"Stay at Farming"

Folks out on the farm are pretty well satisfied with their occupation and advantages. At a meeting of the Poor Richard Club in Philadelphia a paper was presented giving results of a survey conducted by the Meredith Publishing Co.

Thousands of interviews with farm families throughout the United States were used to get a cross section of rural opinion on most of the questions of timely interest. Answering the question, "How much schooling should a farm child have?" 93 per cent of parents said that it should at least continue to the end of the eighth grade. Half of those questioned insisted that rural young people should go to high school, and one-third said they should graduate from college.

To the question, "Would you advise your children to stay on the farm or to prepare themselves for jobs in the city?" the answer, "Stay at farming," was given by a two-to-one majority.

Summer White Houses

(Detroit Free Press)

The proposal that a property on Long Island be acquired for a summer White House does not seem to arouse any enthusiasm in Congress.

And neither has there been much enthusiasm for past proposals that a summer residence for the Chief Executive be established in this, that or the other state.

Washington, as the center of the Federal Government, was located in the Federal District of Columbia in order that no state might enjoy the prestige of entertaining the national capital.

The same reasoning would hold good in regard to a permanent summer White House.

The Washington summer is trying and it is not surprising that Presidents and their families want to escape from it, but why expect them all to spend their summer in the same place?

Some Presidents might like the seashore, some the mountains, some the quiet recreations provided by the streams of Michigan.

And if they are to be permitted to escape from the Washington summer they should be allowed to choose where they will spend the hot months.

The idea of a fixed summer White House doesn't fit in with a free and independent American's conception of having a good time in dog days.

Protect Summer Homes and Camps from Fire

The pleasure and profit to be gained from summer homes and camps can be transformed easily into tragedy and loss by fire. These temporary homes, by their very nature, call for greater vigilance during week-end and vacation occupancy.

The use of kerosene for lamps and stoves is a common source of fire. But if a few simple rules are observed, the danger can be greatly reduced. Fill lamps and stoves in the daylight so you can see what you are doing. Store kerosene and all other flammable liquids outside the house. Use a tank or drum that has a drip-proof faucet and keep a drip pan under the faucet. Never start or hasten a fire with kerosene or any other flammable liquid. If a portable kerosene heater is to be used, make sure it is one listed by the Underwriters' Laboratories.

Don't make improper alterations or extensions of electric wiring. Guard against over-heating of stoves which are near woodwork; the usual sheet of metal attached to the woodwork is of little value in protecting against ignition. Smokepipes should not pass through walls or partitions of wood or with wood lath.

Burn accumulations of rubbish in a metal incinerator.

When fires are started outdoors, never leave them unattended.

Because summer homes and camps usually are remote from fire departments, and since water is not always readily available, keep fire pails and pump tanks or fire extinguishers on hand and know how to use them. If there is an extinguisher in your car, that, too, affords valuable fire protection to the summer home as well as on the road or in the garage.

And speaking of automobiles, if you value your life, don't burn up the roads and don't burn up the countryside. Throwing lighted cigarettes and cigar ends out of the windows of your car as you pass along the road, may cause great loss of life and property. Use the ashtrays provided by the car manufacturer for disposing of stubs and ashes. And be sure you have plenty of ashtrays around that summer camp or cottage.

Do your part to protect your life, your property, and the great outdoors against fire.

SECOND DRUG DRIVE OFFENSE GETS YEAR FROM JUDGE MILES

Vern Osborn, 56, of Fennville, was sentenced to serve a term of one year in the Southern Michigan prison at Jackson, Wednesday, by Circuit Judge Fred T. Miles after pleading guilty to a second offense as a drunken driver. He was arrested Friday night by Marshal McCann at Fennville after a mad chase through the village.

McCann first approached Osborn near the Fennville school. The marshal stepped to the running board of the car and reached in to turn off the motor, when Osborn knocked off his hand and sped away. On the left side of the road, his car crashed into a coupe driven by Ray Flanner of Ganges, failed to stop and careened across the Bailey strawberry patch and into the corner of the garage there.

