry them these three steamers were hurrying to the assistance of the Naomi. The three ships proved to be the big steel freighters, Kerr and Saxonia, and the Naomi's sister line ship, the Kansas. The Kansas, being a wooden boat, was unable to draw up to the Naomi's side, but the commander of the Kerr put his ship's prow into the side of the burning Naomi on the side least swept by flames, and thus enabled the balance of the crew and passengers, including Captain Trill, to leave the burning decks of the Naomi.

The Naomi left her dock at 11 o'clock Monday night, bearing a light load of crated goods, a car load of beans, and among other things an automobile. She went out under a shining moon on the broad, calm waters of Lake Michigan, with every usual assurance of her wonted power and supremacy. When she so shortly returned all her spring gaiety was destroyed. The bright colors that covered her steel frame were ruthlessly wiped off, only the name "Naomi" remained upon her bow and stern, and beneath her blackened deck lay four of her gallant crew in the ghastly embrace of death.

One could hardly help contrasting the slow, silent and gravelly return of the disabled and humbled ship to her dock in the sustaining arms, so to speak, of her able rescuer, with the self-reliant, irresistible rapidity of her venture upon the promising voyage. Like a living thing, she seemed to gladly reach rest and safety in the harbor free from the awful perils through which she had passed with a fearful and sad experience. Once her lines were made fast and a grateful parting from the Kansas had taken place, the disfigured and blackened remains of the unfortunate dead were removed for interment.

After leaving the Naomi the captain and Chief Engineer Barney Hopkins remained on board the Kerr and stayed with her until the Kansas arrived. The Kansas took all the passengers and members of the crew. The Naomi rapidly burned. As morning dawned, after the cabin had dropped in, the Kerr and the Saxonia took the wreck of the Naomi in tow and brought her to within three miles of the harbor. The Kansas towed the Naomi into port and thousands of townspeople and many from outside were at the wharves when the Naomi and her ill-fated tow came up the river. The Kansas left the Naomi at her dock, all the time pouring streams of water upon her, and the fire department was also called to aid in extinguishing the blaze.

Four poor fellows in the crew and one passenger lost their lives in the horrible accident which befell the Naomi. J. M. Rhodes of Detroit, a traveling representative of the Diamond Match company, is the only passenger of the Naomi on board who was lost. Rhodes was terribly burned about the upper body and the arms. He was carried from the boat to the Grand Trunk and taken to a Grand Rapids hospital, where he died Tuesday forenoon. The four deck hands who lost their lives are of that nomadic class who have no homes, no relatives, and few friends. They associate and bunk with themselves. The names of only three are known, viz., R. Nesburg, Gordon, Minn., and an unknown middle-aged man. These men were frightfully burned and mutilated. The worst must have been horrible. One of the poor fellows had his head burned off.

The full complement of officers and men of the burned Naomi was as follows: Captain, Wm. Trill; first mate, Robert McKay; second mate, George Robertson; chief engineer, Barney Hopkins; assistant engineer, Sam Kimball; purser, William Hanrahan; steward, Philip Rosbach; wheelmen, Peter Boet, Frank Whelan; lookouts, Joe James, E. Challand; oilers, Henry Hoppe, Peter Duzinski; coal passers, Frank Reith, Con Collins; first waiter, J. Johnson; second waiter, Wm. Zeitz; first cook, A. C. Kelly; second cook, A. Anderson; head waiter, J. W. Cracroft; second waiter, Otto Ring; cabin boy, C. Ruthenberg; cabin maid, Anna Steiner, Carrie Miller; deck hand, J. Flynn. There were also five painters on board at work upon the ship, viz., W. Bogell, J. Brinen and Guy Jones of Muskegon, and J. R. LaSalle of Ottawa, Quebec.

Rhodes, the traveling man who met his death, was discovered with his clothes on fire by Purser Will Hanrahan. The purser at the time was in his last rounds over the burning ship to see that everybody was safe and was about to return to save his passenger list when he heard some one groaning on the deck above. He ascended the stairs hastily and discovered Rhodes lying in front of his cabin. His shirt was burning and he was unconscious. Rhodes was carried down below by the officer, where he recovered consciousness and was in terrible pain. He gave his name and stated that he wanted the Diamond Match company apprised of his misfortune. All that could be done for the unfortunate man was done, but he suffered so terribly that death must have come as a relief.

The four deck hands who were burned to death were caught in a terrible pen of fire. When the flames were discovered they were already shut off. Flynn, one of the crew, talked with one of these unfortunate fellows through a dead light. He gave Flynn his name and address and implored Flynn for aid, but the men caught in that trap were past all saving. Flynn advised the fellow to go below and get in the ballast tank, but they would have suffocated there undoubtedly and they remained in the forecabin to be burned to death. The deck of the Naomi gave her the appearance of a charnel house as she was towed up the river, with remains of human beings, frightfully burned and mutilated, laying about.

Nearly all the passengers and members of the crew lost their personal belongings, but all were glad to escape with their lives and made no complaint.

Henry Fritz of this city said he had been in his bunk but ten minutes when he heard the watchman giving the alarm of fire. He hastily got into his clothes and ran up on deck to report for duty. Three boats were in sight at the time, the Kerr, Saxonia and the Kansas. He assisted passengers in getting life belts on and assisted in carrying the burned passenger, Rhodes, down stairs.

