Tena Holkeboer Sees Bombing of Amoy, China

TERRIBLE HAVOC WROUGHT BY BOMBING PLANES WHICH
ADVANCED BEFORE JAPANESE
ARMY; VISITS HOSPITAL
FILLED WITH WOUNDED

Miss Tena Holkeboer of Holland, a missionary in China for more than 15 years, sent an airmail letter to her mother, Mrs. D. Holkeboer, 848 E. 15th St., Holland, I. gives a vivid description of the bombing of Amoy by the Japanese. The havoc wrought was terrible, and women and children fled the city in small boats to the island across the bay, from where Miss Holkeboer saw the bombing. The letter below is from Miss Holkeboer, and gives the details:

May 11, 1938.

My own precious family,

The long-expected has happened! Yesterday morning shortly after three o'clock Japan began attacking Amoy from both the sea and the air, and from then on till after dark the battle raged all day. Fourteen Japanese planes flew overhead to help their soldiers land. The bombing and shelling all day was terrible. Of course, we were comparatively safe here on Kulangsu, but we could witness much of it, and the thought of all the suffering entailed made our hearts heavy.

All day long the women and children kept fleeing to this side in little boats. The men were not allowed to come till evening, and then the women and children had been cared for. All our schools, the churches, the temples, the movie houses, have been opened to shelter refugees. One feels so very sorry for them—most of them fled without bringing a thing with them. Feeding them will be a problem, but I understand Kulangsu has stored up food for this emergency, so when things get organized a bit this will be taken care of.

Our hospital is flooded with wounded soldiers. I went over yesterday afternoon with our Senior III girls to help with First Aid. The nurses and doctors were all overwhelmed with work. Somehow, though this has been expected for a long time, it sort of took us by surprise after all, and we all seemed to be as in a dream. Doubtless today the wounded will continue to stream in, and there are already no blankets and clothing to give them.

The night has been fairly quiet, but the thunder of bombs and shells started again soon after five this morning. How long Amoy can hold out is hard to say. We can get no reliable news as to what is going on. It is said the Japanese landed at two places on Amoy Island, and by evening had reached the city. Then word came that they had been repulsed and driven back to the place where they landed. Whether this is true or not, we do not know. Last night under cover of darkness, reinforcements came from Changchow, but the trouble is that it is almost impossible for them to hold out against a large air force. The bombs are tremendous ones, for everything here on Kulangsu shakes and shivers from the shock. Many villages are already mere heaps of ruins. In most cases the people have escaped, however, and are here on Kulangsu.

We do not expect they will attack Kulangsu, so in that respect we shall be safe. But there will be many problems, nevertheless—first, the feeding of the multitude; second, how to prepare for Japanese control of our schools, etc. We face a very difficult and trying time, and we know that God is with us and "His grace is sufficient."

A few of our people are up-country. In Changchow are Mr. and Mrs. Veensooten and little Ellie. The latter just went up on Saturday to put away winter things before the summer dampness sets in. All was so very quiet that she thought it safe to go up. Telephone connections are broken, so we can get no news of them. Mr. Vander Meer was due to return yesterday from Manila. His steamer is lying here in the outer harbor and cannot get in on account of danger from bombs. We can see it from our veranda—so near and yet so far! Then Ruth Broekema and Mr. Koeppe are up in Taigan—can't get word from them either. Mr. De Pree was in Kulangsu yesterday on business, and can't get back to Changchow, so he is here just now. All others are here on Kulangsu.

A captain from a Manila steamer is taking this for mailing, as we fear mails here may be delayed, and I want you to get this news as soon as possible.

Must run over to school to help plan what is to be done. Do not worry about us, but pray especially for us. If my letters don't tell you all you want to know from now on you'll know it's because of Japanese censorship.

With all the love you can hold,
Your own,
TENA.

Editor's note:—Since this letter was written, Amoy was taken by the Japanese.

GEORGE SCHULING GIVES
"GRAD" ADDRESS AT JAMESTOWN

"Launched, but Whither Bound" was the topic of the inspirational talk given last Tuesday night to the 10th grade graduating class of Jamestown high school by George Schuling of Holland, president of the Ottawa County Sunday School association. Mr. Schuling was the main speaker at the affair. Graduates of this year's class include Elinor J. Brouwer, Mavis De Groot, Marian J. Huizinga, Grace Petroli, Je. Howard J. Van De Bunt, Robert E. Van De Bunt, Gesina Van Heijstema, Titus W. Van Heijstema, Evelyn Van Noord, and Leona M. Wiers.

AN INTERESTING ARTICLE ON PAGE FOUR

On page four of this issue will be found when Memorial Day was first inaugurated by order of General John A. Logan, hero of the Civil War. The news is indebted to Mrs. Florence Boot, W. 11th St., for this document issued 70 years ago. The order is printed in full and signed by General Logan.

Below this order is found our own heroic dead and where they are buried, harking back from the Napoleonic War, the Mexican War, the Civil War, the Spanish-American War, and the World War. The roster shows that 184 are buried in southern soil, in the sea, in Flanders Field, and in our local cemeteries.

John Douma is the only surviving Civil War veteran remaining in Holland, and there were no deaths this year. The Spanish-American veterans had two deaths—Charles Mulder and Will Cox. The World War veterans had four "answered taps." They are Edward Elbers, Raymond Lemmen, Henry Kalmink and Dick Van Loo.

Turn to page four in this section for General Logan's order and a tabulation of the absent dead of all wars—and to page one, section two for the official Memorial Day program.

EDWY REID, ALLEGAN EDITOR, DIES AT 86

Edwy C. Reid, one of Michigan's most widely known editors, died in Allegan at the age of 86 years. He has been editor and proprietor of the Allegan Gazette for more than 65 years. He has been a power in Allegan county and can be considered the historian of that county. He was a fearless writer and his editorials were widely quoted in other publications. He served as postmaster of Allegan for nine years.

There was one tragedy in his life, when Mrs. Reid was killed in an auto accident some six years ago, and when Mr. Reid was nearly lost his life because of injuries. Two weeks ago his old home burned, together with many keepsakes of value.

Mr. Reid began his career as a printer more than 70 years ago in Osego. However, he was affiliated with a great many other things that took a great deal of his time. All his life he was a strong Republican, and was generally seen at state conventions and at national conventions. He was the strongest fighter against the liquor element Michigan ever had.

In 1872 he became associated with Don Henderson, quite a character in the newspaper business, and jointly they published the Allegan Journal, which later became the Allegan Gazette, and which was recently purchased by D. A. Alcock of Allegan.

The writer has in his possession samples of the writing of Don Henderson, which is absolutely the worst handwriting ever seen. But it is stated that the printers became so accustomed to Don Henderson's writing that they were lost without it. Henderson was an intimate friend of Horace Greeley, Arctic explorer, who was known to be the poorest writer in the U.S. Funeral services were held Tuesday in Allegan.

Surviving Mr. Reid are his son, Edwy B. Reid of Washington, D. C., who was former assistant secretary of agriculture, and is publisher of the American Banker and an official in the federal land banks, also a daughter, Mrs. Hewitt Coleman of Marshall.

Girls League for Service of Trinity Reformed church held its final meeting of the year Monday night. A trio composed of the Misses Mina Grevel, Gertrude Meengs and Mildred Baron, provided special music. Speaker for the evening was Miss Marian Bot. The Misses J. Peterson, J. Mills, and J. Doorn were in charge of refreshments.

Holland firemen about 3:45 p. m. Tuesday responded to a call from the home of Prof. B. M. Raymond, East 22nd St., where a chair had caught fire in an upper story bedroom.

At present there are 75 cases of measles in Holland, according to the report rendered this week by Dr. W. M. Tappan, city health officer. A total of 180 cases are now reported in the county.

Mrs. A. L. James, 140 East 18th St., applied for a building permit this week with City Clerk Oscar Peterson at the city hall. She seeks permission to repair her front porch at an estimated cost of $35.

Robert Vandenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vandenberg of this city, has been elected to membership in the "Circle of Friends," a French honorary society at the University of Michigan.

