BANK YOUR MONEY WITH US

Before you ask her to take that lifelong journey with you you should have some MONEY in the bank to protect her, in case anything happens to you. It is the only right and fair thing for a man to do.

And as the years roll along, keep them happy years by always banking a PART of what you earn. Then you can buy a home--always cheaper for cash--or go into business for yourself--and be to her a real man.

Come in.

We will welcome you.

EXPECT AT LEAST 300 TO ATTEND MUNI- CIPAL LEAGUE CONVENT'N

DELEGATES TO BE GIVEN A BOAT RIDE ON LAKE MICHIGAN

It is estimated that at least 300 guests, composed of mayors, city clerks, city attorneys and other city officials from different cities in the state of Michigan representing the League of Michigan Municipalities, will be in Holland beginning today. Most of the delegates will be here by noon and the first session will be held on Wednesday afternoon. The program for the convention has been completed by R. K.

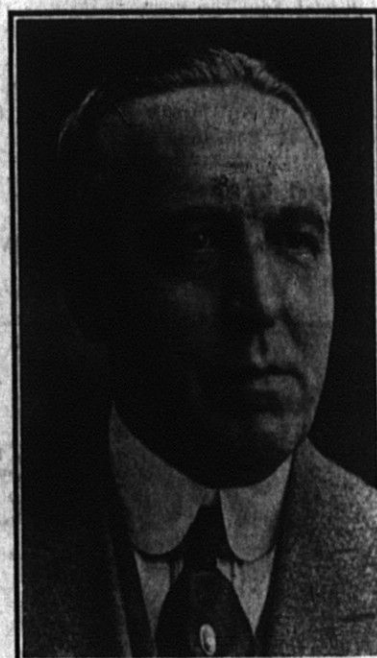

Ganson Taggart, President League Lucas of Owosso, secretary and treasurer of the league.

Delegates will register at the Holland City Hall Wednesday afternoon and at 3 p. m. will respond to the roll call with three-minute speeches on conditions in their home towns. Mayor E. P. Stephan will welcome the delegates and Mayor A. T. Wright of Owosso will respond.

Ganson Taggart of Grand Rapids, president of the league, will deliver an address that afternoon.

Sherman T. Handy, of the Public Utilities Commission will speak on Thursday morning on "The Relation Between the Public Utilities Commission and the City Governments," and the Rev. William Heilman of Owosso, will speak on "Civic Beauty." At noon Thursday the delegates will be entertained at a luncheon given by the Exchange and Rotary Clubs of Holland, and in the afternoon they will take a boat trip.

E. W. Booth, editor of the Grand Rapids Press, will speak Thursday evening on "The Daily Newspaper and the City Government," and D. C. Shilling, of the Western State Normal School at Kalamazoo, will speak on "Reorganization of the County Government in Michigan."

Friday morning, James DeYoung and Supt. R. B. Champion of the Board of Public Works of Holland, will speak, and there will be an open discussion of local and state-wide problems. This will be followed by reports of committees and the election of officers.

Barend Ten Dam and wife have arrived from Java, an island in the Dutch East Indies. They have been stopping at the home of Gerrit Houting on West 18th street. Mr. Ten Dam has been in Java for five years selling Fords but says that he is in this country to stay. He says the island is beautiful in tropical scenery but that it is 110 in the shade most of the time and this is too much for a white man. While here Mr. Ten Dam was wearing his heavy woollens during the hot spell and found that he was still quite chilled. No doubt he will soon become acclimated to American weather conditions. He has a good state, namely Michigan, to try out in.

INTERURBAN FARES CHANGE TOMORROW TO MACATAWA

FIVE RIDES WILL THEN GO FOR ONE DOLLAR

The Holland Interurban has kept faith with the mayor and common council and the citizens of Holland as it did a few months ago when it put the fare down to Macatawa and return to four rides for a dollar.

According to the agreement, on June 15 a further reduction was to be made and the fare was to be reduced to 20c a round trip if tickets were purchased in blocks of five, for a dollar.

The tickets are transferable to any member of the family or any other person and can be used at any time.

However they must be purchased in that quantity in order to get the reduction. This is a reduction of fifteen cents on a regular ticket, single tickets being 35c each.

The summer schedule for the Interurban will go into effect on Monday, June 26.

The time tables are not yet out so it would be difficult to state just what the schedule will be practically the same as last year with car service more often than during other times of the year.

On the Holland division the local service is up to its usual high standard.

PROMINENT PASTOR TO PREACH HOPE'S BAC- CALAUREATE SERMON

Dr. Frederick F. Shannon, successor to Dr. Gussalus of Central Church, Chicago, has been secured to deliver the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, June 18, at Hope church.

It is rather unusual to have the baccalaureate sermon between some of the exercises at Hope.

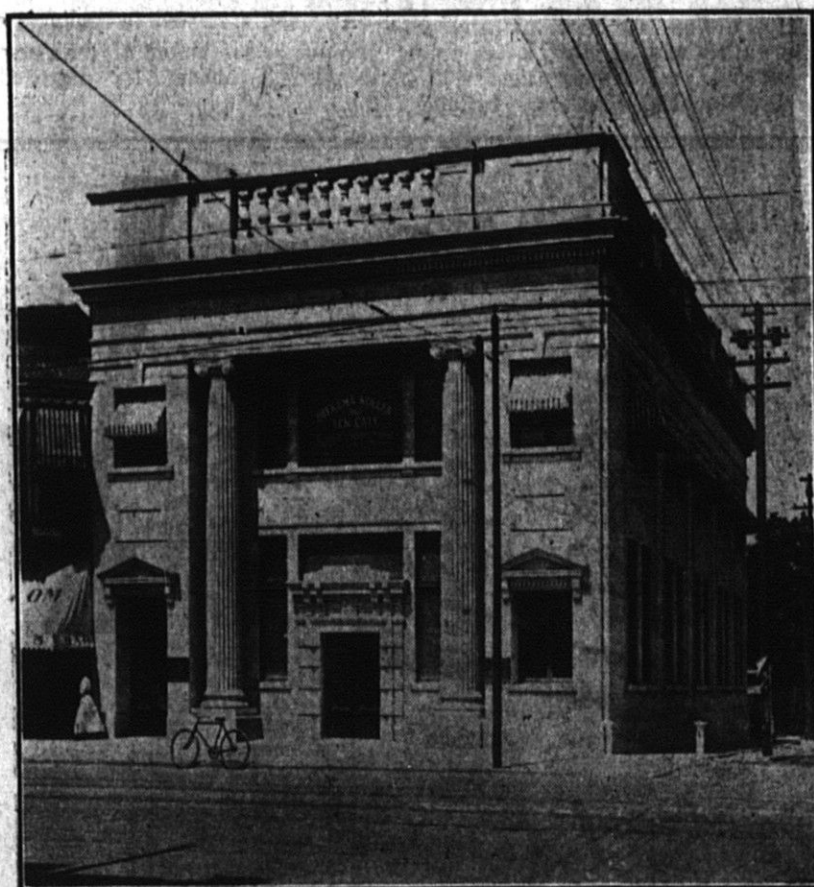

Formerly the "A" class exercises were held on Monday afternoon, but this has been changed this year and these are to be held the evening of Thursday of this week.

However the Senior Class exercises and the giving of diplomas to all graduates will take place on Wednesday evening of next week.

The orator, Mr. Shannon, who will be at Hope church Sunday is a divine of nation-wide reputation and no doubt the edifice will be packed from door to door on that evening and it is advisable to come early.

Beechwood school is going to have a cheap picnic June 23 with no transportation to pay. From the school on June 23 the parents and pupils will walk to Scott's grove, a few blocks to the east and there enjoy the afternoon.

Thursday evening the first band concert of the season will be given by the American Legion band in Centennial Park. These band concerts have not alone been popular with Holland but with tourists from the local resorts.

