A great deal has been learned about the value of glasses and their application since Goethe lived. Spectacle wearers have increased by thousands, while at the same time, persons losing their eyesight, have been greatly diminished. Rev. James F. Zwemer left yesterday for Ashbury Park, N. J. to attend the meeting of the General Synod.

Rev. J. T. Bergen who is a delegate from the Michigan classis, to the General Synod held at Ashbury Park left yesterday.

R. Looyengood, son of Martin Looyengood, living on west Fifteenth street was taken to Ann Arbor and will undergo a difficult operation.

The handsome steamer City of Benton Harbor was here Decoration Day, and many visitors inspected the big boat. She brought quite a list of passengers here for Memorial day, but the largest crowds were carried by the boats to Chicago Saturday and Monday nights.

Letter Carrier Paul R. Coster of this city, was selected president of the State Letter Carrier's association, which met in Kalamazoo. The meeting will be held in Grand Rapids next year. The main business before the convention was the proposed increase in salaries.

Heine Kohlof of Grand Haven is positive that he saw an alligator in the river near the elevator this morning. His description leaves no doubt that what he saw was an alligator. Mr. Kohlof called the attention of bystanders but the animal disappeared making a great commotion in the water. Several young alligators were placed in the river last summer and it is possible that they have grown to the size mentioned.

Ethel Bastian and Clara Vos, the two juvenile offenders arrested on the street when Marshal Dykhuis made his raid, will stand a trial. They have secured Judge Lemma to defend them. The girls when they were arraigned pleaded guilty, but when they appeared before Justice McBride Saturday for sentence they desired to change their plea to not guilty and the court allowed them the privilege. They are now out on bail and will have their hearing this afternoon.

Henry Barkel and Adrian Dronkers were arrested Tuesday by Marshal Dykhuis on the charge of fast driving. The fellows ran down Derk DeVries as he was walking on River street, and while he was not very seriously hurt they did not stop to care for the victim of their carelessness, but drove away as rapidly as possible. Marshal Dykhuis was notified and he gave chase on a bicycle, finally catching them. Both men were arraigned Wednesday morning before Justice VanDuren and paid fine and costs amounting to $7.50 each. The injured man, DeVries, lives at Sixth street and Central avenue. Nick Pleune of Grand Rapids was also in the rig and was arrested later and compelled to pay at the same rate.

R. H. Post has sold for Mrs. Madeline Jones a house and lot on Twenty-sixth street to A. L. Shepard of Chicago, who also purchased the Wilson Harrington place.

James Smith of Ganges was arrested Saturday for drunkenness. He pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $3 and costs rather than serve 10 days in jail.

Principal J. H. Ehlers of Mt. Sterling, Ill., formerly principal of Holland High school is visiting friends in the city. Mr. Ehlers returns to Mt. Sterling for another year.

Things are coming pretty swift for The News this spring. We have lost our only daughter this week, gained a son-in-law and our only son graduates from the high school week after next. And Tom Cook and the rest of the village officers threaten to meter our water pretty soon.—Allegan News.

As soon as the free delivery of mails is established in Allegan the postoffice will open at 7 o'clock in the morning and close at 7 o'clock in the evening, except Saturday evenings when the office will be open one hour longer. On Sundays the office will be open one hour, from 12 to 1, and the carriers will be in attendance. Patrons can secure their mail by calling on their carrier.

On exhibition in the Tribune office is a piece of beech wood from one of the sills of the old log school house, the first school house built in Grand Haven. In it religious services were held by the Rev. Wm. M. Ferry over a half century ago. When the building was torn down many years ago, the Rev. L. M. S. Smith secured part of one of the sills and kept it as a souvenir for a long time, giving it to Contractor W. A. Norcross just before his death. The old log school was the scene of many incidents of pioneer days and was the seat of learning at which our oldest citizens attended. Indeed there are very few now living who went to school there. It has been suggested that a small piece of the sill be placed in the corner stone of the federal building as a relic of the days that were.—Grand Haven Tribune.

Will Damson and Clarence Fairbanks of the local post office, attended the fourth annual convention of the Post Office Clerk's association held at Grand Rapids on Decoration Day. The session closed with a banquet and informal hop at the Pantlind in the evening. W. B. Miller of Marshall was selected as delegate to the National convention.

Cornelius Yakes, who was arrested a week ago for assault and battery committed on his wife, and has since been in the county jail, was brought here Wednesday by Sheriff Woodbury. His wife, who made the complaint, expressed her unwillingness to prosecute the man who beat her, and he was released on suspended sentence for 90 days. The couple went home to kiss and make up.

The announcement of the final sale of E. Bement & Sons plant at Lansing, conveying as it does the realization that $1,304,700 worth of stock is wiped out by that action, means that a few local investors have lost whatever sums they put in. The local bank had some of the company's paper, but will not lose upon that.—Fennville Herald.

John Vos and John Haight, the boys who pleaded guilty to the larceny of money from the premises of John Burgess on the north side of the bay, appeared before Justice McBride, to have final disposition made of the case. It was decided by the court that the juveniles should be committed to a probation officer, and as such officer the court appointed the county agent. The boys will be allowed their liberty, the probation officer having the authority to punish them at any time when their behavior demands it.

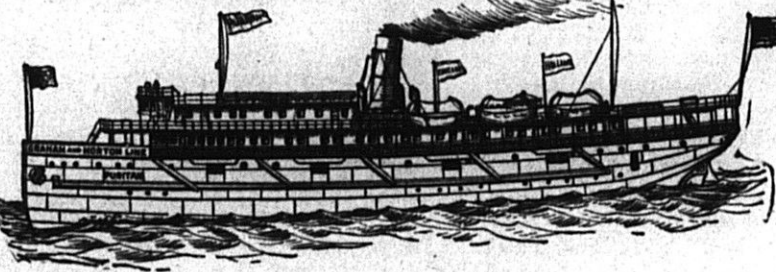

One of the most important movements in financial circles in Allegan in several years was made public this week. Allegan is to have a new bank, which will do commercial and savings bank business under the title of "First State bank of Allegan." The institution will be established by a half dozen or more of the solid financial men of the town, headed by Gen. B. D. Pitchard, and the articles of association filed with the secretary of state and banking commissioner give the capital stock at $40,000. It is likely that this will be increased to $50,000, and the number of stockholders also increased. The stockholders have not organized, but are preparing to start business as soon as possible. They have options on several business blocks on Locust street and will purchase and remodel one for the bank.

New Richmond

Arthur Emerick, who is charged with burning A. Kool's barn near New Richmond May 19, was held in Fennville for a few days by Sheriff Whitbeck, but as no evidence, except circumstantial, was found to convict him he was discharged. Emerick claimed that he stayed in Holland the night before the barn was burned until after the saloons closed and then came to Saugatuck on the car from whence he started to his home south of New Richmond on foot but "Bub" Slater informs us that this is not the case for he was spending the night at his home with P. F. Wakley who wanted him to get up at 2 a. m. and go to the bayou and help him set gill nets but he refused. Wakley kept insisting and would not let him sleep so he got angry and started for home at 2 a. m. Friday morning, factory time, and at 3, standard time he was seen in New Richmond which was only a few minutes after the fire was discovered. As he was seen running away from the fire instead of to it he was suspected but he claims he was going to New Richmond to arouse the people to help put out the fire.

