Six-Weeks Course For Instrumental Musicians Planned

All Students Eligible;
Program Includes Large
And Small Classes

A six-weeks summer instrumental music course will be inaugurated June 13 at Holland high school, according to Supt. C. C. Crawford.

All students are eligible whether they attend public or parochial schools, Crawford said.

James Schrodt of the Holland high music faculty, will direct the course.

The program includes instruction and music for two rehearsals a week in a large group and one rehearsal a week in an ensemble or small group.

Deadline for registrations at Crawford's high school office is June 8.

"This will not interfere with vacation Bible school," Crawford said.

The schedule lists the following large groups:

Orchestra (combining Junior high school and high school strings), Tuesday at 8 a.m.; Thursday at 7 p.m.

Elementary strings—Tuesday and Thursday at 2:30 p.m.

Concert band (combining high school and selected Junior high school members), Tuesday 10 a.m.; Thursday at 8:30 p.m.

Junior band—Tuesday and Thursday at 1 p.m.

Elementary band—Tuesday and Thursday at 4 p.m.

Beginners band—Wednesday and Friday at 1 p.m.

Beginning strings—Wednesday and Friday at 2:30 p.m.

Students will be free to participate in an ensemble of their choice and music will be furnished, Crawford said.

Miss Runquist or Schrodt are available for private lessons along with several teachers that will be in Holland for the summer.

The course ends July 22.

Fee for the six-weeks program is three dollars.

Instruments for summer rental are available at the high school for a small fee. Receipts for rental are available at the superintendent's office and must be presented to Schrodt when the instrument is received.

Classes will be held in room two at Junior high school.

Rotarians View Big Game Photos

Kodachrome pictures of a South African wild game expedition were shown at the Thursday noon luncheon meeting of the Holland Rotary club in the Warm Friend Tavern by Edward Filstrup, of Benton Harbor, who recently spent six months hunting on the veld and highlands just south of the equator.

Among comments by the speaker, it was pointed out that ironically enough, dangerous animals were hunted and shot at close range, and harmless ones at long range. Many interesting habits, such as giraffe's drinking only once a week, were pointed out.

Pictures included shots of elephants, lions, zebras, rhinoceros water bucks, hippopotamuses, pelicans, flamingos, and 16-foot high ant hills.

It was decided to hold the July and August meetings of the club at Castle Park.

John Donnelly, president-elect, presided in the absence of the Rev. William C. Warner, who is in Washington, D. C.

Zeelanders Seek New School in Special Election

Zeeland, June 9 — If Zeeland voters approve the proposed building program in a special election Friday night, Zeeland's elementary students will move into a new 15-room school in September, 1950.

Supt. M. B. Lubbers pointed out today that a "yes" vote on all three issues to be submitted Friday night will insure a much needed new public school for elementary students. The election will be held 8 to 10 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Proposal No. 1 authorizes setting aside the 15-mill tax limitation.

Proposal No. 2 would set aside previous action allowing 5 mills for 5 years, so that double taxation would not be imposed.

Proposal No. 3 would authorize new bonds in an amount estimated at $225,000 to be paid in nine years at a tax rate of 5 mills a year. Although plans call for 5 mills in 9 years, the proposal allows a latitude of 8 mills up to 13 years in order to attract a good market.

Supt. Lubbers said the new school would replace the grade school building on Main St., half of which was torn down after condemnation by state authorities. The arrangement allows use of the "half school" for one more year.

All qualified voters may vote on proposal No. 1, but only tax payers or wives or husbands of tax payers may vote on the other two issues. Only simple majorities are necessary for passage.

A similar special election last year attracted 200 voters.

College Awards Degree To Coach Jack Schouten

Jack Schouten, for 30 years Hope college's "grand old man" of sports, received an honorary bachelor of arts degree with the class of 1949 in a surprise feature of the 84th annual commencement in Hope, Memorial chapel Wednesday night.

In granting the degree at the close of impressive exercises, Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, college president, commented on the former coach's service to the school and explained that the Board of Trustees, meeting earlier in the day, had voted to set aside specific scholastic requirements in order to honor the veteran athletic mentor.

The brief ceremony followed the awarding of honorary degrees to four. Degrees of doctor of laws were conferred on the Hon. Everett M. Dirksen, former congressman from Illinois and on Tena Holkeboer, missionary to China. The Rev. Jacob Boerman of Pekin, Ill., read the citation for Dirksen, and Dean Emma Reverts presented Miss Holkeboer. Prof. Clarence Kleis presented the Rev. Henry Beltman of Los Angeles and Dr. Albertus J. Pieters read the citation for the Rev. Senji Tsuru, Ferris seminary principal at Yokohama, Japan. The latter two received doctor of divinity degrees.

Mr. Dirksen delivered a stirring commencement address in which he deplored the emphasis on material security and the morbid attitude of gloom which pervades present-day thinking. "All things are possible to him that believeth," he said, and this can well be the answer to the futility, frustration and fear which color the times.

The invocation was pronounced by the Rev. John R. Kemper and "The Word of God" was presented by the Rev. B. D. Dykstra of Orange City, Ia., whose two sons received top honors in the graduating class.

Miss Claire Wierenga and Timothy Harrison of the senior class sang a duet and Donald Hoek played an organ solo. Mrs. W. Curtis Snow was at the organ.

Dr. John Hollenbach, dean of the college, awarded the prizes. The coveted Southland gold medal award for the outstanding senior girl went to Carolyn Ingham of Ferndale and the Otto van der Velde all campus award was presented to John E. Tirrell of Holland.

Other prizes were: Senior Bible award, Eunice Heinen of Oostburg, Wis., first; John Jessor of Hudsonville, second; board of education award, Hazel Vander Woude of McBain; George Birkhoff award, Glenn Van Haisma of Zeeland; Almon T. Godfrey chemistry award, Paul E. Hinkamp II, Holland; Patterson memorial biology award, George Zuidema of Holland; Pietsenpol award, William Hillegonds, Chicago.