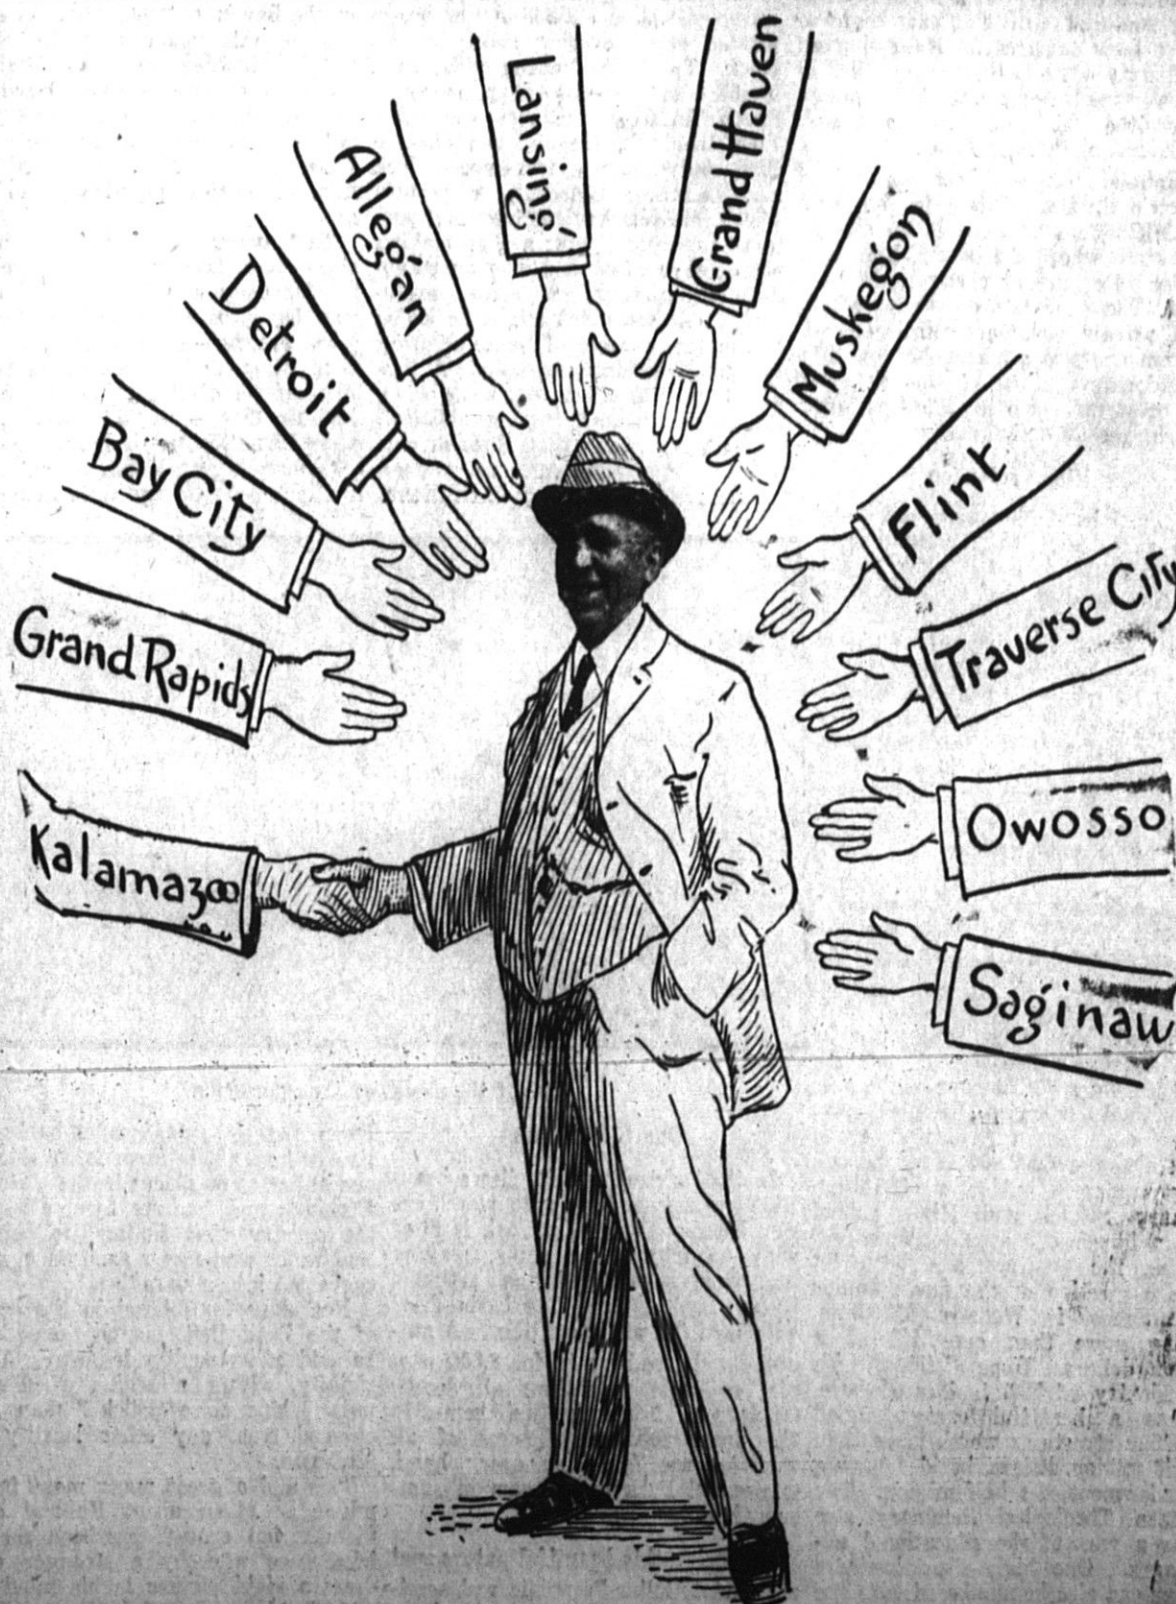

Members League of Michigan Municipalities

The mayor of our city has welcomed you. The citizens of Holland bid you welcome. It is a gathering of men such as you represent that make for good government, loyal patriotism and a better Michigan.

May your deliberation here bear good fruit and may your short stay here be a happy one. The latch string of our institution hangs out. Call on us at any time during your visit here.

Mayor Stephan: "In behalf of the Citizens of Holland I welcome you all."

What and Where is Holland?

Volumes could be written on this subject, but we do not wish to bore our readers with detailed matter and figures, at this time.

We will, however, endeavor to tell in the most concise form possible, what and where Holland is and hope the "nutshell" resume that is here furnished will make us feel prouder of the city in which we live and find it, using our own slogan—a town where folks really live.

It is sometimes well to take inventory even of your own city as well as of your own business, for if a city stops growing, and we lose heart and pride in it, this cannot help but reflect in the inventory or balance sheets of our respective commercial enterprises.

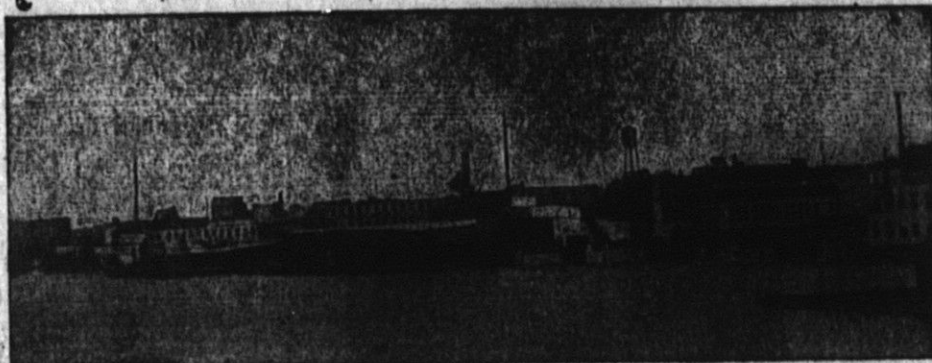

Anyway, here we go:

Holland is a city of churches, places of worship for nearly every denomination and creed can be found in this city. Twenty-one churches and a Y. M. C. A. look after the people's religious welfare.

Holland is an important fruit center, being right in the heart of Michigan's Fruit Belt. The farmers raising fruit can diversify their crops as there is a ready market for pickles, sugar beets, tomatoes, beans, all farm cereals, and dairy products at the highest market prices. The flour mills, pickle, sugar and canning companies are anxious to contract for all the produce the agriculturalist can bring.

Holland Industrially

Holland is a city of diversified industries. It has the largest cannery in the state of Michigan. It has the largest furnace factory installing furnaces in the world and a second one is making a name for itself everywhere. It has two foundries and another very large one to develop even larger when business in the iron industry again revives. One large chemical plant is located here. One of the largest sugar beet factories in this state gives the farmers a market for beets. A glass factory, a large piano factory, a jewelry factory, a carving shop, one auto accessory factory, a large railroad printing office. The largest shoe factory in Michigan, a washing machine plant, six job printing plants. There are nine newspapers and periodicals published in Holland, secular and religious, with a combined circulation of 26,000. It has a canning factory, also a Gas Engine Co., a cement mixing machine factory, a planing and shaper-machines shop; factories making comforters, casting

A glimpse of small part of Holland's Water Front.

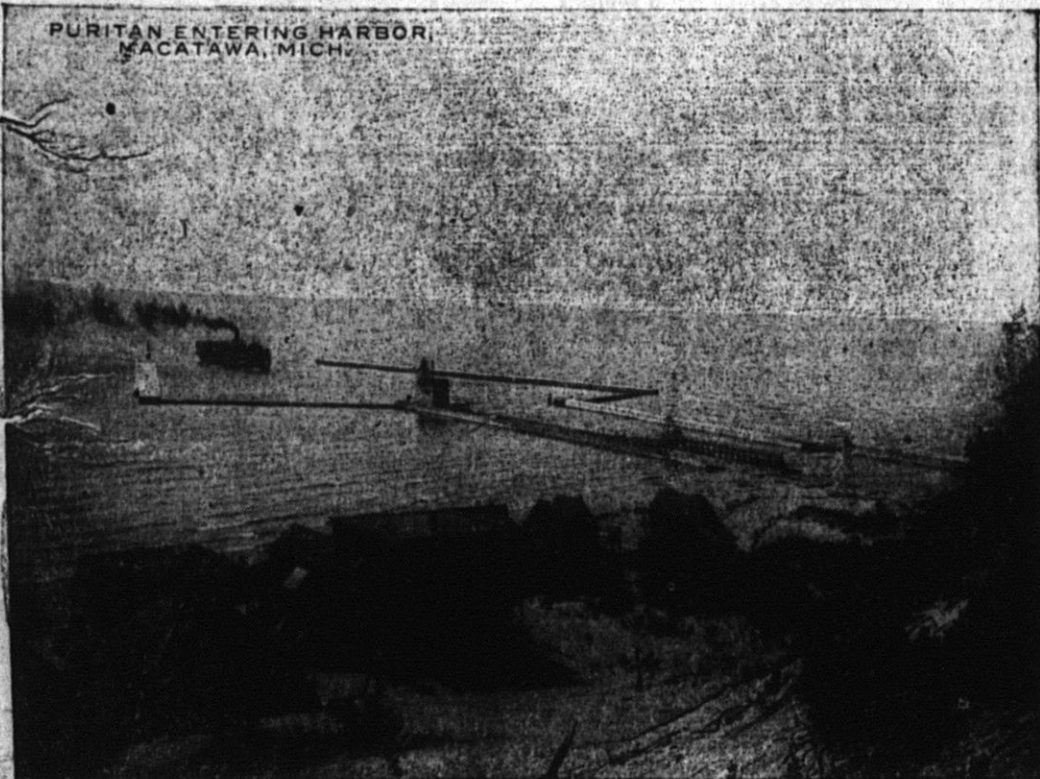

Holland is the largest city in Ottawa County, Michigan, having a population of more than 14,000. It is located at the head of Black Lake and is connected commercially by a double daily boat service to Chicago, namely, the Graham & Morton; is on the main line of the Pere Marquette Railway with branch lines to Allegan, Grand Haven, Muskegon and north. It also has interurban connection with Grand Rapids, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo, Lansing and Detroit, with hourly service via the Holland Interurban, in the summer time, to and from Grand Rapids, the second largest city in the state. One million dollars has been expended on Holland's harbor, and a permanent channel of 18 feet is always maintained. Holland is connected with the West Michigan Pike, the best and most direct automobile road connecting Chicago and the West with all cities in Western and Northern Michigan. Between Chicago and Holland a veritable part of some of our citizens. It is a four-acre tract kept in its natural state and filled with first-growth forest trees of all varieties.

Holland is a city of homes—possibly there is no city in the United States where the home surroundings are so ideal and lawns are so well-kept and where citizens in all walks of life keep things beautiful and their homes bright. Most laboring men own their own homes and vie with one another in keeping their surroundings attractive. Holland has no "shanty" district. Holland has three theaters as one source of amusement. For athletic diversions it surpasses any city of its size in the state.

Holland Resorts

The summer population of Holland's resorts is at least 5,000. These resort show places are Central Park, Jenison Park, Macatawa Park, Castle Park, Waukazoo, and Ottawa Beach. These resorts are located on Macatawa Bay (Black Lake), an arm of Lake Michigan and at the head of the Bay is Holland, while on either side of this inland lake for twelve miles extending to Lake Michigan these resorts are located. Macadamized and cement drives connect these different summer outing spots and these beautiful drives are lined with summer homes practically all the way.

What Holland's Million Dollar Harbor looks like from "Ball Head."

paved street exists. At least 74 miles of concrete alone has been laid and with the exception of a very few miles the motorist will find this highway most ideal for travel. Holland itself will have not less than eight miles of paved streets completed this summer. The other highways are hard, well kept gravel thoroughfares.

Holland has the best water and electric lighting system in the state of Michigan and there is no city in the state where the power, light and water rates are as cheap as in Holland. These plants are both municipal.

