Wilkes Booth's Burial.
THE TRUE STORY TOLD FOR THE FIRST TIME.

The darkest cloud which came over Edwin Booth's life contained mystery, as well as grief and shame. From the time his younger brother, Wilkes Booth, shot and killed President Lincoln, the great tragedian has never been in Washington, his bare brained brother's name has never passed his lips and no one has been permitted to speak of it in his presence.

Edwin Booth was officially informed by the United States Government as to what disposition had been made of his brother's body after Boston Corbett's bullet had done its work. He has kept the secret for nearly thirty years amid all sorts of occasional rumors. There are plenty of mystery loving folk in the country to-day who believe Wilkes Booth is alive yet. Every once in awhile a man is found who corresponds in every line and scar to the description of the assassin. One of them is a Southern clergyman, who has been identified as Wilkes Booth so many times that he must have some doubt about his own personality. The general belief, however, has been that Booth's body was quietly dropped into the Potomac or else was carried out to sea and buried in the deep. Several historians have said as much. The Government Secret Service had charge of the affair and the chief of this department declared two years afterward that while Booth's body was carried down the Potomac, it did not necessarily follow that it was not brought back secretly to Washington. The facts, he asserted mysteriously, would never be known, for the Secret Service was sworn to silence in regard to them. He was right in hinting that the body was brought back to Washington, but wrong in saying that the facts would never be known, for here they are published for the first time.

The assassin's body was carried from Washington down the Potomac one dark night in April, 1865. After steaming down a few miles the small vessel which was used in the errand came quietly back with the body still on board. In the meantime the pavement under an archway beside one of the government buildings had been removed and a grave was dug there. In to this John Wilkes Booth's remains were hastily deposited. The pavement was restored to its place so neatly that no one would suspect that it had been disturbed, and the job was done.

A few years afterward Edwin Booth secured permission from the government to remove the body. With the utmost secrecy the pavement was again lifted and the rude coffin was taken up and carried to the private burying ground of the Booths in Maryland, where it was laid beside the remains of the young man's famous father, Junius Brutus Booth, his brother, Junius Brutus, Jr., and other members of the family. Doubtless Edwin Booth too, will be buried there.

John Wilkes Booth always got the credit in histories of Lincoln and the assassination of being a very poor actor, a disgrace to his family professionally, as well as otherwise. These descriptions of him were unjust in the opinion of a man who has been a stage manager for pretty nearly forty years, who knew the Booth family well and had watched Wilkes Booth's work on the stage closely and critically. He says: "If Wilkes Booth had lived and worked hard I believe he would have been a wonderful actor. It must be remembered that he was only twenty-six when he died and that he had not been on the stage long enough to develop much. Yet he had real genius in the invention of stage business. Some of his ideas were adopted by Edwin Booth and used throughout the rest of his career. Wilkes was the handsomest man I have ever seen. His face and form were almost perfect."

There are a few incidents throwing light on Wilkes Booth's character which have not been told, for the reason that the men who knew him and loved him have been loth to talk about him. He was playing in Richmond, Va., in the fall of 1859, when John Brown made his raid at Harper's Ferry. The young actor's sympathies were strongly with the South, and he became so much excited over the Harper's Ferry episode that on the day before Brown was hanged he left his company in the lurch at Richmond, in the way his father used to do before him, and ran away to Harper's Ferry to assist in the hanging. First he hunted up the carpenter who was making the pine coffin for the doomed abolitionist, and secured from him as a keepsake a good sized piece of the coffin. Then he offered his services as one of the guards at the execution, and thus assisted at the hanging. That piece of John Brown's coffin Wilkes Booth cherished religiously, distributing bits of it to his particular friends. The stage manager referred to was given one of them, and has it to this day.

From a man who knew young Booth very well at the time of Lincoln's assassination a statement has been obtained which throws a new light on the conspiracy. This man, who naturally wishes that no mention be made of his name, says that Wilkes Booth was by no means the deliberate leader in the plot. But he was excitable and emotional, and a red hot rebel, and one evening, after he had been drinking heavily, he either proposed or agreed to a proposition to kill the President, Vice President and Secretary of State. One of the persons present on this occasion was Mrs. Mary E. Surratt. A few days after the carouse she discovered that the young man had been talking only under the influence of wine, and did not really intend to go to the extent of murder. She taunted Booth with cowardice and waning ardor for the cause of the South. That was more than Southern blood could stand, and Booth, more from a spirit of wounded vanity than because of desperate blood-thirstiness, began his plans in earnest and soon convinced himself that he was another Brutus.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

Port Sheldon.

Preparations and posters are out announcing that we are to have on the glorious Fourth of July a good old fashioned Port Sheldon bowery dance on the north end of the bridge where the last one was held. Carl McKinley our lively city butcher being the manager and Al. Aleger as second. 3 pieces of music are engaged. Refreshments of all kinds are to be had on the grounds.

Mr. Robert Drinkwater near Ventura who had the misfortune to lose his house, granary and chicken coop by fire on Sunday the 9th of April last wishes through the Holland City News respectfully to thank all of his many friends for their solid sympathy and help given him in building his house again, for he is unable personally to thank a good many, for they brought lumber and other things during his absence from the place. And we think that blessed is the silent giver.

Berry pickers this season will have to keep from property owners farms, as they have come to an understanding around Port Sheldon that they intend to prosecute all trespassers on their lands without their permission. So berry pickers beware!

Jacob Lilley, Jr. took his departure Al la Gilpin on Wednesday for the Garden City round by the Lake Shore. He liked it so well when he came and was 8 days on the journey that he thought he would try it again. Bark peeling and clearing land was not such a picnic as he took it to be. And such warm weather as we have had lately. His brother will remain and fight it out.

Lake Shore.

Miss Alta Merrill of Detroit is visiting her parents and will stay through the warm season and enjoy the lake breezes.