The Raven prize in oratory went to William Dykstra of Grand Rapids, first, and Howard Koop, Holland, second.

Dr. John A. Dykstra, president of the board of trustees pronounced the benediction.

The list of graduates appears on page 6.

Allegan Wants New Elementary School by 1950

$600,000 Bond Issue
To Be Voted in Special
Election on June 13

Allegan, June 9 (Special) — If the $600,000 bond issue and tax raise is voted "yes" at the June 13 school election here, Allegan will have a new elementary school by September, 1950, the Citizens' committee has announced.

The statement was included in a mimeographed question and answer bulletin issued by the committee which is working for passage of the two propositions.

Plans and specifications for the 27-classroom structure are ready so that bids could be opened to contractors within 30 to 60 days, the committee said. The $600,000 amount, plus money already in the building and site fund, would be adequate to buy the site, build and equip the building and improve, remodel and repair existing school facilities.

Actual tax increase would amount to $10 per thousand assessed valuation for 11 years, the statement declared. The increase would be specifically for retiring the school bonds on the new building, and can be used for no other purpose.

"We have been assured that the interest rate will not exceed 2 1/2 per cent. A number of school bonds in Michigan have recently sold for less," the committee said.

Listing the crowded and in some cases unhealthful conditions existing in the city schools, the information is being distributed through the schools and organizations in order to assure a good registration and good turn-out of voters.

"No school building construction or major repair on school buildings has been done in Allegan in 28 years," the committee declared. "We are unanimously agreed the immediate answer to our problem is a new central school and we assure the board of education of our whole-hearted support."

Grand Rapids Trio Killed in Train Crash in Ottawa

Grand Haven, June 9 (Special) — Three Grand Rapids residents were killed in a train-car crash Sunday at 5:55 p.m. at Ferrysburg while returning from a fishing trip to north shore piers.

The dead are Martin Hiemstra, 56, and his wife, Hattie, 48, of 3451 Burlingame road, and Mrs. Goldie Van Sice, 36, of 948 Godfrey St., Grand Rapids.

The crash occurred at the Third St. crossing in Ferrysburg. There was no evidence brakes on the Hiemstra car had been applied and the '33 model was carried almost to the next crossing. The victims were taken to Municipal hospital but were dead on arrival. Coroner Joseph Kammeraad said all three received skull fractures.

Jacob Ruiter, who was in the sun parlor of his home nearby, told officers he saw the Hiemstra car approach and remarked to his wife that the car "wouldn't make it." He estimated the speed of the car at 40 miles an hour.

State police determined that Mrs. Hiemstra was sitting beside her husband, the driver, and Mrs. Van Sice was in the rear seat. Identification was made through Hiemstra's operator's license and through identification cards in the women's purses.

The crossing where the accident occurred has no signal, although residents in the vicinity had been agitating for one.

The Hiemstras are survived by a son and Mrs. Sice by two daughters.

William Bergen of Muskegon was engineer of the Chesapeake and Ohio train which was en route to Chicago from Muskegon. H. Fletcher of Muskegon was conductor.

New Scout Field Executive Named For Local Area

Local Office Closes
July 31; Kromann
Concludes His Term

Judson Leonard of Park Ridge, Ill., has been named new field executive of the central and northern districts of the former Ottawa-Allegan Boy Scout council. The announcement was made today by J. Howard Tredinnick, president of the Grand Valley council.

The appointment will become effective June 30, and Leonard will establish headquarters in Holland. He and his wife will make their home in Holland.

Leonard will also be camp executive of Camp Ottawa.

He comes to Holland from the Chicago council where he directed scouting in the northwest section of Cook county, that includes Skokie, Skokie Center, Norwood, Lincoln Wood, Morton Grove and other communities.

Leonard joined the Chicago staff in 1941 and, except for three and a half years in the armed forces, has been in the Chicago district.

During the summers of 1947-48, Leonard directed Camp Stuart, near Whitehall, which serves 150 scouts.

He is a graduate of Oberlin college, Oberlin, O., an Eagle scout, and was scoutmaster and senior leader of troops during his years at college.

Leonard will work with Tom Walker, who has been appointed field man for the south district.

Meanwhile, plans are progressing for the merger of the Ottawa-Allegan council with the Grand Valley council operating out of Grand Rapids. The Ottawa-Allegan area will be represented on the Grand Valley council by three vice presidents, representing the north, central and south districts here.

Grand Valley council also is considering the purchase of the Camp Ottawa property in Newaygo from Consumers Power Co. A condition of such a purchase would be construction of a new road to the camp.

The local office in the city hall will officially close July 31, but both council memberships will continue until Oct. 31, the close of the fiscal year. Until that time, finances will be worked out according to allocation of expenses.

Peter Kromann, president of the Ottawa-Allegan council for 23 years, ended his duties Monday night. He has been active in local Scouting since 1941. At that time, Scout membership numbered 893. Today they number 1,440. During the period, the local council acquired Camp Taylor near Fennville, the use of the fire tower camp from the Conservation department and acquired property on a lake near Martin. Kromann was formerly a field executive in Denmark.

Weather Reports Reveal Holland Had Little Rain

May Figures for High And Low Temperature Are at Extremes

Rain was scarce in Holland during May, according to weather bureau summaries compiled by Jay Folkert, weather observer at Hope college.

Only .87 inches fell compared to 4.35 inches for the same month last year.

This year's figure is the smallest in the last five years. In 1946 the figure slumped to 3.67 inches.

The maximum temperature for the month was the highest in five years and the minimum was the lowest since 1947.

The mercury climbed to 86 degrees at one time and fell to 30 degrees another time. Last year's high was 77 degrees and the low 32 degrees.

The average high for the month was 72.5 degrees. This is the highest for the last five years. Next highest was the 69 average maximum in 1946.

The average low last month was 47.8 compared to 43 degrees one year ago.

