BEER PERMIT IS VOTED FOR NEW HOTEL OWNERS

Harlow Burrows and Wife
Take Over Marquette
Hostelry

Council, Told of Plans for Improvements, Favors License

Common council voted Wednesday night to recommend to the Michigan liquor control commission the issuance of a license to sell beer and wine for the former Marquette hotel by granting the request of Harlow and Blanche Burrows, the new owners.

In a communication to council, the two applicants wrote that they had made a careful check of the hotel at 234 East Eighth St. and feel that "with certain changes it can be operated in a manner that would be a credit to the community."

The new owners, the letter said, have agreed to make the exterior more attractive, and to carry out interior repairs, including installation of two toilets on the first floor and adequate bath facilities for the benefit of guests. Mr. and Mrs. Burrows wrote that the Grand Rapids and Lansing offices of the state liquor control commission have informed them that the commission will grant a license upon recommendation and request of council.

Stating that Burrows had contacted a hotel and had promised "to run a good place," Ald. John Menken moved that the request be granted. Ald. Albert V. Faasen supported the motion.

Burrows is at present operating a place of business on West Eighth St. The hotel formerly was operated by John Straatsma but council last December requested the liquor control commission to revoke the beer and wine license.

Straatsma petitioned council for a public hearing on the charges made against him but council requested Prosecutor Elbert Parsons to conduct a one-man grand jury investigation before Municipal Judge Raymond L. Smith. As yet, the grand jury investigation has not been completed.

SYNOD SESSION IN CITY SOUGHT

Local Delegates Hope That Next Meeting Will Be in Holland

Local delegates to general synod of the Reformed Church in America which opens today in Buck Hill Falls, Pa., left Wednesday with the hope that the next synod will be held in Holland. This city had presented its invitation two years ago for the current session, and although the Pennsylvania location was chosen, it was intimated that Holland was favored for the 1941 meeting.

Representatives of the local classis, the majority of whom planned to make the trip by train, are Rev. H. W. Pyle of Overisel, Rev. Herman Maassen of North Holland, Rev. H. D. Terkeurst and Prof. Walter Van Saun of Holland, Elders George Bolks of Dunningville, John De Groot and R. Van Leeuwen of Ebenezer.

In addition to the official delegates, Dr. and Mrs. Wynand Wichers and Dr. John R. Mulder will attend synod. Elders De Groot and Bolks left Tuesday for the east.

Rev. Terkeurst is chairman of the committee of education. Dr. Harry J. Hager of Chicago, former Hope college pastor, will serve as chairman of the committee on benevolent societies. Rev. Victor Blekkink of Cohoes, N.Y., son of Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Blekkink of Holland, heads the important committee on judicial business. Approximately 225 officially appointed delegates from all over the United States will attend the event.

The Rev. William Gouloze, professor at Western Theological seminary, is a representative of the Grand Rapids classis and is scheduled to lead devotions Saturday morning. Synod will conclude June 11.

LIQUOR COMMISSION PLANS PUBLIC MEET

Arranged for the purpose of hearing complaints and receiving views of the public with respect to the administration of the state liquor act, a semi-annual public meeting of the Michigan liquor control commission will be held Wednesday, June 12, in the ballroom of the Occidental hotel in Muskegon.

The public opinions expressed at this meeting will be used in the determination of future policies of this commission. Fred C. Ehrmann, commission secretary, said in urging all interested parties to be present.

Serier and Miss Hinkamp Recognized for Service

Annual Honor Assembly Is Held Today in Holland
High School

Numerous honors were announced and hundreds of students were given recognition for outstanding work in scholarship, service, music, athletics and other phases of school life at the annual honor assembly in Holland high school today. Raymond Serier, mayor of the school, presided and Lois Mary Hinkamp conducted the preliminary devotions.

Announcements of awards, recommendations and recognition were made by Principal J. J. Riemersma, Miss Evelyn Steketee, Ellen Jane Koolker, Miss Mabel Appel, Miss Hazel De Meyer, Leon N. Moody, Gerald Breen, Joseph Moran, Mayor Serier, Rex Chapman, Miss Iva Davidson, Miss Linnea Nelson, Miss Trixie Moore, Eugene F. Heeter, Miss Beatrice Hagen, Miss Hanna Hoeke, Miss Hannah Parkyn.

Of much interest to the students-at-large was Principal Riemersma's announcement that the names of Mayor Serier and Lois Mary Hinkamp would be engraved on the Nicodemus Bosch Service trophy, an honor awarded each year to the boy and girl of the senior class who receive the highest number of service points.

Serier, who participated in five types of service during his high school career, had the largest number of service points, totaling 103. Miss Hinkamp, also participating in five types of service, led the girls with 80 points. Howard Kammeraad, five types, also had 80 points.

The other 12 students receiving service pins were Marvin J. Overway, Marjorie Steketee, Phyllis Pelgrim, Dorothy Wichers, Donald Switek, Bruce Mikula, Alice Mae Houtman, Fritz Jonkman, Lawrence Moody, Jack Yeomans, Lester Nienhuis and Vivian Tardiff. Scholarship pins were awarded by Miss Hannah Parkyn to the 15 seniors highest in scholastic achievements. They are Myrtle Padgett, Alice Mae Houtman, Phyllis Pelgrim, Lois Koopman, Paul Jekel, Vivian Tardiff, Donald De Waard, Marjorie Mattison, Paul Schrodtenboer, Adam McClay, Hermina Maassen, Fritz Jonkman, Marjorie Koopman, Harriet Drew and Elmer De Young. Recognition was given to students on the senior honor roll. There are 46 students having an average of B or better. Their names were published several days ago when the valedictorian and salutatorian were announced.

Additional awards to be made at commencement exercises June 20 include the Fred T. Miles prize for commercial law, the Mabel Anthony Memorial prize for speech, Sons of the Revolution history prize, Henry Geerlings prize for citizenship, Henry S. Maentz prize for commercial work, Wynand Wichers prize for Bible study, Edwin Barkel Memorial band prize, Bausch and Lomb science award, Albert C. Keppel Memorial prize, the Nicodemus Bosch service trophy, VFW auxiliary essay contest award and the American Legion auxiliary essay prize.

Scholarships include Hope college music scholarship, Hope college scholarship awarded to valedictorian of senior class, University of Michigan alumni scholarship, Rockford, Ill., college scholarship, and WSTC. Kalamazoo scholarship.

Howard Kammeraad, president of the Holland high graduating class, presented the class memorials at the honor assembly in the high school this morning.

The class's major gift is an original painting of Lake Michigan dunes by Carl Hoermann. They are also leaving a trophy case which will be placed on the stairs at the northeast entry. This case is a duplicate of the one at the northwest entrance.

A few hundred dollars are being left for the scholarship fund for high school graduates. Kammeraad announced.

Money is also being left to the shop department for a shaper and electric drill, to the music department for chimes, and to the camera department for equipment.

Kammeraad also announced that the class would present four additional panels for the panel case donated by last year's graduating class, and a flexible microphone attachment to be permanently attached to the speaking stand, also donated by last year's class.

In addition the class will pay for the service and honor pins, for the gloss prints of the class picture, and for the Mable Anthony Speech contest prizes.

DEATH CLAIMS WOMAN AT G.H.

Friend of Tennyson Dies
in Hospital; Funeral on Friday

Grand Haven, June 6 (Special)—Mrs. Mary V. Rosenberg, 88, friend of Lord Alfred Tennyson, famous English poet, died during a seven year residence in England with her husband, the late Edward T. Rosenberg of Chicago, died on Tuesday in the Municipal hospital where she was admitted Monday for treatment. She had been in failing health for some time.

Mrs. Rosenberg, who had been living with her daughter, Mrs. Louis H. Osterhouse, 820 Lake Ave., the past 28 years, was the oldest member of Ferry circle of First Presbyterian church of which she was a member.

She was born in Shippensburg, Pa., March 27, 1852, and when an infant, she accompanied her parents west to Iowa in a covered wagon. The family later returned to Brooklyn, N. Y.

PRESENT SPEED RATES ON RIVER AVE. PROTESTED

Highway Department to Be Requested to Make
New Survey

Blom Asks Action Against Oil Trucks and Seeks
New Pumper

In answer to protests by residents on North River Ave. to prevailing speed limits along that street, the board of police and fire commissioners at its regular meeting Monday at 5 p.m. in the office of City Clerk Oscar Peterson voted to request the state highway department to make another survey with an idea of changing the limits.

The board instructed the city clerk to write to the highway department. Prevailing speed limits permit cars to travel 45 miles per hour at the city limits but are graduated to a maximum of 25 miles per hour closer to the business district.

As an added safety measure, the board also voted to refer part of a communication, submitted by Fire Chief Cornelius Blom, Jr., to common council for action. After calling attention to the recent accident at Seventh St. and Central Ave. in which an oil transport truck was involved, Chief Blom recommended action to be taken to prohibit large gasoline and oil transport trucks from using city streets and also to limit the storage capacity of gasoline in Holland.

Pointing out that council had tried to settle the issue during the past two years, Mayor Henry Geerlings asked board members whether they had any solution, but none was offered. Chief Blom also recommended purchase of a new pumper truck for the Holland fire department but the board took no action on this recommendation.

Regarding the survey to be requested of the highway department, Commissioner William H. Deur also favored a survey of US-31 south of the city, after calling attention to the accident at 32nd St. and Michigan Ave. in which two boys were killed. He contended that "slow" signs should be placed along the highway, south of the city, to warn motorists of the approaching curve. He said he had seen cars and trucks traveling at high rates of speed come down the hill and around the curve into Holland.

In his letter to the board, Chief Blom wrote that the oil truck "incident should be a lesson to us." He was of the opinion that serious damage would have resulted if the 5,000 gallons of crude oil had caught fire. He favored purchase of the pumper truck as he anticipates that the price of a truck will rise by November.

