John Haringsma Is Killed in Action

Wire States Soldier
Was in North Atlantic
Area; Details Lacking

A wire received Tuesday by Mr. and Mrs. John Haringsma of Montello park revealed the death of their son, Pfc. John Raymond Haringsma, who was killed in action May 29 in the North American area.

Although the family had not been informed where Pfc. Haringsma was stationed, there had been indications that he was in the Aleutians or near Alaska. He was killed the day after his 27th birthday anniversary.

The wire signed by Adjutant General Ulio of Washington said: "The secretary of war desires that I tender his deepest sympathy to you in the loss of your son, Pfc. John R. Haringsma. Reports just received state that he was killed in action on the 29th of May in the North American area. Letter follows."

This brings to 14 the list of war dead in World War II from this area. News of the death of Sgt. Elmer Driesenga, 23, May 7, in the North African area was received here less than two weeks ago.

Pfc. Haringsma was born in Robinson township on May 28, 1916, and was graduated from Decatur high school. He volunteered for army service Sept. 8, 1942, and received his basic training in the anti-tank division at Camp Robinson, Ark. From there he was sent to Camp Butler, N.C., and then to Fort Ord, Calif. He left California some time before Easter.

Surviving besides the parents are five sisters, Mrs. Vaughn Harmon of Holland and Lois, Ruth, Doris and Isla Jean; two brothers, Pfc. Richard Haringsma who is now in Australia, and Henry Haringsma at home; and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Grissen, Sr., of route 6.

Letters sent home, dated April 23 and 25, mentioned that he had attended religious services on board ship on Good Friday and Easter. Two other letters were dated May 7 and 9. One contained an original poem of four verses of four lines each written to his mother for Mother's day.

His brother, Pfc. Richard V. Haringsma, entered service in October of 1940 along with other members of the national guard of the city. He has seen action in New Guinea and is now resting in Australia. Pfc. Vaughn Harmon, a brother-in-law, is with the air corps at Lowry field in Denver, Colo.

Freak Accident Slows Traffic

For one hour and 15 minutes on Tuesday, a large trailer loaded with about 15,000 pounds of paper tied up traffic on Holland's busiest intersection during the busiest time of the day.

The northbound trailer became detached from the tractor at River Ave. and Eighth St. about 11:30 a.m. when a pin broke in the fifth wheel. The trailer came to rest just off center of the intersection near the Model Drug store in such a position that cars could drive around it.

Police officers were kept busy directing traffic during the noon rush. Several wreckers attempted to raise the front end of the trailer before one succeeded. The truck finally was moved at 12:45 p.m. There was no apparent damage to the trailer or to the pavement. The tractor and trailer were property of the Bell Motor Freight, Inc., of Kalamazoo. The driver said he had never been involved in an accident like that before, nor for that matter had ever heard of one.

Five-Cent an Hour Pay Increase for Employees of City

Hundred Are Affected;
11 Thousand Dollars
Added to Wage Cost

WORKS BOARD EMPLOYEES
RECEIVE TEN-CENT RAISE

Mayor Henry Geerlings said today common council has taken no action on the 10-cent-an-hour pay raise which he said the board of public works authorized for its employees at a recent meeting. Council Wednesday night approved a five-cent pay increase for other full-time city employees.

Considerable difference of opinion was being expressed locally today, many contending that all city departments should be treated alike and others saying that, due to highly technical and specialized labor, the utilities employees should be given extra consideration.

Joe Geerds, a member of the board of public works confirmed today that the increase in that department was authorized at a meeting June 1 to meet competition arising in other work.

Common council at its regular meeting Wednesday night voted to increase the wages of regular full-time city employees at a rate not to exceed five cents an hour or its equivalent.

Although the recommendation made no distinction, it was pointed out after the meeting that the five-cent increase did not include the board of public works employees.

City Clerk Oscar Peterson explained today that the increase will affect approximately 100 city employees including 14 in the police department, seven fire truck drivers, 10 in the park department, 10 in the cemetery department, eight city hall employees, 30 in the street department and 22 hospital employees.

The pay increase which will be retroactive to May 31 will result in approximately $220 extra per week per employee. Higher rates, according to Peterson, range from 60 to 90 cents.

It was estimated that the increase will add $11,000 per year to the city's pay roll.

Council voted the increases after hearing a recommendation which had been prepared and signed by the ways and means committee and the public safety commission.

The committee and commission action followed an opinion two weeks ago in which City Attorney Vernon D. Ten Cate said adjustments in wages for city employees need not be approved by federal agencies.

The recommendation, signed by Ald. Ben Steffens, L. Philip Van Hartsveldt, George H. Damson, Gordon Streur, Bernard De Pree and Herman Mooi, pointed out that the increases were advocated to "correct certain inequities and inequalities" and added:

"We further recommend that department heads be instructed to make a careful survey to determine the less essential activities that might be dispensed with for the duration. In order to conserve manpower, department heads were requested to drastically curtail or eliminate such activities if in their judgment it is desirable to do so."

"It is further recommended that hereafter no wage or salary adjustments whatever be considered unless they are presented in time to be considered and acted upon before the adoption of the annual appropriation bill each March."

Miss Smith, Near Retirement, Dies

Miss Minnie K. Smith, principal of Junior high school here for 29 years and connected with the teaching profession for 48 years, died Sunday at 5 a.m. in Holland hospital where she had been taken Friday morning following a cerebral hemorrhage.

