Garden Club Gets 'Purple Ribbon'

The Holland Tulip Garden club has been awarded the coveted "purple ribbon" award for their 1947 Tulip Time flower show, according to word received Wednesday night by Mrs. L. W. Lamb, club president, from Mrs. Jay H. Pettet, regional director of the Michigan Federated Garden clubs, who is attending the state convention in Traverse City.

The purple ribbon is given by the national council of Federated Garden clubs for the "most outstanding show." Only two may be awarded in each state during the year. Last year only 19 states qualified for the award. The Kent Garden club also received a purple ribbon award for 1947, Mrs. Pettet reported.

Flower shows are held during the spring, summer and fall, and in February of each year the state awards committee makes recommendations to the national council. Whether this year's show also receives a purple ribbon will not be known until the state convention next spring, Mrs. Lamb explained.

Mrs. Pettet was president of the local club and Mrs. Victor Watkins was regional director at the time of the 1947 show. Mrs. Lamb, chairman of the flower show was assisted by Mrs. L. G. Stalkamp who designed and executed the attractive background.

Under the sheriff's department, records disclosed that the sheriff, usually as Wm. Boeve and Sons, has contracted and constructed ten or more county drains. The bids on these drains were made in the regular manner. The sheriff personally handles all business transactions for this firm. In connection with the construction of one drain where it crossed the highway, the County Road Commission paid the sheriff $143.25 for services performed.

The report referred to an excerpt from an opinion of the attorney general dated Dec. 13, 1939: "The office of the attorney general has rendered opinions from time to time consistently adhering to the principle that: It is a fundamental rule of public policy that no public official shall be personally concerned in any contract or agreement with a municipality or political subdivision of which he is an officer."

The report also pointed out that under the county health unit, it was noted that three nurses living in Grand Rapids charged daily mileage from Grand Rapids to Holland. "We point out that it is not a usual practice for mileage to be allowed to a county employee for travel between his home and his office."

In justices of the peace examinations, the report stated that the docket of Justice Isaac Van Dyke and Justice Jarrett N. Clark were not in good condition. It pointed out that Van Dyke intended to get a new one and Clark did not intend to do much business.

The report was signed by Examiners V. F. Klatt and A. L. West, and approved by Auditor General Muri K. Aten.

Unit Fund Drive Voted at Meeting

Despite opposition from the Red Cross and some other large charity agencies, the Michigan United Health and Welfare fund has decided to go ahead with plans for a unified fund-raising campaign.

Ottawa county was represented by O. W. Lowry, who was elected to membership on the administrative committee, Henry S. Maentz, Joe Moran, Dr. William Westrate and C. C. Andreason. The Ottawa county delegation joined less populous counties in urging immediate adoption of the program, spokesmen said today after their return from Lansing.

Fund officials received a boost in yesterday's meeting when labor unions agreed to support the unification program.

Purpose of the fund is to coordinate all charitable fund-raising campaigns into one major drive each year, with proceeds divided equitably among all organizations.

The Red Cross, infantile paralysis fund and other larger charity groups are opposed to the program through fear of disrupting their own education, programs and budget requirements, according to James Watkins, Detroit, chairman of the fund's admissions committee.

The unified fund drive will start late this year or early in 1949, the directors voted. The plan calls for distribution on a county unit basis. Charity groups not participating may also receive funds if county units agree.

Teacher Retires After 23 Years of Service

Following 23½ years of service to the schools and children of Holland, Hilda C. Stegeman, Holland high teacher of Bible, English and Latin, will retire after completing the current semester.

Since February, 1925, Miss Stegeman has taught continuously at Holland high. Before 1925 she taught at Beechwood school from 1911 to 1912 and at Federal school in 1924.

Total years of service in the public schools of Michigan are 25. In addition, Miss Stegeman was a member of the faculties of Harrison Classical academy and Wisconsin Memorial academy, from 1912 to 1914. Both were then functions of the Reformed church in America.

From 1917 to 1924 Miss Stegeman held business positions in several Holland offices.

Miss Stegeman is a native of Harrison, S. D., where her father, the late Rev. A. Stegeman, had a charge. Two brothers have carried on the tradition of their father. One, the Rev. M. A. Stegeman, is pastor at Fifth, Neb. Another brother, the Rev. Henry V. E. Stegeman, is currently a teacher at the Academy and Junior college at Orange City, Iowa.

Miss Stegeman's formal schooling was taken at Hope and the University of Chicago. In 1905 she was graduated from Hope Preparatory school. Four years later she was awarded an A. B. degree at Hope college. Additional work in Latin and English was taken at Chicago.

Especially interested in foreign language, Miss Stegeman prepared for her career in part by assimilating six years of Latin, four years of Greek and one year each of French and German.

She pursued a classical course at Hope. While there she was a member of the senior play cast in "Under the Spell." She was speaker at her class's graduation exercises.

As to the future, Miss Stegeman looks forward to a life of housekeeping, reading those books she has wanted to read for a long time but hasn't found time for, and traveling. She lives at 87 East 14th St.

Holland high teachers held a banquet in her honor at Legion Memorial club house Tuesday night.

Council Enthusiastic Over Tulip Time Fete

Common Council is well satisfied with the city's 1948 Tulip Time festival.

At least, the city fathers started tossing bouquets about at the regular meeting of Common Council Wednesday night.

First of all, Ald. William J. Meengs, chairman of the Public Safety commission, read a communication commending local police officers on their fine work in handling record Tulip Time traffic.

Then Ald. Meengs recommended that council send a letter to State Police Commissioner Donald C. Jonkman, Gov. Kim Sigler, Atty. Gen. Eugene Black, and Clarence Bolander of the State Board of Agriculture.

Harrington distributed copies of the special edition to each alderman.

Arnold W. Hertel, who served as chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Tulip Time committee this year, was appointed to the Board of Appeals by Common Council Wednesday night to replace John Raven, member of the board for several years who declined re-appointment at the charter meeting May 3.

In the new position, Hertel will work with four other members of the board in dealing with zoning problems in Holland.

A letter from Charles Lumbert, city employee, who requested a meeting of representatives of city employees with the Ways and Means committee to discuss wages of employees other than those of the Board of Public Works, was referred to the Ways and Means committee.

On recommendation of the Public Safety commission, council approved a plan eliminating parking on US-31 from First St. to the bridge. Council was informed that the state highway commission will mark that section of the highway for four-lane travel.

Lloyd Maatman, 271 East 12th St., who two weeks ago was appointed alderman of the third ward, was sworn in by City Attorney Peter S. Boler. The new alderman was officially welcomed by Mayor Bernard De Pree, former alderman of third ward.

City Clerk Clarence Greengood presented oaths of office signed by Maatman as alderman and Joe Kramer and Henry Vander Scha as members of the Harbor board. Maatman will serve as alderman of the third ward until the next election.

Since no objections were filed, council approved construction of a sanitary sewer on River Ave. between 30th and 31st Sts., recently requested by Bethany Reformed church. The board of assessors was ordered to put the project on a special assessment roll.

Memorial Day Parade, Program Honor War Dead

Ideal Weather Prevails For Holiday Week-End; Picnics Are Popular

Ideal weather conditions provided a near perfect setting for the Memorial Day week-end which Holland marked with traditional ceremonies along with picnics, trips and other typical holiday activities.

Bands of the city, in excellent practice after a busy Tulip Time schedule, formed the nucleus of Monday's parade which seemed to attract larger crowds in the residential sections than downtown. Making a surprise debut was the Christian grade school band, wearing white suits and dresses.

Pilgrim Home cemeteries, in full spring dress with flowering spirea against lush green lawns and shrubbery, attracted several hundred persons for the annual program in Monument square.

From the impressive march to Monument square led by the American Legion band to the final tape and benediction, the program took less than an hour.

The Rev. Lambert Ogers, pastor of Sixth Reformed church who is leaving soon for a new charge in Chicago, in memorializing the war dead, asked that they be remembered in a living memorial—making this a better community for the children of the men they left behind.

"If we would all work for peace as hard as we worked for war, a lasting and enduring peace would result, one in which righteousness shall prevail," he said.

