112 Seniors Get Degrees at Holland Christian

Diplomas were presented to 112 graduates at the Holland Christian High School commencement exercises held Wednesday night in Hope College Memorial Chapel. A large crowd attended the ceremonies despite the sweltering temperatures.

In presenting the class for the awarding of diplomas, Supt. Bert P. Bos addressed the class briefly. He based his remarks upon a well known Scriptural passage, "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." He said that "the only true education has its inception in the fear of the Lord, which is the beginning of wisdom."

He said "the awe and reverence which characterizes this fear is the basic principle of wisdom—it is the foundation without which our educational system cannot stand."

In his final words to the class directly he said, "May the fear of God, the only God, be for each of you, the beginning of wisdom."

Cornelius Westenbroek, president of the board of trustees, awarded the diplomas. In a brief word to the graduates, he urged them to think seriously of full time Christian service. He closed by saying, "No matter what work or field which you may enter, the Lord still expects of us that we will be living witnesses of Him."

Principal Raymond Holwerda then made the award presentations. He awarded silver pins to 24 honor students, all of whom had completed their high school work with a "B" or better average. Receiving the pins were Isla Bias, Warren Boer, Myrtle Brat, John Dahm, Phillip Damstra, Janice Dirks, Calvin Dykman, Larry Dykstra, Carolyn Hofstee, Richard Hertel, Jacqueline Jacobs, Gordon Langejans, Glenn Mulder, Ruth Nyhof, Paula Nykamp, Gerben Oosterbaan, Delores Slenk, Carl Van Appledorn, Mildred Vander Zwaag, Roger Vander Zwaag, Mary Van Klavern, Rose Van Til, Jerry Waldyke, and Hazel Weener.

Three scholarships also were awarded, although Holwerda made mention of several others who had received scholarships earlier. Calvin Dykman, received the Calvin College scholarship while the Hope scholarship was awarded to Phil Damstra. The Holland Christian School PTA scholarship to Calvin College was given to Glenn Mulder. This $250 scholarship stipulates that the recipient must enter the field of teaching.

Holland Christian High School Alumni Association $10 cash awards were presented by Jay Vander Meulen, president. These awards are given annually to members of the graduating class who have excelled in various subject fields. Receiving the awards were Cordon Langejans, social science; Jerry Waldyke, science; Carl Van Appledorn, Mathematics; Delores Slenk, Languages; Paula Nykamp, English and Carolyn Hofstee, commercial.

The Dena Kuiper Memorial Bible award, presented by the Monica School Aid society, was given to Calvin Dykman.

David Vander Hill, president of the graduating class, presented Bos with a cash memorial of $2700. The class stipulated that $500 be given to the library and the remainder be used for the purchase of new chairs for chapel exercises.

Music for the commencement was furnished by the senior girls sextette and the a cappella choir, under the direction of Marvin Baas. The sextette, composed of Mary Wolters, Phyllis Quist, Linda Kalkman, Judy Plaggemars, Janice Otten and Linda Vander Zwaag sang, "The King of Love My Shepherd Is," Berwald and the choir sang, "Christ Be Thine the Glory," Schuetz and "Hallelujah," Beethoven.

Following the high school faculty procession, Ruth Branden a member of the graduating class, played the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance" procession for the class.

May 15-18, 1957, Are Tulip Time Dates Next Year

Tulip Time next year will be celebrated for a four day-period May 15 to 18, the board of directors of Holland Tulip Time Festival, Inc., decided at a meeting Wednesday.

Response from many parts of the country stamped the four-day festival this year a great success. There were some complaints, but it is only natural that there should be some complaints when more than a half million persons visit a community of this size.

A financial report revealed that Tulip Time made a profit this year of $2,351.99. There probably are some outstanding bills, but it is expected that they will not reduce the figure to any great degree.

The board appointed Earl F. Price to serve as Tulip Time manager for another year. J.J. Riemersma, president this year, will arrange for a new chairman and marshals for the many parades. Harold J. Karsten will continue to handle plans for the Saturday afternoon band review and the Saturday evening varieties. Plans already are under way to have a 98-piece band from Florida as a leading attraction Saturday night.

The band has indicated it would like to perform in Holland during its northern tour in 1957. It was emphasized that efforts must be made for more floats in parades next year.

The Tulip Time board is co-operating with the Band and Orchestra Boosters Club in its drive for funds to erect a band shell in Kollen Park. If the band shell is completed by next Tulip Time, the band shell will be utilized in the 1957 program.

The financial report revealed receipts of $22,952.88 and disbursements of $20,711.88 for a profit of $2,241.00. All special events which had admission charges reported a profit, although some of these profits were modest. The band review remains the best money maker for Tulip Time.

Attending the meeting were J.J. Riemersma, Mrs. F.W. Stanton, Laverne Rudolph, Dick Smullenburg, W.A. Butler and William H. Vande Water.

Car Crashes Into Passenger Train

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — City police are continuing their investigation of a train-car accident which occurred a minute before midnight Wednesday at the railroad crossing on Fifth St., near Elliott.

A car driven by Jack Earl Taylor, 21, of 17370 Michigan Ave., Ferrysburg, going south, ran into the front of the engine of a south-bound C and O passenger train. It is reported the driver failed to see the train approaching.

The engineer of the train, Earl R. Bruback, 1641 Buys Rd., Muskegon, said the train had just left the depot and was traveling only 15 miles-per-hour. He slammed on the emergency brakes and officers are convinced there was no negligence on the part of the train crew.

The 1950 car was dragged for nearly half a block. Taylor and his companion, Irwin Charles Goodin, 21, of 14761 South Ferry St., Grand Haven, were taken to Municipal Hospital by ambulance. Taylor received treatment to his left eyebrow and was released and Goodin, who refused to stay at the hospital, was to return this morning for neck X-rays.

It's Still Summer Here Today, But It's Cooler

It was still summer weather today, but a welcome drop of more than 10 degrees made life considerably happier in Holland, Mich.

A brisk breeze from the west kept flags waving on Eighth St. It was Flag Day today, and merchants appeared to be more patriotic than usual. Many flags were on display.

After a high of 92 Wednesday, the mercury sank to 67 during the night. It stood at 79 at 11 a.m. today, compared with 87 Wednesday.

The Board of Public Works had good news too. The pump which broke down at the 19th St. pump station Wednesday was back in operation, and the water picture was considerably brighter than Wednesday when emergency orders cut off all sprinkling and air conditioning.

To allow recharge of local supplies, the Board of Public Works requested no sprinkling or air conditioning today, but announced supplies would be such that normal summer water uses would be resumed Friday. Homes in the city with even numbers may sprinkle on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and odd-numbered homes may sprinkle Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. There will be no sprinkling on Sundays or during a fire.

