Court Dismisses Rezoning Case Against Holland

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — An opinion was filed in Ottawa Circuit Court this morning dismissing the bill of complaint filed by Walter E. Anderson of Muskegon against the city of Holland on a zoning issue. The bill was dismissed without costs.

Anderson had asked that the city of Holland be permanently enjoined from enforcing a zoning ordinance covering property at the northwest corner of River Ave. and 13th St. The two disreputable dwellings on the property have been condemned and Anderson had been ordered to tear down the buildings, but subsequent court action delayed the original orders. Anderson has been seeking permission to erect a service station on the site.

The opinion states: "The court is compelled to find that the property in question is located in a predominantly residential district, and is unable to find that this residential district is either blighted or becoming blighted. It is true that it is one of the oldest parts of the city, but there is little evidence of blight. As a matter of fact, this property adjoins class A residential property which is very well taken care of."

The opinion also said that the newly-located bypass around the city has removed much of the traffic which formerly burdened River Ave. It also pointed out that there was some evidence that a multiple dwelling would be feasible and that a party was presently interested in securing the property for that purpose.

At the hearing April 27, it was brought out that plaintiff paid $22,500 for the property in 1951. Anderson claimed that the board of zoning appeals had recommended to City Council in 1947 that the property be rezoned.

River Ave. is zoned residential from 12th to 19th Sts. except for the block between 13th and 14th on the west and 15th to 17th on the east. Only change in zoning on River Ave. since 1927 was made in 1947 when the single block between 13th and 14th was rezoned. The city has taken the position that this type of strip zoning was a mistake, and the planning commission, council and appeal board contend that expansion of the commercial districts of the city should take place on Eighth St. with increased use of offstreet parking.

Ear Examinations Slated in Allegan

Plans for ear examinations for those children found to have hearing difficulties as a result of the recent school testing program were announced today by Dr. A. B. Mitchell, director of the Allegan County Health Department.

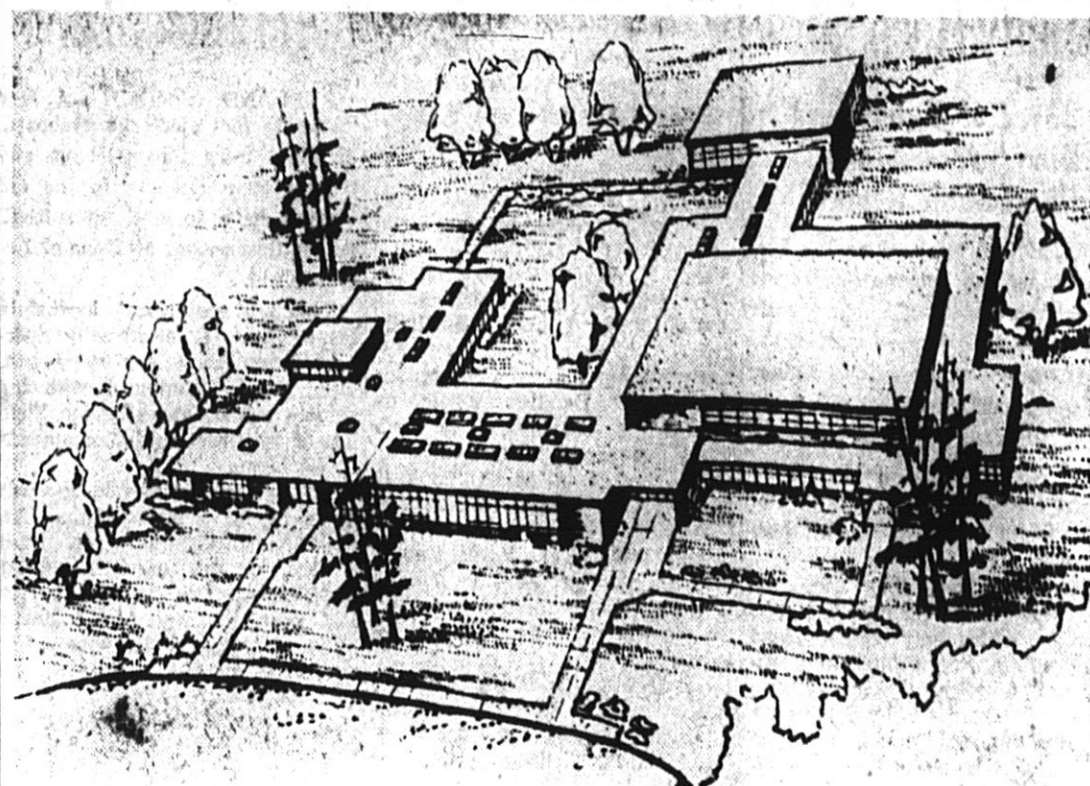

The ear examinations are being sponsored jointly by Allegan County Health Department, the Allegan County Medical Society, the Michigan Department of Health and the schools.

The appointments for these examinations will start at 9 a.m., Friday, June 17, at Allegan County Health Department in Allegan.

A hearing consultant from the Michigan Department of Health will be on hand to give individual hearing tests to children referred to him by the examining otologist.

Fifty-two children from the Allegan, Fennville, Saugatuck and Mo-line-Dorr areas have been listed to receive this examination.

Slight hearing losses which at present may not be recognized by the parents can become serious handicaps later on if neglected. When found early, most of these hearing variations respond readily to prompt medical treatment, Dr. Mitchell said.

Study Committee Urges Action on New High School

After six months of intensive study into school financial problems, a special committee recommended Wednesday night that the Board of Education proceed with plans for a new high school costing from 3 1/2 to 4 million dollars.

More important, the committee urged a public educational program to explain fully to all persons concerned the need of a new school, as well as explain the coordinated efforts of surrounding school districts in solving the many problems that confront the educational field today.

The special Taxation and School Finance Study committee, consisting of 19 members, was organized last November and has met twice monthly to study school needs, particularly from the viewpoint of finances and taxes. This committee submitted an eight-page report at a meeting of the Board of Education, City Council and City Planning Commission Wednesday night in E.E. Fell Junior High School.

In its summary report, the committee said the matter of a high school is extremely important, and that the needs of the community as a whole must be in relationship to the financial resources.