Miss Smith, who announced her resignation, effective this week, as principal of the local school late last month, was guest of honor at a party given Thursday night by teachers of the school and was in excellent spirits at the time. She was stricken when preparing for school the following morning and was taken to the hospital where her condition was pronounced critical.

Dr. E. E. Fell, superintendent of public schools, stated that Miss Smith was respected and loved by everyone in the teaching force and especially by the young people going through school.

"She was a real inspiration to the youth of the city," he added. She was regarded as a "community mother," taking a great interest in her students and their parents. At the time her retirement was announced last month, Miss Smith said she once supervised the fathers and mothers of most of the children now in junior and senior high school. Each boy and girl with whom she came in contact seemed to be a special case to which she gave her most thoughtful consideration.

Miss Smith was born in Plainwell and received her early education in Allegan. She received her A.B. teaching degree at Western Michigan college in Kalamazoo and also took graduate work and specialized training at Michigan College of Education at Ypsilanti, Central Michigan college at Mt. Pleasant and the University of Wisconsin.

Cites Threat of Raid; Fourteen Violations Are Listed by Police

An unexpected visit from Capt. Donald S. Leonard, state director of civilian defense, Tuesday night gave added significance to Holland's part in the practice blackout for 19 counties in this area of Michigan.

Capt. Leonard, who viewed Holland from the air in a plane piloted by Art Peters of the civil air patrol, met with civilian defense staff members and a number of senior air raid wardens in the control center following the all-clear signal and enthusiastically complimented the leaders and the city in general for its fine showing.

He said only a few lights were noticeable from the air and that taken as a whole, the practice blackout in this section was "extremely effective." He said Holland could be recognized as a city at the altitude the plane was flying but that no objectives could be recognized and that had the plane been flying at the altitude an enemy plane would take it probably would have missed Holland entirely.

Capt. Leonard explained the effectiveness of the new signal system with the blue and red periods which was used for the first time during this practice blackout. He said the blue period helps remarkably to eliminate sky glow and said Washington was watching reports of Michigan's tests with interest.

"This blackout served to confirm our judgment that the extinguishing of street lights during the blue period is the final answer to the problem of reducing sky glow," he declared.

Capt. Leonard observed the blackout from a civil air patrol plane over Holland, and reported that there was no tell-tale glow to be detected from Grand Rapids, Grand Haven, Zeeland, South Haven, Allegan, or other cities in that area participating in the blackout.

He also warned against the danger of a decline in interest of OCD and pointed out that Michigan is just as near Nazi-occupied Norway as New York and Boston. He said Hitler would have more to gain in the way of bolstering morale in Germany from an attack on Michigan than an attack on the east coast.

Most of Holland's defense industries with night shifts were permitted to continue regular operations, but all unnecessary lights were extinguished.

Two official planes of the civil air patrol made observation flights over the city. One plane was piloted by Paul Vandenberg with CAP Commander Charles R. Sligh and Lieut. Clyde Geerlings as observers. In the other plane were Pilot Art Peters and Capt. Leonard. The latter left early this morning for Detroit after being a guest of Peters overnight.

Two other planes piloted by students of the War Training Service, sponsored by Hope college and the Holland Air Training service, also flew over the city.

Defense Commander Alfred C. Joldersma and Mayor Henry Geerlings today enthusiastically commended local residents for their cooperation in the blackout.

Comparatively few — only 14 — violations were reported, but police today were preparing to call in the alleged offenders for warnings or possible prosecution. Among those named by police today were: Arnold Essenburg, who allegedly cursed a warden.

Main Auto Co. night too bright, second offense.

Buick Garage and Pure Oil Service Station, neon clocks.

Holland Electric Supply, light in rear.

John Veldner, charged with passing post headquarters with lights on and horn blowing.

D-X Service station, 32nd St. and Michigan Ave.; Garment Co. at 13th and Van Raalte; Selles paint store, and Grand Rapids Motor Express office, all night lights.

Stam's Pure Oil Service station at Pine and 17th St., neon sign inside station.

Tulip city cab, driving too fast during blue period.

Fred Vanden Beldt on 34th St., refused to turn off lights on orders by warden.

During the blackout Commander Joldersma, accompanied by Mayor Geerlings, E. V. Hartman, Andrew Hyma and a Sentinel reporter, made a tour of the city and found the air raid wardens "on their toes." Joldersma and Hartman, who is in charge of auxiliary police, were particularly pleased with the "tough" attitude of many wardens indicating that not much got past them, some resorting to whistling and yelling.

Baccalaureate Service Attracts Large Crowd

"Life has a definite divine meaning and purpose and this purpose must be realized through the divine presence of God." Dr. H. William Pyle of the Overisel Reformed church told the 258 members of the Holland high school graduating class, who with parents and friends, school faculty and officials, filled Hope Memorial chapel for the annual baccalaureate exercises Sunday afternoon.

Speaking on the subject "Realizing the Meaning of Life," Dr. Pyle told the young people that each has a work to do, each has a place, a duty, a task, intimating that many will find theirs in the armed forces of the country. To find the exact meaning of life it is necessary to make some definite act of dedication, he said. All one's talents, natural gifts and resources must be used, for diligence and industry are needed in the accomplishment of any goal.

Addressing the class directly, Dr. Pyle assured the group that life has meaning and that God has a purpose which each must discover for himself. "There is no limit to what you can accomplish when you have dedicated yourselves to that purpose," he said. "Follow the highest goal and you will realize the meaning of life."

