Dr. Westrate is s Named Holland' Health Officer

HALF BLOCK ON WEST 10TH STREET BECOMES BUSINESS SECTION—ALL LICENSES ALLOWED

Slip at Fifth Street to be Rebuilt to Accommodate Pleasure Crafts

There was a lot doing at Wednesday night's council meeting but in spite of this fact our able mayor handled the situation with dispatch and the session was ended by 9:15 o'clock—a great relief owing to the hot weather.

Among other things all licenses including pool room, restaurant, soft drink, bowling alleys, etc., were allowed.

Saugatuck extends an invitation to Holland city officials to visit there during their Centennial celebration, the latter part of July and without doubt the "city fathers" and others from the city hall forces will go in a body.

Dr. Wm. Westrate, Holland's able health officer was unanimously appointed to again fill that office. Mr. Westrate during his tenure in office has made an excellent official and judging by the vote accorded the doctor by the council men at Wednesday's meeting they also thought so.

A matter much in dispute for some time was whether to extend the business district west on Tenth street. The final outcome, voted for by all but two aldermen, was that a commercial zone be made of West 10th street both north and south and west from River Ave. to Hope and Methodist church properties.

All these matters and many more are fully explained in the official council proceeding found below and compiled by City Clerk Oscar Peterson.

TWO ZEELAND BROTHERS WED DURING SAME WEEK

Wednesday, May 28th, Miss Ruth L. Claver and Mr. Russell B. Karsten, both of Zeeland, were quietly married at the bride's home on West Cherry street by their pastor, Rev. R. J. Vandenberg, who pronounced the wedding ceremony. Both Mr. and Mrs. Karsten come from old prominent families in Zeeland and are popular young folks in that community.

About the same time an announcement reached Zeeland with the information that J. Gerrit Karsten, formerly of that city, and a son of Mrs. H. H. Karsten, had united in marriage with Miss Juliette Brendel, at San Francisco, Calif., on Sunday, May 25. Both young people were residents of San Francisco at the time of their marriage. J. Gerrit is a brother of Russell B. Karsten and sons of the late H. H. Karsten, the well known miller of Little Wonder Flour, many years ago.

PROMINENT RELIGIOUS LEADERS BOOKED FOR CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR ANNUAL MEETING AT HOLLAND

D. H. Vande Bunte, president of the Michigan Christian Endeavor association, has issued a call to the unions in the state to gather for the forty-second convention at Holland June 26 to 29.

Detroit won the silver loving cup by registering 114 more delegates than its quota. Quotas also have been reached by Golden Chain, Flint, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids and Muskegon unions.

As one of the smallest of the group, Holland is the leader in the publicity campaign. Detroit is a close second.

Hope Memorial chapel will serve as convention headquarters. Chairmen of committees are: General, George Schuiling; assistant, Lambert Olgers; secretary, Anna A. Koeman; assistant, B. McGilvra; treasurer, Jay DeKoning; assistant, A. A. Nienhuis; registration, Willem Diekmans; entertainment, Prof. Clarence Kleis; buildings and banquet, Rev. E. Paul McLean; publicity, Charles A. Gross; decoration, Mrs. R. B. Champion; guides and ushers, George Mooi; recreation, L. N. Moody; music, E. F. Heeter, who is developing a convention chorus to give a recital Thursday and Friday evenings.

Special programs have been arranged for juniors and intermediates, the junior rally to be led by State Superintendent Catherine S. Murdock and the intermediate by State Superintendent Sara E. McCullough and David Kay, president of the intermediate section.

On the program will be Rev. William Hiram Foulkes of Newark, N. J., vice president of the International Society of Christian Endeavor; Rev. W. P. Lovett of Detroit, and Rev. Daniel A. Poling, president of the International Society of Christian Endeavor and president of general synod of the Reformed Church in America.

Saturday there will be an oratorical contest on "Christian Citizenship," under the direction of Sarah E. McCullough of Detroit.

The convention sermon will be delivered Sunday morning by Rev. Hazen G. Werner of Detroit. He also will give an address in the afternoon. The final rally will be held Sunday evening.

Rev. B. J. Danhof of Grand Haven has accepted the call from the Drenthe Christian Reformed church. This will be Mr. Danhof's third pastorate since his entering the ministry in 1925.

HUDSONVILLE ELEVATOR MAN IS ELECTROCUTED

Coroner Gilbert Vande Water of Holland was called to Hudsonville where John Grit, manager of the Farmer's Co-operative Co., was electrocuted this morning. The unfortunate man in some manner placed his hand on a charged wire furnishing power to the elevator machinery. Grit was found on the floor dead by an office employee. Burns on the hand suggested the cause of the man's death. He leaves a widow and four children and is 37 years old.

It Appears June Conclave Is To Bring Crowd

REGISTRATION FOR DELEGATES FOR C. E.
CONVENTION LARGE

Registration of C. E. delegates about the state is heavy judging from a contest in 9 of the principal cities of the state including Detroit, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Muskegon, Saginaw, etc. On May 20 when the contest closed there were 590 registered in 9 cities and still they kept coming. There are scores upon scores of cities not yet set in their registration lists. It is expected that at least 1000 delegates from abroad will be present and Holland, Zeeland, Grand Haven and other places in Ottawa County will furnish many more. Registration and Publicity awards will be given at the Annual Convention banquet on Saturday evening, June 28, at six o'clock. Holland thus far leads in publicity.

ALLEGAN MAN CAUGHT FOR ILLEGAL FISHING CALLS GAME WARDEN NAMES

A man by the name of Lee Decker, of Allegan county, who was caught fishing out of season, "Public Purses" the Allegan Gazette with a half column tirade charging the game warden who caught him as being a fellow with a grudge and one who whispers false reports and points out that there is plenty of illegal fishing on that "Sucker Stream" without the warden going out of his way to catch him. He winds up as follows:

"I am also accused of catching bluegills before the season, which is a straight lie, and some of the fellows who would like to see me pinched might be greatly surprised if they knew who was really doing the illegal fishing on near by lakes."

The Allegan Gazette comes back with the following very fitting reply:

"Sneaks and Game Wardens"

Mr. Lee Decker complains elsewhere in today's paper because he was prosecuted for violation of the fish law (fishing with net in Schmale creek) and intimates that game wardens are sneaks. There is an old saying that one should "take a thief to catch a thief." People who violate the fish and game laws do it as secretly as possible and hence equal caution is necessary to catch them. Mr. Decker must have known that he was violating law in fishing in the way he did. Very few people indeed violate those laws unknowingly. Mr. Plotts could not catch such fellows with a brass band; and it is not to his discredit that he 'sneaks' upon the depredators in order to catch them. It does not matter how many others have done illegal fishing on that creek nor for how long. Their illegal action affords no excuse for Mr. Decker.

JUDGE CROSS ENDS UP WITH A FINE CAREER AS JUDGE

The Michigan Supreme Court has just handed down a long list of decisions on matters that were carried up to the higher tribunal and it appears that former Judge Cross ended his career as Circuit Court Judge of Ottawa and Allegan counties with a great deal of credit. Of the eight cases sent up from this county, the Supreme Court sustained Judge Cross in seven of them and decided adverse in but one.

Among the cases were the one of Van Alburg vs. Kooyers in a $14,000 bank matter. Another was the Bolhuis Lumber & Manufacturing Co. vs. Tubergen. Kooyers lives in Holland town and the personnel in the last case are all from Holland.

Judge Cross has now become a Holland citizen, having joined the Diekmans-Ten Cate law office.

The class of 1920 of Hope College is planning a reunion this year—their tenth birthday. The class will meet at Winants Chapel at 2:30 P.M. (fast time) on Commencement Day, Wednesday, June 18th.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Mrs. Rev. H. Dosker of Ebenezer died Monday morning after an illness of but a few hours. When the news came to Holland, it was quite a shock for Mr. and Mrs. Dosker were seen driving in the city the day before. The couple had been married not quite a year.

Our "city fathers" ought to pass an ordinance prohibiting cattle from running at large at any time of day or night; then we could follow the example of other cities—do away with our front picket fences and leave our gardens and front yards open to the admiring gaze of pedestrians. The number of cows in the city is 108. Supposing that every cow represents a vote? There are 400 human voters in Holland; surely 400 people can out-vote 108 cows. It's also about time that our "public square" (now Centennial Park) display flowers and trees rather than a herd of cattle. Let's clean up and make something of this unsightly spot.