Osborn started to run, but was detained by bystanders until the officer arrived.

He was arraigned before Justice Volney W. Ferris in Allegan Monday, where he waived examination and was bound over to the circuit court. Wednesday's sentence followed.

Fifty-eight persons were fined for traffic violations during the month of May. Speeding took the high count, 37 being taken in on this violation. Unnecessary blowing of horn, failing to stop for stop sign, running red light, four each; three were fined for operating cars without proper brakes, two for passing in intersection and driving without license. One for not having car under proper control, and one for reckless driving completed the list.

Lester Van Tatenhove, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Tatenhove, has returned to his home after having been at Harvard law school for three years. Kenneth Van Tatenhove has returned from a trip to Chicago.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES HELD AT NORTH HOLLAND

Seven tenth grade graduates and nine eighth grade graduates of the North Holland school received diplomas last Thursday when commencement exercises were held in the Reformed church of that community.

Miss Hermina Maassen played the processional, and the Rev. H. Maassen pronounced the invocation. Following the salutatory by Lillian Prince, the eighth and ninth grade girls sang "More Like the Master." Russell Koetsier gave a class prophecy, after which the eighth and ninth grade girls sang "Steal Away."

The Rev. G. A. Aalberts gave the commencement address, followed by the valedictory by James Bareman. Following the presentation of diplomas by Frederick Knoper, the audience sang "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." Rev. Aalberts closed with prayer.

Tenth grade graduates were James Bareman, Pearl De Haan, Russell Koetsier, Merle Percy Nienhuis, Lillian Prince, Louis Stoel, and Maxine West.

Those graduating from the eighth grade were Carlton Wayne Brower, Jason Ebels, Julia R. Lemmen, Fred Lohuis, Jr., Gertrude N. Maassen, Arnold J. Slag, Jerome Slag, Alice Stoel, and Donald Veldheer.

"Not finished, just begun" was the class motto, the class flower was the carnation, and the colors were old rose and silver.

Teachers are Miss Mildred Rogus, John Dyksterhouse, and Frederick Knoper. Members of the board of education are L. Bareman, D. Ebels, F. Koetsier, P. Siersma, and F. Kraai.

Connor Case May Come Before Judge Miles; Is Set for June 13

J. L. Connor, 26, charged with manslaughter following the killing of Mrs. Mary Coleman recently when his automobile left the highway, will not be given an examination until June 13, county authorities reported today.

Requested adjournment from Wednesday of last week until that date.

Until the examination occurs, Connor is out of custody under two separate sets of bonds, one in the amount of $5,000 and the second in the amount of $2,500. He placed the second bonds following his arrest the second time on a damage case and civil suit. Under the provisions of the second arrest, he was personally held.

With circuit court due to open in mid-June, with Judge Fred T. Miles on the bench, it is probable that Connor's case will come before the court during that term. After facing the criminal charge, it is believed he will be held liable by survivors of Mrs. Coleman, the second arrest indicating that a suit will be filed against him.

The case in question is the one in which two cars said to be passing each other at Allegan resulted in tragedy when one of the cars went out of control and struck and killed Mrs. John (Maria) Coleman, 63, of Allegan, a pedestrian.

L. Connor of Bradford, Pa., said to be driver of the death car, and Clare A. Yager, also of Allegan, who operated the other car, were arrested by Sheriff Fred Miller shortly after the accident.

Eye-witnesses said Connor's car went out of control and knocked down an 8-inch maple tree, struck Mrs. Coleman, and smashed through a fence before smashing into the front porch of the home of Douglas Nash.

Mrs. Nash and her daughter, Joan, were on the porch at the time the car crashed into the house. Joan jumped from the porch and Mrs. Nash escaped within the home. The impact of the car shifted the home four inches from its foundation, according to witnesses.

