John A. Roost has been offered a responsible position by the Atlas Glass Works, in connection with their new warehouse and depot at Grand Haven.
He will have charge of the books and shipping at that point, and assume his new duties towards the close of this month. Mr. Roost held the position here of shipping clerk at the Holland furniture factory, which position he had filled most satisfactorily. For the present his family will continue to reside in Holland.

Rev. W. H. Van Antwerp, D. D., delivered the address before the graduating class at the Commencement of Akeley Institute, Grand Haven,
Wednesday. His topic was, "True Womanliness." Says the G. H. Tribune: "The reverend gentleman bears
a marked resemblance to Chauncey Depew, and like that great after-dinner orator everything he had to say was listened to with marked attention. His address was replete with word pictures and morals, and worthy of the speaker."

At the bottom of Spring lake, not far from Ferrysburg, lies the hull of the old schooner Porcupine, one of the ships of Commodore Perry's fleet. The Evening Wisconsin advises some enterprising individual to raise the wreck and cut it up into canes, for curiosities. The late ex-President Hayes, who was known to take a peculiar interest in everything pertaining to the history of Com. Perry's victory on Lake Erie, intended shortly before his death to have the location of this wreck referred to the Navy department for investigation.

The board of supervisors meets on Monday, June 22.

Charles C. Wallin, father of F. B.
Wallin of Grand Rapids, died at Chicago this week, aged 92 years.

Myron W. Lyman of Chicago, was in the city this week, writing up the Holland resorts in the interest of the Chicago boat line.

Dr. B. B. Godfrey is making some practical improvements to the basement of his residence, the rooms of which he utilizes as an office.

The park board has placed new settees in Centennial Park, more substantial and stronger than the former set, and calculated to better withstand hard usage.

Erutha Lodge No. 27, D. R. I. O. O.
F., will give an ice cream social and dance at Odd Fellows hall, on Tuesday evening, June 16. All are cordially invited. Tickets, 25 cents a couple.

At St. Joseph, for the first time in many years, the Law and Order League succeeded last Sunday in closing the saloons, and now some of the proprietors are prompting the scheme of anchoring a "bum" boat just outside the harbor and run a free ferry from the piers.

Among the attractions this week was a horse suit, between parties from Olive, tried by a jury, before Justice
Van Schelven. G. J. Diekema represented one side of the horse and Geo.
E. Kollen the other. One of the witnesses fixed the value of the animal at ten dollars.

In the southern counties of Michigan the wages per month of farm hands average $15.10 with board, and $20.85 without board; in the central counties, $13.36 with board, and $20.91
without board, and in the northern
counties $15.49 with board, and $24.29
without board. The averages for the State are $14.87 with board, and $21-35 without board, which is some lower than one year ago in each section of the state.

George Eastman died Saturday at the Kalamazoo asylum, of which he had been an inmate for over a year.
He was a well-known lumberman on Grand River, and a son of Dr. Timothy Eastman, the founder of Eastmanville.
At one time he was quite wealthy.
Southern investments turned out disastrously and he lost considerable of this wealth the past few years. His wife died during the past winter. Two married daughters survive him. His remains were brought to Grand Rapids, and among the pall-bearers were Thos. Hefferan and Edwin Thayer, former residents of Eastmanville.

Died at Zeeland, on Monday, June 8, Hendrik De Kruij, Sr., aged 79 years. His death was very sudden and is attributed to neuralgia of the heart.
The deceased leaves a widow and three daughters, and four sons prominent in business circles. The funeral took place on Thursday, at Zeeland, from the North street church, Rev. J.
Kreulen officiating. Mr. De Kruij was a representative pioneer, one of those typical old settlers, the number of whom is steadily diminishing. He came here in 1847, and lived the greater part of the time on his farm in Zeeland township. During the 60's he resided a few years in this city.
His surviving widow is a daughter of the late J. Van de Luyster, one of the leaders of the Zeeland settlement.

The students of Hope College, and especially the members of the graduating classes, are busy just now preparing for the various exercises connected with Commencement week. A preliminary program of the festivities

following:

meeting of Meliphone Society, and address by Hon. Wm. Alden Smith.

laureate sermon, by Rev. A. Venne-ma, of Newark, N. J.

ical exercises of the Preparatory department, in charge of Prof. J. B. Nykerk. At 7:30 p. m., anniversary of Ultras Club. (This is a Dutch literary club, and the exercises are conducted in the Holland language.)

Tuesday, June 23, 7:30 p. m. Public meeting of Alumni.

Wednesday, June 24, 7:30 p. m. Commencement.

All the above meetings will be held in Winants Chapel. Doors open 30 minutes before exercises begin. Children under 12 years not admitted.
The public is cordially invited.