After Clerk Peterson had presented the petition of protest to prevailing speed limits on North River Ave., Commissioner Henry A. Geerds favored that action be taken. He said he had recently checked conditions along the avenue and had found that motorists exceeded the limits up to 55 and 60 miles per hour.

Geerds reviewed conditions on US-31, entering Holland from the north. He contended that 45 miles per hour limit was sufficient for the safety of the sharp curve at the junction of the new and old Grand Haven roads and that a limit of 35 miles per hour should be established between the wooden shoe sign and the intersection with the Waverly and Beechwood roads and a limit of 30 miles per hour from this point to the River Ave. curve.

City Attorney Clarence A. Lokker who attended Monday night's board meeting said the speed limits were established by the highway department at request of council and that the work was completed in an attempt to restore harmony between the city and highway department.

Clerk Peterson reported a Mr. O'Brien, maintenance man of the Grand Rapids district, had proposed to him that the limits be given a trial following installation of the signs.

Geerlings Calls Meeting to Discuss Dutch Relief

Mayor Henry Geerlings announced here that he has called a public meeting for Monday at 8 p.m. in the Woman's Literary club building for the purpose of discussing the Dutch relief situation, brought about by the overrunning of The Netherlands by the German armies.

The mayor said he is endeavoring to have Dr. Henry Beets of Grand Rapids to be present and speak.

Local Woman Bowler
Wins Prize in Tourney

Miss Carolyn Steffens, 300 West 14th St., has received notice that she won a prize in the annual sweepstakes bowling tourney which was conducted throughout the country near the close of the 1939-40 bowling season.

Hope Student Alarmed Over Fate of Family in Ghent

John Van Lierop, 18, freshman student at Hope college, is apprehensive regarding the fate of his family in Ghent, Belgium, where his father, the Rev. J. B. H. Van Lierop, conducts an undenominational mission. Since the war broke out in Belgium and Belgium's subsequent surrender, young Van Lierop has been unable to learn anything about his family.

He received a letter June 3 dated April 27 which told of foreign (supposedly German) airplanes flying high above Ghent, pursued by Belgian planes. From this procedure Van Lierop deduced that Germany was "getting the lay of the land" especially since an airport was located about three miles from the mission and home. This photo of the Van Lierop family (at top) was taken a year ago in Belgium. From left to right are Peter, a medical student; Bernard, at present a missionary in Africa; Johann, four-year-old daughter; Rev. J.B.H. Van Lierop, Mrs. Van Lierop, William, John, freshman at Hope college, and Beryl, 15. The Belgium Gospel temple at Ghent (bottom photo) is conducted by Rev. Van Lierop. Not visible in the picture is a huge dome. The temple, built during Napoleon's time for a Flanders governor, is visited by many tourists. The Van Lierop family has living quarters in the building. Under the temple are many reinforced basements which could house perhaps 200 refugees in time of war.

TRUCK CRASH IN HOLLAND FATAL TO TWO YOUTHS

Norris Williams and John
Koster Die in Collision
at Intersection

Four Escape Injury When
Beer-Loaded Vehicle,
Pickup Meet

Memorial Day observance in Holland was marred last Thursday about 8:40 p.m. by the deaths of two boys in a two-truck crash at the junction of Michigan and Washington Aves. and 32nd St.

Victims of the crash were Norris Williams, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Williams, residing on West 32nd St.; and John Koster, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Koster, route 1, Holland.

Four other persons escaped injuries. They were Ray Wescott, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Wescott, route 6, Holland, driver of the truck in which the two victims were riding; Donald Veltman, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Veltman, route 6, Holland, riding in the truck cab with Wescott; John Bale, 23, 39 East Ninth St., driver of the other truck; and Miss Beulah Meyers, 22, 120 1/2 East Eighth St., riding in the truck with Bale.

Koster was killed instantly when pinned under the large transport truck which Bale was driving. The large truck was carrying between eight and nine tons of beer which was consigned to John Conk, 72 West Eighth St. Conk owned the large truck.

Williams died shortly after being admitted to Holland hospital where he was rushed by Deputy Sheriff William Kruijthoff and another person.

Koster's body was badly mangled and crushed by the heavy truck when it rolled over on him. It was necessary to call a tow truck to raise the truck before the body could be removed.

Williams' death resulted from a crushed chest. He and Koster were riding on the rear end of the pickup truck. Williams was thrown a short distance by the impact of the crash.

Acting Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff said police investigation revealed that Bale was operating the truck without an operator's license.

Deputy Sheriff William Van Etta and Holland police, who began an investigation after arriving on the scene, were unable to question Wescott Thursday night as he was suffering considerably of shock but he was able to answer questions to Deputy Van Etta and Chief Van Hoff at his home this forenoon.

Wescott told the officers that he had picked up Williams, Koster and Veltman who all reside in the same neighborhood and was en route to the gasoline filling station on the northeast corner of the intersection to buy gasoline for the pickup truck.

He said he stopped for US-31 which enters Holland from the south at the intersection and saw the approaching transport truck. Wescott said the truck appeared to be "about a block away" and, thinking he had sufficient time to cross the highway, he started the truck.

When he saw the truck bearing down on his smaller truck, he swerved it in an attempt to avoid a collision.

Bale, when he saw the smaller truck, also swerved to avoid a collision but from all evidence it appears the two trucks sideswiped each other.

Investigating officials believe that Koster's body became caught on the crank which is used to lower the two wheels near the front of the trailer to hold it up when disconnected from the tractor and was carried some distance before the trailer rolled over on its side, pinning the youth underneath.

A considerable amount of the beer, which was in bottles and barrels, was spilled from broken bottles. Bale was returning to Holland from Chicago with his cargo.

Bale told investigating officials that he was driving the large truck between 30 and 35 miles per hour.

Among those who witnessed the accident were William Ten Brink, a Hamilton undertaker; George Koops who operates a filling station on the southeast corner of the intersection; Bernard Riksen, route 6, Holland; and Police Officer Isaac De Kraker, who was off duty but who chanced to be approaching the scene.

Besides the parents, Koster is survived by six brothers, Clifford, Alvin, Herbert, Sidney, Harris and Floyd, and two sisters, Ruth and Rachel.

Williams is survived, besides the parents, by two brothers, Raymond and Glenn, at home; and four sisters, Mrs. A. A. Swanson of Muskegon and Margaret, Grace and Lois at home.

FINED FOR SPEEDING
Tetsuya Sasamoto, 30, 419 Central Ave., paid a fine and costs of $5 after pleading guilty to a charge of speeding Wednesday on his arraignment before Municipal Judge Raymond L. Smith.

John Vander Sluis of East 12th St., who is taking a 10-day treatment at Blodgett hospital in East Grand Rapids, is reported to be much improved.

cations had been broken with the mission headquarters in Brussels.

40 miles from Ghent.

If newspaper reports are correct, Van Lierop said it is possible that fighting may have been waged within 200 to 500 feet of a battle of the fork of the Scheldt and Lys rivers in the midtown section of Ghent, very near the mission.

The Van Lierop family has living quarters in the Belgium Gospel mission, a beautiful structure which was built during Napoleon's reign about 100 years ago. The temple formerly was the house of a governor of Flanders and was purchased by an American for a mission.

The building has a very large dome (not visible in the picture) and is considered quite a showplace being visited by large numbers of tourists.

There are many basements in the building well constructed with vaulted ceilings to withstand force. It was Rev. Van Lierop's plans to stay in Ghent under any circumstances and aid the refugees. The basement could accommodate perhaps 200 refugees.

Van Lierop's parents, his three brothers and sister were in Ghent at the beginning of the siege. Another brother, Bernard, left the latter part of April for Sudan, Africa, where he is a missionary. One brother, Peter, 22, a medical student, who plans to be a missionary in China, is very likely working with the Red Cross in Belgium as he had said he would assist in this work in the event of war.

Another brother, Beryl, 15, had written that he had practiced for air raid protection several months ago. The other children are William and a girl, Johann, who although she is only four, already has attended French school in Belgium. Ghent has two languages, Flemish and French. There had been a movement to have Belgium join the Dutch but it terminated apparently with the war.

Rev. Van Lierop is a graduate of Western Theological seminary, being in the same class with Dr. John R. Mulder which was graduated about 18 years ago. Mrs. Van Lierop was born in The Netherlands and came to America in 1913. Her family resides in Marquette. All the children except the two youngest were born in this country. The Van Lierops have been at the Belgian mission the past 14 years.

John Van Lierop came to this country last August aboard a freight ship. He is entirely self-supporting and wants to be a pioneer missionary.

WOMAN DIES IN JENISON PARK

Mrs. Mary Shank, 90, resident of Jenison park for more than 50 years, died at 5:30 a.m. today at her home following an illness of complications due to her advanced age. She had been ill only a short time.

The only survivor is one son, Fred A. Shank of Grand Rapids. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. from the Langeland funeral chapel, with the Rev. F. J. Van Dyk of Central park officiating. Burial will be in Graafschap cemetery.

Local AAUW Group Has Closing Dinner Meeting

A dinner and program at Club Gra-Jac on Lake Macatawa Wednesday night marked the close of the year's activities for the Holland branch, American Association of University Women. Mrs. W. S. Merriam presided at the meeting following the dinner, when reports of the seventh biennial conference of the northeast section were given, and a program was presented by the drama study group.

At a board meeting which preceded the dinner, Mrs. Charles K. Van Duren was elected vice-president to fill the unexpired term of Miss Metta Ross. The board also voted to cooperate with other organizations of the city in sponsoring the establishment of a youth hostel here.

In reporting on the conference held in Battle Creek recently, Mrs. Merriam referred to it as a challenging and stimulating two days. Mrs. Merriam reported on the legislative workshop, in which AAUW members were urged to study and be informed on the various legislative bills, meanwhile remaining non-partisan in point of view.