Air conditioning units may be turned on Friday.

During Wednesday's breakdown, water supplies sank to an alarming low and water pressure was down to 36 pounds, compared with a normal 55 pounds. BPW Supt. Guy E. Bell said cooperation was excellent, once the emergency orders went out.

Few areas, if any, in Michigan escaped Wednesday's lingering hot snap. Marquette in the upper peninsula backed in 99-degree temperatures—a record in that city for June 13. Throughout the state, sweltering residents jammed beaches and other outdoor spots.

Jackson recorded a scorching 97, Detroit 96; Pellston 95, and Grand Rapids and Traverse City 94. Muskegon was the coolest spot in the lower peninsula with 88 degrees. A thunder shower with hailstones knocked Escanaba's early high temperature down to 79.

Predictions call for scattered thunderstorms tonight with somewhat cooler Friday. Saturday will be cloudy and warmer.

School Board Okays Contracts For 5 Teachers

Contracts for two new teachers were approved and three part-time teachers will receive full-time contracts for the coming year, according to action taken by the Board of Education at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

The new teachers are Ernest R. Wenzel of Saginaw who will teach Junior high English and history and Miss Martha Moran of Escanaba who will teach in the orthopedic room. Wenzel is a graduate of Moorhead State Teachers College and has had three years experience. He is married and has three children. Miss Moran received a B. Donald Oosterbaan of Holland, who has been teaching driver training on a part-time basis the past year will teach full time next year. Oosterbaan, a non-degree teacher with four years of experience, will resign from the Holland police department in August. He will attend summer school at Hope College this summer and also will take a three-week course at Michigan State University late this summer. Besides teaching driver training, he will coach eighth grade football and junior high track.

Mrs. Cornelius Kuiper, who has been teaching three half days a week, will be employed full-time in the mentally handicapped room in the E. E. Fell Junior High School. A non-degree teacher, Mrs. Kuiper will attend Western Michigan College this summer in order to obtain certification for this position.

Mrs. Cynthia Yntema, now teaching mathematics half days in Holland High School, will be employed full time in the Thomas Jefferson school next year. Mrs. Yntema received an A.B. degree from Western Michigan College and a master's degree from Columbia University. She has taught 12 years.

The board approved an English department recommendation to employ a team of four English teachers for four weeks during the summer to prepare a curriculum guide for English which will state precisely what is to be taught in English courses in grades nine through 12.

The board approved a recommendation of the school committee to discontinue transportation for non-resident orthopedic and mentally retarded children in view of time and mileage involved. The committee suggests that parents or the school district in which the children live provide the transportation.

The committee also recommended a book rental fee from pupils in kindergarten through the fifth grade ranging from $1.50 to $3.50 which covers such items as workbooks and weekly readers. The board approved.

The board announced the purchase of two houses, the John Van Huis home at 50 West 15th St. and the Bontekoe house and store at 54 West 15th St. These properties lie immediately west of Junior High School.

Claims and accounts totaled $157,672.40 which includes a $99,589.55 item for July and August payrolls. This is the first year that finances allowed the two payrolls to come within the fiscal year to which they belong. The budget for 1956-57 is currently under study and the board will hold a special meeting soon to discuss budget items.

A letter from Lloyd Van Raalte, superintendent of Beechwood School, informed the board that Beechwood was withholding action on establishing a ninth grade and study would continue.

Western Seminary Facultyman Takes Over as President

Dr. George Mennenga Elected at Meeting; Women at Civic Center

Dr. George Mennenga of Holland, a member of the faculty of Western Theological Seminary since 1939, was elected president of General Synod of the Reformed Church at the opening meeting of Synod Thursday afternoon in Hope Memorial Chapel.

The Holland man accedes to the highest position of the denomination after serving the past year as vice president. He succeeds Dr. Daniel Y. Brink of Scotia, N.Y., as president.

Dr. Mennenga, who was elected on the first ballot, is dean at the seminary as well as head of the department of English Bible and Missions. Before coming to Holland he served 10 years as professor of Bible at Central College, Pella, Ia., and also served a brief pastorate in Peoria, Ill.

The Rev. Howard Schade, pastor of the Reformed Church of Nyack, N.Y., was elected vice president on the second ballot. He is a graduate of Hope College and New Brunswick Theological seminary and has served various Reformed churches in the east for 21 years. He is a member of the Board of Foreign Missions and president of Kirkside, Inc., home for retired ministers and missionaries at Roxbury, N.Y.

In his "State of Religion" message Thursday night, President Brink reported a growth of 13 new congregations during 1955, raising the total to 831 congregations and 17,000 new members for a total of 208,000 communicant members.

Dr. Brink also reported that Reformed Church members gave more than $18,000,000 in 1955, of which $4,000,000 was for the program of missions and Christian Education. He emphasized the need of advance both at home and abroad and urged completion of the special campaign to raise an additional $1,500,000 for needed buildings on college campuses and church buildings on home and foreign fields.

Speaking on synod's theme, "Jesus Is Lord," he spoke of the "America on the move" emphasis and the expanding enrollment in church colleges which is expected to be 20 to 35 percent greater next fall.

Stated Clerk James E. Hoffman informed Synod that last year's referendum to permit licensing of students for the ministry after their first year in theological school did not receive the necessary two-thirds vote and therefore the amendment to the constitution was defeated.

Dr. Hoffman reported the same was true for a proposed revision of the denomination's 300-year-old liturgy. He explained that churches generally recognized the need for revision but felt the proposed program would not meet the liturgical needs of the present day and considerably more work and study would have to be done before a revision would be approved.

New Motel-Hotel Plans Delayed

Plans for a motel-hotel to cost about $500,000 at Macatawa Park have received a setback today with the receipt of a letter by Richard Den Uyl, former manager of the Hotel Macatawa, from the Park Township board saying: "Resolved that the request for approval of a liquor license for the proposed Macatawa Hotel be denied."

The letter was signed by Clerk Nick Stielstra. Den Uyl said, "We were so amazed that the board turned down our request that plans for the future are very indefinite. The reason for making the request was that the cost of construction of the proposed hotel is high and we couldn't possibly operate only as a summer hotel."

"Plans for the most modern resort, possibly the finest in the state depend in a great degree on all year-around business including off season conventions, meetings and group business which requires some sort of bar or cocktail lounge."

Den Uyl says that he has received many requests for reservations from vacationers who as yet do not know the hotel has been torn down. He has referred all requests to other resorts in the area.

Radar, roadblocks, and stop street checks all will be employed in the all-out drive to curb traffic violations.

