Pythians To Hold Special Memorial Day

ATTY. DETHMERS TO BE THE SPEAKER OF THE DAY

While next week Tuesday will be a Memorial Day for the soldier dead and the Memorial Sunday sermon will be delivered next Sunday in Hope Memorial Chapel, the Knights of Pythias of Holland, and for that matter throughout the United States, will also hold their own Memorial Day in respect to their absent brothers.

This is to be held Sunday, when all Pythians will meet at Castle Lodge on River Ave. and Eighth St. at 11:45 a. m. and will go by automobile to the cemeteries, where they will hold short exercises and decorate the graves of the departed brothers. This order was given by Dick A. Japenga, chancellor commander, Castle Lodge No. 153 Knights of Pythias.

This has been an institution once each year since the lodge was organized more than 45 years ago, and the public is welcome, as well as relatives and friends of Pythians. The exercises are short, lasting from 11:45 until 12:30 noon.

The first on the program is the decoration of the graves, when the members of the Pythian lodge march from grave to grave, and different members have garlands which are laid on the grave until all have been decorated. After the decoration, there is a short program under the trees in Pilgrim Home cemetery. The program follows:

Opening remarks by Dick A. Japenga, C. C.; prayer by Albert Van Zoeren, prelate; hymn by the Pythian quartet—Vernon D. Bruce Cate, Wm. C. Vandenberg, Jr., Truce Van Leeuwen, George R. Bosworth; address by Atty. John R. Dethmers.

What Others Think of the Tulips

Mr. E. R. Kennedy of Galesburg, Ill., pictured above with Alderman Wm. C. Vandenberg, together with Mrs. Kennedy were guests of the city Thursday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy were very much impressed with the celebration put on by Holland, and Mr. Kennedy stated before leaving that in his opinion Tulip Time is as nearly perfect as a project of this nature can be. He stated he had been hearing about Tulip Time for several years but had not imagined it could be so wonderful. He felt too that if Holland continued to keep it on as high a plane as it is at present, that it was bound to continue as an outstanding annual event. In fact, Mr. Kennedy became so enthusiastic when he saw the "city fathers" and others in costume during Tulip week, that he himself made up his mind to participate in the festivities. So, out he went, donned a costume, as evidenced by the snapshot. Mrs. Kennedy is likewise an energetic booster of Tulip week, and thought the celebration marvelous. One of their home city Galesburg, one of the largest railroad centers in the country, both Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy are very active in civic affairs.

WILLIAM HATTON AND GUESTS APPRECIATE HOL- LAND AND TULIP FESTIVAL

Holland City News
Holland, Michigan.

Dear Ben:

I want to congratulate the people of Holland for the magnificent show they put on last week. We had three ladies come over from St. Claire and we took them down and made a survey of the whole area. We visited the Little Netherlands, and to me it was very impressive in conveying to the people of Holland the kind of a layout that their ancestors were raised in.

I have said many times that if all of the people in this country were of the same type as the Dutch, we would have a different country to live in. I naturally have a sincere regard for the Dutch ancestry when New York was Amsterdam. Of course, they have inherited to quite some extent, the stubbornness of the race, but a stubbornness on the right side.

I am sending your papers to our agent in The Netherlands who, I am sure, will be very pleased to see them.

With kind regards,
Sincerely yours,
William Hatton.

Mrs. T. L. Kennedy from Oak Park, Ill., and Mrs. C. Samuelson and Mrs. W. E. Votruba from Traverse City have returned to their home after visiting their parents. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Keppel. They were called home by the illness of their father. Mr. Keppel's condition is somewhat improved.

The pupils of the West Drenthe school presented an interesting miscellaneous program on Friday last week, being the last day in school for the pupils there. Certificates for perfect attendance records were awarded to Stanley Louwsma and June Doezman.

Head of Dutch Hospitality Club gives 'Big Brothers' Wooden Shoes

ruler of Holland Lodge, B.P.O.E., Mr. Kronmeyer, Mr. Burch, Mr. McKay.

The shoes were presented to Mr. Burch as a token of friendship between the local lodge and the Grand Lodge and to Mr. McKay as a token of friendship between the local lodge and the Grand Rapids Lodge, B.P.O.E.

Church Music At Services For Memorial

OFFICIAL PROGRAM FOUND ON NEXT PAGE

Prof. Bruce Raymond
Orator of the Day

Memorial Day week starts next Sunday at 3 o'clock at beautiful Hope Memorial chapel. The Rev. J. Vanderbeek, pastor of Sixth Reformed church, will deliver the sermon. The choir of the church will also take part and furnish the special music during the services.

All military organizations will march from their respective headquarters shortly after 2 o'clock, and a special section of the chapel will be set aside for the soldiers and their auxiliaries, who will come with their flags and in uniform.

The time was set for 3 o'clock a few years ago, enabling everyone who wishes to, to participate.

The Memorial Day address on Tuesday will be given on an improvised platform among the shade trees of Pilgrim Home cemetery not far from Soldiers' Monument. For many years the exercises were held in Centennial Park, and the parade to the cemetery following it. Two years ago this was all changed, and the parade was given first with all participants being on hand at their respective stations at 9 o'clock sharp. After the parade, and when the marchers and the audience reaches Pilgrim Home cemetery, the exercises will begin.

Mayor Henry Geerlings is president of the day, Prof. Bruce Raymond of Hope college, and alderman of the Fifth ward, is the orator. Robert Bonthus, winner in the oratorical contest at Hope college, will read Lincoln's Gettysburg address at the Soldiers' Monument; and Miss Virginia Dykhus, winner at Holland high school, will read the proclamation on Memorial Day issued by Gov. Luren Dickinson.

The American Legion Band and several of the high school bands will furnish the music in the parade and at the exercises. The Rev. J. Vanderbeek is the chaplain of the day by reason that he gives the sermon on Memorial Sunday. The preaching of the sermon from year to year has been passed around to different churches. Each year a different pastor is selected, and this year it was Mr. Vanderbeek's turn.

The official program will be found on the next page, together with a tabulation of the absent dead, those who lie buried in unknown graves, and those who are found in our local cemetery and in Soldiers' Plot.

The veteran who died this year from the Civil War was John Douma. None died among the veterans of the Spanish-American war; however, among the World War veterans this year, William Vandenberg and Nellie Van Putten passed away. The total number in all wars who are buried in the local cemetery is 190, dating back from the Napoleonic, Mexican, Civil, Spanish-American, and World Wars.

Swan Miller, for years at Macatawa Park, is still with us at the age of 96. He will be honored during the exercises if he is able to be brought. Otherwise flowers will be sent him.

The compilation on page 2 is interesting reading. The official program includes the marshals of the day, the different committees, the processions in the different divisions, the parade formation, the exercises at Pilgrim Home cemetery, and the decoration of the graves. The program gives detailed information. Turn to the next page.

The Bronson girl was wearing a blue polka dot dress, white and tan shoes.

Local police were notified when the girls failed to arrive home and they in turn notified police of other citizens. A broadcast is also being made in an effort to locate the missing girls.

