Gerald Helder

Holland Man Selected To Manage Warm Friend

Gerald Helder of Holland has been appointed manager of the Warm Friend Tavern, succeeding Kenneth Dean, resigned. The appointment, effective Monday, was made by the hotel board of directors.

Helder was born in Holland and is a Holland high school and Holland Business Institute graduate. He served extensively in the South Pacific during World War II with the rank of first lieutenant in infantry. He served as a battalion intelligence officer and operations officer.

Before entering service Helder was employed in the sales and advertising department at the Holland Furnace Co. for three years. Following his Army service, he received hotel management experience at Pine Crest Inn, Tryon, N. C., where he was employed two and a half years, and at Castle hotel, Castle Park as assistant manager.

Kuizenga Lauds Nobility of Labor

The nobility of honest toil was lauded by Dr. John E. Kuizenga, former president of Western Theological seminary, at commencement exercises for Holland high school Thursday night in Hope Memorial chapel.

The veteran educator and author told seniors that it was his intense conviction that the man who does not do a day's work, devoting at least part of the time to productivity, is a thief and a robber. He excluded old people and those unable to do active work.

Aiming at those who shrink from work, he said he would call for a law to liquidate those who won't work.

"Until America gets back to productivity, there is absolutely no hope that we can continue to relieve the destitute and keep our own economic house in order. The thing that has made America great is that Americans worked hard. But now with fewer hours, less productivity and more pay, this system cannot continue. It is time that America is proud not only of her youth but proud of having done an honest day's work."

Dr. Kuizenga said it was all right to work for profit—in fact, not to work for profit was immoral, but the most immoral thing was to work for profit only. "We must be helpful to one another and we must get employers and employees together before they destroy each other and send us hell-bent for collectivism," he said.

With girls wearing white robes and men in maroon, the class formed a colorful procession as Mrs. W. Curtis Snow played Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstances." The Rev. Herman Rosenberg gave the invocation. Carol Reimink sang and Ruby J. Nyenhuis played a clarinet solo. William Filkins introduced the speaker.

Supt. C. C. Crawford paid tribute to what he termed an outstanding class and said such accomplishments were the result of wide co-operation among students, parents and teachers over a period of 13 years. He presented diplomas as names were called by Principal J. J. Riemersma. The latter also presented awards.

Randall Bayles Bosch, class president, announced the senior class memorials totaling $775 divided as follows: $375 for stage lights, $50 for a new kiln for the art department, $100 for assembly fund, $30 for photographer's fund, $25 for a statuette following the 49ers theme, and $75 for a senior play picture portfolio.

Three Trustees To Be Named in School Election

Board of Education Approves Exchange of Michigan Ave. Plot

The annual school election to name three trustees to the Board of Education will be held in Holland July 11, it was announced at the regular monthly meeting of the board Monday night.

Trustees whose terms expire are A. E. Lampen, E. V. Hartman and C. J. De Koster. All are expected to seek re-election.

Polls in the GAR room of the city hall will be open from 2 to 8 p.m. Trustees Margaret De Pree, Jay L. De Koning and John Orlert will be board representatives on the election committee. Petitions must be filed with Clerk John Orlert by 6 p.m. June 20. Fifty signatures are necessary to qualify as a candidate. The election is open to all qualified voters, not just property owners as is often the popular opinion. Persons not heretofore registered may register with City Clerk Clarence Grevengoed not later than July 2.

Absentee ballots may be obtained from Orlert not earlier than 10 days before the election.

In other business, the board approved an exchange of property owned by the Board of Education on Michigan Ave. for 27 lots in the Becker addition between 30th and 31st St. and Washington and Van Raalte Aves. The transaction also calls for $9,600 to be paid to the Board of Education. The Michigan Ave. property covers about 17 lots.

The schools health committee is planning to establish a clinic for the sodium fluoride treatment for children's teeth in Holland next year. The treatments are to be given to children in the second and fifth grades whose parents desire that they have them, with the cost to each child being $3 for four treatments. Local dentists have given their approval. Treatments will be given by a dental hygienist hired specifically for the work.

Supt. C. C. Crawford displayed copies of a new booklet "Ready for School" which was given to all children who attended the preschool clinic this spring. The booklet was prepared by kindergarten teachers.

The board also approved a recommendation of the committee on schools to employ a committee of elementary teachers this summer to develop a basic outline for family life education.

President C. J. De Koster took charge of the meeting. Trustee De Pree gave the invocation. All were present with the exception of Vernon D. Ten Cate and Mrs. John K. Winter.

Scooter Riders Get New Warning

Superintendent Clare Broad of the Holland state park today joined sheriff's officers and local police in cracking-down on motor scooter violations.

Broad said he will impound any scooters at the state park that travel without lights after dark and those that violate traffic laws. The park force also will check on operator's licenses.

He cited several recent "wild capers" by motor scooter drivers and said the unsafe driving must be halted. Crowded conditions, especially during week-ends, multiply dangers.

