George Heneveld Stricken by Heart Attack Downtown

Park Township Official
On County Board 24
Years; Once Chairman

George E. Heneveld, 61, route 1, Holland, Park township supervisor, for 24 years, dropped dead of a heart attack at 11:20 a.m. yesterday as he was leaving his automobile which he had parked in front of the Superior Cigar store, 206 River Ave.

Witnesses said that as he got out of the car on the driver's side he suddenly collapsed and fell to the street. Local police and the Langeland funeral home ambulance were called.

Mr. Heneveld was dead when examined by a local physician who was called from a nearby restaurant.

The body was taken to Holland hospital where it was viewed by Coroner Gilbert Vande Water and removed to the Langeland funeral home.

Mr. Vande Water said Mr. Heneveld had been in failing health for several years. The supervisor had left the home of Nick Stielstra, route 4, Holland, Park township clerk, about 11 a.m. and apparently drove directly to Holland. He complained to Mr. Stielstra of a pain in his chest.

Mr. Heneveld was born Aug. 9, 1880, on what is known as the "Old Heneveld farm" near Graafschap in Allegan county to Mr. and Mrs. Egbert Heneveld. His grandfathers, George Heneveld and Gerrit Zaalmink, were pioneer residents of the community.

Mr. Zaalmink developed and platted Central park which was one of the first resort centers in western Michigan.

Mr. Heneveld received his early education in the rural schools and completed a business course at the Holland Business college. His first business experience was with the Lokker Rutgers Co. of Holland. In 1904, he became a partner with Henry Tien in a general store business under the name of Tien & Heneveld at Graafschap.

In 1911, Mr. Heneveld established the first grocery store in the vicinity of Central park. He married Miss Anna Nieuwma in 1903 and to this union 12 children were born.

According to Mr. Stielstra, the township clerk, Mr. Heneveld was elected the first clerk of Park township when it was organized in 1916. The following year, he was elected township supervisor.

In 1919, he sold his business and moved out of the township, causing him to resign. Luke Lugers took his place as supervisor. However, the following year, he returned to Park township and was again elected to serve on the board and since that time had served continuously as supervisor.

Mr. Heneveld was elected chairman of the board in 1931, a post he held until April 13, 1937, when Charles Lowing of Georgetown township was elected chairman. Dick E. Smallegan of Jamestown township is present chairman of the board.

Survivors are the widow, Mrs. Anna Heneveld; 10 children, Mrs. Bert Kemper of Albuquerque, N.M., Mrs. Mathew Teelen of Kalamazoo, Mrs. Maurice Marcus of Milwaukee, Wis., Mrs. Henter Blevis of Arlington, Va., Mrs. Blaine Timmer of Central park, Mrs. Robert Spencer of Arlington, Va., Edward Heneveld of Chicago, Lieut. George Heneveld, Turner Field, Albany, Ga., and Barbara and Lloyd Heneveld, at home; 16 grandchildren; and one brother, Gerrit Heneveld of Muskegon.

He was a member of Central Park Reformed church.

Funeral services for George E. Heneveld, 61, route 1, Holland, Park township supervisor for 24 years, who dropped dead of a heart attack Wednesday forenoon on River Ave. between Eighth and Ninth Sts., will be held Monday at 1:30 p.m. from the home, private, and at 2 p.m. from Central Park Reformed church.

Burial will be in Graafschap cemetery. The body will lie in state at the Langeland funeral home Saturday from 3 to 5 and from 7 to 9 p.m. and Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m.

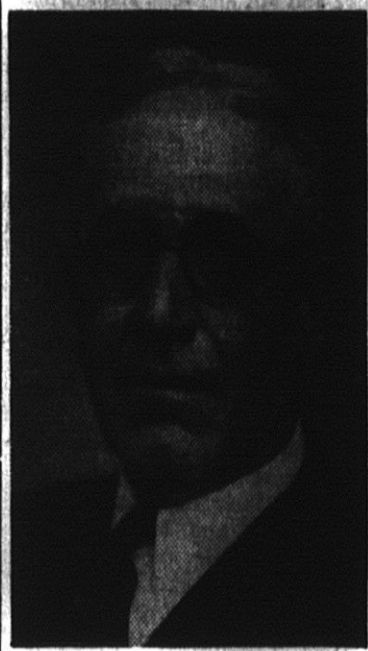

Pall bearers will be Park township officials, Albert Brinkman, Robert Christopher, Gerrit Nevezuel and Bert Van Lente, justices of the peace; Nick Stielstra, township clerk; and Peter Dykman, member of board of review.

Name Committee To Set Up Agency For Drive in Fall

Action Taken to Retain Policy of One Annual Campaign in Holland

A War Chest council to function as an agency of the Community chest will be organized in Holland, according to Peter Van Dornen, Jr., president of the Community chest board.

A committee has been appointed by the chest board to organize the wartime agency so that Holland residents may continue to concentrate their charitable contributions upon one campaign each year. It was explained.

Joe H. Geerds is chairman of the committee. Other members of the group are John De Wilde, George Damson, Cornie Kragt and A. W. Tahaney.

"For some time the Community chest board has received requests from various national and international war relief agencies that they be included in the annual chest campaign, while others have asked that the board give its endorsement to privately conducted fund raising projects," Mr. Van Dornen said.

"The board feels that the citizens of Holland prefer to retain the fundamental idea of the Community chest of having one annual drive, usually in October.

"Our consideration and support of worthy war relief organizations represents the human, sympathetic side of our all-out war effort. We, as Americans, in the preparation and prosecution of this war should pledge ourselves not to overlook the needs of those who have been driven from their homes by ruthless war lords, and are now suffering for want of food, clothing and medical care.

"Such agencies as Chinese War relief, Russian War relief and the Queen Wilhelmina fund, as well as the United Service organizations for our own soldiers, will come under the jurisdiction of the War Chest council when its organization is completed.

"This plan is not original in Holland. It has been adopted by other communities and is a means of uniting worthy war relief agencies with the Community chest in one campaign for funds."