Mrs. Van Duren, also a delegate to the conference, told of the fellowship and education work shops, which were conducted by Mrs. F. G. Atkinson, chairman of the national crusade fellowship committee, and Dr. Kathryn McHale, national director, respectively. With a goal of $1,000,000 for fellowships, almost $600,000 has been raised this year, it was revealed. Dr. McHale gave suggestions for activities in education in the various branches.

A report of the state meeting also was given by Mrs. Van Duren. Mrs. Emil B. Storkan of Battle Creek presided. Michigan now has 3,038 members in 36 branches of AAUW. Mrs. Merriam presented the report of the Holland branch.

Mrs. James Brierley reported on the social studies workshop, which was conducted by Prof. Florence Booth of Wayne university, who told what is being done by the branches in this field.

Report of the round table on "Analysis of Propaganda," conducted by Dr. James K. Pollock, Dr. Richard Fuller and Dr. Edward Litchfield of the University of Michigan, was also given.

The drama study group, which has met during the year under the direction of Miss Adelaide Dykhuizen, presented a reading of the Sidney Howard play, "The Silver Chord." It was introduced by Mrs. Orle Bishop, who gave a sketch of the playwright's life as revealed in the year's study by the group.

Taking part in the play reading were Mrs. David Pribyl as Mrs. Phelps; Miss Hazel De Meyer and Miss Dykhuizen as her sons, David and Robin; Miss Marian Shackson as Christina and Mrs. Bishop as Hester. Miss Faye Connor read the business.

Mission Auxiliary of Third Church Meets

The Mission Auxiliary of Third Reformed church met Wednesday evening in the church parlors with Mrs. Wilson Diekema, chairman of the foreign missions committee, in charge of the program. Miss Dena Muller led the devotional period. Music was furnished by the auxiliary chorus under the direction of Miss Henrietta Wamshuis.

The program consisted of an "Information Please" sketch with Mrs. Diekema as the interrogator. The board of experts consisted of Mrs. J. W. Hobeck, Mrs. Raymond Kuiper, Mrs. Martha Pelgrim, Miss Jeanette Veltman and Mrs. Garrett Vander Borgh. The questions concerned foreign work of the Reformed church.

A social hour followed the business meeting with Mrs. Ben Du Mez as chairman of the refreshments committee. About 45 were present.

French Club of Hope College Has Dinner

About 40 members of the Hope college French club were present at the club's first dinner at the Kountry Kitchen Wednesday evening. Miss Mary Ruth Jacobs and Miss Thelma Van Dyke were chairmen of the event.

Madame Cune, wife of the chef at the Warm Friend tavern, was a special guest. The group gathered at the home of Nola Nies at 6 o'clock and then adjourned to the chapel where Mme. Laura B. Millar, history teacher of Central high school in Lansing, showed several reels of European films. A French dinner was served at the Kitchen.

Engagement Announced at Dinner Party Here

On Tuesday evening, Miss Mame A. Ewald was hostess to 14 guests at a dinner party at White House Inn. The table was beautiful with a pink and white color scheme. The centerpiece was a large crystal bowl with artistically arranged pink honeysuckle from which peered pink cupid. On either side of the centerpiece were pink candles in twin crystal holders. At each place were white nut cups from whose handles suspended two hearts pierced with a golden arrow and a mysterious place card.

When the guests were seated they discovered that the place cards revealed the engagement announcement of Miss Verda Hawkins, teacher in the orthopedic department of Washington school, and Burton Hensley of Oil City, Pa., former manager of the local Kresge store.

A four-course dinner was served. The remainder of the evening was spent roaming about the beautiful grounds and reminiscing.

SOLQN FAVORS TRAFFIC LIGHT

Kalkman Urges Signal at Corner Where Truck Crashed

An attempt by Ald. Cornelius Kalkman, Sr., to have a stop-and-go signal placed at Central Ave. and Seventh St. and to have the Eighth, Lake and Van Raalte route designated as a preferential route failed to gain council approval Wednesday night.

Kalkman asked that Eighth St., west of River Ave., Lake St., between Washington Blvd. and Van Raalte Ave., and Van Raalte Ave., from Lake to 17th St., be made a "through street."

Kalkman's proposal came after City Clerk Oscar Peterson read a communication from Fire Chief Cornelius Blom, Jr., recommending action to prevent gasoline and oil transport trucks from using city streets and also recommending purchase of a new pumper truck. The letter was considered by the police and fire board Monday night.

Mayor Geerlings referred the gasoline and oil truck issue to the civic improvements committee and the purchase of a new pumper truck to the ways and means committee.

Stating that it was "lucky no fire resulted" when an oil transport truck overturned at Seventh St. and Central Ave. recently, Kalkman moved for installation of the light after pointing out that Greyhound buses, parking at the intersection, hide the view of motorists. Ald. James A. Drinkwater supported the motion.

However, the substitute motion of Ald. Albert P. Kleis to refer the matter to the ways and means committee was adopted. Kalkman protested Kleis' motion, stating that if council authorized installation of the light, the police and fire board could not object.

Kalkman said numerous accidents have occurred along Eighth St., Lake St. and Van Raalte Ave. He moved to make this a through street. Mayor Geerlings said the police and fire board already is considering conditions along these streets.

FILES PROTEST ON WATER MAIN ISSUE

Gerrit Schutten filed a protest with common council Wednesday night against recent action of the aldermen in approving the board of public works' recommendation that water mains be installed on an assessment basis.

He contended that it was not a "fair proposition" when water mains on other streets had been installed at no costs to property owners. He said that lots on 26th St. can be sold for $60 cheaper than those on 28th St. as a result of council's action.

Ald. Herman Mool reported the matter had been considered by the works board in which it reported considerable money had been invested in those water mains installed along streets where there were comparatively few homes and that it might be necessary to bond the city to continue this type of work on the non-assessment basis. The matter was referred to the ways and means committee.

Nunica Man Is Found Dead by Housekeeper

Grand Haven, June 6 — Dr. W. B. Bloemendal of Grand Haven returned a verdict of death due from a heart attack following discovery of the body of Wayne Pierce, 36, route 2, Nunica, in the bedroom of his home Wednesday about 6:30 a.m.

The discovery was made by Pierce's housekeeper, Mr. Pierce had been ailing for two years.

Survivors are the estranged wife and five children. He was employed in a garage in Crockery township.

Warns About Dumping Grass on Streets Here

Acting Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff today issued a warning that persons who dump grass, cut and raked from lawns, into the streets are violating the city ordinance and are subject to arrest.

He reported that City Engineer Jacob Zuidema had pointed out the street department is unable to haul away the grass, except during cleanup week observed recently, and that its disposal is the responsibility of the house owner or occupant.

To keep in touch with 65 million policy holders, U. S. insurance companies send out a billion pieces of mail each year, a survey in 1939 indicated.

WATER ISSUE IN CEMETERY TOLD LOCAL COUNCIL

Common council was presented with a problem Wednesday night as to whether owners of lots in Pilgrim Home cemetery who have not purchased annual or perpetual care for graves will be permitted to use water free of charge from hydrants to sprinkle the grass on the graves of deceased relatives or friends.

Ben Brower, chairman of the park and cemetery board, appeared before council to present the board's problem and contended that persons who provided their own care of graves were taking advantage of those who were paying for this upkeep.

Whether Louis Padnos will be permitted to move his junk yard from 190 East Eighth St. to his property on River Ave. at Fifth St. is expected to be settled by common council at its meeting Wednesday night, June 19.

At the request of Ald. John Menken, chairman of common council's welfare committee, City Assessor Peter H. Van Ark Wednesday night reported to council on to the recent visit to Holland of Dr. Phillip Callahan, state social security personnel director, relative to the proposed removal of the social security office from the city hall here to the Grand Haven city hall.

Van Ark said consideration was given to the complaints about the space on the third floor of the city hall here and also to the matter of ventilation. He said Dr. Callahan believed these complaints could be overcome by establishing an office on the first floor of the city hall.

Dr. Callahan informed the group which met with him here, Mr. Van Ark said, that he would submit a list of requirements to the board of supervisors through the local assessor but as yet the list has not been received. Van Ark said some plan should be worked out before Dr. Callahan's letter is received.

Common council took action Wednesday night to consummate a deal with John Cooper of the Holland Motor express for Cooper's purchase of city-owned property located between Fourth and Fifth Sts. on Central Ave.

TWENTY THREE HUNDRED GIVEN HOPE DIPLOMAS

Grads Have Found Places in All Walks of Life in Many Nations

More Than Fifty Active in Missions; Other Fields Represented

Since 1886 when Holland academy was incorporated under the leadership of Dr. Philip Phelps, Jr., into Hope college and the first class of eight was graduated, 2,300 graduates have left this now international college to "work and fight effectively in the arena of life."

Since that turn in the middle of the 19th century, Hope college—"the dream of the heroic men and women of pioneer days, the realization of their lofty ideals, and the fulfillment of their prophecies"—has placed men and women in all walks of life in this and foreign countries, many of whom have sent and are sending their sons and daughters to this institution.

Still standing is Van Vleck hall, the first building on the campus now used as a men's residence. It was constructed in 1857 at a cost of $12,000 collected by Dr. Van Raalte. Most recent addition is Hope Memorial chapel, dedicated in 1929, a large and imposing Gothic structure and one of the most beautiful college chapels in the country. In addition to these and seven other buildings built during the intervening years, plans are now being made for the erection of the $250,000 science building.

Dr. Wynand Wichers, Hope graduate of 1909 and knight of the Orange-Nassau, is now serving as the sixth president. Nineteen members of the faculty are also Hope graduates.

Representing Dr. Van Raalte's "anchor of Hope" are at present more than 50 people in the mission field. Other major fields for Hope grads have been the ministry, education, medicine and law.

Dr. S. M. Zwemer of the class of 1887, now in New York, is a co-founder of the Arabian mission and is a retired Princeton Theological seminary professor. His son, Dr. Raymond Zwemer of the class of 1923, is at present in the school of medicine of Columbia university.

