City Safety Measures Are Okayed

Several recommendations of the Traffic and Safety Commission were approved by City Council Wednesday night.

By a 5 to 4 vote, Council approved the recommendation to replace the present "yield" signs at 12th St. and College Ave. with "stop" signs, calling for 12th St. traffic to stop for College Ave.

Passed unanimously were recommendations to eliminate angle parking on the north side of 10th St. for a distance of 120 feet west of College Ave. at the rear of Ninth Street Christian Reformed Church, and to eliminate parking on the east side of College Ave. for a distance of 50 feet north of 14th St.

Unanimously approved was the recommendation to continue the use of the four-way stop street at 10th St. and Central Ave.

Special no-passing zones will be established on 32nd St. between Lugers Rd. and Ruth Ave. near Lakeview School, and on South Shore Dr. and 17th St. from Plasmann Ave. to Diekema Ave. with a white line "break" at the "Y" to allow traffic to turn onto 16th St. It was further recommended that two "curve" signs be placed at the point of the "Y" and on the right hand side of South Shore Dr.

Petitions requesting parking on only one side of 13th St. between River Ave. and Pine Ave. were filed for later consideration. One petition asked that parking be eliminated on the north side and another asked that parking be eliminated on the south side.

Several petitions for rubbish and garbage licenses tabled from last meeting were okayed.

A petition requesting curbing, storm sewers and repaving of South Shore Dr. from the 17th St. junction to Thomas St. was referred to the city manager for study and report.

A letter from two clinical students of Leiden University Medical School in the Netherlands was presented advising they have an opportunity to come to the United States to practice in the medical school of Ann Arbor or New York. It was indicated they want to travel by student boat and bus, but the costs of $175 per person was an insuperable difficulty and they hoped Council could solve their problem. The letter was received and filed and the city clerk instructed to inform the students that such would not be proper expenditure of public funds.

An application from Keith Heavy Movers for a permit to move a house and garage from 805 Lincoln Ave. to 264 East 24th St. was tabled until the next regular meeting.

June 17 was set as bond sale date for the sale of $95,000 paving special assessment bonds recently approved by the Municipal Finance Commission.

The city auditor submitted a resolution naming Union Bank and Trust Co. of Grand Rapids as paying agent in connection with Windmill Island Recreational Facilities Revenue Bonds. The resolution also arranged for an "escrow agreement" with said bank setting forth the terms and conditions of the paying agent.

Council approved Suburban Heights subdivision as filed by Russell Homkes which included a bank money order for $4,284.91 for subdivider's cost of installation of a water main in Hope Ave.

Claims against the city as filed by Howard E. Phillips, 561 Azalea Ave., Carroll W. Norlin, of 633 East 13th St., and Lena Loyer, 273 West 10th St., were referred to the insurance carrier and city attorney.

Council approved a street improvement program for 1964 as proposed by the city engineer at a total estimated cost of $43,000 for which provisions have been made in the 1964-65 budget of the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund. The program calls for paving 13th St. from Fairbanks Ave. to Harrison Ave.; Graafschap Rd. from 32nd St. south to city limits; East 16th St. from G.E. drive-way to US-31 bypass, and Pine Ave. from Third St. to Seventh St.

Council also approved an agreement with the Ottawa County Road Commission to improve an approach to the new bridge over Black River on Waverly Rd. at a cost to the city of $4,151.61. The city already has paid its $35,000 share of the cost of the bridge which was considerably under estimates. The road commission is financing improvements on 120th Ave. from the bridge to Lakewood Blvd., while the city is financing improvements between the bridge and M-21.

Council scheduled June 17 as date for public hearing on a rezoning ordinance calling for rezoning a portion of property on the east side of Lincoln Ave. in the vicinity of Family Fare from A-1 residential to C-1 neighborhood commercial.

Mayor Offers Aid in Settling Hitch Strike

In a public statement before City Council Wednesday night, Mayor Nelson Bosman offered his services and those of the city to help in any way possible in settling the strike which has been in progress at Holland Hitch Co. since April 13 when about 230 employees walked off the job.

"Holland people are very much concerned over this strike, and we all want to do whatever we can to settle it and have the local people back at their jobs," the mayor said.

He said the city had offered similar services in an effort to settle a strike at General Electric in the fall of 1961, and while the city took no credit in that settlement the official family always stands ready to aid in negotiations, providing neutral meeting places or whatever else can be useful.

Mayor Bosman indicated that the health of the city's economy is always of great concern not only for the welfare of employees, but in assessments, etc., and expressed the hope that nothing would be done to reduce job opportunity in the community.

Since Holland Hitch already has some production operations in California and Canada, there has been considerable concern in Holland about moving production operations elsewhere.

The 230 employees walked off the job April 13 in what was said to be a demand for more money and seniority provisions.

Since then, non-union employees have engaged in plant operations and a few days ago some other employees returned to work.

Zeeland Will Re-Register All Voters

ZEELAND — A house-to-house canvass will be held in Zeeland for a two-week period June 8 through 20 to re-register all voters in Zeeland city.

City Clerk Leon Van Harn has organized the program in an attempt to bring voting records up to date and weed out mutilated or illegible registrations.

He is seeking some 30 volunteers to carry on the canvass which is financed by the Zeeland Jaycee Jaynes. He has worked on the problem for two years and has full approval of City Council and the State Elections division in Lansing.

Original plans calling for all voters to call personally at City Hall were replaced by the home canvass as a more effective vehicle toward accomplishing the program.

"The right to vote is one of the greatest franchises given the American people," Van Harn said, "and Zeeland is asked to call the city clerk's office in City Hall before Monday, May 25."

Any person willing to devote a few hours in the canvass is proud of its past voting experiences. We must, however, have adequate records to insure this privilege."

Police Start Safety Check

Once again the Holland police department is preparing for its annual vehicle safety check. Beginning sometime next week, all cars not displaying the red and white safety inspection sticker will be stopped by city police and given an on-the-spot inspection.

Holland police chief Jacob Van Hoff said drivers may have their cars inspected at all local garages or service stations. The inspection is not mandatory, but it is free. Any vehicle successfully passing the inspection tests will be issued one of the red and white stickers. Cars displaying one of the safety stickers will not be stopped at police check points.

Inspection of a vehicle at a police check point will consist of all points covered free of charge at local garages and service stations. The inspection will include brakes, tires, lights, steering, exhaust system, glass, horn, windshield wipers, rear-view mirrors and turn signals.

Any vehicle that fails to pass one or more of the points on the police check list will be issued a repair ticket which will demand the owner to effect needed repairs. A traffic summons may also be issued if a vehicle fails to pass the brake test. Police will also check drivers licenses.

Chief Van Hoff said the inspections will occur at undisclosed points throughout the city about twice a week during the summer. He also said that although inspection of vehicles by Michigan residents is not mandatory, city ordinances allow safety checks of vehicles by police.

West Ottawa Will Vote on 4.5 Millage

Besides electing two members to the Board of Education, West Ottawa school district will vote on a 4.5 operating millage issue for one year at the regular June 8 election. The millage issue is for the same amount currently in effect.

Decision to keep the millage at 4.5 was made at a meeting of the board Monday night. Should more millage be needed after the legislature determines state aid as well as consideration given to county allocations and state equalized valuations, the board will inform the district and proceed accordingly. Meanwhile, the board was appreciative of the confidence shown by the district in providing continued quality education to the children of the district.

The only candidates filing petitions for four-year terms on the board were the two incumbents, Jack Daniels and William Sanford.

In other business the board approved contracts for five new teachers as follows: Timothy Farmer, commercial department; Carolyn Church, French; Bert Zimmer, mathematics; Judy Van Raalte and Dave Helder, elementary. Plans for New County Building Set GRAND HAVEN—The Ottawa County Board of Supervisors, in a special session Tuesday afternoon, approved plans for the new county building, to be erected in 1964 and 1965 at Grand Haven.

Vander Meiden and Koteles, architects, presented the completed plans and specifications and announced that the cost of the new building has increased to "just short of $700,000."

The improvements committee of the board was authorized to advertise for bids on the project, and these will be opened by the committee during the June session of the board. The entire board meets June 22 and the committee will open the bids at 1:30 p.m. June 23. Construction will start soon after letting of bids.

There was a discussion whether to officially name the new building the Ottawa county "courthouse" or the "county building." On a motion by Supervisor Ray VanderLaan of Hudsonville the board voted, 21 to 13, to name the building the Ottawa County Building, as the courts take up only a small amount of the space in the structure.

The World War I monument now standing in front of the present building, on Washington St., must be moved for the new building and Grand Haven City Council will be asked for permission to move the shaft to either the median on Washington Blvd., in front of the courthouse, or to Central Park, across the street.

