Zeeland Church To Celebrate Diamond Jubilee

TO GIVE PROGRAM AND SUITABLE SOUVENIR BOOK NEXT WEEK WEDNESDAY

The First Christian Reformed Church of the City of Zeeland laid its foundation 75 years ago, and for that reason the Diamond Jubilee will be celebrated next week Wednesday at the Church, beginning at 2:30 o'clock, with a supper at 5:30 in the shade of the church grounds, closing with an evening program beginning at 7:00 o'clock. For this meeting a suitable program is being arranged, and a souvenir book is now being issued in time for this auspicious, religious event.

The Zeeland Church is an outgrowth from the Chr. Ref. church of Noordeloos, and was organized when a large number of members located in Zeeland, making it inconvenient for the larger number of the membership to travel to Noordeloos, a distance of four miles, each Sunday to attend services.

The Noordeloos Chr. Ref. church was organized as a congregation of the Reformed denomination of the Middle West, and succeeded from this denomination after it affiliated with the Dutch Reformed denomination of the East. The Dutch Reformed denomination was an institution dating back to the days of the settlement of the Dutch in New Amsterdam, now New York city, and after the Dutch had settled in Western Michigan and several other places in the Middle West forcing a denomination of its own, the denomination of the East made overtures that were accepted here, resulting in a breach or the secession.

The secession began in the spring of 1858, nine years after the local colonization, when a group in Grand Rapids severed from the classis of that city, and the following spring the Second Reformed church of Grand Rapids withdrew as a congregation and formed the First Chr. Ref. Church in America, then known as Spring Street Church, now the Bates St. Church. In April, 1857, the congregation of Noordeloos withdrew from the Reformed denomination, as also the churches of Polkton and Graafschap, they together with Spring Street Church, forming the first and present Christian Reformed denomination.

The secession was due to the dominating position of the Dutch Reformed churches of the East, which were claimed to be too modernistic in viewpoint.

For a time those in sympathy with the secession living in Zeeland affiliated with the congregation in Noordeloos, but the numbers at Zeeland grew to such proportions that it was advisable to organize a congregation in Zeeland, and as a result a church was organized there in April, 1862, seventy-five years ago this spring.

The pastors having served this church, known as the First Chr. Ref. church of Zeeland, began with Rev. K. Van Den Bosch, pastor, Rev. J. Van Den Bosch, pastor, the Noordeloos church serving both churches, and the Zeeland church did not succeed in having a pastor of its own until 1870, eight years after its organization, when Rev. J. Stadt accepted its call. He served until 1872. The other pastors serving the church were: Rev. W. Coelingh, 1874-1877; Rev. G. Hoeksma, 1877-1879; Rev. L. Rietveld, 1882-1886; Rev. J. Keizer, 1887-1890; Rev. G. J. Haan, 1890-1900; Rev. G. J. Werp, 1900-1906; Rev. D. R. Drukker, 1906-1914; Rev. D. Van Vessert, 1915-1926; Rev. Wm. Kok, 1927-1937.

The present consistory is composed of the following: President, Rev. Wm. Kok; elders, J. Buter, O. Vander Plaats, R. Poole, H. Van Gelderen, B. Brower, E. Sturing, P. Bareman, G. Van Koevring, William Gras, and D. Huijzen; deacons, R. Gort, A. Vander Hulst; J. De Vries, Henry Nykamp, M. Geerlings, C. Van Hattuma, J. Lokers, P. Looksee, and L. Vander Veer.

On this occasion the church is issuing a souvenir booklet containing a great deal of the church history, with illustrations of the buildings and organizations as well as of all the past pastors. Orders for these booklets have been solicited and some 300 have already been sold.—Zeeland Record.

VEKING PARKING QUESTION TO COME UP TONIGHT

As the News goes to press Mayor Geerlings is calling together the aldermen of this city to come to some definite decision whether we shall have parallel parking or diagonal parking. The meeting is called for 7:30 o'clock and undoubtedly the session will be rather long and drawn-out, for there will be a lot to say by merchants of Holland and by shoppers, who are suffering under this new system.

At the last meeting of the council the aldermen held the whole matter in abeyance for two weeks, but pressure has become so strong to change back to the old parking system that Mayor Geerlings has called a special meeting to consider the matter again. There is no doubt but that the downtown business district is suffering from this manner of parking. Two cars can be parked in the same space by diagonal parking where one car can only be parked under the present system. This curtails the room for cars at least one half. It also means that only one half the number of shoppers can be accommodated. The rest are put to great inconvenience in getting to the stores to shop and then "lug" their purchases to out-of-the-way places.

