Klomprens Is Made Fire Chief To Replace Blom

Retiring Head Will Be Paid Until Anniversary
In Fall, Board Decides

Promoted from the rank of captain to that of chief of the Holland fire department, Andrew Klomprens, 135 East 14th St., has assumed his new duties as successor to Fire Chief Cornelius Blom, Jr.

The board of police and fire commissioners met in special session at 4 p.m. May 28 in the office of City Clerk Oscar Peterson to accept the resignation which Mr. Blom tendered Wednesday, May 27, to the city clerk in compliance with the board's previous request that he retire in order that a younger man could be appointed fire chief.

In appointing Mr. Klomprens as chief, the board decreed that he should serve as acting chief pending approval of his appointment by common council.

Common council Wednesday afternoon unanimously approved the appointment of Andrew Klomprens as chief of the Holland fire department, succeeding Cornelius Blom, Jr., who recently tendered his resignation at the request of the police and fire board.

Motion to accept Blom's resignation was made by Commissioner John Donnelly and supported by Commissioner William H. Deur. The board requested the city clerk to write the retiring chief a letter of appreciation for his offer to act in an advisory capacity to the new chief, should it be needed.

The commissioners also agreed to grant Blom's four months pay to Oct. 1, the 58th anniversary of his joining the fire department and his 76th birthday anniversary as a token of appreciation for his past services. Since the fire chief is paid $1,000 per year, this will amount to $416.66.

Klomprens has served as a captain in the department for the past five or six years. He has been a member of the department for the past 33 years.

He is affiliated with the local Holland Furnace Co. branch office at 29 East Eighth St., is a member and director of the Holland Chamber of Commerce and is a member of the board of public works. He has long been active in civic affairs.

For the past two years, he has been exceptionally active in the fire department and vitally interested in its affairs.

Since America's entry in the war last December, he has been in charge of the auxiliary firefighting force which was organized as a part of the civilian defense program.

More than 500 auxiliary firemen have received training in the various manufacturing plants and 75 fire wardens are scheduled to receive training in firefighting next week.

On Acting Chief Klomprens' recommendation, Jack Knoll was promoted from lieutenant to captain of the No. 2 ladder truck, filling the vacancy created by Klomprens' promotion to chief.

Elevate Three Of Hope Faculty

Members of the Hope college board of trustees, in annual session Tuesday approved the elevation of Clarence De Graaf from instructor to professor of English and head of the English department, Miss Metta J. Ross from instructor to assistant professor of English, and Paul Brouwer as dean of students.

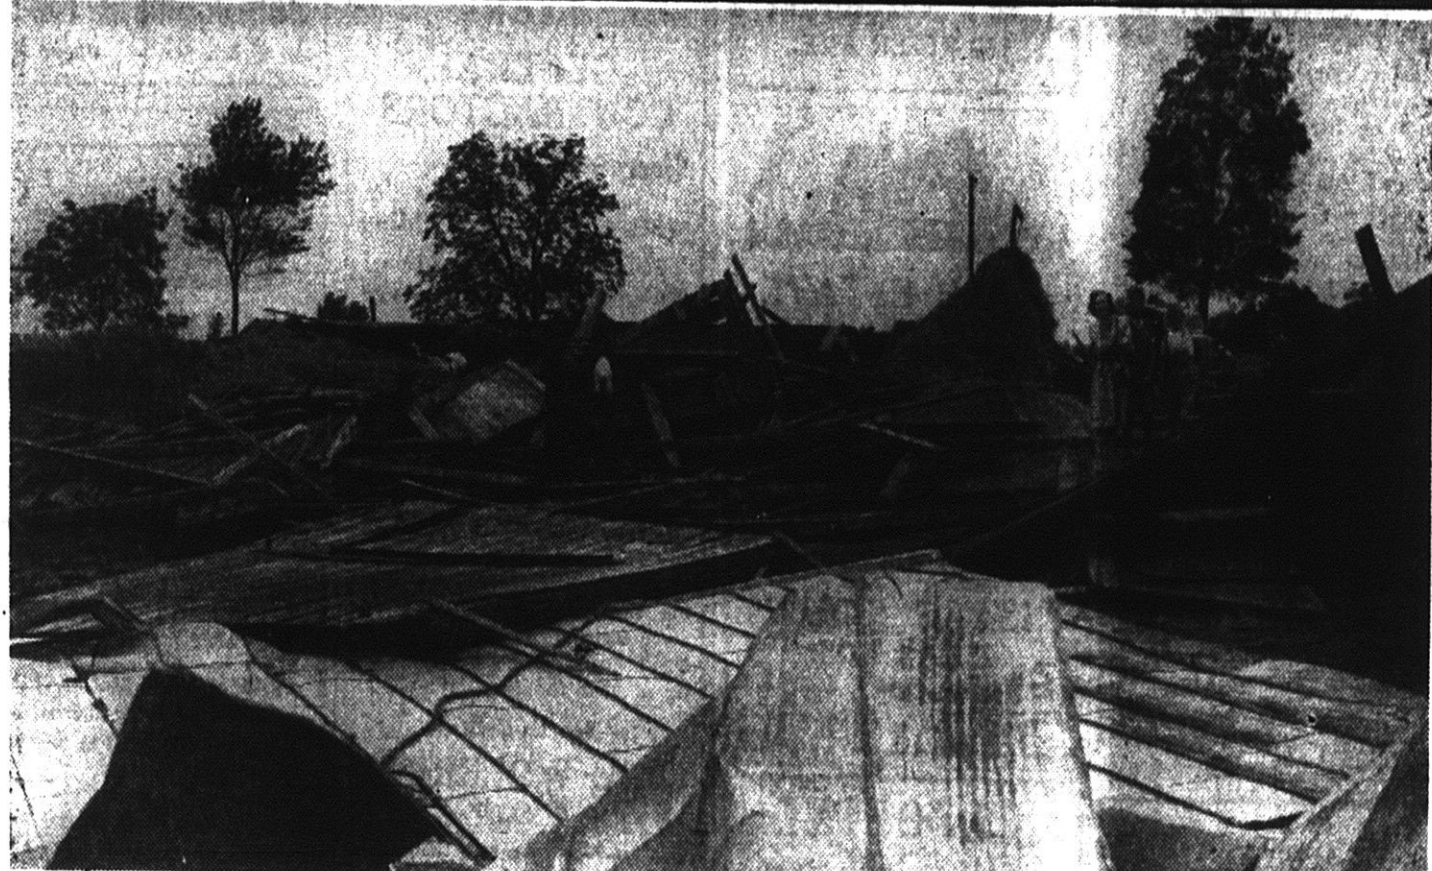

Prof. De Graaf received his A. B. degree from Calvin college, Grand Rapids, and his A. M. degree from the University of Michigan. He is faculty adviser for the Milestone, college yearbook, and business adviser for the Anchor, student newspaper.

Miss Ross, who teaches English and cultural history, is a graduate of Hope college and received her master's degree from the University of Wisconsin and the University of Chicago. Her campus interests are in drama and oratory and she serves as advisor to Palette and Masque, art and dramatic club, and to the Women's Athletic association.

Mr. Brouwer is assistant to the president and was formerly personnel director. His new title of dean of students will eliminate the personnel position. He is a graduate of Hope college and holds a master's degree from Northwestern university. During the first semester of this year he was on leave of absence doing special work at Chicago university.

Several changes in buildings on the campus were also approved. Work has started in converting two classrooms in Graves hall into a faculty room and office.

This Is What Is Left of Three Barns in Bauer Following Storm

Damage estimated at $7,000 not including loss of livestock resulted in Blendon township near Bauer Friday night when three large barns were blown down in a severe wind storm. Top picture shows what happened to the barn on the Ralph Boerema property. The middle picture shows what is left of the barn on the Fred Abel farm. The bottom picture shows the remains of the barn on the Isaac Kramer farm where four cows were lost. Mr. and Mrs. Kramer were in the barn when it fell. He suffered a foot fracture. She was bruised.

May Bond Sales Show Increase

Sale of war savings bonds in Holland during May totaled $159,625, an increase of $25,775 over the April sales of $133,850, Frank M. Lievense, executive chairman of the committee to promote the sale of stamps and bonds in Holland, reported today.

He said sales for May 1-15 amounted to $103,175 and for May 16-31 totaled $56,450.

Mr. Lievense is planning to go to Grand Rapids June 10 to attend a general meeting for all county and executive chairmen from 26 surrounding counties. Frank N. Isbey, state chairman on the war savings program, will be principal speaker and will conduct the meeting in the Panti-lind hotel.

Charge Fisherman With Failing to Have License

Herbert Vanden Berg, 37, of Grand Rapids paid court costs of $6.85 to Municipal Judge Raymond L. Smith Wednesday on a charge of fishing without a license.

The alleged offense occurred May 30 while he was fishing in Lake Macatawa and Conservation Officer Forrest Lavoy swore to the complaint.

The following motorists have paid fines and costs to the court for traffic violations: Denis Kortering, 22, route 3, Holland, running red light, $3; Tolle Martin, 21, West Ninth St., no operator's license, $5; George Miller, Macatawa park, illegal parking, $1.

Local Cooperation in Flag Week Observance Urged

As plans went forward today for Holland's celebration of Flag week, June 8 to 14, Mayor Henry Geerlings urged all manufacturers, merchants, service clubs, fraternal organizations, war veterans, schools and citizens to cooperate in arrangements for a mammoth parade which will come at the end of the national observance.