A. C. Joldersma of the American Legion presided at the program. Edward S. Avison, Jr., read Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Mayor Bernard De Pree led community singing.

Corners of the Civil War monument were decorated by Eileen John, Beverly Ver Hoef, Gail Hamm and Clarence Esther Olin, daughters of World War I veterans. Boy Scouts decorated the graves in Monument square as well as graves of military men throughout the three cemeteries. Appropriate music was provided by the Legion band. Louis B. Dalman gave orders for flag salutes and firing squads. Dr. H. D. Terkeurst gave the invocation and benediction.

On Sunday evening, members of patriotic orders in Holland gathered in Trinity Reformed church to hear Dr. Terkeurst deliver a Memorial Day sermon based on Romans 8:9, "Now if any man have not the spirit of Christ, he is none of His."

"The spirit of Christ" is hard to define, but we can recognize the elements that the spirit requires," Dr. Terkeurst said. He listed brotherliness, service and sacrifice as the three elements of love. "If a church lacks these elements it can fall into bigotry, snobbery and ecclesiastical hypocrisy. If a government lacks these elements, the demons of fear, suspicion, greed and lies enter, and blackness and tragedy is the end of all," Dr. Terkeurst said.

Christian Bows To Grand Rapids In Season Finale

Holland Christian's baseball club closed its 1948 season at Grand Rapids Thursday afternoon by bowing to the Christian Eagles, 7-3. The Grand Rapids win gave Coach Jack Bollema's lads an even split on their two game series with the locals. The Maroon record now stands at two victories and six defeats. Holland's pair of wins came at the expense of Fennville and Grand Rapids Christian.

Both squads played excellent ball atfield Thursday, with Grand Rapids making nine walks to practically "hand" the contest to their hosts.

The Eagles made good use of three walks and two hits in the first inning, to tally three runs, while Holland went scoreless.

Neither nine scored again until the fourth inning when Holland netted a lone tally on triples by "Butts" Kool and Pete Holstege. The Eagles stretched their lead to 4-1 in the fifth on a single and a walk.

Two hits and three more costly walks, accounted for the final three Grand Rapids runs in the sixth inning.

Christian's 1-2 punch started a mild rally in the seventh when Kool and Holstege opened with singles. Both runners advanced on a fly to the outfield, and then came around to score on Bob Bolt's one base knock. The next two batters struck out to end the flurry and the ball game.

Howard Johnson and Duane Rosendahl worked on the mound for the Maroons, while the Grand Rapids ace, John Vander Henst, hurled for the winners.

Butts Kool and Pete Holstege each had two hits for the Maroons, while Vander Vennen got three out of four for Grand Rapids.

Kool, local receiver, finished the eight game card with an average of .500, getting 13 hits in 26 trips to the plate.

Rhoads of Marshall, president of Michigan Division, American Association of University Women, addressed members of Holland branch of AAUW at their tenth anniversary dinner in Hope church parish hall Thursday night.

There should be education for all according to desire and ability, she said. She also drew attention to the need of the Navajo Indians and made a plea for racial tolerance.

"Each member of AAUW should feel that without herself there would be no national organization," she said in urging an awareness of what AAUW can mean collectively and individually.

Dutchmen Drop Doubleheader to Grand Rapids Sox

Colored Lads Eke Win In First Contest; Errors Mar Nightcap

Holland's Flying Dutchmen baseball club dropped both ends of a Memorial day doubleheader to the Grand Rapids Black Sox, losing the first at Grand Rapids, 5-4 and the nightcap under the lights at Riverview Park, 16-6. The final loss was Holland's fourth in a row, against no victories this season.

The locals were definitely in the first ball game, with the colored lads netting the winning tally in the last of the ninth. With the score knotted at 4-4, Left-fielder Robinson opened the ninth with a single, but was thrown out at the plate, attempting to score on Parks' single. Catcher Scott walked, sending Parks to second. Third Baseman Canamore then broke up the ball game with a base hit, sending Parks home with the winning tally.

Manager Benny Batema's lads took a momentary lead in the first on a double by Ev De Neff and a single by Loren Wenzel. The Black Sox moved in front, 2-1 in their first on a walk, a double and a single. Holland again moved into the lead with three runs in the second on two singles, a triple by Ev De Neff and a long fly to centerfield. This ended the local scoring for the afternoon.

Grand Rapids tied up the ball game with single tallies in the third and fifth innings.

Holland garnered 11 hits from the pitching of Purcell, while Grand Rapids netted only 10 hits from the slants of T. Little, local flinger. Ev De Neff led the local attack with a triple and two singles in four times at bat.

The locals were in the ball game for only two innings of the second game before Grand Rapids broke loose for seven runs, on solid hits and a comedy of local errors. The invaders had taken a one run lead in the first, on a single and a double. Feature blow of the third inning was a long triple by Catcher Scott. Four hits sparked the seven run upsurge.

Grand Rapids continued to pound Lefty Van Wieren for a single run in the fifth before Mike Skaalen relieved in the sixth. Skaalen failed to stem the tide when the colored lads touched him for three runs on two long homers in the sixth. Perry's circuit clout over the rightfield fence was one of the longest blows seen at Riverview Park.

After the "hitters" Sox had scored three more in the seventh, Holland got to "Jelly" Taylor's slow ball for four runs in their seventh. Tony Wentzel's long triple with the bags jammed accounted for three runs. He came into score on Skaalen's single. Grand Rapids added another in the eighth while the Dutchmen connected for a lone tally in the eighth and ninth.

The contest was far from well played, with many errors marred the tilt. Holland managed to get only four safeties off Taylor while Grand Rapids hit Holland hurling for 16 hits, including many extra base knocks. Right Fielder Hank Lipsey led all hitters with four hits in six times at bat. Every Sox batter got at least one hit and scored at least one tally.

The Holland Polar Bear club, organized about 15 years ago, has "fond" memories of Memorial Day which 30 years ago marked their start in training for World War I. The group was yanked out of quarantine before the 10 days were up, given rigid training and with in a matter of weeks was headed for overseas, stopping first at England. They arrived in North Russia in September and returned to this country the following June.

Holiday Holds Special Significance for Group

Memorial Day holds special significance for this group, for it was just 30 years ago that these men awoke in Camp Custer (now Fort Custer) for their first day of training in World War I.

Now organized as the Holland Polar Bear club, this group was drafted in Holland and left the local depot May 29, 1918. Because the 85th division was awaiting replacements before going overseas, the Holland group found itself taken out of quarantine before the 10 days were up and soon was en route to North Russia.

All were assigned to Co. D, and life in the sparsely populated northern tip of Russia proved quite an experience in spite of the routine nature of activities. If one Holland man received a letter, 50 others read it. If one Holland man got in bad with his superiors, there were 50 to go to bat for him.

The local group was late in organizing, and it was not until 15 years ago that an organization was effected. Since then the group has held bi-monthly meetings in places all over the area ranging from bowling alleys, plumbing shops, implement stores and hatcheries.

A few of the group plan to attend a biennial reunion May 29, 30 and 31 in Detroit. These conventions alternate between Detroit and Grand Rapids and is primarily for Polar Bears from Michigan and Wisconsin.

WHAT STALIN ASKS FOR

In his play for world propaganda advantage, Joe Stalin snapped at the juicy bits that our own Henry Wallace held out to him. What Stalin asked for from us was merely that we should disarm ourselves down to our shorts and socks, so that he and his people could take over the management of the world, including ourselves.

He did not put it that baldly,
but that was what it amounted to. He even intimated his "suggestions."

His first demand was "a general reduction of armaments and prohibition of atomic weapons." But Uncle Sam began disarmament
the day after the shooting stopped. Not so Russia; it has the largest army in the world. Uncle Joe will have to do some disarming to the tune of millions before he even begins to catch up with us. As to atomic weapons, we have been ready all along to prohibit them if the Russians will allow us to make sure that they live up to the prohibition. But that's "interference with internal affairs."

The second Stalin demand was
"conclusion of peace treaties with Germany and Japan." But who has blocked that? Russia has exercised its veto right until the whole thing has become a joke.

