Lakewood Farm's Summer Opening Decoration Day

THE GENIAL HOST, GEORGE GETZ, MAKES PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENT TODAY

HIGHWAY AND VICINITY OF FARM PUT IN SHAPE FOR VISITING THOUSANDS

George Getz, the genial host at Lakewood Farm, announces officially that the summer opening of his large estate, including the zoo, will be next week Friday, Memorial Day, and it goes without saying that this is going to be a busy holiday on U.S.-31, Lakewood highway and in the vicinity of the farm.

Visitors this year will see a great many changes. Many of the cages

GETZ' BEAVER ESCAPES

Folks visiting Lakewood Farm will be privileged to see a cage of beavers—they are beauties. However there is a story connected with these beavers. It appears that one of them got away early last fall and the News editor knows of a small stream, not many miles from Lakewood, where a beaver is building a dam. The trowel-tailed little creature is very active and without doubt it is the one that escaped. Mr. Getz will ask the Michigan Conservation Department for permission to trap Mr. Beaver and bring him back to his old home.

have been re-arranged, the polar bears have new quarters. Jumbo, too, can be seen on the outside for this trunk-and-quadruped now also has a place in the open, together with his swimming pool. But then we understand his name isn't Jumbo but her name is Nancy—pardon our mistake. The monkey cages have also been changed and there are fifty-eight varieties, the largest number in captivity. The trophy museum, where Mr. Getz and his son, George Jr., house their relics of the African hunt, will also be in shape. The animals are as ferocious as ever but don't fear for there is no danger, for they are behind bars of steel and the public is safe as long as the public doesn't get too noisy and come too near.

Mr. Getz has added scores of Michigan animals and not a few from South America. The snake family is also well represented. One beautiful addition is a large lagoon with little fountains, rustic bridges and this lagoon is filled with the rarest water fowl, the strangest looking ducks with red heads, wild geese and last but not least a half dozen European swan that recently arrived from Germany. The graceful swan are pure white and sail leisurely on the bosom of the lagoon. Within a week or more Mr. Getz expects to add two black ones. These are rare specimens but surely will be a contrast mingling with the pure white ones.

Space forbids to enumerate all the new things that are to be seen at Lakewood. Mr. Getz has added a steel flag pole more than a hundred feet high and from this staff the largest "Old Glory" in Ottawa County will wave. Hanging over the wide roadway, entering the garden from the gate, are two other tall flag staffs. Between these two another large flag will be suspended.

The Lake Michigan front also looks beautiful with Lakewood perched on the bluff. Yes, Lakewood never looked better, was never in finer shape than this year and Mr. Getz has spared no expense to make it beautiful and he surely has a wonderful executive on his farm in the person of "Andy" Petersen, who not only is an able manager but a landscape artist of unusual ability. Mr. Petersen receives the co-operation of at least 40 fellow associates who find employment at Lakewood.

Citizens of Holland have backed the Ottawa County road commission and the Park township highway department in getting all the approaches to Lakewood farm in shape to accommodate the automobiles and the thousands who will come daily to visit this unusual show place. The shoulders on the highways for a half mile in all directions have been graveled and cindered so there will be no mirroring of cars. Tunnel Park is now also available with parking space enough for at least 200 cars. Adjoining there is an open space in the highway of solid sod where there is room enough for at least 100 more cars. Surely parking facilities this year are ideal, provided the officers at the gate use a little judgment in directing traffic. Sheriff Steketee and the state police have promised plenty of deputies on busy days and Chief Van Ry of Holland will not be slow in sending an extra should the occasion demand.

Remember, Lakewood Farm opens Decoration Day and Mr. Getz has made one hard and fast rule. First, that there shall be no smoking on the grounds. Cigars and cigarettes that are lighted must be discarded at the gate. This is a safety precaution benefiting the public, for a fire among wild animals would be a terrible thing; toy balloons will also not be allowed. Monkeys have a way of grabbing balloons, chewing them up and that is the end of Mr. Monkey and some species of monkeys cost as high as $300 and the cheapest about $20.

All Mr. Getz demands is that folks co-operate with him, obey the rules of the farm and he will be satisfied and the public, we know,

The water fowl lagoon and rustic bridges connecting "Swan-Isle."

Holland Gets Ready For Its Memorial Day

PLENTY OF BANDS, LARGE PARADE AND EXERCISES AT PARK AND CEMETERY

Plans for the observance of Memorial day at Holland were started at a public meeting in the city hall Monday night with Mayor Brooks presiding and E. A. Mulder acting as secretary. Besides the program on May 30, special services will be held Sunday at Hope church. Dr. T. W. Davidson will preach the Memorial day sermon.

Ladies and gentlemen—Leave your "camels" at the gate before entering. When Director Petersen finds Lakewood farm too dry he calls out the reindeer. Purple martins also find a home with George Getz together with Senator Vandenberg and former Senator William Alden Smith. There are at least 100 colonies of these winged creatures.

