Capt. Gardener, U. S. A., has been requested by mayor Pingree of Detroit to take charge of the movement inaugurated by the latter to allot the idle land around the city in small parcels to the unemployed for the raising of potatoes and roots. The warm season is upon us, and with it an increased use of city water for various purposes especially for lawn sprinkling. Measuring the supply by the reduced pressure at the works during every evening this week, the deficiency must be great, and the dissatisfaction on the part of the patrons is correspondingly general and loud. This matter of increased water supply is one that should force itself upon the undivided attention of the municipality.
For the convenience of the traveling public Landlord Williams has made arrangements with the electric Bulletin Co. of New York to have a bulletin placed in the office of the City Hotel which will tell the exact time of arrival of the next train. Some handsome business cards, representing some of the leading firms in this city, will be placed in connection with this arrangement.
News was received in this city last week of the death of Prof. Hein Lankheet, who a year ago went from this locality with his family to Texas, in search of better health. Mr. Lankheet was born in Overisel and received his education at Hope College. He was a bright student and a thorough mathematician. In some ways he was a little odd but only so on the surface. There are still a few copies left of his map of this city, which he got up in 1870, while a student. For four years he was county treasurer of Allegan county and later he taught mathematics in Kalamazoo College.

The Berrien county board of supervisors has decided to submit to a vote of the people the proposition to bond the county for $70,000, with which to build a new court house and jail in St. Joseph, the new county seat. The buildings will be similar to those in Allegan and Grand Haven. The site has been deeded over to the county by St. Joseph city, and if the proposition is carried work will begin the 1st of November.

To show the enormous traffic on the lakes it may be mentioned that Chicago takes the fourth place among the ports in the world in importance as regards tonnage entered and cleared, the aggregate being nearly 12,000,000 tons, far exceeding any port in the United Kingdom except London and Liverpool, and exceeding New York in the number (21,123) of vessels entered and cleared.

The commission appointed by Governor Rich, consisting of E. F. Conely, Detroit, Gerrit J. Diekema, Holland, and Mark S. Brewer of Pontiac, to formulate plans and draft a law to relieve the legislature of municipal legislation, met last week at Lansing, to discuss the work. The gentlemen talked over the general plans and concluded to visit four municipalities, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo and Monroe, to get points on the government of cities of various sizes.

The monthly crop report for June, issued from the secretary of state's office, is very encouraging. On the whole the weather was favorable to the growth of wheat, and the average condition June 1 in the southern counties, where 85 per cent of the crop is grown, is reported at 92 per cent as compared with 77 in 1893, 91 in 1892, and 96 in 1891.

The average condition in the central counties is 90, and in the northern 95.

The heavy and continued rain seriously interfered with the planting of corn, and a much larger area than usual remained to be planted June 1, and of that planted early, more than an average amount had to be replanted. The reports indicate, however, that the acreage of this crop will not be less than in average years.

The area seeded to oats is fully equal to the area in average years, and the crop is in fine condition.

Barely is not extensively grown in this State. The figures indicate a decline in area.

The average condition of meadows and pastures in the southern four tiers of counties is 89 per cent, an average much below what would ordinarily be expected. This low condition may be almost wholly charged to damage by the clover root borer. The condition in the central counties is 95, and in the northern 101.

Clover sown this year has made good growth, the State is but little short of 100.

The outlook for apples is promising. The figures indicate nine-tenths of a full average crop.

In the southern counties the wages per month of farm hands average $15.89 with board, and $22.16 without board; in the central counties $15.00 with board, and $22.99 without board, and in the northern counties $16.09 with board, and $20.14 without board. The average wages this year are lower than ever before reported to this office. Compared with one year ago wages with board have declined $2.12 in the southern counties, $2.25 in the central counties, and $2.19 in the northern counties.

The G. R. Herald has this favorable comment upon the part taken by Miss Eva Johnson at a recent musical given in that city: "It is not too much to say that this young girl has not only one of the finest voices, but also one of the most refined and exquisite musical temperaments in Michigan. She sings not only with her voice; she infuses her whole soul into what she sings. Aside from her beautiful voice, her execution is excellent, and her intonation absolutely faultless. The audience were enthusiastic in their applause, and the little soprano deserved every bit of it."

Hope College.
The prosperous condition of Hope College is a matter of general and local congratulation. A new spirit appears to animate everybody and everything connected with the institution. Coming down to details this is especially noticed these days on the campus. The Hope printing office has been on wheels all the week and has just about reached its new stand on the east side of the grounds; the Wolverine Electric Light Co. is busy in wiring Graves Library and placing the fixtures; while the grading of the grounds in the vicinity of the new building is being pushed under the personal supervision of Mr. K. Schadelee, who has kindly volunteered his services in behalf of the cause.

All this is in anticipation of Commencement, which this year, more usual, will be a gala occasion. The week will open on Sunday, the 24th inst., when the memorial services of the late President Scott will be held in the Third Ref. church. The address will be delivered by Prof. J. W. Beardslee. The Baccalaureate, sermon will be held in Hope church, at 7:30 p. m. Rev. Cornelius Brett D. D., of Jersey City, N. J., will deliver the sermon and address the graduating class.

The rhetorical of the Grammar Department will take place on Monday afternoon; and in the evening the Ullias club will hold its exercises. Dedication of the Graves' Library and Winant's Chapel will be held Tuesday afternoon, with appropriate services. Tuesday evening the Alumni will hold their meeting. Wednesday afternoon President-elect G. J. Kollen will be formally inaugurated as President of the College. The Rev. Dr. Phelps will make the inaugural address. Rev. Dr. Mandeville and others will also make addresses.

Wednesday evening the commencement exercises proper will be held, to be followed by a public reception at the residence of the new president. Further data and details of the program for each of these festivities will be given in our next. However, we are authorized to state that all will be welcome, old friends and new, and the latch-string is thrown out to the four winds, to be caught on by whomever desires.

As to the satisfactory condition of the College, we gather the following from the annual report of the council made last week to the General Synod of the Reformed Church, the denomination with which the institution is identified:

"Council recognizes the efficient services rendered by President-elect Kollen during the past year, both in securing much needed funds for the Institution and in the prudent and able management of its internal affairs, and rejoices that the work, only just begun by him, is progressing so auspiciously.

"The past year has witnessed quite a change in the personnel of the Faculty. We have succeeded in securing the valuable services of Prof. D. B. Yntema as Professor of Chemistry and Physics, and of Mr. A. E. Whitenack, as Professor of English and instructor in French and German. As a whole we consider the Faculty a strong one, fully abreast with those of similar institutions of our State.