Dr. John Van Ess, 1889, Arabian missionary, teaches at the Boy's school in Bura, Iraq. He has spent many years there and is now considered an authority on the country. He has also sent to Hope college four Arabian boys, Antar, Tooni, Araadi and Naoum, who have been graduated during the last eight years and have returned to Arabia.

Among those graduate missionaries who have sent sons and daughters here are the Rev. Willis J. Hoeke, 1904, who now resides in Tokyo. His son, Howard, is a sophomore and his daughter, Jean, was a graduate of 1939.

Dr. Henry De Pree, 1902, who recently moved into the interior of China as a result of the war and is head of a seminary there, is the father of Harold De Pree, 1938, now at the University of Chicago medical school and of Dave, a senior now.

Dr. and Mrs. Henry Poppen, of the class of 1914 and stationed at Amoy, China, have a son, Kenneth. In the sophomore class and a daughter, Ruth, in the senior class at Holland high. Ruth is studying organ at the college now and plans to enter this fall.

Two freshmen sons of missionaries also enrolled last fall. These are John De Boer, of the late Dr. John De Boer, 1915, who died recently in India where he was president of Voorhees college at Vellore, India, and Bob Holleman, son of Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Holleman of Amoy, China, both graduates of 1914.

Also included on a list of Hope missionaries may be James and William Moordyk in Arabia. Dr. John Baarniga, 1898, president of a theological seminary in India, Dr. and Mrs. H. V. E. Stegeman, 1912, now missionaries in Japan, and the Rev. B. Rotschaefter who teaches at the school in Katpadi, India, where all the rosewood chapel furniture was made. Rev. Rotschaefter's son, Gerald, and daughters, Dora Jean and Margaret, were graduated from Hope in 1933, 1936, and 1935, respectively.

Outstanding in the medical field are Dr. William De Kline, 1902, medical director of the American Red Cross at Washington, D. C.; Dr. and Mrs. Willis Potts, 1918 and 1916, respectively, of the University of Chicago medical school; Dr. James Poppen, famous brain surgeon at Lakeview clinic in Boston; and Dr. William Greenfield, 1914, plastic surgeon in Henshaw, N. J.

Hope has placed in the ministry the Rev. John Sizoo, 1907, now pastor at the Church of St. Nicholas at Radio City, one of the most prominent of the Reformed churches; Dr. and Mrs. Harry Hager, 1920 of Bethany church in Chicago; the Rev. Henry Vruwink, 1910 of the Collegiate church in New York city; the Rev. Fred Olet, 1926, now in Detroit as successor to James Vance at the Presbyterian church, one of the most important in Detroit, with his wife, is a Hope graduate of 1929; Dr. Jacob Vander Meulen, 1897, president of Western Theological seminary; Dr. John Beardslee, 1898, of Brunswick Theological seminary; and Dr. John A. Dykstra, 1909, president of the general synod of the Reformed Churches of America, Dr.

Dykstra's wife was graduated in 1912 and their son, Dean, will be graduated this June.

In the Martin Eugene Flipse families Hope has had three generations as graduates. The first Martin Eugene formerly of Miami was graduated in 1890, and died only last year. He was a classical missionary and was active in building Reformed churches in California. He was also once pastor of Third Reformed church in Holland. The second Martin Eugene, who with his wife was graduated in 1916, is at present pastor of the Douglass, N. Y., Community church and will deliver the baccalaureate address to Hope seniors June 16. The third Martin Eugene is valedictorian of this year's graduating class. Unlike his father and grandfather, who were both ministers, Martin Eugene Flipse III plans to do medical research along bio-chemical lines. Jay Flipse of the class of 1917 is a prominent specialist in Miami.

Two Rhodes scholars in the field have also been graduated from Hope. They are Dr. Milton Hoffman of the class of 1909, now at New Brunswick Theological seminary and Dr. Hessel Yntema of the class of 1912, now a professor of law at the University of Michigan. Dr. Yntema was a member of the Pan-American committee in 1939.

Dr. Yntema's wife was also graduated from Hope in 1912. His father was a former physics professor at Hope. His sister Clara who is now teacher in South high, Grand Rapids, and three brothers, Chester, Dwight, and Leonard, who have received the Ph. D. degrees, are all Hope graduates.

Two former Hope scholars are teaching at the University of Michigan. Dr. Henry Rotschaefter, 1909, teaches law there, and Dr. John G. Winter, 1901, whose wife graduated that same year, is a professor of classical languages.

Among those in the field of law in Holland who have been graduated from Hope are City Attorney Clarence Lokker of the class of 1914, Municipal Judge Ray Smith, who with his wife was graduated in 1928, newly-elected Alderman Bernard Arendshorst of the class of 1930, Mayor Henry Geerlings of the class of 1888, Vernon Ten Cate, 1927, lawyer and a present member of the faculty. His wife was graduated in 1928. Mr. Lokker's wife was graduated in 1917.

Mr. Lokker's son, Frank, is a freshman and his older son, Jack, spent the year of 1936-1937 at Hope as a freshman before going to West Point from whence he will be graduated a year from this June. Clyde of the class of 1927 and Ruth of the class of 1932, now both in the Holland Public school system, are other members of the Geerlings' family who have been graduated from Hope.

The majority of instructors at Hope are graduates from there. Those who have received their A. B. degree there and their departments are the Rev. Henry Bast Bible and religion; Gerrit Van Zyl and J. Harvey Kleinheksel, chemistry; Edward D. Dimment, D. Vernon Ten Cate, and Donald J. Zwemer, economics and business; Egbert Winter and Garret Vanderborg, education; Paul J. Brouwer and Metta J. Ross, English; Mrs. Peter N. Prins, French; Edward J. Wolters, Greek; Thomas E. Welmers, German; Albert H. Timmer, Latin; Albert E. Lampen, mathematics; Clarence Kleis, physics; Edwin Paul McLean, psychology; and Paul E. Hinkamp, religious education.

Oliver Lampen, valedictorian of the class of 1939, now at the University of Michigan, and James Hinkamp, salutatorian of the 1940 class, are sons of two of the above-mentioned professors.

Six local ministers and seven local physicians also look to Hope as their alma mater.

Dr. William Van Kersen, 1894, district secretary of the board of foreign missions and the Revs. William Van't Hof, 1924 of Third Reformed, Henry Van Dyke, 1917, of Fourth, Henry Terkeurst, 1912 of Trinity, John Vanderbeek, 1904 of Sixth, and Charles Stoppels, 1915, of Bethel are among the many ministers Hope has graduated.

Local physicians who have graduated from Hope are Drs. William and John Winter 1930, Otto Vander Velde, 1915, H. P. Harms, 1929, Nelson Clark, 1926, M. Hamelink, 1922 and Harold De Vries, 1927.

Wives of Drs. Vander Velde and De Vries were graduated in the same year as their husbands. Mrs. William Tappan, the former Mary C. Lokker, wife of Dr. W. M. Tappan and mother of Bill, now a sophomore, was graduated from Hope in 1915.

Rudy Nichols, son of Dr. R. H. Nichols of Holland, was graduated from Hope in 1932 and has obtained his Ph. D. from the University of Michigan. Dr. Titus Van Haisma, local dentist, was graduated from Hope in 1932.

Two sons of E. E. Fell have also been graduated from Hope, Ronald in 1924, and Egbert in 1927. Ronald is a dentist in Galesburg, Ill., and Egbert, a physician in Chicago.

A few of the living men to whom Hope has granted honorary doctor's degrees are E. E. Fell, Jacob Vander Meulen, E. D. Dimment, Albert Pieters, William J. Van Kersen, G. J. Hekhuis, John R. Mulder, H. P. Boot, and Fred T. Miles of Holland, John Van Peursem of Zeeland; C. P. Dams, C. H. Spaan, John A. Dykstra, and H. J. Veldman, of Grand Rapids; John A. Beardslee and Milton J. Local Family Attends Benzie County Picnic

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller and children, Dorothy, Donald, Dale and Shirley, of Holland attended the annual Benzie County Pioneer picnic all day Sunday at St. Johns city park.

In the annual elections for extinct Nessen City, Mr. Miller was named superintendent of health. A complete new set of officers for the "ghost city" was chosen except for Mike Dwyer of Ann Arbor who retained his office as city dog catcher by a slim margin. A last minute charge that Dwyer had swelled his annual report of canine arrests by counting feet instead of tails was termed by Mr. Dwyer as "vicious propaganda supplied by Hitler agents."

The Benzie County Pioneer Association meets annually the first Sunday in June at St. Johns city park and this year about 600 were present coming from California, Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana. Music was furnished by the 50-piece Melvindale-Ecvoorse high school band.

"MICHIGANDERS"

The infinitely prolific Chase S. Osborn has started still another campaign. He objects to the use of the term "Michiganders" to describe citizens of Michigan. In a brief article in the Sault Ste. Marie Evening News the former governor says:

"It's the limit. A gander is the husband of a goose. A goose is a first cousin to a foolish person."

The natives of Michigan seem to be having more trouble with names than the inhabitants of many other states. Not so long ago outlanders and inhabitants as well—were in the habit of speaking of "Wolverines." Most people who used the term familiarly never thought of its implications. But for some time now all sorts of organizations and individuals have been rising up in protest. The Wolverine, they point out, is a particularly undesirable critter; he is about as mean and ornery and detestable as can be imagined. Is the good, loyal citizen of the great state of Michigan to be slandered by being called a Wolverine? Besides, these earnest people point out, it is doubtful if the Wolverine ever set foot on the soil of Michigan. So thumbs down on "Wolverine" to designate the people of this state.

And now thumbs down as well on "Michigander." It is getting to be a problem how to refer to the good people of this state. It is hardly practicable to refer to them on all occasions as the "citizens of Michigan" or "Michigan citizens." Just imagine what hobnob with the headline writers of the state. The people of Oklahoma are often referred to as "Okies"—at least in the current Pulitzer novel. But it is a term that has a faint flavor of ridicule. And that too would be the objection to "Michies." So that's out.

