SUTHERLAND'S EAGLE EYE
Good for Nothing but the Eye.

Stephan a Member of the Board of Public Works

The common council met in regular session at the city hall last night and although the meeting had promised to be a quiet one many important matters were brought up for consideration.

The question of how much should the city engineer's assistant be paid which caused considerable discussion early this spring, has been settled, the council deciding that he should receive 30 cents an hour and that the question of salaries and increase salaries hereafter should be decided by the council.

In the matter of the Twelfth St. paving it was decided to use Pioneer asphalt and that the city should rent the machines and cement mixers and that in case the city should decide to buy the machines eventually the rent paid should apply on the cost of the same.

The street and sidewalk committee met at the city hall at eight o'clock this morning going from there to Michigan avenue where they went over the ground carefully considering the grading of that street.

The committee on claims and accounts presented a bill given to them by H. Mouw for the cleaning and repairing of the street commissioners bicycle, making no recommendation but leaving it to the council to decide whether or not the city should pay. It was decided that the city should not settle this account on the grounds that this would be a precedent and that in the future it would be almost impossible to tell where the line could be drawn in cases of this kind.

The committee on public buildings and property recommended that the salary of the janitor of the city hall be raised to $87.50 per month, this raise to include the month of June, 1912. The recommendation was adopted by the council. The contract for the furnishing of coal for the city hall was awarded to G. A. Klomparsen he being the lowest bidder offering it for $4.45 per ton.

The committees on lighting and streets and crosswalks last night decided to get their heads together and carefully consider the matter of lighting Twelfth street. The city electrician has prepared a detailed form of the cost of installing the boulevard system on this street including postlamps, cables etc. and this will be carefully considered by the committees who will be prepared to report on the matter in the near future so that the necessary underground work can be done without interfering with the paving which will be begun soon.

The Board of Public Works was instructed to make permanent repairs on the sewer outlet on Central avenue and to be ready to make a report to the council as to the proper disposal of sewage there at the next regular meeting. The committee also recommended that the Limbert Co. be permitted to connect their overflow drain to the sewer on East Sixth street but this was not granted by the council. The recommendation that a sewer be laid on East Tenth street between Columbia and Lincoln avenues was also turned down.

Seven property owners living on Ninth street were present at the meeting last night and the question of whether or not a side walk should be ordered laid on Ninth street between Pine and Maple was again thoroughly discussed. Ex-Alderman Haberman was the first speaker for the property owners and he said that this question presented many of the same arguments that were brought up when the question of laying a walk on the north side of Eighth street was brought up some time ago. That walk was laid and now it is the most used in the winter going to and from the city and also in going to the boat dock. It was also said at that time that no one would ever care to walk on that side of the street. All the land in that part of the city is filled in the same way, the material used being the tan bark; the walk on the south side of the street was ordered in, that is also filled in with tan bark and the question of grading was brought up then.

From other property owners remarks it was shown that many who now hold jobs in the tannery could make good use of a walk on the north side of the street but that they are afraid to say anything for fear of losing their jobs. Others seemed to feel that the corporation is being favored.

The reason for the council holding back on this matter as it will be but a short time when the street will be paved and that the proper grade should be decided upon before a walk is laid as it would be expensive to the city to have to put in a new walk in a few years were one to be laid now on the wrong grade. It was shown that if Ninth were to be graded the same as Eighth the doors of the tannery engine and boiler rooms would be half closed.

The property owners on the west part of 9th feel sure that the street will not be paved for many years to come as the manager of the tannery is said to have signed a petition to that effect. It was finally decided by a vote of 7 to 3 to grant the petition of the owners and that the tannery be instructed to lay a cement walk on the block in question on the present grade.

The proprietor of the barber shop run in connection with the new pool room on East Eighth street petitioned the council that he be permitted to keep the barber shop open until midnight on Saturday nights promising that the pool room and barber shop would be separated by a wire screen.

It was decided that vaults and outhouses in sewer districts be declared a nuisance and orders removed.

A communication from the Board of Public Works was read by the clerk. The board feels that it should have time to adjust itself to the new conditions and while they are glad to receive any recommendation by the Council they feel that they should be permitted to regulate the hours and wage scale of that department. The Board express itself in favor of the nine hour schedule but owing to the nature of some of the work in that department it is impossible for them to comply with the new conditions. The mayor, ald. Dyke, and the City Attorney were appointed a committee to draw up a suitable answer and report at the next meeting of the council.

The gas tests for the past three weeks were very good the average being 606.

G. J. Van Duren resigned as a member of the Board of Public Works owing to his present physical condition expressing his thanks to the Board and Council for the many kindnesses and favors that they had shown him in the past. The resignation was accepted and Ald. Harrington, Van Drezer and Lokker appointed a committee to draft a resolution of thanks to Mr. Van Duren.

The council then proceeded to ballot to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation. On the first ballot E. P. Stephan received 6 votes, Otto Kramer 3 and Dr. Tuttle 1.

