Accidental Drowning Is Ruled

Robert Godfrey's Body
Found by Resorter After Extensive 4-Day Search

An intensive four-day search for missing Robert Godfrey ended this morning at 8:30 a.m. when his body was found washed up on the shore of Lake Michigan, half a mile north of Buchanan Beach.

Godfrey, 18 years old, of 941 Butternut Dr., was found by Roderick Jellema, of Green Belt, Md., who owns a cottage at 3461 Lake Shore Dr. Jellema said he was taking an early morning walk along the beach when he found the youth, who has been missing since Sunday.

Medical Examiner Dr. Warren Westrate pronounced death due to accidental drowning. The youth was identified on the beach by members of his family.

The discovery ended a search by sea, land and air which began Sunday at 11:30 p.m. when Godfrey's family called the Coast Guard to report him missing. His car was found parked near the corner of Lake Shore Dr. and Riley St., above Buchanan Beach, and his blanket, shoes and car keys were found on the beach.

Daily, an airplane had droned slowly over the Buchanan Beach area, with pilot Art Peters and a deputy staring down into the clear, still water for some sign of the youth.

Every day, local Coast Guardsmen conducted dragging operations up and down the beach. Wednesday, Grand Haven late Police skin divers Richard Coleman and Darrell Pope scoured the area thoroughly, including the area where the body was found.

Deputies, National Guardsmen and volunteers combed the nearby woods and beaches. Despite rumors of the youth having been seen, no clue to his disappearance was found until this morning.

However, deputies said that Wednesday evening teenager Robert Jarvis, of 237 West 10th St., a friend of the dead youth, called the Sheriff's department to report that he had seen Godfrey Sunday about 6 p.m. on Eighth St. in front of the Penney store, and had called him and been answered.

Deputies theorized that Godfrey later went swimming alone and, perhaps struck by cramps, drowned sometime Sunday evening. Godfrey last week graduated from Holland High was wearing red and white checked swimming trunks.

The body was taken by Coast Guardsmen to the Coast Guard station, and then removed by Ver Lee-Geenen Funeral Home.

Requiem Mass for Godfrey will be held Friday at 9 a.m. from St. Francis de Sales Church with burial in Manlius Cemetery near New Richmond.

349 Seniors Are Awarded Diplomas

Two Students Receive 4-Year Scholarships From Herrick Foundation

Diplomas were awarded to 349 seniors, the largest graduating class in the history of Holland High School, at commencement exercises Thursday night in Civic Center.

Two graduates were awarded four-year college scholarships by Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Herrick, donors of Holland's new public library.

Barbara Ann Renick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Renick of 278 West 10th St., and Neil Allen Pauwe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Pauwe of 302 West 20th St., were chosen for the awards on the basis of scholastic achievement and financial need.

The announcement by Herrick, in response to the first public recognition of his contribution to the community of Holland, came completely as a surprise to the two graduates.

After calling the two honor students to the platform, Herrick said, "My wife and I have talked this over for some time and we decided to leave something to show our appreciation to the school. On behalf of the Herrick Foundation, we are giving you four years in the college of your choice."

A short address followed the presentation. Stressing the value of religious faith in life, the Tennessean industrialist who received his formal education in Holland, said, "You're not going to get very far in life without God Almighty. Just as true as you go through life, you're going to experience ups and downs."

Mr. and Mrs. Herrick were introduced by Marcia Brink of the graduating class, and Bernard Arendshorst, president of the Board of Education, read the resolution of appreciation to the Herricks for their "enthusiastic concern in providing for the people of this community opportunities for mental and spiritual growth."

The resolution recognized Herrick's diligence in the field of free enterprise and industry and how he and Mrs. Herrick have shared the bounty of their success with others, especially those of material blessings. Mr. Herrick was presented with an honorary diploma of the class of 1959.

James B. Thomas of the graduating class introduced the commencement speaker, George A. Bowie of Michigan City, Ind. Speaking on the subject, "Till It Be Morrow," the Firestone public relations executive pointed out the changes that young people should face in life.

"Life and change are the same thing," he said. "Change is a continual experience." Using several illustrations, Bowie explained where practical changes, such as in milk shakes, plug-in radios and talking pictures, take place.

"The change for you that begins tomorrow (after graduation) will probably be the biggest of your existence because you are ending your teenage life," he told the graduating class. "Expect change and be interested in it," he said.

