Hope College Awards Degrees To Class of 1951

Four Given Honorary Degrees at 86th Annual Commencement Rites

At the 86th annual commencement exercises of Hope college Wednesday night in Memorial chapel, bachelor of arts degrees were awarded to 137 graduating seniors and honorary degrees were conferred on three ministers and a Grand Rapids businessman.

The senior class of 1951 numbered 179, which includes 16 who completed studies last August and 26 who were awarded degrees in February.

Doctor of divinity degrees were conferred by Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, college president, on the Rev. Peter G. Baker, president of MacKenzie college, Sao Paulo, Brazil; the Rev. Henry Colenbrander, pastor of First Reformed church of Orange City, Iowa, and the Rev. Bastian Kruitthof, pastor of First Reformed church of Holland.

They were presented to Dr. Lubbers by Prof. Garrett Vander Borgh, Prof. Albert E. Lampen and Dr. E. D. Dimmet, Hope president emeritus, respectively.

James M. Ver Meulen, vice president of the American Seating Co., Grand Rapids, was presented for an honorary doctor of laws degree by his brother, John W. Ver Meulen.

Dr. Lubbers also presented A. B. degrees to the seniors, who were presented by Dr. John W. Hollenbach, dean of the college. Seventy-three seniors received Michigan State Provisional Teachers' certificates with their degrees.

The commencement address was given by Dr. Lowell R. Ditzgen, pastor of the Bronxville, N. Y., Reformed church. Addressing the graduates on the subject "On Giving the World a Life," Dr. Ditzgen said "God should be given your life—life will be a blessing to His children everywhere and the blessings will come to you as you give the world your best lives."

The speaker expressed the need of the world for people who will say, "I will give a life," and these, he said, will be in an inspiration to the rest. "Life never fulfills until we give all, all of the time," he said. Rather than taking the philosophy of some that the "world owes me a living," Dr. Ditzgen said "we ought to give the world a life."

Soloist for the program was Miss Jeanne Ver Beek, pianist, a member of the graduating class who played "Ballade in A flat Major," Chopin. The Rev. Abraham Rynbrandt of Grace Reformed church, Grand Rapids, gave the invocation and the Rev. Gerrit J. Rozeboom of Coopersville gave the benediction. Scripture was read by the Rev. Ralph G. Kortel of Pungarung, Chittor district, South India.

The organ prelude, procession and recessional were played by Mrs. W. Curtis Snow of the faculty. Dr. Lubbers presided at the service.

Senior prizes, awarded by Dean Hollenbach, went to the following: Daniel C. Steketee senior Bible prize, first to Burt Phillips, Lakewood, Ohio, second, Roger Shafer, Schenectady, N. Y.; Piet-empol Bible prize, Harold Dean, Keyport, N. J.; Dr. A. T. Godfrey chemistry prize, Earl Huyser, Holland; Patterson biology memorial prize, Nancy Vyverberg, Rochester, N. Y.; Dr. Otto van der Velde All-Campus award, a gold key, to Eugene Campbell, Muskegon; Southland medal, Nancy Lee Corp Marema, Auburn, N. Y.

William H. Draper, 76, Dies at Local Hospital

William H. Draper, Sr., 76, of 51 East 13th St., died at 12:05 a.m. today at Holland hospital after a week's illness. He had been taken to the hospital Wednesday evening. Death was caused by a heart condition.

A retired mason, Draper was born Oct. 1, 1874, in Chatham, Ontario, Canada, and had lived here for the last eight years. He was a member of Wesleyan Methodist church.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Clifford Stewart of Rodeo, Calif., four sons, Charles of Port Huron, Harold of Holland, Jack of Detroit and James of Holland; 15 grandchildren, and a brother, John, of Chatham.

Funeral rites will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at Dykstra funeral chapel with the Rev. George B. Hilson officiating. Burial will take place Monday at 11 a.m. at Grand Lawn cemetery, Redford township, near Detroit. The body is at the funeral chapel where friends may call Friday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Local Trotter Killed

Boone Hanover, a trotter owned by Michel Thorgevsky of Marigold Lodge, Waukazoo, broke a leg Wednesday evening harness racing at Sportsman Park in Chicago. The horse had to be destroyed. Boone Hanover was well known, having won a number of races.

A highlight of Hope college commencement exercises Wednesday night in Hope Memorial chapel was the conferring of four honorary degrees by Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, college president. Recipients of the degrees, pictured left to right, are the Rev. Henry Colenbrander of Orange City, Iowa; the Rev. Bastian Kruitthof of Holland; James M. Ver Meulen of Grand Rapids, and the Rev. Peter G. Baker of Sao Paulo, Brazil. The three ministers were given doctor of divinity degrees, Ver Meulen, a doctor of laws.

Holland Christian Presents Degrees

Diplomas and awards were presented to the largest graduating class in Holland Christian high school history at commencement exercises in Central Avenue Christian Reformed church Tuesday night. A total of 104 seniors received their diplomas from the Rev. Oliver Breen, president of the board of trustees.

"Ma, your prayer always be, 'Take my life and let it be consecrated Lord to Thee,'" Breen told the class in brief remarks following the presentation of diplomas. He told the seniors that they should always possess "the spirit of the four r's—reverence, refinement, reliance on God and the readiness to do God's will."

In presenting the class for diplomas, Supt. Bert P. Bos urged the class to "always keep God's Word as a lamp unto your feet." Principal Raymond Holwerda presented the awards to various members of the graduating class. Sixteen honor students received silver pins in recognition of getting "B" or better in four years of high school. The high school faculty no longer designates a valedictorian and salutatorian, but chooses to honor the highest student with scholarship pins. Holwerda said.

Receiving the honor pins were Ellen Branderhorst, Wallace Bratt, Kathryn Brink, Marie Geenen, Alvin Haveman, Genevieve Keuning, Harvey Kiekover, Hazel Nyhof, Shirley Overweg, Josephine Phillips, Edwin Roels, Donna Vander Kolk, Geneva Van Haltsma, Beatrice Van Lee, Marilyn Walcott and Dale Wolters.

Shirley Overweg received the Hope college scholarship and Donna Vander Kolk, the Calvin scholarship. Beatrice Van Lee received the Reformed Bible Institute scholarship, the first year this award has been offered.

Six students received Alumni association awards for doing outstanding work in various fields. Receiving the $10 awards were Hazel Nyhof in commercial studies, Donna Vander Kolk in English, Ellen Branderhorst in foreign languages, Genevieve Keuning in mathematics, Edwin Roels in science and Wallace Bratt in the social sciences.

Marilyn Walcott received the Anne Holkeboer Bible award for doing outstanding work in the Bible subjects.

Citizenship pins were awarded to Calvin Bolt, Benjamin Bowman, Wallace Bratt, Marie Geenen, Genevieve Keuning, Donna Vander Kolk and Beatrice Van Lee.

Calvin Bolt, president of the senior class, presented a check of $2,500 to Supt. Bos as a class memorial. The money was designated to be used for the purchase of an organ. If it is found impossible to secure an organ in two years' time, the money could be used for new equipment in a new unit of the high school which now is planned.

Bolt also spoke briefly on the class motto, "The greater the difficulty, the more glory in surmounting it."

A girls' sextet sang "Lift Thine Eyes," Mendelssohn and "But the Lord is Mindful of His Own," Mendelssohn-Sticksels. The capella choir, under the direction of Marvin Baas, sang "Sail On O My Soul," Cain, and "Psalm 33," Moullier.

Kathryn Boerman, a senior organist, played the traditional procession, "Pomp and Circumstance," Elgar. Three other senior organists, Joyce Koops, Annette De Weerd and John Hoogstra took part in the program.

The Rev. Breen gave the invocation while the Rev. Jacob T. Hoogstra led closing prayer.

At a faculty party at the South Side school, following the commencement program, Bos presented a watch to Kathryn Bratt for 25 years of service in the elementary grades of the local Christian schools.

Services Arranged For Cattle Resorter

Funeral services will be held 11 a.m. Saturday at First Presbyterian church in Detroit for Dr. Joseph A. Vance, 86, Dr. Vance, a Castle Park resortor, died Tuesday at Boulder, Colo., where he was filling an interim pastorate.

Dr. Vance was one of the first cottagers at the Castle having purchased property there in 1900. Family members spent all their summers at the resort except when they were out of the country.

Survivors include a son, Joseph, of Grosse Pointe, two daughters, Mrs. John M. Bonbright, of Grosse Pointe Park, and Mrs. Orville E. Reed, of Howell.

Two Holland Men Helped in Rescue

Two other men, heretofore unmentioned, helped in the rescue of two fliers that crashed their plane into Lake Michigan near Holland State park Sunday afternoon.

They are Edwin "Bud" and James Vande Wege, sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Vande Wege 345 Maple Ave. Both saw the crash raced to the scene.

A Sentinel reporter was on the scene about 15 minutes after the accident and by then, both Vande Weges had left. The two rescued fliers had been taken to the Henry Jansen cottage nearby and it was Jansen and his friend, John Kutlik, to whom the reporter talked.

Further investigation after the story appeared in Monday's Sentinel, and talks with other witnesses reconstructed the rescue in this manner:

Bud Vande Wege and Jansen started into the water as Robert Thompson, passenger in the plane, started to swim to shore. The plane was slowly drifting shoreward. The two rescuers walked into the lake, pushing a log until the water was too deep and then began to swim. They reached Thompson about halfway between the plane and shore.

But Thompson was too weak to hold to the log, and witnesses said Vande Wege had to carry him to shore. Jansen continued on to the place, swimming with the log. The pilot, Ed Bransberger, said he couldn't swim and thought it better to wait. He was comparatively safe on the floating plane, one witness said, so that Jansen returned to shore.

After a small boat arrived and circled the plane twice, but didn't go in to pick up Bransberger, Vande Wege's brother, Jimmy, started toward the plane. He was restrained by shore observers.

Kutlik, arrived at this point with two small floating mattresses. Armed with these, Vande Wege, Kutlik and Jansen started back to the plane and took the pilot off without further incident. It was Wednesday, witnesses, who preferred to remain anonymous, disclosed Vande Wege's part in the rescue.

15 New Missionaries Dedicated at Synod

Buck Hill Falls, Pa. (Special)—Fifteen new missionaries were dedicated for home and foreign service at the closing meeting of the 145th regular session of the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America.

Of these, six will go to Arabia, four to Japan, and two to Africa. Among them is Dr. Donald Bosch, chosen in 1950 as "the young man of the year" by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Newark, N. J. Included also are two Negroes for educational work among their people in Alabama, and a native Indian for work on the Mescalero Indian reservation in New Mexico.

Informal Public Hearing Set for Street Closing

Council Awaits Public Reaction Before Acting On Crampton Proposal

An informal public hearing will be held at the next meeting of Common Council Wednesday, June 20, on the proposed closing of Harrison Ave. between 12th and 13th Sts. It was decided at an adjourned meeting of council Wednesday night. The meeting lasted 25 minutes.

Closing of the street had been requested by Crampton Manufacturing Co. in order to expand its plant to the west to provide facilities for war production. The measure was introduced hastily at the last meeting of council June 6 with the information that the City Planning commission had recommended the closing, provided the company acquire the necessary property to the west. It also was understood that the company would deed to the city property to open 13th St. west to Lake St.

The informal hearing next week will not be binding, it was understood.

Decision on the informal hearing came after some confused parliamentary procedure. City Clerk Clarence Greengood read a committee report stating the proposal was "not objectionable" and recommended a public hearing Wednesday, July 18. The report was signed by City Manager Harold C. McClintock and Aldermen Lloyd Maatman, Robert Visscher and Lavern Rudolph.

The succeeding resolution, however, specifically recommending the closing of the street and setting a public hearing July 18, was voted down 7 to 1. Opposing the measure were Aldermen Raymond Holwerda, Bernice Bishop, Anthony Nienhuis, Lavern Rudolph, Anthony Peerbolt, Arnold Hertel and Robert Visscher. Lone vote affirming the resolution came from Maatman. Those absent were Aldermen John Van Eerden, Rein Visscher and Robert Notier.

In casting his negative vote, Alderman Holwerda commented that he was not opposed to closing streets per se, but was opposed to this particular closing.

Later Robert Visscher moved for the informal hearing.

There were only two visitors at the meeting. Neither offered comment.

In other business, Council favored closing the alley in the same Crampton block, allowing proper consideration for two or three property owners who use same, and set July 18 as date for public hearing.

Council approved the low bid entered by Michigan Colprovia Co. of Grand Rapids for Holland's summer paving program. The company's estimate totaled $117,770.50.

Council also approved a recommendation to revise license ordinances, calling for the mayor to appoint a committee consisting of the city manager, city attorney, two council members and a member of the Chamber of Commerce retail merchants' division to work out the revision.

Ketema Yifru, Hope college senior from Harar, Ethiopia, has received a United Nations Internship. It was announced today by Dr. Ella Hawkinson, head of the history and political science department. Dr. Hawkinson said that the appointment came through the United Nations Intern Selection board in Washington, D.C., and carries a stipend of $300 for an eight-week period during the summer months. Yifru, according to the information, received will either be assigned to the New York or the Geneva, Switzerland, headquarters.

Interns are assigned to posts in almost every section of the secretariat, and the assignment will be related as closely as possible to the experience and interest of the interns. They have the status of a staff member while there and will be given every opportunity to attend meetings of councils, commissions and committees.

Yifru is a political science major and plans to take up foreign service for his life work. He is a graduate of the Haile Selassie high school, Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, where he was active in track and debate. He also served as student governor of the school. Next year he intends to do graduate work in foreign relations and has been accepted in the graduate school of Georgetown university, Washington, D.C.

Water-Squirting Charges Against Firemen Dropped

Disorderly conduct charges against three members of the Holland township fire department resulting from a water-squirting incident in Tulip Time's final parade have been dropped following a public apology submitted by the firemen to the Municipal Court.

The case against township station No. 3 Chief Bert Schuitema, Gerrit Sprik and Herbert Baar had been postponed until this week, but the charges were dropped immediately upon receipt of the apology signed by Sprik and Baar.

The firemen outline how the incident started and apologize for any damage and inconvenience caused.

"We are indeed sorry that the incident ever occurred and had it been realized that it would be taken in any other way than in the spirit of fun, we would not have participated in such squirting," the apology reads.

"We regret deeply that any property was soiled or damaged and do hereby extend our apologies to the Tulip Time committee and the people of the city of Holland for squirting water on any persons attending the parade and assure them that so far as we are concerned it will never happen again," the document reads.

The apology outlines how the firemen were asked for water by some band members at first, and after the parade started various other people asked for water and it was given them.

"It was done in a jovial manner and without any malicious intent and certainly not done to antagonize people or cause concern to any persons along the route," the apology reads.

When the charges of disorderly conduct first were offered by Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff, all three firemen pleaded innocent. The original hearing date was postponed until this week, but the apology caused the charges to be dropped, Municipal Judge Cornelius vander Meulen said.

Vander Meulen pointed out that the apology now is a matter of public record.

Truck and Train Meet At 24th St. Crossing

A truck driver from Otsego who told officers he didn't hear the whistle or see the train ran into the rear of a C & O engine at the 24th St. crossing at 6:20 a.m. today.

No one was injured.

Driver of the truck was Russell J. Thompson, 23, of Otsego, who was turning from south to east on Lincoln Ave. Damage of $250 was estimated to the right front part of the truck, owned by the Michigan Cottage Cheese Co. of Otsego.

The train was headed north into Holland, and damage of $50 was estimated to the water car. Engineer Fred Trondley, brakeman William Hadsell, and fireman Burghuff, all are from the Wyoming yards in Grand Rapids.

Eskimo Speaks To SPEBSQSA

At a regular meeting Monday night at the Warm Friend Tavern, Holland chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America enjoyed the friendship and artistry of Simeon Oliver of Anchorage, Alaska. Oliver, an Eskimo, and his wife are in Holland for a brief visit.

Oliver, who has written several books under his Eskimo name, Nutchuk, led the local chapter's Windmill chorus and told of his barbershop singing experiences. He has visited many United States chapters and has organized two chapters in Alaska. He related that he hired a plane to fly to Fairbanks for a light to get that chapter organized, but barbershop singing was received so enthusiastically that the men stayed for a week giving many public performances and radio broadcasts.

He said that Eskimos are quite musical, although their musical scale is only five notes, similar to the Oriental scale. He demonstrated on the piano some Eskimo songs and dance melodies.

It was announced that Arthur C. Prigge, C. C. Wood, Norm Bredeweg, Gordon Meusen, Chet Oonk, Harley Hill and Mat Wilson represented Holland chapter at the International meeting at Toledo, Ohio, where 3,200 barbershoppers gathered for the International quartet contest.

College Board Discusses Drive

Members of the Hope college Board of Trustees met at Durfee hall on the college campus at 9:30 a.m. today for a semi-annual session. Scheduled as the main topic for discussion was the forthcoming million dollar drive.

This noon, a faculty - board luncheon was to be held at Durfee hall.

Wednesday noon, the college entertained at a luncheon in Durfee hall. About 1,000 seniors, their relatives and friends and Hope alumni were present at a graduation reception in the Pine Grove Wednesday after commencement exercises.

Two Autos Collide

Cars driven by Paul Boeve, 17, of 942 Lincoln Ave., and Betty Dick, 27, of Grandville, collided at 5:10 p.m. Wednesday at the corner of Michigan Ave. and 24th St. Neither driver was injured. Both cars were headed north on Michigan Ave., and the Boeve car hit the rear of the Dick vehicle when it slowed down for the corner. Damage to Boeve's car was estimated at $100, and to the Dick car at $20. Boeve was ticketed for failure to observe assured clear distance.