The music on Commencement evening this year will be largely by home talent, both vocal and instrumental.
The arranging of the program and the necessary preparations are in charge of Prof. J. T. Bergen.

Saturday afternoon, and their Fifth

Dr. B. J. De Vries attended the annual meeting of the state dentists'
association at Grand Rapids this week and on Thursday presented a paper entitled "Points of Interest in the Care of Children's Teeth."

Towards evening, on Sunday, after a most excessive heat, the sky assumed a threatening aspect and dark clouds gathered in the west and south-west accompanied with a strong wind.
They ultimately drifted towards the north and towards evening we enjoyed a copious shower.

With the annual approaching of hot weather Holland is not the only city whose citizens are being admonished not to waste the water. The board of public works of Grand Rapids is warning the water-takers that the supply is becoming limited, and that the rules governing sprinkling, etc., must be strictly obeyed.

Talk about local pride and occasion for boasting—two incidents of recent occurrence in this city furnish ample occasion: The reduction of the liquor bond by the common council, so as to facilitate an increase in the number of our saloons, and the refusal of our large churches for the graduating exercises of our public schools.

Monday there arrived in this city for burial, the remains of Peter Polhof, who had suicided at Muskegon, on Saturday, by slowly strangling to death. He leaves a widow and one daughter, aged 16 years; was 50 years old, and a carpenter; lost his property in the big fire a few years ago, and this unsettled his mind.

True, the House passed the river and harbor bill over the President's veto.
In that action, it added to the already enormous expense authorized by the present session of Congress.—G. R.
Democrat.

The above is not very gallant. If the criticism reflected in the above is to be justified at all, the $50,000 item which is to be wasted on Grand River, and which has been so persistently urged in the columns of the Democrat, comes in for its due share.

At a meeting of the People's party committee held at K. of L. hall on Tuesday, the following were appointed delegates to the county convention to be held in Holland on Saturday of this week:

At large—Herman Damson.
1st Ward—W. Baumgartel.
2nd Ward—D. Bertsch, J. W. Fle-man.
3rd Ward—Frank Dyk, Geo. Elferdink.
4th Ward—M. Van der Heide, Chris Hanson.
5th Ward—C. L. Kulte, C. Kerkhof.

Dr. H. Kremers and his son Edward narrowly escaped a serious, if not a fatal, accident on Saturday noon. A run-away team of John Schroeder, of the Lake Shore, dashed from behind into the tob buggy in which the two were seated. Both were thrown out, the buggy was smashed, and the occupants held between the fragments and exposed to the kicks of the frightened horse. When released neither the doctor nor his son appeared to be any the worse for it, except from the effects of the shock. The doctor's buggy was entirely demolished, although none of the horses were hurt. Mrs. V.
E. Dennis, of Ottawa Station, was near the scene of the accident, and in alighting from her road cart, injured her arm.

Frans Kammeraad, an old resident of Holland town, concluded at the age of 81 years, to avail himself the remainder of his days of the comforts of the Holland U. B. Home at Grand day, accompanied by Geo. E. Kollen, his attorney.

Residents of the First ward, around Lincoln Park, were aroused from their

the settlement of an old score between two transient lovers.

For The HOLLAND CITY NEWS.

The Storm That Has Passed.

There are days we recall, more stirring than all of the years that are massed, in the ranks of the past.

Since Lexington heard the gun that once stirred The sleepy Old World, and the flag was unfurled Proclaiming release from bondage and thrall.

As the years ebbd away, with each passing day The nation waxed strong. With toil and with song.

'T was builded so broad, it barred every road By which tyranny sought to trample to naught The longing for freedom to work and to pray.

But one weak spot was found, to the Union that bound The many in one; and then was begun Revolt without reason. Rebellion and treason Reared their dark forms, and the muttering storm Burst from the war clouds hanging thickly around.

But when the drums beat, from each village street Throughout the North land, came band upon band.

With arm marching tread and proud-poised head Each patriot swore by the emblems he bore, That treason should fall in disgrace and defeat.

How subdued were our joys, as we thought of the boys; Of the march and camp, mid the heat and damp; Of the fever's hot breath, of the battle's harsh death -

Wives and mothers bereft, as they fell right and left.

Ah, the ties and hopes a night can destroy!

What rivers of blood, poured their red flood, Through the fair South-land, where with unweary hand

The demon of war dragged his terrible car, Till down in defeat, in rout and retreat, Went the rank and file of treason's ill-brood.

A day dawned at last, when the war cloud passed.

What happy bells rang; what peans we sang, As with jubilant feet we hastened to meet Each heroic band who rescued the land.

