At a depth of 45 feet water that flowed from the top of the casing, was discovered in the third test well sunk by the city in the Yonker's creek valley. The water appears to have considerable volume, but on this point definite information cannot be given until the well has been tested.

Last Saturday the steamers Holland and Puritan began their twice a day trips. The Holland now leaves every morning at 8:45 and the Puritan every evening at 9:30. The only boat that stops at Ottawa Beach is the Puritan on her return trip from Chicago.

Albert W. Hake, of Grand Rapids, who was a passenger on the steamer Naomi the night she burned in midlake off Grand Haven, is in possession of a souvenir of the event which he will always prize. The relic consists of what was once a handsome gold watch now burned and charred until hardly recognizable. The timepiece was left in the state room the night of the accident and according to the Grand Rapids Herald a few days ago a sailor appeared at a Grand Haven jewelry store and offered it for sale. The merchant bought the watch for $8. After he had bought the watch the jewelry examined it more closely and succeeded in finding Mr. Hake's name engraved on the case. Mr. Hake was notified and he lost no time in getting the watch. The hands of the watch showed that it had stopped at 3:30.

Speaker N. J. Whelan's boom for auditor general seems to be growing particularly in western Michigan. "Nick" is a mighty fine fellow and would make a good state official.—Allegan Press.

Grand Haven with perhaps 4,000 less population than Holland, had a larger graduation class than Holland and more eighth grade students will enter our high school next September than will go into Holland's high school.—Grand Haven Tribune.

Henry C. Burt, for many years employed as timber buyer for C. L. King & Co., died last week as the U. B. A. hospital in Grand Rapids. The deceased was 54 years of age and is survived by a wife and two children. The funeral took place Saturday at Grawn, Kent Co.

In ordinary years Ottawa county's strawberry crop would be entirely gone at this season of the year, but on account of the lateness of the season even the Bass River berry has not appeared on the market. The outlook is very poor for the berry crop this season.—Grand Haven Tribune.

The prevalence of measles in this city has caused the board of health to order a rigid adherence so the law in order to stamp out the disease. There are at present 23 cases on file with the health officer and although there are no serious cases among them, it is made compulsory that all cases be reported and isolation enforced.

The Christian school will close tomorrow and this evening the closing exercises will be held in the Fourteenth street Christian Reformed church at 7:30 o'clock. Four teachers, the Misses Maggie Rotschafer, Christine Holkeboer, Fannie Belt and Grace Veldman have entered the normal college at Kalamazoo for the summer term.

Holland will celebrate the Fourth. We have been informed by a resident of that city who seems to know that there will be a greased pig, greased pole, slippery people and all kinds of sports and the bands are in the conspiracy and will play Mephisto music. For particulars see John VanViven, with Myers music store.—Allegan News.

The management of the Electric Theater at Jenison park will during the resort season contribute to charitable work by donating the proceeds of Sunday performances to the Children's Home in Grand Rapids. The aim will be to make the Sunday shows of a nature that will appeal to those who are charitably inclined—for the larger the attendance the larger will be the assistance given for the benefit of the children. There will be the usual music at Jenison Park Sunday.

A number of local sportsmen are interested in the purchase of land for a shooting preserve and gun club on the Kalamazoo river. Land near the Daley bayou can be secured at a low price, and an effort will be made to get enough sportsmen to subscribe stock to raise the funds necessary to secure the land. M. VanderBei and others are interested. The land in question is near the Pottawattomie club where there are the best shooting grounds in the state.

Wednesday while I. H. Sanford was walking up Washington street he was accosted by a lady who recognized him as the man who had saved her from drowning at Highland Park twenty five years ago, and although she had not seen him since that time she recognized him at once. When questioned in regard to it Mr. Sanford said the lady was Anna Anike of Bay City, daughter of former state Auditor General Anike, and twenty five years ago they were spending the summer in this city. Although Highland Park was not known at that time the beach was used for bathing and on one occasion when a large company were in bathing Miss Anike was seen to go down and was being carried out by an undertow when Mr. Sanford rushed to her rescue and with great difficulty succeeded in bringing her to shore. She was unconscious but soon revived and to Mr. Sanford she gave credit for having saved her life. Grand Haven Tribune.

Kansas is calling for nearly 20,000 farm hands to bring in the harvest this fall.

Here is a fish story, but a true one. Last Sunday, over 1,000 fish, mostly blue gills, were caught with hooks and lines in Herlan lake, a mile northeast of town. Several parties caught strings of over 100.—Allegan Press.

Drenthe will celebrate the Fourth as usual. Many plans are being made. A program will be rendered. Luke Lugers, state senator, will be the speaker of the day. Principal H. K. Boer is again appointed president of the day.

Prof. John Springman of Allegan felt rather embarrassed the other day because he forgot to attend a big farwell reception given in his honor by the Epworth League. He didn't think of going and passed the evening with his intended bride. Mr. Springman was teacher in shorthand and typewriting here for several years past.

Some Saturday in the near future the Pere Marquette R. R. will run an excursion from Grand Rapids to New Richmond and the traffic manager of that road wants to arrange with yacht owners to carry 300 passengers from that place to Saugatuck and return. The river boat, A. R. Heathe, will be here for the occasion and other boats will be secured.

The little steamer Sylph is at the ship building yards of Johnston Bros. in Ferryberg undergoing repairs to her boiler. The Sylph was formerly the Ruth and was once owned by Ex President Grover Cleveland. The boat was named for his daughter, now deceased. The Sylph has for a number of years plied in and out of Montague in the small passenger business.

Congressman G. J. Diekema has received assurances from the light-house board at Washington that the old beacon light which has rendered service for many years at Holland harbor will be replaced by a stronger and better light. The present light is of the fifth order, with a range of nine miles. The new light will be a flashlight of the fourth order with a range of 15 miles, "Diek." is the boy that will get things for Holland.

Neal Ball, the fast pacer owned by Fred and John Boone won in straight heats the 2:20 pace at the short ship circuit meeting in Ionia recently. He was driven by John Boone. His fastest mile was paced in 2:27, lowering his mark 2 seconds, and taking him out of the 2:20 class. This was the first start made by the game little pacer this season, his fastest mile in his workouts being 2:32. Camille will make her first start at Port Huron week end next, and Blanche Fainnt, Montie Matred and Easter will join the Boone string later.

Last week a rather interesting episode was played in in Jamestown. Monday night neighbors who had seen a strange man enter Dr. Lantings barn late at night and leave again early in the morning, notified the physician of his strange tenant. Deputy Sheriff A. Garfield was notified by telephone and was soon on the spot. The barn was surrounded and watchers placed at a distance to make sure of the "supposed hobo's" capture. Forcing an entrance, the innocent cause of the excitement was found to be Fred Horton, a mason at the house of W. DeKerst, and well known here, who had lodged in the barn over night.

Former Senator W. D. Kelly, who represented the Ottawa-Muskegon district for four years, is dead. The funeral was held in Muskegon, his former home, Monday. Death occurred in the asylum at Steilacoom, Washington. Mr. Kelley has previously been for treatments at Ann Arbor, and was confined for a time in the asylum at Traverse City, but recovered temporarily. Late last summer Mr. and Mrs. Kelley went to Washington in the hope that Mr. Kelley might recover, or at least improve his health which had been shattered about a year before. The hope proved in vain, however, and about the middle of October the ex-senator suffered a stroke of apoplexy from which he never recovered. January 8 he was taken to the asylum at Steilacoom. Mr. Kelley was born at Ferrysburg, Ottawa county, Nov. 26, 1865.

Mr. Edward Van Lopik of Zeeland who has previously contributed generously to the Hope College museum, has recently presented the college with another large new collection. Mr. Van Lopik is greatly interested in collecting relics and curios and recently purchased a bible printed when the printing art was still in its infancy.

Landlord Burke of Hotel Holland announced today that the practice in vogue for years of sending mail for Chicago to the midnight train by the 'bus driver was discontinued. When the practice first came into existence but few letters were left at the hotel. The amount deposited every evening has now become so large that it is burdensome to the 'bus driver.