The parade will be held Monday, June 15, at 7:45 p.m.

Endorsing Flag week, Mayor Geerlings urged display of the American flag as "definitely worth while as a patriotic effort that should result in better Americanism throughout the nation."

The basic purpose of Flag week, the mayor said, is to promote national unity—a united citizenship free from class hatred and racial and religious intolerance, a national solidarity which will make impossible in America the existence of any ism except Americanism.

"Through patriotic education and the spreading among our people a better understanding and deeper appreciation of American ideals and institutions, we will be stimulated to combat all forces and influences which are hostile to these ideals and institutions," he continued.

Death Claims Nathan Pelton

Grand Haven, June 4 (Special)—Nathan Elmer Pelton, 70, Rothbury, died at noon Monday in the Michigan Soldiers' home, Grand Rapids, where he had been for the past seven months. He had been ill about one year.

He was born in Robinson township Sept. 10, 1871, and for the past 20 years had farmed near Rothbury. He was a veteran of the Spanish-American war, having served with Co. F of Grand Haven, 32nd Michigan infantry.

He was a member of the Sherman S. Dickinson camp of the Spanish-American War veterans. Survivors are the widow Mrs. Marie Pelton; two sons, Charles of Rothbury and Morris of Fort Custer; one daughter, Mrs. Herman Wagner of Rothbury; six grandchildren; one brother, Cort Pelton of Robinson township; and two sisters, Mrs. Hugo Kuhlman of Grand Haven and Mrs. Edward Stearns of Mt. Vernon, Wash.

Club to Sponsor Beach Project

The board of directors of the Holland Kiwanis club at a meeting Monday night in the Warm Friend tavern voted to sponsor its underprivileged children's project again this year in which the children will be taken on outings to Lake Michigan.

The board appointed Ray Holwerda as director to be in charge of the children. The first group of children will be taken to the beach during the first week of July.

The project will continue through August and will be climaxed with a big beach party at which the club members will entertain the children. This project was successfully introduced and carried out last year.

Directors also voted to hold several of their club luncheons at the Holland Country club during the summer.

Members of the board are President James Klomprens, Secretary Arthur Alderink, Dr. Walter Hoeksema, Frank Bolhuis, Jr., Henry Streur, Walter Kieton, Henry Palmros, Simon Borr and William J. Meengs.

Infant Passes Away in Grand Haven Hospital

Grand Haven, June 4 (Special)—Michael Pavlin, four-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Pavlin of Ferrysburg, died in municipal hospital Sunday at 8:30 a.m. He was born in Grand Haven January 26, 1942. He is survived by his parents.

Second Child Crushed to Death in Local Accidents

Kenneth Jarvis, Three,
Crushed as Vehicle Is
Moved From Rail Car

Kenneth Dexter Jarvis, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Jarvis, Jr., 194 East 14th St., died in Holland hospital shortly before 1 p.m. yesterday of injuries received a short time before when the rear wheels of a heavily loaded truck passed over his body while he was playing in the coal yard of the Holland Cooperative Co. on the north side of 14th St. at the Pere Marquette crossing.

His death resulted from a severely crushed chest. He was unconscious when carried into the hospital by his mother and died shortly afterwards.

Driver of the truck was Nick Kragt, 31, 139 East 21st St. Visibly affected by the accident, Kragt told a News reporter at the scene of the mishap that Jarvis and his older brother, Larry, 4, had been playing on the truck. When a switch engine approached, he was forced to move his truck away from a railroad car from which he had been loading limestone. Kragt said he did not see the two boys as they were opposite the driver's side of the truck.

John Vos, 65, 15th St. and Pine Ave., said he had yelled to the boys to get off the truck. Larry got off the truck, he said, but Kenneth who was sitting on the running board of the moving truck fell off, got back on the running board and fell off a second time directly under the truck's dual right wheels. Vos stated he also yelled at the driver but Kragt was unable to hear his warning.

Kragt was the first to reach the crushed child and his mother arrived to take her son in her arms. A passerby rushed the mother and the injured boy to the hospital.

The truck was loaded with about five tons of limestone, Kragt said. The boys had been playing about the coal yards and near the railroad tracks and one neighbor said the mother had constantly warned the boys not to play there.

Kragt was a great friend of the boys of the neighborhood because he played with them and they often begged him to take them with him in the truck.

They had been playing on his truck and he had coaxed them to get off with a promise that he would take them some other time, the neighbor woman said.

Kenneth Jarvis was born in Holland April 28, 1939. Besides the parents, he is survived by two brothers, Larry, 4, and Bobby, 16 months old; and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Jarvis, Sr., Holland.

The father is employed at the Holland Precision Parts plant.

Funeral rites for the Jarvis boy will be held Friday at 2 p.m. from Grace Episcopal church, with the Rev. Arthur C. Barnhart officiating. Burial will be in Pilgrim Home cemetery. The body may be viewed at the Nibbelink-Notier funeral chapel tonight.

Sixty Finish Course As Air Raid Wardens

Sixty senior air raid wardens completed their course in air raid wardens Tuesday night after having attended weekly classes for the past several weeks.

Twenty-three members of the group will be required to take a course in first aid the first class of which will be held Thursday night in room 37 of the Junior high school building.

Upon receiving their air raid certificates, each one will be assigned to a post throughout the city and will have assistants working under them.

Tuesday night's lesson consisted of a fire drill in which the air raid wardens were given practical instructions and demonstrations on west Ninth St. by Acting Fire Chief Andrew Klomprens on the laying of fire hose.

The air raid warden school was conducted by Ernest V. Hartman.

Cargo of Coal Brought Here by Lake Freighter

The first coal boat of the 1942 shipping season came into Holland harbor Wednesday about 5 p.m., carrying 7,000 tons of coal which were unloaded on Harrington's dock. The freighter departed about 12:30 a.m. today.

HURT AT PARK
Rudolph Bilek, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bilek, 315 West 15th St., suffered a skin abrasion on his chest about four inches long and was treated Wednesday in Holland hospital. It was reported he was hurt at Kollen park.

Barbara Haneveld of Holland sophomore at Western Michigan college, Kalamazoo, has been elected marshal of the Academy, one of the outstanding sororities on Western Michigan campus.

Contagions Total 125 During May in Holland

On behalf of Dr. William M. Tappan, city health officer, Ben Wiersma, city inspector, reported here at the monthly meeting of the board of health that 125 cases of contagious disease had been reported during May in Holland.

They included red measles, one; German measles, 59; mumps, 43; chicken pox, 12; whooping cough, eight; scarlet fever, two.

Registration to Be County-Wide

Centers for Canning
Sugar Listing Set Up;
Will Start Next Week

A county-wide registration will be held during the weeks of June 8-13 and 15-20 for applicants in need of extra sugar for canning.

Registration headquarters will be established at Allendale school, June 11 and 18; Conklin fire barn, June 11 and 18; Coopersville public school, June 11 and 18; Grand Haven, court house June 8, 9, 10 and 11; Holland, John Good store, June 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12; Hudsonville, school, June 11 and 18; Zeeland school, June 11, 12, 18 and 19.

It will be necessary for each applicant to present their sugar rationing books issued at the previous registration, also books of each member of the family unit. The government allows one pound of sugar for each four quarts of fruit canned last year, in addition to the regular allotment, covered in the ration book.

Each family will be allowed one pound per person per annum for preserves, jams and jellies. One person can register for the entire family. Applicants may register at the place most convenient for them.

John Good of Holland, a member of the county rationing board, today announced plans for next week's registration of local persons for rationing of sugar for canning.

The registration will begin Monday and continue through Friday. Registration centers in the G. A. R. room of the city hall and at the Chamber of Commerce office will be open daily from 1 to 5 p.m.

Those who find it inconvenient to register during the afternoon may register between 9 a.m. and noon at the John Good store, 23 West Eighth St., which also will be open during the afternoon.

Plan to Extend Salvage Drive

At a meeting of the "Salvage for Victory" committee of the Ottawa county defense council Monday night in the Tulip Time office, plans were discussed for the extension of salvage work to additional materials which are in great demand.

Scrap rubber, metals of all kinds, particularly iron and steel, and kitchen greases are badly needed, according to government sources, and plans are being made for drives to start the flow of these materials.

County Chairman William Vander Laan will appoint a representative from each community to meet with the salvage committee at its next meeting June 15 at 8 p.m. in the Tulip Time office. Scrap material dealers and all others interested in this vital work are invited.

Attention was called to the War Production board order blank No. M-15-b, which states: "No person shall, unless expressly permitted by the director of industry operations, destroy by burning or any other means, all or any part of any tire, tire casing or tire tube, or any waterproof footwear heel, sole, hose, belting or storage battery box, whether worn out or not, which is composed in whole or in part of any kind of rubber (including but not limited to rubber and latex, scrap rubber, reclaimed rubber and synthetic rubber)."

Attending the meeting were Chairman Vander Laan, Simon Borr, Clyde Sands, Philip Van Hartsveldt, M. P. Russell, George Van Schelven and John Van Dam. In accordance with request from James E. West, chief scout executive, scouts of the Ottawa-Allegan council will immediately put emphasis on collection of rubber articles as requested by the war production board.