Our flag waved again from Sumter's grey mast!

One arrow of hate from the quiver of fate, Shot by the hand of an assassin band.

With its cowardly dart, pierced the nation's great heart.

With sobbing and tears we bowed o'er the bier, Where lay the great martyr, slain for the State.

When flowers are spread, o'er patriots dead, Who fell in the strife for the Nation's great life; May the Blue and Gray on that sacred day, Untidely crown with immortal renown, The flag of the Union which floats overhead.

O. E. Yates.

Holland, Mich., May 30, 1896.

[This poem should have appeared in last week's issue, but was unavoidably crowded out.—Ed.]

National Conventions and Their Nominees.

Previous to 1832 national conventions for the nomination of candidates for president and vice president were unknown in our political methods. Such nominations up to that time were made by caucuses of the parties' members of congress, by expressions of preference by the parties' representatives in the legislatures, or by common consent.

The first of the regular national conventions by delegates, for the nomination of candidates for president and vice president was held in 1832 by the Anti-Masonic party, in Baltimore, when they put up William Wirt for president. The great parties of the day at once adopted the system. In New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey at an earlier date the germ of this plan was seen in operation, but the system was not adopted on a national scale until the campaign of 1832.

The national convention-cities of the Democratic party and the candidates there nominated, since 1832, have been as follows:

1832—May 12-13, Baltimore, Andrew Jackson.
1836—May 20-23, Baltimore, M. Van Buren.
1840—May 5-6, Baltimore, M. Van Buren.
1844—May 27-29, Baltimore, James K. Polk.
1848—May 22-26, Baltimore, Lewis Cass.
1852—June 1-6, Baltimore, Franklin Pierce.
1856—June 2-6, Cincinnati, James Buchanan.
1860—April 23-May 3, Charleston, no nomination.
1860—June 18-22, Baltimore, S. A. Douglas.
1860—June 22-23, Baltimore, J. C. Breckenridge.
1864—Aug. 29-31, Chicago, G. B. McClellan.
1868—July 4-9, New York, H. Seymour.
1872—May 1-4, Cincinnati, Horace Greeley.
1872—July 9-10, Baltimore, Horace Greeley.
1876—June 27-29, St. Louis, S. J. Tilden.
1880—June 22-24, Cincinnati, W. S. Hancock.
1884—July 8-10, Chicago, Grover Cleveland.
1888—June 5-7, St. Louis, Grover Cleveland.
1892—June 21-23, Chicago, Grover Cleveland.
1896—July 7, Chicago.

The Charleston convention of 1860 split sectionally without making a nomination, and each faction afterward put up a candidate in Baltimore. Stephen A. Douglas was nominated in the gathering in which the Northern end of the party was predominant, and John C. Breckenridge in the one in which the Southern element was in control. This is why three national conventions of the Democratic party appear in the table for 1860.

Two conventions appear in 1872, but the first was a Liberal Republican gathering, which nominated the ticket that the Democrats two months later indorsed:

The following are the dates, meeting-places, and candidates of the Republican National conventions from the organization of the party to the present time:
1856—June 17-19, Philadelphia, J. C. Fremont.
1860—May 16-18, Chicago, A. Lincoln.
1864—June 7-8, Baltimore, A. Lincoln.
1868—May 20-21, Chicago, U. S. Grant.
1872—June 5-6, Philadelphia, U. S. Grant.
1876—June 14-17, Cincinnati, R. B. Hayes.
1880—June 2-8, Chicago, J. A. Garfield.
1884—June 3-6, Chicago, J. G. Blaine.
1888—June 19-25, Chicago, B. Harrison.
1892—June 7-10, Minneapolis, B. Harrison.
1896—June 16, St. Louis.

The Michigan delegates-at-large to the several National Republican conventions have been as follows:

1856—E. J. Penniman, F. C. Beaman, N. L. Avery, Thomas J. Drake, Zach. Chandler and George H. Jerome.
1860—Austin Blair, W. W. Murphy, T. W. Ferry, J. J. St. Clair.
1864—Austin Blair, Marsh Giddings, Neil Gray, C. W. Clisbee.
1868—W. A. Howard, Hampton Rich, Randolph Strickland, Marsh Giddings.
1872—E. B. Ward, George Willard, W. A. Howard.
1876—H. P. Baldwin, J. J. Woodman, W. A. Howard, D. L. Filer.
1880—J. F. Joy, Jas. McMillan, O. D. Conger, Perry Hannah.
1884—R. G. Horr, W. F. Swift, S. G. Watson, J. C. Burrows.
1888—R. E. Fraser, J. K. Boies, W. C. Atwood, T. B. Dunstan.
1892—D. M. Ferry, D. A. Blodgett, J. M. Wilkinson, Charles W. Wells.
1896—R. A. Alger, T. J. O'Brien, Mark Brewer, J. W. Duncan.