State Parks To Open Officially Memorial Day

SEVERAL TRAILERS AT OTTAWA BEACH DURING TULIP WEEK; IMPROVEMENTS TO BE FINISHED IN JUNE

Holland State Park, together with fifty-five other Michigan State Parks will officially open on Memorial Day, although unofficially they have been open for some time. Quite a few trailers were parked at the Holland Oval during the Tulip festival, and no doubt after the improvements being made there are completed, which will be early in June, trailers and campers will again be there in large numbers.

Trailers and campers may stay at the park for ten consecutive days and must then leave the park for a stated number of hours before they can again locate there. This law is enforced so that all who wish to, may have a chance to get into the park. Were it not for this law enforcement no doubt many would camp continuously for the summer months.

The park open season, under the jurisdiction of the state department of conservation is from Memorial Day to Labor Day, and during this season at all principal beaches skilled life guards have been secured to watch over bathers during the summer months. These men are trained not only in rescue work and administration of artificial resuscitation but also in general first aid and will be able to safeguard the public in the event of accident of any kind.

Attendance at Michigan state parks has shown a gradual increase from year to year, topping 9,000 in 1937 and declining slightly to more than 8,000,000 in 1938. Climatic and economic conditions prevalent during the park season are named as the principal causes of gains or losses in park attendance, by Walter J. Kinscott, chief of the parks division.

No forecast of the probable attendance at parks this year could be correct without for knowledge of these conditions. Kingscott pointed out. He added, however, that a busy year was anticipated. More than 50,000 camping permits issued in 1938 marked a definite increase in use of the parks camping areas. Permits were issued to persons from every state in the union, from Canada, and a very few to tourists from foreign countries.

The attendance at Ottawa Beach is rated as the third largest in the state, and no doubt with the added improvements made this year, together with the enlargement of the oval, the attendance this year will go far beyond that of previous years.

Special attention is given by the parks division this year as in the past to cleanliness and effective sanitation as perhaps the most important means of safeguarding the health of the visiting public. Sanitation facilities have received particular attention this year. In more than 80 of the 56 parks under administration, modern conveniences such as electric connections, etc., have been installed. This includes running water and the latest sanitation devices. All camp sites will be open on May 30.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Sixty, Fifty, Forty, Thirty, Twenty and Ten Years Ago Today

SIXTY YEARS AGO TODAY

An old settler at Drenthe by the name of Hendrik Dunning passed away at 81 years. Note: Had he lived up to this day he would be 141 years old, being born 48 years before Holland was founded.

An effort has been made by citizens to build a public hall or an opera house since Kenyon's hall on River st. was burned. The city has had no hall for public gathering, entertainments or road shows. A subscription list is now going the rounds and business men seem to favor such a place. Note: The outcome was the building of Lyceum opera house, located on the site recently occupied by the City Mission. It stood for 35 years and was the scene of some hot political battles and caucuses of torchlight procession days. There also was a traveling road show about every three weeks, Uncle Tom's Cabin and Ten Nights in a Bar Room coming the most frequent. Peck's Bad Boy, Hoyt Texas Steer and similar plays stopped over here. Cy Plunkerd and his farm aggregation were also a favorite. The opera house burned some 35 years ago. It was never called a theatre that I can remember.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Rev. J. Talmadge Bergen will be installed as pastor of Hope church Sunday. Rev. Peter Moerdyke of Grand Rapids will preach the sermon and Dr. Charles Scott, president of Hope college, will address the pastor and Rev. J. W. Beardslee will deliver a discourse to the congregation. Note: Rev. Bergen was pastor of Hope church on two different occasions, was on the faculty of Hope college and recently has been visiting his son, C. Bergen, living at 29 East 14th St.

Work has started on the beautiful residence of Dr. Henry Kremers on Market (Central ave.) and 12th st. It will be about the finest residence in this city, a large part of the building of field stone. Note: Later the residence was donated in part for Holland's first hospital by Mrs. Kremers. The baby clinic is still conducted in the annex, which at one time was the doctor's stables for fine horses. Now Little Netherlands is built on a corner of the property.

Esquire Isaac Fairbanks showed us an egg which was laid by one of his Plymouth Rock hens, that measured 6 1/4 x 8 inches.

Charles and Henry Harmon, local barbers, but two of the best fishermen of their day in Holland, fished in Black River for two hours resulting with 41 black bass, several weighing over 4 pounds. The next morning they brought home 21 more. Note: Today this would be far beyond the limit; however, it shows one thing—that black bass were plentiful 50 years ago.

FORTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Peter Dulyea caught twelve fine black bass in Pine creek the first of the week.

James Selby is now the sole proprietor of the Crystal Palace saloon, having purchased the interests of Hill and Tomeller. Note: None of them stayed long. The former came from Ewart, Mich., and the latter from Benton Harbor. The building is now occupied by the Dutch Mill Cafe, just west of the Holland State Bank. Dave Blom conducted the place for many years after that.

Postmaster Gerrit Van Schelven entered upon his new duties as postmaster of Holland Monday. Ed Westveer will retain his position as assistant postmaster. Note: Several years later Mr. Westveer became postmaster and was followed by Lewis Vanderburg, the present postmaster.

Invitations are out announcing the marriage of Hendrika Vander Scheer and Gerrit Vander Hill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vander Hill, 234 West 10th st., May 25, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Note: Mr. Vander Hill was for many years a member of the Board of Education.

Capt. Austin Harrington is now the owner of the fast sailing yacht Ethel II, having purchased her from Henry C. Post and Francis Campbell. Note: Both men were musicians. Mr. Post a pianist and "Jim" Campbell a director of choruses. Both were in Hope College School of Music. Campbell was head of the celebrated Schubert club of Grand Rapids for years. Both have passed on, so has the boat, but good old captain is still with us.

A Reynolds, the painter, caught a 29-pound muskellunge off Kuite's dock last Monday. Note: This dock was about where John Telling has his home on the Park Road.

Al Furguson and Seward Doty caught 27 black bass and one pickerel off Pine creek in an afternoon and still they say "fishing might be better." Note: Doty was a son of a local railroad man and Furguson conducted the Phoenix hotel on East 8th st. at the depot. It burned years ago.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The proposed bond issue for $50,000 to build the present new city hall carried by a majority of 417 votes. The proposal was favored in every ward.

Our newly elected justice of the peace in Saugatuck, Mr. Jarrett N. Clark, made a very tempting offer to the first couple who comes to get married. The lovers who come first will be married free. This is a rare chance for a young man who has made love to his best girl all winter and can start off in life without paying the usual marriage fee. So says the Saugatuck correspondent. Note: Today Mr. Clark is an able attorney in Zeeland, has been there at least a quarter of a century, has taken a deep interest in civic affairs there, is the city attorney and stands high in the community. He moved from Saugatuck to Zeeland and "hung out his shingle." Anyway, as a beginning attorney, giving his first fee to his client when he needed it most for himself, is rather a generous thing to do.

Marriage license was given to Wilbert Van Appledorn, 25, and Tillie Vander Ploeg, 19, both of Holland.

Peter Brown, the veteran saloonkeeper, has gone out of business and has sold the store to Joseph Fabiano, the Italian fruit dealer. Note: Since that time a new brick block has been erected and a fine retail enterprise has been established, conducted by Patsey Fabiano, the son.

The hens are working so industriously that Wybe Nienhuis of Crisp is sending 7,200 eggs daily to the Chicago market.