A young horse, belonging to Mr. F. Van der Veen got tired of cultivating corn, ran away, jumped two fences, and ran into town, collided with a yoke of oxen, broke their wagon pole and thereupon was caught by Wm. Smith. Note: The colt no doubt shied at a passing automobile.

THE HOLLAND ELKS WILL GO TO THE big state convention at Grand Rapids, accompanied by the Holland Martial Band who will be decked in continental dress while the members of the lodge will be entirely in white.

Peter Notter caught a 12-pound cat fish in Black River. "It was some pull on the line," Peter says.

Percy Osborne paid $3.00 for riding his bicycle on the sidewalk when arraigned before Justice Thomas Nicholas Robinson.

Dr. H. C. Wills and wife, Dr. Ada C. Wills, have purchased the Osteopathic practice of Dr. David Mills who is to leave Holland.

Rev. H. B. Einink of Muskegon has accepted a call to the Central Avenue Christian Reformed church of Holland.

Henry Farma, a pioneer of Holland and a veteran in the Civil War, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Nicholas Hofstee, at the age of 81 years.

Geo. Steining of Hope College took first place in the Ravan Oratorical contest and Theodore Zwemer won second place.

Former Holland Girl Is Wed To An Iowan

MISS RUTH DRUKKER, DAUGHTER OF THE LATE REV. D. DRUKKER MARRIED YESTERDAY

Miss Ruth Drukker, who was the guest of honor at a shower given at Zeeland by Zeeland and Holland folks last week, was happily married at her home on Fountain St., Grand Rapids, on Wednesday, June 4, to Mr. Frank De Jong of Orange City, Ia., in the presence of her immediate relatives and intimate friends. The ceremony was pronounced by the bride's brother, Rev. Raymond B. Drukker.

Both brother and sister will be well remembered in Holland school and college circles as being the children of the late Rev. D. D. Drukker who for a number of years was pastor of the Fourteenth St. Christian Reformed Church of this city. Later the family moved to Kalamazoo and then to Zeeland where they also made many friends. Mrs. Drukker after the death of Rev. Drukker moved to Grand Rapids where she is the pastor of one of the large churches there, having recently taken the charge.

Mr. De Jong is the son of Mrs. B. De Jong of Orange City, Iowa, and is a 1930 graduate of Calvin Seminary and will probably soon be inducted into the ministry.

YOUNG ZEELAND-HOLLAND COUPLE WERE QUIETLY WED

Henry Stoepker, son of John Stoepker of Zeeland, and Miss Marguerite Ryenga of Holland were quietly married on a honeymoon trip to Indiana and returned to make their home with the bride's parents in Holland this week. The marriage came as a surprise to friends and relatives alike.

DID IONIA INSANE FUGITIVE REACH GRAND RAPIDS— KNELT IN PRAYER

A supposedly insane man, believed by the officers to be one of the group of criminal insane, who escaped recently from Ionia prison was seen in the vicinity of the Pere Marquette station at Grand Haven yesterday by several local men inflicting a section gang working nearby. Officers were called but an outgoing Grand Trunk train foiled them in their attempt to get the fellow as the man jumped aboard a coal car and was taken out of the community. The man wore blue overalls and appeared unkempt. Attention was attracted to him by his peculiar actions. He knelt several times as though in prayer and used the sign of the cross. He slipped into one of the local cars on the Grand Trunk as it was pulling out of the yards just a few minutes before the sheriff's officers arrived. Grand Rapids was notified by Sheriff Steketee.

12 MORE STATES LIFT SPEED LIMITS

Improved automobiles and highways are sounding the knell of state speed limits.

Few states now carry echoes of the chattering horseless carriage, which was considered a menace at one time. We have to legislate marks an upward trend in speed standards.

Of the 12 states which have taken the most recent action, 10 raised their limits, while two, Indiana and Vermont, eliminated fixed standards entirely.

There are now nine states that have no speed laws, Connecticut, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Montana, Vermont, Virginia, and Wisconsin.

Massachusetts has the lowest standard, 20 miles an hour, while Nevada has the highest fixed minimum, 50 miles an hour.

Where 35 miles an hour was the most general limit a year ago, the 12 states that maintain the figure as their standard are matched by an equal number that have 45 miles an hour as their limit. Nine states have a 40-mile-an-hour standard.

Rev. J. Lanting of the Immanuel Church has announced his topics for Sunday as morning, "Christ Our High Priest." In the evening Mr. Lanting will continue in the series of sermons on the "Second Coming of Christ," using for his subject "The Hope of the Church."

An added feature of commencement week this year at Allegan will be the annual school meeting. This will be held Monday evening, June 9, the earliest in history. Two trustees, Harry L. Perrigo and Herman Vaupell, retire.

Lowland farms and gardens in Allegan County have suffered heavily from frost of late last week, a check-up Monday revealed. Many cornfields, it is feared, will have to be replanted, while other crops were damaged severely.

A telegram has been received from Rev. W. J. Van Kersen, stating that he had arrived safely in San Francisco.

WHAT ABOUT ELECTION DAYS THIS YEAR?

This being general election year in Michigan, here are three dates to keep in mind:

July 22—Last day for filing petitions for nomination for United States Senator, representatives in Congress, Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, members of the Legislature and county officers.

Sept. 9—Primary election for candidates for all offices.

Nov. 4—General election day.

State conventions to nominate candidates other than Governor and Lieutenant-Governor must be held not later than Sept. 30.

SPEED BOATS GO TO FAST AT GRAND HAVEN

Capt. William Preston of the Grand Haven Coast Guards found it necessary Sunday to call a halt on the speed of motor boats in the channel at Grand Haven. Under the federal laws eight miles an hour is the maximum speed at which any boat may proceed in the channel. It is not the intention of the Coast Guards to hold strictly to this limit, but the fact is that nearly every motor boat operates at full speed which in some cases is as high as 35 miles per hour. At present construction work is under way on the piers and the wake of the speed boats and the swells they throw up causes a danger to the new work.

Keeps Spirea Beautiful All Year With Knife

HOLLAND'S BRIDAL WREATH SHOULD BE PRUNED FOLLOWING THE BLOSSOMING SEASON

Spirea, of the Bridal Wreath type, should be pruned during the summer to increase its attractiveness after the flowering season is over. Holland has much Spirea and the time to use the knife is now.

The summer pruning should remove the smaller branches which have borne flowers and which have few leaves upon them. It will sometimes be necessary to remove a whole cane from the shrub, but usually, only the ends of the branches need to be cut back to a point where there are vigorous, leafy side shoots.

Many of these flowering branches will have dead tips and their removal improves the appearance of the plant. The pruning permits the younger wood to have a better chance to grow, and the bush will produce more flowers the year after pruning.

No pruning of the plant during the winter or early spring will be required if the summer pruning of the flowering branches is practiced.

Bird Lovers Want State to Bell Cats

AUDUBON SOCIETY ALSO WANTS LEGISLATURE TO PROVIDE LICENSE TAGS

Collars with license tags and bells for all house cats in Michigan.

This, in substance, will be asked as a state law at the next session of the state legislature, and the request will be made by the Michigan State Audubon Society that, has been in conference at Owosso, and adopted a resolution to that point of the subject.

The house cats of Michigan probably never before in their lives, individually set as nine each, or in the lives of their numerous ancestors, have had so many hard things said about them as they did today. Even a minister of the gospel arose and in his wrath and raked them fore and aft, and when he sat down he left their hides—metaphorically speaking—hanging on the fence.

The offensive was opened on the question of "Enemies of Birds," by Merrick F. Blair, known throughout the state as a hunter and one of the original conservationists of Michigan. He let the cats and their owners in on this observation:

"There are no two sides to this case as you might find in a court of law, therefore, to change the order of things, I want to ask if there is anyone present who wants to defend the cats?"

A dead silence. Then he continued, "Cats destroy more birds than any other known agency. No one has ever been able to educate a cat to leave the birds alone. The 'I know that some people consider cats pets. Well, all right, let them have them. I think that the day is close at hand when this state should have a cat licensing law. We have to license our dogs, and they don't do one-thousandth the damage a cat does. Here in Owosso we not only have to license our dogs, but we have to keep them off the streets. Before that last order the dogs helped us keep the cat supply down, but now the cats are increasing by leaps and bounds or something like that."