The hours of opening and closing Lakewood daily is 10:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. sharp.

Dr. Petersen announces the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Monkey Sunday. No the happy parents have not yet been presented with a baby carriage except the one that nature provides and it appears that the youngster finds himself very comfy in that. Some storks have been added to the collection of birds and animals and from all indications one has already been heard from in Monkeyville.

"Jack" Petersen is the "row meat" of you and you ought to hear those lions and tiger roar when they see Jack at feeding time. Jack is Lakewood's lion tamer and he tames about every animal on the farm including a few two legged obnoxious visitors occasionally.

Farm manager Petersen has just been advised that a shipment of Egyptian ducks are now in transit for Holland and will arrive before Decoration day. There are seven different species in the shipment. The black swan are expected most any day now.

This strange looking bird, much like a grand-dad—a gift to Mr. Getz—will not be seen at the farm as expected. Mr. Penquin got homesick and one day laid down and died. Manager Petersen applied every method, even to mirrors, but the old boy was wise to the deception. It was a Galapagos penguin captured during the recent expedition led by Commander E. F. MacDonald, Jr., and brought back for the private zoo of George Getz. This particular bird had a way of walking like Charlie Chaplin and was solemnly funny like Buster Keaton—too bad he's dead.

Holland Now Has A New Milk Ordinance

Common Council Grants Pool Room License—Comfort Station for Kollen Park. Maybe Band Stand

The Common Council met at the usual hour Wednesday night and many important matters came up. Herbert Harrington will run a pool room on East Eighth street. Matters concerning peddler's license were discussed. A band stand for Kollen Park is a matter being taken up as well as a comfort station at that place.

Mayor Brooks pointed out the splendid medium of advertising that "Tulip Time" brought and the Ordinance Committee asked that the Milk Ordinance be given its final reading and that it be passed and it was passed by the Common Council. The ordinance, complete in every detail, is found on page 3, section 1, in this issue of the News.

One expression was often heard "What a beautiful town."

Visitors took this occasion to tour nearly every street since it had been advertised that the gardens around nearly every home had been planted to tulips. This tour brought out forcibly to the visitors that Holland in itself was a veritable garden, that the homes were painted, that the lawns were kept up, that the streets were lined with forests of trees, that Holland was literally dotted with parks, that this city was 100 per cent paved, that Holland has a veritable parkway around which the public and semi-public buildings have been erected, that Holland has a beautiful college campus studied with years of architecture, that Holland is a city of culture judging from the number of substantial school buildings that the visitors must have seen in this tour, that Holland was a city of light with its beautiful boulevard system and its big "white way," that Holland is on Macatawa bay and beautiful Lake Michigan. No, the visitors saw more than tulips. They were well satisfied with their visit.

Holland must continue to have "Tulip Week" each year. It brings a fine class of people who love the beautiful. A celebration such as Holland had, devoid of brass bands and expensive parades and milling mobs is more desirable than these nerve-racking one-day celebrations that are so often staged.

Folks came to Holland all week at their leisure, had plenty time to see things and took their time.

The days were interspersed with out-of-door band concerts that were pleasing and restful. There were entertainments that fitted into the week's program to a nicely.

Naturally Holland is going to benefit from its first exhibition. Many features will be repeated. Many of the mistakes will be eliminated. There is one sure thing and that is that Holland will endeavor to have more tulips next year and these blooms will be more centralized. The flower show must be repeated for that was the highlight during "Tulip Week" visited by at least 40,000 people, the largest percentage of them being strangers.

There is no criticism to be made, and if there was considering everything, it would be unfair to make it for our inexperienced committees on a new celebration of this kind did wonderful work and they will do even better next year and the Holland City News wishes to take this occasion to publicly thank all those who took a part in making Holland's first annual "Tulip Week" an outstanding success.

All bayous on Grand river and all other rivers of Michigan were declared by the attorney general this week to be inland lakes closed to fishing with hook and line until June 25.

While the attorney general's ruling applies to all river bayous in the state the controversy which required a ruling centered around the bayous on the Grand.

Earlier in the season the attorney general's office had handed down a ruling classifying the bayous as part of the river system and open to fishing for pike, perch and other fish May 1 along with all streams and rivers.

The state conservation department was not satisfied with this ruling, however, and went into the matter further with the result that the attorney general this week reversed his former decision. Prior to this week's ruling conservation officers had been instructed to permit fishing on the bayous of the Grand but these orders now have been revoked.

LOVE ROMANCE OF BIG TOP IS PATHE'S "SWING HIGH"

To those who think that the heyday of the circus has passed, Pathe's new musical circus romance, "Swing High," will particularly appeal. For this spectacular talkie deals with life under the Big Top as it existed in 1875—the most picturesque period in circus history.

In those days the circus had no machinery to put up and take down its tents, no mechanical contrivances for loading its paraphernalia on railway flat cars, no tractors to pull the heavy loads to and from shipping points.

