East Saugatuck farmers will be given the unique experience of attending a double funeral tomorrow afternoon. John Wiggering, aged 86 years, and Gerrit Zoerhof, aged 68 years, two of the most prominent farmers in that section and life-long neighbors, died on the same day and almost at the same hour. One service was deemed appropriate.

Doings At The Council.

At a meeting of the Common Council, considerable routine business was done. The committee appointed to take up the matter of rest rooms and the auditing of the city books, report progress. Both of these questions are important. Especially the rest room proposition. It is very important that strangers and people from the surrounding country have some place to go when they come to town to shop and this can be said especially of the women.

The matter of grading 26th street from Michigan avenue to Central avenue was taken up and discussed thoroughly. Several of the aldermen want the street graded from First avenue to Lincoln avenue, giving as their reasons that the property owners had made a demand for it but Aldermen Kammeraad stated that this street was not entirely opened as yet and would cause some delay which the council is trying to avoid. Therefore the city engineer has been ordered to make plans for the grading of 26th St. from Michigan avenue to Central.

Alderman Van Tongeren brought in a report on the paving of First avenue in which he said that at a meeting of two roads of the property owners on that street, they had decided that all bids on that street be rejected and that the city put the street down by day labor, said street to be of Tarvia Macadam.
This brought considerable discussion.
Dr. Mersen especially bringing out a strong point in which he stated that the contractor gave a guarantee and bonds from three to five years but if the city did the job there would be no guarantee and all repairs would be borne by the city. Alderman Driekwater said he would be willing to vote to have the city do the work of the property owners would stand the expense of repairs for five years. Alderman Kammeraad had great faith in the city doing the work, as also had Alderman Lokker. They stated that the city had been putting in sewers by day labor, and that all sewers laid in this way proved satisfactory while those laid by contractors were more or less faulty, and some caused a great deal of trouble.

A motion was then made by Alderman Jellema to defer the matter one week in order to go over the proposition more carefully the vote stood five and five, the mayor casting the deciding vote to defer for one week.

Then there was a commotion in the council rooms as Alderman Van Ton-geren took a somersault in the air landing on his back. The mayor called the dean of the council to order as he piled himself up shamefacedly. The Alderman pleaded that a smoothly waxed floor and wall oiled casters were too much for his equilibrium. This the News man can testify to, as he also took a header shortly afterward.

Alderman King entered at 8:45, with a peculiar looking box upon which the other aldermen looked with considerable suspicion. The News man suspected that King took his platform with him but on further investigation it proved to be a package of Uneeda
biscuits and was harmless.

The implement dealers were ordered to take their little red wagons off the street and all other implements, which cause obstruction and the police department has been instructed to enforce the ordinance. The News does not believe in being unreasonable with these firms, as they are the cause of bringing considerable outside business.

On the other hand, the implement dealers should remain within the bounds of reason and avoid as much obstruction as is possible.

The council has instructed the street
commissioner to hire a man to keep W.
8th street clean, now that the paving is completed.

The motor cycle now in use in the police department, just came under the wire in time as no more "bikes" will be given city employees unless they buy them personally. Last evening one of the aldermen proposed that they buy Street Commissioners Nauta's wheel. Up flew King and his box of Uneedas. He forthwith quoted scripture where Noah rode around in the ark to do his work, and if the commissioner was not getting enough salary to buy a wheel to raise it and he suggested that the council buy each of the aldermen one, and that our experience with the motor in the police department, was experience enough and that "big fat Meusen and other portly gentry of that department couldn't catch a "soorcher" if he should try a year, as they needed all their attention to stay on etc.

Alderman Harrington then got up and in a few words told the council that a precedent of this kind should not be established. Alderman Mersen feared their would be a wheel epidemic among the rest of the city employes which would be hard to check. When the matter came to a vote the proposition carried to buy no more bicycles.

Here is where Jake Lokker got stung. It seems that Mr. Nauta had taken up his cause with Jake and the alderman through goodness of heart, saw several of the other aldermen who likewise thought it would be all right.
Lokker hies himself to Mow's wheel store and bought a wheel for Mr.
Nauta, and now Jake is up against it as the machine has been in use for a week. A little titter went around the council room at Jake's expense, but he was game and said he was glad the old gentlemen got his wheel any way even if he had to pay for it.

The Misses Jessie Veits and Angie Paizer of Saugatuck took a canoe trip to Allegan a few days ago. They consumed Wednesday and Thursday on their way up stream and returned Friday down stream.

Fred F. McEachron, former county clerk, and family left for Hudsonville where they will make their future home. Mr. Eachron is to be cashier of the new Hudsonville State

Holland will have a quiet Fourth but not so with our neighbors. Around us will be one blaze of glory as the following cities and towns are making elaborate preparations. They are:
Zeeland, Noordeloos, Overisel,
Drenthe, Graafschap and Jenison Park.

The project of Burrell Tripp of Allegan and A. C. Runvan to build a gas plant big enough to supply the needs of Allegan, Otsego and Plain-well means the expenditure of about $200,000 and about twenty miles of gas mains.

Eugene Youngs of Holland, who was arrested in Chicago charged with child abandonment, pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced in the circuit court to serve from one to five years in Jackson, the court recommendation being one and one-half years.

The American Novelty company of Grand Haven already has orders for about $300,000 worth of work, and as soon as the location is decided upon workmen will be put on the job at once. It is expected that active operations will be taken up at once.

Announcement has been made from headquarters that the Pere Marquette is about to spend $1,023,000 for new equipment. Twelve new passenger coaches, two combination mail and baggage cars, fifty engines for passenger trains, thirty-five freight engines, and ten switchers are included.
The engines cost about $19,000 each and the coaches $12,000.

According to the figures compiled by the board of supervisors the assessed valuation of real estate in Ottawa county has increased from $9-057,465 to $19,208,000 during the last ten years. The personal property during the same time increased from $1,434,603 to $5,407,401, indicating a healthy growth.

Contractor VanAnrooy of Holland, who will do the work on the north pier at this harbor has arrived here with his equipment of pile drivers, scows, launches, etc., and will be ready to begin the extensive job of repairing and rebuilding the north pier in very short order. It is expected that the work will require several months for completion.—Grand Haven Tribune.

The Holland Printing company has been organized here with a capitalization of $30,000. Henry Holkeboer will be the manager. The new company will print several religious pa-and also a Kalamazoo publication.

Overcome Saturday by exposure
Henry Smith, a resident of the Michigan Soldiers' home at Grand Rapids, was found in the swamp near the Pere Marquette passenger depot by section men returning from work.
Smith was unable to walk and he was placed under medical treatment at Hotel Atlas. Smith came to Holland and after alighting from the train presumably lost his way and rolled down the embankment into the swamp, where he lay for more than twenty-four hours. Smith is 74 years old. He has been returned to the Soldiers' home.

Striking a stone which lay on the roadbed with terrific force a motor car driven by Bridge Foreman Adam McNabb was wrecked on the Pere Marquette railroad two miles south of Bangor Saturday night. The car was thrown fully six feet into the air and McNabb landed several feet away sustaining a broken ankle and a cut in his head. McNabb was driving his car at a rapid rate of speed and failed to notice the obstruction in time. He was brought to his home in this city on passenger train No. 7.
McNabb has been in the company's employ for thirty-seven years and had never before figured in an accident.

NEW HOLLAND.

As the result of a collision between two bicyclists on East Eighth street Saturday Henry De Vries, nineteen years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. John De Vries of North Holland, is dead. Corner Cook will hold an inquest.

De Vries, who was employed at the plant of the Holland Tea Rusk company, was riding to the home of his sister, Mrs. Robert Blakeslee, where he boarded. On East Eighth street he attempted to pass John Grooters, who was riding in the opposite direction. Both men turned in the same direction and the machines collided, both riders being thrown to the pavement. Grooters was uninjured, but De Vries was injured about the head and died Monday from hemorrhage of the brain.

E. B. Scott is getting a new product out of his farm north of the city and will try to find a market in Chicago. In spite of the fact that his farm is dry sand and that on the face of it it would seem that he could not raise flowers there Mr. Scott is growing a luxuriant supply of Candidum lilies.

He is very proud of his feat and the samples shown to his friends are very beautiful. Mr. Scott believes that there will be a good market for them in Chicago and if successful this year he may try again next year on a larger scale.

A NEW PEACH TREE PEST.

Peach growers in the section near Grant are aroused over the appearance of a bug which may be the recently discovered sawbug, and which is doing much damage to the trees in that section. This bug is a greenish hue, about three-fourths of an inch in length, and preys upon the young shoots, cutting the shoot entirely away from the main branch, thus doing untold damage to the tree, in many cases ruining the chances for fruit the following season.

The bug was discovered at work in the orchard of Paul Green, three miles north of Grant, and the growers are at a loss to know how to cope with the new pest, as its appearance has been noted in the best sprayed and best attended orchards. In the raspberry patch of A. J. Titus, a large fly has been found. The fly cuts its way into the stalk and deposits a laying of eggs, causing the bush to break wherever the eggs are deposited.