Only minor changes have been made in the floor plans since the preliminary plans were shown to the board in January. The building will be built of beige brick similar to that used on the county jail, and most walls in the interior will be of light block and brick. Some walls will be of three types of panelling and the courtrooms and the board of supervisors room and some of the private offices will be carpeted.

The present heating plant, located in the jail, will heat the building and there will be air conditioning throughout.

MICHIGAN WEEK

Michigan week is here again and we think this is a good time to call the attention of everyone to the report of the Safety officials of our great State of Michigan who are seriously concerned with the rising tide of accidents on Michigan's highways.

Their most recent attempt to arouse the public has come through the film "Michigan Massacre." Already the legislature has put on the books laws that will strengthen the hand of traffic officers. But nothing will take the place of an aroused public dedicated to the need to do something tangible while behind the wheel.

There have been attempts to play down the figures that tell the story of death on the highways. We are told that the number of cars has increased and that the rise in traffic deaths is a corresponding rise.

In 1963, 1885 persons were killed on Michigan's highways. In the first three months of 1964 the figures for the comparable period in 1963 have risen by 50 per cent. There has not been a doubling of the number of cars on our roads. Moreover the miles of new and better highways should reflect their added safety in the statistics of dead and injured. We cannot rationalize our situation. It can only be described as a "massacre."

At the top of the list as the worst killer is the drunken driver. In 1963 he figured in over half of the deaths on our highways. There is always the double possibility; that he will kill himself or an innocent motorist. We can't shrug off this lethal menace when we realize that his share of the deaths was well over 900 in 1963, or a rough average of 18 every week.

It would be well for all of us to re-evaluate our own driving habits. We are going to be called on to stay within the law, while at the same time schooling ourselves to be on the alert for any potential danger. With the statistics for 1964 telling us that the danger is now greater than ever, the man who refuses to judge himself, may find himself judged.

The Christian's Responsibility to Government
Romans 13:1-7;
I Peter 2:12-16
By C. P. Dame

A Christian ought to be a patriot. And a patriot discharges his duties as a citizen faithfully and cheerfully. The Bible teaches us plainly that a Christian should be a first-rate citizen.

I. God established government. There are three divine institutions—the family, the church and the state. They all involve responsibilities as well as privileges. Let us not overlook the responsibilities. God says, "Let every soul be subject unto higher powers." The word "subject" implies obedience. And why obedience? Because God established government for man's good. To oppose the government is to oppose the authority which God instituted.

Does this mean that we must always obey the authorities regardless of their demands? Indeed not! We should however criticize in a constructive manner. Take for example the decision of the Supreme Court regarding prayer in the public schools. Many of us think it was an unwise and un-American decision contrary to our American tradition. Some of us are now working to overthrow that decision in a legal manner.

Christians are called upon to obey the government and pray for it. This is the teaching of the New Testament. The Church Fathers of the second and third centuries taught this same truth. The New Testament teaches that the officials of the government are God's servants to whom God gave the authority to punish evil-doers and in addition to reward the good people.

Parents should teach their children respect for authority beginning at home. It is high time to stop coddling criminals by excusing them and by blaming environment, society, heredity and bad training. There is an old-fashioned forgotten word which needs a lot of attention today—the word is sin. Disobedience to God is not a mistake, a blunder, a weakness, it is a sin. And sin is lawlessness, it is rebellion against God.

II. Christians can expect trials—even today. At first the Jews persecuted the Christians and later on the Roman government. Peter told the Christians of his day that they should not be surprised at the coming of trials. And they still come to Christians. They are good for something. Trials test character and reveals it too, and tends to strengthen it, and at times brings out hidden beauties. Persecution shows people what kind they really are. The persecuted become partakers of Christ's sufferings.

Peter looked upon suffering for Christ's sake as a privilege. "If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye; for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you." Modern Christians ought to take the same attitude. Since Christ has done so much for us we should consider it a privilege to suffer for Him.

Holland Joins New Conference

Six Other Schools Are Included

Holland High School Wednesday joined a new conference composed of six other schools and the league will be for athletics and other school activities.

Announcement of the new league was made at a league meeting in Muskegon. Holland High students were informed of the new conference at a student athletic assembly today.

The conference will be composed of Holland, East Grand Rapids, Godwin, Grandville, Muskegon, Mona Shores, Muskegon Orchard View and Muskegon Heights.

All of the schools are in Class A with Mona Shores the smallest school with 900 students and Holland the largest with about 1,075 students.

Grand Haven officials also attended the meeting today and were given an option of July 1 to decide on the new league. Grand Haven officials said they had indicated at a spring meeting of the Lake Michigan Athletic Conference that they would stay in the LMAC.

It was indicated by Grand Haven that they were interested in the new league and would inform the LMAC. Holland and Muskegon Heights have notified the LMAC of their decision.

Principal Jay Formsma of Holland said today he assumed the LMAC schools would have a meeting at an early date. Schools remaining in the LMAC are Benton Harbor, Muskegon and Traverse City.

The new conference agreed that a contest will be held in the individual schools this fall to select a name. Provisions of the league will be made this summer and principals will begin working on a constitution in June.

Athletic directors will meet within two weeks to investigate schedule possibilities. Formsma said the new conference may hold a cross country meet this fall.

Formsma reported competition in all sports will start as soon as possible and said "it may be in less than two years in some sports." The LMAC constitution states that a school must give two-year notice if it plans to drop out.

The Holland High principal said the new league will be more than an athletic conference. "It will be an interscholastic league and will include debate, band, vocal, forensics and student council."

Russell Baker, East Grand Rapids principal, was named president pro-tem until the constitution can be adopted. Formsma felt the new conference would have a closer association of superintendents.

Formsma said the new league would help the athletic budget. "The greatest distance of any of the schools is 34 miles and all are located near expressways," Formsma said.

"We will be able to eliminate a good deal of the cost in transportation, such as the trips to Traverse City and to eliminate the late arrival home of athletes and students on long trips. It is much more sound educationally," Formsma said.

The conference is a result of a series of meetings over a two-month period. Holland had considered three other leagues in addition to the LMAC. One was the Grand Valley and the other the Muskegon area league in addition to the one selected.

Formsma and Supt. Walter Scott attended the meeting in Muskegon. Athletic director Joe Moran made the announcement to the students.

This thriving community of 25,000 was returning to normal today after a busy, busy Tulip Time festival which attracted huge crowds and taxed city facilities to the utmost.

Tulip Time Manager Harold J. Karsten said he could not give an official estimate but he quoted long-timers familiar with festival crowds in stating that Saturday's parade throngs seemed as great as ever.

Despite some weather setbacks this year, Karsten and others felt the city could be well pleased with the response to Holland's 35th anniversary festival.

Rain which fell for some 10 hours on Wednesday cancelled opening events for the first time in 35 years, but a shift in program events put opening ceremonies on Thursday and set the children's parade for Friday, thus giving Tulip Time visitors three top parades in three days.

Largest crowds, of course, descended on Holland Saturday for the big Parade of Bands. An unexpected thunderstorm early in the morning caused some anxiety, but all clouds were swept away in early afternoon and the big parade was staged in brilliant sunshine.

Under the capable direction of Marshall William Sikkil, Saturday's big parade of 44 bands, 34 floats and many other entries took an hour and 45 minutes to pass a given point.

Earlier, a band review for 15 visiting bands engaging in colorful marching maneuvers at Riverview Park thrilled an audience with top entertainment which took in original novelties, fine marching and a good blast of martial music.

Greatest thrill was the massed band formation in which selections were led by the three visiting judges, Eugene Heeter, Everett Kisinger and Arthur C. Hills.

First division ratings were won by Brooklyn, Jonesville, Corunna, Godwin Heights, Calumet, Ludington, Charlotte, Penfield and Owosso. Second division ratings went to Wyoming Park, Lee High, Lakeview of Battle Creek and Roosevelt of Wyandotte. Third division went to Vandercook Lake and Chesaning.

Civic Center was crowded for the Saturday Varieties which featured an hour-long show by a cast of 175 from the Battle Creek Central High School. A particularly fine performance by seven groups of klompen dancers spelled "finis" to official performances at Tulip Time for another year. Also performing were the championship twirling corps, the Betty Kaiser Kadettes of Grand Rapids.

After two heavy rains during the festival period, the tulips were not at peak condition during the weekend, but there was still plenty of color and traffic on tulip lane remained heavy on Sunday.

Mrs. George Carter and Fred Miranda of Grand Rapids won first place in the overall results of the two session Tulip Time Bridge Tournament held Tuesday and Thursday evening at the Peoples State Branch Bank.

