Ordinances Of City to Be Recodified

Recodification of city ordinances was authorized by City Council at its regular meeting Wednesday night. Council approved a proposed contract with Gulf Publishing Co. of Tallahassee, Fla., for the work at a cost of $3,150. Recodification of ordinances must be done periodically, according to city charter.

Council also approved a contract with Dey & Associates of Kalamazoo for an appraisal of all city-owned property except the light plant at a fee of $4,570.30 of which $1,782.30 is chargeable to the Board of Public Works, $1,462.40 to the Hospital Board, $319.50 to the Library Board and $1,005.40 to the general city.

A communication from the Board of Public Works requesting Council to authorize placing monies received as a result of settlement on anti-trust litigation against electrical suppliers into the improvement fund of the electric department was referred to the city attorney. Net amount was given as approximately $280,000. The letter outlined reasons for the request, based on an opinion from bond attorneys which ruled that these funds are considered to be excess bond proceeds.

A communication from Holland township calling attention to section 29 of article VII of the 1963 Michigan Constitution which requires the consent of the township board to use public streets for laying a sanitary sewer line, was referred to the Board of Public Works. The communication also pointed out that if the city anticipates transacting business within the township, a franchise will be necessary.

Oaths of office were filed for Donald J. Thomas, Library Board; Henry S. Maentz, Board of Public Works; and Clarence Becker, Hospital Board. The three were appointed by Mayor Nelson Bosman at the June 1 meeting.

Council approved low bid of DeNooyer Chevrolet for five cars for general city departments at a cost of $8,770 including three trade-ins. It was the lowest of three bids.

The city attorney was instructed to prepare an ordinance providing for a new position of deputy clerk in Municipal Court. The recommendation came from Judge John Galien.

Council acknowledged with thanks a gift from West Shore Construction Co. for road improvements for the drive to Windmill Island consisting of prime and double seal at a cost of $3,000.

A public hearing was set July 6 at 7:30 p.m. on two street paving projects on a special assessment basis. Listed are Central Ave. from Third to Fourth Sts., and Sixth St. from Columbia Ave. east to former interurban right of way.

Council approved an annual contract with the State Highway Department for maintenance of state trunklines within the city limits. The agreement follows the same form as in previous years.

Approval was given a change order for building the Little Netherlands building at Windmill Island, calling for extension of the gabled portion of the roof line and installation of eave troughs along north and south sides of the building at an added cost of $135.

A report of the city manager on street improvements this summer as proposed by the city engineer was tabled until next regular meeting.

A recommendation to purchase a used front-end loader for use in connection with sanitary sewer construction and snow removal was tabled until the next meeting.

Mayor Bosman presided at the meeting which lasted just over 2½ hours. All Councilmen were present. The invocation was given by the Rev. Stuart Blauw of Fourth Reformed Church.

Dental Group Sets Summer Program

The Ottawa County Dental Advisory Committee, which sponsors the sodium fluoride program, honored dental hygienists and their assistants at a breakfast at the Warm Friend Hotel on Tuesday morning. Robert W. Gordon, chairman of the committee, presented the girls with the traditional wooden shoes as a memento of their summer in the program.

Mr. Gordon welcomed them and expressed the wish that the girls from outside the Holland area would enjoy their summer in this resort county. He told them the sodium fluoride program was started in the late forties and that many children have benefited from it. He said that this year 4,400 students are registered throughout the county.

Dr. J. A. Lubbers, who represented the Ottawa County dentists, said this program is one of the most successful in the state. He reminded the girls their function is applying the sodium fluoride and encouraging good health habits. Any problems should be referred to the dentist assigned to their community.

Dr. Ralph Ten Have, head of the Ottawa County Health Department, said dental health is one of our major problems and that while the wonderful results of the program are already apparent, good dental care is necessary.

Miss Kathryn Groenevelt, representing the nurses of the Public Health Department urged the hygienists to call on the health nurse in their community if any problems arose and again reminded them to motivate better health habits wherever possible.

Mrs. Arthur Hoedema, coordinator for the program, said she would brief the hygienists and assistants on their duties and go with them to their work centers. She said all equipment has been delivered to the various schools and the dental chairs set up and that a representative from the dental supply company will teach them how to keep the equipment in running order.

Mrs. Gertrude Bomers, treasurer, was also present at the breakfast. Committee members not present were Miss Jennie Kaufman and Steven Mead of Grand Haven.

Mr. Gordon assigned the hygienists and their assistants to the following centers: Washington School, Miss Madeline Namen and Miss Mary Bomers; West Ottawa and Montello Park, Miss Mary Buins and Miss Jean Groenevelt; Maplewood, Borculo, Konkili and Jenison, Miss Judith Blue and Miss Nancy Groenevelt; Grand Haven and Allendale, Miss Judith Salott and Miss Ruth Heideil; Hudsonville and Jenison, Miss Nancy Dunneback and Miss Alnora Aukema; Jamestown and Zeeland, Miss Jane Lenori and Miss Joyce Mellem; Spring Lake and Coopersville, Miss Beth Foley and Miss Mary Boettcher.

The campaign will be operated by the Stewardship Council of the church of which the Rev. Howard Teusink is director.

Dr. Bernard Brunsting, pastor of First Reformed Church of Holland, is a member of the large committee. Dr. Marion de Velder, state clerk of General Synod, will be an ex-officio member.

It is expected that some 20,000 members of the Reformed Church will be involved in a solicitation of the entire membership of the church.