Top Soil Stripping Case Set Aug. 3

Grand Haven (Special) — The case of the township of Robinson vs. Henry Land, et al, has been set for Aug. 3.

On Nov. 21, 1950, Ottawa circuit court issued a restraining order prohibiting Mr. and Mrs. Land from removing any top soil from land they purchased last July 7. Mr. and Mrs. Land reside in Grandville.

Robinson township has a zoning ordinance prohibiting the sale of top soil and it is claimed Mr. and Mrs. Land have deliberately been selling the top soil, stripping it down to the sand. The injunction was issued because, it is alleged, defendants threatened to continue their actions.

On Dec. 27, a meeting was held in the court house in charge of County Agricultural Agent Leo R. Arnold and Clarence Reenders, at which a number of interested parties heard Reenders say that there are only about 3,000 acres of this type of land in the township, which is good grain producing land, and that the farmers are objecting to the stripping of the land because when the sand is dry it blows and when it is wet it holds water.

At the meeting Rep. George Van Peursem and the late Sen. McKee of Muskegon, together with Robert Briola of the local district, Al Dorans of the Soil Conservation office at Grand Rapids, and S. E. Larson, representative of the Farm Equipment Office, also in Grand Rapids, discussed the problem with a hope of bringing it before the State Agricultural council to see if they could get new legislation.

The organ prelude, procession and recessional were played by Mrs. W. Curtis Snow of the faculty. Dr. Lubbers presided at the service.

Senior prizes, awarded by Dean Hollenbach, went to the following: Daniel C. Steketee senior Bible prize, first to Burt Phillips, Lakewood, Ohio, second, Roger Shafer, Schenectady, N. Y.; Piet-empol Bible prize, Harold Dean, Keyport, N. J.; Dr. A. T. Godfrey chemistry prize, Earl Huyser, Holland; Patterson biology memorial prize, Nancy Vyverberg, Rochester, N. Y.; Dr. Otto van der Velde All-Campus award, a gold key, to Eugene Campbell, Muskegon; Southland medal, Nancy Lee Corp Marema, Auburn, N. Y.

Surviving are two daughter, Mrs. William Beihl and Mrs. Garrett Fisher, both of Grand Haven; three grandchildren, and two great grandchildren.

FBI Special Agent Speaks To Rotarians

Highlights of Federal Bureau of Investigation work were discussed for Rotarians Thursday noon by Robert L. Lalley, special FBI agent from Detroit. He spoke at the regular Rotary club luncheon meeting at the Warm Friend Tavern.

Lalley emphasized the importance of public co-operation in successful FBI work and told some of the inside facts about the famous Lindbergh case. After his talk, he answered questions posed by the audience.

Another guest at the meeting was Nutchuk, an Eskimo from Anchorage, Alaska, who is presently staying at Waukazoo. He spoke briefly, relating experiences of his trips and lecture tours.

Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, Rotary president, welcomed three new members into the club. They are Charles Cooper, Robert Fitzgerald and Robert Kirchen. Donald Vink, who became a new member last week, also was welcomed. Each was presented a framed "objects

Fishing Fair to Good

Fishing this noon at the pier was described as "fair." Perch were biting slowly. The fishing report at the Big Bayou said "pretty good."

New Regulations Set Up for Dump

A concrete plan of action has been begun by city officials to deal with continued burning and improper dumping at the city dump at the corner of Sixth St. and College Ave.

City Manager Harold C. McClintock revealed today that a permanent water line will be provided to the dump, and two attendants will be on alternate shifts to oversee deposits at the dump.

The water line will be laid beneath College Ave., from an existing hydrant to the dump. McClintock said, and the caretakers will play water on existing blazes and wet down all new deposits to guard against new fires.

The dumping area will be fenced, in he added, and the dump will be open from 6 a.m. until 9 p.m. daily except Sunday. No dumping will be permitted outside of those hours, he said.

McClintock said the new system would go into effect sometime next week.

Two Cars Collide North of Holland

A two-car collision north of Holland Friday afternoon resulted in apparently minor injuries to the two drivers involved. The accident happened at 1:30 p.m. at the intersection of 144th Ave., and Berry St., five miles north and one mile west of Holland.

The cars were driven by John R. Bransden, 34, of route 2, who was headed north on 144th Ave., and Albertus De Haan, 25, of route 2, West Olive, going east on Berry St.

Bransden received head injuries and a possible eye injury. De Haan received only a scratched elbow.

Chief Deputy Clayton Forry, investigating the accident, estimated damage to the Bransden car at $800, and to the De Haan car at $300.

Mrs. Alice De Haan Dies At Home of Daughter

Zeeland (Special) — Mrs. Alice De Haan, 89, East Lincoln Ave., died early Thursday morning at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Terry, 108 Arlington St., Kalamazoo. Mrs. De Haan spent the summers in Zeeland and lived with her daughter, Mrs. Terry during the winter.

Surviving are three sons, Harry H. Bontekoe and George De Haan of Holland and Gerrit De Haan of Tampa, Fla.; two daughters, Mrs. Terry and Mrs. L. H. McRae of Sierra Madre, Calif.; 12 grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 1:30 p.m. at the home and 2 p.m. at First Christian Reformed church basement with the Rev. Dr. D. Bonenna officiating. Burial will be in Pilgrim Home cemetery.

Body will be taken to the residence from the Yntema funeral home Saturday and Sunday afternoon and evening.

Drivers Uninjured

Cars driven by Dale De Witt, 17, of route 5, and Patrio Beltran, 24, of 370 West 15th St., collided at the corner of Harrison and 15th St., Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. Neither driver was injured. Damage to De Witt's car was estimated at $150, and to Beltran's car at $50. City police issued a ticket to De Witt for speeding.

Accident Occurs When Tip of Wing Clips High Wave

Pilot Thrown Out
Of Windshield;
Plane Goes to Bottom

Two fliers brushed close to death Sunday afternoon when one wingtip of their Aeronca light plane slapped a Lake Michigan whitecap and was pulled into heavy seas.

The accident, witnessed by hundreds, occurred about three-quarters of a mile north of Holland State Park as the plane was banking away from the beach in a turn. Witnesses said it slammed into the lake at 5:20 p.m. Sunday about 500 feet offshore.

That both fliers are alive today can be attributed to a miraculous crash in which neither was so much as cut, and to the quick action of two men who witnessed the crash.

Pilot Ed Bransberger, 26, route 1, Holland, and his passenger, Robert Thompson, 23, Bristol, Tenn., don't quite know even today how they managed to come out of the battered plane alive.

Bransberger remembers that when the plane struck the lake, he was hurled through the windshield, and took all of it with him. Thompson, who was strapped in behind Bransberger, unlashed himself and swam out the side of the plane which had been carried away in the crash.

The plane quickly sank to the depth of the top of the wing. Both men tried to climb on, but Bransberger had trouble on top of the submerged plane.

"Every time I'd take a step, my foot would go through the canvas," he said, "and first one wingtip would go down and then the other."

Thompson began swimming to shore, and about that time their two rescuers arrived, complete with liferaft.

John Kutlik and his Chicago neighbor, Henry Jansen, were week-ending with their wives at the Jansen cottage on shore. They saw the crash and in short order rammed a life raft and a floating log out to the fallen plane to pick up both men.

The Coast Guard, too, had seen the crash, and dispatched a launch that arrived shortly after the two men had been pulled to shore.

The guardsmen snubbed a line around the propeller shaft of the plane and with the help of observers, pulled it out on the beach. It had drifted to within about 100 feet of shore, and had been in the water little more than an hour.

Meanwhile, Bransberger and Thompson were warming themselves at the Jansen cottage. A doctor was summoned and administered a sedative to Bransberger, who was suffering from shock and exposure.

Bransberger said the plane was valued at about $1,000. He said it was jointly owned by himself, Troy Lawson, and Bill Bushey. Lawson and Bushey, he said, both live in Pennville.

The plane was based at Saugatuck. Sheriff Jerry Vander Beek and Deputy Sheriff Clayton Forry checked the accident, but a complete investigation will be made by the Civil Aeronautics Authority, Forry said.

The plane was not a complete loss, although very little was left for salvage. Both the landing gear and the engine appeared intact. But the wing, tail structure, and fuselage were demolished.

Opposition Slated In School Election

Opposition in Holland's school board election July 9 was promised today.

All three incumbents whose terms expire this year announced at a regular session of the Board of Education Monday night that they would seek re-election for another term. They are John Olert, Mrs. John K. Winter and Vernon D. Ten Cate.

And today, Willis Welling, of 374 West 31st St., active in Junior Chamber of Commerce circles, announced that he would be a candidate. All three vacancies are for three-year terms.

Each candidate must file a petition bearing at least 50 signatures of qualified voters before the deadline Tuesday, June 19. Petitions may be obtained from Olert, secretary of the Board of Education.

At Monday's monthly board meeting, President A. E. Lampen appointed Trustees E. V. Hartman, Margaret De Pree and C. J. DeKoster as inspectors for the election.

Mud, Not Injuries, Was Big Casualty

Allegan (Special) — Showers with plenty of soap was the pre-occupation for three young men at Allegan Health Center Monday while officers marveled at their lucky escape from serious injuries.

The three rode a car that tossed, overturned and went 320 feet through a deep muddy ditch. They emerged practically unharmed.

The car was demolished. Only Walter Dahms, Jr., 18, Gobles, required medical treatment for slight head lacerations.

The driver, Allen H. Villim, 22,

Hope Seniors Plan to Enter Seminaries

Ten Hope college seniors will continue their education in graduate schools in preparation for the ministry, it was announced today by Dr. Eugene Osterhaven of the Bible department.

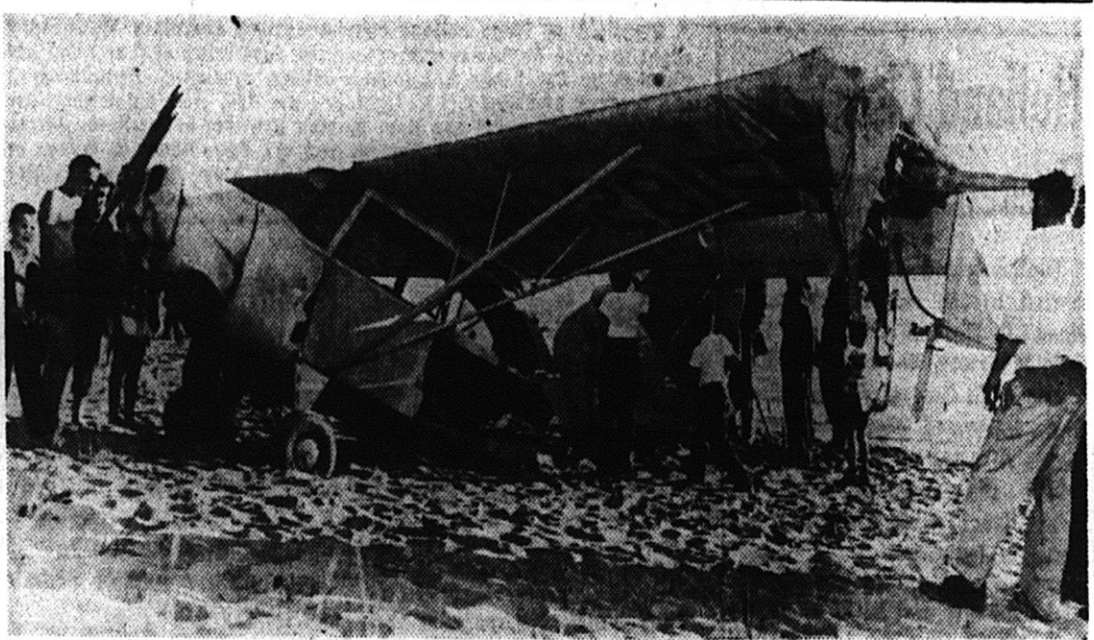

Six will enter Western Theological seminary in Holland next fall, two will go to New Brunswick Theological seminary in New Brunswick, N. J., and two have been accepted by Westminster Interdenominational and Princeton seminaries, respectively.

Entering Western Theological seminary are Harold Dean of Keyport, N. J., Duane Tellinghuisen, Willow Lake, S. D., Donald Lenderink, Grand Rapids; Jerold Pomp, Holland, James Hakken, Baghdad, Iraq, and John Staal, Grand Rapids. Mervyn Shay of Schenectady, N. Y., and James

Blane of Bergenfield, N. J., will go to New Brunswick, Roger Shafer, Schenectady, to Westminster, and Dave Muyskens, Madanapalle, South India, to Princeton.

Pilot Ed Bransberger at extreme right surveys the damage after all hands had helped Coast Guardsmen tug his battered plane to shore. No glass was left in the windows and the tail structure is being flopped about by two boys. Port wingtip near Bransberger is the one that hit the water and caused all the trouble Sunday afternoon in Lake Michigan.

Lucky pilot and his passenger chat while warming themselves at the lakeside cottage of their rescuers. Ed Bransberger, 26, route 1, Holland, (right) was piloting the plane and was shot through the windshield in the crash. His passenger, Bob Thompson, 23, Bristol, Tenn., (left) was momentarily trapped in the rear seat of the plane by the safety belt, but managed to work himself free as the plane was sinking in Lake Michigan Sunday.

Here the small plane that crashed into Lake Michigan Sunday lies awash about 100 feet offshore as surf begins to break it up. Plane at this time had been down about 30 minutes and had drifted about 400 feet toward shore. Coast Guardsman G. E. Basham, who piloted the rowboat for The Sentinel photographer, had trouble in the heavy seas, which also hampered salvage operations.

and Daniel Fivak, 26, both of Chicago, were thoroughly covered with mud but unhurt.

The accident occurred south of Allegan on the M-40 detour in Trowbridge township. Villim told deputies Robert Johnson and Forrest Reichenbach that he lost control of his car at the top of a small hill as another auto approached. The car lurched 120 feet on the highway, hit the ditch on the left, clipped off a four-inch tree, turned over three or four times and plowed into a muddy ditch on its wheels. All occupants were thrown out, Fivak landing in a puddle.

While the car body was ripped and smashed from end to end, the rear window fell to the ground unbroken. The windshield was not cracked and the front grille was undented.

The Chicago pair was visiting the Dahms home.

After a thorough scrubbing at the hospital, the trio found themselves with no choice but to redress in their muddy clothes and get a ride back down town.

GARDEN TOOLS

With gardening season in full swing, Michigan State college extension specialists advise care in the use of common garden tools. Accidents frequently happen from the improper use of these implements.

Miss Hartman Wed in Memphis

Miss Kathryn Louise Hartman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest V. Hartman of 73 East 10th St., Holland, was married to Oscar M. Seago Friday, June 1, in Memphis, Tenn. Mr. Seago is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Seago of Burnsville, Miss.

The wedding took place at St. John's Methodist church of Memphis with the Rev. William A. Dimmick performing the single ring rites. During the ceremony, traditional wedding music was played by the church organist.

The church was decorated with two tall baskets of white gladioli and two baskets of huckleberry leaves and ferns against a background of two seven-branch candelabra. Tall single tapers in front accented the setting.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Phifer of Memphis were the wedding attendants. The bride wore a street-length dress of periwinkle blue organza over taffeta trimmed with rhinestone buttons. Her picture hat was fashioned of lavender tulle and net. She carried a white Bible with a June-bride orchid. Her jewelry included a necklace of smoked pearl and rhinestones and matching earrings.

Mrs. Phifer wore a pink linen ensemble with white eyelet trim. Her corsage was of white carnations.

After the ceremony, a reception for relatives and a few friends was held at the newlyweds' apartment. They are now at home at 1215 Mississippi Blvd., Memphis, Tenn.

Mrs. Seago, a graduate of Holland high school, attended Holland Business institute for a year and Albion college for two years. She has been doing secretarial work. Her husband served in the Navy four and a half years after graduation from Burnsville, Miss., high school. He is employed by Kimbel Truck lines.

Attending the wedding from Michigan were the bride's parents, Mrs. Carl Schultz of St. Johns and Mrs. Alfred Perreault of Grand Rapids.

Passenger Is Injured In Two-Car Accident

One person was injured in a traffic accident at 1:35 p.m. Monday at the corner of 32nd St. and Lincoln Ave.

Miss Evangeline Stuart, 23, of route 4, received out-patient treatment and an X-ray of her right wrist for possible fractures.

She was riding in a car driven by Donald Brink of Hamilton, a soldier stationed at Ft. Harrison, Ind., who was driving north on M-40. Joan Busscher, 27, of route 6, was driving east on 32nd St. Both drivers told officers they didn't see each other until too late to avoid the collision.

Damage to Ten Brink's car was estimated at $200 and to Busscher's car at $300. Busscher was given a ticket for running a stop street.

Local Teachers Are Granted $100 Salary Increases

Board of Education
Establishes Fund for High School Addition

A salary increase of $100 for the year 1951-52 will be offered all teachers in the public schools in their new contracts, it was decided at a meeting of the Board of Education Monday night.

The board also decided to revise the salary schedule to include the present $200 cost-of-living adjustment granted last spring. Therefore, the salary schedule figures will read $300 above last year's figures.

The board also approved a recommendation of Supt. C. C. Crawford to transfer $56,785 from the operating fund to a special high school building fund for the purpose of building an addition to the Junior and Senior high schools within five years. The sum is figured on the basis of $50 times the average membership for the year of 1,135.7 students in grades nine through 12.

The figure includes 624 non-resident students for which the rural districts have paid $50 for each of their students attending Holland public schools. One district of 13 students has not paid the tuition as yet and when this amount is paid, an additional $650 should be transferred to the new fund.

Action to establish such a fund from money raised locally and in rural areas was taken last spring, and the initial sum is the result of the first payments of $50 per head into the fund. Investment of said sum was referred to the ways and means committee for study.

