Tomorrow vs Yesterday

Each day that passes is a new leaf in the book of time. Yesterday's pages, while they hold many interesting things, could serve no better purpose than to show where we might have saved much needlessly wasted money. It would be fine if we had it today. Save now with us.

HOSPITAL WILL HAVE AUXILIARY LIGHT SYSTEM

INSTALLED TO PREVENT TRAGEDY IF CITY LIGHTS SHOULD GO OUT

An automatic auxiliary light system is to be installed in Holland's new hospital. The common council, on recommendation of the hospital building commission, decided Wednesday night to have the system ordered in. Arthur Van Duren appeared before the council, representing the hospital commission. He pointed out that it was conceivable that at some time or other surgeons might be engaged on a critical operation involving life and death, when something would go wrong with the city light system. In that case an automatic auxiliary light system should be available.

The system that was recommended by the commission and adopted by the council will cost $1,000. Including installation it will cost less than $1,200. It goes on automatically within three seconds in case the city lights should temporarily fail, so that there would not be any break in an

HEADQUARTERS AT DETROIT WRITES LETTER TO CITY ATTORNEY

City Attorney C. H. McBride received a letter from the state headquarters of the Michigan Bell Telephone company, which he transmitted to the common council Wednesday night, in which the company expressed the desire to give Holland the best possible telephone service. The letter said the company's endeavor would be to improve the service and to do all in its power to make better it, since the company valued highly the goodwill of the patrons of the local exchange.

HEIGHTS SCHOOL GIVES LARGEST CHECK TO BATH

Receipt of a check for $192.28 from the Jackson public schools at Muskegon Heights has raised the total thus far contributed to the Bath Memorial fund to $1,365.34. Jackson is the first of the class A schools to report. It was the largest single check yet received for the fund.

FORMER CANDIDATE COUNTY SHERIFF IS KNOCKED DOWN

Ben Rosema of Ferrysburg, who was acting as a traffic officer on the streets of Spring Lake on July 4, was knocked down by a passing car and suffered a broken neck, scalp lacerations and some injuries to his leg. In order to avoid being hit by one car, Mr. Rosema jumped in the way of another. Falling to the pavement produced his injuries. The driver, a Grand Rapids man, stopped and he was taken to his home. Mr. Rosema is out on the street today. It will be remembered he was nominee on the Republican ticket for sheriff last fall.

HOPE COLLEGE POET IS VISITING IN THE CITY

REV. HENRY K. PASMA IS A WRITER OF RELIGIOUS BOOKS

It is pleasing to note that Rev. Henry K. Pasma, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Charleston, Miss., is spending part of his summer in Holland. Mr. Pasma is a graduate of Hope college of 1910, and early in his academic career revealed a taste for literature and writing. Several poems issued from his pen during his college days, one of his college songs, "In the dear old town of Holland, Michigan," still being a favorite on the campus. Mr. Pasma has kept in close contact with his Alma Mater and is budding out as a literature of note. Two books have been written by him, the second one, "God's Picked Young Men," being in the second edition. Poems and articles for religious magazines have appeared from time to time, all of which show great promise of a fine literary career. Mr. Pasma is contemplating settling in the East, where he can cultivate his literary penwork with greater advantage.

EXTRA TRAIN SERVICE PLANNED FOR EXCURSION TO POULTRY CONGRESS

Plans are being made to operate a special train from Grand Rapids to Ottawa, Ont., following the convention here July 19-22 of the International Poultry Congress, president of the convention of those who wish to attend the World Poultry Congress that opens in the Canadian city a few days later.

The schedule of the train and the other details are being worked out by railroad men. Several hundred who will drive to Grand Rapids for the baby chick convention and plan to visit the Ottawa meeting will organize a huge motor caravan which will proceed to the Canadian capital.

The present low prices of eggs and poultry are bringing to the front the question of whether the poultry business is facing a crisis. Harry R. Davis, president of the National Poultry council will be one of the speakers on this topic. Thomas F. Rogers of Wayne, Indiana, president of the American Poultry association, will describe half a century of service in poultry raising.

OLDEST MAN IN GR. HAVEN JUST HAD A BIRTHDAY

LEWIS DORNBO, 90, HAS WATCHED THAT CITY GROW FROM VILLAGE OF 300

Lewis Dornbos celebrated his ninetieth birthday recently and is the oldest man in Grand Haven Sunday. He is hale and hearty, he is enjoying the evening of his days in comfort with an unmarried daughter in their home. Coming to this country from the Netherlands, when it was just a little lumbering town, Mr. Dornbos has seen Grand Haven develop from a village of 200 or 300 souls to its present size.

For years Mr. Dornbos worked in the mills and reared a family of seven boys and two girls. These he claims are his monument. Henry J. Dornbos and Gerrit Dornbos of Grand Haven, owners of the largest smoked fish-house in the world are his sons.

The name Dornbos is one that will not soon die out as Mr. Dornbos has 24 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren in this community. His sons, besides Henry J. and Gerrit L., are Jacob L. Dornbos, real estate dealer; Jacob L. Dornbos, bond salesman; Peter Dornbos, cigar manufacturer; John Dornbos of Grand Rapids, and Hio Dornbos, machinist, of Grand Haven.

JUNE BRIGHT, RATHER COOL MONTH HERE

WEATHER BUREAU SUMMARY SHOWS LOW RECORD FOR JUNE AT 42 DEGREES

The monthly report of the Ottawa county weather bureau follows: June 1927, was a rather cool month, with an average daily deficiency of 5 degrees until the twenty-seventh, with three warm days thereafter. A minimum of 42 degrees was recorded on the fifteenth that reading being the lowest of record for that date. The maximum temperature for the month, 86 degrees, occurred on the thirtieth, under the influence of four days of uninterrupted southerly winds. Sunshine was far above the normal, with an average of 83 per cent. Twelve days ran above 60 per cent, and six days registered 100 per cent, with a total of 27 days of clear to partly cloudy weather.

Rainfall for the month was a half inch deficient, with but three days of moderate rains, and but seven days with precipitation at all. Thunder was recorded on five days, accompanied by lightning, but no damage, either by lightning, hail or wind occurred.

The average wind mileage was 10.7 miles per hour, with no gales whatever during the month, the maximum velocity for a five-minute period being 33 miles an hour from the south, on the twenty-fourth. The prevailing wind direction for the month was south. With the deficient rainfall and the prolonged clear weather, most crops are somewhat behind in the season, with disaster of drought for some of the cereals.

THE TOWER ON ALPENA ROAD IS POPULAR

The new picnic grounds on the Alpena road that has the large tower in the center, is becoming very popular. On July 4th more than 600 climbed to the peak overlooking the landscape. Sunday at least 300 visited the tower and daily tourists are taking the climb. All conveniences for picnics are to be had and there is a refreshment stand at the foot of the tower. Trinity church Sunday school is to hold its picnic at Tower park.

DEAD FISH NOT IN BLACK LAKE ALONE

This year is an exception, but for many years complaints have been coming in that many dead fish were found on the beach of Black Lake and the opponents of carp fishing attributed it to this fact.

The following from the Detroit News would indicate that there are other lakes with dead fish. As happens every year, reports are reaching Lansing that fish are dying in our inland lakes and fishermen are fearful that some mysterious disease is laying hold of them. A number of specimens have been gathered and sent to Ann Arbor for re-examination and study in the attempt to ascertain just what is wrong. It is not unusual during the late spring when the lakes are "turning over," to find dead fish strewn along the shore. Some scientists claim that it is merely a few of the weaklings succumbing to the hardships of the previous winter, especially due to a lack of oxygen in ice covered lakes.

NEW ADDITION TO GRAND HAVEN WANTS SEWER AND WATER

Leo Lillie presented a petition at the meeting of the Grand Haven city council on Tuesday night which asked for street, sewer and water improvement on the streets running through the new residential addition, Sheldon Heights. The section recently was sold to many property owners and lies on the east side of Sheldon Road just beyond Duncan Park. There are eight streets running through it. The matter was referred to the city manager.

BOYS USE FISHHOOKS TO CATCH MALLARDS

A group of boys were fishing on Hazel Lake near Seventh street and Hazel avenue, near St. Paul, Minn. Fish were not biting, so they amused themselves by placing corn on their hooks and throwing them out where wild ducks feed. At the end of the day they had two fat mallards.

The pupils recital given by the students of Miss K. M. Doesburg's music studio, held in the parlors of Hope church Thursday evening was a decided success. The auditorium was well filled by an appreciative audience. All the pupils rendered their part of the program in a creditable manner and the little ones especially did very good work. Miss Catherine Doesburg of Milwaukee showed her ability as a reader in her well rendered selection, "How Do I Hear the Messiah."

Fourth of July passed off remarkably quiet. A rain shower in the morning dampened the ardor of the excursionist until about noon, when it cleared off and excursions were entirely participated in until late in the evening. The music furnished by Gee's band, together with the excursion boats were the only public features of the day. Not even a national salute was fired in the morning for some reason unknown to us.

HOLLAND PARK FOUNTAIN DRESSED IN BEST GARB

Grand Rapids Press—The fountain in Centennial park, Holland's most attractive flower garden, never looked better this year. Dressed in its floral garb of flowers and vines, it presents an attraction that is being admired by thousands of visitors who flock to it.

The fountain stands in a huge bed in. It is built of Ohio rock and stands about 15 feet high. Supt. John Van Bragt has imbedded more than 1,000 plants in the pockets of this fountain and these are watered by tiny streams, which find their way through crevices in the rock.

The basin is filled with water in which thrive hundreds of gold fish. It was constructed on a mound in the center of the park several years ago.

BEWARE OF LINOLEUM FAKIRS

Citizens are warned against agents who are selling linoleum about the state giving great promise when the samples are shown, but turn out to be rank and inferior quality.

Many complaints are coming in from abroad although the linoleum fakirs have not reached Holland up to this time.

It has been proven time and again that it is unwise to purchase from folks who are unknown and have no established place of business. The best plan is to buy from your local merchants who not only stand back of their goods and make these goods right should they prove wrong, which is seldom the case.

They are men who you know. They are men who help build the community and help bear the civic load.

"May Install a Curb Pump?" But Pump Is Already There And Is On The Job Dealing Out Gasoline

The general question of curb gasoline pumps was aired Wednesday night at the meeting of the common council in connection with a petition to the council to have a pump installed at garage on Columbia avenue between 15th and 16th street. When the petition was read it developed that the pump was already in and doing business.

The aldermen immediately roused to opposition. All such petitions must come before the council. Some aldermen wanted the police forthwith to order the pump taken down. The discussion brought out the fact that Chief Blom had signed the permit. The aldermen said he had no right to do anything of the kind. They anger against the owner of the pump was deflected somewhat from that individual to the fire chief.

OLD SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS ARE NOMINATED

On the first ballot it was apparent that the retiring members received the highest number of votes and were re-nominated.

The vote stood as follows: James A. Brouwer, 37; Mrs. Martha Kollen, 40; Fred T. Miles, 38; Wm. Arendshorst, 28; Henry Pelgrim Jr., 10; John Koolker, 6. There were also a number of scattering votes cast, however the six names mentioned will appear on the ballot and will be voted on Monday.

