HOLLAND ROAD CONTRACTORS CAN'T GET CEMENT

ALL OTTAWA COUNTY ROAD WORK IS STOPPED

At This Rate New Cement Road North of Holland Will Not Be Completed

County road construction is being seriously handicapped by the shortage of cement and other materials used in the building of roads. Since last fall the Ottawa county road commission has been seriously hampered in getting its projects completed by conditions of production, and there is no prospect of bettering conditions in the immediate future. In some cases contractors are going ahead under difficulties.

Others the construction work is entirely at a standstill, and contractors have no hope of immediate activity for their crews. Cement that had been ordered far in advance has failed to arrive. Many of the factories which make the material are either shut down or running on curtailed production. Shipping facilities are almost impossible, and few cars are getting through to consignees.

An important road project leading from the Cemetery Crossing at Grand Haven on the Spring Lake Road to the Klingman estate, a distance of 2 1/4 miles was started last fall by C. M. Blakeslee, contractor. This road leads past the Spring Lake Country club and over Pettib's bayou bridge. Because of the lack of cement the concreting of the road was abandoned last fall, although much of the route has been graded.

This spring the work was resumed and it was decided to put in the road as far as the bridge and let the job go at that for the present. That portion of the road from the cemetery to the bridge is closed and pouring of cement will be started at once. Enough of the material is now on hand to complete the work now laid out. The road will be closed for a period of thirty days.

Cline & Boelens of Spring Lake have the contract for building a mile of road connecting up the present work as far as West Olive. At the present time nothing is being done on this job because of the failure of concrete to arrive. Material enough for this work may arrive later in the summer and in that case work will be resumed.

Oosting & Hofstein of Holland, who have a contract for building 1 1/4 miles north from Holland on the pike have not been able to start work because of inability of cement manufacturers to deliver. The material for this work has been ordered but transportation difficulties have prevented its delivery.

Repair work is going on, however where possible and the maintenance crew and patrols are out continually along the road system.

MAY HAVE RIVALRY WITH SPEED BOATS THIS SUMMER

LARGE NEW SPEED BOAT ARRIVES IN HOLLAND ON A FLAT CAR

A. J. Glanton of Macatawa Park has a new steam yacht that he says will cop all the prizes on Black Lake. Glanton's home is in Columbus, Ohio, but he had one of the fastest ships landed from there to Harrington's landing in Holland on a flat car and the boat was launched yesterday.

The name of the boat is Amerigo, and the owner claims that she will go 35 miles an hour.

This speed demon is liable to create some rivalry this summer as E. H. Golds of Marigold Lodge also has a speed yacht named Sandrift. The skipper of Sandrift claims that his boat has gone 26 miles an hour, but can be shoved up another notch to beat the Amerigo that will try to claim supremacy of Black Lake.

No doubt these two yachts will bring a little friendly rivalry that is liable to put a little pep in things around the resort this season.

We know that the Golds boat has some speed and the Amerigo will have to go some to get by the Sandrift.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Olinger, a seven pound daughter.

PROMINENT PIONEER PASSES AWAY AT FOREST GROVE

SJOERD YNTEMA DIES THERE WEDNESDAY AT AGE OF SEVENTY-EIGHT

Was for Many Years President of Ottawa County Sunday School Association

Another pioneer, one of the early settlers of the Dutch Colony in Western Michigan, passed away with the death of Mr. Sjoerd Yntema of Forest Grove, the only remaining brother of Prof. D. B. Yntema of Holland township. Sjoerd Yntema died Wednesday at his home in the village of Forest Grove at the age of 78 years after he had been ill for some time.

Mr. Yntema was born in the Netherlands and he came to this country as a boy in 1847 with the Yntema family, settling on what later was known as the Yntema homestead, two miles south of the village of Vriesland. This family, together with the Kroodsmas and Bouma families were the first settlers in that section before the settlement of Drenthe was made.

After his marriage, Mr. Yntema operated a fine farm a few miles outside of the village of Forest Grove. A few years ago he retired from farming and has since lived in that city.

The deceased is survived by his wife, and five children: Mrs. Clara Van Dam, Supervisor Gerrit Yntema of Forest Grove, Dr. Hessel Yntema of the Soldiers Home, Grand Rapids, Henry and John Yntema of Forest Grove; also by one brother, Prof. D. B. Yntema of Holland township.

Mr. Yntema during most of his life was prominent in church work, being closely identified with the Reformed church of Forest Grove as an officer. He was for many years also superintendent of the Sunday School. For a long time he held the office of president of the Ottawa County Sunday School Association, and at the time of his death he was honorary president of this association. A short time ago ill health compelled him to retire from active work in church and Sunday School.

The funeral will be held Saturday at 1 o'clock (Standard time) from the home, Forest Grove, and at 1:30 from the Forest Grove Reformed church.

SHERIFF DORNBOS WANTS ANOTHER DEPUTY SHERIFF

DEPUTY SHERIFF OF GRAND HAVEN RESIGNS TO ENTER BUSINESS LIFE

Deputy Sheriff Ed Boomgard has resigned his position as a member of Sheriff C. J. Dornbos' force to engage in the plumbing business in Grand Haven. Mr. Boomgard will remain on duty with the sheriff's force for a short time, until the vacancy caused by his resignation is filled, and will then be ready to begin work in general plumbing, furnace work and pump work. This is the deputy sheriff's old business and he has had considerable experience in it. Deputy Sheriff Boomgard is one of the best liked county officers and has been engaged in police work for a number of years. He was a member of the Grand Haven police department before going into the sheriff's office, and served as a member of the Grand Haven fire department until recently.

Rev. J. F. Heemstra, pastor of the 4th Reformed church left today for a visit to Chicago. On Sunday Rev. Heemstra will preach in the First Reformed church of South Holland, Ill. ### PURITAN WILL RUN ON GRAND HAVEN LINE

NEW BOAT WILL COMMENCE BUSINESS WITHIN THE NEXT TWO WEEKS

Wisconsin Transit Company Has Set June 20 As Date For First Trip To Grand Haven Port

The Wisconsin Transit company will begin its service between Grand Haven and Milwaukee on June 20 if present plans are carried through. The opening of the new steamer service has been delayed for a number of reasons, but it is believed now that everything will be ready for the starting of the boats one week from next Sunday. All docking arrangements have been made and everything is ready for the coming of the boats.

It is expected that the Grand Haven-Muskegon run will be handled by the steamers Puritan and Pilgrim. The Pilgrim is well known and was formerly the E. G. Crosby of the Crosby line. She was operated by the government on salt water during the war as a hospital ship and bore the name, "General O'Reilly."

The fine steamer Puritan, which for a number of years was one of the prize boats of Graham & Morton fleet, was also taken to salt water for service during the war. She is now in the shipyards in Milwaukee being practically rebuilt in readiness for the translake run. With the two fine crafts on the run the Wisconsin company will be able to handle a large business. They will use both the N. Robbins wharves and the Grand Trunk docks in Grand Haven. Repair work has already been started on the latter wharves in preparation for the coming of the boats.

The new line boats will connect directly with the fast steamboat trains which the Grand Trunk will place in service about June 27. The steamboat fliers will connect with morning and night trains and passengers will be given the best of excellent traffic arrangements.

At Milwaukee the rail connections will be well established with all the roads west, and the route should be as popular as it was in the days of the Grand Trunk ships. A fine new dock terminal has been acquired by the line in Milwaukee at which the boats will land.

J. A. Johnston, formerly agent of the Crosby line in Grand Haven will be general agent at Grand Haven for the Wisconsin Transit company.

STRANGE SOLDIER IS SHELL SHOCKED

FOUND ON SIDEWALK IN AN UNCONSCIOUS CONDITION

The police picked up a young man in soldier's uniform in a delirious condition lying on the sidewalk. While he was being taken to police headquarters he was raving about fighting the Germans and was endeavoring with all his power to get at them.

Chief Van Ry called up Dr. Westrate who took charge of the young man, placing him in Holland hospital.