Osborn & Ogden have finished their first job of sawing and have moved to another place near home.

Geo. Osborn accidentally placed his foot in the way of the saw carriage and had his ankle sprained and one toe smashed.

Some miscreants set fire in the woods near the Woodruff or Ohio lot, and have destroyed a lot of valuable timber, probably they did this in order to cover their tracks, as there has been a lot of timber taken from this lot in the last four years, and the owner is looking after the culprits.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Deplidge on June 1, a girl.

The team of H. Dolph ran with him whilst marking out bean ground and hurt him quite seriously on Monday.

Grapes are looking good here near the lake, and there will be a fair crop.

Peaches, and all small fruit, bid fair for a crop, if we can only get rain occasionally, grain is poor, and the frost hurt it quite bad away from the lake.

Geo. Osborn gave Mr. Shuttler, of Lansing, an order for a new Heuber separator last week and expects to work the District around West Olive again this fall and do good work.

Zeeland.

The Zeeland gun club is becoming quite proficient, at least a large portion of its members are, in locating the exact spot of the flying Clay. We should like to see a contest of skill between the Holland City Club and the home club.—Enterprise.

Mr. John De Pree, the expressman, started for Texas last Tuesday. He will also visit his son at Wichita, Kas. and expects to be absent about two weeks.

Peeping Tom's are becoming quite numerous in Zeeland and one man advertises that he will no longer submit to these insulting acts.

The Reformed church organ committee have purchased a $2,500 pipe organ of Lancashire, Marshall & Co., of Moline, Ill. The organ is to be in place by Sept. 1.

A large amount of gravel has been placed on the road to Holland and a heavy rain will make this one of the best of country roads.

The annual review of the Zeeland Fire Department occurred Thursday afternoon. Refreshments will be served at the engine house after the review.

Allegan County.

Five hundred people attended the Maccabee gathering at Wayland last week. The tents represented were Allegan, Dorr, Hopkins Station, Martin, Moline, Otego, Plainwell, and Salem in this county, and Hastings, Middleville, and Thornapple in Barry county.

Preparations for the Sunday school rally June 26 are going steadily forward, and the program will be an interesting one. Reduced rates have been secured on all the railways. Present indications are that the attendance will be the largest ever at any convention or rally held in Allegan.

Dr. PIERCE'S Golden Medical
DISCOVERY

Cures Ninety-eight per cent. of all cases of Consumption, in all its Earlier Stages.

Although by many believed to be incurable, there is the evidence of hundreds of living witnesses to the fact that in all its earlier stages, consumption is a curable disease. Not every case, but a large percentage of cases, and we believe, fully 98 per cent. are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, even after the disease has progressed so far as to induce repeated bleedings from the lungs, severe lingering cough with copious expectoration (including tubercular matter), great loss of flesh and extreme emaciation and weakness.

Do you doubt that hundreds of such cases reported to us as cured by "Golden Medical Discovery" were genuine cases of that dread and fatal disease? You need not take our word for it. They have, in nearly every instance, been so pronounced by the best and most experienced home physicians, who have no interest whatever in misrepresenting them, and who were often strongly prejudiced and advised against a trial of "Golden Medical Discovery," but who have been forced to confess that it surpasses, in curative power over this fatal malady, all other medicines with which they are acquainted. Nasty cod-liver oil and its filthy "emulsions" and mixtures, had been tried in nearly all these cases and had either utterly failed to benefit, or had only seemed to benefit a little for a short time. Extract of malt, whiskey, and various preparations of the hypophosphites had also been faithfully tried in vain.

The photographs of a large number of those cured of consumption, bronchitis, lingering coughs, asthma, chronic nasal catarrh and kindred maladies, have been skillfully reproduced in a book of 160 pages which will be mailed to you, on receipt of address and six cents in stamps. Address for Book, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

At a meeting called at Allegan to make arrangements to celebrate July 4 there were only two present, and one of those was a reporter after the news.—Gazette.

Another effort will be made to get a railway down town, probably the C. & W. M. The matter is in the hands of energetic men and something will doubtless be accomplished.

Grand Haven.

The city water works has a pumping capacity of 1,000,000 gallons per day. The plant is taxed to its full capacity these hot, dry days.

Highland Park Hotel opened its doors to the public on Sunday. A rich menu was prepared, and all Grand Haven did the management honor by taking Sunday dinner.

August Fett, an employee for two years at the D. & M. freight house, came before Judge Goodrich on Saturday and was adjudged insane. He was turned over to the county poor master.

One of the largest trout ever caught by local fishermen was brought in by John Ruster this week. It weighed 56 pounds.

Notice is given on or about June 22, that the fog signal at Grand Haven station will be moved and re-erected without change of character to the fog signal building recently removed and re-erected on the south pier.

Last year we commenced an elaborate plan of advertising, but before we were half through, OUR ADVERTISEMENTS DISAPPEARED. Why? Because WE WERE OVERHELMED WITH BUSINESS. There was but one thing to do: withdraw the advertising and devote every energy to filling the orders with which we were flooded. This we did, and handled with reasonable promptness a most unprecedented year's business. WITH ENLARGED FACTORIES, INCREASED FACILITIES, AND EXTENSIVE BRANCH HOUSES FROM WINDSOR TO ALBANY, WE CAN NOW CARE FOR ALL WHO COME. Last year we could not reduce prices because we were compelled in some way to limit the demand for Aermotor goods. We would have been satisfied with lower prices, but why create a demand which we could not supply? We have made the heaviest purchases of steel and material bought in America this year, and at unprecedented prices, and have made terms to dealers which enable them to make unprecedented prices. In quality, character, variety, finish, and accessibility to full stock of goods and repairs, we are without competitors. In our plan of advertising last year, we proposed to furnish a feed cutter certain conditions for $15. For reasons stated above we did not complete the advertising, and the feed cutter was not put out. We now propose to make amends in the following manner: We will enclose in this paper one of our NEW ALL-STEEL VERY SUPERIOR FEED CUTTERS, WORTH $40 at $10.

