Man Who Purged Holland of It's Canines, Dies

OLD DOG WARDEN PASSES
AWAY; WAS UNUSUAL
CHARACTER

The old gentleman, Peter Ver Wey, 85 years, died at Holland hospital Saturday night as the result of a stroke. Mr. Ver Wey was an unusual character, was very religious, and was always of a serious turn of mind.

Many years ago he was Holland's dog warden, and during his regime in office there were very few dogs without a tag that occupied Peter. At one time the old gentleman had the dog population of Holland down to 300. There is some dispute as to how many dogs Mr. Ver Wey sent to the "happy hunting ground" during his term of office, but there were thousands of them. Those who know, claim 6,000 dogs would not be far off. Mr. Ver Wey has been bitten time and again by all sorts of dogs, but there was never any evil effects. It would appear that he was immune to dog bites and rabies were never in his mind. He never feared a dog no matter how large. During his 25 years as dog warden the dogs of the city began to know him and would follow him about town, barking at his heels, but always stayed at some distance for they stood in awe of the fearless Peter.

What "Pied Piper" did to the rats in the fair story, Peter Ver Wey actually did to the dog population of Holland. Naturally his dramatic but just measures brought considerable opposition to him from dog owners. He resigned any number of times, but the common council invariably hired him back. He was a real dog warden if there ever was one, and his fame was thoroughly publicized, not only through the local press, but through the state and national papers.

Peter Ver Wey came to the Holland City News office every week to get two copies of the paper—one for Mrs. Ver Wey and one for himself. His coming was as regular as Friday rolled around. Then, one Friday morning, some months ago, Peter didn't appear, and that seemed strange to the News force. We found the dog warden in Holland hospital where he remained until the time of his death. The two copies of the paper were sent to the hospital just the same.

Peter Ver Wey, although rough on the exterior, was a fine old man to know. He was a sterling character; he was well informed and an interesting conversationalist.

He is survived by a widow and one brother, Cornelius, living in Muskegon.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock from the Nibbelink-Notter Funeral Home, Rev. John Vanderbeek, pastor of the Sixth Reformed Church and Rev. Fred Vande Wiede, acting pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, officiating.

Interment took place in Fairlawn Cemetery.

NO INQUEST IN MOTORCYCLE DEATH

Coroner Gilbert Vande Water states that there will be no inquest because of the accident of a collision of a motorcycle with an automobile Tuesday, in which Marinus Bazan, formerly of the Lakeside, boy of Grand Rapids, was killed.

The funeral will be held today, Friday, at Nibbelink-Notter Funeral Home, Rev. H. Bell of Grand Rapids officiating. Interment is to take place in Pilgrim Home Cemetery.

Marinus Bazan, who was 20 years old and lived in Grand Rapids, died in Holland Hospital Tuesday evening as the result of a skull fracture suffered in a collision between a motorcycle, on which he was riding, and a car driven by Jerry Bonzelar, aged 19, 15 West 17th St.

The accident happened on 16th St. and Maple Ave. at a time when Bazan was on his way home to Grand Rapids from his work at the H. J. Heinz Co. The H. K. Ferguson Construction Co. of Cleveland, Ohio is erecting the new addition at the Heinz plant and Bazan was employed with that company. Bonzelar told the Holland police that he did not see Bazan on his motorcycle, or he approached the intersection where the accident occurred.

According to witnesses, the motorcycle, driven by Bazan, struck the bumper of the car a glancing blow and then went toward the curb, throwing Bazan over the handle bars into a tree. The "scubbed" tree plainly shows the force of the impact. The unfortunate man suffered scalp lacerations in addition to the skull fracture that caused his death an hour and a half later at Holland Hospital, after a hasty operation to save his life. The automobile Bonzelar was driving had been purchased only a few days before.

The witnesses questioned were George Brieslin, 383 Maple Ave., Andrew Meussen, 181 West 16th St., and Rev. Charles Stoppels, 264 West 18th St.

Survivors are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Bazan; one sister, Mrs. William Albert; three brothers, Gordon, Gerald and Cornelius, all of Grand Rapids; and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Aunsicker, residing four and one-half miles northwest of Holland.

CHEST CLINIC NEXT TUES.

The monthly free chest clinic will be held on Tuesday, June 8, from 1 to 4 o'clock in the old hospital annex on 12th Street and Central Ave. Dr. J. H. Bartlett, of Muskegon, and Miss Alma Koertge, local city nurse, will be in charge. Children should be accompanied by their parents or guardians.

A SKATING RINK ON LAKEWOOD BOULEVARD

A start has been made to put an acre and a half of ground in such condition to make a public skating rink for ice skating and hockey playing in the winter time. Herman Weaver, who owns land near Hardewyk on Lakewood Blvd., has donated the ground to the Lakeside Winter Sports Club. The members of this club are soliciting memberships in Holland, Zeeland and vicinity and in the last 2 days 293 members have been secured.

It is Mr. Weaver's intention to level off and ridge up the ground and then to put in a clay bottom. As soon as winter weather opens this waterproof basin will be filled with water from a large electrical pump, which will fill up the basin quickly. Water at that location can be pumped in abundance from a depth of only 12 feet.

Mr. Weaver stated that on the edge of the skating pond he will build a canteen where refreshments will be served—although not liquor refreshments—and furthermore, the place will be closed on Sunday. Work on the location will start either Saturday or Monday and he expects to have it ready within three months. Floodlights will be installed so that skaters and hockey players may be able to see well while busy on the ice.

Mr. Weaver stated that he had this in mind four years ago, but the depression kept him from following out his plans. He stated that Jim Borr of Holland and others were also interested.

FORMER COUNTY TREASURER
CELEBRATES MARRIAGE ANNIVERSARY

On Tuesday, June 1st, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pelgrim, Sr., 197 West 12th Street, this city, commemorated their 57th wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Pelgrim have been residents of this city for four decades. In 1892 Henry Pelgrim was elected county treasurer of Ottawa County, nominated by convention while he was still a resident of North Holland.

It was after he had completed his terms as treasurer that he came to this city and became engaged in furniture making.

His becoming treasurer was before a primary system had been inaugurated and delegates at a county convention selected the county officers by a majority vote. A treasurer in those days could hold office but two terms. This was later changed and was shown by John Den Herder, who continued to hold the treasurer's office for nearly a score of years.

From the Grand Haven court house Mr. Pelgrim came to Holland and was employed as bookkeeper for the School Seat Factory. This later became part of the West Michigan Furniture Co., in fact, the building running north and south to 8th St. was not always the West Michigan Furniture Co., but that particular building was the School Seat Factory.

Local capital saw in Henry Pelgrim a good furniture factory manager and a company was organized to start a furniture company. The main building now occupied by the Bay View Furniture Co. was at one time the Holland Carriage and Bending Works, managed by Mr. Den Bleyker of Kalamazoo. This was in the "horse and buggy" days, for it was parts of wagons and buggies that was the product of this factory. However, it was not a financial success and that was one of the early ventures where local capital did not realize much.

Anyway, the building was available for the new regulation.

Parking As At Present Is Dead Wrong

MANY ALDERMEN DO NOT MIND MATTERS; IS DETRI-
MENT TO BUSINESS

The parallel parking came in for heated discussion at the common council last evening after the committee, who had gone to Lansing, had gotten information as to what rights the city had in regulating parking in its own way. Alderman Huyser, who is chairman of the committee, the other members being City Att. Elbert Parsons and Ald. Frank Smith, explained the deliberations in the absence of City Att. Parsons, who was prevented to attend by death in the family. Huyser stated they had conferred with Mr. VanWagoner and Mr. VanWagoner had stated that he would not call parallel parking compulsory, but that most cities were doing this at the state's request as a safety measure. He stated that diagonal parking, if it worked out all right and brought no inconvenience and accidents, would possibly pass, but he warned the committee that should anything occur in the way of traffic accidents and danger, or the holding up of traffic, that the trunk line might have to be moved to a more circuitous route, away from the business street.