John Whelan, wheelman, said: "I was on duty in pilot house when alarm was sounded. I told the lookout to notify the deck hands below. He wanted to call the crew first. I said never mind the crew; I will get them. I called the captain, The mate, Bob McKay, told me to put the wheel hard astarboard toward the nearest light to be seen on the lake. Nearest boat was then about ten miles away. The smoke was so dense I could not stand it, and I left pilot house to help lower the boats. I helped the second officer, Geo. Robertson. The first boat lowered contained the first wheelman, Peter Boet, and the second lookout, Joe Dysenski, and 14 passengers, mostly women and very excited. Then I helped second mate lower the second boat and went with that boat to the front of boat where we could hear plainly the fireman, Peter Dysenski, yelling in his room for help. He finally crawled through the front hole and we took him on our boat. We could hear the poor sailors who were caught in the forecabin and told them to go down to the water ballast tank where they could get in and close the doors."

John Ragan of Bemidji, Minn., a former resident of Grand Haven, was one of the passengers on the Naomi. He praises Officers Hanrahan and Rosbach and says that their conduct did much to allay the fears of the passengers.

A. Haviland of Bundy, Wis., says that he was awakened by the smoke. There was another man in his room and Bundy awakened him. He, too, praises the officers highly for their conduct in looking after the passengers.

There was one amusing experience in the terrible catastrophe. C. A. Burns of Cleveland, O., was a passenger on the steamer Kansas bound for Grand Haven, and he did not know a thing about the fire in midlake or the rescue in which his ship participated until the Kansas landed at her dock Tuesday morning.

Among the passengers on the ill-fated Naomi were Dr. Hake and three other couples, all of whom were bound for Milwaukee to attend the wedding of Dr. Hake's brother. The wedding was held Wednesday and proceeded without this wedding party.

James Hewitt of Grand Rapids was sitting on the stern of the boat smoking when learned of the fire. In a very short time all was confusion. I never expected to get off alive. I noticed one boat come towards us when we thought we were safe the boat turned and left us. I do not know the name of the boat. I helped to quiet the women. Officers did splendid work fighting fire. I saw two small boats take fire before they could launch them. I do not believe we had small boats enough to save the passengers if the large boats had not come to our aid. The Kerr was the first boat to reach us and a little later the Saxonia.

Albert Wauke of Sheboygan, Wis., was on his way from Grand Rapids to Milwaukee. He says if it had not been for the Kerr many more would have been lost.

H. W. Lebbins of Watertown, N. Y., with his wife and daughter were on the way to Wisconsin with their fine touring car for a pleasure trip. "We heard no one call us but my daughter was awakened by the noise outside and she called me. At that time smoke was coming through the transoms of our state rooms. We took life preservers and what few things we could take in our hands and got out. Forward part of boat was on fire. There was no confusion. It was the most orderly crowd, under the circumstances, I ever saw. The purser and steward were the coolest officers I ever saw. They went among the people assisting the passengers to put on the life belts and quieting the ladies and children, telling them there was no danger for boats were coming to their aid."

"Discipline on boat was poor as regards handling of life boats and rafts. I left on last boat, my wife and daughter had gone before. Not a man in the boat I was on was capable of handling an ore. It might have been the best men had gone out with the other boats. The Kansas picked us up."

While the Naomi was in midlake and the crew were battling for their lives and the lives of their passengers, two steamers other than the Saxonia, Kerr and Kansas, already mentioned, appeared upon the scene. These boats ran to within a few hundred yards of the Naomi. One of them ran so close that an officer of the Naomi called out that assistance was wanted. But the strange steamer turned about again and stood off at a safe distance from the flame without making the least effort to render any assistance. These two steamers were unknown but their officers certainly showed cowardice in not rendering the least assistance.

Tuesday afternoon the bodies of the burned deckhands were taken from the Naomi by Undertaker Thomas Kiel and prepared for burial. Two of these men were terribly burned and mutilated but the others were recognizable. The true names of some of these men will probably never be known. Two of these bodies were found below in the forecabin. These two had suffocated. Two of their comrades had climbed through the fire to the deck and these men were burned to death.

Coroner Walkley of Grand Haven is in charge of the bodies of the four unfortunates.

Coroner Walkley believes that he has the names of the lost deckhands. He learned that the first man prepared for burial was a fellow known among his shipmates as "Muskegon Dutch." This fellow's correct name is Richard Nesberg. He has several sisters in Muskegon. One of the dead men is undoubtedly a fellow who went by the name of Jackson. This man has a wife and several children in London. The other deckhands were S. Gordon and C. Minor. Their homes are unknown.

President E. G. Crosby heard the terrible news of the misfortune by telegraph from Grand Haven. He wired that he would be here by rail as soon as possible.

Henry N. Brown of Milwaukee, Sec'y of Wm. C. Kreul Co., agents for the Oliver Typewriter Co. for Wisconsin said: "I was awakened by some one knocking on the door telling me to get on life belt and get out. I put clothes on over my night shirt put on life belt and got out. Walked to the head of the stairs and a man passed me with clothes on fire and jumped downstairs. I did not see him again until the officer brought him up the rear hatch. His clothes were burned off except pants and shoes. He was suffering terribly. Fire was all in front at the time. I lost all my hand baggage for I could not get back to state room after we got out. People were coming from everywhere but all was order. Two men and one woman were all that I saw excited. Some were praying and one fellow kept saying: 'Oh! Lord have mercy on me.' I was one of the last to leave the boat. I saw three boats and two rafts launched. Women were the first to leave. While we were pulling away from the boat I could hear the imprisoned men calling for help. Saw one small boat go to front part of burning boat and speak to man through small port hole. Boat at that time was all in flames. Captain was last to leave boat."