"Grand Rapids has a cat licensing law. We wanted one here, but the mayor said it would necessitate the employment of another policeman to chase cats, and the city couldn't afford it. A state law would create an 'open season' on unlicensed cats. Why, Santiago, Calif., has an ordinance, and if an alley cat bothers you just call the police and—"

Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit De Witt, Mr. and Mrs. G. Petroelje and Mr. and Mrs. Mart Nagelkerk of Zeeland attended the silver wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bloomers at Holland during the past week.

The Allegan city council has given permission to the Detroit Motor club to place A. A. stop signs in Allegan. Steps also have been taken for the future heating of the library building from the plant of the Griswold Memorial building, now under construction.

H. H. Cook of Allegan has sold his jewelry store to D. C. Holt of Sturgis, who will operate the place with his son, Fred.

State Senator George B. Leland, prominent fruit grower and veteran legislator, will this week declare his candidacy for nomination for another term of office from the eighth district, it was announced here today.

On Sunday morning Rev. R. J. Van den Berg of Zeeland will preach on the theme, "The Power of Pentecost," and in the evening Rev. Paul E. Hinkamp of Hope College will preach. Rev. Van den Berg has a classical appointment to fill in the afternoon and evening at Jamestown—Zeeland Record.

Hollands Sends Boys to Custer Training Camp

THIS CITY HAS TWO MORE BOYS ENROLLED THAN GRAND HAVEN

For the first time in the history of the Citizens' Military Training Camps at Camp Custer, Holland has exceeded Grand Haven in enrollment. There are now nine lads from the southern part of the county and seven from Grand Haven signed up for 30 days of camp life at Custer, from July 18 to August 18, Ottawa now has within one of the quota of 20 for the county which is rather a remarkable showing.

Due to the constant efforts of the county chairman, Major George L. Olsen, and City Chairman Major William Wills, county clerk at the court house, besides the concentrated efforts in the south end of the county, several prominent men in that section have roused the lads to the opportunity which Uncle Sam is giving them for 30 days free camping.

In Holland, attorney Thomas N. Robinson, John J. Riemersma, principal of the Sea Scouts and members of the Holland Rotary Club have used their influence to spread information concerning this opportunity. By June 16, it is doubtful if another boy can be enrolled as 87 per cent of the entire state quota has been filled.

The camp has a capacity of 1,500 and 1,305 have been enrolled. Major Olsen urges any Ottawa County boy, who is considering the opportunity, to make up his mind now, for unless some drop out at the last minute, there will be little chance of going to Camp Custer this summer.

The Holland boys to go are: Joe Ardena, Corrie M. De Boer, Albert Gerritsen, Harold R. Kootstra, Denton E. Morlin, Clarence G. Smith, Kenney Stahler, Jason Wolterding and Elwin O. Lake.

HOW GOVERNORS OF MICHIGAN USED THEIR VETO POWER

Michigan governors, compared with the chief executives of some other states, have exercised the veto power mildly. Gov. Chase E. Osborn at the regular session of 1911, vetoed 46 bills and parts of bills, that is, specific items in appropriation bills which he either struck out or reduced. His veto record was considerably higher than any of his predecessors.

Woodbridge N. Ferris, governor from 1913 to 1917, vetoed but 12 bills, although he was a Democrat and the Republicans controlled the Legislature during his two terms. His immediate successor, Albert E. Sleeper, vetoed but 20 in four years. Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck vetoed 38 during his three terms and Gov. Green vetoed 76, in whole or in part, in a record during his first term. His veto record was lower during his second term.

Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democrat, of New York, during the New York Legislature's session which closed last week, vetoed 274 and approved 879. The New York Legislature is Republican.

Some $12,000 in Sailboat Come to Spring Lake

TWO CAR LOADS OF SMALL WIND CRAFT UNLOADED THERE

The largest single shipment of sailboats ever received at Spring Lake came in Tuesday in two carloads, to the Barrett Boat Works from the Palmer Boat Works of Fontana, Wis. There were 13 Class C and E boats in the consignment, aggregating about $12,000, which have been purchased by Spring Lake and Muskegon boat enthusiasts for racing on the two lakes this season.

Robert Ferris, a rigger, accompanied the shipment and he with several Spring Lake men worked feverishly to get the boats rigged and in the water before Decoration Day.

There are eight cats or C boats valued at $600 apiece and five sloops or E boats, at $1,200. The C's are 20 feet long with five-foot beam and carry 225 square feet of sail. The E's are 28 feet long, five foot beam and carry 285 feet of sail. The C's or cats, are gaff-rigged while the E's are marconi-rigged with jib and spinnaker.

RAPID CHANGES ON THE FARM

An electric thrill is quickening agriculture. There are 150,000 miles of electric lines now in service furnishing current for farm uses. These rural extensions have occurred so rapidly that the number of electricity users added to the rural group during the past eight years is about equal to the total number of buyers of current at the end of the first quarter century of the history of the electric light and power industry in this country.

This rush order for more "juice" may have its influence in providing more jobs in the cities. The introduction of electricity at first means only better lights. But with the new light turned on, all sorts of desirable helpers begin to offer themselves.

There are few processes on the farm that can not be quickened by the use of electricity. In Sweden, where rural electrification has reached remarkable development, plows are drawn across the fields by portable motor tractors taking their current from trolleys.

But the greatest use of electricity on the farm is as chore boy. It pumps water, turns the feed grinder and ensilage cutter, hoists the hay, hatches chicks and prepares their feed, milks the cows, refrigerates the milk and operates the churn.

The demand prompted by these new rural wires will be for machines and more machines. The pessimist should get a thrill out of such contemplation.

DIRTY DISHES

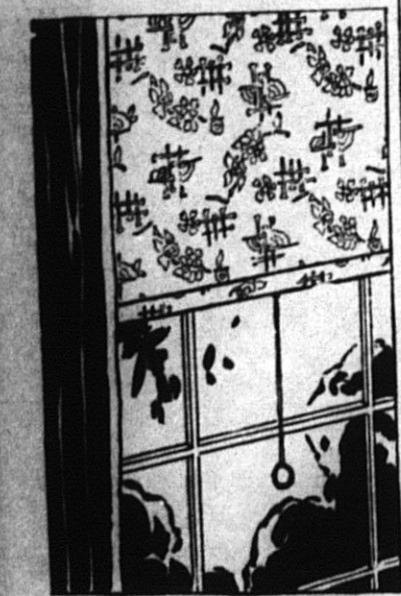

The lazy housewife who lets dishes pile up for two or three days and then washes them all in one fell swoop need not apologize any more. On the contrary, she should be proud of herself. For it is announced by the University of Chicago that she is far more efficient than the busy, bustling woman who cleans up after every meal.

The university says: "Tests conducted in the domestic science department prove that it is much more efficient to let the dirty dishes pile up in the sink until there is a good big stack before they are tackled with soap and water."

That's revolutionary enough, but Mary Heiner and N. M. Verner, two of the university investigators, added:

"Dishes don't need to be wiped and polished. Just let 'em stand and the air will do a much better job than a groggy husband with an apron about his middle."

Women, naturally conservative, may disagree. Men will herald that statement as the dawning of a new era. For generations they have known it was true, but they have lacked scientific backing.—Chicago American.

52 More Planes for Navy. The Mothers Return Mr. Ford's Recipe 5-Billion Dollar Infant

Navy contracts for 52 fighting planes, torpedo and bombing aircraft have been announced. They will cost, for the 52 ships, $3,000,177. For the price of one modern battleship, with coalers and other equipment, the navy could buy 1,044 such fighting planes. Altogether they would require crews smaller than one battleship crew and would cost far less in upkeep than one battleship.

And one such bombing plane could sink any battleship or other ship afloat.

This nation needs at the least an air fleet of 5,000 fighting planes, with an adequate fleet under water.

Peshawar is a long way from Buckingham palace, and once it would have been painful, slow work subduing natives in those far off valleys.

But now the dull thud of exploding Royal Air Force bombs is heard in the hiding places of Haji and his Mohammedan tribesmen, rebelling against Britain. And Haji's forces are melting away.

Allah and his prophet are great, but they offer no weapons to fight flying machines.

The first party of 127 Gold Star Mothers, having seen the graves of their dead sons, are on their way home.

They were too early for the people, about which pretty war poems were written, but they saw the white crosses row on row, each marking the grave of a dead American soldier.