RODE 15 MILES TO SCHOOL EACH DAY.

Pine Bluffs, Wyo., June 7.—Miss Lura McGrew, a young woman of this town and still in her teens, who for the past two years has taught a rural school 15 miles north of here, holds the record for long distance riding. When her present school year closes early in June she will have ridden 10,800 miles, using the same mount during all of the time.

Two years ago Miss McGrew was employed to teach the school 15 miles to the north. There was no convenient boarding place in the vicinity of the school, so, pressing her horse, Black Beauty, into the service, she decided to board at home and ride to and from her school. Since that date she has ridden the 30 miles daily, never missing a session of school and always being on time to the minute. With the closing of the present school year she will have taught school 18 months of 30 days each. Riding 30 miles per day she will have covered a distance of 10,800 miles.

Miss McGrew is slight of build, active and possessed of only such excellent health as enjoyed by those who make their home on the broad, grass covered plains of Wyoming.

Speaking of her long trips to and from her school Miss McGrew said: "The riding day after day is very hard on the horse, but I don't mind it much. In fact I enjoy the gallop over the plains. My friends wonder how I am able to stand the long rides and I explain by telling them horse-back riding is the best exercise in the world."

"I ride to school in all kinds of weather, even when some of the ranchers along the route do not dare to venture out to do their chores. One morning last winter it was so cold that a man living near the school house and where I kept my horse had not gone out of doors when I arrived. When he saw me and realized that I had ridden 15 miles that morning he remarked that if a girl could make this trip he ought to be able to get to his barn and take care of his stock."

"In winter, if my feet get very cold, I strike them against the stirrups of the saddle, starting the circulation or get off of my horse and walk."

The most thrilling experience that Miss McGrew has had during her long distance trips occurred early in the present year. The day before there had been a heavy fall of snow, and starting out Monday morning she found the snow half way up to the knees of her horse. The further north she proceeded the deeper grew the snow. Before reaching her school she found huge drifts, some three and four feet deep. Through these she urged her horse, that many times floundered and fell. The last three miles she was forced to make on foot, the horse being unable to carry her, and to add to the peril of the journey, the mercury registered 30 degrees below zero. Notwithstanding this, the young schoolmistress reached the school house and opened the session of school only 30 minutes late.

THE PRICE OF MEAT.

Last year the prices for meats on the hoof reached an unusual height and the American resented this as an interference with his rights, as an unjust demand upon his purse. Since that time prices have been slumping until the present condition seems beyond explanation. It was a fact established by published records of the great packing centers that there was a considerable shortage of meat-producing animals and this was urged as the reason for the high prices.

This shortage has not yet had time to be covered by new crops of marketable animals are steadily going downward. While this is true to the extent that the farmer now receives only about half the prices of last year for his animals, the consumer still pays the prices of last year. Hogs bring 5½ and 6 cents and bacon still brings 30 and 35 cents.

Who makes the money Certainly not the farmer. If any argument were necessary to prove that the farmer is not to blame for the high cost of living these figures alone are sufficient to supply it. The meat packer says that he reduces the wholesale prices of his products to conform to the prices he pays the ranchmen and farmers. The retailer says he reduces the prices charged the consumer when the wholesaler permits it and yet meat is retailing at an exorbitant rate and live stock on the hoof is going down in price. Naturally the consumer thinks he is bearing the burden alone, but the fact remains that the farmer is bearing his full share of it.

The cost of producing a meat animal remains practically the same year in and year out so far as labor is concerned. The only considerable variation in cost is found in the price of feed and this is closely associated with weather conditions. This being true, why should the prices of meat animals reach such extraordinary figures on account of shortage in 1910 and then suddenly go down 50 per cent within a few months when the same shortage exists? Somebody is making money somewhere, but it is not the farmer.—Kansas Farmer.

THIS IS CERTAIN.

The Uroof That Holland Readers Cannot Deny.

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills cure permanently.

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Mrs. M. Van Houton, 287 W. Thirteenth St., Holland, Mich., says: "I suffered from kidney trouble for many years. The pains through my back and loins and under my shoulders caused me untold agony and I could hardly bend or exert myself in any way. Whenever I caught cold it settled in my kidneys, greatly aggravating my suffering. As a further indication of kidney trouble, the kidney secretions became unnatural. I was restless at night and was unable to sleep well. I finally procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Doeburg's Drug Store and had used them only a short time before I was cured. I gave a statement for publication telling of my experience in 1900 and am very glad to confirm it now. I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills on several occasions since then and they have always brought great benefit."

DOG KILLED $75 HEN.

Clare E. Hoffman of Allegan owns a number of Silver Laced Wyandottes, importing the eggs from England and paying therefor $50 for 30. Of course many of those eggs are now prize-winning birds and are prized very highly, so when a couple of young hounds killed one of the birds of the flock Clare's ire knew no bounds and he loaded his shot gun to the muzzle and started forth to seek revenge, and he soon had the pup traveling down the way that knows no ending. Mr. Hoffman's neighbor, Mr. Priebe, is also a chicken fancier, and his pens were visited the same morning. Mr. Priebe also joined in the chase, but was not so lucky in dispatching the other pup, due no doubt to his faulty marksmanship. Threats of arrest were then made, but as soon as the situation was explained to the owner of the dog, that isn't any more, he said he was glad of it and Clare's normal composure was soon attained. Let's see: Eggs that cost $1.66 2-3 in England ought to make a cockerel worth about $15 in this country after the tariff duties have been met, but Clare avers that the dead bird was worth at least $75.

Money and Earnings.

Poets of this nature, though too frequent in the country, are very fatal to the ordinary people, who are so used to be dazzled with riches that they pay as much deference to the understanding of a man of estate as of a man of learning; and are very hardly brought to regard any truth, how important soever it may be, that is preached to them, when they know there are several men of five hundred a year who do not believe it.—Joseph Addison.

A Contemporary Opinion of Byron.

These poems ("Hours of Idleness") completely prove, that although George Gordon, Lord Byron, a minor, whose portrait we give, may be a gentleman, an orator, or a statesman, unless he improves wonderfully, he can never be a poet.—From the Satirist, London, 1807.

VOICE IS RESTORED AS FRIENDS PRAY

Religious Revival in South Carolina Scene of Remarkable Episode.

SHOUTS IN JOY AND SINGS

Speechless for Three Years Man Finds Voice Suddenly Restored—Men Make Affidavit to Strange Cure at Baptist Revival Services.

Charleston, S. C.—Thomas Drayton Poore of Oconee county, who gradually lost his voice and had not been able to utter an articulate sound for three years, has recovered in an instant. It is said, the full power of speech while hundreds looked on and prayed.

Poore is a well-to-do planter and real estate operator. He has been for many years a leading member of the Baptist church in Westminster, and his word, his neighbors unite in saying, is thoroughly trustworthy.

Mr. Poore early in 1908 began to be troubled with nervous symptoms. They rapidly progressed, and in February of that year his voice began to fall. He had been a public speaker, and for many years had been accustomed to sing in the church, his tones being unusually strong and clear. None of the physicians summoned was able to stop the malady, which it was decided was due to a rare type of nervous indigestion.

By December, 1909, Mr. Poore's voice was so nearly gone that on the 18th of that month he could no longer even whisper. A day or so later even the medical attendants gave the case up as hopeless.

Several weeks ago revival services were inaugurated in the Westminster Baptist church under the leadership of the Rev. E. E. Stephens, a returned missionary. The meetings proved full of religious fervor from the start, and soon the community was in the midst of an old-fashioned "awakening."

Gave a Shout of Joy and Began to Sing.

Poore was a steady attendant at the services and several times he asked in writing that his brethren and sisters in the church pray that he might have his voice restored. Finally there came a night when the excitement at the revival seemed to be less than usual, there was not, at least so much loud singing and praying, though it is said it was remarked at the time there was deeper and more intense feeling than before.

The revivalist requested those present to send to him, written out on slips of paper, the things they most urgently desired.

"It may be the will of Providence to restore your speech to you at this time," said an elder of the church to Poore.

The latter accordingly wrote out a request to that effect and passed it up to the pastor. At the same time he made known the substance of his message to those around him and all joined with the minister in praying in his behalf.

Then there was a brief interval of silent prayer, on the part of the entire audience. Everything was still in the church when Planter Poore stood up, gave a shout of joy and began to sing. The others in the church stared in wonder, then in awe. Then, with one accord, they rose and joined Poore in singing "Nearer My God to Thee."

Those who were there say the congregation nearly went wild with excitement, some of them running out with the cry "a miracle! a miracle!" Poore ran to the pulpit and poured out his thanks for the restoration of his voice.

The news spread and by the next morning people were flocking into Westminster from pretty much all over Oconee county. Affidavits telling of the circumstances under which the planter found his voice have been made and are now a part of the public records.

CHASED BY PACK OF FIERCE WOLVES

COLORADO RANCHER HAS EXCITING EXPERIENCE WITH VICIOUS ANIMALS.