Jingo-ism With a Ring to it.

On the evening of Memorial Day, May 30, a public dinner was given in the city of London, at which were present all the American Consuls in Great Britain; also Mr. Bayard, the American Ambassador; Joseph Pulitzer, of the N. Y. World; Senator Hoar of Massachusetts; and other eminent Americans and Britons. Toasts were drunk and complimentary addresses made.

The speech of the evening, which created quite a sensation, was made by Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, in response to a toast "Memorial Day." After several unmistakable allusions to Ambassador Bayard, who has recently been censured by a vote of the House of Representatives, Mr. Watterson began the main portion of his address by replying to a statement made in an English paper, that the South would have to be reckoned with in case the United States ventured on a foreign war. He said that among those who fought so well and valiantly during the late unpleasantness, as well as among their descendants, there was but one feeling—a feeling of thankfulness that God had laid the weight of His hand upon the Southern Confederacy, and preserved the life of the American Union. (Mr. Watterson had been a soldier in the Confederate army.)

He then made a bitter attack on this "self-seeking flunkeyism, eager for social recognition," which gives a false impression of the real feeling of the American people, and avowed strong jingo sentiments despite the eloquent appeals of ambassador Bayard, and said:

"I confess that I am a jingo, but from England I learned the lesson and got the cry: 'Greatness and Glory for England.'"

"It goes without saying and should need no self-seeking flunkey, eager for social recognition, no resonant lip service, delighted to have an audience and rejoicing at the sound of its own voice, to impress the intelligent Englishman with the truth that no intelligent American desires anything except the most constant and cordial relations of friendship.

"This talk of common institutions and a common language, is common talk. More than this, it is in some respects misleading. This talk of a common language did not prevent the United States from going to war with England on two occasions. Talk of common institutions, where conflicting interests are involved, is rather imaginary than real. We are of a common origin and of a common blood without doubt, and that means that we are good fighters, who may be counted each to stand by his own.

"War would certainly be a dreadful alternative, but there are yet greater evils that may overwhelm mankind than war, the obliteration of which from the human experience makes the emasculation of the human species mostly a question of time.

"It was the spirit of the Anglo-Saxon race that placed England where it is to-day. Her warriors are no more forgotten in her history than are her sages. To the same martial spirit the American Union owes all that it is to-day, and upon this idea the United States must rely to maintain her position among the nations of the world.

"It is certainly true that these two great nations together occupy a position strong enough to rule the destinies of the human race, but they are not likely to agree upon terms until Englishmen find as much to thrill them with a feeling of glory and pride at the tomb of Washington at Mount Vernon, as the Americans find to thrill them with a similar feeling at the birthplace of Shakespeare at Stratford-on-Avon.

"If in recalling the heroic dead in whose memory we drink to-night, I take leave to hold our national bunting a little higher than the Duke of York's column; and if I also trail it in pious homage before that dome where lie the remains of Wellington and Nelson, I certainly do not mean to beard the lion in his den nor twist his tail, when I remind Englishmen we too have in Grant, Sheridan, Sherman, Lee, Farragut and Stonewall Jackson Anglo-Saxon soldiers and sailors whom all Britons should delight to honor."

Muskegon in Hot Water.

The recent attempt at the enforcement of the Sunday laws in Muskegon, and the humiliating fiasco in which it resulted, has at least aroused the ire of one individual there, the Rev. J. B. Banker, pastor of the Baptist church.

In his sermon on Sunday evening of last week he indulged in some comparisons between the morals of Muskegon and other cities, and delivered himself of the following:

"A city bears hereditary traits, as does a family. Muskegon was largely settled by irreligious and ungodly men, and to-day it bears the stamp of such ancestry.

"True, much good blood has flowed in of late years, and the community has greatly improved, but the moral atmosphere dulls the conscience till one residing here awhile does not notice things that would shock other communities. Here are a few things in which Muskegon compares unfavorably with most cities:

"1. The few christian businessmen. In eastern cities there are more men who attend church, and many of the best business men are christians. The most prominent business men in New York and Brooklyn are active christian workers. John Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, at the head of the largest business of its kind in the country, is superintendent of a Sunday school of three thousand pupils; and when postmaster general, would leave Washington every Saturday that he might be with his school on Sunday. Though employing more than a thousand clerks he takes the time to call one and another of them into his private office, and speaks to them of salvation through Christ and kneels with them in prayer. In my trips through the state I have found no city with as few active christian men as Muskegon.