President Hoover and the Navy department are to be congratulated on the decision to allow our submarine O-12 to take part in Sir Hubert Wilkins' work of exploration in the Arctic.

Eventually our fleet of submarines will be made useful in peace through exploration of the oceans, seas, lakes and land under them.

Engineers and surveyors will map out the mountains and valleys lying under the ocean.

And the future will see submarine prospectors, searching for mines and oil wells, below the water, competing with modern prospectors, now searching for treasure and oil for nations by airplane.

Russia's government takes over the exploitation of the gold fields in the Lena and Yakutsk regions. Of all government enterprises, the hunt for gold would be least successful, probably.

Henry Ford says people must keep up their spirits. American farmers must develop mass production as American factories do. Wages must not be cut, and everybody must be cheerful.

Sound advice for everybody except the man out of a job, and the farmer, who doesn't know how to get mass production out of 50 acres. Mr. Ford lets the workmen stand still while their work passes in front of them. The farmer can't stand still and make the rows of corn or cows pass in front of him. But Henry Ford is a genius and may find a way.

Wall street believes that J. P. Morgan, most powerful figure in American finance, is perfecting an enterprise that will make his late father's big steel company look like a modest investment.

The new enterprise, called in Wall street slang, "United Corp." plans a five-billion-dollar corporation to include practically everything in the way of public utilities in the North Atlantic region.

Steam power, water power, gas, and the great distributing agencies would all be under one hat.

Mr. Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern railway, with his son and some first class railroad engineers, has sailed for Europe, to be met by representatives of the Soviet commissar of railways at the Russian frontier. Mr. Budd will devote a year to planning reorganization of Russian railways on American lines.

This shows that Russia knows something about business, whatever you may think of her policies and social theories.

Not including real estate, the late Rodman Wanamaker left $300,000,000, according to his executors. More interesting than the size of his fortune is the fact that he worked hard almost to the day of his death, at his own business, and at promotion of aviation, in which he was a pioneer, and other work important to the public.

It is what a man does, not what he has, that counts.

Encouraging news from London says "business girls" are fighting long skirts. The short skirt represents common sense, comfort, health, and does not drag in germs. Rich women should set an example by refusing to wear dragging, dust-collecting skirts, or to be dominated by the whims of dressmakers.

Scientists of Lowell observatory are said to have selected the name "Philo" for the new comet. They should make another selection.

An American, Professor Lowell, predicted the discovery of the planet; another American discovered it. It is, therefore, an American planet and should have been named for Newton, whose law made the discovery possible, or for Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, Hoover or Theodore Roosevelt.

Quaint Youngsters

A city child, visiting her grand mother's farm, asked: "Grandma, which are the apples that keep the doctor away?"

Another city child, on seeing a speckled trout for the first time, exclaimed: "Oh, mother, it's got the measles." A third, who was in the barn with her father, seeing a pitchfork, said: "Daddy, I s'pose that's what the horses eat their hay with, but where's the knife that goes with it?"

BETTY STILLSON

The young lady whose picture appears above is one of the very bright pupils of Saugatuck high school. She has received 3.14 honor points and will be the valedictorian at the graduating exercises tonight.

Laugh for the Bride

It must be hard for a bride to keep from laughing right out loud during the ceremony when she thinks how she has let the groom believe he has had to drag her up to the altar when he didn't have any more chance than a rabbit of getting away.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

How the Useful Plants Came to Mankind by T. E. STEWARD WNU Service

Cabbage

AFTER examining a long series of plants that originated in warm climates, in Asia, or the ancient countries of the Mesopotamian region, it is refreshing to come to one that is a native of northwestern Europe. And cabbage seems properly enough to be a native of the shores of the North sea, near to the regions with which sauerkraut and the general use of cabbage as a food plant seems to be most naturally associated. Cabbage has been found wild on the island of Helgoland, in Denmark, the islands of the English channel, and in southern England and Ireland. With the possible exception of the onion, which may have been wild there in remote prehistoric times, cabbage is the first food plant native to this district that has been considered in the present series.

Botanical investigations that are accepted as authentic place this plant also along the shores of the Mediterranean as an indigenous species, especially near Nice and Genoa. In the wild state it haunts the seacoast, just as we found the potato to do in Chile and Peru. No trace of cabbage growing wild has come out of the East, where so many food plants originated. It is much grown in all civilized parts of the globe suitable to its culture, but has been introduced except in the places already described.

Use of cabbage as a food is extremely ancient. Science deduces from the various names given it that it was in use as a food in western Europe prior to the invasion of the Aryans, supposed progenitors of most of the present white race. It probably was a Stone age food in Europe, either as a cultivated vegetable or as found in wild state and gathered, just as we today gather many wild foods, berries and nuts particularly.

Another indication that cabbage is distinctly European lies in the fact that it is in Europe where most of the new varieties of this plant have been developed. Three varieties were mentioned by the Greek writer, Theophrastus; twice that number by Pliny, while in the middle of the last century, DeCandolle enumerated thirty well-established kinds of cabbage in Europe.

Investigators who have tried to trace the origin of plants by studying their names have brought to light the fact that in the ancient Indo-Germanic tongue the word "karambha" meant cabbage. Spelled differently a word of similar pronunciation "caramba" is a Spanish expression of disgust. It may have meant "old cabbage head" in ancient times, a meaning which had disappeared from the vocabulary as it is used today. (© 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

BUILD HOG HOUSE FOR SOLID COMFORT

Straw Between Houses Will Keep Brood Sow and Litter Warm

PRACTICAL A-TYPE HOG HOUSE FOR BROOD SOW AND HER LITTER

The A-type individual hog house may be kept warm and comfortable for the brood sow and her litter, states the Blue Valley Creamery Institute, by packing straw between and behind individual or colony type hoghouses. The houses should be placed side by side in a row facing south or east, according to prevailing winds. A temporary fence constructed about four or five feet behind the houses and the same distance away from the end houses, as shown in the above illustration, makes it possible to insulate the houses so that they will hold heat and at the same time protect them from cold winds. If available, tar paper, roofing or other waterproof material can be placed against the lower portion of the houses between the straw and the sides of the houses.

Edwin Markham

Seek ye first the Kingdom of God, and His righteousness. — Matthew 6:33.

Whoever will be great among you, let him be your minister; and whoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant. — Matthew 20:26-27.

It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter into the Kingdom of God. — Matthew 19:24.

If thou wilt be perfect, go and sell that thou hast, and give it to the poor. — Matthew 19:21.

Comment: When Jesus says poor at this point, I think that Jesus means the members of His Holy Brotherhood of the Kingdom. I am chiefly interested in the social passion that pervades the Gospel as a sacred fire. This aspect of the great Message has never been emphasized sufficiently. (Compiled by the Bible Guild.)

The imported Tigers breezed into town with a good deal of air and the locals were almost ready to take to the woods. The fight started with a rush and before the boys were over their 'fright the first counter was marked down against them. This seemed to wake up the locals, and, though the visitors put up a splendid game with a real threat in the closing inning, held them to the lone score. Rich Wentzel was in fine form, allowing 7 scattered hits and striking out 13 men. Haan and Gryzen formed the battery for the visitors. Another lunch before they tackle the Boosters of Holland.

The Hamilton Tigers have been busy again. The Holland Boosters, tired of the bold and bothersome roaring so near their doors, came over to effectually tame the Tigers. They chose an opportune time, for the Tigers were suffering severely from overfeeding as the result of the gig nine-course luncheons of last week. One of them did not recover sufficiently to join in the fray and help his mates, so that a Holland lion was left to fight alone. However, even with the Tigers in this condition the Boosters ran into several pecks of trouble and were exceedingly glad when the umpire blew the whistle for the final. The Reformers succeeded in cornering the tribe before they saw what was going on and realized the danger. When the Tigers awoke, the Boosters sorely needed the advantage they had obtained in the beginning, and at the close of the battle the Tigers had them running in circles rather excitedly and wildly. The end came suddenly when a foolish Tiger sneaked out of the pack and the Boosters nabbed him. The official count was 5 to 4. Thus to Boosters tamed the Tigers, but the Tigers at the same time gave the Boosters a tremendous beating. Wentzel, the Tiger sharpshooter, backed by Brink, Bud, Duff, Nier, and Hick, not to mention more, made even Waddy tremble. 36 times the Boosters stared at Rich only only 3 feeble blows, one of these a so-called sacrifice—which means that the one in front succeeds to give the one behind a chance to steal a base advantage—were obtained, while 11 arose, but seeing the Tigers' glare, sat down. Nevertheless, the Boosters won and it is even more to their credit that, though the most severely pounded, their gameness and wide awakes they managed to stay atop. Jack Schouten, Hope coach, was out scouting at the game.