John B. Mulder has purchased Will Kremer's gasoline launch, "The Knickerbocker." Note: And what a time brother John had on the lake

POPPIES GROWING

Dr. A. C. V. Gilmore has been doing evangelistic work in Canada. He is visiting his mother, Mrs. C. V. R. Gilmore, at her home on College and 12th st., who is the daughter of Holland's founder.

Rev. Verne Oggel of Holland, who has been a chaplain in the U. S. army and who left a fine charge in New York state in order to do his "bit" for Uncle Sam, is in Holland. Note: He is the son of Mrs. John Oggel, East 12th st.

Former Mayor and Mrs. Patrick H. McBride have returned from Long Beach, California, where they spent the winter. Note: They are the parents of Attorney Charles McBride.

The News devotes considerable space to the death of Mr. H. J. Heinz, founder of internationally known enterprise, with its second largest plant in Holland and the main plant in Pittsburgh. Mr. Heinz was 77 years old. He was deeply interested in Holland school work and welfare causes and was a contributor to Holland's first hospital on Central ave. and 12th st.

A cablegram from Lieut. J. J. Riemersma in France announces that he will accept the principalship of Holland high school offered him by the Board of Education. Mr. Riemersma, whose home is in Iowa, came to Holland to study at Hope college, where he graduated. He also attended Michigan, was teaching mathematics in Holland high when America entered the war and he enlisted. Now the war over, he is coming back home and will be principal in the place of Charles "Cubby" Drew. Note: "Jock" is still principal and years of fine service have not diminished his popularity. He since has married Miss Madeline Van Putten shortly after his return from France.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Prof. Paul Hinkamp of Hope college, was Holland's Memorial Day orator. Rev. James Wayer, pastor of First Reformed church, delivered the sermon on Sunday. Mayor Ernest Brooks was president of the day. Miss Jeanette Herman read Governor Fred Green's proclamation in Centennial park and Miss Gladys Huienga delivered Lincoln's Gettysburg address at Pilgrim Home cemetery at Soldiers' monument. Dr. Wm. Weststrate was and still is marshal of the day on horseback.

Paul Brouwer of Hope college, by virtue of winning first place in the Raven contest, will represent Hope college in the Michigan oratorical contest next spring to be held at Calvin college. "America Growing Up" was the original and striking theme of the winning oration. To Arthur Oudemool, a member of the Junior class, was awarded second place. His oration was entitled "Conquerors of Circumstances." Mr. Oudemool had been in competition with the raging elements and showed his ability to conquer circumstances in practice as well as theory. The judges were Miss Martha Gibson, Irwin J. Lubbers and Gerrit Vander Borgh. There were others in the contest.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Helenthal, 297 West 22nd st., a daughter, Bertha, to Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Cook, 144 East 16th st., a son, Robert La Verne, to Mr. and Mrs. Tom De Vries, 50 West 22nd st., a son, Walter Loren, to Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Doezman, 180 West 21st st., a daughter, Isla Ruth.

Miss Muriel Essink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit J. Essink of Overisel, and Andrew Prins of East Saugatuck were married recently at the Essink home. Rev. H. W. Pyle performed the ceremony.

POPPIES GROWING

On "Flanders field where poppies grow." Saturday will bring a vivid reminder of that phrase which brings back memories of the World War and the supreme sacrifices made by the thousands of men who gave their very lives for love of country. The women's auxiliaries of the local posts, both the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, are going to do their bit by selling poppies on Saturday of this week. The funds thus derived are used for the benefit of disabled war veterans, their families and the families of those who "never came back," but who are buried in "Flanders field where poppies grow."

It is only natural that the poppy should be chosen by all nations as the flower for this occasion, since it bloomed in profusion on the battle fields of France and Belgium. Each poppy is fashioned by hand by some disabled veteran, and while one bloom may be more perfect than the other, yet each represents the painstaking effort of some veteran who formed to the best of his ability the poppy you are asked to buy on Saturday of this week. These veterans have been employed for months making the flowers, working at their beds or in the occupational therapy departments of government hospitals, and in the special poppy workrooms maintained by the Auxiliary. Every poppy offered by the Auxiliary will be a veteran-made poppy.

A number of women of both the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary and the American Legion auxiliary will be on Holland streets on Saturday of this week. When you see a poppy, be sure to contribute your bit so that those who have given themselves for the cause of democracy and their loved ones may not have suffered in vain.

POSITION OPEN TO WIDE- AWAKE MAN WHO SPEAKS HOLLAND LANGUAGE

Mr. E. P. Stephan, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, has in possession a letter from a large firm, who wishes to contact a young man who speaks Dutch. It is quite preferable that he be of Dutch ancestry, and in view of the fact that Holland, Michigan is well known as the center of large colony of people who come from The Netherlands, the firm states, those wishing the man are making inquiry of the chamber of commerce.

There are several requirements, one being that he must have been graduated from a credited engineering school. After some time of preliminary training, it is the intent of the firm in question to send the man abroad to foreign countries.

It seems to be a responsible position for the right type of man, and any young man fitting those requirements might do well to make inquiry at the Chamber of Commerce office from Mr. Stephan.

Kenneth B. Pierce of Holland purchased the purebred sow, Beulah Dianna Pauline 1014589 from Wayne L. Kelly, route 2, Gobles, and W. C. Carter of Holland has purchased a purebred Jersey cow, Jersey Lily of Maplebrook 1195794 from Reuben Lindquist of Allegan. H. McBride, 280 College Ave.

Remains Popular

(Grand Haven Tribune)

Tulip Time in Holland is just as popular as ever. In theaters throughout the country this week movies of the Tulip Festival parade are being shown. On many of the same programs movies of coast guard life at New London are being offered. It would seem that tulips and coast guard rescue work—two ideas incorporated in Ottawa county festivals—are "naturals."

Fires Started By Fishermen

Trout fishermen in Western Michigan set one record with the opening of the season in that more forest fires were started than ever before. Fire fighting crews and volunteers were kept busy fighting countless fires the opening days of the trout season.

Officials believe that most of the fires were started by careless fishermen, although they agree that some of them might have been started by the hundreds who visited the woods in search of arbutus. The officials believe that most of the fires resulted from carelessness on the part of the "new crop" of trout fishermen. The veteran trout fishermen, they say, are careful to see that their camp fires are put out, but that there are hundreds of new fishermen who do not realize the dangers. Despite the fact that heavy rains had visited this section during the last few weeks, the forests were dry enough so that fires spread rapidly.

Miss Dorothy Poll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Poll of Fairbanks ave., was named valedictorian of the eighth grade graduating class of Federal school, having received an average of 97 per cent in the final examinations. Others receiving honors were Donald Veele, with an average of 94%; William Norlin, with 93.3%; Marvin Kragt, with 92.7% and June Tubergen, with 92%. Other graduates are Jean Tubergen, Donna Siebelink, Delores Kleves and Elma Nieboer.