Mrs. Cantor and Fisher were second in the final session and also took second place in overall results.

The third place finishers were Mr. and Mrs. David Fies of Grand Rapids, who combined their fifth place first session results with a steady sixth place result Thursday evening.

Mrs. C. W. Richardson and Mel Baher of Grand Rapids were fourth overall. Mrs. Ivan Wheaton and Carl Van Raalte were fifth while Mr. and Mrs. Edward Collard tied with Mrs. George Vrieling and Jake Boersma for sixth place.

Hope Wins MIAA Baseball Championship

Dutch Hand Kalamazoo Two Losses

KALAMAZOO—Hope College's baseball team swept a double-header from Kalamazoo here Wednesday, 2-1 and 4-1 and won the MIAA championship.

It was Hope's first outright baseball championship since joining the MIAA in 1928. The Flying Dutchmen shared the title with Albion last year. The Britons, beaten twice by Calvin Wednesday, finished fourth this season.

Masterful pitching by Joey Bosworth won the first game for the Flying Dutchmen while some potent hitting by Clare Van Wieren helped Hope win the second contest.

Bosworth, the MIAA's most effective pitcher, struck out 15 batters in chalking up his fifth straight MIAA victory. In posting the 5-0 record, Bosworth allowed only one earned run (against Adrian) in 40 innings of pitching. Kalamazoo's run Wednesday was unearned. Bosworth's earned run average is an almost unbelievable 0.23.

The Hope sophomore righter from Palos Heights, Ill., walked only one batter and he was later cut down at second base. He gave the Hornets only two hits.

Hope scored its first run in the fifth inning on a single by Pete Haverkamp, double by Dave Troost and an infield out.

by Wayne Cotts. Kalamazoo tied the score 1-1 in the bottom of the fifth.

The Flying Dutchmen scored the winning run in the sixth when Glenn Van Wieren walked, advanced to second on Chuck Veurink's single and took third on a passed ball. He scored on an infield error.

Besides the three hits in the run producing innings, Glenn Van Wieren singled for the other safety. Hope made two errors and the losers four.

Clare Van Wieren slammed a three-run homer in the second inning of the second game. The blast came with Rog Kroodsma, who had tripled, and Troost, who had walked, on base.

Hope picked up its other run in the fifth. Haverkamp walked and was advanced to third on Art Kramer's single and scored on Glenn Van Wieren's single.

The winners made seven hits in the nightcap including two by Glenn Van Wieren. Veurink, Kramer, Clare Van Wieren, Kroodsma and Haverkamp each had one hit.

Jim Van Til started for Hope and struck out eight and walked seven in five innings. He allowed a run in the fifth and Glenn Van Wieren came on to pitch the last two innings. He walked one and fanned three. The Hornets made four hits.

The double victory gave Hope a 9-2 conference mark, two games better than runner-up Alma which split a doubleheader Wednesday with Adrian, winning the opener, 5-3 but bowing in the second contest, 4-2.

The Scots had a 7-4 record while Calvin was 7-5 and Albion, 6-5. Hope and Albion were rained out of their second game and played only 11 league contests. Alma and Olivet also played only 11 games.

Hope ended the season with a 14-8 record. Daryl Sidentop is the Hope coach. The Hornets ended with a 3-9 MIAA mark.

At Alma Wednesday, Alma catcher Pat Murphy climaxed his senior year by capturing the league's batting trophy with a .474 mark. Murphy went four for six against Adrian with two singles, a triple and homer.

Train Ride Fascinates Youngsters

A thrill of a "lifetime" and long to be remembered by 42 kindergartners of Waukazoo School is the field trip which the youngsters took Tuesday as an annual end-of-the-year outing.

The big event was a train ride from Holland to Fennville and the return by bus along a Lake Michigan scenic route, concluding with refreshments for the youngsters at Kollen Park.

Frank Harmsen, conductor, and Jack Feenstra, brakeman, explained the operation of the train as the children boarded it at the Holland depot at a 8:15 a.m.

The youngsters were accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Audrey Bloemendaal who was assisted by six mothers including the Mesdames Andrew Van Fleen, Robert Nanninga, Robert De Weerd, Roger Terpstra, Bernard Knoll and William Lalley.

En route home, Al Van Den Berg, the bus driver, stopped at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Du Mez where they were given a tour of the farm. Of special interest to the kindergartners were four tiny kittens, two geese, a mother goat with her kids, a dog with her puppies, chickens and cows and a frisky year old pony. Souvenirs to remind the children of the happy experience included train buttons, chicken feathers and corn cobs.

Research Paper Notes Western Michigan Resorts

"The Saratoga of the West" is the topic of a research paper to be published in the Great Lakes Historical Society Journal, "Inland Seas" this summer. The paper was written by John Drythout, Hope College senior majoring in history.

A former resort in Grand Haven in the late 19th century is the locale of the paper. The Drythout family spent summers in the area and the Western Michigan resort areas are familiar ones to the Hope student.

Mineral springs in Spring Lake, Grand Haven, Fruitport and other northern Michigan towns figure in the paper prominently. Mr. Drythout is currently doing research on later additions to the Western Michigan resorts as part of a seminar by Dr. Paul Fried, chairman of the Hope History Department, who encouraged Drythout to work on this topic.

Growing specimen tulips is one of Mrs. W.C. Kools' special talents. In the 1964 Tulip Time

Flower Show she won the most blue ribbons and the sweepstakes award in the horticulture division.

The blue ribbons she has collected would fill a room. This year Mrs. Kools won blue ribbons in Class 101, three white tulips, three red tulips, lavender tulips; Class 103, lavender parrot tulips.

Second place ribbons were won by Mrs. Kools in Class 101, variegated; Class 103, pink or rose; Class 104, white double tulips; Class 105, five named varieties and honorable mention in Class 104, yellow double tulips.

Not content with blue ribbons for her tulips, Mrs. Kools also won blue ribbons for her flowering shrub Class 401; flowering tree Class 402 and flowering vine Class 403.

Beavers are live-trapped in harmless cages, transported by plane from area where their activities are likely to cause damage to crops and man-made levees and parachuted to districts where their work will be of greater benefit.

GIFT FOR ROMNEY — Dr. J.J.G. Boot, mayor of Hilversum, the Netherlands, (center) presents a brass model of the Hilversum City Hall to Gov. George Romney as Holland Mayor Nelson Bosman looks on at left. The large city hall was erected in 1932 for this Dutch city of

105,000. Architect was Willem Dudok, a pupil of Frank Lloyd Wright who won the gold medal of the American Institute of Architects for the design. The City Hall is still considered a modern building and is visited each year by architects from all over the world. (Sentinel photo)

ANTIQUE SHOW — Although rain dampened some of the spirits of the first day of the Tulip Festival, the antiques show at the Holland Armory got off to a good start. Present for the opening of the show, which features a Rem-

PHOTOGRAPHERS' PARADISE — Among the many places which will delight camera fans is the home of Mrs. Carolyn Van Regenmorter, located at 1814 West 32nd St., with its numerous display of tulip beds, small windmills, church and well. Mrs. Van Regenmorter has opened her place to visitors for the past 11 years and at present is caring for her garden herself. She has 1,100 tulips planted on the premises which are replaced by other flowers following the tulip season.

PRESENTS SHOES — Eric Dixon (center), Secretary-Treasurer of the National Antique Dealers Association, received an inscribed pair of wooden shoes Friday from Harold Karsten, Tulip Time manager, in the Holland Armory, site of the Tulip Time antique show. Robert Taft, manager of the show in which Dixon has an exhibit, looks on as Karsten makes the presentation. (Sentinel photo)

PEACE PALACE REPRODUCTION — One of the most intriguing displays in the Children's Costume Parade Friday was this reproduction of the Peace Palace in The Hague, The Netherlands. The palace was made of cardboard by children at Montello Park School under the supervision of four teachers. An exact proportionate reproduction of the meeting place of the World Court, it took one week to make and is 48 inches square and features a steeple which is 51 inches high. It was copied from pictures supplied by the Netherlands Information Service here and from photographs taken by interested persons.

Tulip Time Sidelights

The S. S. South American left its Montello Park docks at 8:30 p.m. Thursday for Chicago. It will return here Saturday with a crowd of Chicagoans to visit Tulip Time.

Pink slips will be distributed among the parade crowds Saturday listing the line of march of bands in the big parade. This is a courtesy of the Holland Jaycees.