Officers will be instructed to be especially watchful of speeders, reckless driving, cars with defective mufflers, brakes and lights.

Violators will all be issued tickets with warning tickets kept to a bare minimum, Holt and Van Hoff said.

Those arrested and found to have previous moving violations will be cited to the Secretary of State for possible revocation of licenses.

Within the past month police have cited an ever increasing number of motorists. Other communities are doing the same with the result the state is nearly 60 days behind on holding appeal hearings.

Holt and Van Hoff said the special squads will rove throughout the city and not set up for any length of time at any one location.

Present plans call for the squads to go into action several times this month and during the summer.

Auxiliary officers will team up with regular police in manning certain check points at roadblocks where every car coming through will be stopped and checked for defective equipment.

Motorists will be asked to produce licenses to insure they are operating motor vehicles with a proper license. The same will go for those on motorcycles, scooters and in trucks.

Spring Lake Boy Killed in Freak Skiing Accident

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — A 15-year-old Spring Lake water skier was killed Thursday evening when he struck an overhanging boom of a sailboat as he coasted to shore on Spring Lake.

Phillip W. Lyttle, Jr., 15, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Lyttle, Sr., Spring Lake, was pronounced dead of a fractured neck by Dr. William Heard, deputy medical examiner.

The youth was being towed in his father's boat operated by his cousin, George Lyttle, 15, Grand Rapids. Lyttle already had released the tow line and was coasting to shore.

Authorities said, near shore he playfully grabbed at a fishpole held by 13-year-old George Erickson and presumably failed to see the projecting boom of a sailboat.

He was struck by the boom just above the nose and sank at 5:30 p.m. Sheriff's officers, state police and the Grand Haven fire department immediately joined in the search for the boy's body.

The body was recovered by Under-sheriff Harris Nieuwsma who was dragging from a boat owned by Leonard Vanden Berg of Ferrysburg.

The boy's parents, and an uncle, were working on a dock only a few hundred feet away from where the tragedy occurred.

He was born Dec. 25, 1940, and had just been graduated from the ninth grade of Ferrysburg school last week. He was a member of Spring Lake Baptist Church.

Besides the parents he is survived by the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Syers, Muskegon.

Dog Notes

By Peter Boggs

To Eliminate That "Doggy Odor"

Frequent bathing in not only injurious to a dog's coat and skin but quite often it fails to eliminate the "doggy odor," the main reason perhaps for the animal being given a bath.

Here's a suggestion I have found very practical and exceedingly beneficial in removing all traces of odor. Get from your druggist a pound box of calcium carbonate. Also a small amount of naphthalene powder (five spoonfuls of calcium to one of naphthalene).

Stand the dog on some newspapers and rub or brush the above mixture liberally into his coat. Then brush the animal to and fro to get rid of the powder. That's all there is to it—simple and safe for even the youngest of pups.

Why Your Dog Pant

I am sure you are aware that your dog does a lot of panting. Perhaps you have noticed that a brief walk with him which does not fatigue you often leaves him panting. It isn't that he is exhausted or even out of breath—he is perspiring.

I haven't any idea how many thousands pores that are in the human body, but I do know we perspire more or less through all of them. Your dog can't do that; his pores do not give out perspiration like ours. The only way he can perspire is through glands in and around his tongue. When he is hot or tired or nervous, he pants; it is his one means of getting rid of perspiration.

That is why it is cruel and dangerous to strap a dog's jaws so tightly shut with a muzzle that he cannot pant—it is torture to him. If you must muzzle your dog, see to it that the strap is loose enough for him to get his mouth far enough open for a certain amount of panting.

The moment you take him off the streets or back into his kennel yard, remove the muzzle and see that he has plenty of cool, fresh water to drink. The chances are he will need and want the muzzle taken off.

Carrot Juice

There seems to be a fad for sprinkling grated raw carrots through dogs' dishes of food, and some people are also pouring into such food the juice pressed from carrots. I noticed an article the other day saying that this was something new, but its essentials are not new at all. Thousands of dog men have been mixing bits of carrots in dog food for years.

Carrots are good for dogs, grated or as juice. They seem to be just as beneficial in the form of cut-up morsels. In fact, several kinds of vegetables, green and otherwise, mixed with regular rations are good for most dogs, especially in winter. These vegetables however, do not include potatoes.

The Question Box

Question: You told me through your column that cod liver oil was a good thing to feed a seven-week old pup. I have forgotten how often or how much I should give my dog. Will you please tell me?

Answer: Mix one teaspoonful in his main meal every day for a month. Then make it one teaspoonful every other day.

Former Holland Man Will Head New Department

Synod Will Establish Stewardship Section In New York Offices

A former Holland man, the Rev. Howard Teusink, was appointed Friday to head a newly formed Department of Stewardship Education by General Synod of the Reformed Church in America which is holding its 150th regular session in Holland.

The new department, under consideration for several years, will be the executive arm of synod's stewardship council. All program boards of the denomination have membership on the county. The new department will be housed in Reformed Church headquarters at 156 Fifth Ave., New York. Work will start July 1.

Rev. Teusink, a graduate of Hope College and Western Theological Seminary, has served pastorates in Michigan and Iowa and for the last three years has directed the denomination's youth work. The latter position was under the Reformed Church Board of Education headed by Dr. B. J. Mulder.

At Friday night's session in Hope Chapel, Synod voted to rescind action taken in 1955 which had directed the "establishment of a strong regional office in Chicago." Several years of discussion to move headquarters to the middle west was climaxed last year by the decision to remain in New York and share in the Protestant Church Center now under construction on Morningside Heights with Synod and its boards contributing $600,000. The move to Chicago was a rider to the main action in 1955. This rider was found to be impractical after further study.

The Reformed Church in America is 328 years old this year, the oldest Protestant Church in America with a continuous history. Headquarters have always been maintained in New York City. Friday's special committee report was presented by Dr. Gerard Gnade of Ridgewood, N.J.

New missionaries for the Board of Foreign Missions are Elaine Buteyn, assigned to Japan; Te Bina Grace Boogaarden, Persian Gulf; Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Draper, Arabia; Rev. and Mrs. Bernard Hakken, Jr., Philippines; Nancy Nienhuis, Arabia; Roxanne Saar, Sudan; Rev. and Mrs. Carl Schroeder, Taiwan; and Rev. Mrs. Raymond Weiss, Iraq.