Dr. E. D. Osman, coroner, said Mrs. Coleman was instantly killed. According to officers, she was knocked about 15 feet in the air by the impact of the car.

The Holland Christian schools will again sponsor another rally on July 4 at Kardux Beach. An interesting program is being arranged and well known speakers will deliver addresses. Other features will be sports, games, music and motion pictures. On June 22 all the committees will meet in Christian high school.

WANTS MORE TULIPS IN HOME GARDENS

In writing the desk clerks of the Warm Friend tavern to thank them for courtesies extended to him during his recent visit in Holland, Edward M. Moyer of Souderton, Pa., suggested more plantings of tulips by citizens in their yards in connection with the annual Tulip Time festival.

His letter to the hotel clerks follows:

"You could but fathom partially just how much your efforts and patience with a post like myself have meant, you would know very little of the sincere feelings and esteem which I hold for you.

"Your hospitality was par excellence and your hosting can not be found or matched anywhere in the east. We are accustomed to being shoved around and told what to do rather than being treated as a person with a few rights.

"Your tulip festival was the most beautiful flower display I have ever seen and I enjoyed every minute of my stay but may I offer a suggestion? I think it would be splendid if the residents of the town would decorate their lawns more in keeping with the tulip theme. Plenty of homes do have very nice tulips but I believe the majority are lacking. A nice lawn of tulips could offset the tulip lanes to perfection, in my estimation.

"I also suggest that the art exhibit be set up outdoors in one of the parks where it will attract more attention from the public. The art exhibit was very good, but very poorly attended. I should like to be notified of future festivals so I can make proper arrangements to attend."

At no other period of the year does the kitchen send forth more tantalizing odors than at preserving time. Thrifty home-makers save up the fruits of summer for lean winter months by preserving them with vinegar, salt, sugar and spices; for these very condiments and flavorings that help make preserves and pickles so delicious are also agents that enable us to keep them for months and even years.

ROBINSON CRUSOE'S CAVE

THIS is the famous cave in which Robinson Crusoe prepared his meager meals and found shelter during his lonely nights. It is on the island of Más a Tierra now known as Robinson Crusoe's Isle, one of the Juan Fernandez group named after the explorer who discovered them in 1574—365 miles west of Valparaiso, chief port for Chile.

Defoe's novel "Robinson Crusoe" was based upon the stories told to him by the pirate captain, Alexander Selkirk, concerning his adventures while marooned on this lonely island from 1704 to 1709. Schooners sail weekly from Valparaiso to these islands to take supplies to the inhabitants and to bring back to Chile the perfectly delicious lobsters for which her restaurants are world-famed. Many travelers also make fishing or sightseeing excursions to Juan Fernandez while visiting Chile on the weekly cruises from New York.

Very few people live on the island even today. They are gathered four hundred strong in the little settlement of San Juan Bautista—a cluster of log huts set in gorgeous gardens with schools, postoffice, wireless station, church and club. A short walk from the bay is the cave in which Selkirk, or "Crusoe" lived; and dominating the island is the anvil-shaped El Yunque, on whose summit 2800 feet above the sea, Selkirk built his signal fires and kept his lonely vigil.

12th grade graduates of the Hudsonville high school will be held Sunday, June 4 at the Hudsonville auditorium. Graduation exercises will be held Wednesday evening, June 7 at the Hudsonville auditorium. The graduates from here are Fannie De Klein, Gerald Van Noord, Ivan Sneden, Justin Leenheer.

Paul Solves Church Problems—I

Corinthians 1:1-3, 10, 11; 4:14-21.

Henry Geerlings

The apostle Paul had the habit of identifying himself in the beginning of his epistles. He was not in the work of preaching the gospel because of his own choice but for the reason that he had been called into it by the will of God and through the manifestation of Christ to him. That very fact gave him the authority to address himself to the churches he established, for the purpose of instructing them, and if need be, rebuking them. But, for the most part, it was the fatherly attitude he assumed toward them, even when they were seriously in error. Sothenes had been a ruler of the synagogue in Corinth when Paul was preaching there, and it is probable this is the same man, being converted through the preaching of the apostle.