Also participating in the service was Dr. John R. Mulder, president of Western Theological seminary, who conducted the devotions. He used as a Scripture reading, John 8, verses 21-30. In his prayer Dr. Mulder paid tribute to Miss Minnie K. Smith, for many years principal of Holland Junior high school, whose death occurred early Sunday morning on the eve of her retirement.

Music was furnished by the Holland high school a cappella choir under the direction of Miss Trixie Moore, many of the seniors taking their regular places in the group. Mrs. W. Curtis Snow of the Hope college faculty presided at the organ and played the processional, "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Members of the school board, Superintendent of Schools E. E. Fell, and Principal J. J. Riemer, were seated on the rostrum and members of the school faculty were seated in the choir loft behind the choir. Leading the senior processional as ushers were Dale Drew and Jack Fitzpatrick of the junior class.

County Defense Drill Is Success

Cooperation Reported Nearly Perfect Over Ottawa and Allegan

The practice blackout in Ottawa and Allegan counties Tuesday night proved completely successful, according to reports from civilian defense officials in the two counties. The local counties were two of a group of 19 in this part of the state participating in the blackout.

Blake Perrigo, commander of Allegan city, said residents cooperated 100 per cent and that there was not a single violation either in the residential or commercial districts. The only possible criticism, according to Perrigo and Edwin Payne, county commander, was that the signals were inaudible in some districts and a number of residents had to be advised of the blackout.

Perrigo said Allegan officials mobilized on the first blue signal and carried out their orders effectively.

Sheriff William Boeve, Ottawa county civilian defense commander, reported only a few minor violations of blackout rules reported to the control center in Grand Haven.

One was a night light in an east end store and the others were small lights left burning in homes where residents had left for the evening. Sheriff Boeve was on the highway near Coopersville during the alarm and stated that most of the farmers and village residents abided by the orders. Only a few farmers who apparently did not read the papers left lights burning and, when asked to extinguish them, said they did not know a blackout was in operation.

Officials of the civilian defense organization, Grand Haven, witnessed the blackout from the fire station. City Commander Ivaux Millar reported the 600 men involved in the organization worked with great efficiency and stated they reported the city a total blackout except for some defense industries and navigation and other essential lights.

John Vander Zwaag, Spring Lake commander, reported a 100 per cent blackout in that village with no violations. In Grand Haven all reports were in the control center shortly after 10 p.m. showing the efficiency of the organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Israel, 132 East Eighth St., have received a letter from their son, Pvt. Henry Israel, stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., in which he tells of a rescue of one of his buddies.

The letter in part reads: "Last Saturday night I had to drive in a convoy of 80 jeeps. We took our boys out for a picnic and the next day all the fellows went swimming. I had a buddy from another company lend me a suit. Boy, it was funny swimming around a lake. It was just like a one day furlough. We had a lot of boys who couldn't swim so I tried to teach one of my pals. He got out a little bit too far and got in water about seven feet deep. I quickly went over to help him along.

"He was paddling for all he was worth and started to go down. I got him around the waist. He was heavy, about 190 pounds, short and about 33 years old. He pushed me down under and I got one foot struck in the mud and started to get a cramp at the same time. After struggling around I finally got my foot out and pulled my buddy to shore. I never want to be in a situation like that again. We were both praying at the time. It's a good thing I didn't get excited or the case would have been different."

Pvt. Israel was drafted Nov. 16, 1942 and was stationed at Camp Robinson, Ark., before his transfer to Fort Benning. He was born in Grand Rapids, Sept. 22, 1922 and attended Holland High school.

Mayor Appoints Zuidema Mileage Executive Here

Holland Cooperating In Cutting Gas Usage For City-Owned Cars

Mayor Henry Geerlings Friday appointed City Engineer Jacob Zuidema as local mileage administrator whose duty it will be to approve the estimated mileage for municipally owned cars before allotments are issued by the local rationing board.

The appointment is in keeping with a request from C. F. Van Blankensteyn, state mileage administrator, who is asking a 40 per cent reduction in municipally-owned car mileage to conserve gas, rubber and vehicles.

Municipally-owned cars in Holland include two cars for the engineering department, four for the board of public works, three police cars and three motorcycles, one car for the park board and one for the health officer. Aside from these, gasoline also is issued in the operation of numerous municipally-owned engines such as snow plows, park and cemetery mowers, air compressors and pumps. No privately-owned cars are serviced from the city pumps, Mr. Zuidema said.

The city engineer said he doubted that Holland could approach the 40 per cent slash since the city has always been conservative in the use of gasoline. He said, however, that there has been a considerable saving of gasoline among city-owned cars since last year and he said a still greater decrease is anticipated.

The state-wide program, carried on in more than 200 communities in an effort to accomplish a 40 per cent reduction in municipally-owned car mileage, has been described by OPA leaders as one of the most effective in the nation.

State government car mileage for privately-owned vehicles was reduced 1,641,844 miles for the first three months of 1943 at a saving of $82,092 over the cost of operations for 1942. The reduction represents more than a 35 per cent cut in mileage, while the record for state-owned cars is somewhat better, Van Blankensteyn said.

Efforts so far have been confined to state departments, each of which operates its automobiles independently. The next step, however, will be to provide an over-all travel bureau which will consolidate inter-department car use and effect even greater mileage conservation, Van Blankensteyn explained.

Cite OPA Rules on House Purchase

It is possible, under certain conditions, for the new purchaser of a rented home to obtain possession without making a one-third down payment and without waiting for 90 days, according to a statement made today by Laurence D. Smith, district rent control attorney.