The board of health was authorized to buy tags for cattle which had been tested and also to purchase blanks for the examiners which they will fill out after each examination.

On motion of Ald. Harrington the park board will be instructed to care for the city trees spraying for borers and scales. The money to be taken from the city fund.

The bonus committee met last night and reported to the council that the Dearborn Engraving Co. will be ready to start building the factory on the corner of 24 and Ottawa in about ten days. That the plans and specifications were even better than the committee had hoped for the local contractors had been figuring on these plans and that ground will be broken in about ten days.

According to the agreement between the city and the company the city had agreed to lay a water main to the site, main not to be less than six inches in diameter and to install a hydrant there for fire protection. The pipes are now in the city and the board request that they be laid as water will be very necessary before the active construction can be begun as most of the work will be of brick and cement. This request was granted and the pipes will be laid to the site in the course of a couple of days.

Burglars Raid Spring Lake

Although they entered four Spring Lake stores and attempted to burglarize a fifth, burglars failed to get a haul of any value there Tuesday night. This morning Sheriff Andre and his deputies were called to Spring Lake by the report of wholesale burglaries in the town across the river and upon arriving there on hurry order, they found that the stores of Andy Falls, Samuel Falls, W. H. Buckley and the lumber office of George Christman had been entered. Attempts had also been made to force an entrance into the Campbell pharmacy, but after boring holes in the rear door, the burglars were either frightened away or gave up the attempt as a bad job.

Spring Lake people have suffered from burglaries at frequent intervals in the past and they have therefore learned not to have a great amount of money around their business places at night when the stores closed. At Andy Falls the thieves smashed up a perfectly good cash register and secured a small amount of change. As far as could be learned by the officers none of the stock in the store was stolen. Samuel Fall's store next door was also entered but as far as the officers could determine nothing of value was disturbed. This is also the post-office but no government property was molested.

W. H. Buckley's store was entered by jimmying the rear window. The safe in the store was opened and a small iron vault containing papers of value only the owner was carried away. As far as Mr. Buckley could estimate his damage was not particularly heavy.

Shortly before noon Wednesday the small vault stolen from W. H. Buckley's safe by the burglars at Spring Lake, was recovered near the shore. The compartment had been thoroughly ransacked but as far as could be learned nothing was stolen from it, strange to say some railway transportation to Texas, which was contained in the safe was not taken. There were two other burglaries in Ottawa county the past week, Stansbury's saloon at Grand Haven was robbed, and the post office at Zeeland was entered by breaking the window glass with a beer bottle.

The board of county road commissioners are in session at the county clerk's office this afternoon. The session is the regular monthly meeting of the board, and a number of matters were slated for discussion, including the gravel situation. An engineer named Harris from Crystal Falls met with the board this afternoon in regard to the suggestion for hiring an expert on road building to take charge of the work in Ottawa county. However, this matter has not as yet been decided upon as the board has not yet received the money from the bond issue. Until this money is in hand the commissioners do not feel justified in going ahead with the employment of an engineer.

DOUBLY PROVEN

Holland Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence.

This Holland citizen testified long ago.

Told of quick relief,—of lasting benefit.

The facts are now confirmed. Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit. Mrs. Margaret Van Houten 287 W. Thirteenth Street, Holland, Michigan, says: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills made for me six years ago has been permanent. I can speak just as highly in their praise now as I did at that time. For several years I was afflicted with kidney complaint, the pains in the small of my back and in my shoulders being almost unendurable and it was all I could do to stoop or lift. Whenever I caught cold it settled on my kidneys making my complaint worse. I did not rest well and the secretions from my kidneys were unnatural. Doan's Kidney Pills, obtained from Doesburg's Drug store, convinced me of their merits by restoring me to good health in a short time."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

OVERISEL

Mrs. Jennie Pomp has issued invitations to the approaching marriage of her daughter Anna to Dennis Nyhuis. The ceremony will take place Wednesday afternoon, June 12 at the home in Overisel.

One of the special features of the Memorial Day exercises in Holland Thursday was the tribute to the sailors who fought for the union. This tribute was paid by the children of the north side, and the exercises were as beautiful and impressive as those for the soldiers. For many years little attention was paid to the sailors in the Memorial Day exercises although the part they played in the Civil War cannot be overestimated.

Two years ago the Woman's Relief Corps began this feature of honoring the memory of the sailors and last year it was repeated. It proved a great success and this year more attention was paid to it than ever.

The children of the north side have come to look upon these exercises as particularly their own. As the children of the city schools take part in the exercises for the soldiers these North Side children and scatter the flowers in memory of the sailors and they take a great deal of pride in them. They are eager to make the day a success and a large number of little north side faces were eagerly turned skyward early yesterday morning to see if the day would be bright.