Vernon Drost of 126th Infantry, in Australia, and Julius of Holland; four grandchildren; one brother, Chris Drost of Holland; and three sisters, Mrs. Minnie Van Slooten of West Olive, Mrs. Johannes De Haan of East Holland and Mrs. Cornie Schaap of California.

Funeral services will be Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in the home, private, and at 2 p.m. in the 14th St. Christian Reformed church, Dr. R. J. Danhof officiating, with burial in Pilgrim Home cemetery. Friends may view the body at the Langeland funeral home Friday from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m.

SMB Parade and Park Program Attract Crowd

Procession Requires
35 Minutes to Pass;
Grandstand Is Filled

Holland's tulips took a backseat Wednesday night as Hollanders demonstrated the extent of their all-out war effort with an "S.M.B. day program, which included a parade through the downtown business district and a program in Riverview park.

An estimated 7,000 residents and visitors filled the grandstand and bleachers at the park.

S. M. B. day was arranged as a mid-week feature of the Tulip festival program, "S" standing for saving scrap materials, "M" for making armament and "B" for buying more savings bonds.

Surpassing all expectations of officials, the program was enthusiastically received by all those who witnessed it. As one elderly Holland citizen said after the parade passed, "It was the finest thing I've seen yet. It shows that Holland is a long way from being dead."

Several thousand persons lined both sides of the route to watch the parade which required 35 minutes to pass. The parade was started promptly at 7:30 p.m. by the chief marshal, Dr. William Westra.

Heading the procession was the Holland American Legion band with its color guard. Behind it marched Co. 305 of the Michigan State troops, dressed in their khaki uniforms and in command of Major Henry Rowan and Capt. Robert Kow. Mayor Henry Geerlings and common council members followed.

The pumper truck from the No. 1 station led the Holland fire department unit and behind it came the local firemen in uniform while the aerial ladder truck from the No. 2 station brought up the rear. Trucks from the board of public works, the city engineer's department and the city park department were included. The park department decorated its truck as a float, featuring ferns, potted plants and a cedar tree. From a hoist on the rear hung a log on top of which were a cross cut saw and an axe.

Holland High School band led the second division and behind it student members of the victory council pulled the high school victory float which consisted of a minute man standing by his plow. A poster pointed out that $1,331 in war savings stamps had been sold in the school. A U. S. coast guard truck carried a large poster emblem of that organization.

Red Cross and Holland hospital nurses marched in their white uniforms and blue capes lined in red. Then came the Camp Fire girls, carrying defense bond posters and urging citizens to save grease for the war effort. Others carried flags and garden tools and some of the girls carried the saving of fruit jars and a patriotically decorated float illustrated baby care.

Reading the third division was the Zeeland High School band and behind it came the Chris Craft Corp. entry which consisted of a trailer and a troop landing boat on another trailer. Company employees marched in a body behind the two boats.

Holland Hitch Co. had one of the largest entries for it appeared that almost all of its 330 employees turned out to march in the parade. First came the plant police, then a jeep truck in which the office girls rode, followed by employees. A float, bearing a large sign that the company has enlisted in the "Battle of Production," exhibited the various products of the company and behind it came more employees. Then came an army transport truck with its soldiers and then more employees, all of whom were wearing arm bands.

The jeep was loaned to the company by the U. S. army and was driven here from Camp Custer by three officers, Col. George Byers, Major J. P. Kaylor and Major R. K. Phelps. The troops riding in the army transport truck were home guard troops on guard duty at the radio monitoring station near Dunningville in Allegan county.

Baker Furniture, Inc., entered a float which appealed for the purchase of more war savings bonds. The float illustrated a typical Dutch home setting with a fireplace and various pieces of furniture. Members of the Dutch family wore costumes. On the large table was a bowl of tulips in full bloom. Behind it came the company's first aid unit, the auxiliary firemen with their hose cart and the fire-fighting equipment or war savings bond posters.

Hudsonville High School band led the third division followed by West Michigan Furniture Co. employees carrying flags, the Holland Furniture Co. employees and the George Mool Roofing Co. truck. Two old model automobiles, one driven by Chester Van Tongeren, also were in the parade.

Dutch Costume Show Is Attractive Feature

The authentic Dutch costume show, one of the most charming and unusual features of the Tulip Time festival, attracted approximately 250 persons to the Woman's Literary club Wednesday afternoon. The event, which is sponsored by the Netherlands Museum with Willard Wichers as chairman, will be repeated Friday at 3:30 p.m. A committee of club women have assisted Mr. Wichers in arrangements for the show.

Mrs. W. J. Olive, dressed in an attractive and authentic South Holland costume, presented her original script which heralded the appearance of groups representing 12 provinces of The Netherlands, as well as special musical features and novelties. Mrs. Clyde Geerlings furnished piano accompaniment. Quaint customs of Old Holland were included in the recital by Mrs. Olive.

Following the appearance of Mayor Henry Geerlings in his costume of Burgemeester, others to appear were Connie Tuinman and Ruth Koks in Walcheren costumes; Karel Mari Kleinhekel and Sara Jo Kleinhekel in Friesland outfits. Miss Dorothea De Boer, dressed as a bride, joined with Mrs. J. K. Vander Vliet, Mrs. M. De Boer and Mrs. Albert Buter to sing in Dutch, "Vogelnestje," a characteristic lullaby. Mrs. De Boer introduced members of the group and described the heirlooms they were wearing.

Other provinces represented were: Marken, Joyce Fris and Mary Ann De Weese; Volendam, Mrs. Eugene Heeter, Stephen Heeter, Mrs. Chester Van Tongeren, Mrs. E. H. Sulkers, Buster Bouma, John Kools and Delwyn Van Tongeren; South Holland, Mrs. W. C. Kools and Mrs. John Vander Broek, whose lace cap is over 100 years old; Drenthe, Mrs. Duncan Weaver, who later illustrated the famous Dutch ruff, and Groningen, Mrs. Edwin Heerlinga.