Those snazzy white Oldsmobile convertibles which are serving as official Tulip Time cars are fewer in number this year than before. And since there are a hundred more klompen dancers than other years, every bit of space in the convertibles will be needed for dancers in Saturday's parade of bands. So please don't ask Parade Marshal Bill Sikkel if you may have the wife and kids ride with you.

Tulip Time visitors thronged Centennial Park this morning and the shutterbugs were busy taking pictures of the colorful tulip beds and other photogenic settings. Holland post office was doing a land office business in the sale of four-cent stamps in the lobby and clerks were busy sorting a small mountain of post cards behind scenes.

About 600 persons dropped in at the hospitality center in Nies store on a rainy Wednesday for a cup of cheering coffee, and found the center a delightful place with its park benches for lounging and its walls decked with art work by Holland High School students. The hospitality center is operated by the Downtown Merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce, with Golden Agers of the Salvation Army as receptionists.

Making a hit with visitors are the "honorary citizen" cards given out by downtown merchants, the Chamber of Commerce or available at the hospitality center. The card, signed by Mayor Nelson Bosman and William H. Vande Water of the Chamber of Commerce, entitles the visitor to all the courtesies of Dutch hospitality.

The housing bureau headed by Mrs. Henry Buursma has been busier than ever this year, but the situation seems well in hand. Mrs. Buursma would appreciate more listings for persons coming in without reservations Friday and Saturday. Such persons willing to open their homes may call her at the Tulip Time office in Civic Center.

Many comments on the warm hospitality of Holland have been received by the housing bureau. In a good share of the cases, the Holland people turn out to be hosts and have great fun showing the guests around, and many enduring friendships ensue. Some visitors have been returning to the same homes year after year.

The largest Tulip Time crowds always visit Holland on Saturday and visitors are reminded that after the big Parade of Bands, traffic on Eighth St. will run one-way east from Pine Ave. to the US-31 bypass.

Tulip Time visitors are finding art much a part of the four-day Tulip Time festival this year. There is an exhibit by local artists in the auditorium of Herrick Public Library, an outstanding display by Holland High artists in the Hospitality Center in Nies store, and the "Who Was Rembrandt" display of reproductions at the antique show in Holland Armory. Besides that, there's always art on display in the high school art center, in Hope College, and various other schools.

The Hospitality Center in Nies store where Golden Agers in Dutch costume greet visitors and provide coffee and soft drinks is growing in popularity as the festival advances. About 1,000 trekked in Thursday to look over the art display, and rest on those convenient park benches.

Utica Mayor Fred H. Beck brought along his mayor pro tem, Henry Scheper, to the Tulip Time festival today. Scheper pronounces his name "Shepper" but in Holland today he has been renamed "Van Skayper."

Coming to Holland for Tulip Time has its advantages for the Utica party. They will be on hand in Utica Monday to greet Mayor Nelson Bosman and Councilman Richard W. Smith and their wives, when the local group has its exchange visit.

Lt. Ernest Bear of the Holland police department who coordinated traffic control in the city for the Tulip Time festival today thanked the many residents living on tulip lane for their cooperation in not parking on the street so that visitors might have an unbroken view of the tulips on their eight-mile tour of the tulip plantings.

"We know it's an inconvenience but it's only for four or five days a year, and we certainly appreciate the cooperation," Lt. Bear said.

Holland experienced the usual traffic tieup after Saturday's parade, but it was over in an hour and 10 minutes, Lt. Bear said. That was the length of time that officers ran one-way traffic east on Eighth St. to the bypass. Ten state police troopers assisted the regular police force of 48 regulars and specials to move traffic Saturday.

Tulip Time headquarters in Civic Center was quite the lost and found center today. Tulip Time Manager Harold J. Karsten said there was an array of jackets, sweaters, a drum major's hat, a complete band uniform and lots of other trivia waiting to be returned to owners.

On the other hand, Tulip time also has a list of lost articles which have not been found. One visitor is missing two cameras which he left with the driver of an official convertible as he helped fix an ailing float. Another lost a wrist watch and another a baton twirling medal.

All roads lead to Holland the Saturday of Tulip Time, and this year was no exception. Traffic gets heavier as thousands of cars converge on the tulip city. At 8 a.m. Saturday, officers were directing traffic in both Hamilton and Allegan so that traffic from some streets could cross M-40.

Eugene Heeter of LaGrange, Ill., one of the judges at the band review at Riverview Park Saturday, was reminiscing how band reviews began in the early 1930's — he didn't remember just when. They started out small with just a few bands "performing on the green" at the athletic park, and within a few years became one of the most popular attractions of the festival. That was even before klompen dancing. Heeter was HHS band director then.

Heeter recalled how an appendectomy knocked him out in 1933 just a week or two before the festival. In those days, it took a month to recover from such surgery.

High School Principal Jay W. Formsma put forth the idea that EVERYONE GETS IN ACT—Everybody participates in the many Tulip Time festivities and scrubbing the streets is no exception. Eric Rohlck, 3, (foreground) dumps water on the streets to be swept by his sister, Theresa (Terri) 6. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rohlck of 287 West 22nd St.

klompen dancers should have an alumnae — something that would call together all the girls who at any time had danced the klompen dance. Since this goes back about 30 years, the numbers involved could be stupendous.

What form should such an undertaking take? Obviously it should be during Tulip Time when the current dancers have their costumes, their shoes and their high kicks intact.

Where should such a thing be held? In Centennial Park, in Riverview Park, in Civic Center, at the new high school? Obviously some place where parking is available.

And when? Saturday is too busy with heavy traffic. How about a tea at the high school Sunday afternoon? Or what about the off-day on Friday afternoon when dancers perform at the oval at the high school? Got any ideas? Let's hear 'em!

Another look into an alumnae for klompen dancers could yield some interesting guests in directors alone. This could go way back to Ethel Perry and Mabel Apel. Tulip Time went bigtime in the mid-30's and klompen dancing came into its own as a unique Tulip Time feature. Dancing on the green at the big Variety programs at Riverview Park was even more popular than dancing on the streets.

After World War II, it was Virginia Dykhuys Borgman who arranged a new dance each year with narration. For sever-

Brilliant Piano Highlights Hope College Concert

Dimnent Memorial Chapel on the Hope campus was filled Thursday night for the concert by the Hope College Orchestra which featured Dr. Anthony Kooiker as soloist in Beethoven Concerto Number 3, Opus 37 for Piano and Orchestra.

Dr. Kooiker displayed brilliant keyboard technique in the almost flawless performance of the concerto.

The orchestra under the direction of Dr. Morrette Rider played with unusually fine intonation. Of particular note was "Poem in Cycles and Bells for Tape Recorder and Orchestra" by Luening and Ussachevsky. The composition featured a pre-recorded sound track played on a tape recorder used as both a solo line and member of the orchestra. This technique is in its infancy and the particular number was one of the first experiments in this type of composition. The orchestra accepted the challenge and did a creditable job of projecting.

Opening the evening concert was the "St. Lawrence Overture" by Robert Washburn, contemporary composer. The summer festival style number got the concert off to a good start.

The final portion of the program was "Four English Dances" by Malcolm Arnold. The dances were lively and percussive and provided a particularly effective closing to the evening.

Ottawa County Nurses To Meet in Grand Haven

The season's final program meeting of the Ottawa County Nurses' Association will be held next Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Grand Haven Hospital.

Dr. Robert C. Mahaney, an orthopedic surgeon, will be the main speaker and will discuss medical, surgical and nursing approaches to orthopedic problems.

The board meeting was held last Monday and appointments were made by the newly-elected president, Miss Joan Richey. They include: By-laws, Harold Mac Kinnon, Mrs. Angie Van Hoven; finance committee, Mrs. Gloria Bouwman; legislative committee, Harold Mac Kinnon; membership, Mrs. Joanne Clelland, Miss Wilma Van Dragt, Mrs. Ellen Smith; nomination committee, Miss Mary Ann Kuyers, Miss Gloria Bjorkland, N. Boon; program committee, Mrs. Van Hoven, Mac Kinnon; hospitality committee, Mrs. Mary Wyngarden, Mrs. Adelaide Smith; sunshine committee, Mrs. Arminta De Young, Mrs. Marie Van Harn, Mrs. Ellen Potter; publicity committee, Mrs. Salome Teerman, Mrs. Gertrude Kohloff.

al years now, the dance has been standardized under Barbara Ambellas. And certainly the years of work by Lavina Cappon and others in supervising and inspecting costumes for all the dancers should not go unrecognized.

One happy band at the band review Saturday afternoon was the Calumet High School Band which came the longest distance — 500 miles — from up in the copper country in the upper peninsula to perform in the review for the first time. They did a fine show too and won a No. 1 rating.