General Synod closed its seven-day session shortly before noon Wednesday, voting to meet next year in joint session with the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, in Bristol, Tenn., June 7 to 13, 1967.

Russell E. Prins of Holland was one of 3,651 graduates receiving degrees from Stanford University, Stanford, Calif., in the 75th annual commencement ceremonies Sunday. He received a bachelor of laws (LL.B.) degrees.

Apartment Rezoning Is Tabled

City Council devoted fully two hours Wednesday night to a hearing and discussion of rezoning a 16-acre plot in the vicinity of Ottawa Ave. and 32nd St. to B-1 apartment, and then at almost the last minute tabled it, finally referring it back to the Planning Commission.

About 65 persons were in the audience, most of them remaining throughout the meeting which adjourned shortly after 10 p.m.

The proposed rezoning was in connection with plans to construct a 66-apartment building in the area roughly described as west of Ottawa Ave. between 33rd and 36th Sts.

Two written communications opposing the rezoning came from Providence Christian Reformed Church which owns a 19-acre site east of Ottawa Ave. directly across from the proposed site. The communications came from the law firm of Roper, Meyers and Hann, attorneys for the church, and from the consistory.

Verbal opposition came from the Christian School board which is building a new high school at 40th St. and Ottawa Ave. and from others.

A full hour was devoted to the public hearing. Besides the opposing written communications, there were expressions from Attorney Donald Hann representing Providence Church, formerly Sixteenth Street Christian Reformed Church; Russell Homkes, who lives in the area; Paul Baker, representing Christian schools; William De Motts, representing Providence consistory; and Marinus Van Wyke.

Allen Ginsberg, representing Alco Construction Co. of Lansing, the development company for the project, displayed a color layout of the proposed development, picturing an attractive structure, colonial in design, with its own community center and swimming pool. He described the apartments as semi-luxury type and cited the need for multiple housing in Holland. He said the development would have a tax base of $800,000 and said the firm would offer to post a performance bond as to proper screening, etc.

Dave Vande Vusse showed slides of similar developments in Grand Rapids and also emphasized the need for multiple housing. He said Holland issued building permits last year for only 83 new dwellings while 21 were torn down. He said Holland works hard to attract industry but does not have ample good housing for people who move in for the new industries.

William De Motts said of the 19-acre church site, the church is reserving six or seven acres for the church and parking, and the rest would be available for other development.

During the committee-of-the-whole meeting in which Council discussed the rezoning, Willard C. Wichers of the Planning Commission was asked to trace developments regarding the issue in the commission. He said a study revealed a definite need for housing in Holland and the commission had worked closely with the Alco firm and had inspected Alco developments in Grand Rapids.

Wichers said the proposed site on Ottawa Ave. met criteria of such development and the commission was mindful of school and church plans but that there was little or no opposition early in the case. He was not present at the last meeting of the commission, he said.

Councilman Eugene Vande Vusse, who asked to be excused from voting because of business interests in the development, commented that regardless of areas Bagby and Associates may recommend for apartment development, there always will be some opposition in the neighborhood.

As the vote approached, Councilman Richard W. Smith said he would be voting "no" on the rezoning. City Attorney Gordon Cunningham explained that in case of written objections, a three-fourths majority is necessary for passage which in Holland's case would require seven votes in a nine-member body. Mayor Pro Tem Bertal Slagh had presided at the committee-of-the-whole meeting.

Back in regular session under Mayor Nelson Bosman, Councilman Henry Steffens moved to table the rezoning matter and Council concurred. Slagh then moved to refer it to the Planning Commission which involved some parliamentary procedure in "taking it from the table" but carried after about five minutes of discussion.

Another rezoning ordinance calling for rezoning property on the northeast corner of Waverly Rd. and Eighth St. to C-1 neighborhood commercial passed without incident.

Mrs. Northrup who has had 18 years of experience will teach special ed in Junior High.

William Noyd is being advanced from junior high counselor to assistant principal at E. E. Fell Junior High.