Those who have seen the parallel parking know the difficulties that confronts drivers to get in and out of a parallel position. It takes a good driver to negotiate the narrow open spaces, and a large number of them even now go semi-diagonal. Parallel parking has brought much inconvenience and bumping of cars "fore and aft" in order to make room to get into the middle of the highway again. This is common knowledge down the street, and the Holland City News staff is in position to see this jockeying and bumping of cars for place or exit hourly. Diagonal parking is only a moment's operation and can easily be negotiated without danger even by a poor driver. To our knowledge, covering a period of years there have been very few collisions because of backing out from a diagonal position. The driver who backs out, as a rule, does it slowly, and the driver of a car in the middle of the street is, at all times, in full view of the car being backed out, and for that reason there are few running boards smashed or damaged considering the thousands of cars that have been backing out daily for a score of years.

No personal injuries have ever been sustained through a backed-out car that we can remember. It is hoped that the Common Council tonight can see its way clear to go back to angle parking and restore again as much parking space as existed under the old order. Even under the old condition room for parking in the summer time, when the resorters are here, is far short of the requirements. Subtract that by one half and you have a problem. The tourist does not ask "Why?" but shows where conveniences and accommodations are extended.

We all know the traffic problem and the parking situation has become a real problem everywhere. No one is to blame. Had our forebears known that the "iron horse" would be created they would have laid out streets twice as wide. Just where the parking problem is leading to is not hard to conjecture. It surely will not become better. Eventually some drastic steps may have to be taken to make room, but for the present it is well to go into the matter earnestly and dispassionately and together a constructive solution, at least temporarily we hope, will be the outcome.

TWO HOLLAND MEN HONORED

The synod of the Christian Reformed Church of America has begun to hold sessions this week and two Holland men were given signal honors, namely, Rev. Daniel Zwiler, pastor of the Maple Avenue Christian Reformed Church, who was elected clerk of the synod when the meeting opened yesterday in the Calvin College auditorium. Mr. Garrett Heyns, Superintendent.

DR. GARRETT HEYNS

intendent of the Holland Christian School was elected to the office of assistant clerk and this was an unusual honor for the Holland man, since it was the first time that a layman had been elected to that position up until now. It is expected the synod will remain in session for several days, and the Holland men will spend a great deal of their time at Grand Rapids.

Holland firemen made a run to the home of Carl Swift, 369 Lincoln Ave., Tuesday about 7 p.m. when a gasoline stove in the kitchen of the home flared up. Fire Chief Cornelius Blom reported the damages were slight, most of it being caused by smoke.

June The Month for Nature to be Wide Awake

THIS MONTH IS THE BUSIEST OF YEAR'S OUTDOOR SEASON

June is the month of wild flowers, of insects and good fishing. June is the month when most of the birds are nesting and a good time to see young birds. It is the time to observe the moths at night and the butterflies in the daytime, to listen to the deep bass notes of the bullfrog in the marsh and to the guttural of the bitterns in the swamp. It is the month when mosquitoes begin hatching by the millions to make every trip out-of-door a battle with these javelin-nosed insects.

In grassy meadows you may find bob o'links nesting. Hidden among tufts of grass, you may come upon the nest of the meadow lark. Young wood thrushes have already outgrown their homes and are ready to try their wings. The killdeer is brooding her young. If you surprise her, she will try to lead you away with loud call. Often she will flutter to earth and try the "broken wing" stunt on you. You may be sure, when you follow her, that you are getting no closer to her babies. Woodcock will act in similar fashion. The eggs of the oriole are laid this month in that clever hanging basket-like nest.

Trout fishermen are interested in the month of June because it is a time when insect hatches are occurring every day. They are best able to observe the "dance of the Mayflies." These flies mate and die in just a few hours. Other species of insects are hatching by the millions, not the least of these being the mosquito.

June is the high-tide of the year's life. Whether you are interested in birds, flowers, butterflies, fishing or animals, you can keep busy this month. When you go afield, keep your eyes and ears open, for there is no month that has as much to offer as June. Even the wildflowers are a study all by themselves. Here is a list of flowers that blossom in June.

Anemone, betony, blue, bergamot, wild morning glory, blackberry, Susan, blue-eyed grass, blackberry, bouncing bet, blue-wind or bogloss, bunchberry, buttercup, butterfly, button-bush, Queen Anne's lace, Clintonia, clover, columbine, daisy, dogwood, wild geranium or cranesbill, harebell, herb Robert, ghost flower, blue flag, thorn apple, jack in the pulpit, lady's slipper, water lily, yellow lily, Canada lily, lupine, marsh marigold, milkweed, mullein, mustard, bittersweet, pickleweed, pine sap, pipisew, rattlesnake weed, rose, Solomon's seal, squirrel corn, trillium, vervain, vetch, violet, wintergreen, milkfoil.

ZEELAND MAYOR VOTES TO CHLORIDE STREETS

Following a heated discussion Mayor Gerrit Yntema broke a tie vote and decided for the citizens of Zeeland to pay for the chloriding of unpaved streets. A petition with nearly 200 signatures protested the dusty condition of the streets. The members also went on record as being in favor of aiding in the purchase of new police uniforms for Zeeland officers. Additional officers are to be placed on the police force for traffic duty Sunday.