The street decorating committee wants volunteer to help decorate Eighth street on the day before the fourth. Carpenters and other willing workers are asked to donate their services, at least a dozen or fifteen men being needed. If you want to make Eighth and River streets look beautiful help out the committee. Those willing to help this good cause along should notify Bert Slagh, Benj. DuMez or other members of the committee, and be ready for work all day July 3.

Peter O. Kramer, a letter carrier, surprised his friends by being married in Detroit yesterday afternoon to Madge Hardy. Mr. Kramer entered the government service March 1 and was entitled to five days vacation before the first day of July. He quietly slipped out of the city Tuesday night and made no explanations. Miss Hardy was formerly a resident of this city, but for the last two years made her home in Detroit. The members of the post office force are planning a reception for them.

A few weeks ago, when the apples were in blossom, local growers were congratulating themselves on the best of prospects for an apple crop this season. However the cold wet weather at that time prevented the fertilizing of the blossoms and a number of the best orchards do not show prospects for over one-quarter of a crop or even less. The blossoms blasted, except where the trees were protected by adjoining forests or by the density of their own foliage. If fruit growers were of a pessimistic disposition, they would have reasons to feel blue this season. Nor is the Michigan fruit belt alone in the bouillon. All over the country the same discouraging reports are told.—Fennville Herald.

The plant of the Holland-Manistee Brick company, which was recently acquired by E. J. Herrick of Grand Rapids, and Manistee capitalists, is being entirely overhauled and equipped with new machinery and labor saving devices. The new management expects to begin operations in a few weeks with a 10-hour capacity of 20,000 bricks, requiring about 100 tons of sand. The plant is equipped with three presses having a combined capacity of 55,000 brick, but the limited capacity of the hardening chambers, sand driers and tube mill will reduce its daily output to one third. The sand hills adjoining the factory will furnish enough material for a six year run. As soon as the local plant is in operation the management will build a brick factory in Ionia, making the fourth of its kind owned by them in the state.

Confirmed Proof.

Residents of Holland Cannot Doubt What Has Been Twice Proved.

In gratitude for complete relief from aches and pains of bad backs—dozens have publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. Residents of Holland, who so testified years ago, now say their cures were permanent. This testimony doubly proves the worth of Doan's Kidney Pills to Holland kidney sufferers.

Mrs. M. Shoemaker, of 275 W. Thirteenth street Holland, Mich., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and can say that they are an excellent remedy for kidney trouble. My kidneys were in bad condition, the secretions irregular and unnatural, causing great distress and if allowed to stand would contain a thick sediment. My back ached constantly and I suffered from terrible headaches and frequent dizzy spells. I was becoming alarmed about my condition when a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a box. I used them carefully as directed and in a very short time was cured. I gave a statement to this effect on April 26, 1900 and I am very glad to confirm what I then said. I have appealed to their use on a few occasions since and they have always given the most satisfactory results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents; Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, Sole Agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's and take no other.

"I say you must come to Holland on the Fourth." The biggest ever.

Burial of the Poor.

They stopped to let a funeral procession go by. It is bad luck to cross one. "It's all right with the rich," said she, "but I have often wondered how the poor people manage to bury themselves. I don't know what I would do if I died. I couldn't rake up $300 for funeral expenses to save my life, and I don't know a blooming undertaker that I could have the cheek to stave off."

Broad Hint.

You Can Broil and Bake With the Same Burner

when you cook with that Twentieth Century Fuel—GAS. The one burner does double work at one and the same time. That shows one of the economical features of gas cookery. And there are others, equally as good.

By an ingenious arrangement bread can be baked in the upper part of oven, while meat is broiling most lusciously in the lower part. And there's room for four other articles on top.

LAW ROUGH ON CAMERA ARTISTS

Berlin, June 25.—The snapshot photographer in Germany is threatened with extinction after July 1, owing to the great risk he will run of being mulcted in heavy fines under the new act which goes into force on that date.

The right of all persons to the exclusive reproduction of their own portraits or those of their houses or belongings is, by the new enactment made absolute. There is danger ahead for the amateur or professional who snapshots someone or something without previously obtaining the necessary authorization. Prosecution and punishment may quickly follow. Even when requested by a friend to take a photograph of a room with its contents, which the owner may desire to use as a postcard, the danger is still great, for the room may contain pictures, and if these are recognizable in the photograph, the photographer is liable to prosecution by the artist.

THE COAT ON THE ARM.

Showing Importance of Making a "Front" in New York.

It is better to put on a stiff front and keep a stiff upper lip in this town than to have no front at all and bite your lip. It is not always the man who strolls down Broadway wearing a bland smile with a faded "mum" on the lapel of his coat and with his overcoat carelessly swung across his arm who dines at Del's or who owns a seat on "change" or who goes to Europe every year to buy pictures for his gallery. Sometimes a smile covers an empty stomach and an aching heart on the Great White Way. Through the midway of the great commercial artery between Herald Square and Longacre there stroll every day scores of men who carry their overcoats over one arm, regardless of temperature, simply because their "bennies" do not fit. The other day a portly chap who held a good place last season with a theatrical company strolled down Broadway. "Better slip on your coat," said a friend. "It's pretty cold, old man." "Oh, no, me boy," was the reply; "I'm not afraid of pneumonia. Besides," and his voice took on a confidential tone, "don't you see me boy, I've outgrown this coat by 40 pounds and could not get into it with a shoe horn. I can't afford a new one, but I don't like to have it thought that I don't own a coat, you know. My suit, you see, will stand scrutiny, so I wear a chest protector, and everybody thinks I'm so hardy. It's a great scheme." Then he swung off up Broadway, a picture of mystery.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

ALASKA'S GREAT FISH RIVER.

Nushagak the Basis of Important Canning Industry.

How many readers ever heard of the Nushagak river, asks the Youths Companion. Not many, it is safe to say. Yet the department of commerce and labor pronounces this river of western Alaska "one of the important fishing streams of the world." The fish which the Nushagak furnishes is salmon, the taking, canning, freezing and salting of which is an Alaskan industry, the importance of which is shown by a recent report issued by the department of commerce and labor. The first two canneries were built in 1878. Since then the number has increased until in 1902 there were 64 establishments, which put up more than 2,500,000 cases. Low prices since then have somewhat reduced both the number of canneries and the output; nevertheless, since canning began in Alaska, nearly 22,000,000 cases have been sent out. In order to provide some counterpoise to this tremendous drain the packers combined to start hatcheries. These have been carried on with important results and increasing success. In 1905 the United States bureau of fisheries took up the work, in addition to what had been done by the packers. There are now nine hatcheries, from which about 450,000,000 fry have been liberated.

Valuable Chairs.

The value of chairs is strictly relative. Enormous prices have been paid for chairs in recent years, notably the $100,000 for a set of half a dozen Louis XIV. chairs upholstered in Gobelins tapestry, originally made for Marie Antoinette. Even this price, however, was exceeded by sums paid for three of the Hamilton palace chairs, one of which brought $3,000. A most valuable and historical interesting suite of furniture is that which, more than a century ago, was presented by Warren Hastings to Tipoo Sahib, and which was purchased at the Londerborough sale for $5,000. The suite consisted of a card table and sofa, two small cabinets and four armchairs, all of solid ivory most exquisitely carved. But probably the most costly chair in the world is one of the treasures of the shah of Persia. It is of solid gold, thickly encrusted with diamonds, rubies, pearls and sapphires. Its value is estimated to be $2,500,000.

Hit Back.

Walking along a road in the remote west of Ireland, two tourists were passing one of the cottages, or, as they are better known in the country, "cabins," of the peasantry. This particular "cabin" was even a more than usually dilapidated specimen of its class, and the chimney, consisting mainly of the remains of an old top hat, presented a comical, if pathetic, appearance.

Tippling his friend a wink, one of the tourists accosted a youth who was sitting contentedly on a fence.

"I say my boy," he said, "does that chimney draw well?"

"Shure, thin, it does," was the prompt reply; "it draws the notice o' iverly fool that passes by!"

Not the New England Variety.

"O! they're real swell people," said the Chicago man; "an old 'Mayflower' family," I believe."

"You mean their ancestors came over in the Mayflower?" asked the visitor from the East.

"O! no. I mean they made their money in 'Mayflower Hams,' oldest brand o' hams in this section."

Succeeded.

Bacon—You say Grafton is a successful man?

