Chamber Asking New Revisions In Civil Service

Waste, Extravagance
Cited as Reasons
For Uneven Economy

The board of directors of the Holland Chamber of Commerce Monday night endorsed a resolution petitioning Congress, members of the Civil Service Board and all persons in position to remedy the situation to revise statutes and regulations with respect to Civil Service tenure to allow streamlining the executive branch of the government through elimination of unnecessary personnel and replacement of key officials sympathetic to the administration in office.

The resolution pointed to the principle that government economy should be carried out as speedily as possible through elimination of waste and extravagance in operations which includes the elimination of unnecessary personnel. It also pointed out that important policy-making functions should be in general accord with the administration in office in order that the broad policies of the party responsible to the people may be carried into effect and not thwarted by persons with antagonistic attitudes.

In other business, letters were read from U. S. Senators Charles Potter and Homer Ferguson stating they had endorsed Willard C. Wichers of Holland for the post of Ambassador to the Netherlands.

Plans also were made for the Chamber to be co-sponsor of a gathering May 29 in Durfee Hall honoring the Netherlands Ambassador and Mrs. J. H. van Roijen.

Turned over to the public relations committee was a study of proper means for advertising and directing travel into the city when the by-pass around the city is completed.

Clarence Greengood, chairman of the safety committee, reported that a study is being made into the school traffic court and it is hoped such a court will be organized before another school year. Supt. Bert P. Bos said the Christian School board of trustees is hiring a director for driver training, and student permits will be issued only to students who have completed such a course in both Christian and public schools. Greengood and William H. Vandewater, secretary-manager of the Chamber, will attend the first safety program meeting for Ottawa County schools in Grand Haven May 25.

Letters of appreciation will be written to Commissioner Joseph Childs of the Michigan State Police, Sheriff Gerald Vanderbeek and Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff for their excellent work in handling traffic for the Tulip Time festival.

The committee also reported that a great deal of publicity on safety has been given by The Holland Sentinel and Radio Station WHTO. The committee also is advocating more rigid drivers' examinations since tests taken in the drivers' test trailer during Tulip Time revealed 30 per cent of the drivers show defects of some kind, many of them in sight.

A petition bearing signatures of some 15 downtown merchants was presented requesting council to undertake action toward establishing parking facilities on the south side of Main St. Council accepted the petition for study.

In other business Simon Elhart was reappointed sexton of the cemetery while Andrew Schermer was appointed building inspector.

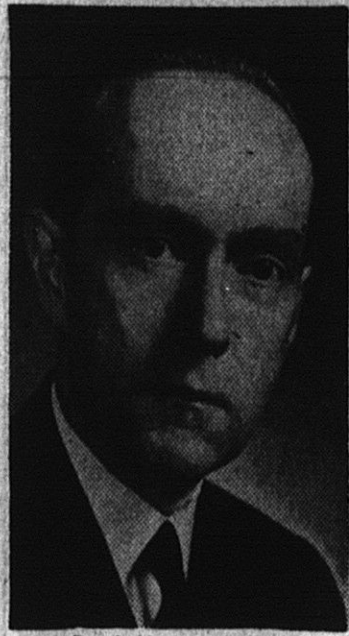

A report from the committee in charge of securing a new superintendent for the Board of Public Works reported that 18 applications have been received and are being considered. Several will be brought in for personal interviews soon.

All council members were present. Councilman George Van Eenennaam gave the invocation.

Memorial Day Parade to March Down Eighth St.

Senator Feenstra Will Be Cemetery Speaker;
Rev. Walvoord Chaplain

Holland's Memorial Day Parade will march down Eighth St. again this year instead of following the shorter route down 12th St. which was used the last year or two, it was decided at a meeting of the Memorial Day committee Monday night in City Hall. Mayor Harry Harrington presided.

The change means a halt in the parade with re-formation at 12th St. and Columbia to allow some of the younger marchers and the elementary band to drop out of the line of march, and a general re-lining of parade units, Marshal J. J. Riemersma said.

The return to Eighth St. was advocated by John Homfeld of the Spanish-American war contingent and a group of younger veterans.

Guy Vander Jagt

Vander Jagt Wins National Oratory Speaking Honors

Guy Vander Jagt, senior at Hope College from Cadillac, was named national champion in finals competition in the 11th Annual Hearst Tournament of Orators held in Milwaukee, Wis., Tuesday night. Prize was a $1,000 war bond.

The brilliant orator was pitted against representatives of the Eastern and Western divisions in the finale. Representing the Midwest, Vander Jagt received three first place votes and two seconds from the five judges.

Subject of all orations was John Marshall, former secretary of state and chief justice of the Supreme Court. Important historical figures have traditionally been subjects for Hearst tournaments.

Second place went to Bo Jansen, Western representative. Jansen is a junior from University of Southern California who emigrated to the United States about two years ago and is now becoming an American citizen.

To get into the finals Vander Jagt defeated nine Michigan orators to represent the state in regional competition held in Chicago last Friday. There he topped speakers from the University of Pittsburgh and University of Notre Dame. Tournament officials said 100,000 contestants were entered.

Vander Jagt's victory breaks all records in several categories. He hasn't been defeated in a major speech contest since his sophomore year in college when he was upset in an Interstate Oratorical contest.

He is the first representative of Michigan ever to win in the tourney, and his national victory is the first for a Hope College student in 47 years. In 1916 George Steininger of Hope copped a similar honor.

Throughout the series of contests leading to national competition, Vander Jagt was royally treated by tournament officials. Transportation, and living expenses at the famed Edgewater Beach hotel were provided.

Vander Jagt is a student of Dr. William Schrier, head of the speech department at Hope College. Schrier accompanied him throughout the course of the tournament.

Local Banks Enter Low Bid for City Building Bonds

Holland and Zeeland
Banking Houses Unite
In $500,000 Purchase

Local banking institutions were awarded the sale of $500,000 in municipal recreation building bonds at a meeting of City Council Wednesday night.

The joint bid, entered by First National Bank and Peoples State Bank of Holland and Zeeland State Bank, calls for 2 1/2 per cent interest for bonds retired the first eight years and 2 per cent for the last seven years, or an average of 2.06167 per cent, plus a premium of $3.99. This allows a net interest cost over 15 years of $79,821.02, according to City Auditor John Fonger.

The local bid was the lowest of eight bids submitted for the sale of bonds. Several representatives of banking houses were present at meeting including some from Detroit. Opening of bids and computing of rates took 40 minutes.

Council also authorized placing an order to print the municipal recreation bonds with the Northern Bank Note Co. of Chicago at a cost of $180 plus $12.50 for each change of the interest rate.

Council scheduled an informal meeting with the Hospital Board next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. to discuss hospital problems and the need for immediate expansion of hospital facilities. A communication written by John F. Donnelly, president of the hospital board, listed five possible ways of financing a new addition, and four ways of maintenance. These suggestions will be considered in detail at next week's meeting. Considerable thought is being given to the part adjoining townships will play in the program, with consideration for both bond issues and fund drives.

A second communication from the Hospital board called attention to Holland's position on the priority list for federal aid under the Hill-Burton act, and Council authorized the Hospital Board to apply for such aid.

Council approved an application of the Standard Oil Co. to operate a service station at 17th St. and Ottawa Ave. which previously had been okayed by the Board of Appeals subject to changes in driveway. The application had been tabled by Council May 6 awaiting revised driveway plans.

City Clerk Clarence Greengood called attention to action 12.9 of the city charter which provides that in event Council does not act upon the operating budget of the Board of Public Works by June 1, the budget shall be presumed to have been approved by Council.

Council approved Mayor Harry Harrington's appointment of Randall C. Bosch as member of the Board of Public Works for another five-year period, also the mayor's appointment of John W. De Vries and Louis B. Dalman to the heating ordinance board for three-year terms.

Council approved a few changes in specifications for the Municipal Recreation building as contained in bulletin No. 1 from Louis C. Kingscott and Associates. The changes involve aluminum entrances, corrugated wire glass in the upper tier of windows and aluminum frames in lieu of steel frames. The changes call for a reduction of $400.

Permission was granted to the Board of Education to use city registration records for the annual school election June 8.