Some of the most unusual costumes were those of South Flanders, worn by Mrs. James Vander Wege, her daughter, Mrs. Victor Van Oosterhout, and the latter's two-year-old daughter, Jacqueline. Gelderland was illustrated by Beth Wichers; South Beveland by Mrs. Titus Van Haltsma, daughter Mary Ruth, and Bobby Bouwman; and Zeeland by Sonya Lee Bouwman, Dorothy Wichers, Pauline Van Eerden, Jacqueline Bouwman, Mary Jo Geerlings, Ann Geerlings and Marian Gebben.

In Friday's show Mrs. Wilson Diekema will wear her attractive Marken costume and Mrs. J. K. Ward and Willard Wichers will be in the Zeeland group.

As a special feature Marjorie Brouwer sang a recent song written by Leo Field, a Netherlands citizen residing in New York, "I Dream of Holland."

At the conclusion of the program, the entire group gathered on the stage for a Dutch psalm singing announced and led by Clarence Javling as the town crier. An innovation was the appearance of St. Nicholas (Alfred Rypstra) and his helper, Black Pete (Kenneth Lincoln). Paul Brouwer of Hope college will be seen at St. Nick in Friday's performance.

Gifts were received for the Queen Wilhelmina fund.

All costumes in the show are authentic, many of them treasured heirlooms brought by relatives from The Netherlands.

Tuesday was a banner day at the local Christian schools. A record "high" was established for the day's sale of stamps when more than $191.40 in defense stamps were purchased by the students, making a grand total of $2,620.60.

The teachers in all three buildings are working as a unit to make each student realize the value of buying defense stamps, both as a patriotic duty and as a personal saving. So successful has been their work that throughout the 12 grades Tuesday is now known as "Stamp" day. Miss Fredericka De Jong and John De Vries head the committee.

Wants Younger Man to Succeed Blom Who Has Served City 57 Years

The retirement of Cornelius Blom, Jr., as chief of the Holland fire department so that a younger man may succeed him was asked in action taken Monday night by the board of police and fire commissioners at its regular meeting in the office of City Clerk Oscar Peterson.

Chief Blom joined the Holland fire department on his 18th birthday on Oct. 1, 1884, and has been a member of the department for the past 57 years. He became chief of the department in April, 1908, and held this position for 34 years.

On Oct. 1, 1941, he observed his 75th birthday.

The board's action came in the form of a resolution which was adopted by the four commissioners present, Chairman James Borr, Fred Kamferbeek, William H. Deur and William J. Meenga. Commissioner John F. Donnelly was not present.

On motion of Deur, seconded by Meenga, the board voted that a copy of the resolution should be presented to the fire chief and that he be requested to comply with the resolution. Blom was not present at the meeting as it was understood that he had learned his resignation was to be requested.

Chairman Borr and Meenga delivered a copy of the resolution to the fire chief after the board adjourned. They informed him he could tender his resignation to the city clerk. The chief was quoted by Borr as stating that he had anticipated such action would be taken at Monday's meeting.

No mention was made at the meeting as to who would be appointed as his successor. The board, under provisions of the city charter, may appoint a chief of the fire department, subject to approval of common council.

The resolution, asking for Blom's retirement, is as follows: "There comes a time in the life and experience of everyone of us when our strength gives way. Whether we like the situation or not, it is a fact nevertheless. There is a lot of satisfaction, however, in the thought that one is willing to serve and when one has the confidence of the community, it is very much worthwhile to give of our best. After all, service counts. In spite of all the criticisms that may arise, it is heartening to know that one's life work was not in vain.

"Mr. Blom has given many, many years of loyal and willing service to the city of Holland. He has looked upon public office as a public trust. He has been untiring in his efforts to build up a very efficient fire department. We believe the volunteer work of the men in the department has been outstanding. We doubt very much if there is a department in the state that is better equipped.

"The council and the board of fire commissioners are grateful for the splendid spirit that has prevailed throughout the years. Mr. Blom has done his part in maintaining the high standards of the department. But we realize that at the age of 75 years, it is only fair to him and to the city that he retire. We are confident that the men in the department will welcome his presence at their meetings. We are asking for his retirement at this time so that a younger man may take his place. It is more or less of a hazardous job and it requires considerable strength to do the work that is required of a fire chief."

There was no discussion among the board members on the resolution as submitted by City Clerk Peterson since it had been laid on his desk for presentation to the board as a whole under the heading of "communications."

Chief Blom is the city's oldest employee in the point of service. Throughout his years in the department, he looked after the interest of the department for it was his contention that "adequate fire protection is the best insurance that Holland can have against heavy fire losses."

Manager of Fairs Will Visit Fete on Saturday

A. C. Carton, manager of fairs for the state department of agriculture, will visit Holland's Tulip Time festival Saturday and will be the guest of State Rep. Nelson A. Miles of Holland.

Arrangements have been made, the Tulip Time office reported today, for Mr. Carton to present the plaques to the bands in Centennial park following Saturday afternoon's parade of bands.

The awards are antiqued scrolls, lettered in gold and mounted on leather backed plaques. They were designed by Jack Vander Hill, 261 West 11th St., who at one time was a manufacturer of wall plaques.

Wins First Place In Festival Salon Muskegon Photo

Kazoo Picture Second; Penna of Holland Club Awarded Third Honor

Six photographs, including one of the Holland Camera club, today bore ribbons designating them as winners in the third annual Tulip Time salon in the Chamber of Commerce building. First place was awarded to Harriet Nadeau of the Greater Muskegon Camera club with her "Little Mother," a picture of a girl combing her doll's hair. "Hilltop House," a rural scene by C. H. Bommerheim of the Kalamazoo Camera club, received second place. Ernest F. Penna of the Holland Camera club was awarded third place with his "Lift Up Thine Eyes," a study of Lyle Schlippe. The other three pictures in the select group received honorable mention.

