Debs lecture tonight.

Harry Witterdink has bought of H. Hidding a house and lot on South Columbia Ave.

The sum of $525 was realized from the mite box collection for the year by the M. E. church.

Local firemen VanderBie, Prins, Lieverse and Stansbury have returned from the convention at Lansing and report a fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Allen who manage the Tourist home at Saugatuck have moved their family there for the season.

Dr. G. J. Kollen attended the New Groningen school exercises Friday and was called upon to hand out the diplomas to the graduates.

Nick DeJonge of Jamestown paid a fine of $15 and costs in Justice Roosenraad's court at Zeeland Saturday for brutally beating Henry Bosch, jr., of Zutphen as the result of a fracas the young men had on the day previous at the gravel pit. This is the third time DeJonge appeared in court recently.

James Barrickman, whose right leg was badly injured the first of the month in an accident, received Tuesday a check for $35 from the U. S. Accident & Insurance company of Saginaw, through Local Agent Stall of the company. Mr. Barrickman was greatly pleased with the promptness of the company.

Grand Haven has the sporting fever as badly as Holland had it a couple of years ago and a project is under discussion with fair prospects that it will be a go for the establishment of a base ball and athletic park. Do not go into it too deeply Grand Haven, Holland went in over its head and it cost over one thousand dollars to get out.

John Grevengeod and family have moved to Grand Haven where Mr. Grevengeod is employed by the Eagle Tanning Co. It was Mr. Grevengeod's son who was shot and killed near Waverly last fall by Henry Walcott. Walcott, it will be remembered, was acquitted, but was obliged to leave Holland because of the intense sentiment against him. Now Mr. Grevengeod leaves the neighborhood of the tragedy.

Saturday the horse driven to the Holland Biscuit company's delivery wagon gave a remarkable exhibition of horse sense. The animal several years ago was driven to the horse wagon at No. 1 station and Saturday while standing in front of engine house No. 2 the gong sounded and the horse remembered the lesson it learned while in the fire department service and started down the street on a gallop. It was caught before any damage could be done.

Fruit orchards in this vicinity were damaged to the amount of many thousands of dollars by a severe windstorm Sunday night. The area covered by the storm reaches twelve miles south and embraces the richest fruit producing section of the southern part of the county. One half of the early cherry crop was swept away, the ground in the orchards being covered with fruit Monday morning. Pears, apples and plums were wiped from the trees, and what promised to be one of the best fruit years in the history of this section will bring forth not more than half a crop.

Rev. and Mrs. J. VanderMeulen and Miss Sara VanderMeulen returned home after two weeks absence. A very pleasant week was spent at Asbury Park, N. J., where the general Synod of the Reformed church was assembled. A visit was made to New York city and a boat ride up the Hudson River enjoyed. On the return journey the party stopped at Washington and spent some time in sight seeing. Thru the kindness of Hon. G. J. Diekema an introduction to President Roosevelt was secured. The President is a member of the Reformed church and sent his message of greeting to the general Synod while that body was in session.—Grand Haven Tribune.

Gerrit Heneveld has sold to Gerrit Ten Holt 20 acres of land near Luger's crossing for $1,800.

Henry J. VandenBerg of Zeeland and Adrian Neerken of Holland are now graduates from the U. of M.

A. B. Hunt received 10 days in VanDuren's court Saturday for being drunk.

Both fire companies were called out Monday night at 11 o'clock by a fire in a woodpile in the rear of the Boston Bakery. The blaze was extinguished before any great damage was done.

The Beach House at Harrington's Landing was opened Tuesday for the season by the proprietor, Erik Trodin. Landlord Trodin has also rented a part of the Chicago House.

An Ice cream social will be given at the G. A. R. Hall, Tuesday evening, June 27, at 8 o'clock by the Woman's Relief Corps. A short program will be given. Admission 10 cents.

The death of Gertrude Weening occurred last Monday at the home of her parents, 184 East Thirteenth street, at the age of seven years. The funeral was held Wednesday, burial taking place at East Saugatuck.

The suit of A. H. Brink vs. Gerrit Klinkenberg of Grand Rapids was decided in favor of the defendant in Justice VanDuren's court. Brink sued Klinkenberg for alleged shortage in the weight of lettuce bought from the Grand Rapids man, but the court held that there was no cause of action.

G. W. Morrow of Detroit conducted a meeting in the M. E. church Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Anti Saloon League. Mr. Morrow is working hard in behalf of the Hudson local opt on bill which will again be introduced during the next session of the legislature.

R. O. Chipman, who for the past four years has been connected with the tuning department of the Story & Clark Piano Co., of Grand Haven, has severed his connection with that factory and has moved to this city where he will embark in the piano tuning business for himself. He will make his head quarters at the music store of A. H. Meyers.

Henry Groenewoude who a short time ago resigned his position with the Holland Brick company, has leased one of Jacob Flieman's buildings on North River street and will soon open a store carrying a large stock of implements, wagons, buggies etc. Mr. Groenewoude is not new in the business as he was for seven years employed in H. De Kruijff's implement store. He has a wide acquaintance in Holland and Allegan counties and success is predicted for his business venture.

There is a movement on foot in Grand Haven looking toward the removal of all telephone and telegraph poles from the main street of the town. It is very likely that at the next meeting of the city council an ordinance will be enacted looking to that end. The council has in view the beautifying of the main street of the town and all poles will be placed in alleys, or wires will be laid under ground. In the near future it is the intention of the municipality to pave Washington street and these improvements are but preliminary to that work.

At a meeting of the board of public works last Monday evening Attorney Arend Visscher was re-elected president of the board for the ensuing year and the following resolution was adopted relative to making a daily meteorological survey: "Resolved, That the engineer in charge of the Holland water works pumping station be and hereby is instructed to make a daily evening meteorological observation and also make a record such as is known as a co-operative observer's record, doing the same under the general direction of the U. S. weather bureau office, at Grand Rapids, and that he transit duplicate monthly copies of such record to said weather bureau office, it being understood and agreed that the U. S. weather bureau at Grand Rapids, is to furnish all instrumental equipment, blanks, stationary, postage, etc., and everything necessary for carrying on this work, except the service of the observer and the place for location of the instruments and keeping of the records."

Capt. Wm. Bright is now captain of the Argo. He was formerly first mate on the steamer Puritan.

The house and lot on West Eleventh street owned by the John Lagastee estate has been sold to J. S. Holmes.

The steamer Holland of the Graham & Morton line ran aground on Point Superior in Macatawa Bay last Tuesday night and remained fast for half an hour.

Commencement exercises of the Grand Haven high school were held Wednesday evening in the Congregational church. Sixteen students received diplomas. The Rev. J. Herman Randall of Grand Rapids made the principal address.

William Andrews, a Grand Haven town character, was sentenced to the Detroit house of correction for ninety days for habitual drunkenness. Andrews is a nephew of the late Governor Andrews, Massachusetts' war governor.

Seth Nibbelink bought in Grand Rapids Tuesday a team of black Shetland ponies and a rubber tire pony carriage. The team was driven the greater part of the way to this city by Mr. Nibbelink's son Jakie, who, though but eleven years old is a clever driver.

Deputy Sheriff McEachron was in the city Friday to investigate the robbery of Peter Fabianos' fruit store, and learned that a stranger called on the night operator at Waverly early that morning and offered him tobacco, claiming he had a large amount that he wished to get rid of. The stranger took the 4 o'clock freight for Grand Rapids.

The teachers in the public schools at Saugatuck will be as follows the coming year: Prof. Latta, Principal; Miss Linie B. Haskell, of Olivet, teacher of language; Miss Sara Tisdale, Grammar Department; Miss Alice E. Nichols, of Saugatuck township, Intermediate Department; Miss Louise Lundgren, Primary Department; and Miss Bessie Newnam, the Ward School.

The Holland Improvement company has filed articles of association with county clerk Brown. The company is incorporated by fifty of the most prominent men in Holland and the new organization will purchase, hold, deal in and improve real estate in the city of Holland. Under this plan it is believed that Holland city will be greatly improved. The capital stock is placed at $1000 of which $500 is paid in. Of the 100 allotted shares, 50 have already been taken.

W. M. Rogers of Feniville sends the following fruit report to the Chicago Packer:—Apple prospects are a great deal better this year than last. Baldwins are loaded full, the best we have had for years. A great many of the other varieties are full. I have 200 bearing trees and think there are a number of thousand, enough for 500 cars in this vicinity. The principal varieties grown are Baldwins, Greenings, Spys and Russets, which ripen about October 1. All of my fruits show a full crop. Peaches in this locality promise a full crop. I think we will have about 500 cars to ship from this point.

East Saugatuck

Attendants of the Reformed church of East Saugatuck have long been aggravated by a number of young men who persist in creating disturbances at the meetings and warrants were issued for five on a charge of disturbing religious meetings. Deputy Sheriff Truax arrested the men and brought them before Justice Hicks last Wednesday. All pleaded guilty and each paid $5 fine and costs as follows: Mannes Bekken $7.75, Will Dykema $8, Benjamin Plascken $5.65, John Bowerman $9, and Frank Bowerman $9.60. These fellows have not been given the benefit of the county newspapers or they would have known what happens to young men who do not properly conduct themselves at church.—Allegan Gazette.

Drenthe

Again Drenthe will celebrate the glorious Fourth. Last year Drenthe held a big celebration and hundreds of people came from all sections of the country; but this year the celebration is to be on a scale far greater than a year ago, and will out-do any celebration ever held in Zeeland township. The young folks of that locality have taken hold of the matter with a vim which means nothing but success. All roads will lead to Drenthe on July 4th next as no celebrations are advertised in any of the surrounding towns. The full program has not yet been made out but extensive preparations are being made.

