All the amusement features were thrown open to them and as personal guests of Mr. Floyd everything was done to make their outing enjoyable. Mr. Floyd became interested in the children one day while calling upon Fr. Residents in the western part of the city have recently noticed the presence of a raccoons and a number of chicken coops have been robbed of some of their feathered population in a most mysterious fashion. John Visser, 230 West Twelfth street, has lost a number of chickens recently, so he set a trap for the midnight marauder and found a coon caught fast in the trap. It is a big fellow and has been put in a cage. The presence of coons in the midst of civilization is explained by some people by the assertion that the animals are shipped in with logs for the basket factory, the coons not having emerged from their homes in the hollow logs before the logs were placed on the cars, and they are now doing their best to gain a livelihood in the city.

Circuit Court.

In circuit court Friday, Judge Padgham dismissed the petition of Henry Baer, libator, vs. the Ottawa County Board of Supervisors, respondent asking for a mandamus compelling the county to pay for formaldehyde furnished by Mr. Baer during the small-pox epidemic in this city three years ago. In connection with this case was also a bill from John J. Boer asking the county to pay for certain bedding furnished by Boer to replace bedding ordered burned by the health board of this city. The judge in denying the mandamus holds that these bills are claims against the city and not the county. The bills have been before the city council several times in the past and payment refused by them on the grounds that they should be paid for by the county. George A. Farr appeared for the relator and C. C. Cornburn for the respondents. In the matter of the Muskegon Traction company, asking for a new trial in the case of Netiva Corsineau against them the judge denied the motion and gave until July 10 for the company to settle with Miss Corsineau. At the last term of court she was awarded $1,000 damages and costs against the company for injuries received by being run down by one of the company's cars.

The Grand Haven Tribune commented
as follows on the article in the News
pertaining to the growth of Holland:

Truly Holland is growing by leaps and bounds. There is little doubt but that if the present rate of growth in population continues that Holland will be the largest city on this lake shore within twenty years. Holland up to about fifteen years ago had always been a smaller town than Grand Haven but Holland was never a sawmill town and it did not have to go through the reactionary period following the closing out of the mill business as did Grand Haven. What is more, while Holland during the early days of its growth had no rich men, and never had the wealth in that respect that Grand Haven had, yet it had what was far better, a number of men of moderate means who went in and made a fine city of Holland. Grand Haven's rich men moved out when the sawmill industry departed or they did nothing for the town. In fact they never have done anything for it. There has been but one Hackley on this Michigan lake shore and he saved Muskegon. Holland had in John C. Post the man to whom that town is most indebted for its present growth and condition. Post was not wealthy as wealth goes in this country but he had unbounded faith in Holland, he was an advertiser and the projects that he carried out to success have had the most to do with the making of the greater Holland of today. Grand Haven with natural advantages that far exceed Holland's, with a natural beauty that Holland can never have, never had a Hackley or a Post who could put these superior natural advantages to use.

We regret very much that our mail carrier on R. R. 3 has disposed of his horse. This old standby of his did its work so well and easy. Its present owner need no longer go by way of Drenthe in order to get to Zutphen. He very often came late, and sometimes did not get there at all. Old Mike does balk. After all, it's amusing to see the mail carrier make stops in between mail boxes, or almost any place along the route, petting and urging and trying all the latest methods to make his new broncho cover the route in due time.

Run Down By Car.

While playing ball in the main street of Zeeland Thursday evening, Abraham Ver Lee, aged 11 years, ran upon the street car tracks just as an express car was passing. He was crushed beneath the car wheels, dying almost instantly. The lad was the son of Peter Ver Lee, brother of Isaac Verlee, well known in Holland.

The tragedy occurred shortly before 8 o'clock in the main street west of the sub-station. The boy was one of a crowd playing ball, and his death was witnessed by his playmates.

Coroner Mabee was at once notified and on arrival at Zeeland he impounded a jury which viewed the remains and adjourned until this morning when the inquest was held at 9 o'clock.

The body was frightfully crushed, the head being almost severed from the body. The front trucks passed over the body, which was dragged a few feet by the rear trucks, although the car was stopped within its own length, as it was running less than six miles an hour. The body was left on the track until the arrival of the coroner.

Motorman Earl Kincaid and Conductor Fred Golden were in charge of the car. The boy ran onto the track so quickly that there was barely time to apply the brakes before the car struck him. In the instant that the motorman saw him, the boy seemed to crouch down facing the car, with a terrified expression on his face. His playmates called to him to look out but instead of continuing across the track he stopped.

From the testimony of the half dozen people who saw the terrible accident, no one was to blame but the boy. After hearing the testimony of the motorman and conductor of the car, and of adults and children who saw the accident, the jury brought in the following verdict:

"We find that Abraham Ver Lee came to his death June 13, at 7:40 p. m. in the city of Zeeland, by being run over by G. R. H. & C. freight car No. 120, said accident being caused by the playful negligence of said Abraham Ver Lee, and no blame can be attached to the motorman or conductor of said car."

The jury was composed of Jacob Glerum, Johannes DeCoster, Anthony P. Vereke, Anthony Bareman, Frank Hulzinga and Wm. Glerum. They were but a few minutes in arriving at a verdict.

The remains were taken in charge by Undertaker Dykstra, and the funeral was held Saturday. The surviving relatives are the father and several brothers and sisters.

The witnesses, besides the car crew, were Corie Dijkwel, David J. Vereke, John Karstanje and Zeba Wiersma.

Don't take the downward course. Follow the advice of a Holland citizen.

Mrs. W. Laurence, of 268 Van Raalte Ave., Holland, Mich., says: "I can conscientiously say that Doan's Kidney Pills has proved to be the best remedy, giving the most satisfactory results of anything that has ever been tried in our family. My brother suffered quite a little from backache, brought on by hard work. He gradually grew worse, had dull, heavy pains across the loins and kidneys and was very weak. He had read a great deal about Doan's Kidney Pills and decided to try them himself, procuring a box at George L. Lage's Drug Store. He received very great relief after using them only a short time. He continued taking them carefully and as a result received a positive cure. Others have used Doan's Kidney Pills in our family and the results have been just as satisfactory. We recommend them very highly.

Commencement Week at Hope

Last night the last meeting of a busy week of commencement exercises was held in Carnegie hall. The exercises of the week have been peculiarly impressive, due to the added interest of dedicating the Mrs. Voorhees dormitory. The week has been a busy one for the students of Hope and full of excitement too.

But now it is all over at last and the scholastic circles have returned to their accustomed calm. Tonight most of the students from out of town leave for their respective homes, some of them nearly across the continent, and within a very few days, if the power of vision were only granted to us, many could be seen toiling cheerfully on street or farm or in offices acquiring vitality and money for the next year's work.

HISTORY OF THE MELIPHONE SOCIETY

[Read at the entertainment given in honor of the fiftieth birthday of the society, Friday, June 14, 1907 by Henry V. E. Stegeman.]

There is really little to tell you. For fifty years the Meliphone has been toiling on—grinding, grinding, grinding at the uncut diamonds that she has dug from the mines of studentry; polishing them by the thorough process, and sending them out with brighter lustre. I have little to say, because this half century has been simply a long period of unvaried work, year after year, always along the same general plan. It really seems wonderful that our society has been in existence for fifty years, and we feel proud that we can trace our origin back into the early days of this locality. A hurried glance into the past, with a few of the interesting things that we see, will, we trust, not be amiss.