cash with order, f. o. b. Chicago. Only one to one person, he to furnish address of ten neighbors who ought to have something in our line. Cut, description and full information regarding it will appear soon. We especially desire attentive prices for windmills on the part of the great. If added to the price is $10 clear profit to the dealer. To be sure proper price and our needs and you are, and always have been, equipped of our factories are enabled to have special tools for each piece, and on it to merely picking up the material which we mention. We have been making up in the form of a booklet, windmills, towers, pumps, etc., to such an extent that on that account the volume of our business is impossible, that FOR LARGE WINDMILL CONCERNS ARE BUYING THOUSANDS OF THEM YEARLY. THEY DO IT BECAUSE WE MAKE THE ONLY ABSOLUTELY RELIABLE AND SAFE TOWER. BECAUSE THEY CAN GET IT AT A CHEAPER PRICE THAN THEY CAN BUILD. BECAUSE WE ALSO ARE PREPARED TO GALVANIZE EVERYTHING AFTER IT IS COMPLETED, AND COMPLETE EVERYTHING EXACTLY RIGHT. These concerns are wise, for, even though they may not furnish the best of wheels, the wheel will have the best of support. Send to us your name and address, and those of your neighbors who may need something in our line, and thereby do them a good turn. The Aermotor Co. is one of the most successful business enterprises which has been launched in recent times. Its succeeding advertisements will be discussed and made clear the lines on which that success has been worked out. It was done by a farmer's boy. A careful following of these advertisements may suggest to some other farmer's boy a career. Aermotor Co., 12th, Rockwell & Fillmore Sts., Chicago.

Peddler's License Law Voted.

LANSING, June 15.—The law passed at the last session controlling the business of hawking and peddling has been found to be defective. An attempt was made to amend the law of 1889, placing the matter of licenses and fees under control of township boards instead of the state treasurer in the upper peninsula, so as to apply to the entire state, but the title was not amended, the act fails, and hawkers and peddlers in the lower peninsula will get their license from the state treasurer as heretofore.

Mackinac Island Reservation.

LANSING, June 19.—As soon after July 1 as the governor of Michigan and the state legislature make a demand on the United States for the possession of Mackinac Island military reservation the greater part of that summer resort will become a public park of the state of Michigan. The act of congress ceding the island will go into effect the date named and will require only the concurrent acceptance by the Michigan executive and legislature to ratify the transfer.

Jones, who enjoyed the distinction of being the youngest postmaster in the state at his appointment, and who has enjoyed the unusual privilege of being the only republican postmaster in Berrien county left in office by the present administration, has resigned. He is compelled to vacate the office on account of ill health.

Tuite Declared a Defaulter.

DETROIT, June 13.—Ex-City Treasurer Thomas B. Tuite was declared a defaulter by Judge Lilbridge in the circuit court, and a verdict for $14,000 was ordered against Tuite and his bondsmen.

A Days Outing.

THE HOLLAND BOAT LINE ENTERTAINS
THE BOARD OF TRADE OF GRAND RAPIDS.

To simply say that the Grand Rapids Board of Trade excursionists enjoyed their outing on Macatawa Bay and Lake Michigan on Tuesday would be putting it to mildly. To put it properly they enjoyed it hugely. It was a days absence from the cares and routine of business, and a day in which there was a continual change of scenery, including plenty of air, plenty of water and plenty to eat. The members of the Board of Trade came here on an invitation extended by the managers of the Holland & Chicago Transportation Co. and about 120 comprised the party. They reached Central Wharf on a special train of five coaches, shortly after ten o'clock when they were met by Manager W. R. Owen, W. H. Beach, J. C. Post and other officers of the company and a delegation of representative business men of the city. The visitors were without ceremony passed over the gang plank of our elegant new liner the Soo City, being headed by the Newsboys band of Grand Rapids numbering 30 pieces.

It was a charming day, there was a brisk south west wind blowing and white caps were noticeable on Black Lake. Everybody was looking for a nice little sea on Lake Michigan and contemplating how sea sick they would be. The lake was smooth however and after a short stop at Macatawa Park to take on a few passengers the Soo City headed out through the channel, passing on the way two United States boats. A run was made to a point nearly opposite the Saugatuck light and on the return, the Grand Rapids guests were given an exhibition of the steamers speed. The only boat they could find to tackle was the steamer Glen and they left her in the wake when the Newsboys band rendered some of the more popular airs of the day.

During the trip the guests from Grand Rapids as well as those invited from Holland were given an opportunity to inspect the boat from stem to stern, and the opinion universally prevailed that the Soo was one of the staunchest, speediest and most commodious boats now engaged in the passenger and freight traffic between the east shore and Chicago.

The Macatawa dock was reached about one o'clock where dinner was in readiness at the Macatawa Park Hotel. Mrs. Ryder done herself proud as she always does when it comes to providing for a crowd of this kind. She knew that after a spin of two hours or more on the water that all would have good appetites and it would be useless to say that they did not relish or appreciate her home made chicken pie, roast pork and apple sauce, ice cream, strawberry short cake, etc. Major J. A. McKee her gentlemanly manager who knew most of the Grand Rapids visitors bid them a cordial welcome and saw that they were seated at tables where they were acquainted and could have a sociable and congenial meal.

