More Golfers Playing Local Legion Course

With the course completely dry weeks earlier than in recent years, golfers have been turning out in ever-increasing numbers at the Holland American Legion Memorial park golf course.

"The course is all dry and mowed out," reports new greenskeeper Elton Cobb, who took up his duties at the first of this year. "But the greens are a little rough yet."

Cobb points out that intrepid golfers have been on the course every month since he took up his job, but the season opened officially only three weeks ago. Since then, the number of golfers has been increasing steadily.

The river that runs through the 18-hole course is high this year. Cobb has been active in some capacity at the Legion course since he began as a caddy when he was a boy. He and his wife now live in an apartment above the clubhouse, and Mrs. Cobb is in charge of the clubhouse itself.

Earl Holkeboer, club pro for a number of years still is in charge of the pro shop. Russell Anderson was the former club caretaker, relinquishing his position last winter.

Cobb reports that the caddy shack will be open for play starting at 8 a.m. daily until dark, with the opening hour moved up to 7 a.m. or earlier on week-ends and holidays.

Holkeboer is planning to run special tournaments throughout the summer since they have proved popular in former years.

Infant Protected By Truck Driver

Quick thinking and even quicker action on the part of a truck driver averted tragedy to a Holland infant who toddled into the highway this morning.

Little Velma Van Ark, 17-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Van Ark of 69 East 32nd St., wandered into the busy street in front of her home and sat down in the middle of the road.

Charles E. Garris of Michigan City, Ind., saw the Van Ark infant in the road as he approached with his large semi-truck from the west. But a west-bound car obviously didn't see the child, Garris told police.

The Garris truck reached the scene first and Garris so applied his brakes and manipulated his truck so that the trailer jackknifed around the unconcerned infant in such a manner as to form a protective fence around her.

Police said that the approaching car would have had to strike the truck before hitting the infant. But with the jackknifed tractor and trailer across the road, the other car stopped in time to avert an accident.

Garris picked up the infant and carried her onto the lawn. After his truck was cleared off the road, another passing car smashed the rubber ball the baby was playing with in the road.

Mrs. Van Ark said she had left the baby in the care of two other children while she took another son to a pre-school check-up. She returned home just after the incident at 10:19 a.m. today.

"We're always giving people the dickens for bad driving," one Holland officer commented. "I think we ought to give this truck driver a lot of credit for a piece of very good driving."

Council Approves Allegan Budget For Fiscal Year

No Objections Filed
At Regular Meeting;
Paving Cost Trimmed

Allegan (Special) — Allegan residents approved — by default, apparently — a city budget calling for expenditures in the fiscal year starting July 1 of $74,307.

No one appeared at Monday night's public hearing on the budget and it was approved by council members without dissent.

In a surprise move welcomed by Ely street residents, the council also rescinded two resolutions passed a week ago, and passed two new ones, based on a lower cost per front foot for paving the street.

Two separate sets of resolutions were passed to prepare the way for paving the street. Plans call for 30-foot paving from Hubbard to Knapp street and for 20-foot paving from Knapp to Thomas.

Originally, a special assessment roll for the Hubbard to Knapp section was based on $2.14 per front foot. Council approved, a resolution calling for a special assessment based on a cost of $1.32 per foot for this section.

On this basis, $5,900.76 will be raised through special assessment and $6,152.67 will be paid from the general fund.

For the Knapp to Thomas section, $2,585.67 will be paid from the general fund and $3,793.08 will be raised through a special assessment based on $1.24 per front foot.

June 16 was the date set for hearing of objections on both projects.

Council members approved a resolution setting aside four 12-grave lots in Oakwood cemetery for burial of war veterans without charge for either the lot or for perpetual care. The resolution substantiated action of a city council several years ago, but no record of the action could be found.

City Manager P. H. Beauvais reported that only one application had been received for a garbage collection license under the new ordinance which goes into effect. The application, that of Howard Huitt, was approved and the license issued.