An examination into the cause of the disaster will be made at once by local inspectors Pardee and Eckliff and an effort made to fix the cause and blame if any. The scenes around the dock when the Kansas arrived bordered on the ridiculous. Men and women passengers walking around the streets but partially dressed, one shoe on and one off, and other articles missing, were common sights. Nearly every passenger lost part of their wearing apparel. The personal losses of members of the crew are heavy. Henry Fritz loses $40 and a gold watch. Will Hanrahan lost nearly all of his personal effects.

The Naomi was built in 1881 in Wyandotte, Mich. She was the Wisconsin when she first came out and as such was a sister ship of the ill fated Michigan. She was 203 feet long 35 feet wide and her tonnage was 1181. The Naomi was valued at $200,000 and was one of the finest boats on Lake Michigan.

The accident will ever be a mystery. The loss of the Naomi will be a severe blow to the Crosby line and the effect of the fire will hurt passenger traffic on this lake for some time, there is no doubt.

All that is left of the once proud Naomi lies at the wharf foot of Washington street. Hundreds of people have been down to see the wrecked, dismantled ship and in the crowd are many from outside the city, Muskegon and Grand Rapids and Holland, and among the outside visitors are several metropolitan newspaper men, who are here to get interviews with the officers and photographers of the wrecked ship.

A. H. Landwehr, sales manager for the Holland Furnace company, was among the passengers on the Naomi. He arrived home shortly after the catastrophe, having suffered no inconvenience or loss. He saved all his baggage. Mr. Landwehr says:

"I was among the passengers who were left on the Naomi after the four life boats were loaded. We fully expected to be driven to the extremity of jumping into the water. The boat's officers assisted us in adjusting life preservers and we were all prepared for the water."

"Many on board were injured but only one, Mr. Rhodes of Detroit, was seriously burned. He was removed to a hospital in Grand Rapids upon the arrival of the Kansas at Grand Haven."

"Considering the distress they were in, the excitement of the passengers was not unreasonable. The most excitement prevailed when the life boats were being lowered, the men fighting to take the place of the women and children."

"I don't believe it was more than 35 minutes after we had been aroused in state rooms before we were safely on the Kansas."

The crew of the Naomi includes Barney Hopkins, a former resident of Holland, who is chief engineer.

One of the most touching and pathetic incidents connected with the loss of the steamer Naomi, occurred while the steamer Kansas was putting into this port with the rescued crew and passengers of the burned boat. Dr. Hake, of Grand Rapids, in behalf of the passengers of the steamer Naomi had made a touching address thanking the crews of the Naomi and the Kansas for their noble and untiring efforts looking to the safety and comfort of the people on board. While the doctor was making this address J. H. Rhodes lay dying on a cot in the cabin of the Kansas. Frightfully burned about the arms and body, he still bore up bravely. After Dr. Hake had concluded Mr. Rhodes inquired if some one would offer prayer.

No one volunteering, J. M. Beatty, for years an officer on the Crosby line boats and acting purser of the steamer Kansas, offered a very touching prayer. He thanked God for having spared the lives of the passengers and prayed that Mr. Rhodes be restored to health and that his injuries be chastened. He prayed for the souls of the poor fellows, who had met a terrible death in the burning steamer.

Those who heard Mr. Beatty, say that his remarks were all applicable to the terrible occasion and that his remarks left scarcely a dry eye in the assemblage in the cabin of the Kansas.

VanderMeulen Will Lecture.

Tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock sharp in Carnegie hall will begin the entertainment that promises to be the most interesting of the season. Who has not often felt a desire to know more about spiritualism and those occult practices to which scientists like William James have given years of study? Prof. VanderMeulen has also given a great deal of study to the subject of spiritualism, and Friday night he proposes to deliver a lecture on "The New Discoveries in Mind." The title does not perhaps seem so attractive as it really is. But the lecture contains Mr. VanderMeulen's own observations on the interesting subject of spiritualism as well as his theories and conclusions in regard to it.

These rich kernels of thought will of course be served in the professor's most attractive manner. For those whose principle aim in attending it is an evening's diversion there will be abundant opportunity to satisfy their desires.

Besides Mr. VanderMeulen's lecture Wm. VanderHart will give an interpretive reading. A fine musical program has been arranged for, one of the numbers of which will be a violin selection by Miss Katherine Conlon of Grand Rapids. The entertainment is under the auspices of the Anchor association.

Following is the program in full: Piano Solo, Op. 54 Mazurka, R. Godard, Arthur Heusinkveld.

Violin solo, Adagio. Perpetual Motion. . . . . Ries.

Lecture, "New Discoveries in Mind." . . . . Prof. J. M. VanderMeulen.

Bass solo, "Bandolero" . . . . . Stuart. (The Bandolero is a captain of a Spanish band of robbers. He vauntingly begs pardon for robbing a stage coach.) Benjamin De Young.