Two of the most common cases in which the one-third down payment and the 90-day waiting period can be dispensed with are where a special hardship would result to the purchaser or where there are equivalent rental units available into which the tenant could move without loss or hardship.

The OPA rent office has found that many tenants feel that they may retain possession of a house for 90 days after it is sold. This is an erroneous opinion. The rent office may, in certain cases, allow the purchaser to evict the tenant under Michigan law with only the standard 30-day notice.

Persons who have recently purchased rented houses or who expect to do so within the next few months may obtain further information from Mr. Smith who is in Holland at the rationing office each Tuesday from 2 to 4:30 p.m. to explain the regulations and to receive complaints of violations.

ETHIOPIA REVENGE

Ethiopia is eager to have a part in the invasion of Italy. This desire appears to be more than a mere political gesture on the part of the government; the people themselves are giving evidence of a burning eagerness to kill Italians on Italy's home soil. They are training for this job, and volunteers are flocking spontaneously to the Ethiopian colors for this mission of revenge.

Revenge is not a pretty thing, but if ever it was justified it is in this case. For long before the present global war began, even before the prelude to it was staged in Spain, Mussolini's pitiless hordes descended on Ethiopia like a wolf on the fold and slaughtered the people of that country without mercy.

"Slaughter" is the only word for it. Italy at that time was not the impotent vestige of a great power that it is today. It was the mighty empire that had at its command the weapons and resources of a major European nation. Ethiopia was a relatively helpless African kingdom, with a primitive army, without a navy, with few resources, with almost nothing that could make it in the slightest degree a match for Italy. That was like the attack of a man with a machine gun on one armed only with bow and arrows.

And the slaughter was made even more ruthless than would have been necessary. The world will almost certainly never forget the obscene public exultation that Mussolini's own son engaged in after he had flown over helpless Ethiopians in his bomber and had rained death and destruction down on people who had nothing more potent than rifles with which to defend themselves. Italy's attack on Ethiopia, and especially the ruthlessness with which that attack was carried out, is one of the blackest chapters in modern history.

No wonder the Ethiopians want a chance to get an eye for an eye and tooth for a tooth. Those young Ethiopians who are in training now for invasion saw their own brothers and sisters and fathers and mothers mowed down by such people as Mussolini's son; they can hardly be blamed for wanting to kill Italians with their own hands.

The pity in all such orgies of revenge is that usually the wrong people get hurt. If Ethiopians could be sure to take the blood of Mussolini and his warlike sons and Count Ciano, his son-in-law, and of other bloody criminals like that, the world might look on with satisfaction. But the Italian people, most of them, are as gentle and humane as people anywhere.
And it is they who will feel the dagger in their hearts. The Ethiopian desire for personal revenge is understandable, but its wisdom is questionable.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

It is said that youthful offenders, aged 16 to 21, account for somewhat more than one third, about 36 per cent, of admissions to the prisons, reformatories, and institutions for defective delinquents in New York State. You may rest assured that these youthful offenders did not come out of our churches or Sunday schools.

In view of these facts every family ought to be found regularly in the Sunday school and church services; why not accept the invitation and go to church next Sunday?

Van Slooten Hear From Son, Italian Prisoner

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Van Slooten, route 4, have received a message from their son, Sgt. Louis Van Slooten, who is a prisoner of the Italians. This is the first word they have received from him since his capture Dec. 10, 1942.

The message, which was sent through the efforts of the Catholic Vatican, was dated April 18, 1943.
It read, "Dear greetings, my love and best wishes to all."

John Describes True Christians
1 John 2:1-6; 1 John 3:13-18; 1 John 4:15-17

By Henry Geerlings
A spiritual father is tenderly counseling people whom he has known for a long time. He is about to sound a warning, "sin not," because those Christians lived in an evil environment. The writer of the epistle recognizes that sin is an individual act. He does not say "if we sin," but "if anyone sins."

It seems that John had two pictures in mind as he described the Christian life, the one, the ideal Christian, the other, the actual believer. Think of an artist standing before a great picture which he is painting. He has two visions of it—one on the canvas and the other in his own mind. That on the canvas is imperfect. The outlines are there, but the coloring is not harmonious. The expression is feeble, the life is wanting, and the subduing power which belongs to a great work has yet to be created. Not so the vision in the mind. That is perfect. The forms are finished, every part is complete in itself, and right in its relation to every other. The colors mingle and agree like notes in sweetest music, and the picture as a whole is instinct with life, and clothed with beauty and grandeur.

Now suppose the artist were to sit down to write a description of this picture. Looking at the canvas, he would speak of the imperfections of the work, but gazing upon the vision within, he would write of its completeness, power and majesty. This is just what the writer of this epistle did.
Looking upon the actual Christian he spoke of sin, confession, pardon and spiritual warfare, but while doing this the vision of the ideal hovered before his mind and he wrote that he cannot sin.

Now sin in the believer has two aspects, that of direct and positive violation of known duty, and that of coming short of the glory of God. When the apostle says that he writes to his little children in the faith, that they may not sin, it is clear that it is to the first of these that he refers. There is provision in the redemption of our Lord, in virtue of which we are delivered from all known sin, and kept by the power of God, through faith, from things which one did without remorse or shame.
But at the close of the day in which we have realized that keeping power to the utmost, who is there of us having come short of the glory of God? We might have been more earnest and devoted and singlehearted. And in all this we need the forgiveness of our heavenly Father.