He came to yesterday and said that he had been all the Argonne forest fights and had been affected by shell shock.

He is now in the quartermaster's department at Brownsville, Texas, and was home on a furlough, visiting his parents in Grandville.

In some way or other he wandered away and never came to until he reached Holland.

Whether he has overstayed his furlough or not cannot be found out, but Dr. Westrate and some of the members of the American Legion are looking after the welfare of the young man while he is in the hospital.

ZEELAND MAN BUY COOK BROS. STOCK

MAY STAGE A SALE BEFORE VACATING THE LOCAL STORE

E. J. Pruim, business man of Zeeland and who conducts a branch store in Grand Haven, has purchased the stock and fixtures of the Cook Brothers Music store. Mr. Pruim who has been conducting a successful business in Zeeland for a number of years, recently purchased a store in Grand Haven. At about that same time Cook Brothers announced that they were going out of business here, and Mr. Pruim has made a deal to take over their stock.

For the time being Mr. Bert Grinwis, well known in Holland, will be at the Cook store to meet the customers. It is possible that Mr. Pruim may stage a sale before vacating the local store.

Members of the family of J. B. Mulder were called to Grand Rapids Wednesday because of the critical condition of Mrs. J. B. Mulder at Blodgett Hospital.

WENT ON THEIR SECOND HONEYMOON

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Wall of this city have experienced two honeymoons in their life.

This young couple were married three years ago, long before they came to Holland and before the groom took the management of the Woolworth store.

For some time Mrs. Wall has been identified with the Strand Theater, taking the place of Mrs. Himebaugh at the ticket window.

Mr. and Mrs. Wall have had a busy three years, and considered what they were due for a vacation trip for at least a month, so they quickly made arrangements, and took the Holland-Chicago boat one evening, unbeknown to their many friends in Holland.

The Strand family however thought nothing but a fitting send-off and a second honeymoon would do.

Early they hid themselves to the dock to be on hand with confetti and rice in order to give the impression that the couple were newly weds.

Mr. and Mrs. Wall were wise however and were not to be caught napping.

Miss Laura Irish of the Western Union however thought of a scheme to bring the bride and groom out of hiding. She fixed up an imaginary telegram and the party had the couple paged through the boat, the telegram doing the work.

Mr. and Mrs. Wall soon put in their appearance, when the party exploded the telegraph scheme and began pelting the chagrined couple with rice and confetti, and handing them large bouquets of dandelions.

The leaders in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Himebaugh, the Meses Laura Irish, Hazel and Edna Allen. The passengers on the boat are of one mind, that a newly married couple took the steamer for Chicago that evening.

The fact of the matter is however that Mr. and Mrs. Wall were taking an extended vacation trip that had been well-earned, it being the first one in three years.

APPEAL TO BOYS TO HELP SAVE THE FRUIT CROP

The boys of Holland are being appealed to to save the fruit crop in this section of the state. That is, the boys are being asked to save the crop by providing the labor to harvest it. Not in years has there been so large a fruit crop as this spring, but there is serious danger that much of it will go to waste, unless the young boys come to the rescue, immediately after school closes.

To this end the Boy Scout organization of the city has taken the matter up. The Scout organization will provide the machinery for getting the boys and the boys together. A plan has been made whereby groups of from 10 to 20 boys will be sent to the large fruit farms within a distance of not more than 20 miles from the city. These groups will be under the leadership of an older person who will look after them, who will be responsible for them, to see that they are properly housed, properly fed, and properly taken care of in every way.

Saturday afternoon and Sundays the boys will spend at home. Dr. A. Leenhouts and Wm. Vander Ven, in charge of the movement, declared today that parents need not fear to send their boys. They gave the assurance that the welfare of the boys would be carefully looked after.

Boys from 12 to 18 years of age are wanted. Mr. Vander Ven estimated that those boys who are willing to work diligently can earn from $3 to $4 a day harvesting fruit. There is good money in these jobs at present prices and the growers are eager to get the services of as many boys as can be recruited here for this purpose.

Dr. Leenhouts and Mr. Vander Ven explained the plan this morning to the students of the high school and of the Junior high. These men, backed by the whole Boy Scout organization in the city, are asking the parents to consider the plan carefully with a view of having their boys take advantage of this opportunity. Not only Boy Scouts are wanted, but any boy between 12 and 18 years old. Any parent who wants more information about the plan may apply to Mr. Vander Ven or Dr. Leenhouts.

CHANGES ARE PLANNED BY KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

Plans for extension of the order and assumption of greater obligations for its advancement, will, according to announcement sent out by the officers, be the central thought at the next convention of the Supreme Lodge Knights of Pythias. This legislative body of the Order will be convened in Minneapolis, Minn., on Aug. 10, 1920, the date having recently been changed from August 3 by official notice from the Supreme Chancellor. A number of Pythians from Western Michigan will attend.

Nearly one million members of the Order in the United States and Canada are interested in what will be done at this convention. Among the many proposed changes in the present laws are those which will be enacted, provide for admission to membership at 18 years of age instead of 21; life membership; changes in funeral benefit laws; and a national tuberculosis sanatorium for members of the Order.

DR. PIETERS NAMED V. P. OF GEN. SYNOD

Dr. Albertus Pieters, missionary to Japan, has been elected vice president of the General Synod of the Reformed church in session at Asbury Park, N. J. Dr. D. J. Burrell of New York, was elected president.

A large number of ministers and consistory members of Reformed churches in Holland and the surrounding communities have gone to New Jersey to attend the meeting of the Synod, which is the 114th session. It will continue until next Wednesday.

Two years ago Holland was also represented in the election of the Synod when Dr. E. J. Blekkink was chosen president.

CLAIM ZYLSTRA IS OLDER THAN HE STATES

How old is John Zylstra, the man who brought suit against seven Drenthe young men for destroying his property at a charivari party? This question aroused a good deal of interest during the trial in the court room in this city and it is still subject of comment in discussions of the trial.

In the trial Mr. Zylstra testified that he was 57 years old. It was commonly stated before that he was 63, and many of those who come from that community hold that the latter figure is the correct one. His girl wife is, according to the testimony brought out in court, 18 years old. The Drenthe sympathizers with the defendants in the case claim that the parents of the young girl refused their consent to the marriage but that the couple were married as soon as the girl became of legal age. Mr. Zylstra has children who are considerably older than his wife.

HOLLAND CO-OPERATIVE ASS'N TO BUILD STORE

George Heneveld, manager of the Holland Co-Operative store in this city, an institution that sells to farmers only, who are members, stated that next week excavation will be started to build a $6000 store building at the present site at 177 E. 14th street.

The building will be made of concrete and will be 132x124 ft., two stories.

When completed a feed mill will be installed in the building. Mr. Heneveld states that the business is growing rapidly.

CHARIVARI CASE STILL HOLDS THE PUBLIC'S ATTENTION

The charivari case against seven Drenthe farmers continued to be the main subject of discussion in Holland Friday although it is two days since the trial ended in the conviction of the men and their sentence by Justice Brusse. While notice of an appeal to circuit court has been given by the attorneys for the defense the steps for the appeal have not yet been completed. However there is no doubt but that the case will be carried up. If so it will probably be heard at the August term of circuit court. In view of that fact the convicted men will not be compelled to leave their farms to spend a period in the county lock-up during these busy days on the farm. If the sentence of the lower court should be confirmed by the higher court, the jail sentences would not begin until some time in August.

While bail was fixed at $1,000.00 for each, this was looked upon largely as a formality by the court. No attempt was made to detain the men while they were out securing the bail, it being understood from the nature of the case that there was absolutely no chance of their not appearing for trial. The bonds were expected to be made out in due form Friday. But meanwhile the men enjoyed their liberty.

While the jury brought in a recommendation that the minimum fine for the offense be imposed by Justice Brusse, it was pointed out by Mr. Brusse that the law does not state a minimum under the indictment. Mr. Brusse did not impose the maximum since that is $100 fine and ninety days in the county jail. Obviously, since no maximum is fixed by law, the question of what constitutes a minimum becomes a matter of judgment purely. By not imposing the maximum Justice Brusse felt that he was imposing the sentence that was in his judgment a minimum for the offense committed.

