GRADS OF HOPE TOLD NEEDS OF NEW EDUCATION

Spiritual Principle Vital
to Democracy, Says
Dr. Wickey

Degrees and Honors Are Awarded at Exercises
for Seniors

The 95 members of the Hope college graduating class received their bachelor of arts degrees at commencement exercises in Hope Memorial chapel Wednesday night at which Dr. Gould Wickey of Washington, D. C., general secretary of the council of church boards of education, was the principal speaker.

Speaking on "The Education for Such a Day As This," Dr. Wickey suggested cures for the world's ills, the education this world needs and an investment in eternity.

The Rev. M. Eugene Flipse and the Rev. Henry D. Terkurst each received the honorary degree of doctor of divinity.

Donald W. Cordes of German Valley, Ill., Milton O. Denekas of Pekin, Ill., M. Eugene Flipse III of Douglaston, N. Y., and James Benjamin Hinkamp of Holland were announced by President Wyand Wichers as having attained the cum laude degree.

Fifty-three members of the class received Michigan State Teacher's certificates.

M. Eugene Flipse in his valedictory address, "The Place of Science in a Christian College," pointed out that science does have a definite place in the Christian college. The hope of the world and of the future lies in the cooperation of science and religion, he said. "Our only hope of rectifying the wrongs of our present age is to teach science in the presence of Christ, in the environment of Christian ethics, by Christian teachers."

Dr. Wickers also awarded the prizes annually announced at commencement exercises. The Dan C. Steketee Bible prizes of $25 for the best work in Biblical literature and the best essay on "The Historical Evidence for the Resurrection of Jesus Christ" were presented to Donald Cordes and Milton Denekas. James Hinkamp won the chemistry prize of $25 founded by Dr. B. B. Godfrey in memory of his son Dr. A. T. Godfrey, late professor of chemistry at Hope college. Kenneth Hinkamp of Grand Rapids was chosen by a five-man faculty committee to receive the Dr. Otto Vander Velde scholarship key which is given each year to the senior man who has attained the highest record in the combined fields of athletics, scholarship, and participation in general student activities. Theodor Meulendyke, Fond du Lac, Wis., received the Southland medal, a prize established by Gerrit H. Albers of the class of 1891 for the young woman who maintains the highest standard of all-around scholarship, character, and usefulness during the four-year college course.

"In this world of ours," the valedictorian said, "there seem to be two great forces, man's intellect, which shows its greatest attainment in science and man's soul, or spirit, as evident in his character or moral nature, at work. Both these forces come from God and He, in His infinite wisdom has chosen different means of developing and sustaining both."

He added that to refuse to reveal truth to the world through science is to refuse to reveal God, for God is truth and would not have made part of Himself known to man unless He wanted it revealed.

Dr. Wickey in his commencement address presented four elements the education of this world needs.

An education for such a day as this must present all the facts, he said, in pointing out that too much of present education has been concerned with the material world and relatively little time has been given to understanding men.

Secondly, he showed that education must be personal in purpose, developing the individual conscience. "The development of the intellect alone cannot be the only concern of education. Emphasis on intellectualism results in cynicism and indecision. Great intellects do not prevent the fall of Greece. Laws did not prevent the fall of Rome. Reason did not prevent the crisis in Europe. Something more was needed."

The education which will be the bulwark of American democracy must be a transforming force and must have a spiritual principle around which to organize its work. "Such a principle is God. When men refuse to be ruled by God they submit themselves to the rule of man, which leads to dictatorship, tyranny, and destruction."

Thirdly, he pointed out that all groups in America must have an education adequate for the development of their talent and ability, and, lastly, that education must be independent of political control.

Queen Wilhelmina Fund Is Organized in Holland

Cornelius Vander Meulen Elected Chairman of Relief Group

As representatives of churches in Holland, southern Ottawa county and northern Allegan county, approximately 35 men voted Friday night at a meeting at the Woman's Literary club building to organize a local chapter of the Queen Wilhelmina Fund, Inc., to raise money to aid Dutch war refugees in Europe.

Cornelius Vander Meulen, 198 West 11th St., was elected local chairman. Other officers are William Arendshorst, 118 East Ninth St., vice-chairman; Willard C. Wichers, route 1, Holland, secretary; and Maynard Mohr of Zeeland, treasurer.

The new officers were instructed to write the New York city office of the fund, informing it of the local action and to request the issuance of a charter, authorizing the local chapter to collect money for the relief fund.

Mr. Wichers also suggested that the delegates should arrange for the appointment of committees within the churches to work under the direction of the delegates of the church they represented.

Officers were not elected until after the group had voted to organize the chapter. Upon being called to order, the church representatives selected Mayor Henry Geerlings as temporary chairman and Mr. Wichers as temporary secretary.

Mayor Geerlings explained the work of a voluntary committee to raise funds for Dutch relief during the Tulip Time festival following invasion of The Netherlands by Hitler's armies. He stated that at last Monday night's meeting the question of whether to contribute to the Red Cross or to organize the Queen Wilhelmina chapter and allow citizens to contribute to the fund of their choice was discussed. It also was proposed Monday to aid the Red Cross chapter in raising its local quota and then conduct the separate fund.

The Rev. John Dubbeldeman, pastor of the New Apostolic church, raised the question as to the necessity of having two separate funds in Holland. He pointed out that money had been raised in his church and given to the Red Cross with a stipulation that it be used for relief of the Dutch people.

Mr. Wichers explained the organization of the Queen Wilhelmina fund, its sponsors and its purposes, stating that it was not working in competition with the Red Cross but had been organized at the suggestion of the Red Cross. He pointed out that the Queen Wilhelmina fund had contributed $30,000 to the Red Cross for Dutch relief in Europe.

He also explained that laws prohibit various groups from conducting campaigns to raise relief funds unless licensed by the U. S. government. The Wilhelmina fund is licensed. Mr. Wichers pointed out that administration of the fund is being done on an economical basis as most of the persons associated with it are contributing the services gratis. He suggested that money also could be contributed to the relief of stranded missionaries in the Dutch East Indies whose sources of income have been cut off by the invasion of The Netherlands.

Mr. Arendshorst stated that Dr. Alexander Loudon, Netherlands minister to the United States, and Dr. Henrik Van Loon, chairman of the Wilhelmina fund felt it would be more advantageous to have the separate fund for use in Dutch relief. Mr. Arendshorst favored support of the Red Cross chapter to enable it to reach its goal and then sponsor a separate fund for Dutch relief.

Rev. Dubbeldeman spoke in support of the Red Cross, asserting that the Red Cross already has agencies in The Netherlands to carry on relief work when permitted by Hitler but that the Wilhelmina fund could not do so until such agencies had been established there. He did not favor a duplication of funds but support should be given established agencies.

"If the Red Cross cannot do its work in The Netherlands, how can the Queen Wilhelmina fund get permission to do its work?" he asked.

As its class memorial, approximately $800 was given to the high school. The money will be used to purchase 10 electric clocks for the senior high school, $200 for the library, $150 for building a music wardrobe to store band uniforms and chorus gowns, $50 for the purchase of physics laboratory equipment; $50 to purchase athletic lockers, $85 for the purchase of three additional band uniforms and $150 to be used in purchasing office furnishings.