The third Stalin demand is neatly calculated to destroy such advantages as we now have, without sacrificing any Russian advantages. We are not to have military bases in other countries. We are not to interfere in any way in any other country—apparently meaning Greece and Turkey and western Europe. But is Stalin ready to pull out of the countries behind the Iron Curtain that are now in the Russian bag? He pretends of course that the Kremlin is not in those countries. He maintains the fiction that all those nations chose the Communist halter by their own free will through free elections, without interference or suggestion from the Kremlin.

If Russia is ready to pull out of those countries without any conditions, then Uncle Joe Stalin will have a right to begin to make a suggestion of that kind to us. And if Russia is ready to demobilize its armies of millions, then Stalin will have the right to ask disarmament from us. Until that happens we would be sappy to listen to his talk.

But Henry Wallace not only listens; he takes the initiative in coaching Stalin on what his own country should do blindly without guarantees from the Kremlin that is slobbering at the mouth in its eagerness to gobble up the world.

Men Who Dared to Stand for God
Daniel 3:4-7, 13-18; 6:10
By Henry Geerlings

Captivity must have been most unpleasant for ambitious young Hebrews. Babylon was a famous country and its great city, Babylon, was most attractive as a place to visit but not particularly desirable as a place in which to be slaves. Babylon had done much campaigning and had won many victories. According to the ways of the times, conquered people became the captive slaves. But as far as we know Babylon never had any captives to outclass Daniel and his three friends. They had belonged to the families of good birth.

While there were four of these young Hebrews Daniel is the best known of them. These four young men seem to have been well born.
They likely belong to the best families in their home country.
They had good health. They had sound minds in sound bodies. They were evidently very intellectual.
They were good thinkers. They had profound faith in God. They were deeply religious. They lived their religion under the most trying circumstances. They had convictions that went deep into their very being. They did not and could not give them up. They were willing to die for them. They were willing to die for, at least they thought so.

They had the martyr stuff in them. Men who just have opinions are seldom willing to make any great sacrifice for them. They may be willing to argue about them and to parade them, but if such a process is going to mean any sacrifice to them they find that they can easily change them. But these young men had more than opinions. They had the convictions that gripped their souls.
They could not change them without changing their very selves and they could not be untrue to themselves. And our admiration grows apace when we think seriously of some facts.

For instance they were strangers in a strange land and captives at that. It was not for them to say how they should live. A course of life was marked out for them. It was not their privilege to say, "No, we cannot do it that way, but we must do it this way."
"Your way is against our convictions." And yet that is the very course they pursued in spite of the fact that they were in danger of defying the king. To do such a thing for the sake of one's convictions is bravery of the highest order. And add to the picture the thought that they were endangering their bright future which lay in the line of possibility for them.
We can little realize in this day
so far from the times of these young men and circumstances how much they risked.

Then let us think of the temptations to which these youth were undoubtedly exposed. If they were daily in the company of the youths of the land of their exile certainly the life to which they were accustomed would present a terrific problem to them. They thus would be exposed to the luxury and licentiousness of the wicked
city and especially in court circles, and here again they would have to decide as to whether they were going to be odd and so be true to their bringing up.

We all know enough about human nature to know that it costs something to be different; that the accepted way of things. Youth does not like to be laughed at and ridiculed for not going along with the crowd. Youth wants to be as the Romans do when in Rome. One gets through easier.
One has a better time. One does not throw any monkey wrenches in the social machinery and so one is more popular and likeable. One is more comfortable when a good fellow. So we admire these young Jews away from home living by and willing to die for their home principles. We can shout for the young man who dares to do what he thinks to be right and to do it in spite of possible consequences.
These young men are an example for youth of all time. Some of our modern college and university students might well include a study of them in their course.

There is a large place in modern life for just such young men as these four. The business and professional world still appreciates real character values and is quite anxious to see them. There is still room at the top of the ladder for the young man who dares to place character above money, right above mere policy, integrity above mere popularity. There are certain values that are valuable and usable in all ages and in all parts of the world. High and noble thinking is never out of date.
Honesty is never homeless. Loyalty to convictions is not peculiar to any locality. Great souls are not the peculiar demand of any particular time in history. There are some qualities of being as timeless as God himself. And there are some powers that are as much at home in one race as in another. No one race has a monopoly on courage and loyalty and integrity and a vision of God. We therefore hold up these young men as exemplary characters after whom our modern youth may pattern their lives. Let them not scorn
the idea of learning something good and true from a Jew. Let not race prejudice blind their eyes to values that find a market in any place and in any age of the world.

Holland
In 1915

The Spanish War veterans of Holland have started a movement to organize a Rifle club in Holland which will become a part of the National Rifle Association of America and is to be enrolled as an affiliated organization of the third class civilian, began a story in the Wednesday, July 14 issue of the Holland Daily Sentinel published in 1915. The club in Holland will be launched with a membership of 30, and after the government rifle club application has been sent to Lieut. Albert S.
Jones, General Secretary of the National Rifle Association of America,
Washington, D. C., and approved,
then other members
will be accepted.

Today the amendments to the city traffic ordinance went into effect and after this all automobile owners will be required to use dimmers on the headlights.
Miss Frances Bosch won fifth prize in the Grand Rapids News special contest. The prize consists of a $25 diamond-set bracelet.

A pleasant reception was held yesterday afternoon at the chapel of Third Reformed church in honor of Mrs. Alberta J. Dann, president of the fifth district Woman's Christian Temperance union. Mrs. Dann's home is in Lake Odessa.

Although the exact amount of money subscribed so far for the concrete highway on the Alpena road cannot be stated because some members of the committee have left the city, a fairly accurate estimate shows that the amount has passed the $3,300
mark.

The Holland City News today
put in a new power paper cutter.
The new machine is the largest of its kind in the city.
Henrietta Wainhuus, Cora Leenhouts, Minnie De Feyter,
William Moordyk, Hilda Stegeman were among those who returned from attending the World's C. E. convention in Chi-

A surprise party was given in honor of Charles Hacker, 18 West Sixth St., by 30 of his friends in commemoration of his birthday anniversary.

Isaac Marsilje has again been elected president of the Board of Education. The meeting of the board for the purpose of organizing was held last night. B.
Steketeer was elected vice-presitary. This news story appeared in the Friday, July 15, issue.

The barn of Klaus Baker at Buchanan beach burned down this afternoon and two horses lost their lives in the fire. A large quantity of hay and other farm produce was destroyed.

Rex Sirrine, the Holland boy
now with the St. Johns baseball team, has hurt his arm and will be unable to pitch for a while.
Sirrine has been pitching great ball this season and is a valuable asset to the St. Johns team. Carl Smith of this city is doing splendid work at shortstop for St.
Johns and he has next to the highest batting average in that league.
Smith's average is .282.

The Zeeland Independents have reorganized. Several players came to try out and now Manager Van Haitma is assured of having the following lineup: Pitchers, Wyngar and Karsten; 1st baseman, Scheerhorn; 2nd baseman, Slabecorn; ss. Van Ry; 3rd baseman, Boone and to the outfield, Nederveld, Nykamp, Dalman and Ro-meyn.

There is perhaps nothing in the new game laws which go into effect on Aug. 24 that will interest Holland people more than the provision in regard to perch fishing, began a story in the Friday, July 16, issue. After that date it will not be possible for local people to go to Macatawa and come back with 100 or 200 perch. The new laws allow only 25 in possession
at any one time.

The home of Mrs. James Cook line officiated at the marriage of Christian D. Schilleman of Holland and Mrs. Elizabeth Ver Lee county, was today appointed a member of the Supreme Court bench to fill vacancy caused by the death of former Justice A. V.

McAlvay.

Dr. W. G. Heasley and Mr. and Mrs. Schipper of Zeeland have returned from Petoskey. They re-

Mastodon Bones Collect Dust at Hope College

"Dern Dry Bones," have been a problem for nearly two years now.

In August, 1946, three local boys, Kenneth Ver Hey, Philip Cobb and Vernon Dokter, located in a creek east of the city what appeared to be the remains of a prehistoric mastodon.