The Siding, Wyo.—Chased by a pack of hungry, vicious wolves down through Cedar canyon, and saved by the presence of a homesteader with a good team of horses, was the experience of Al Hinton, a rancher living just across the state line in Colorado. Hinton's arms, legs and body bear the marks of the animals' fangs, and he is confined to his bed under the care of a surgeon.

Hinton was out searching for a bunch of cattle which had strayed into the mountains. He carried a double-barreled shotgun, but had only one round of ammunition.

"Late in the afternoon," he says, "I gave up and turned back. I had gone but a short distance when I heard the howling of wolves. I hurried through the underbrush, but the pack gained on me. I turned and fired, when they came in sight, and killed the leader. But this did not stop them, and after a sprint of another 100 yards or so I fired again, killing two of the beasts. "This stopped them for a few minutes. I don't know whether or not they ate the dead ones, but it was only a few minutes until they were after me again.

"Once they got so close that I brained one wolf with the club end of my gun.

"I was almost exhausted when I reached the end of the canyon and ran out into the prairie. And there, a short distance away, was a man in a buggy drawn by two horses. I yelled. He waited. I jumped in just as the wolf pack broke from the woods.

"We drove as rapidly as the horses could travel, but the wolves soon caught up with us. They were snapping and biting at the horses. The homesteader had been to town and had a quarter of beef in his buggy. We threw this to the wolves and they stopped to devour it. While they did so we made good our escape.

The stock of Hinton's gun is battered and broken from the clubbing given the wolves in his fight to escape.

RUEF RUNS A BIBLE CLASS

Ruef's ability as a teacher of the Bible has been heralded around the prison with such rapidity that he has received an invitation to deliver a series of sermons in the prison chapel.

ROYAL FLUSH IS DEATH OF WOMAN

Expires as She Wins Money Enough to Offset Loan to Sweetheart.

GIVES FIRM'S FUNDS TO MAN

Youth Disappears Soon After Borrowing From Girl and She Tries to Recoup Loss by Playing Cards for Stakes—Draws Royal Flush and Dies.

Chicago.—Just at the critical moment, when there was enough money in the pot to wipe out an indebtedness, incurred for her sweetheart, Miss Laura Cotton, as she was winning steadily in a poker game to retrieve the loss of the loan, drew a royal flush and dropped dead in her chair.

The other members of the poker party, shocked at the sudden climax of their evening's enjoyment, hurriedly called a physician, but Miss Cotton died before he arrived.

Miss Cotton, together with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Cotton, and J. Mann, a friend, had been playing cards all evening. In the early stages of the game the stakes were low and Miss Cotton held successful hands every deal. Determined to win enough money to repay her for a loss she had incurred by loaning money to her sweetheart, she raised the ante and still continued to be successful.

At eleven o'clock she had won half of the amount required. In the next deal the jackpot increased until it held more than enough to offset the loss of the loan. Miss Cotton was feverish with excitement. With her whole future seemingly staked on the hand she was about to draw, the strain proved too much and when a royal flush loomed into view she dropped over in a dead faint.

"Sometime ago my daughter was employed by the Equity Finance and Loan company," said Mr. Cotton. "During her employment there she became acquainted with a young man who paid her considerable attention. He called here frequently and in a short time a close friendship was formed.

"One day he told her he was in a very serious predicament, saying that he needed a considerable amount of money and didn't know where to get it. He asked her for a loan, saying he would repay it soon. My daughter did not have that much money, but told him she could get it from the firm.

"Knowing the young man so well and believing him to be perfectly honest, she complied with his request by taking some of the firm's money and giving it to him, never suspecting but that it would be returned soon."

Soon after she made the loan the man disappeared, leaving no message, and Miss Cotton was obliged to borrow the money to make good her shortage.

The firm never missed the money and she was never questioned, but from that time on, according to her father, she began to worry. She became nervous, her health failed and she left her position. Finally she became subject to fainting spells that resulted in her death.

Her father, who is employed by the Deering Harvester company, attributes the death of his daughter to the worry and distraction over the loan incident and the fainting spells which followed.

UMPIRE'S GAY LIFE

ARBITRATOR IN "BUSH LEAGUE" HAS REAL JOYOUS TIME.

WAYS OF SOUTHERN JUSTICE

Pitcher Reagan's Run-In With the Umpire Almost Lands Him in Turpentine Camp—Nagging of Umpires is a Fine Art.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON.

Amongst the gayest of gay lives is that of the "bush league" umpire. This is a tale of the joys of an umpire's existence, and of the ways of southern justice.

There is a pitcher, Reagan, we'll call him, who now is in another league. He is a spitball pitcher and a little tight bundle of nerve and courage, with a temper that fits the Reagan exactly.

A season or so ago he was pitching for Mobile. A few days ago I met him, and back somewhere in the dim recesses of memory was the recollection that he had had some trouble down south.

"What was that row you had?" I asked.

"Say," he said, "wasn't that the rawest deal a fellow ever got?"

"I don't remember just what it was."

"Why, do you know, they threw me into jail down there, kept me in jail eight days, fined me $125 and were going to send me to the turpentine camps."

His voice quivered with indignation.

"What did you do?"

"Me? Nothing at all. Them southerners are down on a northern fellow. If it hadn't been that the old judge went away on his vacation and a young one took his place, I'd have been sent to the turpentine camp sure, to work a year."

"But what did you do?"

"Me? Nothin'. Just had a little run-in with the umpire. Then they dragged me off the field, tried to mob me, and threw me into jail."

His voice quivered again.

"But what did you do? They couldn't do that for nothing."

"Say, you don't know them southerners. They'll do anything if they get sore on a southerner."

"Tell me about it," I said, coaxingly.

"Well, it was this way. We were playing Gulfport, and I had them beaten 4 to 3 in the ninth inning. There were two out and a man on first base and two strikes on the batter, so it looked as if the game was as good as over. That batter couldn't hit 6% against my spitball, and he knew it. I broke a spit ball right through the center of the plate, right across his belt, the most perfect strike you ever saw, and that ham of an umpire called it a ball."

"I didn't say much to him. I just told him he was a blank blank, blinkety blank robber, and let it go at that. I'd pitched that fellow four spit balls, so I pretended I was going to pitch another, and then shot a fast one right through the middle of the plate. Say, you ought to have seen him hit it. He hit it almost into the gulf, clear over the left field fence, sent home a run ahead of him and beat us out of the game. I was sore. I turned to the umpire and said: "That goes to show what a blink blank, blinkety blank blank rotten, yellow dog of a home umpire can do." And just for that he smashed me right in the nose. Then the crowd mobbed me and the police arrested me—and they kept me in jail, fined me, and I was lucky to escape going to the turpentine camps."

"But what did you do to him?" I persisted.

"Me—oh, nothing. Just bit his ear off."

Nagging umpires often gets to be a fine art. It requires an artist to get away with it. One of the reasons that the crowd always thinks the umpire is exceeding his authority when he chases an offending player off the field is that the player who really hurts the umpire's feeling is the nagger, who seldom does anything that amounts to much, but keeps at it. For instance, many spectators have criticized Klem for banishing Johnny Evers of the Cubs often, many times seemingly without cause. Evers seldom even speaks to Klem, yet Klem has put him out of games oftener than all other umpires combined. The chief reason is this: Once Klem made a bet with Evers. He bet Evers five dollars that he (Evers) was afraid to call on the president of the league. Evers accepted the wager and was waiting at the office when the presdent arrived the next morning and spent a couple of hours with him. He claimed the wager. Klem did not pay promptly, so for weeks every time Klem looked at him, Evers held up five fingers and looked the other way. He kept this up until Klem paid. Then he carried the five-dollar bill in his uniform and waved it at the umpire every chance he got. Finally that wore out and Evers began to look at Tinker every time Klem came onto the field and at the same time he rubbed his throat with strong downward motions, insinuating that Klem's heart was coming into his mouth. And yet they wonder that umpires get mad.

Patrick Henry Dougherty of the White Sox is such a quiet and unassuming ball player that most of the fans imagine he is indifferent as to the result of games. The fact is that it hurts him as much as anyone to lose. He seldom kicks, but once he made a kick at Tim Hurst—whereby hangs this tale.

Patrick Henry was at bat late in the game, when a hit meant a lot, and he was anxious to deliver the safe drive. He played the pitcher out to the limit, and with two strikes and three balls called, he sighted down the groove, ready to spank the ball squarely between the seams. He saw the ball shoot five inches away from the corner of the plate, let it go and started to trot to first base. Imagine his surprise when Hurst said: "Strike three, you're out."

Dougherty was mad all the way through. He picked up his bat and remarked:

"Hurst, you're a blank blank crook and a thief."

"Do you think that of me, Patrick Henry?" asked Hurst, in his suavest tones.

"Yes, you blink blank blinkety blanked robber, I do," spluttered Dougherty, wild with rage.

