HOTEL MAN PLEADS GUILTY TO ASSAULT CHARGE

ATTEMPTS TO WHIP A TRAVELING MAN; THEN GETS WHIPPED HIMSELF

William Van Asselt pleaded guilty before Justice Den Herder late on Tuesday afternoon when he was charged with assault and battery on Henry Holtgers, a salesman who was stopping at Asselton Hotel.

The proprietor claims that Holtgers spat on the floor which the salesman denied.

Van Asselt then assaulted the man and a "regular knock down and drag out" fracas began with Holtgers getting the best of the argument. Blood flowed freely and after the hotel proprietor was badly whipped it is alleged that in his excitement he grabbed a large banana knife and proceeded to go after the victorious traveling man.

By this time however interference came and both men were subdued. The fight began in the hotel lobby but the windup was in the middle of the street.

Van Asselt states that no guest, no matter who he is, can spit on the floor of his hotel. Holtgers stoutly proclaims his innocence.

ALL BUT THREE OLD SOLDIERS ARE DEAD AT SPRING LAKE

Out of forty-nine Civil War Veterans of the Noak Perkins Post of the Grand Army of the Republic at Spring Lake, but three survive and are now in the Grand Haven Post of the organization. Forty-six of the men of Perkins Post are sleeping in the Spring Lake cemetery where they have been laid away by their comrades. At present there are but three veterans of the War of the Rebellion in Spring Lake, these being Enno J. Prulm, Joost VerPlanke and Oren White.

Joe Ver Planke was formerly a Holland man. In fact he was elected from this city as sheriff 49 years ago, and outside of Fred Kamferbeek, whose election is still in doubt, was the only Democratic candidate for sheriff ever elected in this county.

SPRINKLE THE LAWNS WITH DAN- DELION WINE

FOUND ONE HUNDRED GALLONS OF LIQUOR IN HOUSE ON SEVENTH STREET

Officer Steketee of the local police force, Sheriff Fortney and Deputy Sheriff Vander West, raided the home of Mike Schregardus on West 7th-st. in what is known as the Pfanstiel property which he was renting and found 100 gallons of wine and several bottles of home brew in the back kitchen.

The wine was in large containers and barrels and the officers poured out eighty gallons in the grass keeping 20 gallons as evidence.

The officers have been watching the place for more than a week and found that a regular beaten path had been worn down through the back yard to the kitchen and that Mike had built up quite a clientele on dandelion wine.

The officers also saw several men come out tangle-footed and the air in the vicinity was laden with the fumes of fermented liquor which the "rum hounds" could not help but follow unless afflicted with a bad cold.

In Holland the police department and the sheriff's force are co-operating in cleaning up all liquor cases if it is evident that the Volstead act is being violated.

Schregardus was bound over to the circuit court by Justice Den Herder.

"SACRIFICE THE TEST OF PATRIOTISM" —ZWEMER

DECORATION DAY EXERCISES
TURN OUT VERY SUCCESSFULLY

Public Schools Were Well Represented in the Parade; Weather Was Ideal for Celebration

Holland folks began to gather early at Centennial Park in order to participate in the Memorial Day exercises at the large band stand.

The old vets of the Civil war, not over a dozen remaining, occupied the places of honor and they were surrounded by the Women's Auxiliaries of the different military organizations and soldiers of other wars.

All the seats were filled and many groups were sitting about on the grass within hearing distance of the platform. Mayor E. F. Stephan, who was president of the day, gave the order of the program calling on Rev. Paul P. Cheff to lead in prayer.

He then introduced Miss Harriet Heeneveld who very expressively read Governor Groesbeck's proclamation.

Mayor Stephan before introducing Dr. Samuel M. Zwemer, gave a short review of what Decoration Day stood for telling why we should honor the brave boys living as well as the dead to whom we owe not only our well-being but our very existence.

He then introduced Dr. Zwemer, whose eloquent discourse is found in this article.

After the singing of America led by Dr. Nykerk and accompanied by the American Legion band, the gathering broke up and the different divisions formed into parade preparatory for a march to Pilgrim Home cemetery.

There were several marshals on horseback who did excellent work in getting the line of march organized properly.

The American Legion band and the juvenile martial band and a grade school drum corps furnished the music while all the military bodies, both men and women, the boy scouts, the decorators and the school children were found in the lineup.

Superintendent Fell, Principal Riemersma, Director Slater and the teaching staff should be highly commended for the excellent showing made by the school children in the parade. At least 1000 were on foot; boys and girls alike, carrying Old Glory over their shoulders.

A dozen young ladies of the high school were delegated to carry a large flag, 10x20 feet, and as the Old Flag passed hats were raised, and liberal applause followed.

At the cemetery the usual exercises in charge of Commander G. Van Schelven of the A. C. Van Raalte Post and M. Vande Water of the Spanish War veterans, was followed out according to the official program already published.

Extracts from the speech of Dr. Zwemer follow:

Sacrifice The Test of Patriotism

Patriotism is a virtue that grows in the field of gratitude and sends its roots deep down in the past. Think of the Jew at Jerusalem. Greek at Thermopolae. British in Westminster Abbey. The American at Valley Forge, Bunker Hill, Gettysburg Independence Hall, Philadelphia. The flag itself a symbol of sacrifice. "The Red blood flowed o'er white skin across the coat of blue and thus dear flag were typified your own red, white and blue."

Four days every year call us to renew our Patriotism: Independence Day, Washington's Birthday, Lincoln's Birthday and Memorial Day. We pay tribute to all who dared, endured and suffered or died to make possible and permanent our commonwealth of states, our glorious united free Democracy. Whether they lived for the Republic or died for it—they were heroes and patriots. To any student of history it is evident that among all civilized people Patriotism has been measured by sacrifice. The patriot lives on his country, but the traitor lives for his country. The traitor is the traitor of his fatherland. The parasite of the body politic. From Abraham to Garibaldi the true patriots have called men to self-denial and sacrifice. Selfishness and patriotism are contradictory terms.

What Kind of Sacrifice Does America Demand Today? What is a 100 per cent American Now That the War is over?

1. Sacrifice of old-world prejudices and the European outlook on life, making a foreign language a fetish ancestor-worship is not patriotism. All race-hatreds, class prejudices are out of place. This is the True Monroe doctrine. The 15th Amendment still stands. A lyncher is as bad as a boot-legger.

2. Sacrifice of Personal Liberty for Public Welfare when the majority demands it. This was the national issue in 1861 and slavery was doomed. A similar issue in 1922—prohibition. State rights as well as individual rights must bow before national welfare. The federal government stands supreme. The highest right a man and a state has is to give up his rights for the sake of others.

3. Sacrifice of Time and Money for the good of the State, in the service of the public—who are the state. Is the tax dodger a patriot? The man who cheats the custom house or the postoffice? You might as well lie to your father or cheat your mother. "Who is the image and superscription?"

The new Roosevelt Medal bears on one side a profile of Roosevelt and, on the other, a flaming sword with the inscription: "If I must choose between righteousness and peace, I choose righteousness." The designer of the medal is James Earle Fraser, whose statue of Alexander Hamilton for the Treasury Department in Washington is shortly to be unveiled and whose bust of Roosevelt in the Capitol just outside the Senate Chamber is well known. The awards will be made every year for the greatest service to the American people in the following fields:

1. Administration of public office,
2. Development of public and international law.
3. Promotion of industrial peace.
4. Conservation of natural resources.

DR. SAMUEL M. ZWEMER HAS BEEN AROUND THE WORLD TWICE

WILL LEAVE FOR ENGLAND ON JUNE 23

Dr. Sam Zwemer who leaves for a meeting of the General Synod of the Reformed church to be held at Asbury Park, New Jersey, next week, will return to Holland for a week, when Hope College Commencement takes place.

Directly afterward he will return East and on June 23 he will take passage on the Steamer Baltic for Liverpool.

In England he will attend the International Moslem Council of which Dr. A. L. Warnshuis, also of this city, is secretary.

Mr. Warnshuis is also arranging a program for Mr. Zwemer in England and in the Netherlands.

There are few men in this country who are so well traveled as Dr. Zwemer. Besides going hither and yon he has made two complete circles of the Globe.

NEW ICE CREAM FACTORY COMES TO HOLLAND

PETER TIMMER TO ESTABLISH
PLANT ON WEST 16TH STREET

Peter Timmer who several years ago was the pioneer ice-cream manufacturer in Holland and then sold out to Brink Bros. and then went to Grand Rapids to continue in the same line of business, has returned to this city to give it another try.

He has rented the building on 16th street formerly occupied by the Wat Wash Laundry who have moved to the West Michigan Laundry on West 8th street, and his ice cream making machinery is already on the way.

Within a week he will be wholesaling Timmer's cream, and Holland will be having its second ice-cream factory, the Arctic being the first.

A PARENTS' TEACHERS' CLUB ROUND-UP

A UNIQUE AFFAIR TO BE STAGED
TUESDAY EVENING JUNE 5

"In union there is strength." This being the case, all five Parents' Teachers' clubs of this city joining hands making up a program, ought to make some progress.

In the first place the musical features are to be the high school orchestra and some unusual solo work by Mrs. J. E. Telling.

Henry Geerlings the veteran board member will give the opening address while all the kindergarten bands will perform.

Every president or the clubs will give a resume of the work done in their respective club during the year.

A unique feature will be in getting the attendance at this gathering.

The clubs are to be seated in sections and any club that doesn't have a full attendance at this meeting will be conspicuous because the audience will be seated in clubs according to their respective districts.

MAKES SEVEN DECORATION DAY SPEECHES; SAME PLACE

Attorney Charles E. Misner of Grand Haven has made quite a record as a Decoration Day orator in one place at least. Charles has gone to Nilesia now for the seventh consecutive year and every year the citizens cry for more.

Between three and four hundred people usually drive in for the ceremonies at surrounding places and gather at the cemetery where the exercises are held. It is stated that this is one of the oldest burial grounds in Ottawa county.

resources.

5. Promotion of the welfare of women and children.
6. The study of natural history and the promotion of outdoor life.
7. Development in the American character of those qualities of courage, foresight, initiative and patriotism associated with Roosevelt's name.

This is true Patriotism.