A 24-car special train from Detroit carrying 1,200 persons visited Tulip Time Saturday, arriving at 12:55 p.m. and departing at 6 p.m. They were greeted at the train by the Christian Junior High Cadet Band. The visitors were quite impressed by the welcome . . . said they'd never been greeted by bands before.

Did you notice the plastic souphones in the band parade Saturday? They are becoming widely used for outdoor work. They are much lighter than the brass numbers . . . and a bit cheaper too. The musical tubing, of course, is of metal.

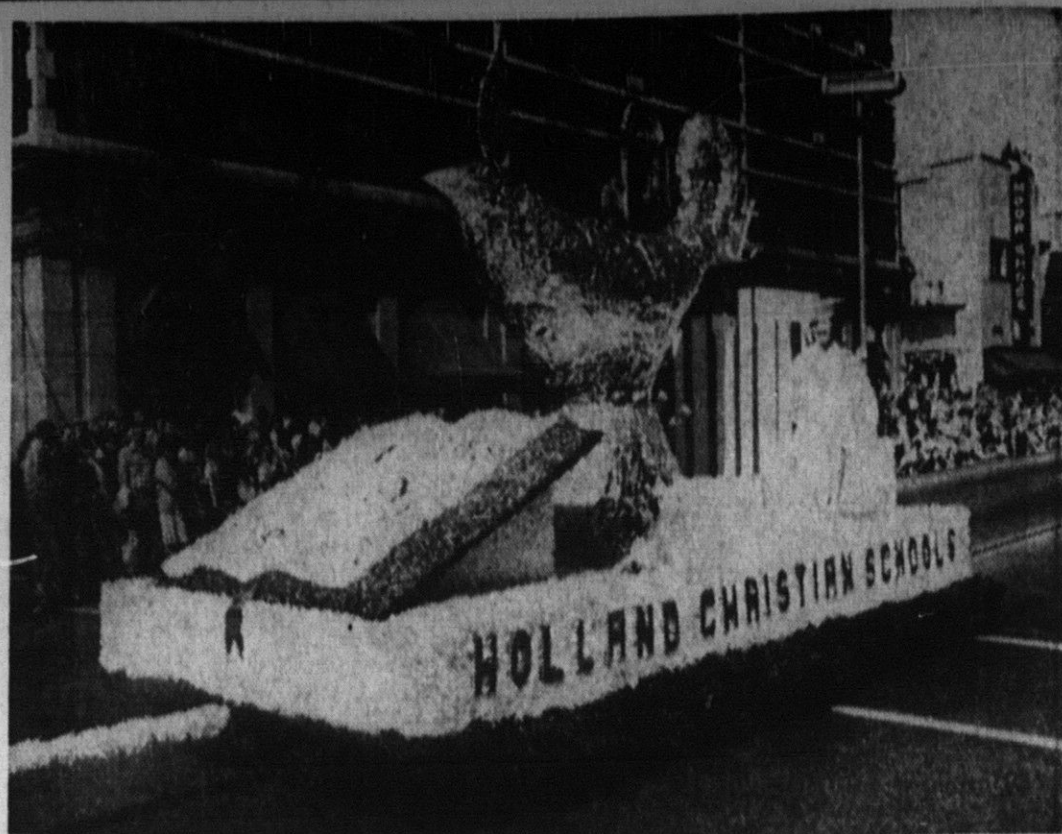

Saturday had its ups and downs in weather . . . not a cheering situation for Tulip Time Manager Harold J. Karsten who was trying to run a band review and who was waked up early in a morning by phone calls from band directors checking on the weather in Holland. It was thundering and lightening at the time, but Harold was optimistic. And the rain stopped.

Then in the afternoon right in the middle of the band review, it turned dark and there were traces of moisture in the air. People seated on the bleachers headed for the covered stadium. But it was only momentary and they soon returned to their seats.

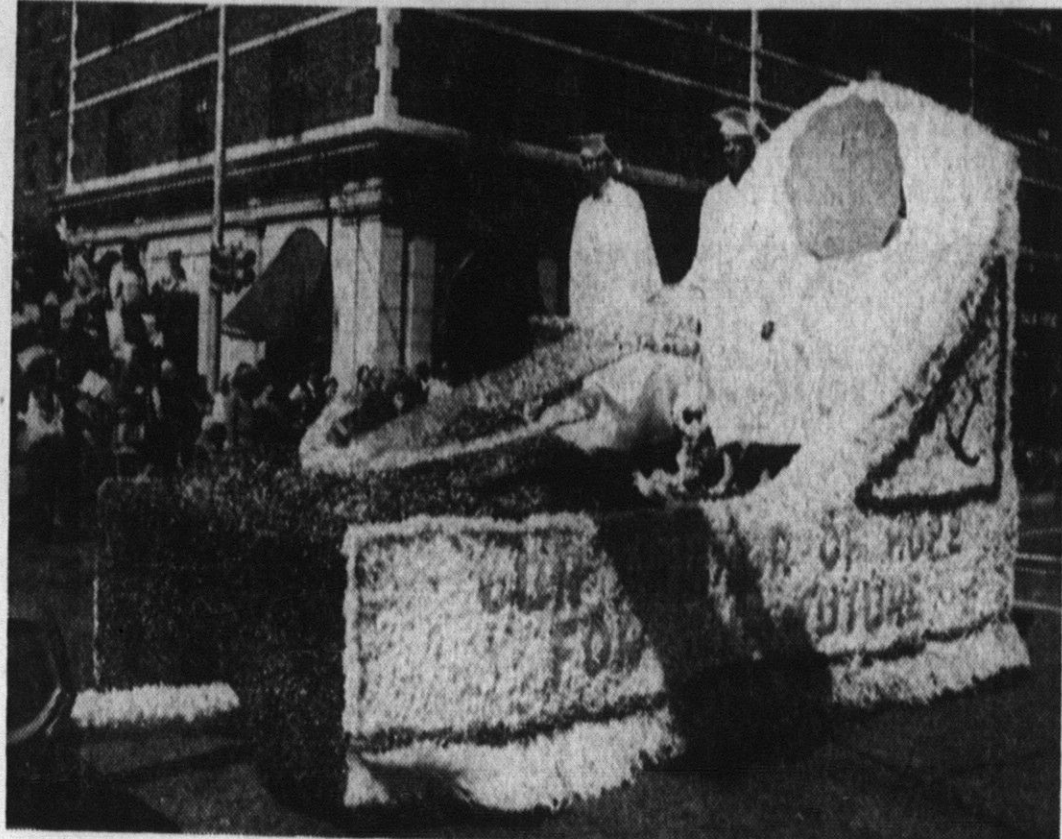

Then just as the Pennfield High School band of Battle Creek took the field at 2:40 p.m. the sun came out . . . just in time to catch the full shine of those silvery costumes worn by two shapely majorettes. It was quite a moment!

Their names? Judy Sivits and Diana Wilbur. Glenn Reece was that high stepping struttin' drum major.

ing instruments. With such talent coming up, Henry Vander Linde won't have to scrounge for musicians for his high school band a few years hence.

Perhaps the finest klompen dancing performance of the entire four-day tulip festival was given Saturday night at the Tulip Time Varieties in Civic Center.

Six groups danced in stockinged feet on the main floor while one group danced in klompen on the stage. A good share of the formations on the floor was done in two concentric circles. The climax was when the girls formed one large windmill.

That's the sort of thing they used to do at the outdoor programs at Riverview Park.

Saturday's weather was a little tough on some band instruments. The drum head on the big bass drum of Calumet High School was broken at the band review. It was the first time that the long-time judges could recall such a thing at Tulip time festivals.

As the Ludington High School band left the field after its performance at Saturday's band review, it paused and the brasses gave forth with some chords from the "Exodus" theme . . . very effective.

Dunno if it meant anything, but that band won a first division rating.

Many Trophies Are Awarded At Flower Show

Winning flower show ribbons and trophies is no novelty for Mrs. William C. Vandenberg Jr., 3497 Beeline Rd. But this year, she hit the jackpot.

In the artistic division she won the tri-color award for the highest scoring blue ribbon winner in the lighted niches division; the Phyllis E. Watkins trophy for the most outstanding artistic tulip arrangement; the Ruth Walsh Everett trophy for the most outstanding artistic arrangement; the W. A. Butler trophy for the sweepstakes award in design division and award of merit in the house plant section for the highest scoring blue ribbon.

Besides the blue ribbons for first, the purple rosette for sweepstakes and the tri-color for highest scoring blue ribbon winner, Mrs. Vandenberg also won several other places in the show.