Rev. John Van Vleck was a graduate of Union college. There had been a Meliphone society there, so that in reality we are older than we thought we were. In 1857, Rev. Van Vleck transferred the Meliphone from his Alma Mater to Holland Academy. It is thought that he served as the first president, and that William A. Shields, later a professor here, was the first secretary. It is cause for regret that the records of the founding and of the first twelve years, have been lost, for these would have been some of the most interesting to read.

We like to think of the first members of this society, and to imagine that we hear their readings and speeches. When this institution is but a struggling academy, when everybody is working hard for success, these pioneer Meliphonians assemble to debate, and to speak, knowing that this training will help them in future activity. When we think of the good that the Meliphone has done, and what it means to us, we are truly grateful to our predecessors of the '50s and '60s.

The earliest records that we have date from 1869. One of the first names that we meet is that of Mr. D. Yntema. We see him holding the offices of recorder and of vice president, and in the minutes we read these words, "Mr. Yntema delivered his oration." The fluency that he acquired may still be seen in the clean-cut, well-rendered recitation room lectures on "The City Boy" or "The Farmer Boy" or "The Young Man Who Isn't Afraid to Work."

We notice that through all its history the society was very thorough in debating. Every week a discussion was held on some subject. They were good subjects but we cannot refrain from smiling at some of them, for example, "Resolved that attending the circus is justifiable" or "Resolved that a man has no right to go up in a balloon."

In 1862 two young men were received as members, both destined to do great good to the society and to hold important positions in after life. They were Boers and Kleinhekel. Kleinhekel acted as secretary and recorder and treasurer. Boers served as secretary and recorder and as treasurer, and also as president, with D. Scholten as secretary.

In 1874, on the anniversary program, Kleinhekel delivered an oration, and Boers was journalist. The refreshments on this occasion were four gallons of ice cream, lemonade, cake and strawberries. In fact, for many years, strawberries and cream were one of the staple delicacies of the anniversary menus.

The Meliphone can truly say that she has produced men of talent. Professors, ministers and lawyers have passed through our training school. One of these men, whose name is on the lips of many men today, was G. J. Diekema. Others were the well known ministers of the gospel, Matthew Kolyn, John G. Fagg, Albert Oltmans and E. J. Blekkink. If men like these received good from our society and are glad that they once belonged to it, is there any reason why we of today should not take pride in it, and help it along all we can?

In these years the society worked hard along the lines of oratory. An orator was appointed for every week. The assignments were carried out very regularly, and were well distributed among the members.

The year 1870 saw John B. Nykerk join the Meliphone. He was a member for one brief year, but in that time took part in four or five debates, delivered an oration and acted as secretary. A good record, indeed! Four years, filled with such activity, would be a fine course for any student of the present day.

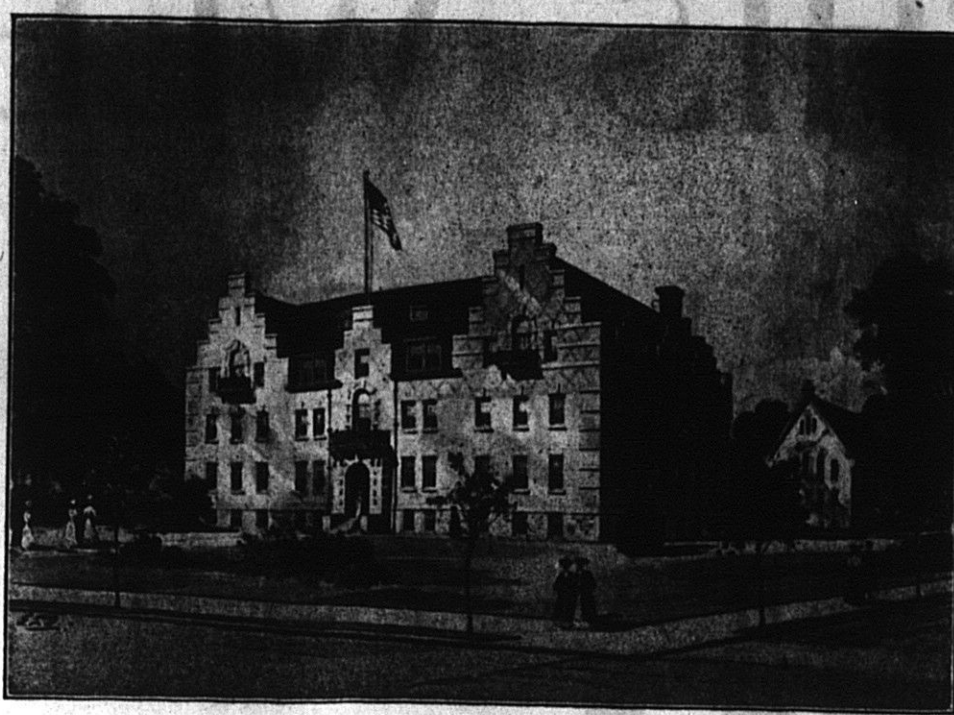

John M. VanderMeulen was a Meliphonian from 1884 to 1887. His work was brilliant, and though he needed a few days of grace once in a while to hand in his productions, he was nevertheless very faithful. The offices of marshal and vice president fell to him. Once the society held a trial, and VanderMeulen was prosecuting attorney. The minutes speak thus of his last appeal: "Mr. VanderMeulen hereafter made his closing remarks. All listened with undisturbed attention. He was aware of the critical condition he was in." His power of speech must then already have begun to sway the minds of men, for he won his case. Other well known men of this time were Philip Soulen, G. H. Dubbink, H. J. Veldman, Geo. E. Kollen, J. J. Mersen, Henry Vanderploeg and Arthur Van Duren.

Somewhere between 1889 and 1892 the society divided into two sections, called the Alpha and the Philomathean. The sections held separate meetings during the fall and winter terms and in the spring term they met together to draw up anniversary programs and to transact necessary business.

The Alpha section had two future faculty members in its number. One was John E. Kuizenga. This man, too, enjoyed the job of marshal, a fine office, not to tell you that it was in the winter term. However, he started at the bottom, and climbed up thru the offices of sergeant-at-arms and secretary to that of president of his section. The other was A. T. Godfrey, who engaged mostly in debates, where his side of the question usually came off victorious. One of the most interesting things we read about him, is that he was complainant in a mock trial and charged the defendant with stealing a horse. The section system was discontinued in 1900.

Of the work we have done since then you can yourselves judge. You see our alumni in oratorical contests, standing high for composition and delivery. When we see one of our men making a fine speech or oration, we proudly say, "There is a man who received his early training in the Meliphone society," and eagerly we claim that a share is due to our society. We claim that we are doing some good for this school. We have our good times, but we have our hard work. In our meetings we have debates, addresses, soliloquies, invectives, stump speeches and impersonations, among other lighter duties. Our numbers are not all simple readings and short rhymes. It takes work on our part to do the duties assigned to us, and we think that the Meliphonians are benefitted by this work. We think that if there were no society like ours in the preparatory department, numbers of men would have little ambition to develop in speaking when they become college students; and we claim that Hope's alumni would not bring so much honor to their Alma Mater, if it were not for the primary training that they received in the Meliphone.

Such has been our work for fifty years. We are standing at the portal of another fifty years, ready to enter and do our best. What the next five decades shall bring forth we can only imagine, but our hopes are bright. We are going to do more than we have done. We are going to send out more diamonds, which shall shine continually, and make the world brighter with their splendor. The Meliphone hall shall echo with the speeches of mighty men for fifty years to come; year after year preparatory students shall join the Meliphone, there to learn the blessing of the human voice; and they shall go forth and serve God and man with this talent. The Meliphone, or the society of sweet sounders, shall continue to labor, her work shall go on without ceasing.