New domestic missionaries are Mr. and Mrs. James Hassall, Mr. and Mrs. Derwin Hesselink and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Van Gent, all assigned to Indian fields; Adrianna Boender and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Swart, assigned to Kentucky; Rev. and Mrs. Henry Fiske, Rev. and Mrs. Herman Harmelink, Rev. and Mrs. Dirk Mulder, Rev. and Mrs. Carl Schroeder, Sr., and Rev. and Mrs. John S. Ter Louw, all assigned to Canada.

The Reformed Church motto "Endracht Maakt Macht," and the synod theme, "Jesus Is Lord," appear in prominent positions in the chapel. The motto means "In Unity There Is Strength."

Heeringa Named Head of Ottawa Humane Society

Mrs. P.T. Cheff Gives $22,000 for Animal Shelter and New Site

George Heeringa of Holland was elected president of the Ottawa County Humane Society at an organizational meeting Friday in the Warm Friend Tavern. Oscar Vandendoren was elected secretary and John Van Putten treasurer. A vice president is expected to be named later, possibly from the north half of the county.

Work on organizing a humane society has been under way for several months and Mrs. P. T. Cheff gave the program impetus and practical application Friday when she turned over marketable securities worth $22,000 to be used for the purchase of land and the erection of a modern animal shelter.

Sheriff Jerry Vanderbeek reported that arrangements have been made for a 10-acre site at Bagley and US-31 eight or nine miles north of Holland just south of Pigeon Creek. The property lies on the township line, partly in West Olive township and partly in Port Sheldon township.

Sheriff Vanderbeek said the humane society has applied to the government for access off US-31. If this permission is not granted, a road will be constructed off Bagley Ave.

Preliminary plans have been drawn for an animal shelter somewhat similar to the Kalamazoo shelter and other model shelters in the state.

Named to the shelter committee were Sheriff Vanderbeek, Gerald Helder, Lawrence Wade and Fred Arnoldink. Chairmen also were named for other committees as follows: membership, Mrs. Gladys De Vries; public relations, W. A. Butler; humane education, Mrs. Donald Winter.

Plans are under way to launch a membership campaign with fees of $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. Plans also call for an extensive junior program in which youngsters will be encouraged to visit the new shelter and learn how to care for their pets.

The group went on record as expressing appreciation to Mrs. Cheff for her untiring efforts in organizing the society and in giving it tangible impetus through her generous contribution. The gift was announced by Vanden Dooren.

"RICH MAN, POOR MAN"

In the elections that are coming up many voters are once more going to allow the spellbinders to pull wool over their eyes. The pulling has already started.

We are being asked to believe that it is somehow to the discredit of the Republicans that a former president of General Motors is an important figure in the President's cabinet. But some of the very men who, in Michigan, make use of this particular innuendo do not seem to be at all concerned that the Democratic governor, G. Mennen Williams, draws his dividends from the Mennen Company on which the governor's middle name is based.

In New York, some of the same men who have such a horror of General Motors in politics, are enthusiastic supporters of Governor W. Averell Harriman, whose millions come out of and are invested in the Union Pacific Railway that his father founded.

There is not the slightest reason why Governor Williams should not keep his personal economic wolf at bay through dividends from the Mennen Company. Nor is there any reason why Governor Harriman should not make use of the earnings of the Union Pacific. Both companies presumably are making their money honestly and the two governors can honestly and reasonably accept their share of the profits.

But by the same token there is not the slightest reason why Secretary Wilson, or anyone else, should not have the same right with respect to General Motors.
In both cases the argument is pure bunk.

Instead of engaging in such absurd innuendo, the American voters should thank God that successful men who have made their money in successful industry are willing to quit money making and devote themselves to public service.

It was not a crime on the part of the late Franklin Roosevelt that his father and grandfather had all made money in American industry and that he had inherited it. It was to his credit that he did not try to make more money but devoted himself to public service. It was not to Herbert Hoover's discredit that he was a millionaire several times over; it was to his credit that he was willing to devise his time and talents to public office.

When you hear the discrediting remarks about General Motors, or about any other successful corporation whose personnel has been drained off by the public service, make up your mind that you are listening to a demagogue. And you are going to hear a lot of such remarks between now and election day.

Lesson

Sunday, June 17
Ambassador in Bonds
Acts 26:2-8; Acts 26:19-23
By C. P. Dame

(Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. and used by permission.)

In the Book of Acts there are several addresses given by Paul.
These addresses reveal the courage, the faith, and the ambition of the man who used his fine brain, his strong will, and his convinced heart in the service of Jesus Christ. In this lesson we are again reminded of the truth that the gospel wins its way through suffering and hardships — not through ease and comfort.

It is an art to use our opportunities for Christ. After Paul had reached Jerusalem he was persuaded by some Christians there to share the rites and help pay the expenses of four men who had made a vow. Some Jews saw Paul in the temple area, they jumped to a conclusion and stirred up the crowd which tried to kill Paul.
The Roman soldiers arrested him.
Paul was tried and charged with being a pestilent fellow, an agitator and a leader of the sect of the Nazarenes, and he had tried to profane the Temple.

The governor Felix gave Paul the opportunity to answer the charges which he did. Felix did not think Paul guilty but he kept him in prison. Festus succeeded Felix. King Agrippa paid a visit to the new governor who told him about Paul. Agrippa expressed the desire to hear Paul and Festus arranged a gathering at which the notables of the city were invited—all the leaders of Caesarea. Before this select audience Paul spoke, and witnessed for Christ.

II. A man with a Christian experience can talk. Marked was the difference between Paul and his audience; he was a man of God, they were men and women of the world. In this address before Agrippa, Paul told about his life as a Pharisee, as a persecutor of the Christian religion, of his dramatic conversion while on the road to Damascus, and his arrest in Jerusalem. Paul made it clear that his conversion did not mean that he had broken with the past. He did believe however that all the promises God made in the Old Testament regarding the Messiah had been fulfilled in Jesus of Nazareth. Paul had a different understanding of "the hope of the promise made of God unto our fathers."

In the words, "Whereupon, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision" we have the secret of the life and work of Paul. The call of Paul meant service, sacrifice, suffering but this mattered little—he obeyed and preached. And what was his message? It was that people
"should repent and turn to God, and do works meet for repentance." All the prophets stressed the necessity of repentance. John the Baptist began his ministry summoning his hearers to repentance and Jesus called upon people to repent.

Festus, the governor, interrupted Paul and said, "Paul, you are mad; your great learning is turning you mad." Paul replied that he was preaching the sober truth and he was not mad. Paul was always seeking converts and so he appealed to king Agrippa hoping to persuade him to become a Christian but in this he did not succeed.
After hearing Paul's defense Festus asserted that he had done nothing deserving of death. But Paul had already appealed to Caesar and hence he could not be let go.