Instead, its Big Top was erected and torn down by hardy, singing roustabouts who plied their sledge hammers with amazing skill. It moved from town to town by means of its own wagon train, bad weather often meaning mired wagons and a delay in the performance in the next town. When it was necessary to handle unusually heavy loads, elephants were employed.

The glamour and romance of the circus at its picturesque best is contained in "Swing High," which will be seen at the Colonial theatre for four days next week, on May 26-29.

Happy Little Octopus
Torturing Witnesses
Water Fine, in Spots
The Family of Five

Not so long ago the government became much excited because Standard Oil was supposed to be worth "almost a billion dollars" and chopped the big octopus up into several small pieces. Each went its separate way, a little octopus on its own account.

Now Mr. Teagle, head of Standard Oil of New Jersey, one of several brothers and sisters, says his company made in 1929 $120,912,794. That amounts to 5 per cent on $2,400,000,000 and Mr. Teagle says that if the oil industry had been wiser in its methods he would have made a great deal more.

The Yugoslavian King Alexander is accused of allowing police to torture political prisoners. One brought to court in a wheel chair, says he was beaten, tied with ropes, whipped with canes, at intervals, all night long. Other prisoners were treated in similar way. Civilization, backward in some places, in others makes progress. Not long ago men accused were tortured everywhere, to make them tell what they knew. Torture is no longer legal.

When Queen Elizabeth decided to cut off the head of her lover, Essex, she was praised for her restraint in not having him put to the torture. His abject submission, and fear of things he might have said under torture about the woman whom he indiscreetly described as an ugly old hunchback, may have caused the unusual gentleness she displayed.

If you are still in the stock market or hovering on the edge, like a small boy asking, "How is the water?" know that just now "the water is fine," in spots. The money drought, in addition to the tortures, has in his interior a gigantic mass of undigested securities.

He is still alive, but certain groups indicate that he is having trouble in spots where the securities were fed to him in millions of shares at a time.

Doctor Tucker of the United States Naval hospital at Norfolk discovers in fruits and vegetables "five good germs," called "the family of five." They give health and strength, supplying vitamins, life elements essential to existence. They are missing in green fruits, and die when fruit decays, making it poisonous. They are not injured by heat, and exist in canned fruits and vegetables. A vitally important discovery.

The League of Nations appoints a special commission of two Swedes and one Dutchman to study the historic problem of the wailing wall in Jerusalem between Jews and Arabs.

The Arabs have one of their most important places of worship immediately adjoining the wailing wall, where Jews from all over the world gather to lament the fall of Jerusalem.

Arabs have been in possession of Jerusalem for centuries, ever since they beat the Crusaders. And, according to their Koran, it is their holy city also.

There is no universal national feeling in India. Mohammedans hate Hindus and vice versa. There are tens of millions of both. The native-born Indians in the British army fight for Britain against their "brothers" "loyally."

Three hundred million Asiatics in India are kept in hand by only 200,000 Britishers on the spot, fewer than one-tenth of 1 per cent.

Mr. Macaulay, head of the Canadian Sun Life Assurance company, expects our stocks to regain soon 60 per cent of the losses made in the big 1929 break. He thinks that 1931 probably, 1932 surely, will see "the 1929 peak once more."

Mr. Macaulay's opinion is important, for he is the world's largest buyer of good American stocks. Some that you may have bought probably will not be found in his portfolio.

The great gambling house at Monte Carlo is sad. Last year's profits amounted to only 575 per cent, lowest in years.

That compares well with the interest rate on a government bond, or dividends on legitimate industrial stocks. But it isn't much for the gambling house.

That 575 per cent interests those that are foolish enough to gamble on horse racing, in gambling houses or otherwise. So-called "honest games" are arranged to yield "the house" a certain profit of about 40 per cent on every dollar bet. You can imagine what dishonest games make.

Many remember, when the Panama canal was suggested, how the gigantic sum staggered imagination. We lent forty times that sum to Europe to help the processes of killing, and staggered nobody but little people that sold Liberty bonds far below par.

Now the War department studies the plans for a bridge over the Hudson river at Fifty-seventh street in New York.

It would cost $150,000,000, but that agitates no one.

We have passed into the billion dollar era. Mere millions attract little attention.

Six Cylinder Sentences

By DR. JOHN W. HOLLAND

Obscurity is the matrix of great ideas and men. He who makes the best of his chances rarely has to ask for charity. The acid test of human character is the ability to keep sweet. The man who gives the world his sneers publishes the fact that his soul has given out. It is better that a man should wear his appetite with rough bread than to dull it with cake. Question: Will the end you have in view be worth your while when you view it from the end?

REVIVAL SERVICES IN WESLEYAN CHURCH

Beginning on Sunday, May 25, a series of revival services will begin at the Wesleyan Methodist Church at 17th and Pine streets. The services will be held each evening at 7:30 except Saturday, June 15. Rev. Meredith, the pastor, has secured the services of evangelist O. G. McKinley, of Houghton, New York, as a special speaker throughout the entire meeting.