Mr. Tuls presented honor awards to Lloyd Lemmen as class valedictorian and to Miss Myrtle Weener as class salutatorian.

First prize of $5 in the senior essay contest on "Why Christian Schools," was won by Emilie Vander Vlies and the second prize of $2.50 was awarded to Vernon Boersma.

Miss Bernice Hulst was announced as winner of the $250 prize in the 1939 national essay contest, sponsored by the women's auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. She won third in a district contest.

Triangular oratorical medals were presented to Frieda Vander Veen as girl representative and William Vogelzang as boy representative.

Louis Van Wieren won the science award, a plaque presented to the senior doing the best work in science during four years in high school.

Anne Jonker received $5 as first prize and Lloyd Lemmen was presented $3 as second prize in the senior Bible awards to the seniors doing the best work in Bible during the senior year.

Citizenship medals were presented to Frieda Vander Veen and Vernon Boersma.

The Hope college scholarship went to Lloyd Lemmen, with Emilie Vander Vlies as alternate. The Calvin college scholarship was equally divided between Myrtle Weener and Vernon Boersma.

The commencement program opened with an organ prelude by Miss Hazel Ann Oelen, a member of the 1936 graduating class, followed by the processional. Invocation was pronounced by the Rev. Peter Jonker, Jr., pastor of Sixteenth Street Christian Reformed church.

Speaking of the class motto, "Forward in Truth," Miss Weener pointed out in her salutatory that the seniors are the "people of tomorrow" and that "very few of us have a spectacular career of public fame before us but that most of us will be just ordinary people, taking this life, enjoying it, living it as He would have it lived—in truth."

"Today, we are facing different problems. Each generation has its own distinct, peculiar battles to wage. Today, as youths, we are gazing into a realm of uncertainty—a world at war."

"And what is the remedy? Only the principles embodied in the term Christianity. Real, vital, everyday Christianity. First of all, an uplifting of our eyes to Him who made us—to Him who redeemed us."

A trio, composed of Arlene Deur, Jean Vos and Emilie Vander Vlies sang "How Great Is the Work" and "The Narrow Way."

The chorus with Marvin Baas directing sang "Out of the Depths" and "On Great Lone Hills."

In his message to the graduates, Mr. Swets pleaded that the class devote itself to leadership. He pointed out that leaders (See: Graduation—Next Page.)

MERCHANTS AIR RESORT ISSUES

Move Is Started to Plan Entertainments for Guests

Holland merchants at a special meeting Tuesday night in the main dining room of the Warm Friend tavern voted to try to obtain a closer cooperation between the various resorts and the city in welcoming and entertaining the summer visitors to the resort places.

The managers of the various resorts will be contacted in an effort to have them meet with the merchants to discuss what can be done in this direction. Phillips Brooks was appointed to contact the management of Macatawa park; John Van Tatenhove, Waukazoo Inn; Henry Maentz, Castle park; Charles R. Sligh, Jr., and Peter Van Dornen, Jr., Virginia park; and E. P. Stephan, secretary-manager of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, Ottawa beach and the northern resort section along Lake Michigan.

The matter of special sales days was considered by the merchants and a committee, composed of Earl Price, Harry Wiskamp, C. Dornbos, Andrew Du Mez and John Van Tatenhove was appointed to investigate and report to the retail merchants' division of the Holland Chamber of Commerce at its next meeting Tuesday, July 2.

SYNOD FAVORS TAYLOR RECALL

Grand Rapids, June 20—General synod of the Christian Reformed church, which convened here Monday after being in adjournment over the week-end, went on record with a resolution asking President Roosevelt to recall immediately Myron C. Taylor, special representative to the Vatican.

The resolution, adopted almost unanimously, alleged that Taylor's appointment constituted a violation of the principle of the separation of church and state.

The action of the president, according to several synod speakers, may be the first step in creating permanent diplomatic relations between the United States and the Vatican. Many leading Catholics are now asking for his official appointment as the first American ambassador to the papal court, the speakers charged.

The Rev. Idzeert Van Dellen of Denver, a past president of synod, was the only speaker to oppose the resolution. He declared that according to the church order it was improper for such action to be taken as only ecclesiastical matters may come before synod. The action taken, he said, violated the principle of separation of church and state by putting the church in the position of passing upon a matter belonging to the state's realm.

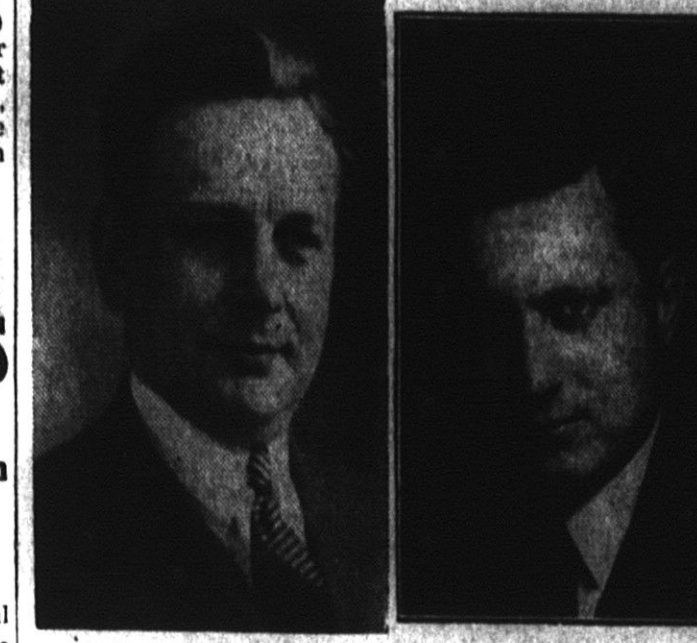

The case of the Rev. Benjamin J. Danhof was referred to a committee for further study.

The American Federation of Reformed Young Men's societies was again recommended to the churches of the denomination for moral and financial support. Richard Postma of this city, one of the founders of the organization, was given the floor to speak in behalf of the federation.

Synod urgently requested leaders in the church and particularly laboring men to give their support to the Christian Labor association. The committee on this subject appointed by the 1939 synod has reported to synod that it finds much in such unions as the AFL and CIO to which a Christian cannot subscribe.

The Women's Adult Bible class of Trinity Reformed church, of which Peter Huyser is teacher, will hold a business meeting Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the church parlors.

New Season Launched at Holland's State Park

Beaches Along Lake Are Popular With Arrival
of Summer

Following the belated arrival of spring weather in Holland, the summer-like temperatures the past few days have made the beaches along Lake Michigan, especially at Holland State park at Ottawa beach, exceptionally popular.

The 1940 season at Holland State park is well under way although improvements have been made or are scheduled for this summer. One of the largest crowds of the current season visited the State park Sunday. Numerous picnics were in evidence. Many persons lay on the sands and several entered the chilly lake waters.