Vocal solo, "The Old Green Isle" . . . . . Gordon Temple. Absent. . . . . Metcalf.

Mrs. G. J. Diekema. Interpretive reading, . . . . . W. Vander Hart. Piano solo, La Regatta Veneziana. . . . . Liszt.

Miss Ida Larkins. Vocal solo, "Printemps" . . . . . Leo Stern. Miss Katherine Pessink.

Annual Banquet.

For its annual banquet to be held June 4 or 11, the date not being definitely settled, the Woman's Literary club will go to Saugatuck, Mrs. W. H. Allen having offered the "Tourists' Home" there to the club for the occasion. At the club meeting yesterday the president, Mrs. Kollen made the announcement and there is general satisfaction expressed over the fact that Saugatuck is the place chosen for the closing meeting of the year.

An interesting program was given Mrs. A. VanDuren contributed two musical numbers, singing "Morning Greeting" and "Impatience" from the cantata "Maid of the Mill" by Schubert. She was her own accompanist, and the delightful music added to the pleasure those present received from the program.

Current events were given in response to roll call, followed by a sketch of "Joseph II, the Reformer," read by Mrs. George E. Kollen. In the conversation on the subject "Was the Partition of Poland Justifiable," Mrs. J. C. Post and Mrs. F. C. Hall took the lead, Mrs. Hall giving the facts which led up to the partition.

Mrs. Thurber's portrayal of "Fair Queen Louise of Prussia," was entertaining, as was Mrs. Yates' description of "San Souci," the home of Frederick the Great. The program closed with an able paper by Mrs. D. B. Yntema on "Germany from 1763 to the dissolution of the Holy Roman Empire."

Next week the annual reports will be given and the club will then have but one more meeting, the banquet, which closes the year.

Rewards Nurse

It is always pleasing to learn of cases where faithful service is rewarded and the will of the late Charles W. Moore of Douglas furnishes another instance. When he went to Ann Arbor for treatment for cancer, his nurse was Mrs. Grace A. Gillis and when he left there for New York she was induced to accompany him and even up to the time of his death in Saugatuck she remained his faithful attendant, sharing with his cousin, Mrs. S. M. Kirby of Douglas, in the care of the afflicted young man. During the last four weeks she never left him night nor day. When Mr. Moore's will was read it was found that he had left his nurse one fourth of his estate—the same share that he left Mrs. Kirby and his half-brother and half-sister. The nurse will thus receive about $125,000. Mrs. Gillis is a widow lady with three children under twelve years of age living at Ann Arbor. Her husband died a few years ago at Washington, D. C. of typhoid fever, soon after receiving a government position.—Fennville Herald.

Last year a number of walks were laid out and evergreen and shade trees planted.

THE SMITH REPORT PLAYS OIL COMBINE

METHODS OF THE STANDARD
COMPANY GIVEN TO PUBLIC
BY COMMISSIONER.

Tells of Discrimination—These and
Other "Unlawful Devices" Said to
Be the Basis of the Petroleum
Monopoly in This Country.

Washington, May 20.—That the history and present operation of the Standard Oil interests "shows throughout the past 35 years a substantial monopolization of the petroleum industry of the country, a deliberate destruction of competition and a consequent control of that industry by less than a dozen men, who have reaped enormous profits therefrom," largely through abuse of transportation facilities, is charged in a report just submitted to President Roosevelt by Commissioner of Corporations Herbert Knox Smith.

The report contains the net results of a study of the petroleum business during the year 1904.

It is the first official statement of the operations and methods of the Standard Oil company, by which, the report states, through "scandalous railway discriminations," and other unlawful devices, they have secured and maintained an "exclusive domination of the petroleum industry."

It is stated that in 1904 the Standard and affiliated concerns refined over 84 per cent. of the crude oil run through refineries; produced more than 86 per cent. of the country's total output of illuminating oil; and transported through pipe lines nearly nine-tenths of the crude oil of the older fields and 98 per cent. of the crude oil of the mid-continent field.

The report points out the monopoly enjoyed by the company does not rest on the ownership of the source of the oil supply, which amounts to about only one-sixth of the total, but "that its growth and present power rest primarily on the control of the transportation facilities."

After the railroad rebate was abandoned, the company, the report continues, was able to "establish a system of secret, or open discriminations of rates in its favor throughout practically the entire country. Having established its monopoly of the pipe line business, the company substantially refuses to act as a common carrier."

In conclusion, the report says it is apparent that the dominating position of the Standard Oil company in the oil industry has largely been secured by the abuse of transportation facilities, first, by flagrant discriminations obtained from railroads; second, by a refusal to operate its pipe line system so as to extend to independent interests the benefits to which they were both morally and legally entitled, while at the same time the Standard has prevented such independent interests from constructing lines of their own.

FIVE DIE IN MINE FIRE.

Victims Burned or Suffocated in a Colorado Shaft.

Trinidad, Col., May 21.—Five miners, including Superintendent Alexander Jacobs, were burned or suffocated in the Engleville mine at Engleville, Col.

The men went to work Sunday night, and when they did not come out Monday morning an investigation was started. It was discovered that fire, which broke out in the mine a year ago and was still burning in some sections, had suddenly spread and swept across the incline tunnel, cutting the men off and preventing them from reaching the outside.