Beauvais also reported that preparations were being made for registration of bicycles under the ordinance which goes into effect June 5. The city has ordered four racks with space for 22 vehicles each to be placed in the downtown district. Under the ordinance, riding in the business district is prohibited. "Scotchlight" reflector tape enough for 1,000 bicycles has been ordered and the city plans to apply it to each bicycle at the same time they are registered. Local service clubs are expected to help in this work.

Arrangements also have been made to play inter-city games with Grand Rapids and Muskegon. The picked Holland squad also will participate in the district tournament at the end of the summer.

Sponsors in the league will be First National bank, Padnos Iron and Metal, R. E. Barber, H. E. Morse, Holland Hitch, West Shore Construction, Elzinga and Volkers and Curtis Gray.

Meanwhile, younger boys will be offered spots in the class C and D recreational baseball leagues. Class C is for ninth grade and under and class D for seventh grade and under.

Carroll Norlin will be in charge of both leagues again this year, with play on the 19th St. field on four nights per week on a twilight schedule. The program will start on June 16.

Last year, nine teams were entered in this division, with as many or more expected this season. Prospective players are urged to contact Norlin at Holland junior high school.

Deadline for entrance in the Holland Optimist club junior softball league has been set for June 9. Boys may enter by contacting any of the Optimist club members handling registrations.

The age limit for this league has been extended one year, allowing ninth graders to play in the loop. The new top age limit is 16 years before Sept. 1, 1952.

Adult Education System Evaluated By Study Group

Further Improvements
Suggested for Serving
Needs of Community

An evaluation of the Holland Adult Education program for the past year and suggestions for improving the popular program which has attracted an enrollment of more than 1,100 during 1951-52, were discussed at a meeting of a "cross-section" committee of the community Wednesday night at Holland high school.

Main purpose of the evaluation discussion was to provide material for a report to be submitted by Director Gerrit Wierink to the National Education association which has designated Holland as one of the 364 cities in the United States for such a study.

In a general evaluation, there was no question that the local program has been highly successful and has attracted far more persons than what normally could be expected in a city of this size. The year's program was divided into such classifications as business education, home and family courses, arts and crafts, vocational, community service and recreation.

Attracting the greatest following were the conservation film and lecture series promoted by the Michigan conservation department and the Holland Fish and Game club which attracted an average of 250 persons and the mental health series which attracted an average of 220 persons.

Considerable emphasis was given to co-operative effort on such ventures, and reasoning followed the channels of utilizing more and more effort from such groups as PTA's in the mental health series, patriotic organizations in citizenship and English for New Americans classes, and such groups as AAUW to promote an "Our Town" or "International Relationship" series.

Consideration also was given to courses which might eventually offer high school credit as an inducement for young people who have left school to obtain high school diplomas eventually. Such a change would involve considerable study and change of present policy, it was pointed out.

The committee was particularly anxious to broaden the scope of the program wherever possible, not only in the public school program but also in the college extension programs, rural programs and elsewhere. It was pointed out that fully 50 per cent of the enrollees came from outside the city limits last year.

Plans also were discussed for fuller co-operation with industry in an attempt to more fully serve the needs of industry, also to encourage newcomers to join the classes and become a part of Holland as well as understanding some of Holland's culture. Fuller use of radio for educational programs also was advanced.

Suggestions also were made for an achievement meeting at the close of the year when persons taking such courses as sewing, arts and crafts, woodworking and the like would display the articles they had made.

Attendance at the two eight-week course averaged 75 per cent, a high average for a night school, it was said.

Represented in Wednesday's study were representatives of the teaching profession, Board of Education, business and industry, night school students, local organizations, press and radio, and business college.

Revolving Fund Suggested Again For Tulip Time

W. A. Butler, president of Holland Tulip Festival, Inc. and vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, Monday night asked the Chamber board of directors for suggestions for raising funds to provide a revolving fund to operate Tulip Time festivals.