"2. The indifference of many of our so-called leading business men to a high moral standard. Because they profit from the city's shame they are content to let iniquity flourish.

"3. The social life of our city has little in it that is ennobling and refining. The amusements for all classes are of the lower and baser sort, filling the round of the season's pleasures with little that is intellectual or helpful.

"4. The sentiment favoring Sunday desecration. In no other city of like size in the state is such desecration of Sunday permitted within city limits, and yet when any attempt is made to bring to pass a better state of things a bitterness and opposition is developed that must bring shame upon any community.

"5. The lawlessness on the part of boys and young men. Destroying flowers and stealing choice plants, breaking fruit trees and damaging property. In no other city that I know of would young men be allowed to walk the streets as they do Third street Sunday evenings, insulting girls and ladies."

During the following week the Chamber of Commerce of Muskegon took up the cudgel, and passed a set of resolutions in denial of the above arraignment, saying among others:

"Whereas, During several months past, a non-taxpaying resident of this city has, through the medium of his employment as a 'pastor,' used such position to utter from the pulpit of his church, sentiments which, as regards this city and its inhabitants, are of a scurrilous and abusive nature; therefore Resolved, That by this action, as a representative body of law-abiding business men, we deny the aspersions which he has cast upon our city and people and brand them as unworthy of credence, maintaining that it and they will compare favorably with any place in this state in morality, social purity, educational facilities, patriotic zeal, business probity, and to an unusual degree even in proper religious tendencies."

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know

that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Pitcher is on every wrapper.

DEAR SIR:—Thank God there is a medicine that will cure catarrh. Mr. Pretzinger I used your sample box of catarrh which you sent me. The first night I used it it helped me. May God bless you for your kindness. I used the little box you sent me and about half of a 50 cent jar. They keep it in Chambersburg. I have told a great many people about your medicine. Hon. Squire Britton, brother-in-law to me, is using it; he says it is helping him very much; he has catarrh very bad. Mrs. C. D. Ludwig, daughter of me is using your medicine. I use it in the evening before retiring to bed and am feeling better now than I have for the last five years. My head is clear and I have no nervousness for work and my business. Before I used your medicine I had a time that I did not care whether I was living or dead; I had no energy; I didn't care for anything. I had catarrh over sixty-seven years in my head and catarrh and it turned in to consumption; she died in her sixty-fourth year. I have a farm up at Strasburg, seven miles from Greenville. On the 1st of May I drove up the farm and work Mr. Pretzinger I think it is a good place to have it put in an Franklin County paper as I am a relative, honest man so the people say, middling well acquainted over the County.

Yours truly,
GEO. K. ZOLLINGER.

Several barns and numerous outbuildings were overturned and over 400 feet of sheds at the plant of the Michigan State company were leveled. The rain fell in torrents.

WILL DO HIM HONOR.

Approach of President Angell's Twenty-Fifth Year of Service.

Ann Arbor, June 8.—Preparations are practically completed for a grand celebration on alumni day of commencement week of the completion of President James B. Angell's 25th year of service at the University of Michigan. The matter is being pushed both by the faculty and the regents. The whole affair is to be conducted as a personal tribute to Dr. Angell, and not as an educational celebration. In accordance with that idea official invitations have been issued to prominent educators, personal friends of Dr. Angell and to his colleagues in the executive chairs of the leading colleges and universities of the country, and of Michigan particularly.

June 24 will be memorial day. In the morning the exercises will be held in the university hall. Regent W. J. Cocker will speak in behalf of the official board of control. Then an illuminated parchment containing an address from the university faculty, prepared by Dean Harry B. Hutchins, Dean M. L. D'Ooge and Prof. E. L. Walters, will be read and presented. Other congratulatory speeches will follow from Dean Murray, of Princeton, a classmate of President Angell in Brown university; Justin Winsor, librarian of Harvard; Dr. W. T. Harris, United States commissioner of education and president of the University of Illinois. Dr. Angell will respond.

An ode especially written for the occasion by Charles Mill Gayley, of the University of California, and set to music by Prof. A. A. Stanley, of the University of Michigan, will be rendered by the choral union, a chorus of 300 voices, accompanied by the big Columbian organ. A banquet will follow in the gymnasium. Dean M. L. D'Ooge will act as toastmaster, and among others responses will be given by Dr. Angell, Presidents Harper, of Chicago; Rogers, of Northwestern; Speer, of Olivet; Adams, of Wisconsin, and ex-President Andrew D. White, of Cornell. In the evening a reception will be given in the gymnasium by President and Mrs. Angell.

CONDITION OF CROPS.

Hessian Fly and Rust Have Injured Wheat Considerably.