The Board of Education is ready to proceed with negotiations in the sale of the Froebel school property, following a letter from Dr. J. R. Mulder, president of Western Theological seminary, informing the board that the Seminary Board of Trustees has authorized purchase of said property at a figure of $50,000. School trustees referred the matter to Attorney Peter S. Boter to incorporate it into a contract to be approved both by the seminary trustees and the Board of Education as to terms of sale.

Clerk John Olert read a letter from the Holland high school council signed by Mayor K. Don Jacobusse expressing appreciation to the board for permission to include social dancing at school parties. The communication also listed parties held during the school year.

The board approved a recommendation of the committee on teachers to hire Joyce Keller of Sleepy Eye, Minn., as girl's physical education teacher for the coming year. Miss Keller is a graduate of Sleepy Eye high school and has received a B. S. degree from North Central college.

Approval also was given the appointment of Russell H. Welch as principal of Lincoln school. He will continue his duties as visiting teacher in the elementary schools and will have no teaching duties at Lincoln.

A letter was read from the Warren S. Holmes Co. enclosing $50 toward installation of four recessed light fixtures in the general purpose room at Longfellow school. The company said it had been informed by DeFouw Electric Co. of Holland that if the fixtures had been originally included in the plan, the price would have been $50 less than the present figure of $272.

Supt. Crawford announced that the county tax allocation board has allocated 8.16 mills on the equalized valuation of $29,560,181 as the tax use for Holland public schools next year. Crawford said last year's allocation was 7.27 mills and added that the new allocation is sufficient to cover the tax request this year.

He also announced that Robert Moore, vocal teacher, has accepted a teaching offer at Rocky River, Ohio, for the next year and that Albert Howell expects to continue his education.

Mrs. John K. Winter announced the committee on teachers had sent a letter to teachers expressing in the board's appreciation for work done the past year.

The board approved plans whereby the Social Studies department consisting of Carl Van Lente, Barbara Lampen and Phyllis Ver Plank will set up two new courses next year on Michigan History and World Geography.

Claims and accounts totaled $72,169.43 of which $36,845.65 went for teachers' salaries and $23,955.56 for building and site fund. All trustees were present with the exception of Dr. Lester J. Kuyper. President A. E. Lampen presided and Mrs. Kenneth De Pree gave the invocation.

Dinner Dance Featured as Yacht Club Opening

A gala dinner dance Saturday night successfully opened the 1951 season for members of the Macatawa Bay Yacht club. A profusion of peonies, arranged by Mrs. Chester Van Tongeren, Mrs. Charles R. Sligh, Jr., and Mrs. Kenneth Campbell, decorated the club house for the traditional party based on the theme, "In the Good Old Summertime."

ed over season's activities. Sligh is commodore of the club this year and Mrs. Gold is chairman of the social committee. Mr. Gold is power boat chairman and Mrs. Sligh is a member of Mrs. Gold's committee.

Baccalaureate Speaker Warns of Life's Perils

Speaking on "Sanctification for Others' Sake," the Rev. Andrew Branche, Jr., principal of Southern Normal school of Brewton, Ala., addressed the graduating class of Hope college and a capacity crowd of relatives and friends at the 86th baccalaureate of Hope college Sunday evening. The service was held in Hope Memorial chapel.

Rev. Branche based his talk on the Biblical passage in which Christ declared that He sanctified Himself so that others may be sanctified. A background of experiences in schools and colleges prepares us for avoiding the flagrant evils and for living within the bounds of respectability, he said, but the danger in life lies in several great perils.

He warned against goodness for goodness' sake, that which draws us from the world into a sort of sophistication and allows us to ignore the needs of others; and against spurious complacency, which lets us to look at problems of the world with a condescending neutrality. He cited as other perils the shifty psychology which allows irresponsibility for one's own and others' shortcomings, and self defensive morality or redemptive goodness. To avoid the perils, he urged his audience to "get into the middle of the stream of life," to find the core of goodness which is there.

Led by the chapel choir, members of the graduating class and faculty took part in the opening procession and the Rev. William Van't Hof of Faith Community church, Detroit, gave the opening prayer. Dr. Eugene Osterhaven, Hope college pastor read scripture. Two anthems, "Create in Me, O God," Brahms, and "I Walk the King's Highway," Williams, were sung by the Chapel choir, directed by Harvey O. Davis. The Rev. Raymond C. Van Zoeren, Synodical supervisor, Particular Synod of Albany, gave the closing prayer.

Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, Hope college president, presided at the service. Mrs. W. Curtis Snow of the Hope faculty was organist.

Three Cars Involved In North Side Crash

Three cars were involved in a traffic collision at 3:30 p.m. Sunday on the Ottawa Beach Rd., near Lake Shore Dr., sheriff's deputies reported today.

One passenger, William Parratt, 76, of Marion, Ohio, was listed as injured. He incurred a bumped forehead and was taken to his home for treatment.

Drivers involved were Royal L. Purchase, 28, of Grand Rapids; C. Parratt, 47, of Columbus, Ohio; and William Mosler, 16, of Jenison. All were headed east on the Ottawa Beach Rd.

Investigating officers said that Purchase stopped suddenly when an unidentified driver turned, and Parratt and Mosler couldn't stop.

in time to avoid the collision.

Damage to Purchase's car was estimated to $50, while the Parratt car received an estimated $60 damage, and Mosler's vehicle an estimated $150 damage.

Ottawa Deputy Nelson Lucas made the investigation.

Two-Car Crash Injures Five

Grand Haven (Special)—Five persons were treated in Municipal hospital for injuries received when two cars collided at 8:35 p.m. Monday on Sheldon road four miles south of M-50.

Drivers were Stanley V'Soske, 19, and Lee Raeside, 24, both of Grand Rapids. Raeside was said to have made a left turn into a private driveway directly into the path of the V'Soske car.

Injured in the V'Soske car were Joyce Rickling, 17, Grand Rapids, facial cuts and bruises, and the driver, leg and head cut. In the other car were the driver, head and leg cuts; Joseph Prozenzano, 29, Grand Rapids, body bruises, and Kenneth Lewis, 20, route 1, West Olive, bruises.

Raeside was charged by state police with failure to yield the right of way.

Six Holland Students Will Receive Awards

Kalamazoo (Special)—Six student from Holland will be candidates for degrees, certificates or both from Western Michigan college at the end of the second semester, June 16.

These students and the degrees and certificates they expect to receive are: Warren Huyser, bachelor of arts and state secondary provisional certificate; Eleanor Charlotte Killian, bachelor of music and state secondary provisional certificate; Ransom W. Everett, bachelor of science and state secondary provisional certificate; and Marjula Jane Chapman, bachelor of science and state elementary provisional certificate.

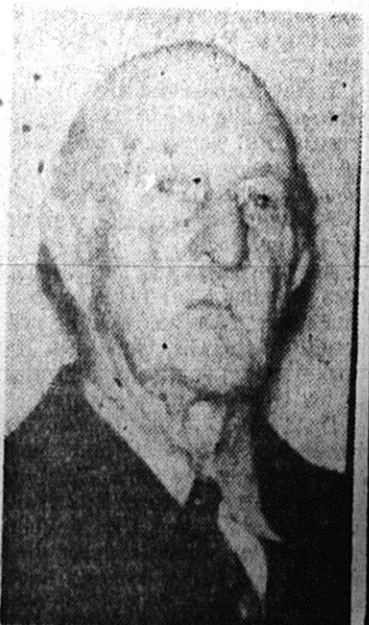

Elaine Mae Garvelink and Mildred M. Rooks will be candidates for the state limited certificate.

Payment Deferred

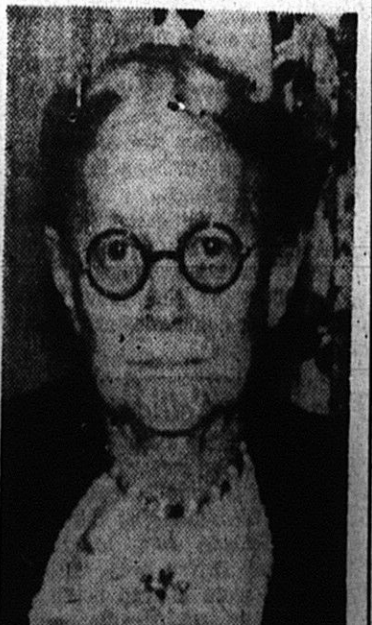

Dell Harless, 45, living at a local hotel, appeared in Municipal Court Saturday charged with being drunk and disorderly. He was ordered to pay $19.70 fine and costs, with a jail sentence as alternative. Judge Cornelius vander Meulen deferred payment until Tuesday—after Harless' payday.

Harless was arrested by city police Friday evening at Centennial park.

Couple Married 54 Years

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Boeve of route 5 quietly observed their 54th wedding anniversary. Mr. Boeve, who is 77, was born on the farm where he has lived his entire life. Mrs. Boeve, 74, is the former Jennie Douma. The couple has four children, Gerrit, Andrew and Wallace Boeve and Mrs. Henry Grotenhuis, all of Holland. There are six grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Teusink-Boerman Vows Exchanged

Before a setting of white gladioli, ferns, palms and seven-branch candelabra, Miss Hilda Boerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Boerman, route 3, became the bride of Ernest Teusink, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Teusink of Martin. The Rev. Harmon Kuizema of Oakland performed the double ring ceremony Friday night in the American Legion club house.

Prelude music and the wedding marches were played by Mrs. Harvey Huizenga, who also accompanied Harvey Huizenga, soloist, as he sang "Because," "Have Thine Own Way Lord" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride wore a gown of sheer white with lace inserts, a high neckline and long pointed sleeves. A full skirt ended in a train. Tiny buttons extended down the back of the gown. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses. She wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Her only attendant, Miss Dena Broekhuis, wore a pink taffeta gown and carried a bouquet of pink roses and daisies. She wore a matching headpiece.

Floyd Brinkhuis assisted the groom as best man. Milfred Comagner and Harlin Reinink were ushers.

A reception for 60 guests followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Teusink were master and mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. Donald Boerman and Mrs. Dilibert Boerman were in charge of the gift room.

The program included a piano solo by Miss Elaine Reinink. Miss Broekhuis presented a reading and Harvey Huizenga sang a solo. Group singing was led by the Rev. G. Chermak, who also closed with remarks and prayer.

Following a wedding trip the couple will live in Martin. For traveling the bride wore a navy blue dress and white accessories. She wore a corsage of white roses. Five pre-nuptial showers were given for the bride.

Condemnation Hearing Is Set Next Tuesday

Grand Haven (Special)—The condemnation suit brought by the Holland public schools against the Silver Creek Land and Investment Co., and other defendants, will be heard before Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith in the municipal court room in Holland next Tuesday morning.

A special jury of 18 members, 12 of whom will be chosen, has been drawn. Purpose of the trial is to determine the need for condemnation and just compensation to property owners.

The property lies between Van Raalte and Harrison Ave., and 24th and 26th Sts., encompassing two square blocks. It has been chosen as the site of the new Van Raalte school.

Two Citations Issued In Two-Truck Accident

A collision between two trucks Monday morning resulted in traffic citations for both drivers involved.

The accident happened at 11:15 a.m. Monday on Lincoln Ave., between 28th and 29th Sts. Drivers of the trucks were Robert L. Cook, 26, of Grand Rapids, whose tractor was standing headed south on Lincoln; and Gerard Meyer, 17, of route 2, Hudsonville, whose dump truck was headed north on Lincoln.

Officers said Meyer made a left turn in front of the Cook truck. Damage of $200 was estimated to Cook's truck, and $15 to Meyer's vehicle.

Investigating deputy Clayton Forry ticketed Cook for failure to yield right of way, and gave Meyer a ticket for no chauffeur's license and excessive speed.

Myrrh and frankincense were the most precious early perfumes.

Dr. D. Van Strien New President Of General Synod

New Jersey Minister
Is Graduate of Hope,
Former Missionary

Buck Hill Falls, Pa.—Dr. David Van Strien of the Reformed church of Woodcliff-on-Hudson, N. J., was elected president of the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America at the 145th regular session to succeed Dr. Henry A. Vruwink of the Flatbush Reformed church of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Dr. Van Strien is a graduate of Hope college at Holland, Mich., and New Brunswick Theological seminary. He served the Reformed church as missionary in Japan from 1912 to 1920. He served the Whitehouse Station, N. J. church for two years and since then has been at Woodcliff. He served on the church's Board of Foreign Missions for 20 years, represented the Reformed church on the Federal Council of Churches, and now is president of the board of superintendents of New Brunswick seminary.

Dr. Frederick Zimmerman, pastor of the First church of Albany, N. Y., was elected vice-president. Dr. Zimmerman is a graduate of Rutgers University and New Brunswick seminary. He served tuchen, N. J., for 18 years, for 11 years executive secretary of the Board of Domestic Missions, and two years at First Albany.

A necrology report listed 18 clergymen who died in the course of the year. Among them was Dr. Elias W. Thompson of Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y., a former president of the Synod, and for many years president of the Board of Education of the church.

President Joseph R. Sizoo of New Brunswick Theological seminary addressed the Synod on the subject of Evangelism.

President Vruwink reported 766 organized churches in the church and 903 ministers; a communicant membership of 187,139, and 722 Sunday Schools with an enrollment of 132,687. The church gave $2,698,000 for its missionary and educational work and $8,290,986 for its home support. Gain over last year was more than three-quarters of a million. The Church Herald, published in Grand Rapids, reaches one out of every three families in the denomination.

Lake Michigan Levels Are Compiled for May

The United States Lake Survey reports the following mean stages of Lakes Michigan and Huron for May, 1951, determined from daily readings of staff gauges:

Feet above mean tide at New York, 580.94; change in stage from April to May, this year, plus .58 foot; average since 1900, plus .30 foot; difference from stage of May last year, plus 1.60 foot; 10-year mean, plus .91 foot; difference of stage from low-water datum, plus 2.44 inches. Low-water datum is the plane to which depths on Lake Survey charts are referred.

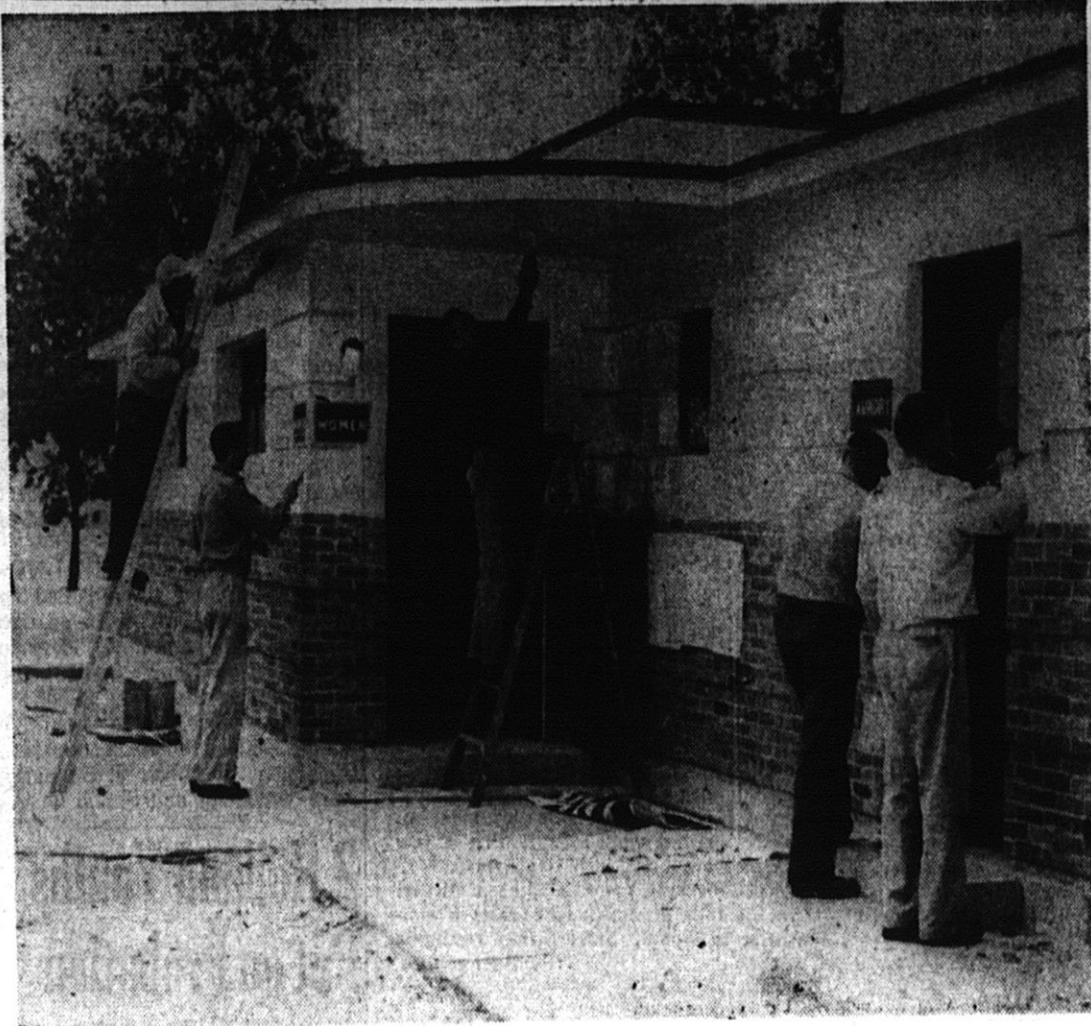

Based upon past records, monthly mean levels for June are likely to be 581.2 feet and not less than 580.9. Lakes Michigan and Huron are 1.03 feet below the high stage of May, 1929, and 3.15 feet above the low stage of May, 1934.