Rev. McKinley, a comparatively young man, has traveled quite extensively throughout the east and central sections of this country as an evangelist; and has had signal success in this field of endeavor. He has a heart-stirring message that is ably presented, and he has therefore had not only a large hearing, but also a sympathetic response to his challenges for a new life.

Rev. McKinley has labored during a part of each year in pioneer evangelism, and has succeeded in organizing new churches in several of our eastern cities. He comes to Holland directly from such a work in the city of Corning, New York. After two meetings in this city a large nucleus was formed which resulted in a new organization that have leased one of the large churches of the city for their worship. Rev. McKinley brings this organizing ability into every church campaign, and the meetings in Holland during the next three weeks promise the lovers of gospel truth a genuine treat.

Rev. McKinley will arrive in the city on Saturday, and will be present to preach at the opening service of the revival on Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. A cordial welcome is extended to the people of Holland and surrounding community to attend the services, and enjoy the Christian fellowship which the Wesleyan church offers to everyone.

The Hamilton Tigers are again running wild. They were very quiet and well behaved all winter, but with the coming of warm weather it was evident that they were becoming restive. Last Friday evening just before twilight they broke loose and devoured the East End Druggists of Holland by the score of 6 to 2. It was a mere lunch for the hungry Tigers and served only as a relish. The long winter imprisonment has had no ill effect on their physical power and mental cunning. We noticed that a couple of the older ones were absent and suspect that they were at home nursing some rheumatic pains. It is expected however, that before a few more good meals are enjoyed all will be back in the park.

Plans have been made to raid the country but especially plans are being made for a final and formal banquet at the expense of the Holland Boosters.

DR. DIMMENT, PRESIDENT OF HOPE COLLEGE, SPEAKS TO BUTTERWORTH GRADUATES

Dr. E. D. Dimment, president of Hope College, spoke to thirty-nine graduate nurses who were given diplomas at the graduating exercises under the auspices of Butterworth Hospital, Grand Rapids. The graduation took place at St. Mark's cathedral before a large throng from the different city hospitals and parents and friends of the graduates.

Addressing the students on the difference between "Persons and People," Dr. E. D. Dimment told them that "there is something wrong with everything."

"Mencken and Shaw have told us this," said Dr. Dimment, "and Arthur Brisbane regularly uses a front page column on William the Worst's papers to convey the same information while the rest of the paper is used to prove pictorially and with scraps of information from the four corners of the world that he is right—There is something wrong with the world."

In contrast with the attitude of these critics, Dr. Dimment recommended that of William Lyon Phelps, who, taking up the theme, "There Is Something Wrong with Everything," recently declared that it is because human nature is so close to the divine that it can discern flaws in all things.

A Six Weeks' Tour Over Land and Sea

DR. BROWER TELLS OF HIS TRIP IN THE WEST INDIES AND CARIBBEAN SEA PANAMA ZONE

Our ship arrived at Colon Harbor early in the afternoon. After port formalities were concluded the boat proceeded to dock. No visitor to the West Indies should miss the opportunity of inspecting the Panama Canal; which now links the Atlantic and the Pacific Oceans. It has formed the Caribbean Sea "from a terminus and place of local traffic, or a broken and imperfect line of travel into one of the great highways of the world." The canal is 50 miles long and has the Caribbean Sea at the Atlantic entrance, and the Gulf of Panama on the Pacific side. What used to be the Province of Panama in the Republic of Colombia, is now the Republic of Panama. This Republic of Panama is also called the Canal Zone extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean, 50 miles long and 10 miles wide. This zone is a marvel of ingenuity, perseverance, and organization. The motto of the Canal Commission is, "The Land Divided, the World United."

The United States of America has absolute control over the zone. Its vessels, and the boats of Panama may pass through the canal free of charge.

To give an illustration as to what it costs to have a boat locked one way, from ocean to ocean, I will cite our boat Caledonia, a Cunarder. From six to ten hours is the time consumed in passing through the canal. The price for our boat is $18,000 one way. Yes, that seems an exorbitant price; but think of the time and expense to go by the Strait of Magellan. Operating expenses of this boat are in excess of $5,000 a day. It would take at least ten days to sail around South America. The canal cost the United States over $375,000,000. The French Government contemplated making a sea level canal, but they gave up in despair. The Americans, on the other hand, decided in favor of a high-level one, involving locks at either end, and they succeeded, to build this International Monument by the ships and for the ships.

There is in Panama a group of tablets telling in Spanish the history of the Canal project. How Charles V might have built it and didn't; how Napoleon III saw no opportunity in it, and how De Lesseps gambled on it and failed. It also stands as a monument to the thousands of toilers who lost their lives from accident or disease while in this service. There is a pitiful array of wooden crosses marking the graves of those who helped the Canal to success. There are those rows of hard-dying stumps in Gatun Lake, possibly; why not? They are the embodiment of other engineers, explorers, workers—who silently passed along, victims of a hopeless situation. Hundreds upon hundreds died from the ravages of the mosquito, the yellow fever carrier. Today all mosquitoes are gone and so is the fever. While I was there the temperature was about 115 degrees. On this whole trip I did not see one mosquito. I did see one fly and they were the only ones. They appeared so emaciated and underfed that I thought they were suffering from starvation or tuberculosis.