J. W. BOSMAN WAS 90 YEARS OLD WEDNESDAY

Jan W. Bosman, one of the best known of Holland's old men, was 90 years old Wednesday. Mr. Bosman quietly celebrated the day at his home on East Ninth street. His children and grandchildren came in to observe the day with him and to wish him many more years of life and activity.

Mr. Bosman is still in fairly good health and he is carrying his years exceedingly well.

TO BUILD GOOD ROAD THRU FILLMORE

A meeting was held in Laketown last week to hear the objections to the proposed road between that township and Fillmore. Petitions had been circulated under the provisions of the Covert act, and as there were no objections offered the county road commissioners will advertise for bids and construct the road. The proposed road is to begin at the Ottawa county line and extend south a distance of six miles. It will be twelve feet wide and of class B construction that is eight inches of gravel twelve feet in width.

FINE PLAY FESTIVAL HELD WEDNESDAY NIGHT

One of the prettiest play festivals ever given in the city, was presented by the Washington school on the evening of June 2. The decorations consisting of flags, flowers and Japanese lanterns, made a very beautiful combination. The flags were generously loaned and arranged by Mr. George Bosman. The flowers and Japanese lanterns loaned and contributed by the patrons of the school.

Every grade participated in folk games, rhythms, and songs, ending in the winding up of the May Pole very prettily done by the girls of the 5th and 6th grades.

Thanks are due Mr. B. Hamm for his generous gift of ten gallons of ice cream to the school the proceeds of which will be used for apparatus.

FARMERS PRAY FOR SUCCESS IN EFFORT TO HELP CANNERIES

With what promises to be the largest cherry crop in history and a tremendous apple crop in sight, fruit growers of western and northern Michigan are praying for success of the campaign inaugurated by the Michigan State Farm bureau to aid state canners. The bureau is seeking aid thru the interstate commerce commission in an effort to get cars.

Coal, sugar and cans must be rushed into Michigan before many canning plants can even get up steam for the preservation of what is expected to be a bumper fruit crop, and unless relief reaches the canners, hundreds of plants may remain idle this season. This would not only mean the loss of a large quantity of fruits and vegetables, but will mean the loss of immense amounts of money to the producers, the bureau points out.

LOCAL LADIES PUT IN THREE YEARS OF HARD TRAINING

The Grand Rapids Herald of Sunday contains the pictures of the graduating classes from the different hospitals in that city.

In the groups may be found Miss Mildred Lokker from Butterworth hospital. Miss Lokker is the daughter of Jacob Lokker of this city.

From Blodgett's hospital the pictures of Miss Mary Van Putten and that of Miss Delia Byron also appear. Miss Van Putten is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Van Putten, sr., River avenue, and Miss Byron is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Byron, Central avenue.

All these young ladies are graduates from the Holland High school and have spent three years of hard training at these respective Grand Rapids hospitals.

LICENSE PLATE LEADS TO BOAT—THAT'S ALL

While coming into Grand Haven a automobile collided with Klaas Ritzman's rig smashing it and spilling out a small boy. The car did not stop but the license plate fell off and was later turned over to Under-sheriff De Witt, who found that the car was owned by George Klyn of Grand Rapids.

Klyn was going to Chicago and the car was being put on board the Chicago boat when the officer arrived at the dock. Klyn was summoned from his stateroom and informed that he must return to Grand Haven Wednesday to answer the charge.

"FLYING DUTCHMAN" GIVEN A SEVERE SENTENCE

Nicholas Dykstra, of Zeeland, commonly known as the "Flying Dutchman" for the reason that he has been arrested by the Holland police five times for going over the speed limit, is again in the toils.

It was the "Flying Dutchman's" practice to take a spurt from Zeeland coastless and hatless going at the rate of 60 or 60 miles an hour over the cement highway between the two cities riding into Holland over 8th street like a demon.

Sunday he did likewise, but Speed Cop Peter Bontekoe, was too much for him and nabbed him before he could make his return trip.

For the next three months the flying Dutchman will not be seen in this city.

Fines and costs did not seem to worry Dykstra much, for that reason Justice Jay Den Herder sentenced the man to lock up his motorcycle from now until September 7 and to give the key to the chief of police of Holland.

A sentence of that kind ought to bring a number of speed demons to time.

ZEELAND MAIL CARRIER IS ARRESTED

Justice Brusse issued a warrant last Saturday afternoon for the arrest of Leonard Kievit of Zeeland, charged with having been a member of the charivari party which partially wrecked the home of John Zylstra at Drenthe a few weeks ago. Kievit is a rural letter carrier on a route from the Zeeland postoffice and was a witness for the defense in the recent case of the seven men who were convicted by the jury trial on the charge of malicious destruction of Zylstra's property. Addition al warrants may be issued for other men who had a hand in the affair. Zylstra signed the complaint for Kievit's arrest and Prosecutor Miles authorized the issuance of the warrant.

SUGGESTS COLLEGE CAMPUS BE MADE A CITY PARK

That the Hope College campus might be converted into a public park for the benefit of both the college and the city is a tentative suggestion casually thrown out by Mayor E. P. Stephan. While informally discussing the city's park system and the development of the beauty spots in Holland, Mr. Stephan suggested that the college campus was a spot that might possibly be developed in many ways.

While he had not carefully thought the matter out and did not wish to be understood as advancing it as a well matured plan, Mr. Stephan declared that it was a subject that was worth thinking about both by the college authorities and by the members of the park board of Holland and by others interested in beautifying the city.

If this plan were adopted, then the city park board would take charge of the work of developing the campus as a beauty spot. The Board would have charge of the work in the same way that it now has charge of the city parks. Arrangements would be made to carry city water to all parts of the campus so that beautiful lawns could be developed, as well as shrubbery and flower-beds, somewhat after the fashion of Centennial Park. The city would bear the expense.

But in return for this the college authorities would have to yield the use of the campus to the people of Holland as a park. In this way the city would get value returned for the money invested in the improvements.

At present only a comparatively small part of the campus is devoted to lawn and shrubbery. On most of the campus the grass is mowed about twice a year, and during the summer vacation the campus lies deserted. It is the mayor's idea that it might as well be used as a park during the summer months.

Other men from Holland who are attending the convention are W. Wichers, Hon. G. J. Diekema, Arthur Van Duren and Benj. A. Mulder.

$1,000,000 TRADE MARK IN LOCAL DRUG STORE WINDOW

So much has been written by the magazines and heads of advertising departments of large advertising firms, relative to the San-Tox nurse, whose congenial face appears on every package of the De Pree Company goods, that it is not amiss to give a local color to these stories, for after all the De Pree Company is a Holland institution, in fact one of the largest, most up-to-date, most systematically conducted concerns in this city, a plant of which every Holland citizen is proud.

The question is often asked by Holland folks, "Where did Con De Pree get that San-Tox nurse?" and this has been a live question ever since the original painting which cost the firm $3000 appears in the show window together with the picture of the artist, of the Model Drug store, one of the local San-Tox pharmacies.

The painting was a creation from the brush of Neysa McMein of New York city.

This young lady artist is one of the most prominent creators of magazine cover features that this country has and is going to be at the National Republican convention at Chicago next week to make sketches for some of the leading newspapers in the country, including the Grand Rapids Press.

The San-Tox nurse, or as the De Pree Company calls her, Miss San-Tox, is a trademark, said to be worth to this local company at least $1,000,000.00.

From every package the face of this benevolent, thoughtful girl appears, looking directly into the eyes of the person inspecting the package.

The officials of the company consider that wherever a nurse is seen on the street or wherever a nurse's picture appears in print or otherwise it immediately puts one in mind of the San-Tox nurse, and as time goes on the advertising value of this fact cannot easily be estimated in dollars and cents. All the same the advertising value of such a trademark when thoroughly established as this one is must be enormous.

Miss McMein in a letter to the De Pree Company tells how and why she created the San-Tox Nurse.