Michigan CE Convention in Holland June 22 to 25

Plans for the fifty-first annual Michigan Christian Endeavor convention at Holland June 22 to 25 are being completed, according to George Schulling, general chairman. The principal speakers of the convention will be Dr. Daniel A. HOPE COLLEGE NEWS

One junior girl and five junior men were nominated last night in Student Council meeting for the office of Student Council president for the year 1939-40. They are: Althea Raffenaud, Sorosis; Edwin Leidens, Emersonian; Kenneth Honholt, Cosmopolitan; Dean Dykstra, Fraternal; Allison Vanden Berg, Knickerbocker; and James Hinkamp, Fraternal. Thursday, June 1, will be the date on which the election will be held. At the same time students of the college will vote for two associate editors of the Anchor. Those nominated for this office are: Ed Dibble, Blaise Leval, and Fred Bertsch.

This year a new system of voting, intended to avoid stuffing of the ballot-box and other illegal complications will be in effect. All students of the college who wish to vote for the new president and associate Anchor editors will be required to register with class representatives a week before the election takes place. Bill De Groot, present Student Council president, is especially desirous that students understand this new regulation, as failure to register will automatically and definitely bar anyone from voting on June 1. Thursday and Friday of this week have been designated as the days on which this registration will take place, and full information will be given before that time to all who plan to do this.

Like the registration, voting will be done by classes. Plans are being made whereby printed ballots with detachable, numbered corners may be marked in private voting booths. This will make it possible for students to vote independently and honestly.

Another new feature of this year's election will be a certain amount of campaigning which is being encouraged by the Student Council. Candidates will probably be given an opportunity to make campaign speeches and boom themselves for office on the day previous to the election. However, as usual, candidates will be expected to give short speeches in chapel on the following morning.

The votes will be tallied on Thursday afternoon, and unless one candidate shall have received fifty or more percent of the votes, the two receiving the highest number will run again for election on Friday. The one then receiving the majority of votes will take office.

Although six have already been nominated, other juniors may be put up for office by a petition signed by fifty of the students, it was pointed out last night.

Late last night James Hinkamp withdrew his nomination for the student council presidency. Bill De Groot accepted the resignation.

Edgar Dibble, Blaise Leval and Fritz Bertsch were nominated for the position of assistant editor of the Anchor at the Anchor staff meeting held last week. As is customary the student body will select two of the candidates to work as assistant editors for the first semester of the next school year. At that time the publications committee will meet with the editor to decide which of the two candidates is best fitted for the position of editor.

Edgar Dibble and Blaise Leval have just completed their first year of work on the staff of the paper while the other candidate, Fred Bertsch, has completed his second year of work. Fritz's brother, Charles, served as editor last year. All three candidates will give speeches in chapel with the candidates for the position of student council president.

Robert Bonthuis, present assistant editor, will serve as editor of the paper for the coming year and the candidates chosen will work under his leadership.

The principal speaker for Memorial Day will be Dr. Bruce Raymond of Hope college. Mayor Henry Geerlings will be president of the day, and Rev. Vanderbeek chaplain.

Robert Bonthuis will act as reader for the celebration. He will render the famous Gettysburg Address originally given by Abraham Lincoln.

The last meeting of the year for English Majors club will be June 1, Donald Sagers, one of the co-chairmen of the event announced last week. Postponed from May 18 because of Tulip Time activities, the junior chairmen have not yet selected the place of meeting.

President Lorraine Pomp will pound the gavel for her last time as the election of next year's officers is held. A program by the English Major Juniors will follow the business meeting.

The vegetable and fruit counters these days are as attractive as most flower beds with the vivid colors of all the fresh foods found on the market today. You are really missing a rare treat if you don't go in person to select your vegetables for the week. It's truly a beautiful display and such fun to choose the crispest and freshest of vegetables and berries for your table.

Be sure to buy some kind of greens. The green, leafy vegetables are among the finest sources of minerals and vitamins, so remember to include them in the diet. Serve them generously in a tossed green salad or cook them. But remember, don't overcook them! Wash them thoroughly—warm water will remove the sand much quicker than cold water. When washed clean, put them in a kettle with the last rinse water clinging, cover, and cook for just a few minutes. Serve at once with browned butter, cream or cheese sauce.

Overcooking of vegetables does not apply to greens only. All vegetables are best and have more nutritive value if cooked in a small quantity of water, covered so that the steam remains in the kettle, and just long enough so that they are tender yet crisp. Long cooking destroys vitamins, develops undesirable flavors in some vegetables, and makes most vegetables lose their attractive coloring.

Something quite new in vegetable cookery is cooked radishes and cucumbers. They must be peeled, then cooked in one-half cup of water until just tender. Season with salt, pepper and butter. They really are delicious.

Cock of the Woods

About as large as a crow, the pileated woodpecker is only rivaled in size by the majestic ivory-bill of the far south. For a time it seemed that this spectacular bird was doomed in the northeastern part of the United States, but it is coming back. It has actually been seen recently in New York City parks. It feeds on tree borer, and chops out dead wood in large flocks in pursuit of these insects. It has a laughing, shrill call. It is called "cock of the woods," "log cock" and, in some places, "woodcock." Roger Tory Peterson painted the pileated woodpecker for the 1939 Wildlife Week poster stamps, distributed by the National Wildlife Federation.

Red Lighthouse
Color Favored
At Grand Haven

The harbor commission will request the superintendent of light houses at Milwaukee to change the color of the fog signal house and lighthouse on the pier at Grand Haven from a yellow-buff to red, as reports have come to the commission that the present color against the yellow of the sand dunes makes it very hard to distinguish these buildings when out in the lake.

Capt. William VerDuin, a commercial fisherman, brought the matter to the commission, as he had had experience when out in the lake with his fishing tug. He and Edward Kinkema were appointed a committee to make the request. The buildings were formerly painted bright red and were changed this season to the softer color.

Tuesday, May 30, Memorial Day, Comrade Shud Althuis will be in charge of the firing squad. All comrades come out and fall in line.

We are still waiting for that long promised skillet to fry our fish and hamburgers; also would like to know when our willing worker is going to put that slot in the so-called cash register. Any member knowing of the whereabouts of these two comrades, inform them of their duty.

Friday, May 26, V.F.W. Fun Party at 8 p. m. in the V.F.W. hall. The public is invited.

IN MEMORY OF THOSE WHO DIED FOR US

In Cemeteries here and everywhere lie our men,
Some who gave their lives and others in hospitals ready to do so,
That this Nation under God might keep this Birth of Freedom.

Therefore, let us all on this Memorial Day,
Take on anew, increased Devotion,
To these men whom we believe, that their help

Must have been of Real Service to this Nation.
We should not be too busy at other things on this Day,
Which was set aside for a Real Purpose.

For some of these were quite Busy once upon a time, in Battle,
So that the rest of us might enjoy our Pursuit of Happiness.

We of Service Organizations should be first to set an example of Americanism before the Public.

So be it resolved—that we All attend these services on Memorial Day and Memorial Sunday.

In the Pursuit that these men shall not have died in Vain.

A bolt of lightning caused a fire which destroyed a barn and several hogs, rabbits, chickens, and baskets of grain at the farm of Edward Kooker, one mile north of Hamilton. It was estimated that 20 hogs, 300 rabbits, 250 chickens, 500 baskets of corn, several bushels of wheat, the family automobile, and farm machinery were burned. The house was located near the barn, but did not burn because the wind was in the opposite direction.

