How to Keep Perfect Teeth.

It is easy when you know how to keep the teeth perfect. Just brush them up and down after every meal, using plenty of good tooth powder. Don't scrub them sideways, that simply cleans the surface and hurts the gums but does not dislodge the food between the teeth, which, decomposing, causes decay, the origin of all tooth troubles.

In addition to personally cleansing the teeth let us examine them at least twice each year.

This service is free. If there are any cavities we will fill them carefully and economically.

We have all the latest improvements in dentistry to help us do good work that will be lasting and pleasing.

We treat all patients as we would like to be treated if our positions were reversed, you the dentist and we the patient. By so doing we make a friend of every patient.

We want you to feel that you are in competent hands. That you will not be needlessly hurt by careless, hurry-up workers—that you will not be paying for something that will not give you good service.

We never ask for testimonials, but we receive many. The following is a sample:

The death of Mrs. Albert Jager occurred last Friday morning at the age of 28 years at 27 East Eighth street. Death was due to consumption from which she had been a sufferer for a considerable time. A meeting will be held next Wednesday evening to perfect the plans of the association.

Saugatuck and Douglas met in a headon collision last Saturday. Instead of joining hands for the Harbor Day celebration they collided and each held a rival blowout. Saugatuck had everything in the line of attractions and all were good from the Zouave drills to the balloon ascension. Douglas had also all sorts of curves, including ball games and balloon ascensions and a good-sized crowd was present. Saugatuck entertained a large number and gave everyone a good time. But the two towns collided to the detriment of both.

The resorts did not have their best brand of weather on exhibition last weekend when the members of the Chicago Press association came over on the Graham & Morton steamer to spend a couple of days at Hotel Ottawa, but the scribes did not mind that and had a glorious time. It was rainy and blustery at the resorts but the excellent care taken of them by Landlord Pantland at the hotel made them forget the elements. Charles A. Floyd was also there with the glad hand and placed interurban cars at their disposal for a trip to Saugatuck. Another feature was a launch ride up Kalamazoo river. Weather interfered but at that the pencil pushers are willing to say that the Macatawa Bay resorts cannot be distanced.

The cause of the peculiar wasting disease which has affected cattle in the Lake Shore district of Olive Township and in a portion of Grand Haven township has not yet been discovered. The cattle of that region are still affected by the baffling disease, which because of the locality where it exists is known throughout the state as "The Lake Shore Disease." Nearly every farmer in the western section of Olive township has cattle that are affected by the Lake Shore disease and that are slowly wasting as with the consumption. The state authorities have for several years been working on this mysterious disease. They have investigated local conditions in the hope of finding the cause and they have had cattle ill with the malady shipped from Olive to the Agricultural College for personal study by the students and state cattle experts. Cattle that have been sent away have sometimes recovered but as soon as sent back to the Lake Shore would become affected again. Despite all investigation the disease still exists in that particular section of our county and the mystery of it remains unsolved. Many cattle are affected. It is the supposition of some that there is an injurious weed or plant there which slowly undermines cattle, but if there is, the state experts could not find it and it remains for some one to find the exact cause and the remedy.—Grand Haven Tribune.

CORRESPONDENCE

Saugatuck.

Capl. S. D. Upham has received his money for his dock property and is about to move. He is figuring on going to the northern part of the state and try farming but has not fully decided on this course.

Men have begun on the work of moving the Interurban waiting room but the site of the new location has not been determined. Petitions have been sent in to the Co. to have it located at various places and the officials of the road are still considering the matter. It will be located where it will suit the requirements of the greater number of patrons.

The Chicago, Saugatuck and Douglas Line has, at their own expense, hired the Great Lakes Dredging Co. to dredge the Kalamazoo River from the mouth to the docks in Saugatuck and Douglas so as to make a depth of 12 feet all the way. This can be done by only a little work for in only two places will the digging have to be done and in those places only a little work is necessary to give the required depth. The dredge will be here in a few days and the work will probably be completed in a week. The steamer H. W. Williams will then be put on the run between here and Chicago instead of the Glenn.

Borculo.

Elder Molhoek of Noordeloos will preach here next Sunday.

Doctor Imus, who moved here from Olive Center is well pleased with the practice he is getting already and he hopes that our citizens and surrounding country will put a shoulder to the wheel that we may keep the doctor here. He is a graduate of Ann Arbor and is having great success.

Steffens of this city preached the sermon. Rev. A. H. Strabbing of Hamilton delivered the charge to the pastor and Rev. A. Vanden Berg, former pastor of the church, addressed the congregation. Thursday evening a reception was tendered Rev. and Mrs. G. S. Hekhuis by the congregation. The reception was held in the church parlors and refreshments were served to 600.

A Tragic Finish.

A watchman's neglect permitted a leak in the great North Sea dyke, which a child's finger could have stopped, to become a ruinous break, devastating an entire province of Holland. In like manner Kenneth McIver, of Vanceboro, Me., permitted a little cold to go unnoticed until a tragic finish was only averted by Dr. King's New Discovery. He writes: "Three doctors gave me up to die of lung inflammation, caused by a neglected cold; but Dr. King's New Discovery saved my life." Guaranteed best cough and cold cure, at the Walsh Drug Co. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Only 82 Years Old.

"I am only 82 years old and don't expect even when I get to be real old to feel that way as long as I can get Electric Bitters," says Mrs. E. H. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. Surely there's nothing else keeps the old as young and makes the weak as strong as this grand tonic medicine. Dyspepsia, torpid liver, inflamed kidneys or chronic constipation are unknown after taking Electric Bitters a reasonable time. Guaranteed by the Walsh Drug Co. Price 50c.

Twenty Year Battle.

"I was a loser in a twenty year battle with chronic piles and malignant sores, until I tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve; which turned the tide, by curing both, till not a trace remains," writes A. M. Bruce, of Farmville, Va. Best for old Ulcers, Cuts, Burns and Wounds, 25c at the Walsh Drug Co.

L. Houtman, who arrived here from Holland City this spring and occupied the cobbler's bench at the shoe store of Elzinga & Co., has been confined to his room on account of ill health for the past two months. Mr. Houtman came to America from Friesland, Netherlands, less than two years ago, but however well he likes this country, the climate does not seem to agree with his health and the family expects to return to their native land in August.

C. Van Loo, accompanied by his daughters, Gertrude and Rosa, have left here on a journey to the Netherlands. July 4th, the steamer leaves for Europe with them aboard. They will tour the Netherlands and are expected home again September 1.

Work Weakens The Kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills Have Done Great Service for People Who Work in Holland.

Most Holland people work every day in some strained unnatural position—bending constantly over a desk—riding on jolting wagons or cars—doing laborious house work; lifting, reaching or pulling or trying the back in a hundred and one other ways. All these strains tend to wear, weaken and injure the kidneys until they fall behind in their work of filtering the poisons from the blood. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, put new strength in bad backs. Holland cures prove it.

F. Brieve, of West First street, employed at Moore's Soap factory, says: "I suffered from kidney trouble for ten or twelve years and until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at J. O. Doesburg's drug store I never found a remedy which gave me any effectual relief. I had constant aching pain in my loins and soreness over the kidneys. The kidney secretions became irregular, and I suffered from headaches, and attacks of dizziness. I took Doan's Kidney Pills but a few days when I felt they were doing me good and I continued their use until the trouble left me entirely."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co. Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

MINE GUARDS START RIOT

Drunken Deputies at Bradley, O., Cause Comrades to Fire on Strikers by Free Use of Revolvers.

Dillonvale, O., July 3.—Investigation by the authorities of the miners' riot at Bradley, shows that one man is dead, two are fatally injured, while seven others are seriously wounded as a result of the encounter.

Sunday 20 guards employed at Plum Run marched into Brauerie and began drinking at one of the company houses. Subsequently five of them came out and fired their guns in the air. The guard stationed across the ravine imagined that miners were attacking the guards, and fired upon the strikers, whereupon, as a matter of defense, the strikers retaliated.

CLOTHES

JUST AS YOU WANT THEM

"Just as YOU want them" clothes is the kind I am making right along.

