CHRIS-CRAFT OFFICE DAMAGED — Lightning which struck the ventilator atop the Chris-Craft Co. office building Monday night was believed to have been the cause of a fire resulting in damage running into thousands of dollars. Dozens of firemen from Holland Township departments, Holland City, and the plant's department fought the stubborn blaze from 10:30 p.m. until nearly 2:30 a.m. Three township trucks and one from Holland were on the scene. During the early stages of the blaze firemen (left) hauled a hose onto the roof as flames broke through the top of the building. Ottawa County deputies were kept busy directing traffic as hundreds of residents were attracted to the scene. An ambulance from Dykstra's Funeral Home stood by for several hours in case it was needed. Firemen were placed in a dangerous situation when they were forced to climb high on the roof to chop holes in order to get at the fire.

In a matter of seconds, the room was first brightly lit, then in complete darkness. Coffee cups had been knocked to the floor, although no other damage resulted.

The guests were prevented from leaving the Valkema home for a short time because Board of Public Works employees said live wires were down in the area. The damage was repaired by Tuesday.

Direct Lightning Hit Razes Barn North of Holland

Firemen Kept Busy
Answering Calls;
Some Phones Go Dead

One of the most severe electrical storms in several years hit Holland Monday night resulting in at least four fires and a rash of power and communication breakdowns. The storm was accompanied at times by a driving rain which amounted to .17 inch, bringing total rainfall since Sunday to .33 inch.

Aside from direct hits resulting in fire, damage to power and communication lines was "spotty." In Holland, 100 to 125 phones were knocked out, but all service was expected to be resumed by 5 p.m. Tuesday. In Grand Haven 200 to 300 phones were out, mostly because of cable trouble.

Several primary wires were down for electrical service, but few local homes were without service more than three hours, according to the Board of Public Works. Most interruptions were caused by lightning hitting transformers and knocking out fuses. Consumers Power Co. reported most damage north of Lakewood Blvd. along Lake Michigan to Port Sheldon. Servicemen were out all night. There was very little damage in Zeeland area.

The first fire alarm sounded at 9:30 p.m. when township firemen went to the Henry Van Harn farm on Riley St. just off 120th Ave. about a mile north of Holland. A direct lightning hit on the barn caused a rapid conflagration, and the barn burned to the ground. Firemen confined their efforts to keeping the flames from spreading to the chicken coop and the house.

Included in the loss were several pieces of heavy farm implements stored in Van Harn's barn by neighbors. These included a manure spreader, corn shredder, rakes and other pieces. Loss was covered by insurance.

Van Harn, 80, who lives in the farm house with his daughter, said the barn was old, but that its replacement value might be $4,000 to $5,000.

While township firemen were battling the Van Harn barn blaze, a second alarm came from the Minnie Van Alsburg home on 120th Ave. just south of Eighth St. Here lightning knocked out the electrical system and set a mattress afire. This blaze was put under control quickly, and at 10:30 p.m. the alarm came from the Chris-Craft office.

Township Fire Marshal Andrew Westenberg said most of the township department was at the Van Harn farm when the Van Alsburg alarm came through, but when the Chris-Craft alarm sounded, it was necessary to move the whole crew through the heavy traffic. "If it hadn't been for the new two-way radio on our trucks, we never could have kept up with all alarms."

Westenberg was to confer with Deputy Leonard VerSchure Tuesday to issue dozens of tickets to drivers who crowded at the scene of the barn fire. Westenberg expects to make further announcements shortly on regulations governing traffic near fires as well as use of fire phones which he said is often misused.

Deputies were among the first on the scene at Chris-Craft fire and efficiently closed off Aniline Ave. to traffic. Company officials commended firemen and officers for their efficient service. Even H.H. Coll and Russell Fredericks of the top management were held back with the rest until they established identity.

Westenberg said all three townships departments were out on the Chris-Craft call. The three captains are Alvin Potter, John Vanderburg and Bert Schuitema. In all, there are 38 volunteers in the township departments.

Further 'Feelers' For Land Options Made at Meeting

Mystery Continues
To Shroud Nature
Of New Development

Between 40 and 50 Port Sheldon Township land owners met Monday night at Connell School with Clair Sullivan, representing the Grand Rapids law firm of Warner, Norcross and Judd, to discuss the possibility of optioning their land for an unnamed development.

The meeting was called by the township board. The land option is being proposed by the same group that began taking options about a month ago in the area near Lake Michigan between the Grand Rapids pumping station and Camp Blodgett, in Grand Haven township. Sullivan said that some options had been taken in the Grand Haven township area.

Sullivan said that the project would require water and a railroad siding. He said that a mile square was needed, probably along Pigeon River and north to the Town line.

In stating the particulars of the proposed options, Sullivan said that they would run from the present to Dec. 31, 1955, with a possible six month renewal. He said that the buyer was offering $100 an acre for bare land, and payment according to assessment value for land with buildings on it. If land value totals over $6,000, $100 would be paid down on the option. If the six month extension was used, an extra $100, or $50, would be paid he said. A 24-month, tax-free living clause would also be included after the option was executed, he said, giving people time to buy or build elsewhere. Sullivan said that a fairly solid block of land was needed. He said the land would be bought in the place where the people would be willing to give up their land at the cheapest price.

Sullivan assured the land owners that the law firm had said the industry would not be obnoxious and would not interfere with the water.

Land owners at the meeting questioned the buyer as to the nature of the industry, but were told that he knew nothing. No decision was made by the group as a whole, some of whom stated that they wanted to hold on to their land for sentimental reasons. Others in the group seemed willing to sell in order to bring a large industry into the area.