The committee felt that a community spirit is necessary in a high school because of the similarity of cultural background, tradition and training, and because of the economic, industrial and commercial integration of the area involved. In accommodating students from the sending district, the committee recommended that the maximum tuition be charged according to state law. The board already has taken action on this point and has set tuition at $200 for secondary education.

In approving construction of a new high school at the 24th St. and Van Raalte Ave. site, the committee pointed out that the present senior high school was built to accommodate 450 students and junior high also 450 students. Today these buildings have an enrollment of 1,655 students, and by 1960 the secondary school population will reach 2,000. With the completion of a new high school, the present high school will be used for junior high purposes.

The committee commended the present management of schools for proper maintenance and conditioning and commended teachers and pupils for their respectful use of the facilities, as well as the custodial staff for keeping the properties clean and orderly in keeping with the traditions of the community.

The committee also recommended that the policy of the Board of Education in maintaining an average ratio of one teacher to 30 pupils be maintained in spite of the rising cost to the district in maintaining such a ratio.

The report was presented by Vernon D. Ten Cate, former board member who represented professional people on the study committee. L. C. Dalman served as committee chairman.

Other members were Carl Andreason, industry; Albert Drost and Robert Leslie, Teachers club; Fred Gallen, custodians; James Hallan and Wendell Miles, Board of Education; William Koop, city officials; Carroll Norlin, County Board of Education; Jack Plewes and Don Thomas, business; LaVern Rudolph, City Council; John K. Vander Brook, PTA president; Walter Scheibach, sending districts; John Van Dyke, Jr., Board of Supervisors; Margaret A. De Pree, Edward Donivan and Walter Scott, ex-officio.

Council Okays Hospital Aid For Employees

City Council authorized hospital insurance for city employees and provided pay adjustments for the new year starting July 1 at a special meeting at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday in City Hall. The pay adjustment were based on recommendations of boards and the city manager.

Council's action authorizes at city expense group hospital and surgical insurance benefits with city employees with the option of including dependents in the group plan at the employee's expense through payroll deduction. This action covers employees of the city as well as employees of the Board of Public Works, Hospital and Library.

Mayor Robert Visser pointed out that the hospital insurance is in addition to the city's participation in an employee pension plan which currently amounts to about 8 per cent of payroll costs. AYP adjustments for employees range from 3 1/2 to 6 1/2 percent with some six-cents-an-hour across the board increases. Changes are consistent with the pay schedules used by various agencies and will be effective July 1, according to the resolution which Council passed unanimously.

The administrative staff of the various boards and the city managers were directed to put the hospital and surgical benefit plan into operation as soon as feasible after July 1 with suitable regulations as approved by Council.

Wednesday's action followed several weeks of study on pay schedules in the city. The meeting lasted less than 10 minutes.

Dr

Ambassador Tells Of World Affairs

Speaking to the 90th Hope College graduating class and to more than 1,000 Hope alumni and friends of the college in Hope Memorial Chapel Monday Dr. You Chan Yang, Korean ambassador to the United States, told the 124 seniors that they should thank God that they were born in a land rich in freedom, natural wealth and culture.

The occasion also marked the awarding of honorary degrees to Dr. Yang and three others. The Korean ambassador received an honorary degree of doctor of laws. The Rev. James Wayer of Holland, retired minister, received an honorary degree of divinity degree. Doctor of science degrees went to Dr. Otto van der Velde of Holland and Dr. Fredrick Yonkman, vice president of Ciba Pharmaceutical Co., of Madison, N.J.

Graduating summa cum laude was James Dyke Van Putten, Jr., of Holland. Graduating magna cum laude were Ronald Brown, Elm Grove, Wis.; David De Jong, Kuwait, Arabia; Rosalind Smith, Milwaukee, Wis., and Henry Tan, Java, Indonesia. Twenty-one seniors graduated cum laude.

In his commencement address, the ambassador emphasized three important problems to be faced. "The first and most pressing," he said, "is the simple problem of security. Back in 1920 Nicolai Lenin spelled out the plan of conquest to be followed by the Soviet Union. 'First,' he said, 'we shall take Eastern Europe, then the masses of Asia. After that we shall surround and undermine the United States, the last citadel of capitalism, which will fall into our laps like overripe fruit without a fight.'"

"The second problem and one closely joined to the first," Dr. Yang said, "is the restoration to freedom of 800,000,000 people who during the past decade have been enslaved by Communist aggression."

"The third problem is perhaps fundamental to a solution of the first two—namely, the resources of modern knowledge have got to be used for the benefit of mankind generally."

"Your own great President Eisenhower has shown a keen awareness of this problem. He took a step in the right direction when he offered to set up a global atomic power pool, and invited all nations to cooperate in harnessing this new power to productive and mutually helpful development."

Dr. Yang also gave college seniors three pieces of advice. "First, please do not make the mistake of thinking that your education is complete. It is really only beginning, and unless you remain students in the fullest and best sense of the word, you never can really be educated at all."

"Second, I hope you will not slip into the error of thinking you can ever live for yourselves alone. Jesus of Nazareth recognized this and called on mankind to understand that no man can save his own life except through service and brotherly love."

"Third, whatever else you do, try to keep alert to realities. You will do well to carry away with you and never to forget the charge which Lenin gave his Communist followers back in 1920 that America would fall to Communism without a fight. This is a somber warning of the kind of world which, in your new maturity, you are about to enter. The outlook is for a long period of struggle. For your sakes, and for the sake of us all, I charge you to make your individual choices with great care and with a wisdom that rises above self."

Dr. I. J. Lubbers, president of Hope College, presided at the exercises. Others participating were the Rev. Garret E. De Jong of Arabia, the Rev. Franklin J. Hinkamp of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., Dean John Hollenbach of the faculty, and the Rev. J. A. Veldman of Orange City, Ia.

Music in the form of a duet was provided by Eleanor Casper and Carole Hoffa, accompanied by Betty Schepers. A trio consisting of Rosalind Smith; soprano; Lois Maier, clarinetist, and Miss Schepers, pianist, also provided music. Prof. Roger J. Rietberg was at the organ.

An informal reception followed in the campus grove.

Wilson Appointed Scout Executive

The Chippewa Boy Scout district that embraces Holland, Zeeland, Hamilton, Fennville, Saugatuck, Douglas, Ganges and surrounding areas, will have a full-time executive.