4. Sacrifice of National rights and privileges for International good and peace and brotherhood. "The trouble with nationalism," said Dr. Fosdick, "is that we group ourselves into social units called nations, where we, being individually unselfish with reference to the group, are satisfied with ourselves, but where all the time the group itself is not unselfish, but may be, is aggressively and violently unselfish. The fine spirit of men's devotion within the limits of the group disguises the ultimate selfishness of the whole procedure and cloaks a huge sin under a comparatively small unselfishness."

Any League of Nations, any World Court is better than the Provincialism of "Main Street." John Hay was a real Patriot, and so was Theodore Roosevelt. They lived in the consciousness of God. They honored His law. They felt the imperative of His will in national affairs.

A good story is told of Roosevelt in the New York press. "Three men sought admission to Heaven from St. Peter. One was George Washington, who, when St. Peter asked who he was, replied 'I am the father of my country.' The other was Abraham Lincoln who in answer to the same question said, 'I am the savior of my country.' When Colonel Roosevelt was questioned by St. Peter as to who he was, he answered, 'It's none of your business. Where is God?'"

The story needs no application. John Hay as patriot wrote the great poem on God's Will in National Affairs. In this poem patriotism rises to its highest degree. It is real, vigorous, vital and Christian.

Mr. Zwemer closed his wonderful address by giving the well known poem of John Hay one time secretary of state.

HANGING BRIDGES SUSPENDED AT THE COUNTRY CLUB

A NATURAL SPRING HAS BEEN DISCOVERED ON HILLSIDE

Country Club Property Has Raised In Value More than $25,000

All is activity at the Holland Country Club. After a let-up of the cold spring weather, the members have been imbued with a spirit that is bringing a transformation at this popular haven of recreation.

George Opper, the care-taker has a large gang of men busy putting the ground in shape and within two weeks a nine hole course will be in readiness so members can begin to tee off.

The new furniture, draperies and other furnishings are arriving daily, and these are being taken care of under the direction of Mrs. G. J. Diekema, and Tuesday all day the ladies of the club had a sewing bee and between sewing and straightening out rugs, the women had a delightful time. Each took their little lunch kit with them.

Electric lights are also being installed and all water connections made under the supervision of Roy B. Champion, superintendent of the Board of Public Works who is head of the committee.

Two very complete and serviceable concrete tennis courts will be ready in ten days, while the committee appointed to take care of the interests of the children, are seeing to it that the little tots have sand piles, little shovels, sliding shoots and other devices that interest children. This committee is composed of Mrs. Jay Den Herder, Mrs. Wm. Winter, and Mrs. C. Vander Meulen.

The greens committee that has just been appointed is Willis Diekema, Cornell VanderMeulen and Edgar Landwehr.

The house committee is composed of Chas. Kirchen, chairman, William Wisniewski, Abe Cappon, Mrs. Con De Free, and Mrs. Raymond Vischer. It is the duty of this committee to do all the buying for the kitchen and to see that the house is properly managed, and by the way the steward and his wife have arrived in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. Mittenger of Chicago. The gentlemen come highly recommended, having been a chef in the service of the Sante Fee Ry, where the Harvey eating houses have become world renown.

He has also been identified with the Morrison hotel at Chicago, besides being in charge at the West Moreland Country Club.

Mr. Mittenger learned the business of catering at his father's hotel in Europe.

Mrs. Henry Winter who is a wonderful landscape gardener has been appointed a committee of one to lay out the grounds. Mrs. Winter's plans will cover a number of years knowing that a landscape such as the country club deserves, cannot be brought about in a single season.

The members will not have to go dry. For listen, a spring of pearly water has been discovered in the hillside, forming a little rill and pool in a cavity of the decline. Now a basin has been built near the spring, which holds 4,000 gallons of water, and another tank has been placed in the basement of the club house giving a reserve water power daily of 5,000 gallons, the capacity of the miniature spring. This is ample spring water for drinking, culinary and shower bath purposes.

New York hasn't the only suspension bridges. There are four of these rustic hanging affairs crossing Black river, and one is 100 feet long. The runways are attached to strong steel cables securely anchored on each side of the stream.

The golf professional or instructor will be here the latter part of the week in the person of Mr. Webber of the Grand Rapids Kent Country club. A special practice ground has been provided and members will soon be taking lessons in golf.

An entertainment committee is soon to be appointed and about the middle of June, the grand opening is to be held, and it can be imagined that this is going to be one of the big events in social history during the year 1923.

The building committee states that the entire property including the 130 acres of land will have cost the club a trifle less than $75,000. However with the wonderful gifts added by enthusiastic loyal members the property value will go well over $100,000.00.

LOCAL COUPLE WEDDED ON WED- NESDAY NIGHT

MISS MINNIE HOFMEYER BE-COMES THE BRIDE OF JACOB
VANDEN BERG

Jacob Vanden Berg and Minnie Hofmeyer were united in marriage Memorial day evening by Rev. D. Zwier, pastor of the Maple avenue Christian Reformed church, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hofmeyer, south of the city. The bride wore a beautiful gown of blue beaded Gorgeotte crepe and carried a bouquet of sweet peas, roses and swansonia. The double ring ceremony was used, and the vows of the couple were spoken under an arch beautifully decorated with snowballs, palms, ferns, and evergreens. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Paul Michelson. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the immediate relatives of the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Vanden Berg have left on a wedding trip. They will make their home for a time with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Hofmeyer, south of the city. The groom is employed at the store of DeVries & Dorbos.

After the ceremony a pleasant social evening was spent and a three course supper was served. The couple received many beautiful and useful presents.

Holland Independents defeated the Kalamazoo Elks 4 to 3 in a spectacular game Memorial day. It was a 8th inning rally for the locals and the most dramatic game played here this season.

WILTERDINKS WERE MARRIED SIXTY-THREE YEARS

Two old pioneers recently passed the 63rd anniversary of their wedding day and they quietly observed the event at their modest home east of Holland. The old couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wilterdink and the date of their wedding was May 13. There was no elaborate celebration because of the ill-health of Mrs. Wilterdink, who died Sunday morning, two weeks after the event.

The aged veteran of pioneer life of Holland, came to this district with his parents when he was only ten years old and has spent practically the rest of his life on the farm on which he now lives.

Coming from the Netherlands the latter part of 1846, the little family landed at Key West, Fla., where they were stranded for some time. Finally they secured passage on a ship which took them across the Gulf of Mexico to the mouth of the Mississippi river, up which they wended their way until they landed at St. Louis.

From there they traveled by way of the "prairie schooner," the covered wagon, to Chicago, where a boat was chartered which took them to the Van Rensselaer colony in Holland. They landed where Jensen Park is now situated and moved inland about 7 miles, to the site of their farm.

Mr. Wilterdink was married when 23 years old. He is 86 years old and Mrs. Wilterdink was 45 when she died.

SPORT NOTES

Due to the fact that Grand Rapids Junior College cancelled its game scheduled with Hope for Saturday afternoon, the local management was forced to book a semi-pro team to fill the date. The Millmen's Union, a strong team of professionals hailing from Grand Rapids, filled the gap and they gave the college a hard and interesting battle. Hope scored 10 runs in the first, 3rd and 5th innings while the Millmen crossed the plate but once their score coming in the first frame. Albers pitched masterful ball for Hope and dealt out 5 hits which he kept well scattered. Hope had men on bases in nearly every inning but Hoag had the happy faculty of making the batters hit weak pop flies whenever they threatened to score.

Saturday afternoon the Independents visited Grandville and the entire team came near being arrested for the murderous assault upon the offerings of "Lefty" Vander Bunte. His delivery was pounded for 14 honest to goodness hits, hits for ten runs. However, it was not until the seventh that Holland began to solve his portable shots. In the second inning the Independents scored two runs on hits by the Batema Bros. and Ingham. Then in the seventh things began to happen. Four runs were the result of as many hits by Shaw, Woldring, Spriggs and Hick Hoover. In the 8th and 9th, 2 runs each inning were shoved across by terrific hitting.

"Hick" Hoover twirled for Holland in an easy fashion. He allowed eight hits, half of which came in the fourth resulting in three runs. The twin city team is as strong as ever and put up a good nappy game but could not withstand the oncoming Hollanders. The game was featured by the terrific hitting of the Independents. Woldring again led the team with 3 out of 5, followed very closely by Shaw, Spriggs, B. Batema and Hick Hoover with two apiece.

Coach Martin's High school base ball team scored an easy victory Saturday afternoon over the Saugatuck outfit. The win was not accomplished however, without the aid of many brilliant plays. Saugatuck's outfielders snared flies in big league style and they helped to keep the score down.

Kleis and Carl Van Lente each hit a three bagger and Van Zanten's batting average was perfect, he connecting for a hit on every trip to the plate. Van Lente and Japing formed the battery for Holland while Saugatuck was forced to use several different moundsmen.

Loose fielding and heavy hitting of Holland especially Babe Woldring getting four hits at four times at bat being hit by pitched ball once.

OTTAWA COUNTY WEATHER MAN RESIGNS FROM SERVICE

Gerald S. Kennedy, Ottawa weather man stationed at Grand Haven has announced his resignation from the service of Uncle Sam as an observer in the weather bureau. Mr. Kennedy stated that he would undoubtedly be relieved from duty here on or about June 15. During his stay in this part of the state, Mr. Kennedy has had the misfortune to observe some of the worst weather which has been enjoyed here for years.

Having been stationed successfully at Key West, Pensacola, Fla., and at Grand Haven, Mr. Kennedy feels that if he remained in the service, they might advance him farther north so that to forsall anything of that sort he will retire into the ranks of the citizenry. Mr. Kennedy has been observing rain, snow and fair weather for nine years, including the winters and he stated positively that the last winter here was the very worst which he had ever been called on to observe.

In a letter from his department, it was stated that the probable successor for Mr. Kennedy would be observer Everett W. Torrance of Wagon Wheel Cap, Colorado.

WANT TO PROTECT GAME IN BACK LAKE?

Forty Grand Rapids anglers attended a meeting in Hotel Lansing Wednesday night, at which M. H. Hulse, field manager of the Izak Walton league of America explaining the purpose of the club, saying that it was trying primarily to promote conservation of game. A chapter of the league was formed there.

Hulse also said that besides teaching the rudiments of fishing, such as knowing the game laws, the league is attempting also to promote reforestation work.

W. H. Loutit, former mayor of Grand Haven, gave a short talk, stressing the important part that the league should and can play in helping conservation work in the state legislature.