"During the year valuable services have been rendered the College by Hon. G. J. Diekema and Messrs. J. C. Post and Geo. E. Kollen as lecturers on Political Economy. Their work was highly appreciated by the Senior Class, and their gratuitous services were fittingly recognized by Council.

"During the year there have been in attendance in the College 67 and in the Grammar School 204; total 273. This is a considerable larger attendance than we have ever had before, not counting the Normal class. This caused considerable embarrassment; our lecture rooms were altogether too small. We trust however that this difficulty will soon be removed.

"The growth of the Institution created the necessity for better and larger accommodations. Through the generous liberality of Hon. Nathan F. Graves of Syracuse, N. J., and Mrs. G. E. Winants of Bergen Point N. Y., and other generous friends of the Institution, a beautiful chapel and library building, costing more than $40,000, has been constructed upon the College Campus and will be dedicated during Commencement week of this year.

"By the establishment of a more exclusive chair in natural science a Laboratory became a necessity. We therefore fitted up the so-called 'old chapel' as a laboratory, brought in the city water, and purchased a needed supply of chemicals and apparatus for Physics. To meet this new demand and additional expense, we started a 'Science Fund,' to which some of our former students, now of the medical fraternity, have generously subscribed.

"Last year, owing to a number of unfavorable circumstances, it was thought best to omit the Summer Normal. Arrangements are now being made however, to have a session of five weeks during the coming summer.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.
Dr. G. C. Osceola, Lowell, Mass.
"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
Dr. J. F. KINCHLOE, Conway, Ark.
Castoria.
"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ANCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.
"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."
UNITED HOSPITAL AND DISPENSARY, Boston, Mass.

"The General Endowment Agent, Rev. Jas. F. Zwemer, brings us the cheering news that the $100,000. Endowment Fund is about complete in subscriptions. We trust that these pledges will soon be redeemed, in order that our revenue may speedily be increased from that source.

"We are glad to say that during the past fiscal year, notwithstanding the prevailing financial depression our expenditures did not much exceed our income. But it is evident that, with the growth of our Institution, our expenditures will increase; and that, if we are to do the work which a kind Providence assigns us, we shall need an enlarged endowment.

We are however, full of hope and courage, because we have confidence in the friends of the College, who believe that nowhere will invested funds yield a larger dividend than in connection with this school."

From The Anchor: The spirit of Athletic has taken hold of the boys this year and we hope that soon we may be able to see our campus fitted up with three or four tennis courts and our base- and foot-ball grounds properly fitted up. We hope also that in the near future a Field Day will be granted us, such as has become so popular throughout the colleges in this land and which aids so much in bringing colleges in closer touch with each other.

A committee has been appointed composed of members of the present Juniors and Soph's to devise ways and means to secure apparatus, money and other things, necessary to fit up the chapel as a gymnasium. The Greatest Sight of a Great City.

Paris has her Arch Triomphale, London her Tower, Rome her St. Peter's, and New York her old Trinity, but Chicago has her Masonic Temple—as great an architectural wonder as any above enumerated. In fact the Masonic is more wonderful than any building in any great city of the world. Erected as a business building, with no direct reference to art, it is nevertheless unique as a structure, considered from every standpoint. The frame of the building is of steel bolted together, 4,700 tons of steel having been used. The walls are of stone and pressed brick with marble and bronze trimmings and terra cotta partitions, 2,200 tons of the latter entering into the work. There are 83 miles of electric wiring, and the plate glass used would, if laid flat on the ground, cover four acres. The pumping apparatus used in running the battery of fourteen elevators, would supply water for a city of 60,000 souls. The elevators run at a rate of nine miles an hour and each elevator runs every year 123,136 miles, equal to a journey around the earth five times. There are twenty-one stories in the huge edifice and on the top floor is being fitted up the finest Observatory and Roof Garden in the world, one entirely in keeping with the fact that the Temple has no parallel in the civilized world. At the height of 302 feet up in the air visitors will see the finest panorama ever displayed to view. The blue waters of Lake Michigan, the World's Fair, the beautiful park system of the city and a thousand points of interest in and about the great city are unfolded to the view. The Observatory and Roof Garden is superbly fitted up for the entertainment of visitors. Two exquisite scenic theatres, each 17x52 feet, have complete stages and the finest conveniences known. In one will be exhibited with a wealth of electric light effect, "A Day in the Alps," an improved edition of the wonderful scenic theatre seen by over 200,000 people in the Electric Building of the World's Fair. The other theatre will display in scenic form a wonderful reproduction of the Honor and MacMonnies Fountain, the master piece of the Columbia Exposition. This feature will be given with electric effects, real water and prismatic fountain. The theatres will be on the continuous performance style. Two thousand electric lights will transform night into day, and a well-arranged café will be in operation, serving mild and cooling drinks, and other refreshments. No addition has been made to the price of admission, even in view of the many thousand of dollars expended, and it will remain at twenty-five cents. It can already be seen that the Masonic Temple Observatory and Roof Garden is going to be one of the most attractive resorts in Chicago. It is the greatest sight of a great city.

ELLIS ON TRIAL.

Progress of the Case Against the Attorney General.

THE PROCEEDINGS.

MASON, June 7.—If ever a legal battle was fought by both sides for all there was in it more stubbornly than the one now in progress in this city in which Attorney General Ellis is the central figure, the records do not show it. The defense is putting up a most vigorous fight and the prosecution shows a disposition to stay by them at all times. The first eight counts of the indictment charge forgery in connection with the return to the secretary of state in particular, while the ninth count is indefinite. The defense claimed that the indictment charged two crimes and endeavored to have the people forced to elect under which count the case was to be tried. The court overruled this motion, holding that the several counts all covered the same offense.

LANSING, June 8.—Developments of a most extraordinary and sensational character were made at Mason Thursday upon the trial of Attorney General Ellis for forging the return from Gogebic county upon the salary amendment of 1891. The developments came in the form of the testimony of W. H. S. Wood, in 1891 clerk of the state board of auditors and afterward superintendent of the state reform school. Wood was not sworn before the grand jury and his presence in the case was until quite recently unknown to the public.