Carl Van Weelden, who is beginning his sixth year as superintendent of the park, estimated that 137,000 persons visited the park up to Saturday night from May 1. He also reported a marked increase last week in the number of trailer and camping permits over that of previous weeks.

"Trailers whose owners stay at least one week in one location are beginning to arrive at the local park. Until schools close, the length of a trailer visit is about three days, Mr. Van Weelden said.

Mr. Van Weelden's assistants at Ottawa beach are Seales Vandenberg of Grand Haven, Charles Vander Linde of Muskegon and Corney De Boer of Holland. Mr. Vandenberg is beginning his sixth year at the local park. This is Mr. Vander Linde's first year and Mr. De Boer is beginning his second year.

James Hanson began his duties Monday as lifeguard at the park. Mr. Van Weelden said two or three extra guards will be used when there are large numbers of bathers in the lake.

Mr. Van Weelden has been in the employ of the state conservation department the past 10 years. For five years, he was stationed at Grand Haven state park before being transferred to the Holland park as superintendent in 1935.

Construction of a 60-foot-wide strip of concrete to provide additional parking space at the park is the year's largest improvement. This strip of concrete will be located just south of the present bathhouse and pavilion.

The work is being carried out as a WPA project.

Grading work is being carried out to the north of the bathhouse and pavilion and another 60-foot width of concrete will be laid later. Mr. Van Weelden said he did not know whether this work would be done in the fall or next spring.

Sand which is excavated in the grading work is being used to fill in the beach between the oval and the shore. Plans also are being considered to remodel an old bathhouse as living quarters for the park personnel, Mr. Van Weelden reported.

A well for drinking water also is being drilled in the park at the rear of the park superintendent's home at the park entrance.

As part of the routine work at the park, some of the benches and picnic tables were repaired and repainted this year. Others remain to undergo similar treatment later.

Playground equipment also is scheduled for repairs and will be made available for children when the park personnel goes on working shifts.

TRIES VAINLY TO REACH HIS BOAT AFTER HE DIVES

Carl Reidsma Loses Life
as Board Discusses Issue of Guard

Goes Down While Heading
for Shore After Craft
Eludes Him

Carl Reidsma, 16, Holland high school junior, was drowned in Lake Macatawa off Kollen park at about the same time Monday as members of the police and fire board were discussing the problem of stationing a lifeguard at the park.

Reidsma, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Reidsma, 252 West 11th St., lost his life when he dove off his rowboat into the water some 200 feet from shore. The force of his body leaving the boat and a westerly wind caused the boat to drift away from him.

When Reidsma, according to witnesses to the drowning, came to the surface, he started in pursuit of the boat but found it drifting faster than he could swim. He then turned toward shore and at the same time began shouting for help.

Witnesses said he had swum about half-way to shore when he sank. Some witnesses said he appeared above the surface once after first sinking.

A lifeguard at Kollen park was advocated to the police and fire board by Mayor Henry Geerlings who was present at Monday's board meeting in the office of City Clerk Oscar Peterson.

It was brought out that the board had no money to pay a salary for the lifeguard as a $350 appropriation in the 1940 budget had been eliminated. The board considered appointing a lifeguard after Mayor Geerlings expressed an opinion that council could reimburse the board for any money spent to pay the guard.

Police board members were somewhat of the opinion that a lifeguard was either a matter for the park and cemetery board or the playground commission to consider rather than a police department problem with a result that Mayor Geerlings said he would recommend the matter be referred to the playground commission when council meets in regular session Wednesday night.

Shortly after these proceedings had taken place, a telephone call was received at the clerk's office, advising the board of the drowning which occurred about 5:20 p.m.

Dr. John K. Winter, Ottawa county coroner, said his verdict would be "accidental drowning."

Numerous persons at Kollen park witnessed the drowning after hearing the youth's cry for help. Three young men commandeered a large log and started to aid the victim.

They were Stanley Overway, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Overway, 284 West 11th St., William Van Ark, 12-year-old son of Jerry Van Ark, Ninth St., and Pine Ave. and Charles Cochran, 14-year-old son of Mrs. Anna Cochran, North River Ave.

Overway said he and his companions were within 20 feet of Reidsma when he sank.

Carl Harrington was painting on Harrington's tug when he heard Reidsma call for help. Mr. Harrington quickly started the tug's motor and started to his aid but he had gone only about half-way when the boy disappeared.

If the youth could have stayed above the water until the tug arrived, his life might have been spared as the tug was equipped with life preservers. Mr. Harrington later picked up the rowboat which drifted a considerable distance.

Holland police and coast guardsmen were notified of the drowning. Horace E. Searcy, coast guard officer in charge, Roy Wood and Merrill Ankeny responded to a call, arriving on the scene about 5:45 p.m. Wood and Ankeny located the Population Is Studied by Chamber of Commerce

Organization Learns City's Growth Was Outside Holland

At first disappointed by the small gain shown in Holland's 1940 population over the 1930 census, the Holland Chamber of Commerce is now somewhat satisfied that Holland's gain in population has been on the outside, rather than within, the corporate limits.

E. P. Stephan, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, brought up the census problem to the board of directors and was instructed to confer with census officials in Grand Rapids about the matter. Mr. Stephan held a conference with William Delaney, fifth district census supervisor, and Ray Kronmeyer, assistant supervisor.

Holland's 1940 census, according to preliminary figures, was listed at 14,571 as compared with the 1930 census of 14,346 or a gain of only 225 persons during the past 10 years.

At the conference, Mr. Stephan was advised that the principal growth has been outside the city limits. Mr. Delaney presented figures to the secretary-manager, showing that Holland township had a net gain of 832 and Park township showed a gain of 475 for a total increase of 1,307 in the population in the various communities surrounding Holland. Holland township's population for 1940 was 4,910 as compared with 4,078 in 1930.

Mr. Stephan, as well as Chamber of Commerce directors, felt Holland should show a larger growth after they had studied the birth and death figures for the past 10 years. Mr. Stephan disclosed that births in 10 years totaled 8,045 while the deaths amounted to 1,507 or a net increase of 1,538, yet the city showed only a gain of 225 in its 1940 census.

Births by years follow: 1930—342; 1931—338; 1932—256; 1933—238; 1934—267; 1935—261; 1936—305; 1937—316; 1938—337; 1939—385.

Deaths by years follow: 1930—144; 1931—138; 1932—153; 1933—148; 1934—150; 1935—138; 1936—166; 1937—39; 1938—162; 1939—189.

The net increases of births over deaths follow: 1930—198; 1931—200; 1932—103; 1933—90; 1934—117; 1935—123; 1936—139; 1937—177; 1938—175; 1939—216.

Mr. Stephan also said Holland's census should show a large increase by the fact that 257 homes at an estimated cost of $808,925 had been built in Holland during the past 10 years.

The number of homes together with costs, by years follow: 1930—25; 1931—92,300; 1932—nine and $29,600; 1933—six and $25,100; 1934—four and $8,800; 1935—six and $18,200; 1936—20 and $89,350; 1937—30 and $78,575; 1938—45 and $135,000; 1939—47 and $146,900; 1940—65 and $185,100.

