There is no admission charge or no parking charge at the celebration, Post 6 Commander Harry Kramer emphasized. Expenses are being defrayed by contributions from merchants, manufacturers and individual sponsors, Kramer said.

Family Chase Ends in Arrest

Grand Haven (Special)—A 35-year old Muskegon Heights physician was to be arraigned today on reckless driving charges following a wild chase Wednesday involving cars driven by himself and his wife, with city police joining in.

Officers said the fuss began when Dr. Henry Greene's wife came to town in her big convertible looking for her husband who was driving another car.

In the skirmish about town, each time Mrs. Greene got on her husband's trail he would stop his car, shift into reverse and strike his wife's car. At fourth and Franklin, the impact—was such that the front grill and radiator were smashed in the convertible. By the time the three officers arrived, both cars were gone, but a later call took officers to East Jackson St., where the doctor's car was wedged against a large timber lying on the ground.

Officers believe the chase resulted from a domestic argument.

Allegan Attempts To Widen Scope Of Farmer's Week

Planning Sessions Held In Organized Districts Before County Conclave

Allegan (Special)—An expanded "Little Farmer's Week", particularly in the women's department, is the major request of Allegan county farmers as they plan their 1951 farm extension program.

The farmers' week idea, which started last January with a three-day workshop on various farm problems, apparently will grow larger through stimulus of the hundreds of farmers who participated.

The women in the home extension clubs have asked for the kitchen arrangement displays, a demonstration of use of milk and dairy products on dairy day, and other exhibits in their fields of interest.

Requests are part of several months planning meetings which are first held in districts, and then summarized in a general county meeting.

Farmers generally are asking for more field trips, especially on pasture improvement and soil conservation subjects. A poultry clinic, chemical weed control demonstrations, a township plan of erecting road signs, are among the other ideas submitted.

A long-range program adopted by the planners is the beautification of Allegan county, with establishment of township refuse dumps as the first aim for this year.

The recently elected county committee assigned to drawing up definite plans in conjunction with county Agent A. D. Morley and his staff, includes: Mr. and Mrs. Max Radseck, Ganges; Mr. and Mrs. Wynne Wilkinson, Cheshire; Darl Lukins, Martin; Walter Baldwin, Plainwell; Kay Mulder of Hamilton. Elected by their districts are: Mrs. Marvin Balgoyne, Allegan; Mrs. Earl Page, Martin; Mrs. Walter Hanson, Fennville; Jack Martin, Wayland and Ben Lohman, Hamilton.

Low Postal Rate Is Discontinued

United States gift parcels sent to The Netherlands, France, Corsica, all zones of Germany, Great Britain and North Ireland have been mailed at six cents per pound. This low rate has been discontinued, and the packages must be sent at the regular parcel post rates.

Reason given is that the Economic Co-operation administration will discontinue payment of ocean transportation and other costs in connection with relief parcels for the countries named. Certain other nations are unaffected by the ruling.

Friendship, Faith Most Important, Graduates Told

Many Prizes Awarded At HHS Commencement; 226 Receive Diplomas

Friendship among men, faith in God and the ability to use this friendship and faith for something greater than self, are the ingredients for the great experiences which form life's finest hours, Holland high graduates were told at the 67th annual commencement Thursday night in Hope Memorial chapel.

The speaker was the Rev. John M. Vander Meulen, pastor of First Presbyterian church in Lansing, whose subject, "Life's Finest Hours," was based on the immortal words of Winston Churchill during the dark days of World War II. It was Churchill who said future generations would look back to the blitz and the courage of the English people and say, "This was their finest hour."

Holding to the belief that friendships are more important than culture and learning, Rev. Vander Meulen said mastering friendships is becoming one of the lost arts of this modern world.

The chapel was crowded for the occasion and the people were most patient considering the humid heat. The class, numbering 226 members, received diplomas from Supt. C. C. Crawford with Principal J. J. Riemersma calling the roll. The Rev. C. M. Beerthuis gave the invocation and benediction.

Mrs. W. Curtis Snow played the familiar "Pomp and Circumstance" for the processional and recessional. Deletha Barr sang Malotte's "The Lord's Prayer" and Bruce Van Voorst played "Largo" from the New World Symphony as a baritone-euphonium solo. Iris Bowman was the accompanist. Myra Jane Saunders introduced the speaker.

Monte Dyer, class president, announced the class memorial consisting of $30 for floral containers, $120 for the assembly fund and $441 to be added to the fund for new stage lighting equipment.

Awards, announced by Principal Riemersma, were:

Mabel Anthony speech prize, $5 each to Mary Ann Knothuis, Monte Dyer, Wilma Houtman and Charles Bradley; First National bank commercial prize, $10 each to Doris Dekker and Joyce Van Hey.

Local Blood Bank Sends Four Units To Mayo Clinic

The Holland Community Blood bank Thursday sent four units of whole blood to Mayo Bros. clinic in Rochester, Minn., to replace blood used in transfusion for a Holland patient there.

The blood, kept in the blood bank refrigerator at Holland hospital until the last minute, was carefully packed in refrigerated jiffy bags and an insulated carton for its trip by air, scheduled to take five hours.

Arrangements for transportation were made by the local Red Cross office. Mrs. Kenneth Zuverink took the blood to the Grand Rapids airport, in the Red Cross station wagon and put it aboard a plane for Milwaukee. Red Cross representatives met the plane in Milwaukee and put it on a plane to Rochester. Although the trip took only five hours, the blood will remain properly refrigerated for eight hours.

The new arrangement whereby blood from the local bank is acceptable at Mayo's is a boon to local families with patients at the medical center needing blood. Because of the high price of blood at the clinic and the trouble in transporting donors for such a distance, arrangements now can be made through the local bank to provide replacements on a local basis.

The four units sent to Rochester replaces units used in transfusions some weeks ago for Myra Mulder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bartel Mulder, 672 East 11th St., who was a patient there about two weeks. She was flown to Rochester but returned by car.

Dr. O. van der Velde is medical director of the Holland Community Blood bank as well as chairman of the Ottawa county Red Cross chapter. The local bank has working arrangements to provide blood to Zeeland and Douglas hospitals, and has on occasion taken replacement units to Stodgett, Butterworth and St. Mary's hospital in Grand Rapids, University hospital in Ann Arbor, Ingham county sanatorium at Lansing and other places.