Dr. W. W. Oliver was chosen chairman, and C. L. Ross, secretary and treasurer. Other speakers on the program were: Superintendent of the Schools, W. A. Greeson, Fred Z. Pantlind, Capt. C. E. Beknap, and W. A. Shively of Lansing.

PLAY AT BEECHWOOD SCORES ANOTHER SUCCESS

The play "Miss Topsy Turvy" given by the Beechwood Boosters and Boosterettes' clubs in the school auditorium played to another full house on Wednesday night, and requests are being made that the play be repeated. It has not been decided yet, but it may be repeated the second week in June, for the benefit of the P-T club at Beechwood.

Al Borgman as the colored servant was at his best, and took the house by storm when "Topsy" and her cousin Frank, made him take off one garment at a time for not doing as they wanted him to. The "deacon" was a scream, too, after he had married "Miss Spriggs" and she made him give up his pocketbook which he thinks more of than he does his own wife.

Mrs. Emmick as Topsy's mother, was at her wit's end to know what to do with her daughter Topsy and her cousin Frank. The audience sympathized greatly with May Golden, Topsy's cousin, after trying so hard to land the English Lord, and was tates by Topsy, who married him for love.

The Beechwood school has a nice auditorium seating about 250, with very nice stage, footlights and curtains. The lovely scenery used in the play was made by Mrs. L. Kardux Harry Watams and Joe E. Kardux. The wicker furniture used in the beautiful garden scene was kindly loaned by the James A. Brouwer Co. The flowers trailing the white fence were made by the ladies of the Boosterettes club. If it is decided to again give the play, we would advise every one who has not yet witnessed the performance to go over and enjoy two hours of laughter.

Miss Margaret Bolhuis and little Miss Helen Shaw very able renderers solos. The music was furnished by Colonial orchestra.

NEW MEMBERS ARE WELCOMED AT THE CHURCH SOCIAL

A new members social was held in the Third Reformed church Wednesday evening and a large audience attended. After community singing led by John Vanderschids, prayer was offered by Rev. Henry DeFree, missionary to China. Talks were given by Henry Geerlings and Rev. James M. Martin. Musical selections were given by a male quartet and vocal solos by Dr. Gilmore.

The meeting was for the purpose of welcoming new members. During the past few months about a hundred new members have been added to the church and they were given the hand of welcome at the reception.

Toward the close of the meeting Dr. E. J. Blekkink gave a short talk in which he informed the pastor, the Rev. James M. Martin, that the congregation had purchased an automobile for him and that it is now on the way. Members of the church have donated the money for the auto and sufficient funds have been secured to purchase the machine, with more money still coming in. Refreshments were served by the Ladies Aid society.

Rev. A. De Vries, pastor of the Nieuwekerk church at East Holland has declined a call to the Christian Reformed church at Oakland.

CATCHES BIG WHITE BASS IN THE RIVER

What is believed to be the biggest white bass ever caught in Black river was hooked Wednesday evening by Will Vissers. Mr. Vissers was fishing from the bank with a long bamboo pole and when the big white bass ran away with his bait he, felt as if the whole that Holland people saw in "Down of the Sea in Ships" was at the end of the line.

The bass weighed three pounds and six ounces. It was six inches across its body and it was 18 and a third inches long from the tip of its nose to the tip of its tail. Mr. Vissers is naturally very proud of his catch and has entered it for the prize that the Holland Rod and Gun club is putting up for the largest white bass caught in local waters this summer.

GOVERNOR GROESBECK SIGNS BILL COVERING ALL ARMORY BILLS

Holland Citizens Have Worked Very Hard to Bring This Proposition About

Holland is to have its $40,000.00 Armory, as Gov. Groesbeck has signed the appropriation bill, which includes the one asked for by the mayor and common council for this city.

For the past three weeks rumor had it that the governor would possibly veto this bill the same as he did the gasoline tax bill and especially so this weight tax bill was also defeated by the House.

Apparently this was all rumor. However since his contemplated veto was published those interested have been keeping the governor's office warm with visitor's letters and wires requesting that he not veto the above named bill.

Charles Mc Bride, city attorney, made a trip to Lansing to again bring the matter before the governor and Mayor Stephan had also sent the chief executive a letter asking that he consider Holland's claim favorably. Henry Geerds has left no stones unturned and the local papers have been adding their mite to the many others, who have been taking this question up with Mr. Groesbeck. Anyway the governor has signed the bill for the armory and Holland is especially thankful.

Representative Kooyers has also worked diligently for this bill and notwithstanding that it passed with but one vote to spare it was enough to assure this city the new building for the National Guards and American Legionnaires.

The more important appropriations include: Jackson prison $200,000 each year for buildings and improvements; Marquette prison, $380,000.00 for buildings and completion of cells and emergency wall; armories at Lansing, $129,000; at Flint, $140,000, in 1924; armories in 1925 at Adrian, $50,000; St. Johns, $25,000; Charlotte, $25,000; Holland $40,000; Grand Haven, $25,000; naval armory at Benton Harbor in 1924, $40,000; Central Normal School $100,000; for library, Kalamazoo hospital $114,400; heating plant, $100,000 for women's infirmary, $55,000 for storehouse, Pontiac hospital $35,000 for storehouse.

ZEELAND HIGH TO BE IN STATE CONTEST

Zeeland high school will be represented in the state oratorical contest for the first time in the history of the school on June 1st. Franklin Rynbrandt, speaking for Zeeland, has won the sub-district contest at Grand Rapids early in April. On May 2nd he won the district contest at Kalamazoo and by virtue of the victory he will represent the southwestern quarter of Michigan in the final contest for state championship honors. The Zeeland high school is justly proud of the splendid showing made by Mr. Rynbrandt and have great hopes he will bring back a gold medal for himself and great glory for his school. The place of the contest has not been announced.

DOMINIE DID NOT PAY A FINE

In the list of those who paid $2.70 for not allowing their light to shine while parking their cars on dark streets, it is evident that the name of Rev. J. H. Brugger should not have been included.

The car that was not parked according to law was at one time the property of Rev. Brugger, but was recently purchased by Arnold Branderhorst who is the offending party.

The police had no records of the transfer and simply took down the number of the car and charged the offense against the name of the owner who took out the license, every one of these being recorded in the state record.

FAIRMEN KICK BECAUSE INSULTING MOTORISTS DIG UP FLOWERS ON LAND

A Crockery farmer informs us that a large party in automobiles came to his farm, past his home, and went to his rear wood lot and came back with several bushel baskets, filled with bulbs with their roots, and insultingly informed the owner that they had procured these flowers year after year from these woods and proposed to continue doing so because that particular tract was not fenced. We suggest that the owner of these woods post several signs forbidding trespassing, and if these forbidding persons come next year take the numbers of their autos, which he should have done this year, and convince them that they are not owning that farm and that the actual owner really has some rights.

Henry Mulder, a well known local base ball fan and pool player, has returned to Holland after an absence of six months in the Netherlands. Mr. Mulder reports that real beer is eight cents, American money per bottle in the Netherlands is ten cents a drink. Work is scarce in the Netherlands now, he says, and living expenses high. He expressed the opinion that although he is a native of the Netherlands, Holland, Michigan, is good enough for him.

MANY HOLLAND HIGH GRADUATES NOW AT ANN ARBOR

The 1923 U. of M. Annual, Michiganian, which has been reserved for the School library shelves, contains the cuts of nine seniors who are graduates of Holland High school. The Engineering course lists Wm. A. Brown, Ed Wolfert, Harold Slag and George M. Golds. The literary course graduates Harold Golds, Architectural, Mary Hunt; Dental, Chester Sulkers.

The two seniors receiving special mention are Harold C. Hunt and Franklin Cappon. Cappon's record in athletics has been so remarkable that he is one of the "Seniors Selected by the Student Council" and he is also found under "We owe our praise to these who gave their best for Michigan." Four "snaps" of the M. A. C. Michigan game contain references to his prowess and his basketball record is also noted. Perhaps the greatest honor Cappon has attained is election to Michiganian—a most worthy honor to any man.

Harold C. Hunt graduates from the Educational Department, and has won an enviable place among his fellows. He has been elected to five honorary fraternities, has served for three years on the staff of the Michiganian Daily, was corresponding secretary of the Student Council, class president his Junior year, upper class advisor, a member of the under class conduct committee and is mentioned as interested in several other activities.

Harold Hunt was Mayor of the School in 1919, and Chester Sulkers was chief of police for one year.

Undergraduate Michigan students from Holland are also making good records, and are bringing credit to their "Dear old Holland High."

WINS HONORS AT OBERLIN COLLEGE

Mr. Harlan M. Hungerford, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Hungerford of 54 E. Twentieth street, and a member of the junior class at Oberlin College, has won a place thru competition on the varsity track squad.

Under the direction of the department of Physical Education at Oberlin an ideal is fostered which might be expressed as follows: Every man in college taking part in some form of athletic sport all the year round.

The result of this system has been the development of genuine intramural athletics on a very comprehensive scale. Games are arranged between dormitories, boarding houses, men's clubs, various organizations on the campus, the different classes, and from the ranks of these players gradually emerge through long and vigorous competition candidates for the Varsity teams. The result is that competition for berths on the Varsity is always at high tension and all those who win the opportunity to secure the coveted Oberlin "O" are certain to be Oberlin's picked athletes.

HOLLAND SUGAR CO. MAKES FINE PROGRESS

The Holland-St. Louis Sugar Co. is sending out notices to its stockholders stating the firm is on a better financial basis than at any time during the past two years. The definition period after the war hit beet sugar companies hard and the loss was staggering, and while no dividends will be paid, but are promised at an early date, the company is making up its losses rapidly. The report also shows the following figures: Operating profit for the year, $336,353.82; present deficit subject to adjustment of depreciation, $40,573.57. PECULIAR ACCIDENTS AT NEW GRONINGEN

While playing in a swing in the barn of Gerrit Riemersma, at New Groningen, four miles east of Holland waiting for the rain to stop, Miss Hazel Brouwer fell and broke her right arm. The pole to which the rope was attached, also fell down on Hazel's neck and bruised her face and body. She will be confined to her home the rest of the school term. The telephone of E. Bolman was burned out during the electrical storm and two pictures were burned. Louis Mannes also of New Groningen had a narrow escape being but a few feet from a telephone pole when it was struck by lightning.