Several cases of measles are reported by the Health officer in this vicinity.

Simon Bos, highway commissioner, has let the contract for a two-foot cut on the hill near what is known as the Indian Creek school house. The job must be completed by August 15.

The class of 1905 includes the following: Josie Hartgerink, Hattie Sterken, Effie TenHave, Martha Van Liere, Herman Stegeman, Ray Ten Have.

The instructors are P. H. Benjamin and Miss Minnie Vanderploeg.

Pine Creek

As a fitting close to a faithful year of work at the Pine Creek Sunday School, its teachers were entertained in a splendid way by the family of John Leenhouts. The teachers with some friends gathered in their lovely woods Saturday afternoon and reveled in the joy that only youth and nature bring. Old games were played with new zest, and to these enjoyments were added the choicest of refreshments. After the dinner C. Muller acted as toastmaster and the following toasts were responded to: "The Leenhouts Family," B. M. Flikkema; "The Old College Days," C. Vander Schoor; "The Strenuous Life," A. J. Renkers; "The Pine Creek Teachers," D. Dykstra; "The Occasion," M. A. Stegeman; "The Ladies," S. Zandstra. Music and songs helped to enliven the occasion, and the happy hours will long be remembered. During the course of the afternoon the mission boxes were opened and it was found that since October 1904, the Sunday school collected for missions the sum of $23.00. The teaching force at present consists of C. Muller, Supt., M. A. Stegeman, A. J. Renkes, B. M. Flikkema, Z. Roetman, H. Renkers and Miss Maggie Leenhouts. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of the Leenhouts family last Saturday were the Misses Nellie Vermulen, Fanny Balgooyen, Reka Anderson, Minnie Vander Ploeg, Niel Steketee and Messrs. C. Muller, B. M. Flikkema, A. J. Renkes, M. A. Stegeman, C. Vander Schoor, D. Dykstra, S. Zandstra.

West Olive

The planting of the seeds on the plots of Volmer's farm have just been completed by L. T. Clark, from the State Agricultural College. This planting consisted of soya beans, cow peas, and vetches, in this connection, three kinds of fertilizer were used: purchase, complete, and iron, associated with these seeds, inoculated and uninoculated for the purpose of comparison. We greatly regret to say Mr. Clark will sever his connection with the Bacteriological department of the College and will become associated with the firm of Park, Davis & Co., of Detroit, to take place July next.

Resorters from Cincinnati, St. Louis, Chicago, and other places, are camping out on the beautiful hills of Port Sheldon. It is estimated that one hundred people were encamped and several of these parties are provided with colored cooks. It was noticed that several gasoline launches were moored within the harbor, which gave the resort quite a nautical appearance.

The Ladies Aid gave an ice cream social Saturday evening at the M. E. church, which was well attended and proved a grand success, both socially and financially.

Decide Yourself

The Opportunity is Here, Backed by Holland Testimony.

Don't take our word for it. Don't depend on a stranger's statement. Read Holland endorsement. Read the statements of Holland citizens. And decide for yourself. Here is one case of it:

John Kloosterman, two miles south east of Zeeland, says: "For ten or twelve years I looked in vain for some medicine to free me from distressing kidney complaints. I suffered at intervals during that period with aching pains through the loins, twinges up and down the muscles of my back, irregular and unnatural condition of the kidney secretions and frequent attacks of dizziness. My son, John Kloosterman, a tailor, 133 East Eighth street, Holland, noticed Doan's Kidney Pills advertised in the Holland papers and highly recommended by people who had used them. Thinking they might help me he secured a supply at J. O. Doesburg's drug store and sent them out to me. I noticed shortly after I commenced the treatment that it was doing me good and as I continued, my condition improved. In my estimation Doan's Kidney Pills are by far the best remedy on the market."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

PRESIDENT CHEERED IN MASSACHUSETTS

ROOSEVELT GOES TO CLARK COLLEGE EXERCISES AND IS WARMLY WELCOMED.

SENDS MESSAGE TO THE COLLEGE CREWS

Executive Wishes Harvard Good Luck, Not So Yale—Given Freedom of State—Compliments President Wright in His Address.

Worcester, Mass., June 21.—The president's train reached this city Wednesday three minutes ahead of the schedule. At the station the reception committee, headed by Lieut. Gov. Curtis Guild, Jr., representing the state. Mayor Blodgett, of the city, and ex-Congressman Joseph Walker, Stephen Salisbury and Congressman Rockwood Hoar, representing Clark college and university, boarded the president's car. Lieut. Gov. Guild formally presented the welcome of the commonwealth, and Mayor Blodgett that of the city of Worcester.

The station was thronged, as were the streets in the vicinity. The mist of the earlier hours had become a drizzle and the weather was raw and uncomfortable.

Cheers for the President. With the appearance of the president upon the car platform, the throng burst into a roar of cheers. Passage to the street was quickly made, the president bowing constantly to the acclaim of the crowds. Waiting outside the station to act as escort were company G, of the Ninth infantry, company A and company C and company H, of the Second infantry, a battalion of light artillery and the local post G. A. R. and Spanish War Veterans' camp. The line was formed at once, company A, Capt. Edwin G. Barrett, commanding, taking the head of the line, followed by details of members from the G. A. R. and the Spanish war veterans.

Telegrams to College Crews. Soon after passing Gales Ferry early Wednesday the president sent telegrams to the captains of the Harvard and Yale crews. The message to the Harvard crew was as follows:

"Captain Harvard Crew, Red Top, Conn.: I expected to pass through New London much earlier, or I should have been up to greet you. I wish I could see the race. Good luck to you.

"Theodore Roosevelt."

To the Yale crew the following dispatch was sent:

"Captain Yale crew, Gales Ferry, Conn.: I expected to pass through New London much earlier, or I should have been up to greet you. Hope you will not think I am an offensive partisan if, under these particular circumstances, I do not wish you good luck. I would at any other time, but Taft, I am sure, is praying for you.

"Theodore Roosevelt."

Compliments Wright. President Roosevelt spoke briefly at the chapel, addressing himself to "President Wright and President Hall, graduates of the university and college and men and women of Worcester." In part he said:

"I shall do little except by way of illustration of the admirable address to which we have just listened from Dr. Mable. What the speaker said applies thoroughly to two men because of whom I am here to-day. Senator Hoar, two years ago, induced me to promise to come here on this occasion to greet President Wright as the head of this college. Coming from such a man and for such another man, I could not refuse the request."

Turning to Dr. Mable, the president continued: "With Senator Hoar was realized, Mr. Mable, your picture of the public servant." Addressing President Wright, Mr. Roosevelt said: "I cannot speak of you as I would like to speak to-day, and, as I hope you may live a long time yet, it may be a long time before I shall be able to say what I would like to say.

"He gave to the country," the president resumed, turning again to the audience and referring to President Wright, "the kind of service no money possibly could buy. It was not merely what he did at the head of his department, but it was the way in which he did it and the influence which he exerted, which made him so valuable to the country."

At Rose college the president spoke, and, after hearty handshakes with the graduates, he took luncheon at the home of Representative Hoar. Later he left Williams college.

Hoch Granted Respite.

Springfield, Ill., June 21.—Johann Hoch, the convicted wife murderer and multi-burglarist, will be relieved for one week, and possibly longer. It was announced authoritatively Wednesday afternoon that the governor intended to take such action in order to permit carrying the case before the supreme court.

Cloudburst Brings Havoc.

Towanda, Pa., June 21.—An electrical storm which developed into a cloudburst struck Troy borough Tuesday night. The business section was flooded, several bridges were carried away, Oliver's furniture warehouse was wrecked and goods carried down the swollen streams. Two lumber yards were almost entirely destroyed.

Truths that Strike Home

Your grocer is honest and—if he cares to do so—can tell you that he knows very little about the bulk coffee he sells you. How can he know, where it originally came from, how it was blended—or with what—or when roasted? If you buy your coffee loose by the pound, how can you expect purity and uniform quality?

LION COFFEE, the LEADER OF ALL PACKAGE COFFEES, is of necessity uniform in quality, strength and flavor. For OVER A QUARTER OF A CENTURY, LION COFFEE has been the standard coffee in millions of homes.

LION COFFEE is carefully packed at our factories, and until opened in your home, has no chance of being adulterated, or of coming in contact with dust, dirt, germs, or unclean hands.

In each package of LION COFFEE you get one full pound of Pure Coffee. Insist upon getting the genuine. (Lion head on every package.)

JAPS NOT EAGER FOR ARMISTICE

PREFER TO CHANCE ADMINISTERING FRESH DEFEAT TO RUSSIAN LAND FORCES.

Desire to Take Advantage of Present Opportunity—Only Hope of Cessation of Hostilities Apparently Rests in Roosevelt.

St. Petersburg, June 21.—The only hope for an armistice pending the meeting of the peace plenipotentiaries seems to rest with President Roosevelt, and even that is considered slender. So far as known, the president has not taken a positive step in this direction. The impression here continues strong that Japan only with great reluctance could be induced to forego the advantages of her strategic position, which, despite the tone of the official advice from the front is regarded as being altogether favorable to Field Marshal Oyama, and agree to a suspension of hostilities for at least six weeks, during which time thousands of reinforcements would reach Gen. Linévitch, and Vladivostok would be strengthened with munitions and supplies to withstand a siege. Indeed, it is suggested that Japan deliberately planned to postpone the meeting long enough to give Oyama a chance to administer to the Russians a fresh defeat on land, in order to rob the war party in Russia of their last card, and facilitate acquiescence to her terms. Considering the situation, therefore, President Roosevelt's triumph would be all the greater, if he could now succeed in crowning his work by an agreement which would at least prevent another bloody battle pending the showing of hands at Washington.