The dog pictured above wandered into Mrs. Doust's bedroom at 5 a.m. June 9. She thought it was the family dog, a cocker spaniel, but when she felt the fur and ears, she knew it wasn't. She called her husband, and when they turned on the light, there was the culprit. "He was panting and all smiles," Doust said. "We fell right in love with him." Doust advertised and called up and down the beach, but nobody has lost a dog, it seems. "I don't believe he belongs around this territory," Doust said. ## Summer Opening Of Resorts Set This Week-End

Saugatuck, Douglas Prepare Celebration To Welcome Season

Saugatuck — Saugatuck and Douglas will welcome officially the 1950 resort season with a celebration Friday night.

The Saugatuck-Douglas Lions club is sponsoring the opening for the sixth consecutive year. A full program of events has been lined up by the club's opening night committee, headed by Bud Bekken.

Theme of the 1950 opening is carnival time. A huge indoor carnival will be set up inside the Big Pavilion, to be followed by a dance and formal opening ceremonies, which will be brief, according to club secretary H. A. McDonald.

The booths and concessions at the carnival will be manned by the club's 80 members. Proceeds are earmarked for Lion club activities, which include gifts to hospitals, a community building fund, work with the blind and other charities.

McDonald estimates that 2,000 visitors will attend Friday's program starting at 8 p.m. About 900 attended in 1949, he said.

McDonald said that each year the Lions try to get a different theme for the opening. In 1948, then Gov. Kim Sigler was on the program, flying down in his private plane. Last year, the celebration centered around a "name band." This year, the carnival theme will be carried out.

Another feature of the season's first week will be the Chicago to Saugatuck yacht race, which is gaining added fame each year, McDonald said. Irving Pershing, past club president, is general chairman for the race.

About 65 sail boats, accompanied by about 50 power boats and their crews, will take part in the race June 30 and July 1. The boats start from Chicago's Jackson Park Friday, and end at Saugatuck Saturday.

"We go all out to make them feel at home here," McDonald said. "The whole community tries to make them welcome."

George Gorman's band will play for the opening night's dance.

State Berry Growers Harvesting Big Crop

Strawberries will yield the second largest crop in Michigan history federal-state crop reporting service predicted Tuesday.

And Holland berry growers are going right along with the rest of the state in harvesting a bumper crop.

Take John Riemersma, route 4, for instance. He has three and a half acres of berry plants, and is employing from 25 to 30 pickers. Monday, Riemersma reported that he took about 100 crates to canners and produce men.

The perfect combination of the right factors is credited with the good yield by Riemersma: First the hot weather, then rain, and then cold weather to prevent all the berries from ripening at the same time.

"This cold weather during the week-end prevented a lot of spoiled berries," Riemersma said. "God was with us this week-end."

In the state, growers are expected to harvest 1,186,000 crates on the same acreage as in 1949, the largest production area on record.

Besides strawberries, Riemersma also raises other fruits, including what he expects to be a good huckleberry crop.

James O. Lamb Weds Hermina Van Egmond

An attractive arrangement of white peonies, blue delphiniums and candelabra with tall white tapers decorated the Hope church parlor Monday evening for the wedding of Miss Hermina Van Egmond and James O. Lamb.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johannes Van Egmond of Monarch, Alberta, Canada. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Lamb, South Shore Dr.

The couple were married in a single ring ceremony read at 8 p.m. by Dr. D. Ivan Dykstra in the presence of about 25 relatives and friends. Throughout the ceremony, soft background music was played by Mrs. W. Curtis Snow, organist. Following the exchange of vows, the bride and groom repeated the Lord's Prayer.

The bride, who was unattended, wore a lovely ballerina-length gown of white embroidered net over pale blue taffeta. Style features were the wide V-neckline set in a deep V-shaped yoke with rows of shirring and the full, circular skirt. A wide blue sash trimmed the gown. The bride's bouquet was an old-fashioned tussie-wussie of white roses and blue centaureas. She wore a lacy Juliet cap with a shoulder-length veil. Mr. Van Egmond gave his daughter in marriage.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner party was held at the Centennial room of the Warm Friend Tavern.

For their wedding trip to Canada, the bride wore a purple ensemble with white accessories. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Lamb will live at Ganges.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Lamb were graduated from Hope college this spring. Mr. Lamb is associated in business with his father.

ARE THEY BLUFFING OR "DUMB"?

Two Americans distinguished in the arts continue to harp on the subject of the superior advantages of life in the Soviet Union over those in their own country. Rockwell Kent, a truly great artist, and Paul Robeson, a perhaps still greater singer, seem to be convinced that everything is done better in Russia. Especially is life better there for all sorts of artists.

There is one test easy to understand that these two distinguished Americans seem to have overlooked. If Kent and Robeson should take it into their heads actually to migrate to that Utopia of theirs, no one in America would raise a hand to stop them. We Americans might see them go with regret, because great singers
like Robeson and great illustrators like Rockwell Kent are few,
and no nation can have too many artists of that calibre. But we would not keep them here against their wills; they would be free to go; they could make Russia their home without let or hindrance and share their great talents with the Russian people.

But turn the case around. Russia also has artists of talent whom that country naturally cherishes.
Suppose a Russian Rockwell
Kent and a Russian Paul Robeson should come to the conclusion that life in the United States is better than it is in Russia, and that their art would be better appreciated in this capitalistic country.
Then suppose they should step up to the Russian authorities and say,
"We'd like to make America our home; we would like to become American citizens and we would like to practice our art in that country." Suppose they'd say something of that sort, can Robeson and Kent be under the illusion that the Russian government would say, "We think you're foolish to renounce the blessings of Sovietdom, but if that's the way
you feel about it, there's nothing more to be said. Go ahead and find out for yourselves how wrong
you are."

Do you think they would say that or anything like it? The question itself is a laugh. The Russian Paul Robeson and the Russian Rockwell Kent would know right well that the answer would be quite different. In fact, the answer would not be given in words at all; it no doubt would come in the form of a work camp or in terms of a musket ball.

But if things are so much worse
here than in Russia as Rockwell Kent and Paul Robeson say they are, why the difference in attitude? Are those two American artists bluffing or are they "dumb"? A Soviet citizen who wants to make such an experiment must escape from the Red paradise at the risk of his skin.
It just doesn't make sense.