You select the cloth you like and tell me what you want, and you get it.

My "correct method" of measuring and cutting makes a misfit impossible.

In making up clothes, special care is given to strengthening parts that have the most wear, and the little things are not slighted either.

Let the women folks examine any garment of my making, they will tell you "that's well made."

Now sum up the clothes question—good cloth, well made into a splendid fitting garment, just as you want it, costing no more than store clothes; isn't that a combination worth trying?

I have convinced many.

Will you let me prove my statements to you?

Congress Merits Great Credit.

A category of some of the important legislation accomplished by Congress at the session just closed leads to a feeling of profound satisfaction. Never have more questions of great moment come up for consideration in a legislative body and never have they been solved in a more worthy manner. Some of the most important measures enacted were—

The meat inspection bill,
Railroad rate bill,
Pure food bill,
Consular Reform,
Bill for free alcohol in the arts,
Panama canal legislation,
Naturalization bill.
Joint Statehood bill.

The enactment of any one of these measures alone would be enough to stamp the session as an unusual one. The enactment of them all stamps it as a grand one.

Turn backward in memory you who watched and followed for years the doings of Congress and you cannot recall a session that handled great questions half as well.

Therefore, though it is the fashion in some quarters to heap unmerited abuse and to withhold merited praise from public men, you that are fair should give the verdict of "well done good and faithful servants" to the Congress that has just closed its public ledger. Join with President Roosevelt when he says: "In the session that has just closed the Congress has done more substantial work for good than any congress has done since I became familiar with public affairs. I would not be afraid to compare its record with that of any previous congress in our history, not alone for the wisdom, but for the disinterested highmindedness which has controlled its interest. It is noteworthy that not a single measure, which the closest scrutiny could warrant us in calling of a doubtful propriety, has been enacted; and on the other hand, no influence of any kind has availed to prevent the enactment of the laws most vitally necessary to the nation at this time."

Church Celebrates Fiftieth Anniversary.

The Ninth street Christian Reformed church celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of its dedication with imposing ceremonies last Friday night.

The pastor, the Rev. A. Keizer, preached the sermon from Psalm 84:2,3, being the same text upon which Dr. A. C. Van Raalte delivered his discourse at the time of its dedication in 1856. Addresses were made by the Rev. L. J. Hulst of Eastmanville, one of the oldest clergymen in the denomination; the Rev. H. Vander Werp of Harrison, S. D., the Rev. R. L. Haan of the Central Avenue church, and by the Rev. Dr. Drukker, pastor of the only English church of that denomination in this city.

Elder J. Herringa read a paper on the early history of the church, but owing to the absence of B. Kruideren, one of the first members, and an elder for a quarter of a century, the Psalm singing by the congregation under the direction of this aged chorister, was omitted. Mr. B. Kruideren was unable to attend owing to illness induced by his extreme age.

Throughout the service the entire congregation sang Psalms, and a song appropriate to the occasion, composed by Rev. Vander Werp, was sung by the choir.

But five ministers have held a pastorate in the church, Rev. Van Raalte being the first, followed by Rev. R. Pieters, Rev. B. Bos, Rev. K. Van Goor, and the present pastor Rev. A. Keizer, who left the church at Granafechap to come here, where he has been very successful in his work among the congregation.

Death of Leendert De Groote.

Holland's oldest barber, Leendert De Groote, passed away shortly after one o'clock Tuesday morning. Death was due to advanced age.

Mr. De Groote was one of Holland's old and respected citizens. It was his boast that it was he who gave nearly every one of the older male residents of the city their first haircut and first shave. His barber shop in the little frame building east of Hotel Holland was for many years a familiar landmark. A few years ago he moved his shop to his home, Fifth street and Central avenue, but ill health compelled him to cease work about three months ago.

Mr. De Groote was born in Schiedam, the Netherlands, February 15, 1848. In 1870 he came to America, but returned to his native land the following year. In 1873 he journeyed again to America and since that time Holland has been his home. In 1875 he was married to Miss Johanna Beenwikes, who survives him, with three adopted children. These children whom Mr. De Groote took into his home and cared for as if they had been his own, are Mrs. J. Woltman, Simon De Groote, living in this city, and Fred De Groote of South Dakota.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the house, Rev. A. Keizer officiating.

Synod Closed.

After a ten days' session, during which many questions of great moment were discussed and during which much work was accomplished, the delegates to the General Synod of the Christian Reformed church have returned to their respective homes encouraged by the consciousness of work well done.

Next year will be the fiftieth anniversary of its secession from the Reformed church and in commemoration of the event it was decided that each church of the denomination have celebrations of a local character. The day will be made a memorable one in the history of the Christian Reformed church. The 1908 meeting of the synod will be held in Muskegon.

One of the delightful events of the meeting held here was the boat ride given last Thursday afternoon by courtesy of the Graham & Morton Transportation company on the steamer Puritan. Many citizens of Holland were in the party and the trip was a delightful one, more particularly to some of the delegates from inland states, whose opportunities to see large bodies of water and to ride thereon have been limited.

George E. Sparks Ends Life in Waters of Black Lake.

George E. Sparks, aged 65 years, and for the last 25 years a resident of this city, committed suicide last Saturday evening by jumping off the Scott-Lugers dock into Black Lake. Despondency, brought on by years of brooding over domestic troubles and by utter failure to make good in life's battle, was the cause that led to his death. On the dock he left the following note addressed to the marshal: "I am in the water here and had legs is the trouble. Goodbye everybody. Good-bye. Yours, etc., George E. Sparks."

The reference to his legs meant that rheumatism troubled him. The two sons of John Serier were in swimming near the dock when they saw someone jump into the water. They thought it was one of their companions and shouted to him. Receiving no answer they went to him and tried to hold him up by putting a piece of board under his chin. He did not want assistance and pushed the board away. As he was going down the third time they pulled him partly into a rowboat and saw that it was Mr. Sparks. Attracted by the commotion Robert Slowinski, who was rowing in the bay, went to the rescue and aided by Henry Knutson, pulled the body from the boat and placed him on the dock. There were signs of life and the men tried to restore vitality by artificial respiration, but their efforts were fruitless.

The body was taken to Dykstra's undertaking rooms and on Monday morning an inquest was held by Coroner Dykstra and a jury composed of Justice L. Y. Devries, H. Van Tongeren, John Bosman, A. Van Ry, Ed Vanden Berg and L. DeLoof. A verdict of suicide was rendered.

Burial took place in the Pilgrim Home cemetery, employees of the Buss Machine Works and the Western Toll Works defraying the funeral expenses.

Gabriel Kuite was the last man to see Sparks alive. He met him about 6 o'clock Saturday evening. In the past Sparks, who was a sufferer from rheumatism, had bought medicine from Kuite, who had the agency for a preparation that helped him. When he met Mr. Kuite Saturday evening he asked him if he had any of the remedy left, and was told that it was all gone, but that Harry Doesburg had it for sale at his drug store. Then Sparks walked on. He was sober and apparently sane at the time.

Mr. Sparks came here from England, where, it is reported, he left a wife with whom he had trouble, and one child. He referred to his domestic troubles when talking with friends and many times seemed depressed. He was a pattern maker by trade and worked in this city most of the time, although he worked a few months for the Montague Iron works about ten years ago. The last place he was employed was at the Buss Machine works, but of late he was out of employment, and little by little had pawned all of his tools and possessions to obtain money for pressing needs.

Peter Peterson Commits Suicide With Shotgun.

Scarcely had the city settled down to its wonted quietness after the excitement caused by the suicide of George E. Sparks, when the news came of another suicide. Peter Peterson ended his life Monday evening by shooting himself with a shotgun. Domestic in felicity and acute pains caused by rheumatism are the reasons advanced for his rash act.