Councilman Robert Visscher, reporting for a special BPW accounting committee, said the committee had met with the BPW and while the council group fully understands the BPW financial picture, nevertheless the committee recommends that Council deny the board's request limiting turnover to the city at $100,000 for this year only, and study the situation again next year.

Councilman Raymond Holwerda reporting for a committee on city investments, said the committee recommends that the city manager and city auditor be authorized to invest certain cash balances as they see fit at periods throughout the year, particularly on short-term U. S. securities.

Council approved 33 applications for soft drinks, 23 applications for restaurants, two for hotels, two for sidewalks and one for junk business.

All Councilmen were present with exception of John Beltman. Mayor Harry Harrington presided at the 11-hour meeting and Councilman John Van Eerden gave the invocation.

A 1951 model driven by Albert H. Scholten, 20, route 1, Holland, was badly damaged in a two-car crash Wednesday night at the entrance to Starlite Drive-in theater. The other car a 1939 model driven by 19-year-old Frederick G. Lubbers of Corunna, was demolished. Officers said the crash occurred as Scholten was making a left turn into the grounds and failed to see the oncoming car which reportedly was traveling without lights. (Carl Holkeboer photo)

Four Injured In Car Crash

Four persons were treated in Holland hospital for injuries received in a crash on US-31 near Starlite Drive-in Theater at 8:45 p.m. Wednesday. One car a 1939 model, was a total wreck and the other, a 1951 model, was badly damaged in the front.

The accident occurred as the '51 model, driven by Albert H. Scholten, 20, route 1, Holland, was making a left turn into the theater driveway. The other car, which witnesses claimed was without lights, was driven by Frederick G. Lubbers, 19-year-old Hope College student from Corunna, Mich.

Scholten was treated for a lump on the head but his two passengers fared worse. Paul Beverwyk had some teeth knocked out and received possible rib fractures. She remained in the hospital overnight. The other passenger, Chester Hoek, 17, route 6, was treated for head injuries and returned to the hospital today for x-rays.

Donald York of Berkley, Hope student riding with Lubbers, had some teeth knocked out and was released after treatment.

Filmore Deputy Henry Bouwman and state police investigated. State police issued a ticket to Lubbers.

The Holland Sentinel plans to serialize the plan, running a few chapters each week and possibly issuing a complete copy later.

The book also contains 32 plates on various subjects ranging from the relative value and density of residential areas to suggested city and school financing. Considerable space is devoted to the Holland school system, the anticipated enrollment increases and estimates on bond issues. Hospital needs, parks, storm sewers, streets, redevelopment and other needs are also considered.

Considerable space is devoted to traffic, Holland's major streets and recommendations on diverting the flow of traffic.

In the introduction, the planning commission writes: "This work has been a most stimulating experience—one that brought our community into clearer perspective and made us more appreciative of the wisdom that is contained in good planning."

"It was our good fortune to have for our tutor a man who in increasing our respect for his keen understanding of sound planning practice, and who taught us how to weigh the significance of the changing condition in which our community must live. Scott Bagby has made a great contribution in directing us toward goals that shall unquestionably save us from community indigestion and costly correctives. We know our recommended program falls short of perfection, but the realities of a century-old town faced with the complexities of the future do not permit easy, idealistic answers."

"Please remember that whatever good sense there is in this plan, it will not spring full blown into practice on its own accord. Only the will of the people can make that happen. This is not a plan imposed on you; it is presented to you in good faith as a working goal toward an expanding community bent upon a more comfortable, more enjoyable, more prosperous life. We are sure that you have the pride in your community to help put the plan into effect and to make it an even better plan through your enthusiasm and co-operation."

The letter was signed by the nine members of the commission, Marvin C. Lindeman, chairman; Mrs. Helena V. Winter, secretary; Robert Visscher, Jacob Zuidema, Henry S. Maentz, Willard C. Wichers, Dr. J. J. Brower, Russell Boeve and Mayor Harrington.

In a message to all Holland area residents and businessmen, Planner Bagby said: "This report is presented to you as a guide to help insure that the Holland area remains a fine community. You have helped to pay for the work, every bit of which was done to insure your best interests. You have a great deal to gain from it. But

Master Plan for Holland Ready After Three Years

A comprehensive community plan, the result of three years of study by a nine-member Holland Community Planning Commission together with Planning Consultant Scott Bagby of Grand Rapids, was submitted to City Council Wednesday night.

The report, which covers 108 pages in an 8 by 11 inch book, was received with interest but without comment, and Mayor Harry Harrington told each councilman to study the book carefully "and burn some midnight oil."

The books had arrived in Holland late Wednesday afternoon.

The report covers in detail Holland's basic problems. Where We Are and How We Reached There; the basic planning tools with regard to treatment of sprawl, development and treatment of spreading blight; basic area development policies with reference to selecting service areas, residential development, business and industrial development; planning details on the street pattern, school system, park and recreation areas, zoning pattern, central area details, public lands and buildings, the air age, redevelopment and rehabilitation, and financial planning.

Nine Bands Get First Division In Big Review

Dance Steps, Cruises Particularly Popular; Park Filled for Event

Nine of the 19 bands competing in the big three-hour band review Saturday afternoon at Riverview Park received first division ratings while all the others received second division ratings.

The park was jammed for the colorful event which many visitors claim is the highlight of the entire festival. Each of the 19 bands was allotted eight or nine minutes for marching and field maneuvers, and the program held to its schedule so well that it never varied more than two or three minutes ahead or behind the published time schedule. . . all of which speaks well for the tireless planning of Harold J. Karsten and his helpers.

There were uniforms of all colors and design, many of them in the conservative blues but others in greens, grays and touches of orange and scarlet. Adding special color were the four majorettes of the Dowagiac band wearing colorful Indian headdresses.

This year there was not a single formation of a tulip, windmill or wooden shoe. Apparently every band sought to avoid the repetition of such popular formations of other years, and it remained for the Warsaw, Ind., band at the Saturday night Varieties to form the first tulip and windmill of the day.

Cruises and dance steps were particularly popular this year, and perhaps more ships were formed than any other subject.

One of the best presentations was given by the first-division ranking Grand Rapids Christian High School band under the direction of Harold P. Goerdes which arranged "Michigan's Salute to Tulip Time." The band formed a "25" in honor of the time 25 years ago when the first tulips were planted, then formed a rocking chair for Grand Rapids, the furniture capital of the world while a message was read from Mayor Paul Goebel. For Zealand it formed a turkey for a message from Mayor Robert S. De Bruyn for the poultry center of Michigan.

The band formed a lyre for a message from Dr. Joseph E. Madry of the Interlochen Music Camp and a capitol dome for the telegram from Gov. G. Mennen Williams. As climax, the band brought on a 1910 Reo car later seen in the big parade for a message from Mayor Albert E. Cobo of Detroit.

Other bands winning first division were Plainwell High school, Ida High school, Wayland Union High School, Quincy High School, Adrian High School, Dowagiac High School, Charlotte High School and Grand Haven High School.

Winning second division ratings were Mendon School Band, Shelby High, Brooklyn High, Fowlerville High, Napoleon High, Springport High, Mt. Pleasant High, Belding High, Eaton Rapids High, Owosso High. Handsome plaques with ratings painted on during the interval were presented to bandmen by Chairman Karsten after the parade broke up at the Hope College athletic field.

Unusual comedy was provided by Wayland Union band when the baton and majorette's whistle was handed over to Joe Blow who thought he could direct a band better than the majorette. When the band formed an SOS he was glad to surrender the whistle.

Adrian High band followed the theme of a Tulip Circus forming a big tent and bringing on assorted circus folk, cops and baton twirlers. Quincy High put on an "Overture to Peace," portraying military might, a church as indicative of faith and a UN formation for hope.

Grand Haven High did several dance steps including square dancing, the polka, waltz, tango, Owosso High took the crowd south of the border and formed a fan for the "Lady of Spain" and a hat for the "Mexican Hat Dance."