Action on the matter came at a meeting of the Grand Valley Boy Scout Council's finance committee in Grand Rapids Monday night.

Dick Wilson, who has been dividing his time between the Ottawa and Chippewa districts, will be in charge in this area. He will maintain district headquarters in his home as he has been doing under the two-district regime.

Members of the Chippewa District committee attending Monday's meeting at council headquarters were finance chairman Robert Den Herder and Bruce DePres, both from Zeeland, and Bernard Shashagay and Ray Smith from Holland.

A budget allowing an increase of 10 percent over last year was approved. However, registrations of Boy Scouts showed a 12.7 percent increase which means a reduction in the cost per boy.

Assistant County
Agricultural Agent

It has come to our attention that there is evidence in some wheat fields in the county of a fungus growth called "take all". This condition has been found on some of the lighter soil areas in the county and has been somewhat associated with low fertility. A check with the Farm Crops Department at Michigan State College brings to light the fact that this is not a serious economic condition but it normally appears on a spot basis in wheat fields. The first indication is a short stubby wheat stalk with little or no head at this time of the year and a general weakening condition of the wheat plant in the infected area. The definite indication is found in a blackening of the lower part of the stem and inside the lower stem. The fungus is carried from year to year in members of the grass family, the principle one being broom.

One of the best ways to keep clear of this condition is to plant wheat after some crop other than grasses. This is necessary only if the fungus has been observed on a specific field.

Rose bugs or Rose Chafers are beginning to appear in considerable numbers in some areas of the county. They may attack the shrubs and many vegetable crops and in some cases fruit and shade trees. The Rose Chaffer is a grayish tan colored beetle about 1 inch long similar in shape to the cucumber beetle. It feeds primarily on flowers and new growth of plants. These beetles can be controlled by an application of 10 percent DDT dust. Caution should be taken, however, to avoid dusting with DDT on food plants that are to be consumed shortly after dusting. A second application may be necessary if beetles are numerous.

Wheat farmers planning to plant this fall should think about soil tests in advance to planting time. It would be well to get soil samples at this time of the year from the fields where wheat will be planted. It has been a habit in the past that soil samples for wheat alfalfa pile up just about planting time making it difficult to make all the recommendations to use to benefit the farmer who wants to know the best fertilizer to use.

Farmers may take their own samples to the county laboratory at Allendale in the Farm Bureau office or get in touch with A. S. C. committee member who will in turn take samples for them.

If a legume seeding is to be made in the wheat in 1956 any necessary application of lime should be made this fall at wheat planting time in order to be of the greatest benefit to sprouting legumes next spring.

The USDA has announced a new vote on wheat marketing quotas for June 25. The secretary has announced a nation wheat acreage allotment of 55 million acres for 1956. This is the same allotment which was in effect for 1955. The Michigan wheat allotment is 3 percent below last year.

If marketing quotas are to be put into effect there must be a two-thirds vote favoring the quota. If they are approved producers who do not comply with their allotment will not be eligible for price supports. They will also be subject to marketing penalties on their excess wheat where they have more than 15 acres for harvest.

If quotas are not approved by wheat growers in the June 25 referendum, the law provides for a wheat price support level at 50 percent of parity for producers who stay within their acreage allotments. If quotas are voted out, farmers can exceed allotments without being subject to quota penalties. However, even when quotas are voted out, compliance with the established allotments is still a requirement for eligibility to receive any price support.

The course includes two terms at MSC experience in an elevator for two terms and two more terms of classroom work. Greenleaf indicates that he has requests for 50 graduates of the course.

Pick Rural Site For New Allegan County Hospital

Board of Supervisors Disregards Engineer's Unfavorable Report

ALLEGAN, Mich., June 8 — Disregarding an engineer's report which showed that building costs would be $96,000 more and annual maintenance charge $5,500 higher, Allegan county's board of supervisors Tuesday voted, 20 to 14, in favor of the present county farm, five miles northwest of Allegan, as the site for a proposed county hospital.

In voting for this site, the board rescinded their vote of last April in which they recommended that a site where municipal water and sewer service is available be sought for the 150-bed hospital.

Prior to giving their approval to the rural site, the board:

Voted, 24-11, against land owned by Mrs. Martha Root, fronting on Jenner Dr. and Thomas St., in Allegan.

Voted, 23-12, against land owned by Dale Stevens, fronting on Lynn and Jackson Sts., in Allegan.

Voted, 29-5, against land owned by Charles Barton, a member of the board of supervisors, in Otsego township.

Following these three votes, the board approved a motion to reconsider the present county farm as a site by a vote of 22 to 12. Approval of the farm followed this vote.

A representative of the architectural and engineering firm of J. and G. Davenport then outlined the firm's preliminary plans for the 150 bed hospital which were revealed at a joint meeting of finance, social welfare and county building committees last week.

He indicated the firm would proceed immediately to prepare cost estimates and tentative plans so the county could set up the machinery for a special election on the required bond issue.

Cost estimates for a building constructed on a site where municipal water and sewer service is available, set at $700,000, would have to be increased about $100,000, one member of the joint committee indicated, to allow for the new water well, water storage tank, fire fighting equipment, and sewage disposal plant which the rural site will require.

At the morning session of the board, the building committee had reported on the two Allegan sites which had been optioned after which Supervisors Greg Nulty and Harry Johnson, of Otsego, requested that the board travel to Otsego to view the Barton property.

Many members of the board did go to Otsego during the noon recess. Also during the morning the final report of the Allegan county tax allocation board was presented to the board and referred to the finance committee. The tax board had set a total, normal property tax totaling $551,000 for the county, to be raised by a 5.2280 mill levy.

The extra voted tax, which would provide a sinking fund for a new court house, will total $152,000, to be raised by a 1.44213 mill levy.

Legion Field Gets New Scoreboard; Form Junior Loop

ZEELAND (Special) — A new 24 by 16 foot electric scoreboard, an eight team junior league and several team changes in the old leagues have spruced up softball action this season at Zeeland Legion Field.

The new scoreboard, located in center field, is electrically operated from the scorekeepers box. The board, combined with the smooth infield, make Legion Field one of the finest softball diamonds in Michigan.

