Takes Junket To Investigate Gas Burning

PETER VAN ARK ASKS FOR MORE PAY FOR OFFICE
CLERK—REFUSED

The common council met in regular session last night and many important matters were taken up. Mayor Bosch gave a message, an ordinance on peddlers and hucksters was passed, and many other important matters were brought up by different committees and aldermen.

The chairman of the ways and means committee, Henry Prins, asked that the mayor appoint a committee to take a trip to Donners Grove, Ill., to inspect their gas burning system used in connection with a sewer disposal plant that works very satisfactory and does away with the odors that have been most annoying in Holland in the sewer disposal district. Mayor Bosch is bound that this condition be changed through some method, not "half baked," but thorough, so that the smell will be eliminated for good in the Second ward and along US-31 at that point. The burning of sewer gas, it is said, is very effective and therefore, the move received the approval of Mayor Bosch who appointed Henry Prins, Neal De Cook, Art Drinkwater and City Engineer Zuidema and also Charles Vos of the board of public works to investigate the Donners Grove plant and make a report.

Mayor Bosch, even though he appointed the committee, felt rather doubtful of the gas burning system. He again reminded the aldermen that in order to make the plant complete it would be necessary to go to the electorate with a bonding issue of $50,000, an amount which should have been added to the initial installation of the plant several years ago.

Peter Van Ark, city assessor, recommended to the common council that the lady clerical force in his office be paid at the rate of 50c per hour instead of 35c per hour, as was brought up by the committee on claims and accounts. The matter was left to the ways and means committee who asked for a recess of five minutes to debate the matter. After the time was up they brought in a verdict denying the request and the pay will remain 35c per hour. The ways and means committee is composed of Henry Prins, chairman; Neal De Cook and Al Kleis.

The American Legion band, in a letter to the common council, stated that they did not make a request for a bandstand in Centennial park at this time. The stand in question would cost approximately $4,000. The stand as proposed two weeks ago by Alderman Kalkman of the Second ward, was to be in the form of a shell such as are common in the parks of big cities and was to be suitable not only for band concerts but for speaking programs as well.

Mayor Bosch admonished the Second ward alderman not to go beyond his authority in the future. Mayor Bosch's interview covering five typewritten pages, answered an editorial published in the local daily on June 11. Mr. Bosch stated that the editorial might engender misunderstandings and distrust in city officials and city government and for that reason he felt it his duty to make reply. The editorial had to do with a shortage of $100 reported by the city treasurer covering a period of four years. Said shortage, as was reported from the city treasurer, was made good to the city by him. The matter recently brought agitation, hinting a grand jury to look into this alleged robbery. The mayor implied that the city has never reimbursed the treasurer, Mr. Spruijs, for this shortage, nor was a penny was lost to the city through this matter. He stated that the city treasurer could give no involving evidence at the time when the matter came up and that Mr. Spruijs took the shortage out of his own pocket, and in substance he stated that the city's financial condition forbids, common sense forbids, and the respective oaths of office forbid spending a great amount of money for grand jury where nothing could be gained in the way of information more than that which the city officials already had. The complete message undoubtedly will appear in the official proceedings of the common council.

DR. PIETERS, CHILD LABORED AS PEACH PICKER

The general synod of the Reformed Church in America at a recent session voted not to support the proposed child labor amendment to the federal constitution. Its support had been recommended by the permanent committee on social welfare.

Rev. Albertus Pieters of Western Theological seminary, apparently voiced the sentiment of synod when he said:

"Children of 13 and 14 might well work in the cotton fields of the south, where they are not inclined to over-exert themselves, or in the berry patches or orchards of Michigan. The work is outdoors in the pure air and sunshine and it would be a good thing for them. It is another matter to be shut up in working mills of New England, filling the lungs with dust and cotton under a hard taskmaster. I earned my first day's pay, 70 cents when I was 13, picking

COUNCIL NOTES

Alderman Neil De Cook led the aldermen in the Lord's Prayer which opened the meeting.

People from Van Raalte avenue are still complaining about their bees—no further action taken.

All soft drink parlors and those selling this beverage were given licenses for the ensuing year. There were many of them.

The new peddlers, hucksters ordinance as passed by the common council will be found in full on page 3 of this section. Chairman Huyzer presented the ordinance.

Van Raalte avenue folks are still complaining of dust clouds, but the common council feels the calcium chloride is prohibitive in expense and now City Assessor Peter Van Ark has been instructed to send return postal cards to all property holders along this street to see whether it would be advisable to either pave or gravel that street at this time.

The Holland books have been audited and are found o. k. by the auditors, Mayhoffer and Moore, who have offices in Holland, Muskegon and Grand Rapids. The work was approved by the ways and means committee.

The city has entered into an agreement with the emergency welfare relief agency here and have turned over to them all salvage of the Ottawa Furniture company, and they have agreed to use the material on all projects that benefit Holland. Miss Veneklasen of Holland and John Henry De Pree of Zeeland are working together in matters of this kind.

Council Member George Damsen gave a report on the troublesome bee situation on West Eleventh street. Damsen reported a number of women were in the audience who could relate the trouble they had with bees while hanging up washings. Mayor Bosch instructed the committee to present a definite report.