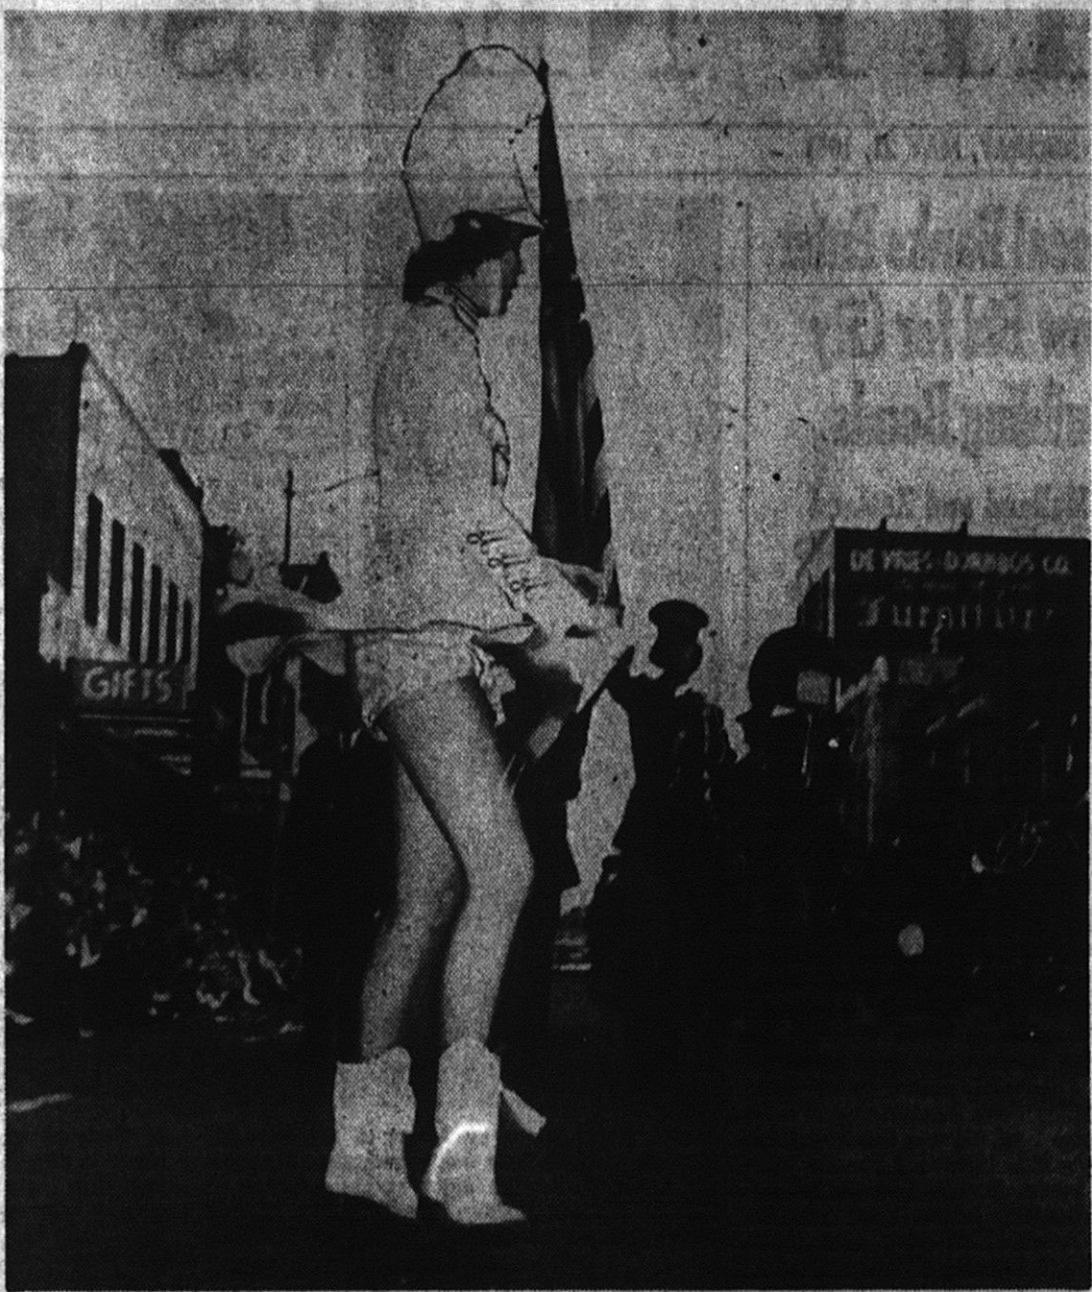

Snappy Charlotte High Band, always a first division winner, also did a few dance steps, forming a kneeling Jolson for "Swanee" and later a one-cent piece, a soldier and an atomic bomb. Dowagiac band with its majorettes in Indian headdresses engaged in a ball game and a dance.

Eaton Rapids High formed a church while playing "Onward Christian Soldiers." Belding formed a magic lamp, a shoeshine boy and a bleeding heart; Mt. Pleasant a kiltie band act and an "M"; Springport a "Hi" for "Hi Neighbor" and a boat with real smoke. Napoleon took the spectators on a cruise, forming a canoe, a heart and a bell, unfolding a giant flag while the band played "Grand Old Flag."

Fowlerville High engaged in dance steps; Brooklyn High on a cruise forming a Popeye with a Spinach sign and majorettes giving a tap dance while forming an anchor. Ida High Band gave some fancy drills; Plainwell a "Heart of the West" act with a hose, boat and Ranch house. Mendon School Band, colorful in its green uniforms with white plumes, formed a star, harp and its school monogram.

The big review was climaxed with a massed band formation in which three numbers were directed by the visiting judges, Eugene F. Heister of LaGrange, Ill., Leonard V. Meretta of Western Michigan College, and George R. Cavanaugh of University of Michigan.

In 1951 there were almost 180,000 friends (Quakers) in the world. More than half were in the United States.

Active majorettes leading fast-stepping bands was the order of the day Saturday as 44 bands converged on Holland to participate in the big 1 1/2-hour parade, the event which always attracts the largest Tulip Time crowds. Top picture shows a visiting majorette in characteristic pose. Bottom picture shows the jubilant Charlotte High School band members as they received their plaque with its first division or "highly superior" rating for snappy maneuvers in the band review. The solid mahogany plaques have a tulip design in seven colors with each plaque giving the name of the band, the director, the class, and the rating. The latter must be painted on in the interval between the review and the presentation. (Sentinel photo)

Denos, 23, Cleveland, Ohio, driving south on College Ave. Damage to the Denos car (above) was estimated at $500 by police and at $100 to the Dunn car. Thrills Galore: Bands March in Festival Climax

44 Bands, Floats, Marching Units, Cars Excite Large Crowd

Between 3:30 and 6 Saturday afternoon, high excitement pervaded a crowd of 180,000—the Parade of Bands was on—a parade that included pretty girls, attractive floats and celebrities as well as 44 bands.

"What a swell day" was a typical reaction from the humanity that was packed from curb stone to store front through two miles of Holland's streets. Many started taking seats on the benches that lined the parade route as early as 11 a.m.

For a half hour, the klompen dancers provided a sort of entree dish to go with the "main course" of the parade. Judging from crowd reaction, the entree was very delicious.

First units in the main course were served up at 4 p.m., and were the Holland American Legion Band and the local National Guard. Mayor Harry Harrington and the City Council, dressed in top hat and tails, followed.

A few steps ahead of Mayor Harrington was a miniature mayor, Butch Gladz also in high hat and tails. He drew laughs and applause, and put the crowd in a merry mood.

Among the pretty girls in the parade were the 18 Tulip Time Twirling champions. They gave a stellar exhibition of twirling magic. A few were running out of gas towards the end, but they persevered gamely.

In the overcast skies, formations of fighter planes flew from time to time, saluting the parade. In contrast to these speedy planes, was the antique car driven by D. A. Christians of Grand Rapids. Beside him was his wife dressed in turn of the century clothes and holding a parasol over her head. The car stalled once during the parade, but Christians got it going again in a jiffy.

Among the bands that received extra applause from the throng were those from Charlotte, Dowagiac, Battle Creek, Ida, Lee and Quincy. Drum majorettes with the Dowagiac band were exceptionally pleasing in their Indian headdresses.

A float emitting bubbles had magnetic attraction for the kids. They ran into the street trying to puncture the bubbles before they got too far away from the float.