The flowers were scattered upon the water from the Grand Haven bridge. The exercises began at ten o'clock in the forenoon and opened with a song, "Scatter the Flowers." This was followed by an impressive prayer by Clarence Blekkink of Hope College. After a few remarks by Mr. Wilms nine girls gave a recitative song and then the flowers were scattered upon the water. The exercises closed with the singing of "America" by the people gathered to witness the exercises. Quite a number of people gathered at the bridge to do honor to the memory of the sailors.

Strawberries

Someone has said that "God might have made a better berry than the strawberry, but he never did." Yet the methods by which some of the fruit is presented to the public lead patrons at times to almost doubt the truth of the saying.

As no berry is better in its prime condition, no berry more quickly deteriorates under adverse conditions. It is one thing to grow fine fruit and quite another to get it to the public in the best manner. Most of all, it is important to keep it in first class shape after it reaches the dealer. We have all seen berries set out where all the dust from the street falls on their moist surface, and never leaves it. Flies soon find any defective fruit and show their appreciation, a fact quickly noted by an observing public. The hot sun adds to the difficulty of keeping a product, perishable even under the most favorable conditions.

If you have the choicest fruit, of course you want to get the fact before the public. It is not necessary to place the goods where they will be injured to do this. Modern methods present many goods in sealed packages and the most fastidious housekeepers have learned to dodge cereals and dried fruits sold in bulk. Berries may be handled in much the same way, an announcement in the newspapers emphasized by a thick placard in the window taking the place of the filthy habit of exhibiting the fruit. If it is kept in a cool place patrons will soon appreciate the advantage and hunt for this rather than accept the dusty basket which is thrust into their faces.

The false measure is bound to go. No matter what dodge is taken to conceal it, the sham is sure to be detected. Full measure and good quality are bound to attract. State fruit is apt to grow staler on your hands.

But what do June brides care about national conventions.

CAN MR. BRUSSE RETAIN HIS COMMISSION?

A petition has been circulated that reopens the questions of the eligibility of Henry Brusse to act as a member of the Charter commission. The petition is addressed to the charter commission and is in substance about the same as the one that was drawn up a few weeks ago but that was never presented for some reason or other.

About ten or a dozen signatures are said to have been secured for the petition and it will have to be considered and discussed. The previous petition never got to that stage. It was drawn up and copies of it were struck off on the typewriter, but that is as far as the matter went. Numerous protests were brought against any action that would exclude Mr. Brusse from the commission and it seems that no one could be found at that time to sign the paper. Hence it was allowed to die a natural death. It was never officially brought before the commission, and that body there fore took no action. On the other hand, they showed what they thought of Mr. Brusse personally by electing him chairman of the commission.

Those who have followed the work of the charter commission thought that the action of the members had finally disposed of the question of Mr. Brusse's eligibility. But it seems that there is still a doubt in the minds of some as to whether the work of the commission will not be invalidated by the fact that Mr. Brusse is a member, and hence the petition was circulated.

HOPE COLLEGE.

Stanley T. Fortune, a member of the Senior class of Hope College today received a letter from the dean of the Medical department of Columbia University that he had been given the appointment to the Devendorf scholarship. This scholarship extends from September 1912 until June 1913, with the probability of renewal each year in case the young man makes good. A stipend of $265 a year is connected with the scholarship and Mr. Fortune will be student assistant in embryology. The appointment was made on a basis of general scholarship and fitness of Mr. Fortune for the work at the big university. How much it means is shown by the fact that the competition for the position was open to all the colleges in the United States.

That it will mean a scholarship for the entire four years of the medical course is very likely. Mr. Fortune has distinguished himself in a number of ways as a student at Hope College and he is likely to make a very good record at Columbia. Not only has he excelled along scientific lines. Last year he won a twenty-five dollar Junior English prize for the best essay on "The Lakists" and he has always shown himself a student of high ability.

This is the third time in the last three years that Hope students have won out in competitions for scholarships in the great universities. Three years ago Henry Heusinkveld won a scholarship in the medical department of the University of Chicago, defeating the candidates from other colleges in the country. Last year Samuel Aelits did the same thing and won a scholarship in Rush medical school, and now Mr. Fortune has once more turned the trick. All these were students who specialized along scientific lines. Besides these Hope is represented by a student at Oxford University, while two others have qualified for the same honor, and a short time ago Hessel Yntema and Miss Gertrude Hoekje were awarded scholarships at the University of Michigan.

Hope's representative in the inter-collegiate oratorical contest next year will be C. B. Muste. Mr. Muste won first place in the Raven contest held last night in Winants chapel with his oration "A Newer Ideal of Peace." Second place went to Clarence Dame who spoke on "The Redemption of the City." "The Problem of City Government" by John Tillema was awarded third place.

There were seven orators this year and for the first time in the history of the Raven contest all were voluntary speakers. The prize of $50 is divided between the orators taking first and second places.