Through the years the church has had to face opposition. We usually regard this opposition as consisting solely of mistreatment and persecution. However, there are other forms of opposition, such as secularism, which ignores the fact that life must have spiritual foundations; so-called Christians who see in Christ only a mere man; false teachers, working like termites within the church; indifference on the part of believers who hold to the forms of religion but deny its content.
Against all opposition the true Christian must beware.

When we sin and desire to be forgiven we have an advocate with the Father. The language is figurative. It reminds us of an intercessor who pleads for some petitioner, and gets some indulgence for him which the grantor would not have conceded but for the influence thus brought upon him to change his previous decision.
Christ intercedes for us. He knows us. He is sympathetic. He never wearies. He is our advocate continually.

In this respect He presents a contrast to the Levitical priesthood. That priesthood passed from one to another as death entered.
But Christ abideth forever. There is no interruption. Unbroken it prolongs itself from age to age, unchanging in its character. For He is made a priest not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an endless life. It is not then on the fact of a past atonement, but on the power of a living Savior, that our salvation depends. That Christ died would be of no use to us, if He were not alive now. Other men death removes from their intercourse with the world. It brings their direct influence and agency to an end. But death did not so affect Him. It produced no change in His activity, except to widen its range and intensify its energy.
Christ's plea is his propitiation.
It is true our sins cry out for vengeance, but Christ's blood cries still louder for mercy. It speaks more mightily than the blood of Abel. His blood pleads for us, in spite of all our sins, till it wins its desired result—a result that not only includes pardon but all that His sacrifice was offered to secure.

Pacifism Is Attacked in Dr.
Bouma's Flag Day Speech

In speaking on "All-Out War as a Christian Duty," Dr. Clarence Bouma, professor of Calvinseminary of Grand Rapids, lashed at pacifism and isolationism in addressing nearly a thousand persons at Riverview park Monday night following the Flag day parade.

"The pacifist says he will not put out his hand to protect his country," Dr. Bouma said. "It is true the Bible says we must keep peace with all peoples, but it is our solemn duty to ward off attack. When we fail in this we are not Christian but pagan. In this international situation in which the aggressor seeks to destroy, the only thing we can do is rise up and defend ourselves. No war was ever fought in a more diabolical way and we would be contemptible if we would not stand up and give our life blood if we must."

"The isolationist is another problem," Dr. Bouma continued.
He quoted one congressman as saying when war was imminent, "I believe in America and the rest of the world can go to Hell." Dr.
Bouma added the significant and thoughtful Biblical question, "Am I my brother's keeper?"

Dr. Bouma prefaced his talk by appealing to Christian patriotism, saying Christianity is the only hope of the world, and America stands for liberty.
"Get down to an all-out war right here in peaceful, quiet, lovely Holland! I'm not a war mong-er. No man who is a Christian would set one man against another, but unless we in America do our part in the war, we are neither Americans or good Christians. Our patriotism today can be written in the blood of our boys at Guadalcanal, New Guinea, Tunisia and in the ships that went down. We are called to an all-out war on the home front and a determination to see this thing through."

"For the greatest lesson in the war, read Hitler's 'Mein Kampf' and you will realize that Hitler has become the embodiment and representative of a philosophy of life in the minds, the peace, the homes and the religion of his subjects. He says, 'You, Germany, shall be my slaves, and we will make slaves of all people who have no German blood.' We in America must fight this war not with bitterness or malice, but to ward off the attack of a diabolical aggressor."

"We are the most powerful nation economically and politically in the world—even England agrees on that. But whenever God chooses a leader, it is not for that person to say he is better than any other. Election means responsibility and predestination means 'how great will be my judgment if I don't measure up.'"

"I want to pay tribute to the president of the United States, not as a Democrat or a Republican because in this solemn hour there should be no party lines, but I thank almighty God we have a man of courage who did not back down when the pacifists called out in congress and 75 per cent of us did not know what was happening. I'd like to see a president of any other party do a better job!"

"I believe it is a disgrace when thousands and thousands of working men and their employers fail to adjust their differences and halt war production. I say John L. Lewis is a menace to this country. I also have no use for the man who uses the very exigencies of war for his own benefit and holds down the wages of his men.
And I have no use for men who rise up and strike after promising cooperation to the president of the United States. They are not loyal patriots and I hope that sort of thing never happens in western Michigan, either in Grand Rapids or Holland."

There are some people in western Michigan who criticize the president and have not invested

SUNDAY DINNER
Suggestions

EVEN though it is necessary to serve the same menu over and over, it can be given new guises by combination with different vegetables, noodles or potatoes.

For instance, a spaghetti sauce made with meat balls or chopped cubed steak, is a hearty and usually popular dish. Ground pork mixed with cooked rice and seasoned with onion makes delicious patties. Beef brisket cut into squares and combined with lima beans, onions and uncooked rice to make a thick stew is a filling and flavorful dish. Lamb in a curry sauce served with noodles makes a dish which will bring forth requests to "Let's have that again."

When planning your Sunday dinner this week, you will find fresh rhubarb, asparagus, beans, carrots, mushrooms, onions, peas, spinach and tomatoes the easiest on your budget, according to the Food Service for Homemakers.

save you time and worry:

Vande Water and Van Lente Given High Scout Honor

Silver Beaver Awards Presented to Holland Scouters at Camporee

Silver Beaver awards, the highest honor which the local scout council may confer, were presented to William H. Vande Water and Elmore Van Lente at a court of honor Friday night in connection with the Boy Scout camporee being held Friday and today at the area at 28th St., near the water storage tank.