Hitch Is Averted.

St. Petersburg, June 19.—Russia has finally and definitely accepted Washington as the meeting place of the Russian and Japanese plenipotentiaries, the foreign office having waived its request for reconsideration at the personal direction of the emperor, whose desire to give the fullest and fairest opportunity to President Roosevelt's proposal for a peace conference is hereby manifested. After a conference with Ambassador Meyer, Count Lamsdorff, the foreign minister, went to Peterhof, and laid the matter before the emperor, who, on learning that insistence on The Hague might endanger the negotiations, directed Count Lamsdorff to inform Ambassador Meyer that Russia would accept Washington. The result is looked upon as a decided triumph for American diplomacy. In certain quarters here envy and jealousy of the United States are ill concealed. The entire collapse of the negotiations was predicted Saturday, and there was almost open exultation at what was declared to be a "rebuff to Roosevelt." Even in peace circles gloomy faces were drawn at the report that Russia would insist upon The Hague, but thanks to the personal attitude of the emperor and to the well put representations of Ambassador Meyer, the threatened diplomatic mountain has decreased to a mole hill over which negotiations can now proceed rapidly.

War Party Still Against Peace.

St. Petersburg, June 20.—The war party has by no means surrendered. On the contrary, backed by the military element it is making a concerted effort to dissuade the emperor from concluding peace.

May Convene in August.

Washington, June 20.—While Minister Takahira was at the white house Monday afternoon he informed the president that the Japanese plenipotentiaries would be able to reach Washington the first part of August. The selection of the plenipotentiaries has not yet been announced, the Marquis Ito not having given his answer. If this date is acceptable to Russia it is expected the conference will convene about that time.

Russia Agrees to August 1.

St. Petersburg, June 21.—Russia, it is learned, finds no objection to August 1, as suggested by Japan, for the date of the meeting of the plenipotentiaries, and instructions will be sent to Ambassador Cassini to accept it.

Veteran Dies.

Washington, June 19.—Gen. Arthur L. Wagner, U. S. A., died suddenly at Asheville, N. C., Saturday of tuberculosis, contracted while in service in the Philippines. Gen. Wagner had just been advanced from colonel, his commission having been signed a few hours before his death. He was born in Illinois in 1853.

Advocate War.

London, June 20.—The correspondent of the Standard at Stockholm says that the Swedish conservative papers now openly advocate war. They urge mobilization of the troops and demand the session of northern Norway as compensation to the Swedish people for the dissolution of the union.

Hanged for Wife Murder.

Peoria, Ill., June 17.—Otis Botts, 21 years old, was executed in the county jail here Friday for the murder of his girl wife on January 5 last. When he faced the crowd the air of bravado, which has marked his career to this time, deserted him and he broke down and wept.

Anniversary of Bunker Hill.

Boston, June 19.—Practically all the business activities of Greater Boston were suspended Saturday in observance of the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill. The patriotic celebration centered as usual in Charlestown, the scene of the famous fight.

RECORDS BROKEN.

Twentieth Century Limited Makes Run from Chicago to New York in 15 Hours, 48 Minutes.

New York, June 20.—The twentieth century limited, the Lake Shore and New York Central whirlwind, maintained its record as the fastest long-distance train in the world by running into the Grand Central station in New York at 9:26 Monday morning, four minutes ahead of its scheduled time of 9:30. The run was a record breaker in actual running time, the 961 miles having been covered in 15 hours and 48 minutes' actual running.

Chicago, June 20.—The westward limited from New York to Chicago reached the La Salle street station at 8:25 Monday morning, having made the 961 miles in 17 hours 56 minutes. No effort was made for time spurts on the latter train. In the words of the engineer, it had to "loaf" to keep from running ahead of its schedule. Officials of the road declare that a 16-hour schedule can be maintained between the two cities almost as easily as the new 18-hour one.

Washington, June 21.—The expedition of the mails as the result of the operation of the new fast trains has enabled the post office department to expedite very materially the dispatch and delivery of mail from points in New England, New York city, Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Baltimore and Washington for Chicago and nearly all points in the west and southwest. Under the new arrangements, commercial paper deposited in the post office at New York in time to catch the fast trains leaving at 3:30 and 4 p. m. will be in Chicago the next morning in time to pass through the clearing house. Mails are delivered in St. Paul, Omaha and all points beyond 12 hours in advance of their former arrival at those points. This means, where the arrival is in the morning, a gain of one business day.

MODERN WOODMEN MEET

Head Camp Begins Sessions in Milwaukee—Fight Over the Liquor Question.

Milwaukee, June 21.—The head camp of Modern Woodmen of America opened its fourteenth biennial convention at the Davidson theater Tuesday with between 600 and 700 delegates representing over 11,000 camps and nearly 700,000 members present.

The expected fight over the liquor question, due to a desire of the law committee to have admitted to membership any desirable candidate now barred from adoption if he be associated even remotely with the liquor traffic, began early, grew bitter, and promises to absorb a large part of the convention's time, with the result that the inhibition is likely to be sustained.

A resolution offered by Alfred C. Crozier, of Delaware, providing for great fraternal insurance educational mass meetings in Madison Square garden, New York, and other eastern cities, was unanimously indorsed by the committee on resolutions.

DISGRACE AFTER DEATH.

Recently Deceased Philadelphia Financier Had Committed Forgeries in Enormous Sum.

Philadelphia, June 21.—One of the most sensational cases of forgery that has ever been brought to light in financial circles of this city, was disclosed Tuesday when it was announced that certificates calling for small shares of stock had been fraudulently raised to hundreds of shares, causing a loss to certain banks and trust companies of this city, of from $750,000 to $1,000,000. The forgery involves the name of Benjamin H. Gaskill, who went to his grave four weeks ago. Gaskill was the sole member of the banking and brokerage concern known as Benjamin H. Gaskill & Co. He had offices in the financial district, and his credit was considered gilt-edged.

KILLS CHILDREN AND SELF

Mother Ends Lives of Four Little Ones and Commits Suicide with Knife.

Dubuque, Ia., June 17.—Mrs. Paul Klass has killed her four small children and then committed suicide at her home near Kieler, Wis., eight miles east of Dubuque. The woman used a large butcher knife, cutting each of the children's throats. The eldest child was six and the youngest a baby. The woman had been in ill health.

Pope Gives Advice.

Rome, June 20.—The pope has issued an encyclical encouraging Catholics to participate in public affairs. While seeking the advice of the ecclesiastical authorities, the encyclical says, Catholics should retain complete liberty of action regarding their temporal interests. The encyclical has created a sensation. Its object is to induce Catholics to enter public life, so that they may be a force against the threat of socialism.

Died in Prison.

Waupun, Wis., June 20.—William Bernstein, a noted crook who was sentenced to a long term for robbing the Milwaukee Bag company of $1,200, is dead from appendicitis in the federal prison here. Bernstein was well known to the police authorities of many big cities.

Killed by Lightning.

Kalamazoo, Mich., June 20.—Lightning early Monday struck a wagon in which employees of a circus were sleeping at Augusta, killing Advance Agent W. J. Currier, of Flint, Mich., and injuring five other men. All of the injured were badly shocked, but will recover.

A LITTLE PINK SHOE.

Only a little pink baby shoe. That is stained and wrinkled and torn. With a tiny hole where the little pink toe peeped out in the days that are gone.

The little pink toe was the "big little pig" That to market so often would go. And over and over that legend was told As I kissed the little pink toe.

"Piggle some more," her red lips would lip. And the story and kiss were given Again and again so happy were we In motherhood's foretaste of Heaven.

But there came a night, with desolate blight. When death bore my idol away And no little toe ever peeps from the shoe. To be kissed in the same old way.

But my tears have deluged the little pink shoe. And stained it a deeper stain; And I long for the touch that would chill me in death.

If it gave me my darling again.

So, when I am dead, lay the little pink shoe Near my heart that is silent and cold, And perhaps up above, in the sunlight of love, I shall kiss the pink toe as of old.

KATE THYSON MARR.

A TROLLEY CAR ROMANCE

By FRANK M. BICKNELL

(Copyright, 1900, by W. G. Chapman.)

THE long distance open trolley car pulled up at the junction, and there was a fierce scramble for seats. Eustace arrived breathless and panting, just in time to secure the last vacant one. Not until the car had started on again did he turn to look fairly at his seat mate on the left; then he found himself gazing into a very handsome, but flushed and resentful face. His own color rose suddenly.

"I—I didn't notice," he stammered, apologetically; "I really did not. I thought you were in Chicago."

"And I thought you were in St. Louis," she retorted, with an injured air.

"I left yesterday; I felt that I needed a—some—well, a short vacation," he made out to explain.

"Ah!" she said, lifting her chin a trifle and using a tone that was distinctly meant to show him how utterly indifferent his affairs had become to her. Then, with a decided movement, she turned from him and gazed straight ahead.

A second flood surged painfully into his cheeks, but he set his lips and gazed forward, too. When the conductor came for their fares Eustace handed him a dime, which he pocketed, ringing in for two.