To cap the climax, her daughter, Kristy Vandenberg, 11, won the Kathryn Cheff Silver Challenge trophy for the most outstanding artistic division in the Junior Division.

Unfortunately, Kristy is unable to bask in the glory of a trophy winner . . . she came down with the measles Friday morning, along with her closest friend, Karen Steinfert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Steinfert, who took second in the junior division.

Sharing Mrs. Vandenberg's triumphs are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Sandberg of Pentwater and Bradenton, Fla., who arrived in Holland Friday for a visit with the family.

In the lighted niches section a flower arrangement suggesting the sparkling beauty of night, labeled Midnight, Mrs. Vandenberg used yellow fuji mums, golden cedar and dried material and most unusual, a baby shovelnose shark, which was stuffed after being caught.

Barbershop Enthusiasts Cheer Quartet Parade

An enthusiastic crowd in Civic Center Friday night cheered Holland's 18th annual Parade of Barbershop Quartets, a well balanced program of sweet harmony, comic relief, rich chords and miscellaneous patter.

Although the Forefathers of Fairfax, Va., (or Four Fathers since all are family men) threatened to steal the show with a new brand of sophisticated comedy, it was still the rich harmony of Holland's own Windmill Chorus and assorted quartets that kept barbershop singing in true perspective.

Armed with quick changes of costumes and a variety of musical instruments and other props, the Fairfax Foursome engaged more in patter and stories than singing, yet with professional precision would launch into songs full of harmony and spiced with topical references to local names and places, all neatly woven into fresh lyrics.

"And if you thought they talked a lot on the main program, you should have heard those guys at the afterglow. That master of ceremonies just doesn't stop," one local barbershop enthusiast said today.

Their act, somewhat reminiscent of the zany Midstates Four of Chicago, longtime favorites at local quartet parades, was embellished by such props as a baby carriage (with comic bass as the baby), fancy clothes and guitars for the country music scene, a breakaway string bass which collapsed on the right sour note, assorted wigs and small props, and an elaborate bier for an Irish wake scene replete with live corpse.

While the Forefathers' brand of comedy is better suited to sophisticated night clubs than to the original concept of barbershop harmony, the first visit of this offbeat quartet was a new treat for Holland audiences, and local loyal followers of barbershop harmony hope these boys will return.

The two "Old Faithfuls" of local parades, the Chord Chords of Holland and the Extension Chords of Grand Rapids, gave their usual polished performances. Wearing trim tuxedos, the Extension Chords with Don Lucas as emcee, chose such favorites as "Cecilia," "All the Things You Are" and "That Old Gang of Mine" and the Chord Chords chose "The Girl That I Marry," "I'd Climb the Highest Mountain" and "The Heart of a Clown." Both quartets engaged in a bit of casual comedy for highly palatable presentations.

The Windmill Chorus, wearing trim white dinner jackets with lapels outlined in braid, sang a variety of songs, mostly sweet songs with fine shadings of harmony, plus one novelty with hand actions.

One Sweet Adelines quartet, the Related Four of Chagrin Falls, Ohio, provided a change in pace for the program, singing such breezy songs as "Sing Me a Baby Song," "Pal of My Cradle Days," "Pennies From Heaven" and a Dixie tune. This quartet consisting of three sisters and "one they adopted" wore smooth peach colored sheaths.

It wasn't barbershopping, but the Banjo Tainers of Muskegon, three men with banjos and a woman pianist, kept the auditorium rocking with snappy banjo tunes, novelties and surprises, one of them with black light. The trio has appeared often in local parades.

Master of ceremonies was Al Buggess of Grand Haven who gets more mileage in laughs about his weight than anybody else. He was introduced by George Moeke Jr., Holland chapter president. The local chapter's annual award to the Barbershopper of the Year went to Jack Oonk.

As has become traditional, the program closed with all quartets joining the Windmill Chorus in the barbershop theme song, "Keep America Singing," directed by the composer, Willis A. Diekema of Holland.

So you like your apple tree — but you don't like the messy, wormy, decaying apples that go with it. Well, science now offers an easy, economical solution for stopping trees from bearing fruit. Spray apple trees immediately after bloom just as the petals start to fall. This will prevent fruit development. Use naphthaleneacetic acid (NAA) at 30 parts per million. If you buy a 3.5 per cent formulation of NAA, mix one teaspoon per gallon of water. With formulations having different percentages of NAA, the mixture will have to be calculated. Either way, this spray program will cost only a few cents per tree. Two or three gallons of spray are enough for a tree if hand spraying is used. Homeowners may have some difficulty buying NAA in small enough quantities for just a few trees. The chemical is usually sold in quarter-pound sizes or larger which would be enough for 10 to 15 trees.

Fortunately, you can store NAA and use the rest of it in the next couple of years, or you could use large quantities and make this job a neighborhood project — if others have the same problem. Occasionally, a slight wilting and twisting of the leaves will be seen on apple and pear trees after applying the chemical, but generally no permanent damage will result if the NAA is used according to directions. NAA is available under several trade names at most garden and farm supply stores throughout the country. It is not effective on plum, cherry or peach trees.

We would like to remind the folks who are showing cattle at fairs this summer that the law requiring health certificates for these animals is still in effect. All cattle must be accompanied by certificate of record on form No. 275, which is issued by the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

It might be of interest to know that the Michigan Department of Agriculture Plant Industry Division reports there are 185 apiaries with 1665 colonies in Ottawa County, and of these there were 14 diseased apiaries with 49 colonies. Ottawa County is cooperating with the Department of Agriculture through the Ottawa County Board of Supervisors in furnishing money for inspection purposes. The average cost of inspecting each colony in Ottawa County is 73 cents.

Regardless of whether you live in the city, a subdivision, village, town or out in the country, there is a multitude of valuable information available for you at the Ottawa County Cooperative Extension Offices. They have information covering nearly all topics from appliances through zoning regulations available free of charge — or in some cases for a slight fee — in the form of bulletins and pamphlets. And not all the information is of interest just to the farmer.

There is plenty of information for the homemaker, the do-it-yourselfer, amateur gardener, youngsters and other interested groups. For instance, if you were looking for information on starting a new lawn, lighting the patio, paving the driveway, controlling weeds in the lawn, starting a vegetable garden or cooking outdoors, it's available at the extension office. They also have information for the housewife wondering how to select T-shirts for junior, what to look for when purchasing a new clothes dryer or refrigerator, stretching the food dollar, counting calories or just nutritionally balancing the family's meals.

There is also information on building codes, mink ranching, part-time farming, growing Christmas trees, sweet corn, raising bees and many other items. For the farmer, there is information on nearly all agriculture subject such as building new barns, problems of dairying near cities, determining interest rates for loans, controlling weeds, raising apples and many other problems.

Information for youngsters on getting started in farming, selecting a career, drawing up a father and son operating agreement or just taking care of the family horse is also available. The county office also has a listing of all available publications prepared and issued by the Cooperative Extension Service and Agricultural Experiment station at Michigan State University which are available through our office.

FADING OCCUPATION — Arthur Kuikendall, 62, (left) and his son Allen, 30, split three-foot timbers into "shakes," long, thin, wooden shingles, as they ply their steadily fading occupation at the Castle Park Hotel in preparation for the roofing of one of the resort's buildings. Kuikendall, who has worked since 1931 for Carter P. Brown, owner of the hotel, said he has been making shakes for about 45 years. (Sentinel photo)

Father, Son Still Make Old Style Shake Roof

For the last 45 years, Arthur Kuikendall, 62, of Tryon, North Carolina, has been part of a steadily fading occupation.

Kuikendall makes shakes, long thin wooden shingles that were once the primary roofing material for log cabin and Southern plantation alike.

For most of the last 33 years, Kuikendall has been working for Carter P. Brown, owner of the Castle Park Hotel. During those years, he has made many shake roofs for the resort's buildings. His latest job is to roof part of Pine Cliff, one of the many resort buildings.

With his son Allen, 30, Kuikendall is steadily building a pile of shakes for the roofing job. He explained as he worked that there are three primary steps in the making of shakes, other than the actual cutting of trees for lumber.

After a tree is cut and sawed into lengths about three feet long, the timber is bolted. Bolted is the process of cutting the timber into a number of three foot sections. It is somewhat like cutting logs for firewood.

The second step consists of removing loose slivers from the wood and any part of the soft heart of the tree that may remain on each piece. The sap layer is also removed from the outside of each section of wood at this time.

Then with a wooden mallet, and a tool called a "frow," which resembles a hammer sized scythe, the board timber is split into fine sections, and then split again. The final result is a number of two to three foot sections of wood that are one-quarter to one-half inch thick. These pieces are shakes.