"If I were you, Patrick Henry," remarked Hurst, in his softest and silliest tones, "I wouldn't associate with persons of that character. Git on off the ball field."

And Dougherty went to the clubhouse grinning.

THOUGHT HIS TIME HAD COME

Exceedingly Disconcerting Experience of Singer in an English Music Hall.

Stage fright of the sort that afflicted "Whit" Cunliffe, at one time a prominent singer in English music halls, is not avoidable. Fortunately, also, it is not common. At a place where he was engaged in Birmingham one of the attractions was a lion show, some of the beasts being really wild and untamed. Nearly the whole stage was taken up with the "setting"—the animal show.

"Just as I was going on," said Cunliffe, in telling the incident, "I heard a hurried rush and confused shouting, and some one slammed an iron gate. I heard a voice say, 'Just in time; he was nearly out.' My music was starting, so I had no time to inquire. I went on the stage.

"In a moment I heard ominous growls and savage snarls mixed with much whip-cracking and strenuous breathing. I am never fond of a wild animal show and I felt distinctly nervous that night. The cloth behind me sagged and swayed—and then, to my horror, suddenly in the wings I saw the huge head and front of a lion!

"I was singing a song called 'I Would,' which had a lot of short verses. As I sang them, my blood running cold, I watched the lion. It seemed slowly to advance and its baneful eyes glittered in a truly horrible way. I could not get off that side without passing it, so I prepared to 'exit' with haste.

"Turning, I was doubly horrified to see another lion on the other side!

"I was caught like a mouse in a trap. I dared not go off the stage; I dared not show my discomfiture to the audience. There was only one thing for me to do—sing. So I sang in desperation, hoping that some one would come and take those lions away. They told me afterwards that I sang ninety-eight verses! But I think that was unkind.

"I wondered how long it would take those two brutes to make up their minds to come into the full glare of the footlights, and I had just prepared to leap into the stalls, regardless of the consequences, when I heard that hoarse voice of one of the stage hands say: 'Ere, Bill, these two chaps are too far forward. Give a hand with them, will yer?' And coming up between the two lions, they lifted them bodily. They were papier-mache!"

HOPE SCORES AGAIN.

The recent success that has crowned the efforts of one of the students of Hope college who has won a scholarship in the University of Chicago for a scientific article on Holland's Milk Supply, is gratifying to Holland people. Doubtless the young man himself has cause to rejoice, and we congratulate him upon his attainment, but his victory has a larger significance. It is not alone his victory, but it is shared by all those who are interested in the welfare of the local institution and who believe in the principles for which it stands.

Success like this is not new to the local college. This is not the first nor the second nor even the third time that a son of Hope has brought home an intellectual victory. It is merely the most recent of a long string of successes. Others have won scholarships, prizes for brilliant essays, and medals in oratory; one is now in England enjoying the educational advantages offered at Oxford, having been successful in the difficult competitive examinations for a Rhodes scholarship. Others who have taken these examinations have acquitted themselves satisfactorily before the board of examiners. We have seen men go out from Hope college and later become leaders in the ministry, in medicine, in law and in all fields of endeavor. When we see its undergraduates and its alumni bringing to it honor and credit we rejoice with it. We are beginning to feel that Hope is holding an enviable place among the colleges.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK AT HOPE COLLEGE.

If Carnegie Hall could talk what a tale its walls would unfold, what eloquent appeals for true manhood and noble womanhood would echo and re-echo to the listening ear, what grand statements would be set forth, what beautiful stories would be told, and not least of these stories would be the history of the past few weeks. This history would tell of commencement week and the exercises held in honor of the senior class of Hope. It would tell of the graduating exercises of the preparatory school, of the triumph of education, enlightenment and progress, and of the wise words of counsel spoken by noble men.

This week the cares of college life were laid aside and the time of all faculty, students and alumni was given to the observance of exercises incident to the closing week.

Every person that followed the trend of affairs and attended the different meetings could not fail to be impressed with the grandeur of Hope college as an institution of learning. The excellent showing of the students betokening as it does conscientious work on the part of the instructors; the alumni, representing all parts of the world, the high appreciation of the institution manifested by the public, all conducted to show that Holland City is justified in feeling proud of Hope, proud of its instructors, proud of its students, and doubly proud of the leading spirit, who through years of faithful service is now about to retire for a much needed and deserved rest. And well may Holland be proud, for the influence of this institution for good is far reaching. Its representatives may be proud in every walk of life, and the noble sentiments instilled in their hearts by cultured instructors, has served as an inspiration for much good; and not only in the great west and the developed east, but also in foreign countries have its irresistible power of enlightenment been felt for the graduates of Hope college, are found in every profession, and the foreign and domestic missionary service claims some of its brightest minds.

SCHOOL OF MUSIC.

The first event of importance incident to commencement was the spring term recital of Hope College School of Music, held at Winants chapel.

The leading spirit in the musical advancement of the college has been Prof. J. B. Nykerk, and under his guiding hand this department has grown from a very small beginning to the present large class, presided over by able instructors. The program follows:

Program—A May Morning, Denza, Miss Mabelle Van Beek; a. Etude in a flat, Wollenhaupt, b. Butterfly, Grieg, Miss Della Baker; Serenade, Gounod, Mr. Van Dyk; Recessional, De Koven, Miss Evelyn De Vries; To the Evening Star (Lohengrin), Wagner, George Butterfield; a. "Where the Abana flows," b. "Allah be with us," Woodforde-Pinden, Mr. Frank De Moon Kleinheksel; Simple Aven, Thome, Robert Dutton; Sunbeams, Ronald, Miss Florence Taylor; Barcarolle (Tales of Hoffman), Offenbach, Miss Ruth Keppel; Etude in G major, Moszkowski, Miss Nellie Veneklasen.

FRATERNAL BANQUET.

Thursday evening the "Frats" had their inning and at least one hundred banqueters sat at the festive board. It was the 77th anniversary of the society and the celebration took place in the spacious dining hall of Hotel Holland.

DR. G. J. KOLLEN, President Emeritus

An elaborate menu was served in the finest style after which an excellent program was given. The first number was the song H-O-P-E, sung by the entire company.

Toastmaster George B. Scholten announced the first speaker, Henry J. Pyl, who responded ably to the toast "The Contrary Sex." Arthur Heusinkveld played a piano solo after which E. S. Aelits indulged in a few "Day Dreams" followed by H. V. E. Stegeman who in a flattering manner spoke on the subject "The Seniors." John Warnshuis next entertained the gathering with a vocal solo which relieved the mental strain and prepared the guests for the toasts, "The Altar," by Kris P. Bemis, and "The Fraternal Society," by Arthur H. Heusinkveld. At this point all joined in the Frater song with spirit. After this several of the alumni members of the society responded to toasts. Christian A. Broek gave a pleasing talk on "Society and Societies," and Dr. H. E. Dosker held the attention of all when he spoke on "Ye Auld Lang Syne." Prof. J. B. Nykerk favored the banqueters with two vocal selections which were enthusiastically received. As the last speaker, the toastmaster introduced Hon. G. J. Diekema, who in his usual pleasing and fluent style spoke on "Old Hope." As a fitting close to the evening's festivities all arose and sang "Old Hope," the college song, composed by Dr. Dosker.

EXPRESSIONS OF CONFIDENCE THEN

(Taken from the file of July 1, 1888)

As will be seen from the proceedings of the Council of Hope College. Prof. G. J. Kollen has been elected president of the Institution.

It required much time and balloting before a two-thirds vote could be centralized upon any one man.

Nevertheless the logic of the situation foretold it.

The needs of the hour demanded it. The all-round interests of the institution dictated it.

The Result is Well

It is acceptable to all—especially acceptable to many.

Our space this week forbids us from saying what we desire to say—from what should be said. Whatever room we have left we surrender to others: Mayor Geo. P. Hummer; "The city, the council and the college itself, are to be congratulated."

Ex-Mayor O. E. Yates; "I want somebody to congratulate me, Kollen was my candidate from the first."

Ex-Mayor P. H. McBride; "I am satisfied that it was the right thing to do."

Ex-Mayor H. Kremers; "The selection of Prof. Kollen was eminently fitting. He has done more for the college during the last year than has been done by all others combined in ten years past."

Ex-Mayor C. J. De Roo; "I thought all along that this was the best appointment, and if he accepts, both college and city are to be congratulated."

Ex-Mayor W. H. Beach; "Very much pleased. It was well deserved."

Rev. H. J. Birchby; "Kollen is by far the best man in sight, and I am very much pleased with the choice. I believe he will make a successful president."

Rev. E. J. Oggel; "When I heard about the news, I threw up my hat and sang 'Praise God from whom all blessings flow.'"

J. C. Post; "In selecting Prof. Kollen as president of the college, the council has made an excellent choice and rewarded the man who has done more for the institution in one year than 10 other men have done since with my recollection. This result will gratify every citizen of Holland and friend of the college."

Rev. J. W. Beardslee; "The appointment will be universally acceptable in the east, and the west ought certainly to be pleased."