"Here!" called the lady sharply, but the conductor passed on without noticing the nickel she had extended. Her face blazed. "If you did that purposely," she said to Eustace, "you were—"

"But I didn't," he quickly protested; "I had nothing smaller."

"Then take this," and she tried to force the coin into his hand.

"Is it necessary?" he asked, drawing away.

"Of course; why should I allow a stranger to pay my fare?" she demanded haughtily.

"Oh, very well, if I am that—" he said, looking deeply hurt, and yielded to her will.

They were in the open country now, and the car was rushing over a private right-of-way through green, flower-bedecked fields.

"See the pretty daisies!" cried a child in the seat behind Eustace.

He was glancing at them mechanically and listlessly when his companion uttered a dismayed ejaculation. A puff of the fresh westerly wind against which the car was speeding had torn off her hat, and it was rapidly being left behind. The conductor had seen the mishap, however, and promptly rang the bell. The air-brakes were applied and the big vehicle slid to a standstill.

"I'll run back for it," said Eustace to the conductor, and the latter was entirely willing to let him do so.

The hat was lying in the grass some yards from the road bed. He picked it up, clutched a handful of daisies, and hurried back. He boarded the car quite out of breath, and was obliged to press his hand to his side as he gave her the hat. She took it without a word at first, but after she had fastened it in place she said:

"You should have let the conductor go. You're nearly exhausted. You know the doctor warned you against too violent exertion. This is the second time to-day you've been imprudent—to my knowledge."

She spoke with severe reproof, yet the hardness of her tone seemed to cover the presence of a feeling which she would have been most unwilling that he should suspect.

"I don't believe I shall die of it this time," he returned with affected carelessness, "however much of a relief my death might be to—"

"Stop!" she interrupted sharply. "Do you think you needed to say that? It seems to me it was in the worst possible taste."

"Well, I didn't say it, so there's no harm done," he remarked, a trifle sullenly.

For some time they rode on in silence. By and by he offered a hesitating comment upon an unusually picturesque bit of scenery, but she disdained making any response. She would not even look at him now. The car arrived in a small town and stopped several times. After one of these stops he said stiffly:

"A man has just got off and left a vacant place back there; I can take it if you wish to get rid of me."

"Very well," she answered coolly;

"It certainly will be more comfortable here with only four on the seat."

He had hoped she would not accede to his proposal quite so readily, but now he was fairly forced to carry it out. He stepped down to the running board and retired to the unoccupied seat, an inside one so far in the rear that he could no longer see her at all. After he was settled he remembered that he had left the bunch of daisies he had so hastily plucked with the half-formed idea of offering them to her. Would she, on discovering them at her side, hurl the poor little flowers scornfully away?

The railway was for the most part single-tracked. At one of the occasional sidings the car halted. After a few minutes' wait the conductor went forward, and the passengers on the front benches heard portions of a colloquy between him and the driver.

"We're near an hour late now," grumbled the conductor, "and I want my dinner sometime to-day."

"Same here," said the driver; "I guess we might'st we'll chance it."

The conductor returned to his own platform and rang the bell. The car resumed its journey, but its speed soon increased beyond anything that had been shown hitherto. Some of the passengers were beginning to look uneasy when, from around a curve not far ahead, there came another car. That, too, was behind time, and both were traveling at a perilous speed. The drivers reversed and put on the brakes, but they were too late to prevent the inevitable crash.

It was a bad wreck. Eustace, being at the rear, was among the lucky ones who escaped anything worse than a severe shaking up. Yet for a few moments his agony of mind was intense. Almost immediately he sprang down and ran to where a woman lay motionless near the track. Her eyes were closed and her face wore the pallor of death. In one hand she held tightly clutched a bunch of daisies.

"OH, MARGERY, OH, MY LOVE!" HE MOANED.

"Oh, Margery; oh, my love!" he moaned, kneeling at her side with a despairing look.

The eyelids fluttered and a spasm of pain contracted the lips. "I jumped," she gasped, "the instant before—and either broke or—sprained my ankle. It hurts me—frantically."

"Thank God you're not killed!" he cried; "I thought at first you were."

"Did you—care—so much as that?" she asked, and then fainted.

He took her in his arms and carried her away from the debris and confusion for some distance into the field. With his light overcoat rolled as a pillow for her head he laid her in the tall grass, and very gently began to examine the hurt ankle. It was not broken, but had got a bad wrench. He found water near by and removing the shoe and stocking, bathed the injured member and finally bandaged it with his handkerchief. Meanwhile she had regained consciousness. Sitting down, he readjusted the overcoat and took her head in his lap. For some moments he had been stroking her brow gently when he noticed that tears were beginning to steal from beneath her closed eyelids. He bent over her tenderly.

"Does it still hurt you as much as ever?" he asked.

She opened her eyes and, struggling with a sob, replied: "It isn't that; I—oh, Jack, I've been—so wretched these five months past!"

"Not more so than I, Marjie," he returned with deep sincerity; "I haven't known a happy moment since we—our—since that day."

"I have almost written to you a dozen times," she confessed. "Once I did write, and then tore up the letter. I wanted to tell you, only I was too stubborn; it was all my fault—our falling out. My temper is something abominable; but I've had a lesson, and—"

"No, no," he protested; "I was wholly to blame. When I get into one of my sulky fits I'm worse than a beast. But I've sworn off from them; I really have, Marjie."

"Well, it was a foolish, unnecessary quarrel, anyway."

"But it has come to an end, dear—"

"She lifted the crushed handful of daisies in an attempt to hide the color that was rushing back into her cheeks."

"Yes," she whispered.

He bent low to catch the word. Gently he put the flowers aside, then bent lower still. Their lips met in a long kiss of reconciliation.

"My own wife—once more!" he murmured.

PHILIP PHELPS, JR., Principal

Through the courtesy of Mrs. H. Van Lente, of this city The News is enabled to print the above program of the initial days of Hope College. Many who took part in that program in 1863 were here this week and some of them took important parts in this week's commencement exercises. To them and others informed upon the history of Hope, this relic of early days will prove interesting.

Commencement Week At Hope College

As the years go by larger and larger becomes the scope and influence of Hope college and more and more does the interest of the community in the institution increase. This week the commencement exercises of the college were the dominant features of the happenings in the city. From all parts friends of the institution gathered to join with the faculty, the citizens and the friends here in the exercises incident to commencement week.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON

The first event of importance to the senior class was the baccalaureate sermon which was preached in Hope church last Sunday evening by Daniel H. Martin, D. D. As the speaker entered the church accompanied by Dr. Kollen he was preceded by Hope church choir who sang a hymn as they marched to the platform, next followed the faculty of Hope college and the senior class who were ushered to seats in the fore part of the church. Rev. J. W. Beardslee opened the exercises with prayer after which Miss Estelle Kollen sang a solo very pleasingly. Dr. G. J. Kollen then introduced the speaker in his earnest, forcible, style and as the noted divine proceeded with his address the immense audience was roused to a high point of interest. The following is what Rev. Martin said in part:

"You have now received an education; like Paul you have acquired power, but also like Paul you have become a debtor. You are still to do your hardest work, still to learn your hardest lessons. Knowledge alone will not make a man, but it is knowledge applied in practical ways that makes the real man. Nature plus nurture equals man, and wisdom is greater than knowledge.

"The first duty of a graduate is to find his work. The choice of a task with the determination to do it with all your might is the task half accomplished. In all society there are only two classes of people, the drivers and the drifters. There is many a college graduate among the drifters. The drivers are the kings of industry, the men of power, the men of determination and they are often the men that have had little opportunity of education. The drifters are those that allow themselves to be borne along, and often downward than upward. There is no such thing as luck, all progress lies in pluck.

"And when you have found your work put yourself into it with your whole soul. Be ready to meet disappointment and discouragement, but be strong enough to overcome them. Do your work faithfully and sincerely no matter what people say. Do not work merely for success. Sincerity is better than success. No matter if your name does not get into the papers your work will be just as great even if it is below the surface. Good work reflects upon the worker. A good picture will make the painter better. Sincere and honest work will make a man sincere and honest.

"Character is made up of three qualities, veracity honesty and sincerity. Veracity is character expressed in speech, honesty in actions, sincerity in life and thought. It is a blessing that everybody is not a talented man. There would be no variety and life would become stale and flat. The question for each man, be his talents many or few, is 'Am I using them?' The one-talented men often do the best work in the world.

"Another question for the graduate is 'What is my purpose, to make a living or to make a life?' The reason for money is often the only aim in life. In the olden time there was a golden age, now there is an age of gold. Do not despise money; money is power, and can do many things, it is human omnipotence. But let money be your servant, not your lord. You should most strongly condemn the spirit of avarice. But the poor man may be as selfish as the rich man. Some rich men have been enabled to do great things by means of their wealth. John Ruskin was wealthy but he turned his wealth into comforts for the poor, and into blessings for humanity. Giving your entire thought to the mere accumulation of wealth is starving your soul and mind. At the end of life you will sit alone on your pile. You may buy libraries and pictures but you cannot buy a taste for reading and enjoyment of art. While acquiring money you must cultivate the intellectual and the moral nature.

In conclusion he said that education had put the members of the class on a higher plane. But they must not look down haughtily upon humanity, but try to lift them up. They must not stand aside but must identify themselves with the activities of life. He spoke with scathing sarcasm of the "man with the withered hand," the college graduate who is not man enough to do a man's work in the world, who says "I cannot," whenever a task is required of him. He laid stress on the power exerted by a man's personality. Personality will speak whether you want it to or not. It is a mighty power in whatever station of life you are.