Although final bills are not in, he indicated that the 1952 Tulip Time festival may break even financially, but emphasized the need for a "cushion" in case big events should be rained out and Tulip Time finds itself going into the red.

Tulip Time attempted to establish a revolving fund a year or two ago but only a fraction of the $10,000 goal was realized.

The board also approved Butler's suggestion for a letter to Common Council asking for an ordinance prohibiting the sale of pea shooters, water pistols, etc. in Holland. This request came after complaints were registered during Tulip Time parades.

In other business, the board supported a move for a new amendment to the state constitution requiring tax exemptions for public housing authorities. Proponents of the bill are attempting to have the issue submitted to the voters.

The board also granted permission to Holland township to fill Chambers of Commerce property on the north bank of Black river near the site of the present township dump.

The board voted to assist the Junior Chamber of Commerce in arrangements to have the "Freedom Forum" programs given for local industries. The board is continuing its support of the Community Ambassador plan.

Arrangements also were made to have "Little Netherlands," the miniature village at 13th St. and Central Ave., operate three days a week this summer following about the same schedule as last year. Plans are being worked out with Netherland Museum for joint admission to both museum and the village.

The executive committee reported on the amendment of article four of the Chamber by-laws to increase the board membership to 19, thereby including the city manager.

Officers Suspend Search for Bones

Sheriff's officers are awaiting results of an investigation in Grand Rapids before deciding what to do further on a "skeleton hunt" after some Calvin college girl on a picnic on Lake Michigan reported finding some bones while walking along the shore.

The girls took the bones with them to Grand Rapids where city police intend to check to see if they are human bones.

The Holland Coast Guard first was notified of the find Tuesday night, but the girls were told to inform police. They told Grand Rapids police of the discovery, and Grand Rapids in turn called Holland who turned the matter over to deputy sheriffs.

Deputies checked the shoreline for about three miles in the reported area four miles north of Lakewood farms Wednesday, but found nothing. After a more accurate geographical description, officers checked again today farther north near Sloan's pond, but again found nothing.

So they decided to hold off further beachcombing until a bone analysis is made.

Bodies Recovered From Ontario Lake

Bodies of the two fishermen who were drowned in a small Canadian lake Tuesday have been recovered according to information received Wednesday night by Mrs. Gerrit J. Lemmen, 374 Lincoln Ave. Her husband, a local coal operator, survived the tragedy Tuesday when he swam ashore after a canoe tipped and hiked nine miles for help. The fishermen were in a party of six on a trip to Canadian lakes about 50 miles north of Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario.

Drowning victims were Herbert Scheib, 23, Kalamazoo, and an Indian fishing guide, Fred Desmolain, 29.

Lemmen called his wife by phone Wednesday reporting that the bodies had been recovered and that he expected to be home in a day or two. Aside from a sore throat, Lemmen was in good physical condition.

Marne Man Dies Of Gunshot Blast

Grand Haven (Special) — Willy P. Swank, 77, route 1, Marne, died of self-inflicted gunshot wounds at 4 a.m. Wednesday in the tool shed on the farm of his son, Arthur, located a mile north of Marne.

A verdict of suicide was given by Coroner Joseph Kammeraad, who was assisted in the investigation by Sheriff Jerry Vanderbeek and Deputy Roelf Bronkema.

The body was discovered about 6:45 a.m. by the son as he prepared to do farm chores before reporting for work in the city. The elder Swank usually rose early and got the cows into the barn for milking. When the son arrived, he found the cows still in the farmyard and a light burning in the tool shed.

The elder Swank shot himself through the heart with a 16-gauge shotgun. He presumably had seated himself on a cushion on a box and used a piece of lathe to pull the trigger. It was reported he had been in ill health.

The body was taken to Mier and Scott funeral home in Howard City where Swank had lived until six years ago when he came to live with his son and family. Burial will take place in Howard City.

Balance Pays Off As Dutchmen Nip Favored Britons

Kalamazoo (Special)—A well-balanced Hope college track team that counted in every event and placed at least two men in all but three of them won its first MIAA track championship in history here Monday night by upsetting highly favored Albion at the MIAA field day running events.