Italian War Bride To Teach in Allegan

Allegan (Special)—Allegan high school Latin and French pupils will study with a native of Italy next term, Supt. Arthur Kaechele announced.

Mrs. Caterina Kennworthy, a GI bride, has been hired to teach the foreign languages. She is a graduate of the University of Rome, and has just completed her work at Western Michigan college to qualify her to teach in the United States.

Two others have been added to the public school staff. Don Lynn Scheid, Grand Rapids, Michigan State college graduate this spring, will be band instructor. Mrs. Martha Erickson, whose husband is employed at the Swan Creek Wildlife Experiment station, will be first grade teacher at the westward school.

Hard at work these days is the crew of workmen getting Holland State Park in shape for the anticipated two million or more visitors this year. Working here painting the bathhouse are five new members of Manager Clare Broad's force. Left to right, are James Nelson, Grand Rapids; J. F. Van Overing, Grand Rapids; Victor McElhose, Flint; Frank Du Fon, Free Soil; and Ken De Jonge, Zeeland. Manager Broad's full time force this summer will number 14 men.

Library Adventures

By Arnold Mulder

Is there any validity in Napoleon's famous quip that "history is a myth agreed upon"? Or in Henry Ford's paraphrase of the same dictum that "history is bunk"?

A friend of mine, remembering my admiration for Robert E. Lee, sends me some almost sensational criticisms of the celebrated southern Civil War general. Himself an admirer of Lee, he writes: "Here are some comments on Robert E. Lee that upset my Maryland-acquired regard for him." He wants to know what I think of them.

I am not too clear as to the source of the strictures. But at least one of the several sheets of adverse comment on Lee seems to be the work of a Chicago author of three or four books. The judgments were incorporated in a letter under a recent date as April 9, 1951.

He writes that from his study of original sources Lee "emerges as a hypocrite who plotted with the worst men in his state to plunge that state into rebellion in spite of the wishes of the people of Virginia. A man who betrayed not only his country, but to a greater extent his native state. And it is there, all in black and white in the official correspondence! But if a man were to write the truth about Lee he would be unable to find a publisher, and if he could, his book would not sell. The South has picked Lee as a sort of symbol (probably because most of the other Confederate conspirators were even worse) and has built him up into a Sir Galahad. The North says 'Amen for the sake of politics.'"

My own reaction is that such a biography as Douglas Southall Freeman's three-volume life of Lee was also based on original documents, not on secondary information. And the total picture that comes out of those years of research by a trained mind is quite different from the one painted by the Chicago author.

To be entirely fair, it is necessary to add that Freeman is himself a Virginian and hence may be presumed to be unduly prejudiced in Lee's favor. There is something to be said for that. Doubtless Freeman's interpretation of his hero is to some degree affected by his own temperament. Napoleon was right, in my opinion, to a limited extent. History gets cluttered up with a lot of official "legends" that are repeated over and over again and that the brutal facts as shown in the original documents cannot destroy.

But history is also subject to the constant and repeated examination by many men of many different temperaments. After a celebrated man like Lee dies, especially after the passions and sentimentalisms of the people of his own time have yielded to the more sober judgments of cool fact, those sniffing historical hounds are on the prowl to smell out the facts. Those historians are of such diverse temperaments that it seems fantastic to me to assume that there could be a plot to turn a traitor and a cold-blooded conspirator into a Sir Galahad. One writer might make an attempt but his assertions would be cancelled out by other writers basing their conclusions on the same documents.

It is now some 90 years after Lee played his part on a national stage. The conclusion that historians who must be presumed to be just as honest and competent as the writer of the paragraph I quoted have come to is that Lee was on the whole an honest man and a patriot, and also one of the greatest military geniuses America has produced. Original documents, like statistics, can be made to prove almost anything the one using them wishes them to prove. If the Chicago man should write a life of Lee he would simply be interpreting the facts in terms of his own temperament.

Mary Lou Buis Passes Highest Camp Fire Rank

Mary Lou Buis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Buis of route 4, was honored Friday night at the annual Grand Council Fire of Holland Camp Fire Girls. In ceremonies at Holland high school gymnasium, Miss Buis was awarded the Torch Bearers rank in social leadership, highest rank in Camp Fire. The rank was conferred by Mrs. Albert Timmer, local Camp Fire executive director, and the emblem was pinned on Miss Buis by her father.

The Torch Bearers rank in sports and games was conferred on 14 girls, members of Mrs. A. Bouwman's and Mrs. J. Moran's groups. Many passed the first three ranks, Trail Seekers, Wood Gatherers and Fire Makers. Mrs. Timmer was assisted by Mrs. Gerald Bolhuis, chairman of the committee of awards, in conferring ranks.

Opening with the traditional Wotelo call, the council fire featured the traditional circle around the triangular centerpiece. In carrying out the red, white and blue colors of Camp Fire, red flowers and white candles were used.

In the candlelighting ceremony, Julie Smith lit the birthday candle, Mary Dixon, work candle, Sandra Harbin, Health, and Ann Mackenzie, love. The president of each group lit her group's candle.

Three and five year consecutive membership honors were given by Mrs. Peter Kromann, president of the Council, and service awards were presented by Mrs. Millard Westrate, who heads the community service committee. Birthday honors, for making "Dolls to Foster Friendship," were given by Mrs. Timmer.

A novel choral reading, entitled "The Princess in the Tower," was given by a group of Camp Fire Girls coached by Mrs. Nina Daugherty. In the group were Barbara Emmick, Mary Cumerford, Carolyn Borr, Joanne Peters, Judy Westrate, Sharon Crawford, Marcia Bouws, Leslie Bosch and Barbara Wenzel.

The closing ceremonies featured "Sheltering Flame," sung by Marjorie Zickler and "Closing Song," sung by a chorus directed by Mrs. A. E. Hildebrand. Members were Marcia Bort, Sonja Bouwman, Myrna Cook, Cora Lee Kaepnick, Jack Keane, Jane Klaasen and Marjorie Zickler.

Carole Nies and Nancy Moran presented the colors, with Clarence Olin and Shirley Seidelman forming the honor guard.

Holland In 1916

(Following is the 511th in the series of weekly articles taken from news of the Holland Daily Sentinel published more than 35 years ago.)

Old Hi Costo Living has scored another victory, according to a story in the Wednesday, Jan. 31, issue of the Holland Daily Sentinel published in 1917. Milk in Holland will cost 7 1/2 cents a quart instead of 7, beginning tomorrow morning.

"I am authorized by the Board of Foreign Missions of the Reformed Church in America to state that if the student body of Hope college desire and resolve to undertake the support of John D. Myuskins, '14, as principal of the Madanapalle high school of the Arcot mission, India, the Board on its part is ready to authorize the change of the name of this large and important high school and designate it as the Hope high school of the Arcot mission, India." These were the vital words of Dr. W. I. Chamberlain, noted foreign secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions as he addressed a union meeting of the Hope college YMCA and YWCA last evening in Winants chapel.

The large crowd that congregated at the city hall this morning to participate in the farmers' rally today surpassed the expectation of even the officers of the Farmers' club and farm expert under whose auspices they came.

Summer Tax Bills Will Go Into Mail Early Next Month

Summer tax bill will go into the mail about July 1, City Manager Harold C. McClintock and Assessor William Koop reported today.

The summer tax bills, which include both city and school taxes for the year, show an increase for 1951 of 18.45 per cent over 1950. The city's share of the tax bill covers a 15 1/2 month period.

However, the school taxes still run for a 12-month period. Only the city general tax is for the 15 1/2 month period.

A breakdown of figures supplied by city officials:

City general tax: The 1951 rate is $16.12 as compared with $11.26 for 1950. This shows an increase of $4.86.

School debt service: In 1951, this section decreased to 86 cents from the 97 cents charged in 1950.

School operating: This section shows a slight increase in 1951 to 10.80 from the $10 figure of 1950.

School special voted: In 1951, the rate is $6.30, or slightly lower than the $6.54 figure in 1950.

Adding up these figures, the total for 1951 is $34.80, as compared with $28.77 for 1950. The overall increase—still remembering the increased length of time on the general tax—is 18.45 per cent.

All tax rates are figured on each $1,000 of assessed valuation. On each statement this year, a special note reminds taxpayers that the fiscal year of the city is changing, thus accounting for the larger rate in the city general tax section.

Taxes will be levied for this year on the increased time period—from March 19, 1951 through June 30, 1952.

Holland's Junior Netters Eye June 26 Tourney

Carl Visscher upset Norm Scheerhooren in the finals of the Holland high tenth grade tennis tournament last week with a resounding 6-1, 6-1 thrashing.

Visscher had previously squeaked past Duane Carlson, 6-2, 4-6, 6-2, and the easier Orville Tien, 6-2, 6-2, to reach the finals.

Dick Crawford defeated Dave Bos, 6-1, 6-3, only to lose a hard semi-final match to Scheerhooren, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3. Scheerhooren had won his grade tournament in the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades, but was badly off form against Visscher and went down quickly under the winner's net rushing tactics.

The next competition for Holland's junior tennis players will be the Holland Junior Center, set for June 26 to 30.

The tourney will be open to all boys and girls in the city who were under the age of 18 on Jan. 1 of this year, and who live in Holland and vicinity. Joe Moran, tourney director said today.

Winners and runners-up will qualify for the state Junior Center at Kalamazoo from July 10 to 13. Winners' expenses will be paid to that tourney, Moran said.

Division age groups listed by Moran show three for boys and two for girls. Boys under 13, boys under 15, and boys under 18, and girls under 13, and girls under 15, with both singles and doubles will be the division headings.

Medals will be given all winners and runners-up in the 15 and 18 year division by the American Lawn Tennis association through its local representative, the Holland Tennis club.

Junior Centers also are operated in Grand Haven, Grand Rapids, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo, and Lansing, with the winners at each going to Kalamazoo for the state finals. Winners at the state finals qualify for the nationals, Moran said.

Moran said that in past years, Hamtramck and Kalamazoo have dominated the final play at the state tourney, with Holland generally not being defeated until final round play. But this year, the Holland crop of players look "very strong" Moran said, and should put up the best effort to date.

Car Rams Pickup Truck In Highway Accident

Grand Haven (Special)—Sheriff Gerald Vanderbeek issued John L. Hall, 25, Coopersville, a ticket for failure to stop in the assured clear distance ahead, after his car struck the rear end of a pickup truck driven by William Beroza, 65, route 2, Ravenna, on US-16 a mile east of Jenison at 3:30 Saturday morning. Both vehicles were traveling in a southeasterly direction.

Hall's car was jammed into the rear of the truck with such force that it was necessary for a wrecker to get them apart.

Beroza suffered bruises on the back and neck. He was on his way to the Grand Rapids market with a supply of strawberries, which were strewn all over the highway.

Friday Court Notes

Two drivers paid traffic fines in Municipal Court Friday. James E. Pritchard, Beach Ct., paid $22 fine and costs for speeding. Edward Sjoerdema, 227 West 18th St., paid $5 fine and costs for running a stop street.

The water flowed freely and fast for a few moments one day this week when a delivery truck made a short turn out of an alley on River Ave., just south of Eighth St., and clipped off a fire hydrant. The water first was rusty red and later turned to foamy white. Board of Public Works employees arrived shortly after the accident to turn off the water. The clipped hydrant is shown

VOLLEYS FROM AMBUSH

The New Yorker, slick, sophisticated man-about-town magazine, has caught up with an old chestnut. The Sentinel has been chuckling about for years.

Brought to our attention by O. S. Reimold and George Mooi, the May 19 issue of said magazine contains this cute quip:

"Wanted—Apprehensive barber age 35, graduate of 'Greene Barber College.' Detroit wishes employment in local barber shop." "Courage, man! Gird on your scissors!"

That want ad ran three or four years ago, and the employees here well remember the incident. No, that "apprehensive" wasn't a mistake. "Everybody" thought it was supposed to be "apprentice" but the applicant insisted he wanted it "apprehensive."

And so to Webster's dictionary we went. And the No. 1 definition is "Capable of apprehending, or quick to do so; apt, discerning." The next three definitions follow the same reasoning. It wasn't until the fifth definition that fear or anything unfavorable enters. No. 5 reads "Anticipative of something unfavorable; fearful of what may be coming; in dread of possible harm or evil."

Better put those scissors back, New Yorker!

It reminds us of a similar surprise we experienced some time ago. We had always supposed the word "scan" meant looking over a printed page hastily. Well, it does, but not until definition No. 5.

The first four are almost exactly the opposite—To go over and examine point by point, to examine with care, to look closely at or into, scrutinize, to judge critically, to criticize adversely.

You're surprised too?

Maybe we'd all better get the dictionary habit, huh?

You'd think people would want to relax awhile before thinking of next year's Tulip Time. But such is not the case. Hard-working Harold J. Karsten, boss-man of the band review, has already received his first inquiry from a high school for the 1952 band review.

Mrs. Sadie Van Oort of Macatawa Park uncovered an old Sentinel while housecleaning a few weeks ago and got a big laugh from the news from Sept. 17, 1912. One article interested her particularly, and she passed it on to the Sentinel staff for an extra laugh.

It read:

FAILURE TO KEEP PROMISE COST $10

Holland, Mich.—The loss of a $10 bill was the penalty which a prominent Holland "young man" paid for neglecting to heed the request of his father on his wedding day. The father presented him with a beautiful Bible in which he concealed the greenback and cautioned the son to read the Bible through from cover to cover. The son faithfully promised. This was four years ago.

Recently the father appeared at the son's home and was asked to stay for dinner. The son politely handed his father the Bible and asked him to read the daily scripture lesson.

When the father opened the book he extracted from between its pages the bill and impressed forcibly upon his son that text: "Seek and ye shall find."

Now it's official!

Board of Review Upholds Wayland Drain Assessment

Kalamazoo will henceforth be known not only for its celery and papermaking but also for its lilacs.

The city commission has acted favorably on a proposal of the Kalamazoo Garden Center council to designate the lilac as the official city flower. Some had been in favor of the pansy, but lilacs came out ahead.

We hope they'll be as pretty as our tulips.

There's one local housewife who is probably going to be a little more careful about locking her doors at night. At 4 a.m. one morning recently she heard strange footsteps downstairs and they started up the stairs. She called out, but the footsteps kept coming. Then the interloper asked if John were ready...for that fishing trip.

The fisherman was in the wrong house. John lived next door.

Need another laugh? How's this?

In a swank photography studio a society matron was looking at a new picture she'd had taken. "Why, that picture's an outrage!" she stormed. "Now I ask you, does it look like me?"

The suave photographer was flustered for a moment, but quickly regained his composure. "Madam," he said, bowing slightly, "the answer is in the negative."

Miss Arline Oetman Honored at Shower

A shower honoring Miss Arline Oetman, June bride-elect to Alvin Pittman, was given Wednesday evening by Mrs. A. B. Hulbos and Mrs. James Rabber, Jr., at the Rabbers home, 97 1/2 East 18th St.

Games were played. A two-course lunch was served by the hostesses.

Those present were the Mesdames George Oetman, Fred Lemmen, John Lemmen, Bert Raterink, Alvin Overbeck, Howard Meeuwssen, Fred Breuker, Herman Breuker, Clarence Breuker, James Schafer, Arthur Green, Raymond Green, Jack Hobeck, Lawrence Wilson, Henry Breuker, Leon Pittman, Floyd Pittman, Maynard Bakker and the Mesdames Edna Oetman and Helen Oetman.

Burnips Baby Sitter Admits Slapping Child

Allegan (Special)—An 11-year-old baby sitter admitted she slapped her two-year-old charge until the baby was black and blue. Sheriff Louis Johnson said this morning.

The case was investigated when a Burnips mother reported she returned home to find her small daughter beaten and bruised. The girl told Sheriff Johnson she punished the child when she woke up in the night and didn't go back to sleep.

The baby's mother said she wouldn't prosecute the baby-sitter but would confer with her parents about the matter.

Garden Club Committee Names Gardens of Week

"Gardens of the Week," the small attractive gardens at 93 and 117 West 21st St., have been selected as this week's winners by the city planning committee of the Holland Tulip Garden club.

These gardens were discovered when the committee was inspecting the tulip plantings made from bulbs purchased at the sale which Tulip Time, Inc., sponsored last fall.

Further selections will be made by the committee each week and selections will be announced. The committee feels that these weekly announcements will stimulate interest in the planting of attractive small gardens.

Allegan (Special)—The special board of review has upheld the apportionment on Wayland town- ship farmers for the Gun River drain, according to a report filed Thursday.

The board had reviewed the apportionment of 50 cents an acre in some sections of Wayland township after a protest was filed in probate court by 24 appellants designated as the Wayland Protective association.

In its report, the three-man board said it viewed the grounds in question, heard the allegations of the appellants, and found the apportionment "without manifest error and is just and equitable in every respect."

The board met on May 23, 26, 31, and June 6, the report said. By its action, the board upheld the original assessments placed by Allegan County Drain Commissioner William Teed, whose job it was to spread the county's share of the $70,000 cost. The Wayland farmers sought to be relieved from a share, declaring their drainage was not benefited by the Gun River drain now being cleaned and widened. As it stands, Wayland taxpayers are assessed six per cent, Gun Plain township eight, and Martin, 61 per cent and the county road commission 10 per cent.

Pullman

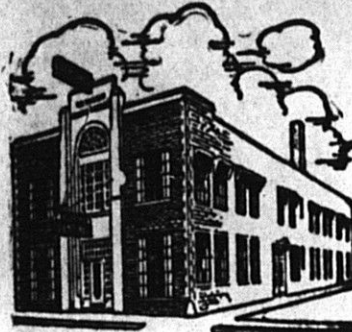

Pullman Rebekah lodge will meet at the Pullman Odd Fellow hall Wednesday, June 13, for a regular session.