Christy Ilig has so far recovered from his recent severe sickness, typhoid fever, as to be able to enjoy the beautiful sunshine, as he presented himself on the south porch of his residence Wednesday morning. Twice during his illness he was given up, but through the able efforts of Dr. Bos and his thorough trained nurse from Grand Rapids, he has been brought through, and is now rapidly gaining strength.

Merritt Palmer, jr., who is employed in Holland, came home here last Saturday and remained all the week. He will return to his work Monday.

Memorial Day was duly observed by the G. A. R. and their families and friends. At 10:30 the comrades formed in line, headed by the martial band, and followed by the school children and citizens, marched to the cemetery where the exercises took place under command of Commander VanHoard. After the exercises which were finely executed, all returned to the hall and partook of a bounteous repast during which time singing and a general good visit was indulged in. The day was a very propitious one for the occasion.

Rev. Brinkman of Holland, delivered an interesting and instructive memorial sermon in the Presbyterian church here last Sunday morning; in the presence of the post and a goodly number of citizens. Having visited the historic battle field of Gettysburg a short time ago, he gave a very fine description of that portion of the grounds where General Pickett made his famous charge, stating how our brave boys withstood so nobly that great onslaught, and while they gained that victory there was another to gain and that was sin.

Miss Florence Kolvoord of the high school in Allegan, who will graduate from that institution this week, spent several days with her parents here last week and the forepart of this, returning to Allegan Tuesday morning.

Mrs. John Dryer of Grand Rapids visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Velkers in this place a few days, returning to her home Monday.

Mrs. L. Peterham visited her son, Orley, and wife, at Grand Rapids last Monday and part of Tuesday.

Clarence Paterham and his best girl visited in town over Sunday from Holland.

A. Meengs, a resident of this community for 20 years, died Saturday morning at the age of 77 years. He was one of the pioneers of this section of the county. He is survived by a wife, four sons and five daughters. Two of his children, D. Meengs and Mrs. Peter Luidens are residents of Holland. The other children are Rev. John Meengs, Albany, N. Y., Philip Meengs, Oklahoma; Mrs. W. Kooyers and Mrs. John Lievense, Crisp; Mrs. Martin VanWestenbrugge, Grand Rapids; Henry Meengs, New Holland, and Miss Sena, living at home.

Jacob Bos and two children are now afflicted with smallpox, making four of the members of the family who are sick with the disease.

Saugatuck

Mr. John Smith of Manistee was here the forepart of the week to look over the site of the new cut with a view to bidding on the job of doing the dredging.

E. E. Weed & Co., of Douglas, are putting out a new strawberry crate this year that is quite a fancy article. The frame of each end is put together by the use of notches, in the same manner in which the frame of a slate is put together. On the inside of this frame are nailed veneered strips, thus making the end a panel. The advantage of this new crate is that it is prettier, and besides being lighter, can be more easily handled, as one can lift it by taking hold of the inside of the frame, and instead of having to lift one end first in order to get hold of it he can pick it up all with one motion, which saves a great deal of time when it comes to handling hundreds of crates.

Cut the Rye Out.

J. F. White of the Beach Miling company declared to the Holland City News that a word of warning should be given farmers regarding the removal of rye from the wheat fields. Mr. White says that on a recent trip through the country the presence of rye in the wheat was very noticeable in some fields the rye appearing to predominate.

Wheat with rye in it is of less value than the clear wheat, as all farmers and millers know. Now is the time to cut out the rye, as it is beginning to head, if the farmer hopes to realize a good price for his wheat.

In some sections, said Mr. White, the wheat is so badly over run with rye that if the two grains are harvested together the farmer will only be able to sell his wheat on a seedling basis, that is, what it would be worth for seed. Wheat polluted with rye is worth very little for seeding purposes and grower of such wheat will reap small prices.

Farmers are urged to cut out the rye from their wheat fields at once. Exterminating the rye will be beneficial for the wheat, and the farmer who gives this matter attention now will be repaid by the price his wheat brings next fall over the farmer who does not care to be enterprising. The fields are in fine shape and there is promise of a good wheat crop.

VICTORY TO TOGO

Japanese Fleet Has Annihilated the Great Russian Squadron.

Straits of Korea Is the Scene of a Most Remarkable Naval Engagement.

Rojestvensky Loses Twenty-Two Warships—Some Sunk and Some Captured.

One Report Says the Russian Commander Went Down with His Flagship.

Another Declares He Escaped, Badly Wounded, to Vladivostok—Japs Claim He Is a Prisoner.

London, May 31.—In one of the greatest naval battles in history, which occurred Saturday and Sunday in the straits of Korea, the great Russian squadron, commanded by Admiral Rojestvensky, was practically annihilated by the Japanese fleet, under command of Admiral Togo. There are conflicting reports regarding the personal fate of Admiral Rojestvensky. His flagship, the Kniak Souvaroff, was sunk, and one report says the famous Russian commander went to the bottom with his vessel. Another, and later, report says he escaped and has reached Vladivostok, but is badly wounded in the head, chest and back. All dispatches from a Japanese source, however, declare that Rojestvensky was captured with another admiral on board the Russian destroyer Bledovy, and is now a prisoner. Admiral Nebogoff was also captured. It is reported that the Russians lost over 4,000 killed and drowned, and between 2,000 and 3,000 officers and men captured.

Russians Lose Twenty-Two Ships.
While full particulars have not yet been received, the latest reports from Togo are to the effect that the loss to the Russians in ships sunk or captured now numbers 22. The admiral says that none of his big fighting ships was seriously damaged and that the casualties among his men do not exceed 400. Two Russian warships, the date of May 30, says: "When the Kniak Souvaroff was sunk Admiral Rojestvensky was transferred to another vessel, but was captured off Fumi today. He is said to be severely wounded in the arm. Admirals Nebogoff and Voelkersam also are prisoners. All the ships of the Russian fleet have been either sunk or captured."

Another Disaster.

London, May 31.—The Tokio correspondent of the Daily Express reports that the cruiser Gromobol of the Vladivostok squadron, with nearly 800 men on board, issued from Vladivostok in the hope of joining the remnant of Rojestvensky's fleet and that it struck a Japanese mine and sunk with all hands. The correspondent says it is believed that Vice Admiral Skrydlor was on board the Gromobol.

Togo's Attack.

London, May 31.—According to the correspondent of the Daily Mail at Seoul, Korea, early on Saturday morning Vice Admiral Togo, with practically all the powerful fighting ships of the Japanese navy, was at Masampo, Korea, when wireless signals from his scouts between Tsue and Quelpart islands announced the approach of the Russian fleet in full force. A few hours later the scouts reported that the Russians were not ascending the western channel, as had been anticipated, but that they were coming up the eastern channel, which caused some surprise. Admiral Togo immediately stated at full speed around the north end of Tsu island and when he doubled the island he saw the Russians coming in two columns. He then brought a terrific fire to bear on the flank of the port column, and as the Russians fell into disorder he forced them steadily eastward towards the Japanese coast, where they were attacked by every vessel that flew the Japanese flag. Repeated torpedo attacks were delivered some of them with greatest success. The vessels which escaped, the corre-

cruiser Almaz and the torpedo boat destroyer Grozny, have reached Vladivostok, the former badly damaged, and their officers report having witnessed the sinking of two Japanese battleships, and that when they escaped two others were listing badly.