G. W. Mokma, Cashier of First State Bank; "I am very much pleased with the appointment, and heartily congratulate the city and the college."

C. Ver Schure, Cashier Holland City State Bank; "Prof. Kollen deserved the appointment. He has done more for the college than any other man. It is the right man in the right place."

Rev. H. Geerlings; "Glad of it best thing that could be done."

Adrian Van Putten; "I am glad of it. He deserves it."

Supervisor Lugers; "I see no reason why he should not be appointed, rather than any other western man."

L. Mulder, publisher De Grandwet and News; "It is all right, and very gratifying to local pride."

Prof. Boers; "It will please the boys satisfy the entire faculty and boom the college."

Prof. Doenbuis; "If any one deserved it, Kollen did. His works speak for his fitness."

Prof. Gillespie; "Kollen's election means success for the college. It means the rising of the sun for Hope."

Prof. Nykerk; "Kollen is the man of my choice."

G. J. Diekema; "The selection was a wise one. The new president has reaped the just rewards of his life of unselfish toil for the church, school and state. He will establish and maintain the most amicable relations between the city and institution. He is strong in discipline, an enthusiastic teacher, and a generous friend to the young, and his qualities of mind and heart are such that men cannot well refuse him either friendship or gold. I predict for Hope renewed success."

G. Tyse, class of '04; "It is all right I think it will please the college boys."

John Theiken, class '07; "Just what should have been done."

H. D. Post; "It is the right thing done, at the right time, and it would have been an awful mistake not to have done it."

Prof. Stephen; "It is all right, emphatically all right."

Rev. J. Van Houte; "I am well pleased."

Rev. Dr. Steffens (before leaving for Europe) "I hope the question will be settled today, and that it will be Kollen."

* Passed away.

CONFIDENCE NOT MISPLACED

Seventy-five members of Holland's board of trade gathered last Friday night to attend the board of trade banquet given in honor of Dr. G. J. Kollen, charter member of that organization. The gathering was a splendid tribute to the retiring president of Hope college and was an eloquent expression of what the business men of this city think of the educator who has given the best years of his life to the upbuilding of the college and through that to the upbuilding of this city.

At eight o'clock the members filed into the banquet hall and enjoyed a splendid repast. There were plenty of good things to eat on the menu and the toasts did not begin till about an hour and a half later. Seated at two long tables in the banquet hall with the speaker's table connecting them the members enjoyed themselves to the limit.

At the conclusion of this part of the program Attorney George E. Kollen, president of the board of trade, made a few preliminary remarks to the assembled company. Mr. Kollen went into the history of the organization briefly, stating how it had gradually developed from small beginnings and was now, thanks to the efforts of such men as the guest of the evening, becoming an organization that bids fair to be a power for the commercial advancement of the city. Before the present board of trade was organized, said the president, there were two groups of men who though not such in name, represented the board of trade and did much for the upbuilding of Holland's industries. Among these were Dr. Kollen, W. H. Beach and other public spirited men. They worked for the advancement of Holland in every way possible and if it had not been for them the present board of trade would hardly have been made possible. In addition to that, the speaker said, Dr. Kollen had built up Holland because he had given the city an institution that any city in the state or nation might be proud of. Taking the college when it was a struggling institution he has put it on its feet and has made it a power in the educational world.

Hon. G. J. Diekema acted as toastmaster. Since he has been closely associated for many years with the men whom he introduced, Mr. Diekema was enabled to fill this difficult position admirably. The first speaker introduced was Mayor E. P. Stephan, whom Mr. Diekema compared with Gov. Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey. Mr. Stephan told some anecdotes of his association with Dr. Kollen when the latter was a professor at the college and Mr. Stephan was a boy. The kindness and warm sympathy of the future college executive were touchingly portrayed by the mayor and he called attention to the essential humanity of a great and good man such as the board of trade was honoring with a banquet.

Fred Beuwkes represented the Merchants' association and spoke on their behalf. Mr. Beuwkes resorted to figures. He showed how much on an average each student spent in Holland during the year. Multiplying this by the number of students the sum reached nearly $100,000 a year. In addition to this he figured up how much was spent in salaries of professors and in running expenses of the institution. Adding all this together Mr. Beuwkes drew an eloquent picture of what Hope college means to the city of Holland merely from a financial point of view leaving out of consideration for the moment all the other, perhaps more important benefits derived from it. Mr. Beuwkes spoke as a merchant and showed that Holland owed a great deal to the man who had caused the college to prosper.

John Kelly followed with a ringing speech of appreciation. His short acquaintance with Dr. Kollen, he said, had shown him what a good man with a fixed purpose could accomplish. He declared he had always admired Dr. Kollen for his broad mindedness and his toleration. The world no longer judges a man by his character and by what he accomplishes for the advancement of his fellow men. Judged by this standard, Dr. Kollen could be called a man who had tried to live a Christ-like life and whose example was of inestimable value to the present and to the coming generation. Mr. Kelly ended his eulogy with a beautiful bit of poetry from J. G. Holland on true manhood.

Supt. E. E. Fell spoke of the pleasant relations that exist between Hope college and the public schools of this city. From the very first day he arrived in Holland, he said, he had been made to feel at home and Dr. Kollen had been a genuine friend to him. Mr. Fell spoke highly of the beauty and the natural advantages of Holland.

He said that he had never been in any city where there was so much real culture and so much of a desire to work in the interests of the advancement of education as here; that morally Holland stood in the foremost ranks of Michigan cities. These high ideals he believed, were due to a great extent to the influence of men such as the guest of the evening.

The most touching tribute of all was paid by Charles S. Dutton. Mr. Dutton was the originator of the idea of giving the banquet to Dr. Kollen. He spoke with a conviction that left no question of the sincerity of the words and somehow the few well-chosen words, free from any suggestion of flattery, made the audience feel that they came from the heart. Among the many excellent toasts last night Mr. Dutton's talk was a wonderful example of true oratory, that is backed by complete sincerity and that is one hundred per cent pure.

Con De Pres, the next speaker on the program, told of Dr. Kollen's work for the community. In his usual positive and vehement way he reviewed the work of the guest of the evening and showed how his life had been an inspiration to all who had come in contact with the man and how it would be ablesing to countless others whose lives were being touched and would in the future be touched by the men who had caught the inspiration from Hope's retiring president.

The last speaker on the program was introduced by the toastmaster as Holland's ideal business man. Though he had been informed by the committee only a few minutes before the banquet, W. H. Beach delivered an off-hand address that left no doubt as to what he thought of Dr. Kollen and his work. The two have been associated for a score of years or more in the upbuilding of Holland, each in his own way, and there is complete sympathy between them. Mr. Beach referred to the old days and briefly told of things that had been accomplished by Dr. Kollen.

In his response to the toasts, Dr. Kollen gave an interesting history of the periods of development of the city of Holland. Declaring that he was unworthy of the tributes paid to him by the speakers he showed how it was not he alone who had done the work but that all honor was due to some of the very business men who had eulogized him. There had been three periods of development in the growth of the city, he said. The first was from 1847 to 1871, the period of struggle. Then came the big fire when everything was swept away and that could be called the period of resuscitation. Finally in the early nineties came the period of growth and expansion. The city is just now entering upon the fourth period and what that is to be will depend largely on such organizations as the board of trade as well as to the individual citizens. Much money has been made in Holland and therein lies a danger. If on account of that the people forget the old ideals that have given significance to the history of this city the next period will be a period of failure even though much money may be made. Materialism must be strongly guarded against by Holland's business men. It is insidious and deadly.

With a word of heartfelt thanks Dr. Kollen closed the program. It was nearly midnight but most of those present had failed to remember that it was getting late. The banquet was perhaps the most successful event of its kind given in this city.

THE MELOPHONE.

Carnegie gymnasium was packed to the doors last Friday night, the occasion being the fifty-fourth anniversary of the Melophone society, which according to an annual custom is considered the "curtain raiser" for commencement week at Hope college. Besides a literary and musical program the society staged an original play on "The Career of Baron De Witt at Hope," which made a hit with the audience.

A string orchestra furnished the music for the evening. After the invocation by Prof. J. W. Beardslee, Miner Stegenga delivered an address of welcome. A reading from Mark Twain by Leonard Yntema was received with loud applause. Fred Van Hartesveldt showed the possibility of becoming one of Hope's future orators when he delivered an oration, "The Other Side of the Question." Harris Meyer rendered a pleasing piano solo. The annual budget full of jokes on the Melophonians was read this year by Adrian Scholten.

After this part of the program an original play was given entitled "The Career of Baron De Witt at Hope." The play portrayed the experiences of Baron De Witt, whose part was played by George Steininger. The plot of the play centered about the making of a man out of the baron, who had been living a "high life." Hope's influences on him is so great that in the end he wins an oratorical contest. Steininger was the star actor of the evening. All the others played their parts excellently.

The play was a fine sample of many features of life at Hope college.