Mr. Stephan said he did not question the correctness of the 1940 census as he felt it had been taken in a careful and comprehensive manner. Mr. Delaney informed him that Holland is not the only city which has complained of its 1940 census figures but the general trend in the past 10 years has been for persons to build or move into homes in the suburbs of the larger cities.

Mr. Stephan pointed out that he has received several reports from persons that they have not been included in the 1940 census. And so he is urging all persons missed to contact the Chamber of Commerce immediately and their names will be turned over to the census officials. Mr. Delaney has approved this action, although he informed Mr. Stephan that Holland's census figures will not be greatly increased—possibly 100 or 200 persons.

"have always been wanting" and that today offers no exception. The world problems are a challenge to the graduates to train themselves for leadership, he stated.

One problem, he said, is matrimony as one out of every six marriages end in a divorce court. He pointed out that America leads the world in civilization "yet it also leads in the breakdown of God's most basic and fundamental institution in modern society."

America also leads in the number of educational institutions, he added, yet it leads the world in crime and in the number of reform schools, penitentiaries and prisons.

"We are the most civilized and educated nation in the world, yet education should be indicted if it fails to eliminate our crime problem for it has thus failed to provide a substantial moral and spiritual program," he asserted.

Mr. Swets said unemployment is another vital problem and "today we stand on the threshold of a world revolution." He contended that God "is not reckoned with" in the problems of today.

As the topic for his valedictory, Lemmen selected "Commencement Time," in which he pointed out that the graduating class wished to pause to reflect on the past, consider the present and peer into the unknown future.

"In reflecting on the past, we admit our short comings, our mistakes, our follies, our short sightedness and our transgressions," he said. "But we are glad that the past has more than these, it recalls many pleasant memories, we have made our ties of friendship with that buoyant spirit of cheer and helpfulness without which we would be unable to continue. The past has proved to us the truthfulness of the Book of Life when it says that one has this talent and another that talent."

"The present—the vital moment is given to us only once. When viewed from this aspect you can almost feel the tremendous weight of the present. We nearly sigh when we meditate on our responsibilities."

Of the future he said, "Our ways must part. The fruits of four years experience is added knowledge, coupled with a heritage of uncalculable Christian principles which remain throughout life's pilgrimage to serve as a comfort and a rudder to guide through the unknown future."

"May we be found loyal and faithful citizens of our country and take an active part in the affairs of church and state. May we be law abiding and law enforcing citizens and with concerted effort attempt to stay the tide of prevalent lawlessness."

"Moreover, I plead for a continued united effort to maintain personal liberty, freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom of the press so that we may in an unhampered manner ever be able to give expressions to our God given convictions."

The Rev. Ralph Heynen, pastor of Niekerk Christian Reformed church, delivered the benediction which was followed by the organ postlude.

YOUNG G.R. MAN DROWNS AFTER BOAT CAPSIZES

Tragedy Occurs in River at Saugatuck to End Day's Outing

Sea Scouts Find Body of Roy Van Till; Friend Saves Self

Saugatuck, June 20 (Special) — A Sunday outing at this summer resort ended in tragedy Sunday about 9 p.m. when Roy Van Till, 20, 1715 Martindale Ave., Grand Rapids, was drowned in Kalamazoo river near the chain ferry when a canoe in which he and a companion were riding overturned.

Van Till's body was not recovered until about two and one-half hours later. It was caught with a grappling hook used by Saugatuck Sea scouts. Holland coast guardsmen who had been called to Saugatuck removed the body from the water after which it was taken to the Dykstra funeral home and later transferred to a Grand Rapids funeral home.

Van Till's companion in the canoe was Louis Diepenhorst, 24, who operates a grocery and meat market in Grand Rapids. He was said to be the nephew of Herman Diepenhorst of Saugatuck. Diepenhorst succeeded in swimming to the west shore.

Coast guardsmen who came here from Holland were Acting Officer in Charge Forrest E. Searcy, Roy Wood and Merrill Ankeny.

It was reported that a third man, said to be a brother-in-law of Van Till, had declined to enter the canoe. The three had come to Saugatuck Sunday forenoon for a day's outing.

Van Till and Diepenhorst rented the canoe and paddled about 1,000 feet from the boat livery when it capsized. Van Till's body was found a short distance from the place where the canoe overturned.

Diepenhorst was hysterical and had to be placed under a doctor's care. He was unable to tell how the canoe overturned.

Boy scouts and the Saugatuck fire department aided the Sea scouts and guardsmen in their search for the body. The fire trucks were lined up along the shore and spotlights played on the river. A crowd lined the river banks.

Holland firemen responded to an alarm, sounded by the police officers, and laid two lines of hose.

The fire started on the outside of the building at the rear, Mr. Schuitema believed that the fire resulted from defective electrical wiring.

FIGHTING WITH WORDS

When Italy declared war on England and France the newspapers in England broke out in a hysterical name-calling campaign.
They called Mussolini just about everything they could lay tongue to.
He was a "traitor" and a "brute" and a "barbarian" and a "vulture" and a "murderer," and one writer with an imagination called him a "bloated toad."

When last fall the Finns "attacked" the poor, abused Russians,
so that the fighting men of Stalin were forced (against their will!) to defend themselves, the Soviet newspapers called the head of the Finnish government a "vile barbarian" and several other fancy names of that sort.

When Germany invaded Denmark and Norway, the Nazi newspapers coined all the fancy names of abuse their imaginations could produce and applied them to the Danes, because the people of Norway committed the unspeak-able crime of standing up for their rights and their political liberties.
Later when Germany invaded Holland and Belgium, doubtless the Nazis thought up still other names, although by this time the name-calling had lost some of its novelty so that it was no longer being reported in detail.

All this is of a piece with the general blacking out of chivalry in the world. War has never been as glorious as its defenders said it was; it has always been a vile thing. But at least there was a time when it had some surface show of courtesy and chivalry. In other days enemies could fight to the death but at the same time respect each other for their courage.
Even in our Civil war, the people of the North could feel admiration for the courage and military skill of such men as "Stonewall" Jackson and Robert E. Lee.

But those were the days when a treaty still meant something, and when the world had not yet deteriorated into a bloody pig's pen,
when nothing is even understood on either side, but to hog, root or die. Today we have forgotten what courage is if it is possessed by an enemy. The world has become a conglomeration of hogs.

America is not yet actually in it,
but can we possibly hope that we will keep clear of the name calling if we do go in? Hardly. At least in the World war we did not stay clear. We called the Germans
"Huns" and other fancy names, and we were proud of it, even though the names were lacking in imaginative power.

Small boys who don't know any better call names. So do grown-ups with the mentality of small boys.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

You Can, But Do You?
Instead of going to church on Sabbath you can worship God in the mountains, beside the lakes,
at the beach or at home—but do you?

Tabernacles, temples, cathedrals and churches have been erected primarily to assist man in his worship.

By means of the radio you may remain at home or visit a friend and hear sacred music that is almost heavenly, or listen to a wonderfully inspiring sermon, but this great invention, as marvelous
as it is, will not enable you to tune
in on God nor can it bring to you the joy and strength that comes from associating with fellow-Christians.