Mr. Peterson had been down town Monday afternoon until about 4 o'clock and some of his old companions to whom he talked noticed that he acted a little queerly, but did not think anything was wrong. When he reached home he went upstairs and soon the report of the gun rang out. His wife fled into the street screaming. Officer Dornbos was called and he found that Peterson had placed the muzzle of a double barreled shotgun against his side and pulled the trigger, the entire charge entering his body penetrating his spleen and lungs. The dying man begged the officer to give him poison that he might end his misery, and later made the same request when Drs. H. and E. D. Kremers and Dr. D. G. Cook called. He lingered until about 8 o'clock when he passed away. He was conscious most of the time but not once did he manifest a desire to live.

Peterson was 36 years of age and was employed by the Cappon & Borth Leather company. He leaves a wife, daughter and son and one stepson. His brother, Oscar Peterson, is a conductor on the Interurban railway.

The funeral services were held Wednesday morning from the home on West Thirteenth street, Rev. A. T. Luther officiating.

Common Council.

At Monday night's meeting of the common council the restaurant keeper's license a refused the proprietor of the Holland Candy company's store at 26 East Eighth street, the committee composed of Aldermen John Nies, N. Prakken, and John Kerkhof reporting as follows:

"Your committee finds that the applicant cannot be considered a common victualer for the reason that the only cooking utensil is found in the basement, and consists of one burner only. That the only articles held for sale consists of candy, ice cream and soda water."

The council referred to the city attorney a communication from Diekema & Kollen, attorneys for

B. J. Albers, of Overisel who wants $50 damages for injuries to a valuable horse while Mr. Albers was driving on River street. The horse stepped into an open pipe and Mr. Albers is of the opinion that the paving contractor was responsible for the injury.

A resolution was passed fixing the curb line on Thirteenth street, west of River, eight feet from the sidewalk line instead of four feet.

An order was issued to W. Bosman to remove at once what remains of the unsightly old building at 137 East Eighth street.

The mayor was instructed to appoint a committee of two to confer with the board of education relative to the disposition and use of the old fifth ward school building, which has frequently been used for a polling place and meetings of various kinds. Aldermen Kerkhof and Visser were made the committee.

The matter of the election booth was referred to the committee on public buildings and property. Some of the booths are old and dilapidated.

The usual routine business was transacted.

Will These Big Railway Plans Materialize.

Should the following railway plans materialize Holland will be in the midst of a network of Interurban lines that will bring it in touch with a considerable portion of the most populous states of the central west. The Interurban Railway Age tells of the plans as follows:

"A plan was put on foot at Grand Rapids, Mich., last week, to connect Grand Rapids and Chicago by a direct interurban line. The meeting was held at the Morton House and was attended by prominent interurban railway officials of the two states. At the conference were W. A. Dodson, of Chicago, head of the Dodson syndicate; A. A. Applegate, of Chicago, representative of the syndicate; J. H. Roberts and Charles Floyd, manager of the Grand Rapids, Holland and Chicago railway.

"The project is backed by the Dodson syndicate, which has the strongest sort of financial backing behind it. The connections planned will join the Holland interurban line at Saugatuck to a line that will connect with the interurban system in the southern part of the states which reaches Fort Wayne, and thence extends to both Cincinnati and Indianapolis. While it will not be an air line route it will make direct connection by interurban rail from this city to Cincinnati and Indianapolis, over which it is planned to operate through car service, freight and passenger.

"The Mac Michaels have already bought out the Benton Harbor and St. Joseph line, and are now prosecuting the work of constructing the continuance of this line from Dowagiac to Elkhart, Ind., where it will connect with the Buoblin road. The line has been surveyed from Elkhart to Goshen, thence to Millersburg and Ligonier and on to 'Kim-mel on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. At that point it will also meet a projected line from Fort Wayne to South Bend. With these lines in operation Cincinnati and Indianapolis will both be connected directly via Fort Wayne with Benton Harbor."

Good-Roads Earle's Good Good-Roads Idea.

Good Roads Earle, when he was here to the Good Roads Roundup, impressed all who heard him as a very earnest and able man. He was on his way to the Upper Peninsula at that time to investigate the feasibility of having convicts work in the trap rock districts of the Upper Peninsula and use the crushed stone for the highways of the state. He has reported the results of his research, and the citizens of this vicinity will doubtless be inclined to agree with his conclusions.

Summed up briefly, Mr. Earle will recommend to the next legislature that a branch of the prison be built at the place known as Green Stone Cliffs on the Eagle river, Keweenaw county, which is a short distance from Eagle River village, where the river empties into Lake Superior. These cliffs are three miles long and from 50 to 130 feet higher than the road that passes along their base. They contain all of 100,000,000 cubic yards of as good trap rock for road building as there is in the world. The place is easily accessible, with a location for a prison that could not be bettered if built after the plans of a landscape artist. The cliffs have an area of 8,000 acres and are owned by the Tamarack Mining company.

The data already worked out shows that it will be feasible to deliver the crushed stone to any point in the lower peninsula for $1.35 per cubic yard.

At the present time there is being used for state reward roads in nine of the eighty-three counties of the state 170,000 tons of stone, a large portion of which is obtained from the drainage canal region in Illinois. It is not regarded as first-class stone for road building, experts declaring that the upper peninsula trap rock is worth twice as much for the top layer. The price of the stone now being used is $1.45 a cubic yard.

Board of Supervisors.

The special committee of the board of supervisors reported on the apportionment of the county into the legislative districts with the idea of equalizing the population in the two districts. Under the new apportionment Spring Lake is transferred from the first to the second district. The report was adopted and the county is now divided as follows: First district, Grand Haven township, 901; Holland township, 3371; Olive, 2151; Grand Haven city, 5239; Holland, 8966. Total population of the first district 20,592. Second district, Allendale, 1483; Blendon, 1763; Chester, 1549; Crockery, 1329; Georgetown, 2005; Jamestown, 2060; Polkton, 2423; Robinson, 857; Spring Lake, 1875; Tallmadge, 1383; Wright, 1599; Zeeland, 3281. Total population of the second district 21,607.

The board granted a license to Henry Therkettle to operate the Bridge street ferry and the county treasurer was authorized to borrow sufficient money in case he needed it before the board met again.

Major Mansfield spoke a few moments Friday forenoon upon the idea of joining some plan of action under which the committee appointed to attend the state equalization at Lansing might work. The Major's idea is for the committee to make comparisons with the assessed valuations of other counties surrounding Ottawa and so that it can be readily seen how Ottawa is faring in the hands of the state equalization board.

The business of the greatest importance taken up Saturday was the passage of the report of the committee on criminal claims. This committee used the blue pencil very freely upon the accounts and some of the bills were trimmed down in good shape. Sheriff Woodbury's claims were cut from $2939.98 to $2887.93. Deputy Sheriff John Luikens presented claims to the amount of $107.57 which were cut $17.90. Deputy Sheriff DeLoof of Holland was cut $33.20 and Deputy Hans Dykhuis lost $32.80.

Justice Charles K. Hoyt was cut from $506.88 to $474.38. Justice David F. Hunton's bills amounting to $154.00 were shaved down to $41.10. Justice DeVries lost $11.50 in the shake up.

Some of these bills were rejected for being in duplicate and some were considered too high for the board. Probably enough bills were shaved down by the committees at this session to pay for the present meeting.

The signing of the pay roll and the transaction of some minor business, closed up the work of the board.

Annual School Election.

The annual election of School Trustees of the Board of Education of the Public Schools of the City of Holland will be held on Monday, July 9, 1906 at the Central school building.

The number of school trustees to be elected follows:

Three trustees for the term of three years.

One trustee for the term of two years.

The polls shall be open at 2 o'clock p. m. and shall continue open until 8 p. m.

Every person shall be entitled to vote at such election who is a qualified voter of the city of Holland, or qualified by the laws of the State, to vote at any election for school officers.

Citizens Caucus.

A Citizens-caucus for the nomination of three school trustees for full term and one school trustee to fill vacancy will be held on Thursday, July 5, 1906 at 7:30 p. m. in the Central school building.

Double nominations will be proposed same as heretofore.