Wood testified that while clerk of the board of auditors one morning in April, 1891, Ellis came to his office in company with Frank A. Potter, who is under indictment for complicity in the 1893 frauds. Ellis produced two returns from Gogebic county, and, informing Wood that they were incorrect, instructed him that he was the only person who could lawfully change them. Potter agreed that it was Wood's duty to make the changes suggested by Ellis, and ex-Secretary Soper gave Wood instructions to proceed. Acting under these assurances, Wood says, he changed the word "three" to "thirteen," thereby increasing the affirmative vote upon the salaries amendment 1,000 votes. Ellis was pleased with the job, and significantly remarked that the writing made by Wood was very similar to the other writing in the return. Wood testifies that he afterward made changes in another return. Wood further testified that some time last year he met in Lansing Frank A. Potter, who introduced to him George H. Bussey, now under arrest for perpetrating the Wayne county frauds, as the man who did that identical job at Detroit, and remarked insinuatingly that he and Bussey had done in 1893 what Wood had done for Ellis in 1891. Potter, the witness believed, had been drinking, and in that condition had sought the latter's confidence.

LANSING, June 9.—Attorney S. S. Cooper, of Bessemer, created a sensation in the Ellis trial by swearing that in January last the attorney general called at his office and endeavored to retain the firm of Riley & Cooper. He tried to force a retainer on Cooper, who demanded to first know the business in hand. Ellis then said a fraud had been committed in connection with the Gogebic returns and all he wanted the firm to do was to keep away from the courthouse until the clerk's record could be fixed so as to agree with the returns to Lansing. Cooper refused the retainer.

The second sensation came when Postmaster Healy, of Ironwood, took the stand and flatly contradicted testimony of ex-Clerk Wood, who swore that he made two of the alterations on each return. Healy swore positively that he made all the changes himself in Ellis' office, believing that as chairman of the county canvassers he had made an error in making out the original returns. He stuck to this notwithstanding the production by the defense of his affidavit made last February to the effect that none of the changes were made in Lansing, as he made them all at Bessemer, and also in spite of the showing by the prosecution that he swore before the grand jury that he made but one charge on each return, thus sustaining Wood's testimony that he (Wood) made the rest of the charges. Both sides have declared their intention to impeach Healy.

LANSING, June 10.—M. M. Riley, a Bessemer attorney, testified at the trial of Attorney General Ellis Saturday that in January last, the week after the amendment frauds were exposed, he had a conversation with Ellis in the Gogebic county courthouse at Bessemer. Riley, who is a member of the republican state central committee, had received telegrams from state officials asking him what the county clerk's record showed the vote on the amendment to be. Knowing this, Ellis informed Riley that if the latter would consent the matter could be fixed up and the record changed so as to correspond with the returns in Lansing. Riley also swore that Ellis further said had he known the situation sooner he could have fixed the records himself and no one would have been the wiser, for, as he was attorney general, he could have obtained possession of the books. Riley refused to consent to attempt to change the records and telegraphed the correct vote of the county. During the grand jury investigation Ellis again offered him a retainer fee which was refused. Ex-Senator Stearns of Bessemer, Miss Anna Hart and Mrs. Elizabeth Bowen, of Ossage, Ia., formerly one of Ellis' clerks, also testified to about the same effect. The trial will consume at least another week and is attracting large crowds of spectators.

FOUND GUILTY.

SAGINAW, June 13.—The trial of Newell B. Parsons, confidential clerk for Wells, Stone & Co., who was accused of stealing $400,000 bonds of the Cincinnati, Saginaw & Mackinaw railroad from the firm last April, ended Tuesday in a verdict of guilty.

Parsons had shipped the bonds to a friend, Fred W. Knight, at Grand Rapids, who placed them in a safety deposit vault. When he learned of the robbery he laid the matter before an attorney, and the bonds were recovered. Parsons' defense was that Knight brought the bonds to him some time before as a package of his own property while he was visiting here and told him to ship the package when he asked for it. He claimed when he sent the package he did not know about its contents. Parsons has been a leader in society here and is 24 years old. He comes of an old and respected family. Parsons became deathly pale when the verdict was announced. The jury was out only thirty-seven minutes. A new trial will be asked.

Political Notes.

The way in which it is being done seems to be contagious.

Patterning after Ottawa county the administration and anti-administration forces had a set-to in the Port Huron Democratic county convention Tuesday, the proceedings of which will strike the readers very forcibly for the close resemblance they bear to the late Grand Haven demonstration.

"The convention was called to order at 10 o'clock by William Stewart, chairman of the Democratic county committee. He had hardly taken his seat when Thomas Murphy, of the Whiting (anti-referee) forces, moved that Richard Strout be elected temporary chairman of the convention.

Chairman Stewart refused to put the motion, claiming that the executive committee had named P. H. Phillips. The motion was then put by Mr. Murphy, and Strout was declared elected.

Mr. Strout started toward the chair which Mr. Stewart held, having as a body-guard six or eight able-bodied Whiting Democrats.

Stewart got up in his chair and attempted to make a speech. This started a riot. He was pushed down by a Whiting man, and jumped on by four more. His eyes were blackened and he was dragged down from the platform. Strout finally got the chair after four or five anti-Whiting men had been knocked down and dragged out from behind the speaker's desk.

Charles A. Bailey got on top of a table and attempted to make a speech, and he was promptly knocked off.

At noon the Whiting men had elected all their delegates to the state convention, and after adopting resolutions instructing the delegates to vote solidly for Whiting, as governor, adjourned. The anti-Whitings got outside, called another convention, and also selected a full delegation to the Grand Rapids state convention."

The inequality, the injustice, the sectionalism that underlie the new tariff bill, now being patched up in the Senate by the predominant Southern element, with the tacit consent of their Northern allies, was brought out forcibly in Monday's debate by Senator Hoar: "The shellfish, which the fisherman of Maine gets off that stormy and rockbound coast, is to come in free; the sponge, which comes from the Florida reefs, has a duty of ten per cent. The flax of the northwest is to be on the free list; the sumac of Virginia has a protection of ten per cent. The chain which the northwestern workman manufactures has a duty as a protection of 30 per cent; the pig iron of Alabama and Tennessee, of which it is made, has a protection of $4 per ton, equal to 50 per cent ad valorem. The freestone and sandstone and limestone of Ohio, Rhode Island and Connecticut and of Berkshire county, Massachusetts, rough, are to come in free, and the manufactured are to have a duty of 20 per cent, while the rough marble of Tennessee and Georgia is to have 50 per cent (specie) per cubic foot and 85 per cent per cubic foot manufactured. The sugar of Louisiana is to have 40 per cent raw, with its addition to the refiner, while wool, the great product of the north, is to come in free. The grains of the northwest are to have but 20 per cent, while the great southern grain, rice, which the south grows and the north consumes, is to have 84 per cent protection. The tie for baling cotton is free, while the hoop iron for the hay bundle of the north—a crop more valuable to this country than the whole cotton crop of the south—is to have 30 per cent ad valorem.

