Clarence Jalving Named
Hospital Board Member

Mayor Robert Visscher Wednesday night appointed Clarence Jalving to a five-year term as member of the Hospital Board, succeeding John F. Donnelly who has served as member for close to three terms. Mayor Visscher explained that Donnelly had asked that he not be reappointed due to business and personal reasons.

The mayor paid tribute to Donnelly's long service record on the hospital board which included several years as board president, and expressed regret at his retirement from the board.

Several other appointments were delayed until the June 17 meeting. Those whose terms expire this year are Robert J. Strabbing, Henry R. Vander Plow and Vern J. Schipper, all members of the traffic and safety commission up for three-year terms, and Andrew J. Dalman of the panel of space heating examiners, four-year term.

Action on constructing a water main in Washington Ave. from 32nd St. to a point 2.70 feet south of 40th St. was tabled for further information after a petition opposing such construction was submitted bearing several signatures. Some of the signers own considerable frontage on that part of Washington Ave. and felt that laying a water main at quoted prices would constitute a hardship.

Several persons in the audience spoke. John Weaver said he was not opposed to the water service but said he had not been approached to sign any petition. City Manager Herb Holt referred to the original petition bearing signatures of many persons living on the route. Dr. Hollis Clark, whose place of business was hit by a minor fire earlier this week, pointed to the necessity of a better water source in the neighborhood.

George Koops expressed sympathy for the farmers who would face hardship because of frontage on the highway. Guy E. Bell, superintendent of the Board of Public Works, pointed to possibilities of water main extensions to the east on 40th St., also on Pine and Central Aves. He said Maplewood School is requesting water, but highway rights of way are yet to be resolved before lines can be laid. He said the board has no definite criteria on hardship areas, feeling that each situation should be handled individually.

When Council voted to table the water main issue for two weeks, it also instructed the Board of Public Works to prepare some procedure for hearings on hardship cases.

Councilman John Van Eerden, chairman of a special Council committee to deal with salaries and wages and other personnel problems, reported informally that a recommendation would be presented at the next meeting. He said the committee has been holding meetings over a period of months and there are some problems yet to be worked out. He indicated things had gone well.

Richard Kemp, a labor official who represents certain city employees, expressed appreciation for the courtesies and fine cooperation committee members had shown at the various meetings. Mayor Visscher also expressed gratitude for the fine work done by the committee.

In a matter tabled last meeting, Council approved plans for modernizing the traffic light at 15th St. and River Ave. at a cost of $800, half to be paid by the State Highway Department and half by the city out of motor vehicle funds.

The matter had been tabled to investigate possibilities of having the State Highway Department stand the entire cost since the traffic signal is on a trunkline but the staff attorney from the Michigan Municipal League pointed out that the State Highway Department apparently does not have any written policy on the subject. Since the state generally discourages traffic signals on trunklines on intersections other than highway junctions, the league representative wrote that it would seem difficult for a city to obtain a better than 50 per cent share of the cost of signal installation from the highway department.

A communication from the Michigan Association of Park Executives expressed appreciation for an enjoyable day spent in Holland during the Tulip Time as guests of the park department. The letter commended Council for having named one of the city parks for Dick Smallegange, retiring superintendent, and also commended Jake De Graaf for an excellent job on tulip lanes and in parks.

Councilman Ernest Phillips announced that Smallegange Park at the foot of 14th St. on Fairbanks Ave. would be formally dedicated at brief ceremonies Friday, June 19, at 7:30 p.m. The Rev. William Brink, president of the Holland Ministerial Association, will participate in the ceremonies.

All Councilmen were present at the meeting which lasted two hours. Councilman Henry Steffens gave the invocation.

Sheriff Lifts
Ban on Radio

ALLEGAN — Allegan County Sheriff Walter Runkel has rescinded his order denying use of his department's radio and telephone communications system to the Allegan city police department. It was in effect less than a day.