GRAND HAVEN JOINS INTERURBAN IN FIGHT ON GREYHOUND SUIT

By unanimous action of the city council Grand Haven has become a party to the injunction suit brought by the Seaford Motor Coach company to restrain the public utilities commission from putting its bus permit to the G. R. H. & M. interurban into effect.

The city will join with the interurban and an intervenor making that city a co-defendant in the action will be filed at once by Hugh Liddle, Grand Haven attorney. The case will come up before Judge Carr in Ingham circuit court.

Among the citizens who talked in favor of the line were W. M. Connelly, W. P. Lout, B. P. Sherwood and F. C. Bolt.

CANNERY AT FENNVILLE STARTS CHERRY PACK; BANGOR CROP MOVES

The Fennville plant of the Michigan Cannery, incorporated, commenced canning cherries Wednesday. For nearly a month they have been taking care of the large crop of strawberries and some gooseberries have also been canned.

The cherry crop this year is below normal but it is expected that the receipts of cherries at the factory will keep it in operation until the first raspberries and blackberries, with string beans, commence to come in.

ASK CONVENTION OF FEDERATION FOR MICHIGAN

MAYOR KAMMERAD JOINS THE WOLVERINE STATE IN APPEAL

Mayor Kammeraad has joined Holland with the rest of the state in its appeal to the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs to meet in Michigan this year. The mayor today sent a telegram, on behalf of the city of Holland, Ethyl B. Van Etten of Ypsilanti, state president, assuring her that Holland is back of the Michigan delegation in its attempt to secure the convention for the Wolverine state.

Mayor Kammeraad took this action because of the fact that Holland has a live Business and Professional Women's club. The plan is to have the national federation come to Mackinac Island in 1928, which will give many of the members of such clubs all over Michigan an opportunity to attend. The annual convention usually draws about 2,500 women. This year it is being held in Oakland, Calif., and Mrs. Van Etten will head the Michigan delegation in making a bid for the convention to come to Michigan.

FREE METHODISTS TO SOON ENJOY NEW HOME

"Does God care?" is the subject of a short series of sermons Rev. C. P. Dame of Trinity church will begin next Sunday evening. The subjects of these two sermons are "God's Care for Animals;" and "God's Care for Debtors." He will preach the first sermon next Sunday evening, based on the text, "Thou shalt not plow with an ox and an ass together." Deut. 22:10. You are invited. STREET SIGNS TO BE REPLACED IN CITY OF HOLLAND

CONTRACT AWARDED BY COUNCIL TO ALUMYD SIGN & SIGNAL COMPANY

Will Take About Six Weeks; Cost To Be Over $1,700

In about six weeks Holland is to have a new system of street signs. This was decided on Wednesday night by the common council when that body approved the work of the committee on streets and crosswalks and awarded the contract for the new signs to the Almyd Sign & Signal Company of Chicago. The signs, including ten-foot standards, will cost $945 apiece. The total cost for all the signs in the city will be somewhat over $1,700. To this will be added the cost of installing them.

The new signs are of aluminum composition, which gives them the warm color. On this background are raised letters faced with black. The signs are very easy to read, marked by clearness.

The street committee has been at work for some time getting bids on street signs and looking over the plans put out by various companies. After an exhaustive investigation they decided on the sign that was adopted Wednesday night.

It will take about a month to manufacture the signs, as street signs cannot be carried in stock. The street names of various cities are different and the order from each city must be carried individually. The company carries in stock some of the more common names that occur in many cities, such as "Main Street," but most signs must be manufactured according to order.

It is a considerable job for the street committee to make a survey of the city to determine how many street signs would be required, how many on each street. The total decided upon was 178, although the committee has left some leeway so that a few more may be ordered before the contract is filled. The number will probably be in the neighborhood of 200.

The installation will take about two weeks. The work will be all complete by the first of August, the committee thinks.

REV. DAME GIVES PATRIOTIC SERMON

Extracts of a patriotic sermon preached Sunday evening in Trinity church, Central Ave. and 20th st., at a patriotic service, by Rev. C. P. Dame, pastor of the church. The subject of the sermon: "My Country." Based upon Psalm 137:5, 6.

"It is eminently proper to have an intense devotion to our country. We are living in times when nationalism is popular. Think of the nationalistic movements in China and India. These peoples are beginning to think in terms of their own nation. It is just and right that a man should love his country."

"Break there a man with soul so dead Who never to himself hath said 'This is my own, my native land'."

Of course a man should love his own nation. Some people think that in order to love their own country they must hate all others. This is a mistaken notion. I love my own family. Must I therefore despise other families? Indeed not. The man who loves his own family is more apt to have a high regard for other families. My love for Holland does not incite me to hate Grand Haven. We are living in times when nationalism is popular. Think of the nationalistic movements in China and India. These peoples are beginning to think in terms of their own nation. It is just and right that a man should love his country."

A man has the right to be intensely devoted and proud of his country. Paul gloried in the fact that he came from and was a citizen of no mean city. Who is not proud of our present day achievements in the realm of aviation? What loyal American heart was not stirred by the feat of Lindbergh? We ought to be proud of our great men, of our history, of our national ideals. It is a source of pleasure to me to be able to say that America is pre-eminently a land of opportunity. The poorest boy or girl may rise to the greatest heights of fame and power and influence. I rejoice too in the fact that in this land religion is a force. God is recognized in America. Our people are Christian. Our president sets a fine example to the nation in attending church services every Sunday. I have great respect for the man who has an intense devotion to his friends, to his family, to his community, to his church, to his God and to his country. Let us have a greater intensity in our devotion to our land.

Intense devotion expresses itself in conduct. Genuine love for America manifests itself. How you ask? Intense love for the constitution is a mark of good Americanism. We can't measure a man's patriotism by the size of the flag he hangs out on a national holiday. So about for old glory and to disregard the constitution is hypocrisy. "The man who disregards any part of the constitution of the land promotes and encourages crime. He who nullifies the constitution is a lawbreaker even as the thief and the robber. The man who puts his appetite before his country's constitution is a poor patriot. The man who has an intense devotion to his country will conscientiously discharge his duty as a citizen. He will be loyal to American principles and ideals and become righteously indignant at wrongdoing and all unrighteousness."

In conclusion the pastor pointed out that the Christian religion fosters righteousness. All those who promote the interests of the gospel are seeking the best for the nation and its welfare. He called upon all to foster the work of the church as a patriotic duty and privilege.

NEW COTTAGE AT LAKE HUTCHINS, FENNVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hoover are the owners of a cottage being built at Lake Hutchins. There are acres of lake in Michigan not half as nicely situated and not so beautiful and with no better fishing that are literally surrounded by cottages. Hutchins lake needs proper advertising only to become a popular resort for summer vacationists—Fennville Herald.

Allegan started its band concert last night. The people are privileged to gather on the court house lawn to listen to the program. These concerts will be given weekly during July and August.

Clarence Nies, son of Mrs. Mary Nies of East Holland, and Miss Verna of Holland, were united in marriage at the home of the bride in Holland Saturday afternoon. They will make their home in Holland.

The many lakes around the vicinity of Fennville are warming up and are beginning to attract many people. The resort season is just getting started, and everything indicates a very successful summer for tourists, vacationists, stands, roadhouses, fishermen, farmers, and business in general.

Fred Z. Panfili and family have moved to their cottage at Ottawa Beach.

ANNIVERSARY PUT ON BIG PROGRAM AT FAIR GROUNDS

A head-liner at the fair grounds on the Fourth of July was the appearance of the three army flyers who came here for a program of flying stunts over the fairgrounds and over the city of Holland. Many daring feats were performed at intervals during the day and evening on the Fourth, including nose dives, tail spins, loop the loop and numerous other breathtaking stunts.

Many planes have flown over the city from time to time but never at such terrific speed and accompanied with such daring feats. Often the planes would swoop down from 1000 feet up and to the uninitiated it would appear that the planes were about to crash into a building or a high building, but Uncle Sam's aviators had their planes well in hand and their programs given under the auspices of the American Legion, were awe-inspiring.

The flyers first flew over Lake Michigan, following the excursion steamer, "Holland", and they then opened the Fourth of July program at the fair grounds with some daring flying, taking up the greater part of an hour. The third event was pulled off in the evening when still more dare-devil stunts were executed by these intrepid aviators.

The three Lieutenants, Finch, Ezvine and Crowley, are still in Holland, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Dikema at their home on East 12th street. Mr. Dikema became well acquainted with the flyers while he was in the service during the war in France, and his acquaintance with them had considerable bearing on having them come to Holland on the Fourth.

They were accompanied by 13 other men who came to Holland with a special automobile and who are guarding the large planes in the landing field east of the city, south of the Indiana woods on the Holland-Zeeland highway. The field was jammed with people most of the time and a lane had to be made so the planes could have ample room to land or make a getaway.

The flyers, it is expected, will leave tonight or tomorrow morning. Because of rainy weather the aviators delayed their flight back to Selfridge field for a day.

HOLLAND MAN WEDS A GRAND RAPIDS GIRL

A pleasing wedding took place recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Delos Wilcox, Crescent st., Grand Rapids, when their niece, Miss Myrtle Gates, became the bride of Holland Mayor. The service was read by Rev. George Harrison McClure of First M. E. church.

The house was decorated in white, roses and daisies. Preceding the ceremony Paul Wilcox sang "God Bless the Bride." Miss Emily Wilcox presided at the piano and played "Lohengrin" and "Mendelssohn's march." The bride wore a white chiffon gown and carried a bouquet of white and pink snapdragons. She was given away by her uncle, Delos Wilcox. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Deulah Gates, who was clad in spruce georgette.

The bride came to Grand Rapids after being graduated from the Elmhurst, New York, high school. After finishing the course at Kalamazoo state normal she began teaching in the public schools at Holland.

Mr. Maybese is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harper C. Maybese and the elder son of Mr. Maybese. He was graduated from the state normal school and later received his degree from Columbia university. He has been teaching history and debating at Holland high school and is in charge of athletics. He was attended by his brother, Jean D. Maybese.

Following the ceremony, a luncheon was served the guests, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Harper Maybese, Allen and Junior of Kalamazoo; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Riemersma and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hinga of Holland; Mr. Frank J. Wheeler of Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ellinger of Holland; Mr. and Mrs. Ruth of Kalamazoo; Charles Stirling of Kalamazoo, and Little Miss Patricia Poe-Cooper of Minneapolis.

Following the ceremony the bride and groom left on their wedding trip. Upon their return they will make their home in Holland, where they will be at home to friends after August.

Thousands Arrive By Bus, Boat, Rail And Automobile

USS1 truly has become a national highway. It has been taken over by cars from many states carrying hundreds and thousands of visitors into western Michigan for the Fourth of July.

Beginning early Saturday and continuing all through the night, the out-of-state cars nearly outnumbered the cars bearing Michigan license plates. Leading the foreign cars by a great margin Saturday and Sunday were those from Illinois, probably the most of them from Chicago. Monday cars from Indiana and Ohio rapidly increased in numbers.