Official statement of Russian losses so far as ascertained show the following six battleships sunk: Kniak Souvaroff, Imperator Alexander Third, Borodino, Oslabla, Sissol-Velik and Navaln.

Following five cruisers sunk: Admiral Nakhimoff, Dmitri Donskoi, Vladimir Monmach, Svetlana and Zentchung.

Coast defense ship Admiral Ushakov sunk.

Two special service ships, Kamchaka and three destroyers also sunk. Two battleships, Orel and Imperator Nicholas First, two coast defense ships, General Admiral Apraxine and Admiral Senlaxin, and one destroyer, Bledovy, captured.

Reaches Vladivostok.

London, May 31.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg to Reuter's Telegram company repeats the information that Admiral Rojestvensky arrived at Vladivostok on board the torpedo boat destroyer Buiny at six p. m., May 29. It adds that the admiral is seriously wounded in the head, back and chest.

Sends News to His Wife.

London, May 31.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Standard asserts that Mme. Rojestvensky, wife of the commander of the Russian fleet, has received a telegram from Vladivostok, signed by her husband, saying that he had arrived there on board the cruiser Almaz, and that he was severely wounded in the neck, back and abdomen.

Says He Was Captured.

London, May 31.—The Daily Mail's Tokio correspondent, cabling under spondent says, will probably be able to reach Vladivostok, and he adds that other operations of the utmost importance are proceeding.

Fighting Continues.

Nagasaki, May 31.—The Russian war vessels seen and reported by the Occidental & Oriental company's steamer Doric, which arrived here, were the Izumrud, a cruiser of the Aurora class, and a gunboat, probably the Kazarsky. The latter was leaking. Fighting continues off Okino Island.

Two Escape.

Vladivostok, May 31.—Two ships alone of Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's powerful flotilla, the swift cruiser Almaz and the torpedo boat destroyer Grozny, lie at anchor here in the curving harbor of Golden Horn, they having separated from the fleet in the early stage of the battle which began in the Korea strait Saturday, and headed, in obedience to orders, with full speed to Vladivostok. Up to four o'clock Tuesday afternoon no other vessels of the Baltic fleet had yet arrived, and the signal stations at Askold and Rimskykorsakoff islands reported none in sight.

Reports Japanese Losses.

Officers of the Almaz and Grozny say that both fleets had already sustained terrible losses when the Almaz and Grozny broke through the hostile line. Of the Japanese two battleships had gone down before their eyes and two cruisers, their sterns high out of the water, seemed ready to plunge foremost to the bottom of the sea.

Russians in Sad Plight.

The Russian fleet, they say, was even in a sadder plight. Rojestvensky's flagship, the Kniak Souvaroff, and her sister ship, the Borodino, and the cruisers Oslabla and Ural were utterly destroyed, and when the fog closed down and hid the scene of battle from sight, northward of the speeding ships a third great Russian battleship, the Alexander III., seemed in sore distress, but limping northward putting up a valiant fight against throngs of torpedo boats and still continuing her attacks on the cruisers of the island empire. Torpedo boats were clinging round the other ships of the fleet like angered wasps, separate flotillas darting in again and again to launch their weapons.

Bears Scars of Battle.

The Almaz, which arrived at her anchorage here Monday evening, bears scars of the battle. Her mizzen mast is shot away, and one of her smoke stacks is pierced by a cannon shot. But the Grozny, though engaged for several hours in a running fight at short range with a large Japanese destroyer, shows no signs of the fray. After her commander, Capt. Andriksky, had been wounded and an officer and three men had been killed, the Grozny succeeded in sinking her opponent with a lucky placed shot and reached Vladivostok without further adventure, at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Captured Warships in Port.

Washington, May 31.—The Japanese legation has received a report from Tokio stating that the Russian war vessels captured by Admiral Togo arrived safely as follows: Orel at Matsuzuri, Nicholas I., Apraxine and Senlavin at Sasebo.

How the Nakhimoff Was Sunk.

Tokio, May 31.—Capt. Roshinoff, commander of the Russian armored cruiser Admiral Nakhimoff and other survivors have been brought to Moji. The Admiral Nakhimoff was sunk near Tsu island Saturday, seemingly by a mine or a submarine vessel. Capt. Roshinoff says that his vessel was entering the straits with the fleet. Suddenly there was a tremendous explosion and the Admiral Nakhimoff speedily sank, carrying a majority of her crew to death. Capt. Roshinoff reached a damaged steam launch and was picked up on Sunday. The other survivors used life belts and were rescued by fishermen.

It is impossible to determine the particular manner of the destruction of the individual Russian ships. It is reported that submarine vessels and specially laid mines were used, but a satisfactory confirmation of this is not obtainable.

PRESIDENT MAKES NOTABLE ADDRESS

CHIEF MAGISTRATE AT UNVEILING OF SLOCUM STATUE IN BROOKLYN.

Offers Good Advice to His Hearers—Says Nation Can Easily Invite Disaster by Being Opulent, Aggressive and Unarmed.

New York, May 31.—In a stirring address delivered at the unveiling of a big statue of Gen. Henry N. Slocum in Brooklyn Tuesday President Roosevelt paid a splendid tribute to the men who composed the northern armies, but did not forget those of the southern hosts. Most notable in his speech was an expression of his hope that as the nation increased in strength there would come a corresponding increase in its sense of responsibility which should prevent its people from either injuring or insulting other people, and his declaration that the surest way for a nation to invite disaster is to be opulent, aggressive and unarmed. Significant, in the light of recent events, was his assertion that:

"If our navy is good enough we have a long career of peace and prosperity before us, and the only likelihood of trouble ever coming to us as a nation will arise if we let our navy become too small or inefficient. A first-class navy, first-class in point of size, above all first-class in point of efficiency, and the individual unit as units in combination, is the surest and cheapest guarantee of peace. I should think that any man looking at what is happening and has happened abroad and in our own history during the past few years, must indeed be blind if he cannot read that lesson clearly."

The ceremonies at the unveiling began with an invocation by Right Rev. Bishop Frederick Burgess, Episcopal bishop of Long Island. The statue of Gen. Slocum was unveiled by Gertrude Slocum, the 13-year-old granddaughter of Gen. Slocum, amid the cheers of thousands. A salute of 13 guns was fired as Miss Slocum drew aside the flags which veiled the statue. The presentation of the statue was made by Park Commissioner Michael J. Kennedy, who offered the statue to Mayor McClellan.

AMERICAN YACHT WINS.

Atlantic Victorious in Race for Kaiser's Cup—She Makes a Remarkable Voyage.

The Lizard, England, May 31.—The American three-masted schooner yacht Atlantic, owned by Wilson Marshall, New York Yacht club, is winner of the Kaiser's cup. The German schooner yacht Hamburg finished second, nearly 24 hours behind her successful rival. The Atlantic passed Wolf rock with every stitch of sail set. Her spinnaker was rigged to starboard and the American ensign was at her peak. Shortly afterwards the wind dropped and the spinnaker was taken in. Capt. Barr was hailed by the correspondent's boat. He said the Atlantic had made an average speed of 10½ knots since leaving Sandy Hook. The record sail for one day was 341 knots, which Mr. Marshall believes beats anything hitherto achieved. This was made May 24.

Embezzlement Charged.