Surely it is a proud thought to an American that each of us has a share in the stewardship of such a great feat. Today the Canal as a safeguarded achievement speaks for itself. The iron cable that will stop a ship from running away; the emergency locks that will save the situation if the other locks give out; the new lake that will supply water if Gatun Lake proves insufficient; and the relay tractors that neither kick nor balk.

The Culbreth Cut, or Gatun Cut, as it is now called, is the deepest strip of land ever excavated. It is cut right through the great continental divide which extends from the most northern part of the Rocky Mountains clear down to the southern part of South America. So to speak, the spinal column of the continents, divides the course of the waters. This Big Ditch or cut is not within the range of the comprehension of the ordinary person. To delve through hills for 9 or 10 miles and cut a channel of 130 feet deep with a breadth of some 300-odd feet. To cut through this continental divide, and separating the watersheds towards the Pacific and the Atlantic. Is it any wonder that they encountered so many land slides here? If the soil and rock taken out of the canal were loaded on cars, it would fill a train reaching four times around the world, over 100,000 miles long. Gatun Lake, entirely an artificial lake, tree tops and stumps reaching out of the water, a wonderful sight, is 85 feet above sea level. A party from Glasgow, Scotland, asked me, "What is the one most essential thing about the whole Panama Canal?" He had to report this on his return. I said water and that is the answer. If it was not for the water there would be nothing to it.

Locks are in pairs, allowing boats going either direction. The city of Colon is situated on the Atlantic side. It is entirely a tropical town. Bordered on Colon and within the zone is Cristobal, built by employees of the Panama zone. On the Pacific side is Panama City, Ancon, and Balboa.

Panama City is one of the oldest and most historic cities of European origin in America. Its quaint streets and plazas, and mosaic-tiled sidewalks, its cathedrals, and churches, its market places with odd native types and uncommon fruits and flowers, all have the fascination of a town of yesterday. The ruins of Old Panama City lie in a jungle some few miles down the coast. A crumbling church tower still stands there, that has withstood the ravages of wind and weather since 1519. This old cathedral was 88 years under construction. King's Bridge at Old Panama still intact, is a relic of 1635 A.D. It is interesting to stand in the nave of the ruined cathedral and realize that Pirate Morgan may very well have preceded you on that spot some two hundred and fifty years earlier. On a moonlight night a vivid imagination can re-people the scene with Morgan and his murderous band of hijackers, the blood, the crackling flames, the terror of respectable burghers, the torture, the brutality. Yes, in New York one can stand in front of an obelisk which was brought from Egypt. At its foot is an inscription: "Abraham once stood beside this monument and read the hieroglyphics, like you are trying to do, several thousand years ago. He gazed upon this like you are doing now."

Panama City is built upon a coral peninsula which juts out at the head of Panama bay. The buildings are mostly fashioned after Spanish architecture. Constructed mostly of stone and roofed with red tiles. The American suburb of Ancon straggles around Ancon Hill on which stands the immense mosquito-scrubbed Tivoli Hotel where our party had dinner. All around this hill are the big tropical hospitals. Balboa lies at the Pacific entrance to the canal about two miles to the west of Panama. Large drydocks and repair shops are located here. In the trip through the canal, or on the railroad that parallels it, there is not a dull moment, this is a wide and varied interest all the way. Balboa is named after the discoverer of the Pacific Ocean and a very impressive monument stands here overlooking the great ocean he discovered.

Seattle claims to lift larger vessels than any government locks outside the Panama Canal. The major chamber is 825 feet long and 50 feet wide and holds a depth of 50 feet water. The Davis and Sabin locks of our own state at Sault Ste Marie are certainly the longest locks in the world. Each 1350 feet long and 80 feet wide and a lift of 20 feet, while the Gatun Locks of Panama is 1100 feet long and 110 feet wide. It is the highest boat lifter of the world. A lift of 85 feet. I have seen them all and their claims are correct.

Jamaica next.

The Secor Poultry farm of Clio, Genesee county, exhibitor of the grand sweepstakes chicks last year, placed eighth this year with its entry of White Leghorns. ## Sheriff Steketee Has Prisoners Behind the Bars

JUDGE MILES SENTENCES MANY TO DIFFERENT PRISONS IN STATE

Sheriff Cornelius Steketee took James L. Scoville of Grand Rapids, intoxicated driver on his fifth conviction and Joe Slayer, of Holland, convicted liquor law violator, to Ionia Reformatory. He also took to Jackson Prison, Gerald Kemper, 18 years old, of Holland, who is to serve a year for forgery and Mrs. Nancy Hertz, of Holland, liquor law violator, to Detroit to serve 18 months in the Detroit House of Correction. When Mrs. Hertz was sentenced by Judge Miles she broke into tears and was led sobbing from the courtroom. Mrs. Hertz was found guilty of three counts. She was to pay $100 fine and $100 costs. She is the mother of four children and is 48 years old.