Mayor Marvin Hays said Thursday that he had been informed by Police Chief Howard Falk that the sheriff had changed his mind after angrily informing the mayor that city police could no longer use his communications facilities effective Tuesday.

Mayor Hays said he was glad that Sheriff Runkel had reconsidered. "The two departments have a long record for working together—for the good of the county and the city—and it would have been a shame to end that cooperation," Hays said Wednesday.

Runkel's original decision followed closely on the heels of public announcement of the city council's action in calling for an attorney general's investigation of "rumors of wrong-doing" in the sheriff's and city police departments.

City officials have been informed that an investigation will be conducted by a deputy attorney general, assisted by state police investigators, but no details have been announced.

City Street Department
Installs New Sewer Line

Holland Street Department workers Wednesday tore up the intersection of Seventh St. and Central Ave. to install a new storm sewer and sewer line for the new parking lots to be installed on Seventh St. between Central and College Aves.

City Engineer Lavern Serne said the intersection would be open to traffic again Wednesday night, while work will continue into next week on the sewer line east on Seventh St. from the intersection.

Officers estimated the damage to Huizenga's 1951 model car at $250 and the damage to the 1956 model Sewers' car at $300.

Burglars Ransack
Home, Get $2,500

Ottawa County deputies Monday continued their investigation of the burglary Saturday evening at the home of Dr. W. G. Henderson, 2095 South Shore Dr., where thieves stole cash and merchandise valued at about $2,500.

According to the deputies, the burglars apparently used a key to enter the basement door at the rear, and left by the same door. They ransacked the entire home.

Included in the haul was about $150 in cash, taken from a purse, a cash-box and a dresser drawer, a camera outfit worth over $200, a typewriter, binoculars, a quantity of jewelry, such as necklaces, bracelets, rings and other things, both men's and women's clothing and many papers, including stocks, bonds, and credit cards and deeds.

Dr. Henderson told deputies the break-in occurred between 6:30 and 9:30 p.m., while he and his wife were attending a movie.

He told the class that they must now give evidence that they are Christians just as well as they must show evidence of their academic achievement. He said, "Christ can take our humble lives and use them to achieve His glorious purposes." He closed with the words of the class motto, "With vision clear and mind equipped. His will to learn. His work to do."

John Veltkamp, president of the board of trustees, awarded the diplomas to the graduates. In brief remarks of congratulations from the board, Veltkamp said that he hoped that each graduate would ever carry the words of Moses, when he said, "If thy presence go not with me, carry us up not hence." Four Are Injured
In US-31 Accident

Four persons were treated at Holland Hospital for minor injuries received in a two-car collision Sunday at 6:25 p.m. on US-31 two-and-a-half miles south of Holland.

Mrs. Bernice Benson, 32, Mary Hodgins, 10, Rosemary Trice, 8, and Johnny Mae Trice, 10, all of Muskegon, were released after treatment. All were passengers in a car driven by Willis Hysaw, 32, of Muskegon, headed north on US-31.

South Haven State Police said the Hysaw car was sideswiped by a car driven by Ross A. Neal, 63, of South Haven, who was headed south and attempting to pass. The drivers narrowly averted a head-on collision, officers said.

State Police ticketed Neal for improper passing in the face of oncoming traffic. Damage was estimated by the officers at $275 to Hysaw's 1959 model car and at $175 to Neal's 1954 model car.

Honorary degrees for three persons highlighted the 94th annual commencement for Hope College Monday in Hope Memorial Chapel.

An honorary doctor of laws degree was conferred upon the Rev. Christian G. Baeta of Ghana, visiting professor of World Christianity at Union Theological Seminary and commencement speaker this year.

Honorary doctor of divinity degrees went to the Rev. Harvey B. Hoffman, pastor of Second Reformed Church of Hackensack, N. J., and the Rev. Henry Van Dyke, pastor of First Reformed Church of Buffalo Center, Ia., and formerly pastor of Fourth Reformed Church in Holland.