You not only should attend church services, but you need to attend. You, doubtless, have helped to make the house of worship possible. Are you making the use of it you should?

A religion without the worship of God is not Christian. There is no substitute for church attendance. Why not accept the invitation to go to church next Sunday?

Malachi Demands Honesty Toward God
Malachi 3: 7-18

By Henry Geerlings

The word "malachi" is not a proper name but a noun meaning
"my messenger," the possessive pronoun "my" being expressed in Hebrew by the suffix "i." This prophet then was anonymous, one who spoke from the ranks of the people, but had his own message from the Lord. It may be inferred from the book itself that he was a contemporary of Nehemiah.

After 516 B. C., when the temple was completed, down to the middle of the next century, there is little information concerning the state of the Jews, except in Ezra, Obadiah and Malachi.

We must figure a small and decidedly impoverished group of people, living in an area not more than twenty miles each way and poor in soil, though its inhabitants depended chiefly on agriculture.
They enjoyed religious freedom under their Persian governor, but had lost their political independence, and had to pay tribute.

They complain of their civil and religious leaders, the prophets are called blind watch men, dumb dogs who cannot bark, though they are greedy enough, and the rulers are shepherds without understanding except for their own gain. These rulers figure as those who oppress the hireling in his wages, and that turn aside the disillusionment which followed the rebuilding of the temple played havoc with religion and morality. The temple was indeed there, however im-poor, but the walls of the temple
city had not been built up and no
Messianic age had dawned.

Scepticism was rife and Malachi
protests against the indifference to organized religion, shown in the withholding of the tithes, and the offering of imperfect animals for the sacrifices, and also against the disloyalty with which the Jews divorced their Jewish wives to contract more advantageous
marriages with foreign women.
The motives for this practice sprang from the fact that the community was now closely surrounded by foreigners with whom it was useful to have these marriage connections.

While life was quiet and uninteresting in Palestine, great events were happening in Asia Minor and Greece. Miltiades defeated the Persians at Marathon in 490. The battle of Thermopylae was fought in 480 and the naval battle of Salamis in the same year. In 479 at Plataea the Greeks destroyed a Persian army and Xerxes and the Persians were turned back from Europe. The Jews were in a backwater for the time being while the great currents of world history rolled by in other directions. Yet it should be remembered that a great and mighty tradition was being maintained even although so many of the Jews were careless and depressed. We who are the inheritors of that tradition should remember our debt to prophets like Malachi and leaders like Ezra and Nehemiah who did not let the embers die out into ashes but fanned them into renewed life.

Evil has many forms, breaking out in every generation in a new way. People learn little and forget easily. This is seen in the prophets' long battle to purify and clarify their people's religion.
Amos had denounced dishonesty between man and man, and the exile had followed. Then had dawned the new day, heralded by Isaiah and Ezekiel, when a fresh start had been made, with Haggai as its sturdy hero. But with new prosperity came new degeneration, and soon Malachi put his finger upon fresh scores in the body of the purified church. These were seen in calculated skimping on offerings to God. It was not that the people were oppressing
each other, as they had three centuries earlier, though this evil was not absent. But they were disonest toward God, as truly as Ananias was to be in a later day.

Jewish law required that all offerings to God, however humble,
must be perfect of their kind.
Every man was also bound to tithe his produce. But generally men began to offer diseased animals and to keep back some of what was due. They could not improve God in that way. Malachi also told them bluntly that before the hopeful Messiah came there would have to be a sweeping reform and that even the Gentiles
were more honest than the Jews.

These two ideas later to be realized in Christian days. The Old Testament then closes with the note of the hopelessness of the struggle for righteousness unless men could somehow be given a new covenant. What was needed was not new ideas, for the prophets had outlined all the great ones, but new power, a great day of the Lord.

In all of us lie the seeds of these old sins, and unless we live in the presence of Christ, they grow like weeds. Dishonesty toward God starts in little things and grows to bigger things and ends in resentment to the idea that God has any claim upon our time and money. The cure lies in scrupulous care in our gifts and services for God, and the result is blessing.

It is not that the windows of heaven are forced open by our gifts, as by a magic wand. If we expect that God will reward us in cold cash for every sacrifice we make then it is not sacrifices but sinned and pagan-hearted barter with God. Rather, strict honesty in our dealings with God changes the whole atmosphere of life for good.

In The Good
Old Days

There are 10,498 persons eligible to vote in Ottawa County, began an article in the January 8
issue of the Ottawa County Times published by M. G. Manting in 1897. Of these 5,352 are native born and 5,146 were born in other lands. This city has 1,734 voters of whom 828 are native and 760 foreign born. Grand Haven has 1-313 voters, 553 native and 760 foreign born.

The amount of taxes collected
by City Treasurer Van der Ploeg
before January first was $46,500.
This leaves about $4,200 to be collected this month. The treasurer will be at the Holland City State bank throughout the month of January during banking hours and will receive all taxes offered during that time. Compared with last year this is a very good showing as the amount uncollected at that time last year was over three thousand dollars.

To show what amount of produce can be consumed by a pickling factory, can be seen from the report from Saginaw. During the past season the product of 1,000 acres near that city has been utilized by the Saginaw branch of the Heinz pickle factory, which was established as the result of the efforts of Saginaw's enterprising business men. The factory made the past season 90,000 forty-five gallon barrels of sauerkraut; used 16,000 bushels of tomatoes for catsup and 8,000 bushels of cucumbers. Securing a branch of the factory here will mean the distribution of thousands of dollars every year among our farmers and fruit growers.

The 1940 "Footprints," Holland Christian high school annual,
which made its appearance in Holland this week is an attractive book of 88 pages with a thick cover of spotlessly white leatherette with its name printed in gold.
This is the 11th volume published by senior classes.

The book this year is dedicated to John Tuls, "our coach—one who has coached us in many things besides athletics, mathematics and dramatics—and whose interest in our school is equalled only by his pleasing personality, his competent leadership, his untiring zeal, and his exemplary life."

The Footprints staff is composed of Myrtle Weener, editor-in-chief; Paul Greengood, general assistant and art editor; Ralph Martinus, Antoinette Teigenhof and Frieda Vander Veen, associate editors; Mae Jean Timmer, humor
editor; Vernon Boersma, business

COUNTY MAN IS NAMED EDITOR

Grand Rapids, June 20—Synod
of the Christian Reformed church which is holding its annual sessions at Calvin college.

At Friday's session, the Rev.
Henry J. Kuiper of Grand Rapids was reelected editor of The Banner, a weekly church publication,
for the 13th consecutive year.

The Rev. Henry Keegstra, pastor of the Allendale church, was reelected editor of De Wachter,
the church publication in the Holland language. He has held this position for 18 years.

The Rev. Lambertus J. Lamberts of Fremont was again selected to edit the church Sunday school papers.