The music of the evening was very fine, so much so that Dr. Martin said after the sermon that he had not heard such music anywhere in the east.

ULFILAS CLUB

There is one club in Hope that has a mission to perform that is dear to the hearts of all who love Dutch language and Dutch history. This is the Ulfilas club. It was formed for the purpose of keeping alive in the breast of every Hollander who loves the language of the mother country an interest and an enthusiasm in the cultivation and the perpetuation of the language and literature of the Dutch people. And this club of Hope has been singularly successful in its mission. It has aroused a love and an enthusiasm in the object sought and as each year goes by there is a noticeable increase in the attention paid to the meetings of the club. This year Tuesday evening was devoted to the club exercises and an audience that taxed the accommodations of the chapel gathered to listen to a program that was edifying, instructive and entertaining. The program follows:

SENIOR CLASS EXERCISES

Those who attended the commencement exercises of the senior class Wednesday evening were privileged to hear the best commencement exercises in the recent history of the college. Dr. G. J. Kollen, the president, was chairman. The class, the faculty, and the council entered to the "War March Of The Priests." Mendelsson, played by Willard Parker Van der Laan. Rev. Gebhard, of New York, made the invocation and after a violin solo by Dr. O. Wilfred Gaskell the first oration was delivered by Dirk Muyskens. His theme was "The Decline Of Sectionalism" and with fine oratorical effect he pointed out the causes of differences between the East and the West, the North and the South, told of the healing of the breaches between the different sections and closed with an eloquent portrayal of the progress being made to a higher and more enduring unity.

Miss Margie Keppel spoke on "Maud Ballington Booth" paying particular attention to the great work that the "Little Mother" is doing for those who are confined in the New York prisons. The story of devotion to duty and of self sacrifice was well told by Miss Keppel. Mr. Van der Laan sang a baritone solo, "The Voice Of God's Creation." He was followed by Gerrit J. Pennings, who in an oration entitled "The Problem Of the City Poor," told of the wretched tenement conditions in the great cities and of the noble work being done by self sacrificing and charitably inclined for the amelioration of these conditions.

"The Age Of Industry" was the title of Jacob Pelgrim's oration. The thought and the development of the theme was exceptionally good, but the delivery was better. Not many times has a person the opportunity to see a better example of eloquence than that given by Mr. Pelgrim. In voice, gesture and facial expression he showed the ability that marks a true orator.

Upon Abraham Muste devolved the honor of delivering the valedictory and it was done with all the tact, grace, and eloquence of which Mr. Muste is a consummate master. No happier choice of a valedictorian could be made.

Dr. Gaskell was given an enthusiastic encore after his violin solo Mazurka by Wieniawski but did not respond owing to the length of the program.

Dr. Kollen made the formal presentation of certificates conferred degrees and awarded prizes. In the course of his remarks to the A class he said:

"We congratulate you. But in your educational course remember that this is a foothill. There are greater heights to climb. Therefore let the hopeful present be an inspiration to scale still loftier peaks. What you see now is but a part. Let it be your ambition to get a wider view."

To the members of the senior class Dr. Kollen said in part:

"Commencement is a great event to you. You are picked men 1 out of 120, that brings with it opportunity and obligation. Today you are a power, tomorrow a force. Tonight in your lives and experience the creek opens out into the wide river. How will you preserve identity. Service—Greatest he that serves best. Be interested in causes and men to such an extent that you forget yourselves. Be imbued with the Spirit of John the Baptist."

Following is the list of those who were graduated:

Jacob Pelgrim, Holland
Gerrit Bosch, Sioux Center, Iowa
Christian A. Broek, South Holland, Illinois
Margie Keppel, Zeeland, Michigan
Elmer Francis McCarty, Holland
Abraham J. Muste, Grand Rapids, Michigan
Dirk Muyskens, Orange City, Iowa
Gerrit J. Pennings, Orange City, Iowa
Zwier Roetman, Orange City, Iowa
William Rottschaefer, Holland
Martin C. Ruisaard, De Motte, Indiana
Don C. Taylor, Holland
Willard Parker Van der Laan, Muskegon
Cornelius Van der Schoor, Grand Rapids.

The Michigan State Teacher's Diploma was granted to the following members of the class of 1905: Margie Keppel, Elmer Francis McCarty, Dirk H. Muyskens, Jacob Pelgrim, Gerrit J. Pennings, Zwier Roetman, William Rottschaefer, Don C. Taylor, Willard Parker Van der Laan.

Besides their diplomas each member of the graduating class was presented with a handsome Bible by Gerard Beekman of New York City.

Honorary degrees were then conferred, Dr. Kollen reading the reasons as follows:

"For long continued and most successful work as an eloquent preacher and a faithful pastor in many of the largest congregations in the Reformed church of the West, for splendid ability as a student of theological problems, and a ready and most acceptable writer, the degree of D. D., was conferred upon the Rev. Wm. Moerdyk of Zeeland."

"For a long life of energetic service to the Reformed church at large, for proficiency in theological attainment, and especially for unselfish and efficient effort in the interest of our educational institutions during the past ten years the degree of D. D. was conferred upon the Rev. Jas. F. Zwemer of Holland, Mich."

Prizes for the year 1905 were then awarded as follows:

The "George Birkhoff, Jr. Prize" for the best Essay in Dutch. Subject: "De Familie Stastok." There were four contestants. The three judges were Dr. N. M. Steffens, Mr. Wm. O. VanEyck and Rev. S. Van der Werf. The winner's nom de plume was "Terschelling." The real name—Dirk H. Muyskens. $25.00.

The George Birkhoff, Jr. English Literature Prize for this year had three contestants. The judges were Rev. J. A. DeSpelder, Prof. Thos. Wm. Nadal of Olivet college, Mich., Rev. Reuben H. Hartley of Grand Rapids, Mich. The winner's nom de plume was "Dreamer." The real name—Andrew Judson Kolyn. $25.00.

"The Henry Bosch Prize" for the best examination in English Grammar and Orthography. There were six contestants. The judges were Miss Becker, Com. of Oceana Co., Mr. Kelly, Com. of Ottawa Co., Mr. Sprague, Co. Examiner for Allegan Co. The first prize—$15.00 was won by Henry V. E. Stegeman of the "C" class. The second prize—$10.00 was won by Eva H. Fortuine of the "C" class.

The "Mrs. Sam Sloan Foreign Mission Prize." Subject for this year: "Young People and Missions." The judges were Dr. J. W. Beardslee, Rev. E. J. Blekkink, Mrs. Jas. G. Sutphen. The prize was won by Miss Nettie R. DeJong of the Junior class. $25.00.

ATTORNEY VISSCHER BANQUETS ALUMNI

Among the delightful occurrences of the week was a banquet given the college alumni last Tuesday afternoon. The banquet was held on the third floor of VanRaalte Memorial Hall and was an elaborate affair. Dr. J. J. Mergen was chairman and appointed Prof. John M. VanderMeulen toastmaster. Toasts were responded to as follows:
Rev. Matthew Kolyn, of Grand Rapids, A Retrospect
Dirk Muyskens, of the senior class, The Class of '05
Hon. Mr. Raven, of New York City, Circumspicia
Prof. John N. VanderVries, Kansas University, The Small College
Dr. Henry E. Dosker, Louisville, Prospiera
Hon. G. J. Diekema, The True Blue
Dr. D. H. Martin, Newark, N. J. The Ladies
A vocal solo was rendered by Miss Mina Coggeshall.

MELPHONE SOCIETY

The Melphonians were the first in the field in the holding of exercises incident to commencement time. The society held its final meeting of the school year last Friday night and the program and its rendition was a decided hit.

After the invocation by Prof. J. W. Beardslee, jr., A. J. Van Houting, president of the society, made a short address and a literary and musical program was carried out by Miss Lahuis, Miss Huizenga, Miss Mina Coggeshall, Peter Vermeulen, James Verborg, John Wickers, Andrew Vos, Henry DeKruif, A. C. VerHulst, Milton Hoffman, and H. F. Veemaker.

CHORAL UNION ENTERTAINMENT

Bright among the week's happenings stands the entertainment given Tuesday night by the Choral Union. Past experiences had taught the people of Holland and the friends of Hope that the Choral Union entertainments are of a high order and this fact drew a large crowd to the chapel. To say that this audience was highly delighted is putting it mildly, for the entertainment far outshone any of previous years. The oratorio of Mendelssohn, "Elijah" was presented admirably, the solo and chorus work being on a grand scale. Many compliments are heard for Prof. J. B. Nykerk under whose direction the recital was conducted. It was the Choral Union's greatest undertaking and the magnificent success scored is a tribute to Holland's musical colony. Prof. Nykerk was fortunate in securing the services of some of the most famed soloists in the state, among them being Mr. Clarence Pease, baritone; Mrs. G. W. Van Verst, soprano; Mr. John Duffy, tenor; Miss Margaret Muford, alto; and Master Albert Simmons DeGolia, boy soprano.

The following took part in the oratorio: Misses Estelle Kollen, Matilda DeFeyer, Jennie Veneklasen, Alyda DePree, Hannah Hoekje, Mae Brusse, Ada Labuis, Hilda Stegeman, Cathrine Pessink, Anna Takken, Lillian Winter, Mina Coggeshall, Iva Stanton, Anna Scheulke, Olive Barnaby, Anna Huizinga, Gladys Williams, Mary Lokker, Grace Browning, Florence Taylor, Margaret Walsh, Rose Brusse, Maggie Beckman, Minnie Vanderploeg, Ethel VandenBerg, Avis Yates, Martha DeJong, Hazel Wing, Jennie Pikaart, Lucile Stokette, Anna and Francis Weurding, Isabel Steffens, Mrs. Van Ark, Messrs. Richard d'Zeeuw, Anno Dykema, Henry DeKruif, Anthony Luidens, James Veneklasen, Bert Naberhuis, Christian Broek, Judson Kolyn, James Dykema, Cornelius Muller, James Weurding, James Ver Burg, George DeKruif, John Plasman.

