Parade to Boost Bond Sales to Be Staged Saturday

Roy Young in Charge Of Event That Will Include Street Stunts

Roy Young today was rounding up assistants and promises of support for a parade over Holland's downtown streets Saturday at 2 p.m. to stimulate sales of bonds during the fifth war loan campaign.

Despite the accelerated pace of the war—with the Normandy invasion, the offensive in the Marianas and the B-29 raid on Japan—individual bond sales so far in the campaign have not been too encouraging. Sales of E bonds here through Monday totaled only about one-ninth of the $968,133.60 quota.

And so Frank M. Lievense, local bond chairman, called on Young to help stir up interest in the community and assure a continuation of Holland's 100 per cent-plus bond record that had marked previous drives.

It was believed that anything Young staged would be good. A former professional clown, he is well known for the entertainment provided annually at the Junior Chamber of Commerce Halloween parties for children of the city.

Deciding on a parade, Young said he found many here enthusiastic about such a stimulant. The Boy Scouts, Sea Scouts, Camp Fire girls, coast guardsmen, a number of factories, merchants and others promised participation, although some pledges were tentative, of course.

The parade will start at the corner of River Ave. and 12th St., move north on River to Eighth St. and east on Eighth to Lincoln Ave.

Indications are that it will be a half mile long and include probably two bands, trucks, cars, floats and perhaps fire department trucks. Each vehicle will carry signs stressing the need of bond purchases.

Special stunts are being arranged to follow the parade and, Young promised, a lot of fun if in store for those who go downtown Saturday afternoon.

Meanwhile, individual bond sales in Holland were progressing steadily if slowly, with approximately $42,000 in bonds sold the past two days bringing the total so far in this drive to $141,403.75 of its quota of $968,133.60, according to Statistical Chairman George Damsen.

Sales Tuesday and Wednesday at Peoples State bank amounted to $10,762.50 in E bonds and $4,500 in G bonds; Holland State bank, $14,006.25 in E bonds and $1,100 in G bonds; Building and Loan, $675 in E bonds; post office, $4,781.25.

Grand Haven, June 22 (Special)—B. P. Sherwood, Sr., chairman of the Ottawa county fifth war loan drive, announced today that through Wednesday night the individual sales for the county amounted to $381,505 and corporate sales totaled $102,649. These figures are against the quota of $2,394,000 for individuals and $1,873,000 for corporations.

Kalkman Returns to Council Halls

Casey Kalkman, fiery exponent of justice who formerly served as alderman of the former second ward, now the first ward, appeared before common council Wednesday night in behalf of the taxpayers and objected strenuously to council's action in granting a permit to an "outsider" to construct sidewalks.

The person in question, Peter Dryer, who resides east of Holland on Waverly road, has been granted licenses to construct sidewalks for several years, according to City Clerk Oscar Peterson. A new license was granted for this year.

Kalkman, himself connected with concrete contracting, who was a member of the council until three or four years ago, told the city fathers it was unfair to permit construction of sidewalks on city property by a non-resident who does not pay city taxes. He also criticized council for granting a permit now to one "outsider" while refusing another "outsider" some years ago.

Mayor Elmer Schepers assured Kalkman that if the other person would make proper application that he would receive consideration.

Ald. Herman Mooi attempted to explain to Kalkman that the city cannot refuse such licenses but likely would not hire a non-resident on city contracts. Kalkman brushed aside Mooi's point and roared, "You wouldn't like it if some outside man would come in here and put the roof on the city hall!"

Ald. John Bontekoe explained that it is a citizen's privilege to hire whomever he likes to do his work.

Ald. William J. Meengs brought up a technical point saying that the city requires a license from hucksters who cannot possibly live in the city limits.

Licenses for sidewalk construction expired May 30. So far only six have renewed their licenses, including Kalkman and his sons, Peter and Al, who all take out separate licenses. Others are expected to renew their licenses which cost $5. J. W. Hobeck, Park road, and Eszenburg Building and Lumber Co., at the city limits on West 17th St., held licenses last year, the latter license in connection with home construction inside the city.