The officers of the society are: Miner Stegenga, president; James Holloose, vice president; George Steininger, secretary; Charles Stopples, treasurer; Jacob Rusticus, sergeant-at-arms; Peter Koppelaar, marshal; Theodore Zwemer, keeper of archives.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

Hope church was crowded to its doors Sunday night when the baccalaureate sermon was delivered to the Hope College senior class by Prof. J. E. Kuizenga. Miss Anna Schuelke presided at the organ and the Hope church choir, followed by the class in caps and gowns and they in turn by the faculty members marched into the church singing the processional, "The Son of God Goes Forth to War." The choir gave special music and Miss Helene Keppel and Mr. Frank Kleinheksel sang a duet, "Angels of Jesus." Miss Avis Yates played a violin solo. The Rev. Edward Niles offered prayer, Dr. G. J. Kollen conducted the Scripture reading and Dr. J. W. Beardslee pronounced the invocation.

In one of the most masterly baccalaureate sermons ever heard delivered in this city, Prof. Kuizenga charged the graduating class to remain true to gospel of Christ and in this way to be true to the ideals of the institution from which they are about to graduate. As an introduction to his address Prof. Kuizenga drew a wonderful picture of the domination of the city in recent literature, especially in recent fiction. The lure of the city as well as the fear of the city attracts the writer and each succeeding census shows that it is exerting a powerful influence over all classes of people. The city is looked upon by modern sociologists as the final problem to be solved as well as the final hope of democracy.

Into such a city went a little Jew, the apostle Paul, all alone to preach the gospel. All the vice and treachery and wickedness of that day was found there and all the ablest philosophers were there almost grasping the truth but lacking the one essential, the gospel, that the courageous little Jew came to bring to them.

In the course of the sermon Prof. Kuizenga showed that this was the one essential and that without it there was no complete philosophy of life. The philosophers in all ages tried to find some system that would be satisfactory, but they could never quite reach the final truth that would be a complete explanation for the questions that come surging up and that must be answered. Recently science has tried to discover the Truth by systematically and laboriously seeking out facts. But while they have discovered many valuable truths they have not found the Truth without which existence is meaningless.

The final explanation, declared the speaker, is the religion of Jesus Christ. It is like groping about for a last word. By trick of memory the writer cannot hit upon the one word that will fit. He tries one train of thought but at a certain point finds himself baffled. He tries another method only to be baffled at the same point when he has almost grasped the word he is looking for. Then suddenly it jumps into his consciousness and the continuity of his thought is re-established. So it is with the philosophers and scientists. There is the final touch lacking. They are seeking for the Truth and they almost find it. They try various methods but find themselves baffled when just about to reach the goal. The message that the apostle Paul brought is the one added touch that the world in its search for an explanation of life needs. This truth does not depend on the subtleties of philosophy or upon the data of spiritual intuition and that is why neither philosophy nor science can take it away when a man has once found it.

In a few well chosen words Prof. Kuizenga addressed the class and pressed home the points he had made in the sermon.

The A class of 1911 of the preparatory school held their graduation exercises Monday afternoon in Carnegie hall to an audience that packed the house. The hall was tastefully decorated for the occasion and a program without a dull moment in it was rendered. The program follows:

Diekema. In a few well chosen words he told Dr. Kollen that the gift carried with it the best wishes of the givers and their sincere esteem. At the close of the speeches Dr. Kollen finally arose to make response to the eulogies that have been pronounced upon him during the evening. He modestly disclaimed much of the praise that had been showered upon him declaring that much of the credit for the growth of Hope was due to others.

HOPE COLLEGE NEWS.

Samuel Aelitis of the senior class at Hope college has been awarded a scholarship in the medical department of the University of Chicago. The subject of the winning thesis was, "The Milk Supply of Holland." During his preparation of the thesis the student visited every milk dispensary in Holland, and every dairy farm within several miles, closely inspecting them. The milk supply of Holland is therefore probably more minutely covered than that of any other city in the country through the student's thesis. The manuscript contains about three thousand words and the scholarship is worth $120.

Professor Kolyn of the Western Theological seminary, with his wife, sailed Tuesday for the Netherlands. They will remain there for two months, during which time Professor Kolyn will deliver English lectures at The Hague. He will return in time for the beginning of the seminary opening.

The Uffias

The Uffias club held away Monday evening and the crowd that filled Carnegie Hall to overflowing listened to a program that was satisfying. The annual entertainments of this dutch society of Hope College always attracts a great deal of attention in this community and people from far and near come to hear the Holland language spoken as it should be at this annual event and by the large throng of can judge that this occasion in Commencement week is becoming very popular. Monday evening was the twenty-fourth public program given by the club.

Among those who participated in the program were: Miss Bertha Hoffman, and Miss Helen Roelofs who gave the "Voorspel" or in other words the prelude. The Rev. B. Hoffman of Grand Rapids pronounced the invocation. On account of the absence of the president of the club, B. Wynne, E. Vander Laan, vice-president spoke a few words of welcome.

A quartet composed of Gerrit De Motts, Anthony Luidens, E. Van der Laan and B. Vander Woude sang "Een Uff en een Poesje" and "De Houtzangmolen" and were encored several times. Henry V. E. Stegeman gave a recitation entitled "Het Gelukkind". The oration of the evening was delivered by E. VanderLaan. His subject was "De Vanen Des Oorlogs" and he made a plea for settling international disputes by international arbitration. Individuals settle their differences in this way, he said. Only nations still resort to the old barbaric method, like boys getting into a fist fight. "Het Mengelwerk" or rather the budget, was read by R. VanderWoude. It consisted in clever take-offs on the members of the organization.

The real hit of the evening however was a playlet entitled "De Rechte Jozef" by G. De Motts, A. Van Bronkhorst, G. B. Scholten and J. Althuis. Mr. DeMotts impersonated a Netherlands cobbler and the naive philosophy of that type of character was done full justice to.

HOPE'S AUXILIARY COLLEGES.

The eighth annual commencement exercises of the Wisconsin Memorial academy were held in the Cedar Grove Reformed church Wednesday evening, June 14th, and were a great success in every way. The church was beautifully decorated in purple and white, the colors of the graduating class. The class of 1911 numbered six students, one a graduate in the modern classical course and the other five in the normal course. The program for the occasion was as follows: March, Miss Hilda B. Van de Wall; invocation, "Tolstoy, the Champion of the Russian Peasant," Thomas J. Weiler; declamation, "The Man Without a Country," (adapted), E. E. Hale, Clara J. Ramaker; class history, Alice D. Weavers; vocal solo, Repent, Miss Minnie De Feyter; oration, "Mormonism, the Nation's Menace," Gertrude J. Wissink; class prophecy, B. Henry Soerens; voluntary, Miss Hilda B. The members of the graduating class were each presented with a fine copy of the bible, through the kindness of a friend of christian education. The essay prize was awarded to Miss Elizabeth Heenekers. The subject of the essay was "The Waldness," and the prize of five dollars was given by a friend of the school. At the close of the exercises the retiring principal spoke a few words of farewell and appreciation. On Tuesday morning he was presented with a handsome gold watch by the faculty and students of the school. For this token of appreciation and good will he is profoundly grateful and leaves the school and its continued prosperity and success under the able direction of his successor, Prof. W. P. Van de Laan.

At a meeting of the Alumni Assn. of Hope College held yesterday, Geo. E. Kollen was elected president, Rev. H. Veldman, vice-president, Raymond Visscher, secretary and Arend Visscher treasurer.

"What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly and to love mercy and to walk humbly with thy God?"—Micah 6:8.

WHO could find fault with these requirements? Who could say that in setting such a standard for His creatures the Almighty required too much? On the other hand, how could we imagine a just and loving Heavenly Father requiring less than is here stipulated. God's law, variously stated, always amounts to the same thing. The statement of it, as given to the Jews at Mt. Sinai, embodied in the Decalogue, corresponds with this statement, as does also the presentation of it set forth by the great Teacher, saying, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy mind, soul and strength; and thy neighbor as thyself."

Many of us, after confessing with St. Paul, "Prophet exhorting to repentance," that the Divine Law is holy and just and good, have been surprised to find that which our minds heartily approve, we are unable to obey—to the full. For thirty-five hundred years the Jews have sought to keep that Divine Law, under the promise of eternal life for so doing, but none of them have been able to gain the prize.

When as a nation they realize their inability, and not sooner, they will be ready to receive at God's hands, as a free gift through the Redeemer, the forgiveness of their violations of the Divine Law. And then, under their New Covenant (Jer. 31:31; Heb. 8:13), they will have Messiah's assistance in regaining that perfection of mind and body and a "new heart," which will enable them to obey in every particular the Divine Law.

That blessing, which is soon to come to natural Israel, under Messiah's Kingdom and the New Covenant, will be extended through them, as the natural seed of Abraham, to every nation, kindred and tongue, in harmony with the Divine promise made to Abraham.