Broad also announced that the park renovation is completed. The east boundary has been cleared of brush and other debris, all buildings have a new coat of paint and three new drinking fountains have been installed.

There are more than 200 picnic tables and 35 picnic stoves set up in the park, and more have been ordered, Broad said.

With the completion of the renovation jobs, Broad said his force can be released for police duty. This enables the park to remain opened until midnight.

The park has closed before the customary time because not enough police help was available. And the park will open at 4 a.m. instead of 5 a.m. for the benefit of fishermen, Broad said.

Holland state park attendance is climbing steadily. A total of 1,041 cars went in and out of the park from 9:30-10:30 p.m. Sunday. The estimated week-end crowd was 40,000 visitors.

Up through last week, including Sunday, 451,000 persons visited the local state park and 150 camping permits were issued. The park opened Memorial Day week-end.

Marvin De Jonge, superintendent in charge of the construction of the $150,000 heating plant on the Hope College campus (left), discusses the plans with Dr. Bruce Raymond, college business manager, Rein Visscher, director of dining halls, and Frank Light-hart, college maintenance engineer, on the site where ground was broken Friday.

Hope College Building Modern Heating Plant

Ground was broken Friday on the Hope college campus for the erection of the new $150,000 heating plant, it was announced today by Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, college president.

This plant, which will have the same exterior construction as the new half million dollar girls' dormitory, now well under way, will house the most modern oil heating equipment. The interior will be finished with glazed tile.

This new project will solve the heating problems for all buildings on the campus, and will also be adaptable for future heating requirements as new buildings are added, Dr. Lubbers said.

The firm of Elzinga and Volkens is in charge of construction.

Boy Scout Office Closes July 31

The Boy Scout office on the third floor of the city hall will close July 31, according to announcement of C. C. Crawford, district chairman.

Crawford presided at the monthly central district round-table meeting at Saugatuck Co.-gregational church last Tuesday night. Sea Scout ship "Galpinier" of Saugatuck, was host to the 55 leaders at the dinner-meeting.

Judson Leonard, newly appointed field executive for the central and northern districts of the former Ottawa-Allegan council, will live in Holland and service scout units in Grand Haven, Spring Lake, Coopersville, Hudsonville, Hamilton, Zeeland, Saugatuck, Fennville and Holland, Crawford said.

Crawford announced the following appointments for the coming years: Miner Meindersma of Zeeland, district commissioner; Earl Vandenberg, assistant commissioner; Henry Filkins, camping and activities chairman; Bob Topp, organization and extension; Gerrit Wiegerink, leadership training, and F. H. Benjamin, advancement.

Crawford introduced Walter McPeck, assistant executive of the Grand Valley council, who has been working in the Holland office since Donald Kyger left the city.

The group divided into Cub, Boy and Senior Scout divisions for discussion following the general session.

It was announced that there are openings for scouts to attend Camp Ottawa or Camp Shawondossee this summer.

Injunction Issued In Sale of Milk

Grand Haven, June 16 (Special)—Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith today signed a temporary injunction restraining Grocers Co-operative Dairy Co. of Grand Rapids from selling milk in Grand Haven city.

"The temporary injunction was another step in the litigation concerning a city ordinance prohibiting sale of dairy products pasteurized not more than five miles from the city limits."

The injunction was issued after Grand Haven city filed a bill of complaint after the company delivered milk to the John Casemier food market Monday afternoon. The entire case is to test the validity of the city milk ordinance.

L. H. Grettenberger of Grand Rapids has been engaged to assist City Attorney Charles E. Misner in the court suits.

Vander Jagt Gets Life Sentence

Grand Haven, June 16 (Special)—Leendert (Leonard) Vander Jagt, 45, route 1, Conklin, who pleaded guilty June 8 to a rape charge, was sentenced by Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith Tuesday to a maximum sentence of a life term.

In pronouncing sentence, Judge Smith said the local court has been consistent in the last 20 years in meting out the maximum penalty in cases of this character. "I have been looking through your record for some excuse or reason to depart from this custom, and I find none," Judge Smith told Vander Jagt.

The judge explained that the sentence does not necessarily mean Vander Jagt will spend the rest of his years in prison, but it means he will spend many years there and if his conduct and attitude are such that prison officials feel he can safely be allowed his freedom, the local court will not stand in the way of Vander Jagt's release.

Vander Jagt wore a blue denim work shirt and pants. He showed no emotion as he was led away by Under Sheriff William Snyder. He had been held under $25,000 bond.

Clerk's Annual Report Hinges on Charter Revision

Grevengoed Suggests Few Changes, Awaits Commission's Report

Because of current operations by the Charter Revision commission, a minimum of suggestions for changes and improvements in city functions was advocated by City Clerk Clarence Grevengoed in his annual report, submitted to Common Council Wednesday night.

In addition to regular functions of his office such as serving as clerk on various boards, keeping records on elections, bookkeeping and internal auditing, issuing licenses and permits and recording births and deaths, the clerk has been serving as contact man on legislative matters and he reported the efforts were for the most part rewarded. The city has kept sales tax revenue, liquor license money and intangibles tax money, all of which had been in danger of being taken away by legislative action.