DRIVER WALKS AWAY—Russell Castaneda, 18, of 321 West 15th St., crawled out of his wrecked car (left) without a scratch early Saturday after he smashed into a light pole. Ottawa County Deputies said Castaneda was driving south on Butternut Rd. when he veered to the shoulder for several hundred feet before striking an embankment in front of the power pole. The pole acted as a catapult throwing the car into the air. The left front fender (arrow) was ripped from the car and wrapped neatly around the pole more than six feet above the ground. The pole splintered like matchwood sending pieces flying in all directions. The top part, carrying a heavy transformer, stabbed into the ground holding it at a 45-degree angle. Deputies Len Ver Schure and Rich Bell (left) inspect the demolished '48 model car. They said Castaneda would be issued a ticket for reckless driving resulting in a property damage accident. Deputies had no trouble fixing the time of the accident as all power to homes from old US-31 to 144th Ave. went out at 5:03 a.m. when the collision occurred a few feet south of 144th Ave. on Butternut Dr. (Sentinel photo)

AUSTRIAN UPS AND DOWNS

We of the mid-century era have become so used to violent world revolutions that the restoration of Austria's autonomy is thought of as just another European routine event. We don't pause to remember what it must mean to an Austrian whose racial roots are embedded in the soil of that country. It is probably impossible for any citizen of so young a country as America to imagine the feelings of a true Austrian whose ancestors lived on Austria's soil for a thousand years.

Up until almost our own time, Austria — or rather the Austrian Hungarian empire — seemed as sure of an indefinite future as any political unit on earth, with the possible exception of the British Empire. At the close of the eighteenth century, only about a century and a half ago, the British writer Samuel Johnson assumed in a rather famous statement that the Austrian-Hungarian Empire was sure of what Hitler later called a "future of a thousand years."

Speaking of a current book, Johnson predicted that it was inconceivable that it would be forgotten as the Austrian-Hungarian Empire would cease to be a world power. The end of either the book or the empire was unthinkable at that time.

Well, the book Johnson slated for long life is still as alive as it was when the prediction was made. The empire came to an end during the first World War.

Not only did it come to an end as a world power; it turned into a kind of slave nation completely in the power of the politicians of other countries. Carved up into segments, the empire lost much of its territory. What remained of Austria proper, the home of some of the world's greatest musicians and artists, the setting for some of earth's greatest scientists, the background of one of the world's most beautiful cities, Vienna — what remained turned into a land of near paupers.

Real hunger devastated the lives of millions of Austrians. And politically, the country turned into a pawn in the cold war bargaining of countries that were mere upstart nations in the days of Austria's glory.

In all these ups and downs a certain pattern of justice can be seen. In Austria the sins of the fathers, politically speaking, are on the sons to the third and fourth generation. The pity of it is that those who did the sinning in the nineteenth century are safe in their graves, while most of those who have been doing the suffering in the twentieth had no personal part in the sinning. History, like nature, is cruel even when it is just.

Evangelist to Speak On Juvenile Problems

Evangelist Wes Auger, who for the last two weeks has been attracting large crowds in his evangelistic campaign at the First Baptist Church, will bring a special message to young people at the Thursday evening program when he will follow the general theme of juvenile delinquency.

Several months ago Rev. Auger was requested to bring this message to youth of Chicago when he spoke at Moody Memorial Church under sponsorship of Chicagoland Youth for Christ. He will speak about the problems and temptations facing young people today and will offer an answer to the question "How Can a Young Person Be Clean?"

Friday evening he will speak on
"Where Are the Dead?"
The series of meetings will come to a close Sunday with services at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Special music is planned for the special meetings which begin at 7:30. The church is located at 19th St. and

Lesson

Hesekiah Meets a Crisis 2 Chronicles 32:1-8
By Henry Geerlings

It is a fine tribute to Hesekiah that he remembered God. We cannot say that he did this for the sake of the good that would come to him in consequence. He was not that kind of man. His remembering God was a natural fruit of his attitude toward God. No better proof that he remembered God is needed than that he practiced worship. He was interested in maintaining the Passover regularly. He remembered God and the worship he had prescribed for his people.

He believed in worship. He knew the good resulting from having the people worshipping together. The renewing of the feast was not merely to make a show. It had a nobler purpose than that. The plan for the celebration was widely advertised and the invitations carefully distributed.

There was an earnest appeal for public worship. Both the near and the far were invited. The people of Judah and the scattered tribes were asked to come. This special worship centered around God in recognition of what He had done for them. It was worship with a spiritual note and outlook.

Hesekiah had respect for divine orders. The way God had prescribed was to be followed. This called for getting rid of hindrances. So there was a constant search for idols to have them put away, really destroyed, and a determined effort to eradicate idolatry from the practice of the people.

This is the quality of leadership America needs today, both for its crises and for the long stretch of months and years between the crises — competent leaders who share a common faith in God. Such a leadership would give strength to the foundations of American citizenship and inspires in us the noblest we know. It would keep the nation in touch with God, who always supplies what we need for confident and victorious living in times of crisis. From the nation under such a leadership there will go forth a steady and heartening influence to inspire men in every land to have hope and faith and courage.

Hesekiah faces a national crisis.
The roots of the crisis threatened by Sennacherib lay in the actions of Hesekiah's father, Ahaz, and the aggressive Assyrian monarchs. Ahaz had allied himself with Assyria against Syria and Israel. Judah was spared attack by these hostile neighbors, but at the expense of freedom; for the cost of Assyrian aid was heavy tribute.

A little later Assyria moved westward to subdue nations which had withheld promised tribute.
Israel was attacked and her capital at Samaria was demolished and the people taken captive. This meant that Judah faced mighty Assyria without a buffer state between them. When the Assyrian ruler Sargon died many vassal states revolted, including Judah.
The new king Sennacherib moved swiftly to subdue his rebellious vassals. A campaign westward was successful and included, it seems, the receiving from Judah a sizable sum which Hesekiah paid to save Jerusalem from an Assyrian siege and destruction.

