Holland Man To Receive Kedzie Cane

Andrew K. Goodwin, a 96-year-old retired attorney who has maintained his residence in Holland since 1942, will receive the Kedzie Cane, traditionally given to the oldest graduate of the earliest class, at alumni activities at Michigan State University at East Lansing Friday.

Goodwin, a member of the class of 1888, practiced law for many years in Carson City and also served as city attorney there until his retirement in 1942. He had practiced law for 47 years. Although he maintained his voting privileges in Holland and considered Holland his home address, living with the H. K. Goodwins, he also spent considerable time with two sons, Fred in Wyandotte, and Raymond in Detroit.

At the Patriarchs' Luncheon honoring the Golden Anniversary Class of 1911 Friday noon in the Union Building, Patriarch Goodwin will be accompanied by his grandson, Malcolm C. Goodwin, of Wyandotte, of the class of 1955. The elder Goodwin is in good health, takes walks nearly every day and is active in the work of the Methodist Church.

The tradition of the cane was initiated by the late Dr. Frank Kedzie, member of the class of 1877 and president of MSU from 1915 to 1921. The cane had been purchased in Mexico in 1892 by his father, Dr. Robert C. Kedzie, pioneer chemistry professor at Michigan State.

Post Office Has No Replacement

Today, June 1, was the date Acting Postmaster Kenneth E. Scripsma had designated as date for resigning his post.

However, to date, the Post Office department has taken no action on replacing the local man. A representative at the regional office in Chicago said today that the local man's notice of resignation had been acknowledged May 1, but that no further developments have been reported through the regional offices.

The representative made it clear that it would be possible for the acting postmaster to take annual leave, turning operations over to the assistant postmaster, but that responsibility in the position remains with him until he is replaced.

Meanwhile, local Democratic leaders are working with Washington officials to have a Democrat named either as postmaster or acting postmaster.

Grysen Faces False Arrest In Civil Suit

GRAND RAPIDS — A civil suit charging false arrest and false imprisonment has been filed against Sheriff Bernard (Bud) Grysen of Ottawa County and a Grand Rapids loan company.

Ben Crampton of Hudsonville in Ottawa County is the plaintiff in the action against Grysen and Model Finance.

His suit charges he was falsely arrested and imprisoned in the Ottawa County jail April 25-26 and asks a $5,000 award.

Attorney Robert Dilley of Grand Rapids, counsel for Model Finance, said the action stems from a faulty capias, a form similar to a summons, granted to Model against Crampton.

The judgment was obtained in Ottawa Circuit Court for an alleged fraud of $2,000. But, Dilley said, Judge Raymond Smith of that court later dismissed the writ and released the attachment because the form used was one borrowed from the Kent County circuit. In places where it should have read "Ottawa County" the capias read "Kent County" which was ground for dismissal Judge Smith ruled.

Further court action is not expected for several weeks, Dilley said, since he must first file an answer for his client and the bonding company for Grysen must provide the law officer with an attorney who will also have to file an answer.

Sen. Geerlings Fears New Tax

SAGINAW — The chairman of the State Senate Taxation Committee Wednesday told the Saginaw Rotary Club a state income tax would be inevitable unless local school districts pay a greater share of school costs than they do now.

"If we are going to have a sound fiscal program in this state, our wealthy school districts must do more on a local basis," said Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings, R-Holland.

He suggested raising the deductible millage factor, which determines local school costs. If the millage factor is raised the state's share of school costs goes down; if the factor is lowered, local costs go down. The millage factor is applied to property valuations as equalized by the state to determine the sharing.

Padnos Co. Will Make First Direct Overseas Shipment

The first direct overseas shipment ever to be made from the port of Holland will be made in mid-June according to information supplied by Seymour K. Padnos of the Louis Padnos Iron and Metal Co.

The shipment will comprise 1,500 tons of scrap metal to be loaded aboard the Illinois, a 500-foot Liberty ship under Greek registry. The destination of the shipment is presumed to be a southern European port, but specific details on the foreign shipment are being handled by a Chicago export broker and are not immediately available.

Padnos pointed out that preparations have started at the Harrington Coal Dock to receive the Illinois, and that loading equipment is being set up for the two-day loading operation.

A special crane is being assembled with a 90-foot boom with magnet loading devices attached. The peculiar loading characteristics of a Liberty ship require not only cranes for getting the cargo aboard but special chutes to care for between deck loading.