The brilliant young painter whose distinctive work is seen so frequently on the covers of the Saturday Evening Post, McClure's and other widely-read magazines, Miss McMein, created the gracious face of the San-Tox Nurse and you will be interested in reading the following article, in which the artist gives us her idea of the personality of Miss San-Tox.

This makes very interesting reading matter and follows below:

"Before I open the stack of letters that I find on my desk each morning, I know that one frantic question runs through sixty per cent of them. It seems to me that all kinds of people are constantly taking their pens in hand to drop me a few lines; and somewhere in those few lines I am sure to find one outstanding request for immediate information—'Who is the model?' And sometimes—more to the point—'Where is she?' So it is, that when I am asked about Miss San-Tox, my first thought is of the model."

"When I agreed to paint a head to be used as the San-Tox trademark, I selected one of the most popular models in New York. She is a favorite of many illustrators besides myself—notably, Mr. Charles Dana Gibson—but of course I did not choose her because of her popularity. I posed this particular girl because she has about the sunniest disposition that I know and I wanted the finished picture to represent a capable, sunny girl with a beautiful character reflected in her face."

"I have tried to make the San-Tox Nurse a thoroughbred. Her dark eyes were expressive of sympathy and understanding. Her smile is unaffected, and her greatest charm is simplicity. In brief, she has a sweet, wholesome personality that can only be associated with high ideals and frank straightforwardness."

"Perhaps—at first glance—some of you wondered why Miss San-Tox was not a more ravishing beauty in the casually accepted meaning of the term. It would have been ever so easy for The De Pree Company to have presented you with a perfectly gorgeous young person, suggestive of the Winter Garden or the New Amsterdam roof. But such a picture would have been hopelessly out of place in San-Tox advertising and would have failed as a trademark, because it could not be remembered as a personality."

"Realizing this and knowing that the Nurse must have a face that would not be easily forgotten, The De Pree Company decided to have me paint a new trademark. So Miss San-Tox as you know her, came into existence, and after all, what I tried to do was just to put a 'real girl' down on paper."

DOUBLE WEDDING IS ### HELD IN ZEELAND

A double wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Nagelkerk in Zeeland when their daughters, Cornelia and Minnie were united in marriage, the former to Jacob J. Van Dyke, of Grand Rapids and the latter to Cornelius Wittengen of Beaverdam. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. VanVessem. The two brides were dressed in white georgette and carried bouquets of carnations and maiden hair fern. After the ceremony a luncheon was served about fifty guests. Mr. and Van Dyke will reside in Grand Rapids and Mr. and Mrs. Wittengen will live on a farm at Beaverdam.

SPEED LIMIT FOR TRAINS IS SIX MILES PER HOUR

The tragedy of last week in Zeeland when Mrs. C. Roosenraad and Miss Margaret Roosenraad lost their lives has brought out the fact that Zeeland has an ordinance limiting the speed of trains passing through Zeeland to six miles an hour. In an editorial on the subject of making Zeeland's crossings safe, the Zeeland Record says on this point:

"When the council in 1911 placed an ordinance in effect demanding a speed limit of six miles per hour they made a mistake. This mistake must be corrected. Let us be reasonable in this matter. They can't live up to such an order and we should not expect them to, but we can put an ordinance into force demanding 25 miles an hour and that can be enforced. It is probable the railroad would feel inclined to respect it, and thus we would gain immensely. The six-mile ordinance was passed for the purpose of forcing trains to slow down because much mail was destroyed, then as now, by these 'fliers' carrying mail, but the ordinance has proved of no effect. It has never been enforced and never can be. Eliminate it, pass one establishing a 25-mile rate, enforce it. Trains have been passing thru Zeeland at a rate of speed so excessive that the only thing we wonder at is the few accidents that happen here. Hundreds of automobiles pass the state street crossing every day, yes, thousands, some days. There is much through travel between Grand Rapids and the reports during the summer and especially on Sundays. The engineer of No. 6, said the reason for violating the speed limit lay in two facts, the unreasonable of the limit set and a public demand for service, and we believe there is much truth in what he said. These facts we must recognize, and the nearer we can grant the public demand with safety to ourselves the surer we will be of the rules being lived up to."

The annual banquet of the Hope College Alumni association will be held this year on the evening of June 15th in Voorhees hall. The banquet will begin at 6:30, local time, and it will be preceded by the business meeting of the association in Winants chapel at 5 o'clock. Notices of the banquet have been sent out to members of the association by Rev. Paul E. Hinkamp, the secretary.

Hon. G. J. Diekema, it is announced will be the toastmaster, and the program will be made up of addresses by the speakers from classes ten years apart. The 1920 class will be represented by one speaker, and so will the class of 1910, of 1900, 1890 and so on.

In a weird contest of Baseball Grand Haven was beaten by Holland to the tune of 16 to 2 at Grand Haven Saturday. The game was featured by the heavy hitting of the locals. The Havenites played sand lot base ball through most of the game and became very weary trying to pull in the hard hits and stop the ball and then throwing wild to catch the runner as he started for the next base. G. Batema carried away the batting honors by hitting safe 5 times out of as many times at bat. Steggerda pitched good ball for six innings and was then relieved by G. Batema who let the batters down in regular fashion. Out of the 200 that attended the game about 200 were loyal fans of Holland. About five loads outside of the ball team motored to the county seat to watch the long drawn out contest. The locals are home again this Saturday running up against probably the strongest aggregation thus far, The American Legion from Grand Rapids are the attraction. This club is the best in Grand Rapids and is indelibly the same team that won the Western Michigan championship in last fall's tournament at Grand Rapids.

A week from next Saturday the House of David ball team of Benton Harbor will be the attraction.

The Zeeland Canning Co. has begun operations. The first product to be canned is rhubarb, which was raised locally. On Tuesday a half ton of this product was canned and two and a half tons were put up on Wednesday. At the end of the week they expect to have taken care of five tons. The company's trucks are out every day this week distributing tomato plants to the farmers who have contracted to raise this fruit. Forty-eight acres of this variety have been contracted for. Carloads of cans have been received in the recent past and the company expects to operate every day until the canning season is over.

Mr. Beach, salesman for the Continental Canning Co. of Chicago, called at the Zeeland factory and declared that the Zeeland Canning Co. was the first canning company in Michigan to begin operations this spring. Besides the men employed there are eight girls working at the plant. Several more will be employed when the full season of canning has arrived.

BRIDGE TENDER AT FERRYBURG IS FOUND DEAD

Nelson Dreese, tender of the highway bridge at Ferryburg, passed away early at his home Saturday morning in that village. Mr. Dreese who was about 54 years of age, had been in ill health for some time, and his death was not entirely unexpected as he had been a sufferer from heart trouble and dropsy. He arose at 3 o'clock to close his window and at 5 o'clock members of the family found him dead in his bed. He had expired but a short time before.

He had been bridge tender for about two years and for a number of years before was employed at Johnston Bros. shops. Previous to that the family lived at West Olive where Mr. Dreese worked on the railroad. Deceased is survived by a wife and eight children: Mrs. Fred Ten Hage, Mrs. Edith A. Vanden Burg, Mrs. Martin Tuttle whose husband lost his life in the war, John, William, Minnie, Edna and Arthur Dreese all of Ferryburg. The deceased was well known in Holland.

ENTERTAINS CHARMINGLY FOR EDUCATORS OF THE CITY

Mrs. George E. Kollen delightfully entertained Thursday evening at her home on West Thirteenth street for the teachers of the public schools, the faculty members of Hope College, the faculty members of the Western Theological Seminary, the members of the board of education and a few other invited guests.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Kollen, Hon. G. J. Diekema, Supt. and Mrs. E. E. Fell, and Dr. and Mrs. A. Leenhouts. The company that gathered was a large one and the enjoyment of all of the entertainment was evident. The decorations were suggestive of spring, and some of the numbers on the program emphasized the same seasonal note.