"The power which is to pass this bill is a coalition between the aristocrat and the populist, between the spirit of the old slave master and the spirit which would make war on property, on frugality, on honest labor, on honest, moderate earnings. The alliance is between the spirit of sectionalism of the south and that spirit at the north which never has known the impulse of a true nationality.

Its warfare is upon the savings bank, upon the life insurance, upon the yeoman, upon the farm and upon the workman in the mill. The power which is behind it may seem to secure for itself a brief victory; but the men who are wielding it know well that it is doomed. Its success will be as short-lived as it is mischievous. It may last for a day, for a year, and perhaps for a presidential term. But in the end the issue of this contest cannot be doubted. The stars in their courses fight against it. The spirit of the American people is against it. The spirit of honest labor, the spirit of American liberty, are against it."

Congressional Ionia county has been heard from. The rumors that the rural districts had been canvassed on the quiet and secured by a combination of which either Belknap or McBride were to be the beneficiaries appear to lack foundation. At any rate the Ionia Sentinel of last week has formally announced the candidacy of A. J. Webber.

So far as Ottawa county is concerned the only name authoritatively placed in the field is that of Geo. A. Farr of Grand Haven, and it appears to meet with favorable comment in this part of the county.

Besides the regular Populist state convention, which is to meet at Lansing, July 4, an Industrial state convention is to meet in that same city on July 6, and the two are not to be confounded—for the present. The latter is to be a delegated convention with delegates from all the various trades and agricultural or farmer organizations. It will number between 1,200 and 1,500 delegates. The farmers Alliance will send 320, the State Grange 175, the Federation of Labor 500, the Knights of Labor 175, the Railroad Men's organizations 100, and various other similar organizations will send delegates. The call makes no mention of a political platform.

Congressman Linton, of Saginaw, while the Indian appropriation bill was under discussion last week in the House, made a sensational speech on the Catholic control of Indian schools. He said it was time to sweep away a system which was becoming an abomination. The Presbyterians, Methodists, Baptists and other denominations opposed the system. Mr. Linton had read a list of Indian schools receiving government aid, showing that most of the funds went to Catholics. The Catholics received $369,575 last year, while other denominations received from $29,000 down to nothing. The speech was long and carefully prepared and attracted much attention.

The Public Schools.

The sermon to the class will be preached Sunday evening in Hope church, by Rev. James E. Smith of Grand Rapids. On both occasions the vocal music will be by present and past graduates of the school; and a cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend both these gatherings.

A communication was received from Mr. Van Landegend relative to the present heating apparatus of the Central and High school buildings, which was referred to a committee for investigation and report.

There's "Provisions" In It.

The long list of presents that is held out by Grand Haven citizens as an inducement to any couple that will present itself for marriage on the steps of the new court house, on the day of its dedication, is evidently awakening a decided interest even outside the limits of the county, as will be inferred from the following letter of inquiry:

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., June 7, 1894.
Dear Sir: I heard that the citysons Grand-haven would give so much provisions and furniture to any couple that was ready to get married the fourth of July on the steps at the court house of grand haven. If you please write me full particulars of it—if they have no couple yet I will report. Please write soon.

I. M. H.

The above reminds us of a story that went the rounds at the time Senator Sumner's Civil Rights Bill was pending in Congress, somewhere in the "seventies." It purported to be a conversation about the "provisions" of that Bill, between a twenty-five year old darkey and his uncle. After the ardent youth had got his partner wedged in a corner, Young Africa imparted to Old Africa a fund of valuable information, and acquainted him with all the gorgeous provisions of the bill as follows:

"Well, Uncle Billy, Sumner's Civil Rights Bill has passed de Senate ob de United States widout a murmur."

"Is dat so, Joslar?"

"Jess so, Uncle Billy. And say, Uncle Billy, we colored pussons is gwine to see whose purvisions is in de pot. We are gwine to be allowed to ride free on de railroads, smoke in de ladies' car, and put one foot on de purcussions ob de seats whenever we please."

"Is dat so, Joslar?"

"Jess so, Uncle Billy. And say, Uncle Billy, we's gwine to be allowed to stop at de hotels, and eat de head ob de table, and hab de biggest slices ob de chickens, and lay around in de parlor and spit on de carpets, and make de white trash hustle themselves and wait on us without grumblin', and whenever de boss ob de concerns shoves a bill at us, we'll hab him sent to Washington and obscured in de plenipotentiary."

"Is dat so, Joslar?"

"Jess so, Uncle Billy. And say, Uncle Billy, we's gwine to be allowed to go to de white schools and set up on de platform wid de teacher and learn gegography, triggermenometry, gehominy, Latin, Choctaw, algeebay, rheumatics, and de rule of three."

"Good gracious! is dat so, Joslar?"

"Jess so, Uncle Billy. And say, Uncle Billy, we's gwine to be allowed to be buried in italic coffins wid lookin'-glasses on top ob dem, and dey will hab to carry us on a herse to de grabyard and bury us on top de white folks, so when de day ob resurrection an arrived, dey'll sing out: 'All you colored gemmen rise fust!' ### Church Items.

Revs. E. Van der Vries and C. Van Goor, and elders G. W. Mokma, T. Keppel and J. W. Bosman of this city are in attendance as delegates at the Synod of the H. C. Ref. Church, which opened at Grand Rapids, Wednesday.

The synod organized with the election of the following officers: President, K. Kuiper, Grand Haven; vice-president, Rev. J. Noordewier, Kent county, secretaries, Revs. W. Heyns and P. Schut. Two matters of great importance will demand the attention of the Synod: organic union with an English speaking denomination—the United Presbyterian Church, and a reconstruction of the theological seminary, so as to widen its literary course involving the appointment of half a dozen additional instructors.

Rev. T. M. Mullenburg of Boyden, Ia., has been called by the 7th Ref. church at Grand Rapids.

Many pastors in the Western part of Michigan are suffering from the hard times. Presiding Elder Cogshall of Grand Rapids, says three of his pastors have received less than $200 in the past nine months. Six others have received less than $300.