Paul addresses the membership of the church as saints. The word "saint" with its requirement of consecration, has passed out of common use. Yet saintliness is the note of the Christian life. The common reproach uttered by the world is that Christian people are not saints. Even with its undiscerning eyes the world understands what Christ was, and what his followers should be.

To become a saint is simply to consecrate oneself by a dedication which implies a separation from all that is evil and the keeping of a covenant with God. This consecration is the full surrender of all we are and all we have. Saintliness may be full of mystery, even to the end. But consecration is the pathway along which we travel to it. The full surrender is the note of the Christian life. The common reproach uttered by the world is that Christian people are not saints. in the church at Corinth. There were many perplexing situations. People did not adhere to the teaching received from Paul. Alien teachers had come in to unsettle the faith of the members. Practices foreign to the Christian church had a way of creeping in with the sanction of the people. How was Paul to get through these perplexities in a Christian way? What solution could he propose for annoying problems, some of which bordered on threats of disaster?

The apostle had been away from Corinth some time. The faith of its members had been unsettled. The old practices had been upset. Loyalty to other teachers had been established. Paul was at the disadvantage of trying to get these people back to the true faith as he had taught it. Much was expected of those who were sanctified in Christ. But factions had sprung up and the end could be nothing short of disaster. Deplorable differences and their consequent dangers must be checked. A divided church was in danger of not being a church at all very long. These rivalries led to quarreling and quarreling neither settles anything nor builds anything substantial.

We face many of the problems today which confronted Paul in the early Christian churches. He attempted to solve church difficulty by means of Christian solutions and has left for us the inspiration and example to solve our congregational and church problems in the same manner.

One of the difficult things which the world faces in evaluating the life of Christian people and organizations is that these individuals are human, and their organizations comprise intensely human material. The church is a divine institution. However, its members come from the same human material which constitutes the rest of human civilization. It is true that we anticipate, and should anticipate, something special in the lives of Christian people. But after we have held before ourselves this goal for the disciples of Christ, we must remind ourselves that perfection and complete sanctification do not mark all church members. The church is a group of humans striving to be saints.

The only way to solve church problems is to see to it that the spiritual tone of the congregation is held high. People will give, they will attend church services, they will live clean lives, they will ignore social distinctions if the Kingdom of God is always put first. We need not be afraid we cannot meet the most perplexing problems in our congregations if we are devoted followers of our Lord and are continually being led into the riches of God's grace.

Both North Holland and Cries, next-door neighbors, plan 4th of July celebrations.

Exchange Club Activities Are Interesting

HEAD OF MICHIGAN MEDICAL SOCIETY SPEAKS ON "SOCIALIZED MEDICINE"

Dr. Westrate at a Grand Rapids Meeting Tells of Child Welfare Work by Holland Club

The subject of "Socialized Medicine" or "Medical Care for the Low Income Group" was presented at the regular meeting of the Holland Exchange Club on Monday noon, June 5th, at the Tavern. The speaker was Dr. Burton R. Corbus, president-elect of the Michigan State Medical Society. He offered the criticism of the State Medical Society to the National Health Bill now sponsored in Congress by Senator Wagner. If this passed, it will make the doctor too subservient to a centralized authority and the old intimate personal and family relation of doctor and patient will be lost.

Doctors, the speaker said, must do a large amount of charity work and are too busy to inspect all measures conducive to the good health of the largest number and told of the extensive study made and financed by the State Medical Society. The new Insurance Plan was presented whereby for a small premium all persons can obtain expert medical care. An "Enabling Act" just passed by our legislature already makes many of the most desirable features possible.