The Minerva society of Hope college enjoyed a launch ride and later a luncheon in the grove at Waukazoo last Friday.

Miss Lizzie Kleaver entertained the "Kaffee Klatsch" last Friday afternoon at her home, West Twelfth street, and refreshments were served.

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. P. Van den Tak to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Anna, to Rev. John Wessink, at high noon Tuesday, June 27. Mr. Wessink is pastor of the New Holland Reformed church.

A charming reception was given Wednesday evening by Mrs. E. A. Kanters in honor of Prof. and Mrs. John M. Van der Meulen, who were married last week at Zeeland. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Kanters, Prof. and Mrs. VanderMeulen, Mrs. D. Vander Veen of Grand Rapids, Rev. John Vander Meulen of Milwaukee, Cornelius Van der Meulen, Mr. and Mrs. B. Vander Ploeg of Chicago, the Misses Jennie R. Kanters and Lena DePree. The bride was given cordial welcome to local social circles in which Mr. VanderMeulen has long been popular. The guests were served with light refreshments.

Quiet June Wedding

The marriage of Miss Sarah Borgman and William Kremers was solemnized last Tuesday about the noon hour. The wedding was a very quiet but pretty affair being witnessed only by immediate relatives. Rev. J. T. Bergen performed the ceremony. The bride was attired in a dainty traveling gown and carried bride roses. She was unattended. The decorations were beauty roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Kremers left at once for a trip to the east, including visits to New York City, Washington and Philadelphia. They will be at home to friends after August 1 at 93 West Fourteenth street.

Mr. Kremers is superintendent of the Holland Sugar factory and he and his bride are numbered among the most popular of Holland's social circles.

D. E. Van der Veen and family of Grand Rapids have moved to their cottage on the south shore of Macatawa for the season.

Prof. Yntema entertained the members of the senior class of Hope college at his home east of the city last evening. Refreshments were served and a royal time was passed. The professor introduced a form of entertainment that would ordinarily prove embarrassing but that did not in this instance as the seniors are up to the times when it comes to impromptu speech making. The professor insisted that all should respond to toasts. The novel, of it all was that no one knew until the toast was assigned what the subject would be and the responses were strictly extemporaneous. The students proved equal to the emergency and finished the engagement with flying colors.

Miss Hazel Clements gave a hayrack party last Thursday evening in honor of Miss Jean Jameson of Chicago, the party going to Jenison. Those present were Jean Jameson, Marie Diekema, Maud vanDrezer, Mildred Williams, Evelyn Devries, Ruth Post, Hazel Clements, Hansen Bergen, James McLean, Hutherford Boers, Nealie Blom, Frank Kleinhekel, Franklin Hopkins, Willis Diekema and Jesse Fogg. The evening was joyfully spent.

Dangremont-Hoffman

Henry Dangremont and Miss Grace Hoffman were united in marriage yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hoffman, Overisel. Rev. B. Hoffman of Grand Rapids was the officiating clergyman. Those who attended from this city were Mr. and Mrs. L. Dangremont, Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Brouwer and Miss Winnie Dangremont.

Yonkman-Weaver

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Yonkman arrived here from Manhattan, Kansas, on this morning's steamer from Chicago and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. Yonkman, Fifteenth street, their parents. Both of the young people were formerly residents of this city and have many friends who extend congratulations.

Mr. Yonkman was for a time employed at Jas. A. Brouwer's store and as clerk at Hotel Holland. He is now engaged in the grocery and meat business in Milwaukee with his brother, Nicholas, and the boys are doing well. His bride, Miss Ethel Weaver, lived here until a couple of years ago when with her parents she moved to Kansas. She was prominent in church circles.

Mr. and Mrs. Yonkman were married in Manhattan, Kansas, Wednesday and were the recipients of many handsome presents.

Lemmen-VanderWeyde

A very pretty wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Lemmen 32 W. 17th street yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock when Miss Jennie VanderWede was united in marriage to Mr. J. Lemmen by Rev. D. R. Drukker in the presence of 75 friends and relatives.

The bride was attended by her sister Miss Rose VanderWeyde, and Alex. VanZanten was best man.

The bridal party entered the parlors to the sweet strains of a wedding march played by Miss Matilda Notier.

The newly wedded couple received many beautiful presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemmen will be at home to all their friends on West Fifteenth street after June 31st.

Winter-Schriver

A quiet but pretty wedding took place last Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Schriver of Saugatuck when their daughter, Miss Amelia Josephine Schriver was united in marriage to Henry Winter of this city. The ring service was used, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Wm. Miedema of Constantine. The bride was charmingly gowned in creme crepe de chine, trimmed with lace and pearls. She was attended by her sister, Miss Julia Schriver, and the best man was the groom's brother, Prof. J. G. Winter of the University of Michigan. Will Breyman and Miss Maize Markham of this city furnished music.

After a wedding supper the bride and groom left for a trip to Chicago and other points.

Mr. Winter is one of Holland's best known young business men. He is a member of the firm of Notier, VanArk & Winter. His bride is one of Saugatuck's most charming young ladies, and both will be cordially welcomed to this city. They will be at home after September 1 at 113 West Eleventh street.

Will Rosenboom, of Indianapolis, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Rosenboom, on Sixth street for two weeks returned yesterday.

Maccabee Blow Out

Nearly 5,000 Maccabees and their families attended the third annual convention and picnic of the Modern Maccabee association of Kent and Ottawa counties, held at Jenison Park Saturday afternoon. A feature of the meeting was the acceptance of Allegan county as a member of the association, which adds 12 tents and as many hives. Officers were elected as follows: President, Charles A. Floyd, Holland; vice president, John Bryce, Grand Haven; secretary, Lucy Wise, Holland; treasurer, Charles Christmas, Grand Haven; executive committee, E. J. Detwiler, Grand Haven; Edward Vanden Berg, Holland.

President Floyd was presented with a handsome solid gold watch fob and Maccabee charm by Holland tent No. 68 as a token of the esteem in which he is held by his home tent. Free coffee and lemonade were served by the Holland tents and hives. Addresses were delivered by Mayor Henry Geerlings of Holland, Deputy Great Commander E. W. Thompson, Great Lieutenant Commander Charles H. Thomas and Past Great Lady Commander Mrs. Rachael Bailey.

An exhibition drill was given by the degree team of High and tent of Grand Haven under the direction of Captain John Bryce and at its conclusion Deputy Commander E. W. Thompson presented the team with an altar cloth and a box of cigars. In the baseball game between Kent and Ottawa county teams Ottawa was defeated by a score of 11 to 3. Grant Meixwell gave an aerial exhibition in trapeze and perch work followed by a balloon ascension and torpedo drop by "Kid" McSherry. The Allegan Cornet band, Maccabee bands from Holland and Grand Rapids and Santa Maria and Heald's orchestra furnished music. Dancing was enjoyed at the pavilion in the evening and a moonlight excursion was taken on the steamer Post Boy.

In the contests the tug of war between Allegan and Ottawa counties was won by Ottawa, the prize being a box of cigars; the fat man's 25-yard race was won by L. L. Parks of Grand Rapids, who got a pair of slippers, and the young men's 50-yard dash was won by Adam Ohler of Grandville, who received a pair of lawn tennis slippers. The fat ladies' race was won by Mrs. E. VandenBerg of Holland, a dozen photographs being the prize, and the young ladies' race was won by Mrs. Wallo Tarel of Grand Rapids, the prize being a dozen photographs. The tug of war between Crescent and Allegan hives was won by Crescent hive and the prize was a $5 water set.

The next convention will be held at Jenison, and the date will be fixed later.

Grote Answers in Breach of Promise Suit

William Grote, defendant in the breach of promise suit of Johanna Harkema vs. William Grote, has filed his plea and notice with county clerk Brown. Suit was commenced last month against him by Johanna Harkema by her attorneys Diekema & Kollen. W. I. Lillie represents the defendant. Both parties in the suit are from this city.

In his document the defendant gives notice that he will give in testimony which will show that if any promise of marriage was made to the plaintiff it was not made with any improper intent. He also states that any such promise was rescinded with the full consent of the plaintiff. He sets up that a few weeks prior to the commencement of the suit he was called to the office of the plaintiff's attorneys and asked to marry Miss Harkema. He then stated that he had no money at that time and could not arrange the wedding before September 1. Miss Harkema, it is alleged, said the marriage must take place by May 1 or not at all. Whereupon the defendant declared it would not be at all. He states that the plaintiff told him that she did not wish to cause him trouble but that she would have some of his father's money. Prior to this meeting with her attorneys, Grote declares, the plaintiff had offered to return a watch and chain which he had given her. He allowed her to keep the present, but with her full consent the marriage promise, whatever it was, was mutually declared off. Therefore when he heard that suit had been commenced against him he was very much surprised as he had supposed matters to be entirely settled.

In conclusion Grote declares that there had been no fraud perpetrated nor any intended. The case will probably come up at the next term of court.

