Resigns As Local Head Of Red Cross

MRS. VAN DUREN RETIRES
AND MRS. MABEL VAN DEN
BERG TAKES UP THE WORK

Naturally Holland regrets that at a recent meeting Mrs. G. J. Van Duren resigned as executive secretary of the South Ottawa Red Cross. Mrs. Van Duren, who is 78 years old, despite her age has been untiring and thorough in her work and these duties were faithfully, quickly and correctly performed. Her successor is Mrs. Mabel Van Den Berg, who, it will be remembered, is the daughter of the late Capt. Charles Marton, the head of Holland's first life-saving crew when the station was built here some 35 years ago.

Mrs. Van Duren is a woman of executive ability and is much interested in Red Cross and soldiers' relief work. Two of her brothers were in the World War and she is a member of the Willard G. Leenhouts Post Women's Auxiliary and will take over the duties at Red Cross headquarters in the city hall beginning next Monday.

Mrs. Van Duren did Red Cross duties all during the war and up to this time.

The officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows:

Red Cross Officers, Ottawa County Chapter.

President, Hon. Gerrit J. Diekmann, Holland.

Vice-President, Hon. Nathaniel Robbins, of Grand Haven.

Treasurer, Otto P. Kramer, Holland.

Secretary, Arthur Van Duren, Holland.

Executive Secretary, North Ottawa, Mrs. E. G. McNett, Grand Haven.

Executive Secretary, South Ottawa, Mrs. Mabel Vandenberg, Holland, to succeed Mrs. G. J. Van Duren, resigned.

BOAT EXCURSION AN INDEPENDENCE DAY FEATURE

On July 4 Holland will be treated to one of those old-fashioned excursions on Lake Michigan so delightful some years ago. The Goodrich Transit Co. has arranged to have the "City of Saugatuck" in Holland and a fine afternoon with music and refreshments will be features. The boat will leave its dock at 1:30 p.m. and return at 5:00 p.m., giving the excursionists an afternoon on beautiful Lake Michigan. This is an ideal trip with land in sight constantly and the imposing shore line of "Big Lake" with its summer homes in full view. Local agent C. E. Alger has been working faithfully to put on this Lake Michigan excursion Friday.

INSURANCE MEN HAVE MEET AT HOTEL MACATAWA

The Guaranty Life Insurance Co. opened a two-day convention at Hotel Macatawa July 1 and 2. Speakers include Rev. F. Codd and L. J. Daugherty of Davenport, Ia. A banquet will be held this Wednesday evening. Hotel Macatawa opened Saturday with Mrs. F. Hurlbut in charge.

ALLEGAN SUPERVISORS FINISH IN RECORD TIME

The board of supervisors of Allegan completed their June session in three days' time at least one day earlier than usual. The schedule of the committee on equalization, as adopted, shows a total of $42,000, 000 for the county.

Bills totaling $3,544.20, exclusive of the salaries of the board, were allowed.

GRAND HAVEN COASTGUARD HEAD LEAVES

Com. W. M. Wolff of Grand Haven received orders from Admiral C. C. Billard, head of the U. S. Coast Guard Service, whereby he is to be transferred from the tenth to the second district, with headquarters at Provincetown, Mass. Com. John Kelly, from the twelfth district, with headquarters at San Francisco, will come here. The changes are to be effective Oct. 1, 1930.

Com. Wolff, by the order, returns to his native town, coming to Grand Haven three years ago when he was placed in charge of this district as his first command. He has been here three years last February, and since that time has been expecting transfer orders, the custom of the department to change commanders every three years.

Recently great changes have been made in the Coast Guard service, due to the patroling for liquor violations. The stations and equipment have been greatly improved and the service enlarged. The Grand Haven station has reaped benefits, in proportion to others, with new buildings, new equipment and lastly by a fine new life boat, delivered but a few weeks ago.

Because of Independence Day the News is issued a day earlier.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cox of North Adams, Mass., were guests of Mrs. Geo. Van Duren at her home on East Twelfth Street. They are on their way to Indianapolis.

Six Zealand high school graduates won handsome jewelry gifts in a popularity contest conducted by B. L. Post, Zealand jeweler. There were three gifts for boys and three gifts for girls graduates.

Miss Helen Clark, daughter of Attorney Clark, won first of the girls and was awarded a boxed toilet set. Ruth Brower captured a $15 ring set with a beautiful amethyst. Sylvia Huxtable won a valuable pearl bead necklace.

Marvin De Jonge led the boys and won a $30 Grand wrist watch. George Van Pearsen, son of the pastor, was second and obtained a ruby ring while Elmer Wissink won the DeLuxe shaving set.

CABLES SAFE ARRIVAL IN EUROPE

Mr. and Mrs. J. Vande Luyster of Zealand received a cablegram today telling them of the safe arrival in Europe of Nelson, their son, who is to study for a few months at Hiedelburg, the leading institution of learning in Germany. He will be on the "Michigan" faculty again this fall when the university opens.

NEW MACHINES SURPLY ARE A REVELATION

Rather a surprised audience gathered at the Holland Theatre the fore part of this week—surprised when the pictures were thrown on the screen and they found that these were brighter and always plainly visible. However the revelation came when the talking began. It appears that Manager Carley has discarded his old machines and has substituted the RCA Phonophone said to be the "last word" in voice reproduction yet projected. It didn't take long for the audience to realize the difference between the old and the new. The contrast is as vast almost as night and day. All noises and nasal effects are entirely eliminated and every word, even a whisper or a sigh, is audible in the most remote part of the theatre. It's a pleasure to attend an offering where the ears and eyes are not subject to strain and surely Mr. Carley has brought into play this new innovation at the Holland. Last night patrons actually felt happy over the change. It is said improvements in the "talkie" equipment are made almost weekly.

George Caball Goes Abroad with His Hens

WILL EXHIBIT POULTRY IN LONDON AND WILL BRING BACK 200 NEW BIRDS

This week the poultry that is to compete in the World's Poultry Congress, London, England, in July, with exhibits from nearly every state in the Union, and over fifty other countries of the world, was selected at the Grandview Poultry Farm, Zealand, the industry in which Charles Jackson of Holland is interested. Prof. J. A. Hannah of Michigan State College selected two White Leghorn hens, R. O. P. breeding, with records of 255 and 268 eggs, and one male, whose dam made a R. O. P. record of 320 eggs.

George Caball, of the Grandview Poultry Farm, who by the way is a director of the Holland Fair, will represent this territory of the State of Michigan and will leave July 6 for Detroit where he will spend three days at the International Baby Chick Association convention, and leave on the 8th for Montreal, where he will embark on the S.S. Duchess of York and is scheduled to arrive at Liverpool July 18. From there he goes by bus to London to spend eleven days at the World Poultry Congress at the Crystal Palace. Two years ago this exhibit was held at Ottawa, Canada.

After the Congress Mr. Caball plans a trip on the Continent with particular interest in some poultry farms in France and Belgium, returning to Glasgow, Scotland, in order to visit the 150,000 White Leghorn farm which is managed in parcels, let out to the women folks, who manage their own unit and compete with all the others on actual profit and loss results for the season.

From Glasgow Mr. Caball will go to visit his brother in Dublin, Ireland, and then journey to Cork where he will visit the Irish Free State egg laying contest and take part in a special program of lectures and culling demonstrations. While there, of course, Mr. Caball wants to visit his old home town.

While in England Mr. Caball wants to arrange for the purchase of about 200 males to be used for their flocks next season. In this quest he will visit the farms of Warwick Bros., Snowden Bros., and the home of the famous Barron White Leghorn strain. His passage is booked for the return on September 6 from Queenstown, Scotland.

HOLLAND FOLKS VISIT THE DIEKEMA IN THE NETHERLANDS

Mr. Wm. J. Olive of Holland has just received a letter from Minister G. J. Diekema telling of a visit received from Mrs. J. A. Vander Veen and Mrs. Frances Browning, both of Holland, who were guests for a time of Mr. and Mrs. Diekema. The letter also tells of a visit from the Duffy family a few weeks before. Mr. Ten Broek of Macatawa too was a guest at the Diekema country home. Mr. Diekema also states in the letter that he delivered the commencement address at the exercises of the Kampen Theological Seminary held on June 19. This is one of the leading institutions of learning in The Netherlands.

GRAND HAVEN PLAYGROUNDS ARE ATTRACTIVE TO MANY

The Grand Haven playgrounds opened last week, exceeding the previous year by 573, according to C. E. Bosworth, director. Duncan Park especially seems to have sprung into popularity with 513 against 264 of a year ago. Attendance during the week for the various fields follows: Ferry, 1012; Robbins, 1040; Duncan, 513; and Eagle Ottawa 60, totalling 2625. Last year Ferry had 1134, Robbins 600, Duncan 264, and the Eagle Ottawa 55, a total of 2013.

Dr. and Mrs. Ben J. De Vries, East 12th street, left on a fishing trip in northern Michigan and will be away until July 22. The local dentist has his offices in the Peoples State Bank Building.

Local Business College Also Has Its Graduates

CLOSES ITS 36TH YEAR AS
HOLLAND INSTITUTION OF LEARNING

The Holland Business College has just finished its 36th school year with a very enviable record. Work for students for the year ended on Friday, June 20, and the management as well as the student body were in a happy frame of mind since over 90% of the year's graduates have been placed by the school. The school's 36th year is thus a most successful one.

For many years Holland Business College has reflected, through the demand for its students, the general condition of business in Holland and vicinity. In peak years of prosperity the school has been able to place nearly all its graduates at or before the close of the school year. Occasionally business conditions have not permitted placement of all students until after the end of the year's work.

Be that as it may, it is a well known fact that students receiving instruction from such men as C. J. Dregman and Albert Hoekma and their aids are thoroughly equipped to enter any office, no matter how difficult or intricate the work may be. This statement is reflected in this list of students who we find have been placed since last September in the following business enterprises:

Marvin J. Finholt, Model Drug Co.; Floyd Albers, Goodrich Transit Co.; Helen Eberhardt, Peoples State Bank; Mae Beekman, Mich. Bell Co.; Alice Donnelly, Donnelly-Kelly Co.; George De Vries, Egg Storage, North Side; Harriet Bonzelar, Ottawa Co. Bldg. & Loan Assn.; Margaret Ver Burk, Holland Evening Sentinel; Joanna Roelofs, Zealand State Commercial Bank; Carl Japink, H. J. Heinz Co.; Mrs. Pauline Bosch, Holland Furnace Co.; Nella Ver Schure, Holland Hospital; Christine Spkhoven, Holland City News.

HOLLAND WOMAN GETS DEGREE OF DOCTOR OF MEDICINE

Among those to receive the degree of Doctor of Medicine at the University of Michigan last week was Henry J. Van Duine. He graduated from Zealand High School in 1922 and from Hope College in 1926 with scholastic honors. After competitive examination he was appointed interne in the department of Surgery at Ford Hospital. Doctor and Mrs. Van Duine have moved to Detroit where the doctor will take up his work July 1st. Mrs. Van Duine was formerly Helen Van Dyke of Holland.