Firemen responded shortly before noon yesterday to a false alarm turned in at the alarm box at Central Ave. and 27th St. Fireman Dick Brandt and Police Officer Ernest Bear caught the culprit who turned out to be a six-year-old boy.

The Rev. and Mrs. Herman Hoeksema are visiting friends in this city. Rev. Hoeksema was formerly pastor of the Fourteenth St. Christian Reformed church here. Their daughter, Winifred, has returned to Presbyterian hospital, Chicago, where she is in training.

"Here Comes Charlie," a drama, will be given tonight, Friday, at the Vriesland town hall at 7:45 p. m., following a successful performance last night. In charge of the production are Kenny De Jonge, stage manager; Lois Wyngarden, music; and George Lippenga, and Floyd Ter Haar, tickets and advertising. Characters in the play are Alvin Wabeke, Ike Wyngarden, Wilma Wyngarden, Harold De Jonge, Emerson Tams, Thelma Wyngarden, Lloyd Meengs, Florence De Jonge, Lois Meengs, and Fred Nagelkirk.

The City of Amoy

The seizure of Amoy by the Japanese navy may have been intended as a diversion, which might induce the Chinese to dispatch to this southern port some of the troops that are now pressing the Japanese army in Central China.

And again it may have been the beginning of a drive against the much more considerable city of Canton, which lies about 300 miles further south.

Although still a picturesque city of some 200,000 people, Amoy is scarcely more than a shadow of its former self, when it was the center of the China tea trade a century ago.

With the decline of the tea trade, Amoy has declined in commercial importance.

The story that the cargo which figured in the Boston Tea Party was shipped from Amoy needs to be qualified.

Amoy was not opened to foreign trade until 1842.

At the time of the Boston Tea Party (1773) foreign trade with China was confined to Canton.

And for that reason it is probable that the tea subsequently dumped into Boston Harbor, if it originated at Amoy, was shipped out of Canton.

A better supported historical connection between the United States and Amoy is of record.

After we took the Philippines, Secretary Hagson ordered the Japanese government regarding the possibility of the United States leasing from China a naval station in the vicinity of Amoy.

The Japanese drew in their breath politely, frowned, and the matter was dropped.

They regard Amoy and the rest of Fukien Province, which lies across the Straits of Formosa from the island of that name, as one of their spheres of influence in China.

And now it may be that they hope to make Amoy, with its treed and templed hills, something more intimately connected with their own country than a commercial preserve on alien soil.

Maintaining Personal Efficiency. Daniel 1:8-16, 19, 20.

Henry Geertlings

Daniel, a distinguished member of the Jewish race, was captive to Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar at the beginning of the seventy-years' captivity. These captives included a number of youths from the best families. With three of his companions he was chosen for the king's service, and put in training for a period of three years, during which time they were to be fed from the king's table. They were chosen because of their surpassing physical beauty and intellectual endowment.

Daniel knew of this custom, and he had already come to a fixed and determined decision that he would not eat the king's food. He thought the matter had better be settled at the outset, so that there would be no misunderstanding once for all. Had he compromised at the beginning he would not have gained his point. But who was he that he would challenge the king's command? He did not know that the matter in question would not be brought to the king's attention.

Daniel had religious convictions, and they clashed with the custom of the Babylonians. It is probable the food and drink to be set before them had been first offered to some heathen deity, and perhaps had been prepared contrary to the practice of the Hebrews. It would, therefore have offended their consciences to partake of them. In addition, it would have been injurious to their bodies.

The nature of Daniel's request deserves to be noted. It was not an obstinate protest he offered, but a courteous and gentlemanly request, though his resolution was none the less firm. He would make his desire as reasonable as possible.

We are not to lose sight of the divine influence in giving Daniel favor with the prince who was in charge of these young men. How God did this is not revealed. It may have been by His Spirit who works upon the hearts of men, but it was also through producing in Daniel those attractive qualities and that noble character which won the favor and compassion of the prince.

The prince doubted the wisdom of acceding to Daniel's request. In the first place it was a violation of the king's command, and to go contrary to his orders put one's life in danger. It is not likely the youth from any other nation ever made such a request. In the second place, even though the prince would change the diet without reporting it to the king he could not conceal the fact if at the end of ten days these young men were in poorer physical condition than those who ate what was set before them without any question. The ancients and much stress on plumpness and pleasing, healthy appearance. The prince understood it was his business to obey orders and not to change them.

Again let us say Daniel's was no arbitrary and unreasonable request. So sincere and honest was he that he was ready to take the blame for the failure of the request he was making. If anyone was to suffer on account of his proposal he was the man, so ready was he to exonerate all others from the wrath of the king in the event his scheme did not work out.

Daniel could be called a pragmatist—one who would be willing to have the wisdom of the course proved by its results. He proposed to his guardian that they be permitted to have a vegetable diet and water instead of the various kinds of meats and imported wine and delicacies from the king's table. He could be called a vegetarian. He was willing to stake his reputation as well as his life on the outcome of his proposal. He would welcome the chance of having the physical appearance of the four of them compared with that of other young men who ate of the king's food and drank of his wine.

The three years appointed for their study had come to an end. The time for them as well as for the youths from other countries, had arrived when they were to be presented to the king. The prince who had general oversight of all of them would receive them from his subordinates and bring them into the presence of Nebuchadnezzar.

We are not to suppose that the king subjected these young men to a severe written test, or even a formal written oral examination. He probably engaged them in a free and informal conversation so as to appraise their personalities as well as their knowledge. He found the Hebrew youths far superior to all others in those difficult subjects which called for intellectual skill. They excelled the learned priests and sacred scribes who interpreted the writings of the Babylonians and the astrologers who professed to foretell future events by the appearance of the stars.

G-Man "Investigates" American Fathers

J. Edgar Hoover, Chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Gives Views on Parenthood

PUTS TRUTHFULNESS FIRST

J. Edgar Hoover, hero of every American boy and Chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, gives a G-Man's advice to parents, in an article by himself and Herbert Corey published in the current issue of Woman's Day Magazine.

Although a bachelor, there is probably no man in the United States better qualified to discuss children, for he has had more experience than any other person in the world with men who were brought up wrong as boys.

Mr. Hoover says the whole matter of good citizenship revolves around the single proposition of honesty, and for that reason he would put truthfulness first in dealing with a child. If he had a son, Mr. Hoover says, he'd tell the truth, encourage him to join the Boy Scouts, have him go to church, give him duties to perform, and urge him to take part in good rough games.

"If I had a son, I'd swear to do one thing," Mr. Hoover writes in Woman's Day. "I'd tell him the truth. I'd never let him catch me in a lie. I wouldn't skimp the truth, for little boys are sometimes very inquisitive and persistent. Some of the thousands who visit the display rooms of the Federal Bureau of Investigation will certainly grow up to be cross-examiners."

"This matter of the whole truth is doubly important because every boy is a hero-forthrighter. His inclination is to look up to his father as head of the house, a repository of all knowledge, the universal provider, the righteous judge. He cannot do so if he's continually catching him in a lie, in half-truths. A liar is a weakening and a boy admires strength. No matter how difficult it might be, I'd tell my boy the truth."

And in return I'd insist that he tell the truth. That might be hard to enforce. But though some scientists have said that all children are born liars, it's certain that the courageous telling of truth is character-builder. If my son broke a rule and told the truth I wouldn't punish him. But if he tried to take advantage of me by covering deliberate mischief with a cloak of truth I'd show him that his cheating—and penalize him for it.

"Each year a parade of rogues passes under the eyes of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. They're of all sorts—handmade, old, young, rich, ragged, plausible, murderers, thieves, forgers. They're alike only in one thing: They're all liars."

"The whole matter of good citizenship revolves around the simple proposition of honesty. A truthful boy is an honest boy. And an honest boy grows into a successful man. A thief can't be truthful; he can't afford to be. Mickey Mucker, around two corners and down a back street, wouldn't be a hero and a leader to my boys, but an unpleasant kid with bad manners and vile speech and a habit of telling lies."

Fourteen hundred musicians in sixteen bands last Saturday afternoon, for three hours, held a band review at Riverview Park. The colorful review was the final major activity of the 1938 Tulip Festival.