This, however, brought only temporary relief for Judah did not propose to continue under such abject submission to Assyria, not with Hesekiah and Isaiah as leaders. When, therefore, Assyria struck again in Philistia and was opposed by Egypt, a rival imperial power, Sennacherib sought first to rid his rear and flank of a possible threat from a hostile force. He sent an envoy to ask the capitulation of Jerusalem and surrender of king Hesekiah.

In the meantime Hesekiah had prepared Jerusalem and readied his people for this crisis. He brought a vital spiritual message to the people. He gave to the leaders the foretold talk which only a man of faith and courage could make. King and people, prophet and military, all would place their dependence on God.

The enemy made light of Judah and flung abuse at God. The Assyrians were enraged and sent a letter of abuse and contempt.
Hesekiah entered the temple and prayed for the help of God. Isaiah joined in the petition and assured Hesekiah of a favorable answer to his prayer. The Assyrian threat had brought on a national crisis, but a courageous king, God's prophet, and a believing people found in their faith in God the moral and spiritual resources needed. In quiet assurance Judah waited upon God.

the board of directors representing the Great Lakes region.

These nine men will serve in an

FIRE DESTROYS BARN — Wind whipped flames Monday night destroyed a barn on the Henry Van Horn farm after it was struck by lightning. Holland Township firemen managed to save the nearby house and chicken coop which were endangered by flying sparks. A driving rainstorm that started shortly after the fire erupted helped firemen control the blaze.
The replacement value of the structure was estimated at $4,000 to $5,000. An undetermined amount of farm machinery, stored for neighbors, was lost. A traffic jam of bumper-to-bumper cars on Riley Ave., near 120th Ave., at the scene of the blaze, caused one of the worst tieups Ottawa County deputies had handled in a long time. Volunteer firemen were forced to leave their cars blocks away when they were unable to get through. Deputies worked in a pouring rain in an attempt to clear a path for emergency vehicles. The license numbers of dozens of cars were taken at the scene. Fire Marshal Andrew Westenbroek was consulting Tuesday with Deputy Len Ver Schure on action against the drivers. At least 50 parked cars within a few feet of the fire so they could watch without getting soaked by the rain.

working on the steel girders at the time. The building was 360 feet long, 60 feet wide and nearly three stories high. Robert Linn, owner, estimated the loss in excess of $30,000. He said about all the steel is good for now is scrap. The huge beams were twisted and bent into a hundred different shapes when they struck the ground. Cause of the collapse was not immediately known. Linn said that work would begin again as soon as the twisted wreckage is cleared away. The building was to be used as storage space for boats and living quarters, a restaurant and other living facilities.

Chris-Craft Co.
Office Building
Damaged by Fire

Firemen Keep Flames
From Nearby Factory;
All Records Survive

The frame office building of Chris-Craft Corp. was badly damaged by fire resulting from a hit by lightning during a severe electrical storm Monday night. Damage was hard to estimate, but management believed it might be $25,000 to $30,000.

Lightning is believed to have hit a roof ventilator and then followed a lead cable of electrical or communication wires, setting off blazes in several places in the 30 by 96-foot building. The main hit was on the roof near the center of the building. Firemen had to chop holes in the roof, and then through the ceiling to get at the source of the flames.

There were large gaping holes in the roof today, but the damage to main offices were largely due to smoke and water. All important daily records were saved. Damage to permanent records in steel files in attic storage could not be determined Tuesday, mostly because it was unsafe Tuesday to enter that part of the building. Telephone service was knocked out but temporary service was restored Tuesday.

All office employees became members of the cleanup crew this morning, and their first duty was to sweep some three inches of water off the premises. A convenient hole chopped in floor near the center of the building to fight a stubborn fire proved a convenient respective for this service. Office management set up temporary quarters for women employees in the plant.

All three township department and one truck from Holland city responded to the alarm, along with the plant fire department of some 35 to 40 volunteers under the direction of Warren Van Til. The plant department has an efficient system of telephoning and alerted the plant volunteers shortly after fire broke out. The crew had one line laid when some of the other trucks arrived.

All office clocks were stopped at 10:29, indicating lightning struck at that moment. Firemen used large tarpaulins freely to protect much of the office furniture.
The city truck remained on the scene about an hour and township trucks considerably longer. A stubborn under-floor fire kept the last crew an extra half hour. By 2:30 a.m., all had left the scene.

The office building was built in 1943. Chris-Craft currently employs about 700 persons, all working on one shift. The plant which is only 20 feet from the office was not damaged by fire, and all plant operations were normal Tuesday.
Management was undecided whether to repair the fire damage or build a new office building.

At 10:30 p.m., city firemen responded to an alarm at the Louis Padnos Iron and Metal Co. at 120 River Ave. where lightning hit a turning crusher used in processing industrial scrap iron. Flames spread to the conveyor belt which was considerably damaged. Upon arrival, firemen immediately shut off all current in other parts of the building. Damage was estimated at $300.

Plane Lands Safely

During the height of the driving rainstorm and the fire alarms Monday night a plane began buzzing the city apparently in trouble.
Holland police immediately dispatched an Ottawa County deputy, who left the scene of a fire, and raced to Park Township airport.
The lights were turned on and the plane, piloted by an Ohio man, landed safely. Outside emergency light switches were installed shortly after four young men died in a plane crash near Crisp when they were unable to find a lighted airport.

Plans for New Hospital Addition
Officially Okayed

Bids to Be Received
June 23; Construction
To Start Early in July

Plans for Holland's $1,200,000 hospital improvement program have been officially approved. Hospital Director Fred Burd announced today.