Last entry in the parade was a Holland fire truck. Following the truck was a swarm of people that flooded the streets and sidewalks.

Miss Ann Taft Models "Black Tulip" Gown

Tulip Theme Fashion Design Wins Award for Holland Woman's Niece

A lovely "Black Tulip" gown, designed to honor her aunt's home town of Holland, has won high fashion honors for Miss Ann Taft of Evanston, Ill. Miss Taft, niece and namesake of Mrs. Thaddeus Taft of Holland, won a first place with the entry in the recent "Young Designers' Collection 1953," produced by students of Ray-Vogue Schools, according to a news release from the school.

Miss Taft modeled the gown herself in the "By Car or Plane—By Boat or Train" series of the show, staged at the Morrison Hotel in Chicago. She is a graduate of the Chicago Ray-Vogue school of modeling and now is in the second year of the design school. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Taft of Evanston, Ill.

Her winning fashion, a dramatic style of black crepe spun taffeta, was evidence that the "tulip" line is the latest word in fashion talk. The harem effect in the skirt is achieved by using a circular skirt over a straight skirt, the circular gathered at the bottom and sewn to the straight skirt from the inside. The fitted bodice is fashioned with a wide neckline with drop shoulders and full circle sleeves, gathered and "puffed" up. Miss Taft sets off the simple but smart and effective cocktail dress with a simple diamond brooch and earrings.

Miss Taft won three of the five clothing awards in the show. Her "White on Black" entry in the "White Collar Girl" division and her "Swing Your Partner" design in fashions "For Town or Country" both were judged division winners and two of her entries in a group of fashions for brides-to-be were highly praised by the judges.

The young designer's aunt, who operates a women's apparel shop in Holland, has achieved high recognition for her artistic abilities, too. She is active in Tulip Time affairs, especially in connection with the Flower Show, and has created many lovely and fascinating arrangements for local social events.

For the last three years she has been taking part in Tulip Time Festivals with the elementary band. She has been leading twirler of the band for the last two years.

Besides baton twirling, Lupita also is studying ballet and acrobatic dancing.

MICHIGAN TOURIST COUNCIL

Holland Christian Loses to Eagles For Second Time

Grand Rapids Christian's baseball squad whipped Holland Christian for the second time this season on the 19th St. diamond Tuesday afternoon by stopping the Hollanders, 8-5. The loss was Christian's seventh in 10 starts so far this season.

The Hollanders took a momentary lead in the first inning, and then a brief lead in the fourth inning, before Grand Rapids came back strong in the sixth to cop the decision.

A booming triple by Holland centerfielder, Bob Venema, in the first inning sent two local runners across to give the Dutch a one run lead. The Grand Rapids nine had taken a one run lead in their half of the first on two singles and a walk.

Coach Jack Bolema's Eagles knotted the count in the second without getting a hit. Wildness on the part of Christian's Tom Marling did all the damage in the inning.

The Eagles went ahead with two markers in their third on two doubles, a walk and an error. Wayne Alofe came on to relieve Marling at this point in the contest.

Coach John Ham's outfit enjoyed its best inning of the game in their fourth when they took a 5-4 margin on three runs. They bunched three hits, a walk and a stolen base to account for the tallies. Feature blow of the inning was second baseman Jun Buurma's two run single.

All was quiet in the scoring department until the big game-clinching rally by the visitors in sixth inning. Although they only connected for two hits, they were well spaced between two walks and an error. Right fielder Noordeloos sparked the four run rally with a double.

The locals had their ups and downs in the defensive department. They sparkled with three double plays, but looked bad when they committed four errors at crucial points in the game. Grand Rapids used three pitchers, Vanden Heuvel, Steel and Roskam. Gord Plaggenmars led the Holland attack with two hits in four tries while Noordeloos and Bouman each had two hits for the winners. The Dutch had five safeties, compared to Grand Rapids' eight.

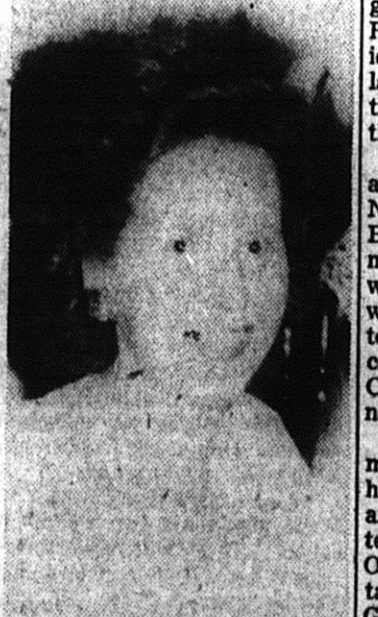

Adema Appointed To Serve on Panel

Matthew Adema, legislative reporter for the Ottawa County Farm Bureau has been appointed to serve on a panel which is to be sponsored by the Chick-Owa Club at Zeeland City Hall on May 27. The topic under discussion will be "Farmer and Sportsman Relations." Appointment was made at a meeting of the County Farm Bureau board last Wednesday at the home of Gerrit Elzinga.

The group also decided to donate $25 to the Grass Day program at the Gerrit Buth Farm June 15. Mrs. John Schout, Jr., and Mrs. Arthur Schmidt were named delegates to the Twin Lakes Camp on June 9 through 11. The group also decided to send two Junior Farm Bureau members to Miel Lake Camp at Chessa, Mich., June 14 to 17.

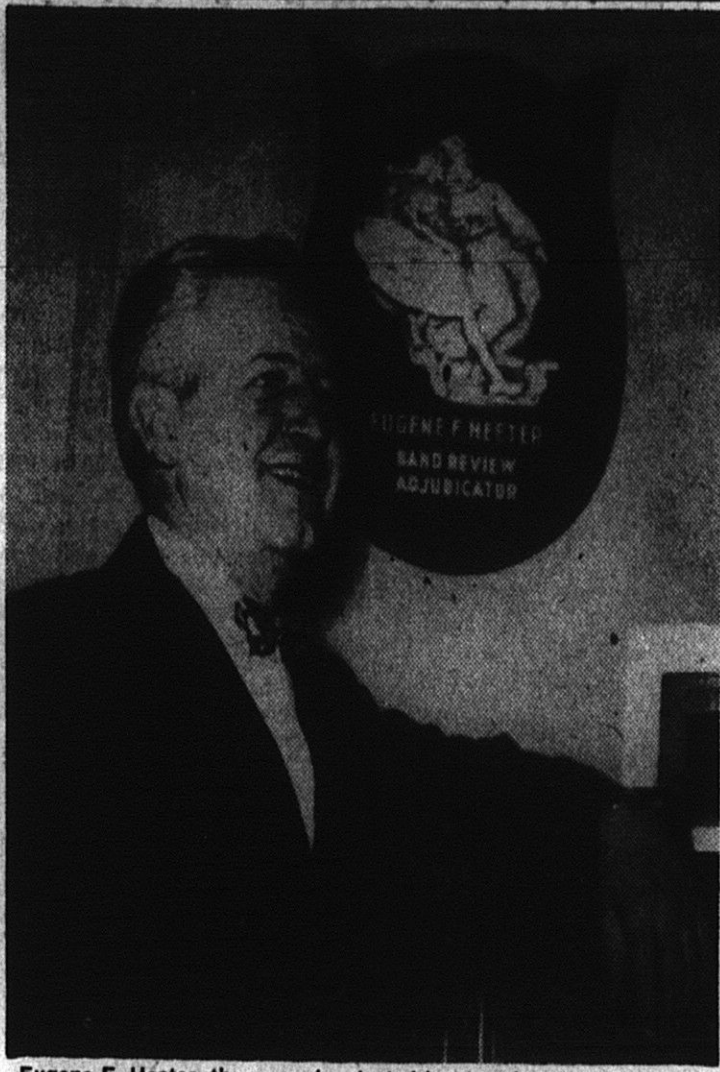

Hilbert Holleman, president of the Ottawa County Farm Bureau, and Mrs. Cornelius Mohr, a director, were selected as delegates to the Midwest Farm Bureau conference to be held in Lincoln, Neb. May 31 through June 3.