N. Prakken	Jas. A. Brouwer
L. D. Viessers, Sr.	Jno. J. Cappon
J. Vandersluis	E. P. Stephan
Will Breyman	Wm. Brusse
C. E. Thompson	C. D. Smith
Jacob Westveld	Chas. Hubbard
L. D. Viessers, Jr.

The four trustees whose terms expire are W. H. Wing, B. Steketee, I. Marsilje and E. R. Ballard, the latter's term coming to an end on account of his removal from the city. All of the trustees holding office at present have done excellent work for the city and it is likely that they will be accorded renominations without a contest.

ABLE TO FOOL THE SENSES

Psychological Investigators Get Some Curious Results in Yale Experiments.

Curiously interesting results have been obtained by experiments on hallucinations of the senses at the Yale psychological laboratory. A person placed in a quiet room was asked to note the intensity of a tone which would be sounded every time a telegraph receiver clicked. At first the tone was actually produced, but afterward, unknown to the person experimented on, the tone was omitted, while the clicking was regularly continued. Still the subject of the experiment believed that he heard the tone as before with every click of the instrument.

Another experiment consisted in dropping a light pith ball on the hand of a person so placed that he could not see what was done. Each fall of the ball was timed to correspond with the sound regularly emitted by a metronome. After a while the ball was no longer dropped, but the subject of the experiment continued to feel, or imagine that he felt, the touch of the ball at every sound from the metronome.

In a third experiment a blue bead was placed in the center of a white ring and a person was requested to approach the ring and note, by means of a tape measure at his side, the distance at which the bead first became visible to him. Later the bead was secretly removed, but still on arriving at the previously determined distance the person believed that he saw the bead.

HER PRAYER FOR MAMMA.

Special Clause in Tot's Supplication Prompted by Fear of De-railment.

A Walbrook mother a few days ago before starting on a trip to Atlantic City told her two little daughters, whom circumstances forced her to leave at home, of the speed with which the great engines would hurry her train to the resort by the ocean and of miles and miles of glistening rails over which she would travel before reaching her destination, relates the Baltimore Herald.

That afternoon, after kissing the children good-bye she asked them to remember her in their evening devotion, to which request the youngsters tearfully acquiesced. When the usual bedtime came around, the servant, after preparing them for their cribs, told them to kneel down and say their prayers. The younger of the tots was much longer in her devotions than her elder sister, and insisted on making a separate appeal for each member of the household. Toward the end of her prayer her nurse was much surprised to hear the child say: "And, Dear Lord, above all else, don't let 'ther run off the track."

ABOUT NATURAL BRIDGES.

Their Formation as Accounted For by Scientific Investigators.

It is commonly believed that natural bridges, of which the Natural Bridge of Virginia is the best known American example, are due to the falling in of cavern roofs, leaving only a part to span the stream which the destruction of the cavern has brought to the surface.

By a study of the North Adams Natural Bridge, says the Geographical Record, Prof. Cleland has been led to the conclusion that in this case at least the origin is quite different. In this case the bridge seems to be due to the solution of the limestone along a joint plane near the former course of Hudson brook. At first only a small amount of water seeped along the joint plane, but after awhile it made a channel large enough to divert the entire brook under the surface, giving rise to the bridge.

Walcott had previously offered a similar theory for the Natural Bridge of Virginia, and Cleland concludes that while the falling in of cavern roofs may occasionally give rise to natural bridges, the most common cause for such bridges in marble, limestone, sandstone and lava is that outlined above.

RUSSIAN DUEL BY SUICIDE.

Loser in a Game of Cards for Life Is Compelled to Kill Himself.

A tragedy, romantic on the surface but in reality throwing a repulsive light on the hollowness of life in Russia, is reported from Moscow.

Two young Poles named Nidetzki and Komorovsky, attending a ball given by Count Feodorov, were both so smitten with the beauty of the count's daughter that, though friends from boyhood, they at once became deadly enemies and before the ball was half over had determined upon a duel to the death by that most strange but most deadly of all methods—the suicide of one of the combatants. It was decided that the loser of a game of cards should kill himself, and toward the end of the ball the infatuated pair went to the card room for their game at death. In a few minutes Komorovsky had lost, and, quietly drawing a revolver, he shot himself through the heart. Nidetzki took the first express for Berlin.

As for the fair cause of the tragedy, she was so little impressed that within a few days she had accepted a proposal from a Russian nobleman.

A Tragic Finish.

A watchman's neglect permitted a leak in the great North Sea dyke, which a child's finger could have stopped, to become a ruinous break, devastating an entire province of Holland. In like manner Kenneth McIver, of Vanceboro, M. E., permitted a little cold to go unnoticed until a tragic finish was only averted by Dr. King's New Discovery. He writes: "Three doctors gave me up to die of lung inflammation, caused by a neglected cold; but Dr. King's New Discovery saved my life." GOLD IS A MINOR FACTOR

In Pneumonia the Huddling Together of People Is More Important.

Augustus Wadsworth declares that experience has shown cold to be a minor predisposing factor in the development of pneumonia. The huddling together of people in close quarters is of far more importance, says Medical Record.

The treatment of pneumonia in its present stage may be said to be either very easy or impossible. A careful prophylaxis against disturbances of the digestive tract is of the greatest importance. Many ways of attaining the same results present themselves and the choice in great measure rests with personal experience. The hope of definite results lies in the production of an efficient and specific antiserum.

It is known that poisonous substances are elaborated by the pneumococcus, but so far the production of an antitoxin corresponding to that used in diphtheria has not been obtained. Pneumonia, however, is the bacteremic disease and as yet in none of this type have satisfactory results been secured in relation to antiserum. The hope of success nevertheless is gradually growing brighter.

Submerged Roman Cities.

Late explorations of the Italian coast near Pompeii have changed the opinion of antiquarians, says the New York Tribune. The submerged Roman ruins along the coast used to be regarded as foundation walls thrown out for sea baths, but it was made clear that they are the remains of noble mansions, and that they point to the time when the land on which they stood was far above the level of the sea. The shore is, in fact, strewn with the wreck of buried cities. Coast roads have vanished, ancient quarries have been flooded and the breakwaters of the harbors of classical story covered fathoms deep with water. A great submarine sea wall, with concrete piers 17 feet high, still protects the fragments. But neither the fragments nor the great sea wall have been visible in the light of day for 2,000 years.

Thrown Out.

"And you say you lost your position by the great earthquake in San Francisco?" inquired the kind lady.

"Yes, mum," replied Frayed Frank.

"What was your position?"

"I wuz asleep in a barn at de time, mum."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Strong Argument.

Mr. Jawback—I guess I converted a Turk to Christianity to-day.

Mrs. Jawback—Well, for goodness' sake! You're a fine specimen to be doing missionary work. What argument did you use, pray?

"Well, I told him that Christians didn't have to have more than one wife."—Cleveland Leader.

PERFUME MADE IN GERMANY

Growth of Industry Makes That Country Rival of France and England.

Vice Consul Fuller writes from Hanover that the German perfume industry is now one of the most important and successful in the world, rivaling that of France or England. He describes it in the following letter:

Some of the biggest factories are in Leipzig, but Berlin, Karlsruhe and Hamburg are important centers of the trade. There has been a vast increase in the last few years in the diversity of essential oils produced from plants and 40 varieties of those plants are employed in the German factories, which use as well such products of foreign lands as nutmeg, cinnamon, camphor, balsams, pepper, musk and ambergris.

The production of the essential oil is expensive, ranging from about $227 a pound downward, according to the scarcity of the oil in the plant. With fresh flowers the distillation takes place as near the place of picket, as possible, as the fresher the products the better. The stills contain about 3,300 pounds of flowers and the necessary amount of water. Great care is taken as to the amount of heat supplied and to its regularity, the process being thoroughly controlled, an excellent product resulting.

SCENE IN THE CATSKILLS.

Arcadian Picture of a Mountain Village with Its Odd Characters.