The okay to go ahead with construction was received earlier this week in Detroit from the Office of Hospital Survey and Construction.

Burd said authorities approved the plans substantially as they have been drawn up by the architects in conjunction with consultants and the local building committee.

The improvement program includes construction of a new four-story wing on the present structure. Bed capacity will be increased from 72 to 125. Additional private rooms, physical therapy department, two emergency rooms on the ground floor, children's ward, enlarged obstetrics department and nurseries, and new operating suites are among other improvements provided in the plans.

Advertisements for bids on the construction will be circulated throughout the area starting Thursday, Burd said. Sealed bids must be returned by June 23 so actual work can get under way early in July as scheduled.

Accident Causes
$7,980 Damages

A freakish accident involving five vehicles caused an estimated $7,980 damage Tuesday morning on US-16 at Marne.

The chain of events was set off when Margaret M. Blink, 31, of Marne, turned left into her driveway and was struck by a pickup truck driven by Donald H. Ochampaign, route 1, Allegan.

Albert Kiel of Kalamazoo, approaching in a semi with two trailers loaded with 26 tons of fertilizer, applied the brakes to avoid the accident, causing the truck to jackknife. The second trailer rolled over and crashed into a milk truck and an oil truck.

The tank-milk truck, driven by Marvin Riemersma of Grand Rapids, was torn apart, spilling about 400 gallons of milk over the pavement. Damage to the truck alone was estimated at $3,500.

The oil truck, driven by Lawrence Blodgett of Caledonia, was damaged to the extent of $3,000.

The car and pickup truck involved in the original crash received $600 and $380 damage, respectively. The semi had $500 damage.

No one was injured in the crash.
Sheriff's officers spent a good part of the day investigating the crash and getting the highway cleared.

A ticket was issued to Margaret Blink for making an improper left turn.

Student From India Wins AAUW $500 Scholarship

Miss Padma Satya, a Hope College student from Vellore, India, Thursday night was awarded a $500 graduate scholarship by Holland Branch, American Association of University Women.

The sum was presented to Miss Satya at the branch's final dinner meeting in the Juliana Room of Durfee Hall. Miss Bernice Bishop, chairman of the branch Scholarship Committee, made the presentation to Miss Satya, who attended the dinner in her native sari.

Miss Satya has made tentative plans to continue her graduate work next year at Michigan State College. Then she will return to India to enter some type of social service work.

Miss Bishop and her committee chose Miss Satya as the most deserving of scholarship applicants. Her background is of special interest to this area and her native Vellore is a familiar name here. Her great grandfather was the first convert to Christianity with American missionaries in India. Her father was a teacher for 30 years and her mother a nurse for 25 years at the mission school. Padma attended the Reformed Church mission schools and was graduated from Sherman High School at Vellore. She did her first college work at the junior college, Voorhees College in Vellore, then entered Madras Christian College, where she received a bachelor of science degree in 1953.

She taught mathematics and science in ninth and 10th grades at Vellore and also did work among the "sweepers," lowest caste in India, and with the mental un-touchables. She also helped her uncle, a minister, and his wife, a physician.

Padma came to Holland after she applied for a scholarship offered by Hope College students. She was chosen from 20 applicants at that time.

Miss Satya graciously accepted the $500 check and expressed her appreciation to the branch for helping to make it possible for her to remain in the United States for another year of study.

Mrs. Orle Bishop, retiring branch president, presided at the dinner. She gave a tribute to Miss Laura Boyd, active member of the branch who is retiring after many years on the Hope College faculty. She will move to Norton, Mass.

Annual reports were given by officers and retiring board members.

Mrs. Donald Brown, president-elect, introduced her new board, including Miss Jantina Holleman, secretary; Miss Adelaide Dykhuizen, scholarship committee members; Mrs. James De Pree of Zeeland, Arts chairman; Mrs. Titus Van Haisma, education; Miss Metta Ross, International Relations; Mrs. Bryan Athey, Legislative; Mrs. Charles Van Duren, Social studies; Mrs. Dyke Van Putten, Status of Women; Miss Katherine Post, historian; Mrs. Ted Boeve, membership; Mrs. Henry Steffens, publicity; Mrs. L. Phillip Van Hartesveldt, Fellowship; Mrs. Morrette Rider, television and radio; Mrs. Robert Horner, conchios as vice president and Mrs. Walter Scott as treasurer.

The after-dinner program featured vocal selections by three members of the Holland High School A Cappella Choir, Cora Kaepernik, Jim Steininger and Marcia Bouws. Accompanists were Marcia Bouws, Ruth Wendt, and Marcella Gearhart, respectively.

New members of the AAUW branch were in charge of the dinner and program.

Bank Has Latest Night Depository

A new two-way night depository that enables patrons to deposit currency and checks at any time without a key has been installed by First National Bank.

The new system is built into the Central Ave. side of the bank building. It serves as an auxiliary to the night depository near the Eighth St. entrance.

A chute similar to a mail slot is one part of the new two-way unit. Patrons unable to deposit funds during regular banking hours can place bills, checks, bank books, and deposit slips in a sealed envelope bearing their name and drop it into the slot for safekeeping. No key is necessary.

The system also has a hopper with a locked door for accepting bags of coin and other bulky deposits. Patrons of this service are provided with a key.

Both the slot and the hopper are equipped with baffles to prevent withdrawal of deposited materials from the outside. Deposits are safeguarded in a chest inside the building until removed by bank personnel.

Dutch Misplay 15 Chances; Setbacks End Local Season

DETROIT (Special) — A total of 15 errors in two games, and a left-handed pitcher named Roland Pearson turned Hope College's baseball trip here Saturday into a nightmare as Wayne University stopped the Dutch twice, 6-3 and 11-0. The double loss ended the season for Hope and gave the Dutch a 6-7 overall record.