A private gas plant furnishes gas to consumers at a reasonably low rate considering the size of this city and the rates paid in other cities as large and larger than Holland.

Fire Protection

Holland has a fine fire department. Two companies, both consisting of volunteers, protect the city against any conflagration that might come to it. The apparatus consists of one American La France motor driven hose, chemical and power pumper, a wonderful machine that can be used on the water front, supplying extra streams, augmenting the supply coming from the direct pressure fire hydrants. It also has a White motor driven ladder and service truck, besides a hose and chemical horse driven truck.

Holland's tax rate is far below a majority of the cities of its size, including many cities in this vicinity.

What We Have in Holland

Holland has three strong banks with aggregate deposits of over six million dollars. It has one of the best educational systems to be found anywhere with seven beautiful grade schools and a $200,000 High School, fully equipped. Also a Christian Primary School and High School with a larger one soon to be added. Besides the contract has been let for the erection of the finest Junior High School in Western Michigan, costing more than one-third of a million dollars. Hope College, with a student body of 500, is located here. It has a beautiful campus filled with fine structures worth more than a half million dollars, besides having an endowment of a half million. The Western Theological Seminary also turns a part of the educational advantages. One high class business college can also be numbered with the other educational institutions in Holland.

Our City Parks

In the heart of the city lies a beautiful park extending over two large city blocks. Centennial Park is filled with trees, winding paths, playing fountains, beautiful lawns, artificial brooks, and a large fish basin filled with gold fish and pond lilies. A natural band stand, seats for 2,000 people, squirrels gamboling all about; myriads of birds make their homes in the dense foliage. Flowers of all varieties are found on every hand. Centennial Park is a dream in summer time.

Bordering this beautiful nature spot are found Holland's public and semi-public buildings. To the west is found a $100,000 City Hall, an imposing

One of the means of Transportation.

Farm costing upwards of a half million dollars. This farm is considered one of the show places in the state of Michigan and tourists from all over the country visit Holland to behold that which was once a sand dune, now converted into a paradise.

Not alone is Holland in the heart of the Fruit Belt, but the same can be said of its poultry industry. This vicinity, within a radius of fifteen miles, ships more "chicks" than are shipped from any other locality in Michigan.

This and a great many more facts might be given about Holland and vicinity, but enough has been chronicled here whereby a stranger can draw a vivid picture in his mind of WHAT AND AS TO WHERE HOLLAND IS.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP IN UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

Mr. Marinus Hamelink, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hamelink of this city, has accepted a scholarship from the University of Illinois in the department of zoology. Mr. Hamelink is the fourth Hope student to accept a scholarship from that institution this year, and the second to receive the award thru the local department of biology.

He has followed various courses in the biological department here, and expects to pursue advanced work in that line there, specializing in parasitology.

Mr. Hamelink will work with Dr. H. W. Ward, in charge of the department of zoology there, and will be required to give a quarter-time assistantship. This award carries a stipend of $300, besides tuition and all other laboratory fees. The rest of the time is granted for completing his advanced work which he expects to devote toward attaining a medical degree.

The assistantship is a desirable one, and offers also an opportunity for a better position with a greater stipend from year to year.

STAT ENGINEER TO MAKE REPORT ON BRIDGE CONDITION

The bridge question is to be handled in a scientific way, and within a week, if promises made Friday to Mayor Stephan are carried out, local people will know definitely how dangerous the Grand Haven bridge is. Engineer Carl T. Bowen Friday promised Mayor Stephan that he would have a skilled bridge engineer on the job within a week to make a written report on the condition of the bridge.

Mayor Stephan took the matter up with Mr. Bowen Friday afternoon and pointed out the danger of the situation. Mr. Bowen admitted that the embankments north of the bridge are in dangerous condition and the mayor secured a promise from him that he would immediately take steps to have piles driven at those spots to prevent trouble and to place the road in safe condition for the time being at any rate.

"As to the bridge itself," Mr. Bowen declared, "I want a report on that that can be relied on. It looks dangerous to us laymen who have no technical knowledge on the subject but we have no means of knowing how dangerous it is. It may be worse than it looks, or it may be more safe than it looks. What we who must use the bridge daily have a right to know is the expert opinion by a special bridge engineer. And we want that information in black and white; if later there is a catastrophe we want to be able to show that we as a city have done all we could to protect the people."

This request Mr. Bowen regarded as reasonable and he promised that within a week there would be somebody here whose opinion in the matter can be relied upon.

"The bridge may not be as dangerous as it looks," said the Mayor, "but I feel the responsibility of it greatly. It will not do to let these things go until there is an accident I would not feel justified if I did not do all in my power to forestall accident, if possible."

City Daily Tells Story of Famous Port Sheldon Dream City and its End.

A bit of romance and a glimpse of another age was brought to light recently when workmen dug up decayed portions of the famous $200,000 hotel which was built by an eastern syndicate nearly a century ago on the desolate spot at the mouth of Pigeon River, 12 miles northeast of Holland, which they named Port Sheldon. All that remains of the "metropolis" is a few decaying maples which once graced the front of the famous "Ottawa House."

The romantic history of the rise and fall of Port Sheldon, the city that was planned to be what Chicago is now, remains one of the most picturesque records in the development of the great west. The Port Sheldon bubble is regarded by many as a gigantic scheme of humbug, yet in the light of later events it is possible that some eagle-eyed city builder whose prophetic mind penetrated into the dim future, perceived that a great metropolis must arise somewhere on the great lakes which would be a receiving center for the farm products of the golden west, the iron, copper and lumber of the great northern wilderness, the cotton of the southland and the manufactured goods from New England.

About 1823 Nicholas Biddle, president of the United States National bank, then at Philadelphia; Saunders Coates, editor of the Mobile Register, and other capitalists conceived the plan of building a city somewhere in the Northwest Territory, created by the ordinance of 1787, which would outstrip Detroit and St. Louis, then the only towns west of the Alleghenies, and become the metropolis of the west.

It was some time before the plan crystallized and in 1835 a syndicate was formed at Philadelphia known as the Port Sheldon Land Co., composed of pleasure seekers from New York and Philadelphia, soldiers of fortune, dissipated sons of impoverished British noble families, aspiring financiers and political derelicts.

The financial backing was secured mainly through A. J. Judson, who was related to the cashier of the National bank of Philadelphia. Had the plan carried whereby the money would have been furnished by the United States National bank through the indent Jackson issued an order demanding that the sale of government lands must be paid for with gold or silver only and not with paper money; and another, the "specie circular," calling for the removal of all the government deposits from the "pet banks" to the national treasury.

Thus the government not only took away the only available security of the banks, but it also publicly declared that the paper money of the "pet banks" was little more than worthless. Since the Port Sheldon project was financed entirely with "wild cat" money it was in debt more than it was worth and in the great panic of 1837 which swept away even sound business enterprises it could not hope to withstand the storm.

The syndicate thus formed, offices were set up in various cities to interest the public in the undertaking. The headquarters were established in Philadelphia and S. Taylor was placed in charge. Another office was at New Orleans, directed by A. J. Judson, and a third at Mobile, Ala., was directed by Saunders Coates, editor of the Register. Colonists were enlisted and by the spring of 1836 everything was in readiness for the settlement.

Anyone interested in radio is requested to see either of the persons mentioned above for demonstrations.

Your Checks

Safeguarded, too

In our Bank we use every known method for protection of our depositors. We have adopted the Protectu Check System for the benefit of our depositors so that the amount of their checks may be safeguarded against being "raised" should they be lost, stolen, or fall into dishonest hands.

With the Protectu Check System, you can write your check for a given amount and by a cutter attached to the cover, you can then tear off the check at the desired amount [like a money order]. No check raiser can then raise your check for five to five hundred or ten to one hundred dollars.

These new Protectu Checks are supplied to all our depositors with checking accounts without cost.

If you are considering opening a checking account, call at our bank and see this improved service that we are furnishing our patrons.

DEATH COMES TO MRS. C. E. DREW EARLY SATURDAY

After an illness of three weeks that took a very critical turn a week or so ago, Mrs. Charles E. Drew died Saturday morning at about 3:30 o'clock at her home at 198 W. 15th street. Mrs. Drew's condition had been very serious for several days, but the news of her death was a great shock to the large circle of friends of the family.

Mrs. Drew came to Holland in 1913 and she has made this city her home since then, with the exception of somewhat more than a year spent in Washington, D. C. During her residence here she has made many friends. Of an unusually sunny disposition, she won the love and respect of many, and her untimely death gave a note of sadness in many homes.

Mrs. Drew's maiden name was Virginia Chapman and she was the daughter of A. F. Chapman, of Madison, Ind. She was a graduate of the Madison, Ind., high school, and of Hanover College, Hanover, Indiana, graduating from that institution in 1912, the same year that Mr. Drew received his degree from that institution. The marriage of the Drews took place in 1913, and they began their married life in this city.

She is survived by her husband and three children, Betty Brooks, Charles Elsworth, Jr., and Harriet Rosemary, the latter a three-weeks-old baby; also by her father, A. F. Chapman, of Madison, Ind., three brothers and one sister.

The funeral was held Monday at 4 p. m. at the home 198 W. 15th-st. Rev. P. P. Cheff officiating. Interment was in Pilgrim Home cemetery.

HOPE CO-EDS NOW HAVE A SWIMMING INSTRUCTOR

Swimming is a wonderful way to develop muscle, but there are other ways, including mopping floors, to bring power into a girl's arms, in the opinion of Miss Orca Baert, swimming instructor at Hope College, who will go to Ottawa Beach to hold classes in aquatic sports during July and August.

She was here caught by the camera just after she had been practicing on the floor of her father's cottage at Bitely, where she took her first lessons in the water several years ago and where she has spent most of her summers since.

Miss Baert was not content to give up swimming in the winter time, so she joined the classes which Norman Rivers conducted at the Y. M. C. A. at Grand Rapids about two years ago, and in January, 1921, was made an instructor there.

She has since been authorized to make these tests on her pupils. Long distance swimming, life-saving, and fancy diving are only some of her specialties—in fact, she excels in divers ways! Miss Baert is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Oscar Baert of Luton avenue, S. E. Mrs. William Widdicombe, of Fountain street, N. E., who took the picture, inscribed on the back of it:

Here's to the girl who swims and dives,
The more she swims, the more she thrives;
She's not very short, and she's not very thin,
But, "Oh, Boy!" how that girl can swim.

Seniors win track meet at Grand Haven

SENIORS WIN TRACK MEET AT GRAND HAVEN

Grand Haven high school held its annual track and field meet Wednesday, the senior class with a total of 75 points winning. Freshmen were second and sophomores third. There were events for both boys and girls, senior boys won their meet while freshman girls took the girls contest, but grand total gave the seniors a victory. Welling, a senior, was high point man with 15 points. Kelly, senior, second with 14 points and Bomberski, third with 13. Several school records were lowered. Van Weelder's mark of 41½ feet in the shot put featured.