Bowie said that some things are changeless, including classical music, literature, art and religion. Speaking for his generation, he concluded, "We hope that the changes we have made are worthy enough not to be changed. And we hope that the changes that you make are worthy enough not to be changed by your children."

After his address, diplomas were awarded by Principal Jay W. Formosa and Superintendent Walter W. Scott.

Hendrick Steven Smith, senior class president, spoke on "In Appreciation — Class of 1959." Supt. Scott introduced the Board of Education and library board members.

The Rev. William C. Warner of Grace Episcopal Church gave the invocation and the Rev. Bernard E. Vander Beek the benediction.

"Pomp and Circumstance," by Elgar was played for the procession and recessional by the Holland High School orchestra, directed by Arthur C. Hills. For the first time this year, the students marched according to height, presenting a fine uniform picture in blue and white down the center aisle.

After the exercises, an informal reception for invited guests was held in the exhibition room for Mr. and Mrs. Herrick and the retiring members of the public school faculty, Miss Hannah Parkyn, Miss Lavinia Cappon, Miss Jeannette Veltman and Theodore Carter.

Plans for Proposed West Ottawa High School Released

Plans were unveiled Saturday for the proposed new junior and senior high school for the West Ottawa Public School District on which residents of the newly organized school district will vote June 30.

According to plans drawn by Architect Guido Binda of Battle Creek, the school will have separate areas for junior high and high school classes with facilities for community use separating the two schools in which academic classrooms will be grouped around their own central courts.

The district has an option on a site of approximately 127 acres on 136th Ave. (old US-31) and Riley St. The building with a front extending for 600 feet will face 136th Ave. with necessary setbacks providing bus drives and approaches. Two main entrances at the front will flank a common library which will serve all students. Administrative offices for principals of both schools will front on a corridor at the rear of the library. The junior high quadrangle will be to the south and the high school quad to the north.

Passageways to the cafeteria-auditorium flank a third central court. The "cafetorium" is particularly designed for community use and will be able to handle the entire school enrollment during noon hour periods. On the high school side is an audio-visual room which also can serve as a small auditorium or lecture room for 150 students. An area on the junior high side can be used either as a stage for the auditorium or as a small auditorium.

Science rooms are so designed that any science course taught in secondary schools today may be accommodated in any science room, either senior or junior high. Science rooms are arranged in suites, two rooms with a central storage area.

Plans also provide for special service shops, homemaking, fine arts, woodshop, metal shop and the like. Beyond kitchen facilities for the cafetorium is a large-sized gymnasium, 108 by 130 feet, which can seat 2,000 on the main floor for a basketball game and 500 on the balcony. Considerable more would be accommodated for special events such as commencements. Flanking the gym are special music rooms, boiler rooms, etc.

The gymnasium is designed so that four gym classes can be accommodated at one time. A swimming pool to the west would accommodate a fifth class. Plot plans call for two primary parking areas on each side of the gymnasium accommodating 200 cars apiece. Another area would be semi-developed to accommodate spectator crowds, providing sufficient offstreet parking so that no street parking should ever be necessary.

Plans call eventually for developing a football field, a practice field, baseball diamonds, track, softball diamonds and tennis courts.

Cost Ottawa Supt. Lloyd Van Raalte said the June 30 election will be held in Holland township fire station No. 1 on North River Ave. from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. State law which limits polling places to a single polls in such election requires only eight hours, but school leaders felt polls should be open 12 hours.

All residents of the district, 21 years old, U.S. citizens, resident of Michigan six months and permanent resident of the school district for 30 days, and property owners, may vote in the election. These voters must own property, either real or personal, on which taxes are assessed, or be the husband or wife of such a property owner. No special registration is needed for the June 30 election. The voter will face two ballots, one for a new school including furnishings and fees for a total of $2,700,000 and the other for a swimming pool costing $240,000. No millage is mentioned on the ballot, but estimated costs for 1959 would be equivalent to 7 mills or less on the main building and 7 mill or less on the swimming pool.

Van Raalte emphasized that the swimming pool would be available to all children in the district in an organized program during school hours and would be available to the community after school hours. It would operate six days a week for 11 months or more each year. He emphasized that the pool would be available for therapeutic training, eliminating the necessity of having polio victims going to Grand Haven for swimming therapy.

Architect Binda has drawn the plans based on recommendations of school committees which have been studying district needs for the last six months. There were 35 on the steering committee, plus many others on sub-committees to bring the total to well over 100.

