

Bureau to Meet Soon to Discuss Next Year's Fete

Attendance at First Warlike Festival Is Set at About 325,000

Holland's 14th annual Tulip time festival will be brought to a successful conclusion Saturday.

And with the closing of the festival, also came the end of the blooming of the tulips, some of which bloomed for four weeks. Now fading fast, the flowers will leave only memories of Holland's first wartime festival.

The program throughout the week carried a wartime motif, patriotism being featured on the opening day, at the mid-week "S.M.B. Day" program and at the band review and parade of bands last Saturday.

S. H. Houtman, general festival manager, said today a meeting of the Tulip Time bureau will be held within a short time to discuss plans for a probable festival in 1943.

In comparison with other years, the 1942 festival failed to attract as many visitors but this was largely due to curtailed highway traffic because of the rationing of automobile tires and prospect of rationing of gasoline at an early date.

Including an estimated 40,000 pre-festival visitors, attendance at this year's festival was set at approximately 325,000 persons. The 1941 fete drew an estimated 630,000, including 100,000 who came prior to festival week due to the early blooming of tulips.

Attendance at past year's festivals follows: 1940-605,000; 1939-535,000; 1938-544,000; 1937-750,000; 1936-525,000; 1935-450,000; 1934-300,000.

Attracted by the 19 bands which paraded in the parade of bands and 12 which participated in the band review at Riverview park, an estimated 80,000 visitors poured into Holland Saturday to witness the last day's program. Attendance at the band review was given at 10,000 persons.

On Sunday, another estimated 20,000 persons came here to view the tulips. Last year's final weekend attendance was estimated at 130,000 persons.

Police Officer Jerry Vanderbeek, in charge of the traffic, reported 35 officers were required to handle the Saturday crowd while no officers were needed for Sunday's traffic.

Deputy Sheriff Edward Brouwer said 11 officers were used to handle Saturday's traffic in the vicinity of the tulip farms while Sunday's traffic did not require any officers.

Among the Sunday visitors were the minister and the choir of the Apostolic church at South Bend, Ind. The group came here in the forenoon, had dinner at the Warm Friend tavern, toured Tulip lane and visited the tulip farms.

The following attendance figures were reported for the various attractions:

Tulip Farms—Saturday, 15,000; Sunday, 20,000; total attendance, 172,500.
Netherlands Museum—Saturday, 300; total attendance, 3,168.
Little Netherlands—Saturday, 550; total attendance, 5,600.

Mexican Fatally Hurt in Accident Near E. Saugatuck

The accident occurred about 9 p.m., according to reports. Joe Vasquez, 20, route 6, Holland, was driving the truck.

Following the accident, he went to his home but when officials checked on his condition they found him unconscious and he was taken to the hospital. He is reported suffering of shock and has regained consciousness. Vasquez was given an x-ray examination which showed no broken bones.

Montez and the two children were riding on the back of the truck. The injured persons were taken to the hospital in the Ten Brink ambulance of Hamilton.

They are American citizens of Mexican extraction. They came to this vicinity about three weeks ago from McAllen, Tex., to work and had been employed by Weller Nurseries, Inc., route 1, Holland. The truck was owned by the nursery.

Daily Ferry Service Will Be Started on Local Lake

While many cities are considering returning to "horse and buggy days" due to wartime restrictions on new cars, and tires and tubes, Holland is contemplating returning to "travel by boat" days.

This was brought out at Wednesday night's common council meeting when the aldermen voted favorably to permit use of the Kollen park dock for ferry purposes. Council agreed that the dock could be used seven days per week but that it cannot be utilized for "excursions" on Sunday.

The idea of the ferry service, as presented by E. P. Stephan, secretary-manager of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, is to provide a means of transportation for local citizens as well as tourists and resorters in reaching the resort areas at Macatawa park and Ottawa beach since highway travel is to be limited.

He said the question was brought up at a recent meeting of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort association and it was felt that resort areas should provide transportation for this summer's anticipated visitors.

Stephan said the Chamber of Commerce had approached a bus operator relative to operating on an hourly schedule between Holland and Macatawa park and Ottawa beach but the operator could not do this due to his inability to purchase a second bus.

He said the Chamber of Commerce took up the matter of providing ferry service to these resort areas and that a boat owner at Spring Lake whose boat has a capacity of 70 passengers is willing to give the proposition a trial and operate on an hourly schedule.

While he was not identified at the council meeting, Stephan later said he was Capt. J. E. Drenner who already has brought his boat "The Wolverine" to Holland harbor and is licensed to carry 70 passengers.

However, the ferry boat operator desired permission to use the Kollen park dock. Mr. Stephan said. He reported having contacted the chairman of the park and cemetery board and received assurance there would be no objections, providing council gave its approval.

Ald. Herman Mool raised the question of Sunday use of the dock and asked, if used on that day, if it would be "quiet and orderly" or prove an annoyance. Stephan said it was the operator's intention not to "ballyhoo" his business but to operate on a schedule which would be advertised and adhered to as strictly as possible.

Mool then raised the question of whether the dock could be used on Sunday in keeping with the provisions of the deed by which the property was given to the city as a park.