Hope racked up 79 and four-tenths points for its winning total, closely followed by defending champion Albion with 75 and seven-tenths. Kalamazoo was third with 31, Hillsdale next with 15 and nineteen-tenths, Adrian had 13 and Alma 8.

The victory for Hope also marked the first time since the war that Albion has been dethroned as running king of the conference.

Despite the unexpected triumph, Albion retains possession of the MIAA all-sports trophy by a narrow one-point margin over Hope. Although the Dutchmen topped titles in football, basketball and track this season, Albion picked up titles in golf and cross country and finished high enough in other sports to keep the coveted trophy.

The men of Coach Al Vanderbush topped five first place finishes compared with four for Albion. The Britons were ahead in the field events but Hope overtook them in the running events.

Ron Bos of Hope was the Dutchmen's only double winner, nosing out Albion's brilliant Jack Sharp in both the 100 and 220. Bos tied the field record in the 100 with time of 10.1, and skimmed the 220 in 22 flat.

Down the line, the Dutch runners consistently posted their best times of the year and came through with unexpected high finishes.

In other field day activity, Kalamazoo walked off with the tennis championship and all individual titles. Hope finished second, Albion third, Hillsdale fourth, Alma fifth and Adrian sixth.

For the first time in a number of years, the final matches were not all-Kalamazoo, however. Hope's No. 1 doubles team of Ron Bos and Warren Exo got to the finals before bowing to Kalamazoo.

Earlier in the delayed field day events, Albion nailed down the golf title by a wide margin. The Britons scored 806, Kalamazoo had 824, Hillsdale 826, Hope 853 and Alma 892. Adrian did not enter a team. Medalist for the MIAA was Albion's Chuck Mohl with 150, closely followed by teammate Al Nichols with 151.

Here is the architect's sketch of the new Central Avenue Christian Reformed church which will replace the old frame structure on the site overlooking Centennial park. The new structure, which will cost an estimated $275,000, is expected to be completed in 12 to 14 months. Meanwhile, the congregation is holding services in Hope Memorial chapel.

Construction Starts Soon On New Church Building

Evacuation will begin in a week or two for a new Central Avenue Christian Reformed church replacing the 84-year-old frame structure at Central Ave. and Graves Pl., overlooking Centennial park.

The new church, of gothic design, will be 147 feet long and 54 feet wide with an auditorium capacity of 900 and a balcony seating 195. A parish house to the east will have three floors, the basement housing the boiler room, catechism rooms and toilet rooms; the first floor will have a consistory room, library and society rooms, and the second floor, three class rooms and toilet facilities.

The basement under the auditorium will have a large assembly room 35 by 65 feet, a kitchen, deacons' room, full-length corridor and three class rooms. Estimated cost is listed at $275,000.

Plans for building started in August, 1945, when a committee was appointed to consider remodeling. After extensive study, it was decided to erect a new church, a decision the congregation approved May 1, 1950. On March 5, 1951, the congregation approved plans by unanimous consent. It was a foregone conclusion that the congregation wanted a building of gothic design with a tall spire, one which would continue to be a dominating part of Holland's skyline, particularly by those approaching from the east, since the church is right in line with M-21.

The new spire will extend 115

Holland Students Adopt War Orphan For Coming Year

Under Foster Parents' Plan for War Children, Inc., students at Holland high decided to adopt little Marek, with four separate groups contributing to his welfare for the coming year.

The Girls Athletic association, Horizon clubs, Pan-American club

and Student Council responded to a request from the foster parents organization and together sent $180 which will clothe, feed and shelter their ward for the coming year.

Before investing in Marek's future, the groups at the high school investigated the foster parents plan from all angles. Austin Buchanan, dean of boys, and Miss Gladys Wiskamp, dean of girls, served as advisors to the committee—Chairman Mary Sanger, Dave Bos, Martin Hardenberg and Mary Van Oort.