In answer to questions concerning the size of the ship and its ability to enter and leave Holland Harbor, Padnos said that although the ship has a 60-foot beam and a 500-foot length, this would not be a major problem. He added, however, that the cargo being loaded at Holland would be limited because the ship could not be fully loaded upon leaving the harbor because of the shallow channel.

The Holland-organized shipment will be but a part of the full cargo capacity of the Illinois because of this reason. This limitation will be lifted at such time as the present harbor channel is deepened.

Sees Discussion Of 'Mac' Barrier

A move by the Macatawa Park Cottage Owners Association to place a barricade on South Shore Dr. at the boundary of the Macatawa Park plat was expected to be a topic of discussion at the regular monthly meeting of the Park Township Board at 7:30 p.m. tonight, Park Township Supervisor Herman Windemuller said today.

Work on the barricade was started this week. Windemuller said there was no public land in Macatawa Park, but he said the road leading to the park oval had been used as a public road for nearly 50 years.

Windemuller said he understood a watchman would be employed to keep all persons without a good reason out of the park. He said he had heard that a previous attempt to block the road to Macatawa Park had been halted by an injunction some 30 or 35 years ago.

The Park Township Board will meet at Park Township Fire Station No. 2 on Ottawa Beach Rd. Windemuller said he expected the Macatawa Park issue would be discussed.

Holland Boy Succumbs To Injuries

Thomas Dannenberg, 2,
Runs Into Side of Car
In Front of His Home

Two-year-old Thomas Lyn Dannenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Dannenberg of route 3, 48th St., Holland, died at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Blodgett Memorial Hospital in Grand Rapids of head injuries suffered when he ran into the side of a car three hours earlier in front of his home.

Holland police said the accident occurred at 4:20 p.m. on M-40, about a half-mile east of the C & O railroad crossing. Police said the automobile was driven by Benjamin Voss, 77, of 302 East 24th St.

The youngster was taken to Holland Hospital after the accident and was transferred to Blodgett Hospital in Grand Rapids.

Voss was headed east on M-40, police said, and the child darted into the highway, running into the right side of Voss' car, just ahead of the front door.

Police said the youngster had been playing in his front yard on the south side of the highway and had started to run toward the north side of the road.

Police said Voss' car skidded 59 feet before the impact and an additional 39 feet from the point of impact to where the car stopped. Police said the boy was lying on the shoulder of the road, 12½ feet from the point of impact.

Voss told police he did not see the boy until the youngster ran into the side of the car. Voss said he applied his brakes when his niece, Mrs. Harry Cook of 217 West 14th St., who was riding with him, shouted "Oh!"

Police said the boy's mother told them she saw the youngster playing in the front yard from the kitchen window of the home and went outside to get him away from the road. By the time she got outside the accident had already happened, police said.

Mrs. Dannenberg told police the last time she saw the boy before the accident, he was playing near a shrub which, police said, was 27 feet from the edge of the road. The mishap was the third fatal traffic accident in Holland this year.

Surviving besides the parents are two brothers, Larry and Mark at home; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dannenberg of Bennington; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Sale of Holland; and great-grandparents Hein Dannenberg and Mrs. Harm Berens, both of Bennington.

Holland Area Hit By Killing Frost

A killing frost with temperatures sinking to an unofficial 26 degrees outside the city hit Western Michigan early Saturday threatening and generally harming a wide variety of plants. The official minimum for Holland city was 30 degrees.

Leading strawberry growers were up most of the night sprinkling strawberry plants, and those plants which were covered with ice survived the onslaught. Frost generally penetrated an inch into the ground, growers said.

Many persons who had placed urns with plants at local cemeteries returned Friday night to cover them with plastic covers. Park Supt. Jacob De Graaf said among the unprotected plants, the coleus (colored leaf) was principal victim. He said the spring has been so cold that it has been hard for some plants, particularly the coleus, to acclimate themselves.

The hardy tulip remained untouched, and many of Holland lanes and mass plantings are in good condition.

The park department had planted the central fountain at Centennial Park with plants before Tulip Time. Some plants, mainly the coleus and fuchsias were touched with frost. Plantings will be supplemented later.

Sprinkling and irrigating strawberry plants is a relatively new innovation in the local area and several leading growers have equipped their patches with such service in recent years.

Because of the late season, few truck gardeners had set out tomato and melon plants. Plants set out were killed unless otherwise protected. Some growers covered tomato plants with bushel baskets and plastic bags. Leaves touching the plastic were blackened but the plants generally survived.