Mr. Osborn endorses the suggestion of William P. Wilkins, of Grosse Pointe Park, that the term "Michigander" be adopted. "There is," says Osborn, "etymological warrant for Michigander. It has dignity and is completely correct." All right, let it be agreed that "Michigander" is the word that should be adopted. There is only one little difficulty—that of persuading Michiganders to use the word. And that difficulty is not so very little, for nothing is harder to give up one word habit and adopt another. Logic or fitness has little to do with it. People are built that way. They don't like to change.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU
Dr. Henry C. Link, the Psychologist, gives as his reason for attending church: "I know that it will do me good."

"The public worship of God not only brings us into the presence of Christ; it holds before us the mind and spirit of Christ so constantly that they become ours."

"The person who feels that he does not need the church, that he is superior to the church, that he is a little better than church people, not only possesses the religion of the Pharisee, but also a religion of selfishness."

"Following Christ is not only trying to be good yourself, it is trying to help others to the good life. The public worship of God enables you to fulfill both these duties of the Christian."

"Worship is creative. It creates a new mind, and renews a right spirit within us. It creates courage, faith, joy, serenity, insight."

"Let us therefore not forsake the assembling of ourselves together, for where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them."

Why not accept the invitation to go to church next Sunday?

It is estimated 25,000,000 milk bottles are lost or broken each year, and that the loss incurred is about $1,700,000.

Death rates in the United States have decreased from 27 per thousand to 11.2 per thousand in the last 100 years.

Personal Responsibility
Ezekiel 33: 7-16

By Henry Geerlings

The prophet Ezekiel ministered to the Hebrew exiles who had been deported far away from Palestine into Babylon. At the time represented by our scripture passage they were in a state of deep depression. They had learned six months after the event of the destruction of their city, Jerusalem, had been captured in war, the temple had been burned and the walls leveled to the ground. Naturally the news plunged them into gloom and despair. They felt that they were the victims of fate. What was the good of anything? They seemed to be under a curse. God had turned against them. No doubt that was because of the sin of the nation, the accumulated sins of their forefathers. There seemed to be nothing that they could do about it.

That was the natural way of thinking to the people of that time, as indeed to the people of the East today. Our ideas are quite different. We feel instinctively that no man should be praised or blamed except for his own deeds, but that is the modern and Western way of thinking. Ezekiel had to preach very forcibly and insist continually that the people were not doomed because of their fathers' sins, unless they walked in their fathers' ways. There was hope still, if they would turn to God. One generation was not totally lost because the previous one had been wicked; neither were the evil sons of a righteous father saved by their fathers' godliness.

A new doctrine like that had to be emphasized strongly. Usually a new thought that is true has to be understood and accepted. That was true of this doctrine of personal responsibility before God. It is true that we are each responsible for our souls and lives, but at the same time it is also true that we are greatly influenced by what we do by our parents and our associates. For the house of Israel, which each of us build, the materials may indeed be supplied for us, but what we make of it, how we build it, that is our own part.

We are responsible agents. We would be terribly disappointed if we did not possess the power of directing our own lives. There is the feeling within us that we do not have such a power. It is part of our inalienable right. God created us in his image, and that means that we have intelligence and free will. We are more responsible for what our lives turn out to be than any one else. We are the masters of our own fate or we are not. The Bible, reason and experiences say that we are.

The range of our responsibility for what we become may be limited but it is very real, and that is what gives the distinctive quality to human life as compared to animals. An attempt has been made to measure the effect of homes upon ability and character. Furniture, food, sun light, water supply, air space, books, music, educational and hours of work—all these facts in environment have an influence. Yet a strong will may enable us to overcome largely environment and heredity.

At the same time we are responsible to a certain extent at least for the conduct of those about us. We are our brother's keeper. We are responsible for our own lives, and something additional, and that is an influence which will make it easier for others to do right. We are to counsel them, and warn them, and influence them. That is also our responsibility. There could be no more sorrowful misconception of God's plan for the redemption of the world than to imagine that there is nothing more for us to do than to see to it that we are safe. There is a warning that we are to sound forth, a danger we are to point out, a weak brother we are to help up and on. Our lives intertwine to that extent. We cannot make our neighbor's life what it might be, but we can help create the conditions favorable to his making it what it might be.

When we see a red lantern along the street we know what it means. A strong fence by the highway tells us that there is a dangerous precipice near. When two automobiles come together and property and lives are lost a careful investigation is made to see who was responsible for the accident. All of us are traveling life's highway, and there are dangers on it. What we can do to help others to pass along safely we are to do. If we are selfish and indifferent spiritual disasters will occur that might have been avoided.

Over 100 Attend Annual GAA Honor Breakfast

Flowers, placed in windows and arranged as centerpieces for the tables, made a colorful setting for the annual GAA honor breakfast at the Warm Friend tavern Saturday morning. Approximately 106 girls attended the event, the climax of the year's activities of the Girl's Athletic association of Holland high school.

Favors were tiny basketball trophies with a GAA girl perched atop an orange basketball on a maroon standard. Guests at the speakers' table received corsages. Principal J. J. Riemersma pronounced the invocation.

Miss Mabel Apel, leader of the group, announced the officers for the coming year and presented the awards. Results of the election were: Frances Hillebrands, president; Joyce Timmer, vice president; and Rose Mary Ruch, secretary-treasurer. Merry Hadden and Cleo Rutgers were the other candidates for president. Sally Diekema and Irene Bouman for vice president; and Gladys Dyke and Bernice Van Eyck for secretary-treasurer.

Girls receiving their numeral, the first awards were: freshman—Gladys Dyke, Edna Mae Van Tatenhove and Bernice Van Eyck; sophomores—Elaine Bielefeld, Ruth Bos, Betty De Vries, Dorothy Eisenberger, Helen Fritit, Patricia Haskin, Barbara Osborne, Wilma Nysson, Mildred Russell, Betty Ten Have, Lavonne Timmer, Joyce Timmer, Pauline Victor, Marie Van Huis, Jo Anne Vander Velde and Joyce Van Oss; juniors—Mary Frederickson, Marjorie Hoobler, Doty Heasley and Virginia Range; and seniors—Barbara Heneveld, Fritz Jonkman and Anna Laura Parsons.

Letters were awarded to Irene Bouman, Dorothy Borr, Doris Bos, Sally Diekema, Frances Hillebrands, Lois Mary Hinkamp, Alice Mae Houtman, Merry Hadden, Ruth Nieusma, Vivian Tardiff, Martha Van Dyke, Elsie Vander Wal, Virginia Potter, Ellen Jane Koolker and Cleo Rutgers.

The third award, a bar, was awarded to Dorothy Borr, Shirley Rutgers and Cereta Kane. The final award, a medal which can be earned only by seniors, was awarded to Carol Jean Bos.

A gift was presented to Miss Apel by Carol Jean Bos, retiring president. Special guests at the breakfast were Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Riemersma, Miss Hannah Parkyn, Miss Esther Veenhuis, Supt. and Mrs. E. E. Fell, Mr. and Mrs. Leon N. Moody and Miss Jo Bolte.

Natives in India Are Dismayed by Sudden Death of Dr. John De Boer

Details of the death of Dr. John J. De Boer which occurred Sunday, April 28, in Kodaikanal, India, were received here Saturday in a letter written to his brother, Charles De Boer of Holland. Included was a copy of a letter written by the Rev. C. R. Wierenga, secretary of the Arcot mission, Reformed Church in America, to Dr. F. M. Potter, treasurer of the board of foreign missions.

Dr. De Boer, 49, president of the Voorhees college in Vellore, India, died unexpectedly of a stroke late Sunday night (April 28). He and Mrs. De Boer had left Vellore only the previous Monday for Kodaikanal, the plateau section in southern India where missionaries spend the hot months of March and April.

On that Sunday evening Dr. and Mrs. De Boer had walked out to the Kodaikanal Ashram where he administered the Lord's supper. Later they attended a sing song at Cushing and returned home at about 10:30 p.m., to all appearances in the best of spirits. Dr. De Boer retired almost immediately. He and Mrs. De Boer were still busy about the room when she became aware that all was not well. She immediately called those who live with them in the Wissahickon houses. Doctors were hurriedly summoned but the missionary was dead.

Dr. Wierenga and J. J. De Valois, a brother of Mrs. Van't Hof of Holland, who were engaged at the Arcot mission in a summer school for village agents jointly sponsored by the seminary and the agricultural institute, received a telegram at 2:45 p.m. the following day and made immediate preparations to depart the same night by car for Kodai thinking that possibly the funeral might be postponed until Tuesday morning. Later that afternoon they learned that funeral services had been planned that day at 3 p.m.

On his return to the farm that evening, Dr. Wierenga witnessed a great tribute by the Christians, Hindus and Mohammedans. He writes, "All along Vellore's Officers' line and the long reach of Maidan groups of people, some large some small, were earnestly conversing and as I moved slowly on, the question was repeated over and over again: 'Is it true, is it true? It cannot be true, some mistake must have been made.' Dr. De Boer had moved easily and sympathetically with these people. They would not believe that they would see his face no longer."

Dr. De Boer, graduate of Hope college and New Brunswick seminary, was a missionary in India nearly 15 years. He spent his furlough here last year and encountered many difficulties in returning to his charge. He left last fall on the regular route to India but while in England the war broke and it was impossible to get passage. He returned to the United States aboard the S. S. Harding which encountered the most severe storm in recent history. He left Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 3 for his mission station and arrived about 45 days later, being there only a short time before his death.

PERSONS ASKED NOT TO CUT CITY TULIPS

John Van Bragt, superintendent of parks, here urged persons not to cut the tulips along the tulip lanes.

He said he had received reports of flowers being cut and the foliage even being cut off at the ground. Mr. Van Bragt stated this should not be done as it stops the growth of the tulips.

He also warned against the riding of bicycles in Centennial park, claiming there is danger of somebody being hurt if struck by a bicycle. With tulips still showing color, Centennial park is a popular place for visitors to the city.