In a report by Adema who met recently with the Kent Conservation Department at the Ada Club House, purpose of which was to create a better relationship between sportsmen and land owners, he suggested that the conservation department pay farmers indemnity for livestock crippled or slaughtered. The Williamson plan was well received.

A. Bruce Van Hesteren, serving with the U.S. Navy at Great Lakes, has the "best looking mother" of any sailor at the big Naval training center. According to word received from Bruce, his mother, Mrs. Peter Van Hesteren of 271 West 15th St., was chosen the best looking mother in a Mother's Day photo contest, sponsored by the recreation department. Bruce, a former Sentinel newboy, said he's "very proud of his mom, and would like to have everyone in Holland know about it."

Fort Mackinac, built by British soldiers in 1780 and still in its original state, is open to tourists at Mackinac Island, Michigan.

Eugene F. Heeter, the man who started band reviews at Tulip Time years ago, is always a welcome visitor to Tulip Time, and his appearance this year marked his eighth return visit as a band review judge since festivals were revived in 1946 after World War II. He is shown here with one of the Tulip Time plaques given him for judging. This year he also led community singing and directed the lighting ceremony at the Saturday night Varieties. Heeter's presence is always considered good luck among Tulip Time leaders. In all the years he's been around, the band review was never rained out.

Lists Five Teams For This Season Baseball League

Umps will yell "Play ball" to Southwestern Michigan Baseball League teams June 15.

That's the opening date for league competition voted by representatives of five member teams at a meeting in Holland Tuesday night.

League teams this season will be Holland Flying Dutchmen, Zeeland Chix, Grand Rapids Black Sox, Grand Haven and South Haven.

Ray Harz of Grand Haven was elected president at Tuesday's meeting to succeed Russ Vander Poel of Holland. Other officers were Don Badcock, Grand Haven, secretary-treasurer, and Ted Rasberry, Grand Rapids, vice president.

The Black Sox will use Bigelow Field this season for home games and Grand Haven will have a new $16,000 lighted field.

According to the schedule approved Tuesday, teams will begin play June 15 and each team will play one game home and one game away each week.

Meanwhile, both the Holland Flying Dutchmen and Zeeland Chix are working out each evening at 6 p.m., getting players lined up and rounding into shape.

Both Lorin Wenzel of the Dutchmen and his aide, Lou Humbert, emphasize they still will welcome anyone who wants a tryout. The team works out at Riverview Park each evening beginning at 6 p.m. Zeeland Manager Marinus Scheele echoed the same sentiments and said his tryouts are at Zeeland Athletic Field each evening beginning at 6 p.m.

Holland will open the season with a game against the Black Sox on Memorial Day evening. It will serve as a warmup for both teams. The Black Sox, always a colorful aggregation, again boast of some long ball hitters.

Tuesday's league meeting was held at Superior Sports Store.

Holland Golfer Awarded Medal

Bob Holt of Holland High School's golf team was awarded the medal for low score at the regional golf tournament at Green Ridge Country Club in Grand Rapids Saturday. However, his Holland teammates slipped back and the local school finished ninth in the field of 10 teams.

Holt toured the course in a 79 and his score was identical to Norm Fleet of Creston and Ray Bostrom of Muskegon. The three men flipped a coin to decide who would get the one medal and Holt won. The victory also enables him to advance to the state finals and compete for medalist honors at Cascade Country Club in Jackson next Saturday.

Grand Rapids Union won the meet with a 344 total. Muskegon had 346, Catholic Central, 349, and Creston, 352. The four top teams will play in the state finals. Other scores were: South, 355; Ottawa Hills and Central, 359 each; Grand Haven, 361; Holland, 388, and Christian, 402.

Other Holland scores behind Holt were: David Jalving, 92; Henry Meurer, 107, and Irving Ter Haar, 110.

Maroon Netters End Dual Season With 4-2 Victory

Holland Christian's tennis teams closed its regular dual match schedule at the 22nd St. courts Tuesday afternoon by stopping Grand Rapids Wyoming Park, defending state class C champs, 4-2. It was Christian's second decision over the Parkers this season.

The Hollanders completed dual competition with nine wins and one defeat, an identical record to last season. Christian's only loss came last week at the hands of Muskegon. They now turn their attention to the tough regional tourney which opens at the 22nd St. courts Friday and continues through Saturday.

Tuesday's match also closed dual competition for three Christian seniors, Dave Schreur, Ken Volkema and Ron Bulthuis. It also marked the third straight year that Jim Teerman has gone undefeated in dual meets. Teerman won most of his victories in the singles events, but did help out occasionally in doubles.

Dave Schreur lost the locals' No. 1 singles encounter as he bowed to Wyoming's potent Denny Telder, 6-3, 6-1. Schreur was having trouble with his services which lost him any advantage he might gain in volleys with the class C singles champ. Paul Dykema, playing No. 2 for the Dutch, downed stubborn Bill Bradford of the Parkers, 7-5, 6-1. In the third singles, Christian's Warren Boer bowed after a hard fight to Walt Tazelaar, 6-3, 7-5.

Christian swept all three doubles matches with ease. In the No. 1 slot, Rich Sharda and Norm Lokker stopped Bob Lemmink and Bill Karsten, 6-1, 7-5. Jim Teerman and Ken Volkema, playing No. 2, whipped Ken Ten Brink and Larry Hanline, 6-3, 6-4. In the singles department Warren Exo played top-flight tennis to down Bob Eikenhout 6-4, 5-7, 6-2 in a well-played match. Exo, who has been having trouble getting rolling this season, finally rounded into shape to notch the win.

Ron Bos, playing No. 2 singles, had an off day as he couldn't get anywhere against George Arbgy. Finally losing by a 6-0, 6-4 margin.

Other singles results included Bill Boeskoel (H) def. Tom Martin (JC) 6-4, 6-1; Bill Coventry (H) def. Art Bierl (JC), 6-4, 6-4; John Schrier (H) def. Don Walma (JC) 1-6, 7-5, 6-0; Forrest Williams (JC) def. Monte Dyer (H), 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

Weller tried out a new combination in the No. 1 doubles slot as Exo and Boeskoel teamed for the first time. The pair worked well together and downed Arbgy-Martin in straight sets 6-1, 6-2.

Bos-Coventry were dropped by Eikenhout - Bierl 6-4, 6-3, but Hope's Schrier-Dyer out-classed Walma-Williams 6-3, 6-1.