City Clerk Oscar Peterson obtained the warranty deed from his office and City Attorney Clarence A. Lokker presented the following paragraph:

"The above described premises are hereby conveyed by the first party to the second party for public park and playground purposes to be known as the 'George E. Kollen Memorial park' and to be forever kept, used, improved and maintained by the second party for such public purposes only."

When it was brought out that Capt. Drenner planned to operate daily until 9 p.m., then take on chartered cruises, Mool objected to the use of the dock for such purposes on Sunday night. Stephan pointed out that a seven-day service would be necessary but that he felt the boat operator would be willing to limit his excursions to six days a week.

Ald. Bertal H. Slag moved that permission be given to use the park dock for this purpose and Ald. L. Philip Van Hartesveldt seconded the motion.

Mool offered a substitute motion that the dock be used for ferry purposes seven days a week but that Sunday excursions be prohibited if the Kollen park dock were used. His motion was supported by Ald. Bernard De Pree and carried by a vote of 7 to 4.

Those voting for the motion were Ald. Bernard Aendreshoff, Ben Steffens, De Pree, Mool, Gordon Streur, George Damson and Elmer Schepers. Those opposed to this limitation were Van Hartesveldt, John Bontekoe, Slag and John R. Emmick.

Before calling for a vote on the substitute motion, Mayor Henry Geerlings recalled ferry service of past years and said, "now we miss it." He said it could be revived for the benefit of the resorters and tourists.

Van Hartesveldt contended that Lake Macatawa was government property and that council had no jurisdiction over it, even on Sunday. He said he saw no difference between Sunday boat trips and rental of bicycles or taxis for Sunday rides.

Mool questioned his contention and he expressed belief the donor, Mrs. Martha D. Kollen, had Sunday restrictions in mind when she donated the property.

Flag Day Parade Will Be Held Here June 15

Mayor Henry Geerlings announced today a flag day parade will be held in Holland Tuesday, June 15, at 7:30 p.m. He said he is now at work on the program which will be sponsored by the local civilian defense council.

After reading the particular paragraph in the deed, dated Feb. 14, 1921, he said there was a question involved over a third party using the dock for commercial purposes. Mool said council should not take action to incite the donor since the park was given as a memorial but Lokker was of the opinion there was more of a moral issue involved than a legal question.

Mool said he understood Mrs. Kollen had donated the property for a picnic and playground park for use by those persons who had no means of reaching other parks and resort areas.

Certificates Will Be Presented to Farm Volunteers

Youths of Cities And Villages May Enroll
Under Club Program

Grand Haven, May 28—Under a new 4-H club farm volunteers' project, city or village youths and girls from 12 to 20 years of age will receive certificates of achievement if they work at least 200 hours on farms, according to County Agent L. R. Arnold.

The certificates will be signed by Governor Van Wageningen; Harold A. Furlong, of the Michigan defense council; Maurice A. Deen, USDA war board; and R. J. Baldwin, director of extension work.

Reporting on the Ottawa county 4-H program, Mr. Arnold said final figures completed on winter projects show 380 boys enrolled and eight girls in handicraft. There were 30 boys in electrical projects. Of the total of 388 enrolled, 328 finished their projects. This gives a lower percentage than in past few years.

Figures submitted by Ray Lamb, district club agent, show 1,217 articles made, with a value of $1,610.72. Cost to boys was $697.67, leaving a profit of $913.05.

Dozens of different kinds of articles were made. Emphasis was placed upon utility. Among the articles were tool boxes, step-ladders, double trees, mash hoppers and other articles which can be used by farmers. Numerous articles were made for the home.

The 1942 summer program in the boys' division will stress the garden. To date, 229 boys and girls are enrolled in corn, potatoes, beans, flowers, pigs, beef and sugar beets. The United club, Coopersville, led by Ferris Hamilton, has 24 garden members and prospects for more. The Clark school has 19 garden club members.

Data on Need of Nursery Sought

Block Mother Survey Will List Women Who Plan War Plant Work

Block mothers, in starting their second assignment this week, are doing three jobs in one.

A survey to determine the need of efficient care of children if mothers are called into employment is one objective. A questionnaire is being presented to each mother of pre-school and school age children to be filled out and returned for the purpose of fact finding. If a woman has had previous experience in employment of some kind and contemplates returning to work during the war, she should so state on her questionnaire. The committee in charge of OGD family security has a suitable place in mind and a comprehensive study is being made of the subject of day nurseries.

The fruit jar drive is already showing results as jars are being taken to the Camp Fire office. Because of the fact that Saturday is Memorial day, the office will be open all day Thursday, and Friday until noon, instead of Saturday as before stated. Block mothers are to be responsible for taking the jars to the Camp Fire office, from where they will be collected by a truck, Mrs. Lloyd Reed, Camp Fire director, stated.

The block mothers also will seek data on immunization against disease. In an effort to simplify this work, the chairman stated that the mother of the child immunized may sign her physician's name on the questionnaire. Names of children up to and including 10 years of age are the only ones necessary to list, it was explained.