Lansing, June 9.—The monthly crop report for June, issued Monday, says:

"The average condition of wheat June 1 was, in the southern counties 63, and in the state 77, as compared with 91 and 92 on May 1. One year ago the averages were 66 and 73. The average condition now in the central counties is 57, and in the northern 56, as compared with 94 in each section one month ago, and 83 in the central and 87 in the northern one year ago. The average condition in the southern counties is 2 points, and in the state 15 points lower than one month ago. These figures may be taken to represent the average of our correspondent's estimates of damage by Hessian fly and rust. In a special report given out May 23, the average damage in the southern counties was estimated at 26 per cent. The recent cool weather and heavy rains have been beneficial, but it is beyond question that the crop is seriously and permanently injured. Whatever the total yield is would have been much more had the crop not been damaged by Hessian fly and rust.

"The acreage planted to corn fully equals, and the acreage sowed to oats is from 1 to 5 per cent less than the acreage in average years. In condition, oats are nearly a full average. The average condition of meadows and pastures is, in the southern counties, 79; central, 87, and northern, 94, the average for the state being 83. Clover sowed this year is in good condition. The figures for the state are 96. Apples promise about 91 per cent, and peaches 83 per cent, of average crop. The farm statistics of 78 townships, collected and returned by supervisors, indicate that the number of sheep now on hand in the state is 29 per cent, less than sheared in 1895. There is a loss of 3 per cent, in the southern counties, of 23 per cent, in the central counties, and of 15 per cent, in the northern counties."

"Dry" Sunday in St. Joseph.

St. Joseph, June 8.—The hundreds of excursionists who visited this city Sunday returned home dry because for the first time in years every saloon has been closed tight and the screens drawn back. The Law and Order league is delighted over its success. The thirty ones had to go to Benton Harbor to secure a drink.

Will Meet at Ironwood.

Houghton, June 8.—The republican congressional committee of the Twelfth district has selected Ironwood as the place for holding the congressional convention, and July 8 as the date. There are four candidates, nearly equally balanced in strength, with every prospect of a red-hot fight from start to finish.

Lansing's Assessed Valuation.

Lansing, June 6.—The assessed valuation of the city of Lansing, according to the assessment just completed and which the state board of equalization will have to consider, is $7,713,416. The personal valuation has decreased somewhat since last year, but the item of real property has held its own.

Grand Rapids, June 5.—Kryn Lindhout was sentenced Friday morning by Judge Burlingame, of the supreme court, to 15 years at Ionia for causing the death of his sweetheart, Mary Tillman. The young man is 20 years old and took his sentence very calmly.

In London a woman named Mrs. Dyer, was hung this week for the murdering of infants, intrusted to her care—baby-farming as it is called. She would first strangle her victims and then throw them into the river Thames. A conservative estimate by the police places the number of children killed at forty, but other estimates have it that as many as 100 infants were either strangled or drowned by her. But what is worse still, Mrs. Dyer and her son-in-law had a great reputation for piety. Over the door of her home was a figure of Christ, beneath which was the inscription: "Suffer little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

Thursday was Maccabee Day at the Holland resorts. The fraternity domiciled within the jurisdiction of the West Allegan and Ottawa Maccabee Association, congregated there in goodly numbers to celebrate the first anniversary of the organization. There were Knights from Grand Haven, West Olive, Fennville, Ganges, Douglas, Saugatuck, Zeeland and Holland, with their families, all bent on a day's outing. All told, there must have been fully one thousand present. The weather was favorable, so that the Knights from the south were enabled to come by boat. Crescent Tent of this city joined them in the forenoon, thirty strong, accompanied by the Holland City Cornet Band, who furnished the music and covered themselves with praises from everybody. A business meeting was held in the Auditorium, where reports were rendered and short addresses delivered, and the following officers elected for the ensuing year: President, Edward Van den Berg, Grand Haven; vice pres., C. E. Bassett, Fennville; sec'y., W. L. Tenny, Grand Haven; treas., John Bryce, Sr., Grand Haven. The ladies of the Maccabee Hives were also made honorary members of the association. The next annual meeting will be held at Highland Park, Grand Haven, with an intervening meeting at Holland some time in November. The organization, though new, is on a sound footing and gives every indication of permanency.

The treasurer desires to present a report and wishes all members to bring in fees up to June 11.

Friday afternoon, June 5, Mrs. H. D. Post gave a "Flower mission social" to the ladies of the W. C. T. U. and other friends at her home on Eleventh street. The parlors were tastefully decorated with roses and a pleasing program was well rendered. With the other "good things" served each lady was given carnations and a souvenir card, bearing a quotation about the flowers. It is needless to say that all present thoroughly enjoyed this afternoon with Mrs. Post, who by her devotion to this department of the temperance work is doing much for the "shut-in-ones" of Holland.