TO PUT UP SIGNS NEAR ROAD REPAIRS

Motorists brought in protests to Mayor Stephan against the method of repairing roads in the vicinity of Holland with screening and tar, declaring this ruins the finish of cars. The Alpena road and the Macatawa road are now being repaired in this way and motorists declared that it was a hardship on the traveling public. There was even talk of getting out an injunction to stop it.

Not being a driver himself, Mayor Stephan could not entirely judge of the merits of the contention, but he took the matter up with Engineer Carl T. Bowen of the road commission Friday, and Mr. Bowen declared that if the injunction talk was carried out there was nothing else to do but close the road, since the repair work had to be done when it was hot and when the tar would run. He said however, that with the grade of stone being used, there is no necessity for anyone to ruin a finish of his car if he would drive slowly over the repaired stretches. No car would be spattered with tar if going ten miles an hour over such spots, he said. Mayor Stephan thereupon requested him to have signs placed at all repaired stretches advising the traveling public to go slowly. This was promised, and car owners can protect themselves by heeding these signs.

PAYS CHURCH SUBSCRIPTION AFTER 36 YEARS

The consistory of the Ebenezer Reformed church, two miles east of Holland, received a letter in which an anonymous writer paid a debt that was contracted 36 years ago. At that time the present church building was erected and the writer of the letter declared that he had subscribed $5 toward the church building fund. But this subscription he had never paid. It had long ago been forgotten, but the man himself apparently had not forgotten that he had made a promise which he had not kept.

He had carefully figured out the interest on the original $5 and he concluded that the principal and interest would today be approximately $20. That amount was enclosed in the letter. The letter was written in pencil, in a good legible hand, but no name was signed. It was postmarked "Holland."

HOLLAND BECOMING FAMOUS FOR ITS NURSERY BUSINESS

The Weller Nurseries Company has just closed its 1921-22 season and Mr. P. Weller reports that they have had a wonderful business year, having more than doubled their sales over last year.

July 1st, 1921, the Weller Nurseries Company amalgamated with the Standard Bulb Co. of Benton Harbor, and engaged its owner Mr. N. I. W. Krick, as sales manager.

The business was changed from retail to wholesale, hardy, herbaceous plants and gladioli bulbs being their specialty. A traveling campaign was started by Mr. Krick and A. Weller in a dozen of states, and the company has now filled nearly two thousand orders and has shipped their plants and bulbs to various points in every state in the Union. Nearly one million gladioli and four hundred thousand perennials were handled. The company now employs from 25 to 30 men during the shipping and planting season.

Ever since the Weller Nurseries was established five years ago, it has had a steady growth. Business was started from ground up with nothing but four acres of land on the Zeeland road, as a partnership. In the spring of 1920 the partnership was changed into a corporation with a capital stock of $20,000 and in 1921 this was raised to $30,000.

Last year a twenty acre farm was bought one mile south of Lugers crossing, all of which is now in cultivation. They are now growing three and a half million plants and bulbs and this will not be enough to fill the demand. "The supply has bothered us more than anything else," said Mr. Weller, "for if we had the stock, we could have done twice as much business as we have done."

"One thing we would like the people of Holland to know, is that Holland has now twenty-eight acres of the finest and largest perennial nurseries in the country, and that they are extended a hearty welcome to visit the nurseries at any time during the summer. If you have visitors and want to give them some thing they can not get very often, take them to the nurseries and you will accord them the time of their lives."

BREAK IN HARBOR SHOULD BE REPAIRED

Austin Harrington called this paper's attention to the fact that the break in the north pier caused by a severe storm more than a year ago has up to this time not been taken care of.

He stated that the attention of government engineers has been called to it not alone by the General & Morton Co., but also by himself and he feels that Holland should take enough interest in its deep water way to bring influence to bear upon the engineers and upon congress to have this break in the pier repaired.

Mr. Harrington states that a severe northwest wind might damage the weakened part of this harbor work to such an extent that the surt might break a hole clear thru this part of the harbor construction and soon fill the channel with sand.

He states that the General Meade dredges the channel every year, and as long as the breakwater and piers stay intact, well and good. However should the weakened pier give out with a storm, Holland would be without a harbor. Mr. Harrington stated that it had been hinted in engineering circles that Holland an vicinity might be called upon to repair this break.

However if the city was to be assessed for all harbor construction which benefits nearly all of Western Michigan there would be no end to the tax burden.

It seems the proper thing to do is for citizens to get behind this project pointing out to the government officials that these repairs are imperative if Holland is to maintain its harbor.

The Grand Rapids Rotary Club have invited the Holland Rotarians to come to Gr. Rapids on June 29 for a day's outing at Ramona Park. Together with the Holland club are invited the clubs from Muskegon, Hastings, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo, and Charlotte.

Not alone are the members of these clubs invited but the wives of the members are also included.

It will be a regular field day at Reeds lake, and the Grand Rapids Rotarians have many surprises up their sleeve.

On the program are a big dinner, theater parties, dancing and the taking in all of the concessions at the lake.

Some time we say, some time!

The Young Peoples Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church, with Mrs. Harry Harrington as chaperon, had a camp fire on the hill top in Scott's woods Tuesday evening. Members and their friends to the number of 21 partook of hot coffee, roasted weenies, fruit, A fine time and a truck ride, buns, cookies, olives, pickles and home, and 2 new members secured for the society, completed a pleasant evening.

The ministers' conference of the Christian Reformed denomination in the Zeeland classis has adopted a plan for eliminating the various mission fests held annually in different localities and uniting in one large meeting to be held Labor day in Nienhuis' woods at Zutphen. The committee on arrangements comprises the Revs. B. Van Vessum, of Zeeland; H. Tals, Zutphen, J. Van der Riet, Overisel; J. Pikaart, of North Blendon; and K. W. Fortuine of Berculo.

One of the speakers at General Synod of the Reformed church of America at Pella, Iowa, is an early graduate of Hope college named Rev. H. V. S. Peake who has been in the mission field for years and is from the Meiji Kakuin theological seminary at Tokio, Japan. Another noted visitor is Dr. Harrison of Arabia, who has been unusually successful in winning the friendship of the desert Arabs, having gone 200 miles into the interior to Riyadh at the invitation of the sheik of Riyadh. He recently has been made a member of the American College of Surgeons, the honor having been conferred without the usual examination.

A boulevard lighting system is to be installed in Fennville and a new paved street is to run right through the heart of the city. The concrete mixer is already on the job.

An old resident of Fennville, named C. M. Billings, who was born on June 8, 1851, has become quite reminiscent and states that he is the first white child born in Clyde township. He states that at that time there were no roads north or south of Fennville but as they lived outside of Fennville they were obliged to follow a trail a mile west and then go north and east three-fourths of a mile to get into the town, altho they lived only a quarter of a mile directly south from the settlement. In those days there were also a great deal of wild turkey, deer, wolf and other wild animals. He also states that one passes more houses within a mile today than there were on the entire road between Allegan and Lake Michigan. Mr. Billings was one of the men who help cut the ties to build the Chicago & West Michigan R'y between Chicago and Grand Rapids. This road was renamed the Pere Marquette.

Henry F. Koop captured all the honors at the rifle shoot June 7, making a score of 89 out of a possible 100 at 200 yards, a record unheard of in this part of the country for off-hand shooting. Other good scores were Neal De Waard, 87; Diok De Waard, 84; Thud Althuis 83; Wm. Woldring, 81; Tom Althuis, 70; P. Vande Woud, 79; next shoot June 21, 5 p. m.

OTTAWA LIQUOR

CASE TO COME BACK FOR RE-TRIAL

Several days ago notice of the reversal by the supreme court of the liquor case against William Foreman tried in this county at a recent term of circuit court was announced. The result of the supreme court's review of the Foreman case was commented upon by several of the state papers with the result that many readers gained the idea that the case ended with the supreme court findings.

Attorney Fred T. Miles the Ottawa county Prosecutor states however that the matter will be tried again at an early session of the circuit court in response to the order of the supreme court for a new trial. The final paragraph of the findings of the supreme court is quoted in this connection:

"The jury should have been instructed by the judge that as the officer has no warrant for the arrest of respondent and no search warrant that he had no right to search the grip unless he was invited to do so, and that in the absence of such invitation they should find the respondent not guilty. The case is reversed and a new trial ordered."

A prominent place in the copy of the supreme court's decision is occupied by the testimony of Officer Lawrence De Witt, who testified that he got off the rear end of an interurban car as the defendant left the front and at the corner of Washington and Water streets in Grand Haven. The officer testified that he called to Foreman to stop and that the defendant walked into the lobby of the Gildner hotel.

The officer testified that he asked Foreman what he had in the grip and Foreman said: "I will show you that I have clothes," at which he opened the grip and took out a shirt under which was a piece of cardboard. The officer testified: "I lifted up the cardboard and found that gallon of whiskey."

The supreme court states that the witness sought to convey the impression that he was invited by the defendant to search his grip, while the respondent contends that the conversation was not an invitation to search the grip, but was a representation that what the grip contained was clothes. That the officers had no search warrant was conceded.

The claim is made in the appeal to the jury which was as follows: "If you find from the evidence in this case and beyond a reasonable doubt that on the 25th day of July, 1921 in the city of Grand Haven in this county, respondent unlawfully had in his possession certain spirituous and intoxicating liquor to-wit: a gallon of moonshine whiskey, then he is guilty of the offense herein charged against him."

The stories of the supreme court's decision were given more or less prominence in the state papers because of the fact that the case was reversed on the question of the search warrant, and the bearings the findings might have on other cases of similar character arising from the attempt to enforce the prohibition laws.

SAUGATUCK DUNES

ARE RICHEST IN SAND HILL FLORA

We here in this section of Michigan have a kind of wealth that most people are almost entirely unconscious of, namely the natural beauty of the dunes. But persons who live far away from them realize that they are to be classed among the wonders of nature and will travel many miles to see them, to study their flora, and to investigate their geological history.

Saturday morning four automobiles, loaded with M. A. C. students, trailed into Holland on their way to Saugatuck where they were to spend the week end studying the flora of the Saugatuck dunes. The students were members of the classes in the biology department and they were here under the leadership of Dr. Richard d'Zeeuw, professor of biology at M. A. C. Dr. d'Zeeuw is very well known in Holland, having graduated from Hope College in 1905.

He declared Saturday that the Saugatuck dunes were considered the most interesting of all the sand hills along Lake Michigan so far as their flora is concerned. The Indiana dunes, he declared, are more famous as sand hills, but when a body of students want to study the various kinds of plants that find a home in the sand, they usually go to Saugatuck region where there are more kinds of dune plants than anywhere else along the lake. Dr. d'Zeeuw added that the classes in the biology department of the University of Chicago also usually come to the Saugatuck dunes each spring to study them although the Indiana dunes are of course much nearer for them.

There were 17 students in the party, besides Dr. d'Zeeuw. They carried tents with them and intended to camp in among the hills for a day or two.