Rev. Frederick W. Cropp, general secretary of the American Bible society, in an address before the assembly presented the needs of the society due to the European war. He stated that according to the last word received from Dr. H.
C. Rutgers, representative of the society in The Netherlands, was a request for many copies of the Bible to be distributed among the soldiers in military service in The Netherlands. Dr. Ralph Bronkema
in behalf of the synod expressed to Mr. Cropp the assurance of the continued support.

Dr. John C. DeKorne in his report as secretary of missions stated that a new situation for American citizens in China was brought about by the definite stand taken by the United States government in protest to the irresponsible conduct of the Japanese military leaders in China. "The Japanese were made aware that 600 protests handed to the Japanese government by our department of state were not mere empty gestures," he said.

The radio committee in its report suggested to synod the use of radio transcription broadcasts, instead of the direct broadcasts which are used on many of the radio stations throughout the country. Transcription programs cost much less and it would not take up the speakers' time on Sundays. Synod also decided to appoint a committee to translate many of the doctrinal standards
into idiomatic English.

Synod approved the report of the board of trustees of Calvin college in which it was suggested the purchase of "a co-operative house" for out-of-town girl students. The board felt that the spiritual needs of the young women can be better provided for as many of the students are now staying in undesirable homes.
Prof. Albertus J. Rooks was again appointed dean of the college with the understanding this shall be his last year as he has reached the retirement age.

SAYS MAN, BUT NOT COUNTRIES, GOES FORWARD

Ferris Institute President Sees U.S. Peace Aid at War's End

History records that governments and nations have risen and fallen but man himself has never gone backward or retraced his steps. Dr. Merle S. Ward, president of Ferris Institute in Big Rapids, told members of the Holland Rotary club at their noon luncheon in the Warm Friend tavern last Thursday.

There is always a group of people somewhere, he said, to carry the torch. Perhaps after this war, when the other nations are prostrate we may be the people to carry this torch, he said, and make a just and everlasting peace.

Dr. Ward, who served as lieutenant in the AEF overseas in the World War, expressed the hope that America would not get into the present conflict and the belief that it would not. However, he pointed out, there are some things more precious than peace and than life itself.

He pointed to science, mechanics, and printing as tremendous steps in civilization which have not been lost. The United States has added to these, he emphasized, democracy and a public system of education. If one were to cross the ocean to the richest and most prosperous countries, he would come back to the United States to see the finest educational system in the world, and although democracy existed before, it never existed on so large a scale and as long as in the United States, he pointed out.

He also stated that while other people are forced to turn to dictatorships, Americans keep to democracy because democracy stresses the individual.

Accommodations are more luxurious and sleeping quarters for ten are provided on the 44-footer, and six on the 38-footer.

Hope Delphi Seniors Are Initiated by Alumnae

The Delphi Alumnae association, with Miss Beatrice Visser as president, welcomed the senior members of the Delphi sorority of Hope college to its membership in an impressive ceremony recently at the Dykhuizen cottage on Lake Macatawa. Miss Adelaide and Geraldine Dykhuizen were hostesses.

The alumnae association, according to tradition, elected its new officers for the coming year. Miss Joan Vander Werf will lead the group as president. Mrs. Garrett Vander Borgh will take the place of Miss Sandrine Schut as vice-president. Miss Mildred Mulder will assume the duties of secretary-treasurer held by Mrs. Harold Klaassen for the past year.

After the arrival of the other Delphians, a number of the group played bridge. Refreshments were served.

Preceding the wedding, Donald Den Uyl sang "O Promise Me" followed by the wedding march played by John Swerenga. The Rev. John Breaker of Muskegon performed the double ring ceremony before a background of ferns, palms and roses. Following the ceremony, Mr. Den Uyl sang a short prayer.

O AND O AIDED DUTCH FORCES

Organization Filled Idle Hours of Soldiers Before Blitz

(In the following article, Mrs. Sarah Williams Bosman writes to The Sentinel from The Netherlands of conditions prior to the Nazi invasion of the low countries. Written late in April, the article was received in Holland Wednesday.)

Amsterdam—O. and O.

To the uninitiated these letters have scant significance, but to those who know, and especially to the men under the colors in Holland, they mean much. O. and O. stands for that organization which helps the Dutch soldiers and sailors fill their hours of duty. One O stands for the Ontwikkeling, or educational department; the other for Ontspanning, or performances department, which includes sports and stage and screen performances.

No Dutch soldier making only 3 1/2 cents a day can spend much on himself. Cafe's are too expensive for him to patronize, nor could he attend the theater or movies but very exceptionally, O. and O. has set out to provide him with amusement of the proper caliber just the same.

It provides canteens where the men may go to read, play cards, billiards, ping pong, and other games; order tea or coffee; purchase cakes, chocolate bars, cigarettes, cigars, canned foods—such as salmon, sardines, peanut butter—for the boterhammen, clothes brushes, razor blades and other things a soldier needs, at greatly reduced prices. Through O. and O. special stage and screen performances, concerts and lectures are given for the men, free or at admission prices ranging from ten to thirty cents.

O. and O. organizes soccer games, swimming matches, track events, boxing matches, etc., in which the soldiers participate. Medals and other prizes donated by private firms and citizens are awarded the winners. Through it men are admitted regularly to swimming pools, rowing clubs, tennis courts and athletic fields free or for a few cents each time. Finally, it arranges for teachers to give courses in modern languages and in a wide variety of subjects in different technical fields.

O. and O.'s central committee, composed of officers elected by O. and O. committees in the various cities of Holland, meets from time to time in The Hague to tell what is being done, give suggestions and discuss problems. Its functions are purely supervisory however, decisions resting with the local O. and O.

The local O. and O. committees are representative of each branch of the service, the artillery, aviation, marine and infantry units in the town, each of which elects an officer to the O. and O. committee. They arrange the program, exercising a sort of censorship over the entertainment furnished the men. There are sub-committees for bridge, table tennis, soccer, swimming, rowing, tennis, boxing, track events and wrestling. Private citizens as well as military officers are members of these committees. For the money for O. and O. must come from the citizens.

Some of the funds for O. and O. come from individual donation, some from benefits for O. and O. These benefits may be exhibitions, but dances to which admission is charged, the admission fee and a percentage of the drinks and food sold going to O. and O., are most popular.

I have attended several such dances at which cabaret entertainers, performed at intervals during the evening. The Dutch don't sing "We Won't Go Home Until Morning" but "We Aren't going home" and financially the parties achieve their aim.

As my husband is in charge of O. and O. work in Amsterdam and vicinity, I was privileged recently to witness a revue given by the employees of the Byenkorf, Amsterdam's largest department store, for 1,100 men. It was a good amateur performance, greatly appreciated by the audience, and its lifting tunes doubtless run through their days as they do through mine. After the revue the management of the store invited cast and officers and ladies every to a party. A drink for every guest and a gigantic tart with chocolate. O's everywhere comprised the refreshments. An orchestra played for dancing. O. and O. took charge of the party, no one wanted to leave and no one left until the music stopped at half past two in the morning. Such a party is, however, the exception and not the rule.

It is of the utmost importance to keep Holland's army contented in these trying times. That, in short, is what the men connected with O. and O. are striving to do, and to give the men at the same time something which will perhaps equip them better mentally and physically to take up other duties again when they don "civies."