MORTON TO QUIT CABINET JULY 1

SECRETARY OF THE NAVY ANNOUNCES HIS RETIREMENT FROM PUBLIC LIFE.

TO MANAGE THE NEW YORK SUBWAY SYSTEM

Statement Given Public After Conference with the President—Story of His Rapid Rise in the Railroad World.

Washington, May 31.—After a conference with the president, lasting about an hour, Wednesday, Secretary Morton announced on leaving the white house that he expected to retire from the cabinet on July 1. Later in the day he gave out the following statement: "Paul Morton announces that he will retire from the cabinet on July 1, 1905. He will go to New York to live and will become associated with Mr. Thomas F. Ryan. It is understood that Mr. Morton will at once take active charge of the plans for the construction of the proposed comprehensive system of underground rapid transit lines in New York city for operation in connection with the existing surface lines.

Rise in World Rapid.

Mr. Morton's rise to a commanding position in the railroad world was phenomenal, and his sudden appointment as a member of President Roosevelt's cabinet, in spite of his family's traditional adherence to democratic principles, was equally surprising. He is now only 48 years old, the youngest cabinet officer that Washington has seen for many a day. He was given the navy portfolio, without a previous experience in maritime matters, simply because of his business ability and executive force.

Mr. Morton began his railroad career in the land department of the Burlington railroad in Iowa. In 1873 he was employed in the Burlington's general freight office in Plattsmouth, Neb., and at the age of 21 he was appointed assistant general freight agent of the Burlington in Chicago, which city was his home until he accepted the cabinet appointment, June 24 1904. In 1886 he became general passenger agent for the Burlington, and then general freight agent.

He left the railroad business for a time in 1890 to become the president of a coal operating company in Iowa and Illinois, and vice president of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company. In 1895 he accepted the vice presidency of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe at a salary of $36,000 a year. Mr. Morton is credited with possessing an fortune estimated at from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000.

COAL DRIVERS OUT.

Refuse to Deliver to Express Firm and Are Discharged—No Gotham Sympathetic Strike.

Chicago, May 31.—Three more coal drivers were affected by a spread of the strike to the Henry E. Weaver Coal company Wednesday. The men refused to deliver fuel to the American Express company, and were discharged. Their places were filled by men from the Employers' Teaming company. This is the first strike of coal teamsters in three weeks.

The Employers' Teaming company announced that all records had been broken by it and 2,500 drivers were sent out early Wednesday. Attorney Victor Sincere made a statement that the teaming company now had a surplus of 250 men, who are being held in reserve, and applications for positions are coming in in large numbers from all parts of the northwest.

Attorney Levy Mayer returned to Chicago Wednesday morning. He refused to say anything. He issued a final statement before leaving New York, saying that the express companies would not give in, and that the Employers' association stood solidly with the express firms in the fight.

New York, May 31.—Positive announcement has been made that there will be no sympathetic strike in New York to help the Chicago teamsters. Instead of quitting their jobs, the New York union drivers, who number 38,000, will be assessed five cents, or $1,900 a day. Previously the sum of $1,000 a day has been given to the strikers, but the local union decided to raise the assessment and continue it as long as the strike lasted. Conferences have been held for several days in which the question of a sympathetic strike has been discussed, and finally it was decided to give the fund instead.

THE STORK EXPRESS COMPANY.

The Stork Express Line is a trust. Whose methods I believe unjust.

Competitors it puts to rout— You use it or you go without.

It is the only line from There; A huge monopoly unfair.

It seems secure in its position; It flouts the Interstate Commission.

It gives rebates if it so chooses; When told to show its books refuses.

Its shipments you cannot evade. Nor are they ever once prepaid.

Experience has proved to me They always reach us C. O. D.

However much it may assess, You have to pay—there's no redress.

And, worst of all, though fraudulent, It's backed up by our President.

Of other trusts he's very tart, But this—he always takes its part!

He says: "Smash 'Standard,' 'Steel' and 'Beef!'"

From "Stork" he offers no relief. Last year, when all the rest turned blue, This one was safe from Cortelyou.

He even tries to drum up trade; You'd think that he would be afraid!

Instead of giving it a cuff He says we don't use it enough.

His enemies, who love to mock, Make free to charge that he owns stock

In this worst trust of all the crew, But let us hope that is not true!

A FORTUNE HUNTER

By V. H. FRIEDLANDER

THE grassy slope half-way down the cliff inclined at exactly the right angle. They leaned comfortably back and watched the sea.

"I think," said the girl, softly, "it's perfectly wonderful."

"The sea?" he inquired.

She half turned her head toward him and smiled.

"Me?" he hazarded, hopefully.

"Perfectly wonderful," she explained, "that no one else has chosen to come and sit here this morning."

He pulled his hat further over his eyes.

"Don't move," she commanded, quickly, "I'm going to draw you."

He sat up suddenly and pushed back his hat. His face was a dull red.

"Oh," she murmured, regretfully, looking out to sea, "how tactless of you! You'll never recover that position."

He opened his lips for a sharp retort; then thought better of it.

"I'll try," he said, shortly, and lay back again, pulling his hat over his eyes.

For ten minutes the sound of a pencil and india rubber alone disturbed the silence. Hamberton had much to think of. The next half hour was to decide whether his life was to be one of easy idleness or of unwilling labor. He was anxious to know, but he realized to a nicety when he ought to speak. In a little while she would begin to be sorry that she had hurt him; that would be the moment.

His lips curved in a smile as he thought over the position. A fortune-hunter he, without shame, admitted to himself that he was, but he had asked for little beyond the fortune. That fate should send it through a young, pretty and titled girl, and should, withal, add a spice of the unusual to flavor the whole, was, he acknowledged, generous. For the girl who had spent a month in the same village with him—she at the house of her old nurse, he at the inn—calling herself Eleanor March, was, as he had happened to know, none other than Lady Hermione Forbes, possessor, in her own right, of an income of something over £15,000. The knowledge had reached him through the pages of a magazine he had found at the inn, where his eye had been caught by a very excellent likeness of the girl. His conscience reproached him—a trifle, but he soothed it. He genuinely liked her; he would be very good to her.

The sound of tearing paper broke in on him.

"It's no good," she said, impatiently; "I can't get it. You can sit up; and—why don't you talk?"

His eyes smiled. It was the olive branch for which he had been waiting.

"I want to talk," he said. "But I'm not sure whether it is the right time."

She looked at him reflectively. "Yes, it is," she said. "You know that I'm always nicest after being nastiest. Oh, it's not clever of you," she added, hastily; "nearly everyone's made that way."

"It's disgustingly hard to take you in," he observed.

She looked at him oddly. "Is it?" she murmured.

"Eleanor," he said, "it's only four words I want to say. Will you marry me?"

For a moment there was silence. Then she turned to him slowly, and her voice sounded tired and weak. "I—don't—know," she said, hesitatingly. "It's so difficult to—"

He nodded as she paused. Of course she was thinking of her people, of the difficulties that would be raised. "Don't answer now," he said. "I can wait, of course."

But she seemed not to hear him. "There's a thing," she said, "that's bothering me. I hardly know how to tell you. It—it will seem so silly if there's nothing in it. But I must know for certain. Has it ever struck you that I am at all like—some one else?" She looked at him searchingly.

So she was trying to catch him; she had a suspicion, a doubt. Hamberton was surprised, but he had his features admirably under control.