The point from where the flames crossed the tunnel is three miles from the opening, and it was necessary to dig a temporary tunnel around the fire in order to reach the bodies of the ill-fated miners.

The Engleville mine is one of the oldest coal-producing mines in Colorado, having been operated for 30 years.

CAR RIOTS IN EVANSVILLE, IND.

Police Disperse Strikers Who Attack Nonunion Employees.

Evansville, Ind., May 21.—A disturbance between street railway strikers and nonunion employees occurred Monday at Main and Louisiana streets. A crowd surrounded a car manned by strike breakers and began jeering. A riot call brought police officers on bicycles, who dispersed the crowd.

State Labor Commissioner Woerner Monday arranged a conference between the strikers and representatives of the company, the men to appear as individual employees and not as members of an organization. A number of cots have been placed in the building belonging to the street railway company.

IRISH COUNCIL BILL IS TURNED DOWN

NATIONALIST CONVENTION AT DUBLIN PUTS BAN ON BIRRELL MEASURE.

SLOGAN IS "HOME RULE OR NOTHING"

Native Parliament Held to Be the Only Solution—New York Irish Leagues Cables Indorsement and Support of Action.

Dublin, May 22.—The Nationalist convention, called by leaders of the party to act on the Irish council bill introduced in the house of commons by Augustine Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, Tuesday decided to reject the measure. Resolutions to reject the bill and calling upon the Nationalist members to do all in their power in the house to defeat it, were passed. The resolutions were introduced by John E. Redmond, chairman of the Irish parliamentary party. The meeting was held in the round room of the historic Mansion house.

Home Rule Is Demanded.

Following are the resolutions passed: "That this convention, representative of Irish national opinion, which especially places on record its sound conviction that nothing can satisfy the national aspirations of Ireland, or bring peace and contentment to our people, but a measure of self-government which will give the Irish people complete control of their domestic affairs.

"That while we have never wavered in our belief that it is impossible to produce any logical or workable scheme for the extension and development of popular power and responsibility in Ireland short of the concession of home rule, in accordance with resolutions of the national directory of Feb. 5, 1907, and with the public declarations made from time to time on our behalf, we have been willing to give fair consideration to any scheme prepared by the British ministers which in their opinion would be consistent with and lead up to the larger policy to which they were pledged.

Call for Rejection of Bill.

"That, having considered the Irish council bill introduced by the government, we declare that it is utterly inadequate in its scope and unsatisfactory in its details and should be rejected by the Irish nation, and we regard the production of such a measure by a British government pledged to home rule as confirmation of the position we have always taken—that any attempt to settle the Irish problem by half-measures would be entirely unsuccessful, and we call upon the Irish party to oppose the bill in the house of commons and press upon the government with all their strength and power to introduce a measure for the establishment of a native parliament with a responsible executive power over all purely Irish affairs, and at this crisis in the fortunes of Ireland we invite all the Nationalist forces of the country to unite in support of our representatives in parliament, and enable them effectively to press for the speedy and genuine settlement of the Irish question."

During the delivery of the last few speeches the delegates were clamoring for a vote on the resolution and finally, at three o'clock, Mr. Redmond put the question. There was a tremendous chorus of "ayes" and when he asked for those who were opposed to its passage there was no response.

Then the convention rose, cheered heartily, and the delegates streamed from the hall, leaving only a few to transact minor business.

New York Irishmen Pledge Support.
New York, May 22.—The United Irish league of New York Tuesday sent the following cablegram to the Irish nation: "To convention: 'John F. [redacted] Convention Hall, Dublin: [redacted] greets Irish convention, [redacted] sees ceaseless support. Meeting Carriage hall June 2 to indorse your action.'"

Naval Programme for Spain.
Madrid, May 22.—The naval estimates issued yesterday provide for the expenditure in 1907 of $10,000,000 and in succeeding years of $13,000,000. The Ferrol dockyard will be equipped with accommodations for the largest warships. Cartagena and Cadiz will have similar equipments and shops for naval artillery. Three battleships of 15,000 tons each and several submarines are among the projected vessels.

Ocon says he is on a diplomatic mission to Washington.

DELAY IN HAYWOOD TRIAL BOMB KILLS THREE PERSONS AT ODESSA

ANOTHER VENIRE OF TALESMEN MAY HAVE TO BE CALLED.

Several Important Witnesses for the State Have Arrived at Boise—The City Is Quiet.

Boise, Idaho, May 21.—It seems inevitable that the Steunenberg murder trial must be halted again to permit the gathering of another special venire of talesmen. When the session Monday ended only 11 out of 20 peremptory challenges had been used, and only nine of the ten veniremen gathered a week ago remained uncalled. The remaining nine will hardly furnish grist for a day's work. Judge Wood will probably adjourn the trial for at least a full day and send Sheriff Shad Hodgkin forth in quest of 50 additional talesmen.

Several of the more important witnesses summoned in behalf of the state in the trial of Haywood arrived at Boise Sunday. The prosecution had hoped by this time that a trial jury would have been impaneled, but it is now evident that all 12 seats in the jury box will not be satisfactorily filled for several days.

When court adjourned Saturday afternoon the attorneys for the prosecution and defense were trying to fill a vacancy caused by the exercise of the state's fifth peremptory challenge. The defense still has six of its ten arbitrary challenges available and the state, under the new Idaho law, has five more challenges to its credit. Formerly the prosecution was allowed only one-half the number of peremptory challenges granted the defense.