Support for the new league was given by the Zeeland Softball Association early this year. Built around the nucleus of a similar unofficial league which operated last year, the new junior league plays at regular times with a full retinue of managers, umpires and scorekeepers.

Boys age 11 to 15 are competing. Junior league games begin at 6:30 p.m. on Monday. There are three games. A single game on Tuesday nights precedes the Girls League contests.

Major change in the old leagues is the addition of the Grand Rapids Local 1231 girls team. According to League president Ray Schaap, the new team is considerably stronger than the Cardinal team which dropped out.

Schaap, who is now serving his 17th term as league president, predicts a photo finish in the four-team league. Other teams are Drenthe, Zeeland Bon Ton and the Grand Rapids Red Wings.

Competing in the eight team B league are Forest Grove, Jamestown, Drenthe, Benheim, North Hudsonville, Zeeland Merchants, Harlem and Suburban Motors B.

In addition to the $1,100, it was revealed that the balance of senior class money would be given to the fund as the class memorial.

Uta Maria Straumen, German exchange student who has been attending the school under Rotary Club sponsorship, received special applause when she received her diploma along with the other 107 members of the class. Earlier in the program she had given a moving talk on her impressions of America in which she declared that he would return to her home "as a missionary for America."

Members of the Waverly Activity Club gathered at Kollen Park Friday evening for their annual picnic. This was the last meeting of the group until fall.

Following the potluck supper games were played with Mrs. William Dekker, Mrs. C. Van den Brand, Mrs. J. Brunkema and Mrs. A. B. Van Dyk winning prizes.

In charge of games were Mrs. William Fockler and Mrs. Alvin Kapinga. A gift was presented to Mrs. Van Dyk, teacher.

ADVERTISING A COMMUNITY

This seems to be one of the problems of the day with a great number of changes happening over the world. Michigan attracts a great many millions of people in the course of a year and they come up with many ideas about just what should be done.

All of Michigan is working on some kind of a program so that we think Michigan Week has been a good idea. This however, could be expanded, so that more people would come to Michigan.

The newspapers and magazines are filled with advertisements from all parts of the country and world telling about the many great wonders and all of the methods of transportation. A Cincinnati bus company has worked out a scheme in cooperation with the stores. They are featuring Downtown Discovery Days. Pink buses in the downtown areas, with guides, take their riders to special displays.

Work of local artists are being set up in a downtown park as one part of this project. If it rains, then they move to a nearby office building that has some space. A large square in a central location will offer a flower show. Cincinnati will vary these programs with changes being made from time to time.

We wonder if Holland could work out some such plan for the outdoor market that is still in the planning stage. It seems to us that if we are to have an outdoor market then it will need to be something different. It might have an old world flavor. This would be another attraction for people that come to our community during the summer. This would also serve to advertise the many things that are grown as well as perhaps some of the things that are manufactured.
They could be displayed in the Civic Center display room on the north side of the center. If it works then everyone would be pleased.

If we do have such a market it must be remembered that it must be kept clean and we mean spotless. We cannot have vermin running around neither can we have wrappers and papers flying all over the neighborhood.

It might be well to find out about open air markets from our neighboring city of Grand Rapids. They have had them for many years and could tell us what some of the problems are, if they have any.

We have a good reputation to live up to. Therefore anything that we do to advertise the community and make it a better place to live, must be something better than our local people as well as our visitors will find elsewhere. Many communities find that it pays to advertise.

THE ECHO OF TRUTH

In 1789 Edward Livingston, whose public life ran from service in the Constitutional Convention to the secretaryship of state under Jackson, 40 years later, said:

"If we are to violate the Constitution, the country will swarm with informers, spies, and all the odious reptile tribe that breed in the sunshine of despotic power to convey your words, distorted by calumny, to the secret tribunal where fear officiates as accuser, and suspicion is the only evidence that is heard."

This sounds like 1953 and 1954.
This year, thanks to the growth of a healthy public sentiment, the situation is better.

Do not make tragedies out of trifles.

Friendship is the great chain of society.

Local Youth Injured
In One-Car Accident

A Holland youth received minor injuries late Monday afternoon when he lost control of his car and skidded into a ditch on old US-31 five miles north of Holland.
Jack Bell, 15, route 2, West Olive, was treated for cuts and bruises at Holland Hospital and discharged.

Ottawa County deputies said Bell was driving south when his car began to skid as it rounded a curve. The car swerved from one side of the road to the other and finally ended up nose down in a ditch.

Deputies said repairs to the front and rear of the 1950 model car would be in excess of its value.

Sunday School
Lesson

June 12, 1955
Young King Josiah
Chronicles 34:1-12
By Henry Geerlings

The background of this lesson is an Old Testament record of what king Josiah did when he discovered that a reformation was needed. He accepted the challenge to be the reformer. He felt the need for himself. Then he thought of his nation and realized the need of returning to the religious ways prescribed in the book of the covenant. He had the courage to plan the reformation he believed was sorely needed. He made all the plans according to God's Word.
His own example was set before the people. He found the people eager to follow him. Courageously he denounced idolatry and ordered everything idolatrous destroyed.

The reformers of all ages, who have retained the esteem of mankind have won their fame for many things. Some have taken the church back to more fundamental truths and teachings. This was the case in the Protestant Reformation. It was a return to the early teachings of the church, and hence the Reformation constituted a purification of doctrines. This is always wholesome. The church should always be openminded to new movements in the hope that they will lead the church back to the essentials.

Reformers have left us the example of courage. One of the best traits an individual can possess is courage. Many men have good ideas but lack courage to announce them. The reformers stimulate us to express our convictions and to make known our viewpoints.

There have been many reformers and reformations since the days of Josiah. However, the Protestant church owes much of its present possessions to those reformers whose work led up to and carried through what has come to be known as the Protestant Reformation. The contribution of a reformer to human progress is frequently his new ideas, hence we have from Luther his theological doctrines, his educational theories, and his social and economic principles.

No real reform has ever been brought about without a rediscovery of the Bible. That has been the experience with such movements. There is good reason for it. The goals of all worthy reform are in the Bible. There are no adequate standards for individual and national piety and integrity outside of the Bible. All we owe God and our fellowmen is contained in this Book of books. All the rules which lead to abundant living are there, too.