The committee also took in consideration that the state maintains the trunk line, where if it were removed, 8th St. and River Ave. could not expect the maintenance on those particular streets, for they would then not be trunk lines. It was pointed out that snow removal also enters in the expense borne by the state, and while last year the expense was rather small compared with the big snow year in 1935-36, it was an element to take into consideration.

The committee had not decided whether to abolish parallel parking and go back to diagonal parking. They asked the council to give time, say a month, in order to give it a better trial. All the aldermen were not exactly pleased with that. Alderman Prins immediately stated that it was a foolish business, that the city was losing three car spaces on every parallel-parked car, and what we need in the heart of the city was not less room, but more room. He contended that diagonal parking was easy for everyone, gave three spaces to everyone the present way, the getting out and in was an easy matter for most any driver, and today a lady driver who does a great deal of purchasing finds it difficult to place her car in these narrow spaces that parallel parking gives. He said the downtown streets are losing business every hour that this new parking arrangement exists.

Alderman Kleis called it the most fool arrangement that could be possibly thought of. Alderman Oudemool stated that he made it a point to question scores of businessmen, and not one of them approved. Alderman Steffens of the fourth ward also protested the parking. He says it is not only harmful to business, inconvenient, but he believed, more so.

Alderman Prins again rose and said, "I made special observation in two blocks on 8th St. and I figure we lost 32 spaces that might be occupied by cars. Furthermore, parking diagonally takes little time, while getting out of position in the parallel parking takes a great deal of time, and in some instances a driver must wait until the car ahead or in back can be moved slightly, so an exit can be made. Clashing fenders and bumpers are an hourly occurrence," he contends.

Mr. Oudemool brought up the question as to who instructed the change in the parking system. He said it was a big mistake for the person who authorized it. In answer to his inquiry, Mayor Geerlings said the police department authorized the change on indications the plan would become a state policy.

It was suggested by Alderman John Vorelsang that the council withhold any action until a later time. Alderman Bultman also made a similar suggestion.

Mr. Huyser then spoke up that in places where this new parking arrangement was inaugurated, there was the same "kick" that is now going on in Holland, but after some time cities became reconciled to it and began to like it. All Mr. Huyser asked, that we give the arrangement a little time, and on a motion of Alderman Brouwer, the matter will remain at rest until the next regular meeting in order to allow a longer try-out.

A similar request came from the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners who wanted time extension in order to give the new arrangement a fair trial.

When a vote was taken, Alderman Prins, Kleis, Oudemool and Steffens gave a loud "no," however, Drinkwater, Kalkman, Damson, Bultman, Huyser, Smith and Vorelsang supported the extension of time. This does not mean that the majority favors parallel parking. They were only heeding the request of the committee for a little more time.

Thus far the arrangement has been very unsatisfactory. It takes a very expert driver to park in small quarters, and from the window of the News office, where plain sight of the street can be seen for a block, the struggling to get cars in and out is evident hourly. Other cars are so close together that the driver, who wants to get away, must first back up to move the rear car and then move up a little to advance the car ahead. A car with the brakes on, stands an awful jolt. In any event, the cars moved as well as the cars moving them, are receiving jolts. In some instances the cars are moved out of line, contrary to the new regulation.

Another bad habit is to enter a space and upon finding room lacking, the car is left partly out and in. Practice in retreating out and in "tight" places may make better drivers of us all; however, it will take more convincing on the part of those who believe in parallel parking, that diagonal parking is not the easiest, the quickest and the safest way after all. No serious accidents have occurred with diagonal parking that the News knows of in Holland, and the driver of a car in the middle of the street has his eyes constantly focused on any car that might happen to back out and can give a whistle warning or slow up.

Undoubtedly there are some reasons why the state department has adopted this system. We do not pretend to know all the reasons and undoubtedly it is well to abide by the committee's decision to try this method a little longer. However,

Seventh Street, looking east from River at the time this grading and graveling was spoken of. This picture only shows a winding and highway, unimproved.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The crew of the Life Saving Station went through some hard drilling the past month. After a three-month's halt during the winter, Captain Charles Morton is putting his men in shape for the opening of the tourists. There will be a regular camp city at the mouth of the harbor soon.

Efforts are being made to grade and gravel Seventh Street from the C. and W. M. Depot to the lake. When this is done it will be one of the most useful streets in the city if linked up with Main and River Streets. Note—The street was never completed to the lake, which would be to the West Michigan Furniture Company. It was finished to River Ave. (then Street) Seventh Street came to a dead end west from River Street shortly before it reached the intersection of Pine. There was no Pine extension there then, for it was a large bog, a soggy mass of "flag rods" and "cat tails." At the edge of that swamp was a small tannery conducted by Schoon and Sons. The sons were the late Peter and Louis Schoon. To get from Pine Ave. and West Eighth St. to Seventh St. one had to find his way through the bog over some loose planking that often sank deep in the ooze. Today a concrete cover relieves heavy truck traffic conditions.

At a meeting recently held of residents who speak the German tongue, it was decided to endeavor to build a German Lutheran church. Mr. Anthon Sief, our local brewer, is back of the movement and is getting support, it is said. For the time being services will be held in the Land and Labor Hall and Rev. Just of Grand Haven, a German preacher, will conduct services every two weeks. Several hundred dollars have already been contributed, Mr. Sief says, and this will be placed in the bank until the amount will warrant the beginning of building a new church. Note—Well, Mr. Sief, the fine old gentleman who passed away some four years ago, did build a church at the corner of Twelfth St. and Maple Ave. For a time the late Rev. John preached there and occupied the late Dr. N. M. Steffens, at one time head of the Western Theological Seminary, gave German sermons there. Dr. Steffens, by the way, could deliver English, Holland and German discourses, since he was a talented man and linguist. Of late years the fine old German pastor, Rev. William Schumacher, ministers to his flock of German parishioners every Sunday.

Messrs. Laepole and Hummel, formerly of Holland, have commenced putting in hides in their tannery at Kalamazoo this week and will soon have the tannery in working order. They were at one time identified with the Cappon-Bertsch Leather Co. here.

At a special election held Tuesday 999 votes were cast. Of this total 648 were in favor of bonding the city for $100,000 for a new High School building and 321 voted against the proposal. Just 100 women took the trouble to vote and, it is said, largely voted for the school. The plans for the building will be adopted at a meeting of the Board of Education Monday and building will start in six weeks. Note—Frank Dyke, local contractor, was successful in getting the contract and after he had finished this fine building, he secured several contracts for school buildings in different parts of the state. School Boards came to Holland on "junkets" to get first-hand information they sought and what they had heard of the appointments of our new school. E. E. Fell was already Superintendent of Schools then, rather a young looking chap according to his picture printed 25 years ago. However, he had considerable to do with the building of this fine school and others built later.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Brinkman are celebrating their 17th wedding anniversary at 80 West 14th St. Note—Today they must be commemorating the 39th at Jenison Park.

Mrs. G. W. Heasley, wife of Dr. Heasley, dentist at Zeeland, died suddenly at her home on Main Street at the age of 45 years. She is survived by a husband, a daughter and two sons.

The Holland City News gives an account of the marriage of Miss Reka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kamferbeek Graves Place, to Mr. Isaac Van Westenberg. The bride was beautifully gowned in white silk covered with lace. The ring ceremony was used and prettily little Miss Sarah Lacey carried the ring in a large Callalily. Rev. Van Westenberg is the cousin of Dr. Blekkink, who performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. John E. Kuizenga. The groom, who graduated from the Western Theological Seminary, has accepted a charge in Marion, N. Y., where he is taking his bride.

Holland will see its first airplane. Some of the 67, who are making a trip en masse, will endeavor to land near this city and will be given a welcome. It will be the first "bird man" to visit this city. Not up to this time has an airplane flown over Holland.

The veterans of the Spanish-American War of Holland were presented with a handsome silk flag by the merchants of Holland and Zeeland. The flag is six feet long, bears the Michigan seal on one side and the emblem of the Spanish War Veterans Post on the other.