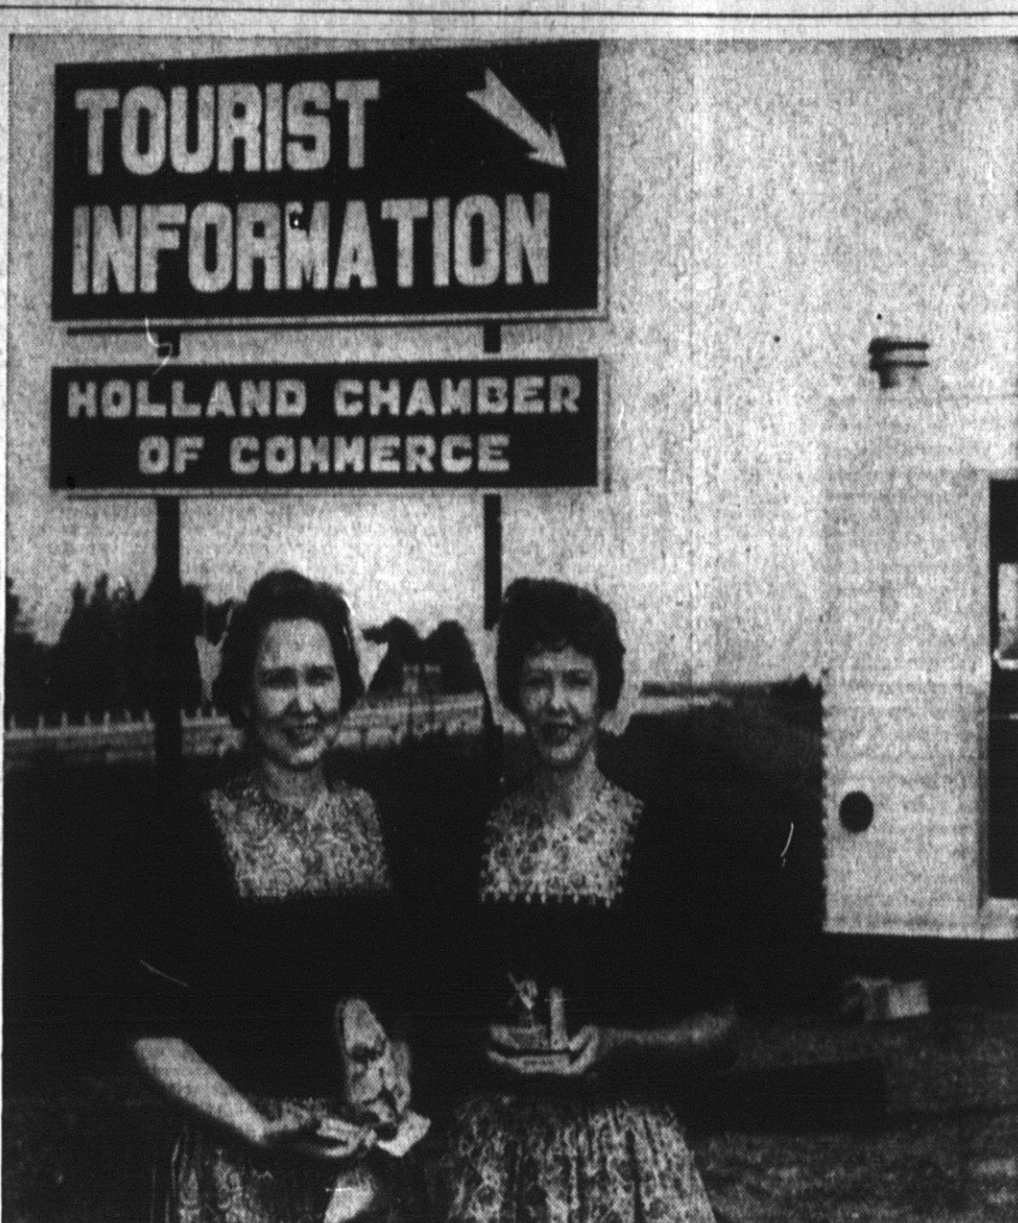

The board also took action on changing entrance age for kindergarten setting the new limit at five years by Sept. 1 instead of by Nov. 15. The new rule will be in effect in September, 1967.

The program provides that certain children may be tested if the parents, teacher, principal and school psychologist deem it wise to do so. This pertains to children who are precocious as well as children who are immature in order to determine readiness for kindergarten entrance even though age requirements are not necessarily met.

First grade entrance date will be set for Sept. 1 as of September, 1968. A child must be six years on or before Sept. 1 in order to be enrolled in the first grade of Holland public schools. There are provisions for testing certain first graders on much the same system as kindergarten.

The recommendations were presented by Margaret Van Vyven, school coordinator; Margaret Schurman, kindergarten teacher, and Dr. Eugene Scholten, school psychologist. It was pointed out that parents are far more understanding and cooperative in delaying entrance of school than was the case 10 years ago.

It was stated that 30 to 40 children who turned 5 between

Gallery Set For Opening At Macatawa

The Tadow Gallery of Fine Art is opening a new gallery at Macatawa Park on Saturday. Open to the public at no charge, the gallery is at 2200 South Shore Dr.

Daniel L. and Myra J. De Graaf, former Holland residents, also have the Tadow Gallery at Whitehall, now in the fifth year and are also opening an affiliate this year in Harbor Springs.

The De Graafs felt they were tying up too much art by Michigan artists in one place and for that reason have expanded to Holland and Harbor Springs. The new gallery at Macatawa is in a natural setting near Jesieks, an area popular with summer visitors. It is divided into two sections, the rear gallery features a weekly changing exhibit and the front gallery, a more permanent exhibit of artists who have been featured in the weekly shows.

It is open daily, except Sunday, from 10 a.m. to noon, 1 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday nights are reserved as "patron nights" when the current artist has the opportunity to mingle with patrons, those who have made donations to make the gallery possible, and other guests.

Exhibits during the summer will feature the works of Reynold Weidenaar, opening on June 23; Mary Lee Read, July 7; Frank Cassara, July 21; a group of area artists on Aug. 4 and William and Martha Hartman, Aug. 18.

The first patron night will be held on June 23 when Weidenaar will be present to greet those present.

Delbert Michel, of the Hope College art faculty, will have a showing at the Whitehall Gallery on July 20. Norman Brumm, former Holland resident will exhibit there on July 6.

Insects Cause Conifer Damage

Christmas trees in the Holland area are being injured by insects this year, the sawfly and spittlebug, according to Ottawa county extension director Richard Machiele and Ed Dowdy, agriculture instructor at West Ottawa High School.

Identification of the spittlebug can be made by the spittle masses in the damaged trees. Sawflies are about one inch long with a grey-green body and black head. Its main characteristic is when disturbed, it will throw back its head.

The sawfly feeds on mature, year old foliage and strips the needles of the fir trees, badly disfiguring such trees. The insects may occur in clusters.

DDT sprays are recommended for control of both the sawfly and spittlebug. Hand spraying may be practical in small plantings or aerial applications may be best for large plantings.