The table of honor was presided over by Mayor Fisher of Grand Rapids and seated around it were Secretary Kinsey of the Grand Rapids Board of Trade, Congressman Smith, Mayor Diekema, Ex-Mayor Hummer, John C. Post, W. H. Beach and others. It was planned to have some toasts but as the time was limited the cigars were passed around with the compliments of the United States Cigar Co. of Grand Rapids, and Judge Perkins in behalf of the Board of Trade presented the following resolutions:

Whereas we, members of the Board of Trade of Grand Rapids, have greatly enjoyed to-day's outing, especially the pleasure of the ride upon the Soo City over the placid waters of Black Lake and the more lively waves of Lake Michigan, and thereafter have had the inner man refreshed and invigorated by the abounding hospitality of the new inn at Macatawa.

Therefore resolved, That our thanks are hereby extended to the officers of the Grand Rapids and Chicago Boat Line, to the proprietors of this beautiful new hotel and to the Chicago & West Michigan R. R. and all others who have ministered to our comfort and pleasure, including the Newsboys band which has added much to our entertainment.

Resolved, That to-day will long remain as one of the red letter days in the calendar of memory and that we shall always hold in pleasant remembrance the promoters and conductors of this excursion.

In spite of the fact, that the boat was to leave in a few moments, Mayor Fisher asked that Hon. W. Alden Smith be heard from in response to the toast "Our Harbor." Mr. Smith said that he did not come here with the expectation of meeting that question. He spoke of the close relationship that existed between Holland and the Valley City and paid Holland a compliment by saying that Grand Rapids appreciated her neighboring city's growth, enterprise and prosperity. There was no flourish of trumpets or promises of what they were going to do. Mr. Smith prophesied that in the not far distant future, she would gradually enlarge her borders in a corresponding ratio with Grand Rapids until finally the two cities would be so closely united as to be nearly one vast metropolis. He spoke of the advantages that nature had given her and said that our harbor ought no longer to exist with a bar across its mouth. He promised to do whatever laid within his power in the direction of obtaining assistance for us in congress, but at the same time called attention to the fact, that the government was exercising the most rigid economy these days in regard to harbor improvements.

There were repeated calls for Mayor Diekema, and he made a most vigorous protest. It did not do him any good as Mayor Fisher said the doors were locked. The mayor then concluded to say just a few words, tell a humorous story, and give some lessons in trigonometry. As the G. R. Democrat puts it: He went Mr. Smith one better on his consolidation scheme and said: "I too, can see a glorious future for Western Michigan. To the west, I see the great city of Chicago, constantly growing and reaching out for additional room. On the east, is the grand metropolis of Western Michigan—Grand Rapids—also making gigantic strides. Between them is the vigorous young city of Holland, the heart, lying between these two extremities. Gradually the limits of all three will expand until finally Grand Rapids and Chicago will represent merely the circumference, while the heart of this most tremendous municipality will be our own enterprising city of Holland."

Holland harbor was opened here without any assistance from the U. S. government. As everyone knows a Hollander cannot live without water. When they came here in the forties, they with hands and shovels opened up communication between the bay and Lake Michigan. This communication with Lake Michigan must and will be maintained.

At 3:00 o'clock a portion of the visitors started back for their homes on the Soo City while others took the special from Ottawa Beach at 4:00 o'clock. All were happy and pleased with their days jaunt.

A New Industry.

For some time it has been known that there was a new business enterprise to be established in Holland and that several of our local capitalists were interested. The Deming plant on 10th street has been utilized and the Soo City on Monday night carried over several tons of improved machinery from Chicago.

The Buss name is well known in connection with machinery interests in Western Michigan, and there is every promise that the plant will be one of the largest established in this locality. The line shafting is now being placed by expert machinists under the control and direction of George Gee. Mr. Gee has had 12 years experience as a foreman and knows all the details of the business. It is not the intention of the new company to compete with other establishments but to make new machinery that has not heretofore been introduced. In this connection it can be said that a Chicago capitalist who has plenty of money is behind the plant. The new machinery was supplied by the Prentiss Supply company of Chicago and it is the special intention of the company with wood working lathes, planers, finishing machines etc. to keep at home work that heretofore been sent abroad.

A Correction.

Editor Holland City News!

As a report has been published in the Holland city papers that milk from the farm of Mr. Albert Marshall one of whose cows (so report said) had been found to be suffering from Tuberculosis and had been killed by our veterinarian Mr. W. C. Covey. I wish to make a correction to that statement. The books of the factory show that Mr. Marshall has furnished no milk to the factory since July, '94, and then only for a short time about a month, and further the cow in question had never given milk being about 24 years old at the time she was killed. None of the other cattle on the farm were affected as shown by being treated with, tuberculin test applied by state veterinarian Grange and H. H. Huids of the state live stock Sanitary Commission and Mr. Marshall was given a clean bill of health for his stock by the above named gentlemen. There are none others so far as I can learn similarly affected in this neighborhood. As I am well satisfied that these articles first originated with the intention of injuring our factory, I would thank you to publish this statement which can easily be verified if necessary.

Respectfully,
WM. WHIPPLE, JR.
Sec'y Manager,

From a letter written by Rev. J. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down with pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. THE DOG'S BARK.

It is an Evolution of the Uncultured Yelping of Old.

The most curious imitation which we find in dogs is as to the measure of expression to which they have attained. Among the savage forefathers of the modern dog the characteristic of all their utterance was, to a great extent, involuntary, and, once begun, the outcry was continued in a mechanical manner, says Scribner's Magazine.

The effect of advancing culture on the dog, however, has been gradually to decrease this ancient undifferentiated mode of expression by howling and yelping, and to replace it by the much more speech-like bark. There is some doubt whether dogs possessed by the savages have the power of uttering the sharp, specialized note which is so characteristic of the civilized form of their species.

It is clear, however, that if they have the power of thus expressing themselves, they used it but rarely. On the other hand, our high-bred dogs have, to a great extent, lost the power to express themselves in the ancient way. Many of our breeds appear to have become incapable of ululating. There is no doubt but the change in the mode of expression greatly increases the capacity of our dogs to set forth their states of mind.