Jacob Wolfert, merchant at Central Ave. and 16th St., has put up the largest awning in the city—it is 42 feet long extending along the double front of his building.

At the regular meeting of the Exchange Club Tuesday noon, in Warm Friend Tavern, Mr. Jake Fris announced the State Exchange Club Convention at Battle Creek on June 11 and 12 next week. The extra "steam" of the city officials and the city fathers will not endanger life or property "in hot states here."

Licenses to all restaurants, hotels, soft drink stands, and kindred places of business were allowed, subject to the ordinance on motion of Alderman Bultman, supported by Alderman Smith.

William Blom, River Ave., was granted a license for a pool room in the Blom Building, on motion by Alderman Drinkwater.

John Israels was given a license to construct sidewalks in the City of Holland.

The Yellow Cab Co. was given a license to do business for the coming year. Alderman Brouwer brought up a matter, asking whether the Yellow Cab Co. carried insurance, compensation or otherwise, stated that all public service cabs should protect its passengers. City Clerk Peterson told Mr. Brouwer that under the ordinance a cab company must carry insurance, and that they were carrying such insurance.

A matter that came up rather early was the appointment of a summer deputy at Kollen Park, who would also be a guard at the swimming beach. William Wolrding, Sergeant-at-Arms at Lansing, Mich., put in his application as did former sheriff, Cornelius Dornbos. It is expected the legislature will adjourn before the deputy goes on duty. Some of the aldermen wished the playgrounds committee to voice a preference, but most of the aldermen felt that a secret ballot should be taken to ascertain what the city fathers wanted. Mr. Wolrding, who had served faithfully for a long time, appeared to have little support on the ballot, since Mr. Dornbos received 11 out of the 12 votes.

State Highway Accidents

Michigan's traffic accident death rate is up 42 per cent. The comparison is made of records for the first three months of this year with those of corresponding months last year. Oscar G. Olander, State Police commissioner, says, "If we had an adequate road patrol, we could reduce this accident rate."

This is a condition that demands consideration. Highways outside of municipalities have developed many peculiar perils. They have been made broad and smooth like city streets and at times they are carrying a volume of traffic as heavy as that of the largest cities. But for the most part the conduct of motorists is governed by their own whims, when good sense and respect for law and others are lacking.

There are but 200 men in the uniformed division of the State Police. It is obvious that 200 men patrolling 9,000 miles of improved highway can't be very close together. A lot of things can happen where no State Policeman would be near to protect and give aid.

The State maintains many costly services that at best can be called only conveniences. Police protection saves lives. The Legislature may well study to save where lesser advantages are involved and spend for the promotion of safety.

Olander, pointing to the record of 429 traffic deaths in the first three months of 1937, exclaims: "If it's that bad already, what will it be in the summer when traffic is heaviest?"

That is a serious question!

Charges that business men of America have been asleep during recent labor troubles, were made by Sherman Rogers, to the Rotary Club at its meeting recently at Warm Friend Tavern. Mr. Rogers has been a constant opponent of President Roosevelt's Supreme Court policy and is one of the most forceful speakers in the country today.

The speaker, who received his youthful training in the pine woods of northern Idaho, worked for years in mining and logging camps in parts of Canada, and the northwestern states.

One of the distinguishing attainments of which Mr. Rogers can boast is his ability to interpret statistics so that the average man knows what he is speaking about. These statistics he used freely and skillfully throughout his address to clarify his points.

"Business men of present-day America have been sleeping at the switch while agitators of the labor organizations fill workers full of lies," Mr. Rogers challenged, referring to the CIO and IWW movements which so recently received

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

June 6, 1937.
Joseph's Readiness for Service—Genesis 41:33-44.

Henry Geerlings

Unfortunately Joseph's father made too much of him in the home, so that his brothers became jealous of him and did everything in their power to get rid of him. That he escaped death at their hands is a miracle. Many a step lay between the pit into which they mercilessly cast him and the throne of Egypt. He behaved himself so beautifully even under the most trying circumstances that he deserved the honors that were bestowed upon him. If God ever held the life of anyone in His hand it was the life of Joseph.

He was thrown into a pit by his brothers. When a caravan of Ishmaelites came along on their way to Egypt he was lifted out of the pit and sold to them for twenty pieces of silver, or about ten dollars in our money. They sold him to Potiphar whose wife accused him of sin and he was flung into prison.

Pharaoh had several disturbing dreams. Being told that Joseph had the power to interpret them he was summoned to the palace. These dreams it will be remembered had to do with the famine that was to afflict Egypt. But he went farther and suggested a method of whereby the impending emergency might be met without experiencing any serious handicaps.

Fortunately the years of plenty were to precede the years of famine. The man whom Pharaoh was to appoint would not be able of himself to set up the machinery and be responsible for the direction of this huge piece of work. Under him there would have to be a large number of officers who could make effective the details of the plan. The general scheme was to preserve one-fifth of the grain produced, or, as they were wont to say, the grain on one-fifth of the land. Some suppose that there was already in that country a grain tax of one-tenth, and that Joseph proposed that this be doubled. The measure adopted would not be particularly burdensome to anyone.

Extravagance would have to be curtailed and the living habits reduced to actual needs. The grain thus saved would be stored in immense grain sheds and used only when emergency arose. This measure, which would no doubt meet with some opposition, was to be made effective by an edict of the king.

The years of plenty which were to be seven in number would provide a generous supply for the years of famine. By practicing economy the people would be somewhat prepared for the heavier restrictions which would be laid on them when the famine actually came. One wonders why there were as willing as they were to accede to the wishes of a foreigner like Joseph.

The thing that Joseph proposed seemed so wise and sensible in the eyes of Pharaoh that he did not hesitate a moment to give it his approval. But it went farther than that. It commended itself to the servants in the official household. They took the word of this stranger for it that a famine was coming, and they took his word for the policy that should be adopted to meet what would prove to be a very trying situation.

Ought we to be surprised that Pharaoh was ready on the spur of the moment to nominate this interpreter of dreams as the man of the hour? It seems that he had never listened to a policy that so commended itself to him. Why should not the man by means of whom the spirit of God had revealed to them the danger of the nation be the one who would show himself best fitted to execute the plan he had proposed?

The king accented at face value the affirmation of Joseph that the wisdom he possessed came from God. And it should be remarked that the young Hebrew's loyalty to Jehovah and his willingness to confess His name put him in line of promotion. It is possible that Joseph's nationality was not known to Pharaoh at this time, but even if it was known the king would not allow that to stand in the way of securing the best man for the position. Joseph without special training showed himself superior to all the wise men of Egypt. He won the place strictly on his merit. The years he spent in prison gave him time for serious thought.

When Pharaoh told Joseph that he should be over his house he meant that he was to be in charge of the affairs of court and at the royal palace as well as in the country at large. That placed him next to the king in power and position. In the Orient, slaves who showed marked ability have often risen to the highest positions. This was true of Daniel. With a rail splitter and a mule driver may become a president.

Pharaoh also invested his newly chosen officer with the royal emblems of his office. The signet ring was particularly the badge of authority in Egypt. It was a ring engraved with the royal seal. His possession gave the right to sign state documents and command obedience in the name of the king. Fine linen was a very costly fabric, worn only by kings and priests and was conferred only as a mark of high favor. A gold chain was a symbol of exalted station and also of the union that should exist between all parts of the empire. This chain, if monuments show, was awarded to those who had rendered special service to the crown.

When these marks of authority were bestowed upon Joseph, who only a little while before had been a prisoner, he could have needed no greater evidence to show that he had been really highly exalted. He did not seek the position. The position sought him.

Council Notes

gone into by the Ways and Means Committee, who Mr. Brouwer stated was an able committee and would do the fair thing. The report will be given at the next meeting. Mr. Van Braet is an able superintendent and the appearance of our public parks is conclusive evidence that he "knows his stuff." Holland's parks are the surprise of our tourists, and a visit to other cities will tell our home folk that our public parks surpass them all.