Harold Hakken served as chairman of the curriculum study committee and building committee. Mrs. Carl Schaffenaar served as corresponding secretary. Warner De Leeuw was chairman of the committee studying community facilities and Howard Davis directed publicity.

If the bond issue passes in the June 30 election, some classroom areas in the new school should be available for use in the fall of 1960, Van Raalte said.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, June 14
Elisha and Naaman
II Kings 5:1-15
By C. P. Dams

(Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. and used by permission.)

God told Elisha to summon Elisha to leave the farm and become a prophet. Elisha heard and obeyed and served the God of Elisha but in a way far different from the way Elisha served Him. God's servants are unlike and they serve best when they serve in their own way. This lesson teaches a number of timely truths — the greatness of them all is that God has a cure for sin.

I. The great too have their handicaps. Naaman was a Syrian general who was a very popular hero. One day he discovered that he had contracted leprosy. Naaman was "a mighty man in valour, but he was a leper." There were two sides to this man. The public knew one side of this man, he knew the other side of him, and his family likewise, including the Jewish slave girl. There are two sides to all of us. The outside world knows but one side but our close friends, the members of our families, our associates learn to know the other side — they become familiar with our weaknesses, failures, handicaps, defects, and burdens. Perhaps we have envied some people who have so much but if we would have known all about them we would have pitied them. Sometimes there is something tragic behind the glamour.

II. Little people may do fine, nice deeds. In the household of Naaman there was a Jewish slave girl who had been stolen from her home. When she heard about her master's plight she told her mistress about Elisha the prophet and his ability to heal. This girl might have kept quiet about Elisha in view of the fact that she had been kidnapped from her home by Syrians, but she refused to let hate poison her life. As the result of the words of the slave girl Naaman went to Samaria with bags of gold and a letter from his king to the king of Israel. After the king had read the letter of the Syrian king he suspected that he was seeking an occasion for war.

Elisha the prophet heard about Naaman and told the king to send him to him. Because of the goodness and compassion of a slave girl the Syrian general got in contact with Elisha. The little, the humble, the overlooked, these are also able to serve, help and gladden others.

III. Pride is dangerous. It sometimes robs us of the best. Undoubtedly the neighborhood in which Elisha lived got all excited when Naaman stopped in front of the prophet's house with all his chariots and horses and servants. Naaman sent a servant to the house telling him he was there. The prophet sent his servant to the general with the message: "Go and wash in Jordan seven times, and thy flesh shall be clean." When Naaman got the message he "was wroth and went away." He was angry for two reasons. He thought the prophet would come to see him in person which he did not do and the message angered him too — why should he bathe in muddy Jordan when there were finer streams in his own land? Naaman felt insulted.

His servants had more sense than he who thought that the prophet should do as he wished. Naaman wanted to be the doctor. The servants told Naaman that if the prophet had told him some great thing he would have done it but when he was told to do something simple he refused. Naaman laid aside his pride, used his head, went to the Jordan, dipped in it seven times and was healed.

Man is troubled by a terrible disease — sin. God has provided a cure for man's sin — faith in the crucified, risen Saviour. Some to day are healed because they believe and others are too proud to accept the simple remedy and they will die in their sins unless they change.

Two Local Youths Injured in Collision

Two Holland youths were hurt Monday at 5:25 p.m. in the collision of a motor scooter and a car at the corner of 17th St. and Maple Ave.

A passenger on the scooter, Alvin Sears, 16, of 1682 South Shore Dr., was treated at Holland Hospital for bruises and abrasions of the ankle, shoulder and elbow and released. The driver of the scooter, Kenneth W. King, 17, of 8 South River Ave., received abrasions of the left leg.

Holland police said King was headed east on 17th St. when a car driven by Lester E. Hoth, 42, of 642 Michigan Ave., pulled away from the stop sign on Maple Ave. and ran into the scooter.

Police ticketed Hoth for failure to yield the right of way and ticketed King for driving without an operator's license. Damage was estimated by officers at $75 to the 1959 model scooter and at $10 to Hoth's 1953 model car.

Falconry, like archery, goes far back into antiquity. Chinese appear to have practiced the sport some two thousand years ago. Ancient sculptures and written accounts suggest that hawking was popular in Egypt, Persia, Greece and Rome. In medieval Europe it was a favorite pastime of the nobility.