"Really?" He exhibited just the right shade of amused surprise. "Is the likeness very striking?"

She put out her hand for an illustrated weekly paper that lay on the grass beside her, but her eyes never left his face.

"You can judge for yourself," she said, slowly. "There's a portrait of her in this week's Whirligig."

He took it from her without undue eagerness.

"Ah," he said, and looked up to compare the likeness with her face. "It's marvelous. But for the name below I could have sworn it was you."

"Yes, it's rather odd, I suppose," she agreed, indifferently.

"Thank you for telling me," he said, gravely; "but, you see, I never did see Lady Hermione Forbes—in town."

There was the barest suggestion of a pause before the last two words—as a salute to his conscience.

"Ah," she said, in a colorless sort of voice, "then I needn't have troubled to tell you."

"So, now," he urged, gently, "does it make any difference to your answer?"

"Oh," she said, breathlessly, "I don't know. It all depends—on you."

And, before he had time to give even a guess at her meaning, she had fled up the steep path to the village.

But the beautiful mobile face told him nothing. His eyes dropped to the paragraph below:

"Lady Hermione Forbes, whose portrait we give above, though one of the most beautiful and popular girls in society, is by no means as fond of town life as most of her contemporaries. This year she has grown tired of the whirl of gayety even sooner than usual, and is at present passing her time in her favorite pursuit, cruising in the Mediterranean with a few of her friends of similar tastes."

His eyes were open at last. What an abject fool he had been, and how he had let his imagination run riot. There was no disguise, no concealment, no spice of the unusual. The artist's daughter was—the artist's daughter, and Lady Hermione Forbes was cruising in the Mediterranean. He laughed savagely and tried to readjust his ideas. What was the next thing to be done? He rose slowly to his feet and stood still. He must go back to London, he supposed, as quickly as possible. And Eleanor? The Eleanor who was really Eleanor? What about her? Was he to say anything to her before he went? Something rose in his throat and seemed to stick there.

"Can you learn to trust me, do you think, Eleanor?" he asked humbly when next they met.

"Can you learn to work?" she returned, smiling.

"Eleanor," he said, earnestly, "I want to work. Somehow you've made everything different. You won't laugh if I say I think you've made me different since this morning, and I want—good heavens, how badly I want to forget the man I was up to this morning!"

"I was always waiting," she said, softly, "for the man you were going to be." There was a pause.

"And if," she suggested, tenderly, "your work should bring us wealth?"

He straightened himself. "Still I should work," he said; "you've taught me to despise drones."

A great gladness shone in her eyes. "That copy of the Whirligig," she said, irrelevantly, "was one that I had printed specially for myself. I had that little bit about the cruise in the Mediterranean put in."

"He looked astonished. "Why Eleanor?"

"Oh, don't you see?" Her voice was very low.

He stared at her silently. "Eleanor!" he said, at last.

She made room for him beside her on the bank. "I'm tired," she said, thoughtfully, "of being called Eleanor. 'To' is nice and is short for Hermione."

Between Friends.

"There is only one thing the matter with your jokes," said the fresh friend.

"Well?" queried the joke carpenter. "Their whiskers need amputating," answered the f. f.—Chicago Daily News.

CZAR CONFERS WITH IMPERIAL FAMILY

EMPEROR SUMMONS ADVISERS TO DECIDE ON COURSE TO PURSUE.

SOME FAVOR TAKING UP CAUSE OF PEOPLE

Prince Ouktomsky Says Nations Are Blind to Yellow Peril—Majority of Officials Said to Favor Peace—Bureaucracy Flayed.

St. Petersburg, May 31.—The seriousness of the situation created by the complete destruction of the Russian fleet seems to be fully realized at Tsarskoe-Selo, where the emperor Wednesday assembled practically all the members of the imperial family to decide on the course to pursue. A series of conferences are proceeding which will determine not only the question of peace, but whether it is advisable to yield to the popular demand for the immediate convocation of a national assembly. Some of the members of the imperial family are understood to be urging the emperor to retrieve the situation by making common cause with the people against the bureaucracy. The emperor has decided to send his brother, Grand Duke Michael, to attend the marriage of Crown Prince Frederick William of Germany, instead of his uncle, Grand Duke Vladimir, whose more mature judgment and advice the emperor regards as very important in the present crisis.

Prince Prays for Peace.

Prince Ouktomsky, in the Kasviet, declares for peace in a half-distracted editorial, in which he takes the whole world to task for shutting its eyes to the yellow peril. "All the nations, blind to the future," says the prince, "are fawning upon victorious Japan. Great Britain, rejoicing in Russia's fall, utters her sarcastic condolences, and America sends Secretary Taft and a party of eccentric American ladies to visit the land of the mikado. France, in fear for Indo-China, allows Japan to boss her about, while the crowned Hohenzollern, who a few years ago sounded a solemn warning against the Aryan race, rushes to the station at Berlin to greet the little yellow prince Arisugawa and showers him with attentions."

Officials Favor Peace.

In the afternoon the emperor summoned Admiral Alexieff and all the ministers to an extraordinary council. This was Foreign Minister Lamsdorff's regular day for receiving the foreign representatives, and when he got the imperial command he hastily sent the representatives a notification that he could not receive them. It is said that all the ministers, with the exception of the ministers of war and marine, unanimously favor the conclusion of peace.

No trouble is anticipated in meeting the payment of an indemnity, as financiers who were not willing to lend money for a continuation of the war are ready to accommodate Russia if money is needed for the purpose of concluding peace.

Bureaucrats Held Responsible.

The catastrophe which has overtaken the Russian fleet has given a tremendous impetus to the demand upon Emperor Nicholas for the immediate convocation of a national assembly, without awaiting action upon the report of the Bouligin resort commission. With the single exception of the reactionary Sviat, the press pours out indignation and wrath upon the bureaucracy, which is held responsible for all the misfortunes of the war. Only the Novosti and the Bourse Gazette, however, declare that peace should be concluded. The Russ, now the widest read paper in Russia, says: "Those guilty of Russia's disgrace should be overwhelmed with shame."

Alleged Murderers Captured.

Ironton, Mo., May 31.—Arthur and William Spough, charged with the killing of Sheriff Polk, of Iron county, last Wednesday night, have been captured in a little cabin ten miles northeast from here. A deputy sheriff's posse surrounded the cabin and then rushed in. The informant stated the Spough brothers resisted, and Arthur was shot in the arm before the capture was effected. The posse immediately started to Ironton with the prisoners.

Ex-Illinois Legislator Dead.

Minonk, Ill., May 31.—Hon. Albert G. Goodspeed died at his residence here Wednesday, in the eighty-fourth year of his age. He served twice in the Illinois house of representatives, was twice its chaplain and was three times chaplain of the senate, filling that office at the late session. He was a member of the steering committee of the house during the memorable contest ending in John A. Logan's election to the United States senate.

Four Drowned by Cloudburst.

Heppner, Ore., May 31.—A cloudburst on Rhea, about 12 miles south of here has caused the death of Mrs. J. R. Nunemaker and her youngest child and two children of A. R. Cox, who were caught by the water and drowned.

Memorial Day.

Chicago, May 31.—Dispatches received tell of the almost universal observance of Memorial day, with usual ceremonies of parades, addresses and decoration of graves, throughout the country.