Egbert—He certainly is.

Bacon—But I understand his business methods are questionable; why then call him a successful man?

Egbert—Because he's kept out of jail so far.

TENEMENT FALLS;
SEVEN LIVES LOST

SIX OF THE VICTIMS FROM ONE FAMILY

New York, June 26.—Seven persons, six of them members of one Italian family, were killed early Tuesday in the collapse of a ramshackle tenement in the downtown Italian quarter. Three other members of the same family, including the father and mother, are in a hospital, painfully injured.

Exciting scenes occurred after the accident. One was the rescue of an old man from a two-foot ledge 40 feet from the ground, a portion of the fallen building having adhered to the adjoining structure long enough to permit the firemen to get to the scene, raise a ladder and take the man, Jacob Reigler, to the ground.

Was Built Half a Century Ago.

The wrecked building was a four-story structure built long more than 50 years ago, and was at Walker and Lafayette streets. It belonged to the Moses Tyler estate, and for several days has been in a dangerous condition because of excavations for a new building on the adjoining premises. It had been shored up, but the constant rumbling of subway trains a block away was too much for it in its weakened condition, and it fell at two o'clock Friday morning. Most of the tenants, warned by the ominous creaking, fled from the building a few minutes before it collapsed.

Buried Under Tons of Debris.

The dead were buried under tons of debris, and it was not until firemen and volunteers had worked for four hours that their bodies were recovered. George Blumenthal, the contractor who had charge of the recent repairs on the building, was arrested, charged with homicide.

That many more persons did not lose their lives was due to the fact that two of the younger occupants of the house attended an Italian celebration Monday night. The boys reached home early Tuesday morning, and, warned by the severe shaking and creaking of the house, ran through the building and warned the sleeping tenants. Five minutes later scores of firemen were tearing away at the pile of bricks and broken timbers in the hope that some of the buried persons might be taken out alive.

Hear Moans and Find Man.

After a few minutes of tearing at the timbers and bricks the firemen heard a moan and in the dim light saw a man's hand. One of the men caught it and the man under the ruins murmured: "Save my sister." It was George Torchino. The firemen dragged away the rubbish in trying to free the young man.

Just then a watcher cried: "Look out boys, she's falling." The fragment of wall fell, but only Battalion Chief Galvin and Ladderman Samet were severely hurt. The others went back digging, in spite of their cuts and bruises. They thought that Torchino, the man they had nearly rescued, would be killed by the second fall of brick, but his life was saved. Part of the wooden roof that had remained on the wall fell directly over the hole which the firemen had opened to him, and the bricks and timbers rained harmlessly on this canopy. The firemen pulled it off and soon had Torchino out. A few moments later the firemen took out the father and mother.

OLD POST TO BE CLOSED.

Government to Abandon Fort Assiniboine, Mont., Constructed in 1877.

Washington, June 26.—Gradual "enjoyment" of the post is contemplated by the war department. This is one of the oldest posts in the United States, having been constructed in 1877, and is on the northwestern frontier, under the supervision of the commanding officer of the department of the Dakotas. Its greatest usefulness as an army post existed during the Indian campaigns. The department needs the men required to maintain the post, as many other barracks are only partly filled. As a preliminary step Capt. John J. Boniface of the Second cavalry was relieved yesterday of duty as constructing quartermaster at Fort Assiniboine and directed to turn over the property for which he is accountable to First Lieut. Howard G. Daniels.

Dismisses Two-Cent Fare Suits.

St. Louis, June 26.—It became known Tuesday that Attorney General Hadley Monday dismissed 16 suits instituted in the Circuit court recently against eight Missouri railroads to enforce the two-cent passenger rate fare and maximum freight rate laws. Dismissal of the suits was due to the agreements of the roads to obey the two-cent rate law for ninety days and because of the suits now pending in Kansas City, involving the maximum freight rate law.

CHINESE UPRISING GROWS

REFUGEES FLEEING FROM REBELS TO HONGKONG.

Plan of Latter Seemingly Is to Capture Canton—Civil and Military Officials Slain.

Victoria, B. C., June 26.—Refugees were fleeing to Hongkong from the districts affected by the revolution in south China when the steamer Empress of Japan, which has arrived here, left Hongkong. All reported the rebel movement as most pretentious, with an army organized after European methods. War notes, which the rebel leaders promised to redeem at twice face value after the fall of Canton, were being issued, proclamations posted, and everything carried out in form.

Most of the arms used are French quick-firing rifles and machine guns, smuggled in during the last three years by way of Amoy and Canton.

After capturing the towns on the way to Swatow, the rebel forces moved again northward, seemingly making toward Canton. Hulehou, on the Kowloon mainland opposite Hongkong, was captured, the imperial troops being badly worsted.

France is taking advantage of the outbreak to press for a French expedition being sent to Canton to protect that city. Peking officials are reported as strenuously opposing such a move.

Large quantities of supplies for the rebels are arriving at Hongkong in the names of foreigners.

Floddy incidents are reported. At Wanchow, near Swatow, where the civil and military officials were butchered, as in other cities taken, Yang, a customs official, was killed by the rebels, and their standard was sprinkled with his blood, as were some of the banners. Families of some of the officials were forced to drown themselves in wells.

Refugees were arriving at Hongkong in sad condition, many having abandoned everything, even sick and children, in their precipitate flight.

Outbreaks have been reported also from Hunan and Szechuan.

REPLY TO FUNSTON IN FRISCO.

Citizens Abandon Fourth of July Parade but Score General.

San Francisco, Cal., June 26.—The Fourth of July committee, after a two-hour session drafted a reply to Gen. Funston's intimation that United States troops would not be safe from insult in the streets of San Francisco. The general's offer of troops was declined because the idea of a parade had been abandoned.

The reply covered both the original letter from Gen. Funston, dated June 17, and a later communication sent Monday, in which the general explained at greater length his reasons for advising against the parading of troops. He declared that the expression "as yet unwhipped mob" was intended to apply to a certain lawless element in the community and not to the committee. He closed by offering troops for a parade on July 4, with the statement that it was up to the people of San Francisco to deal with any disorder that may occur.

The committee in its reply stated that it did not take the general's expression as a personal insult, but stigmatized as unjust the accusation that United States troops would be unsafe in San Francisco's streets.

Cannot Give Liquor Away.

Columbus, O., June 26.—The supreme court Tuesday made an important decision under the state liquor laws in the case of the state of Ohio against Linder, a case coming up from Erie county. Linder was prosecuted for operating a saloon in a dry township. In the trial the court charged the jury that liquor might be given away even in a dry territory though it could not be sold. The state took exceptions to this ruling and on this carried the case to the supreme court. The court in its decision sustained the exception.

Ninety Drowned in Steamer Wreck.

Santiago, Chile, June 26.—It is officially announced by the Pacific Steam Navigation company that only one passenger was aboard the Santiago, wrecked in a heavy squall 50 miles north of Corral, and he was drowned. The only survivor was the fourth officer. All the rest of the crew, numbering 90 and including 12 English officers, are said to have perished. On one boat was launched and it was dashed to pieces on the rocks after drifting for several days.

Bandit Robs Two Stages.

Fresno, Cal., June 26.—An unknown masked man halted two stages on the road between Summit and Grub Gulch and compelled the passengers, about 20 in number, to hand over whatever of money and jewelry they carried. One of the passengers was forced by the robber to pass the hat among his companions of the journey. The scene of the holdup is near where previous robberies of stages have occurred. A determined effort to capture the robber will be made.

Mrs. J. Wilbur Chapman Dead.

Warsaw, Ind., June 26.—Mrs. J. Wilbur Chapman, wife of the noted Presbyterian evangelist, died of blood poisoning early Tuesday. Two weeks ago one of her legs was amputated, at the Epworth hospital, at South Bend, and she had been in a serious condition since that time. She was 39 years old.

Should Attend Primaries.

The nomination of delegates to the constitutional convention in August, an election in September and the opening of the constitutional convention at Lansing in October, will just a little disturb the usual quiet in a political way of a Michigan off-year. It is to be expected, however, that the discussion of the proposed constitutional convention and its membership will possess little of the distracting or disturbing feature of a political campaign, and the further experience the August primary election will give in that direction should be made good use of in all sections of the state.