One grower described Saturday's frost as a real November frost leaving everything white. He said clouds formed about 4:30 a.m. and after that the temperature began to rise. The official temperature at 11 a.m. was 52 degrees.

Mrs. George Glupker, president, responded and conducted the business meeting. Miss Viola Cook gave current notes of interest and Mrs. Earnest Vanden Berg announced that the May birthday party at Resthaven Home was given by Sixth Reformed Church and Hope Church will take care of the June party.

Guild members were asked to consider some afternoon instead of all evening meetings for the fall season. The evening offering was $30.45.

Mrs. Harold Brinks arranged the program. An inspirational theme was carried out concerning the ascension and second coming of Christ. His command to teach and His abiding presence. This was done by means of scripture readings and several musical selections by a women's sextet. The readings were done by Mrs. Dan Dekker and Mrs. Brinks. A poem entitled "The Bible Tells Me" was given by Mrs. Rodger Barveld. The sextet was composed of the Mesdames Harris Kortman, Bud Moster, James Brewer, Corwin Vanden Bosch, John De Vries and Van Drunen. The accompanists were Joyce and Carol Dekker.

Dessert was served during a social hour. Mrs. Dekker poured at a buffet table with lighted tapers and a centerpiece depicting a spring garden. Mrs. Brinks served as refreshment chairman assisted by Mrs. Fred Lubben, Mrs. Marlin Lambers, Mrs. Ray Tubergen and Mrs. Russell Brouwer.

The June guild meeting will be in the form of an open house for guild members and the public at Resthaven Home in the afternoon and evening of June 23. This will be in charge of the Projects committee, Mrs. Vanden Berg, chairman, assisted by executive board members.

Seeks Nomination

MUSKEGON (UPI) — William L. Trapp, news director of Muskegon radio station WTHU, announced today he will seek a nomination for the city council.

LMAC All-Sports

By Randy Vande Water
Muskegon would have captured the all-sports trophy in the LMAC this season and Holland would have finished in third place a check of the final standings of the conference teams in six sports showed today.

This is the second year of competition in the LMAC and starting next fall football will be added to the league slate. This gives the six-member conference competition in seven sports throughout the year.

We have taken the standings of the clubs in basketball, cross-country, tennis, golf, baseball and track and set up a scoring system similar to the MIAA of 12 for first, 16 for second, eight for third, six for fourth, four for fifth and two for sixth. In case of ties, the total of the places involved has been added and divided evenly between the teams tying for the position. Muskegon finished with 63 points while Grand Haven had 47 and Holland 42. Traverse City followed with 39 while Muskegon Heights had 34 and Benton Harbor compiled 27 points.

The standings in golf, tennis, track, baseball, and cross-country were taken from the finish of the team in the league meet and not from dual competition during the regular season.

The basketball standings were based on play during the regular season. In LMAC play this year, the last basketball game played between conference schools counted in the standings. This system was approved by league officials. However, next season all LMAC basketball teams will play the other conference members home and home and both games will count.

Grand Haven won the baseball crown and Muskegon was the runnerup. The other four teams lost in the first round, since the semi-final berth was decided at a league draw prior to the tourney.

The four teams divided the 20 points accumulated from the four places and each was awarded five points.

Muskegon and Muskegon Heights tied for the basketball crown with 4-1 records and split the 12 and 10 first and second place spots. Holland won the cross-country and Grand Haven took the golf while Muskegon won the track and tennis.

We hope that an all-sports trophy will be discussed and approved at the fall meeting of the LMAC. We feel it would be an added incentive for LMAC schools and athletes. We would also like to see wrestling and gymnastics added to the conference schedule in the near future.

Gunman Robs Beats Service Station Man

SAUGATUCK — A 25-year-old gas station attendant was beaten and robbed by a gun-wielding bandit east of Saugatuck at 6:40 p.m. Thursday.

Gerald Thompson of route 1, East Saugatuck, attendant at the Light House service station at the intersection of Holland St. and US-31, was struck on the head with the butt of a pistol after the lone gunman robbed him of about $80.

Thompson was taken to Douglas Community Hospital by Allegan County deputy Con Zeedyk. Thompson was released from the hospital after treatment. He suffered a mild concussion, according to Dr. William H. Shock.

Thompson told Zeedyk the man, described as being about 30 years old, came into the station and asked for a pack of cigarettes. When Thompson brought the cigarettes, the man reached into his shirt and brought out a gun, Zeedyk said.

The gunman demanded money, and when Thompson handed over the money, the bandit struck him on the head with the gun. The gunman drove a blue 1954 model car and was last seen headed south, Zeedyk said.