Later Dr. Teunis Vergeer and the Hope college biology department were given all the bones which could be found in the clay pit.

Today, they repose in what the college hopes will some day become its zoology museum. The complete skeleton has not been found, but enough has been discovered that a good idea of the animal has been established.

Dr. Vergeer has estimated that nearly three-fourths of the skeleton has been recovered. Only some teeth, ribs and vertebrae are missing. The animal has been identified as a mastodon by its teeth, which are conically crested. The true elephant has flat teeth, with alternate layers of dentine and enamel.

The mastodon probably charged headlong into the swamp which then existed, and became trapped. In time, blue clay washed over the remains, preserving the skeleton found by the boys.

Standard texts state that the mastodon disappeared after the glacial age, nearly 2,000,000 geological years ago, indicating that this animal is really old! It was because of this great glacier that the mastodon became extinct.

This species of early elephant has been described as being more massively built than the African elephant, but with shorter legs and a flatter forehead. They sometimes attained a height of nine or 10 feet, and were covered with woolly brown hair.

Dr. Vergeer said that the animal whose skeleton was discovered undoubtedly was young, for evidence remains that cartilage discs separated the ends from the shafts of some of the bones. An older animal does not have this cartilage, the biologist added.

Skeletal remains are fairly common in the Hudson and Ohio valleys, in Kentucky and Missouri.

Another group of students located two teeth from an American species of elephant, similar to

Excellent Service At Vrieling Garage

It is necessary to keep your car in perfect running order, for, although new cars are being received, production still is far behind demand. That is the opinion of John Vrieling, local Ford dealer. He maintains an excellent service garage at 159 River Ave.

Genuine Ford parts are sold at the station and you will always get the best mechanical experience, finest materials and guaranteed fullest satisfaction at Vrieling Motor Sales. It's wise to remember there's no place like home for Ford service—your Ford dealer knows your Ford best. Experienced men will service your car at the local Ford garage.

The Ford Motor Co., is offering a wider range of models and capacities than ever before, including the new series F-7 and F-8 trucks, the largest the company has ever built.

Features of the new trucks include three new power plants, great front end strength, heavier and wider fenders, bumpers with greater rigidity and strength, greater driver comfort with cabs seven inches wider and more headroom. Weatherproofing also has been improved. A one-piece windshield provides increased visibility and the rear window also has been enlarged.

Navy Recruits Will Be Granted Leaves

Upon completion of basic training at Great Lakes Naval training center today, Roger Lekers and Gordon Vander Kooi will arrive home for a 12-day leave. Both men enlisted in March. Vander Kooi is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Menne J. Vander Kooi of route 3, Zeeland, and Lekers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Lekers of Ferrysburg.

Vander Kooi attended Zeeland high school where he was active in athletics. He will report to Jacksonville, Fla., for a course in aviation fundamentals.

Lekers will attend the Jacksonville engineering and mechanical branch of the aviation school. Both men enlisted through the Navy recruiting station at Holland post office.

the mastodon, some time ago, Dr. Vergeer said. "We can tell that it was not the same kind of animal by the difference in the teeth, which, in this case, were flat."

"Just what will be done with the bones of the mastodon, has not yet been determined, but we will probably try to mount them in our zoological museum which we hope to have some day," Dr. Vergeer said.

Farm silos originated in central Europe and were introduced into the U. S. in about 1875.

Mideast Errors Told at Rotary

"We have made some tragic mistakes in the Middle East, and as time goes on, and this territory becomes more important in world affairs, the serious consequences will become more and more evident," John Dregge, military attaché with Army headquarters in Cairo, Egypt, during World War II, told the Rotary club at their luncheon meeting Thursday noon. "Palestine's situation could have been averted years ago," Dregge asserted, "and today, we are allowing our opinions to be formed on an emotional and political basis which isn't helping matters much."

"I believe that wars are caused by economic situations and factors, and now, the Middle East is supplying 82 per cent of the world oil supply, which makes it all the more important to establish and recognize these nations," he said. "We must become aware of the situation in the Middle East today, and realize and appreciate the importance of this section, its leaders, people, religion and economic standard," Dregge said in closing.

President Andrew Sall presided at the meeting, and President-elect Warner presented "Objects of Rotary" to Bernard Arendshorst, Larry Lamb, Jr., and William De Long.

The Bible has been translated into 1,051 languages.

Use of Farm Airplanes Is Rapidly Increasing

Farm airplanes now number 9,000 according to the Civil Aeronautic Authority. This is an increase of 8,900 over the number in use before World War II. In 1941 there were only 100 farm planes. Their use in agriculture has accompanied an overall increase in oil-powered farming.

More than 300 companies now work on contract basis to do such jobs as dusting, spraying, sowing, fertilizing and controlling weeds. In California alone, nearly 99 per cent of the rice crop was seeded from the air last year.

Senior Honor Day was observed at Hope college Friday at a program in Hope Memorial chapel. A procession of the men and women's glee clubs was followed by the seniors in caps and gowns.

Don Buteyn acted as master of ceremonies, introducing Charles Klaver who led devotions. The combined glee clubs sang a selection directed by Prof. Robert Cavanaugh and accompanied by Mrs. W. Curtis Snow.

An impressive "passing of the torch of knowledge" ceremony took place in which Arthur Van Eck, senior class president, presented a lighted torch of learning to Walter Boerman, junior class president. All seniors then left their places in the chapel pews which were subsequently filled by members of the junior class.

Van Eck then introduced Jean Watson, Alida Kloosterman and Gordon Brewer, who respectively presented the senior class history, prophecy and will.

Immediately following the annual honor assembly was held with Registrar Paul E. Hinkamp introducing faculty members, who in turn presented awards.

The former three were given Phi Kappa Delta keys and the latter, who formerly received a key, was awarded first prize in the Raven Oratorical contest.

Prof. Cavanaugh announced winners of three applied music scholarships. Each provides for one lesson a week for one year. The Grace Marguerite Browning scholarship in voice was awarded to Marjorie Angus; the Hope scholarship in piano, to Herbert Ritsma, and the college organ scholarship, to Francis Rose.

Milestone awards were presented to Dr. Clarence De Graaf, head of the faculty publications committee. Lapel buttons were given to Marie Butlar, Betty Boelkins, Harold Fisher, Barbara Van Dyke, Harold Grissen, Peggy Prins, Mary Van Loo, Janet Pfeiffer, Barbara Van Dyke, Jo Ann Moesner, Shirley Willbrandt, Betty De Ryke and Leona Doornbos. Silver key winners were Philip Meengs, Dorothy Davis, Mary Wade Wege and Tim Harrison. Owen Koeppe, editor, was presented a gold key.

Koeppe then presented the first issue of the 1948 Milestone to Prof. Albert E. Lampen, head of the mathematics department, to whom the publication is this year dedicated. Lampen has served on the Hope faculty for 30 years.

Dutch Visitor Holds Unique Travel Record

Peter De Wit, 84-year-old Dutchman from the Hague, holds a travel record few of his age can rival.

De Wit, who was accompanied by his daughter, Susanna, sailed for America in March, visited his sister in Paterson, N. J., for a time, then he and his daughter took a bus for Mexico City to visit a son. Last week they boarded another bus in Mexico City and rode five days and five nights, arriving in Holland Tuesday.

"Father felt fine, but the trip almost killed me," Susanna said. In Holland, Mich., they visited a niece, Mrs. C. Driscoll, 305 East 14th St., and looked up other relatives and acquaintances. They were to leave Holland today by train for Paterson and sail June 11 for the Netherlands.

What's more remarkable, the crossing last March was decidedly rough and De Wit, the oldest passenger in the 850 on board ship, was one of few passengers not sea sick.

De Wit's greatest pride and joy is a medal given him by the Dutch government in 1929 after serving 40 years in a Dutch agency, comparable to welfare agencies here. When he retired, he was office chief. The large medal bears the coat of arms of the Hague.

Miss De Wit, who speaks English fluently, carried the conversational ball for her father. She visited Holland on one previous occasion in 1927 and expects to return for another visit later. She lived in France 3½ years working as a translator in a private office.