THESE HOLLAND BIRDS ARE GOOD LAYERS

Northland farms of Grand Rapids again moved nearer the lead in the M. A. C. egg contest when their White Leghorn pen finished the 28th week with a total of 1,100 eggs, only 129 in the rear of E. E. Shaw's Leghorn pen. O. S. Thompson's White Leghorn pen from Allen holds third place with 1,073 eggs. Brummers' Poultry Farm of Holland was the first heavy breed entry to pass the 1,000 mark, its Plymouth Rock pen ending the week with 1,022 eggs. Others from Holland among the winners are: Robert Christophel, 899 eggs; Aconas, A. R. Van Raalte, 688 eggs.

ALLEGAN MILKERS ARE MILKED, THEY CLAIM

At a heated meeting of the Allegan County Milk Producers' association in Strydomers house at Allegan Saturday, the more than 700 members present voted not to accept less than $2.20 a hundredweight for milk during June. This will be a raise of 40 cents over the May price, $1.80. During some of the winter months the price was around $2. The Overton Creamery which operated a creamery and condensary at Allegan, is the purchaser.

The milk producers whose association claims a membership of 1,000, declare that if the Overton Co. refuses to pay $2.20 an outside market will be found for the milk.

Sharp replies were made at the meeting to reported claims of the creamery concern that profits do not justify payment of higher prices and that the company has even operated at a loss during some of the months. Counsel for the Allegan County Milk Producers' association was present at the meeting, as were also other official investigators, and figures were produced to support the milk producers' contention that the company while claiming poverty, has been milking the milk producers for rich profits.

It was declared that the creamery concern, in its statements to investment house officials, had claimed the monthly profits which would almost be regarded as acceptable yearly returns by many investors. Claims alleged to have been made to the investment house of Corrigan, Hilliker & Corrigan of Grand Rapids were quoted by the milk producers.

President Glen Overton of the creamery firm, who had been expected home from a globe trotting tour on Friday, has not yet arrived. Mr. Overton has been investigating a foreign market for condensed milk for a national association. He is known in Allegan as a man foursquare and no doubt upon his return the ire of the milkers will have subsided somewhat and the matter straightened out by him.

GETS GOLD WATCH AFTER

TEACHING 25 YEARS

Albert Johnson, sr., of Zeeland has the unusual record of being a Sunday school teacher in the North street Reformed church for the past 25 years. The 25th anniversary of Mr. Johnson was celebrated at his home and he was presented with a gold watch by the Men's Adult Bible class.

HAS SPLENDID RECORD

AT U. OF MICHIGAN

In addition to Harold Hunt and Franklin Cappon whose names were given Friday as Holland men honored at the University of Michigan, Arthur Van Duren, son of Att. and Mrs. Arthur Van Duren, was also honored. His picture also appeared in the Michigan Manual. Mr. Van Duren graduates with high honors, having maintained the high standing of "A" during his college course. Mr. Van Duren is also a Holland High school graduate.

SPEAKER MAKES PLEA FOR WORLD PEACE

The W. C. T. U. meeting of Friday at the home of Mrs. N. Hofstede was given to a peace program. The devotionals led by Mrs. James Weyer and the address by Prof. P. E. Hinkamp were along the line of universal peace.

The world war has been so disastrous that we are frightened at the thought of another war with increased ways of destruction. The speaker contrasted the supposed benefits of war—as an excitement or tonic, discipline, team-work, increase of territory, the spread of blessings of civilization, with the decided evils of war, as physical and mental suffering, moral harm, loss of life and money. These supposed benefits can be cultivated in peaceful ways of life and arbitration is the only just way to settle difficulties. He further said the women could do a great deal in promoting peace: children should be taught the evils of war, counter enthusiasm stimulated, friendships along lines of relief work and of Y. M. C. A. service and Christian brotherhood lies the peace of the world.

Mrs. Champion and Mrs. Koolker rendered two songs "Spring Song" and "Lady Moon" accompanied by Mrs. C. Shaw. Two new members were reported. The committee on refreshments were Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Vander Meulen and Mrs. Kingsbury.

HENRY "WORKS

AND PRAYS"

Henry Ford spends at least an hour every night in prayer, according to a statement made in a lecture at Kalamazoo Thursday evening by the Rev. William Stidger, pastor of St. Mark's church, Detroit, a close personal friend of the automobile manufacturer.

Lamenting that more people do not know the real, human Ford, the Rev. Stidger declared Mr. Ford is passionately devoted to the Bible, which he carries with him wherever he goes and dog-eared from cover to cover with constant usage.

"Mr. Ford," he said, "doesn't care for political power and is not seeking any political office, but if the people called him to service he probably would respond."

Henry Rubinski, 80, and a resident of Muskegon since 1866, was made a citizen of the United States Wednesday in the Ottawa county circuit court. For many years he has operated a scrap material business there. Joseph A. Death, prominent business and club man of Muskegon, Louis and Joseph Simon of Ravenna and Frank Thacher, Ravenna druggist, also were admitted. Mrs. Myrtle Amy Anderson, born a citizen and who has always lived in the United States, was naturalized. This was necessary because she married an alien prior to last September, thereby becoming an alien as well.

DUTCH PLANT FOOD INDUSTRY STARTS HERE

A new industry that has been recently started in this city is the Dutch Plant Food Laboratories. The organizers of this company are C. L. Mueller, Jacob Boes, Luke Stegink, Benj. Stegink, William Koop and Henry Koop. The company is located on the second floor of the Holland Rusk Co. building and is manufacturing and marketing a device for distributing lawn and garden fertilizer by means of an ordinary garden hose.

The principle which forms the basis of this method of distributing a chemical fertilizer originated with Mr. Mueller, who is at present in the Southwest making arrangements for the sale and marketing of the device and the chemical cartridges that are used in operating it. Other members of the firm are engaged in the local plant manufacturing outfits for distribution and are finding the daily demand greater than they can fully supply.

The device consists of a brass coupling that can be attached to the hose or sprinkler and in this coupling is placed the combination of chemicals in cartridge form, specially designed and manufactured by machinery in the local plant. This cartridge is a combination in concentrated form of nitrogen, phosphoric acid, potash and other chemicals which form the chief component parts of any first class fertilizer. The action of the water passing through the hose causes the cartridge to dissolve and thus the fertilizer can be applied to the lawns and gardens in any quantity desired. The cheapness of this method especially recommends it as the outfit are being sold for less than $2.

Another product of this company is a plant life tablet made up of the same chemicals with the addition of an insect destroying chemical. These tablets when planted among the roots of a plant cause rapid growth and development of plant life in outdoor gardens and house plants and prevent plant destroying insects, worms and bugs from operating.

Those who have given these products a trial are thoroughly convinced that many of the problems of the lawnkeepers and plant growers have been solved by the simple device put out by the local company. It is not known that fertilizer in this form has ever been applied to lawns and gardens and it is in the form and manner of its application, cleanly, cheaply and at the same time thoroughly that the advantages and value of the new method lies.

SOMETHING TO DO BESIDES KEEPING BOOKS

There is something else they can do besides keep books. Jennie Mulder very kindly opened her home to them for a general good time, and they certainly had it too.

It was just a year ago that Jennie was made head of this Holland Dutch Company department, and her girls can all say they have found her to be as capable a hostess as she is a "boss."

"OOTIE" was the game of the evening and they proved themselves adept cartoonists as well as "dice shakers." Madge Mulder captured the prize with twelve bugs to her credit, while Shorty Wanroy needed sympathy with four animals. By the noise they made, all the neighbors thought a wedding was in progress and came for a treat.

A dainty two course luncheon was served, and here another accomplishment came to light. Jennie can cook, too.

A startling revelation of their past, present and future was disclosed by one of the members and they learned a lot of things too.

Music closed the evening and Jennie was voted a model "Boss" and hostess. Those who enjoyed her hospitality were: "Beans" De Koster, "Porky" Vanden Belt, "Retta" Zoereman, "Leet" Harmsen, "Si" Kasten, "Nicky" Bouwman, "Timmer" Mike Meyer, "Mag" Mulder, "Gracie" Dykstra, "Bussies", "Dot" Blocker, "Leen" Marcuse, "Shorty" Wanroy, "Dena" Bos, Mary Folkert.

HOW CITY OF MIAMI MUCKED OCEAN FOR HER HOME PORT

The steamship E. G. Crosby, formerly the City of Miami, which returned to Lake Michigan a few days ago to ply between Grand Haven, Muskegon and Milwaukee, after an absence of six years, encountered some very heavy weather and also crashed thru some bad ice fields when on its way back to the lakes. The manner in which it stood upon which the present owners are at sea on salt water, was also a point upon which the present owners congratulating themselves.

The oil burning steamer was purchased by the government in 1917 for use as a dispatch troop ship between England and France in cross channel service. Its 24 to 26 mile hour speed made it just right for this work and it was taken to Boston and put into shape. When the armistice was signed the steamer was purchased by the Havana-American Steamship Co. and was reconditioned and put into service as a passenger and freight carrier between Havana, Tampa and Miami. The steamer made a great number of trips between the southern ports and Cuba during the years 1921 and 1922 during which time all kinds of weather was encountered.

On April 7th it steamed out of Miami harbor with a full passenger list bound for New York. Heavy seas and a gale were encountered off Cape Hatteras but in spite of this the boat arrived in New York on the 10th of April. Clearing New York for Milwaukee on April 26, the liner made Halifax on the 29th of April and found that the Canadian government reported an impassable barrier of ice blocking the entrance into the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Capt. F. A. Dority determined to take a shot at going through and after smashing across two ice fields he entered Quebec twelve hours ahead of a Cunard liner that had six hours start on the City of Miami. An Anchor-Donaldson liner that had a 48 hour start was beaten into Quebec by eight hours. This is quite a sailing record for both ship and skipper when compared to the big ocean boats that the City of Miami was sailing against.

The E. G. Crosby is manned by a complement of officers all of whom hold "captain's" papers and who have all been in command of deep sea vessels at one time or another. They are: J. F. Johnson, first officer; H. J. Surges, second officer and L. M. Munson, third officer.

GRAND HAVEN EDUCATOR TO LEAVE HIS $6000 JOB

Lawrence, H. Vanden Berg, superintendent of Grand Haven schools tendered his resignation to the school board of Grand Haven Thursday at noon at a meeting of that body. The superintendent will leave before the 10th of July to take the presidency of the New York State Normal school at New Platz, N. Y.