Numerous other awards also were presented to scouts and scouters and special recognition was given in a number of cases. Four scouts were given Eagle awards and one scoutmaster was given the Scoutmaster's key.

F. H. Benjamin served as chairman of the court of honor. The opening ceremony was in charge of the Virginia park troop of which Dr. J. E. Cook is scoutmaster. Donald E. Kyger, scout executive of the Ottawa-Allegan council, brought a special message. Dr. G. Van Zyl made the Eagle scout presentation.

Special awards were announced by Vande Water and the Silver Beaver presentations were made by Charles R. Sligh, Jr., council president.

Both Vande Water and Van Lente who received the Silver Beaver award have been very active in scouting. Vande Water served as scoutmaster of troop 21, Zeeland, from 1928 to 1933 and served as assistant district commissioner from 1934 to 1942. He was a member of the pack committee of pack 6 in 1939 and was named scout commissioner of the Ottawa-Allegan council this year. He was given a 15-year veteran award in 1942 and a scoutmaster's key in 1940.

Vande Water served as a member of the committee which selected Camp Ottawa as the council's summer camp and served as camp director several years with outstanding success. He assisted in numerous special scouting activities such as camporees, training courses, salvage collection, O.C.D. and the like. He has been active in affairs in Trinity Reformed church and in many civic and community affairs of Holland. He served as a member of the committee for Memorial day observance for many years and has directed Boy Scout participation in Tulip Time and Flag day parades. He is employed in the Holland office of the United States employment service and is a newspaper correspondent.

Van Lente, active in scouting activities in First Reformed church for many years, started his career as a scout in 1923. He served as assistant scoutmaster from 1933 to 1935 at which time he became scoutmaster, a position he still holds. He was recognized as a ten-year veteran in 1941 and now has 12 years of service. He served as assistant scoutmaster of the Ottawa-Allegan national jamboree troop at Washington, D. C. in 1937. He was presented with a scoutmaster's key in 1940.

Van Lente has been very active in the camping program and has conducted troop camps for his own troop over a period of years. His troop has always participated in all council and district activities and he has trained a staff of assistant scoutmasters from the scouts of his troop who together with the junior leaders carry out the details of the troop program.

Many boys now grown to manhood have been influenced by Van Lente's training. Fifty-three men now serving in the armed forces have been members of troop 6 of First Reformed church which gives active support to the scouting program.

Albert A. Walters, scoutmaster of the Third church troop, was awarded a Scoutmaster's key this year. Walters who completed all necessary training to qualify for this award began his scouting career as a Lone scout from 1922 to 1924. He served as assistant scoutmaster in 1934 and 1935 of troop 10 and as scoutmaster of troop 7 from 1935 to the present. He served as neighborhood commissioner in 1942 and 1943 and was given recognition as a 10-year veteran in 1941. He also served as American Red Cross first aid instructor.

Eagle awards were given to Cornelius Vanderkuy, Jr., of troop 12, Robert Post of troop 7, Jack Barendse of troop 7 and Chester LaShagway, scoutmaster. Vanderkuy who received his tenderfoot award in 1937 is now serving as junior assistant scoutmaster for troop 12. He was a scout in Pontiac and joined the Trinity troop in November, 1941. He attended the Pontiac council summer camp and worked at Camp Ottawa during the past summer. Post who became a tenderfoot scout in 1941 was a cub for one year in pack 6 and is now a member of troop 7, Third church. He spent the summer of 1940 in camp and several weeks each summer during 1941 and 1942 where he passed his junior Red Cross life saving test. Barendse who also became a tenderfoot in 1941 attended Camp Ottawa during the summers of 1941 and 1942, and earned the Junior Red Cross Life Saving award in 1942. He also is a member of Third church troop.

LaShagway served as assistant scoutmaster and scoutmaster from 1927 to 1936 when he became field commissioner for sea scouting. He received his scoutmaster's training award in 1940 and served as officer in charge of Sea scouts on the coast guard cutter Escanaba in 1936. He has 31 merit badges.

Few in Schools Of Holland Quit to Accept War Jobs

But Many Have Part Time Work; Others Aid During Summer

In contrast to a trend over Michigan, comparatively few students in Holland's high schools have quit school to accept war-related jobs, but many have part-time employment of 132 local business establishments and even more will have summer employment.

The number of students who left the public junior and senior high schools to obtain full-time employment has been surprisingly small, Dr. E. E. Fell, public school superintendent, said. The rate of increase over other years has been only 2 or 3 per cent.

Rapidly increasing, however, has been the number taking part-time employment, J. J. Riemersma, Holland high school principal, stated that a recent survey in the school disclosed that more than 200 of the high school's approximately 600 students were part-time employees.

Only two or three students of the Christian schools left during the past year to work in war plants or elsewhere, Dr. Walter De Kock, Holland Christian school superintendent, revealed. This was no more than in other years. Almost all the seniors and a large number of the juniors have summer jobs, he added.

Approximately 50,000 Michigan public and parochial school children under 17 years of age will have quit school to take war jobs by the end of the present term, it was pointed out in Lansing by Howard C. Prine, child accounting director of the state department of public instruction.

Nearly 40,000 have dropped their studies since last September, Prine said, an average of 5,000 a month since the opening of the 1942-43 school year. On the basis of this fact, he estimated that "drop-outs" for May and June will average the same, making a grand total of 50,000.