Although the De Wits arrived here too late for the annual Tulip Time festival, they visited the tulip fields while here and hoped to squeeze in a visit to the Netherlands Museum before they departed. This was Mr. De Wit's first visit to this country. He had not seen his son for 28 years. The son, Leonard, now in Mexico City, is an American citizen. He lived in Chicago several years as a commercial artist-designer and now pursues this work in Mexico City.

Holland Closes Season With Win Over Tiger Nine

Holland High's baseball team ended its 1948 baseball season Friday afternoon when they eked a 3-2 victory over the Benton Harbor Tigers. The locals led throughout the tilt by virtue of a three-run uprising in the second inning. The tilt was played at Benton Harbor.

Much of the credit for the win must go to Frank Wlodarczyk and Dave Kempker, who came through in the pinch in the second inning and blasted long doubles to score the necessary runs. The locals nicked Davis, Tiger tosser, for only three hits, but bunched two of them in the second with Eddie Pigeon getting the third hit in the fourth inning.

Clyde Kehrwecker took the hill for the locals and held the Harbortites hitless and scoreless until the third inning when the Bengals broke out with three hits. In the fourth inning Kehrwecker yielded three more hits, but this time the Tigers made the safeties count for two runs. But in the remaining three innings, the foes couldn't touch the Holland right-hander.

Holland's three runs were scored in the second inning when Ronnie Appledorn led off and walked. A sacrifice by Witteveen sent Appledorn to second. He crossed the plate when Wlodarczyk blasted a long double to center field. Pigeon then walked, putting runners on first and second when Dave Kempker took hold of one of Davis' fast balls and sent it deep into left field for another two-bagger scoring both runners. This gave the Dutch a 3-0 edge. Two infield outs ended the inning, but the damage was done as far as the Bengals were concerned.

Kehrwecker was touched for six hits and fanned 11 Benton Harbor batters. In the second inning the ace right-hander muffed the Tiger bats completely by striking out the side. Davis of the Harbortites hurled effective ball throughout the tilt and was clear of trouble except for the disastrous second inning. He struck out three Hollanders and issued four bases on balls.

Stop Signs Stay For Thirty Days

Stop signs halting College Ave. traffic at 16th St. will remain as an experiment for 30 days, according to the Public Safety commission.

Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff explained that the stop signs were put up before Tulip Time to aid in diverting M-21 traffic from the downtown area.

Since this intersection has been the scene of many accidents in the past, the 30-day experiment probably will determine whether accidents can be reduced. There have been two major accidents there so far this year, Chief Van Hoff said.

There is no east-west through traffic east of River Ave. outside of Eighth St., and the College Ave. intersection experiment is related to a plan whereby 16th St. could be a through-street to River Ave. As the situation now rests, there are stop streets halting traffic on Lincoln and College Aves., and four-way stops at Columbia and Central Aves.

Chief Van Hoff said comment will be welcomed. Some have expressed the belief that 16th St. traffic should be halted at College.

What intelligent men want now is "law in world affairs," but at present there doesn't seem to be much assurance of getting it.

Five hits good for five runs in the seventh inning "sewed up" the win for the Dutch. Douglas netted its only tally in their seventh on a lone hit and a couple of infield outs.

The Rev. C. Witt read the double ring ceremony before a setting of palms, ferns and bouquets of white tulips, snapdragons, calla lilies and stock.

The bride wore a lovely gown of ivory satin fashioned with fitted bodice, long sleeves tapering to points at the wrists and tiny buttons down the back. The full skirt extended into a long train. Her lace trimmed fingertip veil was held in place by a tundra of orange blossoms. The bouquet of white roses, snapdragons and lilies of the valley and a single strand of pearls, gift of the groom, completed the ensemble.

Mrs. Richard Scheerhorn, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, wore a blue gown with a fitted bodice of embroidered rayon and net yoke and overskirt. Miss Dorothy Vanden Brink was junior bridesmaid. Her gown was yellow falles with a net yoke. Both attendants carried arm bouquets of mixed flowers.

Marvin Witteveen, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Vanden Brink were master and mistress of ceremonies at the reception for 25 guests following the ceremony. The bride opened her own gifts. Serving the guests were Mrs. Harvey Tinkhof and Miss Louise Ten Brink.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Witteveen, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Witteveen and Mr. and Mrs. John Natelberg and family of Chicago.

The bride is a graduate of Holland Christian high school and the groom was graduated from Chicago Christian high school. The couple attended Calvin college.

For the wedding trip, the bride wore a summer white suit with navy accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The couple will live in Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Everett Vanden Brink and Mrs. Andrew Van Wieren entertained at showers for the bride.

Math Prof Rounding 30 Years of Teaching

One of Hope college's most versatile and best-liked professors is rounding out his 30th year of teaching at the college.

Professor of Mathematics Albert E. Lampen arrived at the institution in 1918 when men were at a premium, and has stayed on since, making countless friends and teaching hundreds of students. This dean of Hope professors formerly had, according to college records, 15 of the present faculty as students.

Prof. Lampen is known in Holland as a congenial gentleman, quick of wit, wide in knowledge, honest in judgment, and a peer in his field of mathematics and astronomy. Himself a graduate from Hope in 1911, the professor returned in 1918 after attending the University of Michigan on the Regents Scholarship. Two professorships at Washburn college, Topeka, Kan., and Winona college, Winona, Ind., preceded his arrival at this Reformed church school.

"Sports were just coming into their own at Hope then," related the professor, "and I was drafted to be official time and scorekeeper. Those were the days when timing was done with a regular pocket watch, and the end of the game was announced with gun shot."

According to the professor, he missed only a few games from 1918 until 1937, when the automatic clock was installed, or as the professor said "forced my retirement." Local fans remember the punctual arrival, the efficient timing of the genial professor, who soon became a legend at the Hope basketball contests.

Besides teaching the higher mathematics courses, such as integral calculus, theory of equations, and differential equations, Prof. Lampen also handles courses in plane surveying and astronomy.

"When I arrived at Washburn college to teach," said the professor, "I was shocked to learn that astronomy was also included in my schedule. I really studied and crammed, for I wasn't equipped to handle the course. But I became so interested in my work that astronomy soon became my hobby."

That was over 30 years ago, and today Prof. Lampen is Holland's authority on solar perplexities.

Although most mathematic students do not follow directly that field in graduate school, many some phase of engineering, enter of the professor's former students still keep in touch with their favorite personality. The professor has kept a record of every student he has taught, and today boasts of several who are working on their doctorates in mathematics.

Fred Bertsch, Bob Curtis, Gil Van Wieren, William Vlieger, Harry Frissel, Howard Beckfort, Cornie Groenewoud and Earl Fopma are among those who will soon receive their doctorates. Between 30 and 40 of Lampen's students have obtained master's degrees in mathematics and are now teaching in colleges and universities.

Besides his duties at the college, Prof. Lampen is a leading citizen in Holland. He has served on the school board since 1934 and has taught Sunday school and been a member of the consistory of Third Reformed church for about 30 years. He lives at 552 College Ave., with Mrs. Lampen and a son, Edgar. Another son, Oliver, is a doctor of organic chemistry. A daughter Barbara, is a teacher in the local schools.

At the recent honors assembly in Hope college, Prof. Lampen was honored for his service by having the 1948 Milestone, college yearbook, dedicated to him.

Sports Briefs

Sports Briefs, like so many other items, fell victim to Tulip Time copy last week, while the busy spring sports schedules of the high schools and college were rapidly drawing to a close.

Since the last bit of rambling, Hope has taken third place in the MIAA—All Sports standings, the Holland High tennis squad clinched first in the Southwest conference race, the Holland High golf squad moved into second in the league and the Holland Flying Dutchmen have opened their summer baseball season.

Most of the chatter with the exception of various outbursts on the approaching Louis-Walcott fight, will center around baseball, golf and tennis during the summer months.

Since everyone else is "going in the limb" and predicting the Louis-Walcott outcome, the Sports Briefer is going to do the same thing.