More than that, there is to be found in the Bible the power necessary to affect such reforms. We need something more than good rules and just laws. There must be present a power to make religion more effective in our lives.
There is that power in the living truth. No religious reformation worth the name can be thought apart of the Scriptures. If we all read the Bible the way we should and lived in its power as it is our privilege to do, and honored it in our speech and conduct as it deserves no reformer would be needed.

Of the nineteen kings who ruled over Judah for a period of 350 years, not more than four of them had any real love for God and His kingdom. Josiah was one of the four. The two men who preceded him on the throne were downright wicked. They neglected the religion of the nation and encouraged idolatry with all its decency and immorality. Together they ruled 57 years, and in that time the people were weaned away from God and wedded to idolatry.

An accurate idea of the length of which these kings went to destroy the true religion may be gathered from these facts: They removed the altars and the ark of the Lord from the temple. In their place they worshipped idolatrous images. They helped to revive the worship of Baal and Astarie. They caused the priests and prophets to be slain, and ordained for service in the temple strangers for priests. They disregarded the Sabbath. Beneath all of this there was found irreligion and false religion. Against this iniquitous current the young king Josiah took his stand.

The first step in the program of reconstruction was the repair of the temple, which through neglect and wilful desecration had become a dilapidated building. While the heaps of rubbish were being removed, what was probably the temple copy of the book of the law was discovered by Hilkiah.
When Josiah listened to the reading of this book he was greatly affected by it, and then and there resolved to bring its burning message to the attention of the people in an effort to have them put away their evil doings and turn to Jehovah with all their hearts.

His reign covered a full generation, and through all that time he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord.

400 Hope Alumni Hear Address by Dr. Anspach

More than 400 Hope College alumni and graduating seniors gathered at Civic Center Saturday evening for the annual Alumni Dinner. This was the first time in many years that there were facilities large enough to handle the entire alumni group as well as graduating seniors.

Highlight of the event was an address by Dr. Charles L. Anspach, president of Central Michigan College. A master story teller, Dr.
Anspach was a fitting speaker for the gala occasion with his entertaining and humorous anecdotes.
On the serious side, he emphasized the contributions of private liberal arts colleges and urged their support. He presented some of the problems of these colleges, based on his experiences as president of Ashland College in Ohio. The speaker was introduced by Senator Clyde H. Geerlings.

Master of ceremonies was Clinton S. Cole of Amsterdam, N.Y., retiring president of the Hope College Alumni Association. The Rev.
James Weyer gave the invocation.
Music was provided by the Hope College Symphonette directed by Prof. Morrette Rider.

Dr. Irvin J. Lubbers, college president, in his remarks reviewed the college year and expressed expectation that work on the new men's dormitory is to begin shortly. He said confirmation of the government loan in expected soon.
Dr. J. Carleton Peigrom of Coral Gables, Fla., class of 1905, rem-inised about the Hope College 50 years ago. Dr. Fredrick Yonkman of Madison, N.J., whose class of 1925 held its 30-year reunion, announced that his class has contributed $5,000 to the college since its 25th reunion.

Recognition was given to all classes that had held reunions during the day.

Paul Nettings of Chicago, class of 1930, closed the meeting by singing "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by his wife.

The baked ham dinner was put on by the Hope College Women's League with Mrs. J. D. Jencks as chairman, in conjunction with Rein Vischer.

Post Office Business
Had Big Jump in May

Business at the Holland post office took a 17 percent jump in May compared with last year.
Postmaster Harry Kramer said today. Receipts for the month totaled $26,972 or 17.2 percent over the May, 1954 figure of $23,154. The difference amounted to $5,438.
The local post office also marked a 5.5 percent increase for the five-month period. Receipts from Jan.
1 through May 31 totaled $176,664 or $9,273 over that period for 1954 which totaled $167,391.

Rural Letter Carriers
Meet in Grand Haven

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bethke of Grand Haven entertained members of the Rural Letter Carriers Friday evening at their home.

A potluck supper was served to about 40. Harold Laug gave the opening prayer.

Speaker was Herman Van Opynen, city carrier from Grand Haven. He spoke on "The Problems of the Youths and How We Can Help to Solve Them."

At a business meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary the following delegates were chosen to attend the annual state convention at East Lansing July 6 to 8: Mrs. Ella Van Liere, Mrs. Anna De Boer and Mrs. Gertrude Kronmeyer. A recent baked goods sale netted about $25.

Eastern Stars
Mark Anniversary

ALLEGAN (Special)—June Chapter No. 343, Order of the Eastern Star, one of Allegan's largest fraternal organizations, observed its golden anniversary at a banquet Saturday in the Congregational church dining rooms.

Following the dinner a reception was held in Griswold Memorial building, honoring Mrs. Ellis Gilpin, of Allegan, first member of the local group to serve as a grand councilwoman of the Michigan chapter. Virtually all grand officers of the state were on hand for the reception and also to exemplify the degrees at the 8 p.m. meeting which followed.

The local chapter was organized early in 1905, largely through the efforts of the late Mr. LaFayette Stuch who circulated the required petition and presented it to state officers. The petition was acted on immediately and an organizational meeting held June 6, 1905. Only four of the original 24 members are still living and three of them remain members of the order.

Mrs. Elmer Osmon, Mrs. Anna
Butler, Mrs. H. O. Maentz and
Carl Symon are the surviving charter members.

The chapter has grown from 29
members in 1905 to its present 208.
headed this year by Mrs. Verne Moore as worthy matron and Ellis Gilpin as worthy patron.

Tent caterpillars often appear early, and affected plants should be sprayed with arsenate of lead.
It may also be necessary to spray illics with a summer strength oil spray to control oyster shell scale.

New Role of Hospitals Told to Local Auxiliary

A new concept of the role of hospitals in meeting needs of a community is being realized as hospitals have become recognized as "public utilities," women of the Holland Hospital Auxiliary were told at their annual spring luncheon Tuesday afternoon in Hope Church.

Speaker was Andrew Patullo, director of the Division of Hospitals, W. K. Kellogg Foundation, and president of the Michigan Hospital Association.