Analyzing Our Subject
Applying this principle of justice to our words, it means that we should not speak evil of either friend or foe; that we should not even insinuate evil. It means that we should not tell unnecessarily what we know to be the truth, if it would harm our neighbor, disparage him and discredit him in the eyes of others. It means that we should love our neighbor and his interests as we love our own, and should defend his interests and guard them as carefully as we would our own.

Justice. In order to thus operate in our words and deeds, must operate in our hearts—in our minds. "As a man thinketh, so is he." If he thinks unkindly, ungenerously, unjustly, he will find it impossible always to avoid unkind, unjust, unloving words or actions. "Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh." It follows, then, that to do justly signifies absolute righteousness in thought, in word, in conduct. This none of us are capable of.

The nearest approach to this is the perfect or just intention of the heart, covenanted by all those who become followers of the Lord Jesus Christ. The intentions and good endeavors of these are accepted of the Father.

To Love Mercy
All recognize mercy as a very proper, a very desirable quality. All realize their need of Divine mercy. All should know that the Divine purpose is that only those who show mercy to others will themselves receive mercy at the Lord's hands.

Many, however, while admitting all this and while seeking to practice mercy, do not love it. Rather, they love vengeance, and are merely constrained to mercy by the laws of the land, public sentiment and the Word of God.

Time and again this has been shown in the case of lynchings. Mobs have gathered for the infliction of punishment, glad of an opportunity for setting aside mercy and letting loose justice, as they might express it. And in those mobs have been many guilty of perhaps as great crimes as the one who was mobbed. "O, consistency, thou art a jewel!"

Walk Humbly With Thy God
In a word, those who are just and merciful are very apt to find themselves possessed of a spirit of pride, a feeling of superiority to their fellows, a hindrance to their having a humble walk with God. Those most humble toward the Almighty are frequently those who have had great sins and great weaknesses, which have helped to humble them.

Thus the great Apostle, St. Paul, was allowed to retain a measure of visual weakness as a reminder of the time when he was a persecutor of Christ—of the "Church which is His Body."

Capt. R. Schaddelee of the schooner Jose was severely injured on Saturday last. While they were loading in the bayou on that day the improved every opportunity to dry their sails, and in one of these attempts the topping-lift of the foreboom parted and brought it down against his shoulder and his ankle, breaking the leg in two places and dislocating the ankle.

The Holland Manufacturing Co. affected a temporary organization on Monday evening last. Mr. J. Roost was elected temporary chairman, and Mr. H. D. Post temporary sec'y. Directors, J. Roost, J. R. Kleyn, J. Kuite, H. D. Post and H. Walsh. While more stock was subscribed than the $10,000 wanted, the capital is now placed at $11,000, and the first article they are going to manufacture will be a new patent wind mill.

Married on Wednesday, June 22, by Rev. D. Broek, Peter Boot to Miss Bessie VanderVeere.

Wednesday morning another attempt was made to hang Voskamp, now in jail to await his trial for the murder of Cady. About two o'clock a knock was heard at the jail door, which was answered by Deputy Sheriff Murray. Sheriff Vaupel was absent. On opening the door some men rushed in, overpowered Murray took the keys from him and opened the jail. Being unable to find Voskamp's cell, Murray who was under guard, was forced into the jail also, to show where Voskamp was kept. During this time the servant girl had escaped and ran for the engine house and roused the engineer, who gave an alarm on the fire bell. Mrs. Vaupel was then alone in the house with the gang, who in their hurry had left their keys in the outer door of the jail, and Mrs. Vaupel perceiving this, with rare presence of mind, shut the door and locked it, thus catching six of the would-be hangmen, and secured the key. The gang then tried to break the door open with a cold chisel and hammer which they had brought along, and would have probably succeeded had it not been for the opportune arrival of Marshal Wolman, who boldly entered the jail, and after a short tussle drove the parties into the city lockup, where they were secured. Complaints were made before Justice Pagelson who held the parties for examination on July 6th next, under bail of $2,000 each, which was furnished during the day. The names of the prisoners are Dr. Wm. Clark, Geo. Bateman, Rufus Miller, Dennis Spencer, Burt Coe, and Bradford Vesley. Too much praise cannot be given to Mrs. Vaupel for her courage and presence of mind in locking the jail door, thus trapping the whole gang and preventing a crime which would have been a lasting stain on Ottawa County.

Mr. W. Van Wynkoop, an aged bachelor of this city died last Sunday and was buried on Tuesday.

School closes next Thursday. The closing exercises of the lower rooms will occur in the forenoon, and will consist of songs and recitations. Parents are invited to attend and witness the achievements of the little ones. Every scholar will receive a report of their scholarship, attendance and deportment during the year and it will be well for parents or guardians to see that they are received and to note the progress made. The graduating exercises of our High school will occur on Thursday evening next in the Opera House. The graduates of this year are Masters Willie Nye, Seth Nibbelink, Will Bertsch, Misses Anna Pfanstiehl, Minnie Markham, and Gertrude Higgins. Prof. Sheppard has charge of the music for the occasion which will be furnished by himself, Mrs. Hummer and the pupils of the High school. We desire to say a word about vocal music in the schools. There was at one time considerable opposition to teaching this study but we will state without fear of contradiction that there is not a single parent that would not vote for the discontinuance of the study. Prof. Sheppard speaks in the highest terms of the work done by the teachers and progress made by the pupils and it is certainly gratifying. The pupils have passed their examinations in music and received the junior certificate issued by the Tonic-sol-fa College of music, London, England. The following are the Eighth Grade graduates:

Mamie DeVries, Nellie Pfanstiehl, Susie Cappon, Dora Dutton, Eddie Peesink, Isabella Steffens, Kate Pfanstiehl, Jennie Baker, Cornelia Benjamins, Lizzie Winter, Carrie Karsten, Mary Huizenga, Mable Kellog, Anna Kruisenga, Bessie Pfanstiehl, Alvira Breyman, Wakker Toren, Arthur Roost Herman Kok, Arend Smith, Oscar Wilms, James Troxel, Nellie Jonkman, Gertie Van

The vacancy of aldermen in the Fourth ward caused by the resignation and removal of M. Van Putten, has been filled by the Common Council by appointing P. Oosting. The Democrats had caucussed on the matter and had presented the name of J. De Young, chairman of their city committee, the republicans likewise had united upon J. F. VanAnrooy, their candidate for that office last spring. The council saw fit to overlook the claims of both and appointed a third party. Mr. Oosting is one of our active builders and has hitherto declined to have his name used in connection with aldermanic honors.

Miss Lelia McBride of this city and William C. Cadwallader were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. McBride. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. E. Winter of the Western Theological Seminary in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends. It was a quiet but pretty affair. The bride is one of Holland's best known and most popular young ladies. She was formerly a student of Hope College and is a graduate of Olivet. The groom is a resident of Fort Wayne, Ind. and is employed as first assistant in the office of the General Agent of the Northwestern Life Insurance company.

Miss Edith Fairbanks and Arthur Baumgartel, two of Holland's well known young people, were married on Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Fairbanks. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Adam Clarke in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives and friends.

The rooms were prettily decorated with white drapery, ferns and flowers. The bride was charmingly attired in white silk mousseline de soie and carried white roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Aleta Fairbanks. Henry Baumgartel was best man. Miss Bessie Baumgartel played the wedding march which was composed for the occasion by Prof. Emmanuel Boeckel, an uncle of the groom. Elaborate refreshments were served and a reception was held until the train when the happy couple were accompanied to the depot by a large number of friends, who showered them with rice and said farewell as they left for their future home in Grand Rapids where Mr. Baumgartel is employed in the office of the Pere Marquette R'y company.

NEW YORK'S GREAT PALACE OF BOOKS COMPLETED

NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY

NEW YORK.—The superb and impressive building of the New York public library is completed and probably will be thrown open on May 23. The building, which fronts on Fifth avenue and extends from Fortieth to Forty-second street, contains the accumulated collections of the Astor, Lenox and Tilden libraries. The appointments of the structure throughout are of a lavish and up-to-date kind. The library is a noble addition to the architectural beauty of the metropolis.

THE FRUIT SITUATION.

Large shipments of strawberries have been going from all over western Michigan to the Chicago market the past two weeks and the last of last week saw them bringing almost nothing to the grower. The continued wet weather last week left the berries in bad condition and by the time they arrived in Chicago many of the cases were almost unsaleable. The extreme heat of Friday and Saturday also had much to do with the poor condition of the fruit.

Last Friday morning over 50,000 cases of Michigan strawberries were received on South Water street in Chicago and Saturday the number was nearly 40,000 and the majority of berries were in poor shape for selling. On Saturday many thousand cases were sold to the Chicago canners at from 40c to 60c per case in order to get anything at all out of them.

The rain Sunday morning and slightly cooler weather this week has had a tendency to better the market conditions and with lighter shipments the prices have gone up to $1.00 and a trifle better.

This week will see the end of heavy strawberry shipments. The early varieties are at an end and only the late berries will be on the market. Late berries usually command a better price, for the quantity is lighter and the quality and size are better. Cherries are being shipped in light quantities this week. The fruit averages small and is bringing from $1.00 to $1.50 in Chicago. Shipments of gooseberries are also going forward in small quantities bringing from $1.25 to $1.50 per case.—Fennville Herald.