Park Attendance Dips
Due to Cold Weather

The sharp dip in temperature during the week-end, accompanied by a strong northwest wind, cut attendance at Holland State park.

Attendance for the week was listed at 23,756 by Park Supervisor or Clare Broad Sunday's visitors numbered 5,000, while only 2,000
ventured out Saturday.

"There wasn't anything doing
during the week-end," Broad said.
"There were hardly any picnics,
and just a few fishermen."

The sharp wind, along with low air and water temperatures, were blamed for the attendance drop.

Jonah Learns God's Missionary

Purpose

Jonah 3:3-6; 4:1-11

By Henry Geerlings

One of the first things to strike us in reading the book of Jonah is its unity. It is not a lengthy book, only four brief chapters.
But all the parts of it hang together, and no one part can be understood unless one has a knowledge of the whole of it. It moves along as a continued story. In short, it is historical in character.
And while we have only one lesson from this brief prophecy it is altogether desirable to look at the message in its entirety.

There is no other book in the Bible that is so completely misunderstood as this one. We have such strange notions about it. As soon as it is mentioned there are those who will smile, for the reason that they remember the story of the whale and little or nothing more. It is fitting that we should remember Jonah was a historical character. There is good evidence that he was a prophet of considerable distinction. His person and work should command respect.

Jonah is so human, so much like us. It took him some time to discover God's purpose. Prejudice, hate, selfishness ruled him. He struggled under rule far too often.
He was not a bad or dull pupil.
Stubbornness was his trouble. He wanted his own way, no matter what God advised. He resented God's purpose, and tried to thwart
it. But he was dealing with God's must. It took him some time to discover this fact.

For quite a while he thought he could outwit God. He seemed to assume that God would not be too strict. He was sure that God would change his mind about Nineveh. But he was inseparably linked up in God's purpose and plan for that great city. The plan had come from God's love and kindness. It was the justice of God giving ample chance to a people who were uninformed, unwarned and doomed. Plans like that for Nineveh God still has for the whole world. It is his will that every believer have a part in carrying out his plan. It is this fact that puts each one of us under obligation to have a practical relation to missions.

God never gives up. Jonah learned this as a great lesson. The second time saw him God's determination to have his way. He had experienced the folly of running away from God-assigned work. He must obey God, though the task was repulsive. So he started to denounce Nineveh and predict its destruction. He found delight in saying these harsh words to these despised people. He seemed to be a specialist on the penalty of unlike people. That forty-day wait must have annoyed him. His way would be to strike at once. His hate and prejudice would tolerate no delay. He probably would have overthrown the city without as much as a warning.

God's goodness does not extend to the point of eliminating all problems from life. Man's ignorance and willfulness brings upon himself disasters and bereavements. God's love manifests itself in the fact that there hath no temptation overtaken us but such as is common to man. He has provided a source of power and help.
His love remains in spite of a world of conflict and difficulty.
We find the love of God not alone in the natural universe, but above all in our spiritual heritage.
We have learned to know Him
as a loving Father. God is love.
This knowledge which comes to us through the Scriptures offers far more comfort, peace, encouragement and inspiration than the story told by atheism, agnosticism and humanism. The Christian message about God meets the needs of human kind.

From this fundamental conviction of the nature of God has grown our Christian religion
which is a religion of faith, hope and love. This faith has given us the church with its activities of love and service. All our spiritual possessions are traceable to the wisdom of God's mercy.

Our Christian religion offers us
a God who is not static but living;
not distant but present; not hostile but friendly. Thus we have the opportunity of a vital relationship with the God of living
men. In his fullest revelation, God is to us, Father, Son and Holy Spirit.

Now any study of the love of God for His children leads naturally to the response which we as children should make. The love and mercy of God lead to a life of gratitude on the part of His children. This will prompt us to trust Him, to love His way for man, to confide in His goodness, and to cooperate in establishing His kingdom.

God's plans are going forward.
He is directing human affairs.
Then what of world affairs? What are His plans? We find it hard to understand Him now. Present signs suggest that He is being pushed out, that ruthless godless-ness reigns and reaches out to throttle the world. Will God give up? Will the gospel be withdrawn as impotent and useless? Are there no Jonahs to declare God's warnings?

The king was affected when the word of the prophet came to his ears, very much as Josiah was when the temple was read to him.
The king and the nobles regarded the message with much seriousness.
He was very much in earnest about this whole matter. The people in this city did not know very much about God but they seemed to realize that He was opposed to sin and required men to turn away from it. The use of sackcloth and ashes meant that the people were humble and penitent.

liams proudly displays the trophy
emblematic of her water skiing supremacy at the Fourth Annual Dixie Water Ski tournament held

She was in Holland for a few days before going to Chicago where she will perform at the Chicago Fair.

Scheerhooren New
9th Grade Champ

Norman Scheerhooren was crowned the ninth grade tennis champion recently when he staged a thrilling comeback to defeat
Dick Crawford in the final match.
Scheerhooren—upset by Orville Tien for one loss in the double elimination tourney—came back to knock off Crawford in the semi-finals 7-0, 6-4, 6-3.

With both boys having one defeat, Scheerhooren staged another uphill battle to conquer favored Crawford 6-3, 6-4. He was last year's eighth grade champ.
David Bosch of grade eight and Henry Visscher of the seventh won their respective titles in easy fashion. All three winners will have their names engraved on the Randall C. Bosch high school trophy.

in the third on only three hits.
They staged a three-run rally in the eighth to break the 10-10
deadlock.

Holland
In 1916

series of weekly articles taken from news of the Holland Daily Sentinel published more than 35 years ago.)

On account of the rain storm that struck this city this afternoon the officials of the West Michigan Railway company and Park Improvement associations
decided to postpone the Venetian night program until tomorrow night, began a story in the Friday,
August 4, edition of the Holland
Daily Sentinel published in 1916.

Miss Lucy Brouwer, the estimable daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
James A. Brouwer, was united in marriage at 8 o'clock Thursday evening to J. C. Oom of Grand Rapids, Michigan, at the home of the bride's parents, 78 East 9th St.

Fire Chief Blom, on an inspection through the city today noticed that several houses are being reshingled. He is very much opposed to shingling roofs and has the following to say, "By putting on shingle roofs and by reshingling people are putting their building in great danger of fire.
During the past year 80 per cent of the fires in the state were roof fires. To reduce insurance people should use a patent fire roof shingle.
This matter is so vital that it should be covered by a city ordinance."