Well liked by everyone and a man whose work along educational lines has been above criticism, Superintendent Vanden Berg's departure is regretted by all Grand Haven people. Those who know him, however, will rejoice that his reward for true merit has at last come with the appointment to such an excellent post as the one at New Platz.

Mr. Vanden Berg is well known in Holland, appearing here before several audiences. He is an able speaker and recently was given an increase in salary to $6000 by the Grand Haven Board of Education.

CARP CAUGHT IN WEEDS ARE KILLED WITH CLUBS

Ludington, May 26.—An unusual kind of fishing is yielding prodigious results in Pere Marquette river, swollen by the recent rains to a height greater than known in 20 years. Big carp, tangled in the weeds of the swamps are being taken by men and boys. They wade in the shallow water and use club to stun the fish. One small crew in a row boat, Wednesday captured eight carp that weighed 121 pounds. Carp are recognized as the enemy of game fish, feeding on the young trout.

GIRL WHO IS TO WED HOLLAND MAN HONORED

The teachers of the primary department of the First Reformed church at Grand Haven entertained on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Irene Boongaard of Fourth street. The affair was given in honor of Miss Harriet V. Baker, whose marriage to Tunis W. Prins of Holland will be a lovely event in early June. The decorations were carried out in a combination of pink and white color with bouquets of flowers in corresponding shades. Miss Baker was presented with a beautiful silver tea set. About twenty of Miss Baker's friends and chums were present.

HOLLAND MERCHANTS' TEAM ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The Holland Merchants' Baseball team held a real practice Friday night at the Water Works park and the material which was out for practice surely looks as though Holland will have a live Merchants team.

After the practice a short meeting was held and the following officers were elected for the coming year: Captain Dr. R. M. Waltz; manager, Raymond Knoothuizen; sec'y-treas., Edward Brouwer.

IOWA STUDENT WINS CONTEST ON FRIDAY NIGHT

John Dethmers of Orange City, Ia., won first place in the annual Raven Oratorical contest at Hope college, Friday evening. There were seven participants and the contest was the best for many years. Orations dealt with various thoughts of the day, discussing such subjects as World Peace, the Ku Klux Klan and the American Home.

Mr. Dethmers spoke on the subject of "The Distance Beckons." His message was on the futility of war. "Three things are necessary for the securing and maintenance of world peace," he said, "world-wide education for peace, world-wide disarmament and a world court of justice and arbitration." The winner had a very forcible delivery and pleasant stage appearance.

Second honors went to Harvey De Weerd of Holland on the subject, "The Fallacy of Force." Mr. De Weerd had a very eloquent address against the use of force as a means of having peace. Leonard De Moor of Kalamazoo won third place with the oration entitled "A Beguiled Nation." This speaker had a very thoughtful speech defending our courts of justice.

The winner in the Raven contest will be Hope's representative next year in the state oratorical contest. Miss Agnes Buikema who won in the Women's contest two weeks ago will represent the local institution in the ladies contest of the M. O. L. The state contest will be held in Holland. Both of the local representatives are at present members of the Sophomore class. They promise to be as strong contestants as Hope has sent into the contest for several years and every student is anticipating a double victory in March, 1924.

Each table was adorned with high centerpiece also made up of carnations and the whole was very pleasing to the eye. Thruout the feasting the Colonial orchestra furnished the music.

CHIEF OF POLICE LETS LOOSE HIS TURTLES

Chief Van Ry has gone to his turtle pen and has hauled out 29 large ones, painted them pure white, and is now carting them to the dangerous street intersections where they will remind motorists to keep to the right and to make the proper turn.

When a driver sees a turtle in the street he naturally slows up and this in itself prevents many avoidable collisions at congested street intersections.

Mr. Van Ry has also had the parking zones and stalls on 8th and River street repainted and in the large zones where no cars are to appear on these two thoroughfares large white letters on the pavement three-feet long are painted.

No one can miss seeing these unless struck with blind staggers.

The chief relates a very laughable case in which a farmer from Hamilton parked near a fire hydrant which is against the ordinance. First the farmer could have seen the sign on the hydrant in large letters, second he could have seen the zoning parks forbidding parking near that hydrant.

Third, directly in front of his nose was an iron sign, "no parking by order of police." Still the farmer had one wheel of his "Lizzie" against the hydrant and the other directly in front of the police sign and he still failed to observe it.

He was arrested and fined and now has his lesson learned.

NEARLY ALL TEACHERS ENGAGED FOR THE COMING YEAR

Holland will have its full quota of teachers next fall when the schools open for the 1923-24 school year after the summer vacation. With the exception of two or three places all the vacancies have already been filled, although the end of the school year is still some weeks off. Sup. E. E. Fell has been busy getting a line on teachers and he has succeeded in securing the candidates for the various positions who, it is expected, will fill the bill admirably.

There were not as many vacancies this year as is sometimes the case and that fact made the task of the superintendent easier. Some of this year's teachers will leave for other places and others may leave for other reasons, but the total number is not large. Most of the teachers have found Holland a pretty good place to work in and will return next year.

The grave has been neglected so long that Sexton Vande Water, who has been caretaker for a score of years does not know exactly where the grave is. In order that the grave may be included in the plot a larger number of lots were taken which could not help but include the grave of the old lady.

NEW SPORTING GOODS STORE IS ORGANIZED

Monday night in the city hall a group of over 75 citizens met and organized a corporation to be known as "Ollie's Inc." The corporation will operate the store located at 10 West 8th street directly east of Kulte's new building, and will carry a complete line of sporting goods and cigars.

The stockholders of the new enterprise are mostly men who are interested in hunting, fishing and other outdoor sports. Also among them are many of Holland's leading manufacturers who will lend their support toward boosting and making a big success of Holland's new sporting goods store.

The corporation is capitalized at $15,000 and all the stock is subscribed. Monday night articles of association and by-laws were adopted, and directors elected. The following are the directors and officers:

A big opening day will be announced later on when all will be invited to visit Holland's new store.

THE FRUIT BELT IS IN BLOSSOM AGAIN

There is not the usual difficulty this year about securing flowers for Memorial Day that is often experienced in other years. Often most of the early spring flowers have ceased blooming by the latter part of May, but this year the season is so late that the flowers are in their full bloom and freshness. Lilacs as a rule bloom early in May, but this year they did not begin blooming until after the middle of the month, and the same thing is true of many other flowers.

The orchards in the Western Michigan Fruit Belt are also later in blooming than in other years. Cherries have been in bloom for some time and in many cases have stopped blossoming, but most of the other fruit trees are now in bloom. The apple trees are white with blossoms and there is no more beautiful sight just now than a trip through the fruit belt.

STATE DON'T PAY US WOODCHUCK BOUNTIES

Valiant Michigan hunters are now waiting for their bounties on more than a quarter million woodchucks killed prior to the 1921 legislative session when the state decided that 25 cents was too steep a price to put on the head of the little rodent. Auditor General Fuller in a recapitulation of the delinquent bounty claims of counties has found that they call up on the state to pay damages for the deaths of exactly 267,000 woodchucks.

Altogether the woodchuck claims call for an outlay of $70,775, some of them originating when the bounty was 50 cents a head and some when the bounty was 25. Other delinquent bounty claims on noxious animals aggregate $18,453, the total due the counties for which the legislature has provided being $89,228.

HOLLAND MAN SAW BULL FIGHTS WHILE VISITING IN SPAIN

Harry Raffenaud of this city had many curious experiences in his life as a sailor on the seven seas before making his living by plying his own vessel along the shores of Lake Michigan. Holland being his home port.

Among some of his travels are adventures in Spain. While at Seville he witnessed fights which many people would like to see but which he sees because they are not practiced in this country. Among the scenes Mr. Raffenaud witnessed time and again were bull fights. Some people think bull fighting is a cruel sport, but it is really an art, Mr. Raffenaud said. He stated people have been misinformed in regard to these fights.

Describing the fight he said that there are many ways of fighting, some of which are by means of horse back, on foot, or with a lion. Most of the fighting is done on horse, which are not very beautiful but are very fast. The men are armed with long lances on which there is a red flag, their legs are covered with boots which extend to the hips. The bull is enraged by being goaded when he enters the arena by having little steel bars thrown into his flesh, on which are small red flags, which he can see. Mr. Raffenaud says that sometimes there are as many as 20 horses killed before the bull is conquered. He has also seen the fighters fight on foot, this method being very much more dangerous than the others and as a result many men are killed. He has also seen them wrestle with bulls which is one of the most difficult feats that a man can perform in the art of bull fighting. Bull wrestling is an art and every one should know more about the subject, he thinks.

Holland is to have a bull wrestling match between a man and a bull at the Colonial theater Wednesday and Thursday and with all authority that can be gotten the wrestling match is real and not a faked picture as the people who have seen the real thing will all tell.

LARGE NEW DRUG STORE NOW OPEN

A large force of men have been working for the last two nights moving over the Rexall Drug store of Jake Haan from the Kremer building on East 8th street to the corner store in the McBride Building on River avenue and 8th street.

For the past two months, carpenters, decorators and electricians have been busy to put in the new fixtures and the Rexall store can now be considered as one of the most up-to-date drug emporiums in Western Michigan.

The beautiful dark fixtures are in Wisconsin Mahogany and are the latest design with show cases against the wall leaving considerable more floor space for customers. The latest and most expensive in the way of a soda fountain has also been installed. In this drug store there will be no counters with high stools, but all the service will be at tables, eight of them being available. Mr. Haan states that he has retained two pretty young ladies who will dispense the celebrated Hoekstra cream, using it in all the delicate dishes that are usually found around a soda fountain.

William C. Eby who for twelve years has been a drug dispenser and who for the last seven years has been in the chemical laboratory of the De Pree company has resigned his position there and as a result of all the prescriptions in the drug store.

Mr. Haan states that a registered pharmacist will always be on the job in order to insure the proper drug portions.

The company will also put in a checking system where parcels may be checked, and a corner is also set aside where bundles are wrapped up by a bundle boy.

Mr. Haan has associated with him, Peter Houseman of Grand Rapids, who although not being active, has taken a financial interest in the drug business.

The new drug store is now open for inspection and the newly organized company invites the citizens of Holland to take a look.