To the 177 graduates he said, "You are endowed with wonderful gifts, responsibilities and talents. Some day God will call upon you to use these gifts and when you do so, you will attain the full human stature."

He said there is a tendency today for people to be more concerned about personal comforts and luxuries than about the world situation. "Men are always trying to discover more flavors for ice cream."

Allegan Police, Sheriff's Department Face Probe

ALLEGAN (Special) — Allegan City Manager P. H. Beauvais, following instructions in a resolution unanimously approved by the city council, has asked the state attorney general's department to conduct an investigation into "rumors of wrongdoing" in the Allegan County sheriff's department and Allegan city police department.

Deputy Attorney General Joseph Blititz Monday said he received the resolution from the Allegan City Council asking for an investigation into irregularities.

The Sentinel Monday received information from the Attorney General's office in Lansing that an investigation into the charges made in the resolution will be held.

A spokesman in the attorney general's office said it will be turned over to the criminal division for investigation and possible legal action.

The council's resolution did not mention individuals in either department nor did it go into details regarding the rumors. However, in letters to Attorney General Paul L. Adams from Beauvais and Prosecuting Attorney Ervin L. Andrews, specific rumors of irregularities were listed.

Councilmen felt that the attorney general's office should be called in so the investigation would be free of bias. Although no city officials would clarify the term "rumors," there have been numerous stories circulating in Allegan regarding methods used to dispose of recovered stolen property and private use of government surplus property intended for Civil Defense use.

Coin Club Now Charter Group

The May meeting of the Holland Coin Club was held in the Centennial Room of the Warm Friend Hotel on Thursday. There were approximately 50 present.

Three months ago it was decided by the membership that the charter membership of the club should run until 50 of the charter members had been attained or the club had been in existence for six months, whichever came first.

A meeting Thursday night was the third meeting of the Club and due to the interest in numismatics the charter roster has already been filled. More than 50 people requested charter membership in the newly formed club. The charter was then closed as an official part of the business meeting. Members joining the club from now on will be classed as regular members of the Holland Coin Club.

In his speech directed to the 350 graduating members of the Class of 1959, Dr. de Velder, pastor of Hope Reformed Church, pointed out that "the standards of God remain unchanged." "Then it becomes necessary to observe the compass of life and follow its direction," Dr. de Velder said.

Several effective illustrations were geared to his introductory questions, "Where did I come from, where am I going, and what am I going to do along the way?" He urged the use of God's word as a chart and compass in life, and worship and reverence for a perspective for peace and serenity of the soul.

The Rev. Raymond Van Heukelom of First Reformed Church gave the invocation and benediction, and the Rev. John Nieuwma of Fourth Reformed Church read the Scripture and offered the prayer.

The Holland High School a cappella choir, directed by Larrie N. Clark, sang two anthems: "Praise to the Lord" by Christiansen and "Psalm 91" (arrangement by Mendelssohn). The organist was Miss Barbara Lampen.

Miss Phyllis Yvonne Van Kampen and Curtis G. Cable Jr., were united in marriage on May 15 in a double ring ceremony performed in Central Park Reformed Church. Bouquets of white peonies and gladioli with huckleberry greens and palms formed the setting for the rites read by the Rev. Henry Van Raalte. The pews were marked with bows and greens.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Van Kampen of route 1, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert De Young, 2722 Jenkins Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Cable Sr., of Grand Rapids.

Mr. Van Kampen gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a floor length gown of Alencon lace and netting over satin with a fitted bodice. The long tapered sleeves came to points over the wrists and the high neckline was accented with tiny sequins and pearls. The fingertip veil fell from a crown accented with pearls. She carried a bouquet of white rose buds and carnations.

Mrs. Bernard Van Kampen, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Her ballerina length gown of deep blue chiffon with light blue front yoke featured back panels which terminated at the hemline. A matching picture hat completed her ensemble. Her flowers included pink rose buds and white carnations.