There were cars from Minnesota, Alabama, Missouri, New York, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Kansas, Florida, New York, Mississippi, Oregon, and an occasional one from Texas, New Mexico, California and Canada. All headed through Michigan, spending the 4th of July holiday.

Driven to Michigan for her cooling breezes by the insufferable heat of the cities of the middle west, visitors were still coming in a steady stream of cars Monday. Others came by steamer, train and bus. Every possible means of travel was being resorted to by the city dwellers to take them away from the heat.

LOCAL GIRL WEDS A ZEELAND MAN

Miss Katherine M. Dendell, one of Holland's popular girls, greatly surprised the residents of Holland and vicinity by announcing her marriage to Mr. Jack Wyzard on Thursday evening of last week.

Miss Dendell is an employee of the DeFree Co. Mr. Wyzard is a son of a wealthy Zeeland resident. They were married at the home of Rev. E. Vanden Berg, pastor of Second Reformed church of Zeeland. The bride was dressed in blue canton crepe. The happy couple will reside in Zeeland.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Boylan motored from Detroit to spend the week-end at their home, Mrs. Mary DeGraaf, West 15th street.

NO ARRESTS, NO ACCIDENTS

Chief Van Ry states that in spite of the heavy traffic, which surpassed all records on a holiday, there was no occasion to arrest anyone, nor were there any accidents to speak of caused by firecrackers or fire works.

There were no drunks, there was not even an occasion in which townspeople or visitors had to be restrained. It was a most peaceful and orderly Independence day, the chief says.

SEVEN FIRES REPORTED OVER THE HOLIDAYS

The local fire departments were busy Sunday and 4th of July putting out small fires. There were seven in all, according to Chief Blom.

The first was Sunday morning when a still alarm was turned in from box 21 at 1:10, which proved to be in the rear of the building of the Buehler Bros meat market. The damage was small. At 7:10 Sunday morning a box 112 alarm proved to be a roof fire on the home of Louis Nykamp on W. 17th street. Damage $50.

July 4 a fire alarm was turned in from box 23 at 1:30 a. m. caused by a fire cracker thrown by some boys back of the chair factory. No damage. July 4 another alarm sent in from box 23 at 5:55 p. m. was another fire cracker fire, at the home of George H. Vanden Brink on North River Avenue.

July 5 an alarm was sent in from box 22 at 12:30, fire having been discovered in the factory building of the Ideal Cleaners on North Central Ave. The damage done, it is estimated, will be at least $200.00.

The Lake Michigan excursion given by the Goodrich company on the steamer Holland, under the auspices of the Willard G. Leenhouts Post, American Legion, was a big success.

The boat, leaving at 9 o'clock on the 4th of July morning, carried nearly 800 passengers. It was a delightful day with the lake as smooth as glass. The high school band was perched upon the hurricane deck and gave a concert during the two hours' trip.

The three army flyers gave a special program over Lake Michigan, following the excursion boat to the delight of those on board. The aviators went thru all their nose dives and tail spins and made it appear as if they were about to swoop down on the boat like birds of prey. It was a most unusual program and added considerable to the pleasures of the trip.

WILL RAISE OVER $1,000 TO EQUIP PARK PLAYGROUND

Holland's Lions club is truly going to live up to the tradition of the king of beats after which they were named. They have put across the greatest plan for the children in this section ever tried out. The local club plans on raising more than $1000 during their present campaign, which is to make Kollen park one of the best all the year around playgrounds in the state of Michigan.

The club does not desire to interfere in any way with the work of the present playground commission. Kollen park is to be made a playground inside of three years. The Lions, Holland's youngest club, wants to equip this playground thru the local public. All apparatus will be paid for by the popular subscription method, the Lions being the go-getters.

The equipment which the club committee has decided upon already is two large water slides and swings and other smaller articles of play together with a real bathing beach. For winter sports a large snow slide is to be purchased. This will allow the boys and girls to use their slides during the winter even if the snow is light on the hillsides. Skating ponds will be constructed.

The club has been organized into two teams, called the blue team, captained by Albert Benge, and the gold team led by George Damsen. The teams will stage a battle, with the loser paying for the feed. Subscriptions will be taken in all sizes of donations. The people of Holland should remember that they are doing two things with the money they give to these untamed Lions; one is to give the children a chance to play in a beautiful spot near the water, under supervision, another is to add a beautiful place to Holland.

The committee is selecting the best of equipment. They will also help in the designing of the playground.

A REAL LOVE NEST AT DOUGLAS

Motorists who take a trip to the Douglas bluffs on Lake Michigan will come across at least one show place that is interesting besides the beautiful bluffs.

As the roadside in a large tree a small house has been built. This home is reached by ladders. The little "nest" is perched high up in the branches of the tree and is called the "Love Nest." The Douglas bluffs are invited to this place.

A postcard sign on the outside can be seen even from the highway, and it reads: "Honeymoon Love Nest, up in the tree. Come to the house and get the key."

GRAND RAPIDS WOMAN WAS HURT NEAR SAUGATUCK

Mrs. John Hanlon of Grand Rapids, who received serious scalp wounds in an accident near Saugatuck Sunday, was discharged from Holland hospital on Monday, after remaining there 24 hours.

The accident occurred between Holland and Saugatuck on U. S. 31. Hanlon's hat blew off while the car was in motion. While he was bringing the machine to a stop Mrs. Hanlon accidentally opened the rear door of the car, lost her balance and rolled out, her head striking the edge of the pavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanlon and three children were driving to Saugatuck to spend July 4th.

A machine occupied by six Negroes was ditched on U. S. 31 early Sunday. All the occupants sustained minor cuts and bruises and one a broken arm. They came from Chicago and were headed north. They returned to Chicago after the accident.

The officials of the game club naturally would see to it that with carp fishing at the right season of the year game fish would be properly taken; care of when drawn in the nets. Fish protection is what the club stands for, and therefore this work is in good hands.
The series of fish ponds with the surrounding beauty surely would make a fine place of recreation, not alone for resorters but for folks from Holland and vicinity as well.
It has been a neighborhood picnic grounds for many years, which goes to show that people naturally have found this an ideal spot for a day's outing.
George Getz, Jr., and James Getz entertained 100 young people from Grand Rapids and Holland on the 4th of July.

RECORD CROWDS ATTEND PAUL RADER SERVICES
Record crowds have attended the evangelistic services at the Lake Harbor conference grounds of the Worldwide Christian Council over the week-end surpassing the high attendance records of last year, according to the officials.
Paul Rader, president of the organization, spoke at the meetings. Special speakers were secured for the remainder of the week, when Luke Rader and other members of the staff will be in Grand Rapids conducting services at Casey Vanderjagt's.
A large flag was presented to Paul Rader by the Muskegon Lions' club and a flag raising service was held at 8 o'clock Monday afternoon when Old Glory was sent to the top of the new pole. Many Holland people were in attendance.
PICNIC SPORTS DELIGHT PATRONS AT FAIR GROUNDS
The special picnic sports in which young girls and boys participated were the delight of a large crowd that filled the grandstand on 4th of July afternoon. There were many events with cash prizes of $2.00 and $1.00 hung up for the first and second places.
The 50 yard dash was won by Fred Essenberg, with Laverne Scherhorn second. The 60 yard dash for girls was won by Marion Scherhorn first, Clarice Brinks second.
The 100 yard dash, Louise Elenbas first, Al Klinge second. Sack race, Charles Looman first, Ted Essenberg second. The three legged race, Gilbert Rowan and Robert Spencer first, Alvin Prins and Gerald Looman, second.
The pie eating contest was a scream. The 15 young lads who stuck their faces into pies were a sorry looking mess. Harvey Hop won first and Bob Zysen won second. They got their prize money and the pie to boot.
The bare legged show troupe also was given a chance at the prizes. Ten of the girls went in for a 50-yard dash and Sylvia Clowel and Corio W. Stern, both of Chicago, won first and second respectively.
E. B. Olson, the paving contractor, pulled one of the most interesting stunts in front of the grandstand. He had one of his large gravel trucks on hand, dumped a heap of sand in the middle of the race track, containing 110 pennies, a one silver dollar and a new silver half dollar. Practically every kid on the fairgrounds dove in to that heap of sand and coin at about the same time. It would be impossible to record who got the pennies, but the dollar was found by Gilbert Rowan and the half dollar by Charles Kammeraad. It was one of the best stunts pulled off at the grounds.
An event that always causes laughter is the catching of a greased pig. Rather a large sized pig was turned loose on the enclosure of the oval and 10 boys endeavored to catch the porker. Simon Wabeke was dressed for the occasion. He is a large and lanky boy and after the pig had nearly become exhausted after plowing thru heaps of boys, Wabeke encircled its neck and got him on the first down. His prize was the porker, which brought $15.00.
TESTIMONY HEARD IN DE MAURIAC DIVORCE
The suit of Paul de Mauriac of Holland, asking for a divorce from Cleo de Mauriac, on the grounds of cruelty, was heard Friday by Judge Orion S. Cross. Mrs. de Mauriac has filed a cross bill denying all allegations.
The de Mauriacs are prominent socially in Holland, and the suit is attracting much interest. The judge took the case under advisement at 1 o'clock Friday, attorneys on both sides of the case declined to argue. Division of property and alimony is a big factor. Mrs. de Mauriac has three children by a former husband from whom she is divorced. The couple were married about a year and a half ago.

LOCAL HORSES AT BIG CELEBRATION DRAW ATTENTION
One of the features at the American Legion 4th of July program at the fairgrounds that was well advertised was the program of horse races. Considering that this is not horse race season, rather a fine bunch of horse flesh was gathered together, mostly from Holland and vicinity. There were three events. The first was the mixed race, the second a free for all and the third the running race.
It was rather interesting to note the excitement that prevailed, especially during the running race, and it appears that an event of this kind would not be a bad feature at the Holland fair.
There were four entries in the running race and there were two half mile heats, in which Bethlehem W. won the race, Mixer, second, Sally De Orr third, and Ben Colonel fourth. The time was 54 seconds in the first heat and 55 seconds in the second.
In the first event in the mixed race there were five heats as follows:
Willow Brook, b. g. owner and driver, D. De Hoop, 1-1-4-2-3.
Radio-br. g. owner and driver, Wm. McQuaker 3-3-1-3-4.
Jennie Direct-br. m. owner and driver, Jay Nichols 2-3-3-4-3.
Tommy Gordon-br. g. owner A. K. driver, John Boone 4-4-3-1-1.
The best time made was in the last heat, which was 1:15. The race was won by Willow Brook, Tommy Gordon, 2nd, Radio 3rd, and Jennie Direct 4th. All were half mile heats.
In the free-for-all race, owned by Gil Van Hoven of Zeeland, won the race, with Spider Kurtz second. Post Master third, and Billy Bay fourth. The best time made was 1:08 1/2, in half mile heats. The race by heats follows:
Postmaster-br. g. owner and driver, Sam Hagenhoef 4-3-3-3-3.
Ernie De Haan 4-3-2-4.
Bus Bee-b. g. owner and driver, Gil Van Hoven 1-1-4-1.
Spider Kurtz-b. g. owner John Boone, driver B. Mc Cann 2-1-2-3.