AN INTERESTING LETTER FROM MRS. L. M. THURBER NOW IN THE PHILIPPINES

Mrs. L. M. Thurber, who is spending some time with her daughter in the Philippine Islands, wrote an interesting letter to the Women's Literary Club, of which she was formerly a member. The letter was read at last Tuesday's meeting and was found of so much general interest that the request was made that it be printed in the local press for the benefit of the public. The letter follows:

Manila, Philippine Islands.
To my dear Friends, 10,000 miles away.

Greetings:

More than six months I left you, my home friends for new scenes and experiences and I surely have enjoyed many new sights and adventures. The strongest impressions have been the vastness of this globe of ours and the many races and kinds of people that occupy it.

I left San Francisco with my daughter Theo and her infant son, August tenth on the China Mail, a sturdy comfortable boat bound for Hong Kong and carrying about one hundred first class passengers of whom the most notable and also the most enjoyable were Sherwood Eddy, wife and daughter and also his brother Brewer Eddy formerly a minister in the east who is accompanying his brother in a trip around the world in the interests of the Y. M. C. A. and Missions. At least one-half of the passengers were missionaries and their families returning from their furloughs to their various fields of work or just starting out as teachers or students and were bound for various stations in Japan, China or India and represented the Methodist, Presbyterian, Congregationalist, Christian, Adventist and Episcopal Churches. We heard many interesting descriptions of their work and experiences and not a few theological discussions. Mr. Eddy gave them many helpful talks emphasizing especially that their work was to preach God and to forget their particular creeds and differences of opinion but to join hands and work with all who are uplifting the world out of darkness and heathenism. Bible readings and inspirational talks in the social hall each day were helpful and interesting. There were several good musicians aboard who were generous with their concerts, a good library, swimming tank, athletic games, including shuffleboard, evening parties which with dancing, Bridge and MarJong relieved the monotony of the journey.

After a week of ocean travel all were glad of the opportunity to land and spend a day in beautiful Hawaii. It has well been called the Garden of Eden, with its abundance of lovely flowers, luscious fruits, and wonderful palms and other foliage. An auto ride around the island with stops at the famous Pali battle field, Waikiki Beach, where we saw the surf riders and dinner at the famous hotel made a very enjoyable day. We were decorated with floral wreaths—Leis, and left with the strains of "Aloha" ringing in our ears.

The two weeks of ocean travel from Honolulu to Yokohama seemed a "long long way." We were glad to see land again but sorry to part with the Eddy family and several other interesting passengers. We left the boat in rickshaws. It was a novel experience and I enjoyed it at first but like the sedan chairs in China they soon became tiresome. I could not resist the idea of human beings being used as beasts of burden even if they were half naked coolies.

Yokohama is the port of Tokyo and is a busy commercial and shipping city. A party of us took advantage of the 24 hours stop to make a trip to Kamakuri an hour's ride by train. The cars were similar to those used in the U. S. A. about twenty-five years ago except that the seats were arranged along each side as in some street cars. The coaches are marked first second or third class on the outside. The ride through the little villages and country where the fields looked like little gardens was most fascinating.

The old city of Kamakuri was once famous for its magnificent temples and shrines but in 1495 the buildings were all swept away by a great tidal wave, only the great bronze statue of Buddha was left. This is fifty feet high and is said to be the largest bronze figure in the world. A writer describing it says, "No other work of art gives such an impression of majesty or so truly symbolizes the central idea of Buddhism—the intellectual calm, which comes of perfect knowledge and subjugation of all passion." It is situated in a little grove near the sea. I have seen no picture that begins to do justice to the calm and repose of that wonderful face. It is called the Dai Butsu. A number of devout worshippers came while we were there, knelt and prayed and left money to be used for incense which is kept constantly burning in huge brass censers.

Another short railroad ride took us to Tokyo the Capital of Japan. We could get only a glimpse of the Imperial Palace and wonderful grounds surrounded by a stone wall and moat filled with water. There were many Shinto temples that we were allowed to enter but first had to take off our shoes, many strange and weird sights and then but a few blocks sky scrapers and other fine modern buildings of brick and stone on wide avenues that make one think of Chicago. We took dinner at the famous Imperial Hotel which was built by the government where they can entertain foreign guests. It is a wonderful building planned by an American architect. We were shown the exquisite suites where the Prince of Wales and other royalties were entertained. The people in the dining room were the most cosmopolitan I had ever seen. A different nationality represented at almost every table and each person speaking in his own language. There were several students of the University of Tokyo there to act as interpreters. A wonderful Russian Symphony Orchestra furnished music during the meal. A few hours in a city like Tokyo is only an aggravation but I was glad of this peep into one of the most interesting of cities.

I must tell you of an amusing experience I had in Tokyo. The other members of our party wished to view the imperial buildings from a different angle but I begged off as I felt rather tired and said I would wait for them in a park near by. I sat on a bank surrounded by beautiful Japanese ferns and began addressing some postcards. Absorbed in writing I did not notice what was happening about me. When I looked up there were at least twenty little Jap children within a few feet of where I sat walking around me and staring with their big black eyes and motioning to other children to come and see the curiosity. It took me several moments to realize the situation. I felt as I could imagine the fat woman in a side show at a circus—"The observed of all observers." It was a peculiar sensation. Fortunately I had some small change in my purse which I distributed and the curiosity on their faces was changed into smiles. I have found that money is a universal language.

As we entered the harbor of Yokohama we had a wonderful view of Fuji 12,000 feet high. It has been an extinct volcano for five hundred years. Nearly all the first day out we saw it also. It was a remarkably clear day and the captain told us he had never seen it so clearly. It is by far the most interesting mountain of Japan.

A funeral procession was the most peculiar sight in Kobe. We were riding in an auto and reached a cross street just as it came in sight so we were fortunate to be within a few feet as it passed. First came four men dressed in fantastic garb and carrying blue banners that were covered with writing. These four, each carrying a beautiful little evergreen tree in a tub followed by four men bearing lanterns. Next came a decorated float upon which was a table covered by a white cloth and on it plates of bananas and other fruits, cakes, cookies and candies. Next came a priest with shaven head, dressed in a white gown and riding in a rickshaw. Another priest followed who was chanting in a sonorous voice. In the next rickshaw was the widow and child both dressed in white, the widow carrying a miniature temple, beautifully carved, in her hands. Twenty-four hired mourners—women dressed in black kimonos, striking little bells and wailing as they walked. The casket made of beautifully carved wood, containing the ashes of the deceased was carried on the shoulders of four men. Then followed about a hundred relatives and friends walking. Some were crying while others were talking and laughing. It was a weird sight.

Kobe is a large commercial city with the same narrow streets and gayly decorated booths where articles are sold as in the other oriental cities. We saw many temples and shrines. The most beautiful spot was the Tor Hotel situated on a high hill and overlooking the city and harbor.

Between Kobe and Nagasaki we passed thru the famous "Inland Sea" dotted with beautiful little islands and surrounded by mountains and hills on the sides of which are pretty little villages and rice fields which are on terraces on the hillsides. Numerous fishing boats and trading schooners were plying between the islands completing a beautiful and interesting picture.

The last stop in Japan was at Nagasaki. After a ride about the city we located the Reformed Church Mission and were pleased to meet Rev. Ruigh, who is well known to many of you. He welcomed us cordially and escorted us around Steele Academy. It was the last week of vacation and the buildings were being put in shape for the opening of the school.

The rooms are attractive and commodious. We were especially interested in the attractive library which had been furnished by Mrs. Walvoord in memory of her husband. I was greatly pleased to accept an invitation to "Tiffue" with Mr. and Mrs. Ruigh and their two dear little girls in their unique Japanese home. We had a delightful visit and talked of many mutual friends in Holland.

We left Japan with regret that we could not spend months in this interesting country.

"China's teeming millions" are well named. Never have I seen such masses of humanity as are crowded in the narrow streets of the old cities of Canton and Shanghai and never before did I realize what poverty really meant. Such a contrast between bustling America and European part of Shanghai and the crowded Chinese section. The orient and occident meet and form one of the most fascinating cities in the world. We spent most of our day in an auto. "The Bund" the wide street on the water front with its large business establishments representing almost every country in the world and each decorated with its national flags made an impression I shall never forget. The French and British concessions are particularly attractive. The policemen are tall Hindoos with heavy black beards dressed in khaki and armed fex on their heads added to the general effect. Shopping in Shanghai is delightful. Such beautiful and curious articles for sale. The merchant asks over twice his price at first and you offer about half of what you expect to give, after bargaining for awhile a fair compromise is reached.

We were met in HongKong by my daughter's husband, had five days before our steamer left for Manila. This gave us a fine opportunity to see and enjoy the city. I left my family one night and took a boat about a hundred miles up the river and spent the next day in the old historic city of Canton and the Metropolis of Asia.

As you have often read this river is literally alive with boats—mostly Sampans on which families are born, live and die—not because there is not enough land as I used to think but for economy's sake. During the day the women and older children use the Sampan to ferry passengers and freight to and from the larger boats—you can imagine the dreadful noise and clamor as a number solicit your patronage at the same time—the men meanwhile have gone on shore to pick up odd jobs—perhaps pulling a rickshaw. Almost daily little children, drop over the side of a Sampan and are drowned.

The narrow, crowded streets of Canton presented the most pathetic appeal that I ever witnessed. Beggars, everywhere. Little children, who have been taught to beg before they can talk, with little emaciated bodies and the most ghastly smile holding out their tiny hands, brought tears to the eyes. It was so hard to resist their appeals but my Guide warned me not to give to anyone or in a minute I would have hundreds about me clamoring for aid. At the food stalls, women would bargain for ten or fifteen minutes before they would buy perhaps one small potato and an onion to make the family soup to eat with their rice. The vegetables were peeled before being sold and the skins given to the little pigs and chickens that are about everywhere. The Chinese are very clever at all kinds of handwork. I visited many places where they were making beautiful furniture, jewelry and fans, weaving silk and cotton goods, carving ivory and wood and pursuing many other industries. But there are millions who have no opportunity to learn trades or money to buy the raw materials. How I wish that a Henry Ford would establish a large industry in China so as to use the vast multitude of unemployed people who are able and willing to work if they only had the opportunity.

Time will not allow me to tell you of visits to wonderful temples and halls where ancestral tablets are preserved. While showing me thru a Mohammedan Mosque 2400 years old my Chinese guide said "We all worship same God. Some in Buddha's way—some Mohammed's way—some Christian way but all same God". I walked on the old Chinese wall that is being torn down and saw many curious and interesting things but nothing could blot out the pictures of disease, filth and misery that had impressed me at first.