CAN'T FISH FOR WHITE BASS IN BLACK LAKE YET

Somebody started the story around Grand Rapids a week ago that it was legal to catch white bass at Black Lake and in Black river, and that the fish were running. Result was some of the boys who have caught white bass in other years got excited and wanted to shove off right quick for Holland.

There's nothing to the story. White bass fishing opens June 25 along with the season on Black Lake and the other lake fish. It isn't legal to catch white bass anywhere before June 25; and it isn't legal to fish in our lakes, except those north of here designated as pike waters, before that date.

Our advice is to forget about white bass until the season opens. The state has a very efficient conservation officer down at Holland; and it's likely to be just too bad for any angler who tries to beat the season.—Grand Rapids Herald.

Yes, those Grand Rapids fishermen are "quick on the trigger" when it comes to Holland waters—supplied with fish from Holland fish ponds. Not so long ago it has occurred that some G. R. officials were as quick to stick their noses into any seemingly infraction of the game law on our lake and stream when a Holland fisherman makes a misstep. This "dog day" opening of the fishing season on Black Lake has become rather irksome to say the least.

WHERE MICHIGAN STANDS HIGH

Michigan has attained an enviable reputation for production of dairy cows. The United States Department of Agriculture recently gave out some statistics concerning this that are interesting.

The average price paid for dairy cows in Michigan in 1921 was $62.25; the average price during the past year was about $103. That means an appreciation of a little more than 65 per cent.

But the average price of dairy cows in the United States in 1921 was $55.10, which had increased by the end of the past year to a little more than $74. That is, the market proves that the dairy cows of Michigan are considered better than those of the rest of the country.

Agricultural experts say the care taken in Michigan to eradicate bovine tuberculosis is an important factor affecting the interests of dairymen and producing the favorable markets for their cows. It paid to incur the trouble and losses incident to the tuberculosis eradication campaign. The advantage may be estimated in money, but much the more important result is in promotion of public health.

Color of Army Uniforms

Khaki is derived from a Hindu word meaning dust-colored. In some parts of India the roads and fields are very dusty during the dry season. Their appearance at that time is the color originally described as khaki. British troops in India adopted this color for protection in 1882, and the United States adopted it during the Spanish-American war. The color of today's American army uniform is olive drab.

WHO KNOWS?

Allegan Gazette. — We become much excited here in Michigan when we find an oil well in Allegan offering a few barrels of oil in the Muskegon or northeastern region producing a few hundred barrels per day. What would happen (and it just may happen) should we find such quantities as they do in California? It sometimes costs so much as $300,000 there to bore one well, and often the wells are "dry" at that; but there are hundreds of oil wells that are not dry. One seeker of oil has his well down ten thousand feet and the owner went down through the strata yielding oil to find what exists in still lower levels. What may be found will control further experiments of this kind. While there was alarm much apparent as to a failing petroleum supply, two big "gushers" were found, one in Oklahoma and the other in Clare, this state. The former is the biggest thing of its sort that has appeared in recent years. The Clare well is the largest ever in Michigan and indicates that somewhere in Michigan, possibly in Allegan county, there may be still larger oil deposits.

THIS WILL PLANT TREES

By Albert Stoll, Jr.

Detroit News.—Senator Vandenberg of Michigan has been successful in steering through the Senate a bill calling for an appropriation large enough to admit the eventual reclamation of all denuded lands within National Forest boundaries with tree growth. The bill, passing the Senate last week, authorizes expenditures of $300,000 for tree planting in 1932, $450,000 for 1933, $600,000 for 1934, $1,000,000 for 1935, $1,500,000 for 1936, $2,000,000 for 1937 and for each fiscal year thereafter "such amounts as may be necessary" in providing for adequate reforestation on National Forests.

In the House a companion bill has been introduced and from present indications it will pass the body and then all that is required is the President's signature, which undoubtedly will be forthcoming.

There has been nothing in the past history of American forestry affairs that quite equals this in a forest expansion and planting way. It is one of the most important and vital steps that has ever been taken. Federal leadership in reforestation will act as a great incentive in encouraging States and individuals to foster similar projects, and Michigan is happy to know that one of her own representatives in Congress is largely responsible for the creation of this far-seeing policy that means so much to future generations.

ROBINS BUILD NEST IN AN ABANDONED CAR

Not far from Dease Lake in Ogemaw county, Mich., an old car was left in an alley back of a cottage. Abandoned, the wind and sun weathered it, the glass of the window became broken and it was forsaken by all. Then came a Robin, saw the possibilities of a home and began building a nest under the roof of the windshield frame. Now while Mother Robin sets on the blue eggs Daddy Robin steps out for the worms. Soon there will be little robins eager to feed on the bounty brought by fond parent birds. Luckily there are no cats or other vermin about.

On motion of Ald. Kleis, 2nd by Prins, the Council proceeded by ballot for the appointment of a Health Officer. Mayor appointed Ald. Jonkman and Woltman as tellers.

On the first ballot the present Health Officer Dr. Westrate was unanimously elected by receiving all twelve votes and was declared elected.

On motion of Ald. Brieve, 2nd by Prins, The salary of the Health Officer was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Clerk reported that pursuant to instructions he had given notice of the date of hearing on the proposition to reclassify into Commercial territory all that property now zoned as "Residential" situated one-half block both north and south of West 10th St. between River Ave. on the east and the properties of the Methodist and Hope Churches on the west. Clerk further presented affidavit of publication of such notice.

Clerk also presented a petition from residents and property owners protesting against such reclassification. An opportunity was given those present to be heard, but there was no one in the audience who cared to speak. Ald. Thomson stated that he felt as though final action on the matter should be deferred to give the property owners more time to consider the matter. Both the Mayor and Ald. Jonkman took the position that proper notice had been given, and that they were not absent for lack of knowledge that the matter was up for final discussion.

OTTAWA COUNTY
MOTHERS WILL ALSO HAVE THEIR VACATION

Three days of rest, recreation and inspiration will be enjoyed by Ottawa County women who will attend the mother's vacation camp June 24-27 under the direction of Esther C. Lott, home demonstration agent.

Mothers' camps in Michigan have become an established part of the extension program. Rural women in all parts of the state look forward and plan each year to spend what in many instances is their only vacation where no thought has to be given to the planning and preparation of the three daily meals and other household tasks. This will be the fourth camp for Ottawa County.

Any woman in the county who is interested in home making may attend the camp. The program planned for each day and evening will be full of worth while things for women including a time for study, a time for play and a time for rest. Miss Muriel Dundas and Miss Frieda Gilmore from Michigan State College will be in attendance at the camp to assist in the various activities.

In order to properly organize the camp enrollments should be sent in to the home demonstration agent by June 15th.

BERRY GROWERS LOSE
THOUSANDS IN ALLEGAN

Strawberry growers in this part of the state are thousands of dollars poorer, it is estimated, following a more complete checkup on damage to the crop by frost last week. Growing plants on low ground were blasted and, owing to cold weather following a heavy rain, plants elsewhere are not growing. Various leading growers are of the opinion the loss over the country will approximate 50 per cent of the crop.

The greater part of the crop in this immediate vicinity was under contract with the local canning plant.

Impressive is the view which the traveler catches from the sea as he approaches Havana. He sees the Morro Castle loom up like a sentinel guarding the entrance to the harbor, beyond this he sees walls of Cabanas Fortiers. He is pointed out, the spot where the Battleship Maine blew up. Looks down the beautiful avenue "Prado." Sees the massive sea wall the Malicon, all manner of seacraft in the harbor, the beautiful wharfs, with, in and out going boats many at anchor, others docked.