Mrs. William Burch has returned to her home in Pullman from Holland, where she spent several weeks with her sister, Mrs. Viola Wheaton. Mr. Burch is still a patient at Allegan county hospital and is much improved. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Overhiser of East Casco announce the birth of a son on June 5 at South Haven hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jennings of Douglas were visitors last Monday at the home of their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Overhiser, and their mother, Mrs. Grace Burrows of East Casco.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Austin of Kalamazoo were dinner guests last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Reams. Afternoon visitors were Mr. and Mrs. George Dalrymple, Reynold Hoag, Flora Burch and Grace Burrows. Mrs. Jessie Burch, route 1, Pullman, was sick last week.

CLOSING TOURIST BORDERS

The state department has imposed a ban on travel by American citizens to Czechoslovakia. American passports of private travelers are no longer valid to proceed to that country. From now on American tourists will have to stop at the Czech border. They will not be allowed to spend their tourist dollars in that country.

It remains to be seen whether that step will bring results, but whether it does or not it was a step that was long overdue. The case of Hungary proved that the loss of American tourist dollars was of real concern to that country at least. One of the main reasons why the Vogeler case was brought to a successful conclusion was the fact that America agreed to lift the ban on touring that country. It seems likely that Czechoslovakia will feel the pinch as much as did Hungary.

The common people of Czechoslovakia are for a most part a lovable folk and the loss of American trade will fall heavily on them. But that can't be helped. When a country insists on holding travelers from the free world in prison for weeks without explanation, as they have been doing in the case of the correspondent William Otis, nothing is left but to prevent other Americans from sharing a similar fate.

The American government is gradually learning to deal with such countries in their own techniques. We are beginning to use the argument that Communist fanatics can understand. Those Communist are as hot after the American dollar as any capitalist decadents could possibly be. They try their very best to get their clutches on as much of our American money as they can. A considerable amount of the income of people of some of those countries is represented by the wealth brought in by open-handed American tourists.

Shut off that flow of American cash and it is possible that even fanatics may be pressured by their own people into adopting a halfway decent attitude toward American nationals.

Even if it should not have that effect, the policy would still be a good one. When governmental fanatics kick visitors in the face it is not good sense to take such treatment meekly. Kick back with every ounce of force behind the kick that can be mustered. That's the only response that will have an effect. Give them tit for tat every time. Even if it should not do any good, it will at least make for self-respect on the part of the kicked. Our observation leads us to believe that they do not like us anyway. They do like our money.

Beechwood Church Plans Summer Bible School

Daily Vacation Bible school will be held in the Beechwood Reformed church Monday, June 18 through June 22. Sessions will begin at 9 a.m. and close at 12 noon.

Sunday School Lesson

June 17, 1951
The Spread of the Gospel
Acts 1:8; 4:5-12; 28:15-16; 30:31
By Henry Geerlings

It is quite customary to criticize the early Christians for their reluctance to give the gospel to any others than members of their own race. But let us look at the situation for a moment. Fifteen hundred years before Jesus came, God led the Jews out of Egypt and into Canaan. Canaan was an isolated land, surrounded by mountains, deserts and seas. They were to be a separate people, and this was the very country in which their contacts with foreigners would be few.

They were to live to themselves. They were not to intermarry. They were to be established in the fundamentals of the pure faith which God would reveal to them. That was essential. It is not strange then that they came to think of themselves as the people. It is true God was giving them this special training to the end that they might, in the fulness of time give to others the message they had received. And here is where they failed, even the Christians being hampered by a false national pride.

Credit, however, should be given the early church for its activity and rapid growth. True it did manifest weaknesses and faults. It was not a perfect institution. But it worked hard and grew, the Lord working with it. It grew extensively. Every day it was making converts and winning new recruits. Its boundries were being extended and its frontiers pushed back. More and more people were talking about this new religion. Each town and countryside was coming to have its heralds of the cross.

At first the members in the church were estimated, by addition but later it was done by multiplication. This church grew intensively also. I was after something more than numbers. Its members were growing in grace. Their spiritual life was daily deepened. They gave generously. They looked after the needy. They bore faithful witness to Jesus. They were patient under persecution. They were responsive to the influence of the Holy Spirit.

Barnabas of Cyprus had become so enthused over the people of the Way that he sold his lands and gave the money to the Apostles for the church treasury. Persecution had scattered Christian Jews everywhere. At Antioch some men had become so zealous that they had preached the gospel to Gentiles. This needed investigation and Barnabas was sent to make a study of the situation. He found the work was well done and was justified. He felt obliged to get into the work himself, but soon realized that he needed a trained helper. He knew of Saul of Tarsus and hastened thither to secure his assistance. Saul returned with him and went to work. For a year they taught the people, and attracted so much attention that the name Christian was given to the believers in Christ.

There was no organized plan for meeting the command of Christ that the whole world should be evangelized. Individuals here and there had been proclaiming the Christ, and at Jerusalem and Antioch and the church was doing a local work. Then came the order from the Holy Spirit to the Antioch Christians that Barnabas and Saul should be set apart for special missionary work.

The Spirit made it plain that He had called these two men for a special work. They were to expand their mission, and not devote their time longer to the people of Antioch. There were others capable to carry on the work there. There was obedience to the call of the Spirit and the church set the two chosen men apart and commissioned them for foreign missionary work. On their return from Jerusalem John Mark, a near relative of Barnabas, accompanied them. He was a young Christian qualified to be their companion and helper.

These three left Antioch under the direction of the Spirit. Probably Barnabas had much to do with deciding what should be their first field. Cyprus was not a strange place to him. Thither they went going by land from Antioch to Seleucia, a distance of sixteen miles, where they boarded a ship, sailed down the Orontes River and thence across the eastern end of the Mediterranean Sea to Salamis, a seaport of Cyprus. At Salamis there was a synagogue of the Jews. This they used as their preaching place.

A commission is a trust and an assignment. To receive one presupposes fitness for what it requires. To live up to it calls for diligence until its conditions are fully met. Jesus approached His ascension, conscious of the unfinished work which must be turned over to trusted persons. He had the authority to hand this work over, and to clothe those who received it with authority to carry on in his stead. So he spoke to His disciples and gave them the commission, the greatest ever entrusted to men. They were to go forth and make disciples everywhere.

These apostles were men who had come up through the ranks. They owed their all to Christ and their all was to be used for Him. Before Christ took them as pupils to be trained they were without distinction. After He had finished with them they were destined to enter the lists of the greatest and qualify for the highest honors. They had learned to know Christ and obey Him. They had seen His works. They had heard and heeded His teaching. They had reached up to the fullest meaning of worship. They were ready to put everything into His service. They made the great commission an individual matter. Their hearts were filled with joy. They let the temple become the center of their interest while they waited for the power He had promised.

Youth Center Sets Last Party

The last party of the school year will be staged at Holland Youth Center Saturday night. Members of the activities committee have made plans for a gala evening, featuring square dancing. The semi-formal party will begin at 8 p.m.

During the evening, awards will be given to winners of the girls, junior boys and senior boys ping pong tournaments. Other prizes will be given.

A board of directors meeting was held at the center Tuesday night. Two new members, Hans Suzenaar of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and Mrs. E. H. Phillips of the JCC Auxiliary, were present.

Election of officers was held so that the board's fiscal year will coincide with that of the Jaycees and Auxiliary. All officers were re-elected. Willis Welling is president; William Douma, treasurer, and Mrs. Raymond J. Heider, secretary.

The Youth Center is sponsored by the local Jaycees.

First Reformed Church Holds Choir Banquet

The First Reformed church choir held its annual banquet Monday evening at the Dutch Mill restaurant. The director, Robert Moore, and representatives of the church music committee, William De Haan and William Mulder, were present with their wives.

Ed Vining presided and offered prayer. After dinner a gift was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Moore, who are leaving Holland for Rocky River, Ohio. The remainder of the evening was spent as a social hour and group singing was led by Mrs. Victor Kleinhels.

Tuesday night, the final choir rehearsal of the season was held in the church. A group picture was taken and refreshments were furnished by Mrs. H. Wybenga.

Probate Court Petitioned In Nude Intruder Case

Ottawa and Allegan county sheriff's departments have petitioned Ottawa county probate court for further action in the case of a nude youth who walked into a house on 32nd St. at 12:30 a.m. Monday morning.

According to deputies, residents of the house reported the youth knocked on the front door of the house and when the woman opened the door, she saw he was completely nude. He stepped into the house for a moment, and later fled.

Chief Deputy Clayton Forry of Ottawa county and Henry Bouman of Allegan traced the underage youth through descriptions given by the occupants and made the arrest today after extensive questioning. His name is being withheld because he is not of age.

Westrate Accepts Post in Jackson

Millard C. Westrate, retiring superintendent of the Board of Public Works, revealed today that he has accepted a position as staff engineer with Commonwealth Associates of Jackson, effective June 25.

Westrate is leaving the employ of the city on June 16, he will have one week off before beginning his new position. He will be returning to the same company from which he left in 1943 to spend one year in war work before coming to Holland in 1944.

Commonwealth Associates is a firm of consulting engineers, specializing in the public utility field. Among its largest customers are Consumers Power Co., and the Ohio Edison Co. The firm for which Westrate will be employed is connected with Commonwealth Services, Inc.

J. H. Foote, brother of Mrs. J. D. French of Holland, is in charge of engineering for Commonwealth Associates.

At present, Mrs. Westrate and the family plan to remain in Holland for the next year until daughter Marilyn graduates from Holland high school in 1952.

Court Admits 10 New Citizens

Grand Haven (Special)—A 90-year-old man and his granddaughter, both living in Spring Lake, were among 10 Ottawa county residents who received naturalization papers Tuesday in the Ottawa county court house.

Honore Gignac and his granddaughter, Estelle Marie Gignac, were the two new citizens in question. They came originally from Canada.

Charles R. Hyck, officer-in-charge of the Flint office of the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization office, said it was the first time in his 23 years of experience with naturalization work that a 90-year-old grandfather and his granddaughter were naturalized in the same court.

Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith, before whom the hearing was held, welcomed the new citizens and presented each with an American flag.

Others admitted were Dora Meurer, 301 Lincoln Ave., Holland, Netherlands; Jessie Mulder, 21 East 20th St., Holland, Netherlands; John Kadlec, Grand Haven, Yugoslavia; Joseph Medja, Grand Haven, Yugoslavia; Johanna Adrianna Glatz, 130 West 14th St., Holland, Netherlands; Simon Cornelius Pauwe, 302 West 20th St., Holland, Netherlands; Herman Van Zonneveld, 370 Columbia Ave., Holland, Netherlands; Esther Buzas, Coopersville, Czechoslovakia.

Honore Gignac was born Dec. 15, 1860, in Sandwich, West Ontario, Canada, and arrived in this country Feb. 16, 1946.

Hagge, Van Ess Enter Golf Finals

Saugatuck (Special)—Bob Hagge shot a 37 last week to post the best score in the championship flight of the spring handicap at Saugatuck golf course, and defeated the favored M. K. Disbrow, 1-up, to enter the finals.

In the other half of the semifinals, Ray Van Ess edged Heinie Dorn, 2-up, and will meet Hagge this week.

In the first flight below championship, George Galles defeated Bob Holt, 1-up in 10 holes and will play the winner of the Jay Scott-Bruce Fogarty match, slated this week, for the championship in that flight.

The second flight will pit Jim Scott against Gene Chaddock this week. Scott defeated Ed Borgeson, 3-2, and Chaddock downed L. Slaugh, 2-up, last week to gain the final round.

In the mixed-Scotch foursome tournament Sunday afternoon, Audrey Hagge and Jim Unwin had the low gross with a 47, while Gertrude Shook and Pat Halley took the low net with a 36.

MSC Hollers 'Uncle'; No More ND Grid Ducats

East Lansing (UP)—Michigan State college football ticket officials today insisted that there are no more tickets for the Michigan State-Notre Dame football game scheduled for Nov. 10.

The college athletic ticket office, despite announcements starting last week that all available tickets had been sold, is receiving "bushels" of requests daily.

A sell-out crowd of 50,000 is expected to attend the game in East Lansing.

Legion Course Announces Golf Tourney Winners

Winners of the week-end low gross tourney at the American Legion golf course showed Bernard Arendshorst low scorer with a 72 for the 18-hole round. Ed Rackes was second with a 73, with George Slikkers and Wyn Vanden Berg tied for third with 74's. Bill Lamb shot a 76 to place fifth.

The blind bogey tourney showed Laverne De Vries shooting an 87; Arnold Vander Kolk, 90; Arendshorst, 72; George Botsis, 82; Vanden Berg, 74; and Bill Lamb, 76.

Nutchuck, a native Eskimo, and his wife work side by side on material for new books they are writing while vacationing a few weeks at Waukazo. Most Eskimos are born with two names, Nutchuck says, and his conventional American name is Simeon Oliver. Both will return to Holland in the fall. Nutchuck to address a Holland high assembly and his wife to speak before the Woman's Literary club. (Sentinel photo)

Eskimo and Wife Find Few Know Real Alaska

Alaska is a country of contrasts and Americans probably have more misconceptions over that territory than anything else connected with the United States, according to Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Oliver of Anchorage, Alaska, who are spending a few weeks at Waukazo compiling data for new books both are writing.

Oliver, native Eskimo, also is known as Nutchuck and as such has done considerable research into folklore of his country, particularly among the primitive peoples in their songs and dances. Such research forms the basis for his lectures and books. His wife, was born on the west coast, has been living in Alaska 30 years. They have three grown children.

Perhaps the fact that surprises Americans most is that Eskimos live in houses, that they lead quite normal lives, that winters are usually more mild than those in Michigan and that nights aren't six months long in the winter.

Even some textbooks could stand a bit of revising, Mrs. Oliver said. There's a good six hours of daylight during the winter in the Anchorage area, the center of the greater concentration of population.

But there are other extremes too. Some Eskimos of the primitive tribes still live in igloos on the Arctic coast, but they're made of sod and driftwood, not ice. An American civilization is reaching into even the most primitive groups inland. Last year Mrs. Oliver worked on the government census and she found the Sears-Roebuck catalogue had invaded far inland and natives were going in for home permanents and cosmetics.

Nutchuck said the native population of Alaska falls into three groups—Indians, Eskimos and Aleuts—the latter pronounced in three syllables. With the establishment of the Matanuska valley 16 years ago and completion of the Alaska highway, there has been quite a migration from the United States, and the population has jumped to 128,000 from 72,000 in 10 years. These people live in a territory of 586,000 square miles and a third are concentrated in the Anchorage area.

Anchorage is the New York City of Alaska. Some of the construction is most modern. There are smart shops and 'op entertainment, but Anchorage has its other side too. Winters in that area usually are warmer than in Michigan. Upland at the Arctic circle, temperatures can range from 100 degrees in the summer to 60 below in the winter.

Nutchuck—he was born with two names—was born in the little village of Chignik on the Aleutian chain and grew up there, engaging in such work as trapping, working on schooners, salmon canneries, fur trade, and even in a sulphur mine in the crater of an active volcano. He took his pre-college training in Alaska and attended Northcentral college in Naperville, Ill., and then under a scholarship studied music at the Chicago conservatory. He did concert and radio work for seven years in this country before entering the lecture field in 1936.

For many years, the Olivers have been spending the summers in Alaska and their winters in the United States on lecture tours. This is the first summer season they have spent "outside" since 1940. They will return here next fall, Nutchuck to speak at a high school assembly and his wife to speak before the Woman's Literary club.

During World War II, Nutchuck was assigned by the U. S. war department to G-2 duties with the U. S. Army in Alaska for three years.

"I got overseas pay for working at home," he said.

Trinity Church Group Has Picnic at Chippewa

Members of the Young Married People's Forum of Trinity Reformed church met at Camp Chippewa Tuesday night for a picnic. After a hamburger fry, members played volleyball and pitched horseshoes. After dark, the group gathered in the club house for a social evening. Arrangements for the event were made by the executive committee.

Kiwanians Entertain Large Group at Camp

Members of the Community Chest and the executive board of the Council of Social Agencies, and their wives and husbands, were guests of the Kiwanis club Monday night at an outing at Camp Kiwanis. Wives of the Kiwanians also were guests.

A brief history of the 35-acre camp since its purchase by the local service organization in the summer of 1945 was given by camp chairman Jacob Grasmeyer.

Short talks were given by Community Chest President Robert Kow and Mrs. Edith Walvoord of the Council.

Group singing was led by Harold Oosting and accompanied by Franklin Van Ry. The invocation was given by the Rev. Herman Rosenberg. Wilbur Cobb, club president, presided.

Dinner was served to about 125 guests by the house committee, consisting of Louis J. Stempfly, John Van Dam and Sinton Borr.

2 Holland Youths Put on Probation

Grand Haven (Special)—Two Holland youths were placed on probation for three years when they appeared in circuit court this Monday. Gordon Burke, 17, of 42 East Sixth St., and Clinton Nichols, Jr., 17, of 330 West 13th St., had both pleaded guilty May 10 to charges of gross indecency. The alleged offenses had taken place March 15 in Holland.

Conditions of the probation are that each pay $3 a month oversight fees and refrain from using intoxicants or smoking cigarettes. Nichols also was ordered to pay a $70 debt at the rate of $5 a week. Since he is now working at a restaurant in Chicago, Nichols' case may be transferred to the state of Illinois.

Alfred Kimball, 41, of 195 West 13th St., Holland, pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny from a dwelling. Complaint was made by Leo Roberts who alleges Kimball took $20 from Mrs. Roberts' purse. The case was to be disposed of later today.