A clipping from an eastern paper gives a column account of a brilliant state dinner given at the White House honoring President-elect Julio Prestes of Brazil. It was a stag dinner, due to the fact that Mrs. Hoover was still at the president's camp recuperating and because the Brazilian visitors were forced to leave their wives behind them. The women became so seasick the first day out that the steamer put into port and discharged them.

The guest list was limited to about 60. These included the President-elect, his staff and the high officers who accompanied him, the Brazilian ambassador and the embassy staff, the secretary of state and his assistants and a few personal friends of the president from civilian life and high ranking officers of the army and navy.

Among the guests was Nicholas J. Whelan, of Holland, now publisher of the Washington Herald, one of Randolph Hearst publications. Vice President Curtis was also one of the guests.

AN ATTORNEY IS CHIEF OF FIRE DEPARTMENT

FINE TWO OVERISEL MEN AT ALLEGAN

Lambert and John Keil of Overisel, pleaded guilty in Justice F. E. Fish's court at Allegan, to charge of mixing formaldehyde with milk sold to a creamery, and were fined $50 and costs of $7, which were paid. The practice of which they were accused, they said, had been resorted to once or twice on Saturday night to keep the milk sweet over Sunday.

With all the cottages filled at Hutchins lake near Fennville, and on the Lake Michigan front, this section of the state anticipates one of the best resort seasons in history. Fishing in the lakes and streams is reported to be good.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

A few days ago Isaac Fairbanks, esq. received one of those portable steam engines and threshers so much talked of. This large machine will be seen back of his office on River street. Note: It was the first threshing machine seen in Holland at that time and it sure collected a crowd.

At the annual meeting of the alumni association of Hope college held in the old chapel an oration was given by L. B. Hehuis; a poem by John De Spelder; and Chronicles by John H. Kleinhekel. The general public was invited and the building was well filled.

The Methodist Episcopal Church is almost finished. The job was a large one—new foundation, basement for furnace, extension of auditorium, new class-room, entire new plastering, several buttresses, new arrangement of seats, which are now painted and grained. The ladies have also been busy cleaning and laying the carpets. Note: Some ladies in those days, catch many of them laying carpets today.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Gerrit Heneveld has sold to Gerrit Ten Holt 20 acres of land near Lugers Crossing for $1,800. Note: Today it would be worth possibly $18,000.

Eugene V. Debs the famous labor leader, orator and poet lectures in Macabee Hall in Holland tonight. Note: Debs was a national character and was often nominated on the National Socialist ticket for president. He was sent to prison during the World War as an obstructionist but was released after the war was ended. He died a broken man, about three years ago.

Henry Groenewoud has started in the farm implement business in the Flieamen building on River ave. He has been connected with the Henry De Kruijff store for seven years.

Attorney Arend Vischer was re-elected president of the Holland Board of Public Works.

Herman Van Ark chairman of the building committee of the Third

STEPHAN IS SIGNALLY HONORED BY MUNICIPAL LEAGUE

Former Mayor E. P. Stephan, who in 1923-24 was elected president of the Michigan Municipal League when this convention was held in Holland at the City Hall, was made a life member of this League at a recent meeting. The League hasn't forgotten the wonderful welcome accorded them during their three day stay. The Holland City News at that time got out a special issue covering the league's deliberations together with cuts of the officials and pictures of Holland. Copies were distributed to every delegate attending the convention.

The Municipal League is an organization of public city officials from every important city in this state. Once a year and sometimes at special sessions these members get together and compare notes. Each tells of his problems and maps out how best to solve these problems. If there is a legal battle involving different cities alike, there is a committee of city attorneys appointed to fight such cases jointly. City Attorney McBride has repeatedly been called upon to aid in matters of this kind because of his long service as Holland's City Attorney. Many City Attorneys often appear before the Michigan Utility Commission on problems having to do with public service companies. It is a real worthwhile organization.

HOLLAND FIRM DOES THIRD OF A MILLION IN BUSINESS

The Holland Co-operative association has closed the best year in its history, covering a period of five years. The total volume of business approximated $300,000, of which a profit of $12,000 was realized and a cash dividend of 7 per cent was declared.

Maurice Luideis, Henry Sagers and L. Dykhuys were re-elected directors for three years. The concern lists 308 stockholders. Hereafter operations will be on a strictly cash basis, according to a resolution adopted by unanimous vote. Officers of the company are: President, Maurice Luideis; secretary-treasurer, Henry Sagers; manager, William Zonnebelt.

Reformed church is asking for bids on a new addition to the present church. It will be built to the rear on Thirteenth street.

Gov. Fred Warner has signed the bill allowing the catching of minnows for bait with seines and fishermen need not bother about the nosy game wardens around here.

Miss Blanche Cathcart of Holland has resigned her position with the Grand Haven schools as kindergarten teacher.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

The News of June 24, 1915 prints a picture of Simon Verwey, Holland mail carrier and two friends from Olean, N. Y. However the most interesting part of the picture is a string of 400 perch caught behind the breakwater at the mouth of Holland harbor, within six hours. The string of fish measured 15 feet.

Seventy-two thousand dollars in property in Holland, part of the life's accumulation of Jan W. Bosman, pioneer tailor, clothier and real estate man, was divided evenly between his seven children. Mr. Bosman, who is 86 years old, called his children about him at his home on East ninth street and surprised them by giving each their share.

A few years ago the "old gentleman" Bosman handed each a check for $5,000. The children who benefited are: A. B. Bosman, John Bosman, Mrs. Henry Werkman, Mr. Henry Hyma, of Holland, Dr. Wm. Bosman of Kalamazoo, and Mrs. J. H. Brockmeier and Mrs. Theodore Bosman of Grand Rapids.

Miss Jennie Roseboom and Rev. John W. Brink were wed at the home of the bride's parents, East Sixth street, Rev. John Van Peursem officiating.

Prof. and Mrs. Wynand Wichers of Hope College, left Saturday for Madison, Wis., where Mr. Wichers will take a post-graduate course in history this summer. Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Godfrey go to Chicago where the doctor will study at the University of Chicago.

Dykstra, Mrs. Nellie Brook, Mrs. Cornelius Muller, Mrs. C. H. Spaan of Grand Rapids, Miss Laura Boyd of Hope college and Mrs. James Weyer of Holland. NEIGHBORHOOD FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATIONS

Besides Grand Haven the neighboring communities are making extensive plans for the celebration of July 4.

The Forest Grove celebration will be held in the J. DeKleine grove southeast of here. In the morning there will be a baseball game between Forest Grove and Vriesland Independents. In afternoon Forest Grove Independents play Beaverdam Independents. Rev. Jacob Prins, pastor of Calvary Reformed church, formerly of Forest Grove, will give the main address of the day. Music will be furnished by the community musicians.

North Holland is making plans for a busy July 4. In the morning there will be a historical parade. There will be band concerts at noon and in the evening by the Grand Haven Legion band. There will be baseball games, sports and speaking afternoon and evening.

GRAND HAVEN FIRM WILL ERECT 120-FOOT TOWER

Construction on a nine-story tower about 120 feet high will be started next week at the Construction Materials corporation plant at Grand Haven. This will enable to screen and store gravel at the rate of 1,000 tons per hour, or 2,000,000 tons during the 200 days which is the period the plant is in operation. This demand can be doubled with a night shift.

This is a part of the wide expansion program which has been going on at the Ferrysburg plant for the last year. The corporation has just purchased a 600-foot freighter, the Frank C. Ball, which will be brought here following the government dredging, which will increase the river depth about two feet. They have also bought three steel scows 40x100 feet. They will have 35 tons more capacity than other scows.

The Allegan city tax rate for 1930 will be $13.43 on $1,000 valuation. This is $1.53 higher on $1,000 valuation than the rate in 1929, and is due to the proposed paving to be done by the city and state highway department.

Judge F. T. Miles To Leave Local School Board

THE ANNUAL SCHOOL ELECTION WILL PRESENT SIX CANDIDATES

The annual Holland school election held for the purpose of naming three members to the school board will be held Monday, July 14, and the polling place will be the city hall polls, being open from 2 in the afternoon until 8 o'clock at night. Absent voters' ballots have already been prepared for those who are going away, however the election proper will be conducted via the voting machine.

Judge Fred T. Miles, who has ably filled the place of trustee for a number of years, decided not to run again since he is now occupying the position of circuit court judge. The two other retiring board members are James A. Brouwer and William Arendshorst.

Petitions for this position were supposed to be in last Saturday at 4 o'clock and the petitions that have been filed and the persons whose names will appear on the ballot are James A. Brouwer, William Arendshorst, Ald. William C. Vandenberg, Gerrit Van der Hill, who served in this capacity before Jacob Fris and Benjamin F. Harris.

Voters who go to the polls a week from next Monday will be instructed to vote for three of these six candidates and the three candidates receiving the highest number of votes will be declared elected.

Folks are taking more interest in our school elections and it can be said that Holland has a high class of citizens on its school board.

While only three can be elected there is not a man in the entire six for whom petitions have been filed who could not ably qualify. They are a high type of men and are offering their services to Holland's educational institutions, a type of school that stands in the forefront of the nation's public school system.

State Inland Lakes Not To Be Disfigured

SUPREME COURT DECISION GIVES RIPARIAN OWNERS RIGHT TO FISH ALL OF LAKE

Michigan's inland lakes will never be disfigured by fences which divide the water like a checkerboard, if a ruling by the Supreme Court, made public, may be regarded as a precedent in Michigan judicial decisions.

The case is that of Dauman vs. Barendrecht, a suit to restrain defendant from fishing and boating on Waldron Lake in Kent County, in which defendant claimed riparian rights, also title to a proportionate part of the bed of the lake and in which the defendant had a decree, affirming such title, on a cross-bill.

After a history of the property, the decree of the court cites: "Waldron Lake is about 12 acres in extent, unencumbered 50 feet deep at maximum, is fed by springs and an inlet creek carrying mostly surface water and which goes dry during the summer. Its outlet is School Creek, which runs into Thornapple River, where the latter is about 200 feet wide, and which in turn empties into Grand Haven.

"The state has often planted fish in School Creek, and they have worked up into the lake. The creek and lake have been very generally fished for many years by the adjoining owners and general public. No objections were made by plaintiffs until about two years ago. The inlet to the lake is not navigable. The outlet will float rowboats generally with an occasional push.

"If distance in the description of defendant's title runs out into the lake. However, he does not controvert plaintiff's contention that courses and distances yield to natural and ascertained objects.

"It is a settled rule in this state that where there is no reservation of them, riparian rights attach to lots bounded by natural water courses, carries title to the middle line of the lake or stream."

In concluding its decree, the Supreme Court makes the statement: "Each riparian owner has the right to fish in any part of the lake. Defendant's title extends into the bed of the lake, and the decree is affirmed with costs."

Local sportsmen have long watched this case with interest, since agitation for public fishing grounds hinges on this decision, which gives any riparian owner on a lake the right to fish all of the lake.

MUST HAVE BEEN A DEMOCRAT

June Shaver of Grand Haven has reported the theft of a team of mules from his barn some time in the night. The mules weigh around 1,400 pounds each. The team is valued at $400. Who but a Democrat would make a mule anyway. Apparently they see some hope ahead.