Full-Year Federal Auto Stamps on Sale June 10

Full-year federal auto use stamps will go on sale at the Holland post office Wednesday, June 10, Acting Postmaster Harry Kramer announced today. The stamps will sell for $5 each and will be good until July 14, 1943.

Uncle, in Backing Car From Driveway, Hits Mary Lou Hellenthal

Death struck twice within seven hours in Holland Wednesday when two children were crushed to death under the wheels of motor vehicles in two separate accidents.

Mary Lou Hellenthal, 16-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Hellenthal, route 4, Holland, after being admitted to Holland hospital of head injuries and a severely crushed chest.

She had been run over by an automobile, operated by her uncle, Henry Hellenthal, 26, as it was being backed from the driveway at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hellenthal, 297 West 22nd St., parents of Tony and Henry Hellenthal.

The accident occurred about 7:45 p.m. as Mrs. Tony Hellenthal and Mr. and Mrs. John Hellenthal prepared to leave for Grand Haven where they planned to visit Frank Hellenthal, 19, another son of the latter couple.

Henry Hellenthal told the coroner that he did not see the child but when he heard a "thump," he stopped his car at once. Upon alighting, he found the child's body under the car on the left side in front of the left rear wheel.

The car wheel had passed over the baby's body at the neck. After picking up the child's crushed body, the mother placed it in Henry Hellenthal's car and was driven to the hospital by him.

Gerrit Hellenthal, a cousin of Tony and Henry Hellenthal, who boards at the John Hellenthal home, was in the driveway at the time but he said he did not see the child.

The father is employed at the Holland Motor Express, Inc., and was at work at the time of the accident. Tearfully, he told Coroner Vande Water and local police at police headquarters Wednesday night how his daughter had learned to walk when 11 months old.

Henry Hellenthal was backing his car from the driveway in order that Frank Hellenthal's car could be removed and driven to Grand Haven by Mrs. Tony Hellenthal, she and the other children having gone to the Hellenthal home earlier in the evening.

Mrs. Jacob Van Dyke, 340 Washington Ave., who chanced to be passing the Hellenthal home, told the coroner and Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff today that the child walked into the path of the car from the right side. She said the driver was carefully backing the car.

Mary Lou Hellenthal was born in Holland on Jan. 21, 1941.

Besides the parents, she is survived by one brother, John Edward; two sisters, Albertha and Leona Serie, all at home; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Vander Wal, and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hellenthal, all of Holland.

Funeral services for the Hellenthal baby will be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m. from the home and at 2 p.m. from Nibbelink-Notier funeral chapel, with the Rev. C. M. Beerthus of the Immanuel Reformed church officiating. Burial will be in Pilgrim Home cemetery.

Draft Board Gets Call For Second June Quota

The local selective service board has received notice from state headquarters that it will be called upon to supply an additional 30 registrants for the army under selective service on June 27.

The board received a quota of 35 to leave here Wednesday night for Kalamazoo where physical examinations will be given. However, only 15 departed and the rest of the quota will be credits from previous enlistments.

State headquarters also advised the board its July quota will be 68 registrants and it is hoped they will be called in one call during the month.

Beckfort Is Appointed To Scott Field Position

Howard Beckfort, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Beckfort, 67 West 18th St., has accepted a civil service appointment with the radio air corps of the war department at Scott field near Belleville, Ill.

Beckfort completed his course at Tulane university May 23 and received his master's degree. He spent a few days in Holland before leaving to accept his new appointment.

He was driven to Belleville by Mr. and Mrs. Beckfort and children, Norma, Mae and Robert.

Long Active as Plumber Here

Derk Steketee, the elder member of the firm D. Steketee and Son, plumbing and heating, has been in the plumbing business for almost 39 years. He is considered the oldest plumber in years of service in Holland.
In the early years the bicycle played a large part in transporting tools and materials to the job. The first auto used by the business, in 1915, was used for both business and pleasure. George Steketee, junior member of the firm went into the business with his father in June, 1936. After spending 10 years teaching school he decided to return to the plumbing work with which he was familiar with since his youth.

The plumbing trucks used by the company are well equipped to handle all types of plumbing and heating repairs. The firm is part owner of an electric root cutting machine used for cleaning out sewers. This machine will be in great demand during the next couple of years due to the fact that old tile sewers with iron pipe will in all probability be unable to be replaced.

Estimates are given on any new or remodeling jobs. The firm offers assistance by helping to secure a priority number in order that the work may be done. The concern handles any of the better known plumbing fixtures.
Mr. Steketee advises that plumbing fixtures be checked and kept in shape as repair parts may be hard to get in the near future.

Ideal Cleaners Maintains Service

CORNER SIXTH & COLLEGE AVE.

The Ideal Dry Cleaners "Prompt Service Always" slogan is still in force and has not been curtailed to any serious extent due to the rationing of tires or other material needed to give the public the desired service which Ideal Cleaners has followed throughout many successful years in business.
The Ideal Cleaners stress the importance of cleaning and pressing of clothing of all kinds to conserve and permit longer wear of garments. In these times it is also essential to be sure that only the best chemicals and cleaners are used in the cleaning process. Ideal uses only the best.
"Send in your light summer clothes, flimsy materials regularly," the firm says. "They will be handled with expert care and returned promptly."

Prompt Delivery By Westing Firm
The Westing Coal Co., successors to Teerman-Van Dyke, is owned and operated by Evert Westing and Son. The concern was taken over by them Jan. 1, 1941. It is located at 121 East 7th St. The son, Donald, is at present in the United States army.
Westing Coal Co. handles all grades of good quality coal, including Pocahontas, Mayflower and Regal, Blue Hard, Stoker and Cannel coal for fire places. Two trucks are operating all the time with prompt delivery service.
Before taking over the coal business, Mr. Westing operated a grocery in partnership with Mr. Warner. Mr. Westing has been in business in Holland for the past 35 years.

Exports of tobacco from Cuba for February totaled $1,072,000, an increase of 12 per cent over the total for the same month in 1941.

Must Make This War Final One, Wichers States

Victory for Civilization Is Ultimate Goal, He Says in Holiday Talk

Speaking at the annual Memorial day services Saturday in Pilgrim Home cemetery, Dr. Wynand Wichers, president of Hope college, said Americans face three obligations in waging war against the Axis.

He stated that "we must definitely have in our minds the issue which we are trying to defend, we must dedicate ourselves to a military victory and we must dedicate ourselves to a victory for civilization after the military victory has been won."

Preceding the services in the cemetery, a parade was held from the city hall through the downtown business district. The first wartime Memorial day since 1918, tribute was paid not only to the dead of past wars but also to those who are making the supreme sacrifice in World War II.

Dr. Wichers said it had been a custom for 75 years to pay tribute to those who had given their lives "that we and our institutions may remain free."

Pointing out that the foundations for the principles of freedom were laid during the Revolutionary war more than 150 years ago, he contended that if the present war is lost, conditions will be totally different and that Americans will not be able to think, act or create as they desire. Americans can rededicate themselves to see that the ideals for which the war dead sacrificed their lives can continue, he said.

Concerning the issues which are now being defended, he said America is not fighting to establish independence, nor is it a war to establish unity or emancipation.

"We are not fighting a war for conquest for we have territory enough in which American ideals may grow and propagate. We are not fighting a war to overthrow a government for the people have the right to choose the government of their choice."

"We are fighting a war to destroy a body of ideals which would mean the destruction of all free men and women."

"The human individual is a sacred personality and a child of God and no man has the right to rule over any persons unless he is elected or chosen by them to become their guardian."

Dr. Wichers said a military victory is an absolute necessity. It must be a certain defeat of those ideals which would enslave us. He said the war is not only being fought on the battlefield, on the sea and in the air but also in the plants and financial, educational and religious institutions.

"The battle of production shows what the people can do when they begin to fight. There can be no question about our unity. We are a united people."

He said that winning the victory for civilization will be more difficult than winning the military victory, pointing out that a military victory was won in 1918 but America became complacent and lost the war for civilization.

"Now we have to fight it all over again. War is too costly in money and in blood to do every generation. We must dedicate ourselves that it will be the last of the great wars and with God's help, it will be the last."

Although America must submit to undemocratic regimentation during war, Dr. Wichers said, the people must see to it that democratic principles are restored after a military victory has been won. He said it is each individual's responsibility to participate in the victory for civilization.

"After our military victory, we must attempt to bring about a new international order in which all nations, all men and women will have a share. Prophets have dreamed of this and statesmen have tried to create it. We thought it had been created in the formation of the League of Nations."

"In winning the war for civilization, then we have rededicated ourselves and this hallowed ground. The finest nation will be the one with the best social and political organization in which the majority will rule, yet the people will remain free, not only in this country but in other countries."

"With this accomplished we will have paid our respects to those who have died," Dr. Wichers concluded.

Distribute Boomerangs in Holland High School

The Holland high school yearbook "The Boomerang" was distributed among students Thursday after school. The cover of the book is in the school colors, maroon with orange lettering. Each section is cleverly illustrated with charcoal sketches pertaining to the various activities.

Local Men in the Armed Forces

Vernon Walter Kruitthof, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kruitthof of 131 West 28th St., enlisted with the U. S. navy Dec. 12, 1941. He received his basic training at Newport, R. I., and later was transferred to convoy training at Boston, Mass. His parents received a telegram on Thursday of this week that he returned that day to Norfolk, Va., after spending two months in foreign ports. Before leaving for the navy he was employed by Consumer's dairy. He is rated as second class seaman and was home for two days in February.