In the elections carried out at this meeting, John L. Van Huis, Alex Van Zanten, and Albert E. Lampen were given the unanimous endorsement and election as president, treasurer, and secretary respectively. Clarence Jalving won the election as vice president for next year in a close contest. As directors were elected Clarence Klaasen, John Swets, and Ernest V. Hartman. Rev. W. G. Flowerday, Cornie Kragt, and Chester Van Tongeren have one more year as directors in their present term. These six directors and the four officers plus the retiring president make up the Board of Directors.

At the Golf Tournament held at the Michigan State Convention last Friday at Grand Rapids, Holland's expert team of Bud Hinga, Clarence Jalving, Jay Den Herder and Jas. T. Klomparsen won a beautiful trophy for the Club and individual trophies for themselves, replicas of the large trophy. The Holland Club won the attendance record for the large clubs and will obtain a conspicuous attractive Exchange Road Sign. Its attendance for the past year was better than 76%.

President Vernon Ten Cate presented a Service Pin to Rev. Flowerday for obtaining two new members for the Club.

A meeting of the Michigan Affiliated Exchange clubs was held in Grand Rapids recently, and in his annual report, Dr. William Westrate of Holland, state chairman of the child welfare committee, told of the work being carried out by the Holland Exchange club.

His report contained statements by the city nurse of Holland, affirmed by Supt. E. E. Fell, and these statements reviewed some of the work the club had been doing during the last few years for children whose tonsils needed to be removed, but whose parents did not have adequate means to have it taken care of. During the depression, the only means they had of being cared for was at Ann Arbor, and many people found it hard to send their youngsters so far away from home for it.

When the oral deaf department was begun, six of the 50 children who attended had such impaired hearing that they needed immediate attention. The others' hearing was impaired due to neglected tonsils and adenoids, continued Dr. Westrate.

The Holland Exchange club then offered to raise money to finance a post depression cleanup, according to Dr. Westrate's report. Since that time over two years have elapsed, and during that time 200 children were given treatment they needed.

Dr. Westrate said that the teacher in the oral deaf department stated that only one child had been listed for examination in this year's clinic, and that goes to show that most of the children needing care have been taken care of.

The club not only contributes to this worthy cause, but also aids the 4-H club. Clubs of Kalamazoo and Monroe have also used the method of selling newspapers for raising money, and it was suggested that it be standardized so that it could be carried out by all the Exchange clubs of Michigan.