Synod Votes To Proceed With Study

Work on church union with the Presbyterian Church in the United States will continue, General Synod of the Reformed Church in America decided Tuesday afternoon after a two-hour debate in Dimment Memorial Chapel.

Synod was concluding its seven-day annual session today with reports and various items of unfinished business.

While proceeding toward church union, synod voted to send a fraternal letter to the Presbyterian General Assembly requesting it "to clarify our mutual relationships" in the light of recent Presbyterian action which strongly supported continuous discussion on the merger of the two denominations, and yet voted full participation in the Consultation on Church Union.

Consultation on Church Union grew out of a proposal for a United Protestant Church in America first presented by Dr. Eugene Carson Blake of the United Protestant Church in the Episcopal Cathedral in San Francisco in 1960 and was first known as the Blake-Pike Plan. Some eight denominations are presently participating in these discussions.

Dr. Henry Beltman of the classis of California, a former president of General Synod, called for a bolder statement and participation of the denomination in Consultation on Church Union. A contrary viewpoint was expressed by Dr. Henry Van Dyke of the classis of South Grand Rapids, formerly of Fourth Church, Holland, who declared that "modernism" had made inroads into many American churches, and that "if the Presbyterian Church U. S. is interested in these other denominations, I'd like to know about it."

Speakers from the floor stated they had heard from some Presbyterian commissioners who had attended their own General Assembly who said they themselves had been confused by the action of the Assembly.

An amendment to send the fraternal letter "with the understanding that no further steps in the drafting of the Plan of Union be taken until the answer to synod's letter is received in 1967, was defeated by a vote of approximately 2 to 1.

A later motion that the Reformed Church should itself join Consultation on Church Union was ruled out of order by Dr. Donner Atwood, synod president, on the basis that this would contradict actions of synods of 1962 and 1964 which had voted "to hold all other union efforts in abeyance" until a decision on union with the Presbyterian Church. The president's decision was appealed, but synod supported him overwhelmingly.

Synod then passed a motion to instruct the Interchurch Relations Commission "to study the possibility of Reformed Church participation in Consultation on Church Union with instructions to report its findings to the 1967 Synod.

Synod directed the church's lower judicatories to cooperate as far as possible in taking advantage of every possible means of acquaintance. It called upon Reformed Church members to regard the drafting of Reformed-Presbyterian merger with "an openness of mind and heart and spirit, that we all affirm readiness to be led into whatever forms of church life that are revealed as God's will for us."

Reformed classes will be asked to distribute printed materials and drafts of merger plans and to arrange for exchange of ministers whenever possible.

Synod action on merger study stemmed from a report of the Church Union Committee of Twelve, of which Dr. Norman E. Thomas of Albany, N. Y., is chairman. This committee of 12 had worked with a similar committee of Presbyterians in a Committee of Twenty-Four.

The Presbyterian Church in the U. S. was formerly referred to as Presbyterian Church denominations, the Presbyterian Church USA and United Presbyterians have united to form the United Presbyterian Church USA.

Sligh Says Freedom Is Geared to Economics

Emphasis on the need for economic activity in life today was the basis of a talk by Charles R. Sligh Jr., chairman of the board of Sligh-Lowry Furniture Co., in addressing the graduating class of Holland High School Thursday night in Civic Center. His subject was "You—and Freedom's Future."

Too many young people today seem to think they can best serve humanity by being a doctor, lawyer, teacher, social worker, Peace Corps volunteer, minister or a government employee. These callings are honorable and extremely helpful, but none of these activities can thrive without the life blood created by economic activity. Without business and industry none of the careers could exist.

"I believe that freedom's future is inextricably bound to the preservation and success of free private enterprise in this country. Freedom is God's gift to man and is indivisible—freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom of choice, freedom of the press and freedom of enterprise. They are truly one big package and cannot be divided and diminished without the eventual destruction of all freedom."

"God gave us the natural resources of this great nation and all the wealth we have has been dug from the ground, coaxed from the earth, wrested from the sea—then processed and refined, polished and shaped and combined with other things from other places, all by the labor of men and the machines and tools men have made. There is no other source of wealth."

"We already have a Great Society—given to us by our fathers and their fathers. Through the American private enterprise system we can have a Greater Society to the benefit of you and your children. But as an editorial in a Scripps-Howard paper once put it, 'There ain't no such thing as a free lunch.'

"I have stressed the advantages and dignity of business careers only because polls have shown an alarming ignorance of their benefit. The financial support of all our families and their activities is dependent upon a healthy, profitable, ethical and free business system."

Sligh summed up his talk with an old Chinese proverb: "If there is right in the soul, there will be beauty in the person; if there is beauty in the person, there will be harmony in the home; if there is harmony in the home, there will be order in the nation; if there is order in the nation, there will be peace in the world."

Then he added, "If you can live by the truth in that proverb, then all will be well with you and freedom's future."

Holland High School Principal Fred S. Bertsch called off the names of 315 seniors who were handed diplomas by Supt. Donald L. Ithman. School Mayor Jeff Padnos led the pledge of allegiance and Greg White introduced the speaker. The Rev. Henry A. Mow of Sixth Reformed Church gave the invocation.

Class President John Ten Cate gave the "in appreciation" talk and announced a gift of $250 for the student loan fund and some equipment for the school auditorium.

The high school orchestra under the direction of Gerrit Van Ravenswaay played the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance" for the processional of blue and white robed graduates who marched according to height.

Teachers Reject Pay Proposal

Overwhelming Vote Of 164-6 Indicates Further Bargaining

By a vote of 164 to 6, Holland public school teachers Thursday rejected a salary proposal of the Board of Education, calling for a basic $300 increase in starting salary and $600 at the top.