If we watch a high-bred dog—one with a wide range of sensibilities, which we may find in breeds which have long been closely associated with man—we may readily note five or six varieties of sound in the bark, each of which is clearly related to a certain state of mind. That of welcome, of fear, of rage, of doubt, and of pure fun, are almost always perfectly distinct to the educated ear, and this, although the observer may not be acquainted with the creature. If he knows him well he may be able to distinguish various other intonations—those which express impatience, and even an element of sorrow. This last note verges toward a howl.

HE DID NOT LIKE PERFUMES.

But the Reminiscent Odor of a Cigar Was Another Matter.

It was at a lecture; the room was hot and crowded, and Mrs. Bittersweet noticed that her husband was suffering under a sense of injury, says the Chicago Tribune.

"What is it, dear?" she whispered, under cover of one of the speaker's rounded periods.

Mr. Bittersweet's sniffs became more audible. "It's the abominable odor of perfumery in the room," he puffed. "I'm almost asphyxiated by it. Why, I can count fourteen distinct scents every time the women about us applaud."

"O, well, try not to notice it," whispered his wife, with that cheerfulness always displayed by the friends of the sufferer in such cases. "Do listen to the lecturer; it is just splendid."

"Humph; I suppose you like the odor; women always do like whatever costs money. Do you happen to know what is spent annually on perfumery in America alone?"

"No, dear, I don't. What is it?"

"Um—well, I don't remember the exact figures just now, but I assure you it is something enormous. For my part I think that the carrying of perfumes into public places should be prohibited by law, and the amount of money which would otherwise have been wasted upon them might then go towards endowing an asylum for those idiots who don't know that others have rights in public."

"Sh—sh! You are disturbing people. The lady in the violet bonnet is looking daggers at you."

"Humph, the one whose handkerchief is poisoned with patchouli; I don't care if she isn't pleased. Say, I think I'll step out for a cigar."

"Do," said his wife, with a smile, "I thought something behind the perfume was troubling you."

He came back before long with smiling face and settled himself contentedly in his place. As he did so the lady in the violet bonnet, who sat next to him, began to wave her handkerchief before her face.

"Isn't it awful," she whispered to her companion, "wherever one goes it is just the same—some horrid man poisons the air with the odor of stale tobacco; positively I couldn't endure it if I hadn't some strong perfume about me as an antidote."

A GRAND TRIUMPH.

Baffled Many Times but Success Comes at Last.

(From the Grand Rapids Press.)
The following incident would be hard to believe if it had not occurred right here in Grand Rapids, and investigation by our representative has placed it beyond the reach of doubt. These are the facts in detail: Mr. J. H. White of No. 25 Haight Place, has been an instructor in penmanship in different business colleges for the past fourteen years. He says: "Last October I was suddenly taken ill. I consulted a physician, who said the pain was from 'gravel' stones; gradually grew worse; the pain was in my back and side.
My back swelled up in a great ridge, and I finally grew so bad that I was taken to bed, as helpless as a child. I passed blood, and when the pain was at its worst I was like one crazy. The doctor injected morphine to give me relief, but furthermore than that he said he was powerless, and nothing would do me any good but a surgical operation. I believe my flesh was literally cooked in the attempts to relieve my agony, everything was used, mustard plasters, turpentine, hot cloths and all such things. I was in this condition, given up by the doctor, and almost out of my mind with suffering. I commenced taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and really I felt easier in 20 minutes. After about two hours I had a passage of urine, and passed blood and some 'gravel' stones which greatly relieved me. I rapidly improved. I took in all six boxes, and I feel to-day entirely well. Mine has been a wonderful case.
I feel that I cannot say anything strong enough for Doan's Kidney Pills. My great wish is that they may become well known. They will prove a boon to mankind.

THEIR HOMES SAFE.

Settlers on Flint & Pere Marquette Lands Have No Cause for Alarm.
SAGINAW, June 17.—William L. Webber was land commissioner of the Flint & Pere Marquette Railroad company in 1861, when 1,751 acres of land in Isabella county, for which the government has now set up a claim in the courts, were certified to the state by the federal government. In an interview Mr. Webber says that the secretary of the interior in that year decided that these lands were within the land grant made to the state for the railroad company, and expresses the opinion that if the attorney general of the United States would possess himself of the facts he would hold that the government's claim was without merit. Over 19,500 acres of the land were sold before the passage of the act of 1887 to innocent purchasers, and he advises the present owners of the lands not to make any sacrifice by reason of the government's claim and not to indulge in any uneasiness concerning the ultimate outcome of the case.

Fire in Saginaw.
SAGINAW, June 18.—Fire Monday afternoon destroyed the whole interior of a block in the heart of the residence portion of the city, every barn and outbuilding being destroyed totally.
The high school was damaged and several residences scorched. F. E. Talmage was the heaviest loser. He had thirteen horses in his stable and four were burned, among them the famous stallion Panama (2:24), by Jay Gould, who was the sire of Pixley. Panama was the sire of Panama Maid (2:20),
The total loss is estimated at $15,000.

Taken an Appeal.
LANSING, June 18.—A matter is presented to the supreme court in the form of an application for a mandamus by Judge Kelley, circuit judge, compelling the state board of auditors to reinstatement and allow his claim for traveling and other expenses incurred by him while out of his county on official business. If successful, it will establish an expensive precedent, which will apply to the judges in all of the thirty-six judicial circuits. The claim was rejected upon constitutional grounds.

Land Decision Against Michigan.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 14.—Secretary Hoke Smith has denied the appeal of the state of Michigan from a land office decision where the state claims certain alleged swamps lands were rejected. The lands in question were settled by the state and approved by the secretary of the interior, but before being patented it was shown the original survey was erroneous and the lands were not swamp and consequently not subject to the state's grant.