ZEELAND COUPLE HOLD SILVER WEDDING

A delicious chicken supper was served the seven-fifty guests in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Bouwens were united in marriage in Grand Rapids by Rev. G. Kooiker. They have always made their home in Zeeland, where Mr. Bouwens is a local business man. Mr. Bouwens is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Bouwens of Zeeland, and Mrs. Bouwens is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. De Bruyn of Grand Rapids. They are the parents of four daughters, Genevieve, Eleanor, Dorothy and Elaine, all living at home.

The senior class of Holland Christian High School, although entering into high school life in the depression year of 1933, has established a record. With the close of senior activities members of the class decided to leave as a memorial $1,000 collected in their four years as pupils.

Part of the memorial will be left in the form of a new bookcase built into the front of the assembly room. The cost of the new case, with sliding glass doors, will total nearly $200. The remainder of the $1,000 will be used for books to be placed in the school library. This is the largest memorial ever left by a graduating class. The presentation will be made Tuesday evening.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Something we would like to see: Illegal fishing stopped in Black Lake and river; Holland to be a city of 10,000 inhabitants; Holland to increase its manufacturing interests; a hundred new cottages erected around Macatawa Bay; the ruins of the old engine house and rail removed from Centennial Park; a new, large and commodious school building built here this summer; our business blocks and residences lighted with electricity and gas; the broken wooden sidewalks about town repaired and put in good condition; 100,000 visitors annually at Macatawa Park and Ottawa Beach. Note:—That was the wish of the editor-in-chief on May 28, 1887. All these wishes have become a fact. Fifty years ago you could not convict an illegal fisher by a jury. The News has repeatedly stated how it fought and exposed illegal fishing and fishermen. There is no illegal fishing today. All these editorial hopes have become a fact. The old engine house and rail are remembered by the older folk. These eyesore were located on the northwest corner of Public Square. It will be noticeable that the editor speaks in terms of Macatawa and Ottawa Beach as this relates to the resorts. That was the extent of our resort area, with the exception of possibly Shady-side, which later became Jensen Electric Park. The editor hoped that there would be 100 cottages around Black Lake, Lake Macatawa, which is the same thing, namely "Black Water" in Indian. The resorts in this vicinity altogether did not have over 100 cottages 50 years ago. Macatawa and Ottawa Beach were cities of tents rather than of cottages. Today Macatawa and Ottawa Beach comprise only a small portion of our resort area. Lake Macatawa has been completely surrounded by summer homes bordering the lake, and many more summer homes away from its shores but in close proximity. Fifty years ago Macatawa and Ottawa Beach were the only places in the sand dunes that showed any life on the bathing beaches. Today the resort district along Lake Michigan extends from Holland Harbor north to and beyond Fort Sheldon, a distance of ten miles; and to the south to Castle Park and beyond, practically to Saugatuck and Douglas. Cottage building has not been confined to lake shores, but extends along every passable highway flanking out from Holland. Remembering Ottawa Beach and Macatawa as the writer does and then making comparisons with today's resort area, which extends all around Lake Macatawa, a distance of fourteen miles, and the vast of the editor in 1887 has been fully fulfilled.

Charles Zeerip of Zeeland was at the time alderman of Holland when Judge William Brusse fined him $13.70. Note:—Today there is not a speed limit according to the state law, but the fine is plenty and the aftermath in a civil case will point out whether a driver drove with caution. It all depends on how you handle your car and whether there is recklessness connected with your driving.

FORMER HOLLAND YOUTH, NOW IN THE WEST, WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Donald W. Prakkens, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Prakkens of Seattle, Washington, wins high honors according to the following news item clipped from the Seattle Post-Intelligencer:

"Donald W. Prakkens, twenty-two, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Prakkens, 4026 Whitman Ave., has been awarded a scholarship by the Carnegie Corporation to study six weeks this summer at the University of Paris, it was learned here yesterday."

"Young Prakkens graduated from Lincoln High School, attended Whitman College and the University of Washington and will receive a master of arts degree from Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, next month."

The News might add that the Prakkens family formerly lived in Holland; in fact, this is their birthplace. Many years ago Mr. Prakkens was identified with the old Bush and Lane Piano Co. and was sent to Seattle as a representative of the firm many years ago. Except for a visit, the Prakkens have never returned and have made their home in the West for some time. General Synod Has Adjourned In The East

PRESIDENT WYNAND WICHERS EXPECTED BACK TODAY

Central College Starts $500,000 Building Fund

The synod of the Reformed Church of America closed its 131st annual meeting Tuesday at Asbury Park, N. J., with commendation of New York city authorities for refusing to renew licenses for burlesque theaters.

Other resolutions urged Reformed church members to co-operate with established agencies to aid "fellow Christians" in Spain; commended Central college, a Reformed church institution in Pella, Iowa, on the start of a $500,000 building fund campaign;

The Rev. W. E. Compton of Stuyvesant, N. Y., was appointed for his 29th year as synod press clerk.