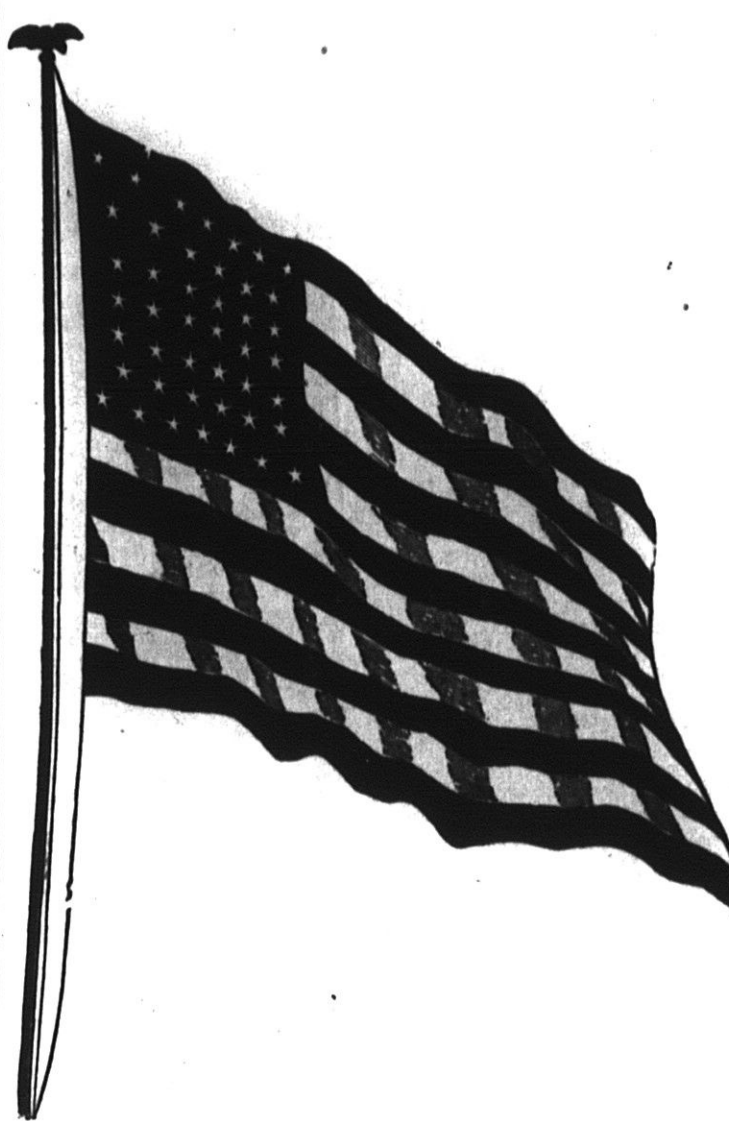

Jacob Fris conferred with Karl Lamboy of Kalamazoo on this subject, and received instructive and interesting information on that city's work.

Dr. Westrate said that in 1939, over thirteen thousand children had received aid, and $25,386.42 had been expended.

Miss Edna Mae Mooi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Mooi of Eagle Crest, and Dr. Henry William Tempas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Tempas of Clymer, New York, will exchange vows on June 19 at the Mooi home. The Rev. William Van't Hof, pastor of Third Reformed church, will officiate. Miss Mooi is a graduate of Holland high school, and attended Hope college for two years. She took nurse's training at the University of Michigan hospital and Miami Valley hospital in Dayton, Ohio. Dr. Tempas was graduated from Hope college, and this month will be graduated from the University of Michigan Medical school. He will intern at Butterworth hospital, Grand Rapids. They will also reside at Grand Rapids.

Prof. Thomas E. Welmers of Hope college, occupied the pulpit at Sixth Reformed church Sunday.

FLAG WEEK

Mayor's Message

The United States Flag Association, a non-profit, non-sectarian, non-political organization is urging all the citizens of this country to observe Flag Week from June 8 to 14. Never in our history has such a movement as the National Patriotic Revival been more badly needed than in these troublous times. Never before have the towns and cities of America had a better opportunity to render patriotic service of the highest order.

The pathway of the pioneers is dotted with unmarked graves, enriched with the blood of patriots and watered with the tears of the brave. If we would pause today and measure the hours of devotion, the bloodshed and the suffering, the tears and the privation that has been paid for the freedom of America, for the liberty that is ours, we will marvel at the sacrifice and the price that the people of this land have laid on the altar of freedom.

In an uneasy world, the proudest and most glorious statement any human being can make is: "I am an American Citizen." Our flag, with the full significance for which it stands, is the most beautiful sight on this earth.

There is only one thing for all Americans to do, those who love their country, and who believe that the same system of government that has withstood the ravages of 150 years, and which, today, is the only hope on the horizon of the future for the peoples of this earth—and that is, to ponder well the responsibility that is so inseparably wrapped up with citizenship privilege, seek the truth and abide by it; be big enough to rise above the levels of partisanship and be Americans first.

May I, therefore, humbly suggest that as far as that is possible, every home and business place in Holland, display the greatest heritage we Americans own—the American Flag.

HENRY GEERLINGS, Mayor

MISS COLLINS NAMED SUPER-INTENDENT OF NEW GRAND HAVEN HOSPITAL

Miss Mildred Collins, who has been associated with Hattson hospital, Grand Haven, for 10 years, Sept. 1, was appointed superintendent of the new municipal hospital recently by the hospital board meeting at the city hall to have full charge under direction of the board.