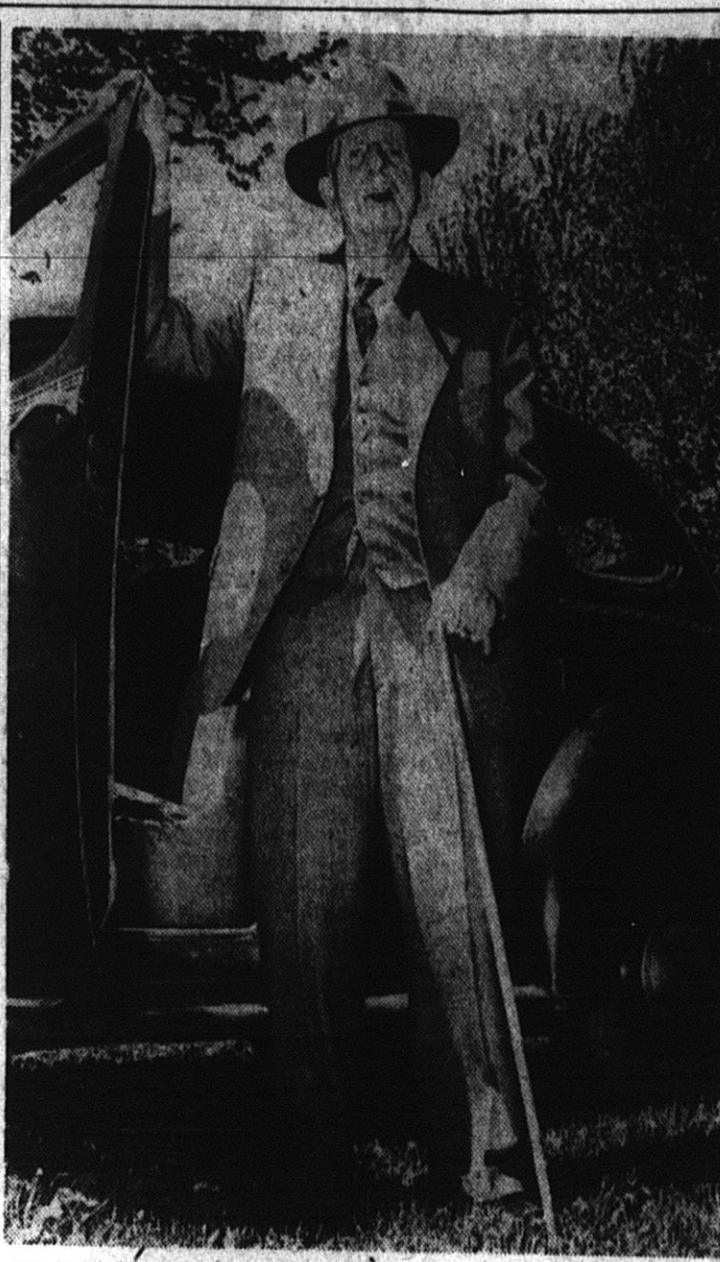

Next match for the Dutch netters is Friday when they will compete in the MIAA conference meet.

Two Pistols Taken

Entrance was made by using a five-foot telephone pole to break down the front door and knocked it off the hinges. A window in the door was not broken.

Van Noord, has nine children, 22 grandchildren and 32 great-grandchildren all living within 20 miles of Jamestown. He attributes his longevity to "being careful on the highways and always giving the other fellow more than half of the road." The only change in Van Noord's daily activities Tuesday was an open house when his many relatives and friends dropped in to wish him a "happy birthday." His wife, Elizabeth, died in 1943 after 66 years of married life. She was 85. Calmly puffing on an ever-present cigar, Van Noord (above) poses for a birthday photograph in front of his car. Tolar said he "took the corner a little fast" and slid on the wet pavement with his rear wheels going off the road. In an attempt to get back on the road he lost control and the car slid sideways down the pavement and struck a car driven by Harold Goodman, 57, of 16858 Rosemont St., Detroit.

Holland High Net Team Gets Back At Maroon Giants

Holland High school's net squad got sweet revenge for an earlier defeat at the hands of Kalamazoo Central Thursday afternoon as the locals edged the Maroon Giants, 4-3 on the Kalamazoo courts. In their first meeting here, the Kazoo outfit had stopped the Dutch by a similar margin.

Coach Joe Moran's netters won the match the hard way after losing the first three singles matches. The locals came through to win all three doubles matches and the fourth singles event to squeeze out the victory. The Holland mentor did say, however, that the Kalamazoo aggregation was weakened somewhat by the loss of several players in a disciplinary move on the part of the school authorities.

Dave Bosch was the only Holland singles winner as he disposed of Melvin Toian in a hurry, winning 6-1, 6-0. Meanwhile, Holland's No. 1 singles player, Henry Visscher was having his hands full with Kazoo's John Erickson. After losing the first set, 6-1, Visscher rallied in the second set to take a 4-3 lead, but he couldn't hold it. He finally lost the second also, 7-5. Paul Mack, playing No. 2 for the Dutch, looked good but couldn't take the decision from Tom Wyn in three sets. Mack won the first 7-5, but lost the next two, 6-4, 6-3. Duane Teusink was Holland's third singles' loser as he bowed to Tom Hamn, 6-1, 6-3.

In the first doubles match, Phil Boersma and Norm Scheerhorn had little trouble in stopping Larry Crittenden and John March, 6-3, 6-0. The real marathon event and the deciding point of the match was in the No. 2 doubles which was finally won by Holland's Grissen twins, Dwayne and Delwyn. They won the match, a three setter, 7-5, 2-6, 10-8. In the third doubles Dave Bos and Duane Carlson breezed past Tom Tift and Jim Blank, 6-1, 6-0.

Prof. Al Timmer Gets Hole-in-One

Prof. Timmer, former Hope College golf coach, better known by his golfing companions as Al, is thinking of selling his putter these days.

When Al tees up he says the idea is to put the ball in the hole in one shot. And that's just what he did Saturday afternoon on the No. 2 hole at American Legion Country Club. He used a five iron.

This isn't the first hole-in-one for Al and it's getting difficult for him to find competitive golfing partners.

Pro George Slikkers reports the course is in "fine shape and we invite all of you to come out and enjoy 18 good holes of golf."

Holland Diamond Crew Drops Bucs In Return Contest

A five-run scoring spree with an excellent relief pitching job gave Holland High school's baseball team its second win of the week as the Dutch downed Grand Haven 8-5 at Riverview Park Tuesday afternoon.

Grand Haven jumped to an early lead as Klukas the second man up, hit a long fly ball to right field that bounced off a telephone pole above the top of the fence for an automatic ground rule double.

Just to prove it was no accident Yedinak poled the next one over the right field fence scoring two runs. The scoring spree ground to a halt with two quick outs.

Holland came fighting back in its half of the second as Jim Okrei was safe on an error and Dick Plagenhoef was hit by a pitched ball. Then Ron Boeve banged a nice single to left field scoring Okrei, but Plagenhoef was tagged at the plate.

Grand Haven tallied twice more in its half of the second as Seory and Hallenbeck walked and Van Tol missed an attempt to sacrifice. Hallenbeck was caught as he slid back into first, but Van Tol turned around and hit one over the left fielder's head for a two bagger, scoring Seory.

Teasley grounded out before Klukas scored Van Tol with a solid single. At this point Holland Coach Ned Stuitts replaced starting pitcher Dean Vander Wal with Jack Kemper who then proceeded to display a sliding side arm pitch that completely bewildered the Bucs.

Kemper singled to start the fourth inning and Van Dyke was safe on an error before Okrei hit into a double play leaving Kemper on third base. Plagenhoef singled to left field giving the Dutch another run.

An error allowed Jim Hoeksema to get on base for the locals to open the big fifth inning. Sandahl was hit by a pitched ball before Terry Burns smacked a solid double to right center field scoring Hoeksema and planting Sandahl safely on third.

Kemper sacrificed to score Sandahl bring big Bob Van Dyke to the plate. Bue pitcher Fischer chose to give Van Dyke an intentional pass. Okrei walked filling the bases when Plagenhoef came through with a solid single to right field scoring Van Dyke and Okrei. Plagenhoef scored on Ron Boeve's single.

Holland scored one more run in the sixth inning and Grand Haven's McPhee slammed a homer for the Bucs in the seventh to end scoring for both teams.

It just wasn't Vander Wal's day on the mound, but Kemper filled in admirably in a relief role. Kemper gave up just three hits while striking out five and walking one. It was sweet revenge for Kemper as he had lost 7-2 in an earlier contest with the Bucs.

Burns was the big gun at the plate for the Dutch as he knocked a double and triple in three times at bat. In Monday's game with Bloomingdale he slammed a triple and two doubles.

Let's Plant Beauty--Tulip Plantings More Beautiful in Garden Settings

One who starts on a hunt for especially attractive tulip plantings in front of private homes soon finds his attention attracted equally by flowering trees and shrubs. Apple and pear trees from old orchards along South Shore Dr. are as profuse in their blossoms as if they were cultivated.

At the entrance of 1075 South Shore Dr. is a large flowering dogwood, thick with creamy white blossom, with a dark red flowering quince before it. Looking down the driveway one sees a lovely pink dogwood against dark evergreens. A little farther on a nicely planned garden of shrubs, flowering trees and tulips suggests the quality of a motel.

A very beautiful planting halts one at the entrance of 1899 South Shore Dr., and makes him feel that this is the way tulips should be used. Small groupings of white, yellow, and fussy pink tulips in front of and between low evergreens bring the whole lovely mass of yew, juniper, barberry, arbutus and spruce to life and the tulips seem to gain richness of color and distinction from the dark background. White tulips have been liberally used. One notes the same pattern in the border planting of the home's grounds. A flowering crab apple in full bloom completes this season's picture.