DOG WARDEN OUSTED AT G.H.

Grand Haven, July 20 (Special)—William Kieft of Grand Haven has been relieved of his duties with the Ottawa county sheriff's department as dog warden and is no longer authorized to pick up dogs as an officer, it was announced Tuesday by Sheriff Frank Van Etta.

Kieft, appointed at the start of the dog quarantine, operated in North Ottawa county. Kieft said he had been discharged twice and did not care to be reappointed but was asked by county officers, including Dr. Ralph Ten Have, to take over the duties and "forget the past." As Kieft's only fault had been in enforcing the law to the letter.

Two recent arrests and the killing of a dog brought the question "to a head," Kieft said. He reported he had impounded 213 dogs and had shot only 15. Most of the dogs which have been taken and shot were in cases where the owner had been warned many times, he declared.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

SUMMER menu—planning often presents many difficulties for the housewife. Appetites are likely to be capricious and many foods which would cause appreciative remarks during the winter months, would be merely sampled by the family on a hot Sunday. Perhaps then, one Sunday during the month, you might concentrate on fish, which can be served in so many interesting ways, for your family dinner. With this fish dinner, you can have many vegetables, fruits which are in market this week. Watermelons are more numerous and more reasonable, peaches are an attractive addition to the dessert table, and the berry supply runs the gamut of varieties from loganberries to gooseberries. Vegetable specials for the coming week are asparagus, wax and lima beans, beets, cabbage, peas, spinach and tomatoes. Here are three menu plans for your Sunday dinner by Miss Cora Anthony of the kitchen at different price levels:

Low Cost Dinner
Pan Fried Butterfish With Lemon Slices
Parasited New Potatoes
Fresh Buttered Asparagus
Bread and Butter
Fresh Strawberry Ice
Iced Tea or Coffee

Moderate Cost Dinner
Tomato Juice Cocktail

COMMISSION TO HOLD MEETING

Grand Haven, June 20 — The Ottawa County Tax Allocation commission is scheduled to hold its final hearing here Friday, June 21, at 10 a.m. on the allocations for the county and for several political subdivisions of the county as well as for several school districts.

The commission has given preliminary approval to the allocations. They almost correspond with the millage requested by the several units, the only changes being made were reductions in instances where the total millage requested for county, township and school exceeded the 15-mill limitation.

The allocations temporarily established, complying with requests, were Ottawa county, 45 mills; Allendale, 2.21 mills; Blendon, 1.5 mills; Chester, 2.97 mills; Crocker, 5 mills; Georgetown, 2.8 mills; Grand Haven township, 3 mills; Holland township, 3 mills; Jamestown, 3.76 mills; Olive, 3.4 mills; Park, 5.25 mills; Polkton, 2 mills; Port Sheldon, 2.9 mills; Robinson, 1 mill; Spring Lake, 4.25 mills; Tallmadge, no mills; Wright, 1.3 mills; and Zealand township, 1.28 mills.

Changes made in the millage from the amount requested are few in southern Ottawa county school districts. Blendon Dist. No. 2 was reduced from 10.0 to 9.0 mills; Georgetown No. 8 was cut from 7.66 to 6.74 mills; Holland No. 3 from 10.0 to 7.50 mills; No. 4 from 8.4 to 7.5 mills; No. 6 from 6.5 to 5.25 mills; No. 9 from 7.0 to 5.25 mills; No. 10 was increased from 6.5 to 7.1 mills; Olive No. 3 was reduced from 7.4 to 7.1 mills; and No. 4 from 8.0 to 7.1 mills. School districts in Crocker were all reduced to a maximum of 6.25 mills.

Townships having no allocation problems within the 15-mill limit are Allendale, Chester, and Grand Haven, Jamestown, Port Sheldon, Robinson, Tallmadge, Wright and Zealand. Blendon, Georgetown, Olive, Polkton, and Park had one or two conflicting instances.

School districts usually experiencing the greatest difficulty in securing millage are all Crocker districts; Holland Nos. 1, 3, 4, 6, and 7; Polkton No. 8; all Spring Lake districts; and Zealand No. 1. Among these are Spring Lake and Zealand high schools.

MARNE MAN GIVEN PRISON SENTENCE

Grand Haven, June 20 (Special)—Milton E. Gould, 53, of Marne, was sentenced in circuit court by Judge Fred T. Miles to serve from 15 months to four years in Southern Michigan prison on a charge of talking from a house in Wright township on May 30 $4 that belonged to a young woman whom he told the court he had been living with the past eight years.

In passing sentence, the court called attention to the fact that Gould had abandoned his wife and one child about 15 years ago and had taken the other child, a daughter, with him into the home in Wright township.

Judge Miles stated that the charge was not simple larceny "or simply stealing $4." The court pointed out that his case could have been disposed of in justice court, "if that is all he had done," and he could not have been sentenced for more than 90 days.

"However, when a person steals from a dwelling house in which he has been admitted on friendly terms, the law fixes a penalty of up to four years imprisonment, even though the amount stolen may be small."

Many Attend Services for Holland High, Hope Grads

Challenge to Democracy Is Pointed Out to College Class

"What are the implications of these catastrophic world events for our own beloved land and for you young men and women who are about to graduate from this institution?" the Rev. M. Eugene Flipse, pastor of Community church, Douglaston, N. Y., asked 95 Hope seniors and their guests at baccalaureate services in Hope Memorial chapel Sunday night.

Is democracy something real, something vital, something worth living for and dying for if need be, he questioned, or is it only a word, merely a concoction of petty politics, cynical demagoguery, selfish agitators, muttering minorities, boy wonders and the CIO?

The minister dictators hold democracy in contempt and in derision, he pointed out, and think it is weak, spineless and deceitful. They whip up millions of their youth, he continued, into a crusading frenzy and lead them as in Russia to the cry "We are remaking the world" and as in Germany with "Today we own Germany, tomorrow the whole world."

"The democratic peoples of the world have now more than ever to understand the responsibilities of freedom and the necessity of certain limitation upon it. Citizens have to give their fullest cooperation. Selfishness must be forgotten."

"It is time to put our own house in order and track down and root out all subversive elements in our commonwealth."

"There is no need for panic or hysteria. Rather do we need a calm, dispassionate thoroughness, but it needs to be done, and done now."

The baccalaureate program opened with "Allegro Vivace" from Widor's Fifth symphony played by Kenneth R. Osborne who also played "The Son of God Goes Forth to War" by Herbert-Cutler as the processional. Following prayer by the Rev. A. F. Marckley, graduate at Rutgers university in 1911 and Western Theological seminary in 1914, the choir sang "O Glad-some Light" by Lura Heckenlievely. The choir also sang "O Thou Most High" by Paul Christensen.

Mr. Osborne played "Toccata" also from Widor's Fifth symphony as the postlude.