During the past year, attempts were made to improve budgetary control, and it is hoped charter revision will provide an up-to-date means of proper ledger and accounting, as well as a system of purchasing whereby purchase orders are issued from a central point upon requisition by various departments.

"It has not been necessary for Holland to seek new sources of revenue as has been the case in so many cities in the country," the clerk reported. "Our financial position is sound, but I would like to call attention to the fact that the General Fund reserve has dwindled seriously. Our reserve in bonds for this fund was $99,990 at the close of the previous fiscal year, but now the reserve is only $9,990, the remainder having been used for hospital construction. Our reserves should be built up if at all possible to allow a reasonable amount to fall back on in event business conditions require it."

To solve the financing problem, Clerk Grevengoed suggested establishment of a finance department, an item which must await action by the charter commission. He also called attention to limited vault space in the city hall. "We are actually ashamed of the way our city records are kept solely because we cannot properly arrange and file them. It should not be necessary for us to stack city records on top of files because there are no more files available and no place to put them if they were purchased," he said.

He said some cities have been forced to lease additional space outside the city hall for such filing purposes, but he added the city hall has such space if it is made available for the city's records.

Three Civil Suits Settled in Court

Grand Haven, June 16 (Special)—A default judgment of $122.30 plus $27.65 was awarded Lamar Pipe and Tile Co. of Grand Rapids against Gerrit Meyer, route 2, Jamestown, in Circuit Court on Tuesday. The amount represents the balance due on a septic tank sold May 13, 1947.

A $900 consent judgment was awarded 18-year-old Marilyn Kirkham against the Decker bus line, both of Grand Haven, in Circuit court Tuesday. The case was brought by Jeanne S. Kirkham, next friend of Marilyn. The case involved injuries received by the girl in Detroit, May 26, 1948, while she was a passenger in a motor bus owned by the Decker bus line.

The case of Francis S. Pollack vs. Fred J. Gauthier of Holland was adjourned for 30 days on condition that an agreed settlement is carried out by defendant Gauthier as follows: Pay $50 before 2 p.m. Tuesday and $150 by Saturday and the balance of $1,500 within 30 days. The case involves a written agreement-lease contract and option agreement dated Sept. 15, 1948, covering property and machinery retained by Gauthier.

The case of Francis S. Pollack vs. Fred J. Gauthier of Holland was adjourned for 30 days on condition that an agreed settlement is carried out by defendant Gauthier as follows: Pay $50 before 2 p.m. Tuesday and $150 by Saturday and the balance of $1,500 within 30 days. The case involves a written agreement-lease contract and option agreement dated Sept. 15, 1948, covering property and machinery retained by Gauthier.

If You Want Fish, Catch 'em Yourself

Grand Haven, June 16 (Special)—If you can't catch fish, don't steal them.

Such is the moral of the story which involved two Grand Rapids fishermen here Wednesday night. Before it was settled they had spent the night in jail and paid $20 fines and $4.40 costs.

Theodore F. Guinn, 22, and Carlton E. Morrow, 30, had gone fishing for perch on the north shore and gave up. As they entered a nearby lunch shop, they noticed a pail of fish outside. This they appropriated. The fish belonged to Peter De Vries of Spring Lake.

Ald. Tony Nienhuis New 'Walking Man'

Ald. A. A. Nienhuis is Holland's latest candidate for "the walking man."

The first ward alderman was introduced by Ald. Bertal Slaght at council meeting Wednesday night as the man who found time to do something that council wanted done for 18 months, something for which nobody could find the time.

This task was a survey of sidewalk conditions in Holland.

Ald. Nienhuis undertook the assignment and spent 26 hours walking over every sidewalk in the city. And Wednesday night he turned over to Mayor Harry Harrington a detailed report with recommendations where repairs are needed. The report later was referred to City Engineer Jacob Zuidema. Ald. Slaght suggested that if economic conditions continued in the downward trend, Zuidema probably could repair sidewalks as a welfare project.

Council was grateful for Nienhuis' efforts and thanked him with a flourish. Ald. Nienhuis replied:

"I'd rather have a pair of new shoes!"

Driver Arraigned On Topsy Charge After Collision

Martin Hellenenthal, 25, of 61 West Ninth St., was assessed fine and costs totaling $108.90 in municipal court this morning, or if the fine is not paid in one week, must serve 60 days in the county jail.

Hellenenthal pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

The charge grew out of an accident on South Shore Dr., about 100 feet west of the Graafschap Rd. intersection Wednesday night in which three persons were injured.

Joyce Stokes, 21, of 1130 South Shore Dr., received head lacerations; Clara Brown, 48, of route 5, received head and finger injuries, and Merrell C. Brown, also of route 5, received wrist and head injuries.

All the injured were riding in a car going west on South Shore Dr., driven by John Alfred Wadsworth of route 5, who told deputies he saw the other car weaving and then it struck the left front of the car he was driving.