Driving through the city one again is impressed by flowering trees. A row of crabs has been set along Washington Blvd. at 22nd St. as a buffer against the traffic. A pretty one blooms at 46 East 25th St., a group on 28th and Lawndale Ct., and on 28th between State and Columbia two malus floribunda show that they grow old gracefully. Red bud at 675 and at 700 Columbia Ave. suggest that they too should be used here more than they are.

The landscaped border which surrounds the City Hall parking lot has created a nice opportunity for display of new varieties of tulips in small groupings. Especially beautiful is the tall, strong General Eisenhower, its blossom a subtle pink with a touch of buff.

Tulips brighten the way for all who pass 65 West 12th St., and a few dows west at number 85 one may stop to determine what is the white-flowering shrub. As soon as he opens the car door he knows from the rich fragrance which is wafted toward him that it is Viburnum Carlesii.

Next week we hope to share the gardens of those in other sections of the city.

Holland High Net Team Drubs Bucs For Tenth Victory

Holland High's rampaging tennis team posted its 10th victory of the season against two defeats Friday afternoon at the 22nd St. courts as the Dutch walloped the Grand Haven Bucs, 6-1. It was the same score by which the Dutch defeated the Bucs before this season.

Coach Joe Moran's club breezed through in easy fashion, dropping only the No. 3 singles. None of the matches went three sets, which is indicative of the Holland strength against one of the best Grand Haven clubs in years.

The Holland mentor was pleased with the performance and said many of the boys have shown marked improvement in recent matches.

In the No. 1 singles match, Holland's Henry Visscher had no difficulty in defeating Grand Haven's Budge Sherwood, 6-3, 6-1. Paul Mack in the No. 2 slot also did a fine job in whipping Grand Haven's Doug Whart, a promising newcomer, 6-2, 6-2.

Duane Teusink, in the No. 3 singles post, absorbed Holland's only loss as he bowed to Tom Otley of the Bucs, 6-2, 6-1. Dave Bosch, playing Holland's No. 4 singles also turned in a good match as he stopped Dave Ziel, 6-2, 6-1. In a non-counting fifth singles encounter, Jim Vande Wege outlasted Ted Parker of Grand Haven, 2-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Holland's Norm Scheerhorn and Phil Boersma took the No. 1 doubles match as they stopped Bob Brinkert and Duane Miles, 6-2, 7-5.

Marching 3,000 strong, Holland youngsters from elementary grade schools proudly paraded down Eighth St. in Thursday's Children's Costume Parade. Some 40,000 persons watched the children, gaily decked out in Dutch costumes, march to the music of several accompanying bands. The weather was a trifle chilly Thursday and here and there one could see warm sweaters and trousers peeking out from under costumes. (Sentinel photo)

Muskegon Heights Forced to Rally To Defeat Stubborn Maroon Nine

Holland Christian's baseball squad threw a real scare into Muskegon Heights at the Mona Lake diamond Friday afternoon, before bowing in the final innings, 10-4. Earlier this season the Muskies had taken a lopsided win over the Dutch. Christian now has a 3-6 record for the year.

For five innings Friday afternoon the Dutch were leading the powerful Tigers, before Coach Okie Johnson's crew took advantage of several Holland mental lapses to collect seven runs and the ball game. The Dutch were leading 3-2 before the Heights unleashed their attack in the bottom half of the fifth inning.

The Heights got the ball rolling in the first inning as they scored an unearned marker. With the first batter safe on an error, he later came all the way around to score on infield outs. Christian forged ahead with two runs in the second inning with the aid of three hits, a walk and a Muskegon error.

Coach John Ham's Maroons threatened again in the third but the Heights mentor inserted Starter Plichta and inserted Haan on the mound, who put down the uprising without a run being scored.

The Heights tied it up in their half of the fourth on a hit, two errors and a walk. Christian came right back with a hit plus a Heights error to take a short lived 3-2 lead.

Then came the big Heights rally which sunk the Hollanders. Scoring seven runs on two hits, a couple of errors and three walks, the Tigers soon took control of the game. One factor in the big uprising were the boners pulled by the Maroon infield at crucial points in the rally.

Future Educational Needs in State Outlined to Large Group of Bankers

Future problems of Michigan's "booming business of education" were brought to the attention of 225 bankers at Holland American Legion Memorial Park by D. B. Varner, director of co-operative extension work at Michigan State College, Monday evening.

Occasion was the semi-annual spring meeting of group 4, Michigan Bankers Association, with Henry S. Maentz of First National Bank, and Clarence J. Valving of Peoples State Bank, both of Holland, acting as hosts.

Group 4 includes bankers from Ionia, Kent, Lake, Mason, Mecosta, Montcalm, Muskegon, Newaygo, Oceola, Oshtemo and Ottawa counties.

Varner pointed out the fact that college enrollments in Michigan are expected to more than double by 1970 and "it is a serious problem we all must face and to which we all must seek a solution." Whereas enrollment in Michigan public colleges in 1950 was 75,000, the speaker said increased birth rates and a rise in the percentage of boys and girls who want to go to college are expected to boost that figure to 160,000 by 1970.

He said that it now takes an appropriation in the neighborhood of $36,000,000 for state schools and it will take $48,000,000 in 1960 and jump to $82,000,000 in 1970.

Varner underlined his talk with birth rate figures, both for Michigan and the nation; present college attendance figures compared with 1900 and so on up through the years. He also showed graphs showing the increased costs of educating the youth of Michigan.

Varner prefaced his talk with a few witty anecdotes comparing his native Texas to his adopted Michigan. He is the youngest co-operative extension director in the United States and has been at Michigan State College for the last five years.

Business transacted at the meeting included election of officers for the coming year and adoption of a report by the resolutions committee.

A. C. Vandenberg, president of Zeeland State Bank, read the list of nominations, which were unanimously approved.

Louis V. Walsh, vice president of Peoples Savings Bank of Grand Haven, was named chairman to succeed S. J. Linck, president of Ravenna State Bank.

Other officers elected were C. L. Crimmins, cashier of Howard City State Bank, vice chairman, and A. H. Burch, assistant cashier of National Bank of Ludington, secretary-treasurer.

County vice presidents named were: Ionia—Joseph A. Hauck, cashier, First Security Bank; Ionia; Kent—Willard Van Singel, cashier, Byron Center State Bank; Lake—H. J. Hollister, cashier, Lake County State Bank, Baldwin; Mason—Bruce R. Draper, cashier, State Savings Bank, Scottville; Mecosta—Merton A. Kraas, vice president, Citizens State Bank, Big Rapids.

Montcalm—Charles W. Smith, president, Commercial State Savings Bank, Greenville; Muskegon—Clarence S. Cloetingh, vice president and cashier, National Lumbermen Bank, Muskegon; Newaygo—M. D. Watts, executive vice president and cashier, Fremont State Bank; Oceola—Ludwig Bohls, cashier, First National Bank, Ewart; Ottawa—Gus Appelt, Jr., cashier, Coopersville State Bank; Oceola—D. E. Colard, cashier, Oceola County Savings Bank, Hart.

Clarence J. Valving of Peoples State Bank, Holland, was re-elected a member of legislative committee, MBA. Harry Day, executive vice president and cashier, State Savings Bank, Lowell, was elected a member of the agriculture committee, MBA; and S. J. Linck, Ravenna, was elected a member of the executive committee, MBA.

Resolutions adopted included: 1. "That we recognize and commend the efforts of the present administration in Washington to resolve the international situation into peace and to stabilize the national sphere by eliminating the devastating and demoralizing effects of inflation."

2. "That officials of the state of Michigan get busy and put the financial affairs of this state in order."

3. A resolution was passed mourning the deaths of group 4 members: Ira A. Cummings, State Bank, Carson City; Edward M. Den Herder, president of Zeeland State Bank; Milo A. White, president, Fremont State Bank; W. A. Weaver, manager, Walkerville branch of State Savings Bank of Scottville, and Jacob Haveman, president of Moline State Bank.

B. P. Sherwood, Jr., president, Michigan Bankers Association, spoke briefly and outlined the history, needs and purpose of the MBA. Purpose of the state-wide organization (which includes 446 state, national and private banks and trust companies, along with associate members) is "to do good for bankers and banking."