We arrived early in the morning at this port La Habana (in Spanish) and docked at the San Francisco wharf. At quarantine we were all mustered for inspection by the Port Medical Offices, and given our

Instead of the gold and other precious metals which the early conquerors had expected to find, they soon learned that the riches of this island consisted in the fertility of the soil and evenness of its climate. The average yearly temperature is somewhere around 77° F. with slight variations between South and North coasts. The resources of the island which is a typical agricultural country comprise as mainstay, sugar cane, tobacco, coffee, cocoa textile plants and fruits, grapefruit, pineapples, anow, zapote, red mamey banana, aguacate guava and many other tropical fruits. Ottawa-Allegan
Honor Program

HALF THOUSAND PARTICIPANTS TO GATHER AT LEGION FIELD; PUBLIC IS INVITED

The third annual Grand Court of Honor of the Ottawa-Allegan Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be held at Legion Field in Zeeland on Saturday, June 7, all day, beginning at 9:00 a. m.

Over five hundred boys and leaders will be mobilized there on that day for the annual program of demonstrations and exhibits, to which the public is invited, in order that the work among the boys may be more fully appreciated.

The Ottawa-Allegan Council is made up of thirty-three troops, of which the Zeeland unit is known as Troop 21, under Scoutmaster Wm. H. Vande Water. The other troops are located at Grand Haven, Holland, Coopersville, Spring Lake, Hudsonville, Virginia Park, Allegan, Fennville, Wayland and Saugatuck. Twelve of the units are located in Holland, seven in Grand Haven, five in Allegan, and the other towns have one each.

The thought may come to us, What is scouting? and the program gives the answer. Scouting is a process of making real men and real boys by a real program that works; scouting is outdoor life, strength, happiness and practical education; scouting develops character, initiative and resourcefulness; it trains for leadership; scouts become good citizens; scouting is a program of useful, attractive things for boys to do in their leisure time; it is learning by doing.

The demonstrations and exhibits by troops at the Grand Court of Honor will be as follows: Troop 1, handicraft; Troop 2, pioneering; Troop 3, first aid; Troop 10, camping; Troop 13, calisthenics, athletics and drill; Troop 14, soap carving; Troop 15, model airplanes; Troop 16, types of fires; Troop 19, use of knife and axe; Troop 20, fire by flint and steel; Troop 21, poultrykeeping; Troop 22, tumbling; Troop 23, leathercraft; Troop 24, rope work; Troop 26, archery; Troop 28, bird house, feeders and shelters.

The purpose of the Grand Court of Honor is to give recognition to every scout who has advanced at least one step in the direction of the Eagle rank within the last year.

HOLLAND CHRISTIAN
HIGH HAS SOME REAL GOLFERS

Grand Haven Tribune.—Holland Christian High school's devotees of the Scotch pastime in a match played at the Spring Lake Country Club last night. Each team won two matches and won by the same scores; 5 up and 4; and 1 up on the 19th.

Most of the match was played in the rain, which might be called a "water hazard."

Holland Christian High's number one man, Timmer, defeated the Blue and Gold number one man, Borgeson, 5 up and 4. Wabake of Holland defeated Allen 1 up on the 19th.

Grand Haven's two matches were won by Kimmeling, who defeated Dobben 1 up on the 19th; and Carlson, who defeated Van Faassen 5 up and 4.

Mr. King, golf coach, is planning a return match to see if Holland Christian's golfers are as good as they appeared to be last night. Holland High defeated Holland Christian High, and Grand Haven defeated Holland High, so the "dope" would have it that Holland Christian was extremely fortunate.

Muskegon high school golfers finished first Saturday in classes A and B of the zone eliminations in the high school tournament held at Pontaluna Golf club. Holland Christian high was the winner in class C and D, and both schools qualified by their victories for the state meet.

Muskegon's team score for the class A and B contest was 356. Grand Haven, with 385, was second, and Muskegon Heights third with 493. Holland was not entered.

In the other divisions Holland Christian shot a team score of 374. Whitehall the other entry, gained a mark of 449.

bees and poultry are also an important part of the economical structure. Iron, gold, chromium, asphalt and petroleum and especially manganese are found in various parts of the island.

The sugar industry is by far the most important and relative to the size of the island no country in the world can boast of a similar development.

Cuba is situated about 100 miles south of Florida. A mountain range extends the entire length of the country. Abundant forests of mahogany, ebony, cedar and other valuable woods. This is the only island of all the West Indies, where the white people outnumber the negroes.

Moro Castle and Cabanas Fortiers are of great interest to a visitor of Havana. Centuries old they stand as solid and formidable in appearance as when the Spaniards built them, Morro in 1597, Canabas in 1774.

Havana's main promenade, the Prado, is a wide avenue, lined with beautiful trees, beds of flowers, and tropical shrubs and has an extension of something over a mile in the heart of the town. It joins the Malicon or sea wall (built during the first American occupation) and together they constitute a most beautiful drive. The people stroll up and down the Prado day and night and on concert evenings sit and listen to music played by Cu-

YOU'D BE SURPRISED WHAT CAN HAPPEN

"Not all accidents that happen are motoring mishaps," remarked Mr. Frank Lievens of the Aetna agency, "although statistics show that more people are injured or killed in automobile accidents than by any other means."

In a recent interview Mr. Lievens mentioned some of the unusual accidents that have actually happened to people. A man was enjoying a few moments' relaxation in a rocking chair in his room at a boarding house. The chair tipped over backwards precipitating the occupant through the window to the ground below. He was taken to the hospital but was so severely injured that he failed to recover.

Ho-hum! You know what it is to yawn. It is not considered dangerous, and yet when a Boston man indulged in a vigorous yawn, he dislocated his jaw. Two anaesthetics had to be administered, and three physicians worked an hour to get the jaw back into place.

Arguments frequently get one into trouble. It certainly did in the case of a Texas politician who rolled out of bed and broke his collarbone. He afterward explained that he was dreaming of a forthcoming campaign and was arguing some point in connection with local politics.

An innocent game of indoor ping-pong which is becoming popular again resulted in a serious accident to a policyholder. During the game he accidentally bumped his head on a corner of the table, injuring his eye.

It is quite common to hear of a hunter shooting a goose but most unusual to hear of a goose shooting a hunter. That's what happened to a man who was hunting in California. The hunter shot the goose, but in falling the bird kicked over the shotgun of a companion which was lying nearby, promptly discharging the gun and wounding the hunter in the hand.

Then, there's the unusual case of an amateur actor in a benefit play being given in an Indiana town. The man who was acting the part of the judge in the drama entitled "Who Killed Earl Wright?" rapped so vigorously with his gavel that the head flew off, striking one of the actor's juries, breaking his glasses and severely injuring his right eye.

Of course, points out Mr. Lievens, it isn't the strange and unusual things that cause the greatest number of accidents, but it is important to be ever on guard against mishaps of every kind. Not every accident can be prevented, but a large majority of them can. The best advice anyone can offer is: practice carefulness in all things you undertake and avoid hasty action wherever possible.—Educational Publicity.

AT TOWN HALLEvery Young Holland Soldier Promised
$5.00 by Two Old Pioneers
When They Enlisted

With the coming of warm weather Holland is generally paid a visit by old Joos Ver Planke, a veteran of the Civil War, who has been closely identified with the A. C. Van Raalte Post, G. A. R., even though he was not a member.

Mr. VerPlanke is a very interesting individual, having been engaged in politics at least part of the time while a citizen here and also following the lakes as a sailor from this port.

Mr. VerPlanke was the first Democratic sheriff elected in Ottawa county and from the returns it appears that Holland gave its citizen a substantial vote at that time.

Before becoming a minion of the law, however, Mr. Ver Planke was a cobbler's son and was taught to stick to his last by father Ver Planke even under the most trying circumstances.

The father conducted a cobbler's shop in a building located on the brow of a hill on the site now occupied by the Citizens Transfer Co. building on West Eighth street.

It appears that the coming of the Ver Planke family to these parts was not a sinecure for "Joos" and the family endured many hardships not uncommon in pioneer life. Any way "Joos" was born April 2, 1844 in the province of Zeeland in the Netherlands. His father, Abram Jansen Ver Planke, as has already been stated, was a shoemaker who

RURAL EARS HEAR BETTER THAN CITY ONES IS BELIEF

Hearing of rural and small town children seems to be better than that of city youngsters.

The examinations which give the country youth this lead were made in three small Maine communities with an audiometer, a comparatively new scientific instrument.

It was purchased by the Speech Reading club of Portland, and loaned places outside the city on request.