Witnesses were Fred Wilkins and Albert Van Dertik, both of Lansing, and R. D. Williams of Jackson, who were following in another car.

Two Holland and one East Saugatuck men were involved in a car-oil tanker collision at 2:05 a.m. today on US-31, near the 40th St. intersection.

The car was driven by Burdette Vander Kolk, 23, of 3 East Seventh St. Riding with him in the car that was coming to Holland were: Everton Casauw of 28 East 18th St., and Harold Dekker of East Saugatuck.

All received minor injuries. Dekker was taken to Holland hospital and released.

The tanker, driven by Harry Anderreg, Sr., of North Muskegon, was going toward Chicago. Alleged deputies who investigated said the car crossed the center line and struck the rear wheel of the tanker. The three men said they were sleeping at the time.

Vander Kolk was ticketed for reckless driving.

Lightning Strikes West Olive Barn

A bolt of lightning struck a barn at the farm home of Harm Schutte of West Olive at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday. The resulting flames burned the structure to the ground.

There were no animals in the barn. However, some straw and hay, along with a model "T" were destroyed.

Holland township firemen answered the call.

Residents of the area report an electrical storm, complete with thunder and lightning, in that area around noon.

Mrs. Jennie Marlink Dies at Holland Home

Zeeland, June 16 (Special)—Mrs. Jennie Marlink, 83, wife of John Marlink of Grand Rapids, died Tuesday night at the Holland Home in Grand Rapids.

Surviving are the husband; six sons, Jacob and Ben Van Slooten of Rudyard, Raymond Van Slooten of Washington, D. C., Albert and William Van Slooten of California and Albert J. Marlink of Zeeland; two daughters, Betty Harrington of Apex, Calif., and Mrs. John Rozema of Modesta, Calif.; a brother, Martin Dykstra of Holland, and a son-in-law, Ralph Wolrding of Holland.

Services will be Friday at 2 p.m. at Yntema funeral home and burial will be at Zeeland cemetery. The body is now at the funeral home.

Accident Rate High in Holland City During 1948

Holland Reports Most Accidents Since 1941, But No Fatal Crashes

Holland had no fatal accidents during 1948, but it had the largest number of accidents since 1941, the annual report of the Holland police department revealed today.

The report, read at a meeting of Common Council Wednesday night, listed 200 accidents during 1948 with 107 persons injured compared with 190 accidents in 1947 with 82 injured.

There were fewer drunk and disorderly cases in 1948 than in 1947. The report lists 118 for 1948, divided as follows: 20 driving while drunk, 78 drunk, and 20 disorderly. There were 178 cases in 1947, 32 driving while drunk, 69 drunk and 75 disorderly.

Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff also listed some national FBI statistics, listing 77,310 cases of aggravated assault during 1948 or 211 cases each day; 16,180 cases of rape or 44 each day; 7,620 cases of murder or 21 each day, and 5,390 cases of manslaughter or 15 each day.

He added: "We very fortunately had none of these in Holland."

"The scope of the policeman's work is unlimited," the chief reported. "It extends from catching murderers to running errands of mercy. Even painting traffic lanes and erecting and maintaining traffic signs is part of the department's work, along with testing scales and gasoline pumps to see everyone receives a square deal."

He said about 90 per cent of the department's work is related to traffic control. "Holland being a city of home-loving, law-abiding citizens, crime is almost unknown," he said.

4-H Camp Fund Exceeds $2,000

Allegan, June 16 (Special)—Contributions to the 4-H camp fund have passed the $2,000 mark, Carlton Woodhams, treasurer, reports. The money is being raised to remodel an old hotel and build cabins on Camp Kidwell at Eagle lake.

More than $100 was raised with a skating party for 300 4-H club members last week.

The week of June 20 has been set for another work week at the camp. F. Earl Haas, assistant county agent, reports. Volunteer help from members, leaders and parents is sought for that period.

One cabin has been completed, and a second is on the way. Haas said. The camp grounds are fairly clear now, and poison ivy was eliminated by a Michigan State college spray truck which killed out most of the vine.

Ex-Vriesland Man Vacationing Here

Martin Albers has returned to Holland for his summer vacation. Albers who is county superintendent of schools at Hardin county, Ia., was born in Vriesland and was graduated from Hope college in 1915.

He has been in the Iowa school system for the last 34 years. While in Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Albers are visiting friends in Vriesland and George Albers, a brother, who lives at 254 College Ave.

Albers reports that conditions in the Iowa school system are entirely different than those in Michigan. The county and state are debt free.

Allegan Forest May Derive Two Pipeline Benefits

Brush May Provide Good Cover for Game Besides Yielding Wood Profits

Allegan, June 16 (Special) — Allegan state forest may derive two benefits in return from the wide swath being cut through for the laying of the Texas-Michigan gas line.