Pvt. Walter Wiersma

PFC Nate Wiersma

Pvt. Walter Wiersma, 29, and Private First Class Nate Wiersma, 27, represent the family of Mr. and Mrs. D. Wiersma, 148 Central Ave., in the armed forces. Walter was inducted March 20, 1941, and was sent from Fort Custer to Camp Roberts for three months of infantry training. From there he was sent to Camp San Luis Obispo, Calif., and four months later was en route to the Philippines when the war broke out. The original plans were changed and he is now located near Escondido, Calif. Before entering the service he was manager of a service station at 15th St. and River Ave. Nate has been serving with the armed forces since June 4, 1941. From Fort Custer he was sent to Camp Wolters, Tex., and then back to Fort Custer for a few weeks before being transferred to Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., where he is now attached to the headquarters detachment. Both he and his brother have received medals for expert marksmanship.

Two Permits on List in Holland

Former Holland Boy Is Graduated With Honors

Jack Zwemer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Zwemer, former Holland residents but now of Berrien Springs, was graduated from Emmanuel Missionary academy Thursday night with high honors.

He was president of the graduating class which included 21 seniors and was valedictorian. He maintained an A average for the four years in school.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kramer and Mrs. Edward Zwemer of Holland attended the commencement exercises at Berrien Springs Thursday night.

Hope Seniors Are Urged to Give God Their Lives So World May Be Lifted

"The world is deep sunk in sin, despair and misery. Give God your life that he may use it to lift up that world unto the stature of the fullness of Christ," advised Dr. John Van Ess, head of the Boys' school in Basrah, Iraq, now making his home in New York city, as he addressed members of the Hope college graduating class at the annual baccalaureate service Sunday night in Memorial chapel.

Dr. Van Ess, outstanding missionary-statesman and Hope alumnus, chose as his sermon topic "Two Statures," speaking of the contrast between the two statures, one obtained by man's own effort, and the other reached through Christ. Using as an example the physical development of Theodore Roosevelt, Dr. Van Ess pointed out that a man can add to his stature, but, referring to the words of Jesus, he said, "Death is inevitable. It is the cubit to which we cannot add. Science is as helpless in the face of physical death as it ever was."

Jesus came into a dark world with his promise of resurrection to quell the fear of death, he added. "Man lives in a four-story house, the first story of which he shares with all material things, the second story with all living things, and the third story with all animals that think and have conscious spirits," Dr. Van Ess said in describing the ways man has added to his stature by modern inventions, and discoveries in the realm of science. However, he pointed out that "Scientists are not quite so cocksure as they used to be, and nobody knows better than a true scientist how much he does not know."

What the scientists do not have is a knowledge of the future, he said. Only the pierced hands and wounded side of Christ is shown by God through that impenetrable veil of the unknown. But because of God's assurance of life after death, people can begin thinking Christlike thoughts and living Christlike lives here on earth, knowing that death cannot frustrate their plans but only accelerate them to a fuller realization, he said.

The fourth story of that house is shared by man with God, and the something wrong there which causes a pervading atmosphere of death is sin, Dr. Van Ess continued. "Man is impotent and helpless in himself but God bridges the chasm for him," he said. By the use of appropriate illustrations and stories, Dr. Van Ess showed that the gap of social salvation has not yet been bridged. "We have Christ as a personal Savior, but we have not made Him adequate for society," he said. "Society breeds crime and nationalism breeds war, therefore people who are Christians in church should also be Christians at the polls."

Dr. Wynand Wichers, college president, presided and read the scripture. The prayer of blessing was offered by the Rev. G. Vander Linden of Chicago, and Dr. Van Ess gave the prayer of benediction. Bouquets of vari-colored peonies and iris, together with palms and flowering shrubbery, decorated the platform.

Members of the junior class served as ushers. Wallace Van Liere and Harvey Koop lead the procession of seniors, faculty and chapel choir, and ushered them to their seats at the front of the auditorium. "The Son of God Goes Forth to War" by Herbert Cutler was sung by the chapel choir as a processional hymn. Special music by the choir under the direction of Robert Cavanaugh included the singing of "Hall Gladdening Light" by Wood, and "Onward, Ye Peoples!" by Sibley.

Mrs. W. Curtis Snow presided at the organ, playing "Allegro" from the First Organ Symphony by Borowski as a prelude and "Toccata" (Gothic Suite) by Boellman as a postlude. During the offertory she played "Intercession by Binkham."

Plans for the annual Fourth of July celebration at the Overisel Grove are being completed. The committee in charge consisting of Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Albers, Harvey Kollen, Charles Kraker, Irvin Folkert, Amy Slotman, Bernice Oatman, and Juella Wolters announce a band concert, speaker, and ball game for the afternoon; and an amateur program, open to all, is scheduled for the evening entertainment. Anyone planning to enter the amateur contest should make application with J. H. Albers, route 1, Hamilton, before June 24. Prizes will be awarded.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Prins and children of Muskegon were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Nienhuis last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kamp of Cleveland, Ohio, were the guests last week of Rev. and Mrs. G. J. Vandaele.

Mrs. Andrew Lindstra and Besie and Evelyn Lindstra of Roseville, Ill., and Mrs. John Molenaar of Oakdale, Ill., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lampen during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Glupker and Mrs. Gerard De Haan and children, Shirley and Stanley, all of Moline, called on Mrs. Henry Hoekje last week Thursday afternoon.

Prayer meeting in the Reformed church was held Thursday evening with Gus Holleman as leader. The subject was "The Cast of Discipleship."

Brothers and sisters of Harry Nienhuis and Kenneth Hoeve gathered at the Bert Nienhuis home last week Friday evening for a farewell party. Harry and Kenneth leave for Camp Custer on the 28th.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Rigterink of Sparta spent the week-end with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rigterink.

Given New Red Cross Program

County Chapter Assumes Task of Filling Comfort Kits for U.S. Soldiers

Local Red Cross officials who attended a conference last week at the W. K. Kellogg foundation camp on Pine Lake were advised of the national Red Cross production program for 1942-43, as outlined by Mrs. Richard Swigert and Mrs. Mary Banks Parry, both of St. Louis, Mo.

Those present from the county chapter were Mrs. C. M. Selby, chairman of production, and Mrs. Thomas Marsille, chairman of sewing, both of Holland; and Mrs. Parmelee, Mrs. Karskaden and Mrs. Nienhuis of Grand Haven.

They learned that the program calls for a large quota of men and boys' sewed garments to be used in the tropics for foreign war relief. For the armed forces, the knitting work will be continued and surgical dressing program will be continued with the amount to depend on the needs of the U. S. surgeon general.

A new item to be produced is a comfort kit, to be given to soldiers embarking for foreign duty. The war department has approved the list of items to be included in each kit which includes pencils, pins and needles, buttons, cigarettes, a book, soap and soap dish, post cards and stationery.

The county Red Cross chapter has purchased sufficient materials from its funds to fill at least 100 kits which will be done by various organizations sewing for the Red Cross.

Because so many materials are being purchased by the county chapter, the new quota places an unexpected obligation on the chapter. The chapter is asking any person who desires to fill one or more of these comfort kits to contact the production room of Mrs. Willis Diekema.

Red Cross Will Offer Water Safety Program

Mrs. J. E. Telling of Holland, chairman of the Ottawa County Red Cross chapter, announced today that the chapter will again offer its water safety program.

She said Edward Damsen of Holland will be in charge of the program for southern Ottawa county and Gene Roth of Grand Haven will supervise the work in northern Ottawa county.

If repairs aren't quite as fast BLAME THE AXIS

CONSERVATION of trucks and rubber is vitally important to American Victory. In order to save automotive equipment and tires, Michigan Bell now groups orders for repairs and installations, so that as many as possible can be handled on one trip.

Most people will notice no difference in the quality of their service. But if you find it takes a little longer to have a telephone installed, a cord replaced, or repairs made, you will understand.

In so far as war restrictions and material shortages permit, we shall continue to provide the best service possible. We look forward to the day when we again can give the kind of service wanted, "when and where wanted." But now, and for the duration, your needs come first.

AFTER NINE YEARS

It was nine years ago this month that the youth members of the Nazi party in Berlin staged a huge bonfire in which 25,000 books were burned. That orgy of fanaticism, engaged in for the most part by youngsters too callow to understand what they were doing, has been followed by such a harvest of horror that the whole course of human history has been affected by it. Those German boys who, boylike, thought it was a great lark to burn books, are now—most of them at least—dead, the victims of their own fanaticism. Figures not denied by Germany show that more than 1,700,000 Germans have died in the present war, and most of them were young men. Has there even been a better demonstration of the truth that "they that take the sword shall perish by the sword"?

That symbolic act of burning books as the first dramatic act of the Nazis when they came to power struck such horror in the hearts of free people because of the fact that it was symbolic. By burning the books that repudiated their philosophy the Nazis were symbolically destroying free thought, free expression, freedom itself. The books themselves were of minor importance; in our era of printing, copies of virtually all of them survived, if not in Germany then in other countries. The time has passed when a tyrant can destroy any book in a physical sense. But he can develop a philosophy which says, "We are closing our minds to everything that disagrees with us." And from that attitude to the attitude of trying to force a similar philosophy upon free people is but a step. That step has been taken during the past nine years.