According to figures, the overall average temperature for last month was 60.2 degrees. This is the highest average for the last five years.

There wasn't any snow last month or any trace of snow, according to the weatherman.

It rained just 10 days during May and there was one thunderstorm.

According to weather charts, the low figure of 10 days rain is the least number of days for any May in the last five years. In 1948, it rained 15 days of the month and in 1945 it rained 18 days out of the 31.

Missionary Tea Is Festive Event

The far-reaching effects of the Reformed church missionary program were brought into sharp focus at an International Missionary Tea Friday in First Reformed church honoring 20 active and retired missionaries.

In the receiving line were missionaries wearing native costumes of China, India, Japan and Arabia. Flags of all nations, flowers and a lace-covered tea table gave a festive air and added to the international atmosphere.

The welcome was given by Mrs. Bastian Kruitthof and devotions by Mrs. John Olthoff. Vocal music was provided by Miss Marjorie Zickler and piano duets by Patricia and Shirley Nonhof. Missionaries were introduced and recognition given as fields had been organized.

Domestic fields were introduced first, with Mrs. Minnie Marsilje representing the Comanche Indian mission in Lawton, Okla. and Miss Marie Van Vuren representing the Jicarilla-Apache and Mesquero stations. Recognition was given the Winnebago mission, the Omaha Indian mission and Cook Christian Training school.

When Kentucky missions were introduced, Miss Reta Pas conducted a memorial service for the late Rev. Fred De Jong. Former missionaries introduced were Mrs. Ben Du Mez, Mrs. Margaret Dubbink, Ruth Stegeman and Miss Hannah Hoekje.

Pauline Hendreth was introduced for Brewton, Ala. A Hope college student from Alabama represented the missionaries among the colored folk. Recognition was given migrant work and missionary work in Mexico and New York city.

Foreign missionary work introduced China with a letter from Jean Walvoord from Amoy. Missionaries presented were Mrs. John Otte, Mrs. Kate De Pree, Mrs. H. P. Boot and Miss Nettie De Jong.

A letter from Miss Lois Marsilje described work in the Arctic mission in India. Introduced were Dr. Bernadine De Valois, Dr. Eva McGilvray and Miss Mary Geegh. Ted Flaherty who expects to leave the United States in August to start missionary work in Japan gave an enthusiastic talk. Former missionaries introduced were Mrs. Albertus Pieters and Mrs. Edith Walvoord.

WILL RECOMMEND METERS
Allegan — Parking meters for Allegan's business district will be recommended to the City Council at their meeting tonight, City Manager Phillip Beauvais disclosed.

Thomas Edison, inventor, had about 2,500 patents in his name.

Scout Troops Set For Camp Jaunts

Six Boy Scout troops in Ottawa and Allegan counties already have made reservations for Camp Ottawa, east of Newaygo on Pettit lake.

Bids have been received from troops 6, 7 and 22 of Holland; troop 33 of Hamilton; troop 1 of Grand Haven; troop 4 of Coopersville; and troop 14 of Spring Lake.

According to the Grand Valley council, there is room for more reservations. Spaces are available July 3, 9 and 15.

J. Howard Tredinnick, of Hastings, president of the Grand Valley council, urges that all scouts try and attend either the council's Camp Shawondosee on Duck lake or Camp Ottawa.

He cited the many advantages for swimming and life-saving instruction at the summer camps and the easy access to leaders for merit badge and rank tests.

Scout Executive Herman Brandmiller will direct Camp Shawondosee and Fred Bock of Holland, is director of Camp Ottawa.

Under American immigration laws, he would probably have to wait until 1952, but if he marries an American girl, he automatically qualifies for residence here.

If you've got a few shekels handy for a good cause, you might consider two Holland high juniors who have been accepted for a five-week course in speech and speech activities at the National Institute for High School Students this summer at Northwestern university.

Joan Houtman and Charles Bradley are among 120 students chosen from several hundred applicants to attend the institute, but their appointments include no financial assistance.

Both at present are working in local drug stores, attempting to save $215 for their expenses.

If you saw Dixie Hyma marching like a true veteran in the Memorial day parade, it's because he has had plenty of experience. He started back in 1912 and has marched in ever since—the 38th time this year. He's always appointed an assistant marshal.

Every Blue Bird — and there were more than 100 of them—who marched in the Memorial day parade was presented with a blue pencil from the DAV (Disabled American Veterans) in appreciation for their part in the program. And presidents of elementary groups all carried flags provided by the VFW auxiliary.

The Memorial day ceremonies in Pilgrim Home cemetery were impressive. The weather was ideal, and the speeches were fairly brief.

The service was remarkable for one reason. No baby let out a squall after the firing squad fired three shots.

Volleys From Ambush

WOTSIS WE hear about Neal De Ward losing his tackle in the lake while casting for fish? We understand this happened while he was fishing with his brother, Dick, on the Lake Michigan pier. While other fishermen were hauling in the fish, Neal and Dick were throwing the tackle away.

Mayor Harrington says this is a chance for a Holland girl.

Mrs. Lois Parson wrote from Santa Ana, Calif., enclosing a clipping about a Dutch marine who is seeking an American wife as his only hope of remaining in the United States and building a new life for himself.

M/Sgt. Dick Vandergrind, a 24-year-old black-haired Dutchman who survived 11 months in Germany's infamous Belsen prison camp in 1942, spilled out an amazing story while awaiting a plane at El Toro Marine base to carry him to the east coast and the Netherlands. He had come from Indonesia.

Under American immigration laws, he would probably have to wait until 1952, but if he marries an American girl, he automatically qualifies for residence here.

The Cost of the Cross
Luke 23:46, 47; Matthew 27:57-60;
Mark 15:34

By Henry Geerlings

In our previous lessons we have shown what the approach to the cross cost our Lord in mental and physical suffering. This lesson caps the series that it cost in spiritual suffering. These sufferings were not all of the same nature, nor did they spring from the same sources. In the Garden He suffered, being in great agony because He was anticipating the dread experience that He would have to pass through later, when He became a sacrifice for the sin of the world. Only His disciples saw Him suffer there, and they at the time had a very inadequate understanding of His state. These sufferings were imposed by men. They were the expressions of hatred that the rulers of the Jews held toward Him.