The New Ladies' Dormitory

Meliphone Entertainment.

The Meliphone society inaugurated the week's doings by their annual entertainment last Friday night. The entertainment had been widely advertised by its members because it was the fiftieth birthday of the society. They even went to the trouble of having bills printed, although the entertainment was entirely free. And the public took advantage of it and filled Carnegie hall.

The Hope college quartet scored a great success on this program. They first sang "Roserie" and sang it so beautifully that the continued applause called them back. They were dressed in their uniforms and the audience was uproarious about their singing. The second time they sang a humorous song, after which they were compelled to appear once more, this time with "Love's Old Sweet Song." A. C. Van Raalte, one of the members of the society, gave a piano solo entitled "The Charge of the Hussars" by Wachs. C. Muste recited very effectively "The Legend of the Organ Builder," and Anthony Luidens read an original poem entitled "A Meliphonian's Retrospect." Henry Stegeman read a history of the Meliphone society which appears in full in this issue.

M. Verne Oggel delivered an oration on William Wallace, the Scotch hero who fought against Edward II of England. The budget with its usual neat slams was read by Geo. Scholten. It was one of the finest budgets ever read on a similar occasion. A play called "The Four Rubes at Hope" was one of the special features of the program. It had been composed by one of the members of the society and was designed to show the humorous side of student life.

The master speech of the evening was a lecture on "The Scholar and the Thinker" by Prof. J. M. Vander Meulen. This popular orator always takes and holds his audience. His talk was full of wisdom and warning, warning against the allurements of money and specialism. The young students who were about to leave school life were advised first of all to find out what they did not know and then to learn what they are fitted for.

The entire program was a success and the audience was well pleased.

Baccalaureate Sermon.

The baccalaureate sermon was preached at Hope church Sunday night by Dr. Wm. I. Chamberlain of Rutgers college, New Brunswick, New Jersey. Dr. Chamberlain's address to the graduating class was a masterpiece. It was one of the most scholarly addresses ever delivered to any class of the institution.

The class and faculty preceded by the choir formed their marching order and marched into the west entrance of the church to the accompaniment of the hymn "The Son of God Went Forth to War." The large audience filled every available seat and many were turned away.

Dr. Chamberlain's theme was "Christ the final and ultimate authority. He said that in all life Christ was the final authority. Our boasted civilization found the source of its power in the teachings of Christ. All the virtues that the twentieth century can boast must in the last analysis be traced back to the teachings of Him who died to make men free.

But not only history vindicates the claim of Christ's final authority; the power it has on character today does the same thing. The influence exerted by the Christian ideal has for twenty centuries transformed men and is still doing the same. Duty is the quality that must guide human life; and love and service must be supreme in all of life's relations. It is a mistaken idea that scholarship cannot go hand in hand with the service of mankind. On the contrary he only is the true scholar who faithfully serves his fellow man. The address was studied and strong, and the speaker's grasp on literature and life was amazing.

Uifilas Club.

The Uifilas club gave their annual entertainment Monday evening and a very fine program it was. The members of the club had made special efforts to make this program a "howling" success and they succeeded. The whole program was in the Holland language, but there are Dutchmen enough in Holland to make such a program appreciated, which was demonstrated by the large audience.

The prelude was played by the Misses Mae VanDrezer and Ida Larkin and several musical selections were given by a quartet. Philip Jonker, the president of the club, made a few opening remarks. Wm. Walvoort read an essay on "What America Owe to the Netherlands." It was a thoughtful essay well worked up. Henry Mollema sang the praises of Queen Wilhelmina in an oration on that subject; Prof. A. Raap gave a recitation entitled "Edward II Before Calais" and M. A. Stegeman read the budget. Two plays were given, one a dialogue entitled "At the Photographer's" by C. Muller and A. Haverkamp, and another a play entitled "Honesty is the Best Policy" by G. VanPaarsem, B. DeYoung, W. Walvoort, E. Huibregtse and B. Wynveen.

"A" Class Exercises.

Monday afternoon the "A" class gave a public program in Carnegie hall. The class is one of the largest ever graduated from the preparatory department, the number of graduates being twenty-eight. The hall had been beautifully decorated with flowers and ferns. All the windows had been darkened on account of the tableaux that were given at the end of the program and this made the meeting a rather warm affair, especially as the house was packed. But all lived through it, and what is more all enjoyed it. The procession was played by Caroline M. Moerdyke and A. C. VanRaalte. Other musical numbers were a vocal duet "Oh that We Two Were Maying" of Alice M. Smith by Mae Van Drezer and Henri G. DeKruif; vocal solo "Spring's Awakening" of Dudley Buck by Mae Julia Van Drezer and a piano solo "By the Brookside" of Tours by Irene Brusse.

Henry Stegeman, president of the class, recited very effectively a chapter from Ralph Connor's novel "Black Rock" describing how Nelson, one of the characters came home. It was a long selection but the speaker had mastered it thoroughly. The class history was read by Miss Eva H. Fortuine and she named it "Bygones." Henri De Kruif, in costume of a traveling painter, gave one of his popular chalk talks and made a hit with his funny pictures.

The class prophecy, which is usually rather stereotyped, was one of the best things on the program. It was in the form of a dialogue between John Niessink and Jas. Verburg. They called it "Maybe and Maybe Not." It was distinctly humorous and novel. Edward Nyland delivered the class oration. His subject was "Casimir Pulaski," the Polish hero who first tried in vain to rescue the tottering fortunes of his own native Poland, and then, an exile from home, came to America to fight under Washington, only to meet an untimely death in battle. It was well written and ably delivered.

Seven tableaux were given as the last number on the program. They were given to the accompaniment of low music by A. C. Van Raalte and formed one of the most beautiful pictures imaginable. The tableaux were "Dance of the Greeks," "Floral Offering to Dionysus," "Niobe Group," "Sacrifice to Irene," "Medieval Musicians," "Jephthah's Daughter," and "Goddess of Liberty."

Frank Leon Garvelink, Bert Hekhuis, Caroline Mae Moerdyck, James Bernard Mulder, John Daniel Niessink, Edward Robert Nyland, Melvin Verne Oggel, George Benjamin Scholten, Henry Van Eyck Stegeman, Henrietta Van De Erve, Ethel Delia Vandenberg, Mae Julia Van Drezer, Albertus Christian Van Raalte, William Wallace Vischer, James A. Verburg, William Westrate, Frances C. Weurding, James Weurding, Henri G. De Kruif, Benjamin Henry Veneklasen.

Dedication of Voorhees Dormitory.

The dedication exercises of the new Voorhees Girls' Dormitory was the star entertainment of commencement week. The dormitory had been inspected in the morning by the members of the council and the work of the contractors was accepted. It is one of the most beautiful buildings on the campus. Built of red brick and embellished with Bedford stone basement and facings, the dormitory is a substantial structure and is an ornament among the magnificent buildings which adorn the campus. Fifty-four rooms have been fitted out for studies and a half dozen others will be devoted to the temporary housing of the school of music. A large dining hall and parlors are located on the lower floor and rooms are provided for a dean of women and her assistants, so that there may be constant care and supervision.

The basement is equipped with a kitchen, laundry, and storage rooms and a large room which may in the near future be used for the teaching of domestic science. The latest improved heating apparatus has been installed and the building will be lighted by electricity.