The Rev. and Mrs. August Bruske of Hope church were given laid with gold.

The Rev. Louis Vanden Berg of

An automobile driven by W. F.
Thomasma of Grand Rapids was ditched Thursday evening on the

on its side. Mr. Thomasma was badly cut about his face and head
but the other occupants were uninjured.

That the Holland-St. Louis Su-prophesy and opinion of the well known firm of A. E. Butler & Co., members of the Chicago Stock Exchange with headquarters on La Salle street.

The Dyke-Jonkman of this city, contractors, have again landed a large contract that will keep them busy for the ensuing year. A school is to be built in Jackson, Mich., that will be a duplicate of

Road Department Checking Weights To Save Highways

A concentrated effort to save Ottawa county's light surfaced roads is underway, according to Carl T. Bowen, county road commission engineer.

Bowen said his department is making spot weight checks on county roads and finding many trucks overloaded. The maximum load a truck can carry on a county road is fixed by the state motor code.

"These light surface roads were built for use by farmers and tourists," Bowen said. "Some trucks are using them for cut offs and short cuts. This has a lot to do with the edges of the roads being torn."

Bowen said they are using portable scales carried in the back end of a car. The truck drives on them and the weight is recorded. A deputy sheriff is present at all weighings, he said.

Speed of trucks on county roads also is set by the state. The highway department checks this angle when it is apparent, too.

The southwest corner of the county—the area around Holland—is the worst offender, Bowen pointed out. When a truck is found overloaded or speeding, the deputy writes out a ticket, and a fine is levied.

"But we don't want the money. We want to save our roads," Bowen added.

Rev. and Mrs. Henry Moww Entertain Consistory

The Rev. and Mrs. Henry A. Moww entertained members of the consistory of Sixth Reformed church and their wives Friday evening at their home, 281 Lincoln Ave.

Following prayer by Rev. Moww and a song by the group, Mrs. Harry Wiersma gave a Yankee-Dutch reading about "the Sunday School picnic." A humorous letter written by the pastor was read by Rev. Moww after which games were played. A gift was presented to the host and hostess and lunch was served.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Neal De Waard, Mr. and Mrs. John De Vree, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wiersma, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kraai, Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Dalman, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Fought, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Pippel, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Rysenga, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Vander Meulen, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Kraai, Mr. and Mrs. Al Hamelink and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Newhouse.

Lining up for the commencement procession is a big part of any graduation and these Holland high seniors, all decked out in cap and gown, take their places as board members and faculty assist. At bottom, left to right, are Trustees A. E. Lampen and C. J. De Koster and Principal J. J. Riemersma. Lined up starting at the foot of the stairs are Joan Houtman and Monte Dyer, Joan Souter and Bob De Wilde, Myra Saunders and Jack Hobeck, Lily Kleinhekel and Ron Smeenge, Jeri Johnson and Keith Van Hartesveldt. ## Survey Shows Gas Heat Costs

Now is the time to investigate the gas heating situation and make a decision regarding gas heat for your home, according to Bill Bouman, who with his father, Frank, run the Holland Plumbing and Heating Co.

With the coming of natural gas, the question naturally arises, "How much will it cost to heat my home with gas?" Bouman says. A heat loss survey, which takes about 20 minutes, will give an accurate answer.

The Holland Plumbing and Heating Co. is ready to make this heat loss survey of your house and tell you what it will cost for a year's heat when burning gas. There is no charge for this service, and no obligation, Bouman says.

If you wish to have the survey made, you can call them at 2002, day or night.

Tomatoes Easily Grown in State

The tomato is a crop which can be grown successfully in all parts of Michigan if suitable varieties are selected and proper measures taken to protect the young plants.

A. D. Morley, Allegan county agricultural agent, calls attention to a new folder, "Tomato Growing in Michigan," recently prepared by staff members of the Michigan State college horticulture department. A copy can be obtained from the county extension office or by writing to the bulletin office, Michigan State college.

Of special interest at this time of year is the section on cultivation, irrigation, and mulching. The horticulturists point out that plants should be cultivated soon after they are set and at frequent intervals thereafter to control weeds. Later cultivations should be shallow and the cultivated strip between the rows narrowed gradually to prevent possible injury to the roots.

House of David Smashes Locals In Rough Tussle

Fight Almost Turns Game Into Brawl; Frank Leads Hitters

A good-sized crowd of near-freezing baseball fans braved the icy atmosphere at Riverview park Monday night to watch the bewhiskered House of David nine—interrupted by a bit of fisticuffs—blast out a 10-7 victory over the Holland Flying Dutchmen.

The visitors pounded out a total of 14 safeties off the right-handed offerings of Clyde O'Connor to inflict the second defeat of the season on the locals and stymie their win streak at three games.

The game nearly turned into a free-for-all in the sixth inning when Charlie Kafoury, the Davids' half-pint shortstop got into it with Dutchmen backstop Jack Van Dorpie at home plate.

Kafoury threw his bat protesting a called third strike, and it hit Van Dorpie across the instep. That started the melee which saw players from both sides stream into the fray to break it up.

Tempers flared afterwards, but the outburst was over.

The Dutchmen opened the scoring off righthander Mac McCloud in the third. Frank Wlodarczyk got the first of his three hits—a double which bounded into the stands—and scored on Whitey Witteveen's long fly to center.

The Davids got to O'Connor in the third for four hits and three runs to make the count 3-1. They made it 5-1 in the fourth on two hits and a pair of walks.

The Dutchmen got two back in their fourth on singles by Wlodarczyk and Witteveen and a double by George Czarkies.

The locals chased McCloud in the sixth when they staged a four-run outburst which almost de-bearded the visitors. Lou Borgman started things off with a single to left. Wlodarczyk got his third hit, a single to right, and scored when the David rightfielder Jim Bolen threw high at third trying to catch Borgman.

Gene Schrotenboer scored Wlodarczyk with a single to right. Witteveen walked.

Czarkies was safe on a fielder's choice. Van Dorpie was given base on a similar play. O'Connor then dribbled a grounder to the right of second. All the David infielders seemed to be playing third base because the trickier became a hit and Czarkies scored. And when Bolen again threw over third, Van Dorpie also counted.

McCloud threw his glove into the dugout and stalked disgustedly off the hill giving way to Warren Freshour, a lefthander. Freshour walked Fortney but got Ron Appledorn to pop out for the third out.