Council Member Arthur Drinkwater voiced his objection toward starting another junk business in the Second ward. "We are trying to clean up the junk in my ward and are making progress, but there is plenty of it left. I understand the person starting the junk business hasn't even a license and I want it declared a nuisance," he said. The matter was placed in the hands of a committee with City Attorney E. B. Parsons as adviser.

Alderman Al Van Zoeren of the Third ward stated that $50 would cover the cost of opening the so-called Marslie creek at the south-east limit of the city for a swimming pool. Considerable work has been done at that point, only the pool must be finished and an attendant placed on guard. A tennis court at Kollen park is also under advisement. Mayor Bosch believes in all these recreational features but must see his way clear that these innovations can be paid for with money appropriated. Alderman Van Zoeren and the playground commission is working this program out.

Talk about dusty streets! Alderman Al Van Lente pointed to South Michigan avenue, which is not even sprinkled, not talking about oil or calcium. The reason is "sand blow" is not watered in because we haven't "water wagons" enough. So says the city engineer. Alderman De Cook gave a complete report on these dusty streets.

Radio interference in the city will be eliminated, according to charter provision, common council decided last evening in authorizing A. Nauta, superintendent of public works and in charge of radio interference, to request parties responsible for noises to eliminate them. Alderman Peter Huyser's motion giving Mr. Nauta that authority was unanimously carried. The Fifth ward alone declared that 42 places on Eighth street are listed in a report submitted by Mr. Nauta. The repairs will be subject to approval of a radio man and further action will be taken in event the council rules are not complied with.

Ben Steffens, who seldom fails to be present at council meetings, was unavoidably absent.

A request for a light on West Nineteenth street between Washington and Van Raalte avenues, was referred to the light committee. Poor lighting at the sewer disposal plant is also to be looked after.

At Alderman Jacob Bultman's recommendation the aldermen go on record requesting the state highway department to improve walks at the US-31 bridge across Black river. He said that the board walk is in poor condition and a concrete walk is imperative.

Alderman Peter Huyser told about the bids for coal all being the same. The council held up the matter for later consideration.

A communication from the board of public works stating that under a new state act the inspection of plumbing shall be referred to the health department was deferred for consideration until the next meeting.

The ways and means committee was given the project of investigating what work should be done to improve the rest room in the city hall. Alderman Drinkwater presented a plan for complete installation of new equipment at a cost of $160, but Alderman William Thomson said he estimated the job could be done for less than $50 if the piping was changed.

Standing—James Whelan, Jacob Marcuse, Lydia Gumsier Price, Alonzo De Spelder, Hazel Clements Isherwood, George Manting, Will Brouwer.

The above is the graduating class of Holland High School twenty-five years ago. The dress, coiffure and "ruffly" appearance of the ladies garments were all the go at that time, and we think wouldn't go bad even today. Anyway they look like a fine gathering of young folks and many have followed the teaching profession and are still teaching today. Miss Grevengeod is instructor in the Grand Rapids Christian High school and Miss Thole is in the Grand Rapids public schools, while Miss Kimpton is also teaching. Jacob Marcuse is now living in Kalamazoo and many of the others are still living in Holland and are well known here, some of them in business circles.

HOPE COLLEGE HOLDS 69TH BACCALAUREATE SUNDAY

The Hope college baccalaureate services were held at the Memorial chapel Sunday evening, June 17, when more than 1,500 filled the large edifice for the sixty-ninth convocation of the college. The evening's service was opened by an organ prelude, "Symphony in D Minor," Guy Weitz, played Mr. W. Curtis Snow, college organist. The opening number was followed by the professional, "The Son of God Goes Forth to War," Heber-Cutler, and prayer by Rev. William C. Walvoord, A.B., A.M., Pultneyville Reformed church, Williamson, N. Y., who also delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the 101 graduating seniors.

Rev. Stauffer compared his sermon text from Mark 10 with the youth of today, stating that "Jesus loved the rich young ruler because he was rich, because he was young, because he was honest with himself and with the world, telling the graduates that they, too, were rich in advantages, that they had youth, and that they, too, were honest in that they had a sense of confusion and at times were dissatisfied with life as it goes on round about. He concluded by saying that although fullness of life is a gift of God, it will not come without effort. That all the specified requirements must be fulfilled, and the laws of the universe be obeyed. Music at the services consisted of anthems, "Gloria, Honor, Laud," Charles Wood, and "O Praise Ye God," Tchaikowsky, by the chapel choir, sung by the audience; organ offertory, "Consecration," and organ postlude, "Piece Heroique," by Cesar Franck.

HOLLAND POPPY POSTER CONTEST WINNERS ALSO FIRST IN DISTRICT

Recently the American Legion auxiliary put on a poppy poster contest in the local Junior High and Holland High schools, when prizes were awarded to Dorothy Van Otterloo and Alma Faassen in the Junior High school, and to John Vander Wege in Junior High school. The auxiliary considered that the posters of the first two named were so excellent that both should be entered in the district contest rather than making a choice. The result of the contest held in Grand Rapids in which the winners of schools in Grand Rapids, Zeeland, Caledonia, Grand Haven and all others in the Fifth district entered, awarded district first prizes to two of Holland's winners, namely Dorothy Van Otterloo and John Vander Wege. It is stated that some wonderful art work was on display at the district contest and this makes the decision for Holland's entries the more interesting.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The national Republican convention was in progress in a four-day session and James G. Blaine was nominated for president on the fourth ballot.