The fire first was noticed on the roof of the Thoms cottage and volunteers immediately obtained ladders and buckets. A damage of more than $700 was done to the home before the fire was extinguished. Several volunteers were severely burned.
SPEED COP TAKES A SPILL
Speed cop Spruit took his first real spill when he followed two speeding automobiles going down west 17th st. Holland's speedway.
Spruit, who was following at 85 miles an hour, collided with an automobile driven by Mrs. Van Zoren at the Maple avenue street intersection. Spruit went over the handle bars and was badly bruised but not seriously so.
The Van Zoren car was slightly damaged but the front end of the police motorcycle was wrecked, including the wheel. Spruit will be laid up for a few days. The motor speeders naturally got away.
HOLY SPIRIT NOT "IT" SAYS SPEAKER
Deep interest was shown last night in the service at the Wesleyan Methodist church. These special services, which will close Sunday night, are in charge of Evangelists, B. Shaw and wife of Grand Rapids. Miss Churchill of the city mission and several of her workers were present and took part.
Mrs. Shaw spoke on the types of the Holy Spirit. These types, she said, are used to reveal the special part of the Holy Spirit in the plan and work of salvation and we should never allow the type to confuse our minds or lead us to lose sight of the spirit's personality.
It should be as impossible for us to speak of the Holy Spirit as "it," as a would be to speak of Christ or the Father as "it."
No service will be held tonight. There will be regular services Sunday morning and Sunday night.
The pastor, Rev. G. Visser, and wife have been attending the general conference at Houston, New York, and are expected back about next Tuesday.

HOLLAND BEATS ALLEGAN ON JULY FOURTH

Joe Ester's dream of beating the Holland boys was finally realized Sunday when the colored boys defeated the locals 7-5. The game was a thriller from start to finish and it was not until the last man had been retired in the ninth that victory was at all certain. Early, the Giants' pitching ace, was knocked out of the box in the second but Winston, who replaced him, was in rare form. Hyma, who pitched for Holland, did a good job of his job as well as countering the three hits.

Holland celebrated the 4th in true style when the Holland base ball team defeated Allegan 1-0 in a well played game. Albers, making his first appearance this year in the box, was in fine form, setting down the visitors with but four hits. Gibson, who pitched for Allegan, was very nearly equal, giving the local boys but two hits. The large crowd which turned out for the game saw one of the best and most snappy performance of the year.

DRINKWATER WOULD RETIRE FROM OFFICE

Arthur Drinkwater, veteran alderman of the second ward, dean of the council, when he completes his term of office next spring, will have served his ward as alderman for 19 years. He has served under six mayors. He never was defeated in nine contests for election, was unopposed three times and once was appointed to fill a vacancy. He always was elected by large majorities.

Drinkwater on one occasion attended a special session while on his way to work in the morning, carrying his dinner pail.

Drinkwater Wednesday celebrated the fifty-fifth anniversary of his birth. He was born in England, located here in 1885, the year of his marriage and has worked in a foundry for 31 years.

Drinkwater plans to retire from council service next year, providing the electorate of his ward will let him. He has tried it before, but his supporters objected.

SHOULD BE READY TO GIVE TOURIST FACTS ON TRIPS

West Michigan resort hotels and lodges should be prepared to give their guests interesting information about trips out of their places that will make them acquainted with the variety and vastness of our resort country, give them greater pleasure on their vacations and keep them longer with us because of the greater interest, Clarence V. Smazel, executive secretary of the development league of Western Michigan, urges.

"Recently while at one of the finest and most progressive lodges in West Michigan I discovered the editor of an outdoor magazine who had been coming there for years but knew very little of the interesting things in that country about himself," Mr. Smazel said. "He was so well pleased with things as he found them that it never occurred to him that new delights of the eye at least awaited him within a few miles."

"That man was a staunch friend of the place he came back to year after year, the community and the region. But he might be turned into an enthusiastic admirer who will go back home and rave about this vacationland to his friends. That man knows the silent, barren beauty of green sodded and forested hills and valleys blue in the haze of sunset as one travels M66 north of Pioneer. But he had never taken the country road from Manalona to East Jordan to see there the rugged, timbered and dashing creeks that make the Jordan a river; he had never looked across the waters of Walloon lake to a point with its summer homes and forests climbing the side of the rise back from the lake; he had never felt the magnificence of Lake Michigan standing on the great bluff that runs along for miles north of Harbor Springs. These and dozens of other things in dozens of other neighboring communities would delight this man and his family, as they would thousands of others who come to West Michigan every year and never see them."

"No individual business or community would lose anything through exploiting the beauties of other communities on motor trips." In the opinion of Mr. Smazel, "but all would derive greater immediate benefits by keeping vacationers interested in a greater and greater variety of features for the service thus rendered in finding for the people who come into this great recreational country new pleasures and greater happiness."

The Development League's secretary in himself a most enthusiastic admirer of West Michigan's out-of-door life, and is prepared to give communities, hotels and lodges whatever aid he can in finding in each community the most interesting drives and views.

WELL KNOWN GR. HAVEN WOMAN DIES ON HOLIDAY

Friends, relatives and immediate family at Grand Haven were grievously shocked last night when they learned of the death of Mrs. Nellie Pant at the home of her sister, Mrs. Hannah Joslin at Grandville, on Monday at 10:30 p. m.

Death was due to a stroke of apoplexy. Although not in robust health for a number of years, Mrs. Pant was not ill by any means and had gone to make her sister a short visit. She had been away from Grand Haven about a week and had passed a pleasant holiday.

Mrs. Pant was born in Holland township on June 17, 1859, and before her marriage to the late John Pant was Miss Cornelia Lieveens. Mrs. Pant lived in Grand Haven 40 years. She was a charter member of the Methodist church and always an active worker in its departments. She had never taken the country road from Manalona to East Jordan to see there the rugged, timbered and dashing creeks that make the Jordan a river; he had never looked across the waters of Walloon lake to a point with its summer homes and forests climbing the side of the rise back from the lake; he had never felt the magnificence of Lake Michigan standing on the great bluff that runs along for miles north of Harbor Springs. These and dozens of other things in dozens of other neighboring communities would delight this man and his family, as they would thousands of others who come to West Michigan every year and never see them."

In the opinion of Mr. Smazel, "but all would derive greater immediate benefits by keeping vacationers interested in a greater and greater variety of features for the service thus rendered in finding for the people who come into this great recreational country new pleasures and greater happiness."

CHERRY FLY ON THE JOB AT FENNVILLE

A letter from the Michigan State College to Ralph Helm, Allegan Co. agricultural agent, dated June 22, reads as follows: "Our observers and field men have just reported finding that the adult of the white banded cherry fruit fly is out at Fennville. In Allegan county the egg laying will begin shortly, and now is the time to kill the flies before they lay the eggs."

"Sour canning cherries which are to be crubbed should be sprayed immediately. Use lime and sulphur, one to forty. Use two and a half pounds of dry powdered arsenate of lead to one hundred gallons of the dilute lime and sulphur. In the case of sweet cherries do not use lime-sulphur stronger than two gallons to one hundred gallons of water."

This letter was signed by R. H. Pettit, professor of Entomology.

MRS. SEQUIST, ALLEGAN EX-MAYOR'S WIFE, DIES

Mrs. Hilda C. Sequist, 61, wife of Swan M. Sequist, former mayor of Allegan and for several years secretary of the Allegan County Agricultural society, died Monday evening at John Robinson hospital following an operation a week previous.

Besides her husband she is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Arnold Kilpatrick, Mrs. O. W. Stuch and Mrs. H. D. Kilpatrick, and several grandchildren. All of Allegan; a sister, Mrs. Andrew Johnson of Watson township, and four brothers and one sister living in Sweden.

WIN HONORS IN A CONTEST

Holland placed eight winners in the Old National Bank "Old Ironsides" contest held recently. The bank presented a list of real brain questions on the history of the old frigate "Constitution." One hundred of the old boat prints similar to the pictures on sale in our local stores were given as prizes to the winners.

There were fifty-six perfect scores. Of these three winners are from Holland—namely, Lamber Odgers, 242 W. 10th street, Ralph Schepers, Rld. 3, and W. Veerman, 135 W. 18th St. Of the forty-four who only missed one of the questions and also received a print of the famous old ship are the following from Holland: A. G. De Koning, 426 First Avenue; Mabel C. Rosenberg, 480 Central Avenue; Mrs. N. G. Mastman, 126 East 18th St.; M. D. Simpson, 272 W. 10th St.; and Henry Tyse, 88 E. 13th St.

PECK AND BERNARD SENT TO IONIA

Judge O. S. Cross sentenced two prisoners awaiting sentence in the Ottawa county jail. Frank Peck of West Olive and George Bernard of Flint are being taken to Ionia to serve their time by deputies Charles Salisbury and Bernie Hirdes.

Peck, who has been on parole for two years, broke it on a liquor charge. The judge gave him three months at Ionia as he had already been in the county jail for 60 days.

Bernard, the lad who stole the jewelry from Mrs. Ella West in Spring Lake, was given six months to one year in Ionia as he pleaded guilty to a charge of grand larceny.

WARM WEATHER WILL BRING BIG CUT WORM HOST

East Lansing, July 6—Because weather conditions this year have developed a large crop of cut worms for the earlier crops it is to be expected that the army worm of July will arrive in full force, says R. H. Pettit, of the entomological section of Michigan State college.

The cut worm develops in temperatures of from 40 to 60 degrees, says Dr. Pettit, while the parasites that normally control it develop in temperatures over 60 degrees. This is the reason that Michigan growers have the cut worm with them in large numbers at present and the reason why Professor Pettit believes the army worm, a species of cut worm, will be present in July.

Proven bait is now the recognized method of fighting the cut worm, says Dr. Pettit, but the bait must be sweetened to taste and then perfumed to get the best results.

Working with the growers of mint in the southern part of the state, Dr. Pettit and his associates have demonstrated that a bran bait used by Colorado for the extermination of grasshopper is more effective than anything yet devised to attract cut worms.

The first part of the formula is the mixture of eight and one-half pounds of water with 30 pounds of caustic soda or lye, and the dissolving in this mixture of 100 pounds of white arsenic.

"When the lye dissolves, it will be noticed that the water becomes warm," said Dr. Pettit. "Then stir in the 100 pounds of powdered white arsenic a little at a time, as fast as it is dissolved."

"The addition of the arsenic gives it more heat and no extra heat is required. This will make about 12-15 gallons of thick, sticky liquid containing eight pounds of arsenic per gallon."

"In the preparation of the bait for cut worms, use 100 pounds of bran, one quart of the arsenic soda mixture described above, and design of wafers, all two gallons of cheap molasses and about 10 gallons of water."

The prepared bait is broadcast, dusk being the time preferred as cut worms come to the surface and work during the night."

RIVER VALLEY ONCE THE BURIAL PLAT OF TRIBE

The "Great Spirit," after searching far, discovered the charms of the Grand river valley and, walking across the rapids, decided that the site upon which Grand Rapids is built in fact was the home and death place of the burying ground of warriors, according to a tradition related by Captain Charles E. Belknap, an authority upon Indian life of Michigan.