The Davids tied the count in the seventh on three hits. They took the lead in the eighth when two Dutchmen errors led to one run. In the ninth, Frank Morrow parked an O'Connor gopher ball into the lower stands in left to score behind Gus Maurer and that was it.

The Dutchmen could do little in the way of scoring off Freshour, who was very tough with men on the base paths. He picked Czarkies off first in the eighth to stifle a possible rally.

The Dutchmen pounded out 12 hits. Fortney kept up his hitting spree with two and Czarkies had a pair also. If Wlodarczyk had pulled the ball he would have had five for five as two of his towering smashes carried to the deepest part of Riverview and became outs instead of extra-base blows.

Appledorn—although not entering into the hit column—played an outstanding defensive game in center.

It was the second Dutchmen defeat in five games. The game lasted two-and-one-half hours.

Law Experience Stands Justice in Good Stead

Saugatuck—His experiences as a criminal lawyer in Chicago during the roaring 20's often stand Justice L. Junkerman, local justice of the peace, in good stead as he carries out the tasks that confront him daily.

Before coming to Saugatuck 11 years ago because of ill health, Junkerman practiced law in Chicago for 16 years at a time when gangsterism was at its peak.

Junkerman did some law work on such cases, but not for long. "You see, in order to defend a person on such a count, you had to know everything about him, and it got so that quite a few lawyers were being bumped off for knowing too much. So I steered clear of it," he said.

He recalls vividly his first big case in defending a prisoner who had killed a guard in the penitentiary. Junkerman had been in practice just eight months and was retained by a group of so-called tavern operators to defend one Eddie King who was serving a 15-year term for safe breaking.

Eddie already had broken out of prison three times, and had used up his good behavior time before a fracas claimed the life of a guard.

Junkerman prepared the defense, and was as surprised as any one when, after 30 days, a compromise was offered for life sentence settlement. By that time Eddie King had considerable respect for his counsel and told him to continue the fight. At the end of 41 days, the net result was a life sentence to run concurrently with his present sentence. In view of the fact Eddie had served four years of a 15-year sentence and life sentence carried a 12-year minimum, Junkerman figured the entire fight had cost his client only one extra year in prison.

But Eddie King, in spite of his baby face and milk white teeth, was a tough number, completely without mercy, and it was doubtful whether he got out of prison after serving 16 years. At least, Junkerman never found out.

In Chicago, Junkerman handled many divorce cases, collecting anywhere between $50 to $5,000 per case. He always had plenty of work to keep him busy and at one time had three assistants.

Shortly after coming to Saugatuck 11 years ago, Junkerman was approached to run for justice. Knowing that justices are seldom popular, Junkerman much preferred to live quietly in the resort village.

But in 1948 he was appointed justice, and was elected this year. "The Junkermans have a son, Douglas, who recently has been discharged from Douglas hospital following a serious operation."

Pitching Excels In Softball Play Friday Evening

Good pitching marked softball play Friday night.

In the opener, Johnny Bos of Main Auto, twisted one of the best games in the loop this season in setting down winless Baker Furniture with one hit as he and his mates pounded out a 5-0 victory.

In the nightcap, which went eight innings, Barber's Fords squeezed by Holland Furnace 4-2. Main Auto tallied all its runs in the first inning to coast to the win. Four hits coupled with two errors were good for the five markers.

Bos led hitting with two. Holland Furnace hurler, F. Vanden Belt lost his control in the fateful eighth, hitting three batsmen and walking two, as the winners tallied two runs without a hit.

Herk Cramer had two hits for the winners and Ray Morren two for the Furnace boys. Cramer was the winner.

Herman Prins holds a .270 caliber rifle which he made in his workshop. It's rifles like this and those in the background that have gained Prins national recognition as a gunsmith, hunter and marksman.

Prins -- Gunsmith and Marksman -- Man Behind Holland Rifle Club

After a winter's gallery small-bore shooting, the Holland Rifle club will hit the open next month for the start of the outdoor rifle season.

With few exceptions, everyone around this section knows that Holland has one of the finest shooting clubs in the business. In all classes of rifle shooting, the locals are ranked near the top in national ratings.

There are men such as Jarvis Ter Haar, Russ Kleis, Gordon and Wally De Waard, the Prins boys, Bud and Don, John Clark, James Van Dyke, Tony Bouwman, including many more.

These experts have brought Midwest and national recognition and championships back to Holland.

But just how many know the man who was the prime instigator of the club and is rated one of its top shots?

He is 62-year-old Herman Prins, hunter, master marksman, expert gunsmith.

Prins is a specialist in his trade which is guns. He makes guns and he shoots them.

Prins recently set a new record with 38 x's (center bullseye) out of 40 shots. His other two hits were touching the bullseye ring which enabled him to set a new record in the Michigan City, Ind., rifle tournament with a perfect 400 score.

Gunsmithing for steady-eyed Prins goes back some 45 years. He came to Holland from the west. And he planned to return.

However, he was too valuable a mechanic to be allowed to return to his "beloved wild country" and was induced to stay.

Dabbling in his hobby, which included fixing firearms, Prins some years later turned his hobby into his livelihood and took up the art of gunsmithing which has been his forte since.

In the workshop, in the back of his store, he has every tool necessary to turn out his handicraft. His precision tools require the smooth handling of an expert craftsman. He tests each fireplace he makes or renovates.

To attest his prowess as a weapon maker, he annually receives special orders from all over the country to make or re-build all types of guns. The Army has sent firearms to be tested before being issued for use.

Prins cures his own wood for rifle stocks. These stocks usually are made of black walnut—a hard, tough-wearing timber—which is aged until all but seven per cent moisture is removed. The drying process sometimes requires up to 10 or 12 years.

Grand Haven (Special) — Edward L. Beebe, 46, was brought to Grand Haven from Milwaukee by probation officer Jack Spangler on a charge of non-support upon complaint of his wife, Emma, alleging non-support to their 11-year-old child. Arraigned before Justice George Hoffer Friday. He waived examination and, unable to furnish $1,000 bond, will be confined in the Ottawa county jail until his appearance in circuit court June 26.

Peter Wilds, 63, of Grand Haven, arrested by city police Thursday for drunk driving, was arraigned Friday before Justice Hoffer and upon his plea of guilty was sentenced to pay $100 fine and $11.35 costs.