Kalkman's outburst came in connection with the mayor's suggestion that council consider whether city employees should be allowed to live outside the city limits. He explained that the city charter in a fairly recent revision provides that police and firemen should live inside the city limits and City Engineer Jacob Zuidema added that employees of the electric plant also were included.

Ald. L. C. Dalman inquired how far council's authority went in the matter and was informed by City Attorney Vernon D. Ten Cate that council has the authority to direct conditions of any employment by the city.

Zuidema explained that the street department has one employee who lives about 100 feet from the city limits and he had been hired about 20 years ago with council consent. It also was pointed out that one police officer was obliged to resign a few months ago after he had moved to a farm.

Ald. Meengs contended that all city employees should definitely live in the city limits. He said the issue was not so acute at present when workers were at a premium but that it might prove more serious in case of a depression.

The mayor thanked Kalkman for his visit, said the aldermen would think it over for a couple of weeks and discuss the question again at the next meeting. Kalkman departed in good humor.

At the close of the meeting Clarence L. Wood, turbine operator at the power plant, pointed out that board of public works employees work nights two-thirds of the time and appreciate quiet during the day when they sleep. He said this was often impossible in the city during the hot summer days with children playing outdoors and dogs barking.

Sum Earmarked For Airport Here

The Michigan state board of aeronautics has allocated $15,000 for improvements to Park township airport on condition that another $10,000 be raised locally.

Charles R. Sligh, authorized agent of the Ottawa county airport committee, said today.

A small group of local businessmen has volunteered to assist in raising the money and to date about $3,000 has been solicited. The new allocation is in addition to the $5,000 check received recently for field improvements, Sligh said. The airport at present is under lease to Ottawa county from Park township.

Sligh said work has nearly been completed on improving the south end of the new north-south runway and the next move will be to move the southwest-northeast runway to the north to miss the hill at the northeast end hereby making a better approach for landings and facilitate takeoffs.

For the past two Monday nights, members of the Holland squadron, civil air patrol, have been painting markers at the edge of the field and also painted "Holland" in large letters on top of the large hangar. They painted the metal parts of the windsock and installed a new windsock, also painted the window frames and woodwork of the new hangar. The paint was furnished by the CAP.

War Game to Be Feature of Boy Scout Camporee

'Commando Invasion of Coast of Holland' on Saturday at Waukazoo

One of the main features of the annual Boy scout camporee of the central district of the Ottawa-Allegan Scout council this week-end at the North Shore Community park will be a war game in Waukazoo woods Saturday afternoon which will climax the two-day camp.

The game, which is being arranged under the leadership of Peter Kromann, will tax all the scouting skills of woodcraft, stalking and map reading. It is called "The Commando Invasion of the Coast of Holland" and the scouts and leaders will be divided into two parties, one of the "Liberators" and one of the "Defenders." The "Liberators" will start at the lake on the south side of the woods and attempt to capture the "capital" of the "Defenders." Each side will set up an airfield, an ammunition dump and a gasoline dump, which will also be the objective for capture and destruction. It is recommended that all scouts who have compasses should bring them along, as it will aid in the progress that their side will make.

The scouts will set up camp on Friday afternoon and a camp fire and court of honor will be held at night. William H. Vande Water will be in charge of an Indian ceremony for the opening of the camp fire. William Meengs will lead in the community singing and E. D. Hanson will preside at the court of honor. Dr. H. D. Terkeurst will deliver a message.

The program Saturday morning will consist of scoutcraft games and demonstrations. The general public is invited to attend at any time.

Mosquito Control Group Will Meet With State Men

City Accepts Deeds to Harrington Property For Addition to Park

Arrangements for the state men to come to Holland were made by Dr. Ralph Ten Have, head of the Ottawa county board of health.