1. Paul is held in great esteem today but Felix is forgotten.
2. Good people are remembered with gratitude but evil people are forgotten or remembered because of their bad deeds.
3. We all should witness for the gospel.

4. A definite Christian experience is a blessing.

5. God gives help to His workers.

6. The gospel is advanced through suffering, hardships and sacrifices.

Christian Endeavor

June 17, 1956
A Christian is Honest
Matt. 7:1-5
By Raymond E. Wells

To the Leader: This is the second in a series of Christian character trait topics. Absolute honesty in all affairs of life is necessary because Christians witness both through word and life. Honesty includes not just refraining from openly stealing something that belongs to another, but complete truthfulness and uprightness in all activities of life.

Ideas for Leader's Talk

1. —Honesty before God is necessary to become a Christian. One of the ways in which many people are dishonest is in pretending that they are something that they are not. From childhood we blame things on others. When a person comes to God for salvation he must see and confess himself to be just what he really is — a sinner.
(You cannot see your need of the Saviour the Bible tells about unless you see how great a sinner you are.) This beginning changes man from his old ways of inner dishonesty to himself and of outer dishonesty to others to a new way of absolute honesty.

2. Honesty is necessary because God is holy. (1 Peter 1:13-19)
When we become Christians we are born of the Holy Spirit of God (John 3:5). Our nature is changed from a sinful one to a holy one like to God's. There is no sign of dishonesty in God. There should be none in us. In our practical everyday lives this means the following:

(1) We must only consider honest things (Phil. 4:8).

(2) We must always act honestly (Lev. 19:35-36). This implies

(a) No misrepresentations.

(b) No pretending.

(c) No questionable actions
(Rom. 12:17).

Paul was even careful to take another man along when he was handling a large sum of money for Christian relief so that no one might suspect him of dishonesty or misappropriation (II Cor. 8:18-21).
He also told us we should be careful to be honest in all our dealings with the non-Christian (I Thess.
4:12).

(3) We must be prayerful that we always be honest because the natural bent of man is to get for self and desire sometimes may blind us to dishonesty involved in certain situations. (Heb. 13:18).

Questions for discussion: 1. If we accept a job to work by the hour and we do not give the full amount of work possible are we being dishonest to our employer?
2. If we hire a man and he works diligently for us and we pay him small wages because there is a lot of unemployment and we make large profits off of his hard work are we dishonest not to raise his salary? 3. Is it better to flunk a test than to pass by "refreshing our memory" from someone else's paper? What is the most important test, that of our conduct or that of our knowledge? 4. Are so-called "White Lies" dishonest? 5.
If you sell some merchandise which is defective and the customer does not notice the defect, are you being dishonest if you remain silent?

Paul Benes

Paul Benes Plays Basketball Abroad

Big Paul Benes, Hope College's 6'10" center, is heading for South America and a summer of basketball.

The big fellow, who led Hope soomers as a freshman and was the MIAA's leading rebounder, left last week for Taylor University in Upland, Ind., where the group of players were to meet for a week of practice.

Handled by Bill Odel of Taylor, the players, including several from small colleges, worked out for a week and then headed south.

The plan calls for the group of 10 players to play basketball before South American crowds. They will play among themselves and also against South American units.

Prior to and after the game, the players will give basketball instruction and religious testimonies. Odel has had this summer program for several years and has found it to work out successfully. The program is in conjunction with the Youth for Christ.

Benes, who is a pre-seminary student at Hope also was a member of the all-MIAA second team last year.

Dutchmen Trounce Fennville 18-5 In League Game

Holland's Flying Dutchmen pushed across 18 runs in their home Southwestern Michigan Baseball League opener Monday night to wallop Fennville 18-5 at Riverview Park.

The victory gives the Dutch a 1-1 record and a second place spot with South Haven.

Explosions of five runs on three different occasions pushed the run total up. Aiding in the push were 16 Holland hits.

The Dutch, after spotting Fennville two runs in the top of the first, came back with three runs in the bottom portion of the inning without a hit. Four walks and two errors helped.

The first five-run outburst came in the fifth. Ron Van Dyke, former Holland High catcher, tripled with the sacks 10-0-0 in the inning's big blast. A total of six hits were made in the frame.

Five more runs were made in the seventh. Merle Human's triple and Max Doolittle's double plus four walks and hit batsman took the tale. Doolittle joined the club Monday after playing with Hillsdale College.

The five runs came across in the eighth inning and again there was only one extra-base hit, a double by Rog Smith but three walks and a wild pitch helped along with two singles.

Fennville picked up single runs in the second, fourth and fifth.

Pitcher Smith led Holland's hitting with a perfect four out of four. The Van Dyke brothers, Bob and Ron, each had three including two doubles by Bob.

Hulst Brothers Shove Vets' Nine From Unbeaten Ranks; Mobilgas Wins

The last of the unbeaten, the Vets, fell by the wayside in City Softball action Monday night at Van Tongeren Field as defuncting champions Hulst Brothers played like it and edged the league leaders, 2-0.

And Mobilgas Dealers, snapped a six-game losing streak to stop Raphael's 6-3 in the other contest.

In the opener, the Hulst-Vets clash was another tension filled contest. For the last two years these clubs have been battling each other in the season's play-off.

Ron Wetherbee cracked what proved to be the winning run right off the bat in the first inning with a homer over the center field fence.

Les Nyenhuys scored the second Hulst Brothers run in the third. He singled, moved to third on errors by the pitcher Lum Veldman and came home on a sacrifice fly.

While Veldman gave up only three hits, his teammates got six off the offerings of Leroy Brower but couldn't score.

Two hits in the first inning, a single by Verne Vande Water and a double by Veldman, pushed Vande Water to third but Al Glupker fanned to end any threat.

Veldman struck out 13 Hulst players and Brower fanned 12 Vets. Nyenhuys, Wetherbee and Al Bosch got the Hulst hits while Vande Water, Veldman, Glupker, Jim Slagh, Jerry Kok and Rog Beckman hit safely for the Vets.

Three - run rallies erased a lead and gave Mobilgas Dealers their first win of the season.

Three runs were scored in the third and fourth innings. Highlighting third inning play were two singles by Karl Essenberg and Don De Vries and a double by Rolie Frens plus two Raphael errors.

One hit, a single by Gord Sluiter.

Hulst, Raphael's Record Victories In Softball Play

Hulst Brothers kept within striking distance of the leaders in City League Softball play Friday night at Van Tongeren Field with a 4-0 blanking of Barber Fords while up and coming Raphael's took its second straight game in beating Co. D 4-2.