Boise continues quiet and untroubled. There is nothing in the aspect of the trial to indicate that the long awaited trial is under way.

MRS. GOULD BRINGS SUIT.
Asks for Divorce and Alimony from Her Husband.

New York, May 20.—Differences of long standing between Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gould culminated Saturday in the service of a summons and complaint in suit begun by Mrs. Gould in the supreme court for a limited divorce. Mrs. Gould seeks a decree of separation on the ground of abandonment, and does not make any sensational allegations in her complaint.

It is probable that the main legal contest will be on the question of alimony. Since Mr. Gould has lived apart from his wife he has given her $5,000 a month for her maintenance. She asserts that this sum is inadequate, and that her husband's income is sufficient to justify him in paying her twice as much. It is said that members of the Gould family held a council to discuss the question whether Howard Gould should pay her $120,000 or even $100,000 a year and that their decision was that her demands were excessive.

Plea for Uniform Laws.
Washington, May 17.—A meeting was held Thursday at the bureau of standards of the department of commerce and labor, attended by delegates from most of the states, to consider the drafting of uniform laws providing for the supervision of all weights and measures used in trade. The enactment of such laws will be urged upon congress and upon the legislatures of the various states.

JUDGE FINES DESK TRUST

COMBINE PUNISHED FOR CRUSHING COMPETITION.

Sum of $28,000 Assessed by Landis as Chicago for Alleged Violation of Law.

Chicago, May 21.—Fines aggregating $28,000 as a means of smashing a trust were used by Judge K. M. Landis in the United States district court Monday, when Frederick A. Holbrook and 13 church and school furniture companies were punished for stifling competition. The court action was a bomb in the government anti-trust crusade and brought consternation to the trust officials. It is believed to forecast similar vigorous methods upon the part of the government toward other trusts and trade combinations.

Holbrook, who was indicted as the moving spirit of the furniture trust, was fined $5,000, the maximum penalty. The American Seating company and the A. H. Andrews company, which were the principal corporations in the combine, were fined $5,000 each, while the other nine companies were given fines of from $500 to $2,000.

In imposing the fines Judge Landis scored the officials of the companies for the methods they used and declared the legal punishment is inadequate. He delivered a scathing denunciation of the trade conspiracy by which, it was shown in the grand jury proceedings, churches, schools and theaters were mulcted by the trust prices for furniture to the extent of thousands of dollars annually.

The American Seating company and the A. H. Andrews company are Chicago corporations, and were the largest companies in the combine. Through the conspiracy, operated as the Prudential club, the price for furniture was maintained, straw bids were made to insure distribution of the business and the profits were divided among the corporations in the trust. Holbrook was the agent of the combine, and was indicted by the government as the chief conspirator. Pleas of poverty by the smaller corporations resulted in leniency by the court.

Judge Landis imposed the fines after hearing the pleas of guilty of the companies and testimony of some of the principal officials. The E. H. Stafford company, of Chicago, has fled a demurrer to the indictment and is the only company which will fight the case in court.

URGE BAPTISTS TO GIVE.

Plea Made for One-Tenth of Income for Church.

Washington, May 17.—The adoption of resolutions in favor of the movement to ask the Baptists of the country to give one-tenth toward the advancement of the work of Christ and urging the president to inquire into the reasons why the Kongo question has not been settled, were the features of the fourth session of the American Baptist Missionary Union Thursday. More than 2,000 delegates were in attendance.

The action regarding the giving of one-tenth of incomes followed a number of spirited addresses in advocacy of a decided increase in the income of the missionary union in order to meet the pressing needs of the work and to enable the union to enter fields urgently inviting occupation.

STEPHENSON IS THE CHOICE.

Named by Wisconsin Republicans to Succeed Spooner.

Madison, Wis., May 18.—The nomination of Isaac Stephenson of Marinette in Republican caucus Thursday night as United States senator to succeed John C. Spooner, resigned, was Friday formally ratified in joint assembly. Mr. Stephenson received 87 votes. State Senator George W. Bird received the complimentary vote of the Democrats and State Senator Jacob Rummel was accorded a similar honor from the Social Democrats. There were 25 absentees.

Wheat Again Up to One Dollar.

Chicago, May 21.—Dollar wheat again graced the boards in the wheat market Monday, but traders, inured to the sight by last week's unprecedented stratospheric, failed to go into the raptures and tantrums of the six sensational sessions which dwarfed old-time corners. Jumping two and five-eighths to three and one-half cents, the market showed symptoms of bull fever at the outset, the whole operation taking but five minutes, but radical treatment in the way of profit-taking soon reduced the market's temperature. Prices reacted 1 1/2 @ 2 cents and the trade came out of its early delirium.

Kills Daughter's Sweetheart.

Joplin, Mo., May 21.—At Southwest City, a small town in McDonald county, A. A. McGeehe shot and killed George Oyer, aged 21, son of a prominent merchant. ## CHIEF OF POLICE AND TWO DETECTIVES VICTIMS OF AN INFERNAL MACHINE.

Two Perpetrators of Plot Arrested—Girl Aid Makes Her Escape—Plot to Slay Czar, Grand Duke and Premier Discovered.