The proposed schedule for teachers with A.B. degrees would start at $5,200 and run to $7,600 in 12 steps. The 1965-66 schedule lists a range of $4,900 to $7,000. The proposed schedule for teachers with M. A. degrees would start at $5,500 and run in 13 steps to $8,300, compared with present scale of $5,200 to $7,700.

With increments, the increases range from $400 to $900, according to the proposed schedule.

Negotiations have been in progress since February, but the vote Thursday was the first one called. Robert Mason of the state labor mediation board met with teachers and board representatives Wednesday.

Serving on the teachers' negotiating team are Gardner Wierenga, Ted Boeve and Della Bowman. They are members of a larger committee which includes Margaret De Pree, Barbara Lampen and Dorothy Bradish. Harvey Laman is president of the Holland Education Association, an affiliate of the Michigan Education Association.

This was the first year that collective bargaining has been offered teachers under the Hutchinson Act, passed by the 1965 Michigan Legislature, which provides collective bargaining by municipal employees on wages, hours and working conditions.

Association President Laman said the type of action such as Holland teachers took Thursday has taken place in many area schools which eventually came to mutual agreement. "The Holland Education Association is optimistic and hopeful that agreement can be reached with the Holland Board of Education," he said.

Laman indicated that the teachers would continue to work on an agreement this summer, and Supt. Donald L. Ithman said the board would continue meeting with the negotiating group.

The public school teaching staff has 35 teachers at the top of the schedule in the A.B. classification and 68 at the top of the M.A. schedule. The average teacher's salary for 1965-66 not rounding principals or administration was $6,584.

The proposed offer of the Board of Education which was rejected would have called for an increase in the salary budget of $106,250. This does not include the normal increments in the salary schedule.

The teachers' meeting Thursday afternoon in the high school auditorium was well attended, attracting 170 teachers. In all, there are 210 teachers eligible to cast votes.

Last week West Ottawa district teachers ratified an agreement with the Board of Education by a vote of 113 to 2. The A.B. schedule calls for a starting salary of $5,200 advancing in 12 steps to $7,900. The M. A. schedule begins at $5,500 and reaches $8,300 in 12 steps.

HOLLIS S. BAKER

Hollis S. Baker, who died Sunday in Grand Rapids at the age of 77, exerted probably the greatest influence on the country's home furnishing style trends of any man in the industry. From the time in 1925 that he became president of the interior woodwork company his father had founded in Allegan in 1890, his interest in fine traditional furniture of Europe, and his wide travels and research resulted in the introduction of many "firsts" in the industry.

When Baker Furniture, Inc., moved from Allegan to Holland in 1933, it already was specializing in authentic European designs. An important part of this specialization was the introduction of hand methods of French polishing. To do this work, Baker brought from New York a group of finishers who had been trained in this method in Europe or in small custom cabinet shops in the East.

Throughout the 30's and 40's, the company was a recognized leader in the field of authentic 18th century English reproductions. In 1948, it introduced the Far East collection, and a year later Danish modern.

Four years ago, a la carte concept — the one-of-a-kind look in fine traditional European reproductions — was premiered, to become today's strongest trend in the fine furniture field.

At the time of his death, Baker had completed a new book, "Furniture in the Ancient World," scheduled for publication in October. This masterful volume covers a span of 25 centuries from 3100 B.C. to 475 B.C., the beginning of the Classic period in Greece. It is the first major work on "ancient" as distinct from "period" furniture.

Hollis Baker devoted a lifetime to travel and study in researching "period" and modern design, but until the present work concentrated principally on what seemed most suitable for present-day use. This has resulted in the accumulation of some 1,400 antiques and models for design study now in the Baker Museum for Furniture Research in Holland and the associated collection in the Baker Museum and Craft Shop in Grand Rapids.

His son, Hollis M. Baker, now president of Baker Furniture, Inc., repeated family history when he joined the company on graduation from college.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, June 19
A Covenant Renewed
II Kings 22:8-13; 23:1-3
By C. P. Dame

Sometimes a book is lost and it really makes no difference whether it is ever found again or not.

This lesson tells us about a book that was lost and was found again. And finding it brought a blessing to a nation. A young king was responsible for the blessing that enriched the nation.

I. It is very good to seek the Lord early in life. Upon the death of his father Amon, his son, Josiah, at the age of eight years became king.

During the early years of his reign he was in charge of his mother Jedidah, which means "Beloved," who very likely was responsible for his piety. When the young king was sixteen he began to seek the Lord. He wholly committed himself to God "for he did not turn aside to the right hand or to the left."

At the age of twenty he began to "purge Judah and Jerusalem" of everything that was connected with idolatry. The king saw to it that the altars of the Baals were broken down right in his presence. After destroying idols the king turned attention to the re-establishment of religion and the repairing of the Temple.

While the Temple was being repaired the Bible was found — a portion of the book of Deuteronomy. The king was notified and was much troubled when he heard the book read to him. The young king's example to seek the Lord early in life deserves imitation.

II. A knowledge of the Bible should be followed by action. The king sought information from the prophetess Huldah. Evidently there was no prophet around. When men fail in their religious duties the women often take over. Huldah said that the book of law found in the Temple was genuine and that the nation because of its disobedience could expect the judgments of God to come.

The king gave the information to the elders and then summoned "all the men of Judah and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem" to meet on the Temple grounds and he read aloud the "words of the book of the covenant." The king was the spiritual leader.