Whatever is the wishes of the police and fire board and the council, if they can use me in an advisory capacity, I want it to be known that as long as I live, I wish to offer whatever assistance I may to help maintain the high efficiency of the Holland fire department.

Information was received in Holland last Jan. 22 that improvement of the Black river channel from the turning basin in Holland harbor to the US-31 bridge as a federal project would receive an unfavorable report from the office of the division engineer at Cleveland, O.

State Manager of Fairs Confers on Tulip Industry While Here for Fete

Vitaly interested in the tulip industry since Michigan has taken the lead in bulb production now that importations from the Netherlands have been cut off by the war, A. C. Carton, manager of fairs for the state department of agriculture, visited Holland's Tulip Time festival Saturday.

He was accompanied to Holland from Lansing by John Hudson, chief of drainage for the agricultural department. In the forenoon, they were taken to the tulip farms and on a tour of the boulevards and local parks by S. H. Houtman, general festival manager.

At the tulip farms, Mr. Carton conferred at length with Harry Nelis on the tulip industry and received a bouquet of tulips from Mr. Nelis. Mr. Carton and Mr. Hudson's host of the day was State Rep. Nelson A. Miles of Holland.

At the conclusion of the parade of bands, Mr. Carton presented plaques to the participating bands and also received a souvenir plaque from Eugene F. Heeter, director of the band review.

Mr. Carton said he has always had a great admiration for "those sturdy Holland pioneers who, nearly 100 years ago, located on the shores of Lake Michigan, 'the Mediterranean of the new world,' and carved out for themselves a place in the spiritual, social and economic life of our state."

"The problems which confronted those early pioneers were many. Forests had to be cleared away, roads built and lands drained, but the results of their faith and work are in evidence all over Western Michigan. Your churches speak of your faith and your schools of your hope in the future."

"In a war torn world many changes have taken place and are taking place."

"The tulip industry which is loved so dearly by the people of Old Holland is feeling the heel of the aggressor, and it is well that the descendants from the land of dykes and windmills have a place in America where they can continue and carry on this industry which is so dear to the hearts of their forefathers."

"When this titanic struggle is ended, and let us hope that it will be soon, Holland will be restored to its high estate, and the social and economic life which they followed in the years gone by will be resumed in that land."

"Let us hope that the arrangements arrived at after this war is over will be of such a nature as to prevent forever a repetition of the crimes which have been committed on the peace-loving and God-fearing inhabitants of a large part of Europe."

six-point program for America. To be the arsenal of democracy, to build the world's greatest army, navy, air force and merchant marine, and to produce synthetic rubber in large quantities. He also introduced four speakers who also discussed various aspects. Mildred Lubbers told of the changes in U. S. views in regard to diplomatic relations with nations, the former attitude of isolation, and automobile civilization. Julia DeFrell traced the American attitude of indifference to acts of aggression by totalitarian powers until they began to vitally affect this nation and its effect on the war effort.

The philosophies involved in the war were pointed out by Harvey Van Dyke who stated that the value of the individual, the ideals of government by the people, international honor and racial equality were at stake. Sally Diekema concluded with a discussion of peace proposals and ideals. She mentioned the "Union Now" idea, The Atlantic charter, and League of Nations types. She stressed that this country must pay the price of peace because it can't afford a war every 20 years. In the last war the United States was "easy in war and hard in the peace," she said. "We must reverse this and be hard in war and easy in the peace so we can have international cooperation." Guests of the club were Howard Beckfort, Max Flowerday and Harold McGilvray. Ward Hansen of Yonkers Drug store and James Heerspink, Washington Square jeweler, were proposed for membership.

President Albert Lampen announced that nominating blanks were being distributed for next year's officers and directors. The Rev. Paul E. Hinkamp opened with prayer, and singing of "America" closed the meeting.

BEHIND THE BATTLE

Although it is far less dramatic than the bombing of cities and the sinking of ships, a war is going on behind this war that in terms of decades will prove far more important than the destruction wrought by gunpowder and dynamite. This battle behind the battle is the never-ceasing war against disease.

The announcement has just been made that "children can now be successfully vaccinated against tuberculosis." If true (and there is little reason to doubt it,
so painstaking have the tests
been over a number of years),
this statement will in the long run be far more important than the sinking of a dozen ships or the enemy. For it will mean that,
for the first time in the history
of mankind, the medical profession will have it within its power virtually to wipe out one of the major plagues.

The analogy of diphtheria or scarlet fever will give an idea of what this new weapon may mean. There was a time within the memory of many now living
when those two diseases killed their tens of thousands; today a death from either of these diseases comes near to being a mere accident. The time seems at hand when it will be possible to say the same thing about tuberculosis, at least among children.

Or take another analogy. Only a century or two ago small pox
was a disease that sometimes threatened to wipe out whole populations, and adults who were not marked by it were in the minority. Today there are any number of doctors who have never had an opportunity to see a case of small pox. If the new method of vaccination against tuberculosis is as effective as it is supposed to be, the time may come when doctors with a wide practice will seldom see a case of the white plague.