Odessa, May 21.—The superintendent of police of Odessa and the two chief detectives of this city were killed and seven other persons were seriously injured by the explosion of an infernal machine in the central police bureau Monday morning. The machine was deposited in the bureau just before it exploded by two men and a girl.

The police pursued, wounded and captured the men, but the girl escaped. The leader of the trio turned out to be a terrorist named Tchertkov. Two of the victims, the detectives, were bitterly hated by the terrorists, one of them for participation in inciting the outbreak in 1905 here, and the other, who was nicknamed "The Hangman," because he had tortured political prisoners.

Odessa, on the Black sea, has been a center of Russian revolutionary activity for two years. The city itself is a hotbed of revolution.

Announces Plot to Kill Czar.

St. Petersburg, May 21.—Before Monday's session of the lower houses of parliament, from which all the radical representatives were conspicuously absent, Premier Stolypin made a formal announcement of the discovery of a plot to kill the emperor, Grand Duke Nicholas and himself, and a resolution expressing the great joy of the house at his majesty's escape from the danger and the deepest indignation that the criminal conspiracy so fortunately frustrated was unanimously adopted. The Social Democrats, Social revolutionists, part of the group of toll and others were absent from the house when the resolution was presented and adopted.

Will Arrest Nikolai Lenin.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Nikolai Lenin, leader of the majority faction now attending the Social Democratic congress in London, on the charge of high treason. He will be taken into custody if he returns to Russia. The warrant is against "Vladimir Ulanoff, alias Lenin," and it is said that the police have identified him as a noted radical leader of the early '90s and a brother of the Ulanoff who, with four comrades, all armed with bombs, was arrested in 1887 while lying in wait for the carriage of Emperor Alexander II, and who was condemned to death and executed.

PUT BLAME ON NEGROES.

Witnesses Swear Colored Soldiers Shot Up Brownsville.

Washington, May 17.—Two witnesses in the Brownsville investigation before the senate committee on military affairs Thursday testified they saw negro soldiers shooting up the Texas town on the night of August 13. One of these was Lieut. Dominguez, of the Brownsville police, and another was Policeman Padron, who described a busy quarter of an hour dodging bullets. He also was positive the men doing the shooting were negro soldiers. Dr. Charles Thorn, a dentist, testified that he heard a group of men firing at the rear of his house and shouting commands to each other. He gave as his judgment that the voices were those of negroes.

Policeman Padron was cross-examined by Senator Foraker at some length without affecting his story. Dominguez also was cross-examined by Senator Foraker, but his story was not changed in the least.

Mr. D. Cutler was in the city this week and he made the statement that if he could secure a good tenant to take hold of the Cutler Hotel he would lease it for hotel purposes. Mr. Cutler has been unfortunate in losing money on the property in the past and had decided to remodel the building into stores, believing it would be a better paying proposition. Grand Haven people have regretted the closing of the hotel and it is hoped now that a good party will be able to lease or buy the property and continue a first class hotel. If Grand Haven has ever needed the Cutler House it needs it now; just when the town is taking on such a healthy growth.—Grand Haven Tribune.

The new congressman for the fifth district is already doing things. Like all good and thorough workers he began at home and chose Holland as the place for which to make his initial political bow. Just before he left Washington he made a visit to the light house board to make provisions for a fog signal and new light house for Holland harbor. The present equipments have for a long time seemed inadequate. It is proposed to make the light house twice as high as the present one and to install a system of flashlights. If the plans go through the new light house will be placed on the spot where the old one now stands and the old one will be moved to the end of the south pier.

Frank Van Dyke, residing on East Fifteenth street, is looking for compensation to the amount of $3 for feeding the hens of Mrs. Smith, his former neighbor, who is now an inmate of the insane asylum at Kalamazoo. When Mrs. Smith, who was arrested last winter for arson and was finally adjudged insane, was taken to Kalamazoo her chickens went hungry and Van Dyke appealed to the city authorities, who agreed to pay him 75 cents per day for them. In the meantime the hens were taken away and Van Dyke has made frequent attempts to collect the money, but no one has volunteered to reimburse him. The bill finally came to Prosecutor Coburn of Grand Haven and that official responded by informing him that the county had not entered into the poultry business and that relatives of Mrs. Smith should be held responsible for the account.

"I say you must come to Holland on the Fourth." The biggest ever.

GOLDEN MURDER SUSPECT ARRESTED

Prosecuting Attorney Coburn Issues Warrant

Martin C. Golden, the popular Denison store keeper, was murdered near his store building on the night of April 23, 1906, over a year ago. The crime has been a mystery from that day to this but the Prosecuting Attorney and the sheriff's force now believe that they have the man who so cowardly took the life of the Dennison storekeeper.

Prosecuting Attorney Corie C. Coburn on Thursday issued a warrant for the arrest of William Shimmel. Shimmel was supposed to be working in Muskegon in a factory and Under Sheriff Frank Salisbury went up after him. Salisbury's quest became known by relatives of Shimmel who it is believed tipped him off that the officers were after him for when Salisbury arrived at the place Shimmel was not there. He had been working there but he did not return all afternoon and this convinced Salisbury that Shimmel had skipped out. Before going to the factory the Grand Haven officer had visited Shimmel's brother who operates a blacksmith shop in Moorland. Some one must certainly have apprised the wanted man of the officer's presence.