They were "Grapes of Wrath," a picture of a group of unemployed men at a river's edge, by Earl Waring Dunn of the Grand Rapids Camera club; "Saturday Night Bath," a picture of a Negro child standing beside a tin tub, by Frederick L. Schotz of the Twin City Camera club of St. Joseph and Benton Harbor; and "Winter Fog," a highway scene, by James Huber of the Twin City club.

The salon, which attracted photographs from seven clubs of southwestern Michigan, was judged Tuesday afternoon by Glenn R. Peterson, artist and photographer of Kalamazoo, who also spoke Tuesday night at a banquet for 40 representatives of the camera clubs and their guests.

As the feature of the banquet, Mr. Peterson analyzed each of the pictures appearing in the salon. His critique was impressive in that it emphasized the good points of the pictures but also brought out pertinent faults in such a way that they could be applied to all photographs and be guarded against in future picture making.

Alton Van Faasen, Holland club president, presided at Tuesday night's program. Clyde H. Geerlings, chairman of the committee in charge of arranging the salon, introduced Mr. Peterson.

In Business 75 Years on Same Site

One of the oldest business establishments in the city of Holland, T. Keppel & Sons, has remained in the same family since it was founded 75 years ago, and is still transacting business on the original site. The history of this firm which deals in coal, builders' supplies, Sherman-Williams paints and Fairbanks Morse stokers, dates back to the days when customers called for their coal and materials in ox carts and horse-drawn wagons.

It was established in 1867 by Teunis Keppel, a sturdy pioneer. In 1896, his sons, Bastian D. Keppel and Albert C. Keppel, associated with their father for many years, became members of the firm and carried on under the name of T. Keppel & Sons. The latter retired from the company in 1932, and upon the death of his brother in the same year, John Vander Broek, with the firm since 1918, became owner and manager.

Teunis Keppel introduced the first carload of coal to Holland. It was sold to the late Leendert Mulder, publisher of the Grandview, who had installed a small stationary engine and boiler for operation of the first steam printing press in the city. Although coal was necessary to maintain steady steam pressure, many criticized Mr. Mulder's choice of fuel since wood was plentiful and could be purchased at $1.25 a cord.

Mr. Keppel also introduced the first cement used in Holland, imported from Germany at great expense, and through his efforts, lump lime or hot lime, as it was known, was first brought into Holland by sailing vessels.

Later, T. Keppel & Sons introduced kerosene and gasoline, in the days when Holland had no electric lights. Gasoline was then called benzine and was used only for cleaning and in a few naphtha launches, the first to appear on Macatawa bay. Gasoline in those days sold for five cents per gallon, delivered in barrels. T. Keppel & Sons handled the Standard Oil products for several years, made deliveries in the surrounding villages with horses and wagons, and continued this long after the advent of the automobile.

Several new items have augmented the line, such as Sherwin-Williams paints, Fairbanks Morse stokers, metal windows, building brick, tile, sewer pipe, metal lath, and other materials. Only fireproof building materials are sold.

When considering a new brick home and the fuel with which to heat it, call 2838, and Marvin Lambers will be glad to submit brick samples for your approval, or Mary Vandewater will take your order for summer fill-up. John Van Huis and Hessel Bremer, who have faithfully served T. Keppel & Sons a combined total of over sixty years, are fully qualified to render quick and efficient delivery.

The firm stresses the impending crisis which threatens transportation and mining of sufficient coal within the next six months to heat the homes of the city next winter. T. Keppel & Sons appeal to coal users to order all the coal they can pay for in the next few weeks and keep bins well filled.

T. Keppel & Sons' policy is to sell only the highest grade of merchandise, with the motto, "The Sweetness of Low Price Never Equals the Bitterness of Poor Quality."

SACRED COWS

The other day on this page, in the "Press Comment" column, the Sentinel reprinted a letter sent to the Christian Science Monitor under the title, "Rubber Tires for Beer Trucks." For the benefit of those who may have missed the little article, the point made was that beer trucks are being treated as privileged services and hence have a priority rating in securing tires. The writer of the letter protested that beer is not a food, and that in a world in which even milk trucks are restricted, priority rating for beer trucks is an anomaly.

To which many people will agree. But the same thing is happening in this war — sacred cows are appearing on all sides.
A sacred cow is of course an animal that must not be touched.
Anything can become a sacred cow that has enough backers to make it such. It looks as if the liquor business has the backers in the government.

The answer is that the liquor business is a perfectly legal enterprise and that hence it should have the protection of the government. And that is true. But so is the automobile business, yet the automobile business has been virtually confiscated to advance the war program. Those who protest against priority rating for beer trucks are merely asking that the liquor business shall not be given special privileges and protection.

The American people are wholeheartedly ready to deny themselves the things that they have always regarded as necessities. But they are as reluctant as they have ever been to pamper the various types of sacred cows that seem to be running loose. The liquor business is only one of them; there are many others. One of the surest ways of destroying the people's will to sacrifice is to keep on feeding these same sacred cows.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

The Reverend Charles D. Brodhead in "The Upper Room" says, "Nothing can ever take the place of the church. With its work and worship it is paramount. It merits the devotion and priority of our prayers, our presence and our gifts and our service."

The church stands as a stalwart sentinel of the supremacy of the spiritual, a beloved light-house of God's truth and grace amidst the troubled storms of life and the terrifying darkness of a pagan generation, an indispensable fortress of the Kingdom of God where all may find strength and shelter divine."

In view of these facts why not accept the invitation and go to church next Sunday?

Couple Is In Demand by Festival Photographers

Coral Dawn West of route 4 and Jimmie Smeenge of 130 West 29th St. made an attractive couple in Dutch costume over the week-end and were much in demand as models for amateur and professional photographers. Many movies were taken of them on Eighth St. following the parade and later in the park and at Little Netherlands by an assistant of Burton Holmes, famous photographer who was unable himself to come here because of illness.