The synod decided to circulate the Reformed ministers before taking action on a request from the classes of Ulster and Orange in New York state that the study of Hebrew be made an elective course in the church's theological seminary at New Brunswick, N. J., and the Western Theological seminary at Holland, Mich.

Asbury Park was chosen for the synod's 132nd meeting in 1938. A committee on social welfare Monday reported a strong social welfare program to the general synod of the Reformed Church in America and asked the adoption of a child labor amendment.

The committee on international justice and goodwill placed itself strongly for peace and against unnecessary preparation for war. In this connection, Rev. A. J. Muste, formerly of the Brookwood Labor college and soon to become pastor of the Presbyterian Labor temple, New York city, declared:

"The church will not survive another war. Our government will not survive another war, and yet no war will be waged unless the church itself consents."

The board of foreign missions reported it had received $260,000, about $12,000 more than last year. This will enable 10 new missionaries to be sent to foreign fields.

In reference to these despatches from Asbury Park, it might be well to know that Rev. Muste is a graduate of Hope College, won high oratorical honors here, and for many years has been considered to be a powerful speaker in the East.

Dr. Erwin W. Lubbers, formerly of Hope College, now is President of Central College in Pella, where a $500,000 fund for new building activities has been started.

Despatches from the East have also said that Dr. Wynand Wichers has been named President of the synod for the coming year. Mr. Wichers' ability as an orator was immediately apparent at this large gathering of delegates of the Reformed Church at Asbury Park. Mr. Wichers is expected home this afternoon.

The delegates from this vicinity expected home today are Dr. William J. Van Kersen; Dr. Thomas W. Davidson; Albert Hoeksema, Trinity Church; Theodore Kuiper of Third Reformed Church; E. Veldman of Beaverdam; Rev. J. Wolterling of Forest Grove; Rev. J. F. Schortinhuis of Ebenezer, and Rev. S. C. Nettinga, President of the Western Theological Seminary.

An article on Mr. Wichers' election as President of the synod elsewhere in this issue.

At the close of the session Dr. Wichers, in behalf of Holland, invited general synod to hold the 1941 meetings in this city. That is the year when Hope College will celebrate its 75th anniversary.

MISSION BUILDING LAW SUIT COMES TO AN END

For the past few years the question of who owns the City Mission building on Central Avenue has been in the courts, first in the Circuit and now in the Supreme Court. The First State Bank of Holland held a mortgage on the City Mission property amounting to approximately $10,000.

In filing the complaint in the Ottawa circuit court, the plaintiff sought an injunction to prevent any other organization other than the Holland City Mission from using the building, basing its contention on a mortgage in the deed which specified only that the organization could use the building. The mission also charged that the trustees had no authority to place a mortgage against the property. Judge William Brown of Grand Rapids heard the case in Ottawa County circuit court at that time.

Circumstances of the case are that the bank foreclosed its mortgage and sold the City Mission property to the Salvation Army. The City Rescue Mission filed its bill of complaint to set aside a real estate mortgage, a circuit court commissioner's deed based upon the foreclosure and sale of the property covered by such mortgage and all subsequent conveyances of the property upon the ground the mortgage to be foreclosed was invalid. From a decree for the defendants, the plaintiff appealed to the supreme court.

The supreme court, a few days ago at Lansing, held valid the foreclosure of this real estate mortgage by the First State Bank. Majority of the jurists confirmed the decision in circuit court to dismiss the bill of complaint. Judge North, West, Bushnell and Buttel concurred in the opinion of the lower court, while Judge Sharpe, Potter, and Chandler gave a minority decision.

The law firm of Diekema, Cross and Ten Cate represented the bank, while Mr. Cholette represented himself and Martin Verdie of Grand Rapids served as counsel for the Salvation Army. Nelson A. Miles, local attorney, represented the City Mission.

The two-and-a-half-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gelmer Brouwer of Drenthe was taken to Zeeland hospital for an appendicitis operation.

WET WEATHER CUTS DOWN PRODUCTION OF PHEASANT EGGS

Due possibly to the wet, cold spring weather which apparently discouraged pheasant propagation at the state game farm near Mason, Michigan may have no more than 20,000 pheasant eggs for free public distribution this year. Distribution of the pheasant eggs from the state game farm is now being completed, but many of the orders involving large quantities of eggs had to be cut down proportionately as a result of the comparatively low rate of egg production this spring.

SAUGATUCK HAS NEW GUN CLUB

No single similar sport has so quickly captured the public fancy, either before or since the introduction of skeet, as short-range small bore rifle marksmanship. And one of these new ranges, whose popularity is sweeping the country, is now in operation in Saugatuck.

Mr. Scholten, whose club is affiliated with the national group, The 5 Spot Short Range Gun Clubs of America, Inc., has leased quarters next to Wilson's Ice Cream bar and has installed modern range equipment according to national specifications. In short range shooting, the targets are placed eight and one-half feet from the firing line. Correct scoring qualifies riflemen as short range marksmen and entitles them to enter competitive targets with other marksmen for national awards.