$1,000 IN FISH PROFITS AT GRAND HAVEN IN ONE HAUL

A record catch of white fish was made at Grand Haven harbor Monday. The tug Johanna unloaded 1,400 pounds each. The haul will bring these fishermen at least $1,000 in profits.

Old fishermen believe the wind of Sunday afternoon and evening stirred up the lake so as to bring the cold water, in which the fish usually are found, near the shore. The nets were set about four miles north of the Grand Haven channel.

A FIFTY-PIECE BAND AT OVERISEL JULY 4

Overisel is to have a real celebration Friday at the Community Grounds. One of the features will be the big Italian band of 50 pieces from Grand Rapids.

Rev. Prins of Grand Rapids and Rev. Pyle of Overisel will be the principal speakers in the morning. The afternoon will be devoted to a baseball game between Hamilton and Hudsonville and besides there will be a large program of sports with many prizes. In the evening the stage is set for a miscellaneous program of dialogues, music, and playlets with many friendly "take-offs." Martin Nienhuis is the general chairman of the celebration and Glen Nykamp is in charge of the evening program. Francis Herman and Harvey Hoffman and sub-committees are doing hard work for the celebration as all are concerned.

The sport committee is composed of Harold Hoffman, Russell Brink and Stanley Lampen.

Long Beach Calif., 6/27/30

As per my promise, I drop you a line—my daughter (Mrs. H. J. Boone) and myself. We have just returned from Chicago. While there we saw the Cubs beat Boston two games and witnessed the pennant raising for 1929 victory.—Left Chicago in the evening via the C&N. For a dandy trip, splendid fast train and good eat, enjoyed every minute of it, had only one bad day. We stopped one day at Grand Canyon. What an experience. This Canyon can not be described by pen ink, one must see it to appreciate it. It was a most wonderful sight. The Creator of it all. How wonderful. One day out of Holland we saw the farmers cutting their wheat, the corn was fully 3 feet tall.

When we reached an altitude of 7,700 feet. On our train ride, it was too much for him. My daughter and I, twice, but I never noticed the difference, felt fine all the way.

We were there only three days, but what we haven't seen isn't worth mentioning. Last night we took in the high tide of the ocean which occurs twice a year. Ben I was told would have been here, what a wonderful sight, the waves would mount up 50 ft. Thousands of people were there to see it.

We are very fortunate, my niece, who we are visiting, has a car, so we are on the go.

Score of people in Holland said to me, "Why don't you go in the winter time when it isn't so hot." Yesterday I was thinking of it. I wish you could have had to sit on my coat. Sleep under blankets every night. The climate here is just fine, not too hot, not too cold. It is just what you need. The ocean is just what you need. Ben I was told would have been here, what a wonderful sight, the waves would mount up 50 ft. Thousands of people were there to see it.

"CITY OF HOLLAND" HAS ACCIDENT SUNDAY NIGHT AT SOUTH HAVEN: WHEEL DAMAGED

The Goodrich steamer, "City of Holland," struck the pier at South Haven on Sunday night and seriously damaged her wheel. The Coast Guards, under Capt. William Fisher, went to her assistance. Ropes were drawn to secure her to the pier for she was helpless after the blow. There were 141 passengers aboard who were transferred. She will be taken to Chicago to be placed in drydock. Officials here said it would take some time to repair her.

In the meantime the "City of St. Joe" will be placed on the run. The "City of Holland" left Holland and was backing into the narrow channel in quite a sea. The paddle box was broken as the big steamer jammed against the pier. Those

WESTERN MICHIGAN HISTORY

That was a praiseworthy enterprise of Western Michigan civic organizations to make a special tour to search out and mark sites associated with historic events and primitive legends. Few regions in the Middle West could more richly reward such a survey.

The awakening of such interest comes none too soon, for the search of the tourists revealed how few are the surviving evidences of important occurrences, and how neglectful and even careless have been past generations in the matter of preserving them. Mounds and earthworks, monuments of a mysterious prehistoric race, have been excavated by the ignorant and curious, or thoughtlessly leveled to make way for so-called improvements. Trails which once were the highways of Indian nations, exist now but in fragmentary, faint traces in almost inaccessible spots. Battle grounds are known only through surviving tradition confirmed by local names. Well-attested sites sacred to the memory of heroic explorers and missionaries and valiant pioneers remain unmarked and depend upon the memories of the aged for the perpetuation of their identity.

If the Western Michigan Historic and Legendary Tour makes even a beginning in correcting the results of former neglect, it will have succeeded in a worthy purpose. Holland at least has furnished this organization with some real and at the same time unique Western Michigan history.

WANT OTTAWA COUNTY WOMEN ATTEND SUMMER CAMP

Twenty women from Ottawa County attended the summer woman's camp at Prospect Point, Spring Lake, June 24-27. The program was arranged by Esther C. Lett, house demonstration agent, and featured activities which were recreational and educational, giving the home makers four days of real vacation and an opportunity of getting new ideas, time to relax from the routine of living, making new friends and renewing old acquaintances. The program started off each day with singing and exercises followed by a swim. Then breakfast and what a treat it was to have it all ready and not even know what was to be served. The daily program included demonstrations and handwork but "just fun" had perhaps the largest share of time and attention. Muriel Dundas, nutrition specialist from the College, was present during the entire period and gave demonstrations and talks on "Pie and Pastry" and "Summer Refreshments." She also assisted with the games and nature study. Miss Frieda Gilmore, house demonstration specialist from the College, was also present the four days and was in charge of the hand work. She taught the women how to design various articles for home decoration with the use of colored wax crayons. Miss Mable Atwood from the Gas Light Co., Grand Rapids, gave a lecture demonstration on "Salads" showing various practical ways of combining fruits and vegetables.

Dr. G. Bos is confined to his home with pleurisy.

Dynamite and Hailstones
Free Your Emotions
Gambling Never Pays
Providence Provides

Lightning struck a boat carrying dynamite off Cockburn Island, in the St. Lawrence, killing thirty, blowing the big $100,000 boat to splinters. We like to read about that.

At St. James, Newfoundland, windows, roofs, were broken, animals killed by hailstones weighing ten pounds each. We've heard of hailstones as big as hen's eggs, but not as big as hens. That interested 1,000,000 of us where Einstein interests one.

The learned Dr. W. J. Mayo, earth's greatest surgeon, able to remove anything you have except your citizenship and your complexes, warns you that restraining your emotions is bad for your heart. Every true mind interferes to check your instinctive impulses, the heart suffers. That will encourage modern young people, increasing their expectation of long life.

When you suddenly jam on your four-wheel brakes, your tires suffer; so with your heart when you suddenly apply your will and control the emotions, which are your driving force.

Captain Saul of the Southern Cross can testify to man's progress in transportation. As navigator of the Southern Cross he flew the Atlantic in two days.

Some years ago he made his first Atlantic crossing in a square rigged sailing vessel, and was six months on the journey.

In spite of that, many still doubt that ocean air travel will ever "become practical."

Children of today will ask about "the old days when people crossed the ocean on the water," as they now ask about the days of the stage coach.

And those now living will cross to Europe for about $10.

Charles S. Waters, his savings gone, killed his wife, his daughter and himself.

The money went in stock gambling.

Gambling causes suicides, ruin, poverty, sorrow.

Bootleg whisky causes some suicides, many murders.

Leave stock gambling and bootlegging alone.

The kindness of Providence supplies us with things when we need them. The ravens fed Elijah.

After the Napoleonic wars Europe, heavily in debt, faced long poverty.

Then came steam power, debts were paid, prosperity was great.

Kings and nobles in steel armor enjoyed leading miserable peasants to war. The latter were left dead, the nobles in their armor rode back.

Then gunpowder and bullets went through the armor, nobles and kings went home, war became less frequent.

The automobile made gigantic supplies of gasoline necessary. The country yields so much oil that the oil men don't know what to do with it.

Finally, in flying, clouds and fog, out of sight of land, make necessary information in midocean.

And the radio supplies it. The flyers arriving from Ireland say that without the guiding radio they could not have made the flight. As we need things we get them.

Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt says: "Character building begins in the cradle." Parents should train children from their babyhood.

An old English horse trainer, asked "When should I begin training my colt," and told that the colt was three weeks old, said: "You have lost the three most important weeks."

Children should be trained with kindness and explanations, never with whipping or other brutality, from babyhood.

But don't waste too much time correcting and nagging concerning faults that the child will outgrow with time; and not otherwise.

Two kinds of bad news from India. In the Madras presidency police firing at a crowd of "rebels" wounded seven.

More serious, from the imperial point of view, is the disastrous slump in cotton prices on the Bombay markets. Price restrictions have been withdrawn and many failures of cotton merchants are expected.

Wall Street wit which describes a broker opening his order book, releasing several moths, now says, "Constructive forces are now in the saddle, but the saddle is not on the horse."

That talk is pleasing to the busy bears, but saddle and horse may be together soon and bears less happy.

Allan Hoover, son of the President, bought a set of union overalls and has gone to work in a New Jersey plant of the American Radiator company. He wants to "learn the manufacturing business from the bottom."

The best way to do that would be to get a job as office boy with Mr. Clarence Woolley, top head of the American Radiator company, and listen to observations made by that gentleman in the course of business. He really does know the business from the bottom up.

You can learn more about a man or a business by paying attention to the head than by spending time on the feet.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY THE PORT-SECOND ANNUAL CONVENTION OF CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR UNION CONVENED IN HOLLAND, MICHIGAN, JUNE 24-28, 1934

In token of our sincere appreciation of the services which have contributed to the success of the convention we wish to express our hearty thanks:

To Dr. Dimment and the Board of Trustees of Hope College for their generosity in the use of the buildings, especially the Hope Memorial Chapel which in itself is an inspiration.

To the Holland folk who have so kindly contributed of their means, for the use of their cars, for the numerous courtesies extended and for their homes which they have so hospitably opened to the delegates, and to all who have helped make this convention so remarkably successful.

To Mayor Ernest C. Brooks and to the city officials for the freedom of the city and to Mayor Brooks for the favors given us at the convention banquet.

To the Chamber of Commerce.

To the churches for their co-operation in various ways.

To the merchants of the city of Holland.

To the Holland Evening Sentinel and to the Holland City News for their liberal publicity and also to Mr. Ben Mulder for the insert circular printed pertaining to the city of Holland.

To Mr. George Getz for his invitation to his "Lakewood Farm" which afforded us great pleasure.

To the Roy Scouts for their able guidance.

To Professor W. Curtis Snow for his inspiring oral recital.

To the convention speakers, Dr. Daniel A. Poling, Dr. William Hiram Foulkes, Rev. Hazen G. Werner, Mr. William P. Lovett, and Dr. Raymond Yoder.

To the Field Secretary, Ernest S. Marks, and the State Executive Board, to the Holland C. E. Union and the convention committee for their untiring effort in planning and furthering the convention.

To Mr. George Dibble and his accompanist, Mr. Harold Mustaine, as well as the convention chorists who so quickly organized and so masterfully conducted.

The convention also wishes to express its appreciation of the kind message from Rev. Ralph C. McAfee in which is expressed the support of the Michigan Council of Churches and the hope that in a not far distant future some appropriate connection will be established between the Christian Endeavor Union of the state and the State Council of Churches.