It was a relief to return to Hong Kong. A decided contrast to Canton. Hong Kong is a monument to the energy and enterprise of the British. In fifty years, what was a barren inhospitable island, inhabited by a few ignorant fisher folk, has become a magnificent city—the trade and tourist center of the far East. Its rugged and precipitous hillsides have been parked and terraced and are now the sites of great business houses and beautiful homes. The streets are wide and well kept, the street cars comfortable for white people. The "Queen's Own" regiment of British soldiers are very much in evidence and give one a feeling of security. The Chinese, of course constitute the bulk of the population and altho they are scantily clad they are much more prosperous than in the other places we visited. The immense shipping business gives work to multitudes.

After thirty-four days of travel the fine Pacific liner "President McKinley" brought us to the beautiful harbor of Manila Bay where hundreds of boats are constantly to be seen coming from every part of the world. At present the entire American Asiatic fleet is anchored here.

The Philippine Islands were discovered by Magellan in 1521. He erected a cross and took possession of them in the name of the King of Spain, Philip II. They were named for him—Philippines. The natives were Malays and were friendly to the Spaniards. They were cultivating rice and bread fruit. They had coconuts, oranges and bananas citron and ginger. The warm climate and the food appealed to the Spaniards. Conquest and colonization followed. As in her other colonies, her great desire was to plant the Catholic faith and by the end of the Sixteenth Century there were more than four hundred missionary priests in the islands and churches were built in all the settlements.

The unselfish devotion of these early missionaries resulted in the rapid spread of Christianity among the Filipinos. Schools were established by the priests and in 1601 the College of San Jose was founded by the Jesuits in Manila. For nearly four hundred years the islands were under Spanish dominion. Gradually the character of the priests in charge became changed. They began to get possession of valuable land and Spain used the islands for her own gain. Between unscrupulous governors and friars the poor Filipinos were in a sorry plight. Revolts and revolutions occurred with but little success and it was a happy day for the islands when Dewey rescued them from Spanish control.

The old walled city surrounded by a moat is a relic of the past. There are still standing twelve old stone cathedrals and churches several of them built in the Seventeenth century and in a good state of preservation today. I had the pleasure of visiting several of them on Christmas eve during the celebration of the impressive midnight mass. Each of these churches was crowded to the doors with worshippers kneeling on the stone floors.

Spain has implanted many of her national traits in the Filipino people. They are religious, courteous, very demonstrative, they like to dress well, are not fond of work and much given to oratory.

When the United States took possession of the Islands, thirty-five different dialects were spoken in the different provinces and the people could not understand each other. It had been the policy of the Spaniards to keep the people ignorant in order to control them easier. Upon recommendation of the commission sent out by President McKinley, splendid schools have been established thruout the islands in which the English language is used entirely so in another generation the language will be pretty well diffused and people in different provinces able to communicate with each other. The United States has brought many blessings to the Filipinos. A fine public school system; good sanitation, pure water, clean streets have combined to rank Manila with the best American cities in its health record notwithstanding the high temperature.

The Governor General and Vice Governor are appointed by the President of the United States also nine Justices of the Supreme Court, five of whom are Americans and four Filipinos. A Senate and house of Representatives form a governing body similar to our own, the members of which are Filipinos elected by the people. The Governor General has similar duties and power as the President of the United States.

Governor General Wood has been a God-send to this country. His wise judgment, his personal interest and his wide knowledge of the people and their needs has enabled him to stabilize the government and finances that were in a very unsatisfactory condition when he was appointed. He is very highly esteemed by the Filipinos as well as Americans.

The Filipino women seem superior to the men. I was much interested the past week in attending a session of the National Federation of Women's clubs held here. The delegates came from every province in the islands all Filipinos. The meeting was presided over by a graduate of Columbia University, now a teacher in the University of the Philippines, with as much grace and ability as in our own state conventions. There were a hundred delegates all dressed in the national costume, many wearing diamonds and pearls, all with loose leaf note books and fountain pens or ever-sharp pencils. The reports from the different clubs were given concisely by the little dark women, in broken English of course, but they showed such a desire for improvement and progress that you could not help but admire them.

The all-important question here is—Independence. For so many years the people were kept under complete subjugation by the Spaniards. Where the revolt finally came it was with the idea of independence. The people have never forgotten it. Altho they appreciate in a way that the United States will still protect them with their army and navy when they have no power or authority in the government. The Filipinos are learning but they are not ready to stand alone.

As you can see there are many things of interest here. Manila is a very hospitable city and life is gay. During holiday week the big league baseball players were here and incidentally we were pleased to renew our acquaintance with Johnnie LaVan. Two weeks ago the big Cunard Steamer "Laconia" was in port for three days on her trip around the world. The four hundred and fifty passengers were splendidly entertained. This last week a party of one hundred consisting of Shriners and their families came to initiate a class of fifty-one in their mysteries. They have the keys of the city and much is being done for their pleasure.

We hear the "Star Spangled Banner" sung each morning in a nearby school; the streets in the newer parts of the city are named for the different States and the two wide boulevards are "Taft" Avenue and "Dewey" Boulevard. The passenger steamers are named for the Presidents of the United States and they each bring in people from the homeland so it is hard to realize that we are so far away. We welcome the Holland City News and devour all the items even if they are a month old, then pass them on to Miss Grace Mills who, you remember used to teach music in the Holland schools and is now stationed at Holo, on an island south of here. We were so glad to have a visit from her last month. Sherwood Eddy, wife and daughter spent Christmas week in the city, preaching our Christmas sermon and giving one of his splendid lectures besides inspiring and encouraging the missionaries and Y. M. C. A. workers here. Many have told me how disappointed they were that Dr. S. Zwemer had to change his plans and omit his promised visit here. We hope that our loss was some one else gain.

I have given you just a few impressions of the many varied experiences that I have met with since I saw you. Do not neglect an opportunity to visit the orient. You will never regret it. With kind regards to each and every member of the Club I am,

Sincerely yours,
LOUISE M. THURBER.

MISSIONARY WRITES A LIFE OF CHRIST TO USE IN JAPAN

Dr. A. Pieters, missionary to Japan for many years, is writing "A Life of Christ" for the Japanese and to be used in advancing the spread of the gospel in that country. Dr. Pieters is in America on account of illness of members of his family and while here he is at work on this task in the interest of missions. He has for many years been an advocate of newspaper evangelism in Japan and the "Life of Christ" will be another way of letting the printing press help the missionary in his work.

Dr. Pieters recently received a call from the Reformed church at Portage, Michigan, which he has declined so that he may devote all his attention to his book.

When You Build An Expressive House You'll Practice Coue'ism Every Day

In what way could you say to yourself: "I'm getting better and better," more forcibly than by building your best ideas into a house and then living in it?

Nearly everyone, and particularly the physicians, are speaking of Coue, as one of the greatest helpers humanity has seen in a century. We all know that auto-suggestion has an almost unbelievable power -- that we can make ourselves happy at will, if we practice enough auto-suggestion.

So why not suggest good things to ourselves in a house, and live with those good ideas all the time.

It doesn't cost anymore to express yourself when you build if you permit our Planning Department to take your thoughts and put them into practical form. The fact is we are in a position to save you a lot of money.

We select the lumber as well as all the other materials from our own yards. We cut and form with our own machinery and men in our own mills. We erect the house with our own trained men. And when we turn the keys over to you, we are responsible to you for every stick of lumber and workmanship -- the house complete.

No matter what your plans are, you could not build more economically. Nor could you be so well protected with respect to quality all the way through.

The Midwest Utilitor is beyond question one of the most important implements ever devised, because it will enable you to easily do twice as much at half the expense and in half the time. This little wonder will plow, harrow, cultivate, mow hay, rake, mow lawns, pull wagons and light road scraper. In fact do any and everything a horse can do. MARTIN-SENOUR MONARCH PAINT

100% PURE

The Power of Paint

Nobody questions the power of paint to protect property from decay and ruin.

When you place insurance you look into the resources of the Company. When you buy paint look into the ingredients that determine its power of service.

Few people ask for adulterated White Lead when they want to paint. Ask for Pure White Lead more conveniently prepared and ground with a proper amount of Zinc in Pure Lined Oil—that is Monarch Paint.

Zinc will make it last longer and hold its color. The spreading quality of Martin-Senour Monarch Paint 100% Pure is remarkable.

HOLLAND MEN GUESTS OF THE GRAND HAVEN CAMP

The Holland camp of the Spanish War Veterans and four members of the G. A. R. of Holland were the guests of the Grand Haven Camp of the Spanish War Veterans on Friday evening. Other camps represented at the big meeting in the Grand Haven armory were Muskegon and Grand Rapids. The Holland men went to the county seat over the Pike in automobiles and they report a glorious time. The four members of the G. A. R. who attended the meeting had a combined age of 312 years, but in spite of their age they took their part well in the celebration and were as full of high spirits as the younger men.

Tables were set in the large armory for more than three hundred men, and when all crowded into the hall the places were not sufficient so that some emergency places had to be provided for. But all were finally accommodated and the spirits of the men were all the higher because they had to crowd together a little.

It was a fish supper and the men from Holland declare that never before have they been so well feasted on fish in spite of the fact that they live in a town where fish is plentiful. The Grand Haven hosts provided all the fish that all the three hundred and more hungry men could eat and then some. And the fish had been prepared tastily. All in all it was a meeting that the members of the local Spanish War camp and the four members of the G. A. R. will not soon forget.

After the banquet speeches were indulged in, Mr. Hulzenga of the Grand Haven camp being the toastmaster. Commander Eugene Gardu of the Holland Camp responded to a toast for Holland.

BIBLE CLASSES MEET FRIDAY NIGHT

The attendance at the meeting of the Woman's Federation of Bible classes at Third church was gratifying and the addresses inspiring and helpful. Rev. G. B. Fleming spoke on "Taking a chance for Jesus sake," urging personal evangelism in the home, the Sunday School and the world. He illustrated his thoughts by personal incidents and the experience of others.

Rev. S. M. Zwemer thanked the Federation for their financial support to the Christian Society for Moslems of which society he is acting secretary. Over one hundred dollars was contributed by the classes this year.

Miss Kuhl and a trio of Hope college furnished special music. A delightful social hour followed. Mrs. Gross the new president presided.