John Lloyd Koll played several piano solos. Miss Mabel Anthony, accompanied by John Lloyd Kollen, sang a song of spring and was heartily encored. Miss Evelyn Koppel also responded to several encores when she entertained the guests with a vocal solo. She was accompanied by Miss Mary Bliss.

The reader of the evening who furnished the main part of the program was Mrs. Bessie G. Webb of Grand Rapids. She charmingly read a poem exalting the springtime spirit, a one act play on "Fame", Ida M. Tarbell's famous "He Knew Lincoln", and responded to a number of encores.

SIBYLLINE SOCIETY ENJOYS FINE BANQUET

On June 3rd the Sibylline Literary society celebrated the close of its first successful year by a banquet at the Woman's Literary Club room.

The guests began to assemble shortly before 7 o'clock and after a short program consisting of a piano solo by Alice Brower, a reading by Helen Moser, and a vocal solo by Virginia Van Verst, the orchestra played a martial air and the guests filed down to the banquet hall.

The decorating committee had carried out the "blue moon" idea very well. The scene was that of a summer garden with masses of foliage and flowers and stars and silvery moon above.

After the dinner Ruth Gardel acted as toastmistress and the following program was rendered: "What a piece of Work is Man," Marguerite Schmalfeil; "Among Other Things," Rachel Gebhard; selection, quartet; "Is there a heart that music cannot melt?" Dorothy Bosman; piano solo, Mildred Temple; "Red Letter Days," Jeanette Hoffman. After the Sibylline song had been sung by the members and friends, all went upstairs again to enjoy a few social hours.

RAILROADS MUST FIX UP THE STREET CROSSINGS

The P. M. and the Michigan R'y will be required to get their crossings in this city in good repair. This was decided on by the council Wednesday and the proper committees will get into touch with the officials of these railroads in order to get action from them. Some of the crossings are said to be in bad shape and the inequalities in the rails of the Michigan R'y in some parts of the city are said to be such that they require radical attention.

THE FIRST STATE BANK TO HAVE BOULEVARD LIGHTS

The First State Bank will place two boulevard lights on Eighth-st. in front of the bank and three on Central avenue alongside of the bank. Permission was granted by the common council Wednesday to have these lights installed, with the proviso that the council can have them removed at any time when the city shall install a boulevard light system of its own, when the bank's system might interfere with the city system.

APPLAUDS PENALTY IMPOSED ON THE CHARIVARI PARTY

Though it is under a slight misapprehension on the fact that the maximum penalty was not imposed in the Drenthe charivari case, the Grand Haven Tribune is very decided in approving the course taken by Justice Brusse in that celebrated case. In a column and a quarter editorial on that subject, the Tribune says in part:

"A Holland justice recently exhibited nerve enough to stand out against the waves of sentiment which fairly beat against his face as he faced an audience in his court room,—and imposed the maximum sentence upon men convicted before him of breaking a law."

"Every point scored by the attorneys for the defendants was roundly applauded. There was no misjudging the sentiment of the spectators. It was overwhelmingly, and strongly evident. The neighbors and the friends of the accused men, to the number of several hundred wanted to see those men acquitted or let off with the smallest degree of punishment possible."

"In returning the verdict against the seven Drenthe men, even the jury seemed to have been moved by the sentiment which prevailed in the neighborhood of last week's charivari outrage. They recommended that the minimum penalty be imposed. But justice Brusse was not to be frightened from a position which he believed to be just and right. The law had been violated according to the verdict of the jury, and he was convinced that the Drenthe men were inexcusable violators. He faced that sea of faces, for the moment hostile apparently to the enforcement of the law, which protects the property of one man against another, and imposed the maximum penalty. There was no doubt in his mind how his decision would be received but that knowledge did not affect his action."

"A few more determined stands like that made in the Holland court in the name of law and order will go far toward doing away to a great extent with the senseless practice of the violent charivari."

TO POSTPONE ERECTION OF ALLEGAN HIGH SCHOOL

Glen Overton president of the Allegan board of education, informed the Allegan Commercial club that no high school building could be erected this year. Since the estimate was made by the architect, upon whose figures the district voted a bond of $155,000, building material has advanced in price to such an extent that it is impossible to consider completion of the original plan. Some criticism has been offered because the board sold the bonds, but as the matter stands it seems wise that they did. The bonds were sold at a premium of $2,600 while other school bonds have since been sold at a figure considerably lower than par. United States certificates of indebtedness bearing a good rate of interest have been bought so the taxpayers will not suffer because of the transaction. It is probable a temporary building 80x100 feet in size will be erected to care for the present needs, and the material in this school building when the time comes.

The Home Service office of the Red Cross has been removed from the city hall to the first State bank building, second floor. Mrs. Thurber the secretary, is now ready to meet people there. She occupied the office formerly occupied by Att. A. Van Duren.

MR. JAMES MUILENBERG ACCEPTS GRADUATE ASSISTANTSHIP

Will Take Up His Work In English Department of University of Nebraska

Another of the seniors has obtained an enviable position. Mr. Muilenberg, editor of last year's Anchor, is planning to take advantage of a one thousand dollar graduate assistantship which has been offered him. He has been specializing in literary work and history. This will give him an excellent opportunity to make further progress in these lines.

It is especially interesting and gratifying to see Hope graduates pursuing their advanced courses in the universities of the west. Mr. Muilenberg is sure to make an excellent record in his new position in the University of Nebraska.

JAMES DE PREE SPEAKS ON SALESMANSHIP

EXCHANGE CLUB HAS INTERESTING SESSION

The Exchange club held its regular bi-monthly meeting Wednesday noon at the Ladies Literary Club rooms.

Mr. James De Pree was the speaker of the day and gave an instructive and interesting talk on "Salesmanship." Mr. De Pree said "Personality is the greatest asset a salesman can have. By personality, I mean personal power which is a broad term and includes enthusiasm, tact and character. The greatest feat of salesmanship in history was Columbus convincing the King and Queen of Spain that they should finance him in his quest for a new world. Another great example of salesmanship which came at a very opportune time, and which won the hearts of the people of France, was General Pershing's famous address at the tomb of Lafayette in Paris, 'Lafayette, we're here.' Every person, from infancy to old age, is a salesman and is continually trying to sell his views and ideas to other people."

Al Joldersma, Austin Harrington, George P. Humer and Wm. J. Olive gave short four minute talks on "Salesmanship" in their particular lines of business.

Leo Lillie, Grand Haven attorney, carried the message of greeting and friendship from the newly organized Exchange club in that city.

LATE G. R. MEN IDENTIFIED WITH HOLLAND RESORTS

Within the last few months two of the Herpolsheimers, wealthy merchants of Grand Rapids, have died.

William G. Herpolsheimer, the older gentleman, left an estate of $1,725,070.91 of which nearly $1,000,000 was in cash and bonds.

Wednesday afternoon the son was buried leaving an estate of nearly $300,000.

Both of these gentlemen have spent their summers at the Holland resorts, the millionaire father, making the trip as a rule in a "tin Lizzie" and living at a modest home on the Lake Michigan front at Macatawa, inventoried in the will at $2,000.

The son Henry B. Herpolsheimer lived at Virginia Park on the Macatawa road in a beautiful summer home there, and according to the will just made public, this property was bequeathed to his wife. Besides she is given a bequest of $100,000.

The son who was buried this week was taken ill while at his Virginia Park cottage and was immediately taken to Holland and from here to Grand Rapids where he died soon afterward.

William G. Herpolsheimer was identified with the Macatawa Cottage association, and gave considerable aid in fostering the building of the beautiful boulevard along the lake front, which was totally destroyed a few years later when the waters of Lake Michigan began to rise and the waves undermined the walk making the boulevard a total wreck.

The commencement exercises will be held on Wednesday evening, June 16, in Carnegie hall.

BAND CANVASS IS TO CLOSE ON NEXT WEDNESDAY

The campaign for funds with which to put the American Legion Band on a firm financial basis will come to a close a week from Wednesday, according to an announcement made Wednesday morning by Bert Slagh on behalf of the committee making the canvass. The bulk of the work has been done and the main contributions have been gathered in, but another week is given to pick up the odds and ends and to give opportunity to persons who have not been seen personally for one reason or another but who wish to contribute something to help the band along.