Roadblocks were set up in several areas throughout southwest Michigan after the holdup. The roadblocks were lifted at 9:22 p.m. after failing to turn up a trace of the gunman.

Lee Kleis ... 30 on front nine

Lee Kleis Sets 9-Hole Legion Mark

Lee Kleis fired a sizzling 30 over the first nine holes at the American Legion Memorial Park course Saturday to set a course record for the front nine.

He added a fine 33 on the back nine and ended with a 63, one over the course record set by Tom Sasamoto last summer. The 63 ties the mark made by Julius Boros when he toured the Legion course in 1956. Sasamoto shot a 32 on the front nine and a 30 on the back nine.

Kleis, one of Holland's best known and top golfers, had seven birdies and 11 pars in the round. He was playing with Gerald Kramer who shot a 74.

The 63 score was the lowest Kleis has ever shot at the Legion. He shot a 65 over the old 18 hole course at the Legion to hold the record but this is his lowest score since the course layout has been changed.

Muskegon Cops LMAC Track Crown; Holland Takes Fourth

GRAND HAVEN—Muskegon ran away with the Lake Michigan Athletic Conference track title here Friday night as Holland finished in fourth spot before 500 fans at Green Hill Field.

The Big Reds, second to Muskegon Heights last year, scored a total of 64½ points in romping to the win. The Heights took second with 38½ while Traverse City was third with 35½ points.

Holland scored 25 points, 15 in the field events, for fourth spot and one notch ahead of its 1960 finish. Grand Haven was fifth with 21 and one-third and Benton Harbor ended with 11 and eleven-twelfths points.

Four LMAC records were set and two marks were tied. Larry Mannes of Holland leaped 5'11¼" in the high jump and tied with Ben Strong of Muskegon at that height and an LMAC record. The old mark was 5'9¼" set by Ruben Mitchell of Muskegon last year. Mitchell, a junior, broke the 180-yard low hurdles mark with a 20½ performance and tied the 120-yard high hurdles in 15.1. Bob Green of Muskegon, who missed the meet because of a knee injury, set the marks last year of 20.4 and 15.1.

Sam Mc Murray of Muskegon Heights put on the finest display of running in the meet as he pranced the 440-yard dash in 50.2, an LMAC mark and the fastest the muscular junior has run the event. A Search for Life's Meaning
Ecclesiastes 1:12-14; 3:1-9
By C. P. Dame

There is much pessimism in the Book of Ecclesiastes. The author of this book did not know Christ. He lived before Christ was born. In spite of his pessimism he continued to be God-centered in his thinking. In this respect he is to be commended. Today there are many people who are ignoring God. The truth to reach and keep is this—Christ gives meaning to life.

I. Seeking and searching is every one's duty. There are different opinions about the author of the book. He tells that he gave his "heart to seek and search out by wisdom concerning all things that are done under heaven." This was commendable then and still is now.

God gave us minds and hearts to use. There are many interesting things in this world. The more we use our minds and hearts the more interesting we will find life to be. The author of this book was not pleased with the task of finding meaning to life. To him life seemed a riddle. Many moderns agree with him. Those who leave God out of their thinking are much troubled by life's problems. It is foolish to assume that God would give life and then leave us in the dark as to its meaning.

After this man had done some seeking and searching he concluded that "all is vanity and vexation of spirit." To him life seemed to be purposeless. Today there are people who think as he did centuries ago. Millions in our world are hungry, enslaved, and poverty-stricken all the time. To them life does not have much meaning. We who have found a meaning in life have a heavy obligation to these people.

II. Life is full of contrasts and changes. The author says that there is a time for everything. There is a time to be born, to die; to plant, to pluck up; to kill, to heal; to break down and build up; to weep, laugh; mourn and dance; to throw away stones, to get to the embrace and to refrain from it; to get, to lose; to keep, to cast away; to rend, to sew; to keep silence and to speak; to love, to hate; to war and to make peace.

Life teaches us that this is so. Every life speaks of changes. What should be our attitude to life which is composed of so many contrasts and changes? We can make up our minds to the fact that life is composed of the unpleasant and the pleasant. God has set one over against the other. The Christian view helps us. It says that God uses all things for our temporal and eternal good. The stronger our faith is in a wise and loving God the more victoriously we will be able to accept life's changes.