The dining hall and reception parlors, together with its massive mantel, are finished in quarter sawed oak, with open beam work. The rest of the building is in plain oak with hard maple floors throughout.

The dedicatory exercises were held in Carnegie Hall because the new building has no auditorium. Three fine speakers appeared on the stage, Rev. Oscar M. Voorhees, a nephew of Mr. Ralph Voorhees, who represented Mrs. Voorhees, Edwin T. Booth of the Grand Rapids Evening Press and Rev. A. Vennema, D. D., of Passaic, N. J., president of the general synod of the Reformed church. In the course of the program a chorus of college girls, directed by Jas. T. Veneklasen sang "Angels of Jesus" and "Collegium" and "Carnegie." Miss Estelle Kollen sang a solo "The Time of Roses." A quartet composed of Misses Kollen, Browning, Yates and Larkin sang "A Tiger's Tale."

Voorhees' Address.

Dr. Kollen introduced the speakers. Rev. Voorhees was the chief speaker of the evening, his theme being the early settlement of the Hollanders in America. He established a kind of kinship between the Hollanders who landed in Michigan a half century ago and the Hollanders who landed on the eastern coast of our country two and a half centuries ago. Those men of early pioneer times passed through trials and hardships that the VanRaalte colony passed through. They too, had to cope with forest and savage, and then the English came and wrested from them the soil they had conquered with so much difficulty. During the American Revolution they stood for this country almost to a man, and in the difficult days when the constitution was framed they were the mainstay of the founders of this government. That earlier migration of Hollanders was a hardy race, and among conditions as adverse as that the ancestors of Mr. Ralph Voorhees lived and labored, and today Hope college is enjoying a part of the fruits of that toil in the beautiful building that now graces the campus. Rev. Voorhees in the course of his address paid a fine tribute to the American people, calling them the greatest people on earth.

Booth's Address.

Mr. Edmund W. Booth spoke on "Sacrifice a Working Principle for Every True and Successful Life." He said that the common idea that sacrifice in itself is meritorious, was false. One can sacrifice the higher life to the lower and then it becomes a sin against humanity. In fact all our lives are marked by sacrifice, but it is only the sacrifice with a pure motive and noble purpose that counts. The man or woman who sacrifices pleasures and gayeties to character gets in the end a rich reward. Friendship and achievement are also things that are worth sacrificing for. The man without a friend is to be pitied indeed. The man or woman who has the power of spiritual vision to see life's goal as a "far off divine event" in high and noble achievement, must give up the grovelling pleasures of lower life, and must be toiling upward in the night, while their companions with meaner ambitions, are asleep. Mr. Booth congratulated Hope college on the missionary spirit there.

Dr. Vennema's Address.

Dr. Vennema spoke of the days of long ago when VanVleck hall was the skyscraper of Holland. He gave a very interesting talk about conditions in those days of early beginning when the students themselves built the old chapel with their own hands. Now all this has changed and the large campus that in those days looked merely like a plot of waste land is covered with beautiful structures. No industry in Holland has done so much for the city as the college. Other industries are given inducements to locate here. Every new building upon the campus adds to the running expenses; therefore the city ought to do for this industry what it does for others. It ought to be glad to donate at least $50,000 as a maintenance fund. This was a rather unexpected and novel idea but the audience received it with applause.

Commencement Exercises

Last evening the commencement exercises of Hope College were held in Carnegie Hall and this concludes the doings of commencement week. A class of nineteen, two young ladies and seventeen boys graduated and received their degree of Bachelor of Arts. The procession was a scene of exquisite beauty. The "A" class, the Senior class, the council and the faculty all in double file marched into the hall singing "The Hope College Processional" composed by Mrs. Sangster. The graduates paused in the front of the hall to allow the college authorities to pass through.

On the stage everything was done neatly and without a hitch. There were in all seventeen speakers including the valedictorian. The first oration was on the "Cost of Leadership" by Joseph Richard Sizoo. His plea was for leaders, who can direct their fellowmen; but leadership is gained only at the cost of loneliness and sacrifice.

Miss Mae Louise Brusse delivered a most beautiful oration on "The Potter's Field." The potter's field is the burial ground of ambitious neglected and ideals lost. This oration was a rare piece of art.

Paul Kleinhekel spoke on "Democracy on Trial." He said that democracy was being tried and had not yet been found wanting. His oration was full of hope and optimism for the continuance of our government.

"The Victim of the Sheltered Life" was Mr. Benj. De Young's subject. The rich man's son who never knows the exhilarating joy of honest toil came in for the speaker's pity.

Miss Catherine Martha De Jong spoke on "Our Sightless Eyes." On this rather novel subject she had written a beautiful oration. Tho we have eyes we often do not see the beauty of nature, we do not feel sympathy for humanity and reverence for God. Having eyes we see not.

Mr. M. A. Stegeman's subject was "The Kingship of Labor." He said that all can attain to this kingship. Its characteristics are power, influence and beneficence. For the worker all is not drudgery. He often sees the true dignity of toil and feels himself a king.

Paul E. Hinkamp, the valedictorian chose for his subject, "Feeling After God." Through all ages the world has been asking the eternal why and has tried to learn the mysteries of the unknown. In the search after God only trustful faith satisfies the yearning of humanity.

The following musical numbers were given: Violin solo, "Romance" of d' Ambrosio by Miss Katherine Conlon; violin solo, (1) "Reverie" of Hubay (2) "Conzonetta" of d' Ambrosio, also by Miss Conlon; vocal

The Banquet.

At five o'clock Tuesday afternoon the annual alumni banquet was held. This year it was in the spacious dining rooms of the new ladies' dormitory. Two hundred and fifteen guests were present, the largest number that ever attended an alumni banquet at Hope. The banquet was in charge of Drs. Mersen and Knooihuisen and Mr. Henry Geerlings. After all had been well fed the following after dinner program was given:

Toastmaster—Gelmir Kuiper.

Address—Dr. G. J. Kollen.

"Hope for the World"—Rev. J. J. Banninga of India.

"My Fellow Missionaries from Hope in Japan"—Dr. A. Oltmans of Japan.

"What Can We Alumni Do for Hope College"—Dr. H. E. Dosker of Louisville, Kentucky.

"Hope in China"—Rev. H. Boot of China.

"Hope at Home"—Rev. G. J. Hekhuis of Overisel, Mich.

"The Relation of the Baby Alumni to Our Forefathers"—Philip J. Jonker of the class of 1907.

Magnificent Gifts to the College.

Dr. Kollen had some surprises in store for the audience in Carnegie Hall last night. In the first place he announced without any details whatever, that some good friend had promised them $25,000 to be added to the endowment fund. It is a princely gift and was heartily applauded. Details will appear later.

And then he announced a series of prizes offered by Mr. Edward E. Bok, editor of the "Ladies Home Journal." Mr. Bok proposes to give three prizes of $100, $75 and $50 for the best essays written on the subject "The Hollander and his Descendants in the West of the United States." This contest is open to both students and alumni. The essays are to be no more than ten thousand words in length, and are to trace the progress of all the Hollanders here. They will be judged on their merits in historical research and accuracy as well as literary value. A copy of the winning essays will be sent to the Knickerbocker Society and to the Holland Society in New York. The giver of the prizes will also have the right to publish the essays in any publication he may see fit. The essays must be in March 1, 1908 and the prize will be awarded in commencement week next year.