Larry Knoper and Leroy Brower of Hulst Brothers teamed up for some fine pitching. The two lads, Knoper worked the first five innings and Brower came on in the sixth, gave up just one hit and that was charged to Knoper in the first inning.

But after that Ford had only one baserunner the rest of the game. Syl Disselkoen slapped a long triple in the first inning with two down but died on third as Knoper got Jun Hop to fly out.

Brower faced the last six men and retired them in order, striking out the last four in a row. Knoper fanned six.

Wetherbee tripled for the winners in the first inning to score Jud Gebben, who had singled, and then scored himself on an error by Disselkoen.

The other two Hulst runs were made on home runs. Bob Volk polled one in the fourth and Glenn Nykamp socked one in the seventh.

Nykamp led the eight-hit Hulst attack with two safeties. Gebben, Wetherbee, Kearny Zoerhof, Volk, Knoper and Gord Greengood each had one hit.

Losing pitcher Bob Ebels fanned five.

Raphael's, who waited until the last of the seventh to win its first game, pounced on Co. D pitcher Herb Boersma for four hits and two runs in the first inning.

Rich Wolters, who singled, came home with the first run on Gord Plaggemars' single. This hit also scored Jerry Prince, who beat out a bunt for a single. Leroy Tooker got the other hit in the inning.

Rich Wolters, who singled, came home with the first run on Gord Plaggemars' single. This hit also scored Jerry Prince, who beat out a bunt for a single. Leroy Tooker got the other hit in the inning.

Rog Vander Meulen hit a home run in the second inning and then scored the final run in the fourth. He was safe on an error and came home on Prince's double.

Ron Appledorn singled in the fourth and scored on an error by the rightfielder Vander Meulen for the first Co. D run and Ron Nykamp scored the second run in the top of the seventh. He singled and scored on a Prince error at short.

Wolters, Prince, Plaggemars and Vander Meulen each had two hits for the winners while Dick Kiupers and Tooker each made one safety.

Appledorn made two hits for the guards and Vern Boersen, Ernie Prince, Duane Rosendahl, Jay Berens and Nykamp all had one hit.

Ron Kalmink went all the way for the winners and struck out 11. Boersma started for the guards and was relieved by Harv Berens in the fourth.

Let's Plant Beauty -- A New Garden Beauty -- Colorful Ligtu Alstroemeria

Perhaps the most sumptuous and colorful hardy herbaceous plants that have been performing by sending up clusters of lily-like blossoms in exotic array are the Alstroemerias, commonly referred to as the Lily of Peru.

These are quite new to our gardens (within the past 20 years) and most likely have never been tried by many. A more magnificent plant one is not likely to find soon for the little effort it takes to maintain it. The Alstroemeria Ligtu hybrids may carry as many as 50 to 60 lovely lily-like blossoms on a single head in a range of colors similar to those found among the Mollis Azaleas.

Horticulturist Clarence Elliott of England has given a worthwhile method for planting these. He thinks that starting a bed of these alstroemerias is a delicate job but not a difficult one and that once they are established will bloom year after year as a hardy perennial, improving in vigor and splendor the older they become.

It seems that the roots which consist of curious fleshy tubers like bunches of elongated white grapes are very brittle and grow deep in the ground which makes transplanting difficult.

He suggests that if they are to be transplanted this be done while they are small seedlings and moved to their permanent place in the border or along a wall; from his experience he suggests a better thing to do would be to plant the seed directly on the spot you wish them and so eliminate transplanting. Seeds for these are available in certain nursery catalogs, both American and English.

When the young seedlings come up they look rather like young wheat sprouting, the only difference is that the leaves are wider and more fleshy and have a characteristic spiral twist. If you are to transplant, this should be done when the seedlings are about two to three inches high. After transplanting the leaves die down in a week or two and then you will have to wait for next summer for their reappearance. Mark the spot so that you do not make the mistake of hoeing or digging them out. Suitable sowing time should be early and mid-summer months when ground is warm.

Next spring when they come up they should faithfully produce flowerheads on stout stems.

Alstroemerias may also be started by sowing two or three seeds in a 3-inch pot, raised in a cold frame or greenhouse, and then planted in permanent quarters while the seedlings are still in young first growth or kept in a pot for a house plant. One can hardly imagine anything more delicately beautiful.

One of the Eastern nursery catalogs lists in addition to the ligtu hybrids, Alstroemeria Aurantiaca (profuse flowers of golden orange), Chilensis (creamy pink to rose with suffusions of apricot) — used more for forcing in pots), alstroemeria versicolor (12 inches, bright yellow with purple flecks — not as garden hardy as the others), alstroemeria pelegina (20 inches, the lovely Lily of the Incas whose flowers may be purest snowy white or rose, or lilac with purple and yellow splashes — needs winter protection here), and the alstroemeria pulchella (the gay parrot lily whose flowers are richest red with bright green tips, carried on uneven whorls on four-foot stems — oddly rotate foliage).

Loamy soil is preferred by these plants according to our American catalog but Clarence Elliott used ordinary soil; fairly light, rather stony garden, loam. If planted in groups in the flower borders it is most important to mark the clumps clearly. It is also more convenient for weeding the plants and for cutting the flowers if they are planted in a bed which is no wider than three feet.

Library Adventures

By Arnold Mulder

Commenting on the Truman memoirs now going through the press, one critic remarked that Harry Truman knows less about Harry Truman than future biographers will know who have not yet been born.

That is almost certainly a true saying. And it applies not only to Truman but to many others who have been busily penning memoirs. It is almost certainly true, for instance, of Herbert Hoover, whose memoirs have run to several volumes; and of Winston Churchill, whose published recollections have almost become a library in bulk; and of Mrs. Roosevelt and of Alice Roosevelt Longworth and of Harold Ickes and of dozens of others. The crop of personal memoirs has been unusually lush in recent years.

All of these memoirs are valuable but future biographers and historians will not treat them as being authoritative. A biographer, if what the man or woman he portrays actually was like, not what the subject thought he or she was like. Everybody—that word might well be underscored — interprets his acts and ideas in his own favor; he would not be human if he did not.

There have been a few autobiographies in the history of the world that purported to tell the unvarnished truth — so few that they can almost be counted on the fingers of one hand. But a careful reading of those books has convinced me that the authors fooled themselves as much as do the memoir writers who make no such claims.

I have recently been reading the "Confessions of Jean Jacques Rousseau," by the man who had much to do with setting the stage for the French Revolution. In the second sentence of his book Rousseau promises that he will tell the whole truth about himself, something, that in his words, had never been done in the history of literature.