The convention desires to express its sincere and deepest regret at the resignation of Dr. E. D. Dimment as President of the Michigan Council of Churches, not only for the loss of his leadership in Christian Education which is closely identified with Christian Endeavor. It is our earnest hope that his successor may be a man endowed with the same high Christian standards and sympathetic understanding of youth.

Feeling it our privilege and responsibility to express the convictions to which our Christian faith leads us, it be resolved that we as Christian Endeavorers, in our application of Christian principles to the following vital problems: Namely:

By striving to strengthen public opinion favorable to the enforcement of the prohibition law among the laws of our land and endorsing the position that the enforcement of the law should be in the hands of the friends of the law.

Believing that obedience to the constitution is a vital part of American citizenship we favor such legislation as would enforce upon one's obedience to the constitution of the United States.

Cigarettes:

By obtaining facts concerning the use of cigarettes and narcotics from unbiased and truthful sources and disseminating such authoritative information among the Christian Endeavorers.

Movies:

By favoring such legislation as the proposed Grant Hudson bill R.R. 9586 which will bring the industry under control similar to the pure food laws and remove it from the "black book" system.

Christian Citizenship:

By expressing our Christian faith in active participation as potential and actual voters and office holders.

World Peace:

By encouraging and participating in such world friendly projects as the youth of the various nations together through correspondence, giving of dolls, school boxes, etc.

We affirm our loyalty as Christian Endeavorers to our Saviour Jesus Christ as the Prince of Peace and look to Evangelism and missions as effective agencies for securing the only real peace for the individual and for the world.

Race Relations:

By cultivating an attitude of fairness toward all strangers who seek our shores. This fairness can be shown by applying the motto, plan to all nations which would remove the insult to our sister nation, Japan.

Respectfully submitted,

'THE FLORODORA GIRL'

RARE TREAT

Marion Davies Charming in Old Fashioned Romance

All the charm and romance of the famous Florodora Sextette is to be found in 'The Florodora Girl.' Marion Davies' new starring feature which opened at the Colonial Theatre, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, July 7, 8, 9, as a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer presentation.

The new Davies film, directed by Harry Beaumont from an original story by Gene Markey, is screened upon a lavish scale, climaxed by the staging of the "Tell Me Pretty Maid" number in Technicolor. Miss Davies, as a member of the famous beauty ensemble, is a treat to behold in the quaint old-fashioned costumes.

Backgrounded by the romantic traditions of the sextette, the plot concerns the last of the group to hearken to the call of Cupid. Lawrence Gray, as a dashing blond, supplies this summons with an ostentatious display of Oldsmobiles, race horses, taily-hos and champagne dinners.

C. E. Union Is Loud In Praise Of Holland

A MORE PLEASANT GATHERING OF DELEGATES IT WOULD BE DIFFICULT TO FIND. THEY LIKE HOLLAND

Last Great Event Was Banquet Saturday Night at Masonic Temple

The Holland committee having charge of the Michigan C. E. Union Convention are a tired but a happy lot. Holland sure did itself proud in entertaining a convention that registered exactly 1934, not including many who came to this city as visitors with the delegates.

Holland surely got a break on everything. The weather was made to order, cool with sunshine with an occasional small shower which proved refreshing but not inconvenient.

The delegates were simply unstinting in their praise of the reception received from the committee, from the boy scouts and from the citizens at large. They were tremendously taken up with the beauties of the city, its parks and its show places, and Lakewood Farm proved to be way beyond expectations. They were also much pleased with the large and beautiful convention hall and Hope Memorial chapel and the convenient registration headquarters next door. The college campus looked at its best. "It was all so clean, convenient and restful," many of them stated.

The hotels of Holland were given considerable praise for the attention that was given to the visiting guests with every want quickly attended to. Hundreds of homes were thrown open to delegates and there were assurances from the guest the entire week that hospitality with a big "H" was dominant in Holland's home life.

The convention closed Sunday evening at the convention hall after an hour's session when "good-byes" were said. Delegates spent rather a quiet Sunday with a few scheduled programs although many availed themselves of the welcome extended by the pastors of the different churches and small groups of C. E. delegates were seen to come to take part in the worship.

Delegates seemed to be reluctant to break away and according to Landlord Leland of Warm Friend Tavern no delegates checked out early to go for home until all was over, which surely was unusual.

The last great event of the convention was the banquet at the Masonic Temple participated in by at least 600. A well balanced menu was served by the Masonic ladies who were assisted by the men of this organization. Every available place at the festive board was occupied, in fact the number of guests went over the limit in a building of that size.

The program as rendered during the banquet follows:

Toastmaster, Mr. Ernest S. Marks
Fellowship Songs—
Pianist, Mr. Harold Mustaine
Convention Honor Awards—
Convention Registration Awards—
Publicity Contest Award—
Mr. R. E. Bolles
Mr. Fred W. Adams

Our Guests—
Society Gifts to Christian Endeavor Address—
Dr. O. Ray Yoder
Benediction—
Mayor E. C. Brooks opened the forty-second annual Michigan Christian Endeavor convention Thursday evening by extending Holland's welcome to the 1400 delegates from all parts of the state.

D. H. Vande Bunte of Jamestown, state president, responded. Dr. William Hiram Foulkes of Newark, N. J., vice president of the International Christian Endeavor association, delivered the keynote address on "A Call to the Colors."

The program opened with an oral recital by Prof. W. Curtis Snow, which included the numbers "In Summer" by Weaver and "Tocata" from the Fifth Symphony by Vido. A sacred song service directed by George Dibble and assisted by a newly formed choir of Christian Endeavorers proved an impressive one.

On Friday night Hope Memorial Hall was packed to the doors to hear Dr. Daniel Poling of New York, who simply captivated his audience. Mr. Poling took as his subject "The Crusade." Dr. Poling is a former president of the International Christian Endeavor union and is present editor of the Christian Endeavor Herald.

Asserting that the Christian Endeavor movement breeds only friendship with those with whom it comes in contact, the speaker gave his "five great beliefs" in the organization. These he termed "love, America, Christianity, Christ and Endeavorers."

His address, which was exceptionally inspirational, was the only one scheduled for the night session, which was opened with a song service.

The chorus choir under the direction of George Dibble sang "Make Me a Blessing," Lambert Olgers, president of the local union, led in devotions and prayer.

Ernest Marks spoke in praise of the Holland newspapers for the co-operation they were giving the convention. The morning session was opened with prayer under the direction of Miss Anna Koeman, secretary of the convention committee. Dr. William Hiram Foulkes took charge of the quiet hour.

The various conference groups were in charge of Clarence H. Schipper, Rev. Homer D. Mitchell, Bessie I. Morgan, Rev. A. L. Spafford, Alta G. Gigger, Grace E. McPherson, Catherine E. Murdock, Sarah H. McCullough, and Rev. Warren Hall.

After luncheon at the First Methodist church an address was given at the convention hall by William P. Lovett, secretary of the Detroit Citizens' league.

One of the principal features of the convention was the election of officers. D. H. Vande Bunte of Jamestown was re-elected president, Charles W. Puel of Saginaw, and E. Eldred Pratt of Detroit were renamed vice president. Two Detroiters were elected secretary and treasurer, respectively, they being Miss Sarah E. McCullough and Theodore A. Dykstra.

Miss Anna Koeman of Holland, secretary of the local C. E. union, was placed in charge of the quiet hour and tenth legion. Marion Johnson of Lansing will be at the head of the periodicals. Other officers are: Intermediate superintendent, Margaret Houston of Grand Rapids; adult and introduction, Helen J. Tracy of Grand Rapids; evangelism and Christian citizenship, Grace McPherson of Detroit; missionary and world peace, Bessie I. Morgan of Saginaw; Christian vocations, Helen Pfeiffer, Saginaw; recreation, Alta Gigger, Detroit; editor, Michigan Endeavorers, R. E. Bolles of Detroit; publicity, Frederick W. Adams of Kalamazoo.

Rev. Warren E. Hall, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Wyandotte, was the leader of the ministers' conference that was held in connection with the convention.

Sunday marked the close of the forty-second annual Michigan State Christian Endeavor Convention and the presiding officer was Dr. Edward D. Dimment, the retiring president of Hope college.

The morning church service opened at nine-thirty at Hope Memorial chapel with the address by Rev. Hazen G. Werner, pastor of the Cass Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Detroit, and member of the Detroit council of churches. His sermon subject was "Live Dangerously."

Following the morning devotions the delegates installed their officers.

In the afternoon a service of worship in song was conducted by Dibble, which was followed by committee reports.

Rev. Werner again addressed the delegates, the afternoon topic being "The Yellow Robe." Rev. James Wayer of the First Reformed church gave the benediction.

The final event on the convention program Sunday night was the Convention Christian Endeavor service under the leadership of Hermon O. Springer of Detroit.

The next convention is to be held at Flint, Michigan, June 25-28, 1934. However, if the commendable things that the visiting delegates have said about Holland and Holland's hospitality is a criterion then without doubt the Michigan C. E. Union will honor Holland again with a visit and that not far in the distant future.

In the publicity contest relative to C. E. matter, Fred Adams awarded Holland first because of their column of discussion on the Christian Endeavor topic in the local paper once a week and because the local papers were unstinting in their convention publicity. A silver cup, the present of Dr. Steinma, was presented to Lambert Olgers for the Holland union.

Prof. Paul E. Hinkamp assisted Mr. Lister and Rev. Hyde in judging the oratorical contest which announced Miss Helen Giehl of Holland as winner of first place. She was presented with a Bible by D. H. Vande Bunte. The three other entrants were given Christian Endeavor pins.

The prize for the largest representation, at the state convention, a large silver cup was given to them, George Schulling, general chairman; Mrs. R. Champion, decorations and exhibits; George Mool, guides and ushers; Anne Koeman, secretary; Mr. Willis Dickerson, Lambert Olgers, president local union; C. A. Gross, publicity; Prof. C. Klein, entertainment; Eugene F. Heeter, music; Prof. McLean, buildings and banquet.

Mayor E. Brooks, A. A. Nienhuis and Jay De Koning, George Schulling, speaking the committee heads and all those who comprised the committees, thanked the Endeavorers for their presence. Appreciation was shown to Miss Ruth Gerds and Miss Rose Witteveen for taking down the sessions in shorthand so that they might be typed for records.

HAMILTON

Henry Boerjers suffered several injuries when his gasoline truck turned over on the road northeast of the village last Thursday. Although quite seriously injured he managed to crawl from underneath the truck to a nearby home. He was taken to the Holland hospital and is recovering. The truck skidded into loose gravel and turned turtle.

Fifty dairymen attended the meeting in Zeeland at the Most Johnson Co. to hear Dr. Kilham from the College explain the contagious abortion situation. He stated in addition to loss of calves, contagious abortion often caused sterility and other trouble in cows and scours and pneumonia in calves. Dr. Kilham outlined methods of eradication for dairymen whose herds were affected recommending blood testing, isolation and sanitation. The question, undigested food, in humans was taken up and statistics showing the percentage of infection pointed out that milk was not the greatest cause of infection. Farm men are more apt to have the disease than farm women. Workers in slaughter houses and veterinarians have a much higher percentage than any other group. Figures from state institutions known to be consumers of large quantities of infected milk showed a very low percentage of infection. At the close of the meeting the dairymen indicated their desire to have Dr. Kilham talk to them again. Arrived agent Milton gave a short talk on the dairy situation pointing out methods of increasing the efficiency of the dairy herd. He also urged construction of safety bull pens and breeding chutes for owners of large sires.