Executive Manager Ralph Stickels outlined the changing tax bill situation in the Michigan Senate as it was when he left Lansing at 3 p.m. Monday and made a few predictions. He forecast a deadlock between the House and Senate and recess Friday until July 3. At that time if there is no agreement he forecasts adjournment and a special session call by Gov. Williams in the fall to propose a four per cent corporations tax.

C. L. Crimmins, retiring secretary-treasurer, read minutes of the Oct. 5, 1952 fall meeting in Grand Rapids and gave the financial report.

Valving opened the meeting and after a brief welcome introduced president Linck.

Pre-meeting entertainment included five songs by the Holland Windmill Chorus of the Holland SPEBSQSA chapter, under direction of Francis Hodgeboom, Grand Rapids. The chorus was given a loud ovation after each selection.

The Rev. Christian Walwood of Third Reformed church, gave the invocation.

Awarding of prizes, donated by local merchants, concluded the meeting.

Kite Fliers Urged To Note Deadline

Because most of the children in Holland and vicinity were busy last week with Tulip Time Activities, the deadline for entries in the kite-flying contest has been extended until Wednesday.

The sponsoring Holland Kiwanis Club and City Recreation Department announced that all boys and girls up to 12 years of age are eligible to enter.

Entry blanks are available for Holland and vicinity children at the Chamber of Commerce office or at the principal's office of public elementary schools.

The contest will be run off Saturday afternoon at the 22nd St. high school athletic field. Awards will be given by the Kiwanis Club to the boys or girls who can win the messenger race, make the largest kite that flies, smallest kite that flies, most artistic kite, and to those who come out on top in the final kite fighting contest.

Entries can be made in any one particular event or all five events. Contest rules are the kite must be made by the individual flying it, it must be able to fly and entries will be by teams of two each.

Padnos Relates Usefulness of Old Scrap Metal

"An old piece of steel never dies—it's usually reincarnated." So says Seymour Padnos of the Louis Padnos Iron and Metal Company.

Any piece of steel that you pick up in your Holland industrial plant may be entering its fifth or sixth useful life. It may have just passed through Holland mills before on its torturous journey from Texas to Pittsburgh, and your plant may now be forming out of it a part for a machine that will end up back in Texas. Fifty per cent of steel is reincarnated, salvaged as scrap and put back in the mill again.

"Scrap should not be confused with 'junk,'" says Mr. Padnos. "Junk is those things you wish someone would get out of your sight. But scrap is a very valuable commodity, absolutely essential for the maintenance of present-day American economy."

The moment we touch your "junk," it becomes, in the eyes of industry and your government, extremely valuable scrap.

Much metal each year falls into disuse in the form of obsolete and ruined machinery, old jalopy bodies and out-moded parts, literally millions of discarded articles, industrial plants, the railroads, farms, homes—almost everywhere you look you see things made of metal that are useless. Add to this the tons of rejects from factory processing, the "scrap" left when stampings are taken from sheet metal, turnings and shavings from lathes, shapers, drills, and other metal working machinery. You can begin to account for the continuous flow from the capillary sources, back through the system of collectors, dealer, processor, and back to the hungry heart, the factory of our own home town and the huge plants upon which we depend for the everyday articles we use. Even rust may be salvaged. One railroad company alone salvages 400 tons per month in the form of scrapings from its cars.

The average scrap salvage operation requires a capital outlay of about $50,000. It is officially classified not as a retailing but as a processing job. It is a hair-trigger, split-second decision job where the supply must be kept adequate for the demand and selection and segregation organized carefully to keep the products flowing at a pace to keep the markets supplied and the home-plant storage facilities unglutted.

Thus this generation sees another industry come of age, see the former "junk man" reach respectability as businessman and central figure in an important industry.

Survivors include the wife, the former Ada Badger, two brothers, Neal and Peter Jacobusse of Holland and three sisters, Mrs. Murvel Houting, Mrs. John Borgman and Mrs. William Dykstra, all of Holland.

Total Attendance Pegged at 350,000 During Four Days

The 1953 Tulip Time festival went into the record books as a great success today, with the usual large crowds jamming the city for the finale Saturday.

The usual arguments went on today on festival attendance. Holland police said the crowds were lighter this year or the week-end because they found they could get around more easily. Others argued that the police are getting more efficient and don't know it, pointing to cars parked clear up to 19th St. for Saturday's parade, a full 11 blocks from downtown.

Sunday's intermittent rain failed to halt visitors, and there were steady streams of cars traveling tulip lanes and going to the tulip farms most of the day. Rain kept several visitors from getting out of their cars, and many were the times that windows were rolled down and cameras pointed out at tulips in the rain.

For the five days last week, estimates list approximately 375,000 for Tulip Time, and with the tulips in good condition for another week, it is expected crowds easily will pass the 500,000-mark, the usual number of visitors attracted to Tulip Time.

Estimates follow: Wednesday, 40,000; Thursday, 45,000; Friday, 30,000; Saturday, 160,000; Sunday, 100,000.

The festival leaders expressed sincere appreciation to the many hard-working local citizens who contributed generously of their time and efforts to make the 1953 festival a success. "More and more, we in the Tulip Time office realize that it is the co-operation of many individuals and groups that makes the festival the great success," Manager Larry Wade said.

W. A. Butler, president of Tulip Time Festival, Inc., added his thanks, saying "It's awfully hard to list all the people and groups who have done so much, but thanks everybody; you've done a great job."

The festival this year enjoyed fairly good weather, a contrast to the regions surrounding Western Michigan where rain and drizzles seemed to be the order of the four days. Cool weather plagued parade chairmen the first two days, and bright sunshine Saturday morning changed to overcast skies in the afternoon, but no rain fell until after the close of the Tulip Time Varieties Saturday night — and then only a few sprinkles.

Sunday's intermittent showers interrupted no particular schedule, although it discouraged hosts of visitors hoping for a clear day for color photos.

Saturday's biggest spectacle, the parade of 44 bands with floats and costumed units, attracted the biggest crowds, with persons crowded 12 deep on the long line of march which extended down Eighth St., River Ave., and on 12th St. midway between Columbia and College Aves. The parade followed the colorful three-hour band review at Riverview park with 19 visiting bands competing for ratings.

To the many Tulip Time visitors, the Saturday night Tulip Time Varieties was a perfect closing to a successful festival. The huge crowd was captivated by the well planned program which started with marching maneuvers by the

The new owner comes from an "automobile" family. His father, Jerry DeNooyer has the Chevrolet franchise in Kalamazoo, and his uncle, Jake DeNooyer, has a similar franchise in Battle Creek.

Bob is the new local dealer. Officers of the corporation in Holland will be: Bob, president; Jerry DeNooyer, treasurer, and Jake DeNooyer vice president and secretary.

Employees and their wives were introduced to the new owners at a dinner in the Warm Friend Tavern Tuesday night.

The brief program included welcome and introduction of the new dealers, introduction and brief remarks by Roberts, who was in Holland Tuesday to complete the deal, his aide, Jimmy Parker; John Houtaling of Holland, district Chevrolet representative and his wife; Russell Meusen, GMAC manager from Grand Rapids and his wife; John Steffel, assistant to Meusen, and his wife, and Norman Miller, GEIC representative from Kalamazoo.

Both Decker and Boter extended greetings to the new owner and thanked employees for past cooperation.

Jerry DeNooyer, related the history of his entry into the automobile business. He started as a lubrication man back in 1919 and worked his way up as mechanic, service department manager and finally dealer. His brother, Jake, has been associated with him since 1927 in the auto business.

Bob DeNooyer also introduced his wife, Anita, his mother, grandfather and grandmother, at the dinner.

Bob, his wife and two children, Bob, Jr., 4, and Anita, 14 weeks, have moved to Holland and live at 127 West 24th St. They are members of Third Christian Reformed Church of Kalamazoo but expect to transfer their membership to Holland.

Bob served in the Marines during World War II and attended Calvin College for one semester before going to Post Graduate School of Modern Merchandising and Management in 1950 (Chevrolet's sons of dealer's school).

He has been associated with his father in the automobile business since his discharge from the Marines in 1946. He was graduated from Battle Creek High School before entering service.

The family has been keenly interested in Christian education in Battle Creek and Kalamazoo.