Melvin Robert De Witt, 19, route 2, Grand Haven, pleaded guilty to a negligent homicide charge and will be sentenced June 21. The charge was in connection with a fatal accident May 23 which claimed the life of 16-year-old Margaret Kline, route 1, West Olive.

Irwin Slack, 22, Grand Haven, pleaded innocent to a charge of larceny from a motor vehicle and date for trial was to be set this afternoon. He is alleged to have taken a car radio out of a used car in a Grand Haven car lot.

Walter Ardie King, 17, Grand Haven, pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering in the nighttime and was to be sentenced later today. He is alleged to have taken cigarettes from Keefer's restaurant in Grand Haven May 15.

Police Warn Merchants About Cashing Checks

Another warning was issued today by Holland police to know your endorser when cashing checks.

The latest item to come to light was reported Monday by a local drug store which received an apparently bad check for $40. The check was made out to "cash" by a man who signed himself as a doctor. He furnished a street address in Flint, but checking showed there was no such street in Flint. The check was drawn on a Flint bank.

Police urged merchants to ask for two or three identifications when cashing a check for persons not known to them personally.

Missionaries to Speak At Rally in High School

Miss Alys Aldering, who has just returned from her second term as a missionary in Bolivia, South America, will appear on the Youth for Christ program in Holland high school auditorium at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

Also present will be Miss Margaret Datema, missionary to Guatemala. They will show slides of their respective fields and speak concerning them.

The local Youth for Christ band will provide special music. Mrs. Wesley Bouman will present solos.

The public is invited.

Henry Datema, 36, Killed in Accident Near Jones, Mich.

Marcellus (Special)—Henry Datema, 36, formerly of Holland, was killed in a car-truck accident Tuesday afternoon at 2 p.m. on M-119, about one mile north of Jones, Mich.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Three Rivers hospital.

His wife, Marion, who was riding with him at the time, also was taken to Three Rivers hospital where she is being treated for a fractured ankle, possible skull injury, cuts and bruises. The auto parts truck driver, who was not identified, also was taken to the hospital.

Datema was married to the former Marion Avery of Jones, April 12, 1941. Mrs. Datema formerly was employed at The Holland Evening Sentinel.

The couple lived in Holland for three years before moving to Marcellus about six years ago. He was employed as a truck driver between Marcellus and southern Indiana.

Survivors are three sons, Larry, Ronald and Douglas. Another small son died May 12, 1950. He also is survived by the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Datema of Hamilton; three brothers, Louis of Zealand, Arnold of Hamilton, and Gary of Holland; two sisters, Margaret Datema, a missionary home on leave from Guatemala, and Mrs. Muri Veneklasen of Zealand. Another brother, Jacob, was killed in Germany in 1945.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. from the Romig funeral home in Marcellus with the Rev. Duane Jacobs officiating. Burial will be in Poe's cemetery, Newberg township, Cass county.

Friends in Marcellus said the Datemas were involved in an accident on the same highway about one year ago. No one was injured.

Vows Spoken In Fennville

Fennville (Special)—An arbor of acacia and syringa flanked by baskets of white peonies formed the background for a wedding Sunday at 3 p.m. when Miss Vera Bruce, daughter of Mrs. Alfred Bruce of Douglas and the late Alfred Bruce, became the bride of Homer Edwin Bale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Bale of Fennville.

The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. O. W. Carr of Maple Rapids at the home of the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Edwin Richard.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Frank Bogard of Chicago, the bride wore a white ballerina length dress, the top of which was shadow lace with glove length sleeves and a full skirt. Her cap was brocade lace and her cap jewelry was a string of pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of American beauty roses and ivy.

Her maid of honor, Miss Marjorie Funk of Douglas, wore a ballerina length dress of light blue organdy and her bouquet was of pink carnations and ivy.

Attending the groom as best man was his brother, Ned Bale, Jr.

A reception for 100 guests was held on the lawn. Miss Bonnie McVoy and Phillip Bale served at the punch bowl. Mrs. Maurice Morgan, Miss Jean Morgan and Miss Mary Lou Bale served. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Saver were master and mistress of ceremonies.

Guests were present from Chicago, Detroit, Indianapolis, Valparaiso, Ind., Allegan, Douglas, Saugatuck and Fennville.

Following a wedding trip to the Smoky Mountains, the couple will live on the Hutchins Lake road.

Fall Over Her Suitcase Fails to Stop Her Trip

Landing in Holland hospital after a fall over her suitcase just as she was about to close up her home Saturday failed to daunt 84-year-old Mrs. P. A. J. Bouma, and the energetic lady was to leave the hospital Monday to catch a train for east.

The fall occurred as Mrs. Bouma and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Teunis Baker, both widows of ministers, were leaving their home at 295 College Ave. to go to Gardner, N. Y., to live with a daughter.

At first it was feared Mrs. Bouma fractured her back, but x-rays failed to disclose serious injuries.

The two elderly women had been living together 15 years at the local address.

Mrs. Agatha Alderink Dies in Grand Rapids

Mrs. Agatha Alderink, 93, of 646 Washington Ave., Holland, died Monday evening at the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Gerrit Van Den Elst of 638 Naylor Ave., S. W., Grand Rapids.

Surviving besides the daughter-in-law are two sons, Joe Van Den Elst and Aldus Van Den Elst of Holland; two daughters, Mrs. John De Haan and Mrs. John Van Huls of Holland; one brother in the Netherlands; 16 grandchildren; 29 great grandchildren, and one great great grandchild.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. from the Ver Lee funeral home with the Rev. William Haverkamp officiating. Burial will be in Pilgrim Home cemetery. Friends may meet the family Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m. at the funeral home.

The letter "e" is the most-used letter in the English language.

In the Good Old Days

(Following is the 510th in the series of weekly articles taken from news of the Holland Daily Sentinel published more than 35 years ago.)

Of amateur plays ever presented to the people of Holland, "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" as staged in the high school auditorium Friday night by the graduating class of the Junior high school ranks among the very best, began a story in the Saturday, Jan. 27, issue of the Holland Daily Sentinel published in 1917. Because of the many who were turned away before the time scheduled for the rise of the curtain, it was announced that the cast had agreed to repeat the performance tonight.

Hope college basketball quintet scored another decisive victory Friday evening when they defeated the Alma college aggregation, leaders for top honors in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic association race, by a 46-22 score.

Two changes are being made in the high school faculty lineup. Miss Eleanor Haefliger, instructor of English, leaves Holland Monday for her home in Detroit. In April she will become the bride of Albert Torbet of Chicago. Miss Gertrude Wicks of the faculty will take the position left vacant by Miss Haefliger on Monday morning, the opening of the new semester. Miss Annawave Coleman of Hastings will take Miss Wicks' classes in history and English. In the Latin department a vacancy will be caused Monday by the leaving of Miss Gertrude Hoeckje from all but two of her classes. These will be taken up by Miss Hannah Hoeckje, her sister, who is now in charge of a class at Hope college. During the summer Miss Gertrude Hoeckje will become the bride of Henry Stegeman of this city. Late in August or September the couple will leave America for a foreign mission field, very likely Japan. Still another romance is figured in this story. On their departure next fall, the then Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stegeman will possibly be accompanied by the group of seminary and Hope students who will repair to a foreign field. Among them will be Henry Bilkert of the seminary and Miss Anna Monteith of Kalamazoo, who will figure in a summer wedding. Others who are spending their last year in Holland before leaving for a foreign mission field and who will receive their assignments within the next month are Miss Amelia Menning, a Hope college senior; H. Veenschoten, H. V. E. Stegeman and John Van Wyk, seniors in the Western Theological seminary.

A call has been extended by the Kelloggville Reformed church to the Rev. J. C. Schaap of Alendale.

The Rev. M. E. Broekstra, pastor of the Fourth Reformed church, has received a call from Alto, Wis.

The Ottawa Relief society was organized Friday night by the employees of the Ottawa Furniture Co. The following officers were elected: John Slighter, president; H. Huizenga, vice president; H. Beekfort, secretary; A. VanRy, treasurer; J. Bruynzelle, M. Brandt and C. VanDuren, trustees.

It cost the city of Holland almost $6 for each registration made at the polls Saturday, according to a story appearing in the Monday, Jan. 29, issue. Only 12 voters in the city registered in compliance with the ruling of the city charter. Six wards held their polls open from 8 o'clock in the morning till 8 in the evening. Two aldermen spent the day there and received $3 each for their time. Total expense for attendance—$36. Besides this actual cost to the aldermen, there was advertising, rental of one poll, fuel bills and other minor items that total between $30 and $36. Added to the aldermen's compensation, it brings the expense to between $66 and $72.

The first scholarship granted any Hope college student this year was awarded to John R. Mulder of the senior class by the Hope college faculty. The scholarship entitles the recipient to one year of postgraduate work in the University of Michigan. Miss Clara Yntema of the class of 1916 was chosen as alternate.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Hadley Buss, a baby girl on Jan. 28 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Dick.

The total attendance in the Third Reformed church Sunday school Sunday was 612 and in the Trinity Reformed the total attendance was 575, being the largest since it was organized.

Mrs. A. H. Landwehr entertained with a dinner Friday evening at her home, 369 Lincoln Ave., in honor of the teachers of the Lincoln school. Those present were the Misses Dureth Bouma, Gertrude Sprietsma, Ettamae Atwood, Edythe Bogaard, Mabel Cutis, Zora Barnaby, Anna Boot, Clara McClellan.

Possibly the largest gathering of earnest church workers ever held in Holland in the interests of foreign missions heard, at a banquet Monday night in the parlors of Hope church, three of the best posted men in the state at the present time tell of the wonderful work being done abroad. Hope college played a major part in the limelight of the evening, being given great honor by the three speakers—Dr. E. J. Strick of Amoy, China, successor to Dr. Otte; President A. Venema of Hope college, and Dr. William J. Chamberlain, Foreign secretary of the Foreign Missions Board of the Reformed Church in America. This news story was found in the Tuesday, Jan. 30, issue.

A sleigh ride party of young folks surprised Miss Anna Vander Wall Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Koopman, 84 East 18th St. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. Vos, George Vander Wall, Jennie Vander Wall, Henrietta and Tena Vander Wall, Jennie Bosman, George Nienhuis, William Aelterst, Jennie Vanda Beldt, Henrietta Vanda Beldt, Joe Boers, Lena Stolt, John Boers, Herman Brummel and John Brinkman.

Reports Hint King George May Have to Abdicate

London (UP)—King George's physical condition caused speculation today whether he would have to abdicate to safeguard his health if not his life.

Three London Sunday newspapers raised the question whether the King might retire in favor of his 25-year-old daughter, Princess Elizabeth. One of them, referring to the grave illness of the King in 1948, and a subsequent operation, said:

"This disease... an inflammatory ailment involving the blood vessels of the limbs... is recurrent. An operation such as the King underwent two years ago could afford only temporary relief. Most men would be lucky to survive another five years without amputation."

Two DP's Killed In Auto Accident North of Wayland

Allegan (Special)—Two cousins, both recent arrivals in Grand Rapids as displaced persons from Latvia, were instantly killed Saturday night when their car struck a tree north of Wayland.

Valadislous Gorsvans, 35, the driver, and Antons Kipluks, 28, were victims of the accident. Investigating officials called the car wreckage "the worst yet" of the many which have occurred in Allegan county in the last 10 weeks.

With no eye-witnesses to the crash, Deputy Walter Runkel was unable to tell what caused the north-bound Gorsvans car to skid across US-131 and hit a big tree. The impact swung the car around so that it was at right angles to the highway. The driver's side of the auto was practically disintegrated.

A Wayland restaurant proprietor said the two men had stopped there about 12:30 a.m., and asked directions to a dance pavilion. They apparently decided to return to Grand Rapids, for the accident occurred about 15 minutes later three miles north of town on a straight stretch of road.

Gorsvans was reported to have been wearing a brace, apparently for a crippled leg.

Coroner Clyde Dickinson called the deaths instantaneous. The bodies were taken to the Arslowicz Funeral home in Grand Rapids. Kipluks' mother, also a Latvian DP is living in Grand Rapids.

In other auto accidents on highways during the week-end, Benjamin Davis, 75, Detroit, died when his car crashed head-on into a trailer truck driven by Paul R. Bedford.

In another head-on collision, Henry Shelton, 25, River Rouge, was killed Sunday. The other driver, Peter L. De Vries, 28, Dearborn, was held for investigation of manslaughter.

Downtown Fight Causes Drivers to Double Park

A downtown fight which caused motorists to double park in order to witness the fistfuffs Sunday night had its second act in Municipal Court Monday when Elbert Landham, 18 of 184 1/2 River Ave., pleaded guilty to fighting under the disorderly act.

Municipal Judge Cornelius Vander Meulen gave the climaxing bit of drama by fining Landham $10 plus $4.70 costs.

Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff said he expects to refer the second fighter, a 16-year-old youth, to probate court authorities.

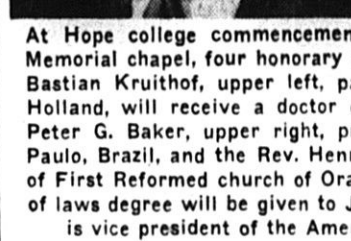

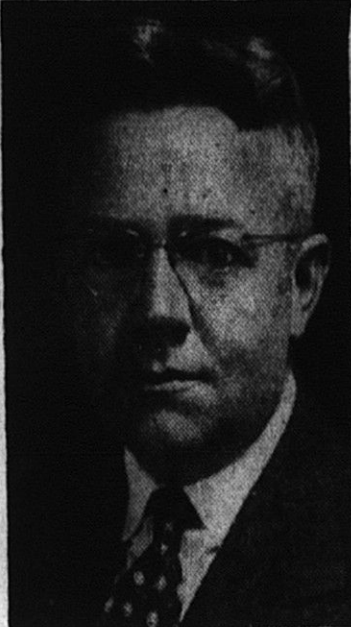

In other municipal court action, William Hines, 45, Muskegon Heights, was sentenced to pay $15 fine and $4.70 costs Monday when he pleaded guilty to a drunk and disorderly charge. Hines had been abusive at the local bus depot, police said.

Two Accidents Occur In City on Week-End

Two automobile accidents occurred in Holland city during the week-end.

At 4:23 p.m. Saturday, cars driven by Mrs. Geraldine Lubbers, route 3, Hudsonville, and Donna Vander Slik, 23, of 353 College Ave., collided at Ninth and Columbia. The front end of the Lubbers car and the left side of the Vander Slik car were damaged. Mrs. Lubbers was given a ticket for failure to stop for a stop street.

At 4:45 a.m. Sunday, a '50 model car driven by Frederick Urban, 36, Hotel Macatawa, hit a tree at the curb near the home at 130 East Ninth St. Urban told city police he fell asleep. He was given a summons for failure to keep his car under control.

Overisel Bride-Elect Honored at Shower

Overisel (Special)—Miss Evelyn Folkert, June bride-elect of Claude Boers, was feted at a miscellaneous shower given Tuesday evening by Mrs. Wayne Folkert and Mrs. Ivan Folkert at the Edward Folkert home in Overisel.

The evening was spent playing games and duplicate prizes were awarded to Mrs. Alvin Folkert, Mrs. Henry Jalving and Mrs. Russell Koopman. A two-course lunch was served.

Invited were the Mesdames Miles Folkert, Jerrold Folkert, Julius Folkert, Harvey Folkert, Martin Sale, Marvin Folkert, Harvin Lugten, Glenn Folkert, Gordon Veen, Leonard Folkert, John Haan, Francis Folkert, Raymond Darbee, Manley Kuite, Myron Folkert, Henry Jalving, Peter Schreuder, Harven Kollen, John Wiersma, Howard Folkert, Alvin Sneller, Alvin Folkert, Russell Koopman, Purdin Tanis, Earl Gunneman, Frank Gibbons, Floyd Folkert, Morris Folkert, Albert Ter Haar, Jay Folkert, Wallace Folkert, Myron Kollen and the Misses Frieda Folkert, Marie Folkert, Martin Boerman and Genevieve Sealey.

Tree Insects Cause Damage

Grand Haven (Special)—Tree growers are urged to watch carefully for tree insects L. R. Arnold, county agriculture agent, reports considerable damage from shoot moth in 1950 on Red Pine. The White Pine weevil has caused damage for years. Reports coming in show that the Pine Sawfly has begun to hatch. The larvae may be found on red, jack and Scotch pines principally. They are a dirty gray-green color, with a black head and measures about seven-eighths of an inch long when full grown.

Early control of this insect can be effective by spraying with either lead arsenate or 50 per cent wet table DDT at the rate of three pounds per hundred gallons of water, or three teaspoonfuls per gallon. A 5 per cent DDT dust can also be used.

If checks are to be made after spraying, be sure to give the spray time to become effective. Five days later should be soon enough to determine the effectiveness of the application. It takes a few days to kill most of the insects.

According to an authority, stuttering is a personality disorder, not a defect of any of the organs of speech.

DRILL IN FERTILIZER REPORTED BY AGENT
Grand Haven (Special)—The Soils department of Michigan State college holds that fertilization of beans is a profitable practice.

L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent, reports that some growers drill in fertilizer just before planting. Yield increases are reported in some instances but these are not consistent. The Soils department recommended drilling it in bands one inch to the side and 1 1/2 inches below the seed. A 13 year average from such practice on the Ferden farm showed an increase of 5 bushels to the acre.

Ed Longnecker, soils specialist, recommends the following: "One heavy soils use 150 to 200 pounds of 2-16-8. On lighter soils use 3-12-12 or 4-16-16 as same rate."

Warm Weather Attracts Crowds to State Park

Warm sunny weather saw considerable activity at Holland State park at Ottawa Beach during the week-end, according to Manager Clare Broad.