Although the new vaccination is announced as being effective in children, that probably does not mean that it could not be used with adults. Doctors are extremely careful and conservative in their statements. The experiments have been carried on with 2,000 children, not with adults;
hence claims are made only for the effectiveness of the method
with children, not with adults.
But it is hard to see why it should work in children and not in grownups.

Science is engaged in a battle
to save more lives than science
is succeeding in destroying in war.
As things stand, this war for saving life is still a winning battle. Some day the peoples of the earth will hit on the revolutionary idea of stopping the efforts to destroy life and concentrating on that of saving it. When that time comes, nothing can prevent a victory over the major plagues of mankind.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

Sir Stafford Cripps, Britain's recent envoy to India says, "I feel strongly that we have got to have a moral background to our whole life. We have tended to divorce our ethical and religious values from our practical affairs. We try to live in two worlds. One is in the world of our religion, our thought and our imagination; the other is what we call our 'real' world of politics and society and business.
But we must learn to do as we think. To bring those two worlds together we need the Christian inspiration."

The Church provides that inspiration. Why not accept the invitation and go to church next Sunday?

The Day of Suffering—Mark 14:

22-34, 44-46; 15:1-5

By Henry Geerlings

In His hour of trial Jesus wanted
His dearest friends near by.
He wanted them to sit up and stay awake. He was like any man in sore trouble. He clung gratefully to some one He knew.
However, the sorrow of Jesus in Gethsemane was not like any other sorrow in the world. He was shaken by a storm of anguish that lies quite beyond the range of our understanding and experience. It carried a deeper pain. The burden and mystery of the world's sin lay heavy on his heart. So great was the agony that it forced from His sensitive frame great drops of sweat which fell upon the ground as heavy as drops of blood. To describe this utter sorrow of the Savior, Mark has recourse to Greek words which represent the epitome of struggle. Greatly amazed is a term which expresses the pain of a great shock of emotion which overpowers the senses and grips the whole person. Sore troubled indicates the confused, restless, half-distracted state, which may be worse than the sharp pain of a fully realized sorrow.

The terrible agony of our Lord
in the quiet garden was the result of His spiritual insight. Suffering is the pathway to redemption—suffering for the Redeemer, suffering for the redeemed. What happened in the garden was a dramatic piece which presented the vast human tragedy. That tragedy can only be absolved in the mystery of God. Pursuing its portent to the end, Jesus found His own peace and the solution of the world's tragedy in the will of God.

It may seem strange to think of Jesus as in need of sympathy.
In all probability in His human aspect of life, He enjoyed and appreciated the touch of sympathy-ic friends the same as we. Our word sympathy is derived from two words in the ancient languages, meaning to suffer with.
The disciples nearest the Master
were willing to suffer with Him in His distress and agony.

In His garden experience, the Master resorted to prayer for comfort and guidance. In this He left a perpetual example for His followers to avail themselves of fellowship and communion with God in the hour of difficulty and distress. If the divine Son of God was in need of a life of prayer, how much greater is the need in the life and experience of his humble, human followers.

In the suffering of Jesus we see sanctified suffering. His pathway was the road to redemption,
and His was redemptive pain.
While the whole life of Jesus performed a part of His atoning life, it is signally true that His death was the climax and culmination of the redemption. He came to bring to man. No human suffering can accomplish that which the suffering of Jesus gave to the world.

Eventually the Master was brought to Pilate's court. Here
he received only a mock trial.
No guilt was found in Him, yet
He was destined to suffer the death of a criminal. While He was a victim of the court, in a truer sense He was victor over life and death. The better spirits of the times found no sin in him, recognized his as revelation of God, acknowledged Him as Master and teacher, and yet were forced to stand idly by and see the most just of men receive injustice at the hands of mankind.

Jesus still agonizes and suffers for the sins of the world. He looks with pity upon wayward mankind. He looks to His disciples to assume His attitude. As we carry out the Father's will,
we will teach and preach the message of Jesus and willingly suffer in the cause. In lesser fashion than the Master, we through suffering can aid in human betterment. Our adversities can lead us to God and prompt us to serve humanity. A young man, victim of tuberculosis, is using his affliction as an avenue of service to others. He is conducting a one-man campaign, against the disease by warning
others of a possible like fate.
There are many avenues through which we can use our own suffering and difficulties for the service of others.

From the life and service of Jesus, there flows the principle of the cross. It is fundamental in all of life. It has manifested itself through the entire history of the race. It culminated in Gethsemane and the Cross of Calvary.

Abandon Plan for Goerke Inquest

Grand Haven, May 28 (Special)
—Prosecuting Attorney Howard
Fant yesterday said he and Coroner Gilbert Vande Water of Holland have decided that no inquest will be held in the death of Clarence Goerke, 29, who, the coroner had ruled, shot himself
May 8 at the Holland Precision parts where he was employed as floor inspector.

An inquest had been contemplated at the request of Goerke's family.

However, the prosecutor said,
a further and complete investigation into the death by Holland
police and Edward C. Johnston, detective sergeant of the state police, has made it apparent that no advantage will be gained by a coroner's inquest.