DUTCHMEN WIN OVER G.R. TEAM IN HOLIDAY TILT

Score of Locals in Sixth Gives Three-to-Two Victory

Van Wieren and Invading Hurler Each Give Up Seven Hits

Holland's Flying Dutchmen took their first win in two games, 3-2, over the Grand Rapids Scales at Riverview park last Thursday.

Lefty Van Wieren, winning pitcher, and Willard each allowed seven hits. Van Wieren struck out 10 men and walked four and Willard struck six men and walked two. Each was charged with a wild pitch.

Second Baseman Wierzbicki, lead-off man for the visitors, tripled his first time up and scored on an error by Ev De Neff. The next three men up were all out at first base. Grand Rapids held this one run lead until the third inning.

The Dutch threatened in the second inning with the bases loaded after singles by Ken Vanden Berg and Nels Van Lente and a walk by Bob Vanden Berg. Willard struck out the next man, however, and ended all possibilities.

Scoring for the locals began in the third when Ev De Neff singled and scored on a long sizzling triple which Driscoll socked out to left field. Ken Vanden Berg's pot to center scored Driscoll, putting Holland ahead 2-1.

S. R. PERRY IS IN 92ND YEAR

S. R. Perry, always an interesting figure in resort life at Macatawa park, is in his 92nd year, following a birthday celebration Tuesday, May 21, on his 91st birthday.

At 91 Mr. Perry is still alert and keenly interested in current happenings and especially in the activities at Macatawa where he is known as "The Shepherd of the Hills." Commenting of his age he says, "I attribute my long life and the pleasures it has brought me to my many friends and associates and to my happy home which I learn to appreciate more and more as the years roll on."

Guests at the informal neighborhood party were Mrs. Anna Raynor, Mrs. Townsend, and daughter, Miss G. Townsend, Mr. McClung, Mrs. Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ayers, Mrs. Ed. Bittner, Mr. and Mrs. L. Van Regenmortel, Dr. and Mrs. A. Leenhouts and Mr. and Mrs. J. Marcus.

Numerous telegrams and birthday gifts from friends near and far were received. The cottage was beautifully decorated with tulips and wild flowers.

Eleven years ago Mr. Perry married Mrs. Paul F. Renaud of New Orleans, La. They spent the past two winters in the south.

Everett Burnett, 17, living near Hart, was the driver of the car carrying eight young people, which struck the Vaxter car in the rear. No one, other than Mrs. Clark, was injured.

Burnett was summoned by the Berrien county sheriff to appear on a charge of failure to have his car under control.

TULSMEN LOSE TO GRANDVILLE

By a score of 8-5, Grandville whipped Holland Christian at Johnson park Wednesday.

The first four Grandville men up accounted for half of the winner's eight runs and the first two men up for Christian, Van Liere and Vryhof, accounted for two of Holland's five runs.

The locals again committed a mess of eight errors, enough for a whole season, four of them on scoring plays.

Woman of G. H. Dies of Stroke After Car Crash

Shock Proves Fatal When Auto Is Wrecked Near Benton Harbor

Grand Haven, June 6 (Special)—Mrs. Walter H. Clark, 66, of Grand Haven, died at 2 a.m. May 30 in Mercy hospital, Benton Harbor, as the result of a stroke she suffered after an automobile accident near Benton Harbor at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 29.

Mrs. Clark, in company with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Vaxter of Grand Haven, were returning from a visit to Kalamazoo and Battle Creek when the Vaxter car and another car collided. The Vaxters were not injured but the car was completely demolished. Mrs. Clark suffered a bruise on the head and was taken to the hospital for observation.

Mrs. Clark was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chappell of Marne, and was born Oct. 8, 1873. She and Mr. Clark would have celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary June 27. She was a member of the Presbyterian church and the Elmira Gray circle. She was a former member of the Eastern Star and the Macabees, which she was forced to give up due to failing health. She had suffered a stroke some time ago from which she had apparently recovered.

Besides the husband, she is survived by the daughter, Mrs. Vaxter, and two other daughters, Florence and Helen, of Grand Haven; three sons, Walter, Jr., a student at the University of Michigan, Charles of Battle Creek and Lester of Grand Haven; one foster daughter, Mrs. Pauline Shoemaker of Flint; four grandchildren; two brothers and one sister.

Everett Burnett, 17, living near Hart, was the driver of the car carrying eight young people, which struck the Vaxter car in the rear. No one, other than Mrs. Clark, was injured.

Burnett was summoned by the Berrien county sheriff to appear on a charge of failure to have his car under control.

DEFENSE MOVE MUST NOT LEAD NATION TO WAR

Futility of Conflict Cited by Vander Meulen in City Observance

Appeals for New Spirit of Liberty; Tribute Paid to Soldier Dead

Attorney Cornelius Vander Meulen, in his Memorial day address in Pilgrim Home cemetery last Thursday, appealed for a renewal of the spirit of liberty—a renewal by education and example rather than by legislation and decree.

"Let every American realize that only as he preserves the freedom and opportunity of his fellow citizens, can he enduringly preserve his own," Mr. Vander Meulen pointed out to members of local patriotic organizations, city officials and Holland citizens who gathered in the cemetery to pay tribute to the city's dead of former wars.

Prior to the services in the cemetery, a parade was held from the city hall, north on River Ave. to Eighth St., east to Columbia Ave., south to 16th St. and east to the cemetery. Swan Miller and Madison Richards, Holland's two remaining Civil war veterans, were unable to participate in the services this year.

"Today, as we rededicate ourselves to the cause for which these men fought, we honor them not because they were warriors but because they were patriots; not because they were ready to fight but because they were ready to die for their country; not for their willingness to slay others but for their willingness to shed their own blood," Mr. Vander Meulen said.

He pointed out that the soldier dead had fought for the "stars and stripes," for the preservation of the union, of the states "that the government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish; that tyranny might cease; to make the world safe for democracy; to end all war; to preserve for mankind the blessings of civilization."

"What today, more than all else, oppresses us is the seemingly utter futility of their sacrifice. How bitterly have we been disillusioned," Mr. Vander Meulen asserted as he pointed out that Flanders field is "drenched with blood and the cities of the lowlands are in ruins."

"No, my friends, wars do not end wars; war breeds wars." Stalin, Hitler and Mussolini, Mr. Vander Meulen opined are conspiring to divide all Europe, if not the entire world, among them by brute force. In those lands there are lovers of liberty, but they are mute, "cowed into silence by the purges of the firing squad and the horrors of the concentration camps," he declared.

"Even in France and England, the champions of democracy are fighting for their very national lives and for the time being all civil liberties of the citizens are subservient to the exigencies of war," he said. "Pray God that when the strife shall cease, they may again emerge."

He pointed out that war cannot save democracy but that it is the deadliest foe of democracy as war demands a totalitarian state.

"Can we save civilization? To ask the question is to answer it. All that is beautiful, all that endures, all that tends to alleviate human distress, all that tends to promote human well being, all these things war destroys. It turns the discoveries of science, the ingenuity of craftsmen, the skill of artisans to this destruction, and from the hearts of men it takes away all pity and engenders in its place stark hatred and the lust to kill."

In paying tribute to the living and dead soldiers of the last World War, Mr. Vander Meulen said the burden of the blame does not rest upon them for it was not their greed, not their stupidities that created the occasion for war.

"But these men we today honor were ready to render their last full measure of devotion for the right as it was given to them to see the right and even today we do not see how they could have done otherwise. For their heroism, for their love of country, for their sacrificial adventure, we honor them."

"In our memorial, we hear no call to again go forth to battle. We recognize rather a solemn obligation to keep America at peace."

"We regret deeply that the first step in the performance of that obligation is to turn our skills and energies to the production of the implements of war."

"To adequately protect our country against either armed invasion or fifth column treachery, we shall spare neither effort nor money. To that, with one accord, all America subscribes."

"But let no man turn this necessity of national defense to his own gain either financial or political. Further, let no man, by doubtful reasoning or emotional appeal, strive to convert our military power into any whatsoever other than national defense."

"If national defense is the immediate problem confronting us, the ultimate task, as I see it, is the revitalization of the spirit of freedom. For even here in America in these latter years, that spirit has grown somewhat dim." Mr. Vander Meulen contended that the American constitutional democracy "was the best government ever conceived in the mind of men" but that revelations of the Dies committee has startled and alarmed the country as they have revealed the extent to which alien philosophies have grown. He attributed this fact to the stress of a long and continued economic depression.

"In misguided sympathy they adopted the proletarianism of Russia; in their desire for order, the government corporation of the Nazis," he stated. "One thing that the disastrous events of the past year in Europe has clarified is to open our eyes; it has clarified the issue."

"America realizes now that these alien philosophies with their reliance upon brute force, no matter how alluring they may seem, lead but to one ultimate end, the regimentation and enslaving of the individual, the debasement of human personality."

"America realizes that the American system of free enterprise under a government administered by men of our own choosing, a government of just laws, is designed not to restrict freedom but to enlarge freedom and insure it for all. We also realize that the American way offers the only promise for the preservation and continued growth of our civilization."

"Neath the benediction of the memory of our heroic dead, we renew our devotion of the constitution of the United States and we pledge allegiance to the flag and to the United States of America, the country for which it stands, one nation indivisible with liberty and justice for all," Mr. Vander Meulen concluded.

SCHULTZE NEW COLLEGE HEAD

Grand Rapids, June 6 — Prof. Henry Schultze, 46, of Calvin seminary, who was appointed president of Calvin college Monday afternoon by the board of trustees, informed the board at its session Tuesday he would accept the appointment.

The college trustees, after receiving Schultze's acceptance, appointed the Rev. J. J. Hiemenga, minister of a Christian Reformed church in Patterson, N. J., as the new president's assistant. Rev. Hiemenga who served as Calvin college president several years ago, had not informed the board of an acceptance.