The alleged offense occurred on Fulton St. with Wilds driving his car without lights at 10:10 p.m., forcing other motorists off the road due to his driving.

Merriams Entertain Group at Reception

Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Merriam entertained at a reception Sunday afternoon, 4 to 7 p.m., at the Macatawa Bay Yacht club. The event celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary.

Assisting the host and hostess were Mrs. Edward A. Wallace of Grand Rapids, Mrs. James De Pree and Mrs. Donald Crawford.

Guests were present from Holland, Grand Rapids and Chicago. House guests of the Merriams for the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hendrickson of Chicago.

The gun barrels—made of tempered steel—are finished with a process called bluing. The process gives the barrels a highly polished, smooth gloss finish to prevent rust.

Despite his passing years, Prins has a steady eye and even a steadier hand. He has more than 900 medals, won during his many years as a master marksman.

Annually, he takes hunting trips to sections of the wild-game country to get his sport in tracking and shooting game animals. He has a huge collection of trophies which include a specimen of just about every North American animal and bird.

His burning desire is to hunt down a Kodiak bear. He has brought down several mountain lions, precipice-climbing mountain goats, Wyoming moose, elk, antelope, snakes of all types, brown bears, grizzlies and all species of bird game.

The "wide open spaces" of the wild Northwest around Wyoming, Utah and Montana are his favorite hunting grounds.

Hamilton Ties For Wooden Shoe League Top Slot

A band of stick-happy Hamilton boys tripped previously unbeaten Fillmore Creamery 12-2 at Hamilton Friday to tie the Creamery boys for the top rung of the Wooden Shoe league.

The North Shore Cubs, kept pace by winning a close 2-0 pitchers battle against Hudsonville at Hudsonville.

The Fillmore-Hamilton game was a pitching duel between Daffy Victor of the Creamery and M. Johnson of Hamilton until the roof caved in on Victor in the sixth. Hamilton smacked across nine runs.

Carl Reimink tossed a neat four-hitter and struck out 14 to best Wilson of Hudsonville. Each pitcher had superb control. There wasn't a walk in the game. The winners counted seven hits.

Zuverink Loses Third Straight

It's been all woe for George Zuverink and his San Diego Padres lately.

George has dropped his last three starts making his record 7-8 and the Padres, after leading the league during the first month, have slidded all the way to fourth place in Pacific Coast league standings as of Sunday.

Sloppy fielding cost Zuverink his eighth defeat last Wednesday. The Oakland Oaks bested him 5-4. The Oaks pounded out nine hits to seven for the Padres, but three of the Oaks runs were unearned.

His mates committed four errors behind George and his usually reliable battery mate Mike Tresh was charged with two passed balls. George traveled the distance in striking out five and passing two.

The only consolation was the fact that Zuverink got Dick Wakefield, four straight times.

Conservation Men Warn Against Dogs Bothering Animals

Game Supply Reduced By Running Canines, Boerman Points Out

Strict adherence to a conservation law protecting game animals was urged Monday by conservation officer Elmer Boerman.

Boerman said his office is receiving "quite a few calls about dogs running loose, chasing rabbits, pheasants and other game animals." This is against the law during the closed season, he pointed out, which is April 15 to July 15.

"The law states that during this period dogs cannot molest game animals," Boerman warned. "It has a definite detrimental effect on the game supply."

Most of the complaints come from the Holland area, he said.

Maximum sentence under the law is 90 days in jail and fine of $100, Boerman warned. Minimum sentence is $10 fine and $7.40 costs.

"There have been some prosecutions in the matter," he pointed out, "and more are coming if the violations continue."

Boerman also urged residents not to pick up fawns that apparently are motherless.

This, too, is against the law, and works a hardship both on the deer and the conservation department.

Usually, he said, the fawn is not helpless, but the mother is near at hand. If conservation officials find them being held by citizens, they must take the fawns in custody.

Penalty on this charge is the same as for the dog count.

Boerman said that two fawns were picked up last week in this district—one in Allegan county and the other in Kent county.

He said that Ottawa county does not give too much trouble in this respect. However, some people pick up the fawns while in the north and bring them back, he pointed out.

School Co-ordinator Accepts New Position

Allegan (Special)—Richard Cain, coordinator for the on-the-job veterans training, co-operative training, and instructor of high school industrial arts classes, has resigned his position effective August 1 to accept a position in Indiana, Superintendent Arthur Kaechele has announced.

Cain has been on his Allegan job four years.

James B. Luth of Niles, has been engaged to teach industrial art classes at the school. He served as instructor in the Air Force during the war, won his B. S. degree from Western Michigan college, and last year worked on his master's degree with an assistant teacher's scholarship at State high school in Kalamazoo.

Kaechele said the veterans' job training program is practically finished here, although the farm training program is expected to last another two years at least. Norbert Noecker and James Wildt are in charge of this work.

Louis Steffens (left) and his brother, Harry, Jr., greet each other on their first visit home together in three years. Louis, a cafe operator at Redondo Beach, Calif., included Holland in his itinerary after attending the National Junior Chamber of Commerce convention in Chicago. Harry, Jr., who has been teaching in Hawaii for three years, is home for a year in order to study for a master's degree. They both arrived in Holland on Father's Day, Sunday. (Sentinel photo)

Brothers Travel Many Miles for Visit Home

The Harry Steffens family circle has been a bit more complete the last few days with the arrival of two sons, one from Honolulu and the other from California, both of them arriving in time to spend Father's Day in Holland.

Harry Steffens, Jr., who has been teaching three years in Hawaii, will be home quite a while. He plans to do graduate work at some college or university for a master's degree in education and then will return to Hawaii a year hence.

Louis Steffens, cafe owner at Redondo Beach, Calif., came to Holland after attending a four-day national convention of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Chicago. President of the Redondo Beach Jaycee chapter, he was one of three of the organization to go to Chicago. He left today to return to California. He is married and has two daughters.

Before sailing from Honolulu to Los Angeles, Harry took a night flight the early part of June over the volcano which has been acting up on the island of Hawaii. He could see the flaming red eruption and the smoke and steam as the molten lava hit the ocean. This is one of the few active volcanoes in the world today.

For two years, Harry has been teaching social science at the Kamehameha school for boys at Honolulu on the island of Oahu. This is a private school for Hawaiian children only and is equivalent to the 12 grades of the American school. The curriculum in Hawaii is much like in America although more emphasis is placed on vocational training.