"The investigation disclosed that the death occurred from a self-inflicted wound, but it is impossible to state with accuracy whether such wound was inflicted intentionally or accidentally," Fant stated.

Wilford Wanrooy, employed as guard at the plant, has been absolved of all blame by the officers, he added. Wanrooy, the investigation showed, admitted Goerke to a first aid room to obtain a sedative for a headache and Goerke suddenly jerked Wan-rooy's revolver from its holster.

Delay in Gasoline Rationing Urged At Resort Meet

But Association Wants To Abide by Plan If It Is Proved as War Aid

Muskegon, May 28 — Resort operators who attended the annual spring meeting of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort association here last Thursday adopted a resolution urging that gasoline rationing in the Great Lakes region be deferred until fall or provision be made to allow motor fuel for reasonable travel on annual vacations.

However, the resolution emphasized that the association is fully willing to abide by rationing, even during the summer season, if it can be shown that the war effort would be hindered without rationing.

The resolution was endorsed by the upwards of 200 persons attending the annual banquet. Also endorsing the action were leaders of the East Michigan Tourist association, the Upper Peninsula Development bureau, the Detroit association, the Southwestern Michigan Tourist and Publicity bureau and other groups, indicating these organizations plan to fall in line. Spokesmen, in fact, declared their intention of urging their respective groups to adopt similar resolutions so a united front on the rationing question can be presented in Michigan.

The resolution asked that Governor Van Wagoner, Senators Arthur H. Vandenberg and Prentiss M. Brown, and the several congressmen of this state present the facts embodied in the resolution to the appropriate federal authorities.

The preamble to the actual resolution cited the importance of the annual $400,000,000 Michigan tourist business; stated that proposed stringent gas regulations would mean ruin to many small business men in western and northern Michigan; pointed out gasoline stocks in Michigan are at record levels; and set forth the contention vacations today are the one way the average workman can profitably spend surplus income with benefit to his physical self and the nation.

While agreeing that thousands of miles might well be banned, it is argued excursions from major cities into abutting resort territory would help promote the war effort through needed recreation.

Bruce Anderson, head of the American Hotel association, principal banquet speaker, urged greater selling as a means of holding resort trade. He said war workers being paid high wages constitute a new field for vacation promotion. Anderson warned hotels likely will face ceiling prices on room rental.

John Hekman of Grand Rapids, association president, was toastmaster. A. E. McCrea, Muskegon editor, welcomed the visitors. Various resort leaders and notables were introduced. Lee W. Hutchins of Grand Rapids, former association president, led the afternoon session. W. W. Richards, Muskegon city commissioner, and association director, was general chairman on arrangements for the day.

Recreation and vacationing are component parts of a production system that stands up under long weeks and hours such as the present war effort is bringing, and some real damage might result by too strict curtailment, by rationing during these next three or four months, P. J. Hoffmaster, state conservation director, declared at the afternoon meeting.

Hoffmaster warned that Michigan "will have to take it" if gasoline rationing is decreed, but said an extra 25 or 30 gallons of gasoline per month for drivers might ease the summer situation.

Decrease of motor travel since Pearl harbor has resulted in more than a 13 per cent decrease in gasoline consumption in Michigan and the prospects are the decline may reach 35 to 40 per cent by September, Harold Bradshaw of the secretary of state's office told the meeting. While pointing out the devotion of himself and associates to the war cause, Bradshaw, nevertheless, asserted that on this basis it would appear enough gasoline is being saved to stave off rationing at present.

He said there are several million gallons more of gasoline in reserve in Michigan than ever before in the state's history.

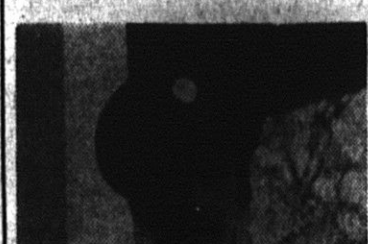

John C. Beukema, secretary-manager of the Muskegon chamber of commerce, calling attention to the fact oil supply is a world problem, said that while tremendous purposes are going to be drawn on heavily for transport and for our own war machine.

Hugh Gray, manager of the association said some thought had been given to the idea of the share-your-car movement, as it might apply to the tourist business.

A note of optimism was sounded by J. J. Bachinas of Sodus, resort operator, who charged the resort owners to go ahead and plan as before, advertising more than ever.

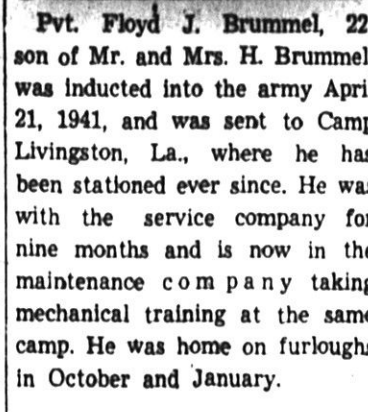

He declared the situation called for more promotion and asserted the belief vacationists will find a way to reach luring resort spots, rationing or no.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

THERE are any number of ways that the smart housekeeper can stretch her sugar ration, one of the most effective being to use food-stuffs which have a good deal of natural sugar. In place of the cakes and puddings which usually top off a Sunday dinner, she can substitute recipes which make use of such fruits as figs, prunes, apricots, raisins, dates, pears and peaches, all of which have a generous supply of sugar. In the vegetable realm the following have a good supply of natural sugar—corn, carrots, beets and sweet potatoes.