Attendance for the week-end included 5,000 visitors on Saturday and 8,000 on Sunday.

The sun brought out many picnickers and fishermen. Only a few persons were brave enough to venture into the water. Reports listed 15 camps Saturday and 12 Sunday.

St. Francis Social Club Has Meeting and Party

Members of the St. Francis Young People's social club held their regular monthly meeting and party Saturday evening at Miller's barn.

Games were played and square dancing was enjoyed. Refreshments were served. The committee in charge consisted of Dale Miller and Mr. and Mrs. George Stejskal.

The next meeting will be in the form of a beach party July 14.

Reformed Church General Synod Reports on Session

Dr. de Velder Makes Stewardship Report; Seminaries Discussed

Buck Hill Falls, Pa. (Special)—After two years of study by a special commission headed by Dr. Marion de Velder of Holland, Mich., the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America in its 145th regular session here, voted to submit the creation of a central department of stewardship and promotion to the 43 classes of the church for study and recommendation. The next General Synod will make final disposition of the matter. This 300-year-old church up to now has done its extensive missionary and educational work on an entirely voluntary basis giving an average of about $15 per person annually.

The Synod adopted a program proposed by the board of home missions of a follow-up of church members who move to other parts of the country. Pastors are now directed to refer such members to the headquarters office which will in turn refer them to a pastor in the community into which they have moved.

The synod also observed the 25th anniversary of its work in Mexico and sent felicitations to Dr. and Mrs. John R. Kempers, directors of that work.

In the last year the Reformed church has established five churches among the Dutch immigrants in Canada. Twelve thousand Dutch people will come to Canada this year and 3 million are seeking a home in America.

The Synod joined in the celebration of 50 years of service of Dr. Ida Scudder in the Reformed church Arot Mission in India, and rejoiced in the $50,000 which was given to "Dr. Ida." Dr. Scudder, who is 80 years of age, has turned the gift over to the Medical college at Vellore, India.

The sum of $25,000 was included in the Synodical budget for the building of the Christian university in Japan. The Synod also took note of the plight of the 800,000 Arab refugees, many of whom are Christians.

A 20 year old question before the church that its two theological seminaries—New Brunswick at New Brunswick, N. J., and Western at Holland, Mich., be merged, was not approved by the Synod.

The board of trustees of Western Theological seminary at Holland, Mich., was authorized to devise ways and means to raise $750,000 for the erection of a new school for instruction in theology in Holland. President John R. Mulder presented the plan to the Synod.

Zeeland

(From Tuesday's Sentinel)

Mrs. J. E. De Jong, who recently returned from Arabia where she has been missionary for some years, was in Zeeland Sunday with her son, Keith. Sunday marked the close of a ministry of music of Keith, who led the tenor section in the Second Reformed church choir the past three years. He plans to go to Iowa in the near future where he expects to be inducted into the armed forces. He is the son of missionary parents who have been stationed in Kuwait, Arabia. He sang a solo "Be Thou Faithful Unto Death" from "St. Paul," Mendelssohn at the evening service. The choir members met for a farewell party at the home of Miss Antoinette Van Koeve on Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Tanis and children of Grand Rapids were recent visitors at the homes of Mrs. Hendricks and Mr. and Mrs. Nick Tanis, Roger, their son who was hospitalized for polio the past nine months, was included in the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Janssen are the parents of a son, Thomas, born in Zeeland Friday morning. Mrs. Janssen is the former June Pyle. They plan to leave for So-dus, N. Y., in the near future where Mr. Janssen has accepted a pastorate. He recently graduated from Western Theological seminary.

At the monthly prayer service of the three Christian Reformed churches of this city, Third, Bethel and First, held Thursday evening the message was presented by the Rev. D. D. Bonnama of First Christian Reformed church and the service was held at the Third Christian Reformed church.

Group 3 of the Second Reformed church Ladies Aid society is holding a Strawberry festival at the C. Ver Plank Winding Creek Farm on Thursday from 6-8 p.m.

Mrs. Ben Hoffmeyer Dies After Long Illness

Mrs. Ben Hoffmeyer, 64, of route 1, Holland, died at her home early Monday after a lingering illness caused by a stroke last February.

Surviving are the husband; three sons, Gerrit at home, Ben of Holland and Louis of Central Park; two daughters, Mrs. John H. Jacobs of Grand Haven and Ruth Hoffmeyer at home; four grandchildren; one brother, Ben Thinholt of Holland.

Cleveland's Health Museum was the first such museum established in the Western Hemisphere.

Swieringa-Steketee Vows Spoken

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Swieringa

Wedding vows were spoken Tuesday evening, June 5, by Miss Marilyn Steketee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Steketee, 79 East 24th St., and Lester Swieringa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Swieringa, 93 West 19th St.

Dr. Jacob T. Hoogstra read the double ring ceremony in Prospect Park Christian Reformed church at 8 p.m. The church was decorated with palms, ferns, baskets of white and pink peonies and candles.

Mrs. John Tibbe, organist, played preludes and the wedding marches. John Tien, Jr., soloist, sang "Through the Years" and "God Gave Me You" before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt.

Mrs. Kenneth Deur, the bride's sister, was matron of honor and Jilane Swieringa, the groom's niece, was flower girl. Marc Alan Deur, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. Assisting the groom as best man was his brother, Bernard Swieringa. Milton Steketee and Gerrit Swieringa, brothers of the couple, were ushers.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white imported Swiss organdy, accented with white satin flowers. The bodice was accented with a Peter Pan collar and cuffs and a row of tiny buttons down the front. Her veil of imported French illusion fell from a shirred bonnet trimmed with lilies of the valley. She carried a colonial bouquet of white and pink sweet peas with lilies of the valley tied to streamers.

Mrs. Deur wore an aqua Swiss organdy gown over a satin skirt, styled like the bride's gown. She wore matching satin mitts and cap and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow and white sweetpeas. The flower girl's delicate orchid gown, also of Swiss organdy, was styled similar to the bride's. All three gowns were styled and made by Mrs. Lucy Dogger of Holland. The ring bearer wore a black suit trimmed with white.

A reception for 125 guests was held in the church basement with Mr. and Mrs. John Swieringa as master and mistress of ceremonies. A program included remarks and opening prayer by Dr. Hoogstra, two vocal solos by the Tulip City Four and instrumental music by John Swieringa.

For their wedding trip, the bride wore an aqua summer suit with beige accessories. They will live at 2364 West 17th St.

The bride is a graduate of Holland Christian high school and is employed as a beautician at the Washington Square beauty shop. The groom is a graduate of Holland high and the Michigan Veterans Vocational school. He is employed by Kirkhoff Electric Co. of Grand Rapids.

The bride was feted at five pre-nuptial showers, given by Mrs. Kenneth Deur and Mrs. Milton Steketee; Mrs. Melvin Nyhoff and Mrs. Harold Helder; Mrs. John V. Hulst, Mrs. Lois Nyenhuis, Mrs. Minnie Schepers and Mrs. Rhine Vander Meulen; Mrs. Dale R. Voss; Mrs. Peter Steketee.

Furnacemen Jump Into Running; Reform Club Wins

The surprising Holland Furnace softball team zipped to its second victory in as many starts Monday night, throwing an eight-run barrage at the Green Hornets to win, 8-3.

Sixth Reformed church, a non-league team that filled in for absent Central Avenue team Monday night, rapped out a 4-3 victory over Tulip City in the second game at Third Street field.

The win for Holland Furnace lifts them out of the hazy lower regions in the league and ties them with Pelon Sunoco for fourth place.

Wasting no time, the Furnacemen gave pitcher Ray Morren two runs in the first frame, one in the second, three in the third, and two in the fourth. They collected 11 hits in those four innings, one triple and one a double. And from there in, all they had to do was coast.

Bill Prins and Cork Weener were top Furnace hitters, each collecting three singles in four trips. But Morren was the power. He rapped both the double and triple, the only extra bases Furnace got. Floyd Vanden Beldt, Bill Franks, Mel Sharda, Keith Hasty, and John Tjalma each got singles.

For the Hornets, Morrie Wierda and Jay Wolbert each rapped two hits in three trips to the plate. One of Wierda's was a homer, the first he'd ever gotten in his life, he said. Other Hornets to hit were Rich Wolters, Herm Ritterby, Bill Oosterdyke, and George Smeenge.

In the second game, Tulip City pitcher Earl Buscher allowed Sixth Reformed a scant three hits, but they used all of them to score two runs in the first and two in the sixth.

D. Boes swatted two clutch singles in three trips to pace the winning club. Rog Van Wyck got the only other hit. For Tulip City, Al Doezeman got two for four, with Dean King, Bob De Young, Norm Japiga and Earl Buscher each collecting singles.

Wedding Performed at Ganges

Mr. and Mrs. James Ernest Edwards

A double ring ceremony Friday at 8 p.m. in Ganges Methodist church united in marriage Miss Margaret Ann Hoover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Hoover of Fennville, and James Ernest Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Edwards of New Richmond.

The Rev. Robert M. Cox read the rites before a setting of palms, ferns, white peonies and irises and candles. Wedding music was played by Mrs. Earl Winne and Mrs. Earl Sorensen sang "O Promise Me," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white nylon marquisette embroidered with lilies of the valley over white taffeta. Tiny covered buttons extended from the double Peter Pan collar to the waistline of the fitted bodice and the long sleeves were pointed at the wrists. The full skirt ended in a train. She wore a fingertip veil and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations, snapdragons and lilies of the valley.

Miss Esther Hoover, sister of the bride, as maid of honor wore a green organdy gown with matching hat and carried a basket of orchid lilies and yellow irises. Miss Ellen Bast, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid and wore a yellow organdy gown with matching hat and carried a basket of lilies and irises. Little Lynn Sorensen was flower girl. She wore a green organdy gown with matching bonnet and carried a basket of peony petals. Ring bearer James Prince was dressed in a yellow suit and carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Ray Gourley attended the groom as best man and Foster Kooyers and Harris Huyser were ushers. A reception for 150 guests was held in the church parlors. Mr. and Mrs. George Glupker were master and mistress of ceremonies. Music included a piano solo by Miss Esther Hoover, vocal solo by Miss Jane van Hartesveldt and accordion solo by Miss Aileen Schultz.

The couple left on a northern wedding trip. For traveling the bride wore a light green suit, white accessories and a yellow rose corsage.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Edwards are graduates of Fennville high school. The bride also was graduated from Davenport Business college, Grand Rapids, and has been employed at Holland Furnace Co. office. The groom attended the University of Michigan and Hope college. He is employed at Baker Furniture, Inc.

Two Late Rallies Come Not Too Late For Dutch Win

The Flying Dutchmen chopped out a 12-10 victory over the Norton Lumbermen of Muskegon Thursday night with a slam-bang two inning stretch drive.

Just when it looked as though the locals were falling apart at the seams in their third game of the season, they up and collected 11 of their 12 runs in clubbing the previously unbeaten Lumbermen.

Five runs in the seventh, and six in the eighth brought home the win for Ben Batema's crew. But before that, the Dutchmen couldn't seem to get started, after spotting the Lumbermen two runs in the first, and three in the second.

Two hits, one a triple by Tony Wentzel, were all the Dutch could collect in the first six innings. Wentzel drove in Gene Schrotenboer with his three-base clout, but couldn't get home himself that inning.

And it came as no particular surprise that the Lumbermen should get four more runs home in the top half of the seventh. They had been threatening in each inning, and got to Ham McCallum for two hits, a walk, a hit batter, and an error to ramble home with four runs.

Little did the invaders suspect the blow was about to fall. But they might have reasoned it when Dutch runners kept appearing on base. Three walks, a triple, and two singles gave the locals five runs and made the score 9-6, in Norton's favor.

Norton got an insurance tally home in the eighth inning, when Rog Eggers, recently acquired from the high school team, started throwing fireballs for the Dutchmen. Egger's only trouble was his wildness, but after he settled down, Norton was held to the single run in the eighth, and nothing in the ninth.

In the bottom of the eighth, the Dutchmen took up where they left off in the seventh. Tony Wentzel walked and Whitey Witteveen singled him to second. Brother Maurice Witteveen walked to load the bases.

Then Ed Setter stepped up and drove a neat single through the box, scoring Wentzel and Witteveen. Ted Boeve, batting for McCallum that inning, went out on a fly to short right, but Merrill Human kept the rally alive by singling to left, sending home Witteveen, and putting the tying run on third.

After Jack Van Dorpe struck out, Zeke Piersma walked to load the bases, and Gene Schrotenboer stepped up.

Schrotenboer had gotten no hits all evening, but rapped a double on the first pitch, driving home three runs to tie the game.

Next game for the Dutchmen is Monday night at Riverview, when they face the Fulton Drug team of Grand Rapids at Riverview Park. Game time is 8 p.m.

The third Holland soldier to arrive home from Korea on rotation furlough is Pfc. Charles R. Farwell, 20, of route 4.

The young combat veteran arrived in Seattle aboard a troop transport on June 9, and walked into his home Tuesday. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Farwell, who live northwest of Holland near the Ventura school.

Pfc. Farwell has been in the Army for three years, and has been overseas for 30 months. He was stationed in Japan when the Korean conflict broke out and was one of the first soldiers to be sent to Korea. During his service in the battle zone, he was not wounded.

Farwell is to report back for duty on July 14. His enlistment has been extended for another year, his mother said.

The Farwell family moved here from Zeeland about two years ago. Before that, they lived in Grandville.

Another son, George, was home from the Air Force last week before being sent to California for probable shipment to Japan. However, the two brothers did not see each other on their furloughs.

Two Accidents Occur At the Same Corner

Grand Haven (Special) — Motorists had better take it easy at Fifth and Washington after two accidents there on successive nights during the week-end.

At 10:40 p.m. Saturday, Peter Appel, 18, route 1, Grand Haven, lost control of his car when he reached into the glove compartment for cigarettes and knocked down a light pole.

At 10:15 p.m. Sunday, a car driven by Ronald Selbuis, 17, Grand Rapids, struck the boulevard abutment in the middle of the street. He received a fractured left arm and his companion, 17-year-old Betty Engelsma, also of Grand Rapids, received facial cuts and bruises and a bruised right knee.

Both were taken to municipal hospital in an ambulance.

Both drivers were charged with failure to have their cars under control.

Parents' Co-operation Sought in Dental Series

Co-operation of parents was sought by school officials today in the new dental fluorine treatment program for children of selected elementary grades which will get underway Wednesday, June 20.

Each child having the treatment will have four appointments from 48 hours to one week apart. Because scheduling is difficult in summer months, parents' co-operation is particularly solicited.

Each child will receive an appointment card for his first appearance. Other appointments will be filled in later.

Last year 487 children received the treatment here. A University of Michigan senior dental student will again operate the clinic this year in Junior high school.

Although Holland is considering fluoridation of city water, only the new babies will benefit from this treatment, should the project be adopted. Eventually, the fluorine treatment series for school children would be abandoned.

Tulip Parasite Threat All News in Holland

Park Supt. Dick Smallenburg and local bulb growers said today they have found no evidence of two new tulip parasites which are threatening bulbs in the Kalamazoo area.

"Of course, we haven't dug up bulbs to inspect them, but this is all news to me," Smallenburg said. He added that the blooms this year were the best in many years in both larger flowers and longer stems.

Representatives of the Nells, Van Bragt, and Zwijp bulb farms were interested in the reports, but all reported having found no evidence of such a blight here. One grower doubted any possibility that the parasite could have come in imported bulbs from the Netherlands because of rigid government inspections.

Garden Club Members Visit Kalamazoo Show

About 50 members of the Holland Tulip Garden club traveled to Plainwell in cars Thursday for a luncheon at the Red Brick, a visit to Plainwell gardens and continued to Kalamazoo to visit the sixth annual flower show of the Kalamazoo Garden Center council.

Mrs. J. J. Brower presided at the business meeting in connection with the luncheon. Annual reports were given by several committees reviewing accomplishments of the past year.

The conservation committee reported Ottawa county set a record for the state in sending 15 persons to conferences at Higgins lake. The local club sent eight members and four teachers.

Mrs. Thaddeus Taft reported for the 1951 Tulip Time flower show. She said the show was financially successful and attracted 4,962 visitors.

Mrs. W. M. Tappan gave the publicity report and extended appreciation to the Holland Sentinel for its co-operation.

Miss Gertrude Steketee, speaking for the city planting committee, reported the club had sold 100,000 bulbs last fall, 60,000 to individuals and 40,000 to industries. She said the club has adopted another project next fall to sell imported bulbs at a reasonable price.

Mrs. Fred Pickel, reporting for the highway committee which has as its project the beautification of the new US-31, said the project has been approved by the State Highway commission which has expressed its interest in the project and has recommended that the club look for blight spots on the highway.

Announcement was made that the Holland club will invite the State Board of Federated clubs to meet here next fall. Mrs. Brower handed the gavel over to the new president, Mrs. Fred Coleman.

The club visited the Richards delphinium and peony gardens before going to the Kalamazoo flower show in the county building recreation center. "Kolorful Kalamazoo" was the theme of the show. A big display of pansies was featured in one section.

Mrs. L. G. Stalkamp and Mrs. Jay Petter of Holland had put entries into the non-competitive invitational section.

Boy Scout rank advancement and merit badge awards were made Monday night at a court of honor in Trinity Reformed church basement.

The church sponsors troop 12. Roxy Kramer, Ross Boersma, Frank McCarthy and Edward Van Eenaam received their first-class badges and Tom Klassen received his second-class badge.

Merit badge awards went to Roxy Kramer, Tom Antles, Frank McCarthy and Jack Loyer. A committee read requirements for each merit badge before the presentations.

Investiture services were held for Calvin Rose and David Jacobus.