Michigan Crops Alright.

Regardless of earlier discouraging reports and expectations it now seems to be assumed that the oncoming fruit and grain crop of the United States as a whole will be above rather than below average. This seems to be especially true of Michigan. Every recent day of the present month has added to the hopes and expectations of the farmers and fruit growers of our state. If the present situation is not disturbed Michigan will be alright, and when Michigan is alright in crop-producing and fruit-yielding directions, a very important contribution to the solution of any problem for our entire country in such lines can be relied upon.

With the wine growers on a strike, France should "sober up."

The consolation in the fact that meat prices are to go higher is that it is too hot to eat it.

Postal receipts throughout the country are much larger than they were a year ago, which is equivalent to saying that business in general is unusually prosperous.

The United States government has full authority over rivers, and is not likely to permit them to be narrowed by railroad terminal dykes, even if cities can be induced to part with their wharf frontage.

Not many years ago the United States navy was so weak that Chil indulged in a bullying tone. The result was more warships for Uncle Sam. Japan's attitude in another part of the Pacific will have a similar effect.

Syndicate Must Come to the Front.

An important matter that was aired at the council meeting last Monday is the failure of the syndicate that owned Prospect Park addition to comply with its promise to deed what is known as the Laarman woods to the city for park purposes.

Aldermen Stephan, Cook and Van Oort were appointed to meet the members of the syndicate and see why a deed is not executed.

This beautiful spot could, with little expense to the city treasury, be converted into a splendid park. The residents in the southeastern part of the city are especially interested in this matter.

The resolution introduced by Alderman Stephan, providing for the appointment of a committee to investigate the cause of the dilatoriness on the part of the syndicate owner reads as follows:

"Whereas, certain parties owning the so-called Laarman woods in Prospect Park addition, have heretofore promised to deed to the city of Holland said woods for park purposes in consideration of certain acts performed by the city about two years ago, and

"Whereas, said syndicate has failed to fulfill its promise,

"Resolved, that the mayor appoint a committee of three aldermen to take up the matter with the parties composing the syndicate in question and to ascertain why the 'woods' has not been deeded to the city of Holland; and that said committee be instructed to report on the matter at the next regular meeting of the council.

Where Man Is Gallant.

In many foreign cities there is a marked absence of the gallantry that in this country habitually characterizes the attitude of men toward women. Eleanor Gates, a young American writer, who has traveled widely in the United States, says that deference toward her sex decreases with the increasing density of population. In sparsely settled regions of the west woman stands upon a plane tacitly superior. New York is the most ungallant city in the United States.

Common Council.

That Nineteenth street station again came in for attention at the hands of the council. A resolution was passed stating that the aldermen wanted to go on record as being exceedingly anxious to have the noise abated. One of the aldermen stated that he had dealing with a man who recently moved into the city and rented a house belonging to VanPutten. This man is looking for another place of residence as the noise is unbearable.

A building mover's license was granted to John Looman under the usual conditions.

The construction of a sidewalk along Sixth street from Columbia to Central avenue and on the west side of College avenue from Seventh to Sixth street was referred to the committee on sidewalks.

The proposition to grade and gravel First avenue from Sixteenth to Thirty-second streets was referred to the committee on streets together with the city attorney and city engineer.

H. S. Bush was granted a sidewalk builder's license.

Plans and estimates were ordered on the grading and graveling of Maple street from Sixteenth to Eighteenth and of Pine street from Sixteenth to Twentieth.

The usual grind of bills was allowed including those of the two supervisors for fixing the assessment rolls.

The poor committee reported $80 for the support of the poor for the past two weeks.

The board of public works was instructed to proceed with the laying of sewers in Central avenue from Nineteenth to Twenty-fourth streets.

State Railroad Commissioner Glasgow in a communication announced that he would be in Holland on June 27th and requested that a committee of the council meet him in order to inspect the railway crossings in the city.

At the session of the common council Monday evening, the aldermen started in earnest to investigate the cost of building a new city hall. Alderman Stephan was on hand with a resolution, calling for the appointment of a committee of three to investigate the cost of building a good substantial home for the city's executive offices. The committee appointed is composed of Alderman Prskken, Damstra, and Stephan. The need of a permanent home the extensive interests of the growing city of Holland has been agitated for years. It seems now as though some tangible results might be expected at a date not far in the future. All progressive citizens hope that the city fathers may see their way clear to erect a city hall that will be an ornament to the city.

The lease the city has on the rooms in the Vander Veen block expires in two years and the council considers it is high time to take steps in the direction of providing new quarters.

There is considerable detail in connection with the work of providing a city hall. Plans will have to be drafted, bonds will have to be voted, and most important question of all, the question of size will have to be decided, all of which will consume time, and two years is not considered more time than will be needed to settle the several propositions.

The question of size is a vital one. No one can foretell the size Holland will obtain in ten years, or 20 years and the new building must be of sufficient size to serve the needs of the city for years, and not so large as to be a burden on the taxpayers at the present time.

A special committee consisting of the aldermen of the second ward reported recommending that the Kinsella Glass Co. be notified to abate the smoke nuisance caused by them within 30 days from date of notice so to do, and recommended further that the committee on ordinances be instructed to prepare ordinance relative to smoke nuisance. Adopted.

The city engineer was instructed to draw up plans for a re-enforced concrete culvert, to be built under the sidewalk, and to estimate the cost of the work. A rough estimate would seem to place the cost at about $2,500. When ready, it certainly would improve the appearance of that part of River street and safe guard the city against damage suits resulting from accidents.

The fourth ward aldermen were dissatisfied with the blocking of Harrison avenue, between Twelfth and Sixteenth streets by cars, lumber, machinery, etc., and the committee on streets and crosswalks was requested to see to it that the street was opened and also to look up the matter of grading and graveling that part of Harrison avenue.

Because they are a nuisance and unsightly and dangerous to pedestrians the street commissioner was ordered to remove all dead limbs and dead trees within twenty-five feet of a public street. During every severe wind storm the walks and streets in some parts of the city are littered with fallen branches and occasionally a dead poplar falls across the walk, and part of the street, and it is proposed to prevent this as much as possible.

Austin Garvelink Drowns.

Austin Garvelink, the 14-year old son of Irving Garvelink, was drowned near Tubergen's bridge over a branch of the Kalamazoo river, three miles south of this city, Saturday afternoon. In company with seven companions, he started out for a swim and sank suddenly, presumably having stepped into a hole.

It has been stated that all but two of his companions became frightened and made no attempt to rescue him, but ran to a neighboring farm house and gave the alarm. The body was recovered a short time later. Coroner Mabbs conducted an inquest in the case of the drowning of Austin Garvelink, which occurred Saturday afternoon. Although the jury returned a verdict of accidental drowning it is believed that the boy's life could have been saved one of the farmers who arrived upon the scene 10 or 15 minutes later volunteered to jump into the creek to undertake the work of rescue. Willie Kuhlman and Simon Holkeboer, two of Austin's companions, tried to save him but latter almost lost his life in the heroic attempt.

The funeral was held from the home yesterday afternoon, Revs. John M. Vander Meulen and A. T. Luther officiating. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kooyers sang several appropriate hymns. Many friend and relatives gathered in the home, and the yard was full of friends of the boy. The casket and grave were covered with flowers sent by the sympathizing friends of the family, which feels this bereavement keenly. The lad's father, I. H. Garvelink, will remain here until Tuesday, when he returns to Englewood, La.

THE WATCH CAME BACK.

"Having his watch stolen from him and offered for sale back to him in an hour was what happened to a friend of mine the other day when crowds gathered at the newspaper bulletin boards waiting for news of the Thaw jury," said a citizen to a New York Sun reporter. "It happened this way: 'An old friend of mine was standing among others waiting for news of the Thaw jury when suddenly he felt a twitch at his watch pocket and his watch was gone. Not being sure of his ground he kept his loss to himself and walked away from the crowd.

"After transacting a little business in the neighborhood he turned toward home. Remembering that he needed a drink he stepped into a saloon.

"He was in the midst of his story, telling the sympathetic bartender of his experience, with his back to the door, when a voice back of him broke into the conversation, ordered a drink and asked the drink mixer if he had any use for a watch, mentioning the fact that there was one to be had cheap.