Miss Collins is a graduate of Butterworth hospital, Grand Rapids. She came to Hattson hospital, following graduation, for general duty and served four years before she was appointed head of Hattson hospital where she has since served. She met with the board to discuss various angles of operating the new city owned institution. She suggested that it would probably be necessary to add one more nurse to the staff because of the three operating rooms and general increase in the number of patients which she believes the new hospital will attract.

Board members consisting of James Van Wessem, Fr. D. J. Hyland, Mrs. William Hattson, Jerry Peter and A. E. Jacobson, were present. Mayor Richard L. Cook and Seymour Justema, members ex-officio, were also there.

Plans were discussed for rules and regulations and general changes to be made. No date was set as to when the hospital will be opened or when the patients from Hattson hospital can be moved to the new quarters.

The garage belonging to the Hotel Marquette on East Eighth St. was slightly damaged by fire Tuesday noon. Sparks from a passing engine are believed to have started the blaze.

SOUTH AMERICAN GOES TO CHICAGO

The South American, lake excursion boat, left Holland harbor Monday night at 8 p. m. It had been docked at Montello Park at the docks of the Chicago, Duluth, and Georgian Bay Transit Co. Captain William T. Bright and a crew of 60 or 70 men were in charge, and in Chicago picked up an additional number of men, totaling about 150.

The North American and Alabama will sail at later dates. The South American has undergone redecorating and painting for several months.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT LAKEWOOD SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC

The Lakewood Sunday School held their picnic at Tunnel Park last Friday afternoon, with about 72 persons attending. The school district furnished the ice cream and prizes, and the Sunday School furnished the sandwiches, coffee, and lemonade.

Attendance at the Sunday School is constantly growing, and last Sunday the group broke the record. It is hoped that 50 will attend next Sunday, when a group of young men of the City Mission with Bill Pelon who teaches the boys' class of the Sunday School.

Miss Henrietta Huizenga, a graduate from the Omaha Bible school, is teacher of the newly organized class of girls, which started with six members. Mrs. Roy Harper is in charge of the Home department that mails tracts and papers to various shut-ins.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Van Eck have returned from Burlington, Iowa, where they visited friends.

UNITED STATES POST OFFICE RURAL MAILBOX IMPROVEMENT WEEK

Unightly rural mail boxes detract from the natural scenic beauty along highways and are not a credit to the owners of attractive homes served through the boxes. Rural mail boxes which are not properly erected or which are not in good, serviceable condition retard the delivery of mail and expose it to damage from the elements.

It is the desire of the Post Office Department to encourage patrons of the rural delivery service to provide the entirely suitable mail receptacles and to erect them in such manner that they will be accessible to the carrier and present a neat appearance. It is especially desirable that the boxes be maintained in such condition that they will properly protect mail placed therein, that the names of box owners be inscribed on the side of the boxes visible to the carrier as he approaches them, and that the boxes and their supports be kept painted. Patrons who have non-approved boxes of the top-opening or other type are not required to discard them, provided that they have been in use for several years and are maintained in good, serviceable condition. However, any boxes which are not of the approved type and are not in such condition that they will protect mail from damage by the elements should be replaced with boxes of the approved type.

To accomplish these objectives the Department has designated the week beginning Sept. 10, 1939 as "Rural Mail Box Improvement Week."

Postmasters are directed to acquaint the patrons of rural delivery services from their office with this fact, and to instruct rural mail carriers to lend full cooperation to the report to which patrons endeavor to meet the wish of the Department that their mailbox equipment be improved.

Bluegills and Bass to Entice The Fisherman

State Expects to Sell at Least 1,000,000 Fishing Licenses During the Year

By Albert Stoll, Jr.

In Detroit News

Michigan's 4,200 inland lakes will become the rendezvous of tens of thousands of bass, bluegill and sunfish anglers on Sunday, June 25. This marks the opening day of the general fishing season. State Conservation Department officials estimate that at least 1,000,000 fishing licenses of the $1 and 50 cent variety, will be sold this year to mark a new high in the number of fishermen patronizing our lakes and streams.