The bridesmaid, Mrs. Robert Sanford, sister of the groom, was dressed like the matron of honor and also carried a similar bouquet. The two flower girls, Patricia Van Kampen and Georgia De Young, sisters of the bride and groom, respectively, wore light blue gowns with deep blue neck trimming and cummerbunds. They had matching head bands and their wristbands consisted of pink carnations and pink rosebuds.

Patrick McDonald served as best man and Russ Van Kampen assisted as groomsmen. Guests were seated by Harry Jenkins and Marvin Rowan, cousins of the groom and bride, respectively.

Mrs. Leon Sandy, organist, played wedding music and accompanied Dennis Den Besten, brother-in-law of the bride, who sang "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

About 120 guests assembled in the church basement for a reception. Presiding at the guest book were Mr. and Mrs. William Oldenkamp and serving punch were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lemmen. Miss Marilyn Bratt, Miss Jacquelyn Julianus and Miss Mary Schuring arranged the gifts.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of beige lace over taffeta and linen with white accessories. The groom's mother was dressed in similar attire. Both had corsages fashioned of yellow rose buds and an orchid.

For the northern wedding trip the new Mrs. Cable wore a two piece pink and black tuxedo suit with pink and black accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The bride who is employed at Blodgett Memorial Hospital was graduated from Holland High School and the Blodgett School of Nursing. Her husband was graduated from Grand Rapids South High School and attended Central Michigan for a year. He is employed as a contractor.

Dutch Shade Heights, 1-0

Ron Ten Brink blanked Muskegon Heights, 1-0, on four hits at Riverview Park Friday afternoon to give Holland High's baseball team a final season's record of eight wins and seven losses under the first-year coaching of Con Eckstrom.

The game was played without the seniors who were attending the annual Holland High Senior Day at the American Legion Memorial Park.

Although the Dutch picked up only one hit, the junior right-hander struck out eight and walked one for his sixth win against two losses.

Holland scored its only run in the third inning when Ron Maat, who walked and moved to second on a sacrifice, scored on Vic Jones' single to left-center field. Holland's only hit in the game.

The Dutch managed to put runners on base in the first, fourth and fifth innings on errors and walks but failed to move them around.

The Tigers threatened to score in the third when Phillips slammed a triple with one out but was left stranded as Ten Brink retired the next two batters. They threatened again in the fourth when Strickler singled but was thrown out by the rightfielder, Carl Arendsen, after he rounded second on Cullen's base hit.

"With the showing that our juniors and sophomores made, prospects look pretty bright for next year," Coach Eckstrom said.

Memorial Day Exercises Highlight Speech by Miles

Speaking on "A Second Look," District Attorney Wendell A. Miles of Holland urged his Memorial Day audience in Pilgrim Home Cemetery Saturday morning to turn from the passion of the battlefield to the compassion of a pure heart.

Amid the spring greenery on Monument Square on the site of Holland's Civil War monument, Miles said he did not begrudge a holiday to the sportsman, the vacationer, the fisherman or the baseball fan, but he urged a closer look into today's values and lessons learned in a series of wars.

"The cynic knows the price of everything, and the value of nothing. The soldiers of the Revolution gave us the right to assemble, but for what? Rock and roll parties, drinking sprees, gambling orgies? Or did they give us the right to intelligent discussions of our problems?"

"The Revolutionary soldiers gave us freedom of the press, but to print what? Cartoon books on Superman, obscene literature? Or is it the right to intelligent, thought-provoking reading? They also gave us freedom to vote, but to vote for what and for whom? The people of Russia may vote, the people of Hungary may vote. Their percentage is higher than ours. Democracy is not a spectator sport. It involves intelligent and enthusiastic participation. It took centuries of turmoil, war and revolution to establish the rights of man."