"The bartender, having my friend in mind, asked to see the watch and turned it over to my friend, who immediately recognized it as his. Turning around he inquired how much he asked for the timepiece. The thief recognized his late victim and made a bolt for the door, taking good care to leave the watch behind.

"Now being of a peaceful disposition my friend let the matter go at that. Can you beat it?"

ALMOST TOO HONEST.

Methodist Preacher Sends Back Part of Damage Money He Did Not Use.

"Yes," said the railway claims agent, "we come across queer things sometimes. The queerest thing in my experience was the case of a Methodist minister. How honest those Methodists are—the most honest of all sects.

"This man was hurt in a rear-end collision, and we gave him $5,000 damages. At the end of a year we got a letter from him that ran something like this:

"My salary is $2,000, and the accident caused me to lose it for a twelvemonth. My medical expenses were $750. My board at a mountain sanatorium for six months was $850. Other expenses due to this accident were, in round numbers, $1,000. Total, $4,600. You gave me $5,000. Now I am back in the pulpit again, as well and strong as ever, and I have $400 of your money on my hands. Not being entitled to that sum, I do what any other Methodist minister would do in my place—I return the money to you as per check enclosed."

"How was that for honesty?" said the claims agent. "The Methodists are a wonderful lot. We sent the $400 back to this honest minister, and he gave it to charity in our name."

Notes of Sport.

The All Stars defeated the Holland Furniture team in two games played last Saturday at the 17th street grounds, the first score being 27 to 7 and the second 17 to 8. The All Stars are naturally elated over their victory and challenge any team in the city to a game, communications to be addressed to Tony VanderBei, 129 West Sixteenth street. In the first game the battery for the All Stars was Steffens and Emmak. The furniture workers had three pitchers in the box—VerHowe, A. Prins and P. Prins and VerWerne was catcher. In the second game the All Stars had Kuhlman and Steffens in the points, while VerHowe, Van derHugie and H. Prins alternated as pitchers for the furniture men while Emmak caught.

Bad weather spoiled the game between Holland and Hudsonville Saturday.

For the first time this year Fennville met defeat at the hands of the fast Independent team of Holland. The game was fast and full of vigor and not until the seventh inning was the victory landed when a long drive in the right field by Knutson allowed Shaw to cross the home plate making the score 3 to 2 in favor of the Independents. The features were Shaw's fast fielding and a running, one hand catch by Fennville's left fielder.

Batteries: Independents—Woldring and Te Roller.

Fennville—Arnold, Morse and Pettit.

Fairbanks Finds Old Relics.

While searching for Indian relics in the hills three miles south of the city, Eugene Fairbanks and Ernest Kleis found in one pile 100 perfect heads, besides a number of broken ones. They were partly covered with sand, and nearby was a blackened spot in the sand where the "Mound Builders," (or some prehistoric people which made them) had their camp fires for ages, as the sand was black for a number of feet deep.

They also found irregular tubes of melted sand, probably caused by lightning striking in the sand hills and a lead bullet about one-half ounce in weight, flattened and covered with a substance that made it look like stone.

Mr. Fairbanks has searched the hills for arrow heads and relics for a number of years and has found some nice specimens, but considers this a most lucky find.

Think Well of Him Abroad as

Well as at Home

Grand Rapids Herald: Speaker Whelan returns to his home after the close of a long legislature session bearing the very highest praise for his success as presiding officer of the house of representatives.

Able, alert, painstaking, considerate, modest, loyal—he deserves all the credit which is rightfully due him.

The position of presiding officer over a large deliberative body is no sinecure. Mr. Whelan's experience as a member of the house of representatives during several terms and speaker pro tempore during a portion of the time—especially fitted him for the work he has recently performed, and it must be a source of great gratification to him to feel that he has the good will and friendship of every member of the legislature and enjoys the respect and confidence of the people of the state of Michigan.

Many of the most important acts of the session were the result of his advice and assistance, and his friends at home should be very proud of the brilliant record he has made.

Distribute Year Books.

The year books of the Woman's Literary club, are being distributed to members.

The year book shows a membership of 87, there being 46 active and 41 associate members, the active membership being unusually large, and there will be more members added during the summer.

Germany will again be the subject of study, one year being regarded as insufficient to cover the most interesting points of history, and the program for each week indicates that the board has arranged for some very interesting papers and readings and excellent music.

There will be but one program out of the ordinary. October 29 Dr. J. W. Beardslee will give a stereopticon lecture on Germany, which he recently visited. The annual banquet will be held June 4, and the annual meeting March 3.

Nothing Else to Shake.

As he glanced at the note telling him that his wife had gone home to her mother a convulsive sob shook his frame. And that was all there was of him for the convulsive sob to shake, inasmuch as he was the living skeleton in a fine museum.

Board of Supervisors Will Decide.

Preliminary to the opening of the Shimmel examination in the court house Monday morning there was a lively tilt between Charles Christmas, court house janitor and custodian, and all interested in the trial. Mr. Christmas objected to the examination going on in the court room on the ground that he had orders from the board of supervisors against proceedings of the kind being held there. Attorney W. I. Lillie of the prosecution and Mr. Christmas had a verbal duel that emptied the court house officers and the sheriff's force in the meantime tried to get permission of Chairman Harrison Averill of Coopersville to use the room. In the end the officers and prisoner took possession of the court room and the hearing proceeded. The board at its next session will probably be asked to definitely decide just what meetings can be held in the court room.

Celebrate Golden Wedding

Last Thursday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Wentzell celebrated their golden wedding at their home, on and one-half miles east of Zeeland. Mr. and Mrs. Wentzell, after eight weeks of married life, came to this country from Aud-broek, province of Gelderland, Netherlands, Oct. 15, 1857 and settled in Michigan. With the exception of but a single year they have always resided at the "old homestead on the hill." Mr. Wentzell can clearly remember the time when this part of the country was crowded with forests where now it is recognized as one of the best farming communities in the state.

He was a maker of wooden shoes but in later years when that ancient relic passed from style to souvenir, he laid aside that work and devoted his time to farming. He cast his first presidential vote for Abraham Lincoln and has always been a staunch republican.

A sumptuous supper was served under a large canvas on the lawn and during the course of the supper some very fitting remarks were made by the Rev. J. P. DeJong of Zeeland and M. Duyser, sr., of Grand Rapids.

Of their children eight are still living, Mrs. J. Wissink, Mrs. J. VanHoven, Mrs. P. Wyngarden, Mrs. J. B. Mulder, Mrs. R. Van Heuvelen, Mrs. Gerrit Ter Vree, all of Zeeland and vicinity; Mrs. F. Schermer of Holland and an only son, J. Harry Wentzell of Grand Rapids.

One hundred guests were present including relatives, neighbors and friends, and many costly presents were received.

Mr. and Mrs. Wentzell are now 79 and 75 years old respectively and are enjoying good health.

How It Happened.

Unaccounted ages ago, while the Egyptian sphinx was young and tender, there came a season much like this one.

The day being unusually warm, with a promise of warmer days to come, the sphinx changed her garments and put on lighter ones.

Within a few minutes the weather became 40 degrees colder.

The sphinx sneezed with great violence, and her nose dropped off.

Petrified with astonishment, she remained rooted to the spot.

And has remained there ever since.—Chicago Tribune.

Not a Trouble.

CAUSE OF CERTAIN DREAMS.

Each Type Has Its Origin in Matters Purely Physical.

"Every dream, like every laugh or tear, has its cause," said the psychologist. "Every well-known type of dream has a cause equally well known. 'You dream, for instance, that you are in church, or at the theater, or on the street, with hardly any clothes on you, and you nearly die of shame. The bed coverings falling off is the cause of this dream."

"You dream that a dog has bitten you or an enemy has given you a stab with a knife. Some slight pain—a cramp, a touch of rheumatism—is behind all such dreams."

"Numerable persons dream of flying. Time and time again they dream this dream. It is because the respiration of sleep, the great, deep, billowy breaths, rising and falling rhythmically, are so akin to flying that they bring visions of it to the sleeper's mind."

"An uncomfortable position in the bed causes dreams of painful effort, of unendurably hard work, like mountain climbing or the lifting of heavy weights."