Sharply at 12:30 p. m. the baton twirling contest was held. Winners were Miss Maxine Kingsley of Grand Ledge high school and George Walbridge of Benton Harbor high school. Tony Smith of Holland served as judge for the contest. Eugene F. Heeter was in charge of the band twirling contest and the band review which followed. Neither the Grand Ledge band nor the Benton Harbor high school band was in Holland to participate in the band review.

Each band performed on the stadium playing field at Riverview for 10 minutes. Judges were Peter Buys, director of the Hagerstown band and orchestra school at Hagerstown, Md.; Capt. Harvey James Goughly, assistant professor of military science at Michigan State College at East Lansing; and Gerald Prescott, director of the University of Minnesota band. Major Henry Geerds was in charge of inspection of the field. Judges based their decisions on playing, 40 points; maneuvers, 30; alignment, 10; cadence, 10; and inspection, 10. Ratings of "highly superior," "superior," and "excellent" were given. Bands were divided into three divisions.

All bands were recipients of a plaque mounted with wooden shoes. A certificate denoting the rating the band received accompanied each plaque. Class A bands received checks for $20; Class B bands, $15; and Class C bands, $10. In addition, all bands participated in the sharing of 65 per cent of the net proceeds, the amount for each band being determined by the number of members multiplied by the number of miles traveled. Vaude Vanden Berg, president of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, presented awards to drum majors of winning bands at Centennial Park following the parade.

Massed bands at the park before the parade concluded their review by the playing of Sousa's "Semper Paratus," "The Stars and Stripes Forever," and "The Thunderer," under Mr. Prescott's direction; and "Tulip Festival March" under the baton of Carl Senob, Zeeland director. Mr. Senob composed the final "March." The largest single band unit was Lansing Central's 100-piece band.

In Class A, "highly superior" ratings went to Muskegon, William Stewart, Jr., director; Jackson, Hugh L. Wolcott, director; Lansing Eastern, Harold Ferguson, director; and "superior" ratings went to Grand Rapids Union, T. F. Fryfogle, director; and Lansing Central, R. W. Switzer, director.

In Class B, a rating of "highly superior" was awarded Three Rivers, Maurice J. Weed, director; and Zeeland, Carl Senob, director. "superior," Charles W. C. Hyman, director; and St. Joseph, Franklyn W. Wilse, director; and "excellent," Mason, Joseph S. Wyman, director; and Hart, John Schestag, director.

Reading all-school band of Reading with Max S. Smith as director, led Class C with "highly superior." Second division honors went to Busch high school of Center Line with Homer Haeleton as director; and Bremen, Ind., W. T. Dusanne, director. Third division ratings were shared by Mesick, Donald Moore, director; and Hudsonville, Bert Brandt, director.

Rochelle Hudson Prefers Career to College Education

Miss Rochelle Hudson, famous star of screen and radio, though madly pursued by cameramen and autograph hunters after the Tulip Time broadcast, graciously consented to be interviewed. She smiled charmingly as she answered the first question:

"What do I think of Holland's Tulip Time? I think it's perfectly delightful! I wouldn't have missed it for anything."

Q. "Are you a college woman, Miss Hudson?"

A. "No, I am not, although I do an awful lot of reading, and have had private tutors ever since I've been 14 years old. You see (she smiled) that's when I started in my present profession."

Q. "Do you ever regret the fact that you did not go to college?"

A. "Oh, sometimes. You see, during the years of college age I was working hard instead of having fun."

Q. "If you had another chance, Miss Hudson, would you choose a college career or a chance on the stage or screen?"

A. "I don't think I'd change a thing. I love my profession."

Q. "Which, would you say, is the biggest aid to a screen career, a four-year college course with dramatics included, or one year at a dramatic school?"

A. "It would depend upon the age of the individual. If he or she were young enough, I'd say both. But on the whole, I'd take the concentrated drama school course."

Q. "Who is your favorite actor among the screen celebrities, Miss Hudson?"

A. "O-o-h, Charles Boyer—I think he's tops."

Q. "And your favorite actress?"

A. "Well, she's one who has left Hollywood for the legitimate theater, but it's Helen Hayes! I think she's the greatest actress in the world today."

Q. "Do you have a favorite sport?"

A. "Oh, yes, swimming."

Q. "Which of your pictures did you enjoy making the most, Miss Hudson, and why?"

A. (Rochelle thought a moment). "I think I enjoyed making 'Curley Top' above all others, and if you'd ever worked with Shirley Temple, you'd know why; she's a smart little girl, and a grand trouper."

—Both of which may be profoundly spoken of Rochelle Hudson, in addition to the fact that her sweetness and charm made her a delightful interviewee.

and son of Hudsonville called on their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Boersens and children on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kieft and Mr. and Mrs. Abe Nederveld of Grand Haven visited Mrs. Paul Nederveld and Mr. Bert W. Ensing and family Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Klintonberg of Byron Center called on Mr. and Mrs. Edward Vanden Brink.

Mrs. Jack Collins of Grand Rapids called on Mrs. L. Van Hatten and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Van Hatten and Ray on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Kruis called on Mr. Bert Ten Brink at the Holland Home, Grand Rapids, one day last week. Mr. Ten Brink was injured by a car but not seriously.

A shower honoring Miss Emma Zagers was given at the home of Mrs. Peter Van Noord assisted by Mrs. Lewis Zagers on last Friday evening.

Dick Arlen Favors Sports; Football, Golf and Fishing

Another star who visited Holland during Tulip Time, Richard Arlen, looked, despite a few gray hairs, like a football player in his heavy orange sweater. He answered questions put to him by an Anchor reporter with a flash of white teeth in a very tan face.

"We're having a swell time," he said. "I think it's remarkable how Holland manages to keep the cheap carnival atmosphere out of Tulip Time."

Q. "You went to college, did you not, Mr. Arlen?"

A. "Yes, I attended St. Thomas college for three years."

Q. "What phase of college did you enjoy most?"

A. "Sports, football in particular. I played for three years. I didn't go in for the social stuff much." (He smiled broadly.)

Q. "Do you attend many games now, Mr. Arlen?"

A. "I certainly do, every one I possibly can. I'd drive hundreds of miles to see a good game. I almost went out to the Michigan-Minnesota game last year, but couldn't make it. Michigan ought to have a good season this year with Fritz Kreisler coaching. I've seen his teams play, and they certainly click."

Q. "How many football pictures have you made, Mr. Arlen?"

A. "About five, I think. Every one was fun to make."

Q. "Does screen football take as much energy as does the real game, Mr. Arlen?"

A. "I'd say more, having done both. I'll tell you why. You see in screen football we have to 'pull our punches,' as it were. It really is more strenuous, and takes more muscle control to be careful not to hurt anyone than it does to get in there and fight." (He grinned.)

"Gosh, I remember the last picture I made. Some of the boys forgot to be gentle, and three fellows on the University of Southern California team, really got hurt."

Q. "What are your favorite sports outside of football? You fish and hunt, don't you?"

A. "Yes, I do quite a bit of fishing. As for hunting, no. I don't like to kill animals and I never have. Outside of that, I like golf." (He frowned in much seriousness.)

"Yes, I'm taking my golf quite seriously now that I'm getting older, and grayer." (He grinned.)

Q. "In your opinion, Mr. Arlen, is a college career an aid to a screen career?"

A. No, I don't think so. In some cases, yes; but not in mine. I've learned more since I left school than during the three years I spent there."

Q. "Just one more question, Mr. Arlen, for the feminine readers. Who is your favorite actress?"

A. (Dick rubbed his chin thoughtfully). "I think Irene Dunn is my favorite. She's one of the best." (He looked up with a broad smile.) "In fact, she's triple threat, you may say. Dunn, Dunn and Dunn!—Done!"

"Done! Mr. Arlen, and thank you so very much!"

Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Schapp of Los Angeles, California, are spending a few weeks with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Schapp.

V.F.W. Notes

The next meeting will be June 9, Thursday evening at 7:45 in the V.F.W. Hall. Auxiliary meets same evening in the G.A.R. Room located in the city hall.