Van Raalte Outlines Costs Of New School

Costs of new high school facilities for the West Ottawa Public School District were estimated on a tax basis Saturday by Supt. Lloyd Van Raalte.

Since the new district is composed of 13 former districts lying in four townships in Ottawa County, comparisons with previous tax bills and compilation of current tax costs become complicated. When the 13 districts voted to merge last fall, they also voted to retire bonded indebtedness at 4 mills.

Plans call for a new facility to house junior high and high school classes to be built on a site of approximately 127 acres at 136th Ave. and Riley. Construction costs are listed at $2,150,000 and together with furnishing, architects fees, bonding costs and site development will reach a total of $2,700,000.

A $240,000 swimming pool would be a separate issue in the public vote of the district slated for June 30. Issues would call for 7 mills per $1,000 on assessed valuation as equalized for the school and 7 mill for the swimming pool. Bonds would run for a period not longer than 30 years.

Van Raalte emphasized that all school taxes are based on state equalized valuation, and these figures vary in the four townships involved. Although it might appear that some townships pay more than others, this is not necessarily so, since townships with higher rates in general have lower assessments, thus equalizing the cost to all.

Assessed valuation in the entire district is listed at $20,618,845 and the equalized valuation at $49,532,912.

Average tax costs for a new high school in the district would be $16.82 for $1,000 assessed valuation, plus $1.68 for the swimming pool or a total of $18.50 per $1,000 assessed for the new facilities. On a $2,000 assessment, the total would be $37 and on a $3,000 assessment, $55.31. Individual townships will vary slightly due to differences in state equalized valuations.

The state equalization factor is 2.78 for Holland Township compared with 3.09 last year), 2.57 for Olive Township, 1.90 for Park Township and 2.47 for Port Sheldon. These figures do not include county or township taxes, school operations or existing bonded debt.

For the average home owner in Holland township with a $2,000 assessed valuation, the swimming pool would cost $3.89 a year, according to Van Raalte. He also pointed out that with rising equalized valuations, the millage will be reduced. It is quite possible that a full 7 mills or 7.7 mills in case of a swimming pool will not have to be levied.

Supt. Van Raalte said a speakers bureau has been set up and speakers will be available for any group of 10 or more. Neighborhood gatherings are encouraged and already 25 such meetings have been scheduled. Committee members will explain curriculum, facilities and will figure individual tax costs. Arrangements for scheduling such meetings may be made by calling the West Ottawa school office.

Police Chief Richard Klempel, although pleased that one of his men has received such an offer, expressed regret at losing Caputo from the force.

Miles, Cook Are Reelected

Wendell A. Miles and Alvin J. Cook were reelected to the Board of Education in the annual school election Monday which attracted a total of 119 votes, one of the lightest elections in recent years.

Miles polled 113 votes and Cook 117 votes. Both have served seven years on the board. There was no opposition.

The Board of Education canvassed the vote at a monthly meeting Monday night.

Mill Increase, Bonds Okayed

ALLEGAN (Special) — Allegan voters Monday approved a tax millage increase and a $485,000 bond issue to make possible the construction of a 14-room elementary school.

The millage increase, which will not exceed four mills, was approved by 691 voters and opposed by 270. The bond issue was passed by a vote of 662-244.

The new school will be located north of Delano and east of Elm St. in the Russell Addition. The $485,000 school program also involves completion of the new North Ward school with a four-room wing and construction of fire walls and fire doors to minimize hazards in the junior high school.

Because the bonds were approved, school debt service taxes will not increase. The school board has ordered that the Dawson and old North Ward schools be razed as soon as the new facilities are ready for use.

In Monday's school election, voters also re-elected John Katherier and elected Richard Nahkian to the school board. Nahkian fills the vacancy left by Toivo Mallia who is retiring from the board.

Of the 1,718 daily newspapers in the United States, no two are alike. Each is edited with its own community in mind, printing the local news and features each local citizen wants to read about.

Morse Wins First League Game, 4-3 in 11 Innings

Westenbroek, Boeve Shine In Victory

Wayne (Lefty) Westenbroek's three-inning relief performance and Ron Boeve's game-tying homer in the ninth inning made the difference Saturday night as H. E. Morse opened its first season in the Southwestern Michigan Baseball Conference with a 4-3 victory in 11 innings over the O'Dell Bears of Grand Rapids before 200 fans at Riverview Park.