THE SOUND OF PENCIL AND INDIA RUBBER ALONE DISTURBED THE SILENCE.

Is Not the Best Thing

It is a deplorable state of affairs that our public schools finds itself in at the present time, owing to the unexpected resignations of two of its best instructors and its superintendent. It is true of the saying that "there are as good fish in the sea as have ever yet been caught," but that does not do away with the fact that any change which may take place, owing to the retirement of these instructors, will also bring radical changes in the running of the school. The system under which the schools have been conducted the past few years has been excellent and should be followed up but never the less the fact remains that all teachers do not instruct alike nor do superintendents manage alike, therefore any new regime is liable to have different methods of conducting and instructing schools and possibly make radical changes in the system in vogue. It does not pay to switch pupils from one way of doing things to another every few years but as there seems to be no help for it owing to the unavoidable circumstances the board of education will have to make the best of existing conditions.

Gas Franchise Bill Passes House

The Whelan gas bill, which legalizes the granting of franchises to gas companies in fourth class cities for thirty years, was passed practically without opposition by the house of representatives at Lansing yesterday. Under the old law for fourth class cities they were allowed to grant franchises for thirty years but there was a clause which limited gas companies to ten years. The Supreme court recently decided that a gas franchise could not extend over the ten year limit.

It is stated that a number of cities which had granted franchises of this kind wished to take advantage of the Supreme courts decision and shut off the long franchises. Grand Haven and Mt. Clemens were among these. A delegation from this city visited Lansing some time ago and argued the matter before the judiciary committee to which the bill had been referred.

The Whelan bill legalizes the franchises now in operation and G. J. Diekema of Holland has been in Lansing for the Grand Haven franchise. The Grand Haven Gas Works has been operating under such a franchise granted by the Common Council several years ago. The council's action, under the law, was not legal, and when Mr. Whelan introduced his bill to legalize the action, a special meeting of the present council was called and it was decided to send a delegation to Lansing to protest against the passage of the bill.

Mayor Harbeck, Geo. A. Farr and Dan F. Pagelsen appeared before the judiciary committee and gave them a strong talk. They told them that the people did not approve of the long franchise. The gas company was also represented and their side of the case was also presented. There has evidently been some very strong work done by the supporters of the bill and it went through without any opposition. It now remains for the senate and the governor to finish up the job.—Grand Haven Tribune.

John Link Gets New Trial

John Link, who is serving time in Jackson Prison for burning the house of a neighbor in Wright township, has been granted a new trial by Judge Padgham. Link comes from Wright where he is a well to do farmer and last year he was tried and convicted of arson. Judge Padgham sentenced him to from one year and a half to three years at Jackson prison where he is at present. W. I. Lillie, his attorney, went to Allegan several months ago and applied for a new trial with success.

In his decision, Judge Padgham states that he believes an error to have been made in the first trial as in the testimony of Edward Cullen, which was offered by the prosecuting attorney, was in the nature of an admission or confession by the respondent.

The court in his charge to the jury instructed them not to take the testimony as either an admission but to weight it for what they considered it worth. However, the jury evidently took it as an admission or a confession and the court is now of the opinion that the court should have it stricken out entirely and taken from the jury. Therefore he orders that the verdict and sentence be set aside and that Link be released on proper bail to await a new trial of the case at the next term of circuit court.

Supt. J. E. Clark Will Leave

It is with regret that we must inform our readers that Prof. J. E. Clark, superintendent of Holland's public schools, will not be with us next year. Owing to the health of his little daughter who is three years old, he is compelled to look for a position in a climate which would restore the young invalid to health. Hearing of a position that was open in Albuquerque, New Mexico, a state where the desired climate was to be had, he made haste, after informing the board of education the condition of affairs to look after it. He took the first train for that city and the result has been that the superintendent of the schools there has been secured. Prof. Clark forthwith wired his resignation to the board of education at Holland, who accepted it reluctantly. Mr. Clark came to Holland from Frankfort, Mich., two years ago and from the first it was noticeable that matters at the schools went with a vim and in a business like manner. He was liked and respected by both teachers and scholars and was re-engaged by the board this spring at an increased salary. But it was not a matter of money with Mr. Clark, as he was well satisfied with existing conditions. He liked Holland and its people, and it is with regret that he is compelled to leave it to find a home elsewhere.

Superintendent Clark returned Monday morning from his trip to New Mexico, having been absent from the city less than a week. He is highly pleased over his new location, and said that he was treated to a number of surprises when he reached the southwest, as most easterners are apt to be. The city of Albuquerque, where he will locate next August, is typically western. In every way the schools are equal to those in this city, and the members of the board of education are mostly former easterners.

The organized city has a population of about 12,000, but there is a large population not included in the city, which would bring the population up to 20,000. These people are largely Indians and Mexicans, and it is in this settlement that the government schools, Methodist and other denominational missions are established.

Mr. Clark spent less than two days in Albuquerque. He secured the position of superintendent of schools during his stay, and a tribute to his ability and popularity was paid in the telegrams which preceded him, sent by the local board of education, the University of Michigan, the state normals, and from others where his work as an educational instructor is known.

Principal H. E. Lee will leave Holland after the school year closes. Mr. Lee goes to St. Joseph, taking the same position held here, principal of schools and teacher of mathematics. In Mr. Lee the schools also loose a valuable man and many will regret to hear that he will sever his connection with the public school here. His salary at St. Joseph will be $200 a year more than at Holland.

Miss Carrie Krell, for seven years instructor in English in the high school department of the public schools, has decided not to remain another year. She has been offered and has accepted the position of instructor in English in Hope college.

W. T. Bishop, superintendent of the schools at St. Johns, Mich., has been engaged as superintendent of the Holland schools for next year, at a salary of $130 per month, or $1,560 for the year. Mr. Bishop has been at St. Johns for four years and has given good satisfaction. He is well known to Superintendent Clark, who has no hesitancy in declaring him an efficient educational worker.

DECORATION DAY

An ideal day was Decoration day and a crowd of 3000 people assembled in the College grove to participate in the exercises. The line of march of the procession was different than here-to-fore, starting from Central Avenue it proceeded to Columbia Avenue, then countermarched to College Avenue to the College grove enabling all taking part in the parade to review it. At the grove Senator Burrows gave an eloquent address, taking the boys in blue back to the trying days of '61. After exercises were concluded the procession slowly wended its way towards the silent city, and there the little children "covered them over with beautiful flowers." After the exercises at the cemetery the guests and G. A. R. were given a supper at the hall under the supervision of the W. R. C., about 250 guests being present. High School Seniors Entertained

The senior class of the high school was delightfully entertained last Friday evening by Miss Katherine Post. A feature that furnished no end of amusement was provided in an essay writing contest, the boys being invited to contribute on the subject, "Wood Chopping," and the girls being assigned the subject, "My First Domestic Trial." The contestants were allowed five minutes to compose the essay. Miss Ethel Metz won the girl's prize and C. P. De Roo captured the boy's prize. Mr. De Roo's experience being related in the following clever style:

"An old sage has said, 'when thou choppest wood, take heed lest thou overwork.' With these sound words of advice have I often spent an otherwise pleasant Saturday at the chop-house, two cords of unchopped wood staring me in the face and unprepared for manual labor, after a night of misadventure because of horrible nightmares, all hinging on the subject of wood chopping. I was forced to sit down for thirty minutes to look over the situation thoroughly and decide the best method of attack. Unable to find an expedient method I produced 'Grant's Memoirs' and in hope of being able to cope with the situation by military tactics started a careful study of this Military Manual. What struck me as the best method was the Ambush Method, that is, 'lie in wait until attack.' This was not long to wait, however. Father met me with a willing hand and tongue and I did the rest."