For the essence of Nazism is intolerance. The essence of true democracy—the true article, not what sometimes goes under that name—is toleration. Essentially we are fighting for the right of anybody to publish in book form or in any other form any ideas he may believe in—the right of the Nazis along with the others to publish their ideas to the world. We are determined to prevent the Nazis from burning our books as they burned the books in their own country. For if we let them burn our books we let them destroy our freedom.

And dangerous though they are, the Nazis are not the greatest menace we are meeting in that battle. Far more menacing is the intolerance of sections of our own population that are screaming for the suppression of free opinion. Such people are doing the same thing the Nazis did nine years ago when they staged their bonfire of books. They do it in the name of patriotism but they are a deadly menace. The Nazis we can defeat, and we will defeat them eventually. Intolerance among our own people is far more difficult to cope with.

The Day of Suffering

Mark 15:23, 24; Luke 23:33-46

By Henry Gearlings

We have been following Jesus rather closely as He carried on His work among the people of His land. There is much besides that may be said about His crucifixion, but the words He spoke while He suffered will give us the privilege of concentrating our minds on what was very close to Him at the time.

His first word was one of pardon. It can be said that He had very few friends in the crowd that assembled about the cross. It is not probable that there was one in ten there who was really devoted to Him and the cause for which He stood. There has always been some doubt as to whom Jesus included in His prayer for forgiveness. Some think it was the four soldiers who nailed Him to the cross, but there is no reason to limit it in that fashion. Knowing His spirit as we do, which spirit we are confident could not be bittered, we know He must have had in mind all those who had it in their hearts to do Him harm. There was no one Jesus met during the active years of His ministry He did not forgive no matter how hardened in iniquity that person may have been.

The word Jesus spoke to the penitent thief gives man the assurance that He need not despair. No reader of these lines need be told that Jesus was the friend of sinners and seemed to be proud of that relationship. Long before He identified Himself with them on the cross He had identified Himself with them up and down the land in which He lived. It was to this class that He gave a hearty welcome. He had come to seek and save the lost and to that task He committed Himself with all His being.

It may seem strange at first that our Lord who was suffering so excruciatingly on the cross should be interested in those who had gathered about Him. Two persons in that crowd stood very close to Jesus. One of them was Mary, His mother, and the other was John, the beloved disciple. It was not extraordinary that He should think of them in particular. He owed much to His mother to be sure for she had grown to be sympathetic with Him in His work. Then, too, He had found so much in John that was like His own thought that He drew him very close to Himself. In words that were among the most tender Jesus ever uttered, He commended His mother to this disciple. It may be assumed that until the end of her days she lived near Him and probably in His home. Such thought on His part presumably may not be regarded as so extraordinary when we consider both the depth and the universality of His love. That act on His part brings Him very close to all of us for His, it must be remembered, is ever and always a personal relationship.

Was Jesus actually forsaken by His Father, or was it only a feeling that grew out of the agony He was experiencing on the cross? Possibly both are correct. If He came to take the place of sinful man, then He must have experienced in some measure the total abandonment of His Father. The tendency on our part to say that these words do not mean what they say is hardly warranted. The depth of the reality of that feeling may be gathered from the very words themselves. Surely He would not have used them had they not conveyed the sense of complete abandonment. Everything had seemed to give way beneath Him. It appeared there was nothing further on which He could stand or upon which He could rest His hope.

There is good authority for the statement from others who suffered as Jesus had that the physical thirst is altogether beyond description. We do not need tarry here. Possibly it should be said that there was a deeper thirst than the physical which helped to bring that cry from His lips. It is not difficult for us at this point to realize how completely our Lord took man's place. There was no pang of suffering that He was not willing to assume in His own person.

The active work of Christ covered a period of something like three years. The time was when He emerged from the quiet home in Nazareth and undertook in a public way what the Father had given Him to do. Through the intervening years He labored with all His strength to bring the light of the gospel to that circle heard of it. He did not feel it was His task to go from land to land to proclaim His unsearchable riches. That was left for others to do. When he had imbedded in the lives of a small group of individuals the essentials of His message He was content to complete His earthly ministry by giving His life a sacrifice on the cross for the sins of the world.

Jesus had been a visitor to this earth. It was not in His plan to remain here. He had a work to accomplish among men and that being done, He returned to the throne He occupied before His incarnation. His ascension to the Father was more than an indication that He concluded in a perfect manner all that his advent involved. During the years of His sojourn here there was no stain of sin on His person and as a result the perfect fellowship that He enjoyed with the Father was unbroken.

Following a social time, refreshments were served by Lou White and her committee.

In the Good Old Days

Included in the news items of the March 4 issue of the Ottawa County Times published in 1898 by M. G. Manting were:

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Van den Berg on 14th St., last Sunday, a son.

The Century club met at the home of Dr. and Mrs. B. J. DeVries on East 12th St., Monday evening. The St. Cecilia quartette of Grand Rapids rendered some very fine music.

A marriage license was issued Wednesday to Benjamin B. Hoffman and Miss Elizabeth Zalusky, both of this city.

At the Holland classis held at Zeeland on Monday it was decided to build a parsonage for the Fourth Reformed congregation in this city.

Ottawa county has another creamery. The Borculo Creamery association has filed articles with the county clerk, showing a capital stock of $2,000. The association has 80 stockholders.

The County Sunday school convention held at Grand Haven on Wednesday was well attended. As the committee on nominations were appointed Messrs. Wright and Cook of Grand Haven and Mr. S. Yntema of Forest Grove; as committee on resolutions, Messrs. G. J. Diekema, E. K. Mohr and H. Vander Ploeg. As officers for the ensuing year were elected: President, Rev. W. Bruins of Coopersville; first vice-president, Hon. G. J. Diekema, of Holland; second vice-president, Rev. A. Stegeman of New Holland; secretary, Rev. E. N. Middleton of Coopersville; Assistant secretary, Mr. Seymour of Grand Haven; treasurer, Mr. A. Millman of Grand Haven. As delegates to the state convention to be held in Saginaw were elected Rev. Bruins and Mr. S. Yntema. Those present from Holland were Hon. Diekema, Rev. H. G. Birch, Rev. Adam Clark, Prof. J. H. Kleinheksel, Prof. J. T. Bergen and Messrs. Braak, Te Kolste, Schoon, Vander Ploeg and Vanderhulst.

A marriage license was granted a few days ago to Ed Zuidema of Byron and Ella Knoll of Jamestown.

The choir of the Third Reformed church enjoyed a sleigh ride Tuesday evening after which they went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kerkhof and enjoyed an oyster supper.

N. Davison of this city was married a few days ago at Kalamazoo to Miss Mills of that city. Mr. Davison is the baker at Vander Veen's bakery.

The senior class students of Hope college were pleasantly entertained by Prof. and Mrs. D. Yntema at their home on the Zeeland road Wednesday evening. Correspondence included: Port Sheldon—Mrs. Frank J. Davis, returned home last Saturday after an extended visit with friends in Holland, accompanied by Mrs. C. C. Reynolds, Mrs. Martin Ellenbaas of Grand Rapids and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swift of Holland and Charlie McFall and Miss Anna Schroeder of Port Sheldon.

Graafschap — Miss Jennie Jakobs was married Wednesday afternoon, March 1st, to Henry Lemmen of East Holland by Rev. J. Ketzer. They will make their future home in New Holland where the bridegroom has a farm.

Overisel—The consistory of the Reformed church held a meeting last week Wednesday morning to elect two elders to fill vacancies in place of G. J. Immink, deceased, and J. H. Hoffman who resigned on account of old age. The following were elected: H. Koolker and John Kleinheksel. The blowing up of the warship Maine is the engrossing subject of conversation among our people. It is to be hoped that it will be shown to be an accident and that no blame is attached to the Spanish government. Should Uncle Sam issue a call for men, it looks as if there would be a regiment to answer his call from this hamlet.

East Saugatuck—Mr. and Mrs. John Dozema of Oakland spent Monday and Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. John Oetman. Married by Rev. J. B. Hoekstra last week: Casper Belt and Miss Hattie Bekvoort; Henry Mannis and Miss Hannah Paul; W. Schipper and Miss Jennie Kotman; Gerrit Rammaker and Miss Geertje Wiegink. Mr. and Mrs. G. Kemmer are spending a week in Grand Haven.

Beechwood Group Has Anniversary

At a meeting held in the school Wednesday, May 27, the Beechwood Boostettes celebrated their 20th anniversary. Organized in 1922 with 20 members, the group has grown to a membership of 70 women, with an average attendance at the bi-weekly meetings of about 60. Although originally meeting for physical exercises, the club is now organized into four volleyball teams.

First officers of the club were Margaret Books, president; Kate Kardus, vice-president; Mildred Bertsch van Eenennaam, secretary; and Lou White, treasurer. Grace Dekker is president of this year's club; Helen Tyse, vice-president; Margaret Knutson, recording secretary; Ruth De Kraker, corresponding secretary; and May Armbruster, treasurer.

Following a social time, refreshments were served by Lou White and her committee.

Building Ordinance

of The City of Holland

— No. 390 —

BUILDING ORDINANCE PRESCRIBING MINIMUM CONSTRUCTION REQUIREMENTS No. 390

To regulate and establish minimum construction requirements for the erection, repairing and remodeling of all residential buildings in the City of Holland or within such adjacent territory over which the City of Holland may have jurisdiction, including single and two-family dwellings, multiple dwellings and private garages.