Clerk Oscar Peterson presented a communication from the city attorney, together with executed deeds from the Harringtons conveying to the city for park purposes a plot of land on the northwest corner of 10th St. and Van Raite Ave. to be known as the Harrington addition to Kolen park in memory of Capt. Council decided to await recommendations from the appeal board regarding rezoning of property at 26th St. and Washington Ave. to allow Dick Zwiep to move a greenhouse from the former Lake-wood farm to his property at 622 Washington. This block is at present listed as a residential which does not permit construction of greenhouses. Referred to the ways and means committee with power to act was a communication from the library board by Librarian Dora Schermer recommending that $10,000 be set aside as a reserve to be invested in U. S. government bonds.

Council took no action on Ald. Van Hartesveldt's suggestion that there be further investigation before allowing the board of public works to expend approximately a third of a million dollars in equipment to increase the power load 2,500 kilowatt hours. The city attorney informed him that some contracts already had been let for engineering work. Ald. Mooi, in stressing the need for equipment to increase the load, offered to arrange a meeting between the board and the council to explain further aspects of the case. Council last Thursday night at a special meeting authorized the BFW to proceed with plans for installing the new equipment.

The clerk read communications from Sen. A. H. Vandenberg and Cong. Bartel Jonkman acknowledging receipt of copies of resolutions passed by council endorsing the St. Lawrence Seaway and power projects. Vandenberg wrote he was in complete agreement with council viewpoint and would act accordingly.

COMMON COUNCIL

Holland, Mich., June 15, 1944 — The Common Council met in special session at 7 p.m. pursuant to call by the Mayor.

Present: Mayor Schepers, Ald. Van Harteveldt, Steffens, Bontekoe, Mool, Damson, Sligher, Meengs, Dalman and the Clerk.

Also present were the following members of the Board of Public Works: Chairman Joe Geerds, Messrs. Covell, Gebben, A. Klomparsen, Supt. Nauta, Clerk Appledorn, and Chief Engineer Bert Smith.

Also present were A. C. Kirkwood and W. S. Baum, representatives of the Burns and McDonnell Engineering Co. of Kansas City, Mo.

Mayor Schepers stated that this meeting had been called upon the suggestion of the Board of Public Works after he had met with them recently. The Mayor then called on Mr. Joe Geerds, chairman of the Board of Public Works, to explain the purpose of this meeting.

After having introduced the members of the Board and the representatives of the engineering firm of Burns and McDonnell, Mr. Geerds stated briefly the purpose of the meeting.

Mr. Geerds went into a little history of the new Power Plant from its beginning and stated that now after having been in operation for four years it was shown from the survey that has just been made that the time has come when they will have to consider further improvements. Mr. Geerds then called upon A. C. Kirkwood, representative of the firm of Burns and McDonnell, to read the report which they have prepared for the Board and to explain to the Council members any matters concerning this report which they may not understand. In this report a survey was made showing the amount of electricity that has been generated covering a period of years from 1936 through 1943. This report shows there has been a general increase at an average annual rate of 12.62 per cent. The report further sets forth the estimated future growth based on past experience. This future growth is estimated from the years 1944 through 1951 and shows an increase from 8 to 10 per cent per year which Mr. Kirkwood stated was very conservative. Based on these figures, it was shown that there would be need for an increase in the generating capacity of the new Plant in the very near future.

The report further shows that during 1943, the peak load had reached 7000 k. w. which is almost up to capacity for one of the present turbines. The report further shows that during the year 1944 the maximum demand load should reach 7650 k. w. which is in excess of the capacity of one turbine. The recommendations of the engineers therefore, was that two things should be accomplished with minimum delay, viz.:

Standby facilities should be provided in such a manner that they are available without delays. This can be done by the installation of the De Young Plant, of a medium sized Diesel engine generator unit. Studies of several sizes of units indicate that a single unit of about 2500 k. w. capacity will best suit the requirements now and in the future. It should be noted that operation of two turbines will commence in 1945-46. This Diesel unit will be able to care for short duration demands, thereby further improving operating economy. It will be available as a standby unit without the cost of additional labor or unproductive fuel consumption. Production costs will be reduced about $11,000 per year.