If recommendations of the Michigan conservation department's game division are found feasible, the brush cleared in the 50-foot wide path will be piled at intervals to provide cover for rabbits, squirrels and partridge, Paul Schroeder, district forester, stated. The piles would start with stumps which have to be pulled from the pipeline's path, with the small scrub stacked on top to a height of six or eight feet, and a diameter of 14 to 15 feet.

If these do not constitute too much of a fire hazard for the department to countenance, the plan would greatly aid the game division's cover control program.

About 40,000 to 50,000 feet of oak logs and several cords of fuel wood will be put on sale after the right-of-way is cleared through the forest, Schroeder said. It will be his responsibility to see that the wood is not left to rot, and it may be disposed of at auction or direct sale after the pipeline is completely through the forest.

Schroeder has completed a foot-cruise along the entire length of the surveyed route, marking timber and estimating the loss. The line will cut through three large pine plantings for short distances, but these will gradually grow back, he believes.

Conservation officers are presently working on a compromise with the pipeline company, since the proposed route goes through one of the Swan Creek Experiment station's study areas. Orland Haugen, manager, hopes to secure a re-routing to prevent molesting the area.

Teacher Retiring After 31 Years

Allegan, June 16 (Special) — A teacher with a record of 31 years teaching first graders in the Dawson school here will retire.

She is Louise Unger, who is planning her marriage to Fred A. Timmer. They will make their home in Omaha, Neb.

A native of Allegan, Miss Unger attended local schools, being graduated from Allegan high school and received a life certificate from Western Michigan college. She taught six years in Fennville before going to Dawson.

She later received an AB degree from Northwestern university. She is a member of the local chapter of AAUW and the Presbyterian church.

Illustration of her long service to the Allegan school was noted recently when she found one of her pupils was a grandchild of one of her original students.

Revision Group Favors Different BPW Set-up

The charter revision commission discussed where the Board of Public Works, Hospital and Library boards should fit in the proposed municipal set-up for Holland at its weekly meeting Thursday night.

The group centered its discussion on the BPW. Members are of the opinion that the BPW should be more closely integrated into the municipal picture "than it now is."

Raymond Holwerda presented an outline of his idea of the city manager form of government for Holland. The Holwerda plan calls for six divisions of municipal functions, all under the manager's control.

His concept puts the BPW and Hospital boards under the manager.

"I think this question is one of the most important policy-making decisions that this commission has to make," Chairman Vernon Ten Cate said. "I further feel that we should make a complete study of the matter from all angles."

Ten Cate believes the question boils down to two needs. The two boards need some independence in operation and at the same time must be tied into the city government as a unit.

He suggested a budget for the boards to give them the necessary independence.

The library situation led to a discussion of recreational needs for the City of Holland, especially the smaller children.

It was pointed out that although Holland spends from $35-000 to $40,000 annually on parks and recreation, facilities for the smaller children are inadequate. All members agreed that something should be done about the recreational needs.

Heinz Launches New Ad Campaign

Pittsburgh, June 16—One of the largest continuous campaigns of national newspaper advertising in the history of the food industry will be launched in the immediate future by H. J. Heinz Co., it was announced here today by M. J. Heinz II, president.

In a continuous 52-week schedule of large space advertisements the maker of the famous "57 Varieties" will use 140 daily newspapers in 110 major markets, with special spring and fall campaigns covering 300 secondary markets.

"Our decision to use newspaper advertising on an unprecedented scale reflects several factors," Heinz said. "Foremost is its effectiveness at the local level. Through newspaper advertising we can bring a timely, illustrated selling story on our products directly to the attention of housewives on the very day they are planning their weekly shopping lists."

Deputies Caution Scooter Drivers

The Sheriff's department stepped into the picture with Holland police today in calling for a crackdown on traffic violations by motor scooter drivers.

Deputies said they would issue summons to parents or guardians of drivers who violate the laws.

They cited several recent violations in and around Holland for bikes without lights, horns, mufflers, and drivers without operator's licenses. Another serious offense is more than one person on a scooter.

Only scooters with a special seat and spare foot rests are allowed to carry a passenger. Only one person is allowed on a motorbike, officers said.

"School is out and because of the anticipated heavy traffic, and because we want to maintain our safe driving record, we're going to issue summons to parents," Deputies said.

WHO WAKES THE BUGLER?

In the days before alarm clocks
an ancient doughty asked the facious question, "Who wakes the bugler?" He reasoned that logically there must always be somebody to wake up the people who have to wake up other people who have to wake up still other people.

That ancient conundrum is brought to mind by the remark
of Senator Styles Bridges, New Hampshire Republican, that the proposal to have congressmen cut their own salaries five per cent is "ridiculous." Like everybody else
Senator Bridges is in favor of economy, is in fact pledged to it.
But to begin the economy with a cut in his own salary is "ridiculous." But where is it to begin?
Who is to take the first cut? Who is to start the cut that will make other cuts possible which in turn will make still other cuts possible? There has to be a beginning somewhere?