Our last "Plea"! Regardless of what kind of a date you have for Decoration Day, you owe this to your buddies who have passed on. Be sure to fall in the line of march Monday and also Memorial Sunday afternoon for church services at Hope Memorial chapel.

Every ex-service man, regardless if you belong to a veterans organization or not, should fall in line of march Decoration Day and Memorial Sunday.

Our adjutant and the Mrs. were seen out to the north pier fishing, and had a large mess of fish. Must be we are in luck for another fish fry in the near future. How about it, Fritz?

By all means don't forget our Poppy Day on Saturday. If you haven't any to sell, be sure to see that you get some, and do your duty. Comrade Borchers says he will dispose of at least 300 poppies.

Comrade Belder has something up his sleeve. Don't blame you for keeping it quiet until you are ready to pop the surprise, John.

Didn't know that we had such good looking ex-service men in Holland. But we surely heard a lot of compliments on the fine showing that the Vets and Legion put on at the head of the Grand Parade with massed colors last Saturday afternoon. Thanks, Sas, Lundie, Dutch Hank, Slaghs, Borchers, Huyser, Sooter and Miller!

Sorry to hear that Shud couldn't finish the parade last Saturday. Surely made a fine attempt, Shud. We feel for you.

Don't forget our V.F.W. Fun Party, Friday the 27th, at the V.F.W. Hall. The public invited.

Must be that Harold, Jr. wants to take dad's place at our meeting. We missed you, West.

How about our chicken hatchery men, Gommers, Damveld, and the ice man from Saugatuck and also our Fennville buddies. We will have to send a detail after you if you don't show up soon.

Capt. Clemens is kind of "down in the mouth" lately. The biggest mistake the Tulip Time committee ever made in the history of Tulip Time—The programs said that the Grand Haven Coast Guards would have a float in the parade. Correction—Holland Coast Guards and float. Never mind, "Cap". Better luck next time.

At a recent meeting of the common council the Veterans of Foreign Wars were given unanimous sanction to put on a "Poppy" drive this week Saturday, May 28. Headquarters for the auxiliary of this organization is Warm Friend Tavern.

Florence Tiesinga is chairman of the "Poppy" drive, and members of the auxiliary and the children of these members and soldiers will be on the streets of Holland selling cloth "Poppies" for the V.F.W.

This "Poppy" sale is for the support of the children's home at Eaton Rapids, where more than 100 children and orphans of soldiers are reared until they become old enough to take care of themselves. They are aided until they are able to go into gainful pursuits at the age of 18 years.

The proceeds of the "Poppy" sale also go to help soldiers who are taken to the hospital at Battle Creek, who receive no compensation—only hospitalization. There are nearly 1,000 patients in that hospital who have no money, but whose petty needs, such as tooth paste, cigarettes, pipes, candy and goodies are not given them unless these are purchased by the people through the "Poppies."

The local organization also provides pillow tops for wheel chairs for this hospital and gives cash donations during the year, through their department chairman, Mrs. Pearl Klagle of Battle Creek, who purchases these needs wherever there is a lack of it.

The different organizations who are near enough, also stage parties for these soldiers in the hospital at Battle Creek. Each organization puts on one of these parties annually, giving those deserving men confined there, a day of recreation. Candy is also made by different auxiliaries of the V.F.W., and this year the local organization made thirty pounds for that purpose. Many other hospitals in the state have disabled soldiers who are not forgotten.

The "Poppy" day committee is thoroughly organized, and dinner will be served to the staff who are putting on this drive Saturday. Remember, everything done in connection with this "Poppy" drive is done within the ranks of World War veterans and their auxiliaries. These "Poppies" are made by disabled soldiers and they receive a certain percentage for the making of them, in order to sustain them through life. It is truly a worthy and deserving cause, and the purchase of a "Poppy" is surely a pittance compared to the service they rendered our nation and to us.

LOCAL NEWS

Miss Marie Spychoven is visiting for a couple of weeks at the home of her parents at Central Park. She makes her home at Wab-jamega.

The grand chapter convocation of the Royal Arch Masons last Wednesday was attended by Harvey Henson of rural route No. 4, this city. Mr. Henson was delegate of R. A. M. lodge No. 143.

The Netherlands Museum, located in the Masonic Temple will be open daily from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. except Sunday, according to word released by Willard C. Wichers, district supervisor of the Historical Records Survey.

W. M. MacFarlane, who is staying at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. Curtis Snow on West 11th St., is spending a few weeks at the home of another daughter at Detroit Lakes, Minn.

A two-day institute for Red Cross secretaries at Detroit is being attended by Mrs. Mabel Vandenberg, Ottawa county executive secretary; and Mrs. Henrietta Katz of Grand Haven, northern Ottawa county secretary.

Memorial Day will be observed at Zeeland at the Lawrence St. park with Atty. J. N. Clark being chairman of the day. Rev. M. Flowerday, pastor of the M. E. church of Holland, will be the orator. Mayor Yntema will give the opening remarks at the exercises, and the Melody Men of Zeeland will furnish musical numbers. A declaration from a Zeeland high school student will be read, and Rev. C. Wood, of the Bible Witness Assembly, will give the invocation. Rev. John Van Peursem, pastor of the First Reformed Church, will deliver the Memorial Sunday service. There will be a parade with bands and decorators, who will march to the Zeeland cemetery for short exercises there.

"POPPY" HEADQUARTERS AT LEGION CLUB ROOMS

The Willard G. Leenhouts American Legion Auxiliary is all set for the "Poppy" drive, and Mrs. Franklin Van Ry heads the "Poppy" committee. Legion headquarters will be "under the clock" at River Ave. and 8th St.

The funds derived will be used for rehabilitation for local soldiers and for those confined in hospitals at Camp Custer at Battle Creek and the Soldiers' Home at Grand Rapids. Part of the funds go to the home for children of disabled veterans or orphans at Otter Lake Billiet, near Flint. More than 100 children are confined to this home and are being well cared for and educated until they become of age.

The disabled soldiers themselves make these poppies, for which they are paid—so the making, the distribution, and the aid it gives, are all correlated in soldier circles, who see to it that every penny is accounted for and goes where it does the most good. There is no waste, and the putting over of a poppy drive to the auxiliary is a matter of public spirit to those soldiers who have been less fortunate during and after the most appalling war in all history. When you are asked to buy a poppy, buy readily and liberally. The cause is so important and so deserving.

HOLLAND STORE ROBBED OF SEVERAL HUNDRED DOLLARS IN MERCHANDISE

Police Chief Frank Van Ry was informed late last week that between $500 and $600 in men's shoes and clothing had been taken some time Thursday night from the Lokker-Rutgers Co., 39 East 8th St. Entrance was believed to have been gained through a basement door, which was pried open.

According to John Sturing, at least 10 pairs of shoes, 4 or 5 topcoats, and between 16 and 20 suits were taken by the burglars. Local police had good clues upon which to work. John Kobes of the staff of the robbed store, and Detective Peter Bontekoe went to South Haven Saturday to look over two suspects held by police there.

The local police went to South Haven to interview Swart, 21, and Ocher, 23, both of Chicago. It is said that they secured damaging statements from one of them. They were held in the Paw Paw jail, and charges will be withheld, pending the outcome of prosecution by Van Buren county authorities.

Laarman; and June Ter Horst are the other members of the class. The class will present to the school as its memorial Abbey's "Reading of the Declaration." HOLLAND'S TWO '61 VETERANS UNABLE TO MARCH MAY 30

Holland's two veterans of the Civil War will not be able to take part in the regular Memorial Day services at Pilgrim Home cemetery this year. The two, John R. Douma, 91, and Swan A. Miller, 94, are confined to their residences by illness.

Douma, a native of The Netherlands, missed his first parade last year. He is very proud of the fact that he still has the gun, bayonet, mess kit and belt issued him when he enlisted. The knapsack was lost in the Holland fire in 1871.

Miller came to Holland about two years ago from Macatawa Park. He spent three years with the Union forces and then became a federal agent in the south for three years. Later he studied to be a lawyer.