III. Making a covenant is a blessing. The king "made a covenant before the Lord, to walk after the Lord, and to keep His commandments and His testimonies and His statutes with all their heart and all their soul, to perform the words of this covenant that were written in this book." The people promised that they would keep God's laws. "And all the people stood to the covenant."

The king told the people that a covenant implied a two-sided agreement. God promised to be the nation's God and the people promised to be God's people. The making of the covenant meant breaking with all idols and idolatry. God is faithful and He wants His people to be wholly committed to Him.

De Neff Signs Contract With California Angels

Jim De Neff, former outstanding athlete at Holland High School, signed a contract with the California Angels baseball club Thursday night at his home.

De Neff signed for what Angel officials termed a "substantial bonus" contract.

The 19-year-old De Neff was the No. 1 pick of the Angels in the major league draft in New York Tuesday. He was a star shortstop for the Indiana University baseball team this spring.

Roland Hemond, farm director and director of scouting for the Angels, and Nick Kamzic, Angel Midwest scout, came to Holland to talk with De Neff.

De Neff is slated to report to the Quad Cities Angels in Davenport, Iowa, Wednesday. The Quad Cities team is a Class A club in the Midwest League. Harry Dunlop is the manager.

"Jim is one of the outstanding ballplayers in the country," Hemond said, "and he should be a major leaguer in a short time."

De Neff plans to transfer from Indiana University to the University of Michigan for the fall semester. He will attend the university for both the fall and spring semesters, and plans to complete his pre-dental course during the next two years. De Neff is an excellent student. He was honored at Indiana last month for maintaining an all-A record.

De Neff is the first of the Angels' 37 draft choices to sign a contract. He is also one of the first drafted players to sign with any major league club.

As a sophomore at Indiana this spring De Neff was second among the regulars in batting with an average of .354. He led the team in home runs with four, doubles with 11 and total bases with 62. He was second among the regulars with 23 runs batted in and 40 hits. His 11 doubles placed him seventh in the nation in this department.

Since he signed a professional contract De Neff will not be eligible to play baseball at Michigan.

De Neff, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. De Neff of 327 West 18th St., was a baseball, football and basketball star for Holland High. He is 6'2" and weighs 200 pounds.

Heavy Work Load Keeps Synod Busy

General Synod resumed sessions Saturday after a heavy day of business Friday with work sessions extending beyond midnight.

Synod adopted a recommendation calling for all Christians "to respect law and legal processes for God's sake as well as for the general good of society, even while disobeying, if necessary, for the sake of conscience, a specific rule of law." Christians are urged "to respect law enforcement agencies and personnel while retaining the right to criticize and protest their actions."

On liquor, Synod voted to ask churches in the denomination to consider various positions relative to moderation or voluntary abstinence. Until now, the church's position has been that of voluntary total abstinence. A guide for education and action will be drawn up by the Christian Action Commission for use in regional conferences.

A long discussion arose Friday afternoon concerning the adequacy of a statement on the repeal of capital punishment drawn up at the request of last year's synod. The discussion revealed that many delegates opposed the statement as "an adequate Biblical basis and background" for opposing capital punishment as an instrument of justice.

The "statement" which covered three pages in the published synod reports, delved into Old Testament and New Testament concepts, legalistic approaches, statistics and psychological processes. After an hour's discussion, the report was tabled.

Synod reaffirmed several actions on race relations in the 1965 synod. It called upon churches in the denomination which has not yet adopted the Covenant on Open Occupancy adopted by the 1961 synod to present it to their membership for discussion and adoption. It urged congregations to become actively involved in organizing and cooperating with Fair Housing committees in their communities.

Synod reminded its Reformed church members that race, color and national origin are not valid grounds for exclusion from church membership and is asking all congregations to include all members of the community in their evangelistic and pastoral ministry and to refrain from such practices as selective calling. Synod expressed expectation that all judicatories, boards and agencies of the denomination include racial inclusiveness among the criteria for the use of denominational funds in church extension.

Synod also is calling upon all congregations and institutions of the church to "require a hiring policy without discrimination on grounds of race, color or national origin in the calling of ministers and selection of all employees."