It stands to reason that the idea sponsored by Congressman Clare Hoffman is not popular with his fellow statesmen, whether they are Republicans or Democrats. To all of them, and to the straggle ment of other parties, the suggestion is "ridiculous." They just can't live on what they're getting now, and so they spend much of their waking time whittling out schemes to get around the law by adding fat chunks of money under the name of "expenses."

But we average citizens who have to produce the taxes that will pay the bills can't live on what we're getting either; at least a good many feel that they can't.
But we jolly well are forced to do so. Most citizens have no way of tacking "expenses" on to their incomes. But every time the statesmen at Washington add something to their own incomes
they are subtracting something from ours.

And that will go on until, somehow in some manner, the process is reversed. But who's going to start the reversing? Obviously, the actual amount saved by a congressional five per cent cut is "ridiculous," but when a camel's back is breaking under the load
he is carrying, it is also ridiculous to take off a straw. But someone has to take off the first straw before the second can be removed,
and the third and the fourth.

Moreover, a congressional cut would be a symbol of the principle of economy that could be of great service than a thousand times
the actual amount of money involved. Someone has to wake the sleeping bugler if the army is ever to be bugled awake.

The Triumph of the Resurrection
Mark 16:2-7; John 21:3, 4, 7-12
By Henry Geerlings

Death and burial usually complete a life story. Not so with Jesus. On the third day after He was buried in Joseph's tomb, something happened. The world had never seen anything like it before. Not only did the earth itself react in the earthquake, but it meant the beginning of a new age.

The daily lives of men everywhere would be affected. The calendar would be changed into B. C. and A. D. Jesus would become known and loved as the Christ by thousands on all the continents
and even the isles of the seas.
There would be a new purpose in life and a different attitude toward death. Ignorance and superstition were doomed, for the forces of the Master would spread light and faith in obedience to his commission. And yet how few then living in and near Jerusalem knew how important this event was. The disciples who were nearest to Jesus wondered at it and were glad, but did not know what it would mean either to themselves or others.

It is possible for us today to miss the glory and meaning of Christ's resurrection. That is why it is good to discuss it from several angles. We cannot exhaust the subject. The apostles and early evangelists preached the risen Christ in every sermon. It means that man's worst enemy—
death—is conquered; that Jesus is in truth the Christ, the Son of the living God. The church has a living head. He will return again and receive the church to himself.
Truly the resurrection was the greatest victory ever won.

When the women came to Christ's tomb early in the morning, the tomb was empty. The body of Jesus has never been found in any grave. If it had been possible for the Pharisees and Saducees to have located the dead body they surely would have done so, for they hated Him and did not want the news of His resurrection to spread. The empty tomb stands as a monument to Him who arose. It had been sealed so carefully by the huge heavy stone, and guarded by caesar's efficient soldiers. This shows that the power of God is vastly superior to that of man. The angel was there to announce that He was no longer dead.

A further proof of the resurrection is that Jesus appeared to these same women and talked with them. He sent them to inform the disciples. They disbelieved at first, but later believed when He appeared to them. All doubts were removed by a series of appearances. The people of that day, friends or enemies,
could not doubt this great victory.
Then, why should we listen to any skeptics today? Our faith is founded on sound historical facts.

Sometimes we speak of our great men as still living because of the far-reaching influence of their lives. Washington, Lincoln, Edison and countless others live in the writings, inventions or institutions that they left behind.
But when we speak of Christ living today we mean far more than that. He actually lives personally just as he did before the cross.
He came forth from the tomb the same person as before he died.
His body had been transformed,
but he still had a body, nevertheless.

This shows us that personality survives even after death. Of course, Christ also left us His word and the institution of the church, but this is not all. He himself survives, and is at the right hand of God. To make his disciples fully realize his resurrection, he appeared unto them by the space of forty days and spoke the things concerning the kingdom of God. What does this mean to us? Jesus sees and knows our lives today, and is ever ready to help us. His life is not just a memory, but an everlasting and present reality.

When on earth Jesus could contact only a few thousand people. When on earth he was daily helping the poor, the sick and the troubled. Even on the cross he forgave his enemies. But his unselfishness does not stop there. When he won the great victory over death, he offered to share it with the whole world. His victory, therefore, was not his alone, but becomes ours when we trust in him and obey him.

Death to those today who do not hope in Christ is a dismal thing. There is no hope for them and many believe in total extinction of personality. Others believe in a reincarnation of life in some other form. There is no end to the weird beliefs of the after life by the non-Christian. But Jesus promised to his followers that because he lives we also shall live. This means that death is only the departure of the spirit from the body, and in no way separates us from God. Aside from the temporary parting with loved ones,
and the brief period of suffering,
there is nothing to fear in death
—if we are Christ's.

Mr. Turtle Caught

A foot-long snapping turtle casually walked into the intersection of 22nd St. and Michigan Ave.
Monday while an estimated 20 children watched its progress. Police were called to dispose the snapper to prevent possible injury to small fry.

Washington—Spain was offered $100,000,000 for Cuba in 1848 by

ment rejected the proposal.