The Board of Health sent in a communication asking that all farmers who furnish milk to the city construct a milk house separate from the barn. This is naturally done to keep the milk more wholesome and clean. The common council fully approved of this measure.

Alderman Pinks asked that the old lean-to at the first ward engine house be torn down. He stated that the "ed" was built several years ago to accommodate extra horse and wagon, but that was in the "horse and buggy days," that the place had been in disuse for years. He also asked that a garage be built back of the Fire Station to accommodate the cars of firemen who are there constantly or part time. Now there are no such accommodations.

Here again, the two second ward aldermen let their voices be heard. When the first ward got a new polling place, they wanted one; when the garage question came up for the engine house, "Casey" and "Art" wanted a couple for fire station No. 1 in the second ward. Undoubtedly the firemen are entitled to places to put their cars, but the request for garages came so thick and fast that the matter is going to be left to a committee to find out the needs, the proper place, the estimate of costs, and such other information as is necessary, and the matter will be brought up again.

Alderman Brouwer of the third ward complains about the condition of the property south of the City Hall to 12th St. This property is owned by the city and he says the garages back of these homes are an eye-sore. Ed ought to know, for he only lives 50 feet away. He also stated that the lawns and grass were planted there last year by city father, Art Drinkwater, chairman of public buildings, and these lawns started to grow well, but were then neglected. Mr. Brouwer contends that steps should be taken to beautify this city property by removing eye-sores and keeping up the lawns. A complaint also came from the old hospital site at 12th St. and Central Ave., where it was brought out that the front lawn was mowed, but the back yard had gone to seed. That will also be remedied.

Alderman Kleis made a request that he had been in attendance at the police board meeting with R. E. Heffron, acting traffic manager of the state highway commission, in which the matter had been thoroughly discussed and a request made that parallel parking be continued here.

Mrs. Grace Channells and Miss Dora Rutgers from Kalamazoo spent Decoration Day at Hamilton with their brother, Mr. Stephan Rutgers. Miss Dora Rutgers is leaving this week for Wabash, Minnesota, where she will spend the summer with her brother, Rev. James Rutgers and family.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Ash and children spent Memorial Day at Port Sheldon.

Attorney Vernon TenCate of Holland is addressing the Holland group this evening; Prof. Egbert E. Winter of Hope College spoke at the Coopersville exercises and Rev. Edward H. Tanis of Immanuel Reformed church will address the Grand Haven district pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Van Alsburch and daughter Esther, of Holland and Miss Jean Wierenga of Zeeland returned here Monday night after spending the holiday week end in and about St. Louis. Mo. They visited Franklin Van Alsburch who is employed by the government in the Ozark mountains near Potosi, Mo.

H. Pelgrim Sees Many Sides Of Industrial Life

able and was turned into what is now the Bay View Furniture Co. Associated with Mr. Pelgrim were Cornelius Cook, and Peter De Spelder, who then conducted what was known as the Lakeside Furniture Co., on North River Ave., where the Dutch Novelty Shop is now located. The machinery in that building and the lumber was moved to the present Bay View Furniture Co. and the two above named men took stock in the plant.

The old Carriage and Bending Works as a furniture factory has been enlarged several times during these many years, and during all this time, since 1898, Henry Pelgrim, Sr. has been general manager of the plant. His son, the late Henry, Jr., was associated with him and today George Pelgrim assumes a prominent place in that institution.

Harking back to the days of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Pelgrim, this occurred in North Holland in 1880. Both Mr. and Mrs. Pelgrim were born in Ottawa County of pioneer parents, who came to this country at different times, in sailing vessels from The Netherlands when it took weeks and a stormy voyage to cross the Atlantic. From The Netherlands the parents of Mr. Pelgrim moved to Vriesland, where he was born. The parents of Mrs. Pelgrim, on the other hand, moved to North Holland, where she was born. Her maiden name was Hannah Van Dyke.

At the age of 14, Mr. Pelgrim

BOARD OF REVIEW

OF OLIVE TOWNSHIP
This is to notify the taxpayers of Olive Township that the Board of Review of that Township will meet at the home of Albert H. Stegenga, the supervisor, on Monday, June 7, and also on Monday and Tuesday, June 14 and 15, 1937. At that time taxpayers will be privileged to review their taxes for that is the time the Board of Review will be in session.

By order of the Board of Review,
Olive Township,
ALBERT H. STEGENGA, Supervisor.

worked with his father in the forest hauling logs. That region at that time contained a great deal of virgin timber, and logging as well as wood-making was then quite an industry everywhere. Later he became employed in the Vriesland grocery store, then owned by B. Bosch. He was also employed with his father as a wagon maker. That, too, was in the days before the automobile and other motorized vehicles.

It was while Mr. Pelgrim was employed at the store that the Ottawa and Allegan Fire Insurance Co. was organized, which was largely a farmers' mutual organization. Mr. Pelgrim, while still a delivery boy at the grocery store, solicited memberships among the farmers and signed the first members for that organization, which is still in existence today.

When Mr. Bosch sold his grocery store at Vriesland, Mr. Pelgrim returned to the farm and at the age of 24 married Mrs. Pelgrim at North Holland. He was very enterprising and started a cheese factory in that center as the first of his industrial ventures.

When he was elected treasurer in 1892 he sold his factory in North Holland and during his four years' tenure in office he "bought and paid for the present court house," he smilingly states. That is to say, as treasurer, Mr. Pelgrim sold the bonds for the building, purchased all the supplies, paid every order, kept the books, and collected all the money, as this relates to Ottawa County, without an assistant.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Pelgrim have been very active in church work and have been closely identified with the Third Reformed Church for many years. Mr. Pelgrim has served as Elder and as teacher in the Sunday School for 32 years. He has always been a life-long Republican and cast his first ballot for Hayes and Wheeler for President and Vice President, whose opponents on the Democratic ticket were Tilden and Hendricks.

The older folk of this vicinity will remember that this was the closest presidential election ever to take place in the United States. In the final there was only one electoral vote difference between Rutherford B. Hayes, Republican and Mr. Tilden, the Democrat. The election became a court matter and it was only a short time before the inauguration of a president in March that the courts decided in favor of Rutherford B. Hayes. Ever since this time, a period of more than a half century, Mr. Pelgrim has voted the Republican ticket. In 1916 he was elected a delegate to the Republican National Convention, where he cast his ballot for Charles Evans Hughes, now head of the United States Supreme Court.

Mr. Pelgrim is 81 years old, and his help-mate all through life, namely Mrs. Pelgrim, is 77 years of age. Tuesday was open house at the Pelgrim home on West 12th St. and all during the afternoon and evening friends from home and abroad "dropped in" to offer congratulations. The parents were surrounded by the immediate home group in a family reunion and these also assisted in receiving the many friends who called.

Six children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Pelgrim, of whom five survive: Rev. Jay Carlton Pelgrim, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Miami, Fla.; George A. Pelgrim, assistant manager of the Bay View Furniture Co. of Holland; Mrs. Edward J. Elbers, Mrs. Marvin C. Lindeman and Miss Helene Pelgrim, all of Holland.

County Farms

RESETTLEMENT ADMINISTRATION REPORTS 61 ON NEW LANDS

The 35,000-acre tract of land under development by the Resettlement administration is being rapidly evacuated by the families formerly living in that area. When work first started in the area there were 107 families and of this number 61 have already left, 58 families leaving without financial assistance from the administration. The project not only calls for reforestation of lands but also is a carry-over from the sub-marginal land program which provided that farms impossible to place on a paying basis should be taken out of production with families being moved to other farms where land conditions are better.

There are 46 families left in the area and of this amount thirteen will not require financial assistance in the purchase of new farms in other places. Several may need aid and eighteen are eligible for assistance.

Those who have moved have found farms within a radius of about 50 miles from Allegan.