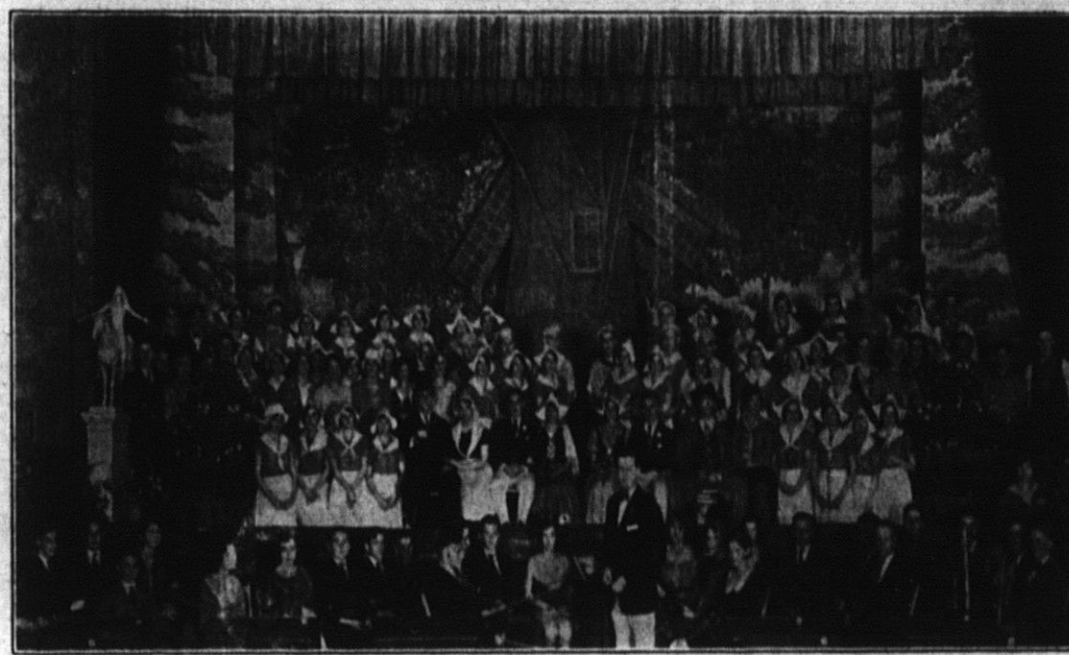

The results are reported to Mrs. James F. Norris, chairman of the committee on children of the American Federation of Organizations for the Hard of Hearing.

knew well the toil of long hours for little pay. The first Dutch colony was started in America by Rev. A. C. Van Raalte who came to Holland.

Later another group under Rev. Mr. Ypma prepared to leave and among them was Abram Ver Planke and his wife and five children. They left the Netherlands in the spring of 1849 and landed in New York. The group intended going to Michigan by the water route but upon arrival at Albany the funds of many of the party gave out and they were left behind.

Among those who had to remain were the Ver Planke family for money had never been plentiful with Abram Ver Planke. They wanted to get to the colony at Holland but being destitute were sent to the poorhouse as Mr. Ver Planke bluntly expressed it. There had been 30 left behind and in two weeks sickness broke out, taking 12 of them. The Ver Planke family suffered the loss of the mother and a little son. The malady was cholera and the only ones who had had it, and survived were Mr. Ver Planke and a boy named Johannes Leenhouts. Aid finally reached the party and some went on their way to Holland, others to Wisconsin and some to New Jersey. The Ver Plankes went to Buffalo by canal and then by steamer to Grand Haven.

In a reminiscent mood "Joos" gave the following interview: "I reached Grand Haven about the first of August and I can remember so well, father telling of our first few days there. It was dark when we arrived and our luggage was pitched onto the shore by the crew of the steamer. Father then carried the four children, one by one to the shore." Mr. Ver Planke recounted, "Looking about he found some tan bark which he set up as a sort of shelter. However it soon began to thunder and lightning and he found an old barn to shelter us from the rain.

"The next morning," Mr. Ver Planke continued, "Nicholas Vyn who had come to Grand Haven in 1847 and was the founder of The Vyn transfer line which survives to this day as The Vyn Company, walked over to where we were and said, 'ben je ook Hollander?' My father answered 'ja' overjoyed at meeting someone from home. Mr. Vyn was sympathetic, sent over a big basket of food and found work rafting lumber for my father at a dollar a day. We should have gotten on fine but father was not used to heavy work and was taken ill, leaving us destitute again. Through the good offices of Mr. Vyn who placed the family's plight before a prayer meeting, money was collected to transport all the Ver Planke family to Holland where father was to find work as a shoemaker. We did not even have money for such a short journey. I wonder what people would have thought in that day had I told them that sometime I should be riding to Holland to visit my sisters and return in an hour and a half," Mr. Ver Planke mused.

"Our condition was bad, we needed everything," said Mr. Ver Planke, explaining that at the time, Holland was a new community with few stores and a few small houses. The government land had almost all been taken up. Rev. Mr. Van Der Meulen had settled in Zeeland, Rev. Mr. Ypma in Vriesland and Rev. Mr. Bolks in Overisel while others were in Graafschap. All were but a few miles from Holland but roads were bad and some had but little money while those who were better off could buy little for the scarcity of stores. The wild, timbered country was a lot different from the Netherlands and the colonists didn't know much of the use of an ax but encouraged by their ministers, they learned and eventually founded a thriving community which today rests firm on the solid foundation that these early settlers laid down."

It appears that a Ver Planke aided the Ver Planke family in getting started and Abram Ver Planke went to work for Mr. Bos, the shoemaker. In a short time, he went in business on his own account and from that time on the family always had plenty for themselves and enough to aid other newcomers from their meager store as they themselves had been helped. These early Dutch colonists practiced the Golden Rule. By the way, Mr. Pluggers conducted a saw and flour mill on the present West Michigan Furniture Co. site and also conducted a store here.

Father Ver Planke wished to teach Joos the shoemaking trade but indoor work didn't appeal to one with his love for activity and it was only natural that he should desire to sail the lakes. His father would not consent however, and Joos worked in the shoe shop. When he was 18 the Civil War broke out and many young men from Holland enlisted in '61 at the call to arms.

them free leave. Forty young men, myself among the number, enlisted that night. I did not go home until midnight and it was a hard job to tell my father. He was not angry, only sad. In a short time we had a full company, 90 per cent of them Holland boys. Mr. Pluggers and Mr. J. Knoll had promised $5 to every boy who enlisted. They did not think there would be so many, I guess, but true to their word, they were there the next morning with the money."

Mr. Ver Planke tells of the two weeks training in Holland with a jolly time and the freedom of the town for the young soldiers. "We had all the beer we wanted to drink as there was no prohibition in those days," he said. "We finally left for Kalamazoo to join the regiment amid the weeping of loved ones who were convinced they would never see us again. My father thought if I wasn't killed on the battle field, I would fall a victim to illness as I was young and rather thin. I did come back, though and was in the hospital but two weeks in the three years I served."

Mr. Ver Planke's army experiences included battles in Ohio and Kentucky with the forces of Morgan, the raider, fighting with Hood at Nashville followed by the demoralization of Hood's army. Mr. Ver Planke's regiment then went to Washington and later was sent to Fort Fisher, North Carolina. "We had been with Sherman on the march to the sea and were at the surrender of General Johnston at Raleigh," he continued. "The company was mustered out of service at Salisbury, North Carolina, June 24, 1865. They were paid and discharged at Jackson, Michigan, July 2 and came home by way of Kalamazoo, and Allegan."

"I tell you, we were welcomed," said the veteran in recounting the story of the home coming, the reuniting of sons and families. "When we passed through towns, they all turned out. At Holland, everyone was on hand to greet us, young and old. A. C. Van Raalte had a lunch ready in public square for us and it was there that I met my father, a joyous meeting."

From 1865 to 1872, Mr. Ver Planke sailed on the lakes. He married Grete Brower in 1866. In 1873 Mr. Ver Planke was elected marshal of Holland and held the office for three years. In 1876, a "presidential year" he was urged by friends to run for sheriff of Ottawa county on the Democratic ticket. He finally consented, got the nomination and mortgaged his home to provide the sinews of war for a campaign and went out electioneering. He was elected by a small majority, the only one on the Democratic ticket to be elected to office in the county and the first Democrat to be sheriff. Only one other democratic candidate namely Fred Kamferbeek of Holland who succeeded Del Fortney in 1925, ever was elected as a Democrat.

Mr. Ver Planke sailed on the Wollen with Capt. Borgman, also on the Tri-Color and Arrow sailing vessels of yesterday.