There are believed to be a number of such persons in the city. During the past few days a number of people have come to members of the committee and have made contributions, declaring they would have done so sooner if they had known where to place the money. To all such the announcement is made by the committee that donations may be made to the treasurer of the band, Alfred Joldersma at the shoe department of the Beter store.

There are also some who made promises when seen by members of the committee but who were not yet ready with the cash at the time. All such may also make their donations to Mr. Joldersma.

During the drive that has been in progress for two or three weeks practically all the manufacturers and business and professional men in the city have been seen, and most of them have come across with donations. A large number of individuals have also been seen, but it was impossible to see everybody. Hence this opportunity is given to all who wish to donate but who have had no opportunity before this.

The local committee also has additional applications for general scholarships which will be acted upon very soon. By reason of a substantial increase to the fund originally allotted to Ottawa county, notice of which has been recently received, the committee is now in a position to serve more men. Ex-service men who desire to take advantage of this opportunity should get in touch with the chairman or county secretary Henry W. Smith at once. Courses of study may be taken next fall and winter but the awards must be made very soon. Many localities particularly the larger cities, have used up their allotments, and are asking for more, but will not get it except it be turned back from localities that fail to use their full quota.

Last week five dorm girls made arrangements for a week-end house party at Central Park. The arrangements were carried out by all five, the suit cases by three, the key to the cottage by no one. Once there, they swam, rowed, and got mosquito bitten and sunburned, to their hearts content. Anna proved there's something in a name, for she was the best cook in the bunch. ## FIVE RESORTERS ARE KILLED BY INTERURBAN

A terrible accident occurred at 6:24 Sunday night when the Saugatuck flyer on the Holland interurban collided with a Ford automobile containing five passengers, killing every one of them.

Rumors had gone around Holland shortly after the accident that an automobile containing five, had been run into at Jenison Park, and many motorists hurried to the resort to find that it was Jenison, Mich., at Andre's crossing instead of at the local resorts, that the accident took place.

The unfortunate affair takes four out of one family and it is said that the bodies are so badly mutilated that they are unrecognizable. The dead are:

John B. Polzin, 54, of 42 National Avenue, N. W., a tailor employed at the Wurzburg store.

Mrs. John B. Polzin, his wife, about the same age.

Joe Polzin, 13, a son.

Agnes Polzin, 6, daughter.

Ulric Host, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Host, 241 National avenue, N. W.

The auto was dragged under the front trucks of the heavy steel interurban car for a distance of 240 feet south of the tracks before the interurban could be brought to a stop. The bodies were mangled beyond recognition. For over two hours the bodies lay between the tracks and search of the clothing of the victims failed to reveal any article of identification.

After the remains had been taken to the Lyzen morgue on Jefferson avenue, S. E. Grand Rapids, Jacob Kosten in charge of the western Michigan auto license bureau there stated that the auto license of the death car, had been issued late in December to Mr. Polzin. It was only in this manner that the identity of the victims could be established.

As far as could be determined not a single person outside of Motor man A. Wilson of the interurban car was witness to the actual crash. Mrs. John De Winter, residing in a farm house adjacent to the tracks, who saw the auto passing her house immediately preceding the crash, probably was the nearest to being an eye witness to the tragedy. Her story is substantially as follows:

"I was sitting on the front porch and heard the interurban whistle for the crossing before I saw the automobile. My house is about 100 yards south of the crossing and the auto was being driven at a rather rapid rate of speed. It appeared to me as though the boy of about 15 was driving the car and it looked as though he was attempting to cross the track before the approach of the interurban. 'He'll never be able to beat that interurban to the crossing,' I said to myself, and the next minute I heard the crash. Trees obstructed my view and I did not actually witness the crash. When I saw the interurban, it was being brot to a stop and the auto was not to be seen having been ground underneath the interurban."

Motorman Alex Wilson when interviewed by a reporter, was on the verge of collapse and unable to give a coherent story of what had happened. He was found seated on the floor of the front vestibule of the interurban, rubbing his eyes as if to erase the grewsome picture from his brain. Upon being questioned, his account was brought out, bit by bit, as follows:

"We left Grand Rapids at five o'clock, Central time bound for Saugatuck. At 5:20 we had stopped at Jenison, a mile or so back and had been running about four minutes when the accident happened. Usually I would have been running at the rate of about 30 miles an hour at this crossing—sometimes faster, sometimes slower. We were on time and were not going any faster than usual. That's all I want to say. I'm in no shape now to give out a statement and won't do so until ordered by the officers."

"How far was the auto from the crossing when you first saw it?" he was asked.

"I can't say," was his answer.

"Did you have any time to apply the brakes quickly enough to stop the car in time to prevent the accident?"

"I threw on the brakes as hard as I could. I don't think there was anything wrong with them, but you can't stop a heavy car like this in a second, you know. I can't talk any more about it."

Motorman Wilson stated that he has been in the employ of the Michigan Railway company for about 4 years and has never met with a serious accident before. He is married and lives with his wife and two children in Holland.

Conductor J. V. Smith, also of Holland, stated that he was on the rear platform of the interurban and knew nothing of the accident until the car was being brought to a stop. He did not see the automobile until he stepped out and found the machine reduced to scrap iron, under the front trucks of the interurban.

Justice of the Peace William Brusse of Holland, acting coroner of Ottawa county, was summoned and immediately swore in a jury composed of the following nearby residents: Harry Huizenga, Lucius Lane, Ben Doremus, Boyce Edgerly, Cornelius Andre and Jake Beukema.

Under the direction of Acting Coroner Brusse, Undertaker Lyzen made an examination of the contents of the clothing of each of the victims, but could find nothing that would identify them. In the father's pocket was found a purse containing a small amount in change and rosary beads.

After efforts at identification had failed the acting coroner ordered an inquest to be held at noon Monday in the farmhouse of Cornelius Andre, near the scene.

Upon visiting the Polzin home on National avenue late Sunday night after Mr. Kosten had established the identity of the owner of the car, a reporter found none of the other members of the family at home. They were unaware of the quadruple tragedy in their family until so informed by a reporter. Other children of the couple are: two sons, John a traveling man, 25 years old, and Ambrose, 18, now in the U. S. navy and daughter, Helen, 21 years old, a bookkeeper employed by the Powers-Tyson company.

Joseph Barman, next-door neighbor to the Polzins, living at 44 National avenue, N. W., stated that the auto trip which ended in the death of all five, began at about 3 Sunday afternoon. Mr. Polzin did not intend to take a long trip, as he seldom drove after dark and it was while they were hurrying home before nightfall that the tragedy took place. Mr. Barman thought it likely that Mr. Polzin was driving at the time as the son, Joe could drive but little, and it was seldom that his father entrusted him with the wheel. The fact Mrs. De Winter was under the impression that the boy was driving when the machine passed her house would lend strength to the theory that the boy, an inexperienced driver, became confused when he saw the interurban approaching. Tracks were found in the road indicating that the driver had skidded a considerable distance in attempting to stop.

Holland motorists who have made the trip to Grand Rapids hundreds of times, cannot see how an accident at that crossing is possible if a driver uses any kind of precaution at all. Either coming or going and especially on the side that this automobile was coming from the track is visible for at least a quarter of a mile either way in fact this stretch of track is about the safest crossing place of any between Holland and Grand Rapids.

An official of the Michigan R'y Co. stated Sunday evening that Motorman Wilson made a very remarkable stop.

"The car weighs about 65 tons," he said, "and is usually stopped in anywhere from 1,000 to 1,500 feet. The stop was made in approximately 300 feet from where the crash occurred. The car was probably traveling 55 miles an hour."

"An investigation of the tracks made by the automobile tires leading to the crossing showed that about thirty feet from the railway tracks Mr. Polzin applied the brakes, as the wheels skidded for about that distance. The automobile would have passed the crossing in safety if the brakes had not been applied. As it was, it stopped in the park of the interurban."