The following is the program of the speakers and their orations:—

Invocation.....Dr. G. J. Kollen
 "A Study in Justice".....Ed Wichers '13
 "America's Pleas for a Better Citizenship".....C. DeYoung '13
 "A Newer Ideal of Peace".....
C. B. Muste, '14
 "Democracy and the Trusts".....
G. Warnshuis, '15
 Vocal Solo.....Frank Kleinheksel
 "The Curse of Gold".....L. DeMaagt '15
 "The Problem of City Government".....
J. Tillema, '14
 "The Redemption of the City".....
C. Dame, '13
 Vocal Duet Misses DeFree and Broek
 The Judges were Supt. Fell, Atty. T. N. Robinson, Atty. C. Vander Meulen, The Rev. J. Van Puersem and Prof. J. C. Hoekje of Zeeland.

There was a great deal of enthusiasm among the classes who were represented in the contest and they were there with banners and class yells to encourage their speakers. Mr. Muste, who won the contest is a brother of the Rev. A. J. Muste who won the state contest for Hope College in 1903. Mr. Muste spoke of the horror and the wastefulness of war and painted the picture of the inauguration of an era of peace which is to be brought about by the elevation of man to a higher plane of life.

Mr. Dame who won second place gave a beautiful picture of the forces at work in the modern city. It was a sociological study and was alive with conviction. Mr. Dame is a native of Chicago and every word of his speech showed that deep contact with the things he was speaking about that carried conviction. The other oration that won honors that of Mr. Tillema on the "Problem of City Government" gave another side of city life. As Mr. Dame pictured the social conditions of the city mainly Mr. Tillema told of the political side of city life. He made an earnest plea for cleaner politics.

All the other orations were earnest studies of the various themes that were discussed.

SYNOD DELEGATES WILL TURN SOD SATURDAY.

All the plans have been completed for the building of the new library, which was given to the Western Theological seminary of the Reformed church of America by Dr. J. W. Beardslee. At the end of the school year Dr. Beardslee handed his resignation to the board of trustees and at the same time donated $15,000 for the erection of a new library. The first sod will be turned Saturday, when a large delegation of the synod which at that time will be meeting in the First Reformed church on Fountain St. in Grand Rapids, will go to Holland as the guests of the men of the First and Second Reformed churches. The turning of the sod will be conducted by these delegates. After these ceremonies have been finished, a banquet will be tendered them in the Carnegie gymnasium, which is connected with Hope college.

The plans of the building were drawn by Architects J. H. Daverman & Son.

The building will be 50 feet square. The basement and foundation will be built of Bedford sandstone. The

The committee on arrangements charged with the reception of the members of the General Synod of the Reformed church in America upon their visit to this city on Saturday, have practically outlined the program for the day. The Synod and its attaches, under the escort of the local committee at Grand Rapids will arrive in this city in five special interurban cars at 10:15 in the morning, and be escorted to Hope College and Winants Chapel, where brief exercises will be held as follows:—

Presiding—G. J. Kollen, LL.D.
 Prayer—The Rev. H. Veldman.
 Address of Welcome—Dr. A. Venne ma, president of Hope College.
 Address of Welcome for the Western Theological seminary—Prof. J. W. Beardslee, Dean of the Faculty.
 Response—By president or vice-president of the Synod.
 Music.

These exercises will be continued on the campus of the Theological Seminary by the breaking of ground for the "Beardslee Memorial Library" and the "Students' Dormitory." The program here will consist of a few remarks in connection with the object of the occasion, a prayer and a hymn. A half hour will then be spent in the inspection of the several buildings and the grounds after which at 12:30 sharp, a collation will be served in Carnegie gymnasium.

At the close of the report Mayor Bosch will introduce a toastmaster, Hon. G. J. Diekema and it is expected that the following will respond to toasts: Dr. Cornelius Brett, of Jersey City, N. J.; Prof. John E. Kulz inga, of Hope College; The Rev. W. P. Bruce of Yonkers, N. Y.; Dr. McLeod of New York City and Dr. John M. Vander Meulen, of Louisville, Ky.

Promptly at 3:15 the visiting guests under the auspices of the Holland Automobile club will be given an opportunity to view the city and then taken to the Graham & Morton docks where at 3:45 they will board one of the company's well equipped steamers for a ride on beautiful Macatawa Bay and Lake Michigan, returning at 5:30. Cars will be in waiting at the docks to convey the company back to Grand Rapids, in time to attend the "Men's Missionary Rally" in the Second Reformed church at 8 o'clock p. m.

During the banquet and after dinner speaking the galleries in Carnegie hall will be open to the public and a cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

The Reformed synod of the Reformed church in Grand Rapids today ed church of America will open in the auditorium of the First Reformed. The first business session will begin on the afternoon of that day, when the annual election of officers will take place.

Considerable comment has been raised as to who would be the president of the synod. It has always been the custom that when the synod met in the West that a western man would also be elected president. Two men of Michigan have been mentioned as the most likely candidates for that office, The Rev. E. J. Blekkink of the Third Reformed church has been proposed by a great number of his friends. He has been most influential in the work of the Reformed church for many years and his friends contend that the office is coming to him.