FRUIT NOTES.—It now looks as though the strawberry crop, which, up to within the past two weeks, promised to be abundant, will prove to be more or less of a fizzle. The berries set quite thick, but have made no growth and do not seem to mature. Capt. White of Peach Belt informs us that a patch on his place that promised a yield of 600 cases, will not produce ten. And we have reports from other sources almost as discouraging. What evil mischance has caused the crop to be thus blighted is not known, but it is conjectured the rain may have so washed the pollen from the blossoms as to prevent a proper fertilization.—Saugatuck Commercial.

During the rush in peaches last season, many shippers were unable to get tarlatan to cover their baskets and were forced to ship their fruit without this deceptive covering. Many claim that their returns showed no difference, whether the fruit was covered or not, and this has led several to state that they will use no more tarlatan on their fruit. The tarlatan bills of some shippers are enormous and the expense of sewing or even tucking the tarlatan on the baskets is an important item of expense. If this practise of using a covering, which is only one form of deception, could be done away with, it would be most desirable.—Fennville Herald.

The peach crop of Allegan county will not be so large this year as it was last year. Not but what the season has been altogether favorable, but it is simply impossible for the orchards to produce two such crops in succession as they bore last year. Apples promise to hold up to first estimates.—Douglas Record.

From Glenn Pier they report that the strawberry crop will be below the estimate. Too many berries ripen small and inferior.

Reports gathered in this immediate vicinity confirm the fear as to a short strawberry crop. The intense heat of Saturday and Sunday has as it were sun struck the growing berry and in some instances shriveled the leaf. A sudden stop of the strawberry season may be looked for.

Still Talking.

The People of Holland Interested—A Personal Interview.

We have been talking to the public about a remedy for lame back, backache and all kidney disorders; now the people are talking to us. If you are weak or weary, have "bad back," lame or aching, your kidneys are talking to you, warning you that they are overtaxed, and this talk interests you. Listen:

Our representative has been kept pretty busy investigating the numerous and almost wonderful cures in Holland that are occurring daily, through the agency of those little enemies to Kidney Complaints, Doan's Kidney Pills. The subject of this interview is Mrs. D. Van Oort, who resides on River Street. Our representative asked if she had been benefited by taking Doan's Kidney Pills.

"Yes," she replied, "very much."
"What was the main cause of your trouble?"
"Oh, it was my back. For years it caused me much suffering; some mornings I was in such pain I could not get out of bed."
"Whereabouts was the pain?"
"Right in through the back."
"Were you feeling badly at the time you began with the pills?"

"Yes, indeed, I had been for a whole week unable to do anything but sit around. I got a box of them at J. O. Doesburg's drug store, and they helped me from the start."
"How many did you take?"
"I used only that one box and I was restored. I am now able to get around and perform my work without suffering from that terrible 'bad back.' Doan's Kidney Pills are good medicine and you are welcome to use my name as an endorsement of them."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers, price 50 cts. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's and take no other.

DEATH OF EX-GOV. BEGOLE.

He Expires Peacefully in His Home at Flint, at the Age of 81.

Flint, June 8. — Ex-Gov. Josiah W. Begole died at a late hour Friday night. He had been gradually failing for the last two years. He was 81 years old and leaves a widow and several children. The end came quickly after a protracted illness due to a general breaking down of a once robust constitution consequent upon an injury received a year ago last February by a fall as he was about to enter a carriage at his home. In the evening of a well-spent life and an honored career Michigan's kind-hearted and generally beloved ex-governor passed peacefully away, leaving as a rich legacy to his family an untarnished name that is held in honor wherever it is known.

Flint, June 9.—The remains of ex-Gov. Josiah W. Begole were laid to rest in Glenwood cemetery Monday afternoon with every mark of respect. The services were held at the First Presbyterian church, and the funeral was attended by Genesee Valley commandery K. T.; Flint Lodge, No. 23, F. and A. M.; Fenton Knights of the Loyal Guard; company A, Third regiment, M. N. G.; Gov. Crapo post, G. A. R.; members of the common council and ex-mayors and ex-aldermen and other past and present city officers in a body and Campbell's Flint City band. The stores on Saginaw and contiguous streets were closed during the hour of the funeral, and in the factories throughout the city there was a general suspension of work during the afternoon.