Many of the buildings which are located on the abandoned farms will be torn down with lumber being salvaged. Some of the better ones will be utilized by the administration in its program and some will be sold to the highest bidder.

Most of the families had made their homes Valley and Allegan townships and as they leave the population of those two townships will take a considerable reduction. In time the entire area will be exclusively devoted to reforestation, recreation and game.

MOTORIST WARNED OF JUNK CAR RACKET: MAY BECOME INNOCENT THIEVES

Many persons who junk their cars, either by design or as the consequence of accidents, may unwittingly be aiding car thieves, Leon D. Case, Secretary of State, points out.

The possibility of motorist being involuntary party to auto theft rings exists more often in the case of new or nearly new cars wrecked, it is pointed out. If car thieves can acquire a fairly new model car, wrecked and about to be junked, and acquire its title as well, their path is not difficult. It is necessary then only to steal an identical car, make alterations such as switching motors, to have a title which no policeman could challenge. Case points out.

Motorists can protect themselves against such a possibility of they will note that the only instance in which a title does not "follow the car" is when the car is junked.

Section 14-a, of Act 65 of the Public Acts of 1931, provides that a motorist disposing of his car to a junk dealer but not deliver it to the dealer. Rather, the title must be sent to the Secretary of State, together with an application to junk, which can be secured from licensed car junkers. A junking permit may then be sent to the dealer by the Secretary of State, though title may be revived by the dealer on approval of the same official.

Reports of police departments, and the department's investigators, have definitely shown departments officials that car theft operations as described, have been carried on in many parts of the state. In every instance, however, such operations would be impossible if junked car titles had been sent to Lansing in accordance with law, it is pointed out.

Tug Crew Sees Deer in Grand River

Two beautiful young does were discovered swimming in Grand river by Capt. William Noantay and members of the crew of the tug, Seneca, as they were going up the river to the gravel beds at Bass river.

The men noticed two animals apparently swimming in mid-river and thought they were dogs. A watch was kept as they were not altogether sure just what they were. As the tug drew nearer the noise evidently startled the deer and they made for the shore and disappeared in a thick wood at Spoonville.

Capt. Noantay said the deer were about four feet high and they could easily have been caught if the men had realized just what they were as they saw them swimming.

Deer have been seen at times in several parts of Ottawa county but the sight of the animals taking a morning bath and then disappearing in the woods was one that thrilled every man aboard, said Capt. Noantay. With him were Bob Collins, Henry Shashagway and Edward Dietrick.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Mae Van Ry, daughter of Anthony Van Ry of 335 College ave., to Benjamin F. Plasman, son of Mrs. B. Plasman, 206 West 13th st., was solemnized Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride. The Rev. M. Schipper of Grand Rapids performed the double-ring ceremony. Music and wedding march were played by Mrs. W. Curtis Snow, with cello accompaniment by Charles B. Plasman of Grand Rapids. The bride wore peach colored silk chignon with silk net jacket and carried an arm bouquet of snapdragons, stock and sweet peas. The couple was unattended. Following the reception a wedding repast was served. The couple left on a wedding trip and will be at home at 206 West 13th st. after June 4.

"TO THE VETERANS, MAIMED AND DEAD, LET US DEDICATE OURSELVES TO THE PROMOTION AND MAINTENANCE OF PEACE."
—Hinkamp.

Last Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. James A. Waver, pastor of First Reformed Church, delivered the Memorial Day address at Hope Memorial Chapel. Despite the intense heat, a moderate-sized crowd attended the services.

At 2:30, war veterans and city government officials marched from the city hall to the chapel, where Professor Osborne rendered several organ selections. Rev. Waver pronounced the invocation, after which the audience sang "America."

Following the preliminaries, Rev. Waver spoke on "Living for Posterity." He paid tribute to Swan Miller of Macatawa Park and John Deuma of Holland for the services which they rendered their country in the ranks of soldiers. Neither of the "boys in blue" were present at the service, both men being ill at the time.

"The sacredness of the Sabbath has been forgotten," asserted the speaker, after having presented a picture of the sorry conditions which exist at the present time in Sabbath observance. Rev. Waver made clear that the dead have not died in vain, for they lived and died for those who were to follow.

"God of Our Fathers" was rendered by the choir, after which Rev. Waver pronounced the benediction. Incidentally, last week's News carried a complete official program for the Memorial Day services at Centennial Park and the cemetery on the following day.

Rev. Paul E. Hinkamp, of the Hope College Bible Department, presented the main address at Centennial Park, and also spoke at the cemetery exercises, Monday.

At the park, Rev. Hinkamp announced his strict opposition to war and urged the aid of all in the achievement of world peace.

This plea was again presented to the people by the College Pastor at the cemetery exercises. "We were cheated at every point in the last war," Rev. Hinkamp declared. "The last war failed to end wars, failed to bring about payment of war debts, failed in bringing about prosperity, and failed to make the world safe for democracy."

Stressing our lack of knowledge of the idea of what war really meant while the fighting was going on, the speaker asserted: "Today we know what war means, and we know that the next war will be worse than the last, terrible as it was."

The speaker commended Finland on her continued payment of war indemnities. The other countries were branded as needing their money too badly for additional armaments. "Let us save our hard-earned money for finer things, and save our children for more worthwhile purposes," he concluded.

"In the name of the veterans who are dead, in the name of the veterans who have been maimed and need our care, in the name of the veterans who are marching everywhere today, let us dedicate ourselves to the promotion and maintenance of peace."

Holland's Accusation is False, Sheriff Declares

(Allegan Gazette)

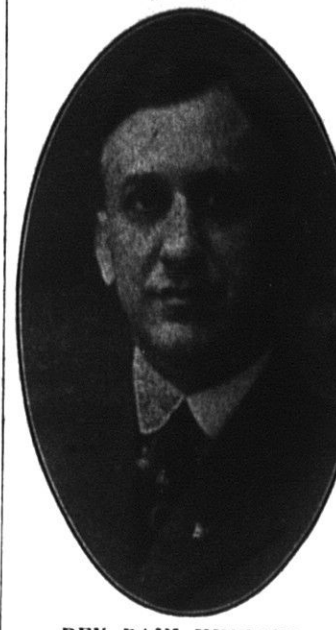

Charges, broadcast from Holland by radio, that Allegan county officials had established a speed trap at Hamilton were hotly refuted today by Sheriff Fred W. Miller, who declared there is no speed trap, that there are no people who drive through small villages at speeds ranging from fifty to seventy miles an hour will be arrested.

During the recent Holland Tulip Festival many cars traveled over M-40 in Allegan county to reach Holland. Most of them obeyed speed laws established in Hamilton, but a large number of them drove through the village at high speed, Miller declares. He reports that the official car was speeded up to eighty and eighty-five miles an hour to catch some of the offenders and points to Holland's own speed law enforcement where every person found driving more than 25 miles an hour is arrested.

"M-40, as it goes through Hamilton, is one of the village's main streets. Many people walk across it, stores are located along it, and we do not propose to permit the death of some person or persons to accommodate the desire for speed of some visitors to Holland," declares Miller. "Those people found driving their car through the village in a same manner were never molested by our department."

Members of the Willard G. Leenhouts Post, No. 6, American Legion, will elect new officers June 9. Candidates nominated at the regular meeting last Wednesday night are as follows: For commander, Anthony Dogger and Ed Slooter; for first vice-commander, Dr. E. Bacheller and Henry Poppen; for second vice-commander, Harold Vande Bunte and Walter Poppen; adjutant, Gerrit Veurink and Ernest Bedell; Chaplain, Harry Kramer; historian, Dr. A. Leenhouts; and sergeant-at-arms, Robert Eyles. The post has accepted an invitation from the Zeeland post to attend its field day program to be given Monday, June 14, in Zeeland, starting at 6:30 p.m. The local legion voted to meet at Port Sheldon for an outdoor meeting once each month.

Deputy Sheriff William Van Etta warned last week that June 1 was the deadline for the purchase of 1937 dog licenses. After June 1 the cost of the license will be doubled.