THE CITY OF HOLLAND ORDINANCE:

No person, firm or corporation shall erect, repair, or remodel any residential building, including single and two-family dwellings, multiple dwellings and private garages, in the City of Holland or within such adjacent territory over which the City of Holland may have jurisdiction without making full compliance with the following minimum construction requirements.

It shall be the duty of the City Building Inspector to make all proper and necessary inspections of all such building construction work and to enforce compliance with said minimum requirements.

Part I Minimum Construction Requirements

SECTION I. EXCAVATION:

1. Excavation for all foundations shall extend to solid ground. If, upon excavation, other than solid ground is encountered, the footings shall be redesigned and details of same shall be submitted to the Department of Building Inspection for approval.

2. Depth of excavation for all trench walls and piers including those under porches and steps shall be carried below the frost line, but in no case less than 2 feet, 6 inches.

3. All debris, such as stumps, roots, vegetation and wood scraps, occurring within the building area shall be removed. The ground level in unexcavated portions shall be at least 18 inches from the bottoms of floor joists and girders.

4. Finish grade shall slope to drain the water away from the building. All backfilling adjacent to the building shall be placed in layers approximately 12 inches in thickness. Each layer shall be puddled and tamped before additional layers are placed.

SECTION II. MASONRY:

A. General.

1. Poured concrete mixture shall not be leaner than the following:

(a) For plain concrete—1 part portland cement, 3 parts sand, 5 parts gravel, crushed stone, or blast furnace slag.

(b) For reinforced concrete—1 part portland cement, 2 1/2 parts sand, 4 parts gravel, crushed stone, or blast furnace slag.

(c) Water content shall be not more than 7 gallons of water per bag of cement.

(d) The aggregate shall be clean and free from loam and other foreign matter.

2. In freezing weather the concrete mix at the time of pouring shall have a temperature of at least 40 degrees F., but not more than 120 degrees F., and shall be maintained at a temperature above freezing until concrete has thoroughly set. Integral compounds for prevention of freezing shall not be used, except when approved by the Department of Building Inspection.

3. Mortar mixture shall be as follows:

1 part portland cement, 1 part lime putty, 6 parts sand by volume; or an approved prepared mortar mixed and used according to manufacturer's directions.

4. Retempering of mortar will not be permitted.

5. Floor finish—Topping, except for integral finish, shall be 1 part portland cement and 3 parts sand.

6. Masonry walls shall be constructed of hard-burned brick, stone, poured concrete, thoroughly cured concrete units, or hard-burned load bearing structural clay tile. The use of other masonry materials, including less hard-burned brick and load bearing structural clay tile, second-hand brick and masonry veneer materials less than 4 inches thick must be approved by the Department of Building Inspection.

7. Forms—All forms for concrete shall be tight, straight, and plumb and shall be rigidly braced to assure proper support of the concrete until set. Forms shall not be removed until concrete has thoroughly set. Loads shall not be placed on concrete until sufficient strength has developed to support such loads.

B. FOOTINGS.

1. All footings shall bear on undisturbed soil and be designed to distribute sufficiently the superimposed load to the particular type of soil upon which they bear.

2. Where soil conditions prevent sharp cut trenches for footings, side forms shall be used.

3. Footings will not be required under foundation walls 16 inches or more in thickness where the soil is hardpan or well-drained, firm and undisturbed soil. In all other cases, footings of poured concrete will be required.

4. The minimum dimensions of footings shall be as follows:

(a) Under 1-story frame dwellings containing no basement; thickness 6 inches; projection 3 inches on each side of wall.

(b) Under all other frame dwellings and under 1-story masonry dwellings; thickness 8 inches; projection 4 inches on each side of wall.

(c) Under masonry dwellings more than 1-story in height; thickness 12 inches; projection 6 inches on each side of wall. Footings may be same as in (b) if reinforced with not less than two 8-inch bars continuous in footing and spaced not to exceed 8 inches O. C.

(d) Under masonry piers; thickness 12 inches; projection each side 6 inches; area 4 square feet.

(e) Under posts and columns; thickness 12 inches; size 2 by 2 feet.

(f) Under chimneys; having one flue, thickness 8 inches; having two or more flues, thickness 12 inches; projection on all sides 6 inches.

Note—All footings shall be adequately reinforced where they cross and bear on filled trenches or other similar disturbed soil conditions.

5. Modifications of the above requirements may be made if such modifications are fully detailed and noted on drawings and are approved by the Department of Building Inspection.

Note—In locations where rock is encountered, footings may be modified only by permission of the Department of Building Inspection.

6. Footings drain tile, where used, shall be covered with 12 inches of porous material such as gravel, etc., with provision for draining water away from the building by connecting tile to dry well, sewer, or by other means.

C. FOUNDATIONS.

1. In no case shall the foundation wall thickness be less than that of the wall supported.

2. All load bearing foundation walls shall be poured concrete, solid masonry units or concrete blocks.

3. The following minimum requirements for foundation wall construction shall apply:

(a) 6-inch thickness: for poured concrete, supporting 1-story wood frame structures without basement.

(b) 8-inch thickness: for all other poured concrete walls.

(c) 8-inch thickness: for masonry unit walls which extend not more than 7 feet below outside finished grade. Maximum total height of the foundation wall and wall supported, 35 feet.

(d) 10-inch thickness: for masonry unit walls which extend more than 7 feet below outside finished grade.

Special Note—The Department of Building Inspection may, at its discretion, because of special or unforeseen soil conditions, require that the allowable depth of the foundation wall below outside finished grade be reduced; that the wall be adequately reinforced; or that the thickness be increased to resist lateral forces. The National Bureau of Standards, U. S. Department of Commerce, in its publication entitled "Recommended Minimum Requirements for Small Dwelling Construction," recommends a maximum depth of 5 feet below outside finished grade for 8-inch thick foundation walls constructed of masonry units. It is recognized that in many cases because of the nature of the soil, it is safe to extend the foundation walls to the depths permitted in these Minimum Construction Requirements. It must not be construed, however, that the permissible depths contained in these Minimum Construction Requirements will be applicable in all cases.

4. Where foundation walls are built of cement blocks, the top course shall be of solid masonry units or solid masonry material and shall be not less than 4 inches in height. (See details 1 and 2.) The joints on both sides of the wall shall be filled and pointed solid with mortar.

5. Pilasters not less than 4 by 12 inches shall be constructed to pier piers under the ends of all girders framing into 8-inch-thick foundation walls built of masonry units and poured concrete walls less than 8 inches in thickness and shall be bonded into the wall. Pier construction shall be as follows:

When the foundation walls are of hollow concrete block construction, the top 4 inches of the pier shall be of solid masonry material.

6. Foundation walls supporting masonry veneered stud frame walls shall be not less than 10 inches thick.

7. Foundation walls supporting frame construction shall extend not less than 8 inches above the adjoining outside finish grade, or 6 inches veneered.

8. All masonry chimneys shall have foundations of masonry or concrete (See detail 19) which shall extend down in the level of footing of main foundation walls surrounding the area where the chimney is located and where chimneys occur in outside walls or inside bearing walls, the footing shall be bonded with the wall footing.

9. Where dwellings are to be constructed on concrete slabs on the ground, the slab shall be laid on a bed (4 inch minimum thickness) of gravel, or other approved material. The slab shall have a minimum thickness of 4 inches, be properly surfaced with a hard finish, and shall be reinforced with not less than No. 10 gauge wire welded to cross at right angles at least every 6 inches. The outer 8 inches of the slab shall extend into the ground not less than 30 inches.

10. An opening of not less than 2 by 2 feet shall be installed to provide access for inspection and repair in each unexcavated space under wood and metal floor construction, and under concrete slabs where piling, duct work, etc., requiring periodic inspection or repair are located.

11. Foundation wall vents proportioned on a basis of 1 square foot for each 15 lineal feet of exterior wall shall be installed for ventilating all unexcavated spaces and each such space shall have at least two vents. Noncorrodible screening of not over 1 inch mesh shall be installed in each opening.

12. Foundations for araways, porches, steps, and terraces shall be adequately bonded or anchored to main walls.

D. EXTERIOR MASONRY WALLS.

Note—"Salmon" or soft brick will not be accepted for use as facing on outside surfaces of exterior walls.

1. Masonry walls shall have a thickness of not less than 8 inches for a height not to exceed 35 feet. Where two or more units are used to make up the thickness of the wall, the inner and outer courses shall be bonded into the wall by at least one header course in every eight courses, or by one full-length header in every 72 square inches of wall surface.

2. Masonry veneer applied to masonry walls shall be tied to the wall by one full-length header every 450 square inches of wall surface, or by non-corrodible metal wall ties spaced every fifth course or 15 inches vertically and not more than 32 inches horizontally.

3. Proper provision shall be made for adequate bonding and anchoring together of all intersecting concrete and masonry walls.

4. In walls constructed of hollow masonry units, at least 8 inches of solid masonry construction or other suitable bearing anchored to masonry walls shall be installed under ends of girders framing into masonry walls.

At least 4 inches of solid masonry shall be installed under all floor and ceiling joists and roof rafters. Solid masonry material equivalent to at least 2 courses of brick shall be used under the ends of lintels over openings.