Dr. J. W. Beardslee will be another who will be a candidate for the office. He has been president of the Western Theological seminary in Holland for many years and has spent most of his energy in working for the Reformed church.

The office of president of the synod is the highest honor that can be given to any pastor of the Reformed church and it is certain that the many friends of these men will work most faithfully for their election.

To Whom It May Concern—

That I am more than pleased to state what Chiropractic has done for me in a case of varicose vein. I doctored with medical men till my leg broke open and then the last medical man I called on said to me that it was too late—nothing could be done to it any more; so then I called called upon E. Fredricks, the Chiropractor at 35 East Eighth street and after he had given me five adjustments my leg was all healed up. I took fourteen adjustments in all, this was in Aug. 1911 and I am working hard every day, and not even a symptom has re-appeared.

Contrary to the usual scramble for place and honor in some religious convention, local Reformed ministers declare that they have not started any concerted movement to elect the Rev. E. J. Blekkink of Holland president of the general synod. If Rev. Blekkink is chosen to the position they say, it will be by force of the votes of the eastern men and purely because of a recognition of the Holland pastor's ability and general fitness for the place. "We do not favor any active campaigning for the presidency by a western man or his friends," said one of the ministers. "Some think that it would be better to have an eastern man president, as the chief numerical strength of the church is in the east. We particularly wish to avoid the appearance of candidating for any person and no candidating has yet been done, so far as we know." Prof. J. W. Beardslee of the Western Theological seminary also has been mentioned for the honor of the presidency. This year the presidency is due to come to the west, according to custom.

Those that were present were: Gertrude Stephan, Christian Cappon, Hazel Kraal, Flora Welmers, Lucile Chase, Elizabeth Vander Veer, Jennett Knoll, Colombe Bosch, Virginia Van Verst, Gertrude Souter, Vivian Birt, Anna Visser, Lillian Price. After the refreshments had been served they enjoyed themselves in playing games, music and all kinds of merry making.

Joseph W. O'Brien, who is a candidate for State Senator, 23rd District, comprising the counties of Ottawa and Muskegon, earnestly solicits your support and the support of your friends at the Primaries on August 27th, 1912.

Born in Chicago, October 11, 1860, "Joe O'Brien," as his friends all call him, came to live in Grand Haven soon after the great Chicago fire of 1871. He was a spectator of that terrible conflagration and slept out on the praries with hundreds of others at that eventful time.

His education was limited to the High school of Grand Haven, followed by a short course in Bryant and Stratton's Business College of Chicago. His early training was in the marine interest, which at one time in the history of that city was quite an important one. When Manager of the Grand River Towing Association, at the age of 18, he held both Engineer's and Master's License for steamboats. After leaving the marine interests, he followed the mercantile business and while employed in the general store of H. C. Akeley & Co., was elected city treasurer in 1882.

In 1886 he was elected Mayor and declined re-nomination. In 1900 and again in 1901 he was elected and served two terms at the head of the city government of Grand Haven. It was during these terms as Mayor that he successfully negotiated the first bonds which brought to that city the factories that put Grand Haven on the map.

He was made president of the board of Trustees of the Board of Trade and still holds that position. It was at this same period that he successfully prosecuted and collected a shortage of $2,500 from the sureties company of a careless city official, carrying the case to the Supreme court of the state.

In 1903 he was elected president of the Grand Haven State bank and is at present its official head. For the past 30 years he has been engaged in the fire insurance business and enjoys a state wide acquaintance.

While earnestly soliciting the support of the voters of the 23rd Senatorial District of Michigan, he desires to enter upon his duties, the same as he has on all other positions of trust, without pledge or promise, with a pair of clean hands and strong in the belief, "If you would accomplish something of worth, you must do the best in your power and your deeds will call forth helpers."

MAJESTIC

Last night's audience enjoyed seeing Mary Servoss and company present the familiar George M. Cohan combination of melodrama and music, "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway." Miss Servoss and her players meet on a common ground of friendship. Consequently their effort at musical comedy was received in a spirit of good will and really afforded entertainment through seeing friends play it and through such laughable mistakes as are attendant often on a first night's performance.

Seriously considered the company is not qualified for musical comedy, and it would almost be suicidal to attempt it before a strange and critical audience unless it was billed "for laughing purposes only." As the piece has twice been seen here, this production in its difference is welcome and more amusing than a repetition along more meritorious lines would be.

In playing the roles some of the players attained credit, but vocally the local amateur chorus, while far from professional, beat the principals handsly.

Grace Hamilton, who has a good parlor voice, was the only principal who scored vocally and she did it in solo, "Sing Kate, Sing," and her whistling and dancing were acceptable also. In "Rum Rum Tiddle," assisted by Paul Morgan and chorus, she scored with eccentric comedy. Ruby Richardson and Chorus won approval by a commendable rendition of "Night Time is the Right Time to Spoon." Popularity accounted for every other song being encored at least twice.