Joe Allverson, Holland youth, 18 years old, was put on three years' probation for breaking and entering, fined $25 and assessed costs of $25 which he is to pay at the rate of $10 a month. Richard Van Huijzen, Bass River youth, who pleaded guilty to breaking and entering into court will not be sentenced until after he graduates from high school in June.

Gerald Kemper, 18 years old of Holland, stood silent as the court sentenced him to from one to 4 years in Jackson for forgery. No fine or costs were assessed. Judge Miles called attention to the fact that he had erred 10 times in this direction but felt that if his conduct in the prison was good, he could be released at the end of a year. It was the only sentence to Jackson made by the Judge. Arthur Waltman of Holland, also 18 years old who was arrested with Kemper, was given 15 days in the county jail, three years probation and required to pay $25 fine and $30 costs at the rate of $5 a month until paid. He had passed one check.

James L. Scoville, arrested for driving while drunk and convicted for the fifth time on this charge, was sentenced to from six months to one year in Ionia with the maximum recommended by the court and was fined $100. He is 62 years old and Judge Miles censured him severely for endangering life by his habit of driving while intoxicated. Joe Slayer of Holland who was convicted of keeping a place where home brew beer was sold, was sentenced to six months in Ionia, fined $100 and assessed $75 costs. If he does not pay the fine and costs, Slayer will remain a year in Ionia. His still was on the north side of Black Lake.

The flower thrips, enemy of peaches and other fruits, this year has launched its heaviest attack in Michigan since 1915, county agents were informed today by R. H. Pettit, Michigan State College Entomologist. The flower thrips is found in peach buds and young growth of other fruit. It may damage crops. It blisters peaches by scraping the fuzz off the surface. Nicotine sprays or dusts are advised as control measures, with an application for peaches as soon as the shucks fall.

PERCH ARE BITING AT "MAC" OFF PIERS

Max Sandy in G. R. Herald

Perch were biting from the piers at Macatawa last Sunday. To great number of western Michigan people that's important news. We'd like to have been there ourselves. Of course, we've seen fishermen turn up their noses at perch anglers.

"What sport is there in pulling perch in when they don't fight and no skill is required to catch them?" That's the question the scoffers ask. We'll agree that a fellow doesn't need a landing net or a gaff to bring in a perch and that most anybody can catch perch when they're biting. But nevertheless it's fun.

Perhaps the real reason why so many enjoy it is the anticipation of fried perch. There's a fish to eat. Only two other Michigan fish class with the perch: the brook trout and the smelt. Of the three we'll take perch as first choice, if they're fried right—rolled in flour and dropped in hot, deep grease. They should be browned and cooked thoroughly; and then, if they aren't too large, an experienced perch eater can devour them, bones and all. Yum! Yum!

Many's the time in boyhood days that we ate at one sitting from seven to 10 perch, cooked by grandmother, and then headed for the Grand Haven piers to catch more of 'em. In those days we always skinned the perch instead of scaling them. We kids could clean a considerable mess in a mighty short time.

Some of these days soon we're going down and try the old pier again. Of course, there'll be automobile loads of other fishermen, and there won't be any pickered or sheephead caught to provide the thrills which used to vary the perch fishing. But anyway we'd like a mess of those sweet Lake Michigan perch, and a big mess too.

A Good Feed Is Needed By Growing Chicks

VALUE OF MATURE BIRDS OFFEN DEPENDS ON CARE RECEIVED FIRST FEW WEEKS

Although the baby chick is equipped by nature to go through the first 72 hours of its life without feeding, the value of mature birds is often determined by the kind and amounts of feed which they receive from the third day until their growth is completed, according to the poultry department at Michigan State College.

A dry mash made up of 60 pounds yellow corn meal, 20 pounds ground middlings, 10 pounds dried milk, 5 pounds meat scraps, 4 pounds bone meal, and 1 pound of salt is recommended for use until the chicks are four weeks old.

Plenty of feeding space should be provided so the birds will have a chance to eat, and the dishes on which the mash is placed should be kept clean. After the first few days, the mash can be fed in hoppers to which the chicks have access at all times.

The use of cod liver oil as 2 to 4 per cent of the ration aids early chicks or those receiving little sunlight. Green feed should be supplied to chicks which are not running on range.

Scratch grain consisting of equal parts of cracked corn and whole wheat should be fed after the chicks are six to eight weeks old. A mash which can be fed until the birds are ready to go in the laying house is made up of 60 pounds corn meal, 40 pounds bran, 40 pounds ground oats, 30 pounds middlings, 10 pounds meat scraps, 8 pounds ground limestone, 8 pounds bone meal, and 4 pounds charcoal.