Forty-eight Indian mounds were found clustered closely together along the west bank of Grand river, where business blocks now are situated where the white man first came into the valley, said Captain Belknap, who, as a water boy, toiled with the gangs of laboring men who leveled the mounds and carted the contents to the nearby swamp lands to fill the low places.

These places possessed wide repute as attested by the discovery in them of various Indian articles fashioned of flint and clay which must have been carried hundreds of miles, he said.

From Muskegon Shoals and other lowlands on the coast and other away places were brought for burial with the braves, the articles of the hunt and battle as well as the contents of the stomachs of the warriors who had gone down the home road to skeletons unscathed and before he was called to service either in the standing or sitting position. Bars of pure silver also were dug up.

"So many skeletons, in all their completeness, were disinterred that the fishermen, supposing as they were struck on the job and the work had to be completed by Hollanders," Captain Belknap recalled.

While serving as water boy, Captain Belknap made a large collection of Indian relics gathered from the mounds. After he ceased for Civil war service and before he was called to active duty, he placed the collection in the attic of his home. Returning after the war he discovered the home had burned and the collection was destroyed.

FISH PICTURE CONTEST OPENS TO FISHERMEN

Fishermen and photographers throughout the country will be interested in the announcement in the July issue of "Hunting and Fishing Magazine" of a prize contest for the best pictures of fish and the tackle with which they are caught submitted to the magazine.

According to the announcement in "Hunting and Fishing," 25 Melba-bait-Cattucci casting reels will be given for the best 25 pictures, the judgment to be made on the basis of interest, composition, clearness, natural setting and background. The contest closes Sept. 1, 1927.

Persons who submit pictures are also required to give the County, weight and various other information that may be of general interest to fishermen. The judges of the contest will be the editors of "Hunting and Fishing Magazine."

MRS. SEQUIST, ALLEGAN EX-MAYOR'S WIFE, DIES

Mrs. Hilda C. Sequist, 61, wife of Swan M. Sequist, former mayor of Allegan and for several years secretary of the Allegan County Agricultural society, died Monday evening at John Robinson hospital following an operation a week previous.

Besides her husband she is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Arnold Kilpatrick, Mrs. O. W. Stuch and Mrs. H. D. Kilpatrick, and several grandchildren. All of Allegan; a sister, Mrs. Andrew Johnson of Watson township, and four brothers and one sister living in Sweden.

Mrs. Sequist had resided in Allegan 25 years. Funeral services will be held in the Federated church Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. S. E. Kelley officiating. Burial will be in Oakwood cemetery in Allegan.

WIN HONORS IN A CONTEST

Holland placed eight winners in the Old National Bank "Old Ironsides" contest held recently. The bank presented a list of real brain questions on the history of the old frigate "Constitution." One hundred of the old boat prints similar to the pictures on sale in our local stores were given as prizes to the winners.

There were fifty-six perfect scores. Of these three winners are from Holland—namely, Lamber Odgers, 242 W. 10th street, Ralph Schepers, Rld. 3, and W. Veerman, 135 W. 18th St. Of the forty-four who only missed one of the questions and also received a print of the famous old ship are the following from Holland: A. G. Macatawa When There Were No Cottages, Taken in 1879 by B. P. Higgins

RESTAURANT AND HOTEL HELP ARE GIVEN PERMITS

The restaurants, hotels, cafeterias, lunch wagons and all other eating places in Holland received a perfect score in the first annual inspection of the health department. The inspection was made by Health Officer D. G. Cook in accordance with the terms of a new health ordinance passed by the common council some time ago. This ordinance requires that no person with a communicable disease be employed in any place in Holland where food is prepared or served to the general public.

After a careful examination of all places in Holland licensed as eating places, the health officer reported on Wednesday that not a single person had been found in any one of them who did not comply with the terms of the ordinance in every respect. It was therefore possible for the health department to issue a certificate to every one of the men and women employed in the eating places, giving them the right to continue such employment. The number of persons examined was 115 and that number of certificates were issued.

A similar inspection will be made once a year. The permits are good for one year, but should any communicable disease develop in any of the persons examined after the examination has been held, and the permit issued, the proprietor is expected, in the health department by having another examination held. Any person engaged by any eating place during the year after the examination has been held for the city as a whole cannot enter upon such employment until he has been examined by the health officer and has secured a permit. In this way the general public is safeguarded.

The proprietors of eating places have been cooperating with the health board to the fullest extent and Health Officer Cook Wednesday expressed his gratification at their attitude. He and City Inspector Bosch also inspected the interiors of all the eating places and found conditions so good that certificates for good sanitary conditions were issued to all.

RESORT NOTES ALONG EAST SHORE

A beautiful old American flag, still strong and well preserved, has been presented to Camp Daggett, the Potosky boys' summer camp on Walloon lake by the Daggett family. With appropriate ceremonies, in which Potosky business men took part, it was officially dedicated and raised.

Plans to establish a modern bathing beach at Beulah on the east end of Crystal lake are being formulated by the village council of Beulah and the Twin Village Commercial club. It is intended that the lake bottom and the beach be cleared and all debris removed. A lighted municipal dock for those with motorboats, two springboards, a diving raft for the swimmers, bathing slides into the shallow water for children and longer slides for the adults are other features planned.

Big posters have been put up on all the incoming highways and throughout the county announcing the big boat regatta on Spring Lake in Ottawa County, to be held July 4. A large display of fireworks will mark the evening's entertainment.

Christening of the first big boat to be named in honor of Gov. Fred W. Green took place in Muskegon this week. The boat is the Craycroft, now being overhauled and refitted for use in hauling gravel from Fox Island for the scenic highway construction. The boat, which belongs to Capt. John Roen of Charlevoix, was launched on the Atlantic coast nine years ago, and recently was purchased from the United States shipping board. Gov. Green was invited to Muskegon for the ceremonies.

The Younglove Engineering company of Sioux City, Iowa, has built a swimming pool on the Holland-Saugatuck road near the limits of Saugatuck and has created quite a unique enterprise. The promoter is Robert W. Merriott of Saugatuck and the large pool will accommodate 1,500 bathers daily. The pool is surrounded with all safeguards, and good swimmers can dive in a depth of 9 feet, while beginners are kept in a depth of 4½ feet and less.

The deep part of the pool is roped off, and two life guards stand on platforms ready to jump in and aid those in danger. The life guards are both registered American Red Cross messengers.

There are spring boards, diving shoots, and all those things that complete an out-of-door swimming pool. The pool is a beautiful sight, being two hundred feet by one hundred and twenty-five feet. Pure water from the city mains is used to fill the pool, which is nine feet deep in the center and eighteen inches at the edge.

A pretty yellow and black stucco building serves as both a bath house and lunch room. The pool is bordered by a cement walk for spectators. The lunch room is cleverly patterned after the Spanish type of architecture.

The pool is kept absolutely pure by a filtering system which takes a steady stream of five hundred gallons a minute from the pool. By means of a centrifugal water is changed completely every twenty-four hours. At Seiger and Bob Wagner of the Michigan University swimming team have had a very successful year and are very competent, since they are both AAU champions. The idea of Mr. Merriott in constructing the pool was to give folks a clean water to swim in and play in, and they want warm water. An eighteen foot diving platform permits experts to display their powers. Two chute-the-chutes and some stunt water ponies will be installed to amuse the crowd.

By insuring pure water through his chlorinating system, Mr. Merriott intends to attract his patrons to the opening day. Flood lights will make night swimming a new experience since a pool keeps its temperature after sundown. Bathing beauty contests will be arranged later in the season. The pool will be open at night as well as in the daytime, large reflectors flooding the entire pool.

CHANGES FOR MAC-ATAWA PARK

These are the contemplated changes that optimistic Macatawa folks contemplate making as a first step toward having this popular resort come back. That fireproof shingles be used on all dwellings. That building on too narrow lots be discouraged. That more fire hose should be purchased and more hydrants installed. That all rubbish be cleared from the park. That a bus line be permitted to enter the grounds. That park concessions be patronized.

ALLEGAN BUYS ITS OWN GAS SAVES $1571

Purchase of gasoline in carload lots has resulted in a saving to Allegan county of $1,571.08 since the new purchase plan was started, May 9. Mr. McOmber stated when the board met in regular session at Allegan Monday, that county uses was formerly bought in small lots at retail. A storage tank has been built at a cost of $1,342.30 and a balance of $215.19 remains, over former cost of gasoline at retail.

Construction of roads by the county will also materially reduce expenses. Mr. McOmber stated. The Dorr road will be built for $8,500 or about $4,000 less than the lower bid made on that job. Kibbe and Pullman road jobs will also be completed at reduced costs.

The report of the committee of equalization shows an assessed valuation of $40,851,400 for 1927 over $39,455,700 for 1926. The value as equalized was placed at $2,000,000 the same figure as in 1926. Acreage assessed was reduced from 518,111 acres in 1926 to 517,774 in 1927.

Saugatuck township tax roll for 1927 shows only a slight decrease over 1926, despite the loss of Douglas basket factory property by fire. This is due to the steady rise of property valuations and new buildings in that section. In Allegan city a valuation of about $100,000 less is credited to the loss of First National bank property by fire and the closing of two large business houses.

Repairs at an approximate cost of $5,000 to be made to the bridge over the Kalamazoo river at New Richmond were also approved by the Allegan board of supervisors. This improvement surely was most necessary. New supports, repainting of steel and a new floor were included in the report made by Fred McOmber, chairman of the road commission. The bridge is fast approaching a state where it would be unfit for traffic, the report said. A dust layer of calcium chloride will be dispensed with outside towns and villages to provide funds for the repairs.

CAN NOT BOB YOUR HAIR AND BE A HOLLAND BRIDE

A grave morality crisis prevails in the country districts of the Netherlands, where the church has started a vehement campaign against the modern fashions of women. The church wardens of the Netherlands Reformed church at Putten, a small place in the province of Gelderland, have decided not to bless any married couple if the bride is considered immodestly dressed. Even if she has bobbed hair, her wedding will be denied consecration by the church.

Motorists throughout the country are preparing for vacation trips, many of which will start the first of the triple holiday, July 2, 3 and 4, according to reports from the Corduroy Tire Company.

Vacation time starts as soon as schools are excused in June and when thoughts turn to fishing, golf and travel. At this time each year the great tourist army sets about to get in readiness for the annual jaunt. Plans are made, maps are consulted, luggage is packed and the car is tuned up for the trip.

One of the most important items in making these preparations is that of properly equipping the car with good tires. There is nothing that detracts more from the pleasure and enjoyment of a day's travel than the delay when a tire blows out. Even at its best tire trouble means loss of time, unnecessary toll and disturbed tempers.

The sale of automobile tires is one of the most exact barometers of weather conditions that could be followed. It is true that automobiles are today running day after day throughout the year. They have to be equipped with tires that will withstand constant abuse, but vacation time is known as new tire time.