Whelan Gets Sparkler

Speaker Whelan was the recipient of a beautiful diamond ring, the gift of the members, clerks and correspondents, as a token of their esteem. The presentation was made by Representative Greusel. No man in public life is more beloved than "Nick" Whelan. True to the blood that courses through his veins, he loves a fight, but he is a fighter of the manly kind, and his proven integrity stands, as a living monument that can be a politician and remain a man.—Grand Rapids Daily News.

PEACE CONFERENCE OPEN

FIRST SESSION OF DELEGATES TO THE HAGUE IS BRIEF.

M. Nelidoff Delivers Address in Which He Says Universal Peace Is Unattainable.

The Hague, June 17.—The first meeting of the second international peace conference, opened here Saturday, lasted hardly 20 minutes, when the conference adjourned until Wednesday. Tea was served in the main hall and the committee rooms after the adjournment.

M. Nelidoff opened the conference by affirming that universal peace and disarmament were unattainable. The deliberate utterances of the Russian statesman, although pessimistic to the extent referred to, were hopeful when later he said he believed that a better method for the judicial adjustment of disputes was possible, even though all conflicts between nations were no more avoidable than conflicts between individuals.

In the course of his address M. Nelidoff greatly pleased the American delegates by the high tribute which he paid to President Roosevelt and Andrew Carnegie, not mentioning any other countries or rulers.

The dissolution of the douma and the promulgation of a new election system in Russia have created a profound impression among the delegates at the peace conference. The news reached The Hague Sunday morning and spread rapidly, becoming instantly the topic of discussion. There is general disapproval as to the wisdom of the dissolution.

The Russian delegates at the conference were not surprised at the news. They deny that there is any connection between the government's decision and M. Nelidoff's utterances Saturday. Extra precautions have been taken by the Dutch police to insure the personal safety of M. Nelidoff, the secret service having been warned of a plot to kill him.

A demonstration against the peace conference was held Sunday afternoon in a field on the outskirts of the city, but it was not a great success.

EDDIE GUERIN GOES FREE.

British Court Refuses to Extradite Notorious Criminal.

London, June 15.—Should the decision given in the divisional court Friday by the lord chief justice, Lord Alverstone, and two associates, hold good, a British subject convicted of crime in a foreign country who escapes to British territory cannot be extradited. The decision was given in the case of "Eddie" Guerin, who escaped to the United States from Devil's Island, then came to England, where he was arrested and ordered to be extradited to France by a Bow street extradition court magistrate.

Guerin formerly resided in Chicago, where he was twice convicted of crimes, and went to France on his release. There he was sentenced to penal servitude for life for a bank robbery in Paris and was sent to Devil's Island. On numerous occasions Guerin has been sent back to America.

The court decided that the extradition act did not apply to the case and discharged the prisoner.

It Takes Nerve

Everything depends upon your nerves. It is nerve force that causes the brain to direct the motion of your body; it is nerve force that causes your heart to pulsate, and send the blood through your veins; it is nerve force that causes your stomach to digest food, your kidneys to filter the blood, and the liver to secrete bile.

In fact, nerve force is the power that runs your body, so if you feel worn-out, irritable, nervous, cannot sleep, or eat well, have pain or misery anywhere, your nerves are weak, and your system run-down. To restore this vitality take Dr. Miles' Nerve which will strengthen and build up the nerves. You cannot be healthy without strong nerves.

"For eighteen years Dr. Miles' Nerve and Anti-Pain Pills have been my close companions. Early in married life, while raising children, my nerves became all worn-out—could not sleep; had no appetite; indigestion very bad, and had such awful dizzy spells. Then I began using Dr. Miles' Nerve, and at once I began to improve, and soon found myself in perfect health."

DOUMA DISSOLVED; RUSSIANS TRANQUIL

WORKMEN OF ST. PETERSBURG MAY ENGAGE IN RIOTOUS DEMONSTRATIONS.

Government is Confident and the Capital Well Protected by Troops—Nine of the Indicted Deputies Are Taken Into Custody.

St. Petersburg, June 17.—An imperial ukase was issued Sunday proroguing the council of the empire until November 13.

The dissolution of the second douma Saturday night was received throughout St. Petersburg with perfect tranquility, thanks to the precautionary measures, and in no place in Russia, so far as is known, were there any serious disturbances.

Demonstrations among St. Petersburg workmen are anticipated Monday, but the authorities are not alarmed. They profess to be chiefly apprehensive over the possibility of rioting and racial excesses in Odessa and Kiev and other cities where party feeling runs high. An outbreak of agrarian disorders in several regions of the empire is anticipated later, when the peasantry learn of the dissolution, but a spirit of quiet confidence in the ability of the government to handle the situation prevails in administrative circles.

Show Contempt for Manifesto. News of the dissolution reached the St. Petersburg papers too late for their last editions, but the public was quickly informed through extras and great posters sent out by the police at all street corners, containing the ukase announcing the dissolution, and the imperial manifesto.

Little knots of readers clustered around these the whole day, attentively perusing the manifesto, the phrasing of which was calculated to appeal to the patriotism of the lower classes. Little enthusiasm or excitement, however, was evoked, and many of the readers, as they turned away, spat silently upon the ground as a sign of their deepest contempt.

City is Well Guarded.

Though Gen. Drachevsky, prefect of police, was nominally in charge, the provisions for public safety were virtually in the hands of Gen. Hazenkampf, the aide to Grand Duke Nicholas Nikolaevitch, who returned from Krasnoye Selo to assume command of the combined garrison, including the guard corps, the Thirty-seventh infantry division, a large force of cavalry and Cossacks and several machine gun detachments. The military was chiefly disposed in the industrial section, but a strong force occupied the Tauride palace vicinity.

Nobody, not even douma officials, was allowed to enter the precincts of the palace. A laconic notice was posted on the gates announcing that "former deputies" would receive their salaries upon application to the chancellor of the empire.

Nine Deputies Arrested.

During the night nine of the 16 social democratic leaders, specifically named in the government indictment, including Prince Tzertzeretel and M. Dzhabardze, were taken into custody. The seven others succeeded in eluding the elaborate provisions made for their arrest. Two secret service officers, with signed warrants, had been assigned to follow each deputy and serve the warrants as soon as the ukase was promulgated. They were instructed to follow their men to the frontier if necessary, but the deputies succeeded in making their escape. Among those who have not yet been arrested are M. Ozel and M. Alexinsky, who have not returned to Russia.

Douma is Defiant.

St. Petersburg, June 15.—The dissolution of the lower house of the Russian parliament appeared Friday to be a question of only a few hours or at most of a day or two.

With only 130 opposing votes the lower house Friday night rejected Premier Stolypin's ultimatum for the immediate suspension of 55 deputies for membership in the social democratic party, and referred the subject to a committee. Although the committee has been instructed to report Saturday evening, it is known in advance that the decision on the main question will be adverse, and that the douma will accept the recommendation.

The authorities are of the opinion that Johnson's death was suicidal. The tree of Tule is of an enormous growth and witnesses state that Johnson fell from branches 50 meters above the ground.

THREE MONTHS' TEST FOR LOW FARE LAW

MISSOURI STATUTE WILL BE GIVEN TRIAL OF ONE QUARTER BY ROADS.

Federal Judge's Ruling—If Rate Proves Unremunerative Railways May Appeal to Courts—To Argue Freight Law Later.

Kansas City, Mo., June 18.—The Missouri two-cent passenger fare act will go into effect at six a. m. on Wednesday next, and be given a three months' trial. If at the end of that time the rate is found to be unremunerative the law's enforcement can be fought in the courts by the railroads.

The state officials are temporarily enjoined from enforcing the maximum freight rate law and this case will be argued later in the federal court.