May Get His Money Back.
ANN ARBOR, June 14.—Edward M.
Walsh, president of the senior law class, had $20,000 worth of bonds stolen from him in 1889, when he was in New York city. He has received a telegram from the chief of police in New York, saying that a man had been apprehended for the theft, and asking Walsh to come on and identify him. Walsh will go. He was formerly a sugar planter in Hawaii, and has been studying law for the past two years.

Crop Conditions.
LANSING, June 19.—The weekly bulletin of the Michigan weather bureau issued Tuesday night says:
"Over the upper peninsula and the northern end of the lower peninsula the rainfall has been plentiful and all crops are doing fairly well. Over the remainder of the state the spring drought has continued with great severity and all crops except corn are suffering greatly. Hay will be a short crop in all sections of the state. Cutworms and insects are generally reported. Corn is doing well."

Salvationists Jubilant.
BENTON HARBOR, June 17.—A large union meeting, including all Christian denominations in the city, was held at the Salvation Army barracks here Sunday. It was in honor of Staff Capt.
Pebbles, general secretary of the army for the states of Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin, and Ensign Harron, secretary of this division, of Chicago, who were in attendance.

Dentists Meet.
DETROIT, June 19.—The State Dental associations of Indiana, Ohio and Michigan are this year trying the experiment of holding their annual state meetings in conjunction, and the opening session of the convention was held Tuesday at the Detroit college of medicine. The convention lasts three days.

Michigan Legislature Expensive.
LANSING, June 15.—The total expenses of the Michigan legislature of 1895, as computed by Auditor General Turner, amount to $123,975.52, which is $8,000 in excess of the legislative expenses two years ago. The members drew $123,975 per diem and mileage and $9,589 for incidental expenses.

Boycotted by Preachers.
BENTON HARBOR, June 16.—The Sunday Morning News receives discouragement by five pastors of the leading orthodox churches publicly declining to furnish it with church announcements or reports of church services of any sort, they agreeing to furnish to none but weekday publications.

Graduated in Music.
ADRIAN, June 18.—The annual recital by the musical department of Adrian college took place at the chapel Monday evening. The graduating class, all of whom take the degree of bachelor of music, consists of Misses Grace Bryant, Jennie Haverly, Maud Judge and Clarissa Wagner.

To Jail for Kissing a Woman.
HASTINGS, June 18.—Rev. Lewis G.
Archer, charged with kissing Mrs. John Waters, of Battle Creek, pleaded guilty and was fined $25 or sixty days in jail.
He went to jail.

Appeal to the Supreme Court.
WASHINGTON, June 18.—The court of appeals has heard the appeal of the United States against the land grant of Michigan.

Another credit mark can be placed to the credit of Hope College. The secretary of the Pan American Congress has written Captain Cornelius Gardner asking him to discuss the question of "Relief by Work" at the Pan American Congress of Religion and Education that is in session at Toronto, Canada, from July 18th to the 25th inclusive. The Secretary says in his communication to the captain: "Detroit has become more famous throughout the country, through its relief methods than through all the commercial activities and various advertisements of other sorts than it has ever had." This is a handsome compliment to Captain Gardner who virtually has engineered Detroit's "Potato Plant" so vigorously and successfully. He will in this way come in contact with such men as Wm. R. Harper of the Chicago University; Lyman J. Gage, Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul; Chancellor Burwash, of Toronto, and others.

School Commencement.

The purple and the yellow predominated at the Senior commencement on Wednesday night at Hope church. Those clamoring for admission had to take their chance for seats and there were many who had the privilege of standing up or going home. Special preparations had been made for the occasion including a platform extended from the pulpit and elevated seats for the school chorus which numbered very close to one hundred. The decorations were in keeping with the class motto: "For Value Received we Promise to Pay." Over the main platform was a canopy of purple and yellow bunting, backed by the stars and stripes. Carefully dropped above all was a large shield on which was conspicuously inscribed the class motto. At promptly 8:00 o'clock Miss Roberts the accompanist of the evening played a march and the members of the school board including W. H. Beach, C. Ver Schure, J. A. Brouwer, H. Kremers, M. D., G. J. Dickema, John Nies, T. Keppel, P. H. McBride, G. J. Van Duren, the high school teachers, and graduates took their seats on the platform.

There was an unusual display of good dresses and not a little taste shown in the way of hair dressing and the accompanying ribbons, flowers, etc. It can be said that the class was the largest ever graduated from the High School. The ladies had the preference as the list of the graduating class will show, viz: Ethelyn Lydia Clark, Bessie Pfantstiel, Caroline Phoebe Purdy, Gertrude Hermia Strowenjans, William Rinck, Eva Antoinette Andersen, Jennie Adriana Borgman, Leonard Y. De Vries, Edith Temple Fairbanks, Ray Evard Nies, Mary Frances Souler, Simon Andrew Verwey, Isadora Cornelia Williams, Guy Maynard Wise.

The opening number of the evening was a "Song of Welcome" rendered by a class of school pupils under the direction of Miss May Kershner. Following came the program:

PROGRAMME.