There upon Salisbury telephoned that the bird had flown but that he had clues to where he was heading and that officers were patrolling every road and highway out of Muskegon. A few minutes later came the report from Moorland that Shimmel had been caught near this village while walking east on the T. S. M tracks evidently making haste to get out of the county. The arrest of Shimmel was made by Deputy Sheriff Salisbury, one of the many officers who were on the scent of the hunted man.

The arrest of Shimmel may solve the Golden murder mystery. Ever since the crime of a year ago last April Shimmel has been one of the men who the officers have suspected had guilty knowledge of the crime. But for some reason he was never arrested. Suspicion has been upon him but because of the fact that the evidence against the man was purely circumstantial, there was hesitancy about arresting him. Part of the time too, his whereabouts were unknown for Shimmel has not been in one place long since the night of the killing of Golden. At the time of the murder Shimmel was living in Casnovia, Muskegon County. He answers almost perfectly the description of the stranger who was noticed loitering about Nunica and Dennison a day or two before the killing and also of the sneaking figure who customers at Martin Golden's store saw lurking in the shadow of the building. The fact that Shimmel left Muskegon when he heard that the officers were after him looks very bad.

The murder of Golden was one of the most dastardly in the criminal annals of this or any other county. He was shot down at about 9 o'clock in the evening after locking his store and starting down the board walk toward his home. About $100 in currency, some checks, a canvas bag of change and the victim's watch and chain were taken from the body by the murderer, Ed., "Sport" McCarthy and his cousin Tom McCarthy had left Golden's store but 15 minutes before and they were standing at a milkstand in front of Ed McCarthy's home when two shots rang out. They were not two hundred yards away from the Golden store. They heard Golden utter his favorite exclamation "Here Here". But a moment later while they were standing in the road a man went by them on the dead run. He carried a revolver in his hand and appeared to be a fleshy man. He was wheezing as he passed the young men and seemed to be pretty near all in.

The McCarthys did not follow the fleeing man but instead ran to the Golden store and picked up Golden, who was breathing but unconscious. Golden died a few hours later without regaining consciousness. The officers were called to Dennison that night and they began a search for the slayer which has never been discontinued from that day to this. Suspect after suspect has been detained and questioned; for days the officers scoured a bit of woods near Whitehall only to find that they were chasing shadows. Trips were taken to various parts of the state to quiz men in jail who it was thought might have been in the vicinity at the time of the tragedy. But not until today was an out and out arrest for the murder made.

Weeks after the crime, on the land of Emerson Averill in Dennison was found by Orange Deggett a satchel containing a revolver, a cap and a pocket book. The cap was of Scotch pattern with a few gray and white hairs in the lining. The pocket book was identified by his widow as the one taken from the pocket of Martin Golden the night he was so foully slain. The cap and the revolver were undoubtedly the property of the murderer. He had left these evidences of his guilt hidden behind a log while he was making haste across country to get away from the pursuing officers.

FRED KAMFERBEEK

A well known resident of Chester said today from the first he had believed that Shimmel could tell a great deal about the killing of Martin Golden and that since the crime considering all the officers knew he had wondered that the man had not been arrested. This man says that he believes the grip containing Golden's pocket book and the revolver was tossed off from a T. S. & M. train and that Shimmel is known to have traveled from Muskegon to Gooding via that route shortly after the murder.

Wm. Shimmel, charged with the murder of Martin Golden at Dennison, does not bear up well under the confinement of the county jail. He seems very despondent despite the fact that his attorney declares Shimmel's defense will be a strong one. Only this morning Shimmel wept when officers went to his cell.

However, he has admitted nothing incriminating since his confinement. He will be put through a sweating process some day this week, as soon as the officers have completed a line of investigation which they are following.

Shimmel's hearing will be held June 3 before Justice Wachs.

Was Fire Incendiary?

The sloop-rigged auxiliary cruising yacht Pinta, owned by F. K. Colby, was destroyed by fire Monday night, the general belief being that the fire was set.

The boat was on the shore of the bay a short distance west of the Macatawa yacht club house, having been pulled out of the water last fall before Mr. and Mrs. Colby left for California to spend the winter. There had been no fire in the boat and Mr. Colby expected to begin the work of fitting her out for the season this week.

The loss is estimated at $2,000, which is partly covered by insurance. Mr. and Mrs. Colby were in Grand Rapids and did not learn of the disaster until they returned Tuesday morning.

The launch Florence, owned by the Macatawa Park association, was considerably damaged by fire, being only a short distance away from the Pinta.

Fire, undoubtedly started by an incendiary, broke out in the Pinta during the winter, and after charring the woodwork and destroying one of the davenport, the flames evidently died out for lack of sufficient draft. This loss amounted to $100 and was adjusted by the insurance company a few days ago.

The Pinta was 40 feet long, with 11-foot beam, and was built on the east coast of Florida. She was rigged with sails and equipped with a Wolverine gasoline engine, and had accommodations for 30 passengers. She was one of the handsomest cruising yachts in Lake Michigan waters.

The Pinta was sailed from Florida via Gulf of Mexico, Mississippi river and Chicago drainage canal to Macatawa two years ago, and her owner, Mr. Colby, Capt. Austin Harrington, W. H. Orr and Harry Harrington being aboard.