MOTORMAN NOT BLAMED FOR AUTO ACCIDENT

Motorman Alex Wilson of Holland who operated the interurban car which crashed into the automobile at Andre's crossing Sunday, was exonerated late Monday by a coroner's jury, which met at the home of Cornelius Andre, near the scene of the accident. The inquest was called by Acting Coroner Wm. Brusse of Holland.

Wilson testified his car was traveling at a rate of 47 miles an hour. He said he sounded his whistle as the car approached the crossing and that he sounded the whistle when he caught a glimpse of the automobile then approximately 100 feet from the road. He said he thought the automobile was going at a good rate of speed and that it came to an almost complete stop on the track when the driver threw on the brakes. He said he believed Mr. Polzin was the driver.

Mrs. John De Winter, who saw the automobile pass her home near the crossing and Conductor J. V. Smith, also testified.

Five Accident Victims Were Buried Wednesday at Side of Each Other

Five caskets, containing the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Polzin, 42 National avenue N. W.; their 13-year-old son, Joe, and 6-year-old daughter, Agnes, and Ulric Host, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Host, 241 National avenue, all of Grand Rapids, the victims of the Sunday evening auto tragedy at Jenison, were buried together in Mt. Calvary cemetery Wednesday, following the funeral service over the bodies which was held at St. Mary's church at 4 o'clock. One son, Ambrose Polzin, who is serving his country aboard ship somewhere on the five seas does not yet know that his mother, father, brother and little sister are being buried.

The acts where the bodies were buried were purchased Monday, when F. A. Host, father of Ulric Polzin, went together to Mt. Calvary and purchased adjoining lots in order that the five victims might be buried within a few feet of one another.

A single funeral service was held for all the victims. A solemn requiem high mass will be sung by Rev. J. J. Riess, Schoolmaster of the dead children were pallbearers.

TWO STUDENTS OF THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY TO TAKE LONG TRIPS

Carl Schroeder and James Burggraaf both of the Western Theological Seminary, are going quite a distance from Holland in order that they may preach the gospel.

Carl Schroeder will leave for Monarch, Alberta, Canada and James Burggraaf will go to Albion also in Alberta, Canada. The places are about 100 miles apart.

ARRESTED FOR ATTEMPTED CRIME AGAINST SMALL GIRL

Andrew Rignerius was arrested by Officer Steketee Sunday night on a serious charge. Complaint had come from folks living on East Fourteenth street that Andrew Rignerius had attempted a crime against a little girl of less than fourteen years.

Rignerius at 7 o'clock Sunday night accosted two little girls in the neighborhood and asked them to take a walk with him. The girls knew Rignerius and that nothing of it, and unsuspectingly walked along with him. He led the juveniles into a rye field near by where he attempted to assault one of them. The other little girl began screaming and Rignerius fled. Officer Steketee lay in hiding for several hours awaiting the return of the offender and at about 1 o'clock Rignerius entered his home and was arrested by the officer. He was taken before Justice Van Schelven Monday afternoon and the two little girls were present to identify the man and told their story.

Rignerius admitted that he was the guilty party. He was taken to the Grand Haven jail by Officer P. Bontekoe late Monday afternoon and his case will come up at the next term of circuit court.

DR. ZWEMER TO PREACH BACCALAUREATE SERMON JUNE 13

Prof. J. B. Nykerk received a telegram from President E. D. Dimment who is attending Synod at Asbury Park N. J. announcing that Dr. Dimment has succeeded in securing Dr. S. M. Zwemer to deliver the baccalaureate address to the Hope College senior class next Sunday evening at Hope church.

Dr. Dimment also wired that Miss Tena Holkeboer, who delivered an address before Synod Monday evening, received an ovation. Miss Holkeboer was the winner of the woman's oratorical contest for the state of Michigan this year.

FIGHTING FIRES IN NORTHERN MICHIGAN

Co-operation of rural mail carriers with the forest fire supervisors in northern Michigan is a plan recently devised by one of the deputy fire marshals in the forest districts of that state. The fact that millions of dollars worth of standing timber and seedling are annually destroyed by flames led this fire marshal to arrange for a daily patrol of the regions imperilled by fires by using the services of R. F. D. carriers. On their daily trips if a fire is discovered the carrier will record on cards specially prepared for the purpose the name of the county, time of detection, location of flames, the name of the official notified (usually the fire supervisor) and any other pertinent particulars, with the signature and number of route of carrier. The supervisor thereupon organized suitable firefighting forces and undertakes the extinction of the fire. The plan has already been adopted for trial in one county and it is proposed to carry it into other counties of the territory.

HOLLAND SHERIFF GETS MONEY FROM BOY THIEF

A portion of the money alleged to have been taken from Jacob Aman's place in Tallmadge by Alfred Wert, a Grand Rapids lad, has been recovered by Sheriff Dornbos. After a hard grilling in the Grand Rapids police station by the sheriff and the Grand Rapids police the little chap admitted that he had taken $30 from the Aman's place. He had placed $17 of it in the Kent State bank in Grand Rapids, and slipped the bank book to a small fellow prisoner. He had bought a watch for about $6 and jack knife. These were returned to the sheriff and turned into cash. In all, about $23 will be turned back to Aman. The boy was taken to the Grand Rapids juvenile detention home.

DELPHI SOCIETY HOLDS ITS ANNUAL BANQUET

The annual banquet of the Delphi Society of Hope College was held on Monday evening at Castle Park, 80 guests being present. After a sumptuous repast a very interesting and entertaining literary program was rendered, the feature of which was the presentation of several scenes from Shakespeare's "Mid-Summer's Night's Dream." Those taking part in this production were Misses Bertha Stoppes, Anne Whelan, Theodore Hoekstra, Jane Potts, Elizabeth Hartgerink, Magdelene De Young, Agnes Vandewall, Ethel Leenhouts and Dorothy Doane.

Toasts were responded to as follows: "Les Chevaliers" Miss Frieda Heitland; "Stars," Miss Jessie Hemmes; "Footprints," Miss Hattie Ver Meer; "Dreams," Miss Magdelene De Young; "Entanglements," Miss Marie Boiks. Music was furnished by The Delphi Trio; Miss Henrietta Duimes and Miss Helen Lorch of Grand Rapids. Miss Lorch is a harpist of rare ability and a prime favorite with the Holland people.

HOLLAND GETTING "COMMUTER" CLASS OF CITIZENS

Although Holland's official population is 12,165, as established by the census of 1920, this city has a considerable "overflow population" that is not counted in the census figures. Although there are no commuters' trains here, there is something that is almost beginning to correspond to the suburbs of the larger cities. During the past few years a considerable number of Holland people have been practically squeezed out of the city and have found homes in the surrounding communities, though all their interests continue to be here and though they daily come to Holland to transact their business here or to do their day's work in various lines.

The surrounding resorts have made this condition very natural. Cities not surrounded by resorts will probably not develop in this way. But for a Holland man who can not find a home within the city, it is fairly natural to look to the resorts for a place to stay. A number of people have taken advantage of this and they daily drive into the city or come in via interurban.

As a result of this, a number of houses at the nearby resorts that formerly were unoccupied the greater part of the year, are now being occupied the year round. And also new homes are being built at the resorts by persons who have learned to enjoy life there and who prefer to stay there rather than build a home in the city itself.

The automobile has brought the resorts much nearer Holland than they were before the universal use of the motor car. With good roads to nearly all the leading resorts, the car can be used during the greater part of the year and it becomes easier for a man whose daily business is in Holland to live outside of the city.

WORK IS UNDER WAY FOR FIFTEEN NEW HOUSES

The excavating for nearly all the fifteen houses that are to be built this summer by the Holland Home Building Association has been completed and the foundation for a considerable number of the houses have been begun.

There are five bungalows in the list and ten two-story houses. The bungalows will be located as follows: two on Columbia avenue between 14th and 15th street; one on 24th street east of College; one on 18th street east of College; one on 20th street east of College. The two story houses will be located as follows: one on the corner of 14th and Columbia; two on the corner of 13th and College; one on 18th west of River; two on 16th between Pine and First avenues; one on the corner of Pine and 18th; two on 12th street west of Van Raalte avenue.