Gerrit Wiegink was in charge of the court of honor.

The Rev. Eugene Oosterhaven spoke briefly on the opportunities offered to boys who make an earnest effort to be real Boy Scouts. He showed the benefits of scouting knowledge when applied in adult life.

Movies on everyday life at Camp Shawondossee were shown and a question and answer period for parents was held after the movies.

Troop 12 will send 29 boys to Camp Shawondossee July 15 through 21. Camp fees were earned by the boys through various troop projects during the last year.

Garry Vandenberg was program chairman and Earl Vanden Bosch showed the camping movies.

Two Jury Cases Set For June Court Term

Grand Haven (Special) — Among the Holland and vicinity attorneys who attended the opening of the June term of the Ottawa circuit court Monday afternoon were Fred T. Miles, Clarence A. Lokker, Vernon Ten Cate and Gerald Van Wyke of Holland, and George M. Van Peursem of Zeeland.

The jury will be called for June 21 and the first jury case will be that of the people against Perry Gaier of Grand Rapids, charged with embezzlement. Complaint against Gaier was made by Cecil Lumsden, operator of the Lumsden service station near Marne, for whom Gaier was employed as a mechanic. Lumsden alleges Gaier kept, and converted to his own use, money he collected for a repair job in October, 1950.

This case will be followed by an appeal from a justice court jury conviction of drunk driving by John F. Hyde, 29, route 2, Grand Haven. Hyde was found guilty Dec. 28, 1950, and was sentenced to pay $75 fine, $8.95 costs and serve 15 days in the county jail.

DRIVER PAYS FINE

Grand Haven (Special) — Herbert De Witt, Jr., 17, Grand Haven, paid $10 fine and $2 costs in Justice George Hoffer's court on a charge of failure to have his car under control. DeWitt was issued a summons by sheriff's officers after his car was involved in an accident in Grand Haven township on May 20.

Hospital Nurse Breaks Ankle in Fall on Street

Grand Haven (Special) — Mrs. Ellen Potter, route 1, Grand Haven, a registered nurse at Municipal hospital, broke her right ankle in a fall while crossing Washington St. at Second Thursday noon.

Mrs. Potter was carrying her small child when she stepped on a small stone, which threw her to the pavement. The child was thrown out of her arms and struck a curb but was not injured. Mrs. Potter was taken in an ambulance to Municipal hospital where a cast was applied and then she was taken to her home.

Man Jailed on Charge Of Assaulting His Wife

Grand Haven (Special) — Earl Deal, 29, route 2, Spring Lake, was sentenced to serve 10 days in the county jail when he pleaded guilty to an assault and battery charge before Justice George Hoffer Thursday. Complaint against Deal was made by his wife, Inez, upon whom the alleged assault occurred June 2 in their home in Spring Lake township. Deal was arrested by sheriff's officers.

Also appearing before Hoffer were Virgil Hawley, 29, and A. C. Sparks, 33, both of Grand Rapids, arrested on conservation officers for fishing in Millhouse bayou during the closed season.

Hawley at first pleaded not guilty and was finally convinced by his companion to change his plea whereupon he paid $10 fine and $8 costs. Sparks was assessed $5 fine and $7.40 costs.

The highest honor in Camp Fire, the Torch Bearers rank in Social Leadership, was attained this year by Mary Lou Buis of Holland, 10th grade Holland high student who was awarded the rank at a Grand Council Fire Friday night. Says Teaching Staff One Of Most Capable in State School Supt. C. C. Crawford expressed appreciation to the public school teachers in a message in the teachers' general bulletin issued this month.

The superintendent, is leaving Holland July 1 for a new position with the Kalamazoo school board, wrote in part: "The last six years in the Holland school system have been valuable and interesting. Mrs. Crawford and I both have enjoyed living and working in Holland, and we are going to miss our many friends, both on the school staff and in the community at large. We would like to thank you for the many kindnesses which have been our privilege to receive from many sources."

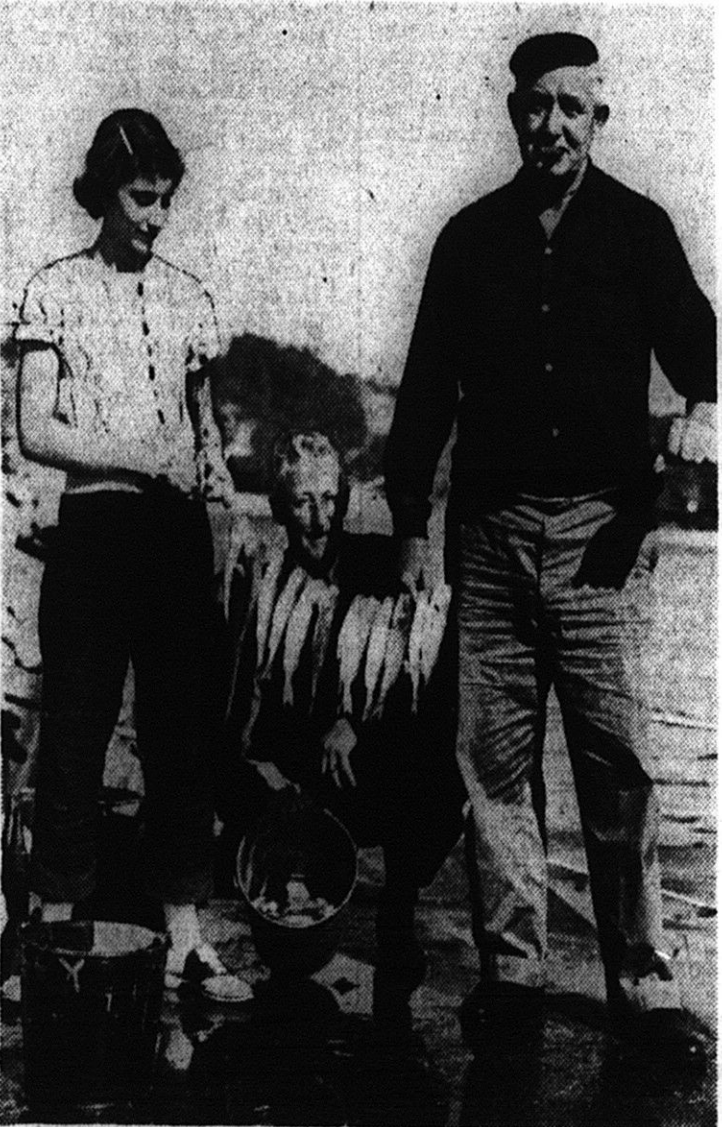

"I want to reiterate the statement I have made many times—that the staff of the Holland public schools is one of the most capable in the state of Michigan. I have gained much from working with you and I hope that together we were able to give to the boys and girls of Holland a realistic and worthwhile education, one that will fortify them for the days ahead, days that now appear unpredictable and uncertain."

Alfalfa Shown As Valuable in Crop Rotation

Grass Day Programs Demonstrate to Farmers Good Farming Programs

East Lansing — Grass Day programs throughout Michigan during June will demonstrate to farmers the production and utilization of legumes and grasses in good farming programs.

E. D. Longnecker, extension soils specialist at Michigan State college, says demonstrations have been set up at each of the six host farms by MSC agricultural specialist, co-operating with county agricultural agents.

Longnecker believes that a good balance of hay and pasture in the farm cropping program is essential to protect the soil. Tests conducted by the college show the use of legumes in crop rotations not only conserves and builds up the soil, but pays bigger returns over a five-year period.

Experiments on the Lee Ferdin farm in Saginaw county show that rotations with alfalfa included in two years of a five-year rotation were most profitable. A one-year use of alfalfa grosses $21.50 less per acre over the five-year period. When no legume or grass was used, the income was $50 less per acre than when two years of alfalfa were included in the five-year rotation.

Michigan farmers will find many helpful demonstrations at the various Grass Day programs to be held throughout the state in June. Featured events will be demonstrations of proper methods of seeding, management, harvesting and using legume and hay crops.

Specialists from Michigan State college and co-operating agencies will be on hand to explain the exhibits and to discuss individual problems with visiting farmers.

Machinery demonstrations will be conducted during the afternoon sessions of the all-day events.

Runaway Swarm of Bees Established in New Home

Frank Harbin, of 181 West 21st St., whose hobby is keeping bees at his country place, has another addition to his bee colony.

It's a runaway swarm (small size) which set up temporary housekeeping Friday in a hedge at the W. A. Butler home at 132 West 26th St. Harbin placed a hive near the swarm in the morning and returned at night to find the swarm securely housed in the new home.

Supervising the work was Seth Holt, long-time bee fancier now crippled, who was responsible for having Harbin become interested in bees. The bee men believe the swarm may have come from a bee tree on 32nd St.

Grand Haven Merchant Succumbs at Age of 78

Grand Haven (Special)—Mrs. Nellie Boersma, 78, of 402 North Seventh St., died at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Pine Rest, where she had been since Feb. 13.

Born in the Netherlands Aug. 11, 1872, she came to Grand Haven with her parents at the age of 10. She and her husband, the late Dick Boersma, started the Boersma Dry Goods store in 1920. After her husband's death in 1939 she continued the business, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Gertrude Vander Gughten.

Mrs. Boersma was a member of First Christian Reformed church.

Surviving besides the sister, is a brother, Leonard Joldersma of Grand Haven.

Dutchmen Lose in Slugfest

Generous Locals Spot Fulton Six Runs in First

The over-friendly early innings attitude of the Flying Dutchmen led to the locals downfall at Riverview Park Monday night as Grand Rapids' Fulton Druggs ramblod to a 16-13 win over the locals.

In four games this year, the Dutch have given up fifteen runs in the first two innings, for what may be called wobbly starts. In two of the contests, they've come back with late inning rushes and brought home the bunting.

But Monday night, they were too generous in spotting the invaders a six run first inning lead. The Dutch were able to overcome that lead in the fourth inning, going out in front to stay.

The first inning opener with Lou Humbert pitching for the Dutch.

He allowed three hits, three walks, and struck out one. Two fielding errors didn't help the locals.

But then the Dutch came back and got two runs in the lower half of the inning. In the third, they got four more and in the fourth added three.

The Druggists added two in the fourth and then got six more runs on five hits in the fifth.

The Dutch began to recover from this blow in the eighth when three runs trooped home. The Druggists added one more in the sixth, and one in the eighth to end their scoring.

The final ninth-inning rally by the Dutch got one run home, but it was nipped quickly and Fulton had the win.

Next game for the Dutch is against the South Haven Merchants at Riverview Park Thursday night. Game time is 8 p.m.

Call From Korea Unites Family

Telephone wires bridged a gap of about 10,000 miles Friday night and united a local family momentarily. The phone rang at 11 p.m. at the E. LeJeune home, 135 West 20th St. On the other end was Jim LeJeune, speaking from Pusan, Korea.

Jim is a medic, stationed at the Third Station hospital in Pusan. He serves in the contagious disease ward. Things are "shaping up pretty good" over there, Jim said, and he's getting along fine. The weather is pretty decent and everything is looking a little better.

The family talked for four minutes and said the connection was good and clear. Although it was 11 p.m. here, Jim was basking in afternoon sunlight. It was 2 o'clock this afternoon over there.

Jim was one of the first draftees to leave Holland last August. He went to Korea in February and was at the front for two months.

He called from the International Telephone and Telegraph company office. An operator had called the LeJeunes Friday morning and told them to stand by for the call.

Soil Building Produces Larger Crop Yields

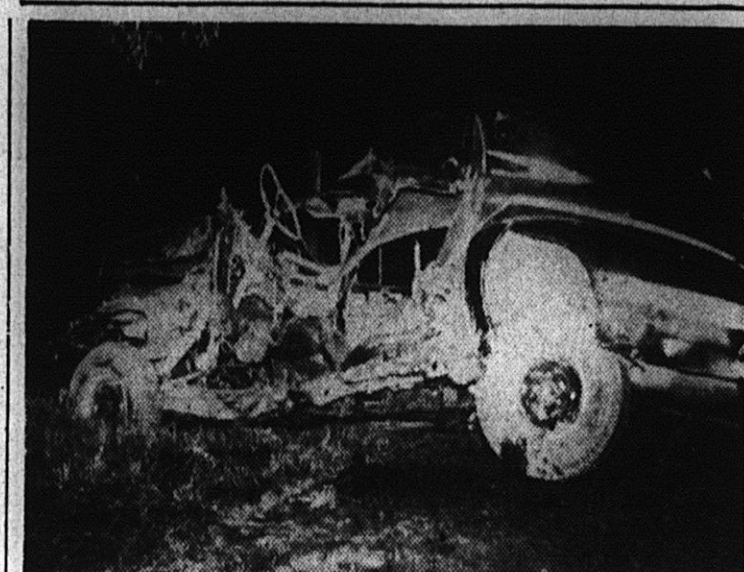

Grand Haven (Special)—L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent, urges farmers not to forget that grass is mother nature's way of preserving soil. The all-out call for food, fiber and other crops may cause some to fail to include enough grass in the farm plan.

After a year or two in soil-building grasses and legumes, the crop acres will produce larger yields. Fertilizers and manures are important in holding fertility but nothing is quite so important as inclusion of green manure. It adds humus, allows soil to retain moisture, gives good soil texture and helps aerate the soil. This aeration of soil is very important.

Soils continually plowed and tilled without addition of humus become too compact for good results in cropping.

Two Latvian DP's were instantly killed early Sunday morning when their car struck a tree on US-131 north of Wayland. Victims were two cousins, Valadislous Goravans, 35, the driver, and Antos Kipluks, 28. Allegan officers said the crash was "the worst yet" of many occurring there in the last 10 weeks. This picture was taken by a Sentinel correspondent who happened on the scene about 10 minutes after the crash and hastily borrowed a 620 Brownie from a friend in Wayland.

Make Your Life Count, de Velder Tells Seniors

"Your conception of knowledge should not be an overstuffed chair in which to sit but a kit of tools to use to honor the God of good and make your life count," Dr. Marion de Velder of Hope church told 220 graduating seniors at Holland high baccalaureate services Sunday afternoon in Hope Memorial chapel.

"But there is peril in knowledge too. There is the peril of indecision — often the more you know the harder it is to decide. There is the peril of intellectual pride. The more we know the more we should realize we don't know, and when pride goes up you know you're going in the wrong direction."

"There is the peril of self-deception. We are likely to learn a great many facts and then not take the responsibility of putting them to use," he said.

Developing his theme of "Wisdom and Knowledge," Dr. de Velder said all wisdom has knowledge but all knowledge does not have wisdom. "We have the great opportunity of taking the knowledge that comes with free education, organize it and at some point where there is need to be there and do good. Then we'll be people God can use for His good."

Dr. de Velder closed with a story Bob Considine wrote of his interview with Anton Lang, the man who played the Christus in the Oberammergau Passion Play Piersma, ss 5 4 3 2. While waiting for Lang to answer the bell at his modest cottage, Considine found a wooden cross propped nearby and decided to lift it. To his surprise the cross was so heavy he marvelled that Lang could carry it the long distance in the play. When he discussed it with Lang, the latter said, "When you really play the part, you can carry the load."

In his farewell appearance before Holland audiences, Robert E. Moore directed the a cappella choir to new triumphs in their three anthems and their choral responses. Most thrilling was the climactic number, "Preludes to Eternity." Liszt-Reibold, and the final choral amen. The choir sang "Onward Christian Soldiers" for processional hymn and Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstance," for recessional.

The girls of the graduating class wore white robes and the men wore maroon robes and caps had maroon and orange tassels. The Rev. Peters Mayskens of Hamilton gave the prayers. Mrs. W. Curtis Snow was organist.

Holland Soldier Back in America

Pfc. Francis R. Hill, 24, of 165 Manley Ave., has been wounded in action in Korea, the Defense department announced Saturday.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Hill, received a long distance phone call from their son Thursday telling them he had arrived at an Army hospital at Belleville, Ill., after being evacuated to Japan and flown from there to San Francisco last week.

Pfc. Hill said he expected to be home in September. He was wounded on May 18, his parents said. He was shot in the leg, which was fractured, and received shrapnel wounds in the neck, they added.

Pfc. Hill was recalled into service in September after serving at the end of World War II. He has been in Korea since January.

Engagement of Teachers Told; June Wedding Set

Grand Haven (Special) — The engagement of Miss Eleanor O. Weed to Forrest S. Thompson is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Weed of Kalamazoo. Mr. Thompson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Thompson of Gobles. The wedding will take place the latter part of this month.

Miss Weed is sixth grade teacher at Ferry school. Mr. Thompson, who has been industrial arts teacher at Grand Haven high school for the last nine years, plans to leave the teaching field this spring to go into business. He now will devote full time to the woodworking shop he has been conducting with Lewis Hedges, vocational department director.

Mr. Thompson served four and a half years in the Army, entering as a private and discharged as a major. After Army service he studied at University of Michigan for his master's degree before resuming his teaching career.

Off-Flavor Brings Rejection Slips

Allegan (Special) — Dairymen who sell whole milk may be having trouble with rejection slips due to off-flavors at this time of year says L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent.

One of the common causes of rejections is an off-flavor caused by the cattle eating wild onions or garlic.

Dairies have good reason to reject milk with this kind of flavor. Once the onion garlic flavor gets into the milk, not much can be done about it. Prevention rather than cure is the farmer's job. The place to stop the flavor is on the farm, says the agent.

The first preventive step is to wait until the onions have stopped growing. Then cut the tops and let them wilt before turning the cows into the pasture. The second plan is to let the dry cows, heifers or young stock graze down the onion areas in spring pastures.

Do all you can to keep the wild onion or garlic flavor out of the milk that you produce for market, says the agent. If your product has quality, it will be accepted and bring you top prices.