The second consideration is the future installation of a third turbo-generator and boiler. These improvements should be effectuated by late 1947, will require about from date of inception. The time element will depend upon congestion in the manufacturers' shops and the rapidly with which all phases of the project are executed. The new unit should have a capacity of 7500 k. w., possibly more. A rough estimate of the cost of the steam equipment is approximately $750,000. Financial preparations should be made well in advance.

It is estimated that the cost of such a Diesel Engine generating unit would be approximately $300,000, and it is this unit that the Engineers feel should be purchased as soon as one is available.

After Mr. Kirkwood had presented his report there was some discussion among the aldermen and several questions were asked of the Engineer. Chairman Geerds of the Board of Public Works reported to the Council that their Board has accepted the recommendations of the Engineers, subject to the approval of the Common Council, and

On motion of Alderman Mool, seconded by Steffens, The Council approved of the Board's recommendations.

It was then moved by Alderman Mool, seconded by Damson, That the Board of Public Works be given power to act in securing plans and taking bids on such a new Diesel Engine Generating Unit.

Adopted unanimously.

Mr. Geerds also called the Council's attention to the fact that they are now making a survey of the water situation in the City. He explained that both the 28th St. and 19th St. wells are producing water which is very satisfactory. However, the water from the Eighth St. well contains a great amount of iron which is quite objectionable.

Mr. Geerds further stated that it might be sometime before the report on this situation would be available and it would then be presented to the Council for its information.

Adjourned.

Oscar Peterson, City Clerk.

Works Board to Install New Unit At Power Plant

Heavy Load Required By War Plants Makes Equipment Necessary

Common council at a special meeting Thursday night authorized the board of public works to proceed with plans for installing a 2,500 kilowatt diesel engine-generator unit at the James De Young power plant on Third St. to care for the increased load attributable in a large measure to local war industries.

Cost of the new equipment is estimated at $37,700 and will include the diesel engine-generator unit complete with auxiliary equipment, switchgear, structures, necessary changes to existing facilities, contingencies, engineering and supervision of construction.

Consultant Engineer A. C. Kirkwood of the Burns and McDonnell Engineering Co. of Kansas City, Mo., who outlined the plan at the meeting of common council and the board of public works in the council chambers, quoted the estimate on locating the unit on the north side of the switch house. If located in an easterly extension of the switchbay, the cost might be reduced some $30,000 since some of the cost in that case will be chargeable to the future steam equipment, Kirkwood said.

BPW Chairman Joe Geerds introduced the subject. The present Third St. plant was started in 1938 and completed in 1940, he said. At that time, engineers designing the plant were of the opinion that it would be adequate until 1948 or 1950. In January of this year, the plant carried a peak load of 7,200 kw. hours whereas the capacity is 7,500.

Reduction in war production will not necessarily lighten the load at the plant, Geerds said, since the reduction will be mainly confined to second and third shifts, still confining the heavy load to a certain part of the day.

Council was informed that the board of public works is in good condition financially to install new equipment. According to the annual report as of Dec. 31, 1943, investments in government securities amounted to $97,350 from the water fund, electric fund, compensation insurance fund and guarantee deposit fund. A total of $325,000 is invested in 2 1/2 percent treasury bonds of 1964-69. Cash on hand in the light fund amounts to some $130,000, according to Clerk Gerrit Appledorn.

Motion to give the board authority to proceed with plans and advertise bids was made by Ald. Herman Mooi and second by Ald. Ben Steffens.

Geerds said the situation has been a source of worry to the board for several months. Kirkwood first came here last December and presented a report in January.

The power and water plants of Holland represent an investment of some three million dollars. The 1943 contribution to the city was set at $119,461.80 of which $70,000 was paid Jan. 17. From 1923 through 1943, contributions to the city totaled $1,492,784.74.