III. Work has its rewards. The pessimistic author asked, "What profit hath he that worketh in that wherein he laboreth?" Today some men ask, "What is the use?" Both seem to agree. There are many who disagree with both for they find much joy in their work. Those who have learned to know Christ and who work with and for Him have found a purpose in life and discovered a joy in their work. The lesson text summons us to a cheerful view of life: "In the world you have tribulation but be of good cheer, I have overcome the world." These words of Jesus were believed by Paul and therefore he wrote, "Therefore, my beloved brethren, be steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing that in the Lord your labor is not in vain" (I Cor. 15:58). People who have learned to know Jesus as their Saviour and Lord have found life to be meaningful and purposeful.

Ottawa County Expands Recreational Facilities

Extended recreational facilities for Ottawa County residents will be available this summer following the recent development of two new parks by the Parks Department of the Ottawa County Road Commission.

Ottawa County's parks now number four. The two newest parks are Hager Hardwood Forest on 28th Ave., three miles north of Hudsonville, and Riverside Park, just east of 104th Ave., on Grand River.

The county's two other parks are Tunnel Park, on Lake Michigan north of Holland, and North Beach Park, also on Lake Michigan, near Spring Lake.

With Memorial Day signalling the start of the summer recreation period, the county's parks are expected to see a great deal of use by residents this summer.

The Road Commission's Park Department foreman, Richard Smallenburg Jr., will have a staff of nine men working the parks this summer to keep them in proper shape for the summer crowds.

Smallenburg said the Hager Hardwood Forest was developed within the last three years at a cost of over $80,000 to county residents. The original grant of 33 acres of land was made by Mr. and Mrs. Titus Hager of Grand Rapids.

During the last year, Smallenburg said, the county has erected a 40-by-70 foot building on the property, developed a playground area and improved the grounds. The park was officially dedicated last summer.

Riverside Park on Grand River is presently undergoing development by the Road Commission. The park now includes a boat ramp, drinking water, picnic tables and toilet facilities. The county owns a one-mile frontage on Grand River, Smallenburg said.

The four county parks are expected to draw capacity crowds this summer. Smallenburg said, with admission charges being made at many state parks. Smallenburg said the county parks are intended primarily as family recreation areas.

Solve Series Of Breakins, Thefts in Area

Ottawa County and Holland city authorities Thursday solved a number of breakins and larcenies in the Holland area with the arrest of four persons, including a 16-year-old juvenile.

County detective John Hempel and Holland police detective Dennis Ende said the arrest of the four cleared up breakins at the Ventura School, Waverly School, Schuiling's service station and the Pelon service station. They said several larcenies from news stands in the city and county, as well as the larceny of gasoline and hubcaps in and around Holland were also solved.

The 16-year-old, who detectives said was involved in all four breakins, was cited to probate court.

Donald Geerts, 18, of 380 Fourth Ave., and Terry Nash, 18, of 105 Madison Ave., admitted that they were involved in the breakins, detectives said. The pair had been arraigned in Municipal Court earlier on charges of receiving stolen property, detectives said. Sentence had been deferred until June 6. Geerts and Nash were being held at the county jail.

A fourth person, 19-year-old Ivan Ver Hoeven of 282 Elm St., was arraigned Thursday before Justice Wilbur E. Kouw on a larceny charge involving the theft of gasoline. He paid a fine of $25 and $4.90 costs and was sentenced to 10 days in jail, plus an additional 10 days if fine and costs are not paid. Detectives said Ver Hoeven was not involved in the breakins.

Detectives said all but one of the breakins occurred outside the city, and most involved the theft of petty cash. About $80 was taken from the Pelon station, detectives said, the only breakin which occurred inside the city limits.

The breakins occurred in late March 1961, except at Waverly School which was broken into in April 1960, detectives said.

Allegan Sets Millage Rate

ALLEGAN—Allegan's 1961 city tax rate was set at 14 mills, a reduction of only one mill from last year. The rate was approved Wednesday by a three to two vote of the council with Marvin Hays and Daniel Conroy opposing the 14 mill levy.

Former Mayor Hays asked that a prepared statement, citing objections, be included in the official proceedings. Hays said, "I feel it is not good policy to have too large a surplus on hand and that the city tax rate should be cut to eight mills. This would leave an adequate surplus on hand in case of emergencies."

He added he felt "the tax cut is very important at this time... because of the business recession and high county and school should get this tax relief."

While Hays held out for the full cut to eight mills, Conroy indicated he would have approved a 13 mill rate.

Mayor Richard Haskins said he felt the $96,000 surplus for construction of a new central fire station — bond issues for which have been turned down by voters in two elections—failed to come to a vote for lack of a seconding motion.

The budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 will total $281,740 — a substantial increase over the current years $251,000—with $121,390 from taxes and the balance from revenue estimated at $160,350.

Zeeland Firm Receives Michigan Week Award

ZEELAND — The state-wide observance of Michigan Week reached its climax in Zeeland Friday night with a dinner honoring Mead Johnson and Company, producers of Metrecal, Michigan's 1961 Product of the Year.

About 300 persons attended the dinner at Van Raalte's Restaurant and witnessed the presentation of awards honoring the Zeeland-made product. Several government and business leaders from Michigan, along with officials of Mead Johnson and Company, attended the dinner.

The state Product-of-the-Year award was presented by Wesley Baker, of Detroit, Products Promotion Chairman of Michigan Week. Accepting the award on behalf of Mead Johnson and Company and its employees was R. E. Sessions, Mead Johnson and Company Executive Vice President.

Sessions pointed out in his acceptance of the award that Metrecal, a dietary weight control product, was the culmination of years of research and development of dietary products.

He said that the idea for a product like Metrecal did not come in a blinding flash of inspiration and that the product was not an end in itself. Sessions told the group, in his acceptance, that the award was a great tribute to the American free enterprise system.

Baker, in presenting the Product-of-the-Year award, said the Zeeland product faced stiff competition from several fine Michigan products. Honorary awards were presented Friday night to the Pontiac Tempest and the RCA Whirlpool coin-operated dry cleaning machine.

Charles H. Prout, Public Relations Director, Mead Johnson and Company, accepted awards from George Van Eenennaam, president of the Zeeland Chamber of Commerce, and James Braddock of Grand Haven, Ottawa County Chairman of Michigan Week.

Leaders in the Michigan Week program also spoke briefly. John Carlton, of Battle Creek, General Chairman of the 1961 Michigan Week, outlined briefly the Michigan Week program. Herbert Davenport, of Grand Rapids, Michigan Week Deputy Chairman, reported on the history of Michigan Week, and Glenn Ferrey of Grand Rapids, Michigan Week Regional Chairman, spoke on the organization and theme of Michigan Week.

Otis Smith, Michigan Auditor General, represented Governor John B. Swainson at the dinner. He conveyed the congratulations of Gov. Swainson to Mead Johnson and Company in winning the Product-of-the-Year Award.

Master of Ceremonies was George Van Peurse, state Republican Party Chairman.

Adrian Wiersma, manager of the Zeeland plant of Mead Johnson and Company, listed the company's contributions to the state of Michigan and the Zeeland area, and cited some of the problems encountered by the Zeeland plant in meeting the nation's demand for Metrecal.

Metrecal was first produced in June, 1959, and was put on the market in September of the same year, Wiersma said. Since that time, the Zeeland plant of Mead Johnson and Company has increased employment 118 per cent and has increased its purchases of raw materials 550 per cent, Wiersma said.

Expenditures for capital improvements and new equipment at Zeeland exceeded a million dollars in 1960, he said, and a large expansion program calling for new offices and substantial additions to manufacturing and warehouse facilities is now in progress.

The choice of Metrecal, made entirely at the Zeeland plant of Mead Johnson and Company, was based on the product's recognized leadership in the dietary weight control industry.

Metrecal was the forerunner of a $200,000,000 weight control industry. The Zeeland plant of Mead Johnson and Company produces all the Metrecal powder marketed in the United States and is shipping the powdered product or its ingredients to over 35 countries in all parts of the world.

As an added tribute to Metrecal, Mayor D. C. Bloemendaal of Zeeland, proclaimed Friday as "Metrecal Day" in Zeeland. In his proclamation, Mayor Bloemendaal said, "The manufacturers of Metrecal have supplied to the people of Zeeland steady jobs at good wages with attractive bonuses, which in turn gives improved human welfare, cultural enrichment and continued prosperity. The people of Zeeland are indeed proud of the splendid record of achievement of Mead Johnson and Company."

Wilder's 'The Matchmaker' Proves Hilariously Funny

A rather small but select audience thoroughly enjoyed Holland Community Theatre's "The Matchmaker," by Thornton Wilder, which opened Thursday night in the Woman's Literary Club. It was repeated Friday and Saturday at 8:15 p.m.

For the most part, Director Vern Stillwell's production was extremely well cast with some of the minor roles so well done that they threatened the leads. But the leads took good care of themselves too.