Along the market front we learn that beef prices are unchanged this week and that poultry and lamb have advanced a little. Do not forget that the less expensive cuts of meat can be combined with vegetables for pot roasts, stuffed (or) dressed up with succulent brown gravies to make them into dishes that will win the family's enthusiastic approval.

The best buys in fruits and vegetables this week include avocados, oranges, strawberries, asparagus, cabbage, cucumbers, lettuce, mushrooms, onions, potatoes, rhubarb, squash and spinach.

As suggestions for Sunday dinner Marion Rouse Budd, director of the kitchen, suggests the following menus:

Low Cost Dinner
Roast Chuck of Beef with Brown Gravy
Parried New Potatoes
Mashed Carrots
Enriched Bread
Gingerbread with Custard Sauce
Tea or Coffee

Medium Cost Dinner
Pot Roasted Chicken with Milk Gravy
Baked Sweet Potatoes
Baked Summer Squash with Tomatoes
Enriched Bread
Sliced Oranges with Cookies
Tea or Coffee

Very Special Dinner
Cream of Fresh Spinach Soup
Broiled Sirloin Steak
Baked Potatoes
Asparagus Hollandaise
Enriched Bread
Avocado Pear and Tomato Salad
Strawberry Short Cake
Coffee

Notter-Greiner Vows Are Exchanged in Chicago

The beautiful John Timothy Stone chapel of the Fourth Presbyterian church of Chicago was the scene of a simple but impressive marriage ceremony Wednesday, May 20, when Miss Dorothy Claire Greiner, daughter of Mrs. James R. Gallagher of Muscatine, Ia., became the bride of Dr. Victor Anthony Notter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Notter of Holland.

Dr. Harrison Ray Anderson, pastor of the church, performed the single ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families and a few close friends. The Rev. John Olert, Jr., who performed the duties of best man for his friend, pronounced the benediction at the close of the ceremony.

The bride was lovely in a princess gown of white satin with pearl trimmed sweetheart neckline and short train. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias and sweet peas with orchid center and wore a string of pearls, the gift of the groom. A finger-tip veil with deep lace trim completed her costume.

Her bridesmaid, Miss Joyce Kruse wore a gown of Nile green net over taffeta and carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Gallagher, the bride's mother, wore a corsage of tea roses, complementing her gown of dusty rose crepe, and Mrs. Notter, mother of the groom, was dressed in a blue chiffon gown with beige lace collar and wore a corsage of gardenias.

A reception was held in the blue room of the Graemere hotel immediately following the ceremony, and a buffet supper was served to approximately 35 guests.

Dr. and Mrs. Notter will reside in Chicago until the termination of his internship at Presbyterian hospital when they will make their home in Rochester, Minn. Dr. Notter will be affiliated with the Mayo clinic, having been granted a fellowship in internal medicine.

No Sugar for Organizations

John J. Good of Holland, a member of the county rationing board has received instructions that all churches, lodges, clubs and other private organizations which occasionally serve meals, hold banquets and give benefit dinners may not register as institutional users unless they maintain an establishment for the regular preparation and service of meals.

In order to qualify as such an organization, it must serve at least four meals each week. Sugar for meal service of those organizations which can not qualify as an institutional user of sugar under these requirements may be obtained through contributions of consumers, the instructions from Thomas E. Harris, assistant general counsel of the office of price administration at Washington, revealed.

Mr. Good also said the registration office at his store, 23 West Eighth St., for those home consumers who failed to register for sugar rationing at a previous registration, will be opened daily from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and from 2 to 5 p.m.

150 Army Trucks Go Through City

A U.S. army convoy, about 150 trucks and equipment, passed through Holland around noon Friday on an apparent training trip from Fort Custer.

Shortly before 11 a.m. a truck and some jeeps came through here and deposited soldiers at intersections to direct the trucks. Numerous persons gathered at Eighth St. and River Ave. to watch the procession.

One of the detachments near the head of the convoy became lost at El St. and River Ave. when a soldier held out his hand to stop traffic and the truck drivers thought it was a signal for them to turn. Police Officer Rance Overholt overtook the unit at Eighth St. and Columbia Ave. and directed them back to US-31 over Seventh St.

Police Officer Ralph Woldring had previously volunteered his services to the soldier in directing local traffic at the intersection but the soldier rejected his assistance.

Some of the soldiers, truck drivers and motorcycle riders were wearing gas masks.

The large convoy passed through Holland again in the afternoon, entering Holland from the east on M-21 and turning south on US-31 toward Saugatuck.