JAMESTOWN GRADUATION EVENTS ARE ARRANGED

The baccalaureate service for Jamestown High school will be held Sunday. The high school department is composed of the ninth and tenth grades. The tenth graders will be addressed in Jamestown Reformed Church by Rev. H. Wolterink of Forest Grove, Minn. A mass which can be fed until the birds are ready to go in the laying house is made up of 60 pounds corn meal, 40 pounds bran, 40 pounds ground oats, 30 pounds middlings, 10 pounds meat scraps, 8 pounds ground limestone, 8 pounds bone meal, and 4 pounds charcoal.

Mrs. Paul Hinkamp, Holland, was the guest-speaker at the annual Mother and Daughter banquet of First Reformed church; Muskegon, held Wednesday, at the Y. M. C. A. at 7 P. M.

Miss Anna Spyke was toastmistress. Miss Eva Westmaas gave a toast to the mothers and Mrs. William Smith responded with a toast to the daughters. Special music entertainment was also arranged for the evening.

Present: The Hon. FRED T. MILES, Circuit Judge.

An application having been filed in said Court in said cause, by Joe Victor and others for the dissolution of the Victor Gas and Oil Company, a Michigan Corporation, and for the appointment of a receiver or receivers thereof.

On motion of Robinson & Parsons, attorneys for petitioner it is ordered that all persons interested, all stockholders and creditors, show cause, if any they have, why said Victor Gas and Oil Company should not be dissolved, and said receiver or receivers appointed, at the Court House, in the City of Grand Haven, in said County, on the 28th day of June, A.D. 1930, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, or as soon thereafter as said matter can be heard.

It is further ordered that notice of the contents of this order shall be served by mail upon all creditors and stockholders of said corporation at least thirty days before the date of said hearing, by directing the same to them at their last known Post Office Address, and shall also be published once in each week for three weeks in succession in the Holland City News, a newspaper printed, published and circulating in the County of Ottawa, prior to said date of hearing.

FRED T. MILES, Circuit Judge.

Robinson & Parsons, Attorneys for Petitioners, Holland, Michigan.

June 4. Evelyn Steketee is heading the plans for an informal party, and Anne De Jong will preside. Then comes Cosmopolitan on the following Thursday in charge of "Bill" Kuiper. No doubt Len Hogebom will introduce the speakers in an interesting manner. "Joey" Rodenburg heads the Dorian committee and President Cassie De Kline will see that everyone talks in turn. Next comes Knickerbocker, four of the consecutive banquets on June 4, 5, 6 and 7. Ed Telleman is managing the affair, which is informal. Don Wade's dry wit gives promise of an interesting evening. June 11 begins another series when Emersonian banquet plans will be disclosed through the medium of Harold Klaasen's pen. Earle Langland will start off another informal banquet. On the following night Soraia chairman, Marion Anderson, will see her plans in their true expression. With Myra Ten Cate to preside over the first formal of the season, a charming evening is promised. Delphi is not superstitious in its choice of Friday, June 13th. Rose Whelan has planned another formal and Myrtle Klooster will preside in gay splendor. Frater's informal night of fun will end the cycle of banquets and parties for 1930. Alvin Cook is the leader of this last 1930 Hope banquet night. Paul Nettinga, president, promises lots of added fun to the event.

JESUS DESCRIBES THE FUTURE OF THE KINGDOM

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 24:1-25:13 (Golden Text)—Take ye heed, watch and pray; for ye know not when the time is.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Being Ready to Help

JUNIOR TOPIC—Being Ready

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Being Ready

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Christian Preparedness

I. The Prophetic View of the Course of Time from Christ's Crucifixion to His Second Coming (24:1-51).

The order of events in this time are in general as follows:

1. The moral condition of the world during Christ's absence (vv. 1-14).

This is the period covered by the parables of chapter 13.

2. The appearance of the Antichrist (vv. 15-20).

3. The great advent (vv. 21-31).

In connection with this advent there will be mighty convulsions of nature, the mourning of the tribes of the earth, and the gathering of the elect.

4. Warnings to God's people in view of the great advent (vv. 32-51).

The time of this advent is unknown and on the part of many unexpected.

5. Instruction to believers in view of the unexpectedness of Christ's coming (25:1-30).

II. Behavior of Believers in View of the Coming of the Lord (25:1-13).

The teaching in the parable of the ten virgins has continuous application in the present time (I Thess. 16:18; Titus 2:11-13).

1. The equipment of the virgins (vv. 1-5).

(1) The foolish virgins took lamps, but no oil with them (v. 3). Lamps signify Christian profession (Matt. 5:16) and oil the Holy Spirit (Zech. 14). Having lamps but no oil shows that they were professors of religion, without possessing its reality. The Christian life is sustained by the Holy Spirit. As soon as a man is regenerated, the Holy Spirit takes up His abode with him. The Spirit's indwelling therefore, is an advance work upon regeneration. The proof that one is a child of God is that he has the Holy Spirit dwelling within him. (Rom. 8:9). The foolish virgins were professors, but not possessors. (2) The wise virgins possessed both lamps and oil (v. 4). They backed their profession with a real life of righteousness. Both the wise and the foolish virgins slumbered and slept. Their eyes had grown heavy and they fell under the spell of sleep (v. 5). This shows that as the present age lengthens, the real and the professing church will cease looking for the coming of the Lord. It is unspeakably sad that so many, even of God's chosen—the wise virgins—should give up the expectancy of the return of the Lord.