Prof. Schultze was recommended to the board by an advisory committee of its members which was appointed last June when Prof. Ralph Stob, at that time president of the college, resigned. The new president is a graduate of both Calvin college and Calvin seminary. For 14 years he has been a professor in the New Testament department at the seminary. Previous to coming to Calvin he was pastor of Sherman Street Christian Reformed church.

A modification of the ruling on amusements was adopted, which does not ease restrictions on dancing and theater attendance but tends toward more effective regulation.

Grand Haven, June 6 (Special)—Donald Gossett, 29, Grand Rapids, paid a fine of $10 and costs of $6.85 in the court of Justice George V. Hoffer Tuesday on a charge of taking bluegills out of season. The arrest was made by Conservation Officer Forrest Lavoy June 3 in Allendale township.

RAINY WEATHER FEATURES MAY

Rain fell on 17 days of May in Holland, Bert Smith, local weather observer, reported today.

Fourteen of the rainy days were consecutive and the 17 days piled up a total rainfall of 5.19 inches, greatest in at least the past four years here.

Not content with flooding Holland, the weatherman in May also hurled down an inch of snow, Mr. Smith said.

The 14 consecutive days of rain started Saturday, May 18 and continued through Friday, May 31.

May rainfall in past years was 1.2 inches in 1939, 4.82 inches in 1938, 3.46 inches in 1937 and .98 of an inch in 1936.

Number of days of precipitation in May of past years was six in 1939, four in 1938, 12 in 1937 and six in 1936. Mr. Smith's report shows there was no snow during May of the past four years.

Maximum temperature for the month was 84, recorded on May 14 and compares with high temperature of past years as follows: 1939—87 on May 26 and 31; 1938—85 on May 3 and 4; 1937—89 on May 30 and 31; 1936—86 on May 9.

Minimum temperature of the month was 30 on May 4 and for past years was: 1939—30 on May 1; 1938—28 on May 13; 1937—30 on May 10; 1936—33 on May 14.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. CRANMER

Mrs. Elizabeth Cranmer, 68, died at 5 p.m. Monday at her home, 331 Lincoln Ave. after an illness of two years of complications. She lived in Holland since 1909. Her husband, Ernest, died several years ago. She was born Jan. 4, 1872, in Des Plaines, Ill.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. John Mennenga of Fennville, Mrs. Russell Bender of Holland and Mrs. Carl Buchanan of Decatur; three sons, Cameron and Bert of Holland and Russell of Zeeland; 19 grandchildren and one great grandchild; a sister, Mrs. John Douglas of Des Plaines, Ill.

Funeral services will be this Thursday at 2:30 p.m. from the Dykstra funeral home with the Rev. T. Zeile, pastor of the Zion Lutheran church officiating. Burial will be in Pilgrim Home cemetery.

MOTORIST IS FINED FOLLOWING CRASH

Grand Haven, June 6 (Special)—Walter Starks, 19, route 1, Conklin, paid a fine of $35 and costs of $4.65 upon his plea of guilty in the justice court of George V. Hoffer Tuesday on a charge of reckless driving.

The charge was made by state police as the result of an accident which occurred at 11:15 p.m. Monday on the county road, west of Coopersville and one mile west of U.S. 16 in Polkton township, when Starks' car allegedly sideswiped a car driven by Marvin Luben, 32 of Coopersville. George Luben, 54, a passenger in Luben's car, suffered cuts and bruises on the head. Starks was confined in the county jail overnight.

John Greenleaf Whittier, famous American poet, learned the trade of a shoemaker when he was a boy in New England.

DELAY VOTED IN ACTION ON NEW FIRE CONTRACT

Police and Fire Board Is Confronted With Two Propositions

Township Offers Flat Sum or to Continue Rates Minus Liability

Confronted with two proposed agreements on fire protection for Holland township and being unable to decide which one to accept, the board of police and fire commissioners, at its regular meeting Monday at 5 p.m. in the office of City Clerk Oscar Peterson, voted to continue the matter for at least two weeks.

The matter was first brought before the board at its meeting April 29 when representatives of the Holland township board requested a new contract be drawn up to relieve the township of all liability for accidents to fire trucks or injuries to Holland firemen when responding to alarms or fighting fires in that township. Action of the board at that time was to refer the matter to City Attorney Clarence A. Lokker and John R. Dehmers, Holland township attorney.

The two lawyers appeared before the board Monday with one offer but discussions by board members resulted in the development of an additional offer. After Lokker had presented his legal ruling, relative to questions in connection with the present agreement, Dehmers said the Holland township board was willing to pay $500 annually for fire protection, regardless of the number of alarms answered in the township but that it was the board's desire to be relieved of all liability and thus was willing to pay this additional sum of money.

Under provisions of the present agreement, Holland township is charged $50 per call, plus $5 per mile and $25 after the first hour but City Clerk Peterson said the city has never bill the township for more than $50 per call. Of the amount collected on outside calls, 75 per cent goes into a firemen's fund and 25 per cent to the city's general fund.

Dehmers said the township was not protesting the present rates but that they had become alarmed over the accident which occurred to the city last November, resulting in the death of a fire truck driver. He said the board would be willing to continue its present contract, providing the liability clause is withdrawn.

Lokker reported he and Dehmers had investigated the situation and it was their belief that the liability clause in the present agreement is unenforceable in view of the state law which prohibits a township from contracting for more than $750 annually for fire protection from any municipality.

The city attorney also ruled the township would be liable if no contract for fire protection existed between the city and township and that the city should be liable for its own employees if a contract were in effect. Lokker proposed as terms of a contract a specified sum to be paid annually and to cover all calls made in the township or a sum, plus an amount for each individual call.

Under Dehmers' offer of $500, this did not provide for the payment of 75 per cent into the firemen's fund. The entire amount would go to the city's general fund. The other offer of maintaining present rates still provided for the payment to be divided between the firemen's fund and general fund on the 75-25 basis.

MONTGOMERY WILL HEAD HOPE COUNCIL

J. Robert Montgomery, Jr., of Grand Rapids, Hope college junior, was elected president of the student council at a run-off election on the Hope college campus on Tuesday. Montgomery came here last fall from Grand Rapids Junior college. He was recently elected to Blue Key, men's honor society, and is captain-elect of the Hope basketball team.

The run-off was held this morning after Montgomery and Albert H. Van Dyke, high men in the election returns yesterday, failed to receive a majority vote. Kenneth Popen of Holland, sophomore, was elected on the first ballot as associate editor of the Anchor for next year. In the run-off this morning, Lorraine Timmer of Muskegon, Hope sophomore, was also elected associate editor, over Milton Verburg.

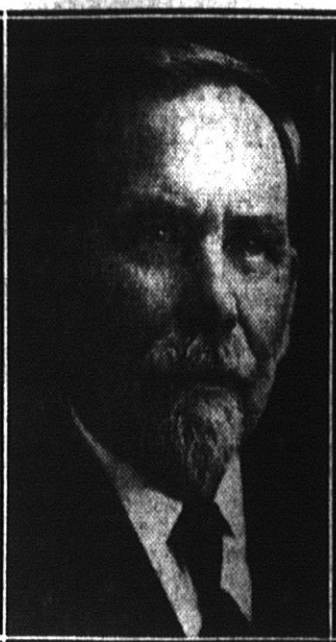

G.R. MAN TRIED ON STATUTORY CHARGE

Grand Haven, June 6 (Special)—Minard Mulder, 22, of Grand Rapids, former Hudsonville resident, was tried before a jury in Ottawa circuit court on a statutory charge Wednesday and was found guilty. He was ordered to pay court costs of $55 and other costs of nearly $900 which are to be paid over a period of years.

The state rested its case at 10:30 a.m. and proofs were completed at 11:20 a.m. The case went to the jury shortly after noon.

Among the state's witnesses were Deputy Sheriff's William Van Etta of Holland and John Boes of Zeeland and Chief of Police Fred Bosma of Zeeland who testified as to statements made by Mulder.

Observe Sixtieth Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pelgrim, 197 West 12th St., Saturday quietly observed their sixtieth wedding anniversary. They were married June 1, 1880 in Vriesland, and have lived in Ottawa county all of their married life. Mr. Pelgrim is secretary-treasurer of the Bay View Furniture Co., of which his son, George A. Pelgrim, is president. Other children of Mr. and Mrs. Pelgrim are the Rev. J. Carleton Pelgrim of Coral Gables, Fla., Miss Helene Pelgrim, Mrs. Katharine Elbers, and Mrs. Marvin Lindeman, all of Holland. They have nine grandchildren.

HOLD YOUTH IN HOME ROBBERY

His criminal career cut short by his arrest Wednesday afternoon, several hours after he had committed his first robbery, Marvin Vander Heuvel, 21, 122 East 24th St., was being held in jail today in default of $1,000 bond, pending arraignment Monday at 9 a.m. before Judge Fred T. Miles in Ottawa circuit court.

Arraigned this forenoon before Municipal Judge Raymond L. Smith, Vander Heuvel waived examination and his case was bound over to circuit court.

Vander Heuvel is alleged to have broken into the farm home of John Zwiers, route 2, Zeeland, about 11 a.m. Wednesday and taken $22 from two hiding places. When arrested on suspicion Wednesday afternoon at his home, arresting officers reported finding $9 on his person.

In admitting the robbery, the young man said he had spent the missing $13 for "various things." He said he committed the robbery because he was broke and wanted some money.

Mr. Zwiers discovered the robbery shortly after it was committed. He had detected an automobile near the farm home, located east of Zeeland, and had noted part of its license number.

Upon discovering the money missing, Mr. Zwiers notified Deputy Sheriff John Boes and Martin Baerman of Zeeland. The officers came to Holland and with the assistance of Deputy Sheriff William Van Etta, checked up on some footprints, tire tracks and the license numbers.

Lokker reported he and Dehmers had investigated the situation and it was their belief that the liability clause in the present agreement is unenforceable in view of the state law which prohibits a township from contracting for more than $750 annually for fire protection from any municipality.