Judge McPherson's Ruling.

Judge Smith McPherson in the United States district court here Monday afternoon, after handing down an opinion maintaining the court's jurisdiction in the premises, ordered the promulgation of the above stated facts, which had been agreed to by the attorneys for the state and the 18 Missouri railroads involved. The court in its decision had suggested that the two-cent fare should be first given a practical trial before injunction proceedings preventing its enforcement be considered.

Herbert S. Hadley, attorney general, said regarding the two-cent bill:

"If at the end of three months the railroads want to litigate the reasonableness of these rates, the matter of the jurisdiction of the state and federal courts to determine the question will be fought out and the state has lost none of its rights and advantages.

Injunction Suits Stand.

"The injunction suits that I have brought against the railroad companies on the passenger rates in the state courts will stand.

"As the reasonableness of the freight rate law can be more speedily heard and determined by the federal court on account of the fact that practically all the testimony necessary to the determination has been already taken there, it will be heard and decided in that court. The state is in the better position to win the case under the act of 1907 than it was under the law of 1905. I feel that the order made is both a moral and a substantial victory for the state."

The bodies, after being examined and identified, were taken by the naval tug Potomac to the naval hospital at Portsmouth.

DENIAL FOR THE PRESIDENT

REPORT OF DISCOURTESY AT FAIR DISCREDITED.

Dispatch from Governor of Georgia Made Public—John Temple Graves First Caller.

Oyster Bay, L. I., June 17.—President Roosevelt Saturday received from Gov. Terrell of Georgia a telegraphic disclaimer of any criticism of the president to the celebration of Georgia day at the Jamestown exposition. The dispatch is as follows: "To President Roosevelt, Oyster Bay, N. Y.: The publication to the effect that Mr. Mitchell or myself feels aggrieved toward you or that you are responsible for the shortening of the Georgia day exercises at the Jamestown exposition is absolutely unwarranted. In explaining the hurried manner in which the programme was carried out, I stated to a number of prominent Georgians and several newspaper reporters that the review consumed more time than was estimated. Hence it was necessary to cut out or cut off some of the afternoon engagements.

"Personally and as governor I wish to thank you for lending your presence to Georgia day and assure you that every true Georgian feels likewise. The sentiment of the official badges for that day expresses the sentiment of every such Georgian, whether at Jamestown or at home. Our country's president and Georgia's grandson. I consider Georgia day at the Jamestown exposition a great success and that you made it so.

"J. M. TERRELL."

John Temple Graves, Georgia editor and orator, has the distinction of being the first visitor to Sagamore Hill since the president took up his summer residence there. Mr. Graves, by appointment, reached Oyster Bay Saturday and went at once to Sagamore Hill, where he was in conference with the president for nearly two hours. While the visit was designated as a purely personal one, it is understood that many things political in Georgia were touched upon.

"I am a Democrat," said Mr. Graves at the station, "but I am also an ardent admirer of President Roosevelt and as I was in this neck of the woods attending the Orange centennial the president has done me the honor to invite me to call on him."

When Mr. Graves returned from Sagamore Hill he said he had thanked the president for his part in making Georgia day a success at Jamestown and especially for his speech on that occasion which set forth the industries and advantages of the south.

The teacher's defense was that the girls were naughty and that spankings were necessary to maintain discipline. He was acquitted and the school board immediately increased his salary.

FAST TRAIN JUMPS TRACK AT COLUMBUS

MATE OF TWENTIETH CENTURY LIMITED WRECKED BY OPEN SWITCH.

SEVERAL PASSENGERS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Coaches Turn Over on Side and Many Persons Are Slightly Bruised—Accident Is Charged to Gang of Boys.

Columbus, O., June 19.—Big Four passenger train No. 19, one of the fastest trains on the New York Central lines, went through an open switch Tuesday in the northern part of the city and is now lying on its side along the track while all the passengers are wondering why they were not instantly killed. The train which is the fastest that runs between this city and Cleveland, was rushing along, according to one of the passengers, at 50 miles an hour, when she struck a switch, coming into the city, and the passengers were thrown in every direction.

The tender of the engine ran along the side of the track for some rods, and then plunged its nose into the ground about 25 feet. The engine continued along the side of the track for 200 yards and then turned over on its side. Engineer William T. Smith stuck to his post and is uninjured. His fireman, Joe Mahaffey of Cleveland jumped, and is probably fatally injured. He was taken to the Protestant hospital. The rest of the train is lying on its side along the track. The train, which is a mate of the Twentieth Century Limited, carries through sleepers from New York. These sleepers were wrecked.

List of the Injured.

The list of seriously injured follows: Mrs. Elizabeth Lowry, age 60, Cleveland, hip injured. J. G. Creegan, Cleveland, back sprained. H. L. Reed, Mansfield, face cut. Mrs. Dr. Hyndman, 517 West One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, New York, back hurt and body bruised. Joe Mahaffey, fireman, fatally injured.

The wreck occurred in a portion of the city which is almost inaccessible, and it was some time before aid reached the passengers. All the ambulances in the city were rushed to a point near the scene as soon as possible and the seriously injured carried to them and hurried to the hospitals. Many of the passengers in the sleepers were only scratched and slightly bruised, and were able to walk to a street car or other conveyance and came into the city. Many refused to give their names. It is not believed that any of the injured except the fireman will die. The wrecked train carries a through sleeper from the Lake Shore limited and leaves Cleveland at 7:25 a. m. daily. No. 19 is known among railroad men as the Lake Shore limited.

Boys Held Responsible.

New York, June 19.—Officials of the New York Central railroad have advice from Columbus, O., which they say indicate that the open switch, which wrecked the Big Four express No. 19 at North Columbus, O., Tuesday, was thrown open by a gang of boys. The superintendent of the Big Four at Columbus, telegraphing to officials of the railroad states that another train passed over the road 20 minutes before No. 19, came along and the engineer noticed a crowd of boys near the switch which controlled the spur of track into the sewer pipe works where the wreck occurred.

THAW CONSIDERS NEW COUNSEL.

Stanford White's Slayer Will Employ Defender This Week.

New York, June 19.—During the present week Harry K. Thaw will select counsel to represent him during his second trial for the killing of Stanford White on the Madison Square roof garden June 25, 1906. Thaw will not have Delphin M. Delmas as his leading counsel. This time, it is said, he will be represented by one of the leading members of the New York bar, who has made a local reputation in big criminal cases. The identity of the lawyer will be made known only after he has been retained.

Thaw has a copy of all the testimony taken during his trial and this he has examined carefully. It is said he thinks he has found many weak spots in the case presented by District Attorney Jerome.

Five Men Blown to Pieces.

Williamsport, Pa., June 19.—Five men were killed in an explosion of the Gelatin department of the Sinnemahoning Powder Manufacturing company, at Sinnemahoning, Pa., Tuesday. Only fragments of the bodies were found. As all the men in the building were killed, it is not possible to ascertain the cause of the explosion. Two men at work near by were injured.

Ripley Gets Place in New York.

Washington, June 19.—Information reached Washington Tuesday to the effect that Joseph Ripley, whose resignation as engineer in charge of lock designs on the Panama canal, was announced yesterday, has accepted the position of advisory engineer to the department of public works in the state of New York.

Vos is Dead.