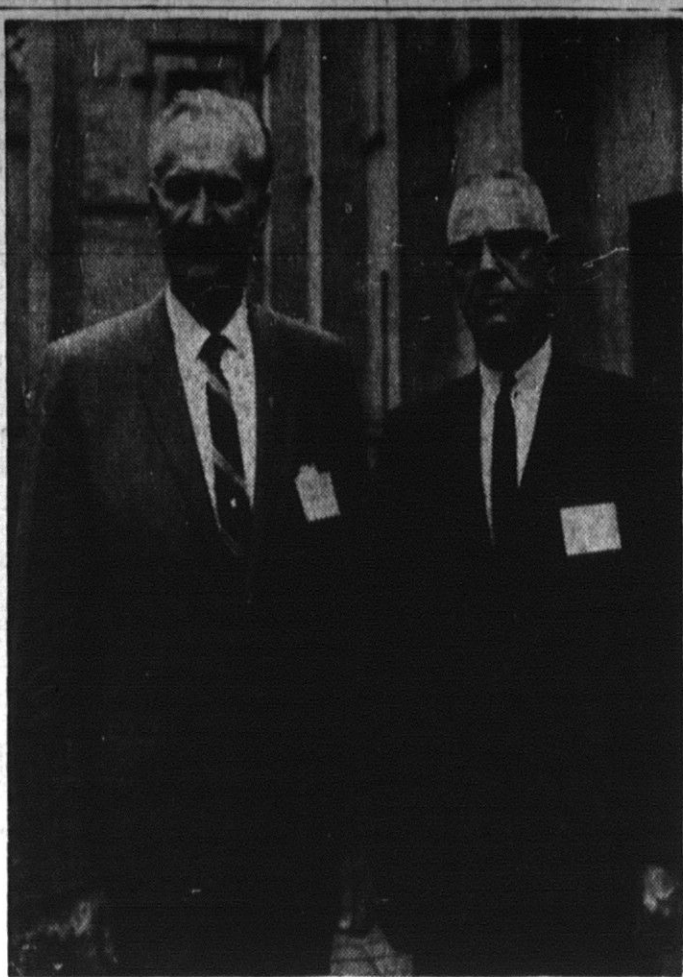

Synod voted to recommend to its constitution committee that it prepare an amendment which would require each local congregation's ruling board to pro-attend Bronson School of Nursing. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Becksvoordt, route 5.

Heirloom Accents Scene For Welder-Friley Rites

A family heirloom accented the nuptial setting in First Presbyterian Church of Allegan where Miss Lynne Joyce Friley of Allegan became the bride of Ned Carl Welder of Longview, Texas, Saturday. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Friley Jr. of Allegan and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Welder of Fennville.

The heirloom is a 78-year-old flower bell which has been used in family weddings for four generations. The bell was originally used by the bride's great-grandmother, Mrs. Nina Lynn Wood in Waco, Texas, in 1888, and has been used by several members of the family each generation since. The original and all succeeding flowers are retained on the bell and covered each time with tulle and new flowers.

The Rev. Donald R. Wright was officiating clergyman at the noon ceremony. Appropriate music was played by organist Miss Jane Carpenter of Allegan. Miss Ruthanna Alexander of Ganges was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Friley was attired in a floor-length gown of silk organza accented with reemboirdered Alencon lace at the hemline. The gown featured a fitted bodice with shell neckline and detachable chapel-length train. She wore an elbow-length mantilla of English silk illusion edged with a border of imported Chantilly. She carried a cascade bouquet of pale yellow roses and gardenias.

Mrs. Larry Hoffman, sister of the bride from White Cloud, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Charlene Welder, sister of the groom, and Miss Kathie Gould.

All attendants wore floor-length empire dresses of pink crepe with a wateau train of Chantilly lace. Headdresses were open pink pillboxes with bows at the front. Cascade bouquets of vari-tint pink carnations and lemon leaves and ivy complemented their attire.

Richard Peel of Ewart was best man and David Nye, Daniel Nye, both of Fennville, and Larry Hoffman, of White Cloud were ushers.

A buffet luncheon was held immediately following the ceremony with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shidler acting as host and hostess. Nancy and Susan Vojvodic of Fennville poured punch.

Following the luncheon the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip from Michigan to Texas spending several days in Gatlinburg, Tenn., and will reside at 1016 Timpson, Longview, Texas, 75604.

Both graduates of Fennville High School, the bride who attended the University of Michigan and Huntington College, Ind., will continue her education at Le Tourneau College in Longview and the groom will resume studies at Le Tourneau where he is enrolled as a senior.

Synod Head Emphasizes Local Parish

The local church parish, wherever it may be geographically, is the major frontier for the proclamation of the Gospel, declared Dr. Donner B. Atwood, president of the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America, in his annual "State of Religion" report.

It is there, he said, that the church must most creatively witness.

"I do not subscribe to the assertion of the prophets of gloom and of doom who affirm that the parish church is outmoded. Some of its forms and structures need radical surgery, but the local congregation is and will continue to be the major cutting edge of the Kingdom in its contact with the world."

Dr. Atwood made a number of recommendations to the General Synod, most of them dealing with the organizational structure of the church. He called for a study of the concept of establishing an office of Regional Coordinator of Program to help the local congregations fulfill their mission. He recommended a special panel to gather factual material on the advisability of merging the two seminaries of the denomination one located in New Brunswick, N.J., and the other in Holland, Mich., into one.

Other recommendations dealt with strengthening the ministry of the church in church extension fields, three-month sabbaticals for ministers every seven years, a change in the method of nominating men for the presidency of the General Synod, and suggestions with regard to the mission program of the church.

Total membership figures and giving for all purposes in the Reformed Church increased during 1965, but the percentage of accessions decreased, as well as the number in Sunday school and catechetical classes. The baptized membership of the Reformed Church now numbers 385,587 in 130,736 church families. Communicant membership increased during the year by 0.7 per cent, to 232,414.

Total contributions to the denomination from living givers amounted to $30,535,450, an increase of 4.8 per cent over the previous year's contributions. Of this amount, $6,697,434 was given to denominational benevolent causes.

Alumni House Gets Table From Hinkamp

A beautiful jewel-top table was presented recently to Hope College for its Alumni House, according to Mrs. Marian Stryker, Alumni Secretary, who accepted the gift from the Rev. Paul Hinkamp, graduate of the class of 1907.

Rev. Hinkamp, who made the table, said it required 200 hours of labor to cut the stones and fashion the table with poured fiberglass. The semi-precious stones, which had to be cut, sliced, and polished, include the Tiger-eye from Africa, the flowered Obsidian, Lithonite from the Southwest Rockies, Amazonite from Canada, Jasper, jagged tan stones from Geodes, Sodalite from Canada, and Mexican agates.

Rev. Hinkamp, who has made 10 tables, exhibited his collection of stones and tables at the Holland Art Show a few years ago. He is presently working on the 11th table which will go on sale at the July 29 Village Square on Hope's campus, an event sponsored by the Women's League of the Reformed Church.