A minor collision occurred at 15th St. and Pine Ave., Tuesday when automobiles driven by Simon Pool, age 57, of 35 West 22nd St., and Harry Covington, age 20, of rural route 4, Holland, collided at about 8 a. m. Ben Speet, Bernard Keefe, Jr., and William Streur were listed as witnesses.

Festival Over; Draws More Than Half Million

GOVERNOR, STATE OFFICIALS AND OTHER NOTABLES VISIT CITY; SEE BAND REVIEW, TULIP DISPLAYS

Holland's 1939 Tulip Festival has become history, and the several committees who worked so diligently under the general supervision of Mr. Sipp Houtman, manager of the festival for 1939, are once more going about their own respective duties unaccompanied by the business caused by the numerous tasks which were theirs in order to make the Tulip Festival the success it proved to be. Without exception, we believe, each committee and its respective chairman, has put forth every effort to do well their particular job, and it is the combined effort and wholehearted cooperation on the part of all of these that gives unmarred success to a project such as "Tulip Time." The fact that a city the size of Holland can put on a celebration which has become the third largest in the nation is something to be proud of, and when one figures that practically all the effort put forth is done gratis, because Holland citizens are loyal to their city, it means much more. According to statistics, The Mardi Gras at New Orleans ranks as the largest celebration in the nation, the Tournament of Roses at Pasadena is second, and Holland's Tulip Time in May is rated as the third largest celebration in the country. Surely Holland can be justly proud.

The festival this year was attended by a record crowd for the ten-day period, the visitors to the festival being conservatively estimated at 535,000. While this number is 5,000 under the estimation given for 1938, let us state that the total given for 1938 included visitors of three Sundays as well as the ten days of the celebration. Tulips during 1938 were in full bloom at least a week before the festival, because Holland advertised this fact so that folk might be aware of it, and a large number of people came the Sunday prior to the festival proper to see the tulips.

The attendance by years since the beginning of the festival in 1934 might be interesting and we give it here: 1934—300,000; 1935—450,000; 1937—750,000; 1938—544,000. The figure of 1938 includes the three Sundays as mentioned above. The various attractions report an attendance during the festival as follows: Tulip Farm—490,000; Industrial Fair—49,000; Little Netherlands—10,100; Excursion Boats—13,650; Netherlands Museum—7,025.

The parades given on Saturday, May 13, and that of Wednesday, as was the pageant which proved to be the most important events since Thursday were the band review and parade of Saturday at which time Holland was also host to several prominent persons among them being Michigan's Governor Dickinson.

The band review attracted approximately 10,000 persons, all grandstand seats, regular bleachers, and extra bleachers being filled not only, but even standing room was filled to capacity.

Fifteen bands from the high schools of the state paraded in intricate maneuvers for eight minutes each as three band leaders, William D. Revelli, University of Michigan; Leonard Falcone, Michigan State college; and Charles B. Richter, University of Iowa, judged the entries.

The performance of the bands, themselves was only equalled by the startling performance of the Jackson American Legion drill team, the Zouaves, who performed on a platform in the middle of Riverview park, and three concluding numbers of the massed band, in which 1,200 musicians played under the direction of the three judges.

Directly following the band review at Riverview Park, the parade formed at Lincoln and 8th street under the direction of J. J. Riemersma and his assistants. The parade drew a record crowd as did the awarding of prizes in Centennial Park afterward.

Witnesses of Saturday's band review and parade included a number of prominent personages, among them Michigan's Governor Luren D. Dickinson and several other state officials. Governor Dickinson is the state's first chief executive to attend the Holland Tulip festival. Accompanying the governor were his four secretaries, Mrs. Ruth Bendall, Mrs. Jessie Bassett, Mrs. June Navue and Miss Margaret Shaw. Other prominent guests who visited Holland Saturday with their wives were Auditor General Vernon J. Brown, Attorney Thomas Read and Lloyd C. Reid. Dr. William G. Bryant, Consul at Detroit, and Mrs. Bryant, Charles H. Ray, vice consul, and Mrs. Ray, W. Von Weiler, consular attaché The Netherlands; Fritz Hailer, wife and two children, Faith and William, Germany, and the children's governess, Ruth Calahan; George H. Heideman and wife and daughter, Cynthia, Finland; Carl Burglund and wife, and Charles Turnbull and wife, Great Britain; Jorge Vargas and wife, Costa Rica; Dr. Jose Guerrero and wife, Nicaragua; Lazaro Barolome, Spain; Saul R. Levin and wife, Honduras; John L. Zurbrick and daughter, director of immigration and naturalization, United States department of labor; Marshal M. Vance and wife, head of the American consul at Windsor, Barbara K. Davis, grand-daughter of Melville McPherson, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Heideman here. Jacob Steketee, The Netherlands consul, Mrs. Steketee and Dr. and Mrs. Henry Beets, all of Grand Rapids, also were city guests.

At noon a luncheon was held in the Governor's honor, attended by 22 guests. Following the luncheon, a tour of part of the tulip lanes and tulip farm was made by the governor and party and a number of the attractions were especially exhibit and spent considerable time there prior to going to the band review at Riverview Park. He arrived at the park with the band review already in progress, however, when his car was driven in alongside the grandstand to seats reserved for the party, he was given a tremendous ovation by those present. The Governor and party remained at the park until after the band review and drill staged by the Jackson Zouaves, then entered his car and took his place in the parade, as did the other guests.

A private informal dinner was given aboard the North American which remained for guests for the city shortly before 5 p. m. Left guests present at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brouwer, Ben Steffens, Martin Oudemool, Henry Ketel, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Vandenberg, E. P. Stephan, Clarence Lokker, Bruce Raymond, Mayor Geerlings, Charles R. Sligh, Ray Kronemyer, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hyma, Dr. and Mrs. Wynand Wichers and Vernon Ten Cate. The results of the judging of bands was made known in Centennial Park. A number of the bands gave outstanding specialty numbers, marching in clever formation as they did so. Marching in cross formation, forming a flower pot with tulips planted therein, the formation of an umbrella, and also a radio, map of Michigan, and vocal choruses—these were only a few of the specialty numbers presented. Uniform inspection as done by Major Henry G. Goeds also entered into the results. Bands were placed in class divisions as follows:

In Class A, Kalamazoo Central high school, Cleo G. Fox, director; Muskegon high school, William Stewart, Jr., director; Benton Harbor high school boys' band, Karl W. Schlabbach, director; and Lansing Eastern high school, Harold Ferguson, director, were placed in the first division. Second division bands in class A were Benton Harbor high school girls' band, Russell S. Shipper, director; Battle Creek high school, Paul Tammi, director; and Union high school of Grand Rapids, Theodore F. Frytogle, director.

In class B, Charlotte high school, Ward C. Hynes, director; Zeeland high school, Carl Senob, director; and Sturgis high school, Phineas S. Wheat, director, were placed in the first division. Second division bands were from Coldwater high school, George W. King, director; St. Joseph high school, Franklin Wiltsie, director; and Three Rivers high school, Maurice J. Weed, director. Only two class C bands competed. The Reading all-school band of Reading, Max S. Smith, director, was placed in the first division, and the Busch high school band of Center Line, Homer Hazelton, director, was placed in the second division.