Telephone Numbers of Wardens Are Unlisted

Simon Borr of Holland, chairman of the county civilian defense committee, reported today the council would abide by a request from the state defense council that listing of air raid wardens' telephone numbers in civilian defense directories be discouraged. ## HOW TO USE YOUR TELEPHONE IN WARTIME

1. Answer your telephone promptly. Operators are busy with war calls these days. Every second counts for Victory.
2. Avoid the "peak" hours for your calls. The best times to call are before 10 A. M., 12 to 2 P. M., 4 to 7 P. M., and after 9 P. M.
3. Be sure you have the right number. Consult the directory. Please don't call Information needlessly.
4. Be brief. Know what you want to say, and keep paper and pencil handy so that you won't have to hunt for them.
5. Speak distinctly, with your lips about half an inch from the mouthpiece, so that you won't have to repeat.
6. Don't telephone during or just after an air raid alarm or blackout, except in emergency. Keep lines clear for war calls.

TELEPHONE lines today are carrying a bigger load than ever before, and they must be used efficiently to give maximum service to the war effort.

For the nation's Armed Forces, the Federal Government, the Civilian Defense agencies and the war production industries have first call on telephone facilities. Above are shown six ways you can help.

In so far as war restrictions and material shortages permit, we shall continue to furnish you with the best service possible. And we look forward to the day when we again can give the kind of service wanted, "when and where wanted." But now, and for the duration, war needs come first.

Shingle Question Delays Approval Of Building Code

Committee to Report Again at Next Meet of Council Wednesday

Because of questions raised against certain provisions of the proposed building ordinance to provide minimum requirements in the remodeling and construction of new homes and garages in Holland, common council at a special meeting Wednesday night referred the proposal back to its ordinance committee to iron out these differences, make any changes it deems necessary and report back at the regular meeting next Wednesday night.

In taking this action, council authorized Mayor Henry Geerlings to appoint a special committee to confer with the ordinance committee on the questions involved. The mayor appointed John Van Dyke, G. J. Koolker, James H. Klompars, and Herman Mool. Clarence A. Lokker will serve in his capacity as city attorney.

Council first met as a committee of the whole to take up the ordinance, with Ald. George Damsen presiding.

The lengthy ordinance was not read in full but was taken up section by section. Only those sections in which questions arose were considered at length.

One of the objections raised was the proposed use of wood shingles in home construction. Mool presented regulations which he had drawn up that would prohibit use of this type of shingles and also regulations covering the use of felt under roof coverings in which the pitch of the roof varied.

Mool said that roofers have maintained a standard in installing roofs on homes and that they should not be lowered. Lester Esenbary, who was among the building contractors present at the meeting, pointed out the present ordinance is not establishing a standard but only providing for minimum requirements.

The city of Holland does not have an ordinance which prohibits the use of wood shingle but for many years when Fire Chief Cornelius Blom, Jr., served as inspector, he refused to approve an application for a building permit in which use of wood shingles was specified. This practice has never been contested since fire insurance rates are lower on homes with asphalt roofs than on those with wood shingle roofs.

The proposed ordinance would permit the use of various types of wood shingles providing they meet certain requirements.

Koolker said some home builders would not object to the wood type of roof and he pointed out that high grade wood shingles cost more than some asphalt shingles.

It was the contention of some of the contractors that use of wood shingles in certain types of architecture brings out the beauty of a home better than the use of asphalt shingles. Mool contended that a wood shingle roof is not safe, that it does not make a good roof and that it is a fire hazard.

Esenbary presented insurance rates to show that they are higher for homes on which wood shingles are used, but he asked why Holland is the only city in Michigan which does not permit use of wood shingles on homes.

Ald. Ben Steffens recalled a report of Fire Chief Blom a few years ago in which the fire chief revealed that Holland has one third as many fires as cities in which wood shingles are permitted. Mool also related instances of local fires in which adjoining homes with asphalt roofs had been protected by falling embers.

Ald. John R. Emmick questioned the wording of section 16 on electrical wiring. He said the reference to the national board of fire underwriters should be included in this section as well as a previous one regarding plumbing installation.

Returning to a discussion on use of wood shingles, Mool said it was not his intention of prohibiting the use of roll roofing for he felt that roofs of certain types of garages were better suited for roll roofing.

Will Mail Bills On Postcards

With the arrival of a new billing machine, the board of public works announced today that it is changing to the postcard system of providing monthly bills to the board's customers.

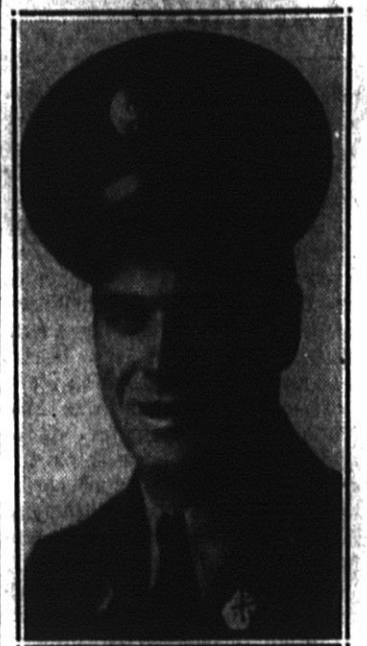

The board pointed out that the new system will speed up delivery of bills and reduce the amount spent for postage each month by 50 per cent.