But it turns out that Rousseau, although he tells many things to his own discredit, strives mightily to convince his readers that at bottom he was good-hearted and sincere and honest and democratic. Reading his book, I couldn't help feeling that he was to a large extent a "heel" and, what was worse, that he didn't know it.

Another book in this category is the "Confessions of Saint Augustine." The author of that famous volume apparently never realized the fact about himself that he was a pathological case, a person who got a great deal of satisfaction and a feeling of distinction out of confessing his so-called "sins."

Perhaps the most notorious example of that type of "confession" book is the autobiography of Benvenuto Cellini, which anyone may read in the Harvard Classics five-foot shelf of books. Cellini, an Italian sculptor of the sixteenth century, confesses to all sorts of crimes, including murder, but he glories so much in such facts that the reader gets the impression that he makes his acts to be much worse than they really were. Being a "bad hombre" gave him distinction, and he works it for all it is worth. A genuine biographer would discount many of his statements.

There remains the case of Samuel Pepys, the seventeenth century diarist who was importantly responsible for the development of the British navy. "Pepys' Diary" has become a kind of symbol of frankness in "confession" literature.

It may be admitted that Pepys comes nearer to the truth about himself than perhaps anybody else in the history of literature. But Pepys did not write for publication. He even used a personal shorthand that was not decoded until more than a hundred years after his death. But while Pepys is highly entertaining, it is doubtful if he really knew the truth about himself. In its very nature any autobiography is unreliable.

Indiana Truck Driver Injured in Accident

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — James C. Harbour, 21, of Fremont, Ind., is in Municipal Hospital with lacerations and punctures of the left leg which may be broken, lacerations of the head and face and a possible concussion as the result of an accident early Saturday morning south of the intersection of M-50 and US-31.

Harbour, driving a 1955 pickup truck, was delivering a 700-pound mold to the Michigan Plastic Co. in Grand Haven and was attempting to pass another car. He went off the left side of the road, then off the right side and rolled over three times coming to rest on the truck's right side in a ditch.

Harbour was taken from the cab by a doctor from Illinois who was passing and later a nurse at a nearby nursing home who heard the crash also came to his assistance.

He was taken by ambulance to Municipal Hospital where X-rays were to be taken this morning.

The mold was encased in the bed of the pickup and impact caused it to hit the side of the bed, loosening the mold from its encasement. The truck, valued at about $1,600 belonging to the Omco Plastic Mold Co., was a total loss. State police are investigating.

Swimming Mishap Claims Child, 6, In Lake Michigan

Woman Drowns When Cruiser's Wake Swamps Fishing Boat

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — A Grand Haven youngster and a Muskegon woman were drowned Sunday in separate mishaps at the state park and in Grand River.

The victims were Elton Smith, 6, of 1544 Columbus St., Grand Haven, and Mrs. Ethel Banks, 44, of 845 Pine Ave. Muskegon.

The boy went down along with his two brothers, Roderick, 7, and Michael, 5, when the three stepped into a deep hole in back of a water collecting caisson 15 feet off shore in front of the Grand Haven oval at 6:30 p.m.

The mother who was sitting on shore along with two other children, Nicholas, 8, and Timothy, heard the youngsters call for help and splashed out into the water and rescued Roderick.

Mrs. Smith said there was another boy "out there." Ferris Miller of Grand Rapids, dashed out and rescued Michael. It was several more minutes before it was determined still another boy was in the water.

Miller returned and pulled Elton out but all attempts to revive him were futile. Michael and Roderick were taken to Grand Haven Municipal Hospital where their condition today was reported as good.

Earlier in the day at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. Banks was drowned when she and two male companions were dumped into the water when their outboard boat swamped and capsized in mid-channel across from the Construction Aggregates Co. in Ferryburg.

The two men, Lehman R. Wilson, 40, and McKinley Walker, 39, both of Gary, Ind., were rescued by several unidentified persons in boats who came by shortly after the accident.

Wilson, who was operating the 14 foot boat, said the wake of a large cruiser that went by swamped their boat, throwing the three occupants into the water.

None of the three could swim. Wilson told Ottawa County Sheriff Gerald Vanderbeek that Mrs. Banks was floating on her back for some time but they could not reach her before she sank.

Dredging operations were started immediately by Coast Guardsmen, sheriff's officers, state police, Grand Haven city police and firemen, Spring Lake constables and many other civilian manned boats.

The trio had launched the boat from Fruitport. They had been to the Grand Haven piers to fish and were on their way back when the tragedy occurred.

Her body was recovered at 4:55 p.m. The two men said they saw her body come up several times after the accident but each attempt to grab her failed.

Besides the Smith boys, the parents have a daughter, Darlene Marie. A two day - old baby, Lois Kayleen died March 31. Other survivors include the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Cleveland, Grand Haven, and Mr. and Mrs. John Linada, Houghton, Mich.

The body was taken to the Kammeraad Funeral Home after Dr. Robert Stobelaar, medical examiner, attributed death due to accidental drowning.

Mrs. Banks' body was removed to Achterhof Funeral Home in Muskegon. Medical Examiner Dr. William Heard said death was due to drowning.

Winners Rack Up 17 Hits; Veldman Hurls One-Hitter

The Vets are sitting all alone on top of the City Softball league pile and from the way they disposed of what was their most feared opponent to date—it could be a long time before they are challenged for the perch.

Thursday night, in what was expected to be the duel of the season so far, the Vets pounded out 17 hits, the most made by any team this year, and exploded for 16 runs, including two five-run innings and trounced previously unbeaten Baren's Service, 16-2 at Van Tongeren Field.

While the Vets were using the potent sticks, they also were getting, probably the most feared weapon in softball — a blazing pitcher with a lot of variation.

Big Lum Veldman, who has a habit of being best in the big tests, threw a one-hitter, to equal the best pitching mark of the season and in so doing struck out 12 batters. And to top it off he had a perfect four-for-four at the plate.

With a hitting and pitching combination like that, Baren's wished "they'd stood at home."

The victory gives the Vets a 6-0 record, the only unbeaten team in the league. Baren's is second with a 5-1 mark.

In the other game, Holland Moose buried Mobilgas Dealers 4-1 in the league cellar with a 4-1 win. The victory gives Moose a 2-4 mark and leaves the Dealers with a 0-6 record.

The Moose got three homers in the game, two by Bill Zych.

In the Vets-Baren's game, the winners pushed two runs across in the first, added a single tally in the second, broke loose for five in the third, one in the fourth, five in the fifth on a bases-loaded homer by Al Glupker, and added two more in the seventh.

Veldman's perfect night included a triple and three singles. He scored three times.

Vern Vande Water came across four times and had three hits along with Al Glupker, who scored twice, and hit safely three times.