A surprise feature at Centennial Park was the presentation of a beautiful plaque to Eugene F. Heeter, chairman of Band Day since the beginning of the festival. The award was made by S. H. Houtman in behalf of the citizens of Holland in appreciation of the efforts put forth by Mr. Heeter to make band day the big success it always proves to be. It goes without saying that Mr. Heeter was placed at the head of the first division. Holland bands, of course, were present at the band review and parade but did not compete for awards.

Although Tulip Week is just past, the committees are already thinking of next year's festival, and plans call for a meeting within a week at which time a detailed report of this year's festival will be given, and plans for 1940 will be started.

HEADACHE

While there are many kinds of headache, the two most common are headaches from eye-strain and headaches from biliousness.

In each case the cause is in the spine. In headaches from eye-strain, glasses may be necessary, but glasses are like crutches for the eyes, and should not be resorted to until you have tried spinal adjustments. In cases of bilious headache adjustments to restore normal action of the liver are certain to bring results.

ETIQUETTE OF THE FLAG

(Editor's Note: The following article is suggested for publication in your local newspapers, as well as in V.F.W. Post and Department publications, in conjunction with the observance of Flag Day, June 14.)

Proper display of the colors in the observance of Flag Day is urged by Henry Walters Post No. 2144, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U.S. The following points on flag etiquette are stressed for the information of those who plan to display the colors.

The Flag should generally be displayed only from sunrise to sunset.

The Flag should always be kept clean.

The Flag of the United States should never be allowed to touch the ground or to trail in the water.

The Flag should never be used as a table covering, nor should it ever be draped. Where rosettes or festoons are desired, red, white, and blue bunting should be used instead of the Flag.

When the Flag is displayed from a staff projecting horizontally from a window or the front of a building, the union (the stars) should go clear to the head of the staff unless the Flag is at half mast.

When the Flag is displayed in any manner other than by being flown from the staff, it should be displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall; the union should be uppermost and to the right, that is, to the left of the observer.

When displayed over the middle of the street, between buildings, the Flag should be suspended vertically with the union to the north, in an east-and-west street, or to the east in a north-and-south street.

When used on a speaker's platform, the Flag should be displayed above and behind the speaker. It should never be used to cover the speaker's stand nor to drape in

"HIGHWAYS" IS THEME OF YOUNG PEOPLE'S BANQUET HERE

About 225 young men and young women gathered in the gymnasium of Christian high school Tuesday evening for the annual banquet of the Holland - Zeeland Leagues of Young Women's and Young Men's societies of the Christian Reformed church.

Table decorations were in keeping with the theme "Highways," and across the length of each table was a road on which were miniature automobiles, stoo signs, school signs, etc. At each plate was a small stop light. The speakers' table also had street signal lights.

The chairman of the evening, the Rev. Peter Jonker, pastor of Sixteenth St. Chr. Ref. church, and president of the Young Men's league, introduced the toastmaster, Raymond Holwerda, a member of the Christian high school faculty, as the patron.

Group singing was led by the Rev. C. M. Scholland, pastor of Hardewyk Chr. Ref. church, with Miss Hazel Van Oelen at the piano. Following the group singing, Miss Grace Schreuer sang "A Birthday," by Huntington-Woodman. As an encore she sang "Lullaby," by Brahms. A short talk on "Dangers" was given by Warner De Leeuw. Lee Brouwer played a French horn solo entitled "The Messia," and as an encore, "Country Gardens." Miss Stella De Jonge accompanied him at the piano. Miss Dora Kraai then spoke briefly on "Aids," after which Miss Schreuer and Clarence Vogelzang sang "Lovely Night" and "Carry Me Back to Ole Virginny."

The main speaker was Dr. G. Goris of Grand Rapids, whose subject was "Destiny." He emphasized the fact that the ultimate destination is the main thing to look forward to, but in order to reach this, we must have immediate destinations. The Christian's destination is heaven, he must live and plan for that goal in everything he does. "May the ultimate goal satisfy the immediate objectives so that God's name may be glorified."

The general committee in charge of arranging the banquet was composed of Case Karsten, Elizabeth Karsten, Anne Timmer, Wilma Beukema, Fred De Boer, Gerrit De Leeuw, Leonard Vogelzang, Rens Ten Broek, Marian Ten Broek, Fred Ver Hoef, and Lavina Meusen.

CAR IN ALLEGAN RUNS WILD KILLS WOMAN AND TIPS HOUSE

Two cars said to be passing each other at Allegan resulted in tragedy when one of the cars went out of control and struck and killed Mrs. John (Maria) Coleman, 63, of Allegan, a pedestrian.

L. Connor of Bradford, Pa., said to be driver of the death car, and Clare A. Yager, also of Allegan, who operated the other car, were arrested by Sheriff Fred Miller shortly after the accident.

Eye-witnesses said Connor's car went out of control and knocked down an 8-inch maple tree, struck Mrs. Coleman and smashed through a fence before smashing into the front porch of the home of Douglas Nash.

Mrs. Nash and her daughter, Joan, were on the porch at the time the car crashed into the house. Joan jumped from the porch and Mrs. Nash escaped within the home. The impact of the car shifted the home four inches from its foundation, according to witnesses.

Dr. E. D. Osman said Mrs. Coleman was instantly killed. According to officers, she was knocked about 15 feet in the air by the impact of the car.

Dr. Osman said Connor apparently suffered only a few minor bruises in the crash, although his car was rammed halfway under the porch, which was almost completely demolished. The heavy chairs in which the mother and daughter had been sitting were crushed and stones from the porch foundation were scattered over the lawn.

Mrs. Coleman's body was thrown onto a nearby lawn. Her shoes were found on the sidewalk where she had been struck. Examination showed, Dr. Osman said, that she had suffered multiple fractures of all her limbs, a fractured skull and crushed chest.

Mrs. Coleman leaves her husband; two daughters, and a son in Indiana. Her body was taken to the Gorden funeral home.

Bert Schreuer was honored at a birthday party Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Schreuer, the occasion being his 75th birthday. A two-course lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Bernard Schreuer. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Schreuer and children, Gerard and Greta, Arlene Hookie, Ben and Gerald Schreuer, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Van Koeveing and sons, Glenn and Earl, John and Corneal Kamps, Theodore and Albert Schreuer, Donald, Russell and Franklin Strick, Mrs. Jennie Strick and Miss Sena Kamps, Miss Henrietta Strick, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Schreuer and children, Carol and Gordon.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lont and Richard Jr., Misses Carol and Betty de Korte of New Jersey were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Sikkil, 256 West 16th St.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Barton, 333 West 17th St., announce the marriage of their daughter, Vesta Lucille, to Richard D. Speet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Speet, 620 Michigan Ave., which took place April 30 in St. Paul's Memorial Methodist church in South Bend, Ind.

front of the platform. If flown from a staff on the platform, it should be on the speaker's right.

When the Flag is displayed in church, it should be on the congregation's right as they face the clergyman. If in the chancel, the Flag should be placed on the clergyman's right as he faces the congregation.