The Tartars runs in the first game were all unearned as Hope made eight errors. In the nightcap, Pearson, who managed to get Hope's number as a reliever in the first game, kept the spell going, scattering three hits while his team mates took advantage of seven Dutch errors and some sore-arm pitching.

Wayne punched across three runs in the eighth frame to break a 3-3 tie. The winners made four hits in the inning and were aided by Hope's Ron Boeve who dropped the ball after tagging the runner on a play at the plate and Ron Weatherbee, who let a ball roll through his legs for a four-base error, allowing the batter to come around and score.

Hope opened a scoring with two runs in the first inning. Three hits, including a double by Don York, and two walks produced the runs. Two runners were out trying to score and Willie Rink was picked off first.

Wayne made a run in the third on two hits and an error and Weatherbee countered for Hope in the fourth with a round-tripper, his only homer of the season. The Tartars added two in the sixth on a single, three errors and two walks.

Hope managed to pound 10 hits in the game while Rink held Wayne to six. Wayne made two errors. Al Dykema and John Adams each had three out of four for Hope and Ed Williams had two-for-four for Wayne.

Rink struck out six and walked one. Four Wayne pitchers were used in the game. Pearson, who came on in the sixth, was the most effective striking out five of the nine fanned by Wayne.

Pearson, the second lefthander the Dutch met all season, continued his mastery in the second game. He displayed speed with a good curve.

John Holmlund started for Hope and gave up one run in the first inning on two errors and one single. Pearson helped his cause with a second inning homer to score a teammate who was safe on another Dutch error.

Holmlund developed arm trouble in the fourth and was replaced by Mert Vander Lind after another run had scored. Two more markers were made before Vander Lind retired the side.

Vander Lind loaded the bases in the sixth inning and Rink was called on again. The tired hurler served up a grand-slam homer to Don Halverson to clear the sacks. A single and error tallied the fifth run of the inning. The game went seven frames.

Pearson struck out five and walked one. Holmlund gave up two hits, struck out two and walked one. Vander Lind allowed one hit and one walk and Rink two hits. Dick De Freese, Dykema and Weatherbee got the Hope hits.

Building Thrives So Far in 1955

That Holland city has a particularly good start in building construction so far this year is shown by building permits filed the first four months which are just short of a half a million dollars.

Of the 191 building permits filed in the city engineer's office for the four months ending April 30 totaling $499,752, there were 29 new houses totaling $325,650.

Outstanding in commercial and industrial construction were applications for a new $60,000 Kroger store, and a new plant for Scott's Inc., at a cost of $52,000.

Breakdown by months follows: January, 20 permits, $63,025; February, 15 permits, $84,500; March, 75 permits, $160,402; April, 81 permits, $177,526.

Since he had no landing net, Ken hauled the 29-inch fish out of the lake with his bare hands. ## More Than 1,000 Tour New Seminary Building

A busy dedication week at Holland's handsome new Western Theological Seminary concluded Thursday night with an open house for the public, and seminary leaders estimated 1,000 to 1,200 local persons toured the fine new building.

Events started Tuesday with two dedication services, a formal dedication for students, faculty and church personnel in late afternoon, and a community dedication in the evening in which representatives of local civic, educational and religious groups participated. On Wednesday night, commencement exercises were held for 31 graduating seniors. Tours of the new building followed each event.

The new building is shaped like an "H", the west wing for a chapel and social facilities, the east wing for library and a few class rooms, and the central section for offices and classrooms. Unifying the whole building and giving it the air which a seminary should have is a tower topped by a slender spire whose whole atmosphere is early American.

The colonial motif is particularly beautiful in the chapel with its white pillared porch, its pews with white ends and dark walnut trimmed seats, the white pulpit, and the fine large dossal cloth of red velvet, hung within a beautifully carved frame. Colonial chandeliers in a double row are augmented by indirect lights. Off-white walls and a rich red carpet round out the chapel pattern regarded as "perfect" by visitors.

The seminary commons, a large social room commodious enough to allow 200 guests to be seated, is particularly designed for receptions, and it was there that visitors spent a good share of their time in touring the building. Refreshments were served from two beautifully appointed tables. This room has large French windows in the west and south. It has a small balcony providing space for a small stringed orchestra. Adjoining the commons is the lobby which is directly in line with the 12th St. entrance just east of the chapel.

Large class rooms in the building can seat 50 students. A series of private offices plus the main business office front on 12th St.

The new library in the east wing will continue to be called the Beardslee library, even though the library provided by the Beardslee family many years ago had to make way for the new building. A fine painting of Dr. John Walter Beardslee, Sr., appears near the main entrance. Architects have provided enough room to house 75,000 volumes eventually. A large curved colonial window in the library through which passersby on 12th St. see a fine curved planter of assorted foliage, lends a special decorative note.

This year is known as dedication year for the seminary, and next fall the seminary has planned a series of special meetings with outstanding American and European lecturers as guest speakers.

One seminary professor observed that people after touring the fine new building had a tendency to say, "You certainly have a lovely building here." He pointed out that the "you" wasn't exactly correct. It's "we" who have a fine building, for the new structure stands as a monument to the good people of the community as well as the Reformed Church and the cause of the kingdom.

Engaged

Miss Lucille Van Domelen

The engagement of Miss Lucille Van Domelen to Edward J. Helbing, Jr., of St. Louis, Mo., is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Van Domelen, Jr., of 1409 South Shore Dr. The bridegroom-elect is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Edward J. Helbing of 698 Greenview Dr., St. Louis.

The wedding will be an event of August.

Miss Van Domelen is a graduate of Holland High School and attended Denison University at Granville, Ohio, for two years. She will be graduated in June from Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority.