IMM Servoss in the role of Mary was personally winsome and displayed a voice wee and sweet, but of no range. She was a pleasing "Mary," even if her characterization was more reminiscent of Sis Hopkins than the Mary usually presented. Mr. Morgan got comedy effects right along, altho it takes a strong imagination to regard him as Kid Burns.

Incidentally, the lack of the rapid action essential to a Cohan piece emphasized the shopworn material which the successful George incorporated into his earlier offerings.

The musical number, "Garden in Sweden" was presented by the chorus led by Leonora Ulrich. She won encores by reason of personal charm.

COMMERCIAL FISHING IN LAKE MICHIGAN VERY INTERESTING.

But in Grand Haven, Muskegon and Other Cities Much Money is Made This Way.

Holland has no commercial concerns engaged in fishing like Muskegon and Grand Haven and other cities along the lake, and few people here realize the interest that centers in concerns of this kind and their methods of making their catches in Lake Michigan.

Out in all kinds of weather, only remaining inshore on rare occasions when the seas are very much too high for them to navigate the fishermen reap their harvest undaunted by stress or storm that would deter many another larger craft.

It is to help supply a great city far down the lake that they toil, for the local markets play a very small part in their traffic.

Big-lake fishing is conducted in three different ways—by bait-line, gill-nets, and pond-nets—although the landsman is usually not aware of more than one method, the pond-net fishing. Just at present what is known as the bait-line, is at the height of its season.

The process is very interesting for in place of nets, a long rope is used with countless small baited lines attached. Think of a fish line a mile and a half long, for that is what it amounts to in the sum total.

The bait fishing is operated on a reef so far out in the lake that to one taking his first trip there in the little boats, it would seem as though the destination were going to be the city beyond the mirage, Milwaukee. There the long line, instead of being held by the fisherman in the boat as one might think, is anchored deep down in the water close to the floor of the reef.

It extends its full length and is connected at each end with a buoy upholding a flag about the surface to mark the place for the men when they come out from shore the next day. The hooks are not fastened directly to this rope because that would drag them in the bottom of the lake. They are at the ends of small lines that are tied to the rope at regular intervals and each line reaches up in the water by means of the "floaters" that is used as bait.

"Floaters," as they are called, are chubs or deep water minnows that have been previously gathered for that purpose with nets. This very interesting kind of bait has a way after being caught of bloating until it makes itself into a sort of a pis-catorial cork. It is fine food for the fishes and it serves the double purpose of keeping the short lines extended above the big rope in deep water.

It is a thrilling sight to see the skill with which the fishing boat pays out the big rope into the water after the short lines have been attached and baited. In readiness the whole has been wound in a coil in the stern and there is never a slip or a tangle as the fringed cable slides over the edge on its way to its watery resting place.

Lake trout love the "floaters" better than do any other fish. Swaying toward them in the dim green reflections many a fine specimen of these waters has thus met his fate. The next day, when the fishermen arrive to pull up the big rope, the latter glistens from end to end with its prizes, a catch that is well worth going to see.

Also, fishing is done in Lake Michigan with the gill net which in appearance looks more like a marine tennis net than anything else. It is suspended in the water in the same positions that the latter would be on land, being held in its proper position by means of floats at the top and weights at the bottom. Flags are anchored at the ends to mark the place for the returning fishermen just as it is done in the bait line method.

The gill net is a never ending mystery to the guileless perch who swims lazily toward it and deliberately pokes his head through the mesh in such a manner that his gills prevent him from ever getting out again. There he wriggles until the net is taken up and he is gathered for the fisherman's barrel.

The third method of big lake fishing is the pond net as it is called. This is familiar to nearly all who have been down to Lake Michigan, for picturesquely draped about the tall stakes the pond net is partly visible above the water. In shape the net is like an enormous basket or basin, forming a sort of an inclosed pond into which the fish are trapped through "leads" that, once entered the prisoners never seem to be able to find their way out of again.

Ciscoes, perch, suckers and other fish turn to the pond nets. White fish are not so plentiful in this vicinity until August. The cisco is taken in large quantities, notwithstanding the fact that it is little known in this its native lake region.

AUTOMOBILE OWNERS MOSTLY STICK TO PAVED STREETS

Crops On Farm Are Retarded by Continual Rain and the Cold Spell.

Those who are lucky enough to own automobiles are kicking these days because the conditions of the highways. The rains have had their effect on the roads and in many parts of Ottawa and Allegan counties they are in very poor shape. If this were fall when the farmer has to draw his products to the city the kicks would chiefly come from that quarter. But the farmer these days does not make very much use of the roads. For one thing he had little to haul to the city and moreover most of them are too busy to travel.