It is not too late to gather coreopsis out on M89 about two miles. These pretty flowers have been in bloom a week or more but probably there are yet plenty of them left out in the barren fields. They are of pleasing form and beautiful golden yellow color. They are wild flowers only that they long ago were wild from eastern gardens and have been widely spread by winds. They are not native Americans, like millions of other things in the United States. One may cut all he wishes and more will come quickly. They are perennial and extremely hardy and grow on low, almost leafless, graceful, slender stalks. Queerly enough they belong to the thistle family.—Allegan Gazette.

Well-disposed people are prone to help anybody who may be in any sort of distress by which they frequently suffer imposition. Lately a fellow claimed to have lost an arm was in town selling lead pencils. It was observed that the alleged lost arm was down inside his coat. An easily emptied sleeve deceived some people. Another represented himself to be a resident of Berrien county who had lost his hearing by fever and wanted money to help him go somewhere and learn the sign language. Perhaps he told the truth; but if so he could get where he is known all the financial help he may need without going from town to town and striving to get more. Representations of some of these fellows may be genuine but usually there is a very good reason for refusing money.—Allegan Gazette.

BANK SAVINGS PYRAMID IN SPITE OF STRESSFUL TIMES

The First State Bank, in a half page announcement found elsewhere in this issue, presents a remarkable showing of its growth covering a period of ten years.

The bank has placed the figures in pyramid form both as to resources and as to savings and the tremendous growth is evident in the figures as given. However there is one unusual feature brought out in this tabulation and that is in the bank's pyramid on savings. In spite of the fact that there have been stressful times over the entire nation and these conditions in an industrial way have also been reflected in Holland, savings have not been withdrawn covering a period of two years but instead the amount has actually grown and it is said that this also holds true in Holland's two other banking institutions.

According to Cashier Wynand Wichers in 1928 the total amount of savings was $2,367,678; in 1929, $2,572,180; in 1930, $2,655,953. These figures at least are unusual and indicate that Holland's financial well-being is still substantially founded.

According to reports in the East there is a slow but sure "come-back" of business and it is expected that there will be a steady march westward of these conditions.

HOLLAND FAIR SPELLERS TO GET CASH PRIZES

Prizes totaling $53 will be awarded in the spelling contests at the Holland fair on children's day. The contests will be divided in three groups for rural, village and city schools for sixth, seventh and eighth graders. The contests will be conducted by G. G. Groenewoud, C. A. De Jonge and Lida Rogers. All children will be admitted free on the opening day.

Meengs, teacher of the women's class. Rev. James Wayer offered the opening prayer while the closing prayer was given by Rev. H. J. Dick. Boter gave a short talk in the Dutch language, as Mr. and Mrs. John Brieve of the Netherlands were guests for the evening. Frank Brieve of this city was also a guest and donated krakelings to the classes. Contests and races of various kinds were held and prizes were won by Mrs. Leonard Van Lier, Mrs. Leonard Kammer, Peter Ver Schure and John Wabeke. Mrs. D. Ottawa Solons Give Holland No Consideration

RAISE HOLLAND'S VALUATION IN SPITE OF PROTESTS FROM SCORE OF CITIZENS

When a score of public spirited citizens, who broke away from their respective duties on a busy Saturday, returned from Grand Haven after making a plea before the board of equalization, they already knew that their words had been wasted. The committee and especially the unwilling chairman was bound to lay at least part of the extra assessment on the shoulders of Holland taxpayers and no kind of arguments were of any avail—Holland it seemed was in for a raise.

Anyway the rule that the question must be left upon the table for 24 hours after a proposal was made, was brought into play and as everyone expected, the board did vote in favor of the report submitted by the committee on equalization after the Holland committee had gone back home and the time limit had expired.

All the same the report included an increase in Holland's valuation of at least $250,000 upon which an added tax must be collected. The mayor's plea that many factories were shut down, some permanently, and others temporarily—that property values were at a low ebb just now, made no difference to the farmer chairman from the north-east part of the county.

While Grand Haven did get away with such arguments and was not given an increase, this gentleman from Tallmidge dismissed the subject by saying that in Holland these reduced valuations were only temporary, but we would see a "come back" again in the near future and that settled it.

Grand Haven representatives admitted that conditions at the county seat were largely the same as in Holland and elsewhere.

The way the thing worked out was this. The Holland supervisors returned home from Thursday's session stating that an attempt would be made to raise Holland's valuation and they felt that especially at this time this raise was not justifiable and they then called up a score of Holland business men to help them fight their battle before the Ottawa county board.

The contemplated raise of $250,000 was hard fought since an increase of $200,000 was also made last year and the sentiment in Holland prevailed that the taxpayers in this city are being discriminated against.

The able plea of both Wynand Wichers and Tom Robinson seemed to have some effect, but it was only a flash and the chairman at least was immovable in Holland's behalf.

After a conference of nearly two hours the committee presented a report which was laid on the table for 24 hours, a rule of the board. A substitute report was introduced by Peter Van Ark of Holland, declaring the addition to have been unfair and without justification. This report was also laid on the table.

Alfred Joldersma of Holland objected to the report being read at this time. He was overruled by a vote of the board, although the Holland contingent held firmly with their fellow supervisor.

Well, as was the foregone conclusion, after the 24 hours had elapsed, the board with the exception of Holland's supervisors and possibly a few others from this neighborhood, voted to give Holland their raise as they had intended to do from the very beginning.

Those men from Holland who took time to appear before the Board of Supervisors on this matter were Mayor Brooks, W. C. Vandenberg, Ald. Frank Brieve, Attorney Thomas N. Robinson, Dornbos, president Merchant's Association; Dick Boter, president of the C. C. of C.; John Van Tatenhove, Otto P. Kramer, Wynand Wichers, Ald. Fritz Jonkman, Joe Geerds, Ald. Andrew Hyma, Henry Klomparsens, Vaudie Vandenberg, Ald. Al Kleis, Supervisors Benj. Brower, Ed. Vandenberg, Peter Damstra, Al Joldersma and Ben Mulder.

The common council met last night at 7:30 in the city hall.

Mrs. Catherine Burgh has left for an extended trip to Evergreen, Colorado, where she will visit relatives.

Synod Ends Meet With Plans For Diamond Jubilee

1932 Session of Christian Reformed Church Synod to Be Held in Grand Rapids in Connection With 75th Anniversary

Grand Rapids was chosen by the Christian Reformed Church as the Synod city for 1932 and preliminary arrangements for a celebration of the diamond jubilee anniversary of the Christian Reformed church in America to be held in that place at that time were made at the closing session of the 1930 synod, which now stands adjourned after more than two weeks of work.

As the 89 delegates, representing classes in all parts of the United States from the Atlantic to the Pacific, returned to their respective congregations, they reviewed a synod of many achievements, marred only by the tragic death in an automobile accident which occurred during the early days of the session of one of their number, the Rev. Abel J. Brink of Lynden, Wash., a delegate of classis Pacific. The entire group attended services in his memory, which were conducted by the officers of the synod.

Chief among the acts of the synod were authorization of an $11,000 mission hospital on the Navajo reservation in New Mexico. A committee, consisting of Rev. Baker, Rev. Henry Beets, Rev. Kuiper, all of Grand Rapids, and Rev. Henry Keegstra, Zeeland, was named to prepare for the diamond jubilee anniversary of the church on recommendation of Rev. Jacob Noordewier, Nestor of the church by right of being its oldest living minister. Now over 90 years old, he has been for 63 years a member of the only congregation whose history dates back to the very beginnings of the church in this country. This is the First, or Bates Street Christian Reformed church.

Rev. Noordewier more than 50 years ago founded a dynasty in the affairs of the Christian Reformed church, which continues to this day, and unto the second generation. As stated treasurer of the synod himself for half a century he was called upon to attend every meeting of the synod, whereas ordinary delegates never serve twice in succession. Ever since his retirement two years ago he has remained active, advising the ecclesiastical legislators, but the mantle of the treasurer'ship has passed to his son, Tony Noordewier, who was reappointed yesterday to serve a second term.

Another veteran officer of the synod, Rev. Mr. Beets, the stated clerk, was also reappointed, as was J. B. Hulst, who has served since 1918 as committee on reports.

At one of the final sessions before adjourning for two years the name of the denomination's educational institution, changed earlier from Theological school and Calvin college to Calvin seminary and college, was again revised. On motion of Elder John Hekman it now becomes Calvin college and seminary, its third name in as many weeks.

Other business to come before the final meeting was a decision against the amplification of the confession at the present time, adoption of a committee recommendation denying church membership to a divorced communicant of the Embden, Minn., consistory, and acceptance of a resolution refusing co-operation in a plan for the organic union of three Presbyterian and two Reformed denominations.

Appointments of Michigan men confirmed at the final session included: Curatorium—Rev. W. P. Van Wyk and Rev. Y. P. DeJong of Grand Rapids, Rev. D. Zwiwer of Holland, Rev. L. J. Lamberts of Fremont, Rev. E. J. Krohne of Zeeland; deputies for examinations—Rev. J. M. Vander Kieft and Rev. DeJong of Grand Rapids, Rev. L. Veltkamp of Holland, Rev. Lamberts and Rev. Krohne; board of missions—Rev. J. L. Heeres and Rev. H. J. Mulder of Grand Rapids, Rev. Zwiwer, Rev. J. Dolfin of Muskegon and Rev. G. J. Vander Riet of Zeeland; synodical committee—Rev. Van Wyk, church aid—Rev. J. Manni; South America—Rev. Beets; Prof. W. Heyns and Rev. Martin J. Wynngaarden, all of Grand Rapids.

Nominees for appointment as curators, members of the board for Calvin seminary and college include: Classis California, Rev. M. M. Schans; Grand Rapids East, Rev. W. P. Van Wyk; Grand Rapids West, Dr. Y. P. DeJong; Hackensack, Rev. J. J. Hiemenga; Holland, Rev. D. Zwiwer; Hudson, Rev. J. Holwerda; Muskegon, Rev. L. J. Lamberts; Ost Friesland, Rev. E. Boeve; Orange City, Dr. R. Bronkema; Rev. W. Bajema; Pacific Reformed, Rev. D. H. Muyskens; Pella, Rev. D. Hollebeek; Sioux Center, Rev. J. H. Geerlings; Rev. J. M. Dykstra; Wisconsin, Rev. W. Terpsma, Rev. J. M. Voortman; Zeeland, E. J. Krohne.