Mr. Helbing, who is attending Northwestern University Medical School, is a graduate of University City High School and received an A. B. degree from Washington University, St. Louis. He is a member of Sigma Chi and Nu Sigma Nu, medical fraternity.

Sherry Shaffer, Holland High junior, won the state Class A mile in East Lansing Saturday to become the first local runner in history to capture a state first place medal.

The lanky runner ran the event in 4:35, four seconds faster than his winning regional time a week ago. The state Class A mile record is 4:28.8 set by Jerry Zitzny of Fordson in 1933. Shaffer's mark is a new Holland High record. He held the old mark of 4:39.

"Sherry ran a smart race," Coach Dale Shearer said following the win. Shaffer drew the second lane in the first row of runners. About 15 competed in the event. The group ran out of a chute. Shaffer took the lead around the first turn but was challenged by Leroy Pellerin of Detroit St. Joseph on the first lap. The Detroit runner took the lead after the first lap of the four-lap event and held it about one-quarter of the second lap before being overtaken by the Dutch runner.

Shaffer led the rest of the way but had to fight off another final bid by Pellerin on the last lap. The two boys, about equal size matched stride for stride for 60 yards before Shaffer turned on a kick.

The kick, that has helped take nine wins in 10 starts this season, began about at the 180 yard mark and continued until the tape. Shaffer won the event by 12 yards and crossed the line with a strong finish. Pellerin was second in the event.

Leon Wassink, Holland's other contestant in the state meet, finished seventh in the 120-yard hurdles. There were six places in the state meet.

Wassink, Holland's leading point-getter during the regular season, qualified during the morning preliminaries getting third in his heat. He missed qualifying in the lows coming across fourth.

Hayes Jones of Pontiac broke the 14-year old 120-yard high hurdle mark in winning the event. Jones covered the distance in 14.5 smashing Horace Smith's 1941 mark of 14.6. Don Arndt of Benton Harbor finished third in the highs but won the 180-yard high hurdles in 19.5.

Two other Class A records were broken and one tied. William Campbell ran the 440-yard run in 49.7 breaking the 50 flat mark set last year. The Medley relay team from Dearborn Fordson broke the record set in 1933 with a 2:28.1 time. The old record was 2:29.7.

Seabart Dan of Alpena tied the 100-yard dash mark set in 1923 and 1927 by George Hester and Eddie Tolan with a 9.8 time. His 220 record breaking time of 21.4 bettered the old 21.7 time but was not allowed because the wind was stronger than five miles an hour.

Pontiac scored 51 13-14ths points to win the A title. Flint Northern was a distant second with 17. Holland had six points. Inkster won Class B with 27½ points while Grand Rapids Central was second with 25. Reed City edged Cassopolis, 17¼ to 17 for the C title. A Brethren won Class D with 46 points. Spring Arbor was second with 33.

Big First Innings Gives Harborites Wins in Both Tilts

Holland High's baseball team dropped a doubleheader to Benton Harbor at Riverview Park Saturday afternoon. The Tigers copped the first game 8-2 and won the second contest 7-0. The double defeat plunged the Dutch below the .500 mark with a 5-7 record.

In both games it was big first innings that turned the trick. The Tigers scored enough runs right off to put Holland under pressure and the tension produced a few costly bobbles.

Benton Harbor combined two walks, two errors and two hits to score four runs in the first game in the initial inning. A single run was added in the second, two in the third and the final marker in the sixth.

Holland scored single runs off Tiger pitcher, John La Mantia, in the first two innings but that was all. The pros already are watching the Benton Harbor hurler.

John Stryker scored Holland's first run after drawing a walk. Norm Witteveen's single moved him to third and he came across on Ron Van Dyke's sacrifice fly to left field.

Gerry Boeve got Holland's second run after leading off with a single to left in the second. Leroy Fogarty, pitcher, sacrificed Boeve to second and he scored on Tom Ragains' single.

Both teams collected seven hits in the contest but La Mantia proved to be stronger with men on bases that Fogarty. Benton Harbor left 10 men and the Dutch nine.

Boeve led the local hit parade with two out of three and Witteveen had two out of four. La Mantia had three-for-four for the Tigers and Furlan two out of four. La Mantia struck out 12 and walked five. Fogarty struck out 11 and issued seven passes.

Five runs were across the plate in the second game when Holland batted. Those runs took any would-be pep out of the Dutch.

The Tigers made five hits, including three doubles and ran freely on the bases as Holland suffered a couple mental lapses. Pete Rhodes, Tiger pepper-guy, was safe on error by relief pitcher Tom Aye in the second and jockeyed around the bases to score the sixth run while Aye was striking out two men and getting a third to ground out.

Sam Watson walked in the third, stole two bases and scored on Tiger pitcher Ron Chandler's single.

Aye gave up only two hits the rest of the game and kept the Tigers scoreless. Ron Tornovich started for Holland but left after four runs had crossed in the first inning. He gave up four hits.

Holland got two hits in the first and a man to third but poor baserunning squelched any runs. The Dutch got singles in four of the next six innings but failed to score.

Benton Harbor made nine hits in the game with Furlan making two for three and Chandler two out of four. Watson got one hit in one official time at bat, walking and being hit by a pitched ball the other times at the plate.

Holland's six-hit attack was led by Fogarty, playing left field. Fogarty had two out of three. Bob Van Wieren was up once and got a hit. Chandler struck out seven and walked three. Aye fanned three and walked two. Tornovich and Aye each hit one man.

Line score: (first game)

Holland	110 000 0 2 7 3
Benton Harbor	412 001 0 8 7 0
Batteries:	Fogarty, Aye (9) and Van Dyke; La Mantia and Rhodes.