A Charming Woman

is one who is lovely in face, form, mind and temper. But its hard for a woman to be charming without health. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always prove a godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion and perfect health. Try them. 50c at Walsh Drug Co., H. R. Dolsburg, Geo. S. Sage.

SETS DEATH TRAP FOR STORE THIEF

DEVICE OF ITALIAN MERCHANT
AT KANSAS CITY LANDS PRIZE.

Kansas City.—The grocery store of John and Andrew Barbera, in this city, had been robbed six times in as many weeks and goods valued at $200 stolen. This became monotonous to John Barbera, twenty-one years old, and he set about to catch the thief. He cut a hole in the money drawer the size of a revolver muzzle and placed the weapon so it would be discharged when the drawer was opened. Then he attached a string to the trigger.

Barbera was watching outside his store the other night and when he heard a shot within he went home and went to bed. When he opened the store the next morning he notified the police of an attempted robbery and a shooting.

"Why didn't you notify the police

Others who took part in the exercises were Mrs. Ada Bedell, Mrs. Sargeant, Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Dekker.

Mink Dykhouse of Grand Haven was quite severely injured Tuesday when he was kicked by one of his colts. Mr. Dykhouse entered the barn carrying a box, and neglected to speak to the horse, when he approached the stall, and the animal became frightened at the box. He let fly with his heels suddenly, striking Mr. Dykhouse in the back and about the body, and knocking him over. The force of the blows rendered him unconscious for several minutes, and he was found by his son, Duke. While he is now considerably improved, he is not liable to be about a great deal and the injuries are very painful.

Gas Coke the Future Fuel

During the past year when the prices of almost everything used in the home was sold at a considerable advance over former years fully one half of Holland's citizens found that they were saving money on one household necessity, and one only, and that was winter fuel. At the first thought some will wonder how any one could possibly save money on fuel as both hard and soft coal has advanced in price and wood is almost a thing of the past but any one can be convinced that Gas Coke is the correct and only solution of lower cost on the fuel question.

WHAT IS GAS COKE?

Gas Coke is the best soft coal obtainable—with a college education. It is the best Youghiogeny (that word alone stands for the best known coal) with all the gas, tar, ammonia and sulphur out of it, leaving only the heating qualities in it—Pure Carbon. A ton of Gas Coke contains the heat-producing properties of a ton and a half of coal, therefore a ton of Gas Coke could justly be called a Three Thousand Pound Ton.

Inquiries are being made daily at the office of the Holland City Gas Company as to whether or not they will follow their usual custom and make a special summer price, and it will be joyful news to many to know that a summer price will be in effect during the month August and at a price below last years special. Many citizens of Holland saved from $10.00 to $25.00 on last winters fuel by using Coke at the regular winter price so if they take advantage of this years August Special, they will have their winter fuel cost reduced to a minimum.

CASE IS APPEALED.

The school law which permits the board of education to institute condemnation proceedings against a parcel of land selected as a site for a public school building, has been tested for the first time in the city's history with successful results.

The board recently selected a site owned by Engbertus Vanderveen, located on Pine street between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets and offered him $15 per foot, with a possible increase to $20, and even better, but the owner refused to sell for less than $30.

The case was taken into court and the jury after being out two hours brought in a verdict fixing the average rate at $18.60 a foot. The site comprises 540 feet and makes a difference of more than $6,000 between the two amounts.

Vanderveen has appealed the case and now doubt it will come up at the August term of circuit court.

BIG PAVILION WILL OPEN JULY FIRST

Saugatuck pavilion, the second largest in United States, will open Saturday evening, July 1, and close after Labor Day. At the present time a score of workmen are engaged in rearranging and repainting the mammoth casino so that everything will be fresh for the 1911 visitors. Benson's orchestra of Chicago has been re-engaged for the summer. A new feature which will be appreciated by Sunday afternoon and evening concert visitors is the addition to the orchestra of a harpist who gained some reputation in Chicago as a soloist. Frederic Limouze will manage the pavilion again this season.

HIGH SCHOOL BACCALAURETTE SERMON.

Sunday morning in the Third Reformed church Dr. Blekkink delivered the baccalaurete sermon to the graduates of Holland high school. His theme was "Herein is your father glorified that ye bear much fruit." He pressed home to the graduates the necessity of making their education count. Not a life of sporadic achievement is the ideal life, said Dr. Blekkink, but the life of quiet effort toward a definite goal. As the orchardist expects his trees to bear so the graduate, in view of the fact that he has had unusual advantages, is expected to do something with his education. And not only is he to bear fruit but he is to bear abundant fruit. And the best fruit that the educated man can bring forth is no money. That is indeed necessary but is only of secondary consideration. The teacher or the preacher or the lawyer or the doctor who does his work only for the money there is in it is unworthy of the vocation he follows. His first motive should be to perform some service that will count in the final reckoning and that will help the race to take a step in advance.

In effect Dr. Blekkink advised the graduates to hitch his wagon to a star. No ideal is too high for the highest ideal in life is to live a life of genuine service and that is what education should prepare a man or woman for.

The church was crowded with an interested audience and the choir gave special music.

The eighth grade promotional exercises took place at the high school rooms Monday evening and the audience was so large that standing room was at a premium. A very interesting program was given. The program follows:

"Constable" Collins was at his best Friday and the Champs won from Holland by a 4 to 1 score. The game was fast and a pitcher's battle from start to finish between Collins and Woldring. Collins had it on the one-time big league recruit by a narrow margin. Each pitcher struck out seven men and kept the hits scattered. Collins handed out the only pass of the game. In the fourth Collie struck out the Wooden Shoes and Woldring came back with the same performance in the sixth. Score:

Grand Rapids fans got their first glimpse of the class of the Michigan State league Sunday when Ted Penfold's Holland club won from Cal Wenger's Cadillac crew by a 4 to 3 score. The game was played at Ramona Athletic park and is the first of a series of Sunday games to be played by the Holland club in Grand Rapids.

The game on the whole was good baseball. Jewell pitched for the winning club, with Corey Bachus, former Grad recruit, for the Champions. The Holland twirler had the better of the contest, allowing only five hits to ten by Bachus. Score:

Woldring pitcher clever ball Monday and the Wooden Shoes won from Cal Wenger's Cadillac champions yesterday by a 4 to 3 score. Rinkus for the Champs was hit hard by the locals. The locals fielded poorly and backed up Woldring in bad style, but the one-time big league recruit did the work. In the fourth inning Weirich featured the battle by nipping Woldring's long drive. The big outfielder fell down and caught the ball while on his knees. Score:

Knocking out a home run in the 4th after Hale had gained first on a single, Weirich Tuesday won the game for Cadillac 3 to 1.

Aside from this one hit the teams were well balanced. Collins working for the visitors, had everything desired of a pitcher. He struck out seven men and allowed but one base on balls. The best hitters on the Wooden Shoe force were unable to hit safely. Levan the college third sacker, kept the score down when in the seventh he made a sensational bare handed catch and out a runner off at the plate. Score: Holland 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—1
Cadillac: 3 0 2 2 1 0 0 0—3

Starting with four runs in the first, the fruits of two hits. Muskegon today defeated the Wooden Shoes, 7 to 6. Holland got started a couple of times and threatened to run away with the honors, but each time intercepted before serious damage was done. In the ninth two men down and the score 7 to 2 Holland out loose with three singles a base on balls and a home run, three runs were scored. Oldenburg pitching slowly, but had good support, while Jewell was practically working alone. The Batteries are as follows: Jewell and Spriggs, Lacroix and Oldberg.

McNutt, Holland's centerfielder, made four hits out of five times up on Saturday and three out of four yesterday. In his ten games with the Wooden Shoes he has batted over .500 and at about an .800 gait at times when hits meant runs. Holland has signed several new players who are expected to report there in time for Wednesday's game. One of them will be Billy Lauterborn, who was with the Boston Nationals for two seasons less than five years ago and then with the Denver team of the Western league for two seasons. He is a second baseman.

SPORTS

The Holland team has been most unfortunate in being crippled a greater part of the time in star players, either through illness or some other cause. Outfielder Bert Broder of Grand Rapids, whose playing in left field featured in each of the first five games played by the Wooden Shoes, has been on the hospital list ever since and is scarcely likely to be able to play for at least two or three weeks. Outfielder Currie was called to his home in Flint by illness in his family a few days ago and Captain Ted Penfold has hobbled ever since the opening game with a small bone fractured in his right foot.

The Holland team will be greatly strengthened by the addition of Johnny Laven to its line-up. The young collegian is one of the greatest infielders who ever handled a ball and good enough for any league company if he picks up a little in his batting.

Holland has signed Catcher Foster of Grand Rapids, a former member of the Cadillac team, to relieve Spriggs occasionally behind the bat. Foster is a dangerous man at the bat, a strong thrower and a hard worker.