In a dreamy mood you finally make your way back to the road, and idly wander on until you reach the village post office and general store, writes Alberta Arndt, in Four-Track News. You gaze curiously at its barn-like appearance, and at the queer characters congregated there. It is the noon hour and they are waiting for the one great event of the day, the arrival of the rural mail man—whose white horse can be seen coming leisurely up the road at a snail's pace. A smile curves your lips, as you mark the contrast between this raw-boned farmer, in his blue-jean overalls, and the city postman, in his spruce gray uniform. Nevertheless, in sunshine or storm, the rural mail man is as faithful as his city cousin. You ask this unique "Uncle Sam" how he likes traveling the mountain roads in stormy weather, and a mild look of surprise breaks over his honest features, as he strokes his chin and draws, "O-h, I do n't like it so very good."

The Struggle

By CHAS. MICHAEL WILLIAMS

(Copyright, by Joseph H. Bowles.)

The sonorous bell of the old clock began to strike the hour of twelve at night.

One!—It rang, solemnly, slowly. Roger Carton started violently; he hurriedly raised his head from his arms and the light revealed his haggard and passion-distorted face. Steeped in mental misery for hours, he had paid no heed to the progress of time, but now he bestirred himself. In half an hour the train would start, and he was to go on it, away from that hateful town—forever—

Two!—rang the sweet-toned bell. He was on his feet, swiftly sweeping the papers from his desk into a bag; still with confused, acutely painful thoughts racing through his mind faster than the voice of time as symbolized by the chiming clock—

Three!— Could he not stop thinking now? The train was waiting. There would be no other for 15 hours, and 15 hours more in this place would be an eternity of suffering. He must hurry on to New York, there to begin a new life, if a new life were possible to a man who had failed so miserably in his first trial of existence—

Four!— In New York he would be an insignificant cipher among millions—not, as here in his birthplace, the derided young "tool of a boy" as he had overheard a man he respected allude to him. Placed in charge of his father's factory by that honored man, now dead, had he not neglected his business, failed in his promises, wounded the hearts of those who loved him (two women, they: his mother and the girl) and all by his idiotic behavior over a woman who had finally simply laughed at him? Oh, the shame of it—she had laughed at him!

Five!— Here were her letters, her photograph. Slashed across, he threw them into the fire. The picture fell face upward, and from the red glowing coals the woman's dark, enigmatical eyes smiled at him. How she had enslaved him, the dusky stranger with her unreadable eyes, her singular smiles, her voice of haunting cadences. And now she was nothing but a ghost, torturing his memory and driving him forth from home and kindred—

Six! Seven! Eight!—Inexorable time winged on.

He took three more photographs from the desk—his mother's—he averted his eyes as he put it in the bag; the girl Miriam's, her frank, candid eyes sent a pang of remorse to his soul; and his father's, the dead soldier's steadfast gaze looked searchingly into his eyes.

Nine! Ten!— Singular, subtle, powerful were the emotions that vibrated as there surged throughout his veins the aroused blood of the man, his father. He had believed in him; that warrior who had fought for home and country and never turned his back on foe or duty—

Eleven!— The utter shame! real shame, chilled him to the heart. "I am acting like the coward! What, run away?—that would be worse than anything! No, dad—I'll stay and fight this thing out." He suddenly touched the portrait with his lips, and sat down steadily in his chair. He began to set his papers in order—and—

The sonorous bell of the old clock struck twelve.

CLOTHES

JUST AS YOU WANT THEM

"Just as YOU want them" clothes is the kind I am making right along.

You select the cloth you like and tell me what you want, and you get it.

My "correct method" of measuring and cutting makes a misfit impossible.

In making up clothes, special care is given to strengthening parts that have the most wear, and the little things are not slighted either.

Let the women folks examine any garment of my making, they will tell you "that's well made."

Now sum up the clothes question—good cloth, well made into a splendid fitting garment, just as you want it, costing no more than store clothes; isn't that a combination worth trying?

I have convinced many.

Will you let me prove my statements to you?

PICTURE OF CONEY ISLAND.

Penned by a Soulfull "Geezer" Who Collided with an "Argosy" of Ken Fruit.

There is a solemn hush, and all hearts await the setting off of the next piece of fireworks, relates a New York Herald writer. I am filled with a vague unrest as the first ball—one of a velvet texture—pops into the air from a Roman candle. It is of a rich sapphire hue. I give an involuntary shudder, for I am ill at ease and completely undone. In another moment a red ball, more beautiful by far than the garden's brightest rose, darts on the parabolic, and before it is quite crumbled into thinnest air a cold chill creeps over me and I instinctively button my coat. Then another ball of that lovely tone of green which reaches its highest point of perfection in a creme de menthe projects itself into the starry vistas of the perfect summer night, and I suddenly side-step with the subtle quickness of a snake and crouch ready to spring at a moment's notice. While in this attitude and before I am aware, I notice myself silhouetted against a background of Tyrian purple light, and I duck as from a thunder bolt, until the ball which cast it has dissolved. Alas, I wring my hands and beat my breast and murmur dolefully, if not soulfully: "Woe is me." And when a large white ball, more beautiful than a full blown lily, darts into the air with fairy witchery and suddenly bursts and sends forth myriads of smaller balls of all colors in a wild, picturesque cluster, I jump behind a Rose of Sharon bush and dream painfully of that never to be forgotten night last spring when, as Hamlet out in Oshkosh, I was compelled to face an argosy of soft boiled Easter eggs and so doing was caused to look most painfully like a human tulip bed in full blossom as I fled to wrap the drapery of the night about me.

DISEASE DEFINED BY ODOR

Sense of Smell Belied Upon by Experts to Determine Nature of Ailments.

The acuteness of the sense of smell is far greater in many of the lower animals, dogs, for example, than in man, and they employ it in guiding them to their food, in warning them of approaching danger and for other purposes, says the Spatula. The sphere of the susceptibility to various odors is more uniform and extended in man, and the sense of smell is capable of great cultivation. Like the other special senses, it may be cultivated by attention and practice. Experts can discriminate qualities of wines, liquors, drugs, etc. Diseases have their characteristic odors.

Persons who have visited many different asylums for the insane recognize the same familiar odor of the insane. It is not insane asylums alone, but prisons, jails, workhouses, armies in camp, churches, schools and nearly every household, that have characteristic odors. It is when the insane, the prisoners and the soldier are aggregated in large groups or battalions that their characteristic odor is recognized. Most diseases have their characteristic odors and by the exercise of the sense of smell they could be utilized in different diagnosis.

For example, fever has a mousy odor, rheumatism has a copious sour-smelling acid sweat. A person afflicted with pyaemia has a sweet nauseating breath. The rank, unbearable odor of pus from the middle ear tells the tale of the decay of osseous tissue. In scurvy the odor is putrid, in chronic peritonitis musky, in scrofula like stale beer, in intermittent fever like fresh baked brown bread, in fever ammoniacal, in hysteria like violets or pineapple. Measles, diphtheria, typhoid fever, epilepsy, phthisis, etc., have characteristic odors.

MIGRATION OF WILD GEESE

How the Old Leader of a Flock Gathers It and Starts on Its Journey.

At the end of March or during the first week in April all the gray geese in the Outer Horides collect in one place before taking their departure for their nesting haunts within the Arctic circle.

To estimate their numbers is impossible, and to behold this vast concourse of geese as one of the sights of a lifetime. The vast host of birds stands packed together in a huge phalanx till the king of the graylegs starts the flight. As the old leader ascends a hundred thousand voices salute him, but none stir till from overhead he gives the call for his subjects to follow him.

Some fifty birds rise in the air and follow him, and as they go gradually assume the wedge-like formation, with three single birds in a string at the apex of the triangle, and in a few minutes are out of sight. When they have been fairly started the king returns, and after a few minutes rest he rises into the air again, and the same process is gone through before he leads off another batch.

Again and again he returns until all are gone but 300 old veterans, which rise to meet him in the air as he flies back to them. Then, with their sovereign at their head, these also wing their way toward the pole not to return until the following October.

CHOLERA BREAKS OUT IN THE PHILIPPINES

DISEASE IN MOST DEADLY FORM
REPORTED FROM MANILA
AND NEAR PROVINCES.