Line score: (second game)

Chix Take Ninth League Contest; Edge Fremont, 3-2

FREMONT (Special)—Zeeland High baseballers had a tight squeeze but managed to hold onto a one-run lead and win their 11th straight game Thursday. The Chix defeated Fremont, 3-2 here in a Ken-New-Wa league game.

Hudsonville, a team that sent the Chix into 12th innings earlier in the season, is the last Zeeland foe. The game will be played Tuesday at Hudsonville. Zeeland will go into the game with nine straight league wins. The Chix have won the conference crown but need the win over the Eagles to finish undefeated.

Two runs in the first inning and one more in the third were enough to defeat Fremont. Art Klamt opened the first inning rally with a double. Gene De Jonge was safe on an error and a single by Jack Faber scored Klamt. Gerrard Wiggers walked and Doug Wierda was safe on an error scoring De Jonge.

Singles by De Jonge and Wierda, split by a walk to Wiggers, produced the winning run in the third. Fremont also got two runs in the bottom of the third. A double by Holcomb was the big blast in the inning, along with a single, error and two fielder's choices.

The Vikings threatened in the last of the seventh but lefty Jim Kaat got out of the hole without harm. The Fremont leadoff man singled, for the third hit of the game off Kaat, went to second when the ball went through left fielder Ken-ejan's legs. Kaat let a wild pitch fly and the baserunner moved to third. The Zeeland hurler got the next two men to ground out and tanned the third batter to notch the win.

Kaat struck out seven, walked one and threw one wild pitch. Dickman, Fremont pitcher, fanned five and walked four. Six Zeeland players had one hit each. They were: Shewin Broersma, Wiggers, De Jonge, Wierda, Klamt and Faber. Each team made two errors.

Property Values Set for Ottawa

The State Board of Equalization set taxable property valuations in Ottawa County at $162,750,000 Monday, an increase of $5,850,000 over the valuation fixed by local authorities last year.

Allegan's valuation was set at $105,400,000. Meanwhile, the valuation for the entire state was set at $17,351,275,000, an increase of about $4,700,000,000 over the valuation fixed by local units last year.

The increase stems principally from last year's state Supreme Court decision which ordered state equalized valuations used for property tax purposes instead of county equalized valuations.

State Auditor General Victor Targonski, chairman of the state board, said "the totals accepted by this board will be the totals on which all local taxes must be based."

"In case local taxing authorities fail to observe this schedule," he said, "I am convinced that any school district or any taxpayer could get a court order requiring them to comply with the Supreme Court decision."

Public School Teachers Hold Annual Spring Event

Teachers of the public schools and guests numbering about 225 gathered in Durfee hall on Hope campus Monday night for their annual spring banquet, sponsored by the Teachers' club.

Speaker for the occasion was Dr. E. C. Beck, head of the English Department at Central Michigan College and past president of the Michigan Educational Association, who spoke on the subject, "When Pine Was King."

Dr. Beck's hobby for several years has been a study of Michigan folklore which led to the publication of three books and uncounted lecture appointments.

Back in 1942, a law was passed requiring all logs dropped into navigable streams to be marked. First markings were done with an axe, but later a hammer stamp cut down "manpower" on this operation along to a considerable extent. Today, Dr. Beck said, a piece of log with the axe marking is a valuable souvenir. A log end with a hammer stamp will be an antique of tomorrow.

He told some of the rich tales of the lumberjacks, a tale folklore of exaggerations and most enjoyable. He said Paul Bunyan is strictly legendary, but there are some real lumberjacks whose tales are fully as entertaining.

Before he talked on white pine, Dr. Beck briefed teachers on the latest on the legislative front regarding education in Michigan today. An adequate supply of teachers is a major problem today, and keeping the standards high is an ever-present challenge.

Robert Leslie, retiring president of the Teachers' club, presided and introduced the new president, Adelaide Dykhuizen, who brought greetings from Dr. Lester J. Kuyper brought greetings from the Board of Education. Hannah Parkyn paid tribute to Jeanette Westveer who has retired after years of serving as secretary to the superintendent. Miss Westveer was presented with a gift.

Expects Approval

WASHINGTON (UP)—Rep. E.Y. Berry of South Dakota says he is sure Congress will approve a 12-man commission to promote the Crazy Horse Memorial project in the Black Hills. However, he says the House subcommittee considering the bill probably will remove a provision which calls for $250,000 in federal contributions.

Members of the Tulip City Rod and Gun Club Auxiliary will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. Ben Dirkse, 593 136th Ave.

Living With Yourself Called Most Important

"Living With Yourself" was the subject forcibly brought to the fore by Dr. Conrad Posz at the annual Holland Junior Chamber of Commerce installation of officers meeting Tuesday night at the Warm Friend Tavern.

Wives of members were guests at the meeting.

Dr. Posz, assistant professor in the department of communication skills at Michigan State College, spiced his talk with ribald humor as he outlined questions a person should ask him or herself.

The questions are: (1) Do I possess common sense? (2) Am I able to accept disappointment without sleeping or some other escape? (3) Am I a worrier or a doer? (4) Do I have a confidential relationship with at least one person? (5) Do I control my temper? (6) Do I have tact? (7) Do I have the ability to make the person I'm with feel important? (8) Before I condemn or censure another do I stop to ask why did he do it?

New board members installed by outgoing president Art Schwartz included Mike Van Oort, president; Ed Nyland, internal vice president; Jack Ewart, external vice president; Con Boeve, treasurer; Paul DeKok, secretary; Avery Baker and Don Gilcrest, board members.

Bob Gordon, past president of the local Jaycees, served as toastmaster and introduced the guest speaker.