Mr. Ver Planke moved to Grand Haven in 1877 and took over the duties of sheriff. He was re-elected two years later on the Greenback ticket and with his two terms up, was succeeded by John Vaupell, of Holland. Mr. Ver Planke decided to buy a farm and his wife and five sons moved with him to the new holding in Crocker township where work that was new such as ploughing and planting had to be done. Clearing pine stumps was hard work too but by putting in long hours and never giving up, the Ver Planke's made a living there.

With four sons married and the farm work increasing, Mr. Ver Planke sold the property and moved to Spring Lake in 1901. He bought a home and remained a resident of that community for almost 25 years.

Of late years, Mr. Ver Planke has divided his time in staying with his son Tony, a successful business man of Spring Lake; Grover, a doctor residing in Gary, Ind., and George, who lives in California. His summers are spent in Spring Lake and in winter he goes to Gary or California.

Mrs. H. Van Meurs and Mrs. Ruth Eding entertained with a miscellaneous shower last week in honor of Miss Anne Barkema, who is to be a June bride. The evening was spent in playing bunco and other games after which a dainty two-course luncheon was served. Those present were Mrs. Anna Cook, Mrs. Ed Van Eck, Mrs. Sam Boer, Miss Ellen Cook from Zeeland, Mrs. M. A. Stegeman, Hoppers, Iowa; Mrs. Lester Stegema, Mrs. B. H. Weller, Mrs. Walter Kuizenga, Mrs. J. Barkema, Mrs. H. Van Meurs, Mrs. Ruth Eding, Mrs. A. Weller, Misses Nella and Theresa Weller and Anna Barkema from Holland.

Miss Mildred Klow spent the week-end visiting her parents in Grand Haven.

TO WOMEN'S CLUBS
AT GRAND HAVEN

Mayor Earnest Brooks was the principal speaker at the Triangle Business and Professional Women's Club of Grand Haven, who was host to the Quadrangle Club of Muskegon, the Allegan Club, and the Grand Rapids Business Women's Club, the Junior Business and Professional Women's Club of Grand Rapids at a "neighborhood dinner," given at the Spring Lake Country Club on Tuesday night.

Never had the club house presented a more charming appearance. The tables were well arranged and 141 guests were seated.

Covers were marked by beautiful corsage bouquets of sweet peas, and other small flowers, shoe trees in dainty colors as favors, and nut cups in the shape of a triangle, made in the colors of the club. Low bowls of sweet peas were placed at intervals down the long boards together with tall tapers in pastel shades. The speakers' table was placed at the head of three tables and a gold basket held a charming centerpiece.

Mayor Brooks opened his remarks with a few "take-offs" on the ladies present but soon spoke in a more serious vein. He urged the organizations to have a vision of the future of their cities and aim for a goal to raise standards of the communities in which they function. "What will your city be in 1940?" he asked. "Whatever it will be in part due to efforts of far-sighted individuals or organizations." He cited instances of foresight in real estate values in his native city and in large centers.

"The Will to Have" determines the future of many a center. Characteristics of cities should be preserved, he thinks, as excellent advertising. People are always looking for the unique, the different. Help to cultivate it in your community, he urged.

Women have ever been a factor in politics, he continued, but never more than today. Organize club life to some real purpose and pursue and it will enlarge the vision and pleasure of its members, he concluded.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Driscoll spent the week-end visiting friends in Chicago.

Miss Margaret Paul and Miss Florence McVea spent the week-end in Detroit.

PRINCIPAL RIEMERSMA COMPILES LIST OF HONOR AT HOLLAND HIGH

The following compilation was sent in to the News by Principal Riemersma as this relates to Holland High School:

Honor Roll—Third Quarter
Grade	Boys	Girls	Total
13-1	1	4	5
12-2	9	27	36
12-1	3	1	4

11-1	2	3	5
10-2	10	9	19
10-1	0	8	8
	38	67	105

Having passed the century mark, the honor roll is very satisfactory for the period nearing the end of the year. Girls still outnumber boys two to one, but in the 12-1 class the boys exceed the girls three to one, and ten boys in the 10-2 challenge their nine girl companions. Senior boys are the worst offenders, only ten being honor students.

SAUGATUCK

Mr. and Mrs. George Johns are celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage at their farm home on Goshorn lake in Sauga-tuck township. They were married in Saugatuck, both being of fami-lies of early pioneers from the east, and with small exceptions have always lived on the same farm where Mr. Johns' father settled in 1864. They saw the rise and fall of Saugatuck, now buried beneath the shifting sand dunes. Mr. Johns' work has always been connected with tanneries and for the past 35 years has gone back and forth each day to and from Holland. Celebrat-ing with them were their two sons, Lemuel and Russell, and two daugh-ters, Mrs. Robert Annesley and Miss Lou.

JESUS IN THE SHADOW OF THE CROSS

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 26:1-44. GOLDEN TEXT—He went a little farther, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me: nevertheless not as I will, but as thou wilt.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Proves His Love for Us.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Suffering for Us.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Agony in the Garden.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Gethsemane.

1. Plotting the Death of Jesus (vv. 1-5).

Christ with divine insight predicted not only the fact of His death, but its time and manner. The Jewish authorities in secret conceived a plot to slay Him. His voice by putting Him to death. In spite of themselves they were moving in the line of God's decree.

II. Mary of Bethany Anoints Jesus (vv. 6-13).

1. The meaning of the act (vv. 6, 7).

This anointing occurred when Jesus was at meat in Simon's house. Mary had the keenest apprehension of all the disciples. By sitting at His feet in loving fellowship, she obtained a grasp of truth which none of the other disciples had. She saw that His body was to be broken and that His precious life was to go out. She entered into fellowship with His sufferings and the joy of His resurrection. This she shows in the symbolic act of bringing her most precious possessions, lavishing it upon Him.

2. The indignation of the disciples (vv. 8, 9).

The action of the disciples is in strange contrast with Mary's love. Judas Iscariot is the leader, but the whole apostolic company are led over by him.

3. Mary defended by Christ (vv. 10-13).

Jesus could not allow His most appreciative disciple to lie under this censure, so He came to her rescue. As a result of Christ's defense, Judas is so stingingly rebuked that he hastens away to betray his Lord.

III. Jesus Betrayed (vv. 14-30).

1. The bargain of betrayal (vv. 14-16).

Satan so completely had the mastery over Judas that he sold his Lord for the price of a slave (Ex. 21:32).

2. The betrayal announced (vv. 20-25).

While they were eating the Pass-over Jesus made this announcement. Who knows but that the reason for the announcement at this time was to give Judas an opportunity to re-pent? The sorrowful question in verse 22 indicates that the disciples did not seem to suspect one another, but directed personal attention to themselves.

IV. The Disciples Warned (vv. 31-35).

This took place as they walked from the upper room to the garden of Gethsemane. Jesus plainly told them, "All ye shall be offended because of me this night," quoting Zechariah 13:7 as proof. Though He told them of the darkness which was gathering, yet He gave them a glimpse of the coming light. He said, "After I am risen again I will go before you into Galilee."

V. Jesus Praying (vv. 36-46).

1. The place—The Garden of Gethsemane (v. 36).

Gethsemane means oil press. It was a place some three-fourths of a mile east of Jerusalem, where oil was crushed out of the olives.

2. His companions (v. 37).

Peter, James and John. The same disciples who had been with Him on the Mount of Transfiguration are permitted to go with Him into the deep shadow of the Garden. They slept, while He prayed.

3. Jesus sorrowing even unto death (vv. 37, 38).

The cause of His suffering was not primarily physical, but spiritual. The physical is not to be minimized, but the burden of sin—the world's sin—was pressing heavily upon Him. He was being made sin for us (II Cor. 5:21).

4. The prayer itself (v. 39).

"O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me." What was this cup? It was not prayer to be delivered from the cross. The idea that He desired to escape from the cross and this step short of His redemptive work is not to be en-tertained. Himself was the su-preme purpose of Him coming into the world. The holiness and true-ness of His nature moved Him to shrink from the mountain of sin which was resting upon Him. Though the cup was bitter, He bowed in submission to the Father's will. After this prayer, He returned to find his disciples asleep. They had boasted of their fidelity, but now could not watch with Him one hour. He withdrew the second and third time and prayed practically the same words. Each time upon His return He found the disciples asleep. The last time He bade them "sleep on." He no longer needed their sympathy. The battle had been fought and gloriously won without them.