5. Masonry veneer applied to wood frame walls shall have a thickness of not less than 3 1/2 inches and a height of not more than 35 feet, and veneer shall be anchored to the wood frame with noncorrodible metal ties spaced every fifth course or 15 inches vertically and not more than 12 inches o.c. horizontally. Provide a 1-inch space between the veneer and the wood construction (See details 2 and 17.) In all cases the wood construction shall be covered with waterproof building paper or saturated asphalt felt.

6. Party walls shall be not less than 8-inch-thick masonry construction; when flat roofs occur, shall extend from footing to 8 inches above the roof and capped with stone, corrosion-resisting sheet metal, portland cement or terra cotta coping; when pitched roofs occur, shall extend from footing to underside of roof boards at all points to form fire stops.

7. Joints between masonry units shall be not over 1/4 inch thick. In walls built of solid masonry units, all joints shall be filled solid. When hollow units are used, the mortar shall not be continuous through the joints. All outside and exposed inside joints shall be weathered or tooled unless approved otherwise by the Department of Building Inspection.

8. Adequate lintels or properly designed masonry arches will be required in the heads of all openings in masonry and masonry veneered walls.

9. All exterior masonry walls above the basement which are to be plastered, shall be furred with 2-inch-thick furring tile or with 1-inch wood furring strips spaced 16 inches o.c. or completely covered on the inside surface with an approved dampproofing material.

Note—When the exterior surface is stuccoed or painted with not less than 2 brush coats of portland cement paint or other approved paint, the furring and dampproofing may be omitted.

10. Chases required in exterior walls for piping or ducts shall be so designed and arranged as to maintain adequate structural strength in the wall. When chases extend to a point less than 8 inches from the exterior wall surfaces, the interior surfaces of the chase shall be plastered with portland cement mortar.

E. CHIMNEYS.

1. All chimneys shall be built of brick or stone. Chimneys, except those with solid brick walls 8 inches or more thick, shall be lined throughout with fireclay flue lining. (See details 21 and 22.) Minimum flue size: 8 by 8 inches or circular flues of equivalent effective area.

Note—The interior of the chimney shall be smooth when flue lining is not installed.

2. All chimneys shall be capped with mortar or other approved material to form a wash from the flue to the outside edge of the chimney.

3. All gas-fired house heaters and built-in unit heaters shall be connected to flues constructed of masonry as described in Paragraph 1. Other vents or flues may be used provided they are approved by the Underwriters Laboratories, Inc., and installed in accordance with the recommendations of the American Gas Association. Such flues shall extend through the roof. Gas-burning hot-water heaters shall have vents which may connect into the house heating flue, provided the connection is below the breeching.

4. In chimneys containing three or more flues, each group of two flues shall be separated from the other single or groups of two flues by brick with not less than 3 1/2 inches wide. (See details 21 and 22.) Where two flues are grouped without withes, the joints in the respective flue linings shall be staggered.

5. All fireplaces shall have hearths supported on fireproof construction. The hearths shall project at least 16 inches measured from the chimney breast, and the width shall be not less than the width of the fireplace opening plus 16 inches. (See details 19 and 20.)

6. Open fireplaces shall be constructed with smoke chambers and dampers of a size recommended by the manufacturer and shall be lined with fire brick or other materials approved by the Department of Building Inspection. The effective area of the flue shall be not less than 1/12 of the area of the fireplace opening. When an ash dump is provided, ashes shall empty into an enclosed chamber of brick construction provided with a metal clean-out door. (See details 18 to 20.)

7. All chimneys shall extend not less than 2 feet 6 inches above the highest ridge, and at least 2 feet higher than any ridge within 10 feet.

F. CEMENT FLOORS.

1. The garage terrace and porch floors, if of concrete construction, shall have a minimum thickness of 3 1/2 inches and shall be properly surfaced with a hard finish. The slabs shall be laid on a bed (4 inch minimum thickness) of gravel, cinders, or other approved material.

2. All outside brick steps shall be of hard-burned brick or approved paving brick. "Salmon" or soft brick will not be accepted for treads, platforms, terraces, or for exterior use.

3. Basement or cellar floor slabs shall be not less than 3-inch concrete if finished monolithic, otherwise 3-inch concrete and 1-inch topping.

4. All openings in basement floors shall have covers which shall be flush with the finish floor. Where floor drains occur, floor shall slope slightly to drain.

5. The floors supported on wood construction shall have concrete underfloor not less than 2 1/2 inches thick. Boarding supporting the underfloor may be let down between the joists but not to exceed 1 inch. Chamber tops of joists.

6. All downspouts emptying on grade shall have splash blocks constructed of concrete or other approved material so located as to carry the rain water at least 3 feet from the building.

Section III Dampproofing

1. Where water conditions necessitate dampproofing basements or cellars, the enclosing foundation walls, unless dampproofed in some other manner approved by the Department of Building Inspection, shall be plastered on the exterior with at least 1/2 inch of cement plaster. The cement plaster shall be carried down to a cove at the bottom, extending to the outside edge of footing. (See detail 4.)

2. If water conditions exist and additional precautions are necessary, the exterior walls below finished grade shall be waterproofed. In cases where water exists under pressure, basement floors shall be waterproofed and reinforced.

3. A dry basement shall be provided and where dampness or water conditions exist, walls and floors shall be made watertight before final acceptance. In areas where sandy soil occurs: a heavy coat of undiluted tar or asphalt waterproofing shall extend from the outside top edge of footing to 2 inches above the finished grade.

Section IV Structural Steel and Iron

1. All structural steel and iron shall be so designed as to safely bear all loads in accordance with accepted good practice.

2. Connections shall be riveted, bolted, or welded, and shall be so designed as to fully develop the strength of the structural members. Bearings of steel beams and girders on masonry walls shall extend at least 4 inches into the wall, and shall be solidly bedded in portland cement mortar. Bearing plates shall be designed to carry the load and shall have a minimum thickness of 5/16 inch, and shall be not less than 6 inches in width. Bearing plates shall not be required where girder flange is 6 inches, or wider.

3. All steel or cast iron columns shall have flanged bases and caps. Column caps shall be anchored to beams or girders. Loose shims will not be accepted. Column bases shall be securely anchored on cement bases which shall extend not less than 3 inches above the finished floor.

4. Steel columns wood posts or masonry piers shall be used under all main girders.

Section V Lumber

1. All softwood lumber shall meet all the grading requirements of the American Lumber Standards of the U. S. Department of Commerce. This requirement shall not apply to millwork or interior finish. The word "softwood," as used herein, shall be interpreted to include Douglas Fir, White Fir, Southern Cypress, Western Larch, West Coast Hemlock, California Redwood, Cedar,

Eastern Hemlock, Tamarack, Spruce, Southern Yellow Pine, Ponderosa Pine, Sugar Pine, Idaho White Pine, Northern White Pine, Norway Pine.)

2. Framing lumber for joists, sills, girders, and rafters shall be No. 1 Dimension (Common) or better.

3. Framing lumber for studs, bridging, bracing and collar beams shall be No. 2 Dimension (Common) or better.

4. All board lumber for sub-flooring, sheathing, roof boarding, shingle lath, etc., shall be not less than No. 2 Common boards.

Note—Board lumber also framing 1/2" material in paragraph "3." No. 3 Common, of woods comparable to No. 2 Common grade in the other softwoods, will be acceptable, such as: White Fir, Spruce (except Sitka), Ponderosa Pine, Sugar Pine, Idaho White Pine, Northern White Pine, Norway Pine, Western Larch. No. 3 Common Northern Hemlock, bearing special grademark insignia (Star-3-Star), will be acceptable in lieu of No. 2 Common grades of soft woods not listed in this note.

5. All lumber shall be dry and well-seasoned, and the moisture content shall not exceed 19 percent.

6. All rough lumber dimensions given under "Wood Framing" below are nominal sizes. Finished dimensions of all lumber shall comply with the American Lumber Standards of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Section VI Wood Framing

Note—Spacing of structural wood framing members between bearing points will not be permitted. In all cases, regardless of location where the structural strength of framing members is definitely impaired by cutting, drilling, or by inherent defects, such members shall be replaced or reinforced as required by the Department of Building Inspection.

A. FLOORS AND ROOFS

1. All wood floor and roof framing construction shall be kept at least 2 inches away from the chimney masonry, except when 8 inches of masonry is used outside the flue lining, in which case the framing may be built flush with the chimney masonry. The 2-inch space between the chimney masonry and the floor framing shall be filled with fire-resistant material to form a fire stop. (See details 21 and 22.)

Note—In no case shall wood framing members bear on the masonry of chimneys, except on piers which are built integral with the chimney masonry.

2. Girders may be steel, wood, or reinforced concrete.

3. Wood posts, when used as columns in basements, shall bear on a cement base which shall extend not less than 3 inches above the finish floor. The base shall bear directly on the post footing.

4. Ends of floor joists framing into masonry walls shall have not less than 4-inch bearing and shall have at least a 3-inch bevel or fire cut. In cases where the end of the floor joists or girders which frame into the masonry walls are located below outside finish grade, the ends shall receive a good brush coat of creosote.

5. Each fourth joist in wood floor construction framing into masonry walls shall have a metal strap anchor applied on the side and near the bottom of the joist and shall extend into the masonry wall. Masonry walls running parallel to the floor joists shall be tied to the floor construction with metal strap anchors spaced not over 6 feet apart and extending over and secured to at least 3 joists.