Dr. Brower Tells More About The Netherlands

WILLIAM OF ORANGE WAS NOT AS "SILENT" AS HIS NAME INDICATES

By Dr. A. J. Brower

Rembrandt was born in Leyden in 1606 A. D., and studied at the great university located there. I visited his home and studio in Amsterdam, now called Rembrandt's Museum. Everything is there as he left it. He died penniless and yet none of his many pupils ever excelled him in his art. I even visited his last resting place in the Westerkerk.

Then again we saw monuments all over The Netherlands dedicated to the memory of William the Silent or Prince William of Orange, who saved The Netherlands from possible annihilation by Spain in the eighty year war. This is highly appreciated by every Hollander even today, and the great public service this great man has rendered by being mute and acting silent and more ignorant than he really was by bridling his tongue. There was a great man—a man with a sense of justice and fair play—Mute Prince of Orange.

Now we shall visit the Province of Zeeland and stroll about Middelburg, its capital city. This city is almost round in shape with one side resting on the Walcheren Canal. There is today a wide moat around this once fortified city, as this is one of the main entrances to the mainland from the sea. All the streets radiate from the center like the spokes from the hub of a wheel—one of the most difficult cities to keep from being constantly lost, unless certain landmarks be one's guide. The old Abbey Church is the only principal point from where calculations can be made with safety if lost. Its massive tower, called the Lange Jan Tower (Long John Tower) over 280 feet high. I went to the top and was rewarded with a beautiful panoramic view of the wheel-like city below with its radiating streets and avenues. In ascending the tower I made 384 steps to reach the first platform. The church janitor conducted me up there. He went up like a squirrel, being used to that every day to attend to the machinery of its massive clock and bells and chimers. I took the precaution to leave all excess clothing behind for I had not yet forgotten my experience in Russia climbing St. Isaac's Cathedral Tower of 1,000 steps. This tower is supposed to have been erected in the 13th century. At this first platform we came to the actual machinery of the chimers, which ring out every 15 minutes by hammers, large and small—41 bells and 41 hammers. Some of the hammers are as large as the biggest sledge hammers, weighing over a ton. They are all connected with a revolving drum worked from the clock machinery.

From this first stage we ascend another 100 steps to another bell platform level with the clock dial, and from here we climb a ladder some 50 feet higher to overlook the city and the surrounding country. The wheels of this clock are in some instances 6 to 8 feet in diameter.

This unusual abbey was founded in 1128 A. D., by a group of monks from Antwerp. The Abbey is now used as the Government Building for the Province of Zeeland. The Abbey square is a leafy retreat with the old Abbey buildings on one side and the State Archives on the opposite side. The Abbey Hotel where I stayed for a while is at one end, and the Governor's residence at the other.

There was a doctors' convention at this hotel at the time and I was invited to sit in the meeting by the landlord who was an M.D. It was very interesting to hear the papers and discussions in the Holland language.

The Abbey is a very old historic place and is now prized highly by the government. Besides this place, Middelburg is architecturally rich in notable houses. Here is where I made a print of one of the gaudy colorful beautiful doors so prevalent in this city—something like I have to my office entrance.

The Town Hall or Stadhuis, built in 1600 A.D., is in the pretty florid Gothic style. The exterior is profusely decorated with stone carvings and with 25 statues of former counts and rulers of Zeeland. The building lies four square with a handsome tower rising from the center. The court room is now used for marriages, with its huge fire places and armour covered walls. A large part of the Last Judgment (author unknown) beautiful life-like statues of Queen Wilhelmina and Princes Juliana and of her grandmother Emma in parks around about add to its impressiveness.

Zeeland retains more of its original types of peasants than any other province. For sights the visitor will look rather to the people than to the place. Picturesque costumes for women, queer head dresses, metal cap ornaments are seen. Huisvrouw embellishing the outside of her dwelling, cleansing the footway or sweeping the bricks halfway across the street, and milkmaids going their rounds with utensils burnished like silver and sparkling in the sun as the patient dogs draw the little carts along, the quaint little mirrors outside each door to show within the view up and down the street; curious carvings on house fronts and gaudily painted doors—all these are frequent scenes.

I visited the diamond cutting and polishing factory in Amsterdam, pottery at Delft with its earthenware and dainty china.

In educational matters—languages, in engineering, trade, agriculture etc., the Hollanders are among the pioneers of Europe and everywhere competent and courteous helpers hasten to smooth the beginner's way. Foremost among these are the every-ready officials at the office of the Official Tourist Office. The office is under government control as in Russia the In-

Governor Dickinson And Party See Band Parade From Grand Stand

The above picture shows Governor Luren D. Dickinson of Michigan, as a guest at Holland's Tulip Festival Saturday during the band review. The Governor is leaning forward listening to Consul for The Netherlands Jacob Steketee of Grand Rapids. Directly behind him is Dr. Henry Beets of Grand Rapids, one of the leading men in the Christian Reformed church. The man to the left is Ed Brouwer, former state representative from Otawara county and who has just concluded his term as alderman of Holland. Mr. Brouwer was chairman of this event, and the Grand Rapids Press, to whom goes the courtesy for this picture, says that the Hollander is "wondering whether he neglected anything." It appears that he did not.

YOUNG MUSICIAN TO BROADCAST AS SOLOIST FOR FAMOUS BAND

An outstanding honor has come to one of Holland's young musicians, such as comes to but few. Twelve year old Robert Meredith, son of Rev. C. W. Meredith, pastor Wesleyan Methodist church, and Mrs. Meredith of this city, at a recent state contest, was adjudged the best of the cornet players. The contest was conducted in Ann Arbor, and this triumph entitled him to represent Michigan in a national contest recently held in Indianapolis, but it was found out that the composition "Carnival of Venice," by Clark, that Robert played at Ann Arbor had been ruled out of the national contest this year. The notification arrived too late. Robert was deprived of the opportunity which would have been his in the national contest.

However, Dr. Frank Simon, who recently visited the city, became aware of the facts and soon Robert received an invitation from Dr. Simon to go to Cincinnati this coming summer as his personal pupil.

Following training under the celebrated leader, Bob will be given a chance to broadcast as a soloist with the famous Armo band, of which Dr. Simon is leader. The conductor had high praise for the local boy and declared he might become one of the outstanding cornetists in the nation.

This Is the Week To Feel Spring In the Fullest

Birds and Flowers Are Now At High Tide

(Detroit Free Press)
By Jack Van Covering

If you want to see spring at its high tide, if you like to get into the open without having to worry too much about mosquitoes, if you want to see birds at their busiest and wildflowers at their best: this is the week to get out of the city and into the fields and forests.

Sassafras is in bloom. The sassafras clusters are much larger than those of its close relative, the spicebush, and do not cling as closely to the naked twigs. Dogwood, too, is in blossom. In the Northern part of the State, Juneberry or shadbush will almost have completed its blooming. Underneath the trees, on the forest floor, a whole tribe of early wildflowers is tossing its petals to the wind.

Adder's tongue, trout lily, violets, anemone, arbutus and a host of others have been out for several weeks. Moccasin flowers and lady-slippers are unfolding rapidly and should be picked sparingly or not at all. Trillium, that white three-petaled lily of the woods, covers the forest with a snowlike carpet. Jack-in-the-pulpit and Dutchman's breeches both are out in all their glory.