Coral Dawn lives with her grandmother, Mrs. Sena Cochran.
Mrs. Cochran and her sister, Mrs.
Smeenge, and the two children plan to go to Chicago sometime between Feb. 15 and March 15 when Mr. Holmes will exhibit his pictures at Orchestra hall. Movies of the children also will be shown later before the Exchange club.

The Last Day With the Disciples
—Luke 22: 14-30

By Henry Geertlings

During the last hours of our Lord's earthly life events crowded in upon one another. It was wholly impossible for the closest of His disciples to see what would be the next turn in affairs. If they thought very much of what was happening they must have been dazed by the panoramic nature of the issues.

We are led to believe, when we take into account the records of the four gospels, that the twelve did not do much thinking. They seem to have believed that the next move was their Lord's. They were willing to think that He would find some way out of the difficulties both the Jewish and Roman groups were raising. They had seen Him do many wonderful things. With such an imposing record of miracles back of Him could any harm befall Him? He could avoid any trap they might lay for Him.

The hour mentioned here was that of the celebration of the Feast of the Passover. This would indicate that our Lord observed the usual feasts among the Jews.
When He was twelve years of age He went up to Jerusalem for the purpose of keeping the Passover.
There were thirteen in this group until Judas left the room. It was to be the last meeting they would have with their Lord.

It may be that Jesus had eaten this feast with the twelve on previous occasions. But there was a special reason why He anticipated this meal with them. It would be the last time it would happen, the first reason being that in a few hours He would die on the cross, and in the second place they would henceforth observe another feast in its stead. It was appropriate that on this occasion He would stress the fact that He was soon to suffer. He had told them that a number of times, but now it was at hand. He seems to have taken His hand and drawn the curtain upon the Passover celebration. When the greater feast was at hand why should the lesser and the ancient persist?

It does not seem to be altogether clear when and where the Passover terminated and the Lord's Supper instituted. It has been suggested that the cup referred to here was the third in the order followed by the Jews at their feasts, and not the one that is to be found in verse 20 which without question became a part of the new feast. The one blended into the other as night moves into day, the point of division being imperceptible.

Jesus knew that He would not again partake of a social meal with the disciples. The fact is He ate no more before His death. But as dark as the hours ahead were,
He looked forward to His triumph, for He died to reign. The feast He would eat with them in the coming kingdom would be new in the sense that it would be new in quality and character, and not with substance of material elements.

The common elements that were provided for the Passover were employed to inaugurate that greater feast which Christians should through all time use in the celebration of the vicarious death of our Lord and the new life that comes therefrom. One aspect of this feast is that it partakes of the nature of a memorial. We are to eat and drink of it in memory of Jesus. These common elements, food and drink, are to visualize His death and to keep before us its reality.

How significant it is that as soon as Jesus had instituted the meal that was to commemorate His death, the hand of death was laid upon Him! The man who was responsible for betraying Him was one of the twelve. He seems to have gone out and laid the plans while the Supper was being instituted, or at least it was in his heart to do so, and he needed only the opportunity. There is no hint that the eleven had any knowledge as to what Judas had planned to do. He worked out his own heinous scheme and resolved within himself that it would be carried out.

It seems utterly shocking that just at the time Jesus was speaking of His death upon the cross and the determined opposition of His enemies. His disciples should reach out hands for the best things they could lay hold of. In common language they wanted what they felt was coming to them. When He was setting his face toward Calvary they were looking out for honors and advancement. The unworthy ambitions that were welling up in the hearts of utterly selfish people were beginning to take hold of these men whom Jesus was training to become leaders in a kingdom in which selfishness would play no part. Well, that was the mental and moral timber that our Lord had to work with, and it paid. He saw it would pay, and that is why He kept at His seemingly discouraging task.

Holland
In 1912

Following is the 48th in the series of weekly articles taken from news of the Holland Daily Sentinel published nearly 30 years ago.

So large was the crowd that gathered at the Graham & Morton dock last evening to welcome the new steamer City of Grand Rapids that the remark was often heard that all the people of Holland must be there, according to a lengthy news article appearing in the Tuesday, June 25, issue of the Holland Daily Sentinel.

Early this morning an automobile party consisting of Dr. and Mrs. A. Godfrey, Prof. J. B. Nykerk, and Prof. J. W. Beardslee, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Totten, Miss Lena Wheeler and Miss Ida Larkins started out on a trip to
New York.

The Holland Firemen's benefit association is the name of the newest organization which was started by Fire Chief Blom and formed by all members of the fire department. The object of this association is the mutual benefit of the members and the relief of members or their families who may be in need because of sickness, injury or death.

The Hope college delegates to the Lake Geneva Student conference returned late last night, all reporting the biggest time of their lives. The Hope delegation numbered 15, being as large a delegation as there was from any one school.

George Van Duren, well known in this city where he has grown from boyhood left for Salt Lake City, Utah, last evening. He has accepted a position as actuary in a life insurance and investment company.

Members of the Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton chapter, D.A.R., have received invitations to attend the exercises held in connection with the presentation of the great seal of Michigan by the Michigan chapters, Daughters of the American Revolution, to the University of Michigan.

The marriage of the Rev. Bernard Flikkema and Miss Minnie Sprietama will take place Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S.
Sprietama, Rev. Flikkema graduated from the Western seminary in May and has accepted a call to the Reformed church at Sheboygan Falls, Wis.

When the new Graham & Morton steamer City of Grand Rapids came up the bay through the waters of Black lake for the first time last night she carried one man who has the unique distinction of having sailed in and out of Black lake more times than any other living man, began a new item in the Wednesday, June 26, issue. The City of Grand Rapids is new to the Holland port but Thomas McCabe the purser of the new steamer, well known to all the passengers of the line used to sail the old wooden shoe steamer City of Holland years ago before a steamer like the City of Grand Rapids was thought of as a possibility for Holland-Chicago traffic.

A very pretty wedding took place in Zeeland last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William De Free when their daughter, Alyda May, was united in marriage to Prof. Wynand Wich-ers of Hope college. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Moerdijk, pastor of the Reformed church at Grandville.