HOUSES GO AT PUBLIC AUCTION "DIRT CHEAP"

Promptly at 1:30 Saturday, Auctioneer Raven got up on the porch of one of the houses advertised for sale by the home building association and began telling the history of the building of these homes during war times. He stated that several patriotic citizens because of the house shortage banded together and erected thirteen homes and all had been sold at a loss and these two homes were left, and since the building campaign fostered by this company was over, the officials wished to wind up affairs and decided to sell these two homes at public auction to the highest bidder. Mr. Raven then proceeded to put the first one of these homes on the market, located at the corner of Pine avenue and 16th street.

Although there were at least 30 buyers present who were anxious to get the home they seemed to be stage struck and bids wouldn't come out.

The first bid was received from Chris Nibbelink amounting to $3000. This bid was quickly raised to $3500 and after some sparring on the part of the auctioneer for higher bids, price crept up one hundred dollars at a time until a sum of $4,100 was reached, the bid being offered by Contractor Frank Dyke.

The crowd then left for house No. 2, located on 16th-st. a few blocks farther away. Bids were also slow coming on this piece of property, John Brieve, son of Alderman F. Brieve bidding in the home at the sum of $3850.

Taking John Arendshorst's expression he stated the homes went "dirt cheap." He also stated that the home on Pine Avenue cost Holland Home building association during war times $6,845.56. House No. 2 cost $5,863.87.

Despite the rainy weather there was a gathering of at least 350 at the auction.

Grand Haven Tribune.—The Holland city government and citizens who made a tour of inspection of the Grand Haven bridge are said to have found conditions there that would be very dangerous to any heavily laden vehicle which came too near the danger line. Mayor Stephan and a group of citizens were on a tour of inspection which was brot about by the cry which arose because of the alleged poor condition and maintenance of the highways leading into the city.

A number of the county road commission when interviewed said that they did not mind criticism of the work of the commission when it was done by experts but when novices and those unexperienced in road construction make a loud cry against the work of men who make road-making their business, it is about time that the facts of the situation come out. The spirit shown is described as poor and it is said that a resident of the county threatened to get out an injunction to prevent the road commission from using tarria when the aforementioned citizen desired that concrete be laid.

It is pointed out that the road commission is in the business of keeping the county roads in shape and this means a commission member stated that anyone desiring to see the actual process of road construction and to judge the efficiency of the commission is invited to go out and have the work explained in detail to him. This same commission member is authorized for the statement that "it is quite evident that the persons making the charges are quite unfamiliar with the different phases of road construction."

Special attention was called to the fact that a member of the Holland council stated that the roads were being repaired with stone which would be cracked away by passing autos "within a week's time." This is untrue and it is said that the method of repair used by the commission will leave the roads in good shape if care is used in driving over them in the first stages of their repair. It is said that utter disregard for signs placed for the purpose of warning motorists has been shown, the case of a motorcyclist being cited.

This cyclist drove onto a tarred and stone road, which had just been patched and upon which the workmen were still at work, at the rate of 30 miles an hour making the good spill with its accompanying tar bath inevitable. In addition a perfectly good stretch of repaired road had to be retarded and stoned.

CARL MAPES DRAWS LINE ON LIQUOR QUESTION

Carl Mapes, congressman of the Fifth district, which includes Holland, and Ottawa county, has expressed his attitude upon the liquor question and with his usual good sense makes no bones about the issues involved and the stand he takes. Carl stands for law and order while the position taken by the wet element, according to the program, said to be contemplated, would be something over that would be in direct opposition to the constitution of the United States and consequently in opposition to the foundation laws of our country. The Grand Rapids Press in an editorial hits the nail on the head and expresses clearly the thought Mr. Mapes wished to convey and the issues involved. Says the Press:

"All Michigan members of the lower house of congress with the exception of the Detroiters are dry in their attitude on the prohibition act. This is a strong prohibition state. It voted prohibition through before the troops went to war; it swamped a light wine and beer amendment by an even greater vote and majority and to all indications is as strongly against any return of the liquor traffic as ever.

"In view of the facts Congressman Carl Mapes' sensible and humorous statement of his position on the so-called beer and light wine 'issue' stands very much to his credit. Mr. Mapes says he represents a district which has declared itself dry every time it has had a chance; that the same reasons exist now for keeping the country dry; and that the light wine and beer idea is all a lot of moonshine anyhow. Even if it went through in Washington it would still be outlawed in Michigan by our state statute which was adopted before the eighteenth amendment. And good politicians in Washington know with Mr. Mapes that it has as much chance of getting through congress as the proverbial snowball in the proverbial region.

"Light wine and beer as proposed by its principal adherents isn't a scheme to help the little home brewer who presses and ferments his own wine for home consumption only. It is a plan to reopen the commercial traffic and manufacture of liquor. As almost every one understands the motives and interests behind it, there would seem to be little danger that the nation will vote an entering wedge for the liquor traffic it has voted out."

Is the silver black fox, now grown extensively by ranch owners in Michigan, a wild or domestic animal? On the answer to this question now hinges the liability of many ranchers for taxes on their foxes. Muskegon breeders were assessed $100 for each fox. They refused to pay, stating that the fox is a wild animal. A justice court decision ruled that the tax must be paid.

The National Silver Fox Breeders' Association of America was about to carry the case before the supreme court, if necessary, but has decided to await action of the next legislature, which is expected to pass on the domesticity of the fox.

Holland is naturally interested in the outcome for the reason that it has a silver fox farm.

Mgr. Jess Elster announces that his team is all through playing the small town teams unless guaranteed against loss. He says his club makes more in playing one Sunday game at Ramona Athletic park than in at half dozen outside. He says reports of 1,000 or more attending the games in the smaller towns are only dreams and that $300 is considered a good crowd in many of them. How about Holland?

That the Ottawa county sheriff's department has some speed kings was proven last week when an automobile driver who whizzed thru Coopersville at 50 miles an hour was caught and hauled into court before Justice Irwin of Coopersville, who assessed him a fine of $15 and costs of $3.80. Speeders who endanger the lives of little tots and people incapable of ultra fast movement, by speeding through towns and villages are not popular and are bound to get caught for their crimes at one time or another.

There was a good deal of excitement and hurrying on the college campus Friday morning, when the first shipment of Milestones, an annual college publication, arrived. The day for the arrival of the new publication, which eclipses in quality and value any previous edition, had been anxiously looked forward to for a long time. The books are in time to send the Seniors off happy, who have just completed their examinations during the course of this week.

The 1922 Milestone is larger than previous editions and has many brand new features, besides additional cuts, pictures and other work, which greatly enhances the beauty of the publication. It is put out by the present Juniors, and was handled by Kalamazoo publishers. The students are happy over the fact that it has been delivered so soon and deserve a great deal of credit for making their own plans and materials for the edition move fast. Hope's 1922 Milestone is dedicated to Prof. F. N. Patterson, head of the Department of Biology. John Elbers is editor, and Ernest Vanden Bosch, business manager.

On Thursday and Friday mornings there will be joint chapel meetings in which leading men from the church who have been attending the General Synod will be present. Throughout the remainder of the week there will be special music. The Student body will also render the anthems learned during the year.

TEACHERS ENTER- TAINED AT HOME OF MRS. G. E. KOLLEN

The teachers of the public schools had an opportunity Thursday evening to become acquainted with one another more intimately and to meet the members of the board of education in a social way when they were all entertained at the home of Mrs. G. E. Kollen. It was a most delightful gathering in every respect. The teachers and members of the board of education were out in full force, together with a few other guests not officially connected with the schools. The attendance was a large one and the Kollen home, beautifully decorated with flowers, was well filled with the happy company.

There was a note of informal hospitality and good cheer in the entire gathering that was symbolic of the happy family relationship which the teachers of the various schools bear to one another and to the members of the board of education.

This is not the first time that the teachers of Holland have been entertained by Mrs. Kollen, and as on a former occasion, the gathering was a bright spot of the closing days of the school year.

The program consisted of vocal solos by Miss Mabelle Mulder, readings by Mrs. Myrtle Koon Cherryman, of Grand Rapids, violin solos by Miss Ruth Keppel, and vocal solos by Mr. Willis Diekema. Mrs. Cherryman's readings took up a large part of the program. She gave miscellaneous readings, two of them illustrative of the development of dialect in American speech, and as usual she made a strong impression with her finished art and was compelled to respond to an encore. An informal social evening followed the program.

FEDERAL TAX ON MOTOR BOATS IS LIFTED JULY 1

The Federal tax of $10 on motor boats which has been annoying the owners for several years will be lifted on July 1 and the power craft will be privileged to go about the waters of the state and nation without having an ever present, "tax receipt" tacked up somewhere.

Some owners of smaller craft in Holland and at the resorts laid up their boats because of this tax but all of these can be put into commission and it is said that in Holland and surrounding community a large number of boats will be affected by this.

Holland, Grand Haven and Spring Lake boat owners will probably share in the jubilation but the main complaint here seems to be about the red tape that must be gone thru with before the government sees fit to award the coveted receipt. Ottawa county inspectors were rather stringent about enforcing this rule last year and more than one boat owner of this city inwardly gave vent to anger when inspectors drew alongside an demanded the tax receipt.

Motor boating seems to be picking up in this vicinity and many craft are to be seen every night. It is hoped that the races and regattas which were held on Macatawa Bay in former days will again be instituted and that motor boats will again become a popular means of pleasure. The main objection to the boats is their habit of always getting out of order and the more perfected automobile displaced them. The new type boats seem to be about fool proof in the same manner as autos and they are rapidly coming into favor.

SEMI-PROS TO BEGIN SCHEDULE THIS WEEK

Play in the Western Michigan semi pro league will begin this week. The league is composed of Holland, Allegan, South Haven, and Beverly Grays.

Beverly will tackle Holland and Allegan plays South Haven on Thursday. The Beverlys will also play Sunday, stacking up against Holland.

Thirty automobile loads containing members of Castle Lodge K. of P. and their wives and children left the hall promptly at 2:30 o'clock on Sunday for the two local cemeteries.

The members of the order, some 90 in number marched from grave to grave and as each stop was made the marching men uncovered before every mound while Chancellor Commander Oscar Peterson deposited the tribute of flowers upon the grave of a brother.

Twenty-three graves were thus decorated after which Oscar Peterson very fittingly performed the ritualistic work and gave the declamation fitting to K. of P. Memorial Day. A prayer was offered by the Prelate, the Pythian hymn was sung by the Pythian quartet consisting of Lew VanSchelven, John Van Vyven, L. Burch and Ralph De Maat.

The address of the afternoon was made by Cornelius Vander Meulen and his utterance should have been heard to be appreciated. Mr. Vander Meulen was at his best, and after he had pronounced his eulogy upon the dead, and the well wishes of these brothers dead upon posterity living, and still unborn, there were few dry eyes in the audience present.

He said, "Who says there is no hereafter? The living God is shown in the shining stars, the growing foliage, the blades of grass, and the tender flowers. The man who cannot see God in His handiwork, in this nature beautiful is a soul to be pitied."

"Pythianism means a battle for the right for the pure and for the wholesome."