Dr. Wynand Wichers, President of Hope College, was unanimously named President of General Synod of the Reformed Church of America at its annual meeting held at Asbury Park, N. J. Dr. John H. Beardslee, Jr., President of New Brunswick Seminary was elected Vice President. It is quite a coincidence that both the President and the Vice President are Holland men.

Dr. Wichers is too well known to need any introduction in this community. Dr. Beardslee is the son of the late J. W. Beardslee, for many years President of the Western Theological Seminary, and a man who took a deep interest in Holland, donating the library on the Seminary campus and contributing to other building funds relating to the local institution. He was also interested in industry and his civic pride went far beyond matters pertaining to the Western Theological Seminary and Hope College. His son, John H., early in life was an orator of rare ability. He was a good speaker even as a lad and this stood him in good stead ever since.

The retiring President of the Synod is Rev. Raymond F. Cleve, Rev. Cleve, in retiring from his office delegates to a large gathering, many delegates being from Holland, Zeeland, and nearby churches, and from Grand Rapids as well as in the west and the east, where the Reformed Church is strong. Mr. Cleve in his parting message said as follows:

"Some principle is needed that will serve as light that will dispel the darkness of confusion and reveal the path to travel. Our task is first, find out what we are—for what we are determines what we ought to be."

"What are we? One group of teachers maintains that we are merely animals. Over against this is the religious point of view: We are children of God, we are sons of God, in the image of God we were made; we are heirs with Christ; we are spiritual beings; we are the revelation of an eternal spirit; we have a divine heritage, a divine nature, a divine personality."

"People say they are confused. They know not what is right. Here is the principle: What we are determines what we ought to do. We are sons of God, therefore, we ought to live like the Son of God, true, upright, noble, loyal to the best."

"What is the church? The church is a society of men and women banded together to bear witness to the spirit of Christ. Surely we ought to be on fire with a passion to save individuals. That was the spirit of Jesus. He saw the hidden possibilities in the souls of men, those inner qualities that made them sons of God. He knew that man was capable of noble living."

Toward Greater Things

"We of the Dutch church have a great heritage, we love it, glory in it. It is our joy to make strong and efficient this arm of the body of Christ. Yet let us never forget that there are other members of this body, lips speaking His message, feet carrying His gospel, hands doing His work, eyes seeing His opportunities, shoulders carrying His cross, and only as these various denominational members co-ordinate their efforts, can we give to the world a proof of the fact."

DR. WYNAND WICHERS
Elected Synod Head

that we are the body of Christ.

"We gather here as church leaders—folks are looking to us for counsel. I know you, I am convinced that no group of people is more anxious than you to assume obligations for Christ. By the quality of our decision, the scope of our plans, the actions of the synod, let us demonstrate to the denomination that we are determined to do what we ought. If this is our attitude, we will be on the road to even greater things for remember that promise: 'Verily I say unto you, he that believeth on Me, the works that I do shall he do also, and greater works than these shall he do.'"

Among others who spoke were Rev. Siebe C. Nettinga, president of Western Theological seminary at Holland, Mich.

For the first time in the history of the general synod of the Reformed Church in America its Sunday general session was addressed by a layman when Wynand Wichers, president of Hope College, Holland, and newly-elected president of the synod, gave the sermon. Dr. John A. Dykstra, pastor of Central Reformed church, Grand Rapids, was the principal speaker at the young people's rally.

Offerings Exceed Request

The progress council reported Saturday that offerings for benevolent purposes last year exceeded the amount requested in the budget for the first time in many years.

The report, read by Dr. Bernard J. Mulder of Grand Rapids, stated that there had been 4,000 more subscribers than a year ago.

In a report on the state of religion, Rev. F. Raymond Cleve, retiring president, called for the adoption of new ideas and methods, together with retention of the old, to meet changing conditions in the world. He also recommended steps be taken to advance the vice president to president at future Synod assemblies, to gain the experience for the leader that would come from service in a lesser capacity.

He also advocated the establishment of a president's cabinet for the purpose of maintaining better contact with member congregations and boards and to act in an advisory capacity to the executive.

GRAPE GROWERS SHOULD SPRAY AT TEN INCHES

Spray just as soon as the new shoots are about 8 to 10 inches long for black-rot, downy mildew, and berry-moth worms. A. D. Morley, warned today. Use 8-8-100 Bordeaux plus three quarts of summer oil. (Do not use oil after bloom.) Remember that the first sprays are the most important in controlling rot and berry-moth. Watch for dead-arm symptoms (small, crinkled, yellow leaves). If you have any, cut vine off at or below the ground-level and cover the stump with soil.

The Trek to Holland

We arose in the early morning. Long before the rising sun. Had peeped up over the hills. For the shepherd's work began. The towns seemed wrapped in slumber. No antics raced the street. It seemed a thousand song-birds filled the air with music sweet.