Customers whose bills come due June 15 and June 22 will receive them on postcards while those who pay their bills by June 8 will receive them on the old form since they already have been mailed.

The board said the new system will be advantageous to the customer because the improved system will permit earlier mailing of bills.

A new billing machine carrying 22 totals in comparison with the two provided on the former billing machine. Arrears can now be posted by machine instead of by hand as was done in the past. It can prove that each bill has been posted correctly for any mistake in the books or by the operator in the machine until the error is corrected.

Van Vleck Hall at Hope to Become Girls' Dormitory

Change Is Arranged With Male Enrollment Scheduled to Decline

Van Vleck hall, long in use as a Hope college men's dormitory, will be converted into a girls' dormitory for the coming school year because male enrollment at the school has shown signs of decrease apparently because of the war, according to Dr. Wynand Wichers, college president. An increasing number of applications from women students and capacity conditions at Voorhes hall have necessitated the change.

According to present plans, the building will undergo changes and repairs in order to accommodate 44 girls next year. A reception room on first floor and a matron's suite will be added.

The Annex, 51 East 12th St., in use as a dormitory for a group of freshman girls this year, will not be used next year. Mrs. Bertha Kronmeyer, housemother at the Annex, will be matron at Van Vleck.

Erected in 1857, the building was the first permanent structure on the college campus and for a long time in pioneer days was considered the most imposing structure in western Michigan.

Men now living in Van Vleck are expected to be accommodated in various fraternity houses, Zwemer hall, seminary dormitory and private homes.

Apple Lends Itself to Many Appetizing Uses

A versatile fruit, the apple lends itself to many appetizing and decorative uses. This was recognized in the saying that "a good cook can use a whole barrel of apples and not repeat a single recipe." Apples no longer come in barrels but the mistress of the kitchen can still use the three-bushel equivalent and feel certain that no member of her family is going to remark about any sameness in the menu.

Visitors Here Arrive Early

Summer visitors are beginning to arrive in this area. One local food store manager reported he has noticed an increase in the sale of foodstuffs which are generally purchased by tourists and resorters.

The Holland Chamber of Commerce said it is difficult to predict the extent of the tourist and resort season. Rationing of tires, freeing of new car sales and possible rationing of gasoline July 1 no doubt will curtail travel in Michigan this year.

An unusually heavy influx of June tourists is anticipated in view of the prospects of gasoline rationing. It is expected there will be a heavy holiday traffic over Memorial day week-end since motorists likely will take advantage of what may be their last week-end holiday without gasoline rationing.

To Face Circuit Court for Theft

Daniel Andrew Zemeski and John Frank Rowan, both 16, of Grand Rapids, will appear in circuit court Monday at 3 p.m. to answer to charges of breaking into Camp Keewano, Camp Fire girls' camp near Ottawa beach, Thursday, May 14, and taking silverware, cooking utensils and other articles.

Rowan was permitted to return home to await the court session Monday. Zemeski, who has been held in the county jail in default of $2,000 bond, was returned to Grand Haven by Sheriff William Boeve who brought the boys here for arraignment.

Today's appearance was Zemeski's second before Judge Smith. When arrested, the boy said he was 17 and Judge Smith bound him over to circuit court, but investigation revealed he was 16, having been born Nov. 26, 1925, and was thus under probate court jurisdiction.

Christian Nine Sinks Wyoming

Holland Christian made it two straight over the Wyoming park nine yesterday afternoon at the 19th St. diamond by smashing out a 10-6 triumph.

Mouse Van Wieren notched up another win for Christian as he weathered the storm of Parkers' hits. Wyoming scored 5 big runs in the initial inning, then Van Wieren set them down scoreless for the next five innings, until the seventh when the Parkers poked across another run. Christian had three big innings, the third, fourth and fifth when they pushed across the 10 runs.

The big inning was the third when the home platter was crossed four times. Kool began the rally with a single, followed by Ruels being safe on an error. Vryhof smashed a single and Van Wieren followed with a stinging double.

The only other extra base knock for Christian was made by Vryhof, who smashed a double in the fifth. Wyoming smashed two doubles for its total of extra base knocks, one by Walden and the other by De Kraker. Van Wieren wiffed 10 batters and issued one pass, while Jones, on the hill for the Parkers, struck out four and gave four passes. Christian brings its season to a close next week, with a Tuesday game at Muskegon Heights and a home game with Grand Rapids Christian Thursday.

Not Worried Over Mahogany Order

Holland's furniture companies are not at all concerned by the war production board's orders forbidding the sale or delivery to private users of any mahogany suitable for use in aircraft, vessels or other military articles, a survey revealed today.

George Pelgrim of the Bay View Furniture Co. pointed out that he had been advised the board's order affects only the use of the high and low grades of mahogany while the medium grades used in furniture manufacturing will not be affected, hence the order is not as serious as first contemplated.

Mr. Pelgrim also revealed that his company has been engaged for the past three months in manufacturing desks for various branches of the government. Turned out on an average rate of 100 per day, these desks have been shipped from coast to coast to various ordnance and