The Briefer has never seen Louis fight, and is not going to base his judgements on the fact that he saw him play ping pong once, but he is going to pick Louis to successfully defend his crown.

The reasoning in order for a challenger to win a championship, he has to decisively whip the champion—he has to prove that he is better than the champ, not merely as good.

True, Walcott gave Louis a battle last year, but many still do not think that he showed the "stuff" to be a champion. It's pretty much of a cinch that Walcott didn't improve much over his light fight, while Louis wouldn't have far to go in order to improve. Ringside experts say the champ was in poor condition—at least not in shape for a championship bout.

Indications are, however, that Louis is "bearing down" for the next meeting, and may prove a different fighter when he enters the ring June 23.

Don't count Walcott out though. If there is going to be an upset, Jersey Joe could be on the upsetting end.

Vernon (Lefty) Gomez and George Selkirk, former Yankees stars will assist with the baseball tryout to be conducted here by the New York Yankees, July 7, 8 and 9, it was reported this week.

Reports from the Yankees indicate that the camp will be devoted mainly to hitting, fielding, throwing and running.

Boys must have their own uniforms, gloves and spiked shoes, but the bats and balls will be furnished. All young ball players showing sufficient talent will be offered contracts with clubs in their farm system.

Gomez needs no introduction to local baseball fans. He has been branded as one of the greatest left-handed flingers in baseball, and established an enviable record in his major league career.

"Twinkles" Selkirk is probably best known because he was replacement for the immortal Babe Ruth. Selkirk, however, was a slugger in his own right. During his five years as a Yankee regular he batted .300 or better.

Ray Meyers, well known scout, will also assist in the trial camp.

The chances of a Holland High tennis player becoming a state champion are not too remote this year, when it considers that six of the local squad qualified for the state meet to be held at Kalamazoo, June 4 and 5.

Two doubles teams and two singles players will make the trip, and don't be too surprised if something happens. The new Southwest champs have completely swept by all foes in this section of the state, encountering practically no opposition in the Regionals held here last week. The six who qualified are Roger Brunzell, Ken Van Wieren, Warren Exo, Ron Bos, Jack van der Velde and Dick Nieuwma.

Oddly enough, it may be a Class B squad which may cause the locals the most trouble in A competition. The reason is that Western State High of Kalamazoo, only a B school by enrollment, has chosen to enter A competition. This outfit dominated the Kalamazoo Regionals last week.

Holland met the Little Broncos this year and lost 4-2, but Coach Joe Moran feels that his lads could do better on a second occasion.

At any rate, win or lose, it still is an honor. Incidentally the Briefer doubts if there is any other Class A team in the state which qualified six men for the state tournament.

Kiwanians Clean Camp At Outdoor Meeting

Twenty-four Kiwanians gathered at Kamp Kiwanis near Lakewood farm Tuesday night and turned their regular meeting into a work session by dragging the ball diamond with a team of horses, raking underbrush and burning stumps, preparatory to the use of the camp by Camp Fire groups and other sponsored organizations this summer.

Others worked in camp headquarters installing cupboards and cabinets. The Rev. Herman Rosenberg, pastor of Central Park Reformed church, gave a short talk on the true meaning of Memorial day. Group singing was led by Preston Laidens. Tony Last presided at a short business meeting.

June Important Month for Busy Home Gardeners

MSC Specialist Says Plants Need Spraying, Watering and Pruning

For home gardeners, the month of June means a little planting, a little pruning, a little watering, a little dusting and spraying, and lots of weeding. Jack Rose, Michigan State college gardening specialist, says that all added together, it makes one of the busiest and most important months in the whole gardening year.

June 1-10: Time still remains to plant part of the spring garden and start to plant some of the fall garden. If tomatoes, peppers, eggplant, and tender flower annuals have not been set out, do so now. Make second seeding of corn and beans. Sow lima beans, pumpkin, squash, melons and cucumbers. Plant late potatoes. Sow seed of cabbage, broccoli, cauliflower, and brussels sprouts for fall crops.

Dahlias may be set out any time during June. Continue making gladiolus plantings at ten-day intervals up to the last of June.

June 10-20: Start dusting sweet corn with rotenone or three per cent DDT to control corn borer. Make five applications at five-day intervals. Keep squash plants dusted with rotenone to control vine borer. Spray tomato blossoms with hormone spray for early fruit set.

Watch beans for Mexican beetle. Spray or dust with rotenone, covering top and underside of leaves for control. Dust or spray potatoes with mixture of DDT and copper dusts or bordeaux mixture.

Pinch back chrysanthemums to get bushy growth and abundance of bloom. Stake delphinium, hollyhocks and other tall perennials.

June 20-30: Stop cutting asparagus. Apply 10 pounds of 10-6-4 or other high nitrogen fertilizer per 100 foot row. Watch for and remove suckers on lilacs, roses and any other grafted trees or shrubs. Water plants during dry spells. Be particularly careful to water newly set evergreens. Water lawn thoroughly, soaking soil to depth of three or four inches. Don't just sprinkle.

As a concluding note, the horticulturist urges gardeners to battle weeds. June is the month to whip the weed problem. Weeds rob garden plants of food and moisture. Hoe them out, pull them by hand, get rid of the weeds. This is a good time to use one of the 2, 4-D sprays to destroy lawn weeds, too. Be careful not to get 2, 4-D on garden plants, however.

SIMPLE TESTS HELP HAYMAKING

Michigan farmers will find that two tests devised by a Michigan State college scientist will be of help in making hay or grass silage this year. The first test is shown in picture 1 where Dr. S. T. Dexter, farm crops specialist at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station, fits a hay sample in his "oven-type" moisture tester on the exhaust of a tractor.

These tests will be demonstrated at all of the Michigan State College Grass Day demonstration programs being held in lower Michigan during June.

The heat generated by the motor of the tractor drives the water from a sample of hay and permits quick calculation of the hay's moisture content. Equipment needed is the oven, a round cylinder of sheet metal to hold the sample, a scale and a thermometer. The hay sample is weighed, put in the oven and the motor raced. The sample should be turned occasionally and the engine speed adjusted to avoid scorching. When the sample reaches constant weight, the percentage of moisture can be figured by dividing the loss in weight by the original weight of the sample. The farmer can then determine if it is necessary to let the hay in the field dry more before storage.

Pictures 2 and 3 show Dexter's quick storage test. Materials required include a quart ice cream box, some ammonium chloride salt from the drugist, and a hay sample. The hay is put in the box with a small teaspoonful of the salt. The cover is placed on the box and shaken 100 times. If the salt is damp and clumped together (as in picture 2) the hay is too damp to store safely. If it remains in its original state (picture 3) the hay can be stored safely under ordinary farm conditions.

Details for the construction of the oven-type tester may be secured by writing to the Farm Crops Department, Michigan State college, East Lansing, Michigan.

Drying Out of Trees Explained

The drying out and browning of conifer trees have caused many inquiries at the extension office. In numerous cases needles have turned brownish. In some cases the whole tree has become brown in color.

L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent, says this condition is known as late winter drying. Generally this condition is the result of weather in February and early March. The ground is frozen hard, no water can rise, the air becomes warmer with a wind. The result is rapid evaporation from the needles with no chance of water replacement in the needles, thus a drying condition as far as needles are concerned. If too severe the whole tree may die. Last winter there was deep freezing of the soil and loss of moisture in needles did occur. Injury does not show up until four to six weeks after it has taken place.

Affected trees should be left until May in order to determine the extent of injury. In some cases new growth may start from the browned branches. Dead branches should be pruned off of ornamental trees. In plantations dead branches should be removed and if injury is extreme remove affected trees. Fertilization is advisable and where possible heavy watering in July and August.

Mulching with well rotted straw and leaves is a good preventative as it prevents deep freezing of the soil, also conserves soil moisture.

Lightning Causes Large Loss in Farm Fires

Lightning is nature's artillery. That's the way Fred Roth, farm safety specialist at Michigan State college, describes the danger of lightning which causes 37 per cent of all farm fires.

Each year lightning destroys approximately $20,000,000 worth of farm property in the United States. It takes the lives of 500 people and injures 1,300 others according to National Safety Council records.