There can be little doubt that Henry Vos, or "Foxy" Vos, as he is better known, and who is wanted for breaking his parole and for burglary, is dead, and that his body is in a casket at Traverse City. His mother, who is almost heart-broken at her home in Muskegon, has received a letter which establishes the conclusion that "Foxy" was one of a party of young men, three of whom were drowned in Round lake near Traverse City in the fall of 1904. The police have been aware that "Foxy" had long been silent and that the letters which he frequently wrote at intervals while he was dodging around the country had ceased to arrive at the Vos home, but attributed the silence to a prison term in some other state. Some weeks ago Mrs. Vos learned through a round-about way that her son was among the drowned young men at Round lake and the family investigated. They learned what has convinced them that Jimmy Sullivan, one of the drowned men, was none other than "Foxy" Vos, and are satisfied now that he is dead.

"Foxy" Vos was one of the toughest criminals that an Ottawa county jail ever held. He was a man who would stoop to any method to gain his end. About ten years ago he was arrested by Frank VanRy, then sheriff of this county, charged with robbing the store and postoffice at the little town of Harrisburg in Chester township. During his incarceration here awaiting trial Vos and one or two other prisoners made a desperate attempt to escape jail and they were subdued only after a struggle. A piece of gas pipe was found which Vos had intended to use upon the sheriff. Vos got a ten year stint at Marquette for that crime. He was paroled in 1903, and coming back to his old haunts about Muskegon he got drunk and nearly killed an old man against whom he had a fancied grievance. He was sent to the Detroit house for a 90-day term. Again he returned to Muskegon and about the first thing he did was to burglarize two saloons in that city, since which time he has been a fugitive from justice.

Returned to Holland.

Dr. Albert Oltmans and family returned from Japan, via the Tokohama-Seattle route, and are quarantined at the home of Mrs. Oltmans' sister, Miss Lena Voorhorst, in this city, the youngest child being ill with scarlet fever. They were passengers on the steamer Minnesota, the sister ship of the Dakota, wrecked some time ago in Tokyo bay. Dr. Oltmans was granted a special furlough for the purpose of placing his children in the public schools of this city, and expects to return alone next fall. His regular furlough expires in 1911.

Dr. Oltmans has been connected with the South Japan mission for seventeen years, and three years ago was elected to the chair of Old Testament theology in Union Seminary in Tokio, Japan. The school has an enrollment of from 300 to 350 students in both departments, and has a faculty of twelve, five of whom teach theology. Three of the latter are Japanese.

The school is supported jointly by the Presbyterian and Reformed missions, although the plan of self-support is fast being developed.

Dr. Oltmans is the second son of H. Oltmans, residing on Lyon street in Grand Rapids, and a brother of Fred, who operates a paint shop on Wealthy avenue. Three of the doctor's children have been enrolled at Hope college for several years, from which institution he himself is an alumnus, having graduated in 1883.

Board of Public Works Meet.

The proposition of securing for the city additional electric current was taken up in earnest by the board of public works Monday evening.

The board instructed Superintendent De Young to prepare a plan and data for the extension of the municipal electric light and power plant, and also to procure a definite proposition from the Grand Rapids-Muskegon Power company for furnishing electric current to the city.

Mr. DeYoung will promptly take up the matter, and in his report will cover the two propositions, the enlarging of the plant and the purchase of current—giving an estimate of the original cost of each to the city and the saving, if any, to the city of buying its current.

Under the informal proposition it is estimated that the city can save $5,000 annually by buying its current of the power company, but in order to make the necessary changes in the plant to allow the distribution of the power company's current an estimated expenditure of $20,000 will be required. These figures are all arbitrary, and cannot be given with conciseness until the superintendent has made investigation.

Other matters taken up by the board of public works Monday night include the instructing of the city clerk to advertise for bids on the furnishing of material for the construction of the lateral sewers on Sixth street, between College and Columbia avenues, on Columbia avenue between Sixth and Seventh streets, and on Seventh street between College avenue and the Land street viaduct.

The petition of R. Weurding for permission to build a small standpipe on his proposed new mill on East Seventh street was granted.

The superintendent reported plans and specifications and estimates of cost for the construction of lateral sewers on West Fourteenth and West Fifteenth streets, between Maple and Harrison avenues. The estimated cost of the Fourteenth street sewer is given at $2,384.30 and of the West Fifteenth street sewer at $2,480.65.

The superintendent was instructed to make the necessary repairs to the West Sixteenth street sewer.

The following plumbers' bonds were approved and applications for license granted:

M. Kerkhof, principal; J. A. Ter Vree and J. P. Oosting, sureties.
Dick Steketee, principal; John De Young and Henry Sterenberg, sureties.
Pfanstiehl & Co., principals; M. Van Putten and G. Blauw, sureties.

Good Suggestion.

A. Tanner has suggested a plan for dealing with violators of the fish and game law that would undoubtedly work well if put into effect. He believes that instead of the deputy game warden hanging around the bay shore waiting for the fellows to leave or arrive from their netting, that it would be better to go after their nets and destroy them.

He suggests that launch be chartered and with grappling irons sweep the bay for any nets that may be placed. These nets are valuable and after a man engaged in netting had lost several he would become less enthusiastic.

There will be little difficulty in locating the nets, and it is certain that their destruction would put a stop to the wholesale netting being carried on for a time at least.

High School Commencement Exercises.

Third church was crowded Sunday evening by friends of the high school graduating class and those who desired to hear the sermon to the class delivered by the Rev. E. J. Blekkink. The choir furnished special music for the occasion, and the large audience listened with close attention to the scholarly sermon that the speaker delivered.

The graduates, numbering twenty, the juniors, almost as many in number, the teachers of the high school and the members of the board of education, marched in a body into the church to the seats reserved for them. The choice of Rev. Mr. Blekkink to deliver the annual sermon to the graduates was a wise one, and his words of advice cannot but bear fruit in the lives of those who listened.

Rev. Mr. Blekkink's text was from Luke 12:48—"And to whomsoever much is given, to him shall much be required; and to whom they commit much, of him will they ask the more."

"All are students in the great university of common life. In considering this passage of Scripture we shall be sitting with these graduates from our High School at the feet of Christ. He is the world's great teacher. He deals in foundation principles, and announces here the fundamental law of life. May God by his Spirit burn it into every one of our consciences. Have we received much then much shall be required of us."

"When we review the years of our life, and consider the opportunities that have come to us and the wholesome and stimulating surroundings in which we have lived, whether the years that are past are few or many, we have received much. By birth we were endowed with healthy brains, and the capacity to think. Our institutions, the home, the school and the church, and the atmosphere of Christian culture that breathe are the gifts of God through the generations that have lived and wrought for us."

"Too much good cannot be said of our public schools. The nation has long ago realized that its chief task is to educate the youth. We have built up a magnificent system. It is not perfect nor all that it can be or will be, but after all discounts have been made it still remains a fact that our system of public instruction is in many respects ideal, and is serving as a model for other nations. It is the product of Christian civilization. The men and women to whom our children are entrusted in the tender years of their life are usually persons of high Christian character and from whose lives there goes forth daily from the schoolroom an influence that is wholesome and constructive in the building up of the right kind of lives."

"When we think of the young men and women that are graduating from our high schools, academies, colleges and universities we can think of them only as those who have received much and much will be required of them."

"The selfish life is not worth living. It stagnates. The Dead Sea is dead because it has no outlet. The fresh waters of the Jordan flow into it but none flow out. It receives but does not give. There is no life in its banks or in its waters. Such is life. If we only receive and do not give the mind stagnates, the heart grows unsympathetic and cold, that which might have been a fresh flowing fountain of intellectual and spiritual power becomes a stagnant pool, and the possibilities for a strong, vigorous, wholesome and industrial life are utterly defeated. Only he who gives can live."