Westenbroek relieved starter Larry Dykstra in the top of the ninth with Holland trailing, 3-2, and retired the side in order. He allowed one hit — an 11th inning single to Ken Smith — in three shutout innings to gain credit for the victory. He struck out three.

Boeve, who went hitless in three previous trips to the plate, led off Holland's last half of the ninth and belted a 340' round-tripper off reliever Coxon into the left field stands to tie the game at 3-3.

Holland threatened to end the game in the same inning when two infield errors put runners on first and second, but Coxon then retired the next three batters to send the game into extra innings.

Boeve, leading off in the 11th, singled sharply through the right side of the infield and advanced to second on Jack Kempker's sacrifice bunt. Jeff Altena singled, moving Boeve to third, and Jim Kool walked, loading the bases.

Ned Freriks, the second right field replacement used by Manager Russ Wolrding, worked the count to three-and-two before Coxon walked him for the second time to force in the winning run. The Bears, after going down in order in the first inning, took a 1-0 lead in the second when Jim Losey, who was safe on a throwing error, scored from second on Bob Maybore's single to right field.

The Bears added two more in the seventh to take a 3-0 lead. Ron Ensley walked and moved to third on Pete Foltice's double. Losey then caught hold of a Dykstra curve ball and knocked it into deep left field, scoring Ensley and Foltice. Losey broke for third when Altena fumbled the ball, but was thrown out after a quick recovery.

Holland closed the gap to just one run in the eighth inning. Altena led off with a walk and Kool doubled, sending Altena to third. Freriks walked to load the bases and Altena was thrown out at home on Dykstra's infield hopper.

Coxon hit Denny Bluekamp with an inside fastball, forcing Kool home from third. Bob Thompson then lifted a sacrifice fly to deep center, scoring Freriks.

Dykstra struck out eight and walked seven in eight innings. He allowed seven hits, including two doubles. Coxon was charged with the loss.

Boeve led Holland's attack with a home run and a single in five times at bat. Kool doubled, and Thompson and Kool each hit a single. Foltice lead the Bears with two doubles and a single.

Line score:

O'Dell ..... 010 000 200 00-3 8 3

Miss Ruth Arendsen attended her sister as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Carol Arendsen, sister of the bride, and Miss Marcia Miedema, sister of the groom. USED FLAGS AT INDIANAPOLIS — Bill Vandewater, formerly of Holland and starter of the Indianapolis 500-mile race, displays the flags used in this year's Memorial Day classic. The well-tanned, veteran starter has been flagwaving at the Speedway for the past six years. He officiates at big car and midget races throughout the nation and is the U.S. Auto Club's No. 1 starter. (Sentinel photo)

Bill Vandewater Has Started 500 Race for Past Six Years

Bill Vandewater has been waving the flags as official starter of the Indianapolis 500-mile race for the past six years but while visiting in Holland over the weekend he did some verbal flag waving for the race drivers and called it "the best start in history."

"We used the old style of start this year (11 rows of three cars each) and the drivers had been warned if there was trouble on the start, they would be tailed in on their own time which would have counted on the elapsed time of the race," Vandewater said.

"But the start was perfect," Vandewater said, "and Johnny Thomson, who was on the pole, Eddie Sachs and Dick Rathmann, who were in the front row, all did a terrific job on the start," Vandewater said.

The veteran starter relaxed in Holland on Saturday visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Vandewater, 49 West 29th St., during a brief break in a racing schedule that takes him to tracks all over the nation. Saturday night, Vandewater started a racing program in Comstock Park and will start races in Galesburg, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia this week. Vandewater, formerly of Holland, now lives in Chicago.

Vandewater starts all of the championship races east of the Rocky Mountains. He was appointed official starter by the U. S. Auto Club. He officiates sanctioned races by the Auto Club in both the big car and midget divisions. During the winter, Vandewater officiated at races at Daytona Beach, Fla.

But the big race each year is the 500 and the 55-year-old Vandewater has seen every one since 1929. Prior to being named official starter in 1954, he was assistant starter for eight years. He has also had many other various jobs around the Speedway before taking up the flag waving duties.

At Indianapolis, Vandewater says, his work really begins when the green flag has been waved, signalling a "clear course" and the race is on. The black flag, which would have been posted if the drivers would not have cooperated on the start, means "come in for consultation."