Kuikendall said a shake roof is good for at least 20 years. He said the long life is possible because of natural air passages that form during the construction of the roof. The passages allow air to flow freely into and around the shakes, preventing rot from forming.

To illustrate his point, Kuikendall pointed to a nearby shake roof. It had been constructed in 1937, he said, and still had at least ten years of effective life left.

Kuikendall said he was born in a house that had been built entirely from one tree. That was in the days of virgin timber, he said. The roof was made of shakes and never leaked a drop when it rained, he said.

But during the winter, he would wake up in the morning and find his blankets covered with fresh snow. The wind had blown the snow through the air passages into the house, he said.

When asked to estimate the number of shakes he has made since he began 45 years ago, Kuikendall just shook his head and smiled. All he would say was that two good men, working with good wood could make about 5,000 shakes a day.

'Brigadoon' Is Pleasant Adjunct to Tulip Time

An innovation in Hope College theatre for Tulip Time is the presentation of the Broadway musical, "Brigadoon," an early Lerner-Loewe show which has a dreamy charm of a fantasy cast in the Scottish highlands.

In selecting a musical, Director David P. Karsten felt this form of theatre, one of the real contributions of the United States to the entire field of drama, would be a fitting choice for the final presentation of the college year. Presented for the first time Thursday night, it will be performed again tonight and Saturday at 8:15 p.m.

A multi-level stage in Snow auditorium served as an excellent setting for the Scottish fantasy, resulting in graceful movements for a well trained cast, but limiting the choreography. Yet the few simple dance and ballet routines added a fine touch to the production.

Principal leads were Douglas T. McCullough, a senior of Port Jervis, N.Y., in his last Hope college performance, and Kathy Lenel, a sophomore of Rensselaer, N. Y. Miss Lenel's soaring soprano was particularly effective in her solo numbers. McCullough, who has long proved outstanding dramatic ability, has a pleasing singing voice well suited to musical comedy but one has the feeling he prefers a solid dramatic role.

Leon Van Dyke, Holland sophomore, had a merry time in a comedy role as second lead, and Julie Blough, a Caledonia senior also making her last appearance, almost stole the show with a couple of saucy songs. Also in his last role was B. J. Berghorst, Zeeland senior who is one of the finest talents Karsten has produced. B. J. appeared in a character role of an ageless schoolmaster who held the key to the mysterious secret of Brigadoon.

Choral selections were done particularly well. Choral directors were Sue Radliff and Ellis Julien, and pianists were Karen Huyck and Doug Smith. Excellent lighting and technical effects gave a professional polish.

A musical — and a Broadway musical at that — is a big challenge for any student organization.

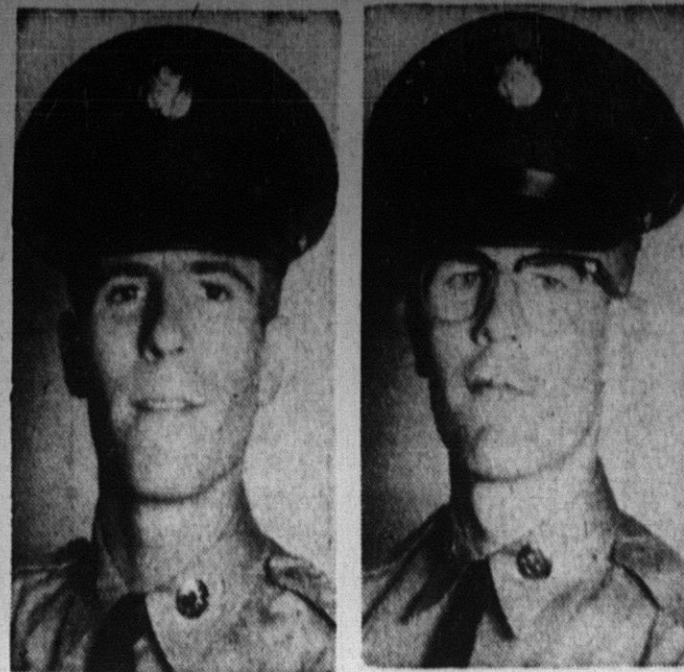

BPW High On Safety List

The Holland Board of Public Works has received national recognition for an outstanding safety record of the city's municipal electric department during 1963. Holland was second place winner among utilities of comparable size in the American Public Power Association's Annual Safety Contest. Announcement of the award was made at the APPA annual convention this week in Jacksonville, Florida.

The safety award is based on the accident frequency rate per man-hours worked. Holland placed second in Group C competition, which comprises electric systems with 100,000 to 250,000 man-hours worked. First place winner was the City of Garland, Tex. Third place went to Peoples Utility District No. 1, Lewis County, Chehalis, Wash. Each of the Group C winners reported having worked the entire year with no lost-time injuries during 1963. The minimum severity ratio determined the award to each contestant. Garland, Texas, reported an exposure of 140,000 man-hours; Holland, 124,200 man-hours; and PUD No. 1, Chehalis, Wash., 121,321 man-hours.

APPA is a national trade organization representing more than 1,200 local public owned electric utilities in 45 States and Puerto Rico. The annual safety competition was established by the APPA Safety Committee in order to focus attention on this important aspect of utility operation.

Plants Stop Blowing Sand

The Soil Conservation Service in cooperation with the West Ottawa Soil Conservation District has established a research project in sand stabilization. The project is to determine if sand can be stabilized over a short period of time with the use of fertilizer. The site was provided by the Grand Haven Kiwanis Club on their farm in Port Sheldon Township.

In construction (both residences and roadways) natural vegetation is often removed from sand areas. If area is exposed to wind, blowing of sand and drifts prevent establishment of plants commonly used in the area. Past recommendations were to use American beachgrass without fertilizer, and independent consultants are recommending use of grass and fertilizer similar to what was used on some western dunes. There is no local information indicating how much sooner sand control can be obtained when fertilizer is used. Some plantings are three years or more old and cover is still sparse, though plantings of this age have usually stopped sand movement.

Beach grasses tend to stagnate after sand movement has been controlled. Other adapted plants which are preferred for the location should then be established.

Adapted woody species can be used anytime after sand movement has been controlled. For residential or roadside use other plants may be more desirable. The following are established on similar sites and are considered possibilities for lawn or roadside use!

Hard fescue is drought tolerant and should be able to control erosion where not heavily mowed. Red fescue is able to grow on sand when fertilized and can be managed as a lawn. Tall fescue — while often thought of as a pasture plant has a very strong root system and is suitable as a coarse lawn.

Both legumes (Hairy vetch and flat pea) will supply their own nitrogen and should be suitable along roadways. Their best use probably would be in combination with a grass. They will not tolerate heavy mowing during the growing season.

Three kinds of dune grass were planted on a 2 by 2 foot spacing with three culms per hill. These were planted in six row plots, each plot being 60 feet long. Planting was done with a narrow spade. Depth of planting was about 10 inches.

Fertilizer was applied across each kind of dune grass to determine the effect on rate of establishment and cover provided.

One or more rows of each of the secondary grasses will be planted across each of the fertilizer and dune grass plots after sand movement was controlled. This is estimated to be about one year after dune grass planting.

The planting was made by E. Lynn Guenther, Interstate Planting Materials Specialist of the Soil Conservation Service headquarters at East Lansing. He was assisted by Willard Antides and Vernon Rounds of the Grand Haven Work Unit of the Soil Conservation Service.

Dimnent Chapel Is Filled For Commencement

Dimnent Memorial Chapel was filled Wednesday evening when 31 members of the Senior Class of Western Theological Seminary received professional certificates and academic degrees in the 88th commencement services of the school. Alson honored was the Rev. Gerald Bates of Caldwell, Ohio, a Western Seminary graduate, who was given the Master of Theology Degree.

The Rev. Howard G. Hageman, pastor of the Old North Reformed Church of Newark, N. J., gave the commencement address speaking on the topic "Both Necessary and Glorious." His theme was taken from the liturgy for the ordination and installation of men into the gospel ministry of the Reformed Church in America.

The Rev. Herman J. Ridder, president of the Seminary, presided and the Seminary Men's Choir under the direction of Ronald Beyer sang "The Creation," and "Hallelujah, Amen."

The Rev. A. Postma, chairman of the board of trustees, read scripture and offered prayer and also assisted Rev. Ridder and Dr. Elton Eenigenburg in the presentation of certificates and degrees to the seniors. Miss Mildred Schuppert served as organist for the evening.

Places in the auditorium were reserved for members of two classes which celebrated special anniversaries. The class of 1929 under the direction of Dr. Frederick Olet, pastor of Central Reformed Church of Grand Rapids, observed their 35th anniversary while the class of 1944 with arrangements made by Dr. Henry Voogd met for their 20th anniversary.