Speaking on "Hospitals and Horizons Unlimited," Patullo said hospitals are in the dynamic situation of having to meet more problems in a shorter time than ever before. He compared the present 10,000 hospitals in the nation with the 178 at first count in 1873. Now, one of every eight persons is admitted to a hospital each year, he said. People are more "hospital conscious" than ever before. Hospitalization insurance is popular and now more than 90 percent of the nation's births and almost one-third of the deaths occur in hospitals, he said.

In discussing three principal functions of hospitals, Patullo cited the importance of the "testing and teaching" roles as well as treating. Advancement of scientific medicines and training of all kinds of health workers are accomplished through hospitals, he said.

The question of "why it costs so much" is partially explained by the fact that "people can't be replaced." About 65 to 70 percent of each patient dollar paid to a hospital must be used for payroll, compared to 15 percent in a major industry. The rate can't be determined on a "day to day" average and hospitals must be equipped to "expect the worst," he said.

Hospitals are looking to the future, with much thought of the growing problem of geriatrics and mental illness, Patullo said. He commended local Auxiliary as one type of group which can influence a community's thinking on the hospital's role.

Mrs. A. W. Tahaney, Auxiliary president, presided at the luncheon and introduced guests, Mayor Robert Vischer, City Manager and Mrs. Herb Holt and Mr. and Mrs.
John F. Donnelly. Donnelly, speaking for the hospital board, expressed thanks to the auxiliary and the entire community for its support in the recent fund-raising campaign and in other efforts for the hospital.

Mayor Vischer also expressed thanks to the auxiliary in leading the way in "community" efforts.
Hospital Manager Fred Burd spoke briefly and introduced the speaker.
Annual reports were given by a representative of each auxiliary unit and Mrs. Tahaney introduced the new executive board.

The luncheon was in charge of Mrs. J. D. Jencks and her committee. Mrs. Clarence De Graaf gave the invocation.

waived examination on a charge of larceny by conversion, when arraigned in Municipal Court Tuesday noon. Bond of $500 was furnished for his appearance in Circuit Court June 13.

Huff was taken into custody by Grand Rapids police Monday night and brought to Grand Haven Thursday morning. Complaint was made by Oel Harmon, who runs an establishment north of Ferysburg on US-31 alleging that Huff took off about two weeks ago with several gum machines, which he services, together with a quantity of money.

The local chapter was organized
early in 1905, largely through the efforts of the late Mr. LaFayette Stuch who circulated the required
petition and presented it to state officers. The petition was acted on immediately and an organizational meeting held June 6, 1905. Only four of the original 24 members
are still living and three of them remain members of the order.

Mrs. Elmer Osmon, Mrs. Anna
Butler, Mrs. H. O. Maentz and
Carl Symon are the surviving charter members.

The chapter has grown from 29
members in 1905 to its present 208.

Catholic Church
Sold to Make Way
For New Highway

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—A 100-year-old landmark will disappear from Grand Haven soon with the razing of St. Patrick's Catholic church at 810 Fulton St.

The property was sold to the state for a cash settlement of $90,000 for highway purposes. The transaction covers the church and site, a lot south of the church owned by the parish and also covers rental expense. The property has a frontage of 120 feet.

The church property will be vacated by Sept. 15, allowing the church to serve summer visitors to the city. A commercial building has been leased at 216 North Seventh St. for services until a new church is constructed at Fulton and DeSpelder Sts. facing DeSpelder.
The parish has acquired all property east of convent on DeSpelder St. and on the south side of Fulton. Eleven houses have been purchased including three on Columbus St. The church also owns a two-lot parking area on the north side of Fulton almost across from the church.

Plans for the new church call for a considerably large building, the first part of a long range program to eventually replace the rectory and convent. It is hoped the new church will be completed by Christmas, 1956, according to the Rev.
Edward J. O'Hara.

The church was organized back in 1851. A mission church was built in 1857 which was later expanded into the present structure. The bell was hung in 1887, according to Dr.
O'Hara.

The State Highway department has notified officials that the property is needed by September so that work on drainage and grading can start. The highway will go through a few feet west of the church rectory, approximately 70 feet from the school.

Most settlements have been completed for the new route through the city which requires clearing more than 60 buildings.

Mrs. Russell B. Borgman, the groom's sister, attended the bride as matron of honor and Miss Elaine Vander Velden, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Russell Borgman attended the groom and William Vander Velden and Robert Karsten were ushers. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Cook were master and mistress of ceremonies.

The bride's gown of lace over satin was styled with fitted bodice,

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bonifiglio, 414 Jenne St., Grand Ledge, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Patsy Fabiano, 614 East Eighth St., Holland.

Dykema-Lokker Win in Doubles; Maroons Second

KALAMAZOO (Special)—Paul Dykema and Norm Lokker, ace doubles combination, brought Holland Christian its third straight doubles championship, here Saturday in the finals of the Michigan High School tennis tournament. All matches were played on the clay courts of Stowe Stadium.

Christian, however failed in its

—Lokker—Dykema—
—State Doubles Champs—

bid to take home for the third successive year, the class B "team" trophy. East Grand Rapids won the team trophy with 7½ points while Christian and Cranbrook Bloomfield Hills were tied for second with 6 points. Mt. Pleasant and Kalamazoo State High followed with three apiece. The B singles title went to Jerry Dobson of Cranbrook who defeated Larry Littig of State High in the finals.

Dykema has now been a member of the state championship doubles squad for the last three seasons. In the previous two tournaments, he had teamed with Jim Teerman for the class B crown. It was Lokker's first state championship, and a fitting climax to the high school career of both netters, who hadn't teamed up in doubles since their freshman year at Christian.

Winning the doubles championship for Coach Harold Grissen's Christian squad was strictly an uphill battle in the Saturday action. After breezing through their first two rounds Friday, the Maroons found themselves pitted against one of East's two doubles teams in the tourney, in the semis. The local duo dropped the first set to Dave Berles and Scott Maentz, 6-3, and then found themselves. They copied the second set, 6-3, and took the clincher, 6-2 to move into the finals.

There was plenty of court drama in the finals as the locals were facing East's other doubles squad of Glen Young and John Barton. It marked the third successive year that Holland Christian and East were pitted against each other in the state doubles finals. Just as Dykema was a member of the Christian squad the two years previous, was Young of East. On each of the two meetings, the Dutch had been victorious.