Miss Fannie E. Van den Berg and J. G. Bloemers were united in marriage Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Van den Berg, by Rev. R. L. Haan in the presence of some 150 guests. The newly wedded couple will reside on the groom's farm in West Olive.

A Few Old Veterans.

You're just a few old Veterans, you're bent and silvered gray, But once again they think of you, on "Decoration Day."

They call you "patriotic" now, and let you march again With the few comrades who are left and call you "countrymen."

O ce more you feel the old time thrill that's always sure to come, When'er your ears detect the stirring sound of life and drum; The years roll from you all at once, you're ready for the fray!— But soft, the country rests in peace, 'tis Decoration Day.

You march a remnant of the ranks that marched so long ago, Your coats as blue, your hearts as true, but heads with touch of snow, You march, but now no duty calls you on with hurrying feet, And fear no longer marks the faces lined along the street, You carry now no loaded guns, there is no call to fight, But in your hands are garlands fair of blossoms sweet and bright. They are the tributes that you bear on "comrades' graves to lay" Remembrance of a nation's love on Decoration Day.

The children they are marching too, a merry band of youth, with faces fairer than the day and hearts of trust and truth, Ah, little do they know the strife and pain you faced for them, Or every flower that they now bear would seem a diadem. You may be "veterans" but there's a fondness in the heart, For something more than this display in which you have a part. You ask no idle boast of praise, but along the way, A bit of this same sweetness found on Decoration Day.

There's something sweeter than the flowers—remembrance and a smile, Have power to cheer, with thoughts so dear, it lingers all the while. A kind word as you go along, a tender touch of care, Are better when you're growing old than princely homes to share, You love these patriotic times, they stir your hearts with pride, And there's a sweetness in them that you never have denied; But you are more than soldiers, friends, yes, more than veterans gray, You need the nation's love and tenderness to cheer you every day.

C. A. Wood, Coster Post, Bismark, S. Dakota.

Verschure-Cappon

Miss Nellie Verschure and Abraham L. Cappon were united in marriage at 6 o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. C. Verschure, 162 West Twelfth street and was witnessed by immediate relatives.

The marriage ceremony took place in the double parlor which was decorated in green and white. In the center of the room were two hearts containing darts under which the couple were united together. The rooms were a veritable bower of beautiful flowers and palms. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Blekkink, the ring service being used. The couple marched in to the sweet strains of music from a harp played by the celebrated harpist, Miss Helena Stone of Grand Rapids.

The bride was beautifully gowned in French net made over white taffeta silk which was elaborately trimmed with real Belgium lace. She carried a large shower bouquet of brides roses. The groom wore the conventional frock suit. Jacob Verschure who also wore a conventional frock suit acted as best man, and Miss Hattie TenCate, who was bridesmaid was dressed in white dotted swiss silk trimmed with valenciennes. Miss Jennie Verschure, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and was becomingly dressed in white figured silk organdie, John J. Cappon, brother of the groom, was master of ceremonies. Miss Margaret Diekema presided at the punch bowl and Andrew Verschure and Isaac Slioter attended the door.

At 8 o'clock the guests began to arrive for the reception, until the home was crowded to overflowing with friends and relatives from far and near who came to congratulate and to offer their best wishes bidding the couple Godspeed in life's journey. All was hospitality and soon the guests were ushered into the dining hall, which was decorated in green and white, where refreshments were served by cousins of the bride.

As the guests departed the bride who stood on the balcony with her husband, threw them roses picked from the large bouquet which she carried.

The couple took a late train for Grand Rapids and from there they will make a tour East and will be absent at least four weeks. On their return they will occupy their beautiful home on West Twelfth street.

The gifts received were many and costly, the couple being especially well remembered by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Verschure.

Mrs. G. J. Diekema had charge of the floral decorations which were elegant.

The following are the waiters who were daintily dressed for the occasion: The Misses Madeline, Ella, Maud, Ruby VanPutten, and Mrs. Kerkhof of Holland, and Jennie and Mamie Nyland of Grand Haven, and as a token of esteem each received a beautiful brooch, from the bride.

Many telegrams of congratulations were received by the couple and one cablegram from China, from the groom's sister who is a missionary in China, was transmitted over the Postal Telegraph Co. wires in which she sends her best wishes.

Fox In Jail

John Fox, convicted in the circuit court of this county on the charge of aiding a prisoner to escape, was surrendered by his bondsmen Wednesday afternoon and now occupies a cell in the county jail awaiting sentence at the next term of the circuit court.

Fox's bondsmen C. Blom, sr., and D. Blom appeared before Justice VanDuren and filed an application for release. Fox was immediately taken into custody by Marshal Dykhuus and last evening was removed to the county jail.

Fox was held under bonds of $3,000 pending the filing of a bill of exceptions on which to carry the case to the supreme court. Lack of funds stood in the way of further proceedings in the case and the bondsmen became fearful that Fox would jump his bail.

The penalty for the crime of which Fox has been convicted, aiding a prisoner to escape, is from five to seven years. It will be remembered that Fox was proven to be the man who delivered to Frank Wilson the revolver which the latter used in attempting to break jail, shooting Sheriff Dykhuus in the face.

INBREEDING TO FIX TYPE.

Practice Establishes Prepotency as Can No Other Plan.

Every little while one sees an article against the not very common custom of what is generally known as inbreeding stock and pointing out its injurious effects and the possibility of such breeding resulting in scrubs, degenerate and worthless animals, devoid of symmetry, health and with enfeebled vitality, writes John Gould in Hoard's Dairyman. I wonder if this is a position founded on facts or assertion and if inbreeding does result any more unprofitably than mixing and the crossing going on in live stock breeding generally. It holds to reason that mating worthless and unhealthy or even weak constituted animals tends to deteriorate stock, whether inbred or not, and here and there a case of deterioration or a monstrosity does not prove the general charge of deterioration of quality in inbreeding.

If one will look at the awards in the swine department at St. Louis he will quickly discover that N. W. Gentry, with his intensely inbred hogs, won twenty-three out of a possible twenty-eight first prizes, and other parties with Gentry stock won many more. Gentry says he sees no ill effects from this line breeding, and he has practiced it for years, and with other hogs bred the same way Gentry captured about all the prizes at the international in Chicago last fall. He remarked that it was in the mating; nicking strong, healthy, symmetrical stock, not pedigrees, and there were no retrograde effects. In other words, he had found that health, constitution and rugged symmetry could be bred with almost positive assurance even if the breeding pairs were closely related, and he had bred so for twenty years without the introduction of fresh outside blood.

The above is preliminary to a description of the practices of Frank Hart of northern Ohio with his famous herd of St. Lambert Jerseys, one of the most notable herds in the United States, if not the very best one. One never saw a more closely inbred herd, even to the extent of breeding a service bull to his own dam, with the result of as perfect and promising a bull calf as walks on the earth, and one has only to see Hart's King to say that he is as fine a bull as can be found. If any other sire can be found as closely inbred and with such a list of fine daughters and performers I would be glad to know where they can be found. I do not pose as an expert judge, but will say that to my mind I never saw so fine a Jersey bull as King of St. Lambert's King, or Hart's King, as he is called, and this bull was not only a product of a line of inbreeding, but is himself incestuously bred in addition to line breeding.