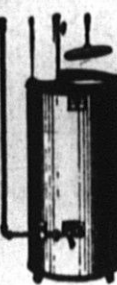

The committee presented the following who have been chosen by their classes as members for the board of missions:

Classis California, Rev. W. Groen; Grand Rapids East, Rev. J. L. Heeres; Grand Rapids West, Rev. H. J. Mulder; Hackensack, Rev. J. Beebe; Holland, Rev. D. Zwiwer; Hudson, Rev. W. Kuipers; Illinois, Rev. J. H. Monama; Muskegon, Rev. J. Dolfin; Ost Friesland, Rev. H. C. Bode; Orange City, Rev. J. Pauw; Pacific, Rev. D. H. Muyskens; Pella, Rev. I. Van Dellen; Sioux Center, Rev. J. C. DeBruin; Wisconsin, Rev. J. O. Vos; Zeeland, Rev. G. J. Vander Riet.

Good-Bye Forever

to the Garbage Can and Rubbish Barrel

That filthy back yard garbage can is far more than an eye-sore—it's a dangerous disease carrier. And how about the old rubbish barrel? It litters up your basement. Filled with paper and oily rags it invites fire and is a constant menace. The garbage can and rubbish barrel are both eliminated when the Home Gas Incinerator is installed. Garbage and trash quickly, easily, safely disposed of. Many big advantages. Let us fully explain them.

STRIFE BETWEEN HOLLAND SETTLERS AND RED MEN WAS CONSTANTLY RIFE

Van Eyck Vividly Pictures Life of Rev. George Newton Smith and His Mission at What Is Now Ebenezer

By Wm. O. Van Eyck

If any American deserves recognition from the descendants of the Hollanders here, it is Rev. George Newton Smith, who, when Rev. Van Raalte first struck the Black River region, in December, 1846, received him and assisted him in his explorations here for three weeks. And not only that. When Van Raalte and his party brought their families here in February, 1847, they were lodged for days at Smith's. He initiated Van Raalte and Grootenhuis into the mysteries of township and sections, and surveyor's "blazes" on trees, and into the mysteries of felling trees and of raising crops. Indeed, until Smith left for the North in June, 1849, he was the adviser and attorney of Van Raalte and his people. What designing and crafty real estate dealers would have done to the ignorant and less informed Hollanders these two years may be imagined; in the hands of the gentle and unselfish Rev. Smith, they were safe.

Without enlarging on the services of Mr. Smith for the Hollanders, let us proceed to account for the presence of a man of such caliber among the Indians at Allegan, and at Old Wing Mission, four miles southeast of the present city of Holland, in 1839.

Mr. Smith was born on a farm near Swanton, Vermont, Oct. 25, 1807. He worked on his father's farm until 1827, and then learned the trade of millwright. His employers tried to interest him in Universalism, but this led to his studying the Bible, his conversion, and his joining the Congregational Church at Swanton. Upon this he became convinced of a call to the ministry; and while teaching school he studied theology. In 1830 he married Arvilla Powers (a relative of John Brown, the Abolitionist), and he studied for a time at St. Albans Academy.

He fell in with the trend of the times, went West, and after a tedious journey arrived at Gull Prairie, Mich., in the summer of 1833. Here he taught school and worked as a carpenter. What the Smith family

BOTH ARE RIGHT ONE IS LENIENT

A cocky young fisherman in his early teens spoke up when apprehended with more than the legal number of trout in California:

"You can't arrest me, my father is State Senator."

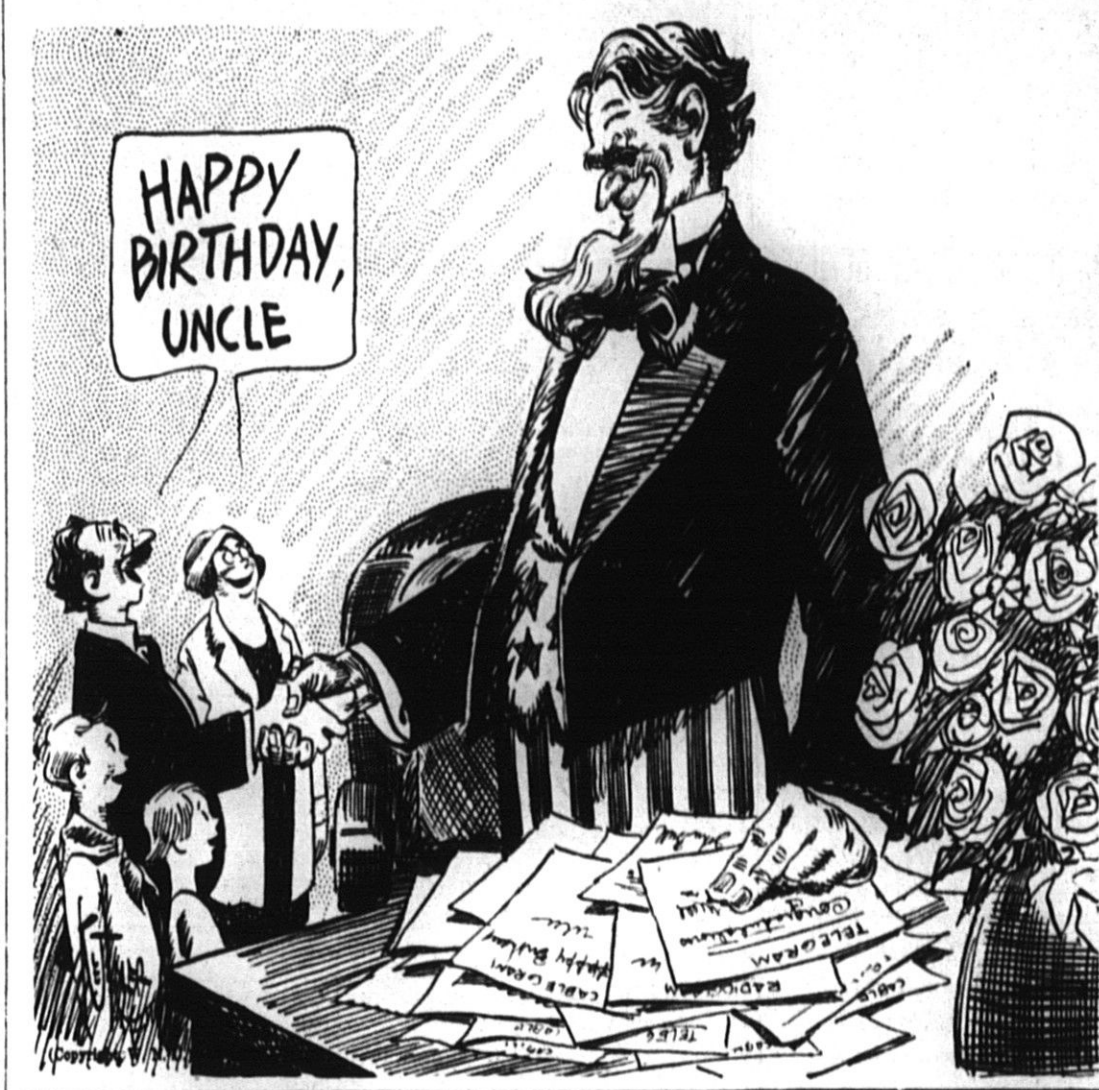

"I can't, eh?" the deputy warden is quoted as saying. "Well, my brother is President of the United States." Both statements were true. Prof. Theodore Hoover, dean of engineering, Stanford University, who gets a dollar a year as a deputy, took his charge, Roy Fellom, to court. The professor made a plea of leniency and the case was taken under advisement. State Senator Fellom, father of the prisoner, defended him.

suffered here is not easily believed; almost every family was stricken with bilious fever, typhoid fever and ague. In 1835 he got an appointment to preach at Otsego and Plainville. Here all the hardships of pioneer life were repeated and were even more severe. In 1836, at Bronson, he was licensed to preach; and soon after ordained—the first Congregational minister ordained in Michigan.

After organizing several churches, his contact here with the Indians induced him to apply all his subsequent labors in behalf of the Red Men. A party of Indians, after a powerful plea by Chief Joseph Waukazon for a Protestant mission, and translated by James Prickett, a government interpreter, asked Mr. Smith to come to them at Allegan as their missionary. He accepted the call and established a church and school there. Not less than 300 Indian families joined the colony, and among them Joseph Waukazon, the young Joseph and Peter Waukazon, and the MicSaubies. The location at Allegan not proving suitable, the Indians scouted for a permanent location, even as far north as Cross Village in Emmet county; and after a while, in 1839, selected the spot about four miles southeast of Holland. Here several hundred Indians, with Mr. Smith as their leader, began a settlement. A church, a school, and several houses were built. Mr. Smith assisted in teaching the Indian girls. The mission was called Old Wing, in honor of a devout old Catholic Indian of that name. Its location was a little southwest of the present Ebenezer, and on and around the farm of Austin Fairbanks. It was altogether an interesting sight, this Protestant mission among mixed Catholic and Protestant Indians, high up on a branch of Black River.

It should be noted that in 1847 Rev. Van Raalte, in a letter to the Netherlands, in which he refers to the navigability of Black River, says that when an Indian School

His 154th Birthday

CAN'T EVEN KILL YOURSELF IF YOU DON'T WANT TO STAY

Claude Konkle, age 48, of Martin is in the Allegan county jail as the result of two unsuccessful attempts to commit suicide. He is reported to have shot himself in the mouth twice. Despondency over poor health is blamed. It is against the law for one to kill him or her self in Michigan. The man should go to Japan instead of Allegan.

built, and all the work at Old Mission was resumed. Even the old school seats and other belongings were replaced in the new school. Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Case, mentioned before, were the Indian farmers as before. The Merrill was of great use for the new settlement. It was busy time for Mr. Smith.

But again white settlers crowded in, new counties were organized, and Smith became Probate Judge, county Treasurer and much else. He became government interpreter at $400 per year. He was a useful man in that north county for years.

In 1851 Mr. Smith's daughter Mary married a nephew of Peter Waukazon, called Payson Wolf. This Wolf was quite a hero in the Michigan Sharpshooters during the Civil War. He was in Libby prison and in Andersonville; and came out a physical wreck. Young Joseph Waukazon was a soldier in the 16th Michigan Infantry. Many Indians of that region enlisted as sharpshooters or in the Light Artillery, and served the Union loyally.

A second daughter of Mr. Smith married a Mr. Voice and later a Mr. Powers. The third and youngest, Annie, married Eli C. Tuttle at Holland, Mich., in June, 1869. The oldest child, George N. Smith, Jr., born in Vermont in 1832, became a physician and a Swedenborgian clergyman. The late E. J. Harrington often said that Smith, Jr., was his business partner here in Holland in 1867-8, and that Mr. Smith often preached in the Select school on West Tenth street. That this Rev. Smith, Jr., was rather versatile is shown by the fact that when Holland city was incorporated in 1867, he became its first City Attorney. He seems to have left Holland in 1868. He died in 1897.

The elder Rev. Smith, after a long and useful life, died at Northport, April 5, 1881. Of his funeral, Mrs. Wilson writes, "Most impressive was the sight and not easily forgotten. Tall and rugged chestnuts, followed by their dark-skinned wives, advanced in single file to the casket where reposed the remains of their faithful leader. Bending low and gazing intently as if to fix forever upon their memories the features of their dead, each in turn, in accordance with Indian custom, pressed his lips reverently to the pale forehead. And when they turned away tears were coursing down their cheeks."

"Not far from the beautiful home he loved so well he rests in eternal sleep and by his side repose the remains of his beloved wife, who was reunited with him April 16, 1895."