A big event is to take place in North Holland tomorrow when the marriage will take place of John Nehhuis and Miss Grace Knoohuis.

Tomorrow will be Children's day in Royal Neighbor circle all over the United States. In all the lodges the little ones will hold the center of the stage and every effort will be made to give them a good time.

Dr. H. Keppel, professor of Mathematics of the University of Florida, left for Ann Arbor Tuesday as a delegate from the Florida school to attend the 75th anniversary of the founding of the University of Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Powers left for Fallon, Nev., today. Mr.
Powers is the chief engineer of

There will be special interest in the school elections in Holland this year because of the fact that five board members will have to be chosen instead of three as is usually the case. Moreover the election will be of unusual importance because of the fact that the members chosen will have the building of the new $100,000 high school on their hands and this is a task that will require a great amount of work for the members as well and careful consideration.

The terms of the following mem-

McLean, James A. Brouwer, B.
Stekete, I. Marsilje and W. H.

With afternoon sunshine streaming through the stained glass win-its best, and thus it was that sev-

SUNDAY DINNER
Suggestions

ALTHOUGH her role may not be as glamorous or dramatic as that of the woman in a uniform, the average American housewife, is an important factor in her nation's victory effort and should wear her responsibilities proudly.

She is the one charged with seeing that each and every member of the family is properly nourished and kept fit for wartime activity.
This not only means menus which have plenty of vitamins and minerals but foods so attractively prepared that "second helpings" are the order of the meal.

Vegetables usually are one of the knottiest problems, especially with regard to the man of the family, who more likely than not will consume most of his menu to meats and starches. The trick is to put vegetables in their most appetizing guises, to work them into the meat dishes and into tempting salads.

Sunday dinner was never more important, because Sunday is probably the one day in the week when the family forgets wartime activities for a little while and relaxes from nervous tension. Therefore, Sunday dinner should invariably be a gala occasion no matter how simple the menu.

This week the largest of the food chains reports lower prices on beef, veal and pork. Strawberries and oranges are the most plentiful of the fruits and green beans, asparagus, cabbage, lettuce, mushrooms, onions

'Smilin' Through' Draws Enthusiastic Audience

An enthusiastic audience of approximately 150 persons greeted the initial performance of "Smilin' Through," Hope college senior play, in the Woman's Literary club Tuesday night. Laughter, tears, gaiety and a murder are cleverly interwoven in the scenes of the three-act drama to unfold the love story of two young people in England at the time of World War I.

Jeanette Rylaarsdam plays the leading role of pretty Kathleen Dunganon, spirited Irish heroine, whose witty tongue and quick humor relieve many a tense situation in the play. Kenneth Wayne, her lover who goes off to war, is portrayed by Blaise Leval. James Baar is well cast as John Carteret, crotchety old uncle of Kathleen, whose stubborn attitude toward the son of his fiancée's murderer almost results in tragedy for the young people.

A dramatic highlight of the play occurs in the second act which takes place 30 years earlier on the wedding night of young John Carteret, played by Gordon Girod, and the beautiful Moon-yreen Clare, played by Nola Nies. The play takes its name from the dying words of the bride who promises Carteret that through the years somehow she will come back to him "Smilin' Through," though her happiness has been cruelly cut off by a bullet in the hands of her rejected suitor, Jeremiah Wayne, played by Don Van Ark. How the spirit of the dead woman comes to haunt the old man in visions and influence the lives of the two lovers is revealed in the final scenes of the play when John Carteret withdraws his grudge and settles old feuds.

Charles Boonstra in the role of portly Dr. Owen Harding, old-time friend of Carteret, brings many laughs in his attempts to humor the groggy old man. The young Dr. Harding in act two is portrayed by George Vander Hill, who depicts the typical nervous best man at his friend's wedding. Other humorous scenes in the production are furnished by the love-making of Willie Anley, played by John Weathof, unwelcome but persistent suitor of the charming Kathleen.

Ellen, the faithful maid in the Carteret household, is played by Marian Van Zyl and her younger counterpart is played by Nancy Boynton. Dorothy Shramak is cast as Mary Clare, sister of Moon-yreen, in act two. Also appearing in the garden scene with armfuls of Chinese lanterns as they busily make preparations for the wedding, are several guests, Eleanor Dalman, Dorothy Curtis, Peggy Hadden, John Maassen, John Hains, and Gene Hoover.

Costuming and make-up are appropriate and well-chosen for the actors. Dr. Owen and Carteret appear as two gray-haired, bearded and mustachioed English gentlemen with little more to do than drink tea, play dominoes, and get on each other's nerves. Gay hoop skirts appear in the garden scene prior to the wedding and Moon-yreen wears a beautiful old-fashioned white wedding gown and well complemented by long lace mitts.

Special lighting effects for those scenes in which the spirit of the murdered woman reenters the dark garden create a weird, ghostlike atmosphere for Carteret's visions. Snatches of music furnished by Carolyn Kremers, violinist, and Jeanette Van Beek, vocal soloist, also add color to the drama.

COMMON COUNCIL

Holland Mich., May, 1942

The Common Council met in special session pursuant to call by the Mayor.

Present: Mayor Geerlings, Aldermen Van Hartesveldt, Stefens, Bontekoe, Slagh, De Pree, Mool, Streun, Damson, Schepers, Raymond, Emmick, and the Clerk.

The Mayor stated that the meeting was called for the purpose of appointing a member of the County Tax Allocation Board. It was further stated that under Act No. 150 passed by the 1941 State Legislature, it is provided that one member of such Board be appointed by the governing body of the City with a population of over 10,000. The Act also provides that this member must be appointed from among its own members or be some other city official.

On motion of Alderman Raymond, seconded by Damson, City Clerk, Oscar Peterson, was appointed as such member from the City of Holland.