A building adequately equipped with lightning rods offers the best protection. Roth points out. If you are working in a field and do not have time to seek the protection of a rodged building lie down in a low spot in the field away from wire fences, trees, livestock and machinery. Avoid seeking shelter under trees, particularly lone trees.

Project Will Boost City's Water Supply

Holland city is going to have more water.

The project linking three new wells east of the city with the Fifth St. pumping station is started and if everything goes smoothly, pipelines should be ready in two to three months, according to BPW officials.

An estimated 852 feet of pipe has already been laid. Eventually the project will bring water from two wells on Waverly Rd. and another new well on East Eighth St. into the city.

The completed job will include 6,192 feet of 24-inch pipe, 2,460 feet of 20-inch and 624 feet of 16-inch pipe, officials said.

A South Haven engineering firm has the contract.

In 1947, 990 Americans were killed and 22,000 injured by automobiles with defective brakes. About 97 per cent of Turkey is in Asia, 3 per cent in Europe.

Nine Persons Injured In Head-On Car Crash

Sixteen persons were injured in five accidents in and around Holland during the Memorial Day week-end. Officers said traffic was extremely dense.

Nine persons were injured Monday at 5:20 p.m. when two cars crashed head-on three miles east of Zeeland on M-21. Charles P. Vanderwood, 22, of route 2, Sparta, driver of one of the cars was returning home after visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Nellie Vanderwood of 61 West 13th St.

Injured were: Donald C. Brown, 31, of Grand Rapids, driver of the other car, fractured leg and jaw and minor cuts.

Mrs. Hazel Brown, 53, his mother, fractured leg.

Mrs. Annelliese Godfrey of route 2, Lowell, a passenger in Brown's car, broken nose, loss of several teeth, head and face cuts, condition reported "fair."

Robert Godfrey, her husband, possibly fractured ribs, head and face cuts.

Everett Brown, 60, father of the driver, received back injuries plus shock and his son Robin, 4, received scalp lacerations and his condition was reported "good." The above were all riding in Brown's car.

Vanderwood received chest injuries and face and hand cuts. His wife, Leone, 23, received an injured left hand and body bruises. Charles Vanderwood, Jr., four months old, received head injuries.

Witnesses were Arnold Nelson of Byron Center Ave., Grand Rapids, and Leroy Osborn of Grand Rapids, who were driving the first and second cars following Vanderwood at the time of the accident.

Two ambulances from Zeeland and one from Hudsonville answered the call and four of the injured were taken to Bldgett hospital, Grand Rapids, while the other five were taken to Zeeland hospital.

Sheriff's offices from Zeeland, Hudsonville and Holland answered the call.

According to officers, they believe Vanderwood left the line of traffic to pass and the crash occurred. Officers are continuing their investigation.

In another accident at 1 a.m. Monday, Nelson Mulder of Zeeland, driver of a car that crashed into a cement abutment of a bridge at the south end of the Holland Fish and Game club property on the old Zeeland road near New Greening, received two fractured ribs. He was taken to Zeeland hospital and was released this morning.

Boeve Seeks Re-Election As Ottawa County Sheriff

Grand Haven, June 3 (Special)—Sheriff William M. Boeve has announced he will be a candidate for re-election in the September primaries. Boeve has been sheriff for four two-year terms. He is living in Holland at the time of his election in 1940. He is the third candidate on the Republican ticket for sheriff in this election. Others seeking the post are Jerry Vanderbeek of Holland and Gerald Pellegrom of Spring Lake.

Health Card Plan Progresses Here

A total of 41 restaurants, lunch rooms, taverns and soda bars employing approximately 375 persons have been instructed to have these over-the-counter food handlers take physical examinations according to Ben Wiersema, city inspector and contact man.

This is the first step in a county-wide project to combat contagious and infectious diseases. These examinations were suspended, except in emergency, during the war years.

After record of the examination is received at the local county health office, a card will be issued. This card will be filed by the employer and will be good for one year.

Cards will be returned to the employee when he quits work and must be given to a new employer if it is a food handling establishment.

The plan as handled in the city of Holland is expected to be county-wide and examination cards will be valid anywhere in Ottawa county, Wiersema said.

As new persons are employed, it will be up to the employer to see they are examined and have a card, he said.

Chief Operator Marks Her 25th Anniversary

Mrs. Cora M. Foote, chief operator at Bell Telephone Co., is currently observing her 25th anniversary in Holland and her 30th year of service with the company. She worked in Ann Arbor, Grand Rapids, Flint and her home town of Petoskey, before coming to Holland. She became chief operator here in 1923.

She is a member of the Telephone Pioneers of America, an organization of persons with more than 21 years service.

Arnold Warns Against Use of New Compounds

Much publicity has recently been put out in regard to the use of new compounds for control of weeds and insects. L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent, cautions against too speedy acceptance of all claims. Without doubt many of these new compounds are effective but not much has been done to determine after effects. It is advisable to go slow and if such compounds are used directions should be followed closely.

Right now there is much discussion over pre-emergence sprays for control of weeds. In some cases it is stated that spraying of the ground may eliminate cultivation. Scientist at Michigan State college will make no such claims. However they are conducting some conclusive tests in 1948.

No one questions that some compounds will kill weeds. Before going all out in 1948 it is best to try out small areas and not risk the whole field.

DDT has been used successfully against the corn borer. Prof. James of Michigan State college, feels that growers of sweet corn may well use this compound but he doubts that it is advisable to try spraying or dusting field corn.

Strawberry growers have been much worried over the appearance of spittle bug. Rains during the past ten days have done much toward control of this insect. At present it appears that the spittle-bug will not be too serious this spring. If control is necessary HCH should be used. However this poison must be applied before the berries get to be over 1/4 of an inch in diameter, otherwise the fruit may be inedible due to the taste left by this drug.

Some early tomato growers are turning to a hormone spray for improvement of the set of early tomatoes. Varieties tested included Victor, Firesteel, John Baer, Stokesdale and Rutgers. In some instances in 1947 earliness of the harvest was stepped up by two weeks. Generally dropping of blossoms is due to cool nights early in the season. The hormone will overcome the delayed fruit set resulting from cold night temperature. If night temperature is above 85 degrees very little benefit is derived from the application of the hormone. Instructions as to the hormone and its use may be secured at the extension office, court house, Grand Haven.

Among the featured equipment will be a grass seeder attached to a cultipacker, to be demonstrated as an improved way of seeding alfalfa, broom and many other small seeds. The device helps to prevent too deep coverage.

Balers which tie with twine and wire, and types that make round bales will be demonstrated. The choppers will crush green hay, dry hay or may be converted to field chopping of corn silage.

Of special interest will be the hay crusher, a set of rollers mounted back of the knives through which the hay passes as it is cut. The rollers crack the stems and allow them to dry out as rapidly as do the leaves. For ensiling, it allows a more rapid wilting; for baling more rapid and even curing; for chopping more rapid and even drying; and for long hay, more rapid and even drying. It results in the saving of many leaves and sometimes allows a crop to be put in the barn before a rain.

Several types of power unloading wagons will be shown. Some will have a canvas bottom that rolls up on a roller and others will have an endless apron or a movable end-gate. Both electric and gas driven engines will be shown with them.

The bodies of three Holland men and two others from this area were aboard the Army transport L.T. George W. G. Boyce which arrived in San Francisco Monday.

A total of 245 Michigan World War II dead from military cemeteries in New Guinea and the Philippine Islands were among the 4,459 bodies on the boat.

Aboard the boat are the bodies of Pfc. Daniel Jonker, son of Nicholas L. Jonker of route 2, Holland; Pfc. Harley J. C. Mulder, son of Marinus Mulder of 374 Washington Blvd. and Pvt. James H. Sullivan, son of Hazel K. Sullivan of 379 Central Ave.

Also returning are the bodies of T/5 George H. McMillin of route 3, Hudsonville; S/Sgt. Donald Van Der Popen, husband of Mrs. Laura Van Der Popen of route 1, Hamilton and Pfc. Richard J. Vander Laan and his next of kin is Mrs. Henrietta Vander Laan of Grand Haven.