OTTAWA COUNTY RECORDS ITS SEVENTH DEATH BY AUTOMOBILE SINCE JANUARY

A warrant charging negligent homicide was filed Tuesday afternoon by Prosecutor John R. Dethmers against Alex T. Kazel, (Kazelski), 26, 462 Myrtle St., N. W., Grand Rapids, whose automobile last Monday about 1:05 p. m. figured in a collision with a bicycle driven by Albert Eisen, 62, 414 Maple Ave., at the foot of Maple Ave. and Eighth St., killing Eisen.

Eisen was enroute to his work at the West Michigan Furniture Co. Ernest Overbeck, Holland high school junior, has been awarded third place in the national contest sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary, according to word received here by Mrs. John Roseboom, Fidac chairman of the auxiliary. Total of the state award is $5. Overbeck and Miss Martha Volkema each received $3 recently as winners of the local contest.

HEAD LETTUCE 2 FOR 15c

The A and P announcement on the last page of this issue lists Head Lettuce at 2 for 15c. It should have read 2 for 15c. The new self-serve Super A and P Market has recently been opened at the corner of River Ave. and 10th St. in the new Mass building.

Memorial Day Was Started May 5, 1868 By General Logan's Orders

Decoration Day harks back many years. It was inaugurated by General John A. Logan, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic at Washington, D. C., on May 5, 1868. Mrs. Florence Boot, who has held many honored positions in the Women's Relief Corps, both local, state and national, covering a period of years, has a copy of this order, which she prizes very highly.

This order is incut in a second order sent to all Women's Relief Corps, dated March 26, 1887, May 30, as a sacred day; and it is asked that each member of the Women's Relief Corps assist in its fitting observance. The order states: "May our hearts be intuned with nature as we reverently gather to pay loving tribute to the sleeping soldiers of all wars. Our gratitude for their heroic deed is beyond expression."

The order includes the following poem:

"Carry your gifts of flowers
In memory of the brave,
Strew them thickly like summer showers
Over each soldier's grave."

The above is sent from National Headquarters of the Women's Relief Corps Auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic, from Parsons, Kansas.

Below is found the order of General Logan in possession of Mrs. Florence Boot, 62 West 11th St., Holland:

GENERAL LOGAN'S MEMORIAL DAY ORDERS

Headquarters Grand Army of the Republic,
Washington, D. C., May 5, 1868.

General Orders

No. 11

I. The 30th day of May, 1868, is designated for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion, and whose bodies now lie in almost every city, village, and hamlet prescribed in the land. In this observance no form or ceremony is such fitting services and testimonials of respect as circumstances may permit.

We are organized, comrades, as our regulations tell us, for the purpose, among other things, "of preserving and strengthening the kind and fraternal feelings which have bound together the soldiers, sailors, and marines who united to suppress the late rebellion." What can aid more to assure this result than by cherishing the memory of our heroic dead, who made their breasts a barricade between our country and its foes? Their soldier lives were the reveille of freedom to a race in chains, and their deaths a tattoo of rebellious tyranny in arms. We should guard their graves with sacred vigilance. All that the consecrated wealth and taste of the Nation can add to their adornment and security is but a fitting tribute to the memory of her slain defenders. Let no wanton foot tread coming and going of reverent visitors and fond mourners. Let no vandalism of avarice or neglect, no ravages of time, testify to the present or to the coming generations that we have forgotten, as a people, the cost of a free and undivided Republic.

If other eyes grow dull and other hands slack, and other hearts cold in the solemn trust, ours shall keep it well as long as the light and warmth of life remain in us.

Let us, then, at the time appointed, gather around their sacred remains and garland the passionless mounds above them with choicest flowers of springtime; let us raise above them the dear old flag pledged to aid and assist those whom they have left among us; a sacred charge upon the Nation's gratitude—the soldier's and sailor's widow and orphan.

II. It is the purpose of the Commander-in-Chief to inaugurate this observance with the hope that it will be kept up from year to year, while a survivor of the war remains to honor the memory of his departed comrades. He earnestly desires the public press to call attention to this order, and lend its friendly aid in bringing it to the notice of comrades in all parts of the country in time for simultaneous compliance therewith.

III. Department commanders will use every effort to make this order effective.

By command of

JOHN A. LOGAN,
Commander-in-Chief.

N. P. CHIPMAN,
Adjutant General.

Members of the Woman's Relief Corps, attend the services on Memorial Sunday and Memorial Day. Invite the children to assist in these services that the significance of the occasion may be instilled in their lives.

Do not forget the soldier and sailor dead who sleep in graves unwept because unknown or heath the ocean wave.

"Rest, hero, rest. Thy spirit lives again."

By command of

IDA HEACOCK-BAKER,
National President.
EMMA W. CAMPBELL,
National Secretary.

Co., 195 West Eighth St., when he was struck. He was turning west on Eighth St. from Maple Ave. when Kassel's car, which was proceeding west on Eighth St., ran him down. Eisen suffered a crushed head, skull fracture, and deep cuts in neck and throat, which were instrumental in severing several neck arteries.

The charge against Kassel followed a conference of Prosecutor Dethmers and Coroner Gilbert Vander Water.

Kassel's car was damaged by the impact of the crash, on the driver's side, and the window on the driver's side was shattered. Eisen's body was taken to Mibbelink-No-tier funeral parlors.

Eisen was a charter member of Sixteenth St. Christian Reformed church. He was older at the church at the time of his death. He had lived in Holland some 35 years, coming here from his home in Germany. The widow, and a brother in Germany survive.

Funeral services for Eisen were conducted Thursday at 1:30 p. m. from the home, and at 2:00 p. m. from Sixteenth St. church, the Rev. Peter Jonker officiating. Burial took place in Pilgrim Home cemetery. Eisen's death brought Ottawa county's automobile accident death toll to seven since Jan. 1.

Kazel was released under $500 bond Wednesday awaiting examination before Justice of Peace John Galien. Examination was set for 1:30 p. m. Tuesday after Kazel furnished the bond. Charges against the driver of the death car are that he drove his car at 40 miles per hour—so as to endanger the lives of others—and that he failed to keep a proper lookout before his vehicle.

Holland Buys Site For Coast Guard Station

guard improvements in the 10th district, it was apparent today that the Holland coast guard unit at Ot-tawa Beach will receive a new coast guard station. Capt. E. J. Clemons of the Holland station, and William M. Connelly, manager of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, were informed by the Grand Haven coast guard office that work on the new station would begin as soon as a site had been chosen for its erection.

The site which the local committee thinks appropriate is on the north side of the channel in the position of former Hotel Ottawa. Trustees of the segregated assets of the First State Bank own the property under consideration.

Mr. Connelly appointed the committee which, together with Capt. Clemons, will work on the selection of the new site. Committee members are Edward Brouwer, chairman of Holland city council's public improvement committee; Vaudie Vandenberg, president of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, and Harry Harrington of the Holland harbor board.

Holland's present station, which is located on the south side of the channel, was constructed in 1883. In 1935, the coast guard department offered to erect a new station if an approved site on the north side of the channel could be obtained by the Holland Chamber of Commerce. By means of a bill passed by the state legislature through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, the department of conservation may need the required land to the government.

The coast guard station of today is the same as the one built 55 years ago, with the exception that a wing was put to the east. Some interior renewals were made, but otherwise the station is the same as was built when Capt. Charles Morton, the first skipper, came here to supervise the work. When the station was under roof the revenue cutter "Andy Johnson" brought the equipment and anchored here for a few days until the equipment was installed. Only one or two of the first crew are now living. Captain Morton passed away in July, 1913. He was the father of Mrs. Mabel Vandenberg of the local Red Cross.

Only Holland Living Pioneer Dies At 94

WAS A MERE CHILD WHEN
VAN RAALTE CAME IN 1847

The funeral services for Jacob Vander Veen, who died Tuesday, May 17, at the age of 94 years, were held Friday, May 20, at 2:30 o'clock at St. John's Episcopal church at Grand Haven, Rev. Henry Hanson officiating, with interment in Lake Forest Cemetery in that city.

The passing of Mr. Vander Veen, the only living survivor of the intrepid little band who followed Dr. Van Raalte when he settled at the head of Black Lake, founding what now is Holland, takes away the last person living, who was a part of that little community.