It was Louis' first visit home in three years, but Harry, Jr., was in Holland last year.

"That's because I'm married and he's single," Louis quipped.

State Youth Join 4-H Safety and Health Programs

Rural Members Join Campaign to Improve Health and Safety

Conservation of human resources, a prime objective of 4-H club work, is being achieved nationally by members sharing in the responsibility for improving individual, family and community health, and safeguarding lives against accident.

Rural youth throughout this state are joining in the campaign by enrolling in the 1950 national 4-H safety and health programs. Both programs offer special awards for superior records to individual members and groups.

In the 4-H safety program, sterling silver medals are provided for five winning members in each county. Also, the county reporting the most outstanding 4-H safety program this year will receive a plaque or merit, appropriately embossed. The state champion will get an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next November. Eight national winners selected from the state champions will be awarded a $300 college scholarship each.

In the 4-H health activity, attractive two-color certificates symbolizing health will be given to a maximum of four clubs in each county conducting the best health improvement program. In addition, $20 cash awards to be used for health education will be awarded to the ten 4-H clubs in the state which carry on the best program. The member making the greatest progress in health improvement will receive an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress.

The national awards include a $100 U.S. Savings Bond and a blue ribbon to each member of the Blue Award group. The bond is to be used by the members to start a fund for protecting and maintaining their personal health.

Both programs are conducted under the direction of the Co-operative Extension service. Complete information may be obtained from county extension agents.

Reports Listed By Cow Testers

The recently organized cow testing association, the third in Ottawa county, has completed its first month of testing. Melvin Hodge, Hesperia, is the tester.

Melvin shows 25 herds under test and 425 cows. Average production of milk per cow was 855 pounds with 33.1 pounds fat per cow. This average is slightly under that of the oldest association.

Records on high cows and high herds are as follows:

High cows, Arthur Schreur, Helleman Brothers, George Newhouse and Gerrit Meekhof. High herds—small herd, five to 10 cows, L. W. Timmerman, first, and Schreur, second; medium herd, 11 to 20 cows, Herman Hassevoort, first, Henry Nykamp, second, and William Driesenga, third; large herd, 21 or more, Glen Sprick, first, and Norbert Denhof, second.

The May report of the Southeast Cow Testing association, was given by Robert De Pree, tester, will probably be the best report throughout the year. Average production of milk was 933 pounds, average fat, 36.6 pounds.

Owners placing in the highest cows class were Eugene Brower, first, and Bernie Schreur, second, under three years; Arthur Van Farrowe, first and second, under four years; Gerald Poest, first, and Schreur, second, under five years; Poest, first and Harold Ter Haar, second, over five years.

In the high herd group, Poest, first, and Van Farrowe, second, small herd, 5 to 10 cows; Elmo Heft, first, and Henry Modderman, second, medium herd, 11 to 20 cows; Brower, first and Carl Buege, second, large herd, 21 or more cows.

Arnold Notes Increase Of Interest In Grass

L. R. Arnold Ottawa county Agricultural agent, is pleased over the increased interest in grass, not only as a feed but as a builder of soil. Many farmers discuss the seeding of rye, sweet clover, etc. for soil building purposes.

Adam Banasiak, Robinson, has used sweet cover for a green manure crop for years. He will soon be turning under a growth of this grass.

Gerald Kamps, Jamestown, is a firm believer in the healing qualities of green manure. He has been trying for years to build up a depleted farm. His first step was a heavy application of lime. Early in September, 1949, he seeded a 19-acre field to Balbo rye for a double purpose, pasture and green manure.

SHADE IMPORTANT
Michigan State college poultrymen list shade as an important item in raising healthy pullets. The animals need protection from hot summer sun for best development.

Pastures Give Three Benefits

High quality pastures and forage give us three benefits, says George A. Brown, head of the Michigan State college animal husbandry department.

He points out that they help maintain livestock health, increase returns through more economic gains, and reduce labor and tillage costs.

Green pastures provide a liberal supply of protein, vitamins and minerals essential to the rapid growth and development of young animals. Succulent pastures throughout the growing season and well-cured leafy roughage for winter feeding are our best guarantee against nutritional deficiency, Brown says.

Approximately 80 per cent of the feed of beef cattle is grass and forage and improvement of grass and forage means a cut in the cost of production, the livestock authority believes. Most economical beef gains come from the use of good pasture.

Orland Haugen, chairman of the coater classic, said he had received nine entries for that event, with openings for about six more boys.

Aug. 6 has been set for the local contest on River St. hill, when boys will compete in two classes for prizes totaling $125. Entrants are allowed $8 value for making their car, above the wheel assembly, and some will be sponsored by local merchants.

Holland Horses Win Steeplechase

A black eight-year-old gelding, Friar's Melody owned by Holland's P. T. Cheff, hummed a merry tune Saturday as it captured the Oak Brook Challenge race over the Bosky Dells of the Oak Brook steeplechase north of Hinsdale, Illinois.

Melody, with Jerry Helder astride, skimmed over the timbers in the three-mile run, and won by two lengths in the three-horse field. The favorite, Clear Drive, ridden by Austin Brown of Castle Park, finished a close second.

Another Cheff horse, Lanstip, also mounted by Helder, copped the Longmeadow Hounds hunter race. Only two horses finished with Lanstip apparently beaten by three lengths by Fleetwood.

But Fleetwood's rider lost his weight sack and thus was disqualified and the judges named Cheff's horse the winner. Cheff was the only double winner on the program.

Indiana VFW Team Beats Local Club

In an inter-state battle of VFW's, the club from Mishawaka, Ind. measured Holland's unit 9-4 in an exhibition softball match Saturday evening at the Fourth street diamond.

In a league opener, Pelon's Sunco kept its slate untarnished with a routine victory over Holland Merchants 7-0.

The Indiana team chipped in with eight hits and behind the five-hit twirling of Paul De Broka and the heavy stickwork of George Roebuck, to beat the locals.

Holland enjoyed a short 3-2 lead in the second but two tallies in the third, coupled with two runs in the fourth and a three-run spree in the fifth, settled the issue.

Bill Goshorn and Matt Mumminkoski shared hit duties for Holland.

Casey Veldman, of Sunoco, tossed a neat one-hitter—his second straight shutout—to give the league-leaders their seventh without a defeat. He won his own game with a round-tripper in the third.