While the Legislature has made a few changes in our fishing laws these will not become effective until at least 90 days after the law makers adjourn, so the same regulations will govern the sports as persisted last year.

Over 327,000 pounds of hatchery and pond reared fish were planted in Michigan waters during 1938 and over 311,000 of these were adults, mostly trout and black bass. The total number of fish of all species planted ran 153,785,396, with wall-eyed pike leading with 119,213,337. Over 19,000,000 bluegills were reared and planted, which is the largest production of this species in our history. Almost 1,000,000 black bass were also reared and liberated and over 5,000,000 yellow perch went into our inland lakes. All of this should help increase the fish fertility of our waters, and undoubtedly fishermen will find this true when the season opens.

Protected Species
Fishermen are reminded that sturgeon and grayling can not be taken. These are the only species on the protected list.

The license fee for residents to take all species of fish is $1 and the 50-cent license covers all species except brook, brown and rainbow trout. This applies to all persons over 17 years of age. No license is necessary for fishing the Great Lakes and their connecting waters. The Legislature refused to enact a general $1 rod license as was requested by the Conservation Department and many sportsmen's organizations.

Lines Restricted
Fishermen can not use more than two lines and these must be under immediate control. They may carry four or less hooks, however, except when fishing for smelt, then any number of hooks can be used.

Fishermen using minnows for bait are reminded that minnows mean chubs, shiners, suckers, dace, stone rollers, mudlers and mud minnows. The immature of game fish can not be used. This applies to perch as well as other food fishes.

There has been no change in the closing dates for inland water fishing. The first to close will be trout on Labor Day, and then black bass on Dec. 31.

The latest laggard to your family will roll out of bed early on Sunday morning if you perk up the breakfast menu with a platterful of snappy scrambled eggs. Gentle, soft-cooked eggs do not come Sunday morning most folks

So try adding a whiff of mild white pepper, a portion of delicately chopped chives and a couple of spoonfuls of chili sauce to your own inimitable scrambled eggs and see what it does. I tell you, it gives a note of real distinction to a breakfast menu to serve these rosy-hued and spicy-flavored eggs.

BREAD SHOULD BE SERVED AT EVERY MEAL SAY FOOD EXPERTS OF U. S. GOVERNMENT

"For those who need plenty of energy food, such as children in their teens, bread should be served at every meal." This advice is given in a recent issue of The Market Basket, a bulletin prepared by the Bureau of Home Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture. In discussing the dietary needs of children, this bulletin states that the child's daily food must provide materials for building strong bodies—muscle, blood, sound bones and teeth. It must supply enough materials to take care of the vigorous activity that is normally expected of healthy children. And it must keep their bodies in good running condition. According to the Department of Nutrition of the American Institute of Baking, bread is our best and most economical source of food-energy, the most immediate need of our body. White bread, made with milk, likewise contains good protein for muscle and tissue building, and it supplies a fair amount of the important food-minerals, calcium and phosphorus, which are needed for sound bones and teeth.

Michigan Days

The "Michigan Days" campaign to increase consumption in Michigan of home products through special distribution and buying has the virtue of being highly practical. Mass distribution of Michigan products inside the State, and Michigan purchase and use of the output of Michigan fields, farms and forests mean home developed and home maintained security and prosperity.

Michigan people, buying Michigan goods from other Michigan people producing them, mean scores of millions of dollars for the farmers, other scores of millions in wages for the workers, and still other scores of millions in savings for the consumers who enjoy the advantage of moderate prices made possible by low transportation expense.

The idea behind "Michigan Days" is to make this State and its people increasingly masters of their lives and of the future by depending upon themselves in fields that naturally belong to them, and so building up for themselves the foundation of reliable economic solidity. The common sense in this is evident. There is an old but very true saying to the effect that Providence aids those who aid themselves.