Blaine was also a candidate but on his defeat in the convention at Chicago he was made the running mate of Mr. Blaine. A few weeks later the Democrats held their convention, also at Chicago, and Grover Cleveland was nominated after several ballots. The entire Michigan delegation voted twenty-three votes for Cleveland.

Cleveland's running mate was Thomas A. Hendricks of Indiana. It was possibly the hottest campaign in years with speaking augmented with "torch light" processions. Republicans in Holland made much of "torch lighting" in the earlier days. It was eight days after election that the result was made known so close was the vote in some states. In the final, Cleveland had 219 electoral votes and Blaine 182. The popular vote was also close. In New York state Cleveland (D) received 563,105, Blaine (R), 561,999, plurality for Cleveland of 1,106. The popular vote throughout the nation gave Cleveland (D), 99,926 votes more than Blaine (R). Michigan cast thirteen votes for Blaine in the electoral college, this state giving Blaine a plurality of a little over 5,000 votes on election day in November. Holland's vote stood: Blaine and Logan (R), 1st, 73; 2nd, 50; 3rd, 110; 4th, 42. Cleveland and Hendricks (D), 1st, 79; 2nd, 46; 3rd, 82; 4th, 35. Majority for Blaine and Logan in city, 33 votes.

Jan Helder has just finished his brick shoe store on River St. It is a handsome building, improving that part of the street. Note: The building in question is now owned by the Ebelink Flower Shop. Mr. Helder was the father of Prof. J. Jans Helder, vocal artist of note in Grand Rapids, who has had a studio here repeatedly and led the celebrated Wagner chorus 25 years ago.

One of our local anglers caught forty-six black bass near Point Superior the other day. There is no trouble in saying who it is — it couldn't be anyone else but M. F. Adair. What is more, they were of very large size.

On account of the depression in the price of shingles the Grand Haven lumber companies have shut down until there is an advance in shingle prices and will cut only lumber from now on. This will throw 250 men out of employment.

The News gave a review of the marriage of Peter Notier and Miss Theresa Van Vulpem. The bride, the News says, appeared very becoming in a gown of white lawn trimmed with lace, carrying a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Georgiana Lugers, who was gowned in white batiste and carried marguerites. They will make their home at 76 West 16th St.

George Vreeling of Saugatuck hauled in two catfish on the same line at the same time. The fact consider that one weighed 21½ pounds and the other 15 pounds it would seem there are plenty of fish eager to nibble.

Prominent men who graduated from Hope College 25 years ago today are Dr. Wynand Wichers, now president of Hope; Victor Blekkink, prominent divine, son of Dr. and Mrs. Blekkink of Holland; Dr. Milton Hoffman, prominent educator, professor of church history at New Brunswick Seminary; Isaac Van Westenburg, minister, Reformed church in Chicago; Dr. Peter Pleune, today prominent pastor of Louisville, Ky.; Henry Rotschafer, attorney; Miss Emma Louise Warnshuis, Holland. She is now the wife of Dr. Verne Oggel of Crawfordville, Ind.

Degrees of Doctor of Divinity were conferred by Hope College upon Evert J. Blekkink and Rev. John M. Vander Meulen 25 years ago.

The marriage of Miss Lena Harriet Beeuwkes of Holland to Lynn Hardie of Rockford took place, Rev. John M. Vander Meulen officiating at the quiet home wedding. FLYS FROM CALIFORNIA TO ATTEND HOPE EXERCISES

Dr. and Mrs. Cornelius Van Zwailenberg, of Riverside, Cal., took an airplane from their home to Detroit and arrived here in time for the Hope college graduation exercises. The flying time was 15 hours.

Dr. Van Zwailenberg was a Hope man many years ago. The doctor is credited with making two important discoveries. One has been adopted by the United States government, namely the cure for sunstroke through a "water cure." Another is the discovery of what causes appendicitis and the best method to cope with such cases.

LOCAL NEWS

With eight hours of rain in Holland Monday, interspersed with showers during the week, and torrents of rain last night lasting for hours, the drought in this part of Michigan has disappeared. Shall we call it a "million-dollar rain?"

Another matter brought before the meeting was whether or not the board should pass on the expenditure of money on the same day as introduced when Chief Lievense declared that he had been authorized to purchase the uniform by the personnel committee of the previous administration. The board had not been asked to act on the matter, however, and Chairman Edward Brouwer called upon Commissioner John F. Donnelly, present chairman of the personnel committee, for his recommendation. "We have an ironclad ruling against the purchase of uniforms for our officers," he declared, "and I can't see why we should disregard it in this instance, at the same time establishing a precedent."

FRATERNAL SOCIETY OF HOPE 100 YEARS OLD

On Monday, this week, the Fraternal society of Hope held its annual spring banquet. And what a momentous affair it proved to be, for it brought to a grand climax the one hundredth year of Fraternal service to college men. Alumni from every part of the country were present for this event, one of the greatest in the history of Fraternal. Hope's and Fraternal's oldest living alumnus, Dr. Meulendyke of Rochester, New York, was present to participate. Frater Alumnus John Van Ess of Arabia was the principal speaker of the occasion. Many other alumni of national and international renown were also present.

Besides the banquet at the Warm Friend Tavern the Frater house was open to all alumni and their guests during the day. All alumni were asked to make the Fraternal hall their general headquarters.