Reports from the General Synod of the Reformed Church held at Asbury Park, N. J., are meagre, as was to be feared. Rev. Dr. F. A. Collier of Kinderhook, N. Y., was elected president; Dr. A. Scott of Rutgers College, vice-President; and Rev. P. T. Phelps and J. Lamar secretaries. The election of a third professor, for the chair of history, in the Western Theol. Seminary, located in this city, came off on Tuesday. A nominating ballot was had on Monday, which resulted as follows: H. E. Dosker 62, J. F. Zwemer 36, E. Winter 8, J. G. Fagg 11, Abel H. Huizinga 5, E. T. Corwin 5, scattering 6. The formal balloting commenced in the forenoon of Tuesday. Under the rules of that body balloting proceeds uninterruptedly until some one receives a three-fourths vote. The contest was sharp and it required four ballots to elect, Mr. Dosker's vote climbing with each ballot: 88, 103, 120, 131. The total vote cast was 167.

One evening last week a party of three young men forced themselves as an escort upon the attention of two young girls, as they were returning home from a visit to a friend. Their action and behavior were of a very low order, so much that by direction of the prosecuting attorney the city marshal entered complaint before the local magistrate, alleging assault and battery. Two arrests have been made, with perhaps more to follow. One of the young men has pleaded guilty and was given his choice between a fine of fifty dollars and costs or ninety day in the Detroit House of Correction. He preferred to pay his fine. The other will have his trial next week Saturday.—In a report of this affair sent out to the G. R. Democrat the name of the above party is given as Marinus Traas. This is erroneous and evidently a slip of the pen. It is unnecessary to state that Marinus Traas is not that sort of a youth.

THE SHORTEST TWILIGHT.

Quito, the Capital of Ecuador, Leads the World in This Peculiarity.

The period of twilight shortens toward the equator and lengthens toward the poles. In other words, the less the thickness of air through which the rays of the setting sun have to pass the sooner darkness comes. From this it naturally follows that the region of the shortest twilight is the one which is situated nearest to the equator and at the greatest elevation.

These two conditions are combined in the region in which stands Quito, the capital of Ecuador. This plateau is nine thousand four hundred and forty-two feet above the level of the sea; it is also surrounded by mountains, twenty peaks, eleven of which rise beyond the snow line, being visible from the streets of the city. Added to this it is only fifteen miles south of the equator; hence it has a shorter twilight than any other spot on the equator, partly because of the elevation, and partly because the western mountains intercept the rays of the setting sun and so cause darkness to follow daylight with greater rapidity than at any other spot on earth.

ASTONISHED INDIANS.

They Thought a Red-Haired Paleface Something of a Freak of Nature.

Twenty years ago the Indians in Colorado knew but little of the white man, and nothing hardly of his ways or habits except from tradition. Among the people who went to settle in Colorado at that time, says Golden Days, was a man with very red hair. He and his party were thrown among the Indians, who thought at first that his hair was painted, just as they painted their own bodies and faces.

An old chief came up to him one day and looked at his hair very carefully. "Ugh!" said he.

And then, turning to the interpreter who had the party in charge, he wanted him to ask the man where he got the kind of paint that would color, and yet not be greasy or look dauby. He was told that the man's hair was not painted, but he would not believe it. He once more walked up to the man and scrutinized his locks, running his hand through them and looking at his fingers.

The red-haired man became a little nervous, and half fancied that the chief was calculating how nice a red scalp would look hung to his belt. The interpreter, however, laughingly told the man what the chief had said.

Two or three more of the Indians then gathered around the party, and they and the interpreter had a pow-wow. Finally the interpreter asked the man if he would object to putting water on his hair.

He saw that the Indians would not believe but that it was painted, until they saw that the water would not wash the color out. The man took some water, rubbed it on his hair and then showed his hands to them. But it took four or five days of wondering examination to convince them that he had not found some peculiar paint, and got himself up in a bright red suit of hair.

CHINESE PUNISHMENTS.

A Horrible Phase of Justice Among the Mongolians.

In December, 1891, I was in Canton. One afternoon I visited the principal law court. Two prisoners in chains were introduced—one an old man, too infirm to walk, the other a youth, tolerably vigorous, but abject and forlorn in demeanor. The presiding mandarin appeared, sat down and sipped his tea, while an official pattered out a long oration, presumably an indictment, for the prisoners proceeded, as I understood, to plead "not guilty." What followed, says a writer in the Spectator, was this: The old man was held up—not held down—while two stolid Chinamen flogged him with long, plant canes above the knees. The youth was divested of his chains, which were then piled up in front of him. Upon these he was compelled to kneel, while his feet, hands and pigtail were all attached by a cord to a post behind him and tightly secured. The cries of the victims and the complete composure of the spectators were alike disgusting. I said as much to my guide, whom I generally regarded as an amiable being. His reply was: "This very interesting. I never seen this before," though I have no doubt he had. The explanation of the dreadful scene—excuse there could be none—was that, by the law of China, no man can be executed until he has confessed his guilt. These two individuals had been convicted beyond doubt of heinous crimes, but they refused to confess. The alternative before them was execution or death by torture, and apparently they preferred the latter. The ceremony I witnessed was to be repeated de die in diem until either life or resolution gave way. How the end came, of course, I never knew.

USEFUL ALLIGATORS.

They Are Valuable as Destroyers of Troublesome Rodents.

The bayous of Louisiana were formerly the homes of alligators without number. They did no particular harm, except by catching stray pig or dog now and then; nor were they known to be of any particular use. The people, for the most part, let them alone. Then there sprang up at the north a demand for alligator skins for the making of satchels, pocketbooks and the like, and the natural result followed. The alligators were killed in great numbers, till presently they were almost destroyed.

No harm was done, people thought; but by and by it began to be noticed that certain mischievous quadrupeds were multiplying. In the rice fields, according to a Louisiana exchange, the muskrats increased in such numbers that it became hard work to keep up the back levees, which had been built to keep the water on the rice during the growing season. What perhaps was more serious, the same burrowing rodents infested the front levees, and nothing but constant watchfulness averted disastrous consequences.

Then market gardeners began to complain of an alarming increase in the number of rabbits, raccoons and other animals which preyed upon the cauliflower, cabbage, lettuce and similar vegetables. Some of the gardeners were compelled to inclose their gardens with close wire fences, or else abandon the cultivation of some of their most profitable crops.

The alligators had not been useless, and the people had learned anew that it is dangerous to go too fast and too far in disturbing the order of nature.

Canine Protectors.