East definitely was a determined squad and rallied to take the first set, 8-6 after trailing 5-4 and 40 love. This was all Dykema and Lokker needed as they again fought with their backs to the wall. They played some fine tennis to win the second set, 6-3, and then outlasted the East duo in the final set, 6-4. Dykema-Lokker had been seeded No. 1 in the tourney while Barton-Young were No. 2. All of the doubles teams as well as singles entrants qualified for the state meet by gaining the finals in various regional meets held throughout the state, two weeks ago. Christian's doubles squad had also copied the regional championship by defeating a St. Joseph doubles squad in the finals.

Hold Holland Man In Bribe Attempt

A 22-year-old Holland man was arrested June 4 as he accepted $200 in marker bills in an alleged shake-down of a man facing charges of buying stolen goods.

The trap on Alvin Lee Gerner, 22, of 378 East Fifth St. was sprung shortly after 10:30 a.m. by Deputies Len Ver Schure, Bud Gysen and Detective Dennis Ende.

Deputies said that Gerner had asked $500 from Howard Veneklasen to testify favorably in a forthcoming case against Veneklasen in which he is charged with buying a stolen car radio.

Veneklasen notified officers who set a trap. Gysen was hidden in the trunk of Veneklasen's car as Gerner was handed $200 of the $500 he had asked. Ver Schure and Ende were parked in a car nearby.

As soon as the money was passed, deputies moved in and made the arrest. The $200 was found in Gerner's pocket. The meeting took place on US-31 a half mile north of James St.

Gerner was formerly employed by Veneklasen up until two weeks ago.

'Snafu' Invades Circuit Court

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—Charges against Frederick Donald Hinman, 19, of 1208 Theodore St., Lansing, were dismissed in Circuit Court Thursday on the basis that the higher court had no jurisdiction in a mixup involving changing a misdemeanor to a felony in Municipal Court.

The chain of events started when city police arrested Hinman and a companion, James C. Mills, 22, of Lansing, on larceny charges involving theft of 37 towels valued at $37 from Highland Park Hotel during the week-end. The pair also allegedly took 10 blankets, five of which were recovered.

The pair was picked up in Lansing Tuesday and returned to Grand Haven. Hinman was first to appear in Municipal Court on a simple larceny charge and was fined $50 which he could not pay and thus was returned to the county jail.

But when Mills appeared in court, his complaint charged him with larceny from a hotel, a felony, and he was bound over to Circuit Court. Judge Jacob Ponstein thereupon recalled Hinman and re-arraigned him on a larceny from a hotel charge, and bound him over to Circuit Court. Both young men provided $50 bonds. The prosecutor up to that point presumably had not been consulted.

When the two appeared in Circuit Court Thursday, it was conceded that Circuit Court had no jurisdiction in the case against Hinman since double jeopardy could be an issue. His $50 bond was returned. Mills, however, pleaded guilty and will return June 13 at 10 a.m.

Officers Check Dozens of Tips

Local police and Ottawa County deputies Monday continued to check out tips received since the ravished body of eight-year-old Jeanie Singleton was found in a pine grove near Doster in Allegan County.

Authorities said a number of phone calls have been received daily. Each one is checked out in hopes that one might provide a clue to the killer of the crippled Kalamazoo girl.

An old model blue car, similar in description to one reported seen near Doster, was found abandoned at the Holland State Park Sunday.

A license check was being made Monday to determine the owner. Other reported cases of children being offered rides or molested were being investigated.

Chief Jacob Van Hoff and Sheriff Jerry Vanderbeek issued a joint appeal to parents to caution their youngsters against accepting rides with strangers or chance acquaintances.

Meanwhile, Kalamazoo and other police throughout the state were seeking a sandy-haired man as the "best suspect yet" in the rape-slaying.

Authorities said at least one of the girl's classmates positively could identify the man who tried several times to entice schoolgirls into his car the day Jeanie was kidnapped, May 23.

One Internee? Red China Should Release 3,000

What about the ex-GI who chose to stay with the Communists but now wants to come?

That question was asked Dr. You Chan Yang, Korean ambassador to the United States, at a press conference Monday in connection with his appearance as principal speaker at Hope College commencement exercises.

Dr. Yang by-passed a direct answer, but he sketched the background of the political situation in Red China and the aims of Chou En Lai, the Red Chinese leader, who is calling for conferences with the United States to relieve tension in the Far East and to maintain peace.

In effect, Dr. Yang said the issue should not rest with a turncoat prisoner or with 11 imprisoned airmen. "There are 3,000 American boys behind that curtain, not just 11 fliers held as spies. They should all be released before we can believe Chou En Lai has good intentions in maintaining peace or relieving tension."

He said Chou En Lai has been very clever in his campaign and has even won plaudits from some people in the West. "What Chou really wants is: 1. Matsu and Quemoy without a struggle; 2. Placing Formosa and the Pescadores in a territorial trust for five years under international supervision, not the UN; 3. Admission of Red China into the UN and membership in the Security Council; 4. Recognition of Red China by the United States."

Then the Korean ambassador pointed to long lists of violations of all kinds on the part of the Communists, particularly on the military front, including internment of the 3,000 Americans.

"If we are to take their intentions seriously, they should: 1. Release all interned persons; 2. Withdraw all troops from North Korea; 3. Should agree to hold genuine free democratic elections in North Korea under UN supervision (instead they want 50 percent veto power); 4. In discussing the fate of the nationalist government involving millions of people, these people certainly should be allowed to sit in on the conference."

Dr. Yang also pointed to possible dangers of Japan in years hence of joining Russia, Red China and North Korea in a Communist bloc. "We don't mind America helping the Japanese, but we must be careful," he said.

Interested Parents to Discuss Nursery School

A plan for a non-profit, cooperative nursery school will be presented by St. Monica's Guild Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Grace Episcopal Church parish hall. Anyone with children between the ages of three and five as of Nov. 15 is invited to attend the dessert meeting if they are interested in joining such a plan in September.

The meeting will feature a documentary film, "A Morning at a Cooperative Nursery School." The film takes the viewer to an actual morning session of the nursery school at the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church.