The exercises closed with singing of "Nearer My God to Thee."

BOARD OF EDUCATION REJECTS ALL BIDS FOR JUNIOR HIGH

The board of education Monday night decided to reject all bids for the erection of the new Junior high school. The bids were opened on June first and at that time it was found that even the lowest bidder was many thousands of dollars higher than the figure that the board of education was ready to pay, the board having made a promise to the people at the time of the special bond issue that the price of the new school would not exceed $350,000.00. At the time of the opening of the bids it was believed that enough extra features could be cut off the building to bring it within the appropriation, but after all possible cuts had been made it was found that the lowest possible figure was still from $12,000.00 to $15,000.00 above the amount.

The board of education has never at any time entertained the idea of exceeding the amount that was authorized by the vote at the special election. That election being a straw vote, it would be legally possible for the board to go over the amount. But the board's promise was given to the people at the time that that amount would not be exceeded, and the members of the board at all times have held to the principle that that promise must be kept literally.

Hence all bids have been rejected. In the Autumn the board will re-advertise for bids in the hope that the price at that time can be brought within the figures. It is hoped that the cost of material will come down by that time and that in that way a saving can be made.

It will take 12 months to build the school. By starting work about the first of January, 1923, the new school can be ready for occupancy at the beginning of the second semester in 1924, instead of at the beginning of the first semester, as had been contemplated.

GIBSON HAS A VERY BUSY HEN

Gibson has a hen that is the talk of the neighborhood. It nestled in a strawstack, hiding its eggs and soon had them hatched out. A few inches above the brooding hen another hen was laying its eggs daily and as "biddy" deposited her eggs in the nest above, a hole in the bottom allowed the eggs to roll into the broody hen's nest. The result is that hen number one is wondering why she has to stay so long and her chicks came at intervals while chick number two cannot understand where her eggs had gone. The two hens belong to John Hirtzer, living southwest of Holland.

PROMINENT MISSION- ARY TO SPEAK AT 9TH STREET CHURCH

A very interesting subject will be spoken on by Miss Johanna Veenstra at the 9th St. Christian Reformed church Wednesday night.

Miss Veenstra has been a foreign missionary for two and a half years. Her experiences in darkest Africa are not alone interesting but very thrilling and should be heard by all. She has been working in Africa under the United Sudan Mission Board and has done some very valuable work for religious and benevolent causes among the black men in their native continent.

Miss Veenstra's lecture cannot help but interest her listeners and a large gathering Wednesday night is anticipated.

Besides the talk, a program of music and readings will be given. The program is under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Mission societies of the 14th and 9th Street Christian Reformed churches.

The public is cordially invited to the meeting Wednesday night at the Ninth Street Christian Reformed church which begins at 7:45 o'clock.

HOLLAND BANKERS GO TO THE SOO ON BOARD SHIP

Several Holland bankers have gone to attend the State Bankers' convention which will be held on Lake Huron. These moneyed men all got aboard the Steamer Noramic and left for a trip on Lake Huron from Detroit the destination being the Soo.

The convention will be held on shipboard, provided of course the bankers do not become sea sick.

Great preparations are being made to receive them at Sault Ste. Marie. The trip will take the greater part of a week.

Those who left from this city are Henry Luidens, cashier of the First State Bank, G. J. Diekema, Pres. of the First State Bank and Mrs. Diekema, J. G. Rutgers of the Peoples State Bank, Charles H. McBride and Otto P. Kramer, attorney and cashier of the Holland City State bank and daughter, Miss Gertrude Kramer.

A full house greeted the second spring recital of the Hope College School of Music held in Winants Chapel Monday evening. These concerts have become so popular that there is no difficulty in securing large audiences twice in close succession during the spring.

Monday night's recital was a delightful one. All the numbers were either piano or voice, with the exception of one selection on the Cello. Those who took part in the program were: Miss Jennie Ruigh, Miss Helen Smith, Miss Janet Albers, Miss Marjorie Rank, Miss Eva Clark, Master Rudolph Nichols, Mr. John TerVree, Miss Alice Brouwer, Miss Pearl Paalman, Miss Geraldine Walvoord, Miss Helene Vander Linde, Norman Vander Hart, Miss Mildred Temple, Mr. Gerrit Ter Beek, and Miss Helen Moser.

HIGH SCHOOL TO GRADUATE LARGE CLASS TUESDAY

Great preparations are being made at Holland High school incident to the commencement to be held next week Tuesday evening at the high school auditorium. Rev. Clarence P. Dame of Trinity church has been chosen to preach the baccalaureate sermon and at the exercises on Tuesday evening Miss Gladys Fairbanks will deliver the valedictory and John Henry Albers the salutatory, and a class of 90, 53 girls, and 37 boys, will receive their diplomas. The class roll comprises: John Henry Albers, Harry Aldus, Jeannette Baker, Anne Barkema, Mildred Bertach, Esther Irene Boeve, Maynard H. Boone, Ivan R. Bosman, Randall Bosh, John Breen, Quirinus Breen, Cora Bremer, Mabel Brower, James Burt, George Damsen, Gerrit De Koning, Frances De Weerd, Dorothy Dick, Helen Dieters, Sears Doan, Mabelle DuMee Laverne Essenburg, Lester Essenburg, Julia Everst, Gladys Fairbanks, Clyde Geerlings, Russell Haight, Helen Hamm, Elton Hanson, Jean Heetderks, Marion Henderson, Cornelius Houtman, Julia Huntley, William Hyma, Kathryn Keppel, John P. The resort season opened at the Holland resorts beginning Wednesday when both the Grand and the Macatawa Park Hotels opened Wednesday. The ballroom of the Hotel Macatawa will be open for dancing Wednesday evening and splendid music has been engaged for the season. Jessie brothers have leased the ferry dock at Macatawa for excursions and ferry business and have agreed to maintain a scheduled ferry between Macatawa, Ottawa Beach and Jenison. The row boat concession which for many years has been managed by Skinner Bros. has been leased by Neil Landman for a term of years and the boat service between Macatawa and the Beach across the channel will be very much improved with many new boats to be added.

The hotels at the resorts are opened at least two weeks earlier and this is to be a long resort season. The reason for this is that the Michigan Municipal League holding its convention at Holland, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday will occupy not only Hotel Holland here, but also Hotel Ottawa and Hotel Macatawa as well as the Grand. After these delegates leave the furniture men from the Grand Rapids Furniture Exposition will make their headquarters at these resort hotels if accommodation cannot be secured in Grand Rapids.

WHAT YOU SAW IN THIS PA- PER FIFTY YEARS AGO

FIFTY YEARS AGO

We learn from the New York Herald that Cornelius Gardner, formerly a student and graduate from Hope College, also graduated from the military academy at West Point a second lieutenant and has been assigned to duty with the 19th U. S. Infantry. Note—Col. Gardner, in the rank to which he was promoted, made quite a name for himself. For some time he was stationed at Fort Wayne, Detroit. Later he was sent to the Philippines and was stationed at Manila. Before his retirement he was sent to California and died a few years ago. During the semi-centennial celebration twenty-five years ago he was one of the principal speakers here and gave his entire discourse, a complete history story of the settling of the pioneers in Holland in poetry, which was published at that time in the Holland City News.

FORTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Dr. D. M. Gee, local dentist has purchased a very fine lot on Ninth street immediately west of the 1st Reformed church (now Ninth-st. church) and intends to build a beautiful home on it. Note—The home mentioned is now occupied by Walter C. Walsh.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Last Monday Ed Williams of Hotel Holland and Rourke caught sixty beautiful black bass near Pine Creek bay, the largest weighing 5 1/2 pounds. Note—At that time the catch was unlimited and the time always. Now the limit is ten and there is a closing period every year.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The Grand Rapids Eagle has the following: "One of the busiest men in Michigan during the resort season, T. M. Churchhill, the capable agent of the Chicago & West Michigan R'y at Holland, always courteous and obliging he has contributed his full share to the popularity of the Black Lake resorts thru his efforts in behalf of the tourist trade."

THIRTY YEARS AGO

The front of Holland's Y. M. C. A. building, called Bergen Hall is up and nearly completed. The Waverly building to the West will be built of Waverly sand stone from the waverly quarries. Note—Holland at that time had a Y. M. C. A. building and meetings were held every Sunday and several nights during the week were also taken up. The building was called Bergen Hall in honor of Rev. J. T. Bergen, at that time pastor of Hope Church. Mr. Bergen took a special interest in the young men of Holland and also in "Y" work. In some way the "Y" played out and the organization went out of existence. The Y. M. C. A. building is now occupied by Heffer's restaurant and the second floor, used formerly for a "Y" meeting hall and reading rooms, is now occupied by the Moose lodge of this city. The Waverly building is the one occupied by the Dairy products Co.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The Miss Nella Pfantstiel and Albert Diekema wedding occurred. Rev. J. T. Bergen performed the ceremony. The wedding of Miss Anna Werkman and Fred L. Brockmeier took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Werkman at the home on 63 W. 11th street, Rev. K. Van Goor officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. DeMerrell gave a reception at their home 19 West 8th street. Those who assisted the host and hostess in receiving were Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Dregman, Mr. and Mrs. George Van Duren, and Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Hall. Mrs. Bessie George Webb gave several reading selections that captivated all. Will D. A. Chapman of Grand Rapids rendered several whistling solos.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Rev. Henry Sluiter and Miss Bertha Veneklassen of Zeeland.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

The steamer Mabel Bradshaw was disabled last week in a collision with the steamer Ira Owen at Chicago. The damage was about $3000. Note—The steamer was the first real boat Holland had on its line and was really the beginning of a permanent boat line between Holland and Chicago some thirty years ago. The ship was built by Hugh Bradshaw, now living on his farm on Route 1, Holland.

Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Keppel commemorated the tenth anniversary of their marriage Wednesday.

Born to Rev. and Mrs. Sam M. Zwemer, the missionaries to Arabia, now at Spring Lake, a daughter. A young Jeweler was welcomed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beryman, Sunday.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Fritz Jonkman has been given the contract to build a three-story brick building for the De Pree Chemical Company on 5th street and Central avenue. Note—Since that building was built several more have been erected covering nearly the entire block, which denotes the rapid development of this enterprising plant. The name has also been changed to the De Pree Co. The old manager Con De Pree, is still on the job however.

The employees of the Cappon-Bertsch Leather Co. presented John J. Cappon with a gold-headed ebony cane and Mrs. Cappon with an umbrella with a gold handle. The occasion was the 25th wedding anniversary of the happy couple.

A hen brooding a nest of kittens is a novel attraction discovered a few days ago by Mrs. Isaac Verwey, 81 W. 8th St. In a nest in the corner of the barn she found the kittens warmly tucked under the protecting wing of the freakish hen with the mother cat vainly trying to get a peep at her young.

TEN YEARS AGO

Simon De Witt, George Evens were relieved by holdup men of $18

and a gold watch, fob and chain. Roy Lachaine was robbed of two rings and some small change. Fred Kamferbeek chief, of police, traced the robbers to Muskegon where they are being tried on similar charges.