Biologist Clayton Douville, a graduate of Michigan State college, records data on a coon at the Swanecreek Wildlife Experiment
station in Allegan county. Here, research biologists trap and tag small game to check census and determine health conditions. Birds and animals are banded, weighed and checked for irregular features before released. Hunters are instructed to bring the banded animal to station headquarters for further records. Douville is assisted by Ed Kincald, another research biologist.

Small Game Is Tagged
In Allegan Experiment

A special project is being carried on at Swanecreek Wildlife Experiment station in Allegan county. Research biologists are trapping and tagging small game
found in the area.

According to biologist Clayton Douville, who has been working at the Swanecreek station for one year, the purpose of such a project is mainly to check the census and to determine the health condition of the animals.

Three trap lines, which are run for a two week period, are in operation at present with a total of 183 traps. These lines are checked every day; the research workers catch an average of about 25 animals a day.

Animals are banded, weighed,
sexed, checked for irregular features, and recorded. The bands are numbered and give instructions to hunters to bring the banded
animal to the station headquarters to be recorded.

Another project carried on at the station is building wood duck boxes near the swamp. This is to replenish wood ducks, which have been near extinction.

A food habit study is conducted for a more complete life history of the animals. Biologists fix a box with wire mesh in the bottom around a nest of an animal the food that is spilled in the feeding process by the mother falls
through the mesh and is examined
by research men.

Some of the animals that live in Allegan forest are coon, squirrel,
wood chuck, opossum, skunk,
mink, weasel, deer, rattlesnakes, fox and coyote. Some visitors have reported bear tracks.

Merchants Plan
General Meeting
To Discuss Sale

All retail merchants of Holland are invited to a meeting at the Warm Friend Tavern June 20 at 9:30 a.m. to discuss plans for a Community Days sale.

The executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce retail merchants division set the meeting date at a session Monday afternoon.

Tony Last, president of the retail merchants division, appointed Earl Price to head the discussion of when the sale would be,
type of sale and how long it will last.

Plans discussed Monday favored the last three shopping days in July as dates for the sale.

And at the general meeting, Last will forward ideas on how to build up the association.

Nicholas Vogelzang told the merchants at Monday's meeting
that all but two Washington Square merchants are closing Saturday nights, beginning July 1,
and will remain open Tuesday
nights.

Last appointed Robert Visscher and Dale Fris as a committee to survey alleys on the south side of Eighth St. with the idea of turning the alleys into city-owned property.

In other action the committee voted against the campus town
"gimme" program. It was explained this plan, presented to several cities by a national student association, sells students $1 purchase card. Students holding cards are entitled to sales discounts at stores co-operating with the plan.

Main Auto Nips
Vet Softballers

Main Auto scored two runs in the last half of the seventh inning Friday night to nip the VFW softballers 5-4 in a Holland city softball league contest at Pine Ave. diamond.

Maatman's double, with two men on base, brought home the winning tallies. L. Buurama got on base with a walk in that inning and Sova singled before Maat-man's game-winning blow.

Nunimkoski, who relieved starter Sminck on the mound for the Vets, was charged with the defeat. Ebels, who relieved J. Bos late in the game, was the winning pitcher.

The VFW made four runs on four hits. Main Auto tallied its five runs on eight hits.

Highlight of the game was an all VFW show in the top half of the second inning when the No. 1 and No. 2 hitters, C. Piersma and H. Vanden Brink smashed home runs in succession.

Main Auto scored one run in

Netherlands Aids Windmill Owners To Save Relics

Landmarks Fast Pass From Holland Scene; Now Are Protected

The Hague, June 16—After a long arduous but futile struggle to maintain a once coveted niche in Netherlands society, Holland's famous and once utilitarian windmills have gone on the dole.

Hapless prey to the industrial age, these landmarks steadily have been going to rack and ruin until there now are only 1,300 intact out of a once stalwart fleet of 8,000. Now, these windmills are being supported by the government, which has designated all of them "national monuments," they may not be destroyed without permission.

This, however, is only a stop-gap measure. At present, the government and unofficial groups are trying to save the few remaining windmills by a subsidy program, and experiments are being conducted to give the mills a new lease on life by providing them with new functions. One of these experiments involves a gimmick which would make it possible for windmills to generate electric power when they were not involved with their usual functions. There are two kinds of windmills—those used for industrial purposes and those used for pumping water—and they have played a vital role in Dutch history.

As a matter of fact, a whole "mill language" has grown up, with blades placed in different positions to signify fets, other happy occasions, distress and other emergencies. There also are traditional procedures for festooning mills for different occasions.

Cruise Scheduled By Senior Scouts

A group of 15 Holland Senior Scouts, under the direction of Sea Scout Skipper Fred Bocks, will attend the three-day spring cruise and rendezvous at Bear lake near Muskegon this week-end.

The local group will sail to Muskegon from Holland aboard the "Bon Homme Richard."