"But all this can be lost by man's failure to recognize the need for human maturity and development to handle properly the power, weapons and other devices that are the servants of man. Ninety-four years ago President Lincoln freed the slaves — yet today Little Rock High School remains closed. From our revered dead we have learned we must possess and insist that our leaders possess moral integrity. We must be positive in our thinking, must exalt the disciplines of democracy and keep facing out deepest problems," Miles said.

Cemetery exercises followed a parade through the city which attracted large crowds to the parade route. The weather was near perfect for the occasion with a slight breeze and at times an overcast.

Garden Club Library Display Shows Tree Chart and Cuttings

A chart showing the way a tree lives and grows is displayed at the Holland Public Library this week by the Holland Garden Club. Trees are so familiar they are often taken for granted, although human existence would be impossible without them.

Trees give shade, add beauty to the landscape, hold the soil against erosion, keep the water level higher, enrich the soil with their castoff leaves, supply wood for fuel and many other uses and give food and shelter to men, animals and birds.

The tree chart depicts a cross-section of a tree trunk. The center is the pith, the wider section outside with the rings is the heartwood which carries out to the outer rim where the active working cells are found.

The next thin layer is the sapwood which carries water and dissolved minerals to the leaves. Just outside of this is the cambium layer of actively growing cells which form sapwood tissue on its inner side and inner bark tissue on its outer side.

Outside of the cambium layer is the inner bark which carries food from the leaves to all parts of the tree, and the outer bark which is the waterproofing.

Trees have three systems: digestive, circulatory, and respiratory. The leaf is the food factory. The sapwood carries the water and minerals from the roots to the leaves, the leaves take carbonic acid gas from the air, the sun and chlorophyll makes the food factory work, the leaves give off excess moisture and oxygen, and the inner bark carries the food to all parts of the tree. This food manufacturing process in trees is known as photosynthesis.

There are cuttings of six deciduous trees, native to this locale, in the library. The Beech is one of the most beautiful trees and the most easily recognized with its smooth, light gray bark which changes color shadings with light and humidity variations. Its triangular nut is sweet meated and it grows to 80 or 90 feet. Comparable in height and beauty is the Tulip Tree, which has tulip-like flowers which are greenish yellow in June. The fruit is a cone-like cluster of long winged nutlets.

The Wild Black Cherry and the White Ash both grow to 80 feet or more. The flowers of the Wild Cherry are white, small, and in drooping clusters 3 to 4 inches long and the fruit is a purplish black juicy berry which the birds love. On old trunks the bark is rough and breaks in rough places. The wood is hard, heavy and strong and is used for many things such as furniture.

White Ash is one of the most important forest trees. The wood is very heavy, hard, tough, and elastic. It is used widely for agricultural implements, athletic equipment, tools, furniture, etc. A distinctive feature is that the terminal buds are larger than the lateral ones.

Sassafras and Black Alder or Smooth Alder do not reach large tree size in our locality. Sassafras is distinctive; the bark and roots are used for sassafras tea and the leaves have three shapes, two lobed, mitten form and egg shaped. The flowers are greenish yellow and the fruit a dark blue berry which the birds like. The Black Alder is a small tree which grows along the lakes and streams. The flowers appear before the leaves and the fruit is a cone-like woody structure one half inch long, green in the fall and then turning brownish black. This small tree is very valuable in erosion prevention.

Manager Badly Hurt At Airport

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — James Nelson, 28, field operator and manager at Grand Haven Memorial Airport, received a badly mangled right arm at 7:55 p.m. Thursday when a brake slipped momentarily on a plane ready for a final test, turning the plane and hitting the man.

Another mechanic at the airport, Frank Harasta of Fennville, had been repairing and testing a two-seater Aeromica Champ plane belonging to Jerry Weavers and William Vickers. He had taken up the plane twice on Thursday and planned a final test after some adjustments.

The accident occurred as Nelson was giving the plane its last propping. Harasta was trying to move Nelson to his car after the accident when Dave Young arrived on the scene and took both men to Municipal Hospital in his car.