Marriages, Births, Deaths
All on Increase in Michigan

Dan Cupid and economic prosperity work hand in hand according to the historical record of Michigan's vital statistics for the past 69 years just released by the Michigan Department of Health.

The 1936 total of 47,024 marriages is almost double the number recorded in the depression year of 1932. Even the halcyon days of 1929 can't compete with the present era in the number of marriages. In fact, the marriages for the past year better all records for the previous thirteen years. The only time when Cupid's call was more effective was in the Coolidge prosperity years of 1923 and 1924, and in the 1920 post-war year when marriages went over the 50,000 mark for the first and only time in history.

But those same records indicate that prosperity boosts the divorce rate too. Divorces for the past year totaled 11,419, the highest since 1929. On the basis of these challenging statistics, 24 per cent of Michigan's June brides are facing the termination of their marriages in the divorce courts. Only in 1929 did divorces ever reach the total recorded during the past year.

Births in Michigan are returning to their normal total after their depression slump. With the lowest birth rate on record in 1933, Michigan now shows a continuing rise up to 1936 with a present total of 88,457 births. The birth rate of 17.4 per thousand population is the highest in five years.

Deaths, too, oddly enough, have increased along with economic prosperity. The 1936 total being the highest since 1929. A total of 54,777 deaths has been recorded for the past year—a rate of 11.8 deaths per thousand population.

Estimated population of Michigan has been set at 5,080,000 for the determination of rates. Records of all births, deaths, marriages and divorces are safeguarded in the vaults of the Michigan Department of Health. Michigan's eight million vital records date back to 1876—only Massachusetts has a longer series of state records.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Alberts entertained with a 2:30 dinner last Thursday evening on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary. Appropriate gifts were presented the couple. On Friday night, Mr. and Mrs. J. Enmick entertained in honor of the same occasion, the consistory members and their wives of the Sixteenth Street Christian Reformed church, of which Mr. Alberts serves as a deacon. A fitting program was arranged by the Rev. Jonker. A gift was again presented.

Mr. and Mrs. L. De Waard and son, Junior, of West 15th st., spent the week-end and Decoration Day at the home of their son in Rockford, Ill.

At Least 1,000 Deer May Die

Crushed, broken and maimed in violent collision with automobiles driven at high rates of speed, between 500 and 1,000 deer are likely to meet death on Michigan's northern highways during the current summer season.

These estimates may seem large, game men admit, by records of previous years and data already coming in for this season, indicate that another large mortality can be expected among the deer, due to highway collisions.

During April alone this spring, six deer were killed on highways in three northeastern counties. All of them were does.

An average worked out on the basis of this mortality and applied to the deer country generally as a convenient means of obtaining an indication of the possible deer loss on the highways, actually substantiates the estimate of deer killed.

In each of these three counties two adult deer were killed on the average during April.

JURORS DRAWN FOR JUNE TERM OF COURT

Jurors for the June term of Allegan county's circuit court have been drawn. They will report for duty on June 21 for a term that probably will be short. Only four criminal cases are listed as yet and there are 14 law cases for the attention of the jury. There also are 23 divorce cases slated for hearing.

Jurors from this vicinity include: Don Dickinson, Pennville; Mike Seawald, Dor; William Nyhof, Fillmore; Cleo Jerue, Ganges; Ben Riemink, Heath; Henry DuMez, Lake town; Claude Cockpoek, Lee; Leebert Knickerbocker, Leighton; Fred Henicke, Manlius; Reuben Hoover, Manlius; Lester Cusman, Overisel; William Ten Have, Saugatuck.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

Teachers tentatively appointed include Mrs. W. Barnes, Mrs. Winne, Alice Schaefer, Henrietta Bast, Mrs. Claude Lamoreaux, Irvin Hull and Geo. Berden. A Vacation school also will be conducted at Ganges, with Rev. J. E. Winne, Miss Anita Starling, Mrs. Brunson and Mrs. F. G. Wright as teachers.

FIRST WEEKLY FREE SHOW

The first of the Wednesday evening free shows to be given during the summer on the streets of Fennville, sponsored by the Merchants' association, will be given this coming Wednesday night. The program will consist of the Bangor band, Jack and Max, tap dancing, and Accordion girls recently heard over WKZO. A big crowd is expected. An amateur night will be staged June 23, entries for which will be received by Kenneth Jackson.

WANT TO RESTORE
MAY 1 OPENING

State Department of Conservation officials report that there appears to be an overwhelming sentiment in favor of returning to the old date of May 1 for the opening of the trout season. Many would like to see it even later, or about May 15. Poor fishing conditions in late April are responsible for this demand.

OLD AGE ASSISTANCE
BUREAU PAYS TO AGED

The 364 persons in Ottawa County who received Old Age Assistance benefits in April were paid a total of $5,724.50 according to figures released today by James G. Bryant, State Welfare Director, it was announced by Mrs. Ruth E. Miller, county investigator for the Old Age Assistance Bureau. The average benefit amounted to $15.73.

In the state as a whole, 34,463 persons received a total of $577,483.41, an average of $16.76 per recipient. This average ranged from $14.11 in Oscoda County to $18.23 in Washtenaw County.

Although Wayne County has the second highest average benefit ($18.12), the state average with Wayne excluded would be reduced by only thirty-four cents. Twelve counties had average payments in excess of $17.00 and seven had averages less than $15.00. The remaining 64 counties hovered around the state average. Allegan County received $6,180.00 for 430 persons or $14.32 each. Masonkegon $9,896.07 for 582 persons. Kent $34,008.07 for 2,007 persons.

FIRE LICKS HAND,
JUMPS TO SAFETY

Awakened by flames licking his right hand which suffered minor burns, Claire Van Antwerp, 26 years old of Grand Haven, found his escape to the stairs cut off and floor bedroom window in the dwelling occupied by him and his father, Carroll Van Antwerp at 919 Elliott street about 4 a. m. Sunday.

The father, sleeping downstairs, was awakened by his son's efforts to find an escape and ran to the nearest alarm box to turn in the alarm. Returning he found Gerrit Vanden Brant, city fire truck driver who is a neighbor, had awakened and was on the scene awaiting the arrival of apparatus. The dwelling was owned by John Dockin. Extent of the damage and the origin of the fire was undetermined although the occupants blamed the electric wiring. The upstairs was gutted by fire and the downstairs badly damaged by water.

Mrs. J. Mellema, who celebrated her 80th birthday last Thursday, was honor guest Friday when her daughter, Mrs. Charles De Boer, entertained a few friends and relatives in her home on 32nd st. A social time was spent, and refreshments were served.

Members of Eugene Vande Vusse's class of Sixth Reformed church were entertained Friday evening at the home of Kenneth Steggerda on East 13th st. Games were played and prizes were awarded to Dan Kemper, Dell Koop, and Bert Kemper. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schuiling of Holland, who are taking a trip in New York state, were among the spectators at the New York Yankees-Detroit Tigers baseball game last Tuesday afternoon when Mickey Cochrane, Detroit manager and catcher, was struck with a pitched ball, sustaining a fractured skull.

Willard G. Leenhouts post of the American Legion will meet with Gilbert D. Karsten post of Zeeland for a general field day program, June 14, at Zeeland. Baseball games and other sports are planned. The local post will meet June 6 to elect officers.

Allegan Lakes
Beautiful; Logs
Taken Out

HIGH BANKS, BAYS AND THE ISLAND GIVE LAKE REAL BEAUTY

Lake Allegan, which stretches for a distance of about five miles in length and nearly two miles in its widest spot, is now cleaned of all logs and heavy timber, left there when the lake was created by the construction of the municipal dam and boats can be driven by power at all places in the lake with the exception of two or three sunken islands. The new lake is destined to make a fine summer resort of Allegan city.

Clearing of logs started last fall and was continued until cold weather closed the lake to all boat travel. Work was resumed early this spring and was to be completed this week. With the exception of some small debris the lake is entirely clean.