FOUR AMERICANS ILL;
ONE DEATH RECORDED

Forty-One Victims Thus Far Among
Natives in City and Surrounding Country—Epidemic Not Expected
—Cause of the Scourge.

Manila, July 3.—Cholera of a virulent type has broken out among the natives of Manila and surrounding provinces. Four Americans in Manila have been stricken to date, and there has been one death of an American, that of Charles Sheehan. Twenty-one cases and 16 deaths were reported Tuesday. The provinces report 26 cases and 25 deaths. The disease is one of the most deadly type.

One Soldier Is Victim.

The suburbs near Fort McKinley have been quarantined. There has been one death from cholera among the soldiers, that of a cook, Christian G. Dwight, of company C, Sixteenth Infantry. The health bureau is taking every precaution to prevent the spread of the disease.

A circular has been distributed among citizens, warning them of the danger and requiring that precautions be taken. While the situation is serious, the health officials do not look for an epidemic of great proportions. The greatest difficulty is experienced in getting natives to report cases of sickness. The Filipinos fear the health officials and conceal cases from them. To this cause is assigned the spread of the disease.

Former Outbreaks.

The last outbreak of cholera in the Philippine islands occurred in October 1905, when, from August 23 to October 14, 713 cases and 553 deaths were reported. But the outbreak of 1905 was insignificant when compared with that of 1902, when a total of 130,363 cases were reported and 82,955 deaths were known to have occurred. But, it was stated at the time, that the actual number of deaths was probably 20 per cent greater. During the epidemic of 1902 the populations of many of the towns were heavily reduced through deaths and the flight of the panic-stricken people. Many of the dead were left unburied for days, in spite of the energetic steps taken by the government to combat the spread of the disease and to care for the sick and the dead. Surgeons and medicines were sent to all parts of the islands and natives were compelled to adopt sanitary precautions.

Cholera, in a slight form, is epidemic in the Philippines almost every year but the sanitary education of the natives by the American authorities is gradually alleviating the conditions and the precautions taken by the medical authorities, based on past experiences, are regarded as being equal to any strain which may be placed upon them.

Outlaws Released.

The first national salute to include Oklahoma was fired at Luneta at midnight, July 3. The advent of July 4 was celebrated by the release of 68 men who are charged with outlawry and were serving sentences in Bilibid prison. Four convicts were granted full pardon and the remainder were released on the condition of five years' good behavior. This action was taken upon the recommendation of a board appointed three months ago. Filipino children were entertained at a monster feast in this city. The feast was arranged by patriotic Americans and Filipinos.

Would Close Indiana Resort.

Paoli, Ind., July 3.—Attorney General Charles Miller, acting under instructions from Gov. Hanly, Tuesday filed in the Orange county courts an action to revoke the charter of the French Lick Springs Hotel company, at French Lick, this country. The company is a corporation of which Thomas Taggart, chairman of the Democratic national committee, is president. It is charged that gambling is allowed on the property owned by the hotel company.

Disastrous Freight Wreck.

Reading, Pa., July 3.—One of the worst freight wrecks in the history of the Reading railway occurred near Shoemakersville, Pa., Tuesday. The accident was caused by a broken flange. Twenty-three loaded freight cars were piled up in every conceivable shape and the contents scattered about the tracks. The roadbed was torn up for a distance of 400 yards, and it required the best part of the day to clear the tracks. No one was hurt.

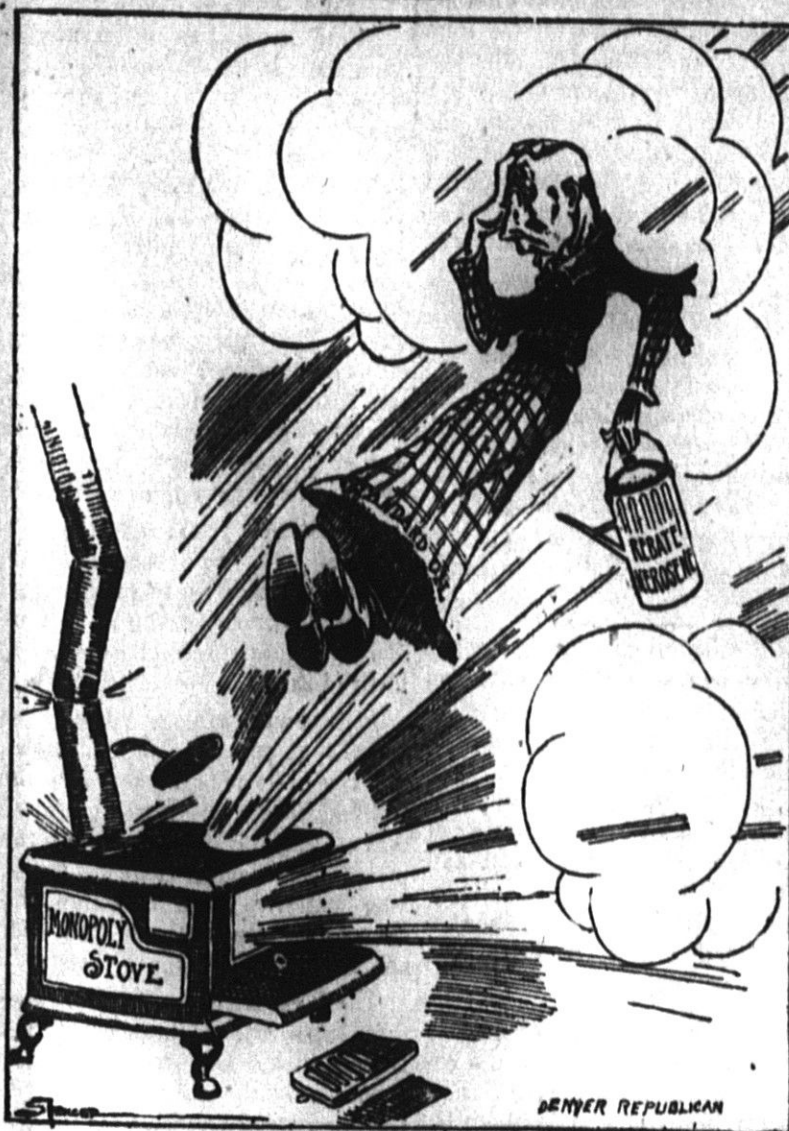

Cruiser Ready for Trip.

New York, July 3.—Spick and span in new paint and furnishings, and with the excellent new "state" quarters complete in every detail, the armored cruiser Charleston sailed from the navy yard on her mission of carrying Secretary of State Root and his family to South America. The cruiser anchored off Tompkinsville, and Wednesday Secretary Root is expected to go on board.

Kaiser Off on a Cruise.

Kiel, July 3.—Emperor William left Kiel Tuesday on a cruise northward. He will arrive at Trondheim, Norway, July 8.

IT HAD TO COME.

The Combination Has at Last Produced the Inevitable Result.

REVIEW OF WORK DONE BY CONGRESS

MANY VERY IMPORTANT MEASURES ARE PASSED.

Railroad Rate, Meat Inspection and Pure Food Legislation Accomplished at Last Moments—Some Bills That Failed to Pass—What Congress Spent.

Washington, June 30.—Saturday saw the close of one of the most remarkable sessions of congress of the last 20 years or more. As is usual, the session closed with a rush with the most important legislation pushed through at almost the last moment. The railroad rate bill, the pure food bill and the agricultural appropriation, carrying with it the meat inspection amendment, went to the president on Friday night and were promptly signed by him. The following were the important bills passed on Friday:

Railroad Rate—Passed; signed by the president at 11:45 p. m.

Meat Inspection—Passed after senate yielded to house amendments.

Pure Food—Passed and sent to president for his signature.

Niagara Falls—Signed by president; regulates water of Niagara river to preserve the falls.

Immigration—House adopted conference report, passing the bill.

Lake Erie Canal—Passed; house agreed to conference report.

Sundry Civil Appropriation—Passed and sent to president.

General Deficiency—Passed; appropriates $11,500,000.

Edward S. Bragg—Bill granting Wisconsin general pension passed.