None of these houses has as yet been sold. No sale could be made until the contractors had their estimates in and since then several prospective buyers have been in negotiation for the homes, but the deals have not yet been closed and homes are available for those who wish to buy them. They can be purchased on contract. Buyers who wish information on these homes can apply to the secretary of the association, John Arendshorst.

The fifteen houses have been scattered throughout the city so as to accommodate as many persons as possible. No matter what part of town one works in, he can get a home that is within a reasonable distance from his place of work.

These houses are being built in the most economical way. The material is ordered in large quantity and hence the lowest price for it is paid and there is also a saving on labor by doing similar jobs all at one time. And the purchaser will get the benefit of the saving made, as the association wishes to sell the houses at the lowest possible figure.

THE INFLUENCE OF ANIMISM ON

ISLAM

New Book by Dr. Samuel M. Zwemer Just Published

The following is taken from the announcement of the Macmillan Book Company:

"As the pagan primitive practices embraced in the term Animism, as we shall use it, are the living working creed today of over half the human race this is by no means the remote, negligible subject that it may at first sight appear."

"It is our purpose to show how strong is the pagan element in Mohammedism, how many doctrines and practices of popular Islam only find their explanation in a survival of the Animism of Ancient Arabia or were incorporated from many heathen sources in the spread of the faith. As we shall show, Islam, true to its policy of compromise everywhere, compromises here, too, without even a contest and so far from lifting these people out of these pitiful practices is itself degraded to their level by its contact with them. In contrast, our own missionary methods of propagating Christianity among them do succeed in freeing such peoples from these groundless fears and empty observances that take up so much of their lives."

Pull Together for an American Merchant Marine

The war resulted in the creation of a great merchant marine—10,000,000 tons of American ships which cost us $3,000,000,000.

Everybody agrees that we must keep this fleet on the seas.

If we fall back to pre-war conditions—when only 9 per cent of our foreign trade was carried in American ships—

We shall be in the position of a department store whose goods are delivered in its competitor's wagons.

Congress is considering legislation which will perpetuate our war-built merchant marine.

Until this is done the ships we have should not be sold to face conditions which, prior to the war, resulted in the decline of our merchant marine to insignificance.

This Committee calls attention to these facts because a right solution of our shipping problem is vital to the future prosperity of shipbuilding, but equally vital to the safety and prosperity of the nation.

MUSKEGON PAPER PRAISES HOPE PROFESSOR

Prof. Bruno Meinecke of Hope College is winning a wide reputation as a violinist of great ability. Prof. Meinecke during the past few weeks has given a number of concerts in surrounding towns, and wherever he appeared he has been greeted by a large and appreciative audience. The press comments have been extremely favorable.

The Muskegon Chronicle gave nearly a half column to a concert given by the Hope College man in that city. After describing the concert, the Chronicle said about Prof. Meinecke: "That Hope College is indeed fortunate in the possession of such a remarkable violinist and deep student as read of the musical department there is no reasonable denial. Prof. Meinecke's execution and interpretation are those of only the true artist. Mr. Harris M. Meyer, Prof. Meinecke's splendid accompanist, contributed to the program an artistic interpretation of 'The Bells of Moscow,' by Rachmaninoff."

LOTS OF NEW FRUIT BEING PLANTED THERE, TOO NUMEROUS TO MENTION

First the New Richmond correspondent bragged about the fruit that was being raised in that section. Then a Douglas man came back and bragged a little harder about that section. This week in the Saugatuck Commercial-Record the New Richmond man once more comes to bat as follows:

"At the last writing the New Richmond correspondent was not aware just how much fruit had been set out in this vicinity, but has since learned that Fred Martin set out 200 peach trees and some plums; George Lamoreaux 2,200 raspberry plants and Owen Lamoreaux about the same number; Will Fisher set out on O. Beerbower's farm 1,000 strawberry plants; George Tibbits set 300 strawberry plants; B. Spencer set 250 pear trees, 100 apple trees, some peach trees and strawberry plants."

SYNOD PLEASSED BY DRY LAW DECISION

Asbury Park, N. J., June 8.—News that the supreme court had declared the prohibition amendment constitutional was greeted with applause at the Reformed synod here. Business was suspended for the time being, the members cheering the announcement for several minutes.

Plans for a union for services with the Presbyterian churches were submitted and approved. A committee was appointed to draw up a constitution.

Because of the high cost of living and rates of foreign exchange the board of foreign missions reported a deficit of $100,000. Reports from the board of publication were submitted and approved. Increases of salaries of missionaries to meet costs of living were voted.

The Worth of a Brick

In the right place and when needed a brick is worth a whole lot. Just a few years ago you could buy common brick at $7 a thousand. Today we are compelled to pay $22 per thousand—and we use a lot of them.

The clay costs more, getting it out, shaping, burning, shipping, unloading, all cost much more because the demand is high, largely due to the widespread resumption of building which was held up by the war. Labor costs, too, are a factor, a big factor, today.

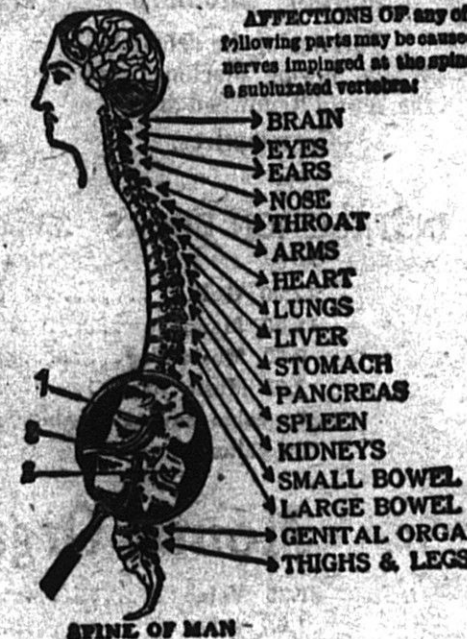

The brickmaker and bricklayer right now earn more than ever before.

Then we must use cement along with the brick in our manholes and buildings, and that is away up, the increase in five years being more than 100 per cent.

Clay conduit, which we use by the dozen, has increased nearly 300 per cent. Tearing costs have advanced from $4 to $12 a day. Trenching costs are up proportionately.

All these items greatly increase the cost of your telephone service, but our rates did not increase proportionately. How are we to pay the bill?

ANOTHER HOPE COLLEGE ROMANCE

SARA HELENE TROMPEN WEDS HENRY BELTMAN, BOTH HOPE COLLEGE GRADUATES

Miss Sara Helene Trompen, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Trompen, of Grand Rapids, was married to Henry Beltman of Orange City, Ia., Wednesday evening at the home of her parents. Rev. A. De Young performed the ceremony before an improvised altar of palms and ferns, decorated with lighted candelabras and baskets of roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Margaret Trompen, maid of honor, was gowned in pale green georgette, combined with ecru lace. The bridesmaids were Miss Elene Welmers of Gr. Rapids and Miss Sara Winters of Fairview, Ill. Miss Welmers wore a pink organdie gown and Miss Winters wore orchid voile. The little flower girls were Mina Becker of Holland and Lucile Freyling. Gerrit Beltman, brother of the groom, was best man and the ushers were Elmer Burgh and Con. Becker of Holland. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Becker were matron and mistress of ceremonies. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Marguerite Van Zee of Kalamazoo sang, accompanied by Miss Henrietta Plasman of Holland, who played the wedding march. Mrs. Robert V. Barnett of Zeeland sang "O Perfect Love" during the ceremony. A reception was held with Miss Evelyn Burgh and Miss Florence Burton of Holland and Miss Catherine Becker of Grandville assisting in the dining room. Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Beltman and sons Gerrit and William of Orange City, Ia.

This pretty romance began when both the bride and groom were students at Hope. Next fall both Rev. and Mrs. Beltman will sail for China where they will enter in the field of missionaryes for the Reformed church.