The play was pure Wilder and the little philosophical sililoquies in which actors turned to the audience were some of the high spots of the play. Some things were reminiscent of Wilder's "Our Town" such as the speeches to the audience, but generally it was a force fully of comedy with some of the funny situations close to slapstick.

Costumes were particularly interesting since the play was cast in the 1830's and some of the props such as the lamp with the glass shade were priceless.

The play abounded in contrasts, lively action and more than a few accents. Director Stillwell in the lesser role of a store apprentice had a great time with an Irish accent, particularly in his sililoquy. And if Phyllis Engelman's role as the confused little Dutch spinster had a trace of English accent, it only added to the fun.

Peter de Moya and the youthful looking David Overton got the lion's share of laughs as the two employees of the New York City merchant out in New York City for adventure. They got plenty of help from Joyce Wayman as the milliner and her youthful assistant, Susan Wright.

The story revolved about the matchmaker, played by Natalie Bosman, who was in process of arranging a marriage for the wealthy Yonkers merchant, excellently played by Leonard Lee, and doing her work so shrewdly that she married the old spinster herself, even wringing from him permission to spend his money since he had no position in society to maintain.

Added complications were provided by the merchant's niece, played by Lucille Hemwall who wanted to marry an artist played by Robert Gras. All principal in the mixed-up plot ended up in the home of confused little Miss Van Haysen who somehow solved it all, ending in three weddings.

Other roles were taken by Olin Van Lare as a barber, Robert Chard in a wonderful character part as cabman, John Carlson and Clare Walker as waiters. Kay Reidsma who was deglamorized as a servant, and Marthina Bosch as Miss Van Haysen's cook.

There were four different sets for the four acts, taking the audience from the Vanderghelder home above the store in Yonkers, to Mrs. Milloy's hat shop in New York City, then to the Harmonia Gardens restaurant on the Battery, and finally to the otherwise quiet home of Miss Van Haysen.

Director Stillwell was assisted by Margo Bussies, Mary Bosch was stage manager and Clare Walker headed the construction crew.

An exhibit of art by high school and college students downstairs in the clubhouse was an intermission attraction.

Equal Opportunity for All Men—Memorial Challenge

"America's prestige is waning because this country has not exposed herself to the world in her true light," Municipal Judge Cornelius vander Meulen said at Memorial Day exercises Tuesday in Pilgrim Home Cemetery.

"Our wealth has created envy rather than admiration and our might has created fear rather than affection. If we could only show the great proposition of equal opportunity for all men, America would have friends rather than enemies."

"War never solved a problem. It may defeat some particular enemy but it doesn't really settle anything. The race problem which figured in the Civil War has not been settled. The problems of World Wars I and II have not been settled. This is not because the men who fought had not done their duty, but those who followed them have not met their responsibilities."

Judge vander Meulen, who timed his speech at 10 to 12 minutes, said the two-minute speech of Abraham Lincoln at Gettysburg had said all there is to be said on the subject, and that the challenge today lies with "the living to be dedicated to the great task remaining . . . that these dead shall not have died in vain." He closed with quoting a verse from the poem, "At a Soldier's Grave," by Lyman Whitney Allen.

How 45,000 companies help their employees buy security

The average American company is pretty busy tending to its own business. Yet many companies have sandwiched in a valuable service for their employees—the Payroll Savings Plan for U.S. Savings Bonds.

Through this plan, your payroll clerk sets aside a certain amount each payday for Bonds, buys them, and arranges to get them to you. It's completely automatic, and the easiest way in the world to save.

Save as much or as little as you wish

Employees can sign up to save as little as $1.25 a week. The average among the more than 8 million folks on the Plan is $20 a month. All in all, 45,000 companies help their employees save about $2 billion in Savings Bonds a year—a lot of future homes, vacations, college degrees, and nest eggs for retirement.

The security built into Savings Bonds

U.S. Savings Bonds are guaranteed by the Government to grow. $18.75 becomes $25 in 7 years, 9 months. In 10 more years, it becomes $36.25. Your Bonds can be cashed in anytime, with interest. And if they're lost or destroyed, the Treasury Department replaces them free.

Every Savings Bond you buy is an investment in Peace. What better way to help your government help you enjoy the things you're saving for.

Hats off to American Industry!

"American Industry has given the Savings Bonds Program its greatest success," says William H. Neal, National Director of the Treasury's Savings Bonds Program.