While at Bear lake, the scouts will take part in a full program of events that begins with registration and a program, topped with a snack, Friday night. Saturday morning is devoted to demonstrations of senior scouting activities and the afternoon program lists competitive events.

Highlight of the three-day program is the formal dinner-dance Saturday night.

The affair closes Sunday after church and a short program.

Arthur Hills of Joliet, Ill., will be supervisor of instrumental music instruction, succeeding James Schrod; who will not return next year. The latter's resignation, effective at the end of the summer school, was received by Supt. C. C. Crawford several weeks ago.

Hills was graduated from Joliet high school in 1938 and received a B. M. degree from the University of Michigan in 1942 and an M. M. degree in 1948. He taught instrumental music at Dexter, Mich., for a year and was instrumental supervisor at Grinnell public schools in Grinnell, Ia., three years. He was assistant band director of 510th AAF band for 42 months. He is married and has one child.

Supt. Crawford announced appointment of George Lumsden to take charge of radio work for the coming year. He will be chairman of a committee to plan school participation. Present plans call for a 15-minute program each week.

Crawford lightly sketched a report compiled by six professors of the University of Michigan who visited Holland high school May 3 for the purpose of accrediting the school for another three years for university entrance and North Central acceptance. The report was favorable although some weak points were brought out, points which Crawford said the board is well aware.

The board adopted a recommendation to combine boiler insurance policies for the schools and the city. It also approved plans

Park Attendance Climbs Steadily

Holland state park attendance last week-end, estimated at 40,000 persons, brings the season total to 122,000 for the three week-ends, that the park has been opened.

Superintendent Clare Broad said Monday's camping permits were the highest so far this season. That total was 21 trailers and 13 tents.

"With school out and vacation schedules underway, we expect that figure to climb steadily the rest of the summer," Park officials said.

The water temperature at the park has been in the low 60's for the last week, limiting swimming to a few persons.

Broad said a breeze fanned sun bathers on the beach both Sunday and Monday. And picnic facilities at the park were taxed to the limit during the week-end.

Parking spaces were jammed Sunday, causing a steady stream of cars into and out of the local park.

Vriesland, June 16 (Special) — Frederick Jay Ter Haar, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ter Haar of Vriesland, was killed almost instantly when struck by a car at 21 a.m. Friday on M-21 near the oil storage tanks.

The boy was working in the fields north of the highway with his father when he said he wanted to lie down under a tree near the road. A few moments later the father heard brakes screeching and ran to find the child lying on the pavement.

Not All Bird Stories Are Sad in Holland

Not all bird stories are sad in Holland.

Sympathy was expressed Thursday for the bird which abandoned its two eggs at Harrington Coal yard to make way for a cargo of coal.

But today, there are happier stories.

Personnel at the local airport report that the ground bird which nested in line with parked airplanes has hatched all four eggs and has led her unsteady young to a new home on the other end of the field. The eggs hatched more than two weeks ago, and three days ago the mother bird led her brood away. They were too young to fly, but a hop-hop-hop took them on their way.

And now, a hen pheasant is being befriended at the George Banks home not far from the airport. This bird laid 12 eggs about 600 feet from the house and is quite appreciative of grain provided by the Banks household.

Opinions have been expressed that birds are encroaching more and more on the fringes of "civilization" as a protection from predators.

George Meengs, assistant postmaster at Zeeland, confers with Mrs. Hattie Caball in her new position as Zeeland's first postmistress. Mrs. Caball assumed her new duties June 1, succeeding William Wentzel who retired at 70. She is the wife of George Caball, Zeeland hatcheryman. ## First Lady Postmistress Takes Over in Zeeland Zeeland, June 16—Zeeland post office has a lady postmistress, the first in the city's history.

She is Mrs. Hattie Caball, whose grandfather, S. L. Gitchel, was the first postmaster of Jamestown township. That was in the days when a postmaster made two trips a week by foot to Grandville and carried the mail home in his coat pocket. The Gitchels were the second family in the Jamestown settlement and figure prominently in the township's history. The township is celebrating its centennial today.

Mrs. Caball has been "boss" of the Zeeland post office since June 1, succeeding William Wentzel who retired at the age of 70, after serving 15 years in the position. Mrs. Caball is the wife of George Caball, Zeeland hatcheryman and former justice of the peace.

Mrs. Caball's work today is a far cry from the days her grandfather carried the mail in his pockets. The century has wrought many changes, and today Zeeland's mail is handled in a modern first class post office which has 18 employees and three rural routes.

The post office assumed first class status in 1939, mainly because of huge poultry shipments handled through the mails. Zeeland is regarded as the chick capital of the middle west and the post office handles shipments for some 25 hatcheries.

When Wentzel became postmaster April 1, 1934, annual receipts were at the $22,000 mark. The post office moved into its new building Jan. 1, 1936, and last year receipts were about $95,000. So far this year, receipts are running ahead of last year each month and may hit the $100,000 mark by the end of the year.

Today, carriers have about 1,500 stops on city routes and 1,000 on rural routes. The post office serves a population area of about 10,000 persons.