Marek was born in Shanghai on July 15, 1944, while his parents were refugees from war-torn Poland. After the war and death of his Army officer father, Marek and his brother Lech and sister Theresa returned with their mother to Poland.

But the English-born Mrs. Kasprzyk, fearing for the safety of her family, stole away to England with her children. There the children were given refuge in a Polish hostel and the mother undertook some work in London.

In April, Marek and his brother and sister were placed in a colony for Polish war orphans and put under the foster parents plan. Marek attends a Polish-English school, and his superiors have this to say for him:

"Marek is a handsome, manly little fellow with tousled dark hair and expressive dark eyes. He is a very bright and promising lad, doing exceptionally well in school. He is polite, obedient and respectful—a credit to his early cultured training."

"Throughout the next year, Holland high students will correspond with their ward regularly. They also may send additional gift parcels."

The four co-operating groups raised money for the venture in various ways. Each of the nine Horizon groups donated $5 toward the project, while the GAA held a bake sale to raise the money and the Pan-American club used part of the proceeds from its annual carnival.

Flying Dutchmen Begin Campaign With Narrow Win

The Holland Flying Dutchmen opened their 1952 Southwestern Michigan Baseball season with a close 3-1 victory over Grand Haven Athletics at Riverview park Monday night.

The game was a pitchers battle between Clarence Van Liere of Holland and soldier Loren Cook of Grand Haven. Van Liere gave up four safeties, but was especially tough to reach with men on base. Cook, meanwhile, allowed only two hits—a home run by Whitey Witteveen and triple by Ned Stuitts.

The Athletics took a short-lived one-run lead in the fourth on a triple by Glenn Dobson and a wild pitch. Holland came back with two runs in the bottom of the fourth. Ron Van Huis walked and scored on Stuitts' triple. The Holland catcher crossed a moment later on an outfield error.

Holland's third run scored when Witteveen opened the fifth with a powerful drive over the right-centerfield fence.

Cook, who is home on furlough before reporting for overseas duty, struck out 15 Dutchmen and walked nine. Van Liere whiffed 11 and walked only five.

The Dutchmen have two more games this week, meeting the Chicago Colored Giants in a Memorial Day game Friday night and playing at Muskegon in a league game Saturday night.

Rotarians Hear Dr. H. M. Merker

In an inspiring address, Dr. Harvey M. Merker of Parke, Davis and Co. told the local Rotary club some of the highlights in the March of Medicine Thursday in the Warm Friend Tavern.

Tracing the history of modern medicine from the time of Edward Jenner, William Harvey and Louis Pasteur to the time of Dr. Alexander Fleming, discovering of insulin, and the latest research in antibiotics, Dr. Merker emphasized the great strides that have been made in the last quarter century. He pointed out, however, that the beginning had only been made since medical science is still unable to cope adequately with cancer, arthritis, multiple and arteriosclerosis, as well as the common cold.

Quoting from Pasteur, the speaker said "Science and peace will triumph over ignorance and war when we come to believe and act that peace can be won by sending health and food to the oppressed rather than machinery and ammunition."

Dr. Merker is president of the Detroit Institute of Cancer Research and an officer of many organizations. He was introduced by Harold Hamsey, program chairman.

Next week's program will be "The Four Perfections of Man" with Rabbi Samuel Umen of Muskegon as speaker.

State Park Will Open Friday--Memorial Day

Holland state park will open officially when Park Manager Clare Broad puts the "Open for Business" sign on the pavilion Friday—Memorial Day.

All facilities, other than the pavilion, now are open for use. Park Manager Clare Broad and a five-man crew have been busy the past few weeks putting finishing touches on paint work and setting out tables, stoves and connecting water and power lines.

Added this year are new life rings along the channel, a 16 foot surf board and 12 foot life boat for use by life guards.