The young cows, heifers, bulls and young things on Hart's Cherry farm are a refutation of the assertion that inbreeding of a necessity destroys in any way the value of an animal for the dairy either in form, health or production, but does establish prepotency as no other plan can.

A Good Combination.
Alfalfa and ensilage combined furnish a feed that can almost invariably be depended upon, no matter what the season is, and when grain falls will keep stock in good condition and when grain is available will enable the feeder to put on gains rapidly with comparatively small allowance of grain. —Holstein-Friesian Register.

THE BUTTERMAKER.

The following rules are necessary for the manufacture of first class butter: First, cleanliness must be observed from the barn to the market; this is the foundation upon which all else rests. Second, the process of ripening cream for the churn must be understood; this step must be well learned, as a large amount of bad butter is due to overwork or bitter cream. Third, the thermometer must be frequently used and studied. Fourth, use only the best kind of dairy salt; the common grocery kind is unfit. Fifth, learn how to work the butter; get an experienced hand to teach you the way; don't work it too much, but preserve the grain; overworked greasy butter is an abomination. Sixth, put it in attractive packages, neatly made up and each wrapped in good parchment butter paper. —American Cultivator.

Mottled Butter.
Mottled butter is usually caused by uneven distribution of salt, says Hoard's Dairyman. It used to be the custom to work the butter twice, but most creameries now work the butter but once, although if the butter is found mottled and streaked after it has been worked once it is better to rework it until the mottles and streaks have disappeared.

Milk That Affects Butter.
Answering the query, "Will the milk of a cow that has been milking for sixteen months and is not in calf be liable to injure the quality of the butter?" Hoard's Dairyman says: A cow that has been milking for sixteen months is very likely to give milk that will affect the butter. Milk from cows well along in the period of lactation is apt to be bitter, stringy and strong. As a rule, a cow should not be milked much over ten months, although many cows will give good milk for a much longer period. A great deal depends upon the individual cow.

Overheating Milk.
Overheating the milk will give the butter an oily appearance, thereby injuring the body of the butter unless the cream is cooled down to 60 degrees F. and held there for four to five hours before churning. In the winter milk should be separated at a temperature of 85 degrees F.; in summer, 75 to 80 degrees F. —Hoard's Dairyman.

Rest Made Easy.

There Will Be Less Sleeplessness When Holland People Learn This.

Can't rest at night with a bad back, a lame, a weak or an aching one. Doan's Kidney Pills are for bad backs. They cure every form of Kidney ills, from common back-ache to diabetes. They are endorsed by Holland people.

John Lockhart, of 28th street, near Central avenue, says: "I had a constant aching in my loins and kidneys so that at times I could hardly keep around. I could not rest comfortably in any position and after a restless night I arose feeling as tired as when I went to bed. The kidney secretions became irregular, frequent and unnatural. I used different remedies but did not receive any benefit. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised I procured a box at J. O. Doesburg's drug store and tried them. They did me so much good that I got another box and then another. They cured me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

Huge Task.

It was a huge task, to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease, as that of C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Ia., but Electric Bitters did it. He writes: "My kidneys were so far gone, I could not sit on a chair without a cushion; and suffered from dreadful back-ache, headache, and depression. In Electric Bitters, however, I found a cure, and by them was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great tonic medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach. Guaranteed by W. C. Walsh, druggist; price 50c."

No Secret About It.

It is no secret, that for Cuts, Burns, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Sore Eyes, Boils, etc., nothing is so effective as Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "It didn't take long to cure a bad sore I had, and it is all O. K. for sore eyes," writes D. L. Gregory, of Hope, Tex. 25c. at W. C. Walsh drug store.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on a double varicocele. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out that they wanted my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy and Kergan, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. He wrote them and got the New Method Treatment for me. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment."

Athletic Entertainment

The Holland Amusement club gave a very creditable entertainment Friday evening, demonstrating that the club members are making rapid progress in athletics.

The program Friday, included numerous boxing contests, tumbling and bag punching, and the several events were intermingled with music provided by the Citizen's band and a clever orchestra of stringed instruments.

The boxing bouts were all good, the combatants displaying considerable skill at the art of self defense. The contests were limited to three rounds of two minutes each and every bout went the limit, the contestants showing the friendliest consideration for one another.

The following were the principals in the boxing contests: Sidney Jarvis and Louis Labadie, Charles Alexander and Joe Borgman, Peter Notier and Will Phernambucq, Dan Doyle and Will Damson, Luke Sprietsma and Roe Kanters, "Spider" Smith and Guy Bennett.

John Shafer gave a clever exhibition in tumbling and Fred Pfanstiehl displayed considerable skill at bag punching.

The gymnasium was crowded to the doors and there was general satisfaction among the spectators over the quality of the entertainment.

Hope 4, G. R. H. S. 7.

Hope met her first defeat of the season on the afternoon of Friday last. Hope played nearly as good a game as at any former time, yet, altho the Grand Rapids High School her opponent was not especially strong, she was unable to win. Huizenga was not in the box for Hope as he was prevented from pitching by a sore finger. VanderLaan who pitched, altho he did quite well, allowed many hits when hits meant runs. The loss of Duven's stick work was also keenly felt. Then too his upriving was poorer than any seen on the college diamond for several seasons. Several times the umpire, who happened to be the Grand Rapids coach, showed considerable error of judgment. One decision which gave Grand Rapids two scores in particular was very rank.

Hope expects to meet the same team again in the near future at which time they promise that there will be a different result. On June 9 it will play the strong team of Olivet College.

The batteries were: For Hope, VanderLaan and Stegeman. For Grand Rapids, Traphagen and Moses.

Arendsen, the high school athlete, took part in the pole vault by clearing the bar at 9 feet, 3 inches. This is within 3 inches of the record made by Riley of Grand Rapids. Summary of events:

100-yard dash—Collins, Grand Rapids, 1st; H. Dewey, Grand Rapids, 2nd; Wise, Holland, 3rd; time 10 seconds.

Running high jump—Slaght, Grand Rapids, 5 feet 3 inches; Fitzgibbons, 5 feet 2 inches; Arendsen, Holland, 5 feet 1 inch.

Olivet College B. B. Team Coming

A week from today, June 9, Holland base ball fans will have an opportunity of seeing an intercollegiate base ball game, as the Olivet college team is scheduled to play Hope's team on that date. Olivet has one of the strongest teams of the state colleges. Hope also has a fast team this year and under the efficient coaching of Capt. Bush, the boys have developed into the best base ball team Hope college has ever had. The game has been put on Friday in order to give business men a chance to attend.

Justice Roosenraad's court in Zeeland was the scene of activity the first of this week, two complaints having been filed and warrants issued. One is an assault and battery charged against T. VanEenaam, preferred by Miss Hattie Frens, while the other is cruelty to animals against Cornelius VanSlooten by D. VanEenaam, both of the alleged offenses claimed to have taken place last Saturday night. The former stood mute upon hearing and the latter pled not guilty. Both cases will be tried next Monday afternoon.