This large hall is located at Columbia avenue and Tenth street and is the property of the organization.

The year 1934 has been and always will be a memorial in the history of Fraternal. The men who, while attending college, have partaken of the Fraternal fellowship, can look upon the society of today with a deep sense of pride and satisfaction. Like every society Fraternal has had duties to accomplish and obligations to meet, and she has met them in the spirit of the college of which she is a part.

And the joy of it is the fact that she has met them victoriously. Fraternal has not lived one hundred years for herself alone. Her principles of friendship, love and truth have so permeated the hearts of those who have passed through her doors that Hope, too, has been served.

At any rate, one hundred years is a long time and The Anchor hopes that the Fraternal society may live on in a truly fraternal spirit of usefulness.-Hope College Anchor.

The Fraternal society of Hope college, oldest of the college organizations, celebrated its centennial with a banquet Monday evening in Warm Friend Tavern, attended by at least 200 guests. Harvey Lucas, Scholten of Spring Lake, member of Hope's class of 1934, was chairman; George A. Pelgrim of Holland, class of 1916, was toastmaster, and the invocation was pronounced by Rev. Josias Meulendyke of Rochester, New York, class of 1873, Hope's oldest living alumnus.

The program featured "International Fraternalism" by Christian Herman Walvoord of Williamson, New York, president of Hope's Student council; court jesters by James VanKollen of Holland; "Student and the World," by President Wynand Wichers; "Diplomatic," by Rev. Martin DeWolf; "Greetings from an Internationalist," by Rev. John J. Banning, a Hope and Seminary graduate and missionary in India since 1901, and "Fraternal Ambassador," by Rev. John VanEss, Reformed missionary and educator in Arabia since 1902, and a graduate from Hope.

The society was founded in Union college in 1834 and its charter was transferred to Hope in 1866. It was the first society to establish a fraternity home. Fifty members are listed.

Near the close of the program the active members of the organization were reminded of the age and traditions of the society when Mrs. Frances Phelps Otte presented the program chairman, Harvey Scholten, with the first badge of the Fraternal members at Hope college. Mrs. Otte, daughter of the first president of the college, substituted for her brother, Rev. Philip Phelps of the class of '82, who was scheduled to make the presentation but was unable to attend last night.

The program also included the invocation by Rev. J. Meulendyke of Rochester, who as a member of the class of '73 is the oldest living Frater alumnus; a vocal number by "Court Jesters" Preston Van Kollen and James Nettinga and the singing of old and new Frater songs. George Pelgrim of Holland was toastmaster.

Immediately following the program the alumni, who numbered more than 50, were invited to the Fraternal house to inspect the archives, which include the original constitution, dated 1834.

Among the out-of-town alumni who attended the banquet were Charles Peet of Bristol, Pa.; Dyke Van Putten, William Rottschaefer, Adrian Buys and Clarence Becker of Grand Rapids; Charles Van Zanten and Carl Walvoord of Chicago; Everett Poppink of Rochester, New York; Rev. Robert Ritchie of Gardiner, N. Y.; Alvin Cook and Dr. Blomendal of Grand Haven; A. Engelsman of Ann Arbor; Rev. C. Vander Mel of Mowhawk; Howard Dalman of Whitehall; Dr. Pyle of Muskegon; Dr. Storm of Brookside, N. Y., and Otto Yntema of Jamestown.

FAVORITE FLYER COMING TO HOLLAND JUNE 27

Jimmie Mattern, holder of a dozen world flight records and famous for a globe-circling solo flight, will arrive at Municipal airport at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday, June 27, for a visit in Holland.

Mattern is on a tour of 90 cities in 32 states as an aerial ambassador of the Chicago world's fair, inviting the mayors and governors to attend the fair as guests of Rufus Dawes, president of the exposition.

In connection with his trip, Mattern is making an aviation survey for the Pure Oil company, of which he is technical director of aeronautics. It was announced by Mr. A. J. Boeve, president of the Main Oil company.

Mattern is best known for his heroic though ill-fated attempt to round the globe in record time a year ago. After the longest solo flight that had ever been made-Mattern ran out of oil and crash in the desolate tundras of Siberia. For three weeks the world waited, hopefully, at first, and then for the sad news of the discovery of his body.

But Mattern was not dead. One day a radio message spluttered from Anadyr, Siberia, that the pilot had been found, half starved, suffering from pneumonia and a broken ankle, by eskimos.

Mattern held half a dozen flying jobs in the next several years and about this time met a former army buddy, Bennett Griffin, of Oklahoma City. They made the discovery that both of them had the ambition to fly around the globe. Jimmie had a speedy Lockheed airplane and Griffin had friends who were willing to back the flight.

In July, 1932, Mattern and Griffin took off in the plane which they had christened "Century of Progress." An epoch-making flight to Berlin in which a transatlantic speed record of 10 hours and 50 minutes was clocked was marred when a piece of cowling broke loose, tore off the tail section and crashed their ship in a peat bog near Moscow.

Three months later Mattern had backing for another world flight. It was the following June, just a year ago, that he took off from New York in the first attempt in history to fly around the world alone.

Finally, far up in the arctic, only three hours away from Nome, Alaska, and American soil, the lone birdman was forced to crash his plane on the frozen Siberian waste.