To me there's nothing finer Than the freshness of the dawn. With its sparkling, dewy splendor. Over bush and velvet lawn. On we sped o'er hill and valley. All bedecked with blossoms gay. For 'twas Tulip Time in Holland. Many, many miles away.

For the quiet hush of morning. We became a bustling throng. We arrived in quaint old Holland. Gay with laughter and with song. Down through Tulp Lane we wandered—Miles and miles we traveled on—And admired a million blossoms—Beautiful sight to gaze upon.

But a visit to this village Would indeed, be incomplete Without a well-filled basket With cheese and bread to eat. Tunnal Park provided tables On Lake Michigan's sandy shore. Miles and miles we traveled on—And admired a million blossoms—Beautiful sight to gaze upon.

Back past Wells Farm, where acres Yield all sorts of things rare, O'er the bridge across the channel To the tiny village where High school bands and their regalia Passed before us in review. Followed by the Dutch in costume—Quaint old truck and wooden shoe.

Many fine homes bade us "WELCOME." Everywhere the tulips grew. Not another spot so lovely. Can be found on earth below. Here at eventide we journeyed. Lovingly sang the Dutchman's praise. Promising we'd trek to Holland Till the ending of our days.

FARMERS STILL CAN CONTACT J. W. PRENTICE TO GET FARM EMPLOYEES

J. C. Wallen, branch manager of the National Re-employment service, announced Wednesday that the itinerant service in Saugatuck, through which his office has maintained a weekly service in that village, will be discontinued this week. Under this plan, Saugatuck employers and employees had been registering at the village hall every Wednesday morning.

Farmers in the area surrounding Saugatuck can still contact the National Re-employment service through J. W. Prentice at the Saugatuck Fruit exchange. Mr. Prentice is prepared to serve as a contactor between employer and employee on farm jobs, through a special arrangement inaugurated last month.

The special farm service, which is free to both employer and employee, was started last month because the NRS anticipated a shortage of farm labor this year. Wayland also has a special contact point. Farmers in that vicinity should contact Fred Hilbert at the Hilbert Seed company. In the central part of the county farmers are urged to get in touch with the branch office in the Allegan city hall.

Floyd Loomis, 60, prominent fruit farmer, was found dead in the barn at his home, about 6:30 a. m., last Thursday, by his sister, Pearl, with whom he made his home. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Marion Loomis, pioneers of this vicinity. Mr. Loomis who had never married was a member of the first graduating class of Fennville high school and was a prominent member of the Masonic order. The school and cemetery in Fennville are named after his family. Surviving are two sisters, Pearl of Fennville and Mrs. Gertrude Mills of Burbank, Calif.

A demonstration of highway safety—when tires were purposely blown out on cars traveling at a high speed—was given at the airport last Thursday by Charles Van Zyl, proprietor of the Holland Vulcanizing Co. The demonstration showed that blowout accidents at high speed need not result in accident, but that when the car is equipped with Life Guard tubes, the driver can bring the car to a safe stop. To cause the blowouts, the car was run over a plate studded with huge railway spikes. Dynamite caps, controlled from inside the car (without the driver knowing when the blowouts were coming) ripped casings wide open. The tube is a tire within a tube, which prevents all the air escaping when a blowout occurs.

At Tuesday's meeting of the board of police and fire commissioners, Commissioner Andrew Hyma said that he noticed during the Memorial Day parade that very few of the police and firemen showed the proper respect to the colors as they passed by. Miss Lois Boersma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Boersma, 66 East 21st st., and Henry J. Hietbrink, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hietbrink, 77 East 25th st., spoke their marriage vows at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Boersma at Buchanan Beach, before a fireplace banked with seasonal flowers amidst green foliage with cathedral candles. The Rev. L. Van Laar, pastor of the Prospect Park Christian Reformed church, read the rites, using the double ring ceremony, in the presence of 45 guests. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was garlanded in white silk organdie. Her bouquet was made up of Joanna Hill roses and snapdragons. As bridesmaid, Miss Henrietta Hietbrink, sister of the groom, was attired in blue tulle and carried pink and white sweet peas and forget-me-nots. John Hietbrink, brother of the groom, was best man. A reception was held, followed by a wedding supper. The only out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. Osterhof of Grand Rapids, grandparents of the groom. TULIP TIME PUBLICITY

The Christian Science Monitor, of Boston, Mass., has been devoting a half page to Holland's "Tulip Festival." This publication of tremendous circulation gives three pictures and a column story. The dispatch is special to the Christian Science Monitor and the pictures are from a staff artist, and incidentally mention that the article gives some very favorable publicity to Holland.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Park magazine, printed in Huntington, West Va., giving all the news having to do with the railroad, has been liberal to Holland. The front cover is in blue, the large windmill in Windmill Park adorns the cover page, and the artist has worked in a little Dutch maiden with yoke and tulip baskets to trim the cover page. In the body of the magazine there are two full pages of Tulip pictures and descriptive matter. One is the scene on Black River, showing the windmill and a boat filled with Dutch maidens; the other is a glimpse of the Nella Farm; the third is a street scrubbing scene; the fourth is part of a colorful parade; and the fifth is of our Dutch tots clothed "ala Dutch." This magazine goes to all railroad employees, officials, and is in every railroad station found on these two large railroad systems.