Canal Type Is Fixed.

With the adjournment of congress it is possible to make a survey of the entire field of important legislation enacted during the session. The three most prominent measures already have been referred to, and their general provisions are well known to the country. Next in point of interest perhaps comes the Panama canal act. The house first declared in favor of the lock canal, by providing that no portion of the money appropriated in the sundry civil bill should be expended on a sea level project. A majority of the senate committee reported in favor of a sea level canal, but after a vigorous debate the president's recommendation in favor of a lock type was approved by a vote of 36 to 31.

A joint resolution was passed by congress requiring the purchase of supplies and materials for the canal in the American market unless the president shall determine that the bids of domestic producers are extortionate or unreasonable.

Congress appropriated $42,500,000 for continuing work on the canal, $16,500,000 being deficiency appropriations and $26,000,000 being for work during the fiscal year 1907.

Statehood Issue Settled.

The admission of Oklahoma and Indian territory as a single state was accomplished by the act approved June 16. The act also admits Arizona and New Mexico into the union as a single state, provided that a majority in each of the territories shall vote for joint statehood, "and not otherwise."

A most important piece of legislation is the removal of the tax upon denatured alcohol. It was strongly opposed by manufacturers of kerosene and gasoline.

An employer's liability bill, to meet the demands of the trainmen of the United States, has been placed upon the statute books after years of effort.

Greater Aid for Militia.

Among the acts affecting the military establishment were those increasing the efficiency of the ordnance department of the army and increasing the appropriation for the militia from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 annually. No opposition of importance developed when the motion was made to concur in the conference report on the naturalization bill. It provides a board which will have charge of the naturalization of aliens, and makes some changes in the law relating to court proceedings in naturalization cases.

The principal legislation affecting the Philippines was an act postponing the operation of the coastwise laws until April 11, 1909; another revising the Philippines tariff, and a third authorizing the purchase of coal claims by the secretary of war.

An important measure to cattle interests is that changing the 28-hour law so that cattle may be kept in cars 36 hours without unloading.

Immigration Bill Fails.

Among the important measures that have failed the immigration bill demands first consideration. It failed because a conference committee was not appointed to settle the disagreement between the two houses. After a spirited fight in the house, in which Speaker Cannon participated, the immigration bill, originally a senate measure, was passed, with a substitute for the "educational test," which required immigrants to possess the ability to read English or some other language. The house substituted a section providing for a commission to investigate the subject of immigration. The bill will command attention when congress reconvenes in the fall.

The bill to prevent contributions by corporations to campaign funds was started in the house. It was forced through the senate by the indefatigable efforts of Senator Tillman. The house leaders refused to let it come up there, although it is understood action will be permitted at the next session. The Democrats charge that the Republicans want to lay it over until after the congressional elections, in order to get one more chance at the corporation barrel.

It has been a hard session for treaties. The Santo Domingo convention, much desired by the administration, has been kept down by the hostile minority in the senate. No action has been taken either on the Isle of Pines or Algiers treaties.

Fate of Labor Bills.

Bills, most of which were demanded by the leaders of organized labor, have met their fate as follows:

1. The anti-injunction bill—dead in the judiciary committee.

2. The eight-hour bill, reported from the committee on labor, but not acted upon.

3. The election of senators in congress by direct vote of the people—dead in committee.

4. The publicity of campaign expenses bill, recently reported to the house, but not acted upon.

5. The letter carriers' bill—dead in committee.

6. The bill to regulate the hours of railway trainmen—dead in committee.

7. The bill for the relief of the Slocum survivors—dead in committee.

8. The bill to prevent convict-made goods from competing with the goods manufactured by honest labor—dead in committee.

Outside the line of actual legislation, the present session will be historic through having authorized the investigation that has led to the railroad-coal exposures. Another resolution adopted by the senate will cause an investigation of the alleged grain trust and railroad-elevator combine in the west, that promises to be equally if not more sensational.

INJURED GETTING BETTER

BELIEVED VICTIMS OF BRITISH WRECK WILL RECOVER.

Chivalrous Spirit of R. S. Critchell, of Chicago—Sympathy of Britons
Cabled to Relatives.

Salisbury, England, July 3.—The bulletin posted Tuesday at the infirmary where those injured in the wreck here Sunday morning of the express train taking the passengers of the steamer New York from Plymouth to London are being cared for, announced that Edward W. Sentell, of Brooklyn, N. Y., had not passed a good night, but that his condition is about the same. Robert S. Critchell, of Chicago, had a restless night, but is slightly improved.

Late in the afternoon a decided improvement was reported in the condition of all the injured persons and it was believed they will all recover.

Mr. Critchell has been unconscious since the accident, with occasional evidence of semi-consciousness in which he expressed a chivalrous desire to help some one whom he thinks in danger. This very chivalry adds to the sympathetic interest in the case by the doctors, who have not yet abandoned hope of his recovery. In no other case have there been such numerous inquiries by telephones, telegraph and otherwise.

Miss Margaret Rask, of Norfolk street, Park lane, London, whose legs have been amputated, passed a restless night, but is no worse. Miss L. S. Griswold, of Borough Heath, near Epsom, is slightly better.

The removal of the bodies of the victims was postponed until evening owing to the nonarrival of the leaden shells. Nine bodies were taken to Southampton. Five were taken to London. All the friends and surviving relatives of these victims desire that religious services be held in London before the bodies are shipped on board the New York.

Edward B. Tennant, member of parliament for Salisbury, has cabled to President Roosevelt the sympathy of the citizens of Salisbury for the relatives and friends of the victims.

FAST TRAIN IS WRECKED.

Saratoga Limited Goes Into Ditch at Ballston, N. Y., but No One Is Injured.

Ballston, N. Y., July 3.—The Saratoga Limited on the Delaware and Hudson railway was wrecked here early Tuesday and, although the train was demolished, not a passenger was killed or injured.

The train left Saratoga at 7:40 with 20 passengers and a crew of seven. At the north end of this village the Schenectady Electric railway connects with the steam railway, and when the limited approached at the rate of 50 miles an hour the switch-tender made a mistake and opened the switch, thinking it was the local train to be sidetracked.

When the limited reached the switch the entire train leaped from the track. The engine parted from the train and landed in a ditch on its side. Engineer Ed Crane and Fireman William Flannery stuck to their posts and were not injured.

The four palace cars followed the track for a few feet and then overturned and went into the ditch. The fact that the engine parted from the train and went to one side prevented telescoping and probably saved a score of lives.

Engineer Crane said that the signals were set right for his train. It is believed that the switch was turned just before the train reached the junction.

FIRE RAZES NOTED CHURCH.

Great Tower of St. Michael, at Hamburg, Germany, Falls—Four Men Killed.

Hamburg, July 3.—The great church of St. Michael, with its tower and spire 426 feet high, was destroyed by fire Tuesday. The tower in falling crushed several neighboring houses and they caught fire. Four workmen who were repairing the church were killed.

Later it was reported the fire was spreading. Rows of buildings on Englischesplank, Boemische and Kralenkampf streets were in flames. The fire probably originated from defective electric connections.

When the tower fell the many thousands of spectators uttered involuntary cries that, together, sounded like a vast sigh. The flames then blew up fiercely and began to spread to adjoining houses. The fire department finally succeeded in obtaining control of the flames.

The church was one of the city's object of pride. It was largely of brick and was erected on the site of the ancient church which was burned in 1750 as the result of being struck by lightning.

Pleasure Seekers Hurt by Explosion.

New York, July 3.—An explosion of an overcharged carbonic acid tank in a drug store at Coney Island Monday night frightened thousands of pleasure seekers, badly injuring three persons, one of whom probably will die; wrecked the drug store and building, temporarily disabled the telephone service on the island, and sent half a dozen young women operators into the street in a panic.

Attempts Wife's Life; Kills Self.

Cartersville, Ill., July 3.—George Bond killed himself here Monday night by shooting, after having attempted to kill his wife by cutting her throat. It is said that frequent quarrels caused the tragedy.