How Glupker also had a perfect night with three hits in three trips, all singles, and scored all three times.

Vets getting one hit were Bill Franks, J. Hoffman, Lee Veldman and Jim Slagh.

Lou Altena, the fellow whose double killed Hulst Brothers earlier in the week for Baren's, again got the only hit. This time the safety was a single in the sixth that helped advance two runners.

Norm Bos, hit by a pitched ball and aided by the hit and sacrifice, scored one run and Ron Bekius, who was safe on an error, moved to second on the hit, stole third and scored on a wild pitch.

Bos started for Baren's and was relieved by Joe Berens in the third. The pair struck out six.

Matt Numikoski hurled a three-hitter for the Moose over Mobilgas while home runs provided for all the runs.

Zych blasted a homer in the fourth to score behind Jas De Vries who had walked for the first two runs.

Les Doornweerd led off the fifth with a homer over the center field fence and then Zych came along and pounded his second round-tripper of the game in the sixth.

Ron Bulthuis scored for the losers in the sixth. He singled, went to third on John Van Iwaarden's single and scored on Karl Essenburg's single.

These were the three hits. The other six frames the Dealers couldn't buy a safety.

Zych had two hits for the winners and De Vries, Doornweerd and Walt Hudzik each had one hit. Numikoski struck out 11 while losing pitcher Van Iwaarden fanned six.

Line scores:

Moose 000 211 0-4 5
Mobilgas 00 001 0-1 3
Batteries: Numikoski and Hudzik; Van Iwaarden and Essenburg.

Vets 215 150 2-16 17
Baren's 000 002 0-2 1
Batteries: Veldman and Beckman; Bos, Berens (3) and E. Altena.

Wiegink Shines In Midwest Meet

MILWAUKEE (Special) — Paul Wiegink, Hope College's brilliant sophomore hurdler, took third place in the Central Collegiate Conference track meet held Saturday at Marquette University here.

Wiegink, competing against the best hurdlers in the Midwest, ran the 120 - yard high hurdle event in 14.8, his best time to date. His previous best time, run at the Elmhurst Relays, was 15.2.

According to Dr. Larry Green, Hope track coach, Wiegink lost out for second place "by six inches." "He was almost out of the race at the start, but really picked up and finished brilliantly," Green said.

In the low hurdles, Wiegink ran the 220 yards in 24.2 around a curve. His previous speed for this event was 25.1.

But the 24.2 was not fast enough to qualify for the finals as three leads breezed in ahead of the lanky star. However, Wiegink's time was faster than the winning time of one of the other heats.

South Haven Tops Holland in Opener

SOUTH HAVEN (Special) — South Haven didn't wait long to get revenge for losing the Southwestern Michigan League playoff last year as the Merchants defeated the Holland Flying Dutchmen, 8-2 at Ratcliff Field Saturday night.

The contest was the first for both clubs.

The Merchants made their revenge plans known in the first inning as the first man up, Crow, tripled. He scored on a double by Fowie.

Three singles, a passed ball and two Holland errors helped to bring in two more South Haven runs in the second.

Lefty Westenbroek, Dutchmen hurler, settled down and for the next four innings didn't allow a run while his mates were picking up two in the fourth.

Merle Human, rightfielder, led off the Dutch fourth with a single and scored on a double by centerfielder Jack Kemper.

Kemper tallied on a single by shortstop Norm Witteveen.

And that turned out to be all of the Holland scoring.

South Haven got to the tiring

Westenbroek in the seventh for four runs. Bowie was safe on an error and Hamlin, Wemban and Palanca singled successfully. Another error, a walk and a wild pitch helped in the scoring.

Rog Smith relieved Westenbroek in the seventh and gave up one run in the eighth. Bowie was safe again on an error and scored on Wemban's single.

Holland made nine hits in the contest and seven errors. The Merchants slapped out 13 safeties and didn't commit a misplay.

Ed Prins at His Desk in Custodial Building

Public School Custodial Head Gets A.B. Degree After 10-Year Program

After 10 years of study, much of it evening classes, Edward Prins, superintendent of buildings and grounds for Holland public schools, has a bachelor of arts degree.

The genial head of the custodial staff received his sheepskin at Hope College commencement exercises earlier this month. It climaxed a carefully worked out program of part-time studies, which started first at Hope College in 1946.

Ed first became a public school employee following his graduation from Holland High School in 1934. Back in those days, there were 13 custodial workers in the school system. Today there are 21.

In recognition of his academic accomplishment and his exceptional service to the school system, teachers paid tribute to him at a dinner in Durfee hall last month. Then on June 5, the custodial staff staged a surprise party in Washington school and presented him with a watch.

During his 22 years of school work, Ed has seen the growth of enrollments, replacement of old facilities with modern new buildings and has experienced a whole new procedure of methods in dealing with his work.

He has written and published a custodian's handbook to serve as a guide for school employees and is responsible for bringing to Holland at least two classes per year for training in building care and other aspects of school work.

Prins served on City Council for a term in 1946. He has been a special police officer for 18 years, and a member of the board of directors of the Michigan Association for School Employees. He carries an electrician's license and retains a special teaching certificate for vocational education.

His wife is the former Ella Risselada of Holland. They have four children, Russell, Mary, Thomas and Jane. The family attends Fourth Reformed Church.

This is the first of a series of Dairy Tours which will be held to select our County Dairy judging team. A number of score cards and judging pamphlets were passed out and we are looking forward to a well balanced dairy judging team this year.

Younger members are urged to attend these meetings for the experience they will receive so that they may become our future dairy judges and represent Ottawa County at Michigan State University in competition with other counties in the state.

Judge, Sheriff Join Safety Drive

Municipal Court Judge Cornelius Meulen Tuesday agreed in principle with the forthcoming crackdown on wayward motorists by local police and sheriff's officers.

Vander Meulen said any campaign that increases the percentage of traffic offenders that are arrested also increases the safety of the motoring public.

The judge pointed out that the number of traffic arrests is far more significant than the penalty assessed against any one driver and that each case must be decided individually.

Vander Meulen cited the problem of the "irresponsible driver" as that individual, regardless of age, who has not developed responsible and mature judgment when behind the wheel of the car.

"This is the person," Vander Meulen said, "that this campaign and day-to-day enforcement will be aimed at."

As plans continued to be formulated for the campaign Sheriff Gerald Vanderbeek said his men would work in cooperation with local officers in the drive.

Vanderbeek said his department will use at least three to four unmarked radio cruisers and three marked patrol cars.

These cars, manned by deputies and auxiliary officers, will patrol the southern half of Ottawa County, at the same time the drive is in effect in the city.