The film points out the advantages of belonging to a cooperative nursery school are that the parents organize and run the school and act as "teaching mothers" under direction of a qualified nursery school teacher. The mothers' participation in the school and the father's assistance in building and repairing equipment establishes a more home-like atmosphere and eases the child's first experience out of the home.

Under the plan, parents begin to understand action of the children through parent-educational meetings and study courses. A community can benefit by sharing in the growth and development of the child in play groups and family living.

After a study of other nursery schools in Michigan, St. Monica's Guild has formulated plans for operation which will be presented at Wednesday night's meeting. Committees from the parents group will be formed to further study the plan.

Tentative plans are: Membership qualifications will include a child's health record signed by his physician; an interview between school director and parent and child; parent participation in that parents are expected to attend orientation courses and to assist at the school two or three mornings a month (this enables the school to operate at a minimal cost—in case of absence, a substitute may be obtained); transportation will be the responsibility of each family.

The school will operate on a nine-month basis with two semesters in concordance with the public school program. Hours will be 9 to 11:30 a.m. daily. Three plans are offered: Daily Monday through Friday; Monday, Wednesday and Friday; and Tuesday and Thursday. Tuition will depend on the number of children attending. All funds collected are used to pay teacher's salary and operating expenses.

Accountants Present First ASWA Scholarship

Holland chapter of the American Society of Women Accountants awarded its first scholarship to a high school senior who has special interest in advanced study in the commercial field at a dinner meeting Tuesday evening in the Warm Friend Tavern.

The award which carries a $75 stipend to be used toward college tuition went to Thelma Van Zoeren, senior at Zeeland High School. She is a pupil of Cecil Ver Hage, commercial teacher in Zeeland who is an active member of Holland ASWA No. 19.

Tuesday's meeting also gave recognition to three bookkeeping prize winners, each of whom received $5. They were Judy Nykamp, Holland High School; Marilyn Scudder, Christian High School, and Bonnie Van Dam, Zeeland High School. The latter was not present at the meeting.

Speaker of the evening was Dr. I. J. Lubbers, president of Hope College who chose for his subject "Financial Crisis in Higher Education."

Dr. Lubbers credited the growing population in America as having the greatest effect on the country's economy, on education, on business and all the other factors that make up living.

"The long-predicted depression which was supposed to strike after World War II just hasn't occurred, and the business boom keeps going up and up, with concerns taking the biggest plunge reaping the biggest returns. In addition to an increased birth rate, people are now living longer. We on the college front have fairly accurate figures to know what to expect in enrollment as years go by. Not only is the birth rate larger, but there is a growing increase in the proportion of young people attending college."

Dr. Lubbers said the dual system of college training, the state-supported institutions on the one hand and the private and church-operated colleges on the other, has the best stabilizing factor in higher education in America. "Contrary to popular belief, the state institutions are much concerned about the smaller, private schools. People free to educate themselves will remain free to rule themselves, and if state schools should become the tool of politicians the people naturally would turn to the private schools."

The college president then launched into financial problems of a small college, and with the aid of charts, presented considerable statistical material on population trends, costs, etc. One of the great aids today for small colleges is the interest shown by industries, Dr. Lubbers said. He explained the Michigan Colleges Foundation organized a few years ago, which this year will contribute some $350,000 from 300 donors to some 11 colleges in the state. Other industries have come through with other grants, and while the result today is far from meeting the problem, a solution is on the way.

On the other hand, Dr. Lubbers pointed out, the people must still remain alert. Colleges must not become dependent on industry, or the same threat could exist as government domination.

Gretchen Ming, retiring president, presided at the meeting which also saw the installation of new officers conducted by Betty Shannessy of Muskegon, national ASWA secretary. New officers are Minnie Haan, president; Anne Beukema, first vice president; Cecil Ver Hage, second vice president; Esther Bareman, secretary; Bonnie Stoltz, assistant secretary; Winifred Marlink, treasurer. Board members are Gretchen Ming, Carol Wyngarden, Jean Volkers, Gertrude Yonker and Fern Speet. A gift to the retiring president was presented by Irma Babinski.

Samuel Chester Reid, an American Naval officer, is credited with creating the design for the present American flag. According to historians it was Reid who suggested retention of the original 13 stripes and the addition of a star for each new state entering the Union. The first flag incorporating this design was flown in 1818. Previously, a stripe as well as a star was added with the entry of each new state. Reid also won a place in American history, when, as commander of the privateer General Armstrong in the War of 1812, he repulsed a British attack in the harbor of Fayal, Azores Islands on September 26, 1814. This feat prevented the British ships from reaching New Orleans before General Jackson's army arrived, and thus helped save the city. Tuesday, June 14, is Flag Day — SHOW YOUR COLORS.

School Election In Allegan Draws Wide Attention

Bond Issue Plan Will Be First Test Of Proposal No. 3

ALLEGAN (Special)—School officials throughout the state will be awaiting the outcome of Allegan's June 13 election on a $999,000 bond issue for the construction of a 600-pupil, three-grade or high school.

The election is believed to be the first test of the 25-year school bond plan approved by Michigan voters as "Proposal No. 3" on the November election ballot.

Under this new plan the district will be required to levy only enough taxes to pay principal and interest on the bonds until they are paid off at the end of the 25-year period. Thus voters will not be asked to approve any set millage increase or to raise the 15-mill tax limit. Only question on the ballot will be the bond issue itself. Only taxpayers will be eligible to vote on this ballot.

A public meeting to explain the proposal to residents of the district has been set for Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Allegan high school auditorium. Dr. Donald Leu, Michigan State university consultant on school buildings and curriculum, will be the principal speaker. Dr. Leu has been working closely with the local board on plans for the building.

Meanwhile, volunteer citizens' groups are attempting to contact every citizen to present facts on the bonding program and the proposed building. A brochure giving a detailed explanation of the need and the plan is being distributed.

Allegan's Junior Chamber of Commerce last week voted unanimously to work for the building plan and has set up an information booth in the former Kroger store building on Locust St. in which building plans and pictures are being displayed and the brochures distributed.

The local Veterans of Foreign Wars have also endorsed the program and are working for its passage.

The election will be held Monday, June 13, in the city hall. The preceding Saturday, at 12 noon, will be the deadline for obtaining absentee voters' ballots from Mrs. F. R. Hunter, school board secretary, in the city offices.