When a tire "goes bad" at other times during the year it is either repaired or replaced with a new one. In fact, very little thought is given to the tires until they fail to perform properly. But when the family gets ready to make the summer excursion to the ocean, mountains, woods or inland lake, the driver wants to be reasonably sure that his tires are in good condition. That is the reason for the increase in tire sales each year as soon as school lets out.

It has been pointed out also that vacation roads differ from those traveled during the other days of the year. They lead to the quiet places, through lanes and passes otherwise but little used. They lead to the shore of a wooded lake, to the farm on the cross-way and to the mountain camp. This travel taxes tires to the utmost.

Emphasizing this particular point, M. J. Goldner, secretary of the Corduroy Tire Company, lays stress on the construction of Corduroy tires. He says they are built to withstand not only the daily grind of pavement and curbs, but the extreme wear encountered on the rough roads as well. The additional ribs of rubber on the sidewall of Corduroy tires, rebuffs attacks of ruts and stones, protecting the inner plies of cord and rubber and assuring perfect traction over every type of road.

ASSESSMENT FOR OTTAWA COUNTY SET

According to the Ottawa County board of supervisors the city of Holland has a valuation of more than seven million dollars. This was brought out at the meeting held at Grand Haven Friday.

The assessed valuation of Ottawa county was fixed at $60,615,220 by the board of supervisors at the annual equalization session. This is an increase of $336,180 over last year when the total was $60,279,040.

Real estate figures were equalized as assessed by the supervisors at $48,932,628 which is an increase of $1,171,698. However, personal property listed by the tax inspector decreased from $12,518,110 last year to $11,682,592 this year, a reduction of $835,518, making the net increase for the county only $336,180.

Only three townships show a decrease in their real estate rolls. Chester drops $2,950. Jamestown slid down $79,500 and Olive got a reduction of $22,700.

Grand Haven's total assessments are increased $221,960 and Holland carries $367,955 more. Zeeland, the other city, went up $34,532. These are offset by township reductions, mainly on personal property.

Last year Grand Haven had the following assessments, real estate, $5,717,350; personal, $2,250,105; total, $7,967,455. This year's figures locally show: real estate, $4,893,628; personal, $1,162,592; total, $6,056,220. The differences are: real estate, increased $278,015 personal, reduced $56,055; total, increased $221,960.

The total assessments for the various townships follow: Allegan, $1,190,500; Blenden, $1,441,040; Chester, $1,794,570; Crocker, $888,295; Georgetown, $2,555,150; Grand Haven, $740,623; Holland, $4,605,870; Jamestown, $2,311,350; Olive, $1,322,050; Park, $3,236,050; Port Sheldon, $444,976; Polkton, $2,068,115; Robinson, $622,640; Spring Lake, $2,061,290; Tallmadge, $1,569,880; Wright, $2,193,290; Zeeland Township, $2,380,250; Zeeland City, $2,717,982; Grand Haven City, $6,189,415; Holland City, $1,748,885.

SHORE LINE OPENS OUTING BUREAU IN CHICAGO

The Shore Line Motor Coach Company, in conjunction with four other allied transportation companies, opened an Outing and Recreation Bureau at 72 West Adams Street, in Chicago, today.

The purpose of this bureau will be to acquaint the people of Chicago and surrounding territory with the various recreational centers located in the territory served by the Shore Line Motor Coach Company, Chicago, South Shore and North Shore, and Milwaukee Railroad, Chicago, Aurora and Elgin Railroad and the Chicago Rapid Transit Company. The bureau will tend to call attention to, and popularize the vast recreational advantages of this Chicago Metropolitan area, particularly that within a radius of 100 miles of the hub.

A great deal of information concerning western Michigan, the territory served by the Shore Line Motor Coach Company, has been gathered in the form of a questionnaire which was prepared and filled out on every town served by the Shore Line. All the recreational features such as boating, bathing, fishing, hiking, horseback riding, tennis, golf, dancing, horse racing, auto racing and many others were listed and have been cataloged. Hotels and cottages, their rates and accommodations and a great deal of other information on each city is available at this bureau.

Interesting folders with a great amount of illustrative and descriptive literature have been prepared on various points along the Shore Line route and will be distributed through the bureau as well as descriptive literature issued by the various Chambers of Commerce.

The work of the bureau will do a great deal towards bringing people into the territory served by the Shore Line because of the interesting topography of the country with its dunes, lofty wooded hills and numerous lakes and streams which is bound to appeal to a large number of people.

Maps will also be distributed through the bureau on the Indiana Dunes showing hikers the most interesting trips to take through the dunes.

It will also arrange group or individual parties to attend conventions, conferences, state, county or community fairs. They will also arrange for educational trips for public, high school and university classes. The bureau will also influence the holding of various conventions in cities of the territories. Although the purpose of the bureau at the present time is merely outing and recreational, a home finding department will be opened within a very short time. The purpose of this department will be to encourage home owning as an offset to radicalism and an incentive to better citizenship.

Other companies jointly interested in the maintenance of the bureau besides those previously mentioned are, Midland Utilities Company, Commonwealth Edison Company, The Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company, Northern Indiana Public Service Company and the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois.

The bureau will be open 24 hours a day and may be reached by calling State 9080.

TO CONDUCT ORCHESTRA AT SOUTH HAVEN RESORT

Herb Van Duren and his orchestra have left for South Haven where they will be playing and entertaining at Dixie Inn, a new and pretty dining and dancing resort located on the bluffs of Lake Michigan. The orchestra will be there every night.

INDIANA BUYS LAKE MICHIGAN LAND

The state of Indiana has purchased from the heirs of Thomas E. Wells and Stanford White over 10,000 acres in the beautiful dune region of Porter County, Indiana, bordering Lake Michigan. The price paid was $500,000. This gives the state the required maximum of 2,000 acres stipulated in the law of 1923 which provided for the purchase and created a special tax levy. The total cost of the new Dunes park is estimated to be $1,000,000. The tract will be improved, beginning at once.

TELLS OF INDIAN BACKGROUND OF HOLLAND CITY

"Sho-Li-Mo-Co. News," published at Gary, Ind., by and for the employees of the Shore Line Motor Coach Company, this week contains an article about Holland. It says:

"A town whose folks really live" is the slogan that the city of Holland, Michigan, has taken and which it is justly entitled to. Here in the center of what is known as 'The Playground of a Nation,' on the shores of Black Lake lies this city of 16,000 people many of whose fathers came from the Netherlands and established this little Dutch community where they could worship as they pleased.

"It is a city rich in history and its origin is especially unique. In 1847 a little group of God fearing men and women fearfully departed from the Netherlands and prayerfully founded on the shores of Black Lake the pious town of Holland. Under the leadership of the Reverend A. C. Van Raalte this little band of white men settled on the shores of the lake next to a village of Pottawatamie Indians. And a bluff at the west end of the lake is the site of the village of what is now the city.

"With the progress of civilization the Pottawatamies who were a friendly tribe soon became dissatisfied and decided to move on to new territory. As the story goes, Pastor Van Raalte, a commoner among the Indians, there was a great deal of activity among a grove of trees along the shore of the lake. Upon investigation it was found that the Indians were digging up their dead and placing the bodies in canoes. Upon the following morning several hundred of these canoes, loaded with their dead sailed out of the bay and headed north to Potosky where the established a new village and where a few of their descendants may still be found.

"The site of the village on the shore of Black Lake as well as many of the Indian graves which were untouched by the Indians in their hurry to get away are still visible to the visitor. Black Lake has a most picturesque setting nestled in among the dunes which are covered with heavy timber. It is separated only by a narrow neck of land from Lake Michigan through which a channel has been opened making it one of the finest harbors along the entire lake.

"Black Lake offers every kind of water sport imaginable from canoeing and swimming to surfboat riding and yachting. Or if one prefers there are the wide sandy beaches of Lake Michigan both at Macatawa Park and Ottawa Beach. Here again the Indian history of the territory has shown its influence in the names which are so common around Holland. Macatawa was the original Indian name meaning Black Water from whence Black Lake got its name. The community known as Ottawa Beach was named after a tribe of Ottawa Indians who lived in this territory at the same time as the Pottawatamies. For many years there was an Indian trail from Waukazo, northwest through the woods along Lake Michigan to Port Sheldon, eight miles north running between the villages of the Pottawatamies and the Ottawas who were on friendly terms at this time. A bit of this old Indian trail still remains today and may be followed either on foot or on horseback.

"The territory in and around this thrifty little city of Holland is alive with interesting sights for the vacationer. The historical background lends an atmosphere to the great stretches of dune land making it one of the most attractive summer resort territories in western Michigan."

Bids for rerouting approximately two-blocks of US-31 to eliminate two sharp turns at Muskegon Heights will be asked within the next two or three weeks by the state highway department. The city last year purchased several lots for the right of way to bring the trunkline onto Peck street on a long curve from Merriam avenue.

State highway officials are now making plans for eliminating the bad corner at the head of Mona Lake and will seek a right of way from the foot of Mona Lake hill to the present corner, making one long curve to supplant the bad corner and several shorter curves.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kaashoek at Holland hospital, July 3, a baby girl, Ruth Francis. Mrs. Kaashoek was formerly Miss Florence Branderhorst.

Again many of the Holland high schools have made good in typewriting. Perhaps some who have never taken this part of the commercial course cannot imagine how anyone with less than a year's experience and practice can be making 40 or 50 words a minute. However, local students are making such records right along. April's award winners are the following:

5-DAY MARRIAGE LAW CAUSES ISSUE NOT LOOKED FOR

County clerks all over the state are considerably worried about the way the five-day marriage law is working out. This law, which was passed by the 1925 legislature, was supposed to decrease the number of divorces by cutting down the number of hasty marriages. It has worked out so that exactly the opposite result has been attained. While the number of marriages performed in Michigan has greatly decreased, the number of divorces has increased. And although the ceremonies performed in Michigan are fewer, it is agreed by all that there are just as many hasty marriages on the part of Michigan couples—performed by the county clerks of the border counties in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and Wisconsin. The counties in those states get the fees that really belong in Michigan.

A more serious question is that of locating marriage records. This difficulty will become more clear in a few years, county clerks point out. Innumerable difficulties arise in connection with legal proceedings of one kind or another in which a record of marriage must be found. Often parents are dead or estranged or disappeared. To settle legal questions their marriage date must be established. Under normal conditions those records are to be found in the county in which the family of one or both of the parties was living at the time of the marriage. Not so now. In a great many cases none but the couple themselves know where the marriage was performed and this will cause a great many tangles in a few years, county clerk declare.

Marriages in Michigan during 1926 were 14 per cent less than the ceremonies performed in 1925. The 1926 figures were 39,788 and for 1925 the total was 46,276, a loss of 14.48 per cent.

"This decrease," according to a bulletin issued by the department of commerce for publication today, "is in all probability due mainly to the enactment in 1925 of a law requiring application for a marriage license five days in advance of the date on which the license is to be issued." During the same year, however, divorces showed an increase of 1.1 per cent, or 9,648 in 1926 compared with 9,541 during 1925. In addition, the bulletin reports, there were 101 marriages annulled in Michigan during last year.

Of the 83 counties in the state, Wayne naturally led both the marriage and divorce columns, with 16,390 marriages in 1926 compared with 16,133 in 1925, and 4,604 divorces last year compared with 4,686 in 1925. There were 70 marriages annulled in Wayne county in 1926.