During all this time Christ was in communion with the Father, and had strength given Him to bear this dreadful experience. He remained in this unbroken communion with the Father until He had finished His ministry to the people. He spoke to the women who followed on the way to the cross. He prays for those who were crucifying Him. He commits His mother to the care of John. He leads the penitent thief into the kingdom. He suffered under the wrath of God and bore the penalty for sin.

The question arises, what was the nature of our Lord's inner sufferings? The doctrine of the atonement is the answer. It is a subject that is both simple and profound. It is simple in that untutored people can grasp it and enter into life abundant. It is profound in that there are depths to it which the wisest saints cannot fathom.

Man's sin brought upon Him two things—the wrath of God and death. And so long as man remained an unreconciled sinner so long the wrath of God would be upon Him and He would be in that state of spiritual death, which is separation from God. Man by his own works or efforts, could not atone for his sins. His only hope lay in a substitute who would be qualified to act on his behalf. Through His incarnation Christ became a perfect sinless man.

When our Lord became our substitute He did not take on our state as sinners. He took our guilt, which is liability to punishment, and bore the penalty of sin against God. So when He was made sin for us the Father hid His face from the Son. He became separated from God and entered into that state of spiritual death for a time.

As we study our Lord's experiences on the cross, we see that the cost of the cross is far beyond our comprehension. In the first place it cost Him His place by the Father. He left, being on an equality with God, that place and became a servant. He suffered the opposition of sinners as He pursued His ministry of teaching and healing. He suffered in the Garden of Gethsemane. He suffered during His trials. And finally the greatest of all, He suffered under the righteous government of God when He bore the penalty of our sins. All these added together begin to give us a faint idea of how dark was the night the Lord passed through as He found His sheep that was lost.

But there is another aspect of the cross that we seldom consider and that is what it cost the Father. We believe that the Father suffered as much as the Son. And what of the suffering He must have endured in seeing the Son betrayed, insulted, scourged and finally crucified. We can see a slight parallel to this in human relations. When a child is stricken by some painful malady and lies writhing in pain, we know that the parents suffer even more. The fact that the cross cost so much in suffering to the Father and the Son should move us to see that such sufferings were not in vain. Through them a way of salvation has been provided. It is for us to see that our salvation should have the widest possible publicity that all might have the opportunity to call on the Lord for salvation.

The last words of Christ on Calvary have been the theme of innumerable sermons and the subject of deep reflection each Easter eve by millions of devout believers. The first word was one of forgiveness. Three words were for others. Two describe His own sufferings. In the last two He announces the triumphant close of His mission and the surrender of His soul to the Father, having finished His work for which He became incarnate. In the prayer for the forgiveness of His enemies, for the chief priests who had demanded His death, for all who mocked Him in His agony upon the cross, we are impressed with the fact of His self-forgetfulness. In the midst of His agony and soul He is still thinking of others. He thinks of all involved in any way with His sufferings and death. No thought of resentment or revenge fills His mind when treated so cruelly.

His mates collected six hits off Fillmore pitchers Forrest Shuck and Roger Eggers. Shuck was tagged for the loss.

Five errors were charged against Fillmore and three against North Shore.

Ben Waterway, with two timely singles, knocked in four of the seven Cub runs. Both hits came with men on second and third.

Al Reimink had two doubles for the North Shore nine. Carl Reimink, Con Boeve and Fred Witteveen had the other safeties for the winners.

Fillmore scored all its runs in the first inning on two hits. They added another hit in the second and that was all. Reimink issued only one walk.

Merrill Human, Bremer and Duane Rosendahl hit for Fillmore.

Harold Waterway, caught for the Cubs and Rosendahl backstopped for the losers.

Now that cold weather is over, lucky is the family which can arrange to have an occasional meal outdoors.

Federal Agency Enters Lives of Many in Michigan

21 Security Programs Pour Federal Money Into Wolverine State

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
Washington, June 9—Directly or indirectly, the FSA touches every home in Michigan.

Just the 21 Federal Security Agency programs involving grants sent $39,611,881 to Michigan last year.

If you are a wage earner, there are social security benefits. If you are unemployed, there's the federal-state system of unemployment insurance.

If you are needy, aged, blind, or a dependent child or crippled child, there's federal-state aid for public assistance.

If you seek a vocational education, there's a grant-in aid for that.

If you are insane, there's Saint Elizabeth's hospital.

If you are a Negro seeking a college education, there's Howard university in Washington. If deaf, there's Columbia Institute also in Washington. There is American Printing House for the Blind in Louisville, Kentucky.

If you want a job, there's the U.S. employment service.

Indirectly, the Federal Security Agency makes life more secure for every home. For example, various control programs combat tuberculosis, venereal disease, cancer, and diseases of the heart.

Under the FSA is the Public Health service, with its great research and training grants and related activities. Some 68 per cent of its money ($114.5 million) goes to the state co-operative programs to develop health facilities and disease control. Some 17 per cent goes to operate hospitals.

Not to be overlooked is quarantine inspection, the safeguarding of environmental sanitation, the help given the handicapped, preventive medicine, industrial hygiene, collection of vital statistics, food and drugs protection.

Now all this costs a pretty penny.

How much came to Michigan via grants-in-aid during the last fiscal year is staggering:

1. For the Federal Security administration benefits—maternity and child health, $288,131; crippled children, $193,632; child welfare $62,915; emergency maternity care, $87,070; old age, $24,596-792; blind, $418,941; dependent children, $6,891,614; unemployment insurance, $3,832,555.

2. For public health service—venereal disease, $236,614; rapid treatment facilities, $166,204; tuberculosis, $279,043; mental health $34,921; cancer, $84,015; general health, $392,144.