The City Attorney presented a new proposed Building Code that he has recently prepared at the suggestion of the local building trades. Mr. Lokker stated that this Code was taken from the minimum F.H.A. Construction requirements and he was assisted in preparing this proposed Code by C. Watson Millard who has been here assisting the local builders in connection with the Defense Housing Project.

The Council members discussed at considerable length the advisability of passing such a Building Code.

In this connection, it was stated that it was advisable to pass this ordinance as soon as possible so as to prevent buildings being erected in the City of Holland that would not meet these minimum requirements.

It was moved by Alderman Raymond, seconded by Van Hartesveldt.

That the City Clerk be instructed to have the Holland City News set up this new proposed ordinance so that in case the Council decides to pass it next week Wednesday, it can be run in the Holland City News on the following Thursday. In this connection, the Clerk was requested to send copies of this new proposed ordinance to each member of the Council as soon as it has been set up by the News and copies run off.

Alderman Raymond reported that he had been requested by Mr. Stephan, Manager of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, to report that some of the families of the local State Guards, who have recently been away serving the State in Detroit, are financially embarrassed due to the fact that their husbands were called away and deprived of their usual salary, which was considerable more than they receive from the State.

The Mayor stated that when these boys left, he assured their families that they would not suffer for need of food, clothing or otherwise while they were away, and instructed them that if they were in need of these necessities, to contact the local Welfare Department.

Council adjourned.

Former Holland Woman Interned

John S. Mills, 168 1/2 West 13th St., has received word that his sister, Mrs. Martha Mills Hill, is interned at the University of Manila in the Philippines where she and her husband have resided for many years.

The information was sent him by a sister, Mrs. Louis Kellogg of Chicago, whose husband, a lieutenant colonel in the army engineer, recently learned about Mrs. Hill from Francis Sayre, governor of the Philippines who has returned to Washington.

Mrs. Hill's husband and two sons, it was learned through Sayre, apparently were forced to take to the hills as their names were not included on the list of those interned which was received via the grape vine.

"Conditions are not too bad for those at the U. S.," Mrs. Kellogg wrote. "They are permitted use of the grounds, but are probably badly crowded."

Mrs. Hill first went to the Philippines in the Spanish-American war. He liked the area and after returning to the United States at the close of the war went back to the islands where he practiced law. Mrs. Hill, who came to Holland in 1915, went to the Philippines in 1922 as a nurse under Rockefeller foundation sponsorship. While residing in this locality she taught school in Zeeland for a time.

New York Block Has Its Own Fete

Native of Holland Is Leader in Planting of Tulips Along Curbs

If you can't come to Holland for its annual Tulip Time festival then your next best bet is to conduct your own festival.

That's what a group of residents did recently in New York, according to a story in a New York city paper.

The tulips were planted on both sides of 76th St., Kew Gardens, Long Island, N. Y., by the neighbors of Morris B. Cook, a native of Holland. Mr. Cook who is mayor of the block presented a plan to his neighbors last year in which all donated a small sum and the bulbs were brought from his hometown.

Their festival, celebrating the blooming of the tulips, included music and refreshments in the form of a block party, lasting well into the evening. The children wore costumes.

Mr. Cook, an undertaker, left Holland about 14 years ago for New York. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Cook. He is a brother of Mrs. Peter Ver Schure, 55 East 21st St. Mr. Cook married a former Zeeland girl and they have two children, Patty and Cookie.

An empty truck trailer was turned upside down about 8 p.m. Thursday when it was struck by a Pere Marquette switch engine on the Dock Ave. crossing a few feet north of Eighth St. near the Medusa Portland Cement Co. silos.

Decontamination Work Is Studied

Under the chairmanship of Andrew Hyma, a meeting of the decontamination squad, a part of the public works and utilities division of the civilian defense program was held Thursday night in the De Pree Co. laboratory.

Laboratory facilities were discussed and representatives present had the privilege of using their laboratories which included those at the De Pree Co., Holland public schools, Holland hospital and city disposal plant.

Other meetings are planned and it is possible that classes for civilian instruction will be held. The duties of the decontamination squad, as prescribed by the civilian defense council, consist of taking care of areas which have been gassed, contaminating the ground and clothing. Thus contamination centers and specially equipped trucks are necessary.

It may never become necessary to utilize this branch of defense in Holland, but a well trained organization might be called upon to aid in some coastal cities in event of a gas attack.

Those present Thursday included Mr. Hyma, Otto Dreesel, who served as secretary, Dr. Gerrit Van Zyl, G. J. Van Zoeren, Pat Nordhoff, Dr. Harvey Kleinheksel, Harry Kleinheksel, C. R. Trueblood, Rex Chapman, H. Bultuis, Joseph C. Rhea, and Charles Vos, in charge of the public works and utilities division, and students. Paul J. Hinkamp, A. Hietbrink, F. Essenburg and C. Van Wieren. OPA to Be Firm on Price Ceiling, Merchants Told

The overall price ceiling which takes effect in retail stores Monday was explained in detail to Holland and Ottawa county merchants at a meeting Thursday night in the Holland high school auditorium which was arranged by Mayor Henry Geerlings at the request of the Cleveland, O., regional office of the office of price administration.

Principal speaker was Stuart W. Hill, price attorney for the Cleveland regional office. Upwards of 200 merchants and persons interested in the government's general maximum price regulation were present.

Mr. Hill said the principal purpose of the meeting was to assist the retail trade in familiarizing itself with the new regulation which was issued by the OPA last April 28 to halt inflation. Under this regulation, manufacturer and wholesale prices and the prices for wholesale and industrial services must not exceed the highest March levels for each seller. This became effective last Monday.

Beginning next Monday, retail prices, with a few exceptions, must not exceed the highest levels which were charged during March and, effective July 1, the ceiling goes on retail services sold in connection with a commodity and the ceiling is the highest charged during March, Mr. Hill said.

A list of commodities exempted from the provisions of the regulation was given by Mr. Hill who divided them into four groups as follows:

First: Commodities like advertising, newspapers, books, magazines, motion pictures, wages, insurance, real estate, securities and basic farm commodities which have no ceiling price unless and until they attain a price level reflecting a special premium over parity.