But the automobile owners are complaining freely. The sale of machines in Holland this spring has been phenomenal and many a man who has just bought a car is anxious to try it out to the limit. However many of them stick to the paved streets in the city and refuse to venture out on the muddy roads in the country.

The farmer however has kicks coming in other ways. The continued rain has prevented him from doing his sowing and now the cold spell right in the end of May retards the growth of the crops. The spring has been an exceptionally late one and the crops next fall are likely to be correspondingly late.

The simple statement that the boys in blue who fought fifty years ago and whom the country honors each Memorial Day had fought to preserve the Union was the theme to which the orator returned again and again. He said, was the answer to all questions that might come up in regard to the observance of the day. Consequently we must keep in mind that this was the great service that they gave to the greatest republic on the earth. They fought for a big idea and that big idea has more and more taken shape during the past half century since the war began. Today we are a united people because the young men of the early sixties—old and weather beaten veterans now—were willing to make the supreme sacrifice of leaving those who were dear and dear to them and going to death and danger for their country.

The Rev. Mr. Kent made a very able address and he was enthusiastically applauded a number of times by both the veterans and by the others members of the audience. He spoke for about three quarters of an hour and paid a very touching tribute to the little company of soldiers who occupied places of honor in the audience. Later in the day the Rev. Mr. Kent said he had been giving addresses of this kind for many years, but he had never been in a place the size of Holland where so much was made of Memorial day and where there was such a general spirit of patriotism prevailing all the exercises of the day.

The line of march was very impressive and the use of a number of automobiles to convey the soldiers to the cemetery helped to make it more impressive than usual. The Holland Martial band was on the job again and the Woodman band, too, furnished music during the parade.

At the cemetery the usual impressiveness was given to the exercises of decorating the graves with flowers and the firing of the salute. All in all the exercises of the day were such that it will be a happy memory for the veterans for a long time to come.

After returning to the city the veterans and the members of the various organizations were served in the G. A. R. hall by the Woman's Relief Corps. The banquet lasted from 4:30 till 7:30 and it was a most happy feature of the day. The women in charge were highly commended for the banquet and it helped to appropriately finish off a day of busy features.

Mayor Bosch presided at the banquet board and he called upon several to make remarks. The first one called on was Dr. G. J. Kollen, whom Mayor Bosch introduced as the "Grand Old Man of Hope." Dr. Kollen made some very appropriate remarks and was loudly applauded. Others who spoke on invitation of the mayor were C. H. Mc Bride, Ex-Mayor Brusse and Ex-Mayor Geerlings.

GRADUATING EXERCISES TO BE Held in Grand Haven Friday EVENING is One of Leading Institutions of Its Kind in the State; is Now Six Years Old.

Ottawa county has a number of things to be proud of. Foremost of these is the Ottawa county normal. The normal is completing its sixth year, and during all of this time it has maintained itself as one of the best in the state.

The purpose of the county normals throughout the state is to improve school conditions in the county. They aim to put teachers who know how to teach in the rural schools.

The state gives Ottawa a thousand dollars a year towards maintaining its normal. Ottawa can do its part only by sending students to the normal, and by putting the normal trained teachers into the schools. The trained teacher costs the district more, but the district gets more—happier, better trained boys and girls, and a higher standard in every respect.

The graduating exercises for this year will be held this evening in Grand Haven. The following is a list of the graduates: Grace Bartholomew, Ada Brough, Lovina Creager, Rhea Edwards, Ella Hilderink, Elizabeth McIntyre, Viola Shire, Grace Smith, Elsie Wuennecke, Kate Verhoef.

Widow, Who Fled After Finding of Body, Arrested in Chicago—Other Warrants Issued

ALLEGAN, Mich., June 3.—With the identification yesterday of the badly decomposed body floating in the Kalamazoo river eight miles below here last Sunday as that of Siemon Delewiccka, a Polish farmer, who disappeared from his farm home two miles northwest of this city on the night of Feb. 24, Sheriff Volney Ferris believes he has uncovered one of the most brutal murders in the history of the county.

Mrs. Siemon Delewiccka, who disappeared from her home the day following the finding of the body, was arrested in Chicago and today was returned to this city. She is being held temporarily on a statutory charge pending the verdict of the coroner's jury, which was impaneled yesterday to investigate the case.

A warrant for the arrest of John Sishok, another Pole, has been issued Sishok, who lived on the Delewiccka farm disappeared about three weeks after Delewiccka's mysterious disappearance and Sheriff Ferris believes with his arrest he will have entirely cleared up the case.

At the time of the finding of the body little was thought of the occurrence. The day following, however, it developed that Mrs. Delewiccka had suddenly left her farm home and an investigation resulted. One development followed another until on Saturday, when evidence of murder became so strong that Justice of the Peace Foote of this city ordered the body of the unidentified man exhumed and an autopsy performed.