LOCAL BUILDING EXCEEDS MARK OF PAST YEARS

Gains Shown by Figures for May and for First Five Months

Applications Include Total of Thirty-Five Homes Thus Far

With new home construction setting the pace, the value of the applications for building permits filed during May was in excess for the same month of the past two years, an unofficial tabulation of the applications in the office of City Clerk Oscar Peterson revealed Saturday.

Their aggregate value for the past month totaled $35,322. For May, 1939, their value was $29,235 for $6,087 less. Their value for May, 1938, was $11,528 or $23,794 less.

Eight applications for permits to build new homes were filed during the past month, their estimated cost being $25,950. Five of the applications provide for construction of new garages at a cost of $475.

Total number of new homes for which application has been made since Jan. 1, 1940, is 35 or an increase of six over the 29 which had been applied for up to May 31, 1939.

Thirty-three applications for building permits were filed during May, an increase of six over the 27 for the same month last year.

With the May figure added to the total for the other four months of the current year, total value of the permits amounts to $299,042.

This year's building permit figure is $67,940 ahead of last year's figure of $161,102 and is $124,049 in excess of the $104,993 for 1938.

GRAND JURY PROBE REMAINS UNFINISHED

Prosecutor Elbert Parsons reported Saturday no date has been set for the final session of the one-man grand jury investigation into the Marquette hotel case although it was his hope that the inquiry may be concluded not later than week after next.

Prosecutor Parsons said cases in circuit court has prevented him from conferring with Municipal Judge Raymond L. Smith on a date for the questioning of additional witnesses. He stated there had been days in the past when the investigation could have been continued but that Deputy Sheriff William Van Etta had found it impossible to summon the witnesses on such short notice.

Number of workers employed in the distribution of goods in the U. S. has increased by nine times since 1870.

A five-day 40-hour week was adopted for municipal employees by 14 major U. S. cities in the past seven years.

Program, Picnic Closes Lakeview School Year

The annual school picnic of the Lakeview school on Lugers road was held on the closing day, Friday, under the auspices of the Lakeview Parent-Teacher association. Marvin Lambers, the retiring president of the association, presided at the meeting held in the school assembly room at 2 p.m. which was opened with prayer by the Rev. F. J. Van Dyk.

Allan Drew Miles announced the program prepared by the teachers and pupils to be given at a Red Cross program which later had to be cancelled. Sue Ann Kammeraad gave the welcome speech and Kenneth Lambers, in a costume suited to the words, told how glad he was for "Vacation Time." A motion exercise in which all the pupils of the first and second grades took part was called, "Our Country's Flag" with Joan Kolenbrander as leader.

Roland Lambers and Robert Paul Teusink, gave a reading "Vacation Days" and Dickie Neuma told the audience in no uncertain terms, "I Don't Care!" Marvin Knoll and Robert Slenk recited part of Longfellow's poem, "Hawthorne's Childhood" which they illustrated with original drawings. Cleo Eastman gave a reading, "Whisperers" and Doris O'Connor spoke of "Lions and Dragons" which held no terror for her. Earl Dannenberg told the audience to "Be the Best Whatever You Are" and Lois Foster doubted whether it ever rained "pitchforks" and "cats and dogs." Joyce Bouwman spoke of "A Dear Family" of birds and Elmer Don Teusink enthusiastically voiced his ambition to become "A Clown."

Barbara Kolenbrander gave a recitation entitled "A Little Flag" and "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise" was sung as a duet by Rachel Van Dyk and Betty Bazan with Rosalind Scholten at the piano. Dorothy Hoving told about "A Queer Boy" who always had an ache and pain when there was work to be done. "Taking A Joke" was the name of a short play in which Jimmie Lamb, Iris Bowman, Ruth Bowmaster, Rosalind Scholten, Rachel Van Dyk and Eddie Lugers took part.

Ray Dannenberg portrayed the horrors of "Examinations" which are now replaced by achievement tests. The closing number was another play entitled, "A Slight Mistake" in which James Kimmel, the new minister, was mistaken for an old deaf cousin much to the embarrassment of the family composed of Mary Lou Williams, Betty Bazan, and Dorothy Neuma.

The crowd then went outdoors and contests for the pupils of all the grades were held under the direction of the sports committee with Rev. Van Dyk in charge assisted by Miss Marguerite Potz, Miss Cornelia Gorter and Marvin Lambers. About 40 prizes were awarded and paddle pops and confectionery were distributed to the children and coffee and cake served to the adults by the following committee: Mrs. Gerrit Knoll, Mrs. Henry Kammeraad, Mrs. William Hoving, Mrs. Neal Eastman and Mrs. William Boers.

SAFETY MOVE TOLD TO CLUB

Speaker Asserts America Must Be Preserved as Liberty Oasis

F. R. McLean, manager of the safety and insurance department of the Socony-Vacuum Oil Co. of Detroit, told members of the Holland Kiwanis Club and their guests at a weekly luncheon Friday in the Warm Friend tavern that "it becomes an obligation of each individual to help preserve America as an oasis in which the safety and well being of each individual is still important and in which there is still respect for human life."

Mr. McLean spoke on "Safety and the Individual." Guests of the club included Acting Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff, Police Officers Gerald Vanderbeek and Ernest Bear and the seven captains of the safety patrol of the local schools. The program was in charge of Walter Kielton.

These are strange days in which to talk of safety with so much of the world desperately engaged in efforts to cause destruction and death to other people. Mr. McLean said, pointing out that casualties among troops and non-combatants "are at present beyond even reasonable estimation."

Contending that victories in wars are not only won on battlefields but in industrial plants, Mr. McLean spoke on "another kind of victory by industry" which began in 1913 when a few concerns organized their safety efforts and began a campaign against death and injury in industry.

"Through industry's victories in this war against accidents, it can be shown that 250,000 lives of American workers have been saved. It is usually impossible to say when or where a particular individual's life was saved through safety effort but, by applying the accident fatality rate of 1913 to employment since, it is readily proved that reductions in this rate have meant the saving of a quarter million individuals from death by industrial accidents."

Need Dutch Costumes for Detroit Relief Drive

In response to a request from W. K. von Weiler, attache at the Dutch consul in Detroit, Willard C. Wichers has appealed to Holland citizens for the loan of Dutch costumes by local citizens.

Mr. von Weiler has written Mr. Wichers that a concerted effort will be made in Detroit June 4 to raise funds for relief of war sufferers in The Netherlands and it is planned for solicitors to wear costumes of the various Dutch provinces.

Persons having costumes and willing to lend them are asked to contact Mr. Wichers at the city hall. Persons also desiring to take part in the drive by driving to Detroit may call Mr. Wichers.

MANY IN CITY TO SEE TULIPS

A large crowd of post-Tulip Time festival visitors visited Holland Memorial day to view the late blooming tulips.

Central Park Girl Hurt in Accident at Home

Juanita Mae, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Van Dyke of Central park, suffered a dislocated left elbow and a fracture of the arm below the elbow in an accident which occurred about 10:30 a.m. Saturday near her home.

Following an x-ray examination in Holland hospital, she was given medical treatment and allowed to return to her home.

There were no witnesses to the accident but it was reported that the child ran behind a truck, being operated by James Harthorn of Central park, but it was not known whether she ran into the rear of the truck or the truck had struck her.

Synod May Protest FDR's Selection of Vatican Aide

Question Will Be One of Many to Face Session at Buck Hill Falls

Whether general synod of the Reformed church in America will protest President Roosevelt's appointment of Myron C. Taylor as his representative to the Vatican will be one question to come before synod when it meets in Buck Hill Falls, June 6 to 11, according to information received here from the Rev. W. E. Compton, synod press clerk.

The classis of Rochester, the classes of Wisconsin, Grand Rapids, greater New York, Westchester and the particular synod of Chicago all protest Taylor's appointment. Some will be content with a protest, others want him recalled and the classis of New York wants some public statement by the church that will be more vigorous than has been made by the Federal Council of Churches.

In all, synod is scheduled to consider 83 overtures.

Synod will be requested to ask President Roosevelt to set aside a national day of prayer and fasting. Other overtures will ask that conscientious objectors be permitted to register with local consistory and the general synod clerk, that a committee be appointed to plan for the eventual union with the Presbyterian church and that the number of synod delegates be reduced.

First business Thursday afternoon, June 6, will be the election of a president to succeed the Rev. John A. Dykstra of Grand Rapids, a vice-president to succeed Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, president of Central college, Pella, Ia., and three clerks who will serve one year.

Sunday's session will include a talk by the Rev. Samuel M. Zwemer, one of the Arabian mission founders and graduate of Hope college, who will represent the college in its 75th anniversary.

Reports and other business will take up Monday and Tuesday. Prof. John R. Mulder of Western Theological seminary will be among the speakers.

Holland classis delegates to synod are the Revs. H. W. Pyle, Herman Maassen, Henry D. Terkeurst and Walter Van Saun and Elders George Bolks, John De Groot, R. Van Lente and J. C. Van Leeuwen. Alternates are the Revs. Henry Van Dyke, Charles Stoppeles, William Van't Hof and B. W. Lammers and Elders Lloyd Butler, Henry Swierenga, John Teninga and H. H. De Witt.

Couple Is Married in Overisel Parsonage

The marriage of Miss Bernice Schaa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edd Schaa, to Melvin Dannenberg, son of Toon Dannenberg, was solemnized Wednesday, May 29, at 7:30 o'clock in the parsonage of Overisel Reformed church. The Rev. G. J. Vande Riet conducted the double ring ceremony. The couple was attended by Miss Harriet Dannenberg and Clarence Groenheide.

A reception for about 40 guests followed and refreshments were served by Mrs. George Rigerink, Misses Evelyn Rigerink, Viola Lohman and Beatrice Schaa.

Mr. and Mrs. Dannenberg left on a trip to the East later in the evening. They will make their home on route 5.