Going back now a few years in Rev. Smith's life, we find that he corresponded with Dr. Van Raalte considerably. They were both Whigs and then Republicans; and were valiant for the Union in the sixties. Mr. Smith, in 1872, found the value of Free Masonry and joined that order. What Van Raalte said about this matter is not known; although it is certain that he would not have approved his friend's course. Mr. Smith on account of Masonry left the Congregational and joined the Presbyterian church. The troubles even divided his Indians for a time.

In De Hope of May 9, 1867, we find that Rev. Smith of Northport is visiting Dr. Van Raalte; and that the remains of the Indian church at Old Mission, near Holland, are still visible. In the same Journal of Oct. 23, 1867, is the statement that Rev. A. C. Kuyper of Ebenezer is living in the old house of Rev. Smith.

In the old part of Pilgrim Home cemetery here is found a little long and narrow, and could prepare for the life to come. There, as he no doubt told them, they could listen unmolested to the solemn wind-anthems in the tops of the pine and the hemlock, not as to the wails from Paradise Lost, but as to the soft Aeolian harps of Paradise Regained.

Now Is Season To Destroy The Grasshoppers

THEY ARE COMING THICK BUT THERE IS A REMEDY TO CURB THEM

The recent appearance of unusual numbers of grasshoppers in some sections of Michigan is the signal for farmers in the northern part of the state to prepare to feed them poison bait instead of succulent forage, according to the entomology department at Michigan State College.

The proximity of large areas of uncultivated lands near farms makes it possible for the grasshoppers to develop undisturbed and then move to the farms and do serious damage to growing crops. The grasshoppers have natural enemies which will reduce their numbers but this control is too slow to be of much assistance.

Poisoned bran bait properly distributed will prevent serious damage to crops by this insect. The bait is prepared by mixing one bushel of bran, one-half gallon of cheap molasses, a little water, and one pound of white arsenic. Two or three ounces of banana oil are then stirred into the mixture. Arsenate of lead or paris green can not be successfully used as a poison for grasshoppers. A little salt added to the prepared bait makes it more attractive.

The bait should be broadcast in areas where their care numbers of grasshoppers. Care should be taken so there are no lumps of bait large enough to be eaten by animals.

The poison does not kill the grasshoppers immediately but they will stop feeding as soon as they have eaten any of it. Another formula for the preparation of a poison bait will be sent those who write the Entomology Department, Michigan State College, Lansing.

However, Mr. I. H. Fairbanks explained the matter by saying that long after 1848, his father, Isaac Fairbanks, upon instructions from Rev. Smith, had removed the remains of those four Smith children from Old Mission to Holland, and had placed the gravestone with inscription.

Regarding the removal of Rev. Smith's Mission to Northport, it is strange that so little of it is known here. Mr. Van Schelven indeed briefly refers to it and says the Dr. Isaac N. Wyckoff of the Eastern Reformed church stood on the beach when Smith and his Indians left. Dr. Wyckoff came here May 31, 1849, and remained about two weeks, so that he certainly was in Holland when the Smith's left about June 8. Wyckoff was lodging at Van Raalte's and he must have been present with Van Raalte at such an important time. In his interesting report on the colony, Wyckoff has not a word on Rev. Smith and his mission.

But we are not without some account of the scene. The late Hoyt G. Post of Grand Rapids, then living here, was present. He says (I quote him from memory) that when the canoes and the schooner Merrill left, Van Raalte and the Hollanders were present. In fact a party of Hollanders in another vessel accompanied Smith and his people half way to Lake Michigan. Appropriate words were spoken by Smith, Van Raalte and perhaps by Peter Waukazon. There were songs or chants by the Indians in which they bade farewell to Old Mission and their beloved Muck-it-to-wog-me or Black Water. The Hollanders from their boat answered with appropriate psalms. The scene was impressive, dramatic. Some, as if homesick, wept; some sang; others were silent. And as the Hollanders turned back their boat, Pt. Superior and the Narrows received Smith and his band out of their sight. The exiles were now reassured by Smith and their own chiefs, and soon they began to look with fond anticipation to their new home in the Northland, where Old Mission could be continued for years and years. There, as Mr. Smith told them, they could live long and prosper, and could prepare for the life to come. There, as he no doubt told them, they could listen unmolested to the solemn wind-anthems in the tops of the pine and the hemlock, not as to the wails from Paradise Lost, but as to the soft Aeolian harps of Paradise Regained.

Thieves Loot Safe of $520 in Checks and Money

WM. FANT OF HOLLAND MONUMENT WORKS HAS OFFICE IN GRAND HAVEN CLEANED

Safe breakers looted the strong box at the Fant Monument Works Friday night and got $520 in currency and checks. The loss was discovered in the morning by H. T. Miner, the bookkeeper, when he went to work. The safe door was open but the doors of the money boxes were closed and the contents gone.

Several envelopes containing private papers, were ripped open but the contents evidently did not interest the robbers, said the owner, William Fant, who, by the way, is also owner of the Holland Monument Works.

No evidence of how entrance to the office was evident. A skeleton key is the probable solution as the lock was one that could be easily manipulated, said Mr. Fant. Thorough examinations of the premises have been made but no foot prints or finger marks or any evidence of marauders was to be found.

Mr. Fant left the office at 6:00 p. m. He is not in the habit of locking the big doors of the safe. He feels certain someone must have known it, although he has no suspicions and saw no one nearby as he was leaving the place.

The bulk of the currency was in $20 bills. There were two large checks, one for $110 and another for $85.

Mr. Fant is well known in Holland since he spends part of the week here looking after his monument interests on West Seventh St.

OTTAWA FURNITURE COMPANY, HOLLAND, SOLD IN U. S. COURT TO ARTHUR VISSCHER

Sale for $61,000 of the Ottawa Furniture company, Holland, of which the Grand Rapids Trust company is receiver, to Arthur A. Vischer, officer of the concern, and Franklin McDermott of Holland was ordered in U. S. district court by Judge Fred M. Raymond.

Alternate bids by Philip Smith, and Jack Kosofsky and James Silk were rejected.

In addition to the monetary transaction sale terms offered by the new owners include purchase of occasional pieces contracted for by the Bay View Furniture company at 60 per cent off wholesale prices, withdrawal of Arthur Vischer's claims against the company, payment to the receiver of proceeds from sale of stock now on hand and application on the purchase price of at least 50 per cent of claims against the company in furtherance of a lien obtained by the receiver.

TO PACK CHERRIES SOON AT FENNVILLE

The cherry crop is starting to appear on the local market. Sweet cherries are offered in light volume. Early Richmond sour cherries are ripening and packing operations will start soon. Reports from growers indicate a 50 per cent crop of sweet and sour this year.

Free Soil, June 27.—Cherry picking will begin next week in this section, with a fair crop in sight. Growers are concerned over prices since no buyers have made their appearance so far.

HOLLAND BOOSTERS TRIM HART & COOLEY NINE, 10-3

The Holland boosters pounded the ball for 17 hits this evening to trim the Hart and Cooley team at Riverview park, 10-3. The Boosters nipped the Berman brothers for 10 blows in the first five innings, and then got to Larry Hyma, Grand Rapids Pere Marquette star, for seven more. Beltman pitched for the Boosters and allowed but two hits until the ninth inning when all the runs were scored.

The Boosters play at Ramona park this afternoon against the East Grand Rapids Athletics and expect to bring a delegation of fans.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS RIDE THE ELEPHANT AT LAKEWOOD

Thursday the board were guests of the Ottawa County Road Commission and toured over road improvements made during the past year. Grand Avenue and Harbor Avenue project, recently completed, made a fine impression. The excellent manner in which the guard rails and warning signs and stop lights had been installed was commented upon.

Tunnel park was the next stop where Charles Jackson, in charge of concessions, furnished light refreshments.

The Lakewood Farm was visited again and the new exhibits viewed. G. O. P. members were invited to ride "Nancy" the big elephant, and Austin Harrington, Roy Lowing and George Heneveld mounted the beast to show where they stood. A whisper to "Nan" that maybe a Democrat was aboard, is supposed to have stimulated her into a run, causing her riders to hang on with all their strength and on reaching the ground declared themselves well satisfied with that much of a ride.

The bituminous binder on the Graftschaap Road which is being used as an experiment was viewed and approved. Carl Bowen in his talk at the luncheon at Warm Friends Tavern said it would be watched carefully and it may prove a cheap and satisfactory way of improving the less frequented county roads.

Talks by Austin Harrington, William Connolly and C. A. French of Holland at the Tavern completed the jaunt and the members dispersed to the homes early in the afternoon.

Sheriff Stoketee went to Forest Grove on Friday to attend the funeral of a deputy, Frank J. Strick.

A Six Weeks' Tour Over Land and Sea

DR. BROWER TELLS OF HIS TRIP IN THE WEST INDIES AND CARIBBEAN SEA
BAHAMAS

All through these Antilles Islands the seaplane is much more in evidence than the land plane. It appears to me that a seaplane is copied after a flying fish. At various places the ocean is full of that type of fish. Very interesting to stand on deck and see hundreds of them at one time, fly out of the water. It looks like a swallow skimming across the water. Gray back, white abdomen, silvery translucent long pectoral fins, or wings. About the size of a good sized herring. Rises about 2 to 6 feet above water, flies or rather glides like a hydroplane from twenty-five to three hundred feet or more, smashing into tops of wavelets, then falls back into the water. Often saw schools of 25 to 100 of them or even more. Once and a while they land on the boat. At one time we were served a flying fish dinner which was very good. It seems to me that the man that invented the hood of an automobile engine with the air vents on the side surely must have seen a shark for the shark has 12 such vents or gills exactly like an automobile on both sides. There is a live shark in the aquarium at the Battery in New York City where one can make these observations. So much is copied from nature if we only have eyes to see and minds to observe it.

The idea of the old fashioned common washboard no doubt was copied after roads like we see in Arizona, called the "Washboard road." Nature's Derby Racers surely are in Wyoming. It is real fun to travel over them, once started, one can shut off the engine if he knows the road and does not need engine power for control. The figure of eight of nature can be found in the Rocky Mountains and so we

TOO MANY "ZZs"

IN PHONE BOOK:
ALL THROWN OUT
The telephone company has routed from the pages of its Manhattan, New York, directory the bogus last names invented by ingenious subscribers so they might be listed in the phone book.

An epidemic of Zzzzyzzyvaras, Zzzys and Zzyx-es caused the company to look carefully into the authenticity of any which began with a Zz. All were found to be invented names and were thrown out.

The last name in the book is D. Zywoarta—and it's on the level.

The bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" was played by Miss Bernice Wabeke, cousin of the bride, "Oh Promise Me" by D. Koven and "I Love You Truly" by Bond were sung by Miss Ruby Smith with Mrs. Bos at the piano.

After the completion of the ceremonies the young bride cut her bouquet among a group of young ladies and it was caught by little Miss Betty Joan Van Tatenhove, sister of the bride.

After the ceremony the guests were served with a delicious bridal supper. Those serving were Miss Angeline Zeevink and Mrs. N. Karsten. The wedding cake was ornamented with an altar with a wedding bell under which a bride and groom in miniature statue of the unusual event, naturally was the cutting of the bride cake by the bride, Miss Julia Van der Hill, presented at the church bowl.