In an exhibition of trained wild animals now open in New York a number of large and very intelligent dogs are always introduced into the cage with the other beasts. This is said to be for the protection of the trainers, the quick instinct of the dogs enabling them to discover instantly any indication of a dangerous temper in the lions or tigers. If there were a likelihood of the men being attacked the dogs would rush upon the wild creatures and thus give sufficient warning to the trainers to retire. It is an exhibition in which the men in charge run a very serious risk.

SOME idea of the number of New York men who get their clothes in London may be gathered from the fact that within one week recently there were twenty-three agents for English tailoring houses in that city. Most of the goods are brought into this country free of duty and cost the wearer a little less than the same clothes made here. All the big London houses have places in New York city where alterations are made free of charge.

DEALERS in curios find a ready sale for "brass knuckles," but decline to sell them to any but dealers or collectors, as there is a severe legal penalty for the indiscriminate sale of such articles. A single set of brass knuckles, which means the armament for one hand, will fetch at least one dollar and fifty cents, and collectors who are wise in such matters will probably give more for peculiar patterns. The article is rather rare.

ENGLISH sparrows have become such an intolerable nuisance in Maryland that a crusade of extermination has begun in a novel way. Great numbers of the birds roost in barns and out-buildings. The farmers, armed with broad, light paddles and bright lights, go to the buildings at night. The light attracts the birds, they swarm to it and are killed with the paddles.

In the social realm of the capital, Mrs. Cleveland is the bright particular example, teaching thereby the important lesson of personal abstinence. Again, as in her previous term in the white house, as officially the "first lady of the land," she banishes all wine-glasses from her own plate at public entertainments. All honor to her for this most praiseworthy social precedent.

NEW YORK veterinary experts state that not less than twenty-five thousand horses in that city are laid up from sickness caused by the salting of tracks by the street car companies. They say that the horses are poisoned by wading through the cold brine. One states that thirty per cent. of all the horses in the city are laid up from the effects of the poisonous brine.

THE phosphate marls of New Jersey have been worked for fertilizers since 1708. In surveying marl beds a boring apparatus made of half-inch gas piping is used. It gives good results to a depth of thirty feet.

FOREST FIRES.

Great Damage Follows in Their Wake in This State.

The Village of Sagola Almost Completely Destroyed—Heavy Losses Experienced in Other Localities—Flames Still Raging.

RUINED BY FIRE.
MARQUETTE, Mich., June 12.—Destructive forest fires are raging in the neighborhood of Nestoria, 50 miles west of here. Two bridges on the West Shore road, near here, were burned late Saturday, stopping traffic to Duluth, and a hard fight was necessary to protect the company's property at Nestoria. The burning district covers an area 1 mile wide and 5 miles long, and the destruction to timber must be enormous. Similar big fires extend southward at intervals for many miles. Sagola, a lumbering village of 400 inhabitants, was completely wiped out Saturday night and a freight train on the Milwaukee & Northern passing through there was set on fire and several cars burned. Only the most meager reports can be received, as in many places wires are down and travel suspended entirely.

SIDNAW, Mich., June 12.—The woods are afire in all directions. In Sidnaw five buildings, including the Sidnaw and Ryan hotels, have been burned. Loss, $10,000. At Rubicon, Ontonagon county, a store and five dwellings were burned, including the telegraph office. Specialists from Marquette and Iron Mountain say that the forest fires in the northern peninsula are now less alarming in character. Hundreds of acres of potatoes and other farm products are destroyed. The fires are the worst in years and untold damage will be done unless rain falls at once.

IRON MOUNTAIN, June 12.—Forest fires are raging in all directions. At Summit several hundred cords of shingle bolts were burned, but the mill and dwellings still stand. Forest fires are doing immense damage across the river in Wisconsin and loss will aggregate thousands of dollars.

HANCOCK, June 12.—Destructive forest fires are raging in the vicinity of the Atlantis mine. Three families were rendered homeless from this cause. The family of Anton Lewis lost almost everything.

MADMAN TAKES AN OUTING.

J. E. Atwood Escapes at Kalamazoo and Has a Day Full of Incidents.

KALAMAZOO, June 12.—J. E. Atwood, an insane man confined in jail here escaped from an officer while out walking Monday and after a lively chase was captured at Schoolcraft. Atwood ran to the Kalamazoo river and swam across. He then went to a farmhouse and stole an ax. A short distance further on he found a horse standing in the road and mounted it. The animal ran away, throwing Atwood to the ground. He was not injured, however, and with the ax in his hand proceeded to the Lake Shore tracks, south of the city, where he flagged a passenger train and boarded it. On nearing Schoolcraft he began smashing the windows in the car and threatened to kill anyone who interfered with him. At Schoolcraft an officer was called, and a struggle between him and the crazy man ensued. Atwood threatened to spit open the officer's head, but when the latter covered him with a revolver he changed his mind. On the way to the lock-up Atwood attempted to wrench the revolver from the officer's hand. The weapon exploded, the bullet passing through Atwood's hand. He will be brought back here and then taken to the asylum. Atwood is a traveling man. His home is in Des Moines, Ia.

MICHIGAN CROPS.

Heavy Rains and Warm Weather Helping the Growth of Wheat.

LANSING, June 12.—The secretary of state in the Michigan crop report, issued Monday, says:
"The weather the first half of May was exceedingly warm. General and heavy rains occurred at the beginning of the month and continued until after the 20th, keeping the ground well soaked for more than three weeks. Such weather was favorable to the growth of wheat, and the average condition June 1 in the southern counties, where 85 per cent of the crop is grown, is reported at 92 per cent as compared with 77 in 1893, 91 in 1892 and 96 in 1891. The average condition this year is higher than in any previous year of which we have record excepting 1891. The average condition in the central counties is 90 and in the northern 85. The figures for the central counties are the highest for this section (June 1) since 1889. The total number of bushels of wheat reported marketed in the ten months, August to May, is 12,431,945, which is 425,456 bushels more than was reported marketed in the same months last year. The heavy and continued rains seriously interfered with the planting of corn. The area seeded to oats is fully equal to the area in average years, and the crop is in fine condition. Barley is not extensively grown in this state. The average condition of meadows and pastures in the southern four tiers of counties is 89 per cent. Clover sown this year has made good growth. The average condition in the state is but little short of 100. The outlook for apples is promising. Peaches are estimated at two-thirds of an average crop."

Mayor Pingree's Plan to Furnish Detroit's Idle Men with Food and Labor.