Music—"Song of Welcome," A. J. Vrezie, Jr. School Chorus.
Salutatory and Recitation—"Four Centuries," Gertrude H. Strowenjans.
Essay—"Colonial Period," Ray E. Nies.
Recitation—"The Gray Champion," Hawthorne Jennie Adriana Borgman.
Music—"To Thee, O Country," Julius Elieberg School Chorus.
Declaration—"Against the Stamp Act," Pitt Simon Andrew Verwey.
Oration—"The Continental Congress," William Rinck.
Recitation—"Independence Bell," Anon Edith Temple Fairbanks.
Music—"Duet: 'L'Addio,'" Nicolai Misses Ullery and Kershner.
Recitation—"Tilman's Ride," Anon Eva Antoinette Andersen.
Oration—"Our National Period," Ethelyn Lydia Clark.
Essay—"Our Flags and Songs," Carolina Phoebe Purdy.
Music—"Morning Invitation," G. A. Vrezie, Jr. School Chorus.
Recitation—"Abraham Lincoln," Shirley Brooks in London Punch Isadora Cornelia Williams.
Essay—"National Holidays," Mary F. Souler.
Declaration—"Our Duties to the Republic," Judge Story Guy Maynard Wise.
Music—"Trio: 'Summer Fancies,'" Oliver Metra Misses Ullery, Mohr, and Warner.
Oration—"American Advancement," Bessie Pfantstiel.
Valedictory—"For Value Received we Promise to Pay," Leonard Y. De Vries.
Music—"Good Night," Henry Leslie School Chorus.

As the program will show there were a number of essays, orations, and declamations on the same topics, but the class as a whole made an excellent showing. Miss Strowenjans' salutatory and recitation gave good satisfaction. She was in good voice and showed careful articulation and gestures.

All on the program following received applause and seemed to please those present. The valedictory by Leonard Y. De Vries was especially good.

The usual custom of presenting bouquets and presents in the presence of the audience was dispensed with. Instead they were deposited on tables in the consistory room. There were many flowers and presents and they were placed on tables for the inspection of the friends and visiting public.

On Thursday night another large audience gathered in Hope church to listen to an interesting address to the graduating class by the Hon. Phil. T. Colgrove of Hastings. Mr. Colgrove is an eloquent speaker and captivated his audience. The News would like to publish his address in full but as it is we can only make some abstracts:

A great writer once said that curiosity was of two kinds, the noble and the ignoble, the base and the mean. There is the noble curiosity that sees the golden balls shine in the midnight heavens, there is the ignoble that would count the words and the very letters of the bible and which is ignoble because it is of no practical use and only a waste of time and faculty; and there is the base and mean curiosity that pries at keyholes to learn what was meant to be secret, and with wicked malignity enquires into the scandals of the neighborhood.

The noble curiosity that asks why and how, why is this? how is that? is the secret my young friends of all knowledge. Galileo saw the pendulum swinging he asked, "why is this?" "what keeps it swinging?" And he discovered the law of motion. Columbus' inquiring mind led him to ask, how is this? must there not be an undiscovered continent on the other side of the globe to balance this? America was his answer. Young Watt was curious when he saw the steam lifting the cover from the kettle and the properties of steam the locomotives were the result. So too through Franklin's curiosity, electricity was brought from the skies and became the nervous system of the world.

I have mentioned these familiar truths as I wish to preface my address with the thought that as you enter the untrodden paths you should not be afraid to ask why or how? because it is of honest enquiry, noble curiosity that you shall discover nature's secrets and perhaps undiscovered laws. These truths must not be lost sight of whether your future paths be along the dusty highway of the commoner, or your ambition leads you to climb the heights beneath the banner "with the strange device excelsior." I am not a prophet or gifted with prophetic vision, I cannot tell you where your lot will be cast, or what is in store for you in the future. My curiosity in this case can not be satisfied, all is hidden from you as it is from me—and wisely so. But although I can not foresee I have seen enough of life to know some of its difficulties. I know enough to tell you positively that it will not all be fair sailing beneath propitious skies.

I have hoped to-night to say some helpful words as you enter these untrodden paths that stretch far out before you.

I ever look upon a graduate "when the thrill of teachers is ended and the audacity, of self resolve, begun," but that I wonder what their ideals are and whether they have the slightest conception of the real, which lies before them. As a rule it matters little what those conceptions are, for I speak from experience, when I say, that the happy consciousness of their own powers leads to the conclusion, that the world is to be taken by storm.

It is strange but true, that when we have the least strength to combat the world, we have the largest amount of confidence in ourselves. We get the idea somehow or somehow that our mathematics will solve most of the complex problems of life and where they are deficient our logic comes to the rescue unties all knots, whether in politics or ethics.

It takes a good many "bumps" and "thumps" to disabuse our minds of this foolishness. "I know every rock on the coast," said an Irish pilot, when the ship bumped, "and that is one of them."

So the ordinary graduated Collegian sails along the current of public opinion, knowing every rock on the coast, yet is continually bumping on the shoals until he is forced to the conclusion, that he is but little wiser, than when he turned his back upon the old Academy, and that with the addition of a few Greek roots a smattering of Latin and some readiness of speech, he is almost as weak for breathing the strong current of life as when a boy.

Ideals! Every man and woman has them, and with boys and girls they are endless; no eye so blind, no brain so dull that they gather no food for life's purposes, or life's promise, and ideals are the children of both.

There is no such thing as a blank in the world of thought. Every action and emotion has its development growing and gaining on the soul; every affection has its tears and smiles not only making us what we are and will be, but shaping our ideals.

There is a charm in such a gathering as this that holds fast our thoughts to the rainbow fancy of our school days. We don't like to have our ideals called by such names, for at that particular period of our lives there is very little "sentiment" and a sweet "reality" in those blue eyes that pierce our souls, and those little feet walking every day into our affection.

A great writer says: "The Ideal is the universal. The ideal under all its forms is the anticipation and prophetic vision of that existence higher than his own towards which every being perpetually aspires."

We see this thought beautifully illustrated in the plant. Its ideal is the flower. Every process, every step of its growth, below and above the ground is a preparation for the time when it shall crown itself and complete its growth with golden or scarlet blossoms.

The plant aspires to that—labors for that end and having decked itself with glory dies satisfied. It has reached its ideal. The ideal of a child is manhood—to this end it ever grows in opening faculty and deepening power.