"Education is not for the purpose of finding an easy place in life. Instead of lifting our burdens it increases them. Increased power and capacity for doing includes the obligation of doing. The great advantage of the right kind of an education is that we have learned to do disagreeable things in an agreeable way. The education that leads the individual to the fleeing and flaying of his fellow-men, curse to the community and to himself. The greatest life that was ever lived on the earth was unselfish. He is described as going about, doing good. He said of himself: 'The Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister.' If we give to the communities in which we live ungrudgingly the best we have, and according to the measure that we have received, then we shall be walking in the footsteps of Him whose life is the wonder of the world."

"Paul when he realized what measureless blessings he had received, said: 'I am a debtor. Be true to your trust; you have received much and much will be required of you.'"

These young hopeful boys and girls are now ready to start out into a higher sphere of the scholastic life.

Notes of Sport.

H. Van Tongeren received the uniforms for the new base ball team called the Hollands. The suits are grey with maroon trimmings, and the name across the front of the shirts in script like the first real Holland star base ball team work. The Hollands expect to make a good record this year.

Notes of Sport.

The Holland Independents defeated the Young & Chaffee nine of Grand Rapids in an interesting game Saturday afternoon by the score of 8 to 3.

Both batteries were very effective and given good support, but locals secured their runs through bunting hits, while those of the visitors were scattered.

Wolfering for the Independents struck out 14 men, against Saures' six. The visitors were blanked for seven consecutive innings and in the eighth put enough ginger into their plays to net them three runs.

The Independents have reorganized with TeRoller as manager and will make a determined effort to secure the championship among the have dozen clubs in the city. Games have been scheduled with the Madison Squares here on June 29 and with Grand Haven on July 6, with a return game at Grand Haven on July 20.

Manager H. Van Tongeren has scheduled the following ball games at the Nineteenth street grounds. Holland will play Hudsonville June 22; the Holland Independents will play the St. Alphonsus of Grand Rapids on the morning of July 4th and the Hollands will play Zeeland in the afternoon.

The Holland Interurbans and the Holland All Stars played an interesting ball game at Jenison Park Saturday afternoon. The game was well attended. The score was 8 to 0 in favor of the Interurbans.

The Holland team and the North End team had a contest Saturday, the Hollands winning by a score of 10 to 4.

Street Sprinklers

At a cost of between 5 and 6 cents per lineal foot the citizens who petitioned for it will have sprinkling service this summer, and the service will not only be cheaper than it was under the old plan, but it will be far better.

The city has placed with James Kole an order for two sprinkling wagons, one of 750 gallons capacity, which will be used on Eighth and River streets, and the other of 600 gallons capacity. The two sprinklers owned by Henry Vrieling and Richard Plaggenmarm have been purchased by the city making four wagons that the city will operate this summer.

The streetsprinkling is in charge of the street committee of the common council—Al'ermen Stephan, Prakken and Dyke, and this committee has divided the city into four districts, which cover streets, the property owners of which have petitioned for the sprinkling service.

The common council has authority to extend the service to any locality, but it has been decided that only such streets for which there is a petition for the service will be accommodated.

For the sake of convenience the street committee has formed four districts, but there will be only one sprinkling assessment district, and the property owners in this district will be assessed for the actual cost of the service, as well as for the interest on the city's investment in sprinkling wagons and a small charge for wear and tear on the wagons.

The four districts are arranged as follows, each covering a distance of 7,000.

District No. 1—Eighth street between Land and River streets, and River street between Fourth and Thirteenth streets.

District No. 2—Seventh street between College and Central avenues, Ninth street between Columbia avenue and Pine street, Tenth street between Columbia and Collhge avenues, Columbia avenue between Ninth and Tenth, College avenue between Seventh and Tenth, Central between Sixth and Ninth streets.

District No. 3—Twelfth street between Columbia avenue and Pine streets, Fourteenth street between College and Central avenue, College between Tenth and Twelfth streets, Central avenue between Ninth and Sixteenth streets.

District No. 4—Eleventh street between River and First avenue, Twelfth between Pine and First avenue, Thirteenth street between River and Pine streets, Fourteenth street between River and Pine street, Pine street between Eleventh and Thirteenth, River street between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets, Maple street between Eleventh and Twelfth streets.

The service will begin as soon as the new sprinklers arrive which should be within two weeks.

No additional territory will be added to the districts, the street committee having divided the territory about equally among the four sprinklers and it is thought that the water supply will not allow of the covering of a larger territory.

Lake and Marine

Grand Haven is to have a wireless telegraph station. A 200 foot steel tower will be erected and it is now being built to order in Batavia, Ill. This wireless station is being built by a corporation but will work in conjunction with the Goodrich Transportation Company.

Cappon Bertach Leather Co. Makes Improvements

The Flint-Walling Co., of Kendallville, Ind., has started the construction of the steel tower for the sprinkling system to be installed by the Cappon & Bertsch Leather company in their tannery on West Eighth street.

The tower will be located on the north side of Eighth street, directly opposite the tannery. It will be built of steel with cement abutments. The tower will be 80 feet high, and the tank will add 18 feet. A flag pole 40 feet in length will top the structure, making it 138 feet in height, which beats the city stand pipe by quite a few feet.

With the installation of the sprinkling system the tannery will have excellent fire protection, and this materially affect the Insurance rate. All the large factories in the city have sprinkling systems.

Popular in Salt Lake City.

R. E. and C. H. Kremers, sons of Dr. H. Kremers of this city, who are located in Salt Lake City, are interested in motor boating and are members of a boat club which promises to make the sport popular on the Great Salt Lake.

The Utah boat club has just been organized. R. E. Kremers is vice president and C. H. Kremers is chairman of the boat committee.

The club is building a boat which the Salt Lake City papers say is "a fine appearing craft, built on lines as graceful as a swan, and will be a credit to her owners and builders, as well as an ornament to Saltair, where it is the purpose of the club to keep her. The coamings and top sides of the boat are of oak, with the decks finished in mahogany and nickled trimmings. She has a capacity of twenty and will fly the colors of the club, red and white, and also that most beautiful of all flags, the stars and stripes. The motor power of the boat will be furnished by a two-cylinder, fifteen horse power Ferro marine engine, with a probable speed of 12 per hour. The keel, ribs and furnishings of the boat were purchased in Bay City, Mich. The boat is built solely for the use of the owners and their friends."

Young People Held Social.

At the regular monthly business meeting of the Third church C. E. society held last Wednesday evening, it was unanimously decided to purchase a piano to use at the prayer-meeting services.

After the business meeting a social was given for the young people. No formal program had been prepared but while refreshments were served the following responded:

Piano solo, Cornelia Kamferbeek.

A Chicago physician received $6,000 for advising a patient to stop smoking, advice that wives give gratuitously daily.

Last Friday the Holland Business college graduated its thirteenth class, it being the largest in the history of the school, numbering twenty.

Graduation day at this school is observed in a very simple manner, the principal, Prof. C. J. Dregman, giving the students a helpful talk on the duties and responsibilities of business life in general, and the correct attitude of employee to employer. The members of the class were then presented with their diplomas and letters of recommendation to the business public.

Of the twenty members all but five have secured situations, some accepting positions several weeks before graduating, an evidence of the demand for young people educated in this school. Following is the class roll:

William Eby, Holland.
Henry H. Legestee, Holland.
William Stephan, Holland.
Freda Schwartz, Holland.
Marie Schwartz, Holland.
Margaret Whelan, Holland.