After a week's voyage they reached the Russian settlement of Anadyr, in a Russian aeroplane. Mattern flew to Alaska where an American plane awaited him and he flew back to New York.

Jimmie will arrive on June 27.

RAILROAD HERE CHANGES TIME

To Our Patrons:

The Pere Marquette railway wishes to announce that with the general change of time, effective Sunday, June 24, train No. 5 will on Sundays be operated thirty minutes later into Chicago than now. Leaves Holland at 5:50 p. m. instead of 5:29 p. m., and arrives Chicago 10 p. m. NEWS FOR YOUNG ARTISTS

This summer the Taylor Art school of Saugatuck announces the addition of children's classes to its regular curriculum. Cora Bliss Taylor will personally supervise painting, drawing and modeling classes for children of all ages. She will be assisted by Mary Jane White, art supervisor, Plymouth, Indiana, and Joy Taylor. Groups are coming from Douglas, Castle Park and Waukazoo.

Plans for summer work are very original and, unlike conventional training, are designed to treat the child as an artist and give him the utmost pleasure in his work as well as some adult knowledge of the subject without the confusing technical terminology. Great attention will be paid to teaching the structural principles of art in an entertaining and simplified form.

Children will be taught to experiment with various mediums so that they will attain a breadth of feeling for all art and enough skill in the craft to enable them to develop alone later on. It is hoped that when the summer course has been completed each member of the group will have had a glorious time and a tangible knowledge which will form the foundation of strong vital work.

The instructors are especially capable of carrying out the suggested program, for they are not mere teachers but recognized painters.

At the end of the summer an exhibition of the children's work will be held with a reception and party for the exhibiting artists.

Christian High Graduates 40 Tuesday Night

REV. HERMAN HOEKSEMA
ADDRESS LARGE AUDIENCE AT LOCAL CHURCH

The auditorium of the Central Avenue Christian Reformed church was filled Tuesday evening when forty graduates of the local Christian High school received their diplomas. The decorations were in green and white colors of the class of 1934 and lilies of the valley, the class flower.

The program opened with the processional, "March in C," by Edvard Batiste, played by Mrs. Helen Klingenberg, followed by the invocation by Mr. William Beckman, president of the board of trustees of the local Christian schools.

Rev. Herman Hoeksema, pastor of the First Protestant church of Grand Rapids, formerly pastor of the Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church of this city, gave the principal address of the evening, using for his subject the words from II Tim. 23:17: "That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished to all good works." His address was centered around the thought of being "thoroughly furnished." The pastor began by defining "good works," making plain that God is always the Judge of works, not man, but God Himself determines whether a work is good or bad.

"For," said Rev. Hoeksema, "God looks at the heart, whence are the issues of life, and good works are such only as proceed from a true faith, are performed according to the law of the living God and such as are performed to the glory of God. All other works, no matter how noble they may seem to us, are sin. These good works are not performed by any one individual, but the whole body of the people of God, organically performs these good works. For God has prepared these good works for them in Christ, that they should walk in them. And as each child of God walks in good works in his own station and calling in life, it can be said that the children of God walk in all good works."

"In order that he may reach this high purpose, and thus be thoroughly furnished; in order that he may discern spiritually, and be given the power to walk according to that discernment, it is necessary that he receive instruction in the Word of God. That Word alone can furnish him. For ordinary 'works,' such as the natural man constantly performs, the Scriptures are not necessary, but shall be instructed in Scripture. At this point the pastor emphasized the vital importance of a genuine Christian instruction, instruction which shall constantly be 'profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction and instruction in righteousness.'"

Rev. Hoeksema stated that this was the ideal, and admitted, too, that we fall much short of that ideal. He emphasized further that the crave for worldly wisdom and worldly amusements, such as plays, pageants, dramas, etc., was a proof that the school is receding from, instead of advancing toward that high ideal. In the last point of his lecture the pastor set forth that such instruction was not given in order to furnish every man for good work. This is impossible. The text states that "the man of God" may be thoroughly furnished, and thus perfect. The "man of God" is the child of God from the viewpoint of the fact that he is chosen by God, redeemed through Christ and regenerated through the Spirit. This man of God comes forth out of the generations of the believers and their seed. Therefore, Christian instruction. That the covenant may be realized, and God be excellently glorified.

Dr. Garret Heyns, superintendent of the local Christian schools, presented the diplomas to 40 graduates, making a few remarks prior to the presentation in which he warned the graduates against spending their time wishing they had another's talents. He urged them to have confidence in their own abilities, assuring them that God, who had given them a task, had also granted them capacities to perform the task assigned to them.

EDITORIAL

IT IS OUR LOSS

(Grand Haven Tribune)

The departure this week of William Connelly and his wife from the beautiful residence on Spring Lake has more than a personal significance. Spring Lake village is losing a man and woman who for many years devoted much of their time to civic affairs—a couple closely identified with the development of the village's beauty, education, welfare, commerce. Grand Haven has already felt the loss of a man who pioneered in highway building, who tried for many years to make this city appreciate its natural advantages and possibilities.

It is consoling, however, to realize that the Connellys have not completely severed their connections with this part of the state. Today Mr. Connelly is engaged in the building of Holland commerce and industry. He has accomplished much for that city even in the short time he has been there. And his viewpoint is such as to regard the things which benefit Holland as indirectly benefiting the entire region. Grand Haven may miss him but his constructive influence will continue to be a factor in the county.