Tulip Time Sidelights

One of the happiest Tulip Time innovations this year was the hospitality center in Nies Store sponsored by the Downtown Merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce. The place was staffed with Golden Agers of the Salvation Army with Major Marinus Nyboer as chairman.

Mrs. Mary Hovenga kept a guest book and while only a fraction of the visitors registered, a checkup revealed visitors from 19 states, 11 foreign countries and 108 different cities in Michigan.

Foreign countries represented were the Netherlands, Sweden, Rumania, Puerto Rico, Germany, Scotland, Southern Rhodesia in Africa, Finland, Hong Kong, Australia and Czechoslovakia. Canada, of course, was well represented.

Several persons signing the guest book at the Hospitality Center added little comments which proved interesting and revealing.

Most of them ran like this: such a nice place to rest and relax . . . coffee very good and hot . . . cookies delicious . . . everyone so friendly . . . art beautiful (HHS students) and are they for sale? . . . Holland youngsters have lots of talent in art and music.

Many mentioned enjoying the films on dike reclamation in the Netherlands shown in a small theatre at the rear.

Tulip Time Manager Harold J. Karsten, pleased at the success of the 1964 festival (rain and thunderstorms notwithstanding), today asked all people who have bills against Tulip Time to submit them immediately to the Tulip Time office, and not later than May 25.

Karsten said he had heard from many local residents who entertained Tulip Time visitors that visitors this year seemed particularly happy over the festival. Many stated they like to come to Holland because this is one festival where they are not charged a dollar every time they turn around, and charges that are made for certain events are popularly priced. Many of these people have traveled widely . . . and know whereof they speak.

Mayor Nelson Bosman, home today from Utica where he and his party were royally entertained on Mayor Exchange Day Monday, was highly pleased over the Tulip Time festival, and felt that Saturday's crowds were the largest ever.

He said it was a real pleasure to entertain visiting mayors this year, Dr. J.J.G. Boot of Hilversum, the Netherlands, and Mayor Fred H. Beck of Utica who came early in order to share in Tulip Time events.

Mayor Boot particularly enjoyed his four days in Holland, and snapped pictures with gusto, as happily as any snappy shutterbug in America.

Mayor Pro Tem Henry Schep of Utica and Mrs. Schep who accompanied the Becks on their local visit are planning a trip to the Netherlands soon. The Boots enthusiastically insisted on a four-five day visit in Hilversum.

The tulips took something of a beating in the various storms that plagued Holland during the festival. Yet, it's remarkable that a good share of color still remains, and visitors keep going around tulip lane.

Speaking of friendliness in Holland, one of our local residents overheard comments of a Detroit visitor at the Tulip Time parade Saturday when she said that of all the places she had visited she had never come across such a friendly town as Holland.

It was a coincidence, but on Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steketee received a large postcard with a windmill scene from the Netherlands from a niece and her husband who stated they were in the Netherlands and would be visiting the old Steketee home in Dorssle, in Zeeland province, subject of a book published two years ago. The greeting came from Lt. and Mrs. Spencer Hall who are in Europe for two years while Hall, son of Lt. Gen. William Hall, (ret.) is attending Cambodia University. Gen. Hall's second wife is the former Marguerite Higgins, well known woman war correspondent. The lieutenant's wife is the former Mary Steketee of Trenton, N. J., granddaughter of Andrew Steketee of Holland.

Erutha Rebekah Lodge Has Meet

The business meeting of the Erutha Rebekah Lodge on Friday evening was conducted by Noble Grand Miss Vernice Olmstead. Names were submitted of children eligible as alternates to attend the Rebekah-Odd Fellow Camp at Big Star Lake this summer. The name selected was that of Craig Heavener, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Heavener, and will serve as alternate for Miss Lynn Rowan, sponsored by District 29 of Rebekah Lodges.

Mrs. Goldia Fox, hobo breakfast chairman, made the announcement there would be no breakfast during Tulip Time but the following Thursday morning Mrs. W.S. Roberts will be hostess at her home at 49 East 16th St.

Ten members will attend the visitation meeting being held at the Moline Lodge on May 19 which will honor conductors and wardens and Fennville will present the history of their lodge.

Mrs. Ted Dykema read the instructions outlined by Mrs. Hope Sheldon, assembly secretary, relating to the election of state officers to be held during the first meeting in June.

Mrs. Alice Rowan read the report of the Rebekah-Odd Fellow Home Board. The Home located at Jackson now lodges 61 persons and a hospitalization expansion is now in the planning stage. Mrs. Max Welton gave a review of the visitation meeting held at Fennville Thursday evening.

Mrs. Clifford Nash and Mrs. John Serier were refreshment hostesses. Mrs. Elmer DeBoer received the mystery package.

Develop Area At Waukazoo

The Executive Board of the Waukazoo Woods Association held its regular meeting on Tuesday at the Park Township Office.

After a report on the possibility of developing nature walks in the area, Miss Helen Elaine Stenson was appointed chairman of a committee to take action on the matter.

Plans include areas for the walks, labeling and designating types of trees and other natural growth, and publicizing the history of the area. Information on wildlife and conservation will also be available to residents and the public. Mrs. Albert Nuttle will be co-chairman.

In preserving the state trees which are the main attraction of the woods area, members of the board have requested builders and property owners to keep as many as possible, and include the trees in their landscaping plans.

In other matters, the board decided to send a member to the Park Township meetings. It was also decided to buy and place trash containers in strategic spots in the area.

Members who desire board action on any particular matter are asked to submit their requests in writing to the secretary, Miss M. W. Haberland.

Your yard and garden should suit your individual taste, Michigan State University horticulturists advise. They offer these tips: Don't follow some set plan, but bring the family together and decide what you want. Use more of those plants you like best. If you are a "barbecue family" you may want more area of pavement or patio stones. If your family loves flowers, devote more space to the flowers you like best. But don't overdo it. Don't try and work everything into your plan and create too much work. Above all, enjoy the time you spend in your yard and garden. Time is precious, so don't turn pleasures into pressures.

Yard and garden work can be "preventive medicine" and need not deprive you of doing things you may like to do better. For example, if time is a problem, have only a few areas that are planted annually. Locate these where they'll be conspicuous from the street or from one of the most popularly used windows in your house. Work can be reduced by planting more perennials in borders, and covering large areas with vines and other low plants. If space is limited, make plants do double duty.

ON LEAVE — John Buursma, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Buursma of 106 West 20th St., is currently home on leave after completing recruit training at the U.S. Naval Training Center in Great Lakes, Ill. A former student at Holland Christian High School, he enlisted into the Naval service through the recruiting station in Holland and will attend the Communication Technician's School in Newport, R.I., in June.

COMPLETES TRAINING — Willis Earl Tye, airman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Tye of 9 East Sixth St., is currently home on leave after completing recruit training at the U.S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. During recruit training he was a member of his company's swimming team and was elected team captain. Tye enlisted through Navy Recruiting Station and will report to the Naval Air Station in Meridian, Miss., where he will strike for the Naval Air Station Structural Rate.

Enjoy eating fresh asparagus in the early season then let the plants form a green hedge or background for flowering annuals the rest of the season. Use strawberries for ground cover, yet pick delicious fruit in season. Plant a "Dorthea" crab apple tree because it has beautiful flowers in the spring, good shape all year around and deep yellow fruit in the fall.

Inadequate weed control will limit yields in some Michigan corn fields this year. Annual weeds, both broadleaved weeds and grasses, are the number one problem in corn. Fortunately, herbicides are available which give excellent control of these weeds in corn. A pre-emergence application of two pounds of actual atrazine per acre (2½ pounds of an 80 percent wettable powder) controls annual broadleaved weeds and grasses effectively on mineral soils.

This can be applied broadcast or in a band over the row, although care must be taken in band applications to make sure rates are proportional to the area covered. For example if a 14-inch band is sprayed on 42 inch rows, the band spray equals one-third of an acre of each acre of corn. In this case, two-thirds of a pound of active atrazine should be applied per acre to equal the two pounds of atrazine per acre recommendation.

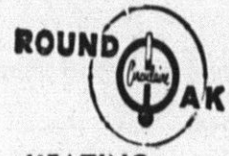

If greater rates are applied, crops following corn next year may be damaged by the residue present in the soil, and even when only two pounds of active atrazine per acre are used, sugar beets or vegetable crops should not follow corn. Although atrazine has generally given the most effective weed control in corn, 2, 4-D ester or Randox-T can also be used. However, the 2, 4-D generally controls only broad-leaved annuals.