Contractor George De Weerd received a contract to build the new Dearborn Engraving Co. plant at $15,000. Note—The plant failed soon after it was built and is now occupied by the Dunn Mfg. Co. Several Holland men lost heavily in the project.

FIVE YEARS AGO

The 4th of April, the children of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Vos of East Saugatuck had the privilege of celebrating their father's 81st birthday and the 29th of May they surprised their mother, Mrs. Vos at her 84th birthday anniversary. All the children were present, also the grandchildren and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Vos of Overisel and Mr. A. Klomparsen of Hamilton. They received very useful presents. A very enjoyable evening was spent. A program was also given. Dainty refreshments were served.

The Lincoln school P-T club will give a picnic for the school on Friday afternoon from 2 to 8 o'clock. The parents, teachers and pupils of the school will join forces that afternoon for an outing, and so far about 450 have signified their desire to attend. This will be the first picnic of its kind held in Holland, and a very enjoyable time is anticipated.

The trip to Jenison Park will be made in autos. It will be a basket picnic, each family taking its own lunch. Free lemonade will be served on the grounds, and each child will be furnished with two tickets with which to buy ice cream and cracker-jack. A program of sports is being arranged by Wm. Slater, director of physical education for boys, and prizes will be awarded to the winners, the prizes being donated by the local business men.

EGBERT FELL TAKES SEAT AS HIGH SCHOOL MAYOR

At the high school as in the city of Holland, there always comes a time for a mayor to retire and a new one is elected to take his or her place. Friday Egbert Fell, recently elected, delivered his message for the year to his common council and George Damsen, the retiring mayor gave his exaugural address.

Principal Riemersma also praised the outgoing mayor and council on their efficient method of handling student government and wished success for the incoming officials. He stated that the retiring council and city officials were among the best yet elected.

The personnel in the common council for the year follows: 1st ward, Hazel Albers, Worthy Mared; 2nd ward, Theodore Hidding, Leon Kleis; 3rd ward, John Mulder, Margaret De Weerd; 4th ward, Katherine Huisenga, Le Roy Hill; 5th ward, Clarissa Poppen, Jacob Van Zanten; 6th ward, Ruth Hyma, John Vanden Brink. The city clerk is Lillian Schmid and the treasurer, Bernie Vander Meulen.

YOU GET WHAT YOU PAY FOR!

Experienced buyers, the world over, have long realized that when they investigate carefully before buying, they get just what they pay for. The great middle class to which most of us belong, does not make a practice of paying extraordinary prices for fancy things. Neither do sensible people pay a trifle and expect a great deal. They take the "middle of the road." They pay fair prices, and meet fair terms. In return, they do not only expect, but get, good goods and good service.

The excellent reputation of the Holland Furnace is due largely to the Company's policy of holding to the "middle of the road." The Holland Furnace is not fancy; neither is it cheap. It is built for the utmost in heating service. It is manufactured efficiently and sold at prices and terms that are right. Every buyer of a Holland Furnace is fully protected by the Holland Bond. OTTAWA COUNTY FINDING OUT ITS REAL CHICKEN CENTER

The poultry tour through Ottawa county Thursday has proved a wonderful success, as if the round-up accomplished nothing else it has inspired the farmers, breeders and hatchery men of this section with new enthusiasm and confidence. Moreover it has developed a consciousness of the magnitude of the industry here. Ottawa people are beginning to think of their county in terms of poultry production. With five groups, the North Ottawa County Poultry association of Coopersville, the Holland Poultry Association, the Grand Haven Poultry association, the Zeeland Poultry association and the Ottawa County Hatchery association, the county is well organized.

Every person who participated in the tour was impressed with the growing importance of combining poultry and fruit. Even the farms with the big hatcheries had large orchards. This was true of the De Vries hatchery, known as the Grandview Poultry farm, with the largest hatchery in the state. There are several young peach and apple trees on this farm. The flocks furnish the best kind of fertilizer, the poultrymen say. Peach trees at most of the places are well loaded.

The close attention given to talks of Prof. E. C. Foreman, head of the poultry husbandry department of M. A. C. indicates the importance attached to the scientific side of the poultry raising. Even a hen's temperament is important in selecting layers, it was brought out. The indications of refinement in the head are essential. The hen is a subject of phrenology and the shape of her head is a matter of study in culling. The pigment test, the wing test and the body formation all enter into the culling tests. Prof. Foreman explained. Prof. Foreman is authority for the statement that of 11-000,000 chickens in Michigan 30 per cent would be discarded in the culling tests.

The coming of warm weather and the increase of the number of eggs discarded by candling made the discussion of Dr. L. R. Heasley of Grand Rapids, timely. He emphasized the need of producing sterile eggs, containing that 90 per cent of those candled out would not have spoiled had they been sterile.

The fertile egg deteriorates in temperatures above 70 degrees, he maintained, and will spoil within 24 hours in a temperature of 100 degrees. On the other hand experiments have proved that sterile eggs were unspoil after two weeks in an incubator.

The fact that Dr. H. J. Stafseth, bacteriologist of M. A. C. was sent into Ottawa county late last year to help curb poultry diseases, made his address all the more authoritative. He contended that diseases had been brought into Michigan by the importation of chickens and eggs from other states.

Poultry raisers who observed the demonstrations of obtaining blood from the wing to be sent to M. A. C. for tests, will now have a method of procuring diagnosis in many cases of poultry illness.

At Holland the last stop on the tour the guests visited the Holland Hatchery of Simon Harkema & Son, hatchery and greenhouses and besides other poultry farms in this vicinity were visited. The officials of the Holland Poultry Association took charge of the guests here and looked after their wants.

KITCHEN SHOWER IS GIVEN FOR BRIDE TO BE

A kitchen shower was given by the Misses Marie Plaggemars and Sena Alofs at the home of the latter, 25 E. 20th St., in honor of Miss Marie Bareman who is to be a June bride. The bride to be received many useful and appropriate gifts.

The room was beautifully decorated in red and white. Red and white hearts were tastily displayed in every part of the room. A dainty three course luncheon was served by three charming little waitresses wearing white caps and aprons decorated with red hearts. Many delightful and interesting games were played. Those present were: Mrs. W. Alofs, The Misses Anna and Ruth Van Putten, Dena, Elizabeth and Frances Bareman, Bessie and Rena De Pree, Henrietta Zoerman, Alida Gebben, Nella Jongkrijik, Elberta De Weerd, Grace Louhies, Marie Van Vuren, Sena Walters, Carrie Bowman, Minnie Tymes, Sena J. Alofs, Marie and Esther Plaggemars, Sena, Minnie and Waretta Alofs.

ROTARY CLUB WERE ENTERTAINED AT THE CASTLE

The members of the Rotary club were given a royal good time at Castle Park Thursday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Harry K. Wilke entertained the rotarians and their wives at The Castle with a dinner.

As we all know the Wilkes know how to entertain and they were at their best Thursday night.

Mr. Wilke is a full fledged Rotarian having been president of the Chicago Rotary Club for a number of years.

John Kelley naturally had to be selected toastmaster on this occasion for the reason that he is a natural born Chauncy Dewey number two and generally has some new ones up his sleeve whenever he presides.

He called upon several of the members present for short speeches and an unusually witty program was carried out.

REV. OLTMAANS WAS ELECTED PRESIDENT OF GENERAL SYNOD

General Synod of the Reformed church of America is now holding sessions at Pella, Iowa and a large delegation of Holland citizens whose names have already been published as delegates are attending.

The Grand Rapids Press, which has a special correspondent on the ground, states that the 116th session of the general synod of the Reformed church in America opened on Thursday afternoon. Addresses of welcome were given by Mayor J. H. Vandenberg, Prof. Frush of the chamber of commerce and President Hoffman of Central College.

Dr. A. Oltmans, Tokio, Japan, was elected president by acclamation, a procedure seldom seen in the Reformed church. Rev. W. B. Hill of Vassar college was elected vice-president with Rev. T. B. Zeley of Kingston, N. Y., a close second.

Rev. C. E. Bloodgood of Spoonswood, N. J. and Rev. G. DeMoots, Grand Rapids, Mich., were elected temporary clerks. Seventeen ministers died during the past year according to the report that was read.

Hope's graduating class of 1922 with a total of 55 members, is just about ready to leave its Alma Mater. The Senior Class is one of Hope's largest classes. Eight members of the class have won awards and will leave to take up advanced work. These are Richard Hager, a fellowship to the U. of M. by faculty award; James Dyke Van Putten, a fellowship in religious training will take up his work in New York; Morris Steggerda, a scholarship to the U. of Illinois; John Flikkema, a scholarship to the U. of Ohio; Jake Wierda to the Johns Hopkins University in Maryland; H. Kleinhekel and Herman Becker to the U. of Illinois, with one assistantship still pending. Besides these several of the science students expect to pursue their advanced work in other medical schools. Ward Adrian De Young and Everett Gaikema will probably attend the Rush Medical School at Chicago. Miss Grace Merssen will attend the Presbyterian Hospital, Chicago.

The department of education has also received many calls for students and Prof. Winter has placed many of his students throughout Michigan and other states. While some are still negotiating for places, the following acceptances have been made: Florence McKelvie to New York state; Anthony Meengs to Niles, Michigan; Mamie Scholten to Inwood, Iowa; Helen Smith to Richmond, Mich.; Agnes Vander Wall probably to Nebraska; Margaret Van Donzelaar to Allegan, Lillian Van Dyke to Benton Harbor; Matthew Van Oostenburg to Cadillac; Henrietta Van Putten to Saugatuck; Margaret Van Zee to Schoolcraft, Mich.; and Fern White to Big Rapids. All of these are teaching positions.

The local seminary will also take in a large portion of the men, some of whom are already taking a charge for the coming summer. The men who are expected to enter the seminary are: Richard Blocker, Winfield Burggraaf, Garret De Jong, Henry Haarsevoort, Jacob Kamps, Jacob Schepel, Stanley Schipper, Edward Tanis, Paul Trompen and John Vander Ploeg. One of the members, Meinte Schuurmans is still negotiating for a short term—a three year term—in some foreign mission field. Although no definite arrangements have been made, he will probably leave for the Indian mission.

GIVEN LIFE MEMBERSHIP BY THE EASTERN STAR

Holland Chapter, No. 429, O. E. S. held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening. At that time the Chapter proudly honored Mrs. Nell Thompson, chaplain of the chapter, with a life membership. Mrs. Thompson has been an Eastern Star for 37 years, ever since 1885, and the members of Holland Chapter are indeed proud to call her their own.