Mr. Vander Veen was born on February 8, 1844, and left The Netherlands with his parents as a mere child in 1847 to come to Holland. It took 66 days to cross the ocean and 25 days to travel from New York to the Holland colony. Mr. Vander Veen's father was an expert copper smith, but death took him away early, two years after the family had arrived.

The mother, however, carried on, opening a small hardware store on the property back of the old Harrison store on College Ave., between 8th and 9th Sts. At that time, however, College Ave. was called Cedar St. It is only natural that many of our streets were named after trees, Pine and Maple still surviving. The mother purchased this property from the founder, Van Raalte, for $43.00 and the effects of Mr. Vander Veen will show that he possessed the original deed to this transfer. Before purchasing this property, the family lived in a shack in the woods. That was not so unusual considering that nearly everything was woods around here.

The family attended church when Dr. Van Raalte preached in one room in a barn. The services were from 9:00 a. m. until noon and then the children were required to attend a catechism class from 1:00 p. m. until 4:00 p. m. Mr. Vander Veen recalled that the founder was a very strict teacher. He also recalled how the members attended a log church where Pilgrim Home cemetery is now located.

As the last living survivor of Dr. Phelps' class at Hope College he remembered well the founding of that institution which has become nationally known. Dr. Phelps was the first president and with his family he occupied a part of Van Vleck Hall, then the only structure of importance on the rather uncared for campus, then a veritable virgin forest.

Mr. Jacob Vander Veen was a graduate from the preparatory school of Hope in the class of 1861. Three original hand-made chests, which his parents brought from The Netherlands with their household goods and linens and an old dust pan which his father made 100 years ago will be found among his possessions. The dust pan is still in use.

The Vander Veen family moved to Grand Haven in 1861. Jacob Vander Veen established himself in business as a druggist. He was in business for 35 years. Mr. Vander Veen is an uncle of the Vander Veen family of Holland.

After spending several years in New York with large drug companies he went to Grand Haven and established the Vander Veen Drug store, which he conducted until 1914 when he sold out.

He was city treasurer for various terms and in the early 80's was chief of the fire department. He was a member of St. John's Episcopal church and served as a vestryman for 40 years. He regularly attended services and passed the contribution plate until last September when he attended for the last time.

As the surviving member of the Van Raalte colony he was paid homage by the city of Holland at various celebrations held in this city recently to mark the coming of the Dutch to western Michigan. At the last celebration in February he was unable to attend for the first time.

Jacob Vander Veen was widely known throughout the county as for many years he was chairman of the Democratic county committee, always a Democrat and for years was a power in that party in this section.

He was sent to Washington, D. C., at one time to establish the citizenship of the late Jacob Den Herder of Zeeland, who was a member of the electoral college at the time of the election of Rutherford B. Hayes and Samuel Tilden. The college was tied and for a few days this country remained without a president. It was at the time the late Sen. T. W. Ferry was at the height of his power and he, as president of the senate, was looked upon as head of the country during the Hayes-Tilden controversy. It was alleged that Den Herder was not a naturalized citizen and Mr. Vander Veen was among a group from the county that established that he was.

Mr. Vander Veen was buried from the church in Grand Haven, which he supported for over 30 years and in which he was a vestryman for 40 years.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Kate Pippel who has made her home with her father; two sons, Claude F. Vander Veen, well known insurance man in Grand Haven, and Maurice of Grand Rapids; also by seven grandchildren.

Mr. Vander Veen was a very high on its excellence of performance and the way it responded to the direction of a strange director.

150 PHEASANT EGGS WILL BE HATCHED FOR CLUB AT COOPERSVILLE

The North Ottawa Rod and Gun club has completed arrangements for incubation of 150 pheasant eggs at the Hillcrest Hatcheries in Coopersville. The eggs will be set soon and when hatched, the birds will be released in North Ottawa.

Progress is reported in the fish hatchery project and O. Frank Sanders, chairman of the committee on skeet shooting, expects to submit a report at the next meeting of the club, to be called soon, officials said.

HOPE MISSIONARY GRADUATE RECEIVES DEGREE AT UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

Word has been received here from Union Theological seminary at New York city that among those receiving degrees at Union's commencement May 17, was John Ter Borg of this city, graduate of Hope college in the class of 1919. Mr. Ter Borg, who has been a minister in Japan, received the degree of Master of Theology.

Ninety-seven degrees were awarded at Union this year, nine denominations are represented on the Union faculty at present, and over thirty during the current year among the students.

Of interest to local persons is the fact that several professors are retiring this year at Union. Among them are Dr. Hugh Black, author of "On Friendship" and other books, and Dr. James Moffatt, well-known for his daring and scholarly translation of the Bible.

Mr. Ter Borg is a missionary in Japan and came to America for a year to study. He married Miss Amelia Sywassink, who was graduated from Hope in 1918. They were co-workers in the mission field in the Orient, having been there for some years.

HIGH AUDITORIUM FILLED TO HEAR AND CONCERT

About 500 persons attended the band concert presented last Friday night in Holland high school auditorium by the Holland American Legion band. Peter Buys of Hagerstown, Md., director of the Hagerstown band and orchestra school and vice-president of the American Bandmasters' Association, directed the second half of the concert, which was comprised of Mr. Buys' compositions.

Eugene F. Heeter, director of the American Legion band, was in charge of the first half of the program. In appreciation to Mr. Buys for the dedication of his first composition, a march, "Down Tulip Lane," to the citizens of Holland, David Karsten and Faith Den Herder, dressed in Dutch costumes, presented Mr. Buys with two bouquets of tulips.

Numbers played by the band were Bach "Corale," "National Victor's March," "Tantulusqualen Overture," "Memories of Stephen Foster," and the following compositions of Mr. Buys: "Faith Eternal," "The Gateway to the South," "Auld Acquaintance," "The Governor," and the "Rotarian March."

Gordon Berkel played a clarinet solo, "Sonnambula," by Thornton. He was accompanied by Gerard Hanchett at the piano. "The Star Spangled Banner" concluded the program. Ushers for the occasion were Legionnaires.

Mr. Buys commended the band highly on its excellence of performance and the way it responded to the direction of a strange director.

Official Program for Memorial Day. All Exercises at Pilgrim Home Cemetery

Below is found the official program of Memorial Day, Sunday and Monday. This year there have been a few changes. Memorial Sunday service, formerly held in different churches on different years in the morning, is now held in Hope Memorial Chapel at 8:00 o'clock in the afternoon; and Rev. Wm. Van't Hof, pastor of the Third Reformed church, will deliver the address. Every year a different pastor of a different denomination is selected.

This year fell to the pastor of the above-named church, the changing of the services from the church to the beautiful chapel at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon, when there are few other services in progress, has been very satisfactory the last few years.

One radical change was the fact that the speaking program in Centennial Park, usually beginning at 9:30 a. m., will now be held at the Soldiers' Monument in Pilgrim Home Cemetery. In other words, the parade will precede the program, starting sharply at 9:30 o'clock. As soon as the line of march arrives at Pilgrim Home cemetery, the speaking program will begin, and this order will proceed right through to the decoration of the graves—and the program, once subdivided, will now continue right through without intermission of a parade, which now comes first. That reminds one of a little history. Many years ago the parade also came first, and the line of march extended to the extreme east limits of 8th St., then went on Fairbanks Ave., took a bee-line cross-lots to a grove where the first log church stood on the crest of the hill at Pilgrim Home Cemetery.

In those days this bee-line was lined with trees and went directly by the home of Dr. Van Raalte, the founder. This bee-line in reality was the old Allegan road into this city, going by the Fairbanks property in the vicinity of Ebenezer. That was many years ago, and the grove now is pretty well depleted—the trees, which still remain, being annexed to the cemetery many years ago.

Anyway, the program, the line of march, the parade formation, the speaker and orator of the day, the chaplain who delivers the Sunday afternoon service, and the program of this service, are all found below on this page. Some minor changes may be made, but on the whole, it is official.

PANCAKE FESTIVAL AT GLENN RECALLS DAYS OF BLIZZARD

This Allegan county hamlet which gained nation-wide attention last December when 60 trucks and 100 cars were stalled here when the highways were snowbound, is to glorify the event May 27, 28 and 29 by the first Pancake festival.