Mr. Connelly was born to be a public man. He has served as an after-dinner speaker. Ready of wit, he has impressed and brought smiles from the most solemn. He is keen in business. It was largely his vision that brought to Spring Lake many new and attractive summer homes, and to a stranger were to point to some attractive resort highway hereabouts and say "Who planned this?" the ready answer would be: "Why that was Bill Connelly's idea." Mr. Connelly not only has ideas but he knows how to execute them.

Again and again, since Bill took up his work elsewhere, people have said: "Well, if Connelly were on the job we would have got results." He is genuinely missed. His advice was appreciated on the Spring Lake board of education, on the Grand Haven harbor commission, on the local Chamber of Commerce and by the board of supervisors. Virtually every important man in Michigan knows him, and used to inquire about him when he was with the county road commission.

If and when another highway, bridge or park in this vicinity is dedicated to the honor of a man, we should like to see William Connelly chosen as the man. His civic stature will grow as the years wear on. He will be remembered as constructive; his home will remain as a memorial to his and his wife's good taste in gardening and landscaping; he was an enthusiastic sailor, too; in short, a man of many parts, an individualist with imagination and determination. Both personally and in the public estimate he has lived a full life.

We could say this later—wait until Bill was perhaps where he couldn't hear us. But there are a lot of people, we believe, who will agree he has it coming to him here and now.

PIONEER OBSERVED HIS 87TH BIRTHDAY

Orlando Bottume, a continuous reader of The Holland City News for the past fifty years, observed his eighty-seventh birthday Sunday, June 17, in the home of his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Fowler, of South Haven.

Mr. Bottume came to Holland from Marshall in the spring of 1864. With the help of his mother and sisters, Ida and Nellie, he erected a three-room log house and cleared ground for crops on what is known as Lakewood farm. His was the strenuous life of the average pioneer when provisions were "packed" the seven miles from Holland.

More than fifty years ago he married Miss Eva Campbell of Otsego. For the past eleven years they have lived in Casco township. He sits on the porch much of the time and enjoys most telling of old-time experiences. Mrs. Bottume died February 11, 1934. Her life was filled with good deeds, patient care of her semi-invalid husband, and the loyal love of countless friends.

He has been awarded a short course scholarship at Michigan State college. The new champion has completed four corn, four dairy and two potato projects. "OPEN ROAD"

With the season's changes beginning the first of the year, the Kroger Food store in the Van Ark block, called the de luxe store, has been having store decorations indicative of the time of year. With the coming of summer, the embellishments indicate the "open road," vacation period, the fruit season and the cornucopia, significant of a plentiful harvest. All nature's flowers and greeneries of the summer period naturally play a part in the decorative features of the store. July will bring about altogether a new decoration.

HOLLAND MAN TAKES ZEE-LAND BRIDE

Miss Cecil Komejan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Komejan of Zeeland, and Gerrit Ver Beek of Holland, were united in marriage Thursday at the parsonage of Second Reformed church, Rev. R. J. Vanden Berg performing the ceremony.

The bride, gowned in white silk embroidered organza with ruffle trimmings, was attended by Miss Helen De Jonge of Holland; Gilbert Komejan, brother of the bride, was best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on East Main street, Zeeland, a wedding supper being served the guests from tables beautifully decorated with flowers and candles.

Mrs. Ver Beek is a graduate of Zeeland High school and also attended Western State Teachers' College. For the past few years she has been teaching in Drenthe. Mr. Ver Beek is employed by the Mosser Leather Company at Holland.

An Iowa man whose name was reported as Appleford, went fishing early Thursday morning with his wife and when they returned to Central Park at 10 o'clock he left again saying that he would be back at noon. Because of the high winds that came up he was unable to make shore and his family meanwhile called out the coast guard, thinking he had met up with an accident and been drowned. They, however, were reassured when he put in his appearance after the winds had somewhat abated.

Holland Plant Building Fine Export Trade

THEIR PRODUCT EVEN GOES TO HOLY LAND — ENGLAND, IT SEEMS, HAS "RIGHT SLANT" ON RECOVERY

Recently the News published a story where the Western Machine Tool Works shipped $10,000 in machinery to Russia. Other manufacturers such as the Buss Machine Works, rusk companies and furnace plant frequently have orders from "across the water" and all that is encouraging. We are most pleased, however, to get the following information from the Dunn Manufacturing Co., a plant tucked away at the far southwest limits of Holland, and while the management is alive to every opportunity they say little and work hard. However, here is something unusual from this industrial mainstay. This information was given by Ben Van Raalte, connected with the company.

It conveys the fact that Mr. W. E. Dunn sailed on the "Berengaria" Saturday for London, England. Mr. Dunn's trip is for the purpose of making a survey of building conditions and methods in England and other European countries. It was brought about as a result of a large order for brick and roofing tile machines which his firm is shipping to England.

For the past year the Dunn Mfg. Co. has enjoyed an increasingly satisfactory export business on these brick and roofing tile machines, and their plant has continued to run full time with a force that has been more than doubled during the past sixty days. The machines are of a new type and a radical departure from the ordinary equipment used in the concrete products industry. They were brought out as a result of the depression which made necessary greater efficiency and lower manufacturing costs. The first of them went into the field in 1931, and the success of the new machines and process has been responsible for the fact that the Dunn factory has continued to operate almost without interruption throughout the depression.