Approximately 400 tables, 38 stoves, and 150 benches have been put out for use. In addition there are spaces for 85 trailers and 92 tents. Cost per day for campers is 50 cents with a maximum 10 day stay allowed. Electricity is available for trailers at 20 cents per day.

Broad emphasized that with only 600 to 700 parking spaces available, motorists will be ticketed this year if cars are improperly parked. He said that in previous years cars were parked every which way taking up more than one parking space.

New yellow lines are presently being painted to give the motorist a set of bright yellow lines to park between, Broad said.

With an average weekly summer attendance of some 100,000 persons last year, 600 to 700 parking spaces don't go very far, he said.

Although high waters now cover an estimated 150 feet of beach, Broad said it would not seriously curtail activities. The waters brought in an unusually heavy amount of debris causing workmen to clean the beach several times. Normally one cleaning is sufficient to pick up debris washed up during fall and winter months.

On duty this year will be 14 persons, the same number as last year.

In addition to Broad they include, two life guards, one police matron, one janitor, one clerk and eight rangers.

The winter months are spent painting signs, tables and the inside of the buildings.

The closing of the beach the past winter at night has cut down considerably on the amount of glass and debris campers thoughtlessly left behind.

Broad requested that summer campers use waste containers for depositing their refuse rather than littering the beach. It takes 24 to 30 man hours to clean up the beach and this time could be spent building additional tables he said.

Dutch Bunch Hits To Score Victory Over Tiger Squad

Benton Harbor (Special)—Bunching three of their five hits in the fourth inning for all three runs, the Dutchmen of Holland high school chalked up a 3-0 victory over Benton Harbor in a Southwestern conference counting baseball game here Friday afternoon.

Dean Vander Wal of Holland and Bill Fowler of the Tigers traded sterling mound performances. Holland got only five singles off the offerings of Fowler, and Vander Wal limited the losers to four scattered singles. The difference was that the Dutch bunched their hits.

Jack Kempker started the ball rolling in the fourth with a perfect bunt that caught the Tiger infield asleep, then stole second. Alden Klomprens rifled a single to center, and a moment later stole second. Bob Van Dyke chased both runners home with a single through shortstop. Van Dyke then stole second, and went the rest of the way home on passed balls. That was the scoring for the day.

Vander Wal was in top form in winning his first conference victory. He walked only two batters and struck out 14 men. Fowler was almost as effective, walking two and whiffing nine Dutchmen.

With a book representing each year of service in Holland public schools, these three teachers who are retiring next month are almost obscured by the symbolic record of their service. Left to right are Maibelle Geiger, who has taught Latin in Holland high school 40 years; Lida Rogers who has taught biology 39 years, and Leon N. Moody, who has been associated with physical education 28 years. Miss Rogers and Miss Geiger will remain in Holland but Moody is moving to Halstead, Kans. (Sentinel photo)

Three Teachers Retiring After Serving 107 Years

Three public school teachers who served the local schools a total of 107 years are retiring from the profession at the close of the school term in June.

The three are Maibelle Geiger, who has taught Latin in Holland high school for 40 years; Lida Rogers who has taught biology and a few related subjects for 39 years, and Leon N. Moody who has taught physical education for 28 years.

Miss Geiger and Miss Rogers plan to remain in their homes here, take life easy and do the things they never could quite find time to do before, plus some gardening. Moody and his wife are leaving Holland June 28 for Halstead, Kans., where they will live in the old home of Mrs. Moody's family. In August they plan to spend three weeks in the Rockies. Moody has no immediate plans, but he expects to remain active.

Miss Geiger, who in later years spent considerable time in girls' counseling, figures she has had well over 4,000 different pupils in her Latin classes and Miss Rogers figures she has had more than 6,000 biology and science students throughout the years.

Moody couldn't even estimate. He taught physical education first in the elementary schools and later in the high school, and there is scarcely a native-born Hollander, particularly boys, who have attended public schools in the last 28 years who did not come under his tutelage at one time or another.