The pancake festival idea as the result of the three-day blizzard which kept so many persons snowbound here that restaurants and housewives were able to present only one item on their bill of fare—pancakes.

Delores St. John, 17-year-old high school pupil, has been named as queen of the festival and will be crowned Friday night. Claude Rogers is in charge of the general event.

EIGHT PETITIONS ARE FILED FOR CANDIDACIES ON SOIL CONSERVATION BODY

Nominations as candidates for three places on the board of directors for the soil conservation district, recently set up by the state soils commission for seven townships in Western Ottawa county, were closed Friday night at five o'clock.

There were eight petitions filed, including C. G. Whistler, manager of the farm bureau, from Robinson township; Albert Steggers, Oliver; Frank Garbrecht, Port Sheldon; George Wendt, Park; D. H. S. Rymer, Spring Lake; Frank Hendrych, and Robert McCarthy, Grand Haven; Marinus Sorenson, Crocker.

These petitions, bearing 25 or more names, were filed last night in the county agent's office at the courthouse and will be forwarded immediately to the state soils commission office at Lansing, for preparation of ballots for the referendum which is to be held some time within the next 80 days. Hunter Hering, a member of the directorate, appointed by the commission, stated he believed the date would be around June 20.

A list of polling officials to be in charge of the voting at the town halls of the respective townships has been sent to the state commission for approval and appointment.

L. R. Arnold, county agent, has been suggested as official superintendent; Solon Pull, Nunica, and Emil Lindberg, Fruitport, representing Crocker township; Bernard DeWitt and John L. Shoemaker, Spring Lake; Harry Pellegrom and Robert Schiel, Grand Haven; Casemier Schinkel and Albert Heyn, Robinson; Theodore Chelant and Herman Bakker, Port Sheldon; William Owens and Jacob Kraai, Olive township; Robert Christobel and Nick Stielstra, Park township.

Hunter Hering, Crocker, and Clarence Reenders, Grand Haven township, have been appointed directors by the state commission and three directors must be elected at the referendum. The directors will have charge of the work to be done to prevent wind erosion in the seven townships under state supervision, the cost to be borne by the state and federal governments—in other words, the taxpayer.

MRS. WAYER IS THE GUEST SPEAKER AT GRAND HAVEN

Artistic arrangements of tulips and iris in rose and blue and harmonizing tapers in crystal holders formed the table decorations for the annual Mothers and Daughters banquet held at the First Reformed church last night. The speakers' table was centered with snapdragons in shades of pink and rose and bouquets of flowers reflecting the color scheme used at the tables were placed about the rooms. The banquet was sponsored by the Anchor Bible class.

Mrs. J. Wayer of Holland was the guest speaker. Her subject was "Our First Lady."

Mrs. Chris Westhof, teacher of the class, opened with prayer which was followed by a song service led by Miss Berdena Huttenge. Miss Allegra Sletual, president of the class, welcomed the 160 mothers and daughters present and introduced the toastmistress, Miss Louise De Gijpper. Robert Verwoert sang, "Mother MacRee" accompanied by Mrs. Ed Roberts. The toast to the mothers was given by Miss Winifred Fisher and Mrs. J. R. Euwema responded.

Mrs. Robert Kammeraad entertained with a reading and a piano solo, "A Scottish Tone Picture" was given by Mrs. H. J. Verhoeks. The banquet was closed with a hymn and the Mespah benediction.

Mrs. Wayer, the speaker and Mrs. Westhof, teacher of the class, sponsoring the banquet, were presented with bouquets of snapdragons.

OTTAWA COUNTY STILL HAS THIRTEEN SAW MILLS

Ottawa county has thirteen saw mills and bolt mills that produced about 1,691,000 board feet of lumber per year, it is revealed in a survey of Lower Michigan's timber industry recently completed by Prof. Willett F. Ramsdell, of the University of Michigan's School of Forestry and Conservation.

The mills of the county employed 54 men for a total of 2791 man days for the year 1935, which was covered by the study, according to Professor Ramsdell. The production for that year, he found, was approximately 100 per cent of the county's average for a recent five-year period.

Tulip Notes

A 1912 model touring car last Saturday carried three Charlotte young men to Holland Tulip Festival. Three hours were required in driving the 75 miles to Holland. The three men were Don King, Floyd Littich, owner of the car, and Lynn Frever. As a reward for their perseverance, the men were allowed to drive their "hack" in Saturday's parade.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kobes, 234 West 18th St., had as guest last week-end Mr. Kobes' cousin, Jan Dornbos of Sassenheim, The Netherlands. Mr. Dornbos is a tulip exporter and sends tulips from his 40-acre farm to Germany, England, France, and this country.

The following is an excerpt from a letter received at the Holland Chamber of Commerce office from Miss Ruth A. Robbel of Milwaukee, Wis.:

"Although last week-end was rather damp, I must congratulate the Holland citizens for going ahead with their plans and having the parade and Klompen dance. This is the first time I have attended your festival and I shall never forget it. It was the loveliest, most colorful occasion of its kind I have ever seen, and I would have liked to have had time to have stayed the entire week just to see the tulips and the costumed people."

W. H. Jones of Maracaibo, Venezuela, South America, traveled perhaps farther than any other Tulip Time visitor to see Holland's festival. Mr. Jones, in all, traveled 3,000 miles, making the trip to Chicago by plane in 24 hours. Mr. Jones, who represents the Venezuela Concrete Products Co., came here to do business with the Duffy Manufacturing Co. He commended the people of Holland upon their fine festival observance.

In the May issue of the "Forty and Eight," American Legion magazine, Holland's Tulip festival gets due publicity. The article reads:

"Down in the lower peninsula a new venture was formed in the town of Holland, famed nationally for its tulips, and whose ladies visit every national convention dressed in the quaint and picturesque costume of Dutch girls. A wreck was scheduled for Holland on April 23rd, with Lansing 946 putting on the ritualistic degrees Box cars from Grand Rapids 553 and Muskegon 708 led Voyageurs from all over the state in the parade preceding the wreck."

The following in the Los Angeles "Times" is sent by Nat Robbins, Jr., of the movie star city. Mr. Robbins was formerly identified with the DePre Co. and for several years lived on Central Ave. in the home now owned by Chester Van Tongeren. The "Times" says the following: "Richard Arlen will travel from New York to Holland, Mich., to be master of ceremonies at the opening of the tulip season there. Holland, Mich., raises bulbs and the celebration is similar to that held in Holland, Europe."

"De Auto," a magazine published in De Hague, Netherlands, gives four pages to our Tulip Festival. A half page is devoted to a single picture showing the Nells Tulip Farm on Lakewood Boulevard. The scrappers on the streets are also shown. The descriptive matter deals with the transplanting of those Dutch features and traditions from Holland in Europe to Holland in Michigan. The Dutch name, Mayor Geerlings, is given in the article, together with the rest of the aldermen and city officials. It is pointed out that these names are truly Holland; and they include Drinkwater, who hails from England when a lad, but is today as loyal an American as breathes in this country. The magazine states, "Up de stadstraat. They have such names as Vogelzang, Prins, Kleis, Bultman, Zuidema, Oudemool, Stefens, Brouwer, Kalkman, Smit, Menken, Ketel and Huyser." Well, Holland's aldermanic body, judging from these names, has rather a Dutch complex. Drinkwater's name is spelled the same in Dutch; however, the aldermen who are not strictly Dutch are Art from the second ward, and Smith from the sixth.

This festival has been visited by more out-of-town photographers than at any previous one. Here is a sample of a note from Harry C. Elmore, a South Bend photographer: "I was in your city Monday for a few hours and enjoyed the Tulip display very much. I made a few 'shots' and the South Bend News Times used five of them and the Tribune one. I had with me as guests the Mother Superior of St. Mary's College, and the dean of studies of St. Mary's Academy and the Director of Publicity of both schools. They were so delighted with the trip that they are going to make it an annual event in their activities."

A LETTER OF APPRECIATION

May 17, 1938

Chamber of Commerce, Holland, Michigan.