Kirkwood also mentioned the 5,000 kw. unit at the Fifth St. station which is used as a standby unit. It cannot be placed in service on short notice, he said, and thus it fails to perform the complete functions of a standby unit. It cannot be placed in service on short notice, he said, and thus it fails to perform the complete functions of a standby unit. Cost of maintaining this standby unit in 1943 was $10,188 or 6.5 per cent of the total cost of production for the year. Costs for the first four months of 1944 indicate that the 1944 cost will be about $11,500 or 8.3 per cent of the total cost so far.

Kirkwood also outlined plans for future expansion in which estimated maximum demands will run from 7,650 kw. hours in 1944 to 13,800 in 1951. He said it was reasonable to predict an annual average rate of growth of generation of 10 per cent from 1944 to 1948, and 8 per cent thereafter.

Those present from the works board were Chairman Geerds, H. S. Covell, Andrew Klomparsen and Bert Gebben. From common council were Mayor Elmer J. Schepers, Ald. Phil Van Hartesveldt, Ben Steffens, John Bontekoe, Don Slichter, Herman Mooi, William J. Meengs, L. C. Dalman, and Clerk Peterson. Others present were BPW Supt. Abe Nauta, Clerk Appledorn and two engineers, Kirkwood and W. S. Baum of the Kansas City company. The latter engineer is taking water tests at the Eighth St. wells and will make recommendations at a later meeting of the board.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

The world now is having a demonstration of physical power used in world-wide maximum destruction. Physical power needs to be surcharged by spiritual power, allowing God a chance to give direction to forces in the hands of man for constructive and helpful service for mankind. Spiritual power is not created in a vacuum. Spiritual power resides in spiritual leaders who have come out of religious fellowships. If the religious spiritual power is to be effective it will be so by the way of isolated individuals, but of groups of people exercising Christian faith day by day. In a word, power will become effective through the activity of the church. Why not accept the invitation and go to church next Sunday?

Need Volunteers To Roll Bandages

Mrs. C. Adrian Bort, production chairman for the Ottawa county chapter of the American Red Cross, today appealed to local women to keep loyal to their task of making surgical dressings, even though the hot days have set in.

The new quota for bandages in the midwest section which includes 18 states is 30 million a month and Ottawa county's monthly quota is over 100,000 bandages. Previously, local women turned out this amount in three months.

Bandages are made in the chapter's production rooms in the basement of the Temple building which are open from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, from 1:30 to 4 p.m. on Wednesday and from 7 to 9 p.m. on Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The rooms are closed during the day Friday for cleaning. Fifty women can be accommodated at one sitting. There are authorized instructors at all hours, and volunteers may come and go as they like.

NAMING THE INVASION BABY

Fact, if not truth, constantly surprises us by outstripping fiction. Thus there is the Dallas, Texas, mother who was on the way to the maternity ward when the sirens for the invasion sounded; she decided to name her new daughter "Invasia Mae." If a story writer had imagined that he would have been met with incredulity—just as was the fictionist who imagined that a father and mother called their first pair of twins Peter and Repeat, their second pair Kate and Duplicate and their third pair Max and Climax.

But at that, the Dallas mother missed a trick in naming her baby. "Mae" is of course only a variant of "May," the name of the month. Since the invasion was launched in June, and since
"June" is as familiar a girl's name as "May," why did the ingenious name giver miss the idea of "Invasia June"?

Another southerner, this one from Oklahoma, was more on his toes in this business of giving names. On this man's farm a favorite cow gave birth to quadruplets, something even more rare in cowdom than in the world of human beings. The neighbors from miles around came to see the wonder, and so the owner felt it necessary to signalize his local celebrity by naming the babies.
And he chose the following: "El-enor," "Franklin," "Winston," and "Victory." We are not told whether there was an undertone of satire in the names; in view of the fact that Oklahoma is a good New Deal state, the chances are that no irony was intended.