The local company began directing special attention to the export field some little time ago, and results have been increasingly satisfactory. During the year they have shipped their equipment into Palestine, Norway, Sweden, Mexico, Costa Rica, Ecuador and the British Isles, including Ireland. The present English order consists of 19 complete brick and roofing tile plants. The plants will be operated by a newly organized British syndicate, Dunbrick, Limited, of London, composed largely of prominent English builders. They will start immediately on the manufacture of thirty million brick for the London district. Additional plants are also to be installed for territory outside of this district.

Arthur F. Eehberg, managing director of Dunbrick, Limited, of London, stated at the time he placed the order that England is enjoying a very substantial building program, during the past six months having built over 144,000 houses, and that 85 per cent of all houses erected are being tile roofed. He also stated that one large manufacturer of such roofing has been producing more than three million tile per week for the past six months. The new plants will be utilized to augment the necessary production. Mr. Dunn expects to re-

It appears that England has solved the depression problem. Laborers there are most willing to go to work and prosperity is already knocking at England's gate. Maybe the old lion can teach the eagle a lesson this time.

Holland High Baccalaureate At Hope Chapel

LARGE AUDIENCE ATTENDS SERVICES; REV. MEREDITH GIVES SERMON

The baccalaureate services of Holland High school held in Memorial chapel Sunday afternoon were attended by an audience which filled the large auditorium to capacity.

Prof. W. Curtis Snow, head of the organ department of the school of music, Hope college played the organ prelude "Chorale in B Minor," by Franck, as the opening number, followed by the procession, "Onward Christian Soldiers," by Sullivan.

Music for the afternoon's program included two anthems, "Hallelujah to the Lord," Christiansen, and "Today There Is Ringing," Christiansen, by the High School Mixed chorus under direction of Trixie M. Moore; hymn 313, "Awake, My Soul," Handel; hymn 171, "Fairer Lord Jesus," the doxology; the choral amen and the organ postlude, "Thou Art the Rock," Mulet, by Mr. Snow.

Rev. C. W. Meredith, pastor of

Rev. C. W. Meredith

Wesleyan Methodist church, preached the sermon, taking as his text "The Investment of Our Assets."

Mr. Meredith said as follows: "The subject of our sermon sounds materialistic. The texts of Scripture which we have lifted up might indicate a desertation upon the subject of material assets. However, such a subject is far from our purpose at such a time as this. Jesus has said: 'A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth. We shall do well to catch his evaluation of material assets in comparison to the holier things of life.'

"The parable before us is one of life. A man of means has taken his leave, entrusting his affairs to the business acumen of others. Like as this man left his affairs in charge of others, so Christ has gone, and has left His affairs in charge of men. The Lord of those servants came back for a reckoning with mankind. It is, therefore, the wise steward who will consider it worthwhile to make an inventory of his assets, evaluate them, and then seriously consider the place of investment."

"High school graduation is a

VALEDICTORIAN

Ethel Redder, daughter of Mrs. J. Redder, 370 West Fifteenth street, valedictorian of the Holland High class of 1934. Scholastic record during her four years: Received 31 A's and 2 B's; vice president of Junior class; president of Phi Beta Literary society; treasurer Blue Triangle; member of council during Senior year. Has done exceptionally fine work in the commercial department. At Honor assembly given a Service Pin and was elected a member of the National Honor Society.

very profitable time for such an inventory. The future before you is sure to be quite unlike anything that has gone before. True, you have had transitions, along the way, but this next step promises to be a decided change. You have been localized no little during the passing years. Now, you will be thrust into circles of society whether that be in college, or in the business of life—that will bring you personal responsibility heretofore unknown. From now on it will be up to you in a personal way. Hence, let us very conscientiously look at our assets today.

"Do you really have some things on hand which are yours to invest?"

"There is first the asset of your spiritual heritage. We are spiritual beings, primarily. This is the distinguishing characteristic of man as the crowning act of God's creative genius. 'And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life, and man became a living soul.' Your soul is your capacity for God. It doesn't mean that you have Him, but it does mean that you have the capacity for Him. You are the custodian of that soul. Jesus has said, 'What shall a man give in exchange for his soul?' The investment of this asset will be determined by your willingness to surrender your life to Jesus Christ. You can barter your soul away, without Him. But mark you, He will reckon with you sometime about it."

"Holland High school has given you a unique privilege. Not every school gives her students the enlightening concepts of God's word. But daily, you have heard His word read to you, and have learned directly from the authentic record of the account of Christ's birth, His life, His teachings, His sufferings and death, and His resurrection. But

What though in ancient Bethlehem The Christ a thousand times be born,

If He's not born within my heart— Then must I still be all forlorn?"

Rev. Meredith then spoke of the asset of youth's mental heritage. He stressed the fact that one's high school education should be considered a foundation upon which to build. A high school education at the age the graduates are today is a much better foundation than others have had at that age who have built towering structures of life. He drew from the autobiography of Lincoln who said "When I came of age I could read, write and cipher to the rule of three."

Rev. Meredith spoke also of the physical heritage that belonged to the graduates as another asset. "We are learning," he said, "that the rules of health, and the merits of virtue mean more to the world and to us than mere muscle and brawn."