The bodies are being returned at the request of relatives and will be finally buried with full military honors, if desired in any cemetery the family chooses. A serviceman of the same rank as that of the man who gave up his life will accompany the flag-draped casket home.

Holland Nine Trims Hamilton

Paced by the superb four hit pitching of Clare Van Liere, the local Color-Ad baseball organization trounced the Hamilton club, 13-2 on the losers' diamond, Monday morning. The Hollanders blasted two Hamilton flingers for 11 hits.

The locals were never in trouble, jumping to a 9-2 lead in the first three innings. They connected for a single tally in the first, three in the second five in the third, while Hamilton garnered its two runs in the third. Holland ended its scoring with two in the fourth and two in the sixth.

Van Liere struck out 11 Hamilton batters over the seven-inning rout. Lou Borgman led the local offense with three in five times at bat. Roy Wentzel and Ivan Johnson handled the hurling chores for the Hamilton club.

The Color-Ad organization, which is a member of the Wooden Shoe league, is the former Doughnut Corporation entry.

Tuesday was the 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Dyke, of 196 East 15th St., who were married June 1, 1888, in the Netherlands and came to the United States 2 1/2 years later.

They settled in Grand Rapids and came to Holland 43 years ago to make their home. Both are 83 years old and in fairly good health. Mr. Van Dyke is retired. There are three children, Frank Van Dyke, Mrs. Peter Bratt and Mrs. Leon Nykamp, all of Holland, 23 grandchildren, and nine great grandchildren. A daughter, Mrs. Peter De Vries, died four years ago.

Exhibit Planned For Grass Day

The Grass Day program to be held at the Donald Nutt farm on June 16, will feature an exhibit of the latest in forage crop machinery according to L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent.

The farm is located one-half mile north of Ravenna, in Muskegon county and farmers who attend the Grass Day may expect an interesting program. A. J. Bell, Michigan State college agricultural engineer, reports that farm machinery companies are co-operating in supplying many types of machines.

Among the featured equipment will be a grass seeder attached to a cultipacker, to be demonstrated as an improved way of seeding alfalfa, broom and many other small seeds. The device helps to prevent too deep coverage.

Balers which tie with twine and wire, and types that make round bales will be demonstrated. The choppers will crush green hay, dry hay or may be converted to field chopping of corn silage.

Of special interest will be the hay crusher, a set of rollers mounted back of the knives through which the hay passes as it is cut. The rollers crack the stems and allow them to dry out as rapidly as do the leaves. For ensiling, it allows a more rapid wilting; for baling more rapid and even curing; for chopping more rapid and even drying; and for long hay, more rapid and even drying. It results in the saving of many leaves and sometimes allows a crop to be put in the barn before a rain.

Several types of power unloading wagons will be shown. Some will have a canvas bottom that rolls up on a roller and others will have an endless apron or a movable end-gate. Both electric and gas driven engines will be shown with them.

The bodies of three Holland men and two others from this area were aboard the Army transport L.T. George W. G. Boyce which arrived in San Francisco Monday.

A total of 245 Michigan World War II dead from military cemeteries in New Guinea and the Philippine Islands were among the 4,459 bodies on the boat.

Aboard the boat are the bodies of Pfc. Daniel Jonker, son of Nicholas L. Jonker of route 2, Holland; Pfc. Harley J. C. Mulder, son of Marinus Mulder of 374 Washington Blvd. and Pvt. James H. Sullivan, son of Hazel K. Sullivan of 379 Central Ave.

Also returning are the bodies of T/5 George H. McMillin of route 3, Hudsonville; S/Sgt. Donald Van Der Popen, husband of Mrs. Laura Van Der Popen of route 1, Hamilton and Pfc. Richard J. Vander Laan and his next of kin is Mrs. Henrietta Vander Laan of Grand Haven.

The bodies are being returned at the request of relatives and will be finally buried with full military honors, if desired in any cemetery the family chooses. A serviceman of the same rank as that of the man who gave up his life will accompany the flag-draped casket home.

Holland Nine Trims Hamilton

Paced by the superb four hit pitching of Clare Van Liere, the local Color-Ad baseball organization trounced the Hamilton club, 13-2 on the losers' diamond, Monday morning. The Hollanders blasted two Hamilton flingers for 11 hits.

The locals were never in trouble, jumping to a 9-2 lead in the first three innings. They connected for a single tally in the first, three in the second five in the third, while Hamilton garnered its two runs in the third. Holland ended its scoring with two in the fourth and two in the sixth.

Van Liere struck out 11 Hamilton batters over the seven-inning rout. Lou Borgman led the local offense with three in five times at bat. Roy Wentzel and Ivan Johnson handled the hurling chores for the Hamilton club.

The Color-Ad organization, which is a member of the Wooden Shoe league, is the former Doughnut Corporation entry.

Save Cash Outlay When Remodeling Your Farmhouse

When you build or remodel your farmhouse—and it seems that nearly everyone is these days—do you know how to keep your cash outlay as low as possible?

Three very important suggestions for reducing cash outlay are offered by Olevia Meyer, extension specialist in home management at Michigan State college.

First, and highly important, is that you have a complete plan for the whole improvement even though some things will have to be postponed over a period of years. This will prevent costly adjustments later. Second, confine present improvements to those most urgently needed to safeguard health and provide for comfort and welfare. Third, find ways to do or buy things at less than the usual cash outlay. Farm families are fortunate in being able to make some improvements at little or no cash outlay.

Here are some suggestions from Miss Meyer for making these savings. Use building materials ordinarily kept in dealers' stock; use ready-made parts, such as doors, windows, and millwork. Choose common grades rather than top grades of such items as framing, sheathing, flooring, and brick. Materials produced locally often cost less than those shipped in.

Consider cutting lumber from the farm woodlot or buying local lumber. See whether you can get sand, gravel, and building stone from nearby sources. Ask dealers what materials are the most economical and practical for your locality. Get directions on how to use and apply them. Use farm equipment for hauling materials, excavating foundation and basements, and grading yards and drives. Do some of the building yourself, especially if you can hire a skilled person to direct the work.

The job will take longer this way but you will save considerable cash.

A European Tells How To Plant Tulip Bulbs

Techniques of growing tulips were described by a Dutch grower in a recent letter to his cousin, the Rev. T. Hirma, 249 East 11th St.

The Friesland grower, T. K. Hirma, wrote he planted the bulbs in October and they bloom in April and May. As soon as the petals start to fall, the bloom must be cut off, then the bulbs continue growing until they die in June or July, at which time they are dug up.

Then the bulbs are peeled and cleaned and taken to market or to the exporter. Florists often plant them in boxes and in the ground 10 centimeters deep. These boxes are taken out of the ground in November or December and placed in a warm greenhouse, first in the dark to obtain a long stem. When the flower bud appears, they are placed in the light. This process is repeated in winter five or six times and as a result tulips bloom all winter.

Of course, raising tulips by this process is a lot of work, the Friesland man wrote.

From among the various county winners, the state extension office will select the individual and two-member team state champions. Each will receive a watch.

For their demonstrations, participants may select any subject relating to the preparation, manufacture or use of dairy products which may include fresh milk, evaporated milk, malted milk and ice cream. They may demonstrate the use of dairy products in milk drinks, soups, creamed dishes, cereals, custards, puddings, pie fillings, infant feeding formulas and special diets.

Offer New Awards in 4-H Dairy Foods Program

New awards of merit are being offered for superior records in the 1948 national 4-H Dairy Foods Demonstration program, which is being continued in Michigan for the ninth consecutive year.

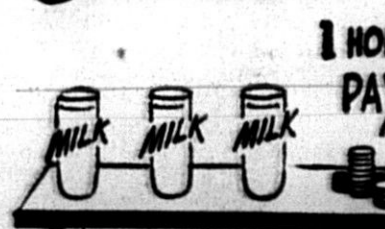

Winners on both county and state levels are divided into two classes—individual and two-member team demonstrators. Each of the three county winners will receive a gold medal of honor.