The "lowest" county in Michigan was Oceola, where 10 marriages in 1926 compared with five in 1925, and two divorces in 1926 against one divorce in 1925.

State Tanneries Solving Pollution

Detroit Free Press—Fourteen Michigan tanneries are operating an experimental station at Holland, Mich., on experiments to reduce their polluting wastes.

They have succeeded in reducing the amount to 41 per cent. In arriving at results they employed a full-time chemist who took samples every half hour with composite samples every hour.

The technical staff states that it will be a matter of but few months when it will be able to lay down a definite means of eliminating wastes from any tannery so that it will be safe to discharge into the streams without injury to aquatic life.

KINKS TAKEN OUT OF OTTAWA COUNTY HIGHWAYS

Tourists Will Hail With Delight the Straightening of Roads

Ferrysburg, Near Grand Haven, One Bad Spot Is Now Fixed

The Ottawa County Road Commissioners have straightened out some bad curves in the Ottawa county highways within the last six years. Not so long ago the road to Grand Haven was a tangle of curves; now it is a straight ribbon of concrete to the county seat with the exception of a railway crossing at West Olive, and workmen are now busy adding ten feet to the width of this curve, giving plenty of room for drivers to negotiate this bad curve.

Chairman of the Ottawa County Road Commission, Austin Harrington, gave considerable information relative to straightened roads, and said that six years ago the first big undertaking was the Holland-Grand Haven road, now US-31, and the second big project was US-21 almost straight to Grand Rapids with the exception of the highway between Holland and Zeeland, where a survey is now being made which will cut out all the New Groningen curves.

In Kent County US-21 has also been straightened through Grandville, now eliminating all railroad crossings between Holland and the Zeeland City, except one on East 8th street, which is well guarded.

About the worst tangle of curves was at Ferrysburg, and this road will be straightened out completely within a few weeks.

Over one-half of the work on the approaches to the grade separation in Ferrysburg has been completed under the direction of the G. P. Scharl Co. of Muskegon. A battery of trucks, steam shovels, gasoline locomotives has hauled 20,000 of the 40,000 yards of sand to the location.

It is a busy place and a large number of men with interesting apparatus are engaged in the work which is being done in record time. A three-inch water main pours a constant stream of water on a concrete bed. This day and night stream is used to thoroughly settle the newly moved sand that the pavement may be put in shortly after this part of the project is completed.

The overhead structure was virtually completed last year although the forms were left standing. These recently have been removed and that part of the work is nearly completed. The over head is 28 feet high and the approaches must rise to that height. The viaduct is 27 feet wide to admit four tracks passing underneath. It is constructed of reinforced concrete and will be a splendid looking addition to the highway when completed.

MAN, 99, WANTS PLANE RIDE ON 100TH BIRTHDAY

At the age of 99 years, Hannibal G. Coburn, of Howard City, Mich., Howard City's veteran hotel man, has one more great ambition. It is to live until June 3 next year, his 100th birthday, and to observe that anniversary by taking an airplane ride from Howard City to Detroit.

THOUSANDS OF TREES ARE PLANT- ED IN OTTAWA CO.

A total of 18,400 forest seedling trees were shipped into Ottawa County in 1926 and in 1927 the number was increased to 65,800 trees according to a report made by agricultural agent Milham. Norway Spruce proved to be the most popular. There were 37,400 Spruce, 8,450 White Pine, 7,000 Scotch Pine, 4,500 Jack Pine, 500 Austrian Pine, 200 White Cedar, 3,000 Basswood, 1,000 each of willow, Douglas Fir and European Larch.

Mr. Milham is planning on arranging a forestry week some time this fall in order to stimulate planting of more trees on non-agricultural soil and in placing orders early in the season. Many farmers ordered trees but the College was sold out. Many ordered trees from the State and commercial nurseries and these are not counted in this report.

The steering wheel of Frank Terry's car at Allegan came loose Monday night and before he could stop the car it left the road and crashed into a tree on M-40 near that city. Terry was painfully injured by flying glass on his right arm, face and head.

The home of Hendrik De Vries, Holland's pioneer cooper, has been removed to make room for a large garage to be erected by John Weststrate. The building will be 50x132 feet, brick and tile, and cost between $12,000 and $15,000. Work has been started.

Through an error a fire was reported to have occurred Tuesday in the plant of the Ideal Cleaners. This should have read the Paris Cleaners, 75 E. 6th St.

The viaduct was built at an estimated cost of $69,000 by Marshall & Sons of Lowell, and the approaches by the Scharl Co. of Muskegon at about $36,000, making a total of over $105,000. Situated as it is on the main highway, few realize the size nor importance of the construction and when the road is opened up to traffic it will undoubtedly be a great surprise to the majority of travelers.

The cement road will be laid, as soon as the approaches are completed by the Ottawa County Road Commission, the entire project to be finished by Nov. 1.

The expense of the project is being borne by the railway company, the federal government and the state on the apportionment decided by the state Utilities Commission. It is the first grade separation to be built in Ottawa county and one of the greatest improvements on US-31.

Radio station WHBM will broadcast from the stage of the Holland theatre in full view of the audience at each performance, commencing Monday, July 11st. It will be the most costly attraction ever brought to a Holland theatre. Assurance is given by Mr. E. S. Davis that this station is sufficiently powerful to have an extended radius so that the program broadcast from this city will be heard by numerous listeners throughout the section. This station has been heard thousands of miles distant when atmospheric conditions were right and will place Holland on the radio map of the country.

This station is licensed by the United States Government for operation on 201.2 meters R 1490 Kilocycles, with a power of 100 watts. Also this station is in charge of a United States Government licensed engineer. The wide area over which the programs of the Holland station will be heard offers a splendid opportunity to advertise Holland, its extensive industries and it is expected that the various manufacturing companies and local retailers will take advantage of the opportunities afforded to advertise Holland and its principal product. After the week's engagement at the Holland theatre the station will be moved to the Warm Friend Tavern ball room for a 5 or 6 week stay. The companies that are responsible for WHBM being here will be announced later.

WARDENS AIM TO STOP THE USE OF DYNAMITE

Michigan game wardens are especially active just now in driving dynamite and other explosives from Chippewa river as a means of taking fish. William Peavey and Orkley Tebo, Mecosta county men working at Flint, are the first to be charged with the offense and the game wardens intend to punish everybody they find using explosives for that purpose. Tebo and Peavey admitted their guilt.

Chippewa river is one of the popular trout streams in that vicinity and the sportsmen and wardens have been working on the river trying to improve it for fishing.

The game wardens, aroused by reports of dynamiting, have been closing in on the situation.

FENNVILLE FRUIT EXCHANGE PUT UP AN ADDITION

Fennville Fruit Exchange has been so great that it has been found necessary to add an apple storage house to the plant. It is now in process of construction. The Exchange was organized in 1915 and it has been in successful operation ever since. It handles a full line of fruit growers' supplies in addition to packing and marketing fruit for its members.

The new building now being erected is of interlocking tile, frost-proof construction, 71x80, two stories and basement and will have maximum storage capacity of about 100 carloads of apples and pears. A system of ventilators and exhaust fans will give a chance to use circulating air to reduce temperatures during the fall months.

Increase in new bearing trees and demand from growers for membership has made this addition necessary and it will have a seasonal capacity of about 400 carloads of fruit when completed.

"DON'T KNOW" IS VERY BAD FOR WEST MICHIGAN

"Any fish in this lake?" "I don't know—never go fishing." "What kind of bait do they use?" "Don't know. Minnows are best I guess."

"Where can I get some bait and a boat?" "I don't know."

That was a conversation between a hotel owner and manager on one of West Michigan's leading lakes, as reported by a leader in West Michigan tourist and resort activities. The result was that the hotel lost the business of a party of three tourists at least over night and possibly for a few days or more. If that was all there was too it, West Michigan as a whole might not care, but the tourist got the impression that perhaps he wasn't wanted around, at least as a fisherman.

This conversation was merely evidence of a lack of proper service to our summer visitors, in the opinion of Clarence V. Smael, executive secretary of the Development League of Western Michigan. "Every hotel man and anybody else in Western Michigan who comes in contact with the tourists and resorters should not only be able to give such information, but should know the principal highways, be able to direct people on pleasant and beautiful drives through the community and perform a dozen and one other similar services that would help to make the vacation guest feel that we want to see him have the best possible time while here."

A Beulah lad who sold angleworms to fishermen last summer made $150; he had $500 from his minnow business which he carried on as a sideline. Those were real services and the people who wanted them did not hesitate to pay for them. They will pay for such services at any West Michigan lake shore and when those services are not supplied, hotel and lodge men and others interested in the advancement of a community should see that they are. It's just as essential to sell a man angleworms if he wants them as it is to sell him a summer home if he wants it—and we have plenty of both in West Michigan to meet all demands.

Stone Quarry No Longer Known As "Old Swimming Hole," Now Private Residential Property

In Tuesday's edition the Sentinel published an article featuring the lake known as the Waverly Stone quarry, erroneously assuming this property to have been abandoned to public use. It has always been, and is now private property. It is necessary that this fact should become generally known and observed, as the present owners, Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Van Duren, are developing the historic 16 acres surrounding the lake as a home site and the first house to be built there is now in the process of construction. The natural beauty of the wooded river front and the grassy banks about the lake are to be preserved without excess formalization. Following the Dutch tradition of the locale it is to be named "Het Loo," after the queen's summer place in The Netherlands.

It is entirely natural and understandable that the lake has become a rendezvous for swimmers because the rock springs which feed it keep the water clear and pure, and having no connection with Black river, the lake maintains itself without contamination at a level of from 10 to 14 ft. above the river at all times.

Yet without a desire to shatter the romantic illusions and attachments of those swimmers who have come to regard the lake as the "Old Swimming Hole," it is necessary to present the reverse side of the picture concerning the Waverly property. It is generally assumed that private owners have a right to protect their property from the abuses which have come from time immemorial accompanied by public usurpation of private rights. Unfortunately, the rowdy element has been conspicuous and strong among "the boys" who have made use of the swimming hole. Former owners have had fences torn down, grounds littered and made unsightly and grazing cattle loosed upon the public highways so often that arrests and fines have had to be imposed. Court requests that the property be given at least the same consideration every civilized citizen in Holland gives his own front and back yard have been met with derision and profanity by these "boys." This element of the public needs education in private property rights.

Another common nuisance to property owners along Black river are the fishers, men and women. They camp open gates, leaving them open, climb fences or tear them down if they are unclimbable, establish foot-paths and leave a litter of picnic lunches and tin cans wherever they will. This rude disregard for "the other fellow" seems incompatible with the general conception of fine public spirit which is Holland's boast. This may be due in part to a current misconception that the public has a six foot right of way along every river and lake. This fallacy should be iterated and reiterated until it has been cleared away. The supreme court of the state of Michigan, in a very recent decision, stated unmistakably that property owners on river fronts take ownership to the middle of the stream and the public has no right whatever of thoroughfare or trespass on the adjoining land.