Seniors of Public School Are Told to Follow Abraham

Advising the 1940 graduates of Holland high school to follow Abraham, an example of true greatness, the Rev. C. W. Meredith, instructor in Marion college, a Wesleyan Methodist school in Marion, Ind., delivered a challenging sermon at annual baccalaureate services Sunday afternoon before a capacity crowd in Hope Memorial chapel, Holland's largest auditorium. His topic was "Reaching the Hall of Fame."

"There are some proverbial sayings which we employ that are not true anxieties of life," he said. "We have all heard the expression, 'Some men are born great.' With the exception of the Son of God, no one has ever been born great. There is the companion remark: 'Some men have greatness thrust upon them.' This too beggars the truth. No one has greatness to hand out and no chain of circumstances ever thrusts man into greatness."

"Abraham contributed to a great cause—one of clarifying man's understanding of God. Someone has said, 'The ultimate test of Christianity is not in its answers to our questions, but in its answers to our cravings.' However, there are some definite concepts which are necessary to an intelligent relationship with God."

"There are four experiences in Abraham's life which clearly bring out the proper concept of God for us. One is his experience with his nephew Lot who took the choice pastures. Another was the time when Abraham pleaded with God to save Sodom and Gomorrah, and from this experience we learn that God is an approachable God. Another experience was God's promise of a son and the last was God's request that Abraham offer this son as a sacrifice."

Preceded by the Holland high school a cappella choir, the 278 members of the graduating class marched down the broad center aisle of the chapel to "Onward Christian Soldiers," played by Mrs. W. Curtis Snow of the piano department of Hope college. Mrs. Snow also played as an organ prelude "Symphony from Solomon." The postlude was "Praeludium," Mendelssohn.

The invocation, reading of scripture and benediction were given by the Rev. Paul E. Hinkamp, professor of religious education, Hope college. The a cappella choir under the direction of Miss Tridie M. Moore sang "Open Our Eyes," MacFarland; and "Lo, A Voice to Heaven Sounding," Bortniansky. The choir also gave a choral amen by Lutkin.

COUNCIL WAITS REPORT ON FIRE CONTRACT PLAN

Delays Approval, Refers Township Proposal to Committee

Informed by City Attorney Clarence A. Lokker, it had no authority to enter into any contract, of more than a year's duration that would bind its successors in office, common council Wednesday night delayed action on the request of the police and fire board that the city enter into a contract to furnish fire protection for Holland township.

The proposed contract the terms of which were approved by the police and fire board Monday afternoon, was referred to council's ways and means committee and the city attorney for further investigation. Council asked the committee to report at council's meeting July 2. This action was taken upon motion of Ald. Albert P. Kleis, supported by Ald. Bernard Arendshorst.

The police and fire board proposed that the township pay $500 annually, in addition to $50 per call, until a fund of $2,500 is reached, when the annual payments would be reduced to $200 for maintenance of fire fighting equipment. Providing the fund became depleted through any kind of an accident, the annual payments would revert back to $500 until the $2,500 fund is reached.

Prior to the submission of the board's communication, John R. Dethmers, Holland township attorney, informed City Clerk Oscar Peterson that the proposed terms were acceptable to the township.

TO BUILD DOCKS AT LOCAL PARK TO AID RESORTS

Council Approves Thirty-Five Hundred Dollars For Project

Work on Four Slips Due to Start Soon; Sligh Presents Plan

The city of Holland took another step toward building for its share of Michigan's tourist and resort business Friday afternoon when common council, meeting in special session, voted to appropriate $3,500 to be used in the construction of four slips for docking facilities at Kollen park on Lake Macatawa.

In taking this action, the aldermen favored the project as advanced by the Holland Chamber of Commerce through Charles R. Sligh, Jr., chairman of a special committee which was appointed by the organization's directors to investigate proper docking facilities in Holland harbor.

E. P. Stephan, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, reported that necessary contracts will be signed immediately with Harrington's for the construction of the four slips. Sligh explained that construction of the docks likely will be completed within three weeks after the work has been started.

Sligh, in explaining the plans to council, said the actual price would be $3,100, including $2,750 for the construction of the four slips and $350 for the laying of a two-inch water main from a water hydrant in the park to the dock for use in supplying various cruisers with drinking water.

In the $3,500 appropriation, council included $400 for other, unestimated parts of the project. Sligh presented no estimate as to the cost of installing a 110-volt line along the slips for the benefit of cruisers which are equipped for either alternating or direct current.

He also suggested that arrangements should be made for garbage disposal at the docks.

The four slips are to be constructed in an east-west direction in the lagoon, just east of the point in Kollen park. Under the plans, the present dock at the park also will be repaired. This lagoon was dredged out two years ago when Holland harbor channel was deepened and the turning basin was enlarged.

In reporting his project to council, Sligh explained that his committee had investigated the Bauman's docks in Spring Lake and had received valuable information as to the size of the slips and the type of piling to be used.

He presented two sketches, one showing present conditions at the park and another showing how it would look after construction of the four slips. He said the Chamber of Commerce and his committee felt that Holland is "missing considerable resorting business by not having adequate docking facilities."

He stated he would like to see cruisers from 25 to 55 feet come into Holland harbor and remain several days. Holland has become "more boat conscious" through the construction of the new Chrysler Corp. factory, he said.

The first two of the "catwalks" will be 44 feet long with "catwalks" three feet wide and 18 feet between "catwalks." The third slip will be 32 feet long and 15 feet between "catwalks." Only 10 feet will separate the catwalks of the fourth slip.

He said the first two slips would be used for the larger cruisers, the third for smaller ones and the fourth for speedboats. Plans call for a construction of 12 slips but, Sligh said, the committee favors construction of only four this year to give them a tryout for fear it may be necessary to construct more than two slips for the larger cruisers.

He said the slips will be used by boats, desiring to dock here for several days while the present dock will be repaired and used by boats which desire to moor there for only short periods.

The present 110-volt line on the present dock would require only an extension of this line to provide electrical outlets for cruisers desiring service. He proposed the installation of a pay telephone at the dock for use by occupants of the visiting cruisers.

Plans call for the top of the piling to be covered with canvas and metal covers to prevent them from rotting. The top will be painted blue and a part of the piling to the water line will be painted white and the sides of the "catwalks" will be painted blue but the top will be treated with creosote to prevent rotting.

Sligh estimated that 75 pilings, 45 to 50 feet in length will be required to build the four slips. Pilings on the present dock will be cut off to correspond with the others and the dock painted the same colors.

It was estimated by Sligh that annual maintenance of the docks at Kollen park will run between $200 and $300. He said the lagoon was favored for the construction of the slips as it was protected from the northwest winds and heavy seas of the lake in bad weather.

Following construction of the slips, it is proposed, Sligh said, to prepare mimeographed or printed maps of Holland, showing the location of the new docks and how to reach them, and distribute them among the yachting clubs on the Great Lakes. He told the aldermen that merchants in cities having docks have reported that

He said, in answer to a question, that it is not planned to sell fuel for the boats at the docks "due to complications." Mayor Henry Geerlings said he had contacted four or five local merchants and they favored construction of the docks.

Sligh said he had received a price of $5,500 for the construction of all 12 of the slips which he considered a low price.