DETROIT, June 10.—Mayor Pingree has advanced a scheme to supply the thousands of idle men in Detroit with vegetables for the winter. He has called on every lot and acreage owner in the city who has a foot of idle land to turn it in for the use of the poor until the crop year closes. He estimates that there are not less than 5,000 acres of such land in and about the city, and already has hundreds of acres pledged to his scheme. He expects the figures will reach into the thousands. He has issued an appeal to the Detroit churches to furnish seeds and farm implements in furtherance of the plan.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

Ottawa County.

"Go get thee a sore arm," is the motto in these small-pox times hung up by the good people of Jamestown. The local board of health proposes to keep small-pox out of the township, and offers free vaccination to all residents of the town, which offer is quite generally accepted.

The early settlers of the "Holland Colony," who still remember Mr. H. E. Hudson as the first nursery man, east of the old cemetery, will be interested to learn that on the 31st ult. he celebrated his 66th birthday, at his home in Hudsonville, where a large number of friends gave him and his family a pleasant surprise. He has lately traded his farm for Grand Rapids city property and will soon go there to live.

The township of Chester has ordered printed copies of the act relating to the destruction of milkweed, which are sent out with the road warrants to the overseers of highways with instructions to see to the strict enforcement of the law.

The People's party county convention will be held in Grand Haven, Saturday, June 23.

In the township of Blendon an experiment is to be made in raising peppermint. Chris De Jonge has received a carload of plants and has set them out on his farm on sec. 32. This is the first attempt at this culture in Ottawa county.

It may not be generally known, that in early years Grandville was the rival of Grand Rapids, by reason of its being at the head of Grand river navigation, water communication being looked upon as a far more important factor in a city's growth than it is now. The two places were born so nearly at the same time that they may be called twins. They had substantially an even start in the world. Grandville had navigation, while Grand Rapids had water power, and both bragged of brilliant future possibilities. Navigation took the lead at first, but water power won the race. Navigation gave employment to comparatively few, while constantly increasing number of mechanics and artisans found a livelihood at the merry wheels which water power kept in motion. Grandville, with its navigation, long since ceased to make any claims, and to-day is only a village of 600 or 700 inhabitants.

Fennville.

A recent state publication, entitled "The Plants of Lake St. Clair," was written by A. J. Pieters, brother of our clothing merchant. In the summer of '63 the Michigan Fish Commission sent a party to study the flora and fauna of Lake St. Clair and Mr. Pieters accompanied the party as a botanist.

Strawberries have not been very plentiful in the local market, the retail price being 2 cents. The cold weather has had much to do with retarding the ripening of the crop and a good many of the growers report considerable damage to their crop.

The C. & W. M. Ry. had a suit here Thursday, before Justice Fuller and a jury, wherein they sought to recover damages against Charles and John Semon of Allegan township. The damage was done at Mill Grove last December by a flat car running down the side track to the switch where it was run into by a freight train. The company claimed that the two Semons removed the blocks which held the car, in an attempt to move it out of their way and that the grade was so steep that they were unable to stop it. The proof failed to convince the jury, who returned a verdict of "No cause of action."—Herald.

Grand Haven.

The University of Michigan will get at least five of the graduates of the city schools this year.

Tribune: Jack Menton, the pugilist, slipped out of town Friday afternoon for fear of being arrested for his connection with the Fruitport fight. The same night Billy Murphy also left, taking the Goodrich boat for Chicago. When the boat landed in Chicago Saturday morning Murphy was arrested. A telegram from the Muskegon officers had preceded him. He will be held until the officers come to the conclusion what to do. Huggert, the Fruitport deputy sheriff, who was missed by the crowd of sports Thursday night, was in this city Saturday, gathering what information and the names of those present that he can. Huggert says that he went to the ring and placed the two fighters under arrest, also the referee. The crowd pressed around him and forced him out doors. He was struck several times and outside some one fired at him. Huggert heard the bullet whistle by his head. He claims to know the man by sight who did the shooting. Huggert it is said gathered quite a few names of witnesses to the fight, and promises to make things interesting for them.

The Whitney & Andrus circus has been having a rather poor season thus far, owing to weather and hard times. When they arrived here their advance agent placed an attachment in the hands of marshal Hodge, to secure pay due him for services. So the marshal ran the money end of the show while here. Tuesday night there was a large attendance, and they stayed over Wednesday instead of filling their date at Fennville. Wednesday night Whitney & Andrus assigned their interest to M. Andrus sr. and the combination went to pieces. Thursday morning those who had money enough left town, while the rest were stranded. The men had four weeks' pay due them.—South Haven Messenger.

Friday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Kamps was the scene of merriment, the occasion being a "sense party" given in honor of Mrs. Kamps cousin, Miss Louella Moyer of Charlotte. About forty guests were present. The lawn was brilliantly illuminated, while in the back ground was a tent, where games and music were enjoyed, until lunch was served. The game of "sense" was greatly enjoyed, two prizes being offered; Miss Everhard receiving the head prize and Hans Fisher the booby.

Namby Pamby.

The term "namby pamby," which has come to be applied to a person of vacillating character, as well as to weak literary productions, was originated by the poet Pope. He applied it to some puerile verses that had been written by an obscure poet—one Ambrose Phillips—addressed to the children of a peer. The first half of the term is meant as a baby way of pronouncing Amby, a pet nickname for Ambrose, and the second half is simply a jingling word to fit it.

DEATH TO HORSES.

How the Animals Are Used on the Arid Plains of Australia.

Mr. Gilbert Parker, in his "Round the Compass in Australia," describes a journey across the plains of the Darling river country in time of drought. From this description we extract a paragraph, horribly graphic, picturing the suffering of the horses.

It is a white and dreary plain. There is a line of straggling gum trees beside a feeble water course.

Six wild horses—brombies, as they are called—have been driven down, corralled and caught. They have fed on the leaves of the myall and stray bits of salt bush. After a time they are got within the traces.

They are all young and they look not so bad. We start. They can scarcely be held in for the first few miles. Then they begin to soak in perspiration. Another five miles and they look drawn about the flanks, and what we thought was flesh is dripping from them.

Another five, and the flesh has gone. The ribs show, the shoulders protrude. Look! A pole's heels are knocking against the whiffletree. It is twenty miles now. There is a gulp in your throat as you see a wreck stagger out of the traces and stumble over the plain, head near the ground and death upon its back. There is no water in that direction, worn-out creature.