[Josiah W. Begole arrived in Michigan when it was a territory and almost a wilderness. He was born in Livingston county, N. Y., January 20, 1815. He received his early education in a log schoolhouse and subsequently attended Temple Hill academy at Genesee, N. Y. When 21 years old he left home to seek his fortune. He settled in Genesee county, and added much in the prosperity of the city of Flint. He was married in 1839 to Miss Harriet A. Miles. He was a strong anti-slavery man and became a member of the republican party at its organization. Held several town and county offices, and in 1870 was nominated for state senator and elected by a large majority. He was a member of the national republican convention in 1872, and was elected to congress that year. In the gubernatorial election of 1883 he was the nominee of both the greenback and democratic parties, and defeated David H. Jerome, the republican candidate. He refused to be a candidate for reelection. Ex-Gov. Begole was a pioneer in masonry in this section of the state, having been made a member of the order about 50 years ago. He was a member of Flint lodge, No. 23, F. and A. M., and of Genesee Valley commandery, Knights Templar, and of the Mystic Shrine. He was for many years a member and communicant of the Presbyterian church and a liberal contributor to its support.]

Saturday afternoon Mr. Schroeder of this place was in Holland with a team of young colts. While standing at their heads, a little girl on a bicycle came along the sidewalk and scared the colts. Mr. S. tried his best to hold them, but they swung him around, run over him and dashed away, doing some damage before they got through. Mr. Schroeder escaped with a few light bruises.

Friday, June 5, a birthday party was given at the house of H. Goodin, in honor of the 18th birthday of Miss Emma Goodin. A very enjoyable time was had, although the threatening weather in the evening deterred many from going. May she live to see many more of them!

Sunday last Tunis Quick, who has been living here two years and never seen the lake, took his family out on a boat ride. He put off returning until the storm overtook him. There being no shelter he hauled his boat ashore, turned her bottom up, and the whole of the family, comprising himself, wife and seven children took refuge underneath. It was close packing, but they got home by 9 o'clock safe and dry.

A good deal of discussion has been had from time to time by the farmers in this locality about planting rye and other grain on stubble land. This year Chris B. Cook, agent for the Clark Cuttaway Harrow, planted all his rye with it, and can now show as good, if not better, fields of rye than those that were ploughed. If the readers of the News don't believe it, let them come and see for themselves.

At the Spring Lake water works election Tuesday, there were polled 203 votes out of a total registry of 207. The vote stood 119 for and 80 against. As the law requires a two thirds vote, the proposition was defeated.

An old Grand Haven paper of June 1866, says: "The wild pigeon season has been a remarkable one with us. There have been taken and shipped from this point alone to markets east and west, within the last three or four weeks, from 150 to 200 barrels of pigeons, taken mostly by lads and sportsmen about town, who have thus made their muskets net them a handsome revenue."—Tribune.

Allegan County.

The wheat in this vicinity, which was thought to be seriously injured by the Hessian fly and rust, has taken a new start and the crop bids fair to be a profitable one.—Hamilton News

The bill passed by congress giving the Woman's Monument Association of Allegan county four condemned cannons and four pyramids of balls has been signed by President Cleveland. As soon as the association takes the proper steps these warlike ornaments may be brought to Allegan and placed in position on the courthouse square. It has been suggested that appropriate ceremonies be held at the time when the artillery is mounted—a demonstration in which the whole county may take part.

Last Monday the books were opened of the new Fruit Growers' Bank of Saugatuck, succeeding to the banking business heretofore carried on by A. B. Taylor.

There are evidently queer people residing in the vicinity of Douglas. At a social held there recently, some of them attended, and the Douglas Record thus describes the action of one of them: "One old bald-headed sinner was so badly 'mashed' that he took up ten cents worth of time gazing into the face of one of the pretty waiters and left perfectly satisfied, having forgotten to taste his ice cream."

Among all those who favor the open saloon, there doesn't seem to be one who has the courage to call a public meeting and present a single argument for repealing local option in this county.—Gazette.

A number of Allegan county's largest fruit-growers propose to make a test case in the circuit court of the new state law compelling manufacturers of fruit packages to mark the capacity on each package. Many of the largest basket factories in the fruit belt have already commenced making peach baskets in fourths, fifths, and sixths of a bushel, but ignore the provisions of the law for distinguishing the different sizes, claiming that the act is invalid.

The large wagon works of E. B. Born, Allegan, were destroyed by fire Friday evening of last week. Says the Journal: Mr. Born carried insurance up to about last November, but owing to the hard times, etc., he thought it best to go uninsured, at least for a while. Over $5,000 had been invested in improved machinery the past five years. The loss on the building and contents is estimated at about $25,000.

How the fire originated is not known, but it is supposed to be the work of fire bugs. The plant will probably never be rebuilt unless help is given Mr. Born. This makes five fires Mr. Born has passed through inside of thirteen years. He is now 63 years of age and is nearly blind.