The yellow flag, which was out five times at Indianapolis this year, is the "caution flag" and the blue flag with the yellow cross is one that Vandewater uses throughout during the race, especially right after the start. This flag tells the slower cars to move over so that a faster car can come through.

The red flag means "stop the race" and might be used if a heavy rain shower came up. But this flag stayed in the rack at Indianapolis this year.

The white flag means "one lap to go" and this flag has brought many expressions Vandewater won't forget. He remembered Roger Ward's look of "hope the car will make it" on Memorial Day and Sam Hanks' big smile two years ago.

The other flag, and the best known, is the checkered flag, indicating victory. Vandewater uses about three sets of flags each year. The flags he has now were all used at Indianapolis with the exception of the checkered flag which is given to the winner.

During the 500, Vandewater takes his orders from only chief steward Harlan Flegler. Vandewater has an assistant starter and 16 observers placed around the 2½-mile track. They are constantly in touch with Vandewater by phone on what's occurring around the oval. Vandewater remains at the starting line throughout the race.

The observers are especially watching for a white stripe on the tires, which appears when the tire has worn down. They flash the car number to Vandewater and he flags that driver into the pits with a black flag for a tire change.

Vandewater has to get out on the track so that the drivers can see the flags and get close enough "to feel the heat of the cars." And he has a scar on his leg where he got "too close."

He has been impressed with the constant improvement of safety methods at the Speedway. He pointed to the drivers' fire proof uniforms, the safety belts, shoulder harness and the roll bar, an innovation this year "which save the life of Mike Magill," Vandewater said.

Vandewater was high in his praises for the Speedway drivers and of this year's winner, Roger Ward, who gives safety lectures to high schools during the year, similar to the talk given by Speedway driver Jimmy Daywalt in Holland last year.

Hope Librarian Plans to Retire

Miss Mildred Singleton, head librarian at Hope College for the past 10 years, will retire at the end of this month.

Last Friday she was honored at the luncheon of the faculty and the Board of Trustees and was presented with a transistor radio by members of the faculty.

For a decade Miss Singleton has seen the library grow from an unorganized, closed stack, understaffed operation to an organized system of cataloging, open stacks, and properly staffed operation with a book circulation this year of 33,760 volumes.

In 1949 the college Board of Trustees had discussed, but voted down, the building of a new library. Instead, Miss Singleton was hired to do the reorganizing and unification needed to bring the library up to adequate college standards.

Now 10 years later, the board has decided that the college needs a new library — not because the present one is unorganized as was the case 10 years ago, but because the growth of the student body makes the present structure inadequate.

Miss Singleton will leave Holland at the end of the summer for Tucson, Ariz., where she intends to spend the winter months.

Talk on Flying Saucers Heard By Rotarians

"Facts about Flying Saucers" kept the Rotarians more than interested at their noon meeting Thursday at the Warm Friend Hotel.

The speaker was Peter Price, patent attorney and engineer of Grand Rapids, who has made a thorough study of the subject and was one who spoke with authority on the subject of the "Unknown Flying Objects" as the Air Force labels them.

Positive written records of such things go back to the 1200's, he said. There has been a fairly continuous series of appearances since 1789. A whole series of sightings were made 1870-90. There was a lull in 1920-30. Then with the start of World War II the objects appeared again. Fliers of both sides saw them; each side thought the other had some new device.

The Air Force's first official record of them since came from a western bush pilot in Idaho after the war. A sighting from a commercial air liner by five persons in 1951 forced the Pentagon to take official notice of the "Unknown Flying Objects." Now most countries have official study teams like ours keeping track and checking on reports and evidence.

Although the objects are seen both night and day, near and far, four things about them are remarkably uniform: The shape is either a disc, tube or sphere. They are silent, or at most emit a low humming. They ignore the laws of gravity, inertia and momentum as we know them. They disturb all magnetic instruments, sometimes damaging or ruining them.

The Air Force has never said they do not exist, merely that they are not explained. They can be spotted on radar where they make a distinctive pip or mark unlike anything else, he said.

The visitations often come in increased numbers immediately after a notable scientific event such as the first A bomb, the H bomb, Sputnik or the first moon shoot.

A clothing drive for families of Hungarian ministers and teachers which the Reformed Church World Service had planned to conduct during the entire summer must now be completed within the next two weeks, according to Dr. M. E. Osterhaven of Western Theological Seminary, campaign chairman.