Besides being the largest lake in the county it is acclaimed as the most beautiful and with its high, pine covered banks, islands, bays and coves it offers much scenery to the one who travels around its shores.

The island comprises about twenty acres with one side gradually sloping down to the water's edge and the other being a high river channel run and practically all of the water is deep enough for sail or power boating.

There are millions of fish in the lake, many of them being carp, but there also are large pickerel, catfish and some game fish.

Due to the effect of the wind on the waters, which occasionally mount to large waves and the large expanse of bottom, all of which is covered with vegetation, the pollution problem is not as serious there as in the case of other bodies of water. The water is clean and contains no harmful substances.

The new city dam supply made a wonderful lake with bluff covered trees on the up-stream side.

Now Allegan should get a building regulation so that fire hazards are largely confined to the building area. Do not make the mistake the early Holland resorters made and build close together and with flimsy construction. The local resorts have had some destructive fires and while the buildings can be rebuilt better and stronger after a fire—only God can make a tree, and He takes His time.

ZEELAND MAN MARRIES
GRAND HAVEN BRIDE
AT CATHOLIC CHURCH
(Grand Haven Tribune)

Miss Romana Frances Putz, daughter of Mrs. Helen Putz of this city, and Claude Koopman of Grand Haven, son of Dick Cleverenga, of Zeeland, were married Wednesday at 8:30 a. m. in a nuptial high mass by Rev. Daniel J. Hyland in St. Patrick's church here. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends from Grand Rapids and Chicago.

The wedding was followed by a breakfast at 10:30 a. m. at the Hotel William M. Ferry with the wedding party and immediate relatives present. Later Mr. and Mrs. Koopman left on an eastern trip and will be at home after June 1 at 603 Monroe street, the home of the bride's mother.

The bride was attended by Mrs. John Kulhawick, of Grand Rapids, and the groom by Mr. Kulhawick. Burt Jelen and Kenneth Nadolski, both of Grand Rapids, were ushers. Mrs. Albert J. Theiler was the organist. Miss Mary Nowacki sang Schubert's "Ave Maria" and Miss Schlegel-Bresnahan sang "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother," with the St. Patrick's choir playing a chorus, while the bride placed a bouquet of white flowers on the altar of the Virgin Mary at the conclusion of the mass. The altar of the church was decorated with a profusion of spring flowers.

Gowned in princess style white satin ultra with lace neck line and collar, full train with lace inserts, a long veil with chantilly lace to match the gown with white accessories, the bride carried an arm bouquet of lilacs of the valley, white rose buds and white sweet peas. Mrs. Kulhawick wore a princess style gown of aquatone lace over satin with pink accessories and carried a colonial bouquet.

The bride, well known here where she has resided a number of years, was graduated from Union High school and has been employed in the office of the Peerless Novelty company. Mr. Koopman, who attended the Grand Haven schools, is also well known and has been employed a number of years at the Ottawa Electric company.

Mrs. Mary N. Rice, the "nation's oldest mother," died Friday night at the age of 105 years at Memphis, Tenn. Death came quietly. She had suffered a heart attack about a week ago and this was followed by a gradual decline until yesterday, when she lapsed into a coma. Two daughters, who have lived with her for a number of years, Mrs. Alfred Decker, 71, and Miss Nannie B. Rice, 77, were at the home at the time of her death. The title of "the nation's oldest mother" was conferred upon her by the Golden Rule foundation in a nationwide survey conducted several years ago. Mrs. Rice celebrated her 105th birthday on Mar. 15. She was the mother of eight children.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 2 p.m. from the Langland funeral home for John Windemulder, 87, who died early last Thursday at the home of his niece, Mrs. Charles Shannon, 129 East 22nd st. The Rev. N. Monsma officiated and burial was in Fairview cemetery. Those surviving besides Mrs. Shannon are a niece, Mrs. Nicholas Brown of Grand Rapids, and a nephew, Fred Windemulder of North Holland.

ZEELAND GIRL MAKES STRIDES IN SCHOOL WORK

3-Pound Mite at Birth Survives To Become Zeeland Student Leader

When Jean VanderWege was born in a South Dakota prairie homestead, almost 17 years ago, there was only a faint hope of her living more than a few hours. She weighed just 3 pounds.

There was no incubator, not even a hot-water bottle or any other modern aid for use in saving the child. Fortunately, mother love was as true and strong then as now.

Baby Jean's mother worked night and day to preserve the flicker of life, rubbing her with goose grease, warming her tiny bed with a hot flannel.

For about four months her efforts appeared to be almost futile. Then Zeeland's 1937 high school editor took a turn for the better—and there was never a turn backward.

Jean came to Zeeland with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan VanderWege, when about 2 years old. Today, at 17 years of age, she is radiant with perfect health. The 3-pound beginning is almost unbelievable as folks look at Jean today, and witness her many activities.

When in the fifth grade, her tendency toward literary work began to manifest itself, and she wrote her first poem. This year she wrote the song for the 1937 graduating class, of which she is a member, and among the 10 highest in the class as to scholastic achievement. In 1936, Jean had one of the three leading parts in the junior-senior play, "The Copperhead." This year she is editor of the high school bi-weekly paper, "The Peepers." She is a member of the National Honor society.

She also was the author of all the script for the Christmas school cantata, which she named "Come to Bethlehem." Although Jean has a great liking and a talent for writing, she chooses music also very often as an outlet for her emotions, and owns a copyright on a popular song. She has done much church work and is president of the League for Service in the First Reformed branch in Zeeland, and also is president of her own Sunday school class.

And so, her mother's use of the old flat-iron and the goose grease were well worth the time and trouble. Or does Jean's success result from the fact that she was born on Napoleon's birthday?

ZEELAND WOMAN SUCUMB TO CANCER

Mrs. Cornelius Bouwens, resident of this community for forty-five years, passed away at her home at Zeeland Tuesday morning, after a long illness with cancer from which she suffered a great deal. Since the death of her husband in December, 1935 she had made her home with her children, Mr. and Mrs. Milan Huyser. She had attained the age of seventy-six years.

Mrs. Bouwens was born Jane Van Der Wege at Racine Wis., where she spent her girlhood days. Later the family moved to Nebraska where she met and married Cornelius Bouwens. Following their marriage they lived in Sturgis, Neb., for a number of years and forty-five years ago they came to make their home in Zeeland.

She is survived by five children, John Bouwens and Mrs. M. Huyser of Zeeland, Mrs. Mary Heald and Martin Bouwens of Grand Rapids, and Mrs. Elizabeth Maynard of Detroit; also seventeen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Maneko of Ripon, Calif.

The funeral services were held Thurs. and interment took place in Zeeland cemetery.

TERMITE DAMAGE SIGN FOR REPAIRS

Termites may have given beneficial engineering service to Michigan pioneers by boring through fallen trees and returning them to the soil. Dwellers in cities and subdivisions today have yet to discover anything beneficial in having linoleum, furniture, floors and foundations crumbled by insect workings.

The termite worked willingly for the pioneer with the cutting away and removal of most of the trees. Now the pests have moved into the cities of north central and north eastern United States where they work just as enthusiastically. Depredations of termites have not been serious in Michigan farther north than Bay City, but below this point termite damage runs into untold thousands of dollars.

Adult termites establish themselves by flying into a knothole and removing their wings. There the mother lays a few dozen eggs. There are not many at the start and it sometimes takes from five to ten years to build a colony.

Termites, according to Professor E. I. McDaniel at Michigan State College, may be ousted by breaking their contact between their workings in the wood and the moisture of their homes in the ground. All foundations and uprights in new buildings should be capped with non-corrosive metal plates. High-grade cement should be used for foundations. Fill under buildings should be clear earth rather than scraps of wood. The presence of termites in stumps near buildings should be the signal for their eradication by kerosene. Circular bulletin No. 150, "Michigan Termites or White Ants," can be obtained by writing Bulletin Room, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Traveling Around America

AN OCTOGENARIAN

HERE is an American city that is flourishing in a big way before the pilgrims ever heard of Plymouth Rock. It is Quito, capital of Ecuador in South America, which with Cuzco, Peru, and Mexico City on our own continent share honors as the three oldest cities in the New World.