Miss Geiger came to Holland in the fall of 1912 and the first year taught Latin and a few English classes in the old high school, now known as East Junior high which is about to be razed. A year later all the high school students moved into the new building.

Miss Rogers came in the fall of 1913, the year the new high school opened, and started teaching biology from scratch, along with a bit of botany, zoology and other sciences. Under her guidance, the biology program has developed into the most popular science subject in the high school, and for many years she has taught biology exclusively. She is proud of her well equipped laboratory and believes it's as good as any in high schools in the state.

Although Miss Rogers has received wide acclaim for having suggested back in 1927 that Holland grow tulips and set aside a special day, a suggestion which led to the Tulip Time festival, she is even prouder of the school forest which she started with her biology students back in 1933. This tract now has 80 acres and has a fine stand of trees. It is known as the Albert C. Keppel school forest.

But above all, Miss Rogers has always aimed to help her students to learn to live better lives, be happier and see beauty around them. She has always associated biology with the community, particularly in helping her students see beauty and create beauty. Conservation has been an important part of the over-all program. In the beautification programs she helped promote, her students have planted many thousands of tulip bulbs on school grounds and elsewhere, besides thousands of trees in the forest.

Miss Geiger, who received an AB degree from Kalamazoo college and a master's degree from the University of Michigan, said it is regrettable that Latin is losing its position in the public school curriculum, but understandable too since high school curriculums offer many, many more subjects than in years past. She feels that the highlight of her teaching career was her fourth year Virgil classes in Latin, a course which attracted "scholars" who ate up Latin.

Miss Rogers received an AB degree from Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti and did graduate work at the University of Wisconsin and in Michigan. Last year she received an honorary master's degree from Ypsi. Both women love travel, and both have been abroad years ago.

County Agent Asks Farmers To Watch Rabies

He said that dogs, cattle and cats have rabies most frequently. Dr. Glen Reed, Michigan State college extension veterinarian, told Arnold that no cases of the disease in humans have been reported in Michigan during the past seven years.

But Dr. Reed said that the state health laboratory got reports of 100 cases of rabies in animals in the state in 1951, 260 cases in 1950 and 177 cases in 1949. Many farm animals are susceptible to the disease.

Symptoms of the disease include a change in behavior caused by the effect of the disease on the brain. Gentle animals may become restless and excitable. Friendly dogs may become snappy and snappy dogs may become friendly. Tone of a dog's bark may change and dogs may wander.

In the dumb form of the disease, a partial paralysis may develop. The animal may stagger, drop its jaw, be unable to swallow and become extremely hungry and thirsty.

Arnold said that the disease could be practically eliminated if all dogs were controlled. Pets should be controlled and not allowed to stray. Stray dogs should be reported if there's a warden setup in the community for their control. Keep your pets away from stray dogs.

Vaccination of dogs will help reduce the disease if done on a wide basis, and will reduce the chance that your dog will become infected.

Medal of Honor Presented Widow Of Holland Hero

Washington — The family of a Holland, Mich., Korean hero stood with those of three other soldiers who gave their lives in action "above and beyond the call of duty" to receive the congressional Medal of Honor Monday for their fallen kin.

Army Secretary Frank C. Pace, Jr., told them he considered it a "privilege and honor to award the nation's highest decoration for bravery to the families of these four wonderful men on behalf of the president of the United States."

Mrs. Mary V. Essebagger, Holland, received the award for her husband, Corp. John Essebagger, Jr., 22, who voluntarily remained behind his unit to provide cover for his comrades as they made a withdrawal and then made a one-man advance, killing a number of the enemy before he was mortally wounded.

The first decoration was presented to Marcella Krzyzowski, Cicero, Ill., whose husband, Capt. Edward C. Krzyzowski, 37, was killed when he made a single-handed charge against enemy troops after he had been twice wounded and had personally eliminated two strongly fortified enemy bunkers.