TRAIN WRECKED NEAR BALTIMORE

COLLISION ON A CURVE IS DUE TO DISOBEDIENCE OF ORDERS.

Horrible Scene Follows the Crash—Twenty-Five Men Are Killed, and a Score or More Are Reported Injured.

Baltimore, Md., June 19.—Twenty-five men were killed and nearly a score injured in a train wreck on the Western Maryland railroad, near this city, Saturday evening.

In the neighborhood of Patapsco station, about eight miles from Westminster, the Western Maryland has many curves, and that just west of the bridge crossing the Patapsco river is a sharp one. An extra freight, made up of heavy coal and provision cars, was running east. It should have taken a siding to allow No. 5 to pass. Such were the orders. Why they were disregarded will never be known, for those who should have seen that they were obeyed are dead. On the curve just west of the bridge they came together with terrific force, the three engines being piled one upon another, fortunately in such a manner that sufficient steam connections were broken to relieve the boilers and thus prevent the further horror of one or more explosions.

A Scene of Horror.

In an instant the peaceful country was changed into the likeness of a shambles. Along the tracks on both sides were scattered dead and frightfully mangled men, these latter more fortunate than those who had been in the baggage car and on the engines, for most of them were still plucked in the wreckage out of the immediate reach of helping hands. Heartrending shrieks from the injured quickly brought to the scene the inhabitants of all the farmhouses within a considerable radius, and these immediately set to work to do what they could to ease the suffering. Farmers' wives and daughters made bandages of their clothing and household linen and worked heroically amidst the blood and grime. One or two physicians who had been passengers on the wrecked train directed their efforts.

A SUDDEN CALL.

S. P. Sheerin, of Indiana, Falls Dead While Addressing Audience in Chicago.

Chicago, June 21.—S. P. Sheerin, president of the new Long-Distance Telephone company, of Indianapolis, Ind., and a prominent man in Indiana, fell dead on the floor of the convention hall in the Auditorium hotel Tuesday while replying to the welcome extended to delegates of the independent telephone men's annual convention by City Prosecutor Taylor. Mr. Sheerin, known all over Indiana as "SI" Sheerin, was at one time chairman of the democratic state committee, the position later held by Thomas Taggart. He was for years a leader of the democratic party and attained national prominence as a politician of resource and ability. In later years he had applied most of his time to the independent telephone movement.

GOVEZ IS DEAD.

Collapse Follows a Gallant Struggle for Life on the Part of the Aged Warrior.

Havana, Cuba, June 19.—Maximo Gomez died at six o'clock Saturday night. Death came peacefully, after a long illness. Gen. Gomez bore up bravely to the last and his struggle against the illness which at last overcame him was typical of the man who so long fought against great odds. He will be given a funeral with national honors. In May last Gen. Gomez underwent an operation at Santiago, Cuba, as the result of the spread of gangrene in an abscess on his hand. For a time his life was despaired of, but the general recovered sufficiently to be moved to his home in Havana June 7. Until Thursday morning he showed some signs of improvement and hopes were entertained that the end might be postponed for a considerable period. But from that time on the patient failed until the end came.

Iowa Boys Drowned.

Albia, Ia., June 19.—Don and Leigh Hollingsworth, aged 10 and 15 years, the sons of Superintendent Hollingsworth, of this city, were drowned at Ottumwa. Their father was for 14 years superintendent of the Albia city schools. The older boy was drowned while trying to save the younger.

Accepts Resignations.

New York, June 21.—Paul Morton, chairman of the Equitable directors, has announced that he has accepted the resignation of James W. Alexander as president and James Hazen Hyde as first vice president. He said he has not acted on the other resignations yet.

Indiana Man Gets Place.

Washington, June 17.—Assistant Secretary Melville W. Miller, of the department of the interior, has presented his resignation to the president, and it has been accepted. In succession to Mr. Miller the president has appointed Jesse Wilson, of Indiana.

Struck by a Train.

Bloomington, Ill., June 20.—A. J. Barr, a prominent lawyer of this city, and Miss May Herbert, were struck by a Chicago & Alton interurban train one mile east of Normal Monday afternoon, and both instantly killed.

Victim of Sunstroke.

Watertown, N. Y., June 21.—Alpheus Davis, a hardware merchant of this city, aged 43 years, was found dead in his garden Tuesday. Death was due to sunstroke.

Farmers Need Help.

Kansas City, Mo., June 16.—Kansas farmers will need 25,000 men and 2,240 teams to harvest their crops, according to a report made by the superintendent of the state labor department of Kansas. The harvest, including the threshing, will last about 60 days, and the wages will, it is stated, range from $1.75 to $2.50 a day.

Girl Indicted for Murder.

Wheaton, Minn., June 21.—The grand jury has returned an indictment against Antoinette Sidenstecker, 14 years of age, charging her with murder in the first degree for having shot Herman Shipp on May 25. The case has been set down for trial June 27.

Noted Minister Dies.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 17.—Rev. Dr. Robert Roberts, one of the oldest and best known men in the Methodist ministry in Indiana, died Friday.

DRIVERS TIRE OF STRIKE

Chicago Teamsters Said to Be Seeking Their Old Places—Shea Deposed.

Chicago, June 20.—Scores of strikers have been applying for their old positions secretly, it developed Monday. This indication of the disintegration of the teamsters' contest came from several directions. Employers made known the fact that 35 per cent. of the drivers for the express companies had asked for their old positions and failing to get them have been seeking recommendations to other companies; that department store drivers have applied for their former positions, and that the old employees of the coal companies and other concerns have been trying to arrange for their reinstatement as soon as the strike shall have been called off.

Alfred Austrian, associated with Levy Mayer as counsel for the Employers' association, declared that the express companies had been besieged by strikers seeking recommendations for work. He said none of the express companies had rehired its old men, nor had any hired those from the other companies.

Chicago, June 21.—A new strike committee from the drivers is endeavoring to secure peace. The commission has been elected by the Teamsters' Joint council and the membership is opposed not only to President C. P. Shea, of the teamsters, but to the contest itself. With the apparent overthrow of Shea by the local union officials the end of the strike is believed to be in sight and definite terms of peace are expected within a few days. The new committee will act in conjunction with the international executive board and negotiations will probably be entered into with the employers at once.

Additional Local

Prof. Monk Goldman will try to make another balloon ascension in Saugatuck tomorrow. He failed to connect last Saturday.

Judge Wanty of Grand Rapids adjudged Wm. DeHoop of Holland a bankrupt and so freeing him from his obligations.

Herman VanArk chairman of the building committee of the Third Reformed church has called for bids on the new addition to be built to the church.

Rev. A. Rozendahl, well known in Holland, preached the Baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the Wisconsin Memorial academy at Cedar Grove, Wis.

The bridge leading to the park at Allegan was finished this week. The structure will be used for pedestrians only, it being but six feet in width. In the middle there is a forty five foot span which does away with two sets of piles, making a more free passage for ice.

The Allegan County jail building committee held a meeting at Allegan and decided upon a structure similar to that recently erected in St. Joseph county. An architect is now working on plans which will be submitted to the committee within a few weeks.

If the population of a place can be judged by the school census, the city of Holland is growing smaller. There are 44 less children of school age in that city this year than last.—Saugatuck Commercial Record. It isn't that brother it is just like when the dog tax man comes around, they are there but you can't see "um."

Dr. Sayad who is just opening his office in Koning's building at Saugatuck graduated from Hope College and took part of his medical course in the U. of M. and finished in the medical department of the University of Ill., which is located in Chicago. Dr. Sayad is an athlete. While in Hope College he played in the college base ball team and when in the U. of M. played half back in the college foot ball team.

Mrs. Ellen Mullen, mother of Mrs. E. J. O'Leary of this city, died Tuesday at her home in Toledo, Ohio, after two years illness from paralysis. She was born in the County of Cork, Ireland, and came with her father, John Holland, to Toledo about 1837, when Toledo was a small village. She was married to James Mullen, whose death was caused by drowning in 1865. The funeral was held yesterday. Besides Mrs. O'Leary, a daughter and three sons, all living in Toledo, survive.

A week ago Monday was an unfortunate day for the saws at the Weed & Co. factory at Douglas. In the first log an iron rafting-pin was cut in two. Another saw was set and soon cut five large spikes in two. The third saw was put on, and in cutting the first slab two large spikes were run into. These logs were taken from a grove in which had often been held picnics. Another saw was set and a pine log was tried. Soon a stone was struck in the hollow center. Such things are discouraging at this time of the year.

It is possible that three boats a day may be placed in commission between the twin cities and Chicago early next week. The Argo has arrived from the northern run and is now in Chicago. The Pere Marquette No 5 will take her run this week, leaving the Argo free to go either to Holland or come here. As the first of the cherry crop is now beginning to arrive, being some days late, it is possible the smallest boat of the fleet will not inaugurate triple service until shipments are heavier. Officials of the company have not yet determined whether the Argo is to be used for the next few days.—Twin City Blade.

Beware of Grand Rapids is the gist of the instructions issued by the board of health to citizens of this city. At the meeting Monday afternoon a resolution was adopted calling the attention of the citizens to the advisability of cutting Grand Rapids from their visiting list during the smallpox epidemic and suggesting that residents of Grand Rapids be not invited to Holland homes while danger from the disease exists. At its meeting the board also certified to the board of supervisors for payment the claims of L. DeLoof, $34; D. A. VanOort $23.40; Nick Baas, $24.15, for services as watchmen in contagious disease cases. The bills were held up in 1904 by the supervisors on the ground that each city should pay such bills, but a recent ruling of the supreme court makes the county liable for such claims. It was ordered that a small machine be purchased for fumigating such books belonging to the public library as are returned by families who have had contagious diseases.