3. For office of education—higher education, $129,988, vocational education, $903,472.

With the ever-increasing ramifications of FSA, it's not surprising that talk for giving it cabinet status is also growing. If that happens, it is expected that Oscar Ewing, present FSA administrator, will be the first appointee to such a cabinet post.

And incidentally, if state health insurance does become a reality, that too will be under FSA's wing.

Allegan Council To Advertise for Parking Meters

Manager Will Conduct Survey to Determine How Many Are Needed

Allegan, June 8 (Special) — Allegan city council Monday night voted to advertise for bids on parking meters for downtown streets. It was one of several important actions during the long session.

Council also: Requested a five-way signal on the Hubbard St. and M-89 corner from the state highway department.

Tabled an alternate plan for garbage disposal which would eliminate the new north side city dump.

Set a special session tonight on leasing the airport.

Established a temporary policy of sewage charges based on one-third of the old quarterly rate, or on water usage, whichever is lower. (Water meters are being installed this summer.)

Gave city churches a domestic electric rate instead of commercial resulting in an annual loss of about $250 to the department.

Accepted the $630 bid of George Nordquist to redecorate portions of the city hall.

Plans to install a traffic light at the corner of North and River St. to operate during the shift changes at Blood Bros. Co.

Set June 20 as date for public hearing on Eastern Ave. sewer project, and established assessments on a five-year basis.

Council will ask for bids on approximately 150 parking meters, the number depending on a survey to be conducted by City Manager Philip Beauvais. It was tentatively agreed that the meters eventually would pay for an off-street parking lot at the rear of Hubbard St. stores and at the same time improve the unsightly river bank.

Action on the five-way light followed an appeal from Glenn Overton who pointed out the danger of the blind corner and congested traffic on the intersection.

An offer was read from E. Clare Howell of Plainfield to pick up garbage from homes and stores for 80 cents a month and take it out of the city. He asked for an ordinance prohibiting dumping rubbish with the garbage, a three-year contract and sole rights to garbage collection. No action was taken.

Councilmen got one chuckle out of the meeting. On reading the petition from the churches for domestic rates, the manager noted one signature which didn't seem to belong. It represented the one church which was a customer of Consumers Power Co.

88 Seniors Get Diplomas From Christian School

Commencement Held In Central Church For Class of 1949

Diplomas were presented to the 88 members of the Holland Christian high school class of 1949 in commencement exercises Tuesday evening in the Central Ave. Christian Reformed church. They were given by the Rev. Louis F. Voskuil, pastor of the Montello Park Christian Reformed church and president of the board of trustees. In presenting the class, Supt. Bert P. Bos, told graduates they soon would be called upon to make individual choices between "the right" and "the wrong" and they must be prepared for it. He based part of his short address on a meditation recently written by the late Rep. Sol Bloom of New York.

Principal Raymond Holwerda announced winners of 17 awards. Receiving the split scholarships of $100 each to Calvin college were Howard Slenk and Corrine Cnossen. The Hope college scholarship was also divided with honors going to George Hoekstra and Connie Boersma. The latter's scholarship amounts to $100 in tuition, while Hoekstra's totals $75. Both scholarships are renewable.

Six alumni awards were presented to students doing superior work in various fields of study. Receiving a pin and $10 were: Ann Ruth Knoll, commercial studies; Gretel Stegink, English; Paul Wallinga, languages; Hugh Koops, mathematics; Harry Mulder, science and Connie Boersma, social sciences. Citizenship pins were given to six students doing superior work while also taking an active part in extra-curricular activities. They were Martha Blystra, Connie Boersma, Donald Kiel, Harry Mulder, Marjorie Pott and Howard Slenk. The Ann Holkeboer Bible award was given to Corrine Cnossen.

Three commercial awards donated by a local bank were given to Joan Kragt, $10; Belva Van Tatenhove, $5 and Lorraine Dykema, $5.

Using as her theme the class motto, "How much better it is to get wisdom than gold," Corrine Cnossen said the key to true wisdom is "the fear of the Lord." Contrasting the present day search with the search for gold by the "Forty Niners," she urged the class to choose carefully. "Our first service is to God," she told the graduates.

Hugh Koops, salutatorian, outlined the objectives of a Christian education. He said such an education, among other things, teaches us to lead exemplary lives, carry the Gospel to all peoples and to give our all to Christ. He based his closing remarks on Proverbs 22:6, "Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

Howard Slenk, class president, presented a check for $1,750 to Supt. Bos as the class memorial. He stipulated that the gift be used for the library, hymn books, choir and a special teachers fund. Bos responded briefly.

Music was provided by the alumni choir and the school capella choir under the direction of Marvin Baas. Howard Slenk played the organ.

Albert Sagman, 37, route 1, Zeeland, was bound over to the September term of the circuit court, upon examination before Justice George V. Hoffer Thursday afternoon on a charge of felonious assault. He furnished $300 bond for his appearance Sept. 6.

Sagman who was originally charged by former Prosecutor Howard W. Fant with pointing a shotgun at Emory Niemchick who, with his brother Hubert, both employed by the O & A Electrical Co-operative, went to the Sagman farm to either collect an electric bill which was past due, or shut off the power, was convicted by a justice court jury Nov. 17, 1948, and assessed a $75 fine, plus $22.50 costs. The case was appealed to circuit court and on May 17, 1949, a jury found Sagman not guilty. Immediately thereafter Prosecutor Wendell A. Miles issued a warrant charging Sagman with felonious assault.

The only witness called at the examination Thursday afternoon was Emory Niemchick.

At 93, James Ver Houwe works in his garden every day, rain or shine. For many years, he has spaded by hand a 60 by 125-foot plot at his home and has grown virtually every vegetable that can be grown in this climate. He doesn't raise many potatoes, but specializes in his 47 varieties of vegetables.

Garden Main Diversion For 93-Year-Old Man

Rain or shine, good weather or bad, 93-year-old James Ver Houwe tends his garden.