At any rate he didn't miss many chances. But project your imagination a few years into the future. The bovine babies have grown up into lusty cows and heifers. In due course of time they will have fulfilled their destinies. Then the time will come when they will have to be sent to the stockyards.
Sentiment is all well and good,
but after all business is business.
Imagine digging your teeth into an Eleanor steak or a Franklin T-bone, or having Winston dried beef gravy on toast!

This business of perpetuating
the invasion in the names of babies has not by any means been played out. The possibilities are legion. Presently some poor innocent baby will be saddled with the monicker "Beachhead" or "Aircover." There is also "Normandy"—which would be most horrible than some. Some maternal moron is likely to name her child "Underground," and "Victory" would seem to be inevitable.
The Dallas woman was merely the first in the game. Look for an epidemic of "Invasia" names of babies.

Sunday School
Lesson

June 25, 1944
The Power in Simple Living—
Daniel 1:8-16, 18-20
By Henry Geerlings

When in Rome is a phrase so familiar that it is not necessary to quote the rest. It suggests that the wise course to follow in life is to be content with things as they are. Such was not the course of Daniel and his three friends of the Jewish nobility in Babylon.
Conformity is the easiest thing in the world, but life's victories and prizes are reserved for those who are able to live among the Romans or Babylonians like sons of God. Daniel was a consecrated Hebrew who kept himself free from the baser passions that he might contribute to the victory of God's cause. He was in a strange country, true, and might have shifted the moral restraints of his home codes, but the lessons history had taught him were applied to demonstrate that the bestiality
of physical force could not defeat
the divine will.

Cervantes in the days of a weak, maudlin, sentimental Spanish literature revolted against the contemptibly low standard of his time and wrote in a manner that elevated the literature of his period. Richard Wagner refused to conform to the standards of his generation and instead blazed the trail to the great modern opera.
Rembrandt was willing to suffer and starve rather than yield to the artistic demands of his day.
He created his own standard, elevated art, and enriched the world.
The power of creation that each of us possesses is the mark of our divinity. This is the image of God within us. To be different is the divine right of every man. Dare to be a Daniel! When you are in Rome be true to yourself and God.

It takes courage to be yourself and to be true to God. It takes courage to set your own standards and be true to your own conscience. Young Victor Smith, who made a hazardous flight from South Africa to England, was offered one thousand pounds if he would ask for whiskey and milk
as soon as he landed. He refused.
He was also offered four thousand pounds if he would say that he smoked a certain brand of cigarettes en route. He said "No" and he is not a reformer but an aviator. If you asked him how he came by these principles, he would probably tell you through his mother and the Bible. He openly admits feeling God's power backing him up. His mother taught him this. That kind of courage is a badge of real manhood and womanhood. The great ruler is one who rules himself, and the only way to achieve self-mastery is through the exercise of self-control. Anyone who has the courage to say "yes" or "no" at the proper time when impulses or passions should be expressed or kept in leash, will find unlimited spiritual resources when the emergencies of life arise.

In the place in which young Daniel found himself he could have gone in one of a number of directions. It certainly would have been natural for him to think of gaining the favor of the king, he had the chance to gain the king's favor. If he succeeded his future would be assured. It was natural for him to think that since wine
flowed freely in the royal palace
the secret of promotion lay in the adoption of the practices that prevailed there. But we are to remember that not everyone observes in practice what highly commends itself in theory. There are certain things that are right no matter what any one does or says to the contrary. What we young men is the fact that they thoroughly admire about these were satisfied to have their course
of conduct judged by its outcome.

Bluebird circus. The parade, of parents and children present.

bird leader, was assisted by the

Rely On Your Own Good Judgment and Faith

BUY WAR BONDS

for SAFETY...for VICTORY

WE HAVE FAITH

Study this picture . . . the faces. The soldier is the symbol of all those in our armed forces . . . men and women with faith that, should they die, they will not have died in vain. The worker . . . the symbol of the millions of men and women here at home . . . in factories . . . in every essential business or industry . . . who, having faith in Victory, work long hours, make sacrifices, buy War Bonds. The child . . . the symbol of America's future . . . those who believe with all their hearts that right must triumph. How does your faith stack up with theirs? Every War Bond you buy is your voice raised in determination . . . a voice that says: "I have faith in our government. I have faith in our fighting men. I have faith in VICTORY, and faith that Victory will bring a better world." But . . . money under mattresses . . . money hoarded instead of being put into War Bonds is unpatriotic. Keep faith with the men, women and children around the world who are dying for freedom's sake . . . to preserve for you The Four Freedoms. Have FAITH! Buy Bonds to the limit of your financial ability!