6. Floor joists shall be doubled under all partitions which run parallel to the floor joists. When piping or duct work occurs joists shall be separated and solidly blocked at 4 foot intervals.

7. Headers and trimmers shall be doubled except that headers 4 feet or less in length may be of single thickness provided the header is supported on not less than 2 by 3 inch ledger boards. (See detail 5) and header is secured by spikes driven through one thickness of the trimmers into the ends of the header. Headers receiving more than 4 tail beams shall have ends supported in metal joist hangers.

8. Ends of lapped joists shall rest on girders or on bearing partitions and shall be securely nailed to plate and to each other.

9. Overhanging cantilevered construction: See details 16 and 17 for acceptable construction. Bay windows, overhanging second floors, and all projections carrying floor and roof loads which are not supported directly by a foundation shall be fully detailed on the drawings submitted with the application.

10. Floor (including attic floor) and flat roof joists shall be cross-braced with 1-by-3 or 2 x 2-inch bridging at intervals not to exceed 8 feet and double-nailed at each end. Metal bridging may be used when approved by the Department of Building Inspection.

11. In flat roof construction where the ceiling joists are hung from roof joists, the spans for the roof joists shall be same as for floor joists. Spacing shall not exceed 16 inches o.c. Ceiling joists shall be 2 x 4's of same spacing as roof joists and shall be supported from the roof joists with 1 by 4 inch hangers, spaced not more than 6 feet o.c. and securely nailed to sides of the roof and ceiling joists.

12. Maximum spans for all wood floor joists shall be as listed in the following table. The spans are figured for a maximum deflection of 1/360 of the span, based on a total live and dead load of 50 lbs. per square foot, uniformly distributed.

Note—Where the attic space above ceiling joists is unfinished and is suitable for storage space, or if the space is suitable for finishing into future habitable rooms, the spans for the ceiling joists shall be figured the same as for floor joists.

19. Ceiling joists shall, wherever possible, serve as ties for the rafters and shall be double-nailed to the rafters.

20. An adequate opening for access into each attic space shall be provided to allow for inspection and repair.

21. Collar beams of 1 by 6's or 2 by 4's shall be installed on at least each third pair of roof rafters and shall be double-nailed to the rafters. Maximum spacing of collar beams, 5 feet o.c.

22. Where ceiling joists serve as collar beams and occur above the midpoint of the rafter, adequate provision shall be made for tying the lower end of the rafter to the floor construction. Where the installation of this tie is not possible because of structural conditions, the rafter side shall be increased sufficiently to support the roof load without thrust or undue bending in the lower end, and the size of the collar beams shall not be less than that of the rafters.

23. Maximum spans for wood roof rafters shall be as listed in the following table, and are based on a total live and dead load of 40 lbs. per square foot, uniformly distributed. (The live load is considered as acting normal to the roof surface.)

For Wood and Asphalt Shingle Roofs (Rafters for slate, tile, or asbestos-cement (rigid) shingle roofs shall be of sufficient size to carry the load.)

Assumed Total Live and Dead Load—49 lbs. per sq. ft. (Clear span shall mean the distance measured horizontally from plate to a point directly beneath the ridge. The actual rafter length will depend on the roof slope and must be determined accordingly.)

For Roof with a Minimum Slope of 5 to 12.

Maximum Spans for Floor Joists per square foot; dead load, 10 Assumed live load, 40 pounds per square foot.

2 by 10	15/8 by 9 1/4	16	12	11
2 by 12	15/8 by 11 1/4	16	12	11

Note—Where the spacing of floor joists exceeds 16 inches o.c., or where the allowable fiber stress of the species of wood used is in excess of 1,200 pounds, the size and span of the joists shall be determined on the same basis as used for this table.

13. The cutting of floor joists to facilitate the installation of piping and duct work will be permitted with the following limitations:

(a) The top or bottom edges of joists may be notched not to exceed 1/6 of the joist depth. Notching the top or bottom edge of joists will not be permitted in the middle third of any joist span.

(b) If cutting of a floor joist more than 1/6 of its depth is found necessary, a header the full depth of the joist shall be cut in to support the end of the joist.

(c) Where location of pipes necessitates passing through the joists, holes shall be drilled to receive the pipes. The diameter of the holes shall be not more than 1/4 inch greater than the outside diameter of the pipe and in no case greater than 2 1/2 inches. The edge of the holes shall not be located nearer than 2 inches from the top or bottom edge of the joist.

14. All first floor joists shall be covered with 1-inch subflooring not more than 8 inches in width. Ends shall be cut over joists.

Note—End-matched (T. & G.) boards may be used for subflooring provided no two adjoining boards break joints over the same joist space, and each board shall bear on at least two joists.

15. All subflooring shall be covered with building paper or deadening felt before laying the finish floor. Waterproof building paper shall be used over unexcavated portions of the building, and in all cases where dampness occurs below the first floor construction.

16. Finished floors not less than 3/4 inch-thick, D. & M. may be used on the second floor without a subfloor, provided the ends of the flooring boards are cut over the joists.

17. Floor coverings of linoleum, composition, or rubber tile on wood construction shall be applied over D. & M. wood flooring not less than 3/4 inch in thickness nor more than 4 inches in width, and either sanded or scraped smooth before covering is applied; 3/4-inch-thick plywood may be used as the subfloor if desired provided nailing at each joist is not more than 6 inches o.c.

18. Maximum spans for ceiling joists shall be as listed in the following table. The spans are figured for a maximum deflection of 1/360 of the span, based on a dead load of 10 pounds per square foot (no live load), uniformly distributed.

Maximum Spans for Ceiling Joists Live load, none; dead load, 10 pounds per square foot.

Hope Honors Two Ministers of East With D.D. Degrees

Vruwink and Hondelink Cited; Awards Made At Graduation Service

Honorary degrees of doctor of divinity were conferred upon the Rev. Henry Vruwink, commencement speaker, and the Rev. Garrett Hondelink by President Wyn and Wickers of Hope college at the college's 77th annual commencement exercises in Hope Memorial chapel Wednesday night. Registrar Thomas E. Welmers and Dr. Walter Van Saun assisted in the ceremonies.

Prof. Welmers presented for his degree Dr. Vruwink, a graduate of Hope college in 1910 and of New Brunswick Theological seminary in 1913. He is pastor of Fort Washington Collegiate church in New York city. His church and mission work and his loyalty and service to his alma mater were commended in the citation.

Dr. Hondelink, pastor of First Reformed church in Rochester, N. Y., a Hope graduate of 1900 and a graduate of New Brunswick seminary in 1903, was presented for his degree by Dr. Van Saun in recognition of his scholarship and high attainments in literature and theology and his service as a missionary in Japan.

Bachelor of arts degrees were presented to the graduating class by Dr. Wickers. In brief remarks to graduates Dr. Wickers cautioned them that mankind has often been compelled "to go against the storm" and urged them to remember "that manhood and womanhood will always be measured in terms of their contribution."

Contrasting the first Hope college commencement, when only eight men were graduated, with this, the largest class in the history of the college, numbering 108, he expressed the hope that they would "go out with courage, faith, and the will to win."

Prizes awarded as a feature of the exercises included the Dan C. Steketee Bible prize of $25 to Margaret Nagy and John Westhof, the Mrs. Samuel Sloan prize in foreign missions of $25 to Henry Kik, Dr. A. T. Godfrey prize in chemistry of $25 to Robert Emmick, the Douwe B. Yntema prize of $25 for outstanding work in physics and mathematics to Harry Frisell, the Dr. Otto Vander Velde scholarship award, a key to the senior man who has the highest record in the combined fields of athletics, scholarship, and general student activities, to William Tappan, the Southland gold medal established by Gerrit H. Albers in 1911 to be presented to the senior girl who has maintained the highest standard of all around scholarship, character, and usefulness during her four year course, to Lorraine Timmer, and the Patterson Memorial prize in biology of $25 to Anne De Young.

Michigan state provisional teachers' certificates were presented to 49 members of the graduating class. Graduating cum laude were Dorothy Renzema and Lorraine Timmer, and summa cum laude, Robert Emmick, Bernice Otsman, William Tappan, and Morris Tardiff.

The valedictory was delivered by William Tappan who pointed out that it was the distinction of his class to be the first in 24 years to be graduated while the U. S. was at war. Naming as the two major objectives of every American since Pearl harbor the winning of the war and then the winning of the peace, he said the college graduate would be better equipped to serve his country.

Special music included a violin solo by Carolyn Kremers, a clarinet solo by Gordon Berkel, and an organ hymn and the procession led by Mrs. W. Curtis Snow. Dr. John A. Dykstra, president of the board of trustees, pronounced the invocation and benediction.

Yes, neighbor, you . . .

You can't escape it. You can't hide out on the moon!

For here is a war EVERYBODY is in. The man behind the plow. The oldest with the cane. The housewife with the market basket. The white collar worker. The blue collar worker.

We're ALL in it—lock, stock, body, and soul.

The only way to save these things is to win the war!

And the only way to win is to outbuild, outgun, outplane, and outfight the enemy—to make him sick at the sound of a propeller, the sight of a tank, the roar of a bomb.

That's where you come in.

For, brother and sister, building these things takes money. Lots of it! And your Government needs that money right now! Not for keeps. They don't want you to give it away. They just want you to lend it to them.

Invest every dime, quarter, half-dollar, and dollar you can in U. S. Stamps and Bonds.