Yesterday a jury was drawn and the body dug up. Drs. J. H. VanMess, W. H. Bliss and Malcolm Smith performed the autopsy and resulted in the discovery that the man's death was not caused by drowning, but that his skull has been broken in a dozen places, and that the body had been placed in the water after life had been extinct. The back and left side of the skull was entirely crushed in, several bones in the face were found to be broken and the lower jaw was broken in two places. The condition of the skull could have been caused by but one thing, the doctors say, that of being hit with a heavy blunt instrument.

The features of the face had been so badly marked and decomposition had progressed to such an extent that identification was almost impossible. Through the clothing, a pair mittens found in one pocket and the fact that the man wore no shoes, however, the sheriff says he is satisfied that the body is that of Delewiccka. Mrs. Delewiccka, in her cell in the county jail, tonight identified the mittens as those of her husband. She also partially identified a shirt found on the body.

All evidence now in the hands points to the theory of murder. Sheriff Ferris believes that Delewiccka was killed and his body thrown into the river to cover up the crime. Mrs. Delewiccka, since her arrest, has refused to talk and continually calls for a priest. The sheriff believes that she knows more than she is willing to tell, and that if Sishok can be located he will have solved the mystery.

A little more than a year ago Mrs. Delewiccka came to this city in company with John Sishok, who then posed as her husband. It has since developed that the two eloped from a little village near Pittsburg, taking with them $2,500 of Delewiccka's money. With this they purchased a farm of 45 acres northwest of this city. fall Delewiccka suddenly appeared in this city and went to the home of his wife. The farm had been purchased in her and Sishok's names and this Delewiccka allowed to stand, with the understanding that he was to make his home on the place and consider himself a third owner. The two men worked about the farm last fall and until early in February cut wood in the little piece of timberland on the place. On the afternoon of February 14, Delewiccka was seen walking about the farm, but the next day he was missing. When he failed to appear for several days later neighbors became suspicious and inquired of his whereabouts Mrs. Delewiccka told them he had deserted her and had gone to Chicago to live.

Sishok continued to live at the farm for about three weeks, when one day he also was found to be missing. Mrs. Delewiccka did not try to explain his whereabouts, but from letters found later it was learned that he went to Detroit.

When the body was found, persons living near the Delewiccka farm, declare Mrs. Delewiccka left the place by night. Her mysterious actions and the peculiar circumstances surrounding the disappearance of the two men resulted in much gossip and Sheriff Ferris then took a hand, resulting in the arrest of the woman and the issuing of a warrant for Sishok.

WORK ON NEW LIBRARY BUILDING TO BE BEGUN THEN.

New Building to Be a Beautiful One; Synod Delegates to Be Present At Exercises.

All the plans have been completed for the building of the new library, which was given to the Western Theological seminary of the Reformed church of America by Dr. J. W. Beardslee. The first sod will be turned Saturday, when a large delegation of the synod which at that time will be meeting in Grand Rapids will come to Holland. The turning of the sod will be conducted by these delegates. After these ceremonies have been finished a banquet will be tendered them in Carnegie gymnasium, which is connected with Hope college. The plans were drawn up by Architects J. H. Daverman & Son. The building will be 50 feet square. The basement and foundation will be built of Bedford stone. The building proper will be built of red pressed brick with rough stone trimmings. The basement will be 10 feet high and will be used for storage room. The first floor will be 13 feet high and will be equipped with toilet rooms, an entrance lobby, a directors room and a stack room where 25,000 volumes can be placed. All the interior will be of oak finish and it will have maple floors. The building will be of slow burning construction. It will have a flat tar gravel roof. It will be heated by steam.

The style of architecture will be Roman, Mutalar-Doric. The building will be most beautiful in appearance and will greatly add to the beauty of the campus.

Plans are also being made for the erection of a new dormitory which will also be given to the seminary. At the present time it is necessary for the students of the seminary to use the dormitories of the college.

VAN EYCK-WEURDING MILLING CO., CONSTRUCT ONE OF CE-MENT AND IRON.

Can Accommodate Fifty-Eight Horses At One Time; is Boon to Farmers

The Van Eyck-Weurding Milling Co. has just completed a new barn at their mill that is well worth seeing. Not a scrap of wood was used in the construction of this barn and it is perhaps the only building in the city that is entirely constructed of cement and iron. The walls of the building are of concrete, the floor is of concrete, so are the manger and all the partitions, etc. The ceiling is supported by iron posts.

This will be perhaps the most sanitary barn in the city. The construction of the barn is such that it will be very easy to keep clean, and the manure that accumulates will be removed regularly to comply with the city health rules that were passed some time ago. The barn can accommodate fifty-eight horses at one time and it will be a great convenience for the farmers who come to Holland to do their shopping. It will be a public barn and can be used by all the farmers who come to the city, whether they come to the mill or not. Something of this kind has been needed in Holland for some time. Now that the vehicle ordinance is passed the farmers are often at a loss what to do with their teams when coming to the city. This big barn will solve the problem for many.