Leads Romania Raid

Fifteenth Army Air Force, June 22—Major Clarence J. Lokker, 25, 30 East 12th St., Holland, and Major Burton C. Andrus, Jr., 26, of Denver, Colo., both members of the 1941 class at West Point, recently led one of the 15th air force's newest bomber groups operating out of Italy in an attack on the Nazi oil fields and rail yards at Ploesti, Romania, with several hundred Liberators and Fortresses participating in the mission.

Major Lokker was enthusiastic over the manner in which the bombers managed to stay in formation in the face of heavy enemy opposition. "The boys kept closed tightly all the way. It looked like a dress parade back at the old school," he said.

The latest attack on Ploesti was part of the stepped-up campaign from the air which is effectively hampering German operations against the Red army. Ploesti, supplying more than 30 per cent of Germany's oil needs, is the backbone of Nazi mechanized troops on the Russian front. American and British bombers already have reduced the great fields to less than 25 per cent their normal output.

Despite bad weather, which practically obscured the target, the group of bombers led by Major Lokker and Andrus managed to get its bombs away in good order. No planes were lost on the attack.

Lokker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lokker, and his wife, the former Sybil Bailey, and their 5½ month old son, David John, reside at 30 East 12th St.

From Factory Hand to Plant Owner

The old, old story of a local boy who "made good in the city" was retold here when Ray W. Herrick, son of Ben Herrick, 277 West 12th St., called at the Chamber of Commerce to chat with Secretary-Manager E. P. Stephan.

Herrick left Holland 32 years ago after working in local factories for four years. He received pay of five cents an hour for the first six months, 7½ cents an hour the second six months, 10 cents an hour for the third six months and at the end of four years was earning 22½ cents an hour.

After leaving Holland he worked first for General Motors, then for Packard and then at Ford for 64 years. In 1930 he became affiliated with the Bristow Motor Co. in Jackson and in 1934 he started a small plant of his own in Tecumseh, Mich., a town with 1,700 inhabitants. He had saved $10,000 during the years he worked and invested every cent in the new venture. In ten years this plant developed to a high peak of 1,600 employees with an output of about $15,000,000 annually and a payroll of $3,500,000 a year. The firm has warehouses on the east and west coasts and in other places of the country.

In his reminiscences, Herrick recalled Farmers' picnics, Venetian night, Fourth of July celebrations and other home town events here.

Process Eggs For Hog Feed

Rendering Firm Buys Carload Through WFA At Five Cents a Case

The Holland Rendering works of which A. P. Kleis is head is at present engaged in processing for hog feed 600 cases of eggs which the local concern purchased from the government at 20 cents a case with a 15-cent refund for each case. The shipment was received last week and two government men were here to see that the eggs were not diverted to any other channel.

Kleis explained that the government disposed of the egg surplus in this manner to stabilize the market and keep the poultry industry from collapsing. He added that the purpose has been accomplished and the government has stopped further sales.

The firm has increased its working day to 18 hours from less than 16 hours to care for processing the eggs. The process consists of dehydrating or drying the eggs and later mixing the product with grain for hog feed. This feed is particularly valuable being high in proteins and other nutrients.

Kleis also explained that dehydrating plants which have been processing eggs for human consumption have been worked to capacity and could not care for the surplus which had filled up all available cold storage room. The eggs which were in good condition were obtained through the war food administration which asked cooperation of various rendering plants throughout this section of the country to absorb the surplus.