The garden plot at his home at 519 Michigan Ave. is the main diversion of this elderly man. Aside from growing deafness, the years have treated him kindly and he spends virtually all his time among his plants.

The thing he likes next best is to be taken on a drive through the country to see the crops. But he doesn't like the highways.

He retired from active work at 78 after working in the tannery 17½ years, a huckster 15 years growing his own vegetables, and 15 years in the city park department. As a huckster, his horse and wagon were well known on all streets in Holland. And he was always recognized by his black mustache and his pipe. The bell he rang was a familiar sound. Of course, his mustache has been gray for several years.

He takes pride in his health record and says he's almost never ill. The only time he lost any time at work was when he fell at the age of 70 and injured his chest and back and broke some ribs. He was in bed for a day and not at work for a week. Last year he was laid up with his first real illness—pneumonia. He spent three weeks in bed that time.

During the war Ver Houwe's victory garden was the pride of the neighborhood. He spaded the 60 by 125-foot plot by hand and grew 47 varieties of vegetables. There are flowers in his garden too, but they are mostly tended by his daughter, Minnie.

Ver Houwe observes his own system of planting and rotating. From the results, he knows all the tricks.

He was born in the Netherlands Jan. 23, 1856, and came to this country in 1881. He took out his first citizenship papers a week after arriving in America and a year later was a full-fledged American citizen.

He has five sons and daughters, Peter and Minnie of Holland, Mrs. John Mieras and Abraham of Grand Rapids and Mrs. William P. Hodgkins of Hayward, Calif. There are 12 grandchildren and 23 great grandchildren. Mrs. Ver Houwe died July 18, 1948.

Physicians say Ver Houwe will live to be a hundred. Perhaps his long life is attributed to the fact that he seldom worries. And despite the years, he seems to look more to tomorrow than to yesterday.

He doesn't like winter. He can't work in his garden then.

News of Interest to Western Michigan Farm Operators

Soil Improvement Will Be Featured On Grass Days

Demonstrations Will Show Farmers Value Of Grasses, Legumes

The statewide Grass Day program this summer will give Ottawa and Allegan county farmers an opportunity to see how grasses and legumes can improve soil productivity and farm income and promote good land use and erosion control.

The program in this area will be held June 17 at the Reg Cridler farm, located two miles west of Middleville on M-37.

On Grass Day, extension specialists from Michigan State college will be on hand to assist former county agricultural agent Loren S. Armbruster and to discuss individual problems with farm visitors. Demonstration plots have been established to show management practices and harvesting methods in grassland farming.

In discussing the adoption of more grassland farming in Ottawa county, Agent Arnold states, "On many farms the crop rotation fails to maintain soil fertility. Soil-depleting row and grain crops must be balanced with soil-building sods. Grass farming actually requires less labor than more intensive types and can make a prosperous soil-saving agriculture as well as give profits."

Special demonstrations and machinery exhibits scheduled for the local Grass Day are a 15 acre fall seeding of Ladino clover and also a 12 acre field of a two-year old stand of Ladino; an August seeding of alfalfa with and without fertilizer, and the effects of close grazing of legumes during the month of September.

Other demonstrations will include the effect and growth of various kinds and rates of fertilizer top-dressing oil legumes, gully control and the effects of sod waterways. Testing and moisture content of hay to be harvested will also be shown. The afternoon program will begin with an alfalfa seeding demonstration.

In addition hay-making machinery will put on a demonstration. This will include forage harvesters, blowers, balers, unloaders, bale loaders and other forage equipment. The machinery will be on display before the demonstrations.

Practical Canning Rules Are Listed

Grandmother canned everything in sight and saved money—can you do the same? Do you know that your canning efforts save you money—or do you guess that they do?

Suggestions for practical canning come from Roberta Hershey, extension foods specialist at Michigan State college. She considers all the angles and does some practical arithmetic when deciding whether to can.

Records show that it costs at least five or six cents a jar to can most products. Higher than average fuel costs may make the canning cost even higher. Then there's the cost of the product to be canned to consider, particularly if you have to buy it. Of course, surplus garden products that would be wasted otherwise present a different situation.

Another consideration for canning is storage place for those beautiful jars of fruits and vegetables. If you haven't a good cold, dry place to store them they won't be nearly so tempting next winter and are much more likely to spoil.

Proper equipment for canning is an important part to consider because it is necessary in processing foods that will keep. For fruits and tomatoes a large container that will work as a hot water bath is ideal. It should be deep enough so that the jars placed in it in a rack will be at least two inches under the top of the water.

All vegetables need to be canned in a pressure pan. To destroy all spoilage germs, foods need to be processed longer in a small sauce-pan than in a large pressure cooker. Oven canning is dangerous and undependable.