Quito—approached over one of the most wonderful rail routes in the world from Guayaquil, the port, visited weekly by cruises from New York—rests 9,500 feet above sea level and is circled round by mountains, a location which gives a well-nigh perfect climate in spite of the fact that it lies almost on the Equator.

The city is believed to have been the center of the Kingdom of Quito which in 1100 A. D. fell under the rule of the Incas, and about 1450 was conquered by the Incas, and was for a time one of the capitals of the fantastically wealthy Inca Empire. The Quito of today, capital of Ecuador, while taking on the new features of modern times has somehow managed to retain unchanged more of the characteristics of Spanish colonial days in South America than has any other city on the southern continent; and it still proudly displays some of the most beautiful buildings erected by the Spaniards in the New World. The charm of the city itself, the novel sights presented by the nearby jungles, Indian villages and spas make it a favorite haunt of those in the know.

Connelly, manager of the Holland Chamber of Commerce announced Wednesday that the fifth well to be drilled in the Holland-Burnips oil field, southeast of Holland, and the fifth to be a producer was brought in Tuesday about 2 p. m. The drillers penetrated the traverse formation with an initial free flow of from 50 to 100 barrels. First signs of oil were discovered about noon, Tuesday. This well, known as Moomey No. 2, is owned jointly by the Vandenberg trust and the Muskegon Oil Corp. Another oil rig has been set on the Moomey farm and will be "spudded in" sometime this week, it was announced. The rig over the Moomey No. 2 will be moved to another location on the Moomey farm some time next week. The offset to the discovery well, located on the M. Brenner farm, is expected to be brought in sometime this week. Development of the oil field got underway several weeks ago. The fourth well was brought in last Wednesday.

ROSE CLOAK STORE

GRAND HAVEN TO HAVE POST OFFICE FIXED

Bids will be received at the Grand Haven post office building on June 9 for new sidewalks, painting the exterior of the building and miscellaneous repair work, which will complete the improvement made when the building was enlarged last year.

In order to get the work underway as quickly as possible the bids will be opened by Homer Fisher, local postmaster, and it is hoped the awards will be made in a short time so that the new walks can be completed before the summer season.

One of the sacrifices to the improvement will be the cutting down of the large elm tree at Washington and Third streets, which is the last tree left in the Washington street business district. The roots of the tree have raised sections of the walk and it is considered a nuisance by the government. The walks on the street side of the property will be extended to the curb thus cutting out the strip of earth which is too narrow for grass and has become merely a place for the growth of weeds.

Survey Shows Good Fishing

CATCHES ARE BETTER THAN LAST YEAR

A survey covering the opening of the trout season in Western Michigan indicates that fishing is improved over last year, but is not yet back to the standard of a few years ago. Despite adverse weather conditions during the first two weeks the catches were greater than last year and the seasoned trout fishermen are hopeful of good fishing once the streams get back to normal after the recent rains.

As a year ago, the best catches were reported on the little fished streams, where the limit was obtained by some. The larger and better known streams did not yield as many fish. Most trout streams were in excellent condition until the opening day rains. The weather conditions renewed the movement started in Western and Northern Michigan among many of the veteran trout fishermen to have the opening returned to May 1. Several sportsmen in Western and Northern Michigan have adopted resolutions asking a return to the old date.

Most seasoned fishermen as well as conservation officers express the belief that there are more trout of legal size in the streams today than a year ago and that the catches will improve as the season advances and the weather and stream conditions improve. Not so many undersized trout were hooked on opening day and in most instances those caught were of good size. During the last two years a large number of small trout have been caught.

Common Council

Holland, Mich., May 19, 1937.

The Common Council met in regular session and was called to order by the Mayor.

Present: Mayor Geerlings, Alds. Prins, Kleis, Kalkman, Oudemool, Brouwer, Steffens, Damsen, Huyser, Bultman, Vogelzang, Smith, and the Clerk.

Minutes of the last regular meeting read and approved.

Mayor's Message.

Mayor Geerlings presented the following message:

"The Mayor and some members of the Common Council have been criticized by some of our citizens for allowing places where beer is being dispensed to be open last Sunday. It was a violation of the mandate of the people at the fall election prohibiting the sale of beer on Sunday. This is readily admitted. The sole reason for permitting the sale of beer in these places on Sunday was that additional eating houses would be provided for the thousands upon thousands of visitors who would come to our City. It was considered justifiable on the ground that Holland had sent the invitation broadcast to come to our City to enjoy the Tulip Festival. From now on, however, the mandate will be strictly enforced and no beer will be dispensed on next Sunday or any Sunday thereafter."

Ald. Oudemool, Bultman and Huyser took exception to the fact that the Mayor and some Aldermen had given their consent to the selling of beer on last Sunday without a special meeting of the full Council. After a brief discussion, however, it was moved by Ald. Prins, 2nd by Bultman, That the message be accepted and filed.

The Council here resumed the regular order of business.

Petitions and Accounts.

Clerk presented several applications for bldg. permits.

Granted, subject to approval of City Engineer and Fire Chief.

Clerk presented several Oaths of Office.

Accepted and filed.

Clerk presented petition from residents and property owners on E. 16th St. living in the vicinity of the dilapidated residence at 151 E. 16th St., protesting against the condition in which this residence is being maintained. Petition states that this property is not only an eyesore to the neighborhood, but also constitutes a fire hazard and is unsanitary. Petition is supported by a communication from Albert F. Teerman relative to its condition.

Police Chief Frank Van Ry reports that the automobile stolen from H. B. Lynn, Monday, from in front of his home at 25 East 16th st., had been found abandoned on the highway near Lowell. The car was stolen by an unidentified boy and girl Monday afternoon after the two had abandoned another car near the Lynn home. This car was the property of a Grand Rapids auto firm.

Two middle-aged men of St. Louis, Mo., who gave their names as George Riley and Arthur L. Herman, alleged to have been engaged in the business of selling "cheap jewelry," were detained at the Holland police department, Tuesday night, and released after the complaining party had declined to prosecute the case. The two men admitted selling a cheap watch to a gasoline filling station attendant in South Haven and agreed to return the $9 to the man who had bought the watch. Search of the two men revealed an invoice from a Chicago company, showing that a consignment of jewelry had been sent to them in care of "General Delivery, Grand Rapids." Two detectives came here Wednesday to question Riley and Herman. They were satisfied that the two St. Louis men had not had any previous dealings in Grand Rapids. Riley and Herman were released from custody and went to Grand Rapids. They told police they were enroute east.

Shackson, Vernon Ten Paske and Dr. James H. Warner, Te Paske's talk on syphilis in "The Hidden Killer" won first place over Dean Dykstra's "And There Was a Practical Man," and Wilbur Jacob's "Symptoms of Decay." Orien S. Cross, Holland attorney, who represented the Overisel township board in a compensation case involving J. Henry Lezman of Holland, has received an opinion from the Michigan supreme court, which, after reviewing the case, overruled a judgment of the state department of labor and industry. The ruling provides the township with the savings of $1,472. Mr. Cross said and is the first case in which the supreme court has been called to pass on this question. Prior to Oct. 13, 1933, Mr. Lezman was in the employ of Mrs. Sena Arink, residing in that township, and, having finished his farm work, had taken a team of horses and wagon out on the road to work for Mrs. Arink. While engaged in hauling gravel, a bank gave way and he suffered a fractured leg. The workers' compensation commission allowed Mr. Lezman a compensation of $8 per week and the township board appealed the case to the state department of labor and industry and after hearing the appeal, allowed the award and ordered payment to be made from October, 1933. The township board then appealed the case to the state supreme court and the reversed ruling was forthwith. The supreme court held that the township was not liable for damages as Mr. Lezman was a volunteer worker and was not working under any contract for the township.