Roger Vander Velden, U.S.M.C., son of Mrs. Bertha Vander Velden, 183 East 15th St., in a pretty wedding which took place Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Maple Avenue Christian Reformed church. Rev. Daniel Zwier officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Palms, gladioli, daisies and candelabra decorated the altar. Miss Hazel Anne Oelen, organist, played as a prelude the "Meditation" from "Thais," Massenet, and the Lohengrin and Mendelssohn wedding marches. She accompanied Mrs. John Schaap who sang "God Sent You to Me" as members of the bridal party reached the altar, and "The Lord's Prayer," at the conclusion of the ceremony.

The bride, entering the church on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage, wore a gown of silk marquisette with lace trim fashioned with lace yoke and tiny buttons down the back, long sleeves ending in ruffles at the wrist, and a full skirt extending into a train. Her three-quarter length veil of net fell from a white lace cap, and she carried a shower bouquet of white gladioli and roses. She wore a brooch, gift of the groom.

Her matron of honor, Mrs. Raymond Klingenberg, a recent bride, wore a gown of pink marquisette and satin and carried pink snapdragons. The bridesmaids, Misses Julia Prins and Ina Mousse, wore rose and fuchsia taffeta, respectively, and carried sweet peas and roses. Little Sandra Hofmeyer, flower girl, wore pink net. Terry Hofmeyer was ring bearer.

Raymond Klingenberg served as best man and Julius Van Huis and Bob Harkema seated the guests.

A reception for 85 guests was held in the church parish house, with Mr. and Mrs. Lester Cook serving as master and mistress of ceremonies. An informal program included brief remarks by Rev. H. J. Vermeer who also sang a solo accompanied by his wife, solos by Mrs. Schaap and Gilbert Holkeboer and a reading by Miss Helen Mulder. A wedding repast was served by the Misses Julia Dornbos, Jane Alma Veltman, Louise Peerboldt and Isla Buursma.

For going away the bride wore a dress of coral with white trim and white accessories and a corsage of roses and baby mums.

HOME FROM ENGLAND

Arthritis is the enemy which has knocked Capt. Henry W. Streur of Holland out of the war for the time being.

After being stationed four months in the British Isles with the army ordnance department, he has returned to this country for treatment in the army's Mayo General hospital, Galesburg, Ill. At present he is in Holland on sick leave, visiting his wife and three children who are making their home at 248 West 13th St. He will return to the hospital July 1. He does not know how long he will be retained there.

Capt. Streur, who enlisted in the ordnance department in December, 1942, and went overseas the first of the year, was in Northern Ireland when arthritis in the knees forced him into a hospital. From the Irish hospital he was transferred to a hospital in England where physicians decided he should be returned to the United States. He reached this country May 26.

With the ordnance department, he was concerned with repair of artillery and small arms and motorized equipment. Northern Ireland, he said, is beautiful, but cold and damp—and it rains there nearly every day. Preparations for defense and invasion are beyond the imagination of Americans, he stated.

The Yankees are treated well by the Irish who, however, are using their farthing (quarter cent) less and less because the Americans won't bother with such small change.

Capt. and Mrs. Streur have a son, Willis, in the army in South Carolina.

Tavern Maintains Excellent Service

Harry Snow, who had 17 years of previous hotel experience, assumed the assistant management of the Warm Friend tavern in April to succeed Kenneth A. Dean who is now resident manager of the Robidoux hotel, St. Joseph, Mo.

Despite the labor shortages and rationing the Warm Friend tavern's reputation for excellent food is being maintained and the same high standards of quality are being upheld.

Numerous improvements have been made in the Tavern recently. The Bier Kelder was completely rebuilt with a new bar, booths and decorations and entertainment has been added to make this one of Holland's outstanding gathering places. The Tavern club is also being completely remodeled.

Nearly all the guests' rooms have been redecorated and many guest rooms have been recarpeted; the lobby has also been refurnished. Guest rooms have also been equipped throughout with venetian blinds and suitable standing lamps, hand type telephones and easy chairs.