ONE OF HUNDREDS OF LETTERS

Below is a letter sent to John Arendshorst by J. B. Michaels of Hyman-Michaels Co., makers of railroad equipment, Chicago, with plans in seven leading cities of the U. S. and offices in every leading railroad center. This letter is one of thousands being received by citizens, the Chamber of Commerce and civic organizations. The Holland City News has also received several, but this one to Mr. Arendshorst is particularly good, and follows:

May 25, 1937.

Dear John:

We returned home from our trip without any mishap.

I want to thank you for your efforts in our behalf. Your securing accommodations for us and allowing us to view the parade from your office made our trip possible and enjoyable.

Furthermore, I want you to know that everybody in the town of Holland was most pleasant and cooperative. The people of Holland are to be commended on the splendid way in which they handled the large crowd and the courtesy that was extended to all. I also want to mention the fact that everything was so inexpensive and that none of the prices were increased on account of the week end, and also that the entire display was without charge. It was marvelous the way the thing was handled and the people of Holland are to be commended.

Again thanking you, I am

Sincerely yours,

J. Michaels.

Michigan Eggs

Get Fried, Dried

What uses are found for the 80 million dozen eggs laid annually by hens in Michigan? Between 75 to 80 per cent of them apparently find their way direct to dining room tables, according to a survey conducted by G. N. Mott's of the economics department of Michigan State College.

Michigan residents in 12 months probably eat from 21 to 22.6 dozens per person. This estimate is based upon the assumption that Michigan is representative of the national consumption figures obtained from a federal survey. Mr. Mott's interpretation of this survey concludes that Michigan apparently produces only 70 per cent of its total egg consumption.

Yet survey figures show that 15 per cent of this state's marketed eggs are shipped out to Boston, New York, Philadelphia, and Chicago each year.

Besides direct household use for food, Michigan eggs are also marketed extensively when frozen, liquid or dried. Frozen and liquid eggs, which make up 6.77 per cent of the total consumption, are used by bakeries in the preparation of cakes, pies, biscuits, crackers, cookies, pastries and bread. The manufacture of mayonnaise and salad dressing also furnishes an important outlet for these eggs.

About 4 per cent of Michigan's eggs are used for hatching purposes, and 5 per cent of the output is estimated as inedible or waste. Some eggs inedible for human food are used as fox and hog food, and a considerable quantity is recovered and used in leather tanning.

Animal-food uses are relatively unimportant at the present time. Among the technical uses are those in the leather and fur trades, lithography, textile printing and pharmaceutical work.

MAJOR INTEREST IN GRAND HAVEN COOPERAGE CO.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Grand Haven Cooperage company was called in that city recently by the directors to outline plans that they have made to raise sufficient capital to get the company into operation.

The Cooperage company has some 65,000 square feet of space in the south end of the building, now occupied mainly by the Camfield Manufacturing company and the purpose is to purchase new machinery and set into the active production of water-tight barrels and later to develop the patents held by the company.

The Grand Haven Cooperage company is capitalized for $500,000. It has been validated by the Securities Commission of the state to sell 250,000 shares of stock in Michigan. There is about $36,000 paid in.

DISTRICT SCHOOLS ARE OFFERED SELECT BOOKS

A new preferred list of books, from which school boards of primary school districts may select volumes to purchase for their libraries, was compiled this year by the state library and department of public instruction.

The public list of books is required by law and the books listed are the only ones which may be purchased for district school libraries with the funds apportioned from the collection of penal fines.

Preparation of the list is a tedious and exacting task which usually requires about three months to complete. It requires a careful perusal of all new books published for children and a comparison of the new volumes with those on the previous list.

In making up the list the state library and department of public instruction are guided by the selection of the American Library Assn. and the Children's Catalogue. The principal objective is to provide a balanced list and as wide a variety of reading material as possible.

Those performing the task must select books on every subject, best suited to the curriculums of Michigan schools. They must also include titles for every age group between the first and ninth grades.

From the list of titles thus selected a representative group of 50 books is picked as a recommendation for first purchase in the foundation of a small school library as an additional guide for district school officials. A selection of children's magazines also is included in the preferred list.

FENNVILLE MAN HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Elmer Shaeffer, Fennville, had a narrow escape when he fell eleven feet when he stepped on a springy scaffold causing him to lose his balance while working on a cottage he is building north of Streamland, near Hutchen's lake. He struck on his back but aside from being badly shaken and lame he was unhurt.