The attack was evenly divided with Wayne De Neff getting two blows and each member of the lineup getting one.

Bicyclist Hurt

Grand Haven (Special)—Eight-year-old Jeria Van Fossen, riding a bicycle on the sidewalk on Hopkins St., ran into the right front wheel of a car which was being backed out of a driveway by Marinus Van Stelle, 60, at 7 p.m. Friday. She was treated in Municipal hospital for abrasions and injuries to her right foot. City police did not hold the driver.

About one man out of every twenty is color blind.

Thirty-nine boys and three priests are spending a two-week vacation at Hotel Macatawa. The party is from the Maria della Strada house in Chicago, supervised by the Jesuit fathers. Most of the boys are displaced persons from Lithuania, who came to Chicago via Germany. The priests are from Lithuania, too, and two of them spent nine months in a Russian labor camp. The party arrived Thursday, and immediately headed for the beach. When The Sentinel photographer appeared on the scene, he found 28 boys and two priests dripping wet from a Lake Michigan dip. John Urban, their hotel host, is third from the left in the back row. He acted as interpreter for The Sentinel.

They will be at home, 19½ West 22nd St., after July 1.

Holland High Teacher Plans Visit to Europe

Miss Joan Vander Werf, Holland high school teacher, will leave Tuesday for New York on the first part of an extended trip to Europe. In New York City, she will meet a friend, Miss Ernestine Klerkoper of Clifton, N. J., who will accompany her on the trip.

The two women will leave New York on Thursday and go to Montreal, Canada. They will sail from Montreal aboard the Empress of Canada on Friday, and will arrive the next Friday at Liverpool.

They are planning a conducted tour of England, Holland, Belgium, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Italy and France. On July 9, they will attend a performance of the famous Passion Play at Oberammergau, Germany.

Following the conducted tour, the pair will spend an extra week in the Netherlands. Miss Klerkoper, who was born there, will visit relatives and friends and Miss Vander Werf will "look up" relatives of local friends.

They will return to Montreal Aug. 15 on the Empress of France. Miss Vander Werf expects to be back in Holland about Aug. 17.

Newly Purchased Car Damaged in Accident

A 1950 model car purchased Wednesday has $200 estimated damage and its driver has a ticket as result of an accident Friday at 7:10 p.m. at Pine Ave. and Eighth St.

John De Witt, 51, of 128 West 16th St., was the driver of the new car. He ran into a car driven by Delores Jager, 19, of 461 West 22nd St. De Witt told police he stopped for the corner, but didn't see the other car.

VOLLEYS FROM AMBUSH

Another school year has come and gone, and with it the hustle and bustle of commencement exercises, alumni meetings and whatnot.

And there are always those little sidelights that lend a lift to a busy, busy program.

For instance this happened while the powers that be were lining up for the Hope college procession, and two august gentlemen noticed their mortarboards had no tassels. And so they regarded themselves as "foreigners" with new degrees known as DDT.

"What does that stand for?" somebody asked.

"Doctor Devoid of Tassel," was the answer.

The two dignitaries in question were Judge Donald Brush of Herkimer, N.Y., and the Rev. Jacob Boerman of Pekin, Ill.

Lois Sharda had to miss commencement exercises of Christian high school. She came down with the mumps just before the ceremonies. Supt. Bert Bos delivered her diploma, Bible and a bouquet of flowers the next morning.

Robert Veltman, who completed his high school course last February, was present for Holland high commencement Thursday. He was granted a two-day leave from the Great Lakes Naval Station for the occasion.

The platform in Memorial chapel was really banked with a lot of flowers and palms for commencement exercises this week. In fact, it blocked the view in some cases.

Consequently, Jock Riemersma and Monte Dyer were a bit hidden when they used the microphone at the left of the stage for their part in the program.

The big luscious peonies really stood out in the tall bouquets.

There was a queer twist in reporting that Kiwanis story last week in which Ade Klaasen of the Board of Public Works lambasted the proposed new city charter.

Ade was introduced by Jim Klomprens, a BPW member and Kiwanian, who asked Dan Vander Werf, Kiwanis reporter, to see that The Sentinel got the story. Dan has been reporting for a couple years.

Since Dan is a member of the Charter Commission such an assignment might be a bit difficult, since Klaasen's views would naturally clash with Vander Werf's own.

But Dan faced no real dilemma. Since he's court reporter for the Ottawa-Allegan circuit, he took Ade's entire speech down in shorthand, and provided The Sentinel with direct quotes only!

Add to week's tall tales: The discussion over the coffee cups was about what happens to those holes that people chop in the ice for winter fishing.

Nick Hoffman keeps those chunks of ice for buoys in the summer.

E. A. Van Eck Accepts Position in Kansas

Edward A. Van Eck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Van Eck, 88 East Ninth St., has been appointed assistant professor in the department of bacteriology, at the University of Kansas in Lawrence. He will assume the position in September.

Van Eck had been awarded a Ph.D. degree in bacteriology on Saturday from the University of Michigan.

He was graduated from Hope college in 1938 and was subsequently employed as a bacteriologist with the Alabama Department of Public Health. After receiving an M.S. at the University of Michigan, he entered military service and was assigned as bacteriologist with the 17th general hospital at Naples, Italy. Following release from the service, he resumed graduate work toward the doctorate.

For the last two years, Van Eck has been an instructor in bacteriology at the University of Michigan medical school. He is a member of Gamma Alpha, Sigma Xi and Phi Kappa Phi.

Bossy Wanders Into New Pasture, Breaks Her Leg

Grand Haven (Special) — A butchered heifer rests in a Coopersville cooler, and officers are trying to find the owner.

The unfortunate animal wandered into the pasture of Frank Sabo, route 2, Coopersville Friday morning and broke her leg. Sheriff's officers were called and on advice of a veterinarian, the animal was killed.

Officers spent all day Friday trying to locate the owner without success.

Pleads Innocent

Peter De Jonge, 63, of route 2, pleaded innocent at his arraignment on a charge of driving while drunk and trial date was set for June 23. De Jonge was arrested after an accident Thursday on US-31A, and appeared before Park township Justice C. C. Wood today.

Plays Innocent

Farmers who may be hiring extra help this summer should be sure to keep track of expenses so they can figure their income tax accurately, say Michigan State college agriculture economists.