"These figures," he stated, "do not include the many thousands of students who are working part time or who will secure vacation jobs during the summer."

"Although some of these students may return to school to finish their educations, we hold little hope that the majority will ever see the inside of a school room again," he observed.

According to Prine, Michigan's public and parochial school membership suffered its first decrease in history last year when more than 13,000 left to take their places in a money making world. Prior to this time, school membership had been steadily increasing.

Prine explained the increases as being due to the additional transportation facilities provided students living in remote rural areas and to the fact that six years ago the state began paying tuition for high school students living in districts without high schools.

However, he said school membership next year will not suffer as severely as indicated by the number leaving school because during the past year "an undetermined but substantial number" has come to Michigan with parents seeking war jobs.

Prine described the average student quitting school as one who received low grades or was troubled by financial difficulties at home.

Oil Well Produces 30 Bbl. Per Hour

The Regal Dutch Petroleum Co. of Holland, after several weeks of experimenting, has developed a gusher out of what seemed a dry hole. The well, located on the Bosch-Walters farms in Holland township in the center of the NW 1/4 of the SE 1/4 of section 36, is flowing 30 barrels an hour after acid from the Traverse formation.

The Bosch-Walters well was drilled in April 1947 with a slight show of oil. Geologically, the well appeared favorable but the formation was too tight to carry commercial production. It was acidized April 16 without any improvement.

On May 24 the hole was given a shot of 20 quarts of nitro glycerine, an increase in oil resulting. The pipe was then pulled, the hole reamed and the pipe reset directly above the producing horizon. On June 4 the pipe was cemented in place and on June 11 it was again given acid and completed the following day as a gusher. This well now appears to be the best well drilled in this new field.

Awards and Memorial Presented at Graduation

"Onward Forever With God as Our Guide," the motto of the senior class of Holland Christian high school, was the predominate theme of the commencement exercises held Tuesday night in Central Avenue Christian Reformed church.

"We have had successes and failures in our four years of high school," said Paul Cook in his valedictory, "and we have profited by them both. As we stand on the threshold of life, knowing not what is before us, we must go forth bravely, remain loyal, and keep God as our guide."

He presented the class memorial, a check of $1,000 to be distributed among various specified organizations of the school, to Dr. Walter De Kock, superintendent of the Christian schools. The money was earned through the sale of Christmas cards and from the senior play.

The salutatory was presented by Harvey Bratt, who said that with the background of Christian training he and his classmates had received in their years in the Christian school, they were ready to go forth into life, "Onward Forever With God as Our Guide."

Dr. De Kock in addressing the graduates told of the great need for dynamic equilibrium in the world today. Keeping in mind the scripture verse "And Jesus grew in wisdom, and in stature and in favor with God and man," he urged the students to grow mentally, physically, spiritually and socially.

"Commencement marks the beginning of your lives," he continued. "Do with them as you will and remember that there is no ceiling on aspiration, no rationing of ambition. Live straight and keep true to yourself, your fellow men, and, above all, to your God."

He also presented diplomas and Bibles to the 58 graduates.

Two of the members of the graduating class were unable to be present. Robert Bomers, in the army, is stationed at Scott Field, Ill., and Erma Kortering is in Holland hospital. Following commencement exercises the flowers which decorated the platform of the church were presented to Miss Kortering.

Prizes and awards were presented by John Tuls, principal of the high school.

Paul Cook, class valedictorian, was awarded the freshman scholarship to Hope college, and Harvey Bratt, the Calvin college scholarship. Both students also received scholarship medals.

First place winners in the Tri-annual oratorical contest, held each year among Holland, Chicago and Grand Rapids Christian schools, were Arlene Van Haltsma and Gilbert Holkeboer, both of Christian high school. Winners in the oratorical contest sponsored by the Ladies auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars were Harvey Heerspink, a first prize of $10, and Harvey Bratt, third prize of $250.

First and second prizes of $5 and $250 were awarded to William Selles and William Baumsma, respectively, in the senior essay contest.

The Bosch and Lomb science award was won by Frank Pettinga, and the senior Bible award, a leather-bound Bible given in memory of Miss Ann Holkeboer, went to Sylvia Huizenga.

Citizenship awards were won by Elaine Beltman and Gilbert Holkeboer.

The program was preceded by a 15-minute organ recital by Miss Hazel Anne Oelen, church organist, which officially dedicated the new console and the rebuilt and enlarged organ of the church.

The organ prelude, "War March of the Priests," from Athalia, by Mendelssohn, and the processionals, "Pomp and Circumstance," Edward Elgar, were both played by Martha Bareman, senior music student of the school.

The invocation was pronounced by the Rev. D. H. Walters, president of the school board, after which Elaine Beltman and Gilbert Holkeboer sang "Lead Me O Lord," Fears.

The 65-voice chorus, under the direction of Marvin Baas, sang "Send Forth Thy Light," Bala-krem; "We Praise Thee O God," Kremsev; "Beautiful Savior," Christiansen; and "Emmitte Spiritum tuum" (Send Forth Thy Spirit), Schuetky. The solo part in "Beautiful Savior" was taken by Rosalind Scholten.

The Rev. H. Bylstra, pastor of the Christian Reformed church at Graafschap, said the closing prayer.

Warn Retailers in Sale of Cigarettes

Municipal Judge Raymond L. Smith and Chief of Police Jacob Van Hoff today said several complaints have been received involving sale of cigarettes to minors.