Nelson was immediately transferred to Blodgett Hospital in Grand Rapids where he underwent a three to four-operation on the arm in the hope of avoiding amputation.

Nelson operates the field for Steve Mead who is the officially designated manager of the airport. Nelson lives at the airport.

Rotarians Hear About Ancestors

The story of the men who preceded the white man in Western Michigan was told to the Rotarians Thursday at the noon meeting at the Warm Friend Hotel.

The speaker was Edwin P. Gibson, past president of both the Michigan and the Western Michigan Archeological Societies, and an architectural engineer at Grand Rapids.

When the last big glacier started melting back about 11,000 years ago another people started moving and denuded land. In working stone, they were accomplished artists, turning out flint spear points never excelled in this part of the New World.

Along about 9000 or 8500 years ago another people started moving in. As far as their handiwork shows, they were far inferior to the flint workers. These newcomers lasted for a couple of thousand years to be followed by a forest dwelling population who were both spear and bow hunters.

Then perhaps 3000 years ago a new wave of people flowed in. Known today as the Hopewell Culture, they were mound builders, excellent farmers, fine potters, lived in considerable villages. They built the mounds which are near the river road to Grand Rapids, just one of a dozen known sites. Following them came the ancestors of the Indians who were here when the white man arrived.

QUITS SENTINEL ROUTE — Jack Fairbanks, 17, of 141 East 39th St., takes off on his last round of delivering Sentinels on route 40, accompanied by his faithful dog Shepherd which has accompanied Jack and his brothers as they delivered Sentinels on this route for 11½ years. Jack is leaving his Sentinel route for a summer job. (Sentinel photo)

Fairbanks Trio Ends Long Record; Dog Retiring Too

After Saturday, Holland Evening Sentinel patrons on route 40 in Maplewood area will have a carrier with a name other than Fairbanks.

For 11½ years, the three sons of Mrs. Edna Fairbanks, of 141 East 39th St. have faithfully delivered papers on this route.

First there was Jim, now 23. Then came David, now 20, and lastly Jack, 17. Jack is quitting his route as of May 30 for summer employment.

Perhaps even better known to patrons on route 40 than the Fairbanks trio is their faithful dog Shepherd, a collie-shepherd, which has accompanied all three boys on their daily routes.

Eleven years, old for a dog, have taken their toll on Shepherd. He is now somewhat deaf, but still is game to follow Jack's bicycle as Jack tosses Sentinels for homes on 38th, 39th and 40th Sts., part of M-40 and parts of 34th and 35th Sts.

Jack's emergence into new employment virtually spells retirement for Shepherd, and he probably needs it. For 11 years he has followed the Fairbanks boys, sometimes on bicycles, sometimes on motorbike and motorscooter, and on many occasions on foot.

The Fairbanks family moved to Maplewood area in October, 1947. The following January, Jim, then 12, got his first Sentinel route. This route has changed somewhat as Maplewood area became more populated, but it has always served the same general area.

Mrs. Fairbanks is employed as a secretary at General Electric. Route 40 hereafter will be served by Jim Hoffman.

Heinz Co. Dedicates World's Largest Pickle, Vinegar Plant

H. J. Heinz Co. officials, Holland civic and governmental leaders and other officials Tuesday dedicated the world's largest pickle and vinegar processing plant, highlighting a three-day open house celebration at the Heinz plant on 16th St.

President of the Heinz Co., Frank Armour Jr. and Holland Mayor Robert Visscher cut the ribbon which officially opened the ultra-modern plant, and then led the first of thousands of visitors expected for the open house through the new structure.

Holland city officials, civic leaders, Michigan Department of Agriculture representatives and others this noon were guests of the Heinz Co. at a luncheon at the Warm Friend Tavern.

The Holland plant was first established in 1897, and since then 31 additional buildings have been erected as the company grew.

In dedicating the new building, Armour noted that construction of the huge new processing plant and warehouse brings together under one roof the separate and scattered production facilities which Heinz has had at Holland for many years.