"45,000 American companies have sold many billions of dollars in Savings Bonds—at no cost to the taxpayer," says Mr. Neal. "By operating the Payroll Savings Plan, these companies, big and small, are helping to keep our country strong. At the same time, they're helping 8 million people save automatically for the things they want. America owes a vote of thanks to these companies for their outstanding contribution to the 20-year success story of the U.S. Savings Bonds Program."

You save more than money with

U.S. Savings Bonds

Buy them where you work or bank

For 30 years America's newspapers have published Savings Bonds ads at no cost to the Government. The Treasury Dept. is grateful to the Advertising Council and this newspaper for their patriotic support.

Mrs. Duane E. De Neff

Miss Mary Lynn Welling Wed to Duane E. De Neff

Grace Episcopal Church was the setting for the Saturday afternoon wedding that united in marriage Miss Mary Lynn Welling and Duane E. De Neff.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Welling, 374 West 31st St., and the groom is the son of Mrs. Bertha De Neff and the late Leslie De Neff.

Palms and bouquets of white snapdragons and white peonies on the altar formed the setting for the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. William C. Warner. Seven branch candelabra and pews marked with white bows and greens completed the church decorations.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor length gown of nylon sheer over bridal satin. The scooped neckline was edged with Venice lace which also topped the side panel panels and extended to the hem. The bouffant skirt ended in a chapel train. Her elbow length veil of imported illusion fell from a lace crown. Orchids, lilies of the valley and ivy formed the bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Gordon Hassevoort, sister of the bride, attended her as matron of honor wearing a street length gown of powder blue organza over taffeta featuring a bell-shaped skirt and fitted midriff with cabbage roses accenting the back. Her petal headpiece of matching blue was pearl trimmed. Phalaenopsis orchids and feathered carnations were used in the bouquet she carried.

Miss Gretchen De Weerd and Miss Vicki Ziel, bridesmaids, and Miss Gail De Neff, sister of the groom, junior bridesmaid, were gowned identically to the matron of honor and carried similar bouquets.

quels. Carol Klomprens wore a similar dress for her role as flower girl.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Welling selected an azure blue sheath with decollete neckline retrimmed with flower appliques and complemented with a flowered hat of matching colors. Mrs. De Neff wore an orchid sheath dress with white accessories. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

Kenneth De Neff assisted his brother as best man. James Borowski and Glenn Van Wieren seated the guests.

Mrs. Larrie Clark played the wedding music and accompanied her husband, Larrie Clark when he sang "Dedication." "The Lord's Prayer," "I Love Thee," and "O Perfect Love."

A reception for 150 guests was held in the parish hall. Miss Jane Vereke and Miss Nancy Rypma served at the punch bowl. Miss Connie Speet and Miss Dottie Morrison were in charge of gifts. Miss Gail Shinabarger took charge of the guest book. Pouring at the buffet table were Mrs. Irwin De Weerd and Mrs. Ernest Phillips.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Geuder served as master and mistress of ceremonies.

For their wedding trip the new Mrs. De Neff selected a navy blue and white checked three-piece ensemble with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. De Neff was graduated from Stranahan High School, Port Lauderdale, Fla., in 1960 and Port Lauderdale Beauty Academy. She is employed at the Arcade Beauty Lounge.

The groom was graduated from Holland High School and attended Western Michigan University. He is presently at Meyers Standard Service.

Following their return on June 1, Mr. and Mrs. De Neff will be at home at 591 Midway Ave.

The bride's parents entertained at the rehearsal party Friday evening in the parish hall. Prenuptial showers honoring the bride were given by Mrs. De Weerd, Mrs. Clarence Kammeraad, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Geuder, Mrs. Elmer Wissink, Miss DeWeerd and Miss Ziel.

Motor Express Inc. Salutes Leaders

Outstanding achievement by Holland area citizens and business firms will be saluted by Holland Motor Express, Inc., in a new series of advertisements that started Tuesday in the Sentinel.

The first to be cited is Mead Johnson Co., Zeeland, whose dietary control product was recently named Michigan Product of the Year.

"Our only problem will be one of plenty—singling out the one individual or company from the many excellent choices available every week," said Harvey J. Butler, vice president of Holland Motor Express.

"For example, this week we might just as easily have paid tribute to the many people who worked so hard to make Tulip Time a great success. We feel the high school seniors deserve special mention, too."

The Zeeland firm was chosen, Butler said, because of their extraordinary success in marketing a new product on a national scale. "Our friends will realize the impossibility of saluting every deserving person and organization in our community," Butler said. "We hope they will agree with our selections and will also join us in appreciation of the many people who work without public recognition to make our community what it is."