2. The coming of the bridegroom (vv. 6-12).

(1) The midnight cry (v. 6). In the midst of the night when all the virgins were asleep the cry was heard, "Behold the bridegroom cometh." Who knows but that the time of this cry is now close upon us? (2) Activity of the virgins (v. 7). They all arose and trimmed their lamps. There will be great activity when the Lord comes on the part of both believers and those who only make a profession. It will be a day when the reality of one's faith will be tested. (3) The foolish virgins' request of the wise to share their oil (v. 8, 9). The revelation of Christ will make manifest the genuineness of our faith and expose the folly of mere profession. When the Lord comes, it will be too late to mend one's ways. (4) The wise enter to the marriage (v. 10). While the foolish were seeking to amend their ways—trying to buy oil—the bridegroom came, and those who were ready were admitted to the marriage. (5) The pitiful petition of the foolish virgins (v. 11). They begged the Lord to open the door that they might enter to the marriage feast. (6) The awful judgment (v. 12). The Lord declared, "I know you not."

3. The solemn obligation (v. 13). "Watch, for ye know not the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man cometh." Two solemn facts should engage the attention of every one. (1) Entering with Christ to the marriage depends upon faithfulness to the end. If oil and light be wanting when Christ comes, no admittance will be granted to the heavenly banquet. (2) Borrowed religion will not avail at that day. Despite the value of gold companions and associates, they can render no service in the day of Jesus Christ. Personal contact with the Lord Jesus through faith in His blood is the absolute essential.

NEW PRESIDENT AND VICE-PRESIDENT OF KROGER STORES MEET MANAGERS

Five hundred store managers and employees of Kroger stores in this section of Michigan, including the Holland managers, gathered Monday night in Grand Rapids to meet Albert H. Morrill, recently named president of the company, and Col. C. O. Sherrill, who a few weeks ago resigned as city manager of Cincinnati, Ohio, to become vice-president of the Kroger stores. The new Kroger executives are making a good-will tour of leading cities in the 16 states served by the 6,000 Kroger stores, conferring with the different managers. Mr. Morrill succeeded William H. Albers as head of the Kroger stores and recently was named president of the National Association. Col. Sherrill brings a wealth of experience in personnel management to this food distribution enterprise. During his military career he was military aide to three presidents, mapped the Philippine Islands, fortified the Panama Canal. He has been decorated by our own and foreign governments. The good will tour is part of the plan of Kroger stores to keep in close contact with their 23,000 employees, bring about a co-operation for even better service.—Education publicity.

SKIMMILK MAKES FOR RAPID HOG GROWTH
Low-Cost Pork Follows Use of "Liquid Protein" on the Farm

SKIMMILK WITH CORN AN EFFICIENT PORK MAKER
WHEN FED WITH CORN MEAL TO HOGS

The FEEDING VALUE of the SKIMMILK Produced Yearly by 6 Average Mississippi Valley Cows

is equivalent to 2 1/2 TONS OF MIDDLINGS

BLUE VALLEY CREAMERY INSTITUTE

THE hog fits in especially well on the farm where skim milk is produced, says the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. The farm carrying enough pigs and hogs to consume the valuable "liquid protein" product of cream farming is in a much better position to produce low-cost pork than other farms. It is difficult to find a satisfactory substitute for skim milk for young pigs just after weaning, and at the Indiana Experiment Station, skim milk proved to be the most efficient supplement to shelled corn or corn meal in fattening hogs.

When hogs were fed on corn meal and skim milk in the Indiana test, they consumed more feed, made a greater increase in live weight with a smaller amount of feed and dry matter, and at less expense than similar lots fed on corn meal supplemented by any one of four shelled corn protein supplements. It required only 446 pounds of feed value of 100 equal the feeding value of 100 pounds of middlings. This is significant, because on an average Mississippi Valley farm where six cows are milked and where the milk is used and sold as cream, there will be a yearly production of approximately 22,200 pounds of skim milk. Accordingly, this amount of "liquid protein" has a feeding value equivalent to two and one-half tons of middlings.

Skim milk cannot be excelled as a means of promoting rapid growth and providing health-protecting food elements, and as a supplement to cereal grain products. It supplies the protein lacking in corn, barley, waste wheat and many prepared meals. With pigs in the earliest stages of growth after weaning, the proportion of skim milk to grain may well be larger than in the more mature periods. Under practical farming conditions, the amount of grain naturally depends somewhat on the relative supply of milk and grains. As a general rule, three pounds of skim milk to one pound of grain or cereal meal produces good results and the ratio "3 of skim milk to 1 of grain" is easily remembered.