Others on the program included Boeve, report on the Teenage Road-E-O; Ward Wheaton, tulip time; Nyland, report on state convention; Van Oort, report on awards including the fact that the local Jaycees received first award in Michigan for religious activity; Mrs. Donn Lindeman, Auxiliary president, reported on Auxiliary activities.

Norm Wanger reported on junior citizenship and Les Deridder presented a new member.

Schwartz gave a review of the year's activities and in turn received a past president's pin from Van Oort.

Bill Welling, life member of the Holland Jaycees presented an "Exhausted Rooster" pin to Andy Deters, whom he termed a "tireless worker behind the scenes." Deters also was presented a year's membership in the senior chapter by Vice President Charles Cooper.

Deridder presented a newspaper appreciation certificate to W. A. Butler, publisher of The Sentinel, and a radio station appreciation certificate to Sandy Meek, manager of station WHTC.

Open Road Closes On Two Runaways

A 13-year-old Muskegon Heights boy who was faced with summer school in a few months decided that wasn't for him and started for Colorado Friday.

The boy and another 13-year-old got as far as Holland on their trip. It ended abruptly when they were picked up by city police for shoplifting.

The pair was brought to the police station, and told to empty their pockets. In a few hours in town the boys had picked up two large plastic slingshots, combs, mirrors, three jackknives, one wooden shoe, one clay pipe, a package of cigarettes, two flower pot holders and two midget flashlights.

The "ringleader" said he wanted to go swimming this summer, not to school and since his friend had just returned from Colorado they decided to make a return trip.

One of the boys' mothers picked up the pair Saturday and started for home. Apparently the idea of summer school was still uppermost in their minds in Grand Haven the boys jumped out of the car and took off for the open road again. At last report police and deputies were still looking for them.

Library Adventures

By Arnold Mulder

A little book has just appeared, under the title, "Polly Cadotte," that will doubtless be of special interest to Michigan readers. Its appeal lies both in itself and in its subject matter.

The book, which is a blank verse narrative poem, is by Stellanova Osborn, the widow of the late Chase S. Osborn. The author has published several other small books over her own name, and she was co-author with Mr. Osborn, before the latter's death, of more than one prose volume. Her special forte has been lyrical poetry with a Michigan flavor, but the present volume reveals her as a writer of considerable narrative skill.

The sub-title of the little book is "A Tale of Duck Island," and that phrase gives a clear idea of the substance of the narrative. Duck Island, on the map, is an island in the St. Marys river that forms the boundary line between northeast Michigan and Ontario, Canada. For purposes of the present volume it is much more than a place on the map, however; rather, it is a state of mind for the author, as it was during his lifetime for the former Michigan governor who owned it and who spent his summers there at a camp serviced for the most part by Indians who were both employees and personal friends.

The poem "Polly Cadotte" can only be appreciated if it is read with these facts in mind. Although it is a narrative poem of physical action, a much more important interior action in the minds and hearts of the characters runs concurrently through its narrative sequence.

The story is the simple account of the triangular love life of a young woman half-Indian, half-French, whose husband was a full-blooded Indian. It would be unfair to tell the story in digest form; it should be read as a story such as the author wrote it. Moreover, the interest of the poem lies in something else—for me at least.

Early in the poem there is a literary portrait of former Governor Osborn, a few years after he had retired from Lansing politics. He is presented in his swim suit, diving in the St. Marys river, and between dives making arrangements with Polly Cadotte, seated in her canoe, to work for him at his summer camp. The Indians call him Chee-oh-gee-ma, meaning "Big Chief." The author of the poem describes him as "bronze," but he was white as fifty years of sunburn on black Scotsman—a noble savage not by birth but choosing.

That sharp vignette will give an idea of the quality of the verse. Mrs. Osborn displays considerable skill in a simple, strong, clear poetic diction that gives distinction to the poem as a poem.

Then the "Big Chief" disappears from the narrative until much later when the chief character, Polly Cadotte, has become an aging woman and is living in the prospect of death, after a life of passionate domestic drama involving her husband and another Indian who is in love with her.

It is years later, after the two world wars have brought their devastation, Chee-oh-gee-ma, the "Big Chief," has turned from the vigorous bronzed figure of the early lines into the white-haired Duck Island patriarch whose eyesight has grown dim but whose mental vision is clear enough to help Polly Cadotte to interpret the meaning of her life.

I assume that the poem is a record of real people and real events. At least, that is the spirit of the narrative, and it is that feature that gives the book distinction.

Zeeland Netters Win League Crown

ZEELAND (Special)—Zeeland High's tennis team won the Ken-New-Wa league championship for the second straight year while sitting on the sidelines Thursday.

Coopersville, Sparata and the Chix were all in line for the crown last week. Zeeland finished its league season with a total of 12 points for first place. Coopersville had 10 points and Sparata nine a week ago.

Sparata took two out of three matches from Coopersville Thursday to send the two schools into a second place tie with 11 points each and left Zeeland kingpin. Comstock Park finished in fourth with two points.

Coach Jerry Groeters had one letterman back this year from last year's team and had an almost complete rebuilding job to accomplish. The Chix started slowly being swept 3-0 in their league opener against Coopersville.

The team came along and after losing two to Sparata and trouncing Comstock Park twice swept a 3-0 match from Coopersville in the second meeting for the season's highlights.

Ed Geirtings was the only player back from the '54 team. He played No. 1 singles, Dennis Huxhold, who started the season as a doubles player, was moved into the No. 2 singles spot. Dave Van Feursen and Jack Van Eden formed the first doubles team. The unit took part in all the league matches. A second doubles team, Cal Burns and Wayne Tanis, completed the roster.

Canada's high north is a frozen desert. The northern islands get little more precipitation than the Sahara. Most of it comes down as snow that blows back and forth for months before it melts. In winter and spring, skies stay clear and sunny for weeks on end.