Gentlemen:

I would appreciate it if you would advise me the names of some of the shops in Holland handling wooden shoes, from 'souverein size up, Dutch dolls, and costumes.

I spent last week-end enjoying your "Tulip Festival" thoroughly and did make some souvenir purchases, but failed to note the names of the shops for future reference, and would greatly appreciate having this. My time was too limited for everything I wished to do and therefore may be wanting to make some purchases by mail.

Although last week-end was rather damp I must congratulate the Holland citizens for going ahead with their plans and having the parade and "Klompen" Dance. This is the first time I have attended your Festival and I shall never forget it. It was the loveliest, most colorful occasion of its kind that I have ever seen, and I would have liked to have had time to have stayed the entire week just to see the tulips and the interesting costumed people.

Thanking you for any information you can give, I am
Yours truly,
(Miss) Ruth A. Robbel,
1600 E. Olive St.,
Sherwood, Milwaukee, Wis.

Postmaster Louis J. Vanderburg and Superintendent of Mails Gerit A. Bax, both of the local post-office staff, went to Benton Harbor Monday to attend the two-day session of Michigan postmasters and mail supervisors held there.

But It's True

The letter to Mr. Bent was written by Harvey Smith and was mailed in Dayton, Ohio, in 1899. There was never an adequate explanation as to the delay. Mr. Bent had moved from the address used on the envelope, but still lived in Cleveland, and does yet.

The purpose of the exception, as far as Francis Scott Key's grave is concerned, is to make true always the line in Key's "Star-Spangled Banner": "Gave proof through the night that the flag was still there." Byrnes, in business in Tokyo for the last 22 years, became a subject of the Emperor in 1933.

The De Luxe Ford V-8

8-cylinder ENTHUSIASM

"The quality, service and economy of the De Luxe Ford V-8 are without parallel in any car on the market in the low-price field today."

JOHN W. JACKSON

"This is the sixth V-8 that I have purchased. I buy one each year and want to congratulate you on the fact that each one has been an improvement."

MLO J. FRYE

"For the past ten years I have been driving more expensive cars. I did not know how I would like a lower priced car, but am very pleased at my decision. There is, in my opinion, no car on the market that equals the 1938 De Luxe Ford V-8, either in beauty or comfort, and every one knows of its power."

FRANK CALDER

The De Luxe Ford V-8 is a big, stylish and roomy car—with a large, convenient luggage compartment. Its economy is in keeping with the Ford tradition. In short, everything about this car is as luxurious as its famous V-type 8-cylinder engine. That's why the De Luxe Ford V-8 sets an entirely new standard of quality in the low-price field. One brief spell at the wheel will show you what "V-8 quality" means!

MURRAY TAKES PLACE OF KALKMAN ON POLICE STAFF PASSING WITH HONORS

Harvey J. Murray, 24, 29 East 19th St., was named recently by the board of police and fire commissioners at its regular meeting, to fill the vacancy in the police department caused by the resignation recently of Lieut. Ben Kalkman. Murray passed with highest scores in recent weeks a series of tests laid down by the board in an effort to eliminate the many aspirants for the job. Murray was formerly a member of the staff of the U. S. Coast Guard station.

John Donnelly, chairman of the board, turned Murray over to Chief of Police Frank Van Ry Tuesday. He will be on night cruiser duty with Officer Neal Plagenhoef for a six-months' probationary period, at a salary of 45 cents per hour. Following a report by Fire Chief Cornelius J. Blom, Jr., that oil transport trucks parking on the south side of West Eighth St., near the Citizens' Transfer and Storage Co., are creating a fire hazard, Commissioner Andrew Hyma made a motion that the chief contact the owners of the trucks and ask for a cessation of such activities. The measure was passed.

A report was made by Donnelly that he had written fire equipment manufacturers for specifications for a new truck, but had received no answers. The form to be filled out by applicants for police jobs was approved, as was the erection of a sign in front of Cunningham's pool room on East Eighth St. Chief Van Ry and his department were commended by the board for their excellent control of traffic over last week end. Justice John Galien rendered a report of $6.20 in officers' fees for the month of April.

Atson was born Monday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Kramer, 122 East 25th St.

COTTON MOUTH MOCCASIN

By Jack Peterson
WPA Recreational Leader

This snake is large and stout of body, dull olive or brown on top with abdomen yellow with black or brown blotches. It has a mouth that is large, and looks as though the edge of the lips were covered with cotton. It is a very poisonous water snake, a member of the viviparous family to which the rattlesnakes belong. In its native home in the south it lives in the bayous and swamps, and has a very ugly disposition. It is a remarkable fact that these same reptiles in the zoos become gentle and very lazy and live well in captivity. Its length full grown would be 4 1/2 feet and about 8 inches at the thickest part of the body. We are fortunate in not having this type of snake in Michigan. Many of our harmless water snakes in this state are killed because folk mistake them for Cotton Mouth Moccasins. Once seen you will never fail to recognize this very dangerous snake, which in the south are very numerous.

FARM AGENT TELLS ABOUT GRASS

Seeding of alfalfa and smooth brome grass is a pasture which will become quite common in Michigan dairy farms. This mixture gives a permanent pasture, something very essential to low cost production of milk. County Agent, Arnold, states that one farm agent has informed him that 2,100 pounds of smooth brome grass was sold in his county. Dairy men in many counties are becoming interested. The dairy department Michigan State College is urging the planting of this pasture crop.

Smooth brome is palatable, drought-resistant, perennial grass. It is particularly valuable for July and August pasture. Some dairy men pasture alfalfa. Through inclusion of brome a much better pasture is made. The brome saves the alfalfa to a great extent. The cows will first graze on the brome. This eliminates danger of bloat.

Some brome will be planted in Ottawa County in 1938. The brome grass develops slowly. Seed planted in 1938 will not show up well until 1940. However, one can use the alfalfa as a hay crop in 1938.

Bulletins giving detailed information on alfalfa-brome mixture are available at the farm agent's office. One will be sent upon request.

Traveling Around America

AS DUTCH AS HOLLAND!

HERE'S a little town in the Caribbean that looks as if it had strayed across the ocean from Holland. It is Willemstad, the capital and chief port for Curacao, one of the six islands which form the Dutch West Indies—a port on the route of the weekly cruises from New York to the West Indies and South America.

The town is spread out along the seashore and is cut through the center by what seems to be a canal, but which is really a channel leading from the sea to a large inland bay behind the town and another canal leading at right angles also cuts the city. The delicately thatched houses with red-tiled roofs have curving eaves and tiny peaks and gables which betray their Dutch ancestry; the spotlessly clean streets and the "canales" with their quaint poston bridges also suggest Holland. Dutch also is the official language, though English and Spanish are spoken also, particularly by the upper classes. The natives, however, use a jargon called papiamentoe which is made up of Dutch, Spanish, English, Portuguese and Indian. It's little wonder that their language has become mixed, for forty different nationalities are represented in the population of the island and street scenes present a perfect pageant of colorful costumes.

HERE IS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN OLD FASHIONED HOT WATER SERVICE

AND

Automatic Gas Hot Water Service

Both of these gentlemen have hurried home for a quick bath. One owns an Automatic Gas Water Heater, the other doesn't. One will be in fine humor for the annual clam bake, Elk's supper or wherever they're going—the other won't.

One of the many nice things about an Automatic Gas Water Heater is that it never lets you down when you need hot water quickly—for it keeps a goodly store of it on hand at all times, waiting for you to open the hot water faucet.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By CORA ANTHONY
Director A&P Kitchen

THE first long week-end of the summer season brings home the necessity of stocking up for picnics and unexpected guests. All meats are higher so that preference rather than price can determine whether fried chicken, roast beef, lamb, veal or pork or baked ham will have the place of honor on your table. Melons and peaches are more plentiful. The strawberry season is creeping north. Pineapples are still abundant and low in price. Green peas and beans, spinach, squash and salad greens are all inexpensive and of good quality. Fish quality and prices are attractive. Eggs are somewhat higher and butter lower. Here are three seasonable dinner menus.

Low Cost Dinner
Smoked Pork Butt
Boiled Potatoes
Creamed New Cabbage
Bread and Butter
Rhubarb Pie
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