Dr. Osterhaven said today that the Hungarian government has recently imposed a prohibitive duty on all parcels mailed after June 15, so the packages of clothing must be sent before that date to avoid the new tax. He said persons who wish to contribute clothing should call Zwemer Hall, EX 6-6332, sometime this week to arrange to have it picked up.

Group Rejects Van Raalte Petition

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — The Ottawa County Board of Education Friday night rejected a petition from the Van Raalte district Board of Education to disannex certain areas of the district which did not annex to Holland city. The petition has asked that these areas be transferred to the New Groningen district.

Vernon D. Ten Cate, Holland attorney, represented the Van Raalte board. Dick Van Dorp spoke for the New Groningen board. It was evident that persons living in the areas not annexed to the city did not favor sending their children to the New Groningen school although some indicated if they must be disannexed they would rather send their children to the East Holland school.

The area in question has about 20 elementary pupils and six in high school.

Beg Motorists To Be Careful

Holland area motorists Friday received a shocking reminder that children are out of school for the summer.

Three children were injured in traffic accidents. One, six-year-old Diann Boetsma, of route 2, Zeeland, is dead. Two others, Harvey Streur, 6, and Holly Joy Streur, 4, of 340 West 13th St., are in Holland Hospital.

Holland Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff and Ottawa County deputies today pleaded with motorists to drive with utmost caution in residential areas, particularly around parked cars.

No amount of lecturing, Chief Van Hoff said, seems to be able to keep children from running blindly out into the street. He emphasized that it is up to the drivers to watch for the children. No driver who has run over a child he said, will ever be able to forget.

Throughout the summer months, children will be running free throughout the city. Law officers are begging motorists to watch, and drive, carefully.

Soil Survey Set for June 8

Karl Pregitzer, Area Soil Scientist with the Soil Conservation Service said that work will start on June 8 to complete the detailed soil survey of Blenden and Alendale Townships. He will be assisted with this work by Soil Scientist, Robert Johnson.

The job of completing the soil survey of Ottawa County was started in 1938 when the West Soil Conservation District was first formed. At that time the survey was completed in the seven western townships in the County. Since that time detailed soil surveys have only been made on farms which had requested the assistance of the Soil Conservation District in developing a soil conservation program.

To date 209,000 acres of farm land have been covered by the soil survey in Ottawa County. "We plan to complete the survey in two townships this year so that your local Soil Conservation Service Technicians will have this information available when working out a conservation program with farmers," Mr. Pregitzer said.

Ronald Church of the local Soil Conservation office points out that any landowner may obtain this service by working with local Soil Conservation District. He said that the soil is the foundation of agriculture, and that an accurate soil survey is the basis for developing a sound and basic soil and water conservation on any farm.

The outskirts of American cities have been growing six times as fast as the cities themselves in recent years.

After about an hour's chase around the plant and three or four bee stings, Harbin lured

the swarm, estimated at 15,000 bees, into a hive. At left, Harbin (foreground) and BPW employee George Mooney slide a ladder up toward the swarm, seen as a light patch on the coal. At right, Harbin, wearing only a helmet for protection, uses a tobacco tin to "scoop" the bees, settled several inches deep, toward his hive. (Sentinel photo)

Holland to Levy 10.57 Mills For Operating City Schools

The Holland school district will levy 10.57 mills for operating and 2.73 mills for debt retirement on a state equalized figure of $60,231, 786. Supt. W. W. Scott told the Board of Education Monday night. He also outlined millage for the Apple Ave. district which has $9,000 outstanding on its 1953 bonding program for $46,000 and $112,000 outstanding on its 1957 bonding program involving $120,000. Operating millage figures were determined by the Ottawa County Allocations Board.

A delegation of Montello Park school inquired what the Holland board would do in the way of transportation for Montello pupils if the Montello district annexed to the Holland school district. The delegation was assured that transportation services would be much the same as at present even though the Holland school district could expect no remuneration from the state, once the Montello district is a part of the Holland district.

Before joining the Holland district, the Montello district which is fractional in Holland and Park townships would have to meet the 10.57 millage which Holland residents will be paying in school taxes. It was understood. This probably would involve a special election for a few mills on operating expenses since that part of the school district lying in Park township only recently became a part of Holland through annexation of the Lakeview district, effective June 5.

The board approved purchase of service pins for custodians who have been in the service of the public schools 20 or more years.

The board approved a recommendation of the committee on schools for three new textbooks for the coming year. On request of several students, a new ancient