Lightning Hits Cottage

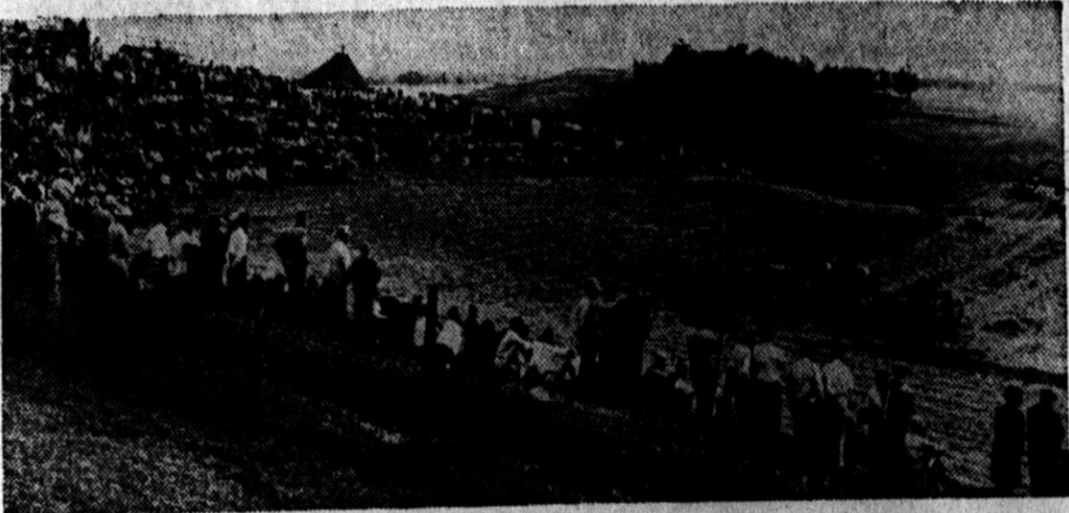

Grand Haven, June 9 (Special)—A cottage at Pottawatomie bayou was totally destroyed by fire early Friday after it was struck by lightning. The Grand Haven fire department was called by neighbors in the Pottawatomie vicinity, after the structure had been burning nearly an hour. The property was owned by H. B. White of Lombard, Ill. No estimate was available on the damage, although house and contents are regarded as a complete loss.

Grass Days Scheduled for June in Michigan

Typical of the demonstration scenes to be shown at the ten Grass Day demonstrations in Michigan this June is the one above taken during the 1948 program to stress the need for good grass and legumes. Sponsored by the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service with other agencies assisting, the regional Grass Day programs will be held between June 15 and June 27. County agricultural agents are informing Michigan farmers of the locations of Grass Day programs in each area.

Married in Borculo Church

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon J. De Jonge

Borculo Christian Reformed church was the scene of a wedding May 19 when Miss Hermine Bosch and Gordon J. De Jonge were married. The Rev. C. Vanden Heuvel read the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with palms, ferns, candelabra and bouquets of lilies and anemones. Pews were decorated with roses and candles tied with white satin bows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. A. Bosch of Borculo and the groom is the son of John De Jonge, route 1, Zeeland.

The wedding marches were played by Miss Harriet Gruppen, cousin of the bride. She also accompanied the soloist, Dale Bussis, who sang "Because," "O Promise Me," and as the couple knelt, "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin fashioned with a lace yoke, edged with a lace flounce, a fitted bodice accented with a ruffle of lace at the waistline, and a full skirt which extended into a train, also edged with lace. Her lace-edged fingertip veil was held in place by an orange blossom wreath. She carried a white Bible topped with gardenias and ribbon streamers.

Miss Esther De Jonge, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. She wore a rose taffeta gown. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Peter Hassevoort, sister of the bride, and Miss Connie Holstege, wore green and yellow taffeta, respectively. The attendants carried bouquets of roses and snapdragons.

John A. Bosch, the bride's brother, assisted the groom as best man. Ushers were Morris De Jonge and Marvin Bosch, brothers of the bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond De Jonge were master and mistress of ceremonies.

A reception for 130 guests was held in the church parlors. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kapenga were in charge of the punch bowl and Mrs. Junior Blauwkamp and Miss Gertrude Boetsma were in the gift room.

Bouquets of tulips, snowballs and spiraea decorated the tables and a three-tier wedding cake centered the bride's table.

Lead is eleven and one-third times heavier than water.

Farmers Change Haying Methods

June brings haying time and the usual prospect of rain on the half-dried hay. There's not much farmers can do about the rain but L. R. Arnold, Ottawa county agricultural agent, says the haying can be adapted to the rain.

Word from J. G. Hays, dairy extension leader at Michigan State college, says that the rain takes away leaves, protein, vitamins, and minerals. But more and more Michigan dairy farmers are settling the problem by not trying to make hay in June. This is particularly true with large herds.

The farmers grind the hay crop into the silo and make their hay from the second cutting when the weather can be counted upon to be sunny. And, by removing the first cutting early, these farmers have better second cuttings to harvest.

Hays points out that it is not particularly easy to make silage out of a soggy hay crop. It takes hard work, costly machinery, and so forth. It calls for the use of molasses or other "preservatives" to guard against the evil smelling milk-polluting butyric acid that comes when a too-wet crop is ensiled.

All this is true, he advises, but it is also true that canning up the hay crop of early June "saves the most milk per acre," beats the weather hazards, and insures better second cutting for making into hay.

Demonstrations on making hay silage will be shown at many of Michigan's Grass Day demonstrations this June.

Lead Arsenate Sprays Dangerous to Cattle

When you're spraying with materials containing lead arsenate, take care in places where livestock feeds. This advice comes from Ray Hutson, head of the Michigan State college entomology department.

He states that spraying trees and pasture or where livestock can feed on the forage beneath sprayed trees is poor policy. Numerous cases are reported of livestock fatalities caused by lead poisoning. He recommends no spraying with lead arsenate in pastures, nor should cattle be pastured in a sprayed orchard if lead arsenate has been used there.

Other materials containing lead such as paints should be kept from cattle to guard against poisoning the stock.

Find Combining to Be Most Common Custom Operation

Combining is one of the most common custom jobs done on Michigan farms, according to B. R. Bookhout and R. W. Christian, Michigan State college agricultural economists.

Their recently completed study of custom work shows that most combining is done on an acre basis. Many sizes of combines were reported—from three and one-half to 12 feet in width of cut. Most common rate for combining small grain was $5 per acre for all sizes of combines.

Some farmers reported rates on an hourly basis and the rates varied with the size of the combine. For small combines, under four and one-half feet in width, the usual hourly rates was $4.50. With five foot combines, the hourly rates was $5. For combines six feet or more in width, the charge was $6 per hour.

The economists report that the custom rates for combining both soy and field beans were most often on an acre basis. The rates were the same as for small grains—$5 per acre. A few special bean combines were reported. The rate for these combines was $6 per acre.

Custom rates for combining clover and alfalfa seed were reported several ways. The most common rate was $5 per acre of per hour for all sizes of combines. Combining alfalfa and clover seed for a share of the seed was reported by about ten per cent of the farmers who combined their crops. The usual share was one-half, but a few reported a one-third share in cases where the yield was especially high.