When manhood is reached and intellectual vigor matured, he too, if noble sees yet before him the vision of a higher manhood not attained, not seen as impossible but recognized as the perfected form of the completed circle, of which he sees at present only the arc.

If then the ideal is the perfect beyond which we cannot conceive of progress, life brought to its full fruition, perfect vigor, perfect proportions, then we see how the ideal, instead of being less true than the real is truer, for the ideal is the eternal element that alone which endures in all perishable things. Ideals are only visionary in the sense of being unrealized as yet, as being higher than the actual, and above the lower realm in which we live and move and have our being.

The plant is not willing to wither 'till it has flowered, the seed hidden in the furrows of the field is to climb up thro' blade and ear till the grain is yellowed and hardened under summer skies.

The youth ever sees before him the fair land of promise in the manhood he dreams of, but the man dies with his ideal of perfected maturity—not yet attained.

Men's ideals vary with their nature. They may be high or low, they may be within reach or far beyond it. They may be noble, they may be ignoble.

The ideal of a sculptor is imprisoned in the marble. He may reach it or not. The musician and the poet hear melodies not of earth, wandering tones that drop from higher spheres and they strive to give them utterance.

It is one of the sad thoughts that noble men with noble ideals seldom reach or realize them.

You may say as you reflect upon these thoughts, tonight they may be guides for some, and while I grasp and understand them my nature and life is such I can not live in such a realm—I try to look up but my vision is so narrow, I long for the goal to which such a life must lead but I am weak. How often the night of despair settles down upon us and we feel our littleness as compared with the intellectual giants about us. Let me tell you a sweet little story, full of hope.

In the ditch there grows the briar, scratching, tearing, a sign of the curse. It sighs within itself and says, ah me, I cannot think what I was made for, I have got no beauty and no worth, if I were only a bunch of violets on the bank there, I might gladden some heart—but a briar. If I were only as much use as the corn on the other side of the hedge, if I could only feed the hungry world—but what good can a briar do. If I were but the oak tree, whose branches come out so far, and whose leaves make such merry music with the breeze, and play with the sunshine and shade—then I could be some good. But only to be a briar.

So have our hearts cried within us, without love, faith, earnestness; without any promise or possibility of good—so unlike everybody else. Scratching and tearing, harsh and unkind, we wonder, it may be, what we are made for, but now here comes the gardener and digs up the briar by the roots and plants it in his garden. And the briar is almost ready to pity him. He doesn't know me says the briar, or he would not waste his time like this, he will never get any good out of me, a wretched briar covered with prickles. But the gardener laughs, if I can not get any good out of thee, maybe I can put some good into thee, we shall see. And he goes on his way. But the briar was sadder than ever. In the ditch it was bad enough, but here to be among such sweet and dainty flowers on every hand and still be only a briar, well there I knew I should never come to anything, so it bemoaned its worthlessness. One day the gardener came and made a little slit in the bark and put a tiny bud in it, and fastened it there

Wm. Brusse & Co.

The Leaders in First-Class Goods.

A few weeks only had passed and everybody gathered about the beauty of a rose, the size, the color, the fragrance of it all were perfect. See it is our poor friend the briar that grew in the ditch. There is the old appearance outside, but oh, the new unfolding. Your Father is the husbandman: ye shall receive; not by our power, not by what is within us, but by power received, and by what God puts within us, shall we become such living witnesses as shall make our fellow men behold and admire not us, but him who abides in us, and whose beauty shines forth as the rose in the briar stem.

My young friends take these thoughts to your heart, live them. If success flies from you, you will have no cause for self reproach. Fortune favors the brave and stands at the end of the path you travel, waiting to crown you with laurels of victory amid the acclamations of your fellows. "There's the marble, there's the chisel. Take them, work them to thy will, Thou alone must shape thy future, Heaven give thee strength and skill."

Woman—hood

has its own special medicine in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. And every woman who is "run-down" or overworked, every woman who suffers from any "female complaint" or weakness, needs just that remedy. With it, every disturbance, irregularity, and derangements can be permanently cured.

It's a invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and strengthening nerve, and the only medicine for women which—once used, is always in favor. In periodical pains, displacements, weak back, bearing-down sensations, and every kindred ailment, it is specific. Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure constipation, liver-ills, indigestion, dyspepsia, piles and headaches.

Electric Bitters

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed in the Spring, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic is left. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headaches, indigestion, constipation, Dizziness, yell to Electric Bitters. Only fifty cents per bottle at H. Walsh, Holland, A. DeKruif, Zeeland.

There is one medicine that will cure immediately. We refer to De Witt's Colic Cholera Cure for all Summer Complaints. No delay, no failure. LAWRENCE KRANER.

There is great danger in neglecting Colic, Cholera and summer complaints. An absolutely pure cure is found in De Witt's Colic Cholera Cure.

SUMMER VACATION. A DELIGHTFUL WAY TO SPEND IT.

The summer vacation outing is especially an American custom, and furnishes to thousands the one particular bright spot of all the year. How to spend one's vacation so as to bring the most satisfying returns, is often difficult to settle. A few places have come into great popularity. One of these is Bay View. It combines so much of the best, and so much has been written about it that with thousands it is the one great hope to something go there. To spend a summer at Bay View is said to be one event of a lifetime, and to go regularly is almost a liberal culture. The summer announcements this year are more attractive than ever, filling nearly sixty pages of the Bay View magazine. The Chicago & West Michigan and Detroit, Lansing & Northern Railroads, which go direct to Bay View, without change, have secured a quantity of the magazines and placed them in their ticket offices. Those planning a vacation are invited to call for copies. These lines make the usual low rates this year to Bay View. Summer tourists tickets are on sale all summer, but from July 8 to 17 inclusive, tickets will be sold at one fare rate, with return limit August 15. This covers the Assembly and Summer University period. Round trip rate from Holland will be $6.50.