Rev. Meredith condemned the advice given to youth today to indulge in drink and yet remain sober. Said he:

"God at no time condones even mild dissipation, but he rewards sobriety."

"Material assets, if you ever get hold of them should be regarded as assets for service to your fellow-man."

Rev. Meredith depicted a character who had wasted his physical resources in the derelictions of life only to die a premature death, with the world none the poorer for his going.

"That," said he, "is one form of bad investing. To live, physically, beneath that which you know to be best and right is to fail to multiply your talent to advantage. The investment of your mental heritage depends largely upon your willingness to keep it active."

Here Rev. Meredith described the blind crickets of a cave, that had lost the use of their eyes entirely because the darkness had rendered the optical nerve helpless through lack of use. God has endowed you with a mind to use, not to lie in a dormant stage.

Rev. Meredith pictured the investment of the spiritual assets of one's life as the guilt edge investment. Here man may sink his life into full fellowship with Jesus Christ, in whatever occupation he may have, and be sure that the talent entrusted to him will be increased. As illustrations of one who didn't and one who did wisely invest he drew from the life of the rich young ruler who upon hearing from the Master what he should do in the investment of his resources, went away sorrowfully for he had great possessions.

Donated by the Senior Class of Quarter Century Ago

Many changes have taken place on Hope College campus in twenty-five years. However these steps of concrete and the wayside bench are still intact. Shortly before these steps were built there was a chemical laboratory just to the east, also used as the office of Dr. Charles Scott, as president of the college—that was when your editor was a student forty-six years ago.

The building in the background is Carnegie gym and the steps formerly made of wood, lead north from the elevation down the slope. The donors as given in the files of the Holland City News are as follows: Victor Blekkink, Herman De Witt, Grace Hazenber, Henry George Roost, Henry Rottschaefer, Hilda Cornelie Stegeman, Emma Louise Warnhuis, all of Holland; Wynand Wichers of Zeeland; John Albert Dykstra, Hans John Meinders, Peter Henry Pleune, Abraham John Van Houten, David Van Strien and Isaac Van Westenburg of Grand Rapids; Teunis Gouwens; South Holland, Ill.; John Heusinkveld, Fulton, Ill.; Milton J. The graduating class roll will be found in the Zeeland correspondence.

had possessions. But he willingly left country and kindred and started for a land he knew nothing of. His security was God's promise. Abraham succeeded. His influence and example will live forever.

Rev. Meredith concluded his message with an assurance to the graduates that the reckoning would be in keeping with the amount entrusted to their care.

"Don't wonder what number of talents you may have; just make sure what you have is increased. Keep your face in the direction of the desired destination," was a final motto he gave the graduates. The invocation was given by Rev. Gerrit Tyse, who also pronounced the benediction. Scripture reading being conducted by Dr. Wynand Wichers, president of

DIPLOMAS PRESENTED BY PRINCIPAL VANDER BORGH; DR. JOHN R. MULDER GIVES ADDRESS

Hope High school closed the school year Friday evening with the annual commencement in Winants chapel, when diplomas were presented to sixteen graduates, Principal Garrett VanderBorgh making the presentation.

Following the processional the invocation was given by Rev. Paul Hinkamp, college pastor.

The address of the evening was given by Dr. John R. Mulder of Western Theological seminary, whose subject was "Life's Measurements." Mr. Mulder, after congratulating the students, stated that he hoped that this graduation was but a step toward greater achievements and thereupon very fittingly began his address in which he stated that the outlook, or the measurement of life was made by the consciousness one has in regard to the work he sets out to do; that man's worth is determined not by his size in the universe, but by the accomplishments that he wrought by him.

Dr. Mulder said: "The road of life may be an easy road or it may represent difficulties and hardships. It is for you to decide which road you are to take. But remember—'What a man soweth that shall he also reap.' Misdreads may be forgiven but the results remain."

The salutatorian was given by Henry Beukema of Blue Island, Illinois; class history by John Diekmann of R.F.D. No. 6, and the valedictorian by Clara Gunneman of R.F.D. No. 5. Musical numbers included the R.F.D. No. 5 song, a solo, "Morning," Oley Speake, by Geneva Kleinhessel and a quartet composed of Morris Folkert, Jay Peters, Mark Ruisard and Henry Van Noord, who sang "My Ship," by Teresa Del Riego.

The awarding of prizes was by Principal VanderBorgh as follows: Mary Clay Albers silver medal for the best all-around standard of scholarship, character and usefulness during the four years' course. THE REVIEW
HENRY GEERLINGS

Jesus was bent on establishing a kingdom in the world. It was different from all earthly kingdoms. It was not of the earth and yet it was to be in the earth. But no wonder it was different. He Himself, was different. He had no interest in the kingdom for Himself. It was purely an altruistic something. His glory and honor would be in the good and blessings His kingdom would bring to me. As the influence of the kingdom would permeate the kingdoms of the world and make them know the desires of His heart would be satisfied. The more like heaven the earth would become the more His kingdom would come. As the kingdom was unique so was the King of the kingdom unique. It will be profitable to look by way of review at some of the outstanding facts about him.

It is refreshing to get His idea of greatness in the kingdom. We call to mind that some of His disciples were very ambitious for place and power. They thought that place brings power and honor. They believed that the world would honor them if they had prominent place in this new kingdom about which Jesus was talking so much. But in this they were not so different from thousands of other people