"I say nothing of the mental causes of dreams, since we all know well enough that the things we talk or think about awake are apt to be talked and thought about that night in sleep."

INNS OF OLD ENGLAND.

Fruitful and Interesting Fields of Study for Traveler Abroad.

Those who learn history from stones, those who travel to read the long account of races and nations in the time-scarred buildings of the past, will find in old inns one quality possessed in the same degree by no other remains of antiquity. They will find broad human nature.

Cathedrals will give you the history of the priest, castles and manors the story of the nobles, and cities the record of the guildsman and merchant. But it is at the wayside inn that all meet together. It is there, at the comfortable hostelry, that each, for a time, throws aside his calling and jostles with his neighbor as a wayfarer.

Inns have never been renowned for stiff-neckedness. It has ever been their pride to hold out welcoming arms to all who can pay their way, whatever their character or creed, and, indeed, they must run the risk of being cheated by those who have not a groat. They must find a room for the king, if need be, and a shelter for the polite stranger who nightly cuts purses on the king's highway.

The runaway couple must be worthily refreshed, while their smoking horses are led into the galleried courtyard, and within an hour mine host must screw up his face for a welcome to those who post in hot pursuit.—Inns and Out.

Change of Scene for Holiday.

Too many people bear their tiring burden with them when they go away for rest. There must be a change of thought as well as scene. For the farmer there's nothing better than a glimpse of city life. But the city man should shun the summer resort. And that is where he is usually found. He has no plan about his vacation. Get away from the crowd. Get back to nature. Live in the open. Sleep in the open if you can. Make friends with the birds and trees and flowers. Rub up against rural nature and see what enlightenment will spring from it. Get the views of people who look at life clearly and frankly and at new angles. Get sunburned, get freckled, get tired and then get rested again.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Long in Public Life.

Wright, of Tennessee, now an attorney in the general land office, at Washington, who was 80 years old in June, has been connected with public life for a greater period than any other living American. Odious Comparisons.

"The money that built this library," said the person who is inclined to be fanatical, "is tainted."

"May be so," answered the literary individual, "but if it keeps all the modern fiction on its shelves the money couldn't be nearly as bad as some of the books."—Washington Star.

New Style of Paper.

"Right in the middle of a story, my paper gave out," said a newspaper woman, "and I sent in haste to the local stationer's around the corner. I wrote a note as follows: 'Please send a pad of yellow paper, 8x10, unlined preferable.'"

The maid brought back the pad, on the wrapping of which the proprietor had written: "Hope this will do. It is yellow and unlined, but we are all out of preferable."

KIDNAPED BOY FOUND SLAIN IN A SWAMP

HEADLESS BODY OF WALTER LAMANA, OF NEW ORLEANS, IS RECOVERED.

Suspect Tells of Crime—Says Italians Who Stole Lad Became Frightened and Strangled Him—Threats of Lynching Heard.

New Orleans, June 24.—Two miles in the interior of a big swamp near this city the headless body of Walter Lamana, an Italian child between seven and eight years old, who was kidnaped and held for $6,000 ransom two weeks ago, was found by police and vigilantes just before daybreak Sunday. He had been strangled to death, according to the confession of one of several Italians held by the police.

The boy's neck is supposed to have been broken when he was strangled, causing the head to become separated from the body when decomposition set in. The head was found a short distance from the body.

Police Protect Prisoners.

Five Italians, two of them women, are under arrest charged with being accomplices to the murder, and extra details of police and deputies are maintaining order in the excited Italian quarter of the city.

Seldom since the Mafia lynchings 16 years ago has New Orleans been so stirred with threats of violence and some of these threats are made by those who participated in the disorders at that time. The law and order element is much stronger than it has been heretofore, a large number of leading citizens having pledged themselves to prevent violence.

Italian Tells of the Crime.

The murdered boy was found near St. Rose, about 20 miles from New Orleans. A sweating process wrung a confession from one of the Italian suspects who was taken from his home in St. Rose about midnight Saturday night and carried into the woods by a combined force of officials and vigilantes who had the search in charge. This man, Ignazio Campicigiano, was kept in the woods an hour, when he confessed, charging four Italians with the murder. He said that about the time of a mass meeting in New Orleans more than a week ago, held for the purpose of prosecuting search for the boy, these men, who were in a vacant house in St. Rose, became frightened and consulted about what to do with the child.

The boy was crying, begging to be taken home to his parents, said Campicigiano, and one of the quartette of kidnapers grabbed the child and strangled him to death to stop his noise. Later two of the kidnapers, he said, came to him, carrying the body in a blanket, and after threatening him with death if he told, took the body into a swamp.

Leads Police to Body.

Campicigiano, after relating this story, led the police through two miles of swamp where the searchers sometimes waded in water nearly waist deep and at others crawled under tangles of briars. In the shallow pool at the end of this search the body was found in the blanket in a clump of cane.

Returning to the city, the police arrested Nicolina Gebbia, an Italian woman, who is alleged to have confessed that she knew of the kidnaping plot from the first from one of the four kidnapers whom she expected to marry.

MEDALS FOR TWO HEROES.

President Roosevelt Decorates Men for Railroad Life Saving.

Mr. Arms' heroic exploit was saving the lives of Mail Clerks J. G. Martin and Thomas A. Frazier and Baggage-man Robert L. Morris, whose train on the Louisville & Nashville railroad plunged through the draw bridge over the Cumberland river at Clarksville, 50 feet down into the stream, which was at flood stage. The three victims clung to the top of the partially submerged cars which were being swept down the river. At first none dared go to their aid, but Arms, who was confined to his bed with malarial fever, learned, of the accident, and, partially clad, rushed to the river bank and appealed to bystanders to go with him in a boat to rescue the men. He finally pushed off alone, took off the "impaired trio and safely landed them.

George saved the life of a Polish lad whose foot had become fastened in a railroad frog at Parsons. Unable otherwise to extricate the boy's foot, he seized the boy's body, bent it down outside the rail and forced the imprisoned leg under the engine cylinder oil boxes and steps on cars. They escaped uninjured except for the boy's badly sprained foot and leg and slight bruises sustained by George.

Epilepsy Fits St. Vitus Dance

Are nerve diseases, and unless checked, lead to destruction of both mind and body. The weak, shattered nerves must have something to strengthen and build them back to health. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is a remarkable nerve tonic and stimulant. It strengthens the nerves, relieves the nervous strain, and influences refreshing body-building sleep and rest. Persistent use seldom fails to relieve these afflictions.

"I was taken with epileptic fits; had eleven in less than 12 hours. My father sent for our family physician, but he could do very little for me, and I grew worse every day, and at last I had three doctors with me, and I still got worse. My father heard of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and bought a bottle of Nervine and a box of Nerve and Liver Pills. I had taken only a few doses until I began to feel better. I took 12 bottles, and it cured me sound and well. It has been worth all the world to me. I recommend it wherever I go. A MUSICAL ATTACHMENT

By GERTIE De S. WEBSTER
(Told in Two Soliloquies, a Conversation and Two Letters.)

(Copyright, 1905, by Joseph B. Bowles.)

She (to her needle)—There's nothing more annoying than being a woman, unless it is the fact that leap year comes so seldom, and you've been too well brought up to make use of it when it does turn up.

It seems so absurd for me to be living in one flat with a chaperon, while Mark inhabits another below with an elderly housekeeper. What a saving of expense it would be to dismiss the chaperon and the housekeeper, and to have one flat between us!—not to mention the advantages of companionship he would gain by such an arrangement.

I can't understand why he doesn't propose to me. I am sure he loves me—I can see it in his eyes, and you can never mistake a man's eyes—that is if they are dark ones like Mark's, with two rings round the pupil.

He's got plenty of money, for, besides his profession, which must bring him in an awful lot (he is singing somewhere every night), I know he has a private income. We are so well suited to each other in every way except one, of course, but of my deficiency in that respect he knows nothing, for that (pointing to something near the piano) keeps up my little deception for me.

However, that piece of pretense, of which I am heartily ashamed now, seems no good. . . . It serves me right for spending $250 just for the purpose of making a man in a flat below think that I was a desirable wife for a professional singer. Bah! I'll sell it. It must strike him as very strange that, calling so often as he does, he is never shown into my boudoir—I always tell him it's too untidy to be seen.