ALL FORDS LOOK ALIKE ON CASUAL EXAMINATION

Standardization has evidently reached such a stage in the development of the Ford sedan, that one Ford owner cannot tell his car from that of another. Of course occasionally some circumstance helps the delusion along but the best example of interchangeability of ownership took place in Grand Haven a few nights ago.

A Ford sedan belonging to Albert Gale and a Ford sedan owned by A. W. Ferguson were parked side by side near the State Bank building at the county seat. Mr. Ferguson evidently left first and of course he took one of the two cars and went away. Mr. Gale was the next to come out but he evidently noticed some difference which was carefully noted following an investigation. He then reported the supposed theft of his car to the police department. Discovery of the affair was made at Thielman's garage and finally the right cars were restored to the right owners. The "alike" was further enhanced by the fact that only one number is different in the license plates of each car.

RURAL STREAMS NOT PLACES TO RUMP GARBAGE

A beautiful large sedan stopped by the side of the road near a little creek on the north side. It was in a little side road and the car could not be seen from the main highway. The occupants, a well dressed man and woman, got out and began to take things from the car. An inventory of the articles dragged from the back of the sedan would make interesting reading. There was everything there that collects about the average home in the course of a winter's living. There were tomato soup cans, broken fruit jars, sardine and salmon cans and all kinds and descriptions of other cans. Then there was a considerable supply of plain ordinary garbage in bushel baskets and boxes. And some of this garbage was not by any means ordinary either but more like a consignment of limburger cheese without a wrapper around it than anything else.

The occupants of the car began industriously to dump the garbage into the creek but they were stopped by a resident of that section who informed them that that little stream was a place for cattle to drink and that self-respecting cows object to the water that is polluted with smelly garbage. Anyway the streams and bushes along the country highways are no place for garbage and other refuse of the homes in the city, he added. If city people have a garbage problem on their hands, they have no right to pass it along to the country residents but should solve it themselves, he believed.

The people in the sedan took the hint and drove away. The country resident declares that the dumping of garbage along the country roads has become a nuisance and a danger. He said that one can go a few feet into almost any clump of bushes and find a little heap of decaying garbage swarming with flies in the summer time.

The situation has become so bad that the Boosters and Boostettes of the north side have organized themselves for self-protection. A watch is being kept for those who dump garbage or refuse along the highways and arrests will follow for those who are caught.

NORTHERN OTTAWA TO BE LIGHTED BY CROCKERY CREEK

ONE MAN'S IDEA LIGHTS SEVERAL CITIES IN THIS AND MUSKEGON COUNTY

The dream of Tom Rogers, veteran newspaper man and publisher of the Conklin Enterprise of Ottawa county, and former state representative, has come true after 20 years. Today Ravenna and Conklin, two towns within five miles of one another, have light and power as a result of the harnessing of Crockery Creek, the small stream that flowed through the village.

For twenty years Mr. Rogers talked about the time when Crockery Creek would be harnessed and the water power would furnish electricity for the village. At first the other citizens only laughed and looked at the little stream which at times was nearly dry. But Rogers continued to talk about it and dream of the day when it would be dammed.

Two years ago surveys were made and engineers said the water of the creek would furnish the necessary power. Work was started and this week the lights were turned on at not only Ravenna and Conklin, but at Marne (Berlin) a neighboring town also. Poles have been set and Nuna and Walker also will have power from the waters of Crockery Creek.

In addition to the power, Ravenna today has a 20-acre lake formed by the damming of the waters of the creek. The lake has been named after Mr. Rogers. Two bees were held last summer and the lake bottom was cleaned of brush and stumps.

In addition to serving the towns, power lines have been extended into the rural districts and light and power will be furnished to many farms in northern Ottawa.

It is expected that Coopersville may also use some of the power generated at the dam in Crockery Creek, a stream that has its source in Ottawa county.

BURIES 1800 PERSONS IN QUARTER OF A CENTURY

WM. VANDE WATER, SR. IS SEXTON OF PILGRIM HOME CEMETERY

Entombing more people in his life than any other man in western Michigan, is the claim of William Vandewater, sr., sexton of the Pilgrim Home cemetery of this city. By exact count he has buried 1,800 persons during his services of nearly a century in this capacity.

Mr. Vandewater was employed as sexton in the local cemetery in 1901, which at that time consisted only of six acres. But even as the city itself has grown in population since the early days of the 20th century, naturally this last resting place of its pioneers must need be enlarged and today although not entirely filled, it covers a plot of 18 acres.

Laid Out Like a City This cemetery, called as others a city of the dead is laid out on the plan of a miniature city. It is composed of lots, each of which is numbered and the individual graves within these lots are also numbered. The place where the original small burial ground was laid out, which is now a part of the new one, is marked off with marble slabs on each corner.

The death rate, Mr. Vandewater states, is considerably lower now than it was when he first took up his duties, especially the infant mortality. From an average of 12 children dying every month as in the old days it has decreased to an average of six every three months at present.

To Retire Soon The sexton boasts that he has practically increased the bounds of the cemetery all by himself, by extending the blocks to their present position, making new walks and planting shrubs. He has taken care of more than 2,500 graves all alone until three years ago when he was given an assistant.

Through all kinds of weather, rain shine, snow and cold Mr. Vandewater has been on the job, always ready and willing to do anything, strange as the request may seem, to help some grief-stricken family. And now at the age of 74, he is thinking of soon being placed on the retired list, but hoping before that, that he may be made superintendent of the cemetery which thru his efforts, has been made into one of the most beautiful burial grounds in western Michigan.

FREE MILK SCHOOL SEEN AS AN INVESTMENT

YIELDS GOOD RETURN MUSKEGON FIGURES SHOW

Every forenoon 2,000 pupils in the Muskegon public schools are given one half pint of milk and according to M. W. Longman, superintendent, the investment yields greater returns than any other made by the schools. The superintendent produces figures to prove his statement. The figures are the monthly weight records of the pupils.

Some of the 2,000 students pay for the milk while the cost in the other cases is borne by the P-T Circle or similar organizations.

"Comparisons of the weights of the children who obtain the milk daily and those who do not represents a picture of before and after taking," says Mr. Longman. "The figures show that since September the number of children of normal weight has increased from 40% to 66%. In only a few cases did the children underweight fail to show a good gain. The younger children show the greatest gain."

The ward system is also worked to have parents aid in the work. Children of the third class are given a record card at the end of the month to take to their parents, while children in the second class, less dangerous are given a blue card. The children of normal weight are given white cards.

TWO ALLEGAN BOYS HAVE A GREAT EXPERIENCE

LOSE LIZZIE IN A TRIP TO CALIFORNIA AND RETURN

Start With $40.00 and Come Back With $75.00; Work Their Way

The Allegan Gazette gives a very interesting account of two plucky Allegan county boys who started out to tour the country going from coast to coast with a Ford car. The experiences go to show that there is still a chance for any boy as long as he applies his talents in the right direction.

Here is what the Allegan Gazette has to say:

June 21 last, Emil Schmitz and Plin Miller left for a trip through the West with $40 in money, a lot of grit, a collie dog "Jack", a Ford and some camping material. Jack and the camping material arrived as baggage Tuesday morning. The boys with $75 in cash and a lot more grit, arrived in the afternoon, via any old way. The Ford did not arrive; it is in a southern lake. The story of the trip is an odyssey of American determination and adaptability, and it must not be forgotten that Jack stuck it out too, and proved himself a hardy and uncomplaining traveler.

Bowling, Calif., was the first stop made, and here two weeks in the hay swelled the treasury. This came in hand, for the cash balance had shrunk to fifteen cents by the time Casper, Oregon, was reached, and the boys and Jack were living on onions, which the latter ate with the gusto of a true tourist. Here five weeks of hard work in the oil fields on a pipe line made possible a pleasant trip through Yellowstone park, Seattle, Washington, was the next point of interest, but financial stringency compelled a retirement to Venatche, Washington, where all hands but Jack picked apples. Burns, Oregon, provided both money and sport, for the boys found their experience with the Ford good preparation for driving mules in a road camp, and Jack came in handy with the good hunting there. Two deer were shot besides smaller game. Wild cats, which Jack did not capture, abounded. Snow put an end to the road work and after stopping in Portland, Oregon, the Ford rattled down to Corning, Calif., where olive picking was the order of the day.

For a little variety the wanderers tried work on the rice fields of the Sacramento valley. Here a great industry is growing thousands of acres being devoted to rice culture. It is said that a worthless, lazy boy, set out by his father, started the raising of rice in this valley, became a millionaire, and hired his father as a stenographer—a variant on the Sunday school stories of earlier days. Here the boys had their first bad luck. The company for whom they worked went bankrupt and they were left with depleted pocketbooks. This in itself meant little in their courageous young lives and worried them as little as it did Jack, but here they were in movie land and no money. So there was interim of work in a lumber camp near Los Angeles, where they discovered that the exceptional beauty of the young lady clerks in the stores was due to their being girls who had come west to get into the movies. The tournament of roses in Pasadena is a memory of beauty, but it is doubtful if it will be recalled as often as the time spent in Hollywood and Long Beach, where the celebrated bathing beauties lived up to their reputation.

"It was a bitter day when they headed their trusty Ford south and made for the cactus and the sage brush. Work in another road camp at Tucson, Ariz., was followed by a journey across Texas and into Mexico. The Rio Grande they found to be far from a "grand river" and could have waded across it, but on the other side in Juarez, about the size of Allegan, it was "wet" enough. Here every other building at least was a saloon, often three in a row, and all doing a flourishing business, relieving the parched citizens of the U. S. A. Whether the Ford limbed or not is not certain, but when it arrived in Ku Klux land on the way to Florida, disaster overtook it. The Mississippi was in flood, the road was covered with water, and the native was employed to draw the machine got off the track and mule and car went few days before a blast of dynamite had brot to the surface the mangled remains of the Ku Klux victims. The river kept on rising and right here the Ford disappears from the story. Incidentally Mr. Schmitz says that the whole "white terror" trouble is really a religious quarrel among the white people, and that both sides assume the clan disguise to scare and injure each other.

"Jack, the tent and other paraphernalia were here shipped as baggage to Allegan, and the boys learned the uses of the blind baggage and the technique of the brake beam, and such good "hobbies" did they prove that Jack only beat them home by half a day. And so, wiser in experience, stronger for difficulties surmounted, richer in money and in self-reliance, the pilgrims arrived.

"We grow them just as good in Allegan as they do anywhere."