It comes upon you like a sudden blow. These horses are being driven to death. And why? Because it is cheaper to kill them on this stage of thirty miles than to feed them with chaff at two hundred and fifty dollars a ton.

And now another sways. Look at the throbbing sides, the quivering limbs. He falls.

"Driver, for heaven's sake, can't you see?"

"I do, so help me God, I do. But we've got to get there. I'll let them out at another mile."

And you are an Anglo-Saxon, and this is a Christian land.

ANOTHER MEANING FOR O. K. In Russia It Used to Denote a Certain Fiery Woman Patriot.

"O. K." has another significance than the one usually attached to it. In Russia O. K. used to mean a mysterious brilliant writer who filled columns of the Moscow Gazette and Russia with letters in favor of an Anglo-Russian alliance. The mystic letters meant Olga Kireeff, one of the most prominent of all the fascinating set of social-political Russian luminaries, says the New York World.

She was the only daughter of a distinguished Russian family, and the godchild of Emperor Nicholas, and led the usual life of the upper class Russian girl until her marriage with Gen. Novikoff. She was the typical leader of the social diplomatic set for awhile, but was not seriously interested in politics until one of her brothers was killed in the Russo-Turkish war. Then she awoke suddenly to the fact of political life, and, believing that had England and Russia been on friendly terms such sacrifices would not have been necessary, she became an earnest advocate of an alliance between the two countries.

In England she has many friends of distinction. Kinglake, Hon. C. P. Villiers, Bernal Osborn, Prof. Tyndall, Gladstone, Carlyle, John Bright, Prof. Freeman, and Froude were all personal friends of hers, and some of them supporters of her views. She always stays at Claridge's when she is in London, and it was to her that Kinglake wrote the well-known nonsense verse:

There is a fair lady at Claridge's
Whose smile is more charming to me
Than the raptures of ninety-nine marriages
Could possibly, possibly be.

POLITICAL ANIMOSITY.

An Instance of Its Outcropping Among the English.

At a recent reception held by the prince of Wales Mr. Gladstone was loudly hissed by the Tories present. The incident, a gross departure from the respect due to a host and to a fellow-guest, illustrates the bitterness of the personal animosities created by English politics. Another British statesman, the late Lord Beaconsfield, often encountered in private life the virulent hostility of his political opponents.

One day, while residing at his country house, Hughenden manor, he was walking on the terrace, dressed in the easy coat and old slouched hat which he always affected when among farmers. The gate opened, and two women, strong Gladstonians, entered the grounds.

Supposing him to be a keeper or gardener or something of that sort, they inquired if he would show them over the place, which he at once undertook to do. While they were walking about they overwhelmed him with questions as to the habits of the master of the manor, and one of them finally said:

"Do you think you could manage to get us a sight of the old beast himself?"

"Madam," said Lord Beaconsfield, "the old beast has the honor to wait upon you now."

A Strange Transformation.

In the museum of natural history at Dublin is the skeleton of a man, a native of the south of Ireland, who was called the ossified man. His body became ossified during his lifetime. He lived in that condition for years. Previous to the change he had been a healthy young fellow of superior strength and agility. One night he slept out in a field after a debauch and some time later he felt the first symptoms of the strange transformation. The doctors could do nothing to avert the progress of his malady. His joints stiffened. When he wanted to lie down or rise he required assistance. He could not bend his body, and when placed upright he resembled a statue of stone. He could stand, but not move in the least. His teeth were joined and became an entire bone. The doctors, in order to administer nourishment, had to make a hole through them. He lost the use of his tongue and his sight left him before he died.

Write Your Friends About Home Seekers'
Excursions Into Michigan.

As a result of the efforts of the Chicago & West Michigan and some other Michigan Railways, three Home Seekers' Excursions will be run into Michigan this year.

For years past, the State has been drained of its agricultural population for the benefit of western states, by reason of the sale of excursions at low rates, to people desiring a new location or attracted by the glowing (sometimes overdrawn) accounts of the Western lands.

The tables will be turned this summer and fall, and an opportunity offered for farmers, and others, in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, West Virginia, etc., to come to Michigan, with a view to locating in the best state in the Union.

Tickets will be sold on July 10th, August 15th and September 15th, from principal points in above named states, to nearly all points in Michigan at one way fare for the round trip. Tickets will be good to return within 20 days from the date of sale. Stop-off will be allowed on the C. & W. M. Ry. at any point north of St. Joseph and at any point on the D. L. & N. north and west of Lansing.

Write your friends about this opportunity to visit Michigan, and get them to locate here if possible. We are interested in getting settlers into the State, especially along our own lines, which, for the most part, run through as good farming and fruit lands as can be found anywhere. The "Michigan Fruit Belt" is famous the country over, and includes the entire eastern shore of Lake Michigan.

We are doing all we know how to encourage the movement of settlers into the State, and we appeal to you who are reading this, to assist us, for MICHIGAN, THE GREAT STATE GEO. DEHAVEN, G. P. A.

Medicine in Bread.

DR. S. K. JACKSON.

The acids most generally employed in baking powders for the purpose of liberating the gas are the sulphuric (alum) and tartaric (cream tartar) which are objectionable for the reason that their salts possess medical properties and produce upon the human system effects which may not be needed at the time or at least as often as food is taken; no for one would like to take a dose of medicine every time he eats bread. It was a happy thought of Prof. Horsford that suggested the employment of an acid, (phosphoric) which, while it sets free the carbonic gas, also restores to the flour much of its nutrient ingredients which were lost in its manufacture. This, together with the fact that it communicates no unpleasant taste, and at the same time effectually secures the purpose of all baking powders, should commend his preparation to all desiring palatable and wholesome bread.

Cheap! Cheap! What? Binder twine at A. C. VAN RAALTE.

While at Peekskill, N. Y., Mr. J. A. Scriven, a prominent manufacturer of New York City, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Such good results were obtained from its use that he sent back to the druggist from whom he had obtained it for two more bottles of the same remedy. When you have a cough or cold give this preparation a trial and like Mr. Scriven you will want it when again in need of such a medicine. It is a remedy of great worth and merit. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Heber Walsh, Druggist.

Farmers will benefit themselves by buying their binder twine for 7c and 8c last year for 12. A. C. VAN RAALTE, Holland, Mich.

Happy days and restful nights result from using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It so regulates all the bodily functions and strengthens the nervous system that worry and fatigue are comparatively unknown and life is truly enjoyed. It is certainly a most wonderful medicine.