Spray Produces Early Tomatoes

Tomatoes will not set fruit as long as night temperatures remain low, says Dr. S. H. Wittwer, Michigan State college horticulturist. Last year, however, some growers were able to produce ripe fruit two to three weeks earlier through the use of a hormone spray.

Dr. Wittwer, who has done much work with plant growth regulators, relates that fruit set depends on the presence of a hormone or growth controlling chemical. The chemical is not present in the flower in sufficient amount at temperatures below 59 degrees Fahrenheit.

Manufacturers have given the hormone, artificially produced, several trade names. When it is applied, fruit setting results even though night temperatures are below 59 degrees Fahrenheit.

The hormone spray should be applied to the flowers while they are open. On commercial plantings special two-quart pressure sprayers are used in applying the hormone. Ordinary household sprayers can be used on smaller plantings. The practice is to go through the field once every five days and spray all blossoms showing color. Care should be used to spray as little as possible on the foliage.

Fruit set will be increased only as long as night temperatures remain below 59 degrees Fahrenheit. Fruit size will be increased somewhat any time during the season. Size increases of as much as 30 per cent have been measured.

Hillsdale Will Be Site of National Horse Pulling Test

The day of the horse is far from gone—at least at Hillsdale, when a national horse pulling contest is going on.

Once again this year the Horse Association of America has designated Hillsdale at the site of the national pulling contest on Oct. 11, 1949.

According to Harry Moxley, Michigan State college extension animal husbandry specialist, this is the second consecutive year the Michigan Dynamometer association has sponsored this national event. Moxley serves as secretary of the association.

Last year, well over 100 teams from nine states and Canada were entered in the one-day event and pulled before a capacity audience.

Michigan has gained prominence in the field of dynamometer horse pulling, Moxley reports. During the 1948 fair season, he estimates that horse pulling contests were conducted at 41 county fairs and other events. Premiums amounted to slightly less than $30,000 to 1,200 teams that pulled before audiences totaling 268,000 farm people.

Hillsdale's quack grass pulling court is favored because of its excellent turf footing that enables teams to pull record loads. During the past 18 years, the Hillsdale court has been the location of 14 lightweight and 13 heavyweight world's records.

The October date for the national contest coincides with the end of the regular fair season. Moxley advises that information concerning the contest may be secured by writing to the Horse Association of America, Chicago, or the Michigan Dynamometer association, East Lansing.

Record Low Chick Loss Is Indicated This Year

"A million chicks with but a two per cent death loss is the record compiled by Michigan hatcheries operating under the National Poultry Improvement plan this year.

Howard Zindel, Michigan State college extension poultry specialist, has received postal cards reports from more than 3,000 farmers. Reporting when chicks they purchased were two-weeks old, they showed livability at 97.8 per cent—not counting any extra chicks given purchasers by hatcherymen.

The poultry specialist feels owners of these chicks are going to be happy with their laying flocks this fall, too. He says surveys show a definite relation between low baby chick loss and a low loss after pullets go into the laying house.

Chamber Window Shows WHTC Program Display

Some of the things that are used to get radio on the air and to build programs for listeners are demonstrated in the Chamber of Commerce east window.

The window display, installed by station WHTC of Holland, includes microphones and remote amplifiers used when broadcasts originate away from the WHTC transmitter. There are electrical transcriptions which are used in presenting programs developed and produced elsewhere. These are 10-inch discs, pressed on Vinylite and played at 33 1/3 revolutions per minute. There are standard records which play at 78 revolutions.

These are pictures of many of the artists whose shows are heard regularly over Station WHTC, as well as other items of interest to the public.

The display was arranged by William H. Vande Water, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, as part of the Chamber's regular educational and information program. It was installed by Paul W. Nesper, Jr., manager of Station WHTC, and members of the station staff.

Gladioli Should Be Planted Before July

Gladioli may be planted any time until July 1, reports C. E. Wildon of the Michigan State college department of horticulture.

For full enjoyment of the blooms, Wildon believes that succession planting should be made at intervals of one to two weeks.

Many gardeners have had poor results from gladioli due to infestation by thrips. However, with the new insecticides available, the home gardener need not hesitate to plant gladioli.

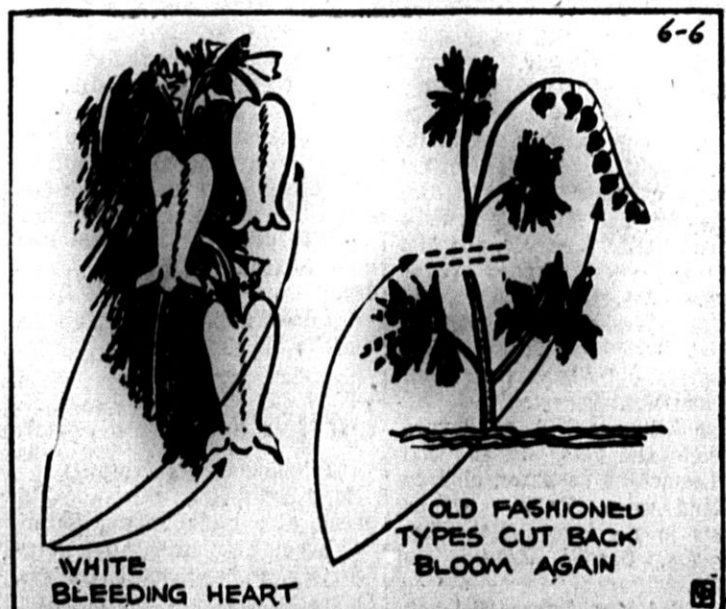

Before planting, Wildon advises dusting the bulbs well with five per cent DDT. After the plants reach a height of one foot, dust once a week with the five per cent DDT dust until color shows in the buds. Dusting is best done in the evening.