The Kalamazoo grocers picked at Ottawa Beach yesterday.

The schooner Abby brought a cargo of cedar posts from Beaver Island for the Scott-Lugers Lumber Co.

Peter Dulyea was called to Fruitport Wednesday by the serious illness of his mother.

The cherrycrop in the vicinity of Grand Haven is practically a total loss.

The new steel tug being built for the Perry company of the Soo will be launched the latter part of this week. This tug is the largest ever built at the Johnson yard and Beason's marine directory speaks of the tug as the finest on the lakes.

Governor Warner has signed the bill allowing the catching of minnows for bait with seines and the fisherman can now seine for minnows without danger of apprehension by the game warden. The bill prohibiting the hunting of rabbits by ferrets has also been signed and this cruel kind of sport is brought to an end to the great delight of all true sportsmen.

Gerard A. Kaarers, formerly of the firm of Kanters & Standard, now of Seattle, is president and manager of the Pacific Coast Dyeing company, which has just been incorporated with a capital stock of $100,000. The company has offices at Seattle. It will engage in reclaiming land by dyeing and the venture bids fair to be very successful.

Double daily service between Holland and Chicago will be started by the Graham & Morton line next Monday, June 26, the steamers Puritan and Holland, alternating on the run. As in former years the Puritan will be the night boat out of Holland, and the Holland will leave mornings. The schedule will be: Leave Holland at 9 a. m. and 9 p. m. leave Chicago at 9 a. m. and 8 p. m. The fare for day trips will be $1 each way. The rate for night trips will remain the same, $1.50 one way or $2.75 for the round trip, berths extra.

Says "The Presto" a Chicago publication devoted to the interests of piano manufacturers: "The Holland Improvement committee last week closed negotiations for the removal to that city of the Bush & Lane Piano company. Work on the construction of the factory building will begin at once. The main building will cover 75,000 square feet of floor space and will be 60x300 feet two stories high and two wings 60x150, besides other buildings. In conversation with Secretary Congleton, of the Bush & Lane Co., The Presto representative was told that the office will be continued in Chicago and that the new factory in Holland will be ready for occupancy before next winter sets in."

The second monthly educational scoring test for butter and cheese under the auspices of the Michigan State Dairy and Food Department, was held in Detroit. This work is under the immediate supervision of Colon C. Lillie, of Coopersville, Deputy Dairy and Food Commissioner. Eighty seven creameries throughout the state responded to the call and submitted tubs of butter for scoring. In the list of creameries receiving a score of 93 or more for their butter the following from this locality appear: C. J. Lokker, Holland, 94; Coopersville Creamery Co., 95%; Harlem Creamery Co., township, 94; Overisel Creamery Co., Overisel, 94; Filmore Creamery Co., 94; Drenthe Company, 93; Daisy Creamery, Graafschap, 96.

Sheriff Woodbury is looking for "Col. C. W. Wood." Wood arrived in Grand Haven several weeks ago as the advance man of "The Scout of the Philippines" company. He made arrangements with Company F. of Grand Haven to put the play on under the auspices of that organization. The colonel proceeded to get up a program and collected nearly a hundred dollars in advertising. Then he borrowed the overcoat of the clerk of the Gildner hotel and since that time Mr. Wood has not been seen or heard of. His company was to arrive last week, but the belief dawned that Wood was about all there was to the show. Wood stated that the name was one he had taken years ago when he embarked in the show business, but that really it was not his name and that he was the son of one of the early presidents of Albion college. He also claimed to be a Civil war veteran.

School to Open
The school of Dress-cutting and Dress-making will open Tuesday June 27 at 1:30 p. m. in Harrington Hall, 74 E. Eighth street Holland. There will be no formal opening. Everybody welcome. Now is the time to learn dress-making.
S. S. Boaz, Mgr.

James Vandersluis and George Steketee of Grand Rapids caught 102 white bass in Black Lake on two fishing trips this week.

The annual rally and convention of the Ottawa county Sunday School Association will be held at Grand Haven, Aug. 15th and 16th.

Fourth of July is due. It is coming with a rush. But Jenison Park is ready for it and will be on hand with one of the grandest celebrations ever held at that popular resort. The celebration will be one of the most novel and complete of recent years. The Interurban company will have every one of its cars in commission that day to handle the large crowds expected.

Mrs. Lillie Winans, wife of the former engineer at the Macatawa light and water station and employed later in the same capacity at Zeeland, who came from Fort Valley, Ga., and found her husband had divorced her and married a laundress at the Hotel Otsego, in Jackson, where he was engineer, has begun suit to have the divorce decree set aside. Mrs. Winans avers that her husband procured his order of publication by fraud and perjury.

At the age of 90 years Charles Odell, one of Muskegon's oldest pioneers, and a resident of Holland in early days died in Muskegon Wednesday. He had been ill for about two weeks with a general breaking down, as a result of his old age. Mr. Odell was well known here being at one time employed as night watchman. He also held other minor city offices and was for a few years employed in the car repairing shops formerly at Waverly. Besides his widow, Mr. Odell leaves one son, Benjamin Odell, a niece, Mrs. Josephine Bassett, and a nephew, George Butler, of Muskegon, also a nephew in Frankfort, Ind. The funeral was held this afternoon at Muskegon.

Holland Party Going to Colorado

A party of 8 or 10 Holland Citizens expect to leave June 30th to inspect an irrigated land proposition which has just been opened up in January, of 25,000 acres of the best of soil, in a fine climate in Fountain valley, 5 miles from the City of Colorado Springs. There is now a railroad station on the grounds and several new farms opened up. Any one wishing to go with us for other business or for pleasure we will be glad to have them join us. We get an exceedingly low rate of $25.00 from Chicago and return. For any particulars call on H. P. Zwemer who has been to Colorado Springs and the surrounding country in April, and expects to go with this party.

Macatawa Bay came nearly witnessing a drowning tragedy yesterday. While Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith, their two children and Miss Alice Smith were out sailing in Peter Mattison's boat the boat capsized and threw them into the water. Mr. Smith held one of the children, Mrs. Smith the other and assisted by Miss Alice all clung to the boat until rescued by Peter Mattison, D. W. Melhorn, some men fishing near by and one of Mr. Bignall's hired men.

Mrs. W. D. Clock of Otsego was the guest of friends in Holland this week.

The Misses Anna, Pearl and Cora Vos of Muskegon, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vos on Van Raalte Ave. while attending the graduating exercises of Hope college, this week, have returned home today.

Miss Kate Blom has returned from a visit to St. Ignace, Manistique and other points in the Upper Peninsula.

The plate glass window in the Boot & Kramer building was broken by a sign dislodged by the storm Monday night. The sign belonged to the Boston bakery.

An automobile owned by resorters stopping at Pine Lodge on the north side frightened the horse driven by Mel Fuller yesterday and the horse in an attempt to get away broke the harness and slightly injured the buggy.

Word was received by C. Braam, sr., this morning of the death in Grand Rapids of his daughter-in-law Mrs. Cornelius Braam, jr. Mrs. Braam died at the pest house where she had been taken with four of her children, all of whom were suffering with smallpox. The other two children also have the disease but in a milder form than which it affected their mother and they are staying at home with their father, Mrs. Braam was related to Peter Schoon and family of this city.

The board of supervisors at the special meeting called this week to consider the bill presented by watchmen in the recent contagious disease cases subpoenaed the watchmen before them as well as a number of the men whose families were afflicted with smallpox and they gave in testimony in regard to the contagious disease conditions of several years ago. The board will debate upon the testimony offered and probably act according Attorney Smedly was present and gave as his opinion that the county was liable for the bills of the contagious watchmen only when the property infected belonged to indigent persons.

Holland and other points on the G. R. & C. Interurban came perilously near a tie up of transportation yesterday. On account of the recent floods in Grand Rapids and other points on the Pere Marquette it has been difficult to get coal, and the power house at Jenison was down to its last shovelfull of black diamonds yesterday. Then, discovering that the coal would not arrive from Saginaw on time on the regular freight, Purchasing Agent Floyd got busy and importuned the P. M. officials until they put on a special from Saginaw to Jenison. The special pulled by one of the big mogul engines was equal to the emergency and won the race by an hour. Were it an hour later the fires would have to be pulled and transportation would be paralyzed.

There is a clause in the ordinance of the city of Holland which prohibits persons from using a business sign that hangs more than three feet over the sidewalk. This ordinance has never been enforced. Of late, however, complaints have been coming to the common council that some of the merchants were overstepping too grossly the law of the city and requests were made that a halt be brought. To do this it was necessary to enforce the ordinance as it stood, and therefore the merchants whose signs were trespassing were notified to remove same. Some of them heeded the notice, some did not. Some say they will, some say they will not. It is thought that proceedings will be started against those who disobey, but no further move will be made until City Attorney McBride, who is out of the city, returns. In the meantime Alderman Van Tongeren has given notice of an amendment to the ordinance, and it is thought that at the next meeting it will be fixed so that electric signs will be allowed under certain restrictions.

Council Will Get after Automobiles and Street Cars

Ald. Van Zanten gave notice that at the next regular meeting of the council he would introduce an ordinance relative to automobiles.

Ald. Van Tongeren gave notice that at the next regular meeting of the common council he would introduce an ordinance to amend section 5 of ordinance entitled "An ordinance relative to obstructing streets and sidewalks."