Oh, dear, if, as Cornelle says: "Deceit is a game played only by small minds," how very infinitesimal my brain must be! Well, it's no good stopping at home doing needlework that is absolutely useless, just with the hope that a laggard wooer may call. I'm going out, and I'll put an advertisement in the Exchange column of Woman's Wisdom, and see if any misguided person will take that (pointing near piano) and give me a Persian kitten and a sealskin cape for it. (Exit.)

He (to his pipe)—Blow it! I don't allude to my sentiments regarding circumstances and fate. How much sweeter you would taste, my friend, if you had been filled by her dainty fingers and if she were sitting opposite to me there ready to enlighten you if you went out—a contretemps which I fancy might often occur if she and I were together alone.

Pah! What's the good of day-dreaming? It can never be. How could I marry a woman who would be always using the piano when I wanted to practice? I could not ask her to give it up, because playing like hers could have only been acquired by years of indefatigable study. It's true I've only heard it through a ceiling and a floor, but those seem merely to act as resonators and to accentuate the marvelous distinctness and liquid purity of each run and trill.

Paula's practicing is of a very unusual order, and her repertoire peculiarly circumscribed. She never attacks scales or any technical exercises, but only plays seven pieces, which strikes me as being a strange and heterogeneous selection. "Rhapsodie," of Liszt; the "Jolly Monk Polka," Beethoven's "Funeral March," "La Czarine," a "Ballade" of Chopin, "Maise" is a Daisy, and a Bach "Fugue." I can't understand it, but all I know is that this accomplishment of hers must stand between us and our happiness.

I may be a conceited fool to say "our," but I can't help thinking somehow that she cares—there is a certain curve at the corner of her mouth when she smiles, and you can never mistake the meaning of a woman's smile when she has dimples.

Perhaps she would give it up? Ah! no, I couldn't be such a brute as to ask her, and even if she did, I should know that after we were married her little heart and fingers were yearning after the "Polka" or the "Fugue," and that she was thinking of all she had renounced for the sake of being tied to a long-haired professional singer.

And then, again, she might want to accompany me, which would inevitably lead to quarrels (I have never yet been friendly with an accompanist for more than a month), so I must renounce my dream of woman's love, and art must forever be my mistress. I'll just go and call at No. 2 for the last time, though as the infernal piano is quiet it is probable she may be out. However, I'll try my luck, and after that, my friend, you and I must grow old and seasoned alone together (puts down pipe and exits).

He (to the maid who opened the door at No. 2)—Is Miss Penlyn at home?

Maid—No, sir; she is out.

He—Oh—er—I'm sorry. . . . At what time do you expect her to return?

Maid—She didn't say, sir.

He—Thanks. You might mention I called, and—(sounds of a Bach "Fugue" steal on the air)—why, Mary, I fear you have made an error in saying that Miss Penlyn is out.

Maid—No, I've not, sir.

He—But I can hear her playing.

Maid—Beg pardon, sir, but you can't.

ASLEEP WHEN HE KILLED

STRANGE STORY OF AN ITALIAN WHO SLEW MAN ON A TRAIN.

Dreamed He Was Being Robbed, and Awoke to Find Himself Shooting.

Goodland, Kan., June 24.—John Bello, the Italian who killed a man and wounded two women passengers on a Rock Island train east of here, told, through an interpreter, the story of the shooting. Bello asserted that he committed the murder in his sleep as the result of a dream. His story, dramatically told, with many and almost tearful protestations of honesty, follows:

"My wife and children and Patsy Leganbradt and his wife and children lived in Genoa. We decided to come to the new world and grow rich, as we heard it was easy to do. We landed in Boston from the White Star liner Cymric a few days ago and took a train for the west. We were on the way to California.

"We were in a strange land among people whose language we could not understand. I had been nervous from the time I left home. Last night I went to sleep in my seat and I had a terrible dream. I dreamed that a man with a white handkerchief over his face had me by the throat and was trying to rob me. I fought with all my strength. Finally I managed to throw my assailant off. The robber turned to run. I had a revolver in my pocket, and I seized it and began to shoot.

"All of this was in my sleep. The report of the weapon awakened me, and I found myself on my feet with the pistol in my hand, shooting right and left. God knows I did not mean to kill anyone. It was all a terrible dream."

Carl V. Topp, the tailor, who was killed by the Italian, was asleep in his seat with a white handkerchief over his face.

Bello is in the county jail here. He sits rocking to and fro with his face in his hands muttering in Italian.

Seven-Year-Old Boy Accused of Burning Two Houses.

Parkersburg, W. Va., June 24.—Clyde Glidden, aged seven years, has been arrested and placed in jail on a charge of incendiarism, it being alleged that he burned two houses a week ago. The houses were occupied and the families barely escaped with their lives. The penalty for the crime of which the boy is charged in this state is death unless the jury recommends mercy, and then it is life imprisonment. J. D. Cutlip, owner of the destroyed houses, alleges that young Glidden burned them because he had been ordered to stay out of Cutlip's garden.

MEDICINE LODGE, KAN., IS DAMAGED SEVERELY BY WIND.

Six Persons Hurt, One Missing—Storm Kills Man and Three Horses at Kalamazoo.

Medicine Lodge, Kan., June 25.—Three distinct tornadoes struck Medicine Lodge Sunday night, destroying 25 houses in the northern part of the town. Six persons were injured seriously and one is missing.

Several persons are reported injured and much damage was done to property in the path of the tornadoes in the surrounding country. A Mrs. Bell, an aged woman, is missing at Medicine Lodge.

The first tornado struck Medicine Lodge, which has a population of about 1,000, shortly after seven o'clock in the evening, destroying telephone and telegraph wires. Later two other storms struck the town, completing the damage done by the first. The third storm appeared shortly before midnight. All three came from the northwest and were accompanied by a terrific fall of rain and hail, which damaged crops.

Mrs. Lyle is the most seriously injured person. While seeking shelter she was blown into a tree, from which she was rescued in an unconscious condition.

Chicago May Feel Wire Strike Next. Chicago, June 25.—Announcement by President S. J. Small of the Commercial Telegraphers' union that a spread of the big wire strike is imminent caused uneasiness in Chicago Monday.

According to local union officials, Chicago is the next logical point of calling of the next walkout unless the Western Union officials in New York agree to reinstate the nine operators alleged by the union to have been discharged because of the union affiliations.

President Small announced in San Francisco Monday that he has not issued orders for a strike at El Paso, Tex., and that he is not contemplating doing so.

"The next strike," he said, "will be in a larger commercial center, and will completely tie up the service of both companies."

Nine Men Not Reinstated. New York, June 25.—The nine telegraphers who assert that they were dismissed by the Western Union Telegraph company because of their affiliation with the telegraphers' union, and whose demand for reinstatement figured in the recent trouble between the company and the telegraphers, have not been reemployed. The nine went to the company's office in a body Monday and applied for their old positions, calling attention to the letter written by President Clowry to Commissioner of Labor Neill a few days ago. In this letter President Clowry said that any operator who had been discharged for no other reason than membership in a union would be given his old position.

Upon returning to the union headquarters the nine operators reported that they were told at the Western Union office that in view of the strike order in San Francisco the company does not feel itself bound by the statements in President Clowry's letter to Commissioner Neill. General Manager Barclay of the Western Union, however, said that this was not the case. He said the applicants for reinstatement were informed that their cases would be taken up individually and given consideration.

Statement by Small.

San Francisco, June 24.—Everything was quiet in the telegraphers' strike Sunday. Samuel J. Small, president of the Commercial Telegraphers' union, said:

"The real fight will begin Monday, when the early week rush of business is on. The out of town managers and chief operators who can be induced to take the places of the strikers will have arrived in the city by Monday or Tuesday, but should they go to work the companies, with the additional force, will be in a worse predicament than they were Friday and Saturday, days on which telegraph business is light."

"Our reports from various points show that the tie-up is complete. Los Angeles was 1,500 messages behind at midnight Saturday; from Portland comes the report that there is a blockade of business on the northern route."

Yankton Banker in Prison. Leavenworth, Kan., June 25.—Chas. C. King, a banker of Yankton, S. D., was brought to the United States penitentiary here to serve five years for violation of the banking laws.