STRICTURE AND KIDNEY DISEASE CURED.

"I had stricture for eleven years. It finally brought on Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. I had an uncomfortable shooting pain in the groin and feeling as though something was in the urethra. My back was weak and I could scarcely stoop over. Urine was full of sediment. Had a desire to urinate frequently. Family doctors, so-called specialists, patent medicines, electric belts, all failed. I was discouraged. I had spent hundreds of dollars in vain. Finally I consulted Dr. Kennedy & Kergan as the last resort. I had heard a great deal about them and concluded from the fact that they had been established over 25 years that they understood their business. I am delighted with the results. In one week I felt better and in a few weeks was entirely cured. Have gained sixteen pounds in weight."

It is tedious work this construction of the pier extension breakwaters. Bennett & Schnorbach, the Muskegon contractors who have in charge the work at the harbor, are making fair progress, and many months will not roll by before Holland will have what it is entitled to—the real beginning of a good harbor. For this is only a start. More money will be needed to re-construct the old pier-work and to add to and improve the extension now under construction.

Take notice! The village of Zeeland, to the east of us, deserves recognition. It decided that it wanted a celebration, and then it decided that it would have to be a good one. Was it? Well, it was a blinger, as the Mayor of Bird Center would say. All who went there had open access to a good old-fashioned time, and it was their own fault if they did not enjoy it to the limit. The little circle of hustlers who made the day a success deserve praise. They showed the true, tireless spirit of never-say-fail and that always brings success.

D. Dykstra has gone to his home in Monroe, S. D., where he will visit a short time before going to Chicago to prepare for his trip to Arabia, where next fall he will enter the missionary field. His many friends here bid him godspeed.

At the close of the convention three rousing cheers were given for the Michigan Telephone company.

The new school must be ready for occupancy September 15. It will be a credit to the north side.

Out of the harbor day celebration at Saugatuck has blossomed a romance. Charmed by the exhibition of tightrope walking by William H. Hannon of Columbus at the Saugatuck celebration Saturday, Miss Genevieve Cabocel of Chicago became his bride Monday at South Haven. The girl met the performer on the steamer which was returning to South Haven with the excursionists Saturday night.

The hearing was not completed, adjournment being taken to July 14. Fourth Was Quiet In Holland.

No fires, no serious, but several minor accidents, and one drunk. Not a bad record is it for Holland's fourth of July. There was no celebration here but there was plenty of fireworks and many visitors were here. Jenison Park and Zeeland claimed a good share of Holland's population and about 200 went to Grand Rapids. The Jenison Park celebration was a good one, as was the one at Zeeland, New Holland and Dreuthe.

Several minor accidents were reported but they were mainly of singed eyebrows, burnt fingers and powder begrimed faces.

The Interurban carried a record breaking crowd of passengers and in spite of the immense number handled gave prompt service, and cared for all without accidents.

Zeeland Had Fine Parade

One of the features of the celebration in Zeeland yesterday was the parade. The floats in line were representative of the following lines of business:

A. Lahuis, dry goods; G. J. Boone, dry goods; Henry Brown, shoes; John De Pree, meat market; C. Bouwens, meat market; Wm. De Pree, hardware; Frank Boonstra, clothing; De Pree & Pruim, furniture; Bareman & Co., furniture; Zeeland Milling Co.; Zeeland Fuel & Lime Co.; Van Gelderen, implements; Van Dyke, implements; Wm. Wichers, Lumber Co.; Citizens Telephone Co.; M. C. Ver Hage; Ver Hage Milling Co.; Y. M. D. A., two floats.

Big Celebration at New Holland.

New Holland had a glorious celebration yesterday. The fun started with the sunrise salute and ended with a grand display of fireworks. The morning parade was the feature. It was led by an automobile in which was seated Dr. J. W. Vanden Berg, president of the day, with the chauffeur, and the auto was followed by 40 uniformed men on horseback.

The day was devoted to a program of sports and to band concerts.

The speeches in the forenoon were fine. W. O. Van Eyck of Holland was the orator of the day, and the address of welcome was made by Rev. Wesseling of New Holland. An address was also delivered by Rev. De Jong of Crisp.

Ex-Sheriff Henry J. Dykhuis and wife celebrated the 35th anniversary of their wedding last Sunday. All of their children and grandchildren gathered at the family home in Polkton township and spent an enjoyable day. Those from this city who were there were Mr. and Mrs. Hans Dykhuis and Mr. and Mrs. Arie Zanting and family.

Notes of Sport.

In the morning game the Interurbans defeated the Garlands of Grand Rapids, 7 to 6. In the afternoon game at Jenison Park the Garlands won, 15 to 0. Batteries, morning game, for Interurbans, Woldering, Decker, Lieveise and Fick; Garlands, Popma and Murray. Afternoon game, Interurbans, Shaw and Fick; Garlands, Mernman and Comstock. The rivalry between the two clubs was intense and this rivalry was communicated to some of the spectators to such an extent that they vented their feelings on each other by a couple of fist fights.

At Zeeland yesterday, the Zeelandites took the Ideals of Grand Rapids into camp in two well played games, the first resulting in a score of 7 to 1, and the second 7 to 4, all in favor of Zeeland.

At Alpena Beach yesterday a fast and snappy game was played between the Grand Rapids Pickets and the Holland Sluggers. It was give and take all through the contest but the pickets battled out a victory of 6 to 3. The batteries were Demstraw and Damson for the Sluggers and Ball and Richardson for the Pickets.

The West Michigan Furniture factory base ball club defeated the Heinz Pickle Co. team yesterday forenoon by the score of 15 to 8. During the game a man from Middleville met with an accident that resulted in a broken nose.

Seibel Bros. Dog and Pony Show will give two exhibitions in this city, Thursday, July 12.

INDIANS WANT TO LEARN.

Those of Alaska Call for Schools to Make Them Like White Man.

The craving of the Alaskan Indians for education is almost pitiable, says the Southern Workman. Ask them what they need, and the answer is the same:

"Schools for the children, so that they may become smart like the white man."

They are very affectionate people to their children; every benefit is for the child. The older people fully realize the fact that they represent the past. They have always been producers, and their faith in themselves is half of the struggle that lies before them. To this end they should be provided with day schools in all of the villages of a hundred or more adults.

In some sections where the families are distributed over a large area of country and in the case of the children of parents unable to provide for their support, and again where orphans may be enslaved by distant relatives, boarding schools or homes are equally necessary.

BITE OF THE RATTLESNAKE.

When Once Suffered Instills a Lasting Horror Into the Victim.

"Twice in my life," said E. P. Orton, of New Orleans, according to the Washington Post, "I had the misfortune of being bitten by a rattlesnake. The first experience was when I was a child and the bite of the reptile came near killing me. The second time I suffered intense pain, but owing to the prompt application of remedies my life was not endangered."

"Now, as I have had more than my fair quota of contact with snakes, I no longer have any dread of a third experience, but to this day, whenever I encounter one by accident, say in a circus or in a zoo, the mere sight of it occasions me a feeling that is almost indescribable—a sensation of acute pain throughout my entire being and a shudder to my nerves that remains with me a long while. No sort of bribe could get me to voluntarily look at a snake."

Blacksmith Wanted His Forge Apron to Be Ready for Any Emergency.

In Sandown, N. H., there once resided a blacksmith, Timothy Canney, strong and healthy, never having been ill an hour during his manhood years. He was suddenly stricken with a fever. His wife, Mary, was frantic when he became delirious, relates the New York News.

The old village doctor being summoned, was asked, in a fearsome voice, "Is he very bad, doctor?" "He is very low; won't live the day out," he replied, and leaving some "drops," departed.

Soon after the doctor's departure "Tim" regained consciousness. The wife, kneeling by the bedside, thought of his future state. "Tim, dear," she inquired, "dye think ye'll go to heaven?"

"I hope so," he answered. "But, Mary, dear, would ye mind going to the forge and bringing me big leathern apron, and have it handy by me, in case there is any mistake."

"Tim" is somewhere in Maine wielding his hammer, as well as ever.