PROPOSED PAVING OF WEST NINETEENTH STREET

Notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the Common Council of the City of Holland held Wednesday, May 17, 1922, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That 19th street from the east line of Van Rensselaer avenue to the west line of Columbia avenue, be paved with two inches of sheet asphalt, said improvement being considered a necessary public improvement; that such paving be done in accordance with the plans, diagrams and profile of the work prepared by the City Engineer and now on file in the office of the City Clerk; that the cost and expense of such improvement be paid partly from the General Street Fund of the city and partly by special assessment upon the lands, lots and premises abutting upon said part of 19th street from the east line of Van Rensselaer avenue to the west line of Columbia avenue as follows:

Total estimated cost of improvement including cost of surveys, plans, assessment and cost of construction, $28,285.50, and that the entire amount of $28,285.50 be defrayed by special assessment upon the lots and lands or parts of lots and lands abutting upon said part of 19th street according to the provisions of the city charter; provided, however, that the cost of improving the street intersections where said part of 19th street intersects other streets be paid from the General Street Fund of the city; that the lands, lots and premises upon which said special assessment shall be levied, shall include all the lands, lots and premises abutting on said part of said street in the city of Holland; also the street intersections where said part of 19th street intersects other streets; all of which lots, lands and premises are herein set forth to be designated and declared to constitute a special assessment district to defray that part of the cost of paving part of 19th street in the manner hereinbefore set forth, said district to be known and designated as the "Nineteenth Street Paving Special Assessment District in the City of Holland."

Resolved, That the profile, diagram, plans, and estimate of cost of the proposed paving of 19th street from the east line of Van Rensselaer avenue to the west line of Columbia avenue, be deposited in the office of the Clerk for public examination and that the Clerk be instructed to give notice thereof to be assessed therefor, by publishing notice of the same for two weeks and that Wednesday, the 21st day of June, A. D. 1922, at 7:30 o'clock p. m. be and is hereby determined as the time when the council will meet at the council rooms to consider any suggestions or objections that may be made to said assessment district, improvement, diagram, profile and estimate of cost.

MAYOR'S WELCOME TO THE MUNICIPAL LEAGUE

To Our Guests:—

Mr. Chairman and League of Michigan Municipalities:

In greeting you, I extend the hearty welcome of the Plymouth and the Middle West, for, like our founding fathers, who left the shores of the Netherlands in the 17th century, another band of Pilgrims found their way to this place in the 19th century, seeking a spot where they might enjoy religious liberty.

The advance of North America in occidental civilization as compared with South America, has been significantly accounted for by the motives of their respective pioneers. The immigrant to South America was actuated by greed for gold; while the Pilgrims came to North America inspired by lofty aspirations and a supreme faith in God.

It is not my purpose to give you the impression that you are on sacred soil, but to tell you, that you are in an upstanding American community whose foundations are laid deep in the faith.

A city beautifully located and whose site has been materially assisted in economical municipal operation. Accordingly our improvements are well in hand. Holland was laid out four square with the compass, our streets and sidewalks are uniform in width and beautifully shaded. Our parks are well kept, and we are in the midst of a paving program which will assure us of complete pavement within a few years. We have an unexcelled water supply, and for years have stood at the head of the cities of this state in health statistics. This city also is ahead of all the cities in the state in proportion of its home owners per population. This bespeaks satisfied employment as well as civic pride. We have never had a bank failure. Our citizens are proud to register their home address when they are out of town.

Our schools are well known throughout the state for their high standing and are under the direction of the leaders in educational work. Hope College stands at the head of the denominational colleges in this state.

Holland has been made the center of the national wide advertising campaigns of its large manufacturing institutions. Our municipal power plant has directed the attention of utility engineers everywhere to this city.

I have no doubt but there are many cities represented here this morning that have certain advantages of which they can boast. However, we all have our troubles, favored as we may be individually; and we have come together to discuss our problems and to become better acquainted with each other.

Our program this year will permit us to speak out in open meeting, and let us take advantage of our opportunity. Let me suggest that we are woefully negligent in our oversight of state legislation. We are sending a lot of incompetents to our state legislature, and are indeed reaping a whirlwind, which is leading to disaster.

It is time that we seriously examine our tax laws, endeavor to institute economical state government instead of new sources of taxation.

That we proceed to trench ourselves against the so-called "farm-bloc" whose increasing selfishness knows no bounds.

That we interest ourselves in our county roads and their improvements. If we must pay for these roads then it is time that the cities of this state have a more direct oversight in the expenditures of the state highway department.

That we have uniform local legislation which deals with street traffic. That we exercise control over the trucks that are freighting through our cities.

Last but not least, that we get actively interested in the reorganization of county government so that the cities will have a definite representation and voice in our county affairs.

So much for the serious side of this convention. You have met here to consider and deliberate and solve the problems of city government. This is a hard and tedious task, and while you are doing this, we want you to take time for relaxation, and we desire that you will accept of our hospitality freely and give us a little of your time for pleasure and entertainment.

You are in the heart of the playgrounds of the middle west, the foot of Macatawa bay comes within a few blocks from the place where we are meeting today, and the six mile ride which we hope to give you tomorrow on that palatial steamer, the "City of Grand Rapids" of the Graham & Morton line brings us to the harbor that leads into Lake Michigan. On the north side of the harbor we have beautiful Ottawa Beach, and then for miles and miles and miles we have one summer resort after another. On the south of the harbor we have Macatawa Park, and then for scores of miles again we have a succession of summer resorts that are famed throughout the United States.

Tonight at six-thirty we wish to take all of you on an automobile trip and show you the beauties of a sunset on Lake Michigan. Tomorrow noon at 12 the Rotary Club of this city will act as hosts to a luncheon at the Ladies Literary Club rooms to the delegates of this convention, and immediately after the luncheon we will march to the Graham & Morton dock, led by our city band for a ride down the bay and into Lake Michigan, returning here about 5 o'clock. Friday after we adjourn we will be glad to take as many of the delegates as desire and are interested, and show them our modern equipped municipal power plant.

During your stay in Holland we will do everything we can to please you and to entertain you. We are glad you are here, and in the name of this city, whom I have the honor to represent, I welcome you.

STATE FISH MAN
COMING HERE WITH
MOVING PICTURESHOLLAND ROD AND GUN CLUB WILL HAVE PROMINENT
SPEAKER THURSDAY

On Thursday night, June 15 Holland will have an expert fish man in the person of James Mc Gillivray here.

The Holland Rod and Gun club has secured this man to talk fish and birds to the members.

Mr. McGillivray comes with moving picture slides and as he is a fish man of authority his discourse will no doubt be very interesting for he will explain many of the habits of fish and game that are new to the fishermen of this city.

The lecture will be given in the city hall in the court room, and not alone are the members invited but anyone who is interested in fish and game is welcome.

A letter received by Mr. Siersma will demonstrate that the Holland organization is endeavoring in every way to co-operate with the state game and fish department.

The letter follows:

Mr. A. Siersma,
Sec'y Holland Game and Fish
Protective Association.
Holland, Michigan.

Dear Sir:—

I am in receipt today of your telegram asking me to confirm the evening of June 15th. It is my purpose to be there several hours in advance of your meeting bringing with me two motion picture films, "Bill King and the Bird King," and "From Roe to Creel."

It pleases me that you have made arrangements for this date so that I can be with you for I felt rather guilty over putting off your first requirements. I should have explained more explicitly the matter of accepting priority confirmations of engagements.

With best wishes for a good meeting, I am,

Sincerely yours,

James Mc Gillivray.

FILLMORE AND LAKE TOWN ROAD TO GET
TOP DRESSING

Contracts have been let for road building in Allegan county this summer which presage a marked betterment of transportation facilities for farmers and tourists in this section of the state. According to the estimate of County Engineer E. E. Sours, $110,000 will be expended within the next few months not including construction work to be done by the state. The Allegan-Monterey road is undergoing four miles of repairs, trunk line No. 89 is to be built over a stretch of eight miles between Allegan and Fennville and the Allegan-Holland road will be completed with the exception of two or three miles.

Six miles of the town line road running between Fillmore and Laketown townships will be given a top course of gravel. Eight miles of the gravel is being put on the Bee line road between Dunningville and Hamilton. When completed this stretch will run past Hamilton about three miles. This makes the road to Holland good except between Allegan and Mill Grove.

TWO COLLEGES
SEND FORTH SOME LOCAL GRADUATES

Several graduates from this vicinity are to get their sheepskins within a few days.

M. A. C. at Lansing graduates Daniel DenUyl, Holland; Ruthford Henry Westveld, Fennville; from the Forestry department; Richard S. Boonsstra, Zeeland, from the Engineering department, while Miss Helen Irma Takken of Saugatuck will receive a diploma from the Home Economics Department of that institution.

The Western State Normal of Kalamazoo graduates the following from Holland and vicinity: Verna Althuis, Irene Dangremont, Holland; Dorothy Bolt, Elizabeth Byl, Louis Moll, Edwin Oakes, Gertrude Rydorp, Ruth Huizenga, Marguerite Zwemer, all of Grand Haven; Mabel Kurtz, Frances Shea, Eithel Slentz, of Allegan; Katherine Hoben of Coopersville; Bernice Kammeraad, of West Olive, and Helen Kampus, Nellie Veneklasen of Zeeland.

The Eagle-Ottawa Leather Company at Grand Haven are having plans and specifications draw for ten houses and contractors will be invited to bid when the plans are completed which will take about a week. The houses will be of the best possible construction with all modern conveniences. It is the desire of the company to have their employees comfortably housed as a comfortable home makes efficiency in the plant.

Piano Recital

Miss Lalla E. McKay announces a public piano recital given by 25 of her music students to be held in the Methodist Episcopal church, Friday evening June 30th, assisted by Master Paul Van Peenen, soprano soloist of St. Luke's Episcopal church, Kalamazoo, Mich., and Louis P. McKay, organist of the First church of Christ Scientist, Kalamazoo, Mich. Further announcements will be made later. adv.

State Farms Association,
Kalamazoo, Mich.

Notier Van Ark Clothing Co. in today's issue is announcing the fact that they are going to launch an anniversary sale beginning Friday of this week, June 16. This sale is being conducted in honor of their 20th anniversary, and merchandise will be sold at an unusually low price.

The fir of DeVries & Dornbos has some more interesting things to say about the great slash in phonographs. What this is will be found on page 3 of this issue.

A case in Allegan county which is creating considerable comment was brought by John Barnhise against Velma Matterson. It is alleged that in 1915 the latter agreed to pay Barnhise to work on a farm at a wage; also, that in event of her death, Barnhise would get the farm. He has remained upon the farm since though various differences arose, during which time he brot the farm from a rundown condition to a productive state. Barnhise brought suit for back wages to the amount of $17,000, and the jury brought in a judgment of $1,500.

Holland Auto - Type Engine

Holland Auto-Type 4 H. P. Engine

Any work that you have for an engine to do can be done easier, cheaper, quicker, and better with a Holland Auto-Type Light Weight Engine.

Ordinary engines, owing to their heavy weight, bulky size, are suitable only for comparatively few uses. The number of farm jobs they can handle are too limited, too many jobs for the farmer to do are left undone that an engine of the right kind can do cheaper and better.

The Holland Auto-Type Engine is an all purpose engine. It fills the present day demand for light weight, compactness, flexible power, perfect balance, simplicity in construction and economy in operation.