The birds are here, too. The bitters arrive in the swamps. The bobolink will be heard in the fields. Catbirds already are here, as are the brilliant orchard oriole and indigo bunting, at the opposite ends of a color scheme.

May is the month for the warblers to arrive. Many of them already have gone to the Northern nesting grounds, but the little songsters still are heard in the tree tops. There are about 155 different kinds of warblers, of which about 40 can be seen in Michigan. You must watch the warblers closely, for they look very much alike.

Young porcupines are born in May. For the size of porcupines, the young are monstrous, being larger than black bears at birth. Rabbits, squirrels and raccoons have already had their young. Meadow mice are probably ready for their second crop of babies. Before long, the white-tailed deer will be having their fawns. It is in early June that the astute, little fawns, with their milky-white spots, are found in the northwoods.

Alice Mae Houtman and Vivian Tardiff, accompanied by Marjorie Steketee, presented the scrubbers' dance, a feature of Tulip Tales, at a union meeting of the Lansing Christian Endeavor union Tuesday night in People's church, East Lansing. Peter Bol gave a talk regarding the state C. E. convention to be held in Holland June 22 to 25.

Rev. and Mrs. H. P. De Pree, missionaries for the Reformed church in China, and their daughter, Mrs. Floyd Chapman, and Mr. Chapman are expected to arrive in Holland, Friday from Birmingham, Mich. The De Prees are on furlough until Aug. 11 when they expect to return to China. They will make their home at 174 West 16th street until that time. Mr. and Mrs. Chapman and Harold De Pree, son of Mr. and Mrs. De Pree, who is studying at Rush Medical school, Chicago, will be guests of the De Prees over the week end.

Mrs. Charles Jeanicke, native of Germany, and resident of Jenison Park for the past 15 years, passed away early Wednesday morning. Mrs. Jeanicke was 73 years of age, having been born Oct. 8, 1865. She had been ill with bronchial pneumonia for nine days. She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Lee Mennie and Mrs. Minnie Melchor of Cleora, Ill.; two sons, Edwin of Villa Park, Ill. and Harold of Jenison park; eight grandchildren, three great grandchildren and a brother, Otto Breuck. The body is at the

The first flouting of authority in the home may prove the inception of an anti-social or even a criminal career, Dr. Garret Heyns, formerly superintendent of Holland Christian school, warden of Michigan Reformatory at Ionia, said discussing juvenile delinquency before the Consistory of the Union of Classis Muskegon in the First Reformed church of Spring Lake last night. He urged efforts of all to induce youth to respect authority as a means of preserving social order.

DR. GARRET HEYNS

Dr. Heyns said 85 per cent of those in prison have juvenile delinquency records and of the prison population of 7,500 in three institutions in Michigan, one of six is a youth of 17 to 20 years old. Attendance was 175, largest since reorganization of the union in Spring Lake two years ago. The union is made up of consistory or former consistory members and the clergy, the latter not holding office at any time. There were delegations from 15 churches in Classis Muskegon last night. Hound's Best Friend

The raccoon is a 100 percent American. A coonskin cap was the badge of the frontiersman in the days of Daniel Boone. The raccoon is found from Canada to Panama, never far from water, is a good fisherman, and hunter of frogs and crayfish, and is in the habit of washing almost everything he eats. Like the red fox, the raccoon has inspired the development of a breed of hound, and coon dog trials are exciting sport for hundreds of organized clubs. Also the raccoon is an important source of fur. Fred Everett painted the raccoon for the 1939 Wildlife Week poster stamps, distributed by the National Wildlife Federation.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Paul Thinks in World Terms Romans 1:8-17; 8:12-17

By Henry Geerlings

It is interesting to note that a man can come out of a great prejudice and can break down the hemming-in fences of a great exclusiveness. Paul was such a man. No one was ever a more thorough-going Jew than he. He described himself as a Hebrew of the Hebrews. He had all the prejudices that went with that people. His mind was as narrow as the thin edge of a knife blade. He believed that the Jew had a monopolistic right to God and religion. The Jews were the salt of the earth. The Gentiles were refuse. The Jews were the fortunate ones. The Gentiles were human tragedies. They were to be left to themselves. But Paul came out of all this exclusiveness through his great conversion and through the process of his thinking of the universality of Christ and his gospel. He did not suddenly experience this change of mind as to the Gentiles. He came to it gradually as Christ became more and more to him.

Our prejudices are difficult things to get rid of. Even we Christians of this twentieth century have not yet got rid of all of ours. Some of us who pray the loudest pray the least for the kingdom of God among the heathen. Some of us who are pillars of the church at home do not believe in foreign missions. We talk loudly about having enough heathen at home. We do and some of us are dangerously near being some of them. We make insinuating remarks about all foreigners. We get all set up over ourselves and believe that we are just a little better than other peoples.

Well, Paul had a stimulating chance to show his interest in the Gentiles when he came to Pisidian Antioch. On the first Sunday of his presence there he preached a great sermon, or rather, made a great address that had to do with the great outstanding events of Jewish history. The Jew never gets tired of this kind of thing. He is proud of his history. His heart glows when he hears it. But on the second Sunday the Jews were not so much pleased with Paul. He drew too big a crowd. It made them jealous. They must have thought that there was something wrong with a man that could do this kind of thing. That is a natural suspicion. Because we cannot draw a crowd we are liable to be suspicious of the man who can. So the Jews began to abuse Paul. It is a mighty weak argument, but it is popular among the prejudiced and unthinking. But when you have abused a man just remember that you have only abused a man and you have done nothing to the truth he holds. Sometimes we hurl terrible epithets at some brave soul who dares to champion some cause of which we are not in favor, but let us remember that we are only calling him ugly names, we are doing nothing against his cause and nothing for the truth. It takes the world a long time to learn this.

When Paul saw that the Jews were not disposed to accept his message he turned to the Gentiles. He impressed upon the Jews the fact that it was their right and high privilege to hear his word first, but since they did not want it, he was thus compelled in the very necessities of the case to preach to those who would give a sincere and friendly hearing. It would seem that in these very circumstances the providential working of God's purpose is seen. Of course the Gentiles were to have the gospel. It is designed to meet the needs of all men. Christ himself is the universal man with a universal appeal and a universal power to meet all needs and a universal perfection after which all men may pattern their lives. But since the preaching to the Gentiles was to be done chiefly in the first place by a converted Jew, it looks like as if here again, as so often, God makes a pathway for his own going through human circumstances. Here was the occasion which furnished a great urge for Paul to turn to the Gentiles. Here was a time when the circumstances plainly furnished a justification for his preaching Christ to the Gentiles. And to the Jews it was meant to convey the truth that they were the maker of their own lives, the hewers of their own destiny. We hold in our own keeping a terrific power of determinism.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

POULTRY values are outstanding in this week's market. Not only are chickens and ducklings much cheaper than last year but cheaper than at any time since 1932 and '33. Eggs, too, are plentiful and cheap.

Meats in general are somewhat lower than last week, particularly lamb and forequarter beef.

Western cherries are more plentiful. The cantaloupe season has begun and the first peaches and plums have already arrived from Georgia. Most of us, however, will continue to depend on bananas, grapefruit, oranges, pineapple, rhubarb, and strawberries.

An ample supply of staple vegetables is available.