The happy newweds have been making an auto tour around Lake Michigan and will make their future home at Grand Haven where they will have many friends.

Holland folks who have moved to their summer homes are Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mooi, Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Champion, Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Vanden Berg, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Kooiker and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kooiker.

Dr. and Mrs. Vail are now at Waukazoo for the summer.

PARK BOARD REFUSES TO BUY TULIP BULBS

The regular meeting of the park and cemetery board was held Monday night in the city hall. Mayor Ernest C. Brooks met with the board and told the members that additional tulip bulbs should be purchased because Holland did not have sufficient tulips to warrant the publicity received. However the board refused to take part in the purchase of one million tulip bulbs for Tulip Time next year as the board could not see its way clear to spend the money necessary for such a purchase. The mayor will take the matter up with a special Tulip Time Committee.

Arrangements were made to place two new drinking fountains at Kollen park. One will be located near the top of the steps and the other will be at the playgrounds. Several truckloads of sand has also been distributed along the beach at Kollen park to provide a clean playground for children.

VAN TATENHOVE-SALISBURY WEDDING TAKES PLACE IN THIS CITY

On Wednesday afternoon the marriage of Miss Bertha Van Tatenhove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Tatenhove, 24 West Fifteenth street, Holland, was solemnized when she became the bride of Mr. Leo Frank Salisbury, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Salisbury, of Grand Haven. Rev. James Weyer, pastor of the First Reformed church, where the bride is a member, was in charge of the ceremonies. The immediate relatives and a few friends witnessed the impressive ceremony.

The home was beautifully decorated and one of the large rooms was converted into a veritable bower of flowers in which an altar banked with ferns and palms occupied a conspicuous place. Over it all a soft light was shed from burning ivory tapers of seven branch candelabra. At intervals trumpet baskets, laden with pink and blue delphinium, were appropriately arranged while other baskets and vases filled with seasonal flowers artistically decorated the rest of the home.

The vicious young bride looked becoming in a gown of white satin of tuck lace style with circular ruffle skirt. Her veil of Venetian lace was Juliet style and was adorned with roses of pearls on each side of the cap centered with a rhinestone.

She carried a corsage of bridal roses, white sweet peas and baby breaths and vases filled with seasonal flowers artistically decorated the rest of the home.

The bride looked beautiful in a white satin tulle, princess style. Her veil of tulle bordered in lace fitted closely about her head in cap style fastened with pearls and rhinestones. She carried a corsage of white roses, call lilies, white snapdragons, and baby breath. She wore a pearl necklace, the gift of the groom.

Miss Elmer Westrate, sister to the groom, and Miss Vera Brover assisted the bride as bridesmaids. Miss Westrate wore a pink chiffon gown and a large pink and white picture hat. Miss Brover also wore chiffon, but of orchid color with a corresponding hat in orchid, purple and white of picture style. The bridesmaids carried corsages of roses, sweet peas, and snapdragons tied with ribbons to match their costume.

The room was attended by his brother, Harris Westrate, and both were in evening dress and wore boutonnieres of white roses.

Preceding the ceremony Mr. Monte Emond, an artist of unusual ability, rendered two violin solos, ably accompanied by Miss Sarah Lacey, Miss Anna Beter and Miss Margaret Beter of Grand Rapids sweetly and appropriately rendered "This Day of Golden Promise" and "I Love You Truly."

Little Miss Kathlene Emond dressed in light green and little Miss Joyce Westrate of Grand Rapids, dressed in dainty pink, threw rose petals in the path of the bride from dainty white baskets from the hands of which hung white bells. Junior Emond, brother of the bride, carried the ring in a white calla lily.

A sumptuous bridal supper was served the guests after the ceremony and the following young ladies did the serving: Miss Eunice Hyma, Miss Ruth Geerlings, Miss Marion De Kruier, Miss Mildred Klow, Miss Nellie Van Zeeven, Miss Anne Bath, and Miss Esther Mulder.

The wedding cake was rather a unique feature at this wedding supper indicating that there is even art in confectionery creations. At a given period the large cake was brought in and placed before the bride. This culinary masterpiece was embellished with miniature figures representing bride and groom standing before an altar over which a bell was suspended, a replica of the event which had just taken place.

After a short wedding trip the happy couple will make their home in Grand Rapids.

The bride is a graduate of Holland high and a few weeks ago graduated from Hope College with a master of Arts and a Bachelor of Music degrees. Mr. Westrate received a degree in Electrical Engineering recently at the commencement exercises of the University of Michigan. Mr. Westrate has accepted a position in electrical engineering in Grand Rapids and the couple plan to make their home in that city.

WORTH 98 CENTS EACH. COLLEGE GRADUATES TOLD

"You are worth 98 cents a piece," was the startling statement made by William H. Coverdale, president of the board of the Seaboard Air Line to seniors of Geneva College at commencement exercises here.

"That is what your chemical content can be bought for at any drug store," the speaker continued.

"If you have learned to think, have personal integrity, character and ideals and are willing to work, you probably can make yourself worth much more," Coverdale said.

The speaker, a graduate of the college in 1891, warned the men not to look down upon labor.

MISS ESSENBERG IS WED TO MILLARD C. WESTRATE

A very impressive wedding ceremony took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Essenburg, 486 Central Avenue, Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock when their daughter, Miss Mabel Essenburg, was wed to Millard C. Westrate, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Westrate. The home was artistically arranged, the dominant decorations being flowers everywhere. The marriage was performed by Rev. Clarence P. Dame, pastor of Trinity church, before an altar rather unique and over which an illuminated arch in white gave a rainbow effect scintillating with electric lights and entwined with white roses. From the center of the arch a large white bell was suspended and the whole was surrounded with a bank of ferns and palms and other greenery contrasting beautifully with large baskets of white Madonia lilies.

The bride looked beautiful in a white satin tulle, princess style. Her veil of tulle bordered in lace fitted closely about her head in cap style fastened with pearls and rhinestones. She carried a corsage of white roses, call lilies, white snapdragons, and baby breath. She wore a pearl necklace, the gift of the groom.

could go on and on. Nature is wonderful. Very kind to us if we will only study it, in its doings; but the moment we go against it, there is trouble. Understanding nature and then assist has brought great accomplishments in every line of endeavor, everybody knows that.

At one port we saw how live turtles were loaded on a boat. Turtles were all in individual crates. They were let out and a heavy rope slung around one front foot and then hoisted into the air by machinery into their proper places on the big boat for shipment to various countries. They measured at least 3 to 5 1/2 feet from side to side and weighing from 200 to 400 pounds each. I was very interested to know how those big beasts were captured alive. Well, they told me there were many ways, but the easiest and cleanest way was when they go ashore on sandy beaches to lay their eggs; they will go from a few yards to a mile ashore to do this. Then when they race (hundreds of them) back to sea they are caught in nets and similar devices. They are always caught alive, and killed only shortly before their meat is eaten.

At another place we saw the big cribs where live sea fish are kept. The cribs are like big row boats or launches, even with the water and generally towed full of fish from the ocean and so kept until marketed. In the tropical waters one sees all manner of seafood. We saw fish in the very best aquarium of all the world for no body of water anywhere is so prolific with marine life as the Mediterranean Sea. They have the octopus, the shark, the whale, down to the amocba.

It was interesting to notice that in some of these countries all windows facing the streets are heavily barred, much like in old Spain. Many times we saw a young man visiting a girl, perhaps his would-be sweetheart. The girl is in the house and the young man outside, the bars between them. The parents have a chance to observe, the man and get acquainted. Finally if agreeable he is invited in the house. We were told that was their system of courting. Perhaps it's all quite right. A reason for everything.

I suppose much stealing and burglary is going on in these countries, hence the bars serve many purposes.

On a cruise like this all kinds of personalities are encountered, for instance:

We have the woman who hates to talk about herself . . . ?

The man who told an intellectual woman that he had never met one. The woman who explains publicly that the larks in her wardrobe are due to a hasty departure. The man who likes to guess a woman's age. Others always discussing some great problems. Much amusement, it was to me, to overhear a discussion of a philosophical problem. It was like this. A cannon ball is on top of a mast. It takes the ball one minute to drop to the bottom or foot of the mast. But the boat travels one mile a minute, where does the ball strike? While I listened to the debate I thought of a very recent experience. The first officer of that ship granted me permission to climb through a chimney or tunnel up the main topmast many feet above the top deck to the crow's nest where a look out is stationed day and night while the vessel is sailing. I was not allowed to use the rope ladder on the outside but had to climb up the inside of the funnel and I just about filled it. Tapering and becoming smaller, the tower was just big enough for me to wiggle through at the peak. It was pitch dark in there and hot and stuffy. The thought came to me: what if I fainted or my hands would slip. I realized I would land in a heap at the bottom of the shaft, irrespective of the speed of the boat and the law of physics as I was inside. There perhaps a hundred feet or

SMALL CHILDREN WILL BE GIVEN OPPORTUNITY TO ATTEND SCHOOL DURING SUMMER

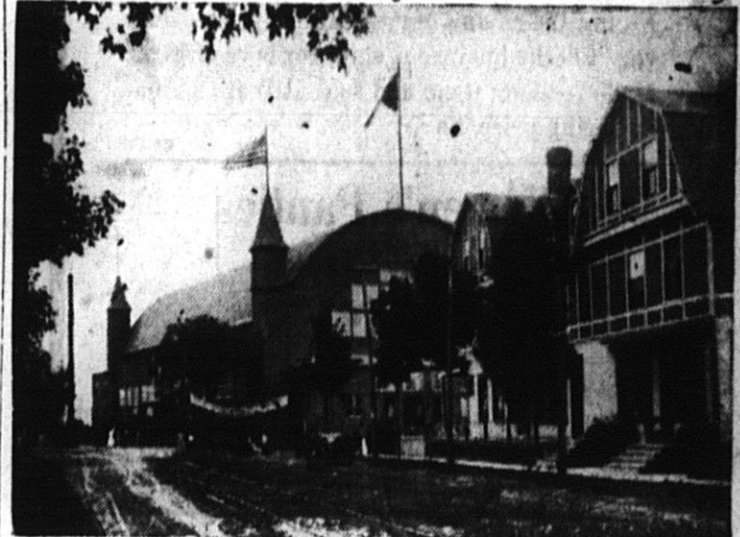

A school which is something entirely new for Holland, known as the Park Way Play School, will be open in the Knickerbocker House, 8 East Twelfth street, Monday, July 7, and will continue until August 15. The school will be held every regular school day morning from nine to 12 o'clock.

Miss Margaret Van Leeuwen of the National Kindergarten of Chicago will have charge of the school. She will be ably assisted by Miss Helen Johnson of Hope College.

This school will be a regular kindergarten and besides playing the children will also learn clay modeling, outdoor games and coloring.

Fifteen children have already enrolled in the school and it is hoped that more will be registered soon. Not only will recreation be stressed but the children's health will be watched. Each morning the children will either receive orange juice or tomato juice.

more above the water line, I realized to be in the crow's nest during a heavy sea or storm would not be the most pleasant place for one easily inclined to feeding the fish.