In issuing a friendly warning to retailers, Judge Smith said further complaints will have to be prosecuted if warrants are provided. The last conviction on such a charge was about a year ago, he added.

References were made to two specific laws, one prohibiting the sale of tobacco in any form to persons under 17, and the other prohibiting the sale of cigarettes to any person under 21. The first law provides a fine of $5 to $50 and sentences of 10 to 30 days. The second law provides a fine of not more than $50 or sentence more than 30 days.

The judge also pointed out a third law which provides that anyone under 21 years of age smoking on any public highway, street, alley, or any public place may be arrested by any officer of the law. This infraction provides a maximum fine of $10 or maximum sentence of five days.

Judge Smith said most retailers are of the opinion that 18-year-olds are eligible to purchase cigarettes, whereas the age should be 21.

Jamaicans to Aid On Allegan Farms

Allegan county's first foreign labor to be brought in during this war has arrived in the form of more than 100 Jamaicans, British colored subjects off the coast of southeastern United States, who are now available for work on Allegan county farms. The workers were released to the county agent's department by the Lake Shore Sugar Co. A. D. Morley, agent, and Guy Teed, emergency farm labor assistant, are in charge of placing the labor among farmers.

Originally imported for work in sugar beet fields, the workers have been shifted to other vegetable crops because weather conditions have not been entirely favorable for beets. The Hamilton Farm bureau has agreed to employ 25 of the Jamaicans, it was reported. The Jamaicans are here on special contracts, lasting until Sept. 30, with special permission from the federal government which requires that they be returned to their homes in October.

Housing, the chief difficulty, is largely dependent upon the individual contractor.

According to C. F. Diekmann of the local Lake Shore Sugar Co. the sugar beet labor problem for Ottawa county has been solved by the importation of a number of Texans, Americans of Mexican descent, who will relieve the labor shortage in this area. No Jamaicans will be hired for the beet industry here at present.

Dykhuis-Helder Vows Are Spoken in Literary Club

In an impressive ceremony performed Friday night in the Woman's Literary club rooms, Miss Gladys Helder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Helder, became the bride of Jay Dykhuis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Dykhuis. The Rev. Ralph Heynen performed the double ring ceremony before an impressive altar of palms, ferns and lighted candelabra. Bouquets of lily, snow balls and spirea completed the floral arrangement.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Bertha Van Wynen, accompanied by Miss Hazel Anne Oelen, sang "Because." During the service Miss Van Wynen sang "God Sent You to Me." As the bride party approached the altar, Miss Beatrice Helder, sister of the bride, played the wedding march from the opera "Lohengrin."

The bride was lovely in a white wedding gown fashioned with fitted bodice of lace, sweetheart neckline and short sleeves. The full gathered skirt was of mousseline de soie and wide lace inserts. Tiny bows of mousseline de soie were on the skirt and sleeves. Her fingertip veil, edged in wide lace, fell from a coronet of seed pearls. A double strand of pearls, the gift of the groom, was her only ornament. Her bouquet consisted of white roses, sweet peas and snapdragons.

Mrs. Donald Boeve, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, wore a gown of pink lace and net. She carried a bouquet of roses, sweet peas and snapdragons. Clyde Dykhuis assisted his brother as best man.

Ushers were Donald Boeve and Cornelius Harthorn. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Boeve served as master and mistress of ceremonies and Beatrice Helder and Justin Boeve were in charge of the gift room.

A reception was held for 65 guests with Mrs. C. Harthorn, Frances Knoll, Gladys Strabbing, Joyce Boeve, Ruth Dykhuis and Dorothy Lievens serving as waitresses.

He gave more than 10%

...what about YOU?

...and you're not even being asked to give, but to invest in your own future—and make a handsome profit besides!

THE STORY OF SCARSDALE
JACK
of the Flying Tigers

He had a lot to live for.

Ask his father. Or ask the kids who knew him—his Scout troop—or his classmates at Rensselaer Polytechnic.

Ask his widow.

Scarsdale Jack, Squadron Leader John V. Newkirk on the Flying Tigers' roster, blasted 28 Japs out of the sky before they got him.

He gave all a man can give of courage, guts, gallantry, the will to fight . . . and keep on fighting. Not 10% . . . but everything!
His life.

You're being asked only to pledge 10% of your income, a dime of each dollar for War Bonds to give all the Scarsdale Jacks in Navy blue and Army O. D. and Marine forest green the planes, machine guns, bombs, bullets, torpedoes, tanks, and ships and every other weapon they need to give the Herrenvolk, the "sons of heaven," and the road-company Romans the bellyful of steel they asked for.

These men who are fighting for your homes, your children, your future, your freedom aren't stopping at 10%.

That's all you're asked for—but why stop at 10%—if you can do better?

Now look at the selfish reasons for buying your share of WAR BONDS

War Bonds, first of all, are for winning the war.
Without that what future will any of us have?

But beyond that there are many advantages that make a 10% pledge add up to solid business sense.
You're actually doing yourself a favor by investing that 10%—or more if you can—in War Bonds.

You get back in ten years $25 for every $18.75 you put in.

They are the direct obligation of the United States Government.

You can get back every cent you put in after sixty days if you suddenly need money.

You get a handsome interest, 2.9% compounded —1/3 more money back at maturity than you put in.

Inflation is the dreaded threat of every American. It means, simply, that if it comes, your money is worth next to nothing.
Systematic savings in War Bonds by each and every American is one of our major protections against inflation.