His tables are made in various shapes. The Alumni House table is 25 inches wide and 16 inches high.

The Rev. Hinkamp was a member of the Hope College faculty as professor of Bible and philosophy from 1918 to 1945 and served as Registrar from 1945 until his retirement in 1957. He and Mrs. Hinkamp make their home at 64 West 14th St.

Synod Okays Red China U.N. Issue

Close 105-100 Vote Comes After Long, Vigorous Debate

After long and vigorous debate, General Synod voted Saturday 105 to 100 to "urge that Communist China be admitted to the United Nations so lines of communication can be opened and where she will be subjected to the climate of public opinion."

Synod further stated that the precedent for admitting Communist nations has already been established. "Indeed, the United Nations will serve the purpose of preserving world peace and seeking justice only as dissident nations are part of the forum," the statement reads.

The action was taken, leaders said, because it was incumbent "to affirm that we believe to be Christian principles in human relations such as will be most conducive to world peace and the good of the world."

The statement presented by synod's Christian Action Commission was one of several on controversial subjects which included liquor, respect for law, capital punishment, gambling, and the like. Robert De Haan of Hope College, commission chairman, made the presentation.

Arguments against the action on Red China warned of the international Communist conspiracy and of the wrong of supporting Communist slave masters of the Chinese people, while others favorable to it insisted that the Christian stance is one of trying to reach and penetrate every part of the world with the Gospel of Christ, and that we cannot possibly ignore a nation which numbers one-third of the human race.

General Synod also adopted, after long discussion, by a vote of 93 to 87 a recommendation by the Christian Action Commission to adopt the policy statement of the National Council of Churches on Viet Nam which calls for "unconditional discussion and negotiation" of the Viet Nam conflict, continued adherence to the policy of avoiding the bombing of centers of population of North Viet Nam, alleviation for the plight of the non-combatants in South Viet Nam, and a "phased withdrawal of all U.S. troops and bases from Vietnamese territory if and when they can be replaced by adequate international peace-keeping forces, composed of military contingents capable of maintaining order while the peace settlement is being carried out."

Synod voted to support the National Council of Churches in the continuance and increase of "major, high-level dialogue between Asian and U.S. Christians in cooperation with the East Asia Christian Conference on the social, economic and political questions affecting their respective countries" and to work directly and through the World Council of Churches "on means for bringing about more meaningful and continuing relations with other churches across lines of political and cultural conflict."

In other action, General Synod reaffirmed its belief in "the dignity and world of each human being as created in the image of God and its support of basic human rights and freedoms including democratic participation in public affairs on the part of all persons without regard to economic or racial distinction."

It called for the support of the church in various aspects of the "War on Poverty," urging its congregations and institutions and boards to "give creative thought to the development of programs and procedures for the early elimination of poverty" and "to develop and support sound private and public measures directed toward the elimination of the evil of poverty from an otherwise affluent society."

The Christian Action Commission voted to request all local churches in the synod to maintain a strict opposition to all forms of gambling and to cooperate with other churches and civic groups to reduce the gambling mania in this country and to repeal existing statutes legalizing any form of it.

In presenting this recommendation, the commission expressed the conviction that "gambling is a menace to business integrity, a breeder of crime, a destroyer of government and a demoralizing influence in society and in the individual." It added that the use of lotteries and other forms of gambling to raise funds for public functions is an evasion of fiscal responsibility since the lottery is in effect an exploitation of the poor through regressive taxation.

Ulysses S. Grant was probably the only United States president ever arrested for speeding. Grant was whisking down a street near the White House when a policeman apprehended him, and took the horse and rig to the station. The surprised chief of state had to walk back to the Executive Mansion.

Synod Urges Greater Aid To Colleges

General Synod of the Reformed Church is urging greater financial support of the denomination's three colleges, following a presentation Tuesday at a business session in Dinnet Memorial Chapel.

The three colleges are Hope College in Holland, Central College in Pella, Ia., and Northwestern college in Orange City, Ia.

Synod approved drafting a "covenant of mutual obligations and privileges" to be presented for approval next year. This "covenant" would clearly delineate the responsibility of the church to the colleges so that the church will not feel pharisaic when it constructively criticizes college policies.

It also would delineate both the responsibilities and freedoms of the colleges that they may constantly affirm and reaffirm the Christian principles on which they were founded, constantly retaining their distinctiveness as "Christian, church-related colleges." Privileges and limitations of academic freedom should be thoroughly understood within the context of the Reformed faith.

Synod authorized a study of the size and composition of boards of the three colleges from the standpoint of optimum effectiveness in exercising responsibilities involving possible participation by prominent persons of men of influence and prestige as well as alumni on the boards.

Dr. Calvin Vander Werf, president of Hope College, addressed synod on the significant place which the Reformed church has always given Christian higher education and on the importance of larger support, both students and finances.

Synod elected R. Donald J. Bruggink to become professor of historical theology at Western Theological Seminary in Holland.

Synod is seeking clarification in the church constitution which declares that "a catechism on formal statement of doctrine to be used in teaching the young must first be approved by synod."

The question is whether this stipulation covers only catechetical materials, or also materials used in Sunday Schools. Less than half of the Reformed churches presently are using the Covenant Life Curriculum prepared by the church's Board of Education.

The question has been referred to the Judicial Business Committee of the Reformed Church Synod is calling for a survey of congregations to learn why Covenant Life Curriculum is not in greater use.