HAYWOOD'S DEFENSE STATED BY DARROW

GENERAL DENIAL OF MUCH OF ORCHARD'S CONFESSION WILL BE MADE.

No Murder Conspiracy—Mine Owners Accused of Plot and Minor Crimes—Explanation of Draft Sent to Simpkins.

Boise, Idaho, June 25.—In an address that occupied two sessions of the district court Monday, Clarence Darrow, of Chicago, outlined to the jury the defense of William D. Haywood to the charge that he murdered former Gov. Steunenberg. In broad description, it is to be a denial of every material count in the testimony of Orchard, with a showing that Orchard killed Steunenberg because of a private grudge borne by the loss of a rich share in the great Hercules mine, and explanations of the independent circumstances that tend to connect three co-defendants with Orchard's life and operations.

Haywood will take the stand to make a personal denial of Orchard's accusations; Moyer may be called to testify solely to events and circumstances affecting the Western Federation of Miners; but Pettibone will not be a witness in this case. Mr. Darrow explained that Moyer and Pettibone must stand trial for this same crime, and declared that every lawyer knew the danger, whatever the circumstances, of exposing men awaiting trial under like circumstances.

Denies Alleged Conspiracy.

Mr. Darrow denied the existence of the great conspiracy to murder alleged by the state with Orchard's testimony as a basis; denied that the federation was anything but an earnest fighting labor organization with higher wages, shorter hours, tolerable working conditions and the care and safety and education of its members and their wives and children as its high and only motives; denied the intimacy with the three co-defendants that Orchard laid claim to; denied the several conferences and conversations that Orchard swore to; denied that Orchard had even committed many of the crimes he had boasted of, and promised to make proof of his contentions with many of the men named by Orchard when on the stand, and many witnesses of creditable character not connected by any tie with the federation or its leader.

Mr. Darrow charged that agents of the Mine Owners' association of Colorado and the Pinkerton detectives had joined hands in a conspiracy to discredit and destroy the Western Federation of Miners. Agents of the mine owners had, he asserted, committed many minor crimes to discredit the federation, and he promised that the defense would show that it was a reasonable inference that they had engineered the independence depot outrage as an "attempt" that had miscarried into a tragedy. He asserted that this trial was the culmination of the conspiracy to kill the organization by killing the leaders; that the organization and not "Bill" Haywood was on trial, and that Harry Orchard, under the manipulation of Detective McParland was trying to kill Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone that he might save his own life.

Explains the $100 Draft.

In explanation of the draft for $100 which Haywood sent to Jack Simpkins on December 21, 1905, Mr. Darrow promised that the defense would show that Simpkins had an expense account of $223 against the federation, and that after Simpkins himself had cashed the check for that amount in Denver he gave $100 to Haywood with the request that he mail the amount to him at his home in Spokane.

Of the personal relations between Orchard and Pettibone, Mr. Darrow declared that anyone could make friends with Pettibone, and that Pettibone had fed Orchard as he would "any other dog." As to their financial relations, Mr. Darrow said that when Orchard left Denver for Wyoming he gave Pettibone his money, his Masonic badge and other trinkets, and some papers for safe keeping. From time to time Pettibone forwarded parts of the money to him as he requested.

The registered package that went to San Francisco contained the Masonic pin, trinkets and papers and the money that Pettibone sent to Orchard at San Francisco was sent in a manner and under assumed names that Orchard had directed and suggested in a telegram he sent to Pettibone. Use of assumed names, counsel declared, was a common practice among the union miners of Colorado, made a stern necessity by the blacklisting of union miners who, he declared, had been abused, hounded, denied justice and driven from the state.

On Sunday morning trouble was again experienced and between 9:48 and 12:48 there were no trains moving on the electric. The Interurban management finally got steam up at their own plant at Fruitport and got the cars to moving—Grand Haven Tribune.

St. Joseph Press: St. Joseph has raised its usual sum with which to provide for a celebration here July 5th and while the $500 or so raised here seems like a big sum, it is mere bagatelle beside the amount raised by the city of Holland for the same object. The business men of that city appointed a committee and the committee made the rounds. When they found time to count up the cash they discovered that over thirteen hundred dollars had been collected. With this amount the city intends to provide a celebration which will be a celebration, streets will be decorated profusely, business houses all giving their words that their store fronts will not lack plenty of the national flags on that day. The dutch have the reputation of being exceedingly thrifty and putting every cent to account, it must be calculated that they can see dollars ahead for every cent they invested in the celebration of the 4th. Business men in other cities might follow the example of the Hollanders.

Illegal Fishermen Get Hit Hard.

C. J. Doornbos, George Bender and Chas. Kelley constituted themselves fishers of men last week on a dark night and caught two offenders of the law. Paul Elieman and Charles Ranker were caught in Pine Creek bay in the act of catching fish by illegal means. The offenders had caught about a barrel of fish. The self appointed protectors of the public had laid their plans well and the fishermen were caught in the act. They were arraigned in Justice Van Duren's court and pleaded not guilty but changed their plea the next day to guilty. Justice Van Duren fined each $100 and $4.30 costs, and imposed upon the offenders that if they appeared before him again on the same charge they would receive a jail sentence. The men paid their fines.

Justice Van Duren we think has taken the first real good step in behalf of protection of fish in our lake by imposing the heavy fine for illegal fishing. The offenders got just what they deserved and the next one caught should get a jail sentence.

Wireless Telegraphy Foreseen.

No doubt the invention of wireless telegraphy was foreshadowed by a book of philosophy which appeared in 1617. This work mentions communication between two persons at different points by means of a lodestone and a needle placed upon a metal dial.

Wm. Botsford's Father Dies.

Alvay D. Botsford, one of the pioneers of Otsego, died at his home Sunday, old age being the principal cause. He was born in Canada Feb. 27, 1822, and first came to Otsego in 1837. In 1884 he was married to Clarissa Sherwood, the invalid wife who survives after sixty-three years of married. There are also three sons, Wallace of Otsego, Elton S. of Dorr, and Wm. of Holland. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon from the home conducted by Rev. H. D. Skinner. The F. & A. M. order attended in a body and conducted their customary services at the grave. During Mr. Botsford's long life he was engaged in several vocations. He first taught school and engaged in mercantile business, and retired in 1872. He had been ever an ardent republican and honored with many places of trust by his party. He was supervisor several years.—Allegan Gazette.

Dr. J. Mastenbroek Dead.

News has been received here of the death of Dr. John Mastenbroek which occurred in Otia, Saturday afternoon. Decedent was nearly 80 years of age. He was in this city about a month ago and his death must have been the result of a sudden illness. The doctor was a pioneer resident of this locality and was a Civil war veteran. For many years he was coroner of the county. About a year ago he and wife and daughter moved from Holland to the north. The funeral was held Tuesday at Otia. Mrs. Henry Vincent of Grand Haven is a daughter as is also Mrs. Anna Whipple of Los Angeles.

Result of Saturday's Storm.

Attorney V. Crooks of Chicago and R. A. Rightmire, representing the Armour Packing company, narrowly escaped drowning through the capsizing of their canoe during a sudden squall which struck Macatawa bay, Saturday. Their plight was discovered by the crew of the sloop Jeannette, which had just anchored on her trip from Chicago and they effected a heroic rescue. C. U. Smith, mate of the sloop, lost a tooth in a struggle to keep one of the victims afloat.

D. Lockwood and daughter were saved from drowning Saturday afternoon by one of the employees at C. L. King's basket factory, who went out in a row boat and rescued them. Their sailboat capsized and they were nearly exhausted from clinging to the overturned craft when rescued.

This city and vicinity were visited by a severe wind and electrical storm accompanied by a heavy rain which at times resembled a cloudburst flooding streets swelling streams.

A few miles southeast hailstones as large as marbles fell in huge quantities and a large number of trees were broken.

The traffic on the interurban was at a standstill for over an hour Saturday afternoon and again Saturday and the Jenison power house was pressed into service.

The baseball game scheduled between Holland and Hudsonville was stopped at the close of the sixth inning with the score of 13 to 2 in favor of the visitors.

Window were broken in the News office doing considerable damage to the stock also flooding the cellar of Boot and Kramer's store below.