FISHERMAN SEE NUMEROUS DEER AND PARTRIDGES

Early season trout fisherman report the sight of numerous deer and partridge throughout the river bottom land of the north. The animals appear to be in the best possible condition due undoubtedly to the mild winter weather. They were not forced to yard in restricted areas this past season owing to lack of deep snow.

The partridge supply from all indications is better than last year.

RURAL RESIDENT KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Edward Wieling, 22, rural route No. 5, Muskegon, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wieling, of Holland, was killed about 2:45 Sunday morning, when his car got out of control on M-21, three-fourths mile east of Holland, and overturned several times on the highway.

Among those injured were Charles O'Connor, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry O'Connor, 44 South River Ave., Carl Howard, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Howard, rural route No. 2, Holland, Miss Marie Kievit, 20, daughter of Mrs. Myrtle Kievit, rural route No. 4, Holland, all riding in the automobile with Wieling.

Wieling's death resulted from a fractured skull.

O'Connor suffered three fractured ribs on the left side; Howard facial bruises, Miss Kievit, bruises and cuts. After receiving medical treatment at Holland hospital, the three were released.

The accident victim was the driver of the roadster automobile in which the four were riding. Miss Kievit and Howard were riding in the rumble seat and O'Connor was riding in the front seat with Wieling. They told the coroner they had spent the evening at the Yellowjacket, a roadside on M-50, eight miles east of US-31, and were enroute to Holland at the time of the accident.

Coroner Vande Water said the car traveled 320 feet from the place where it first left the road until it came to a halt. The vehicle was badly damaged. Early arrivals on the scene found the occupants of the car, who were thrown out as it turned over several times, lying along the pavement and the road shoulder. Wieling was born in a house on the old fairgrounds Jan. 26, 1915. His mother is the former Kate Van Kampen.

Survivors are the parents, both of Holland; three brothers, Henry of Holland, John of Pontiac and Cornelius of Holland; two sisters, Mrs. Clifford Marcus of Grand Rapids and Angie of Holland; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Kampen; and several uncles and aunts.

Cows Give Milk On New Schedule

As if they are on a budget or schedule, Michigan's dairy cows have been increasing their average flow of milk and butterfat exactly four tenths of a pound of fat each month for the last four months.

In figures compiled by E. C.
Scheidehelm, extension dairyman at Michigan State College, the interesting production is apparent.
The average comes from reports from 1,400 herds on test in dairy herd improvement associations.

In April the average cow in test work produced a total of 28.84 pounds of butterfat, exactly four tenths of a pound more than in March.

Culling continued as it has been for the past five months. Of the 477 cows removed, 204 or 43.4 per cent went out because of low production. Slightly more than one-fifth of the total number removed were sold for dairy purposes. Demand for profitable producing cows still remains brisk. Udder trouble took a larger count than Bang's disease.

Demand for herd sires continued good, although the number sold was down somewhat from the previous month. Dairy herd improvement association members purchased 11 compared to 17 that were sold.

Building of safety bull pens took on more activity last month with seven pens reported built. With more money available for improvements, this project should receive considerable attention throughout the year.

Due to the late pastures, feed rations continued high throughout the month, Scheidehelm reports. Grain feeding will be held to a low plane in many herds until a new crop is available.

Tells 1937 Plan to Improve Soil

Each Michigan farm whose owner or operator desires to participate in the 1937 federal soil conservation program is to be allocated a soil building allowance which may be earned by practices designed to conserve and improve soil resources, it is announced from headquarters in Lansing.

This allowance is in addition to the payments which are made to operators of diversion class farms for decreasing the acreage of depleting crops below the depleting base.

Practice payments cover approximately two-thirds of the cost of seed or material, says Glen Taylor, president of the Ottawa county agricultural conservation association.
Payments serve as a bank balance obtained only by performing worthy soil practices.

Allowances vary with farms and depend upon such factors as the crop land acreage, conserving base, acreage diverted from depleting base, and the amounts of commer-

WANT TRAILING ARBUTUS PRESERVED

Women's groups in the upper peninsula are adding their voices to the growing demand for conservation of the trailing arbutus.
In many localities, in cities and villages, and along roads, conservation authorities are told, children have appeared this spring with bunches of arbutus for sale. In most cases only the blossoms are offered, the leaves having been stripped off.

Women's organizations interested in wild flowers point out that some conservation would result if those who pick arbutus would not remove all the leaves. If a leaf or two remained on each stem, the flowers would stay fresh longer and more bouquets could be formed.

Commercialization of the arbutus, together with careless picking, however, may tend to cause depletion of this spring flower, some women's clubs contend.

DETERMINE GROWTH OF BLACK BASS

Illinois fish culturists have been studying growth rates of largemouthed black bass for a number of years and now have released their findings. They claim that a fish one year old averages 5-7 inches; when it is three years old 9.9 inches; five years, 12.8 inches;
seven years, 14 inches; 10 years, 16.6 and if it lives to 16 years it measures 20.5 inches.