William K. Pilliau, Wainae, Oahu, T.H., received the medal for his son, Pfc. Herbert K. Pilliau, who voluntarily remained behind to cover his unit during a withdrawal. When the 22-year-old Pilliau ran out of ammunition he continued to assault the enemy with his bayonet and finally attacked them with his fists until he was mortally wounded.

After friendly troops recovered the area, more than 40 enemy dead were counted in the area.

When Allegan's new bicycle ordinance goes into effect June 4, the Junior high school student council which campaigned for the measure for three years intends to do everything possible to help make it effective. Right now they are in the midst of a campaign to acquaint every bicycle rider with details of the new rules. Spearheading the campaign are (left to right): James Richardson, Charlene Sartini, Gretchen Lange and Charles Polityka. With them is their advisor, Walter Godlewski, Junior high school principal.

Allegan Students Will See Drive For Bicycle Ordinance Come True

Allegan (Special) — A three-year effort on the part of three successive Junior high school student councils will bear fruit June 4 when the city's new bicycle ordinance goes into effect.

But officers of the student council and members of the bicycle safety committee indicate that they will not feel that their job is finished on that date. Right now they are in the midst of an educational campaign to acquaint every young bicycle rider in the city with details of the ordinance. School officials are proud of the job done by the youths. Principal Walter Godlewski calls it a "wonderful example of democracy in action when a student group like this can demonstrate the need for legislation, help write it and follow through as this group has done."

This year's bicycle committee included Charles Polityka, Charlene Sartini, Gretchen Lange and James Richardson. It was their job to "lobby" for a model ordinance adapted from several obtained from other cities. They attended several city council meetings and didn't hesitate to "speak up" in discussions with city fathers.

This group has also directed a city-wide educational program to make certain all cyclists know the regulations included in the new ordinance.

The project got underway three years ago when the student council was aroused by the number of bicycle thefts and "borrowings." Recognizing the need for a local law, the student council introduced the idea "for discussion" in the grade schools and before PTA groups throughout the city.

The following year's student council made a survey of bicycle ordinances from dozens of cities and drew up what they considered a "model" adaptable to Allegan.

This group also conducted an election in the junior high school in which students approved by a narrow margin a resolution favoring a bicycle ordinance.

The student council saw in the election results a need for an educational campaign in their own

Mayor Starts Off Baseball Season

A new baseball pitcher joined the Holland Flying Dutchmen independent baseball team for its season opener Monday night.

Starting pitcher for Holland was Mayor Harry Harrington, who threw a perfect right-handed ball through the strike zone to Holland catcher Ned Stuitts to start off the 1952 season in Holland. Then the Dutchmen went on to defeat Grand Haven in a Southwestern Michigan Baseball league game 3-1.

A baseball scoring rule kept pitcher Harrington from being the winning pitcher. The rule states that the starting pitcher must go five innings before credited with a victory.

The mayor confessed that he may have been a bit rusty although he used to play quite a bit of baseball in the old days. He even admitted taking off work a little early Monday afternoon to "practice up a little."

Deputies Return Wandering Youth

Allegan (Special)—City police and county officers agreed that 6-year-old Malcolm Miller may not have a very well developed sense of direction, but he's chock full of determination.

Dressed up in a cowboy outfit, Malcolm was missing from the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Beaver, Allegan, for more than three hours Tuesday afternoon.

The search ended when someone called from the Milan Stark farm, six miles east of Allegan on M-89, to report seeing a little fellow trudging east past the farm.

Deputies Robert Whitcomb and Roy Priest drove out to pick him up. Asked where he was going, he said "to grandma's." The officers explained that "grandma's" was six miles away, in the opposite direction.

Ordinarily only one-third of a tree is cut into usable lumber. The rest of the tree remains in the forest as high stumps or poor logs or comes out of the sawmill as sawdust.

The Sherbourne school term closed last Tuesday. The children and teacher enjoyed a wienner roast. Those graduating from the eighth grade are Ruth Van Der Molen, Bob Berens and Ron Kones.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hulseman and children from Overisel were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bowman Sunday.