With miles of lake front surrounding Holland available for public use, no hardship is imposed on swimmers and fishers by the observation of "No Trespass" signs on private property. In point of law and fact, these signs must be observed.

Hence, the "Old Swimming Hole" is no more.

Boulder Now Stands In Memory of Cob-Moo-Sa, The Chief Who Remained True to Race Tradition

The memory of Cob-Moo-Sa, the Indian who remained true to the traditions of his race until the end, has been honored.

Great-grandchildren and grandchildren of this picturesque chief participated Sunday when the Ionia chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Oceana County Historical society unveiled a monument to Cob-Moo-Sa at Elbridge township, Oceana county.

The great boulder stands at the northeast corner of section 27 in front of the Cob-Moo-Sa school house built for the Indians in 1860. A picnic dinner was held Sunday and there was a large attendance at the exercises.

Once, more than 1,500 Indians, members of the Ottawa tribe, roamed the woods in Elbridge township. Today, only a few Indian families remain. The others have gone to the cities, where they work in shops and foundries. The trading post, Cob-Moo-Sa store and blacksmith shop to-day, once a busy place, boasts only a few.

It was in 1855 that the tribal organizations were dissolved and hundreds of the Ottawas from Grand Haven, Ionia, Muskegon and other centers were pushed to the northward. They surrendered their lands and were given new grants in Elbridge township. Cob-Moo-Sa, who was born in 1807, there were 17 bands of Indians. 1,500 arrived at Pentwater by boat from Grand Haven and Muskegon. They went to their new homes in Oceana and Mason counties. The reservation was chosen with care because it was many miles from the white man.

The Indians supported themselves by hunting and fishing. They made baskets, made sugar and beads and sold their products to the traders of his race.

"He was an old man of the most majestic appearance," says a description, "in manner of walking gave him the name of Walker. When the Indians moved to the new reservation he remained behind for a time, reluctant to leave the graves of his fathers and the scenes of his early days. To the last he remained an Indian living in a wigwam and firmly wedded to paganism. He did receive the last rites of the Catholic church before he died."

"I am an Indian and can be nothing else," said Cob-Moo-Sa. "I wish my people and my children to be civilized. I know that your ways are superior to mine, and that our people must adopt them or die. But I can not change. The old cannot adopt new ways. You can bend the young tree, but not the old oak."

Yet it is recalled that Cob-Moo-Sa shortly before his death appeared in Grand Rapids wearing a white man's coat. He died in 1872, but his name lives in the deserted trading post and now his memory has been honored by a tablet unveiled Sunday.

DEEP in the woods where even the outposts of civilization are few and far between, life depends upon food, and upon the ability to find it and fight for it.

There the wolverine is supreme. Small though he is, there is none among all the forest animals, great or small, who does not fear him. For the wolverine is strong, the wolverine is fearless, and the wolverine is untiring.

Now Reo presents the Wolverine of the roads. It has those hardy qualities for which the wolverine of the woods has always been known. Brawny it is for long years of life. Powerful enough to vanquish the toughest hills. And with an agility born of zooming acceleration (the pistons are of light, lively aluminum alloy), of velvety deceleration (the brakes are Flying Cloud type, 4-wheel, hydraulic, internal-expanding), of easy handling (the steering gear is of the Feather-touch cam and lever type).

Girdling Trees Called Old Practice Used for Century

Girdling fruit trees to induce crop production, as practiced at the Graham horticultural experiment station near Grand Rapids, is not a new practice. Pomologists admit "ringing" trees has been advocated for more than a century, but it has never been widely adopted by orchardists.

Experiments at the Graham station are intended to determine the practicability of girdling young Northern Spy trees and should it be found worth while the pomologists hope to encourage the practice among Michigan orchardists.

Young Northern Spy trees normally do not come into bearing until 12 to 15 years of age. This is the most objectionable feature to Michigan's leading apple variety. Growers prefer to plant other varieties which come into production at 5 to 7 years.

The experiment station has found that girdling induces earlier fruitfulness. Narrow rings cut in the bark restrict the natural downflow of the sap in the trees, causing a congestion of plant food in the branches. Fruit spur formation is stimulated and a crop of apples results. Station workers this year have dressed the wounds with grafting wax, and all operations have been successful.

Composition of "Black Base"

Black base foundation means that a mixture of crushed stone or gravel and sand is dried and heated and then mixed with hot asphalt. It is then spread on the prepared sub-grade and rolled with an eight ton roller and a ton roller until cold.

When compressed, you have a tough, resilient, foundation which will resist water and frost and is not subject to cracking. Concrete foundations under asphalt pavements have been found to be detrimental to the surface due to this cracking.

The "Black Base" uses the same materials with asphalt for the binding power. As asphalt is waterproof, acidproof and a perfect expansion material, it surpasses as a base. Many cities are turning to it as the solution for the cracking and heaving of pavements.

ALLEGAN BANK FAILURE TO BE INVESTIGATED

A grand jury investigation to fix the responsibility for the failure of the Allegan First National bank was demanded by the board of supervisors at the closing session of the June meeting Thursday by a vote of 30 to six.

The resolution, introduced by Supervisor A. DeJongh of Salem Thursday, precipitated a heated discussion, with Ira Thorpe of Valley township, chairman of the finance committee, leading the opposition forces. The demand by the board for an investigation arose from the fact that the county had $42,000 on deposit when the bank failed. In April an agreement was reached between the county bondsmen and the finance committee, guaranteeing payment of the county fund as soon as possible, if such, ordered at a special March session, was not started.

Shortly before the bank closed, the stockholders deposited $40,000 in the name of Myron B. Moore, trustee. The agreement said this would probably be available to cover the county's deposits.

Thorpe fought valiantly to have terms of this agreement hold, saying the county deposit was amply protected by the measures taken by the finance committee, and that it is not the county's business to force an investigation for the benefit of private accounts.

DeJongh, a member of the finance committee, which drew the agreement, declared the board, as representing the public had a right to ask such an investigation and bring the guilty to justice if the law has been violated.

During the argument it was brought out that Judge Oren S. Cross, president of the defunct bank, had offered responsibility for payment of $10,000 of the first half of the county's deposit to be paid if others would guarantee the balance.

A motion made by Lyman Lilly, the Allegan city supervisor, to table the resolution until the October session, lost by a vote of 17 to 9. Harry Pell, prosecuting attorney, was instructed to ask the circuit court for immediate call of a grand jury. Chairman Samuel Harris of Leighton very strongly advocated the investigation.

The residence of Mrs. Annie Long, Cheshire township, Allegan county, was broken into while she was absent. A victrola, bed spring, bedding and other portable articles were taken. Deputy Sheriff John Van Arkel is investigating.

Judge O. S. Cross was in Grand Haven Thursday to listen to any default cases in circuit court which are ready.

The board of supervisors of Ottawa county Thursday visited the county infirmary on the actual day of the trip-Friday morning they will accept the assessment rolls and wind up the summer session.

The sheriff's force was allowed railroad fare for travel outside of Allegan county.

A movement for the closing of the eastern crossing of the Fore Marquette railroad at the old Grandville paved road has been initiated by Supt. J. A. Anderson, superintendent of the railroad, and by the county road commission. Six persons have met death at this crossing, the need for the opening of the new road on M-51 between Grand Rapids and Grandville, it is likely a petition will be presented shortly to the Michigan public utilities commission for the closing of the crossing.

GRAND HAVEN GARNERS BAD CHECK PASSER

A young fellow who gave his name as W. K. Richards, 33 South Thirtieth street, Minneapolis, who sprang into prominence a few days ago by circulating the story he had secured a lease on "The Barn" at Grand Haven and would have entire charge of the dance hall, is evidently short of funds and will find himself in serious trouble if the officers hold him for passing worthless checks, as it is alleged he has been doing.

P. Keefe, proprietor of the Keefe restaurant, Grand Haven, cashed two checks for the young man a few days ago for $10 and $20 drawn on the First State Bank of Minneapolis. A wire sent by the State Bank at Grand Haven came back "No funds." Mr. Keefe is holding the $10 check.

A clerk at Presley's dance store had the smooth actions of the man and cashed a check for $10. E. J. Prum, owner of Prum's music store, formerly of Holland, now of Grand Haven, sold him a phonograph for which he gave a worthless check. Prum is out considerable at the phonograph is worth $50 he says.

A warrant has been issued on the complaint of Mr. Prum and the officers are out looking for their man. To all appearances he has disappeared.

The boy looked to be about 20 years old, was well dressed and of pleasing personality although those dealing with him noticed his rather shifty eyes. Circulating the story of the Barn lease may have been done to establish his credit previous to the check. If so it worked and the Grand Haven business men are out a good sum.

At 8:30 Thursday morning Miss Geneva Costing became the bride of Mr. Wm Van Etti at a simple home wedding in the presence of only the immediate families. The ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. M. Martin after a wedding breakfast the young couple left on an extended trip through the East.

HOLLAND RANGERS TO CAMP AT LAKE HARBOR, MICHIGAN

CAMP IS LOCATED IN RADEK'S CONFERENCE GROUND NEAR MUSKOGON

Many boys from Holland and vicinity will attend the Radio Rangers summer camp at the Paul Rader Conference grounds at Lake Harbor. The camp for Rangers, age 12 to 18, will be held July 18 to Aug. 1, and for Pilot Rangers, age 15-19, August 15 to 29. Boys may enroll for the entire period or 1st or second week. Boys who are not Rangers are also welcome to attend camp.

Camp Chic-Go-Tab is located in the dunes along Lake Michigan—one of the choicest spots in the Paul Rader conference grounds at Lake Harbor. The stretch of sand beach makes the swimming unusually attractive. A half mile away is Lake Moma, where there is good boating and fishing. The site is five miles south of Muskegon, and easily reached by regular bus service.

The purpose of Camp Chic-Go-Tab camp is to provide a "Boys' Camp Where Christ is First." Camp Chic-Go-Tab will have all the activities and good times a boy may desire, plus a Christian atmosphere.

Camp Chic-Go-Tab will be in charge of Mr. Lance B. Latham, who has had five years' camp leadership experience. A competent leader who for several years has been engaged in camp activities will be in charge of each group of nine boys. The swimming and first-aid work will be especially well cared for.

Camp activities will include swimming, fishing, archery, boating, hiking, baseball, tennis, indoor tennis, basketball, horseback, stunt nights, band (in the second camp), camp fire, diving, track meets, etc.

Boys who wish to attend the camp can get full information from Herman Bos at the Holland City News. Enrollments must be in by July 14.

Progress Means Service!
The Giant Airship Serves Better than the Flimsy Balloon!

Something of the glamour of Long Ago and Far Away attaches itself to men's early attempts to conquer the air with the flimsy balloon. It was a daring gesture, but the needs of mankind are served better by the giant airship, with its far-reaching possibilities of service.

Twenty-five years ago the J. C. Penney Company had only a small country store. Its ideals of helpfulness and service lived only in the efforts of one man, and affected at best, but a handful of customers. Today it has soared upward to a giant institution of 885 Stores, stretching from coast to coast.

Like the airship, it has grown in order that it may better serve the needs of a nation.