Second: Commodities which do not have organized markets and for which it would be impossible to determine maximum prices either on the basis of previous sales or prices of comparable articles such as highly seasonal fresh vegetables, fresh fish and game, objects of art and collectors items like coins and stamps.

Third: Primary raw materials such as timber and mineral ores, all prices for which are substantially controlled by ceilings already in effect at certain levels.

Fourth: Special types of sales and services not rendered in connection with a commodity, such as services rendered by a lawyer or barber. Nor is there a ceiling on shows and entertainment prices. However, repair garages for automobiles, tailor shops, laundries, dry cleaning establishments, shoe repair business and their prices are included in the new regulation.

The merchants were told that if they customarily stated and collected a tax separately from the purchase price during March, 1942, it cannot be included in determining the maximum price but can be collected in addition to the maximum price. However, if they did not collect such tax separately from the purchase price during March, it cannot be included in determining the maximum price nor can be collected in addition to the maximum price.

The regulation does not require that the maximum price be charged, Mr. Hill said.

Informing that their record of sales made in March will be used in establishing ceiling prices, the merchants were warned to be sure they have these records preserved in their files as they are the merchant's protection. The merchants also learned that when the regulation becomes effective, he will be licensed immediately.

The merchant was informed that after May 18 he will be required to show the ceiling price and the selling price on the label of each article the shelf, bin, rack or other holder in which the commodity or article is kept. Then by June 1, the merchant has to file his price report with the county rationing board and monthly reports thereafter, showing newly offered commodities and the ceiling price charged. The merchant also must be prepared to make available for examination by the OPA, records necessary to the proper administration and enforcement of its provisions.

"Every effort will be made to devise adjustments in special cases of extreme hardship where it can be done in a manner and with a result not inconsistent with the essential purpose of the regulation," he said. "But the office of price administration is determined that there must be no increase in the general level."

Regarding enforcement of the regulation, Mr. Hill said it will be a "joint problem of the OPA, the people as a whole and of you of the retail trade who are so intimately tied in with it."

On April 28 when the regulation was issued, basic commodity prices had advanced 66 per cent, wholesale prices were up 1 per cent, retail prices had spiraled skyward 25 per cent of living had risen 15 per cent, he said.

Substitute Rubber Is Shown Rotary

Rotarians last Thursday watered Howard Kidwell, Detroit distributor for the Goodrich Rubber Co., while he produced a sample of "Ameripol," synthetic rubber, during a talk on the rubber situation in America.

Mr. Kidwell gave facts to show the seriousness of the rubber shortage. America's annual need is over 600,000 tons and the United States which formerly received 97 per cent of its rubber from the Dutch East Indies, has no great amount stored for future use.

Military uses are great — 75 tons are used in one battleship, over 50 parts of an airplane need rubber, and about 750 pounds are used in a tank.

Only a small amount of rubber is available in South America, and it is hard to get. A plant grown in Mexico will serve as a substitute but the plant takes four years to grow and is killed when the rubber is extracted.

Ameripol is a satisfactory substitute, he said. It is made entirely of American natural resources. A government appropriation has raised production possibilities to 400,000 tons yearly and this has been further raised to a potential 700,000 tons—two years hence.

Mr. Kidwell prophesied that Americans would never return to the use of natural rubber in any extensive sense.

'V' HOURS for CALLING!

TELEPHONE LINES—especially those handling interstate Long Distance calls—are busier than ever before, with Armed Forces and War Industry depending on the telephone to direct troop movements and speed production.

That's why we ask you to do your telephoning during the "V" hours, between the peaks. Peak periods, when lines are most congested, are from 10 to 11:30 A.M. and 2 to 4 P.M.

Material shortages will not permit us to increase facilities as we should like to, so we must conserve what we have to meet war needs.

Take advantage of the "V" hours for your telephoning. You will get faster, more satisfactory service, and you'll help speed the messages that speed Victory.

Tulip Season Is Most Unusual of Van Bragt Career

In Bloom Four Weeks About Twice as Long As in Ordinary Years

With but a few days remaining of tulip time and 75 per cent of our tulips still in bloom we find that we have experienced one of the most unusual seasons in our lifetime in tulip culture," John Van Bragt, for 18 years Holland's outstanding authority on horticulture, said today.

Four weeks ago most of the tulips were in bloom and the usual pessimistic reports were rampant throughout the town that "there will be no tulips for the festival" but the indomitable Dutch spirit prevailed among the park board personnel and they kept their hopes high.

Nature, and not the pessimists, had the final say. The skies turned dark, the thermometer stayed down and the tulips remained in bloom for four full weeks, which is about twice as long as is usually the case.

"It must be the Dutch live right," said visitors. They repeated it when the sun burst out at 2 p.m. the opening day of the festival after a dark rainy morning.

There has been considerable local criticism of the fact that Tulip lane has not appeared as well as in previous years. This is decidedly true but is definitely not the fault of the park authorities as the bulbs have remained in the lanes two or three years longer than the Tulip lane committee knew was advisable.

The price of tulips has doubled and trebled; the cost of labor has risen and the committee was in a financial position to renew only certain boulevard sections. They will have a meeting in the near future to determine on a policy which may do away with the lane entirely. One plan is to replace the lanes with a garden spot circuit along which will be certain sections of mass plantings of tulips; including the boulevards and certain park areas. In this way all of the bulbs that have overstay-ed their limit will be removed and destroyed as they will no longer produce desirable blooms.

To compensate for the criticisms of the tulips on the old lanes, the park board has the almost unanimous praise of the visitors for the appearance of the parks in general. Throughout the festival Supt. Van Bragt has received requests from outside park authorities and estate gardeners as to his method of producing and maintaining such remarkable lawn areas.

"Without a tulip in them Holland's parks would still be worth national mention," said one visiting horticultural authority.