Armour pointed out that the Holland factory has access to the best in transportation facilities, with fine railroad and truck service. With the St. Lawrence Seaway open, he said, ocean liners and tankers can now come right to the Heinz doors.

Recognizing that many of the food products used by Heinz are also grown right in this area, Armour said he believes Holland will also soon gain recognition as the "pickle and vinegar capital of the world."

Director Regards CD Unit As a Coordinating Agency

Ottawa County Civil Defense Director Hans Suzenaar Tuesday said that he doesn't advocate the disbandment of any local organization to establish a CD unit.

His statement followed comments by Holland officials that the locally established severe weather warning and spotting system manned by reserve officers and other established disaster plans amply cover Holland's needs as well as surrounding territory.

Suzenaar said CD should not be looked on as a separate unit but rather as a coordinating agency for the entire county. He said the Office of Civil Defense was established by an Ottawa County Board of Supervisor's resolution.

The CD Director said severe weather warnings are received on a teletype connected to the Weather Bureau in Grand Rapids and phone calls are then made to key numbers in the county. These persons in turn call others until the entire county is alerted.

Suzenaar said both radio stations also are notified and two way CD radios have been set up at the stations to maintain contact with CD Headquarters in the branch county building.

"Although we do not wait for the State Police to notify us we have requested them to call us in case mechanical difficulties happen to the teletype."

Police officials said they have always cooperated with CD and other organizations but feel that the State Police warning system, which has been in effect for several years, is the one they will continue to use.

Officials also pointed out that the teletype at the branch county building is not manned at all times, especially after 5 p.m. or during the weekend.

Fred Baughman, meteorologist in charge of the U. S. Weather Bureau in Grand Rapids said that a review will be made of the Ottawa County procedures to eliminate misunderstanding.

He said that the Weather Bureau needs the cooperation of all groups, be they police, radio stations or CD units, to fan out information as fast and as accurately as possible.

Earlier this year the Kent County CD unit, which wanted the responsibility of disseminating severe weather warning to news agencies and other sources were told that this was the responsibility of the Weather Bureau as an established federal agency.

Local officials said that as a municipality they feel much the same way, that they have the obligation and responsibility to disseminate weather warnings and cannot delegate this to other organizations.

Loot From Tavern Enough for Big Party

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Someone was apparently planning a big party Monday night, from the evidence regarding a break-in at the Pines on US-31 in Grand Haven Township which is being investigated by Ottawa County Sheriff Bernard Grysen and State Police Detective William Chandler.

The prospective host took off with six cases of whiskey, a dozen cases of beer and even dishes for 75 people. Although no food was stolen, the $450 in cash which was taken would provide plenty of things to eat.

The break-in was discovered at 7:45 a.m. Tuesday by Edward Elnick, owner of the tavern.

New Officers Elected By Exchange Club

Larry Towe of Holland addressed the Holland Exchange Club Monday noon on the topic "Unvisited Mexico." Mr. and Mrs. Towe spent some three months in Mexico, deliberately traveling off the beaten path in order to see what the real Mexico is like. By means of slides he demonstrated it to be a land of strong contrasts: primitive agriculture and modern farming, dire poverty and magnificent churches and homes, modern architecture and buildings dating back 2,000 years.

Of special interest were pictures showing steps in hand weaving and the manufacture of pottery. These articles were not for the tourist trade but were for home use. Extremely primitive methods and tools were used in the manufacture of hammered copper utensils. He spoke of the deep hunger for education on the part of the masses and their warm friendliness toward the stranger.

Preceding the talk by Mr. Towe the club elected its slate of officers for the coming year. Elected, were John Verbeek, president; Dwight Ferris, vice president; Clarence Klaassen, treasurer; Al Van Lente, secretary; and Russell Bouws, Ervin Hanson, and Henry Heckman as the new members of the Board of Directors.

One important visitor present was Roger Hewitt of the Lansing Exchange Club and State Vice President of Exchange.
